

Cubs Lose Bi-District To Seminole 12-0

The Brownfield Cubs, first time since 1942, were representatives of their district and lost the first playoff round. It was a large crowd the Thanksgiving Day game was witnessed by to see the Cubs fall beneath the on-rush of the Indians. The Cubs were without the assistance of Joe Swan, Senior fullback and tri-captain who had a back injury, and it was also found out later that Max Black, also another tri-captain, played the game with a main gristle in his chest pulled loose, an injury which he received in the Levelland game but was not believed to be serious at that time.

By winning the game, the Indians got the right to represent both Districts, 7-AA and 8-AA, in the game with Stamford, who beat Tahoka last week, 34-0, and also representing Districts 5-AA and 6-AA. The game between Stamford and Seminole will be played at Snyder next Saturday.

Seminole's first touchdown came early in the first quarter when Hargrove broke around his left end and eluded several tacklers and raced 60 yards for the score. Extra point try failed. The Cubs messed up several good scoring chances by fumbles. The first good scoring chance was the result of a blocked kick by Bailey, and the ball rolled to the 14 and two plays later it was on the 9. But a fumble from this point stopped that drive. So at the half time the Indians led 6-0.

There is the 2nd quarter, another blocked kick by Bailey, and the ball was on the 18, but another fumble stopped that. The Cubs had several good breaks for the day but were just unable to get started. The Indians lengthened their lead in the fourth quarter with a 30 yard pass which set the ball up on the 2 yard line and Jackie Sparks plunged over for the score. The extra point try was blocked by Bailey. This ended the scoring for the day and also ended the season for the Cubs.

Basketball started Monday with 30 boys out and the schedule has a game slated for Friday, where the A and B teams will play Seagraves. The cage team is entered in several tournaments this year and have a full schedule. Some of the tournaments are: before Christmas, the annual Odessa tournament, the El Paso tri-state tournament New Years, and then the Cubs have one of their own after the El Paso tournament.

CAUSE IS UNKNOWN IN SATURDAY FIRE AT ROADSIDE GARDEN

Cause of a fire which damaged the Roadside Garden, 902 Lubbock Road, Saturday night, has not been determined, according to Eunice Jones, Fire Chief. The blaze was discovered about 8 p. m., and had started in the west room of the main building. Alton Davis is owner of the building.

Considerable damage was done to the house to which the fruit and vegetable market is attached, Jones said. Residents of the house were away from home at the time of the fire and firemen had to break into the building.

Firemen were on their way out to another call on the Levelland Highway, when the Roadside Garden fire was discovered. The larger fire truck remained at the fruit and vegetable market conflagration, and the smaller truck was dispatched to the site of a water well rig about one-and-a-half miles out on the Levelland Highway. Twenty volunteer firemen fought the town fire, and six men made the other run.

At the rig, a truck trailer had become ignited from a butane hose off of the butane well drill. The rig owner is a resident of Lubbock, but chief Jones did not have a record of his name.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT WITH SEAGRAVES

Brownfield High School's basketball team will open the season Friday with a game at Seagraves. A "B" game will be played at 6:15 p. m., and the A squad will get underway at 8 p. m.

Returning lettermen are Max Proffitt and Max Black. Last year's "B" squad players who will see action in the varsity line-up this year are Robert McIntosh, Glenn Reid, Jerry Bailey, Vernon Brewer, James Chessier, Herbie Kendrick, Jack Lucas, James Meeks, Joe Sharp, Jackie Stockton and Billy Thomason.

First home game of the season is set for Dec. 15, with Lamesa, according to Byron Rucker, High School Principal.

Red Cross Asks For Warm Clothing

C. L. Lincoln, chairman of rehabilitation of the American Red Cross, is calling for good used clothing, shoes, bed clothes or anything that could be used by needy families to keep them from suffering during the winter months ahead.

Judge Lang met with the commissioners court and got permission to use a room in the basement of the court house for a center for the clothing and Mrs. W. W. Tapp will sort the clothing as to size and kind. The need is urgent and anyone bringing clothing, if there is no one in the center, take it to Judge Lang's or Mr. Lincoln's office. Won't you please do this today; it will not only put a glow in your heart, but a smile on somebody's face, to know someone cares for those not as fortunate as you.

Haislips In State Planning Conference

Rev. and Mrs. Homer W. Haislip are attending the annual Age-Level Planning of Conference of Christian Churches in Texas this week. The Conference will meet Tuesday through Thursday at Camp Carter in Fort Worth. Chester Crow, State Director of Religious Education, will supervise the meeting. State and district leaders will build a program and formulate strategy for state-wide educational activities for 1953.

Mrs. Haislip will represent Children's Work and will emphasize "Methods and Materials" in this field. Rev. Haislip will emphasize leadership training and explain the Christian Training Fellowship movement. This is an age-level Sunday night training program which the local pastor has been developing in theory and practice during the past year. Many congregations across the nation are already using this training program with outstanding success.

SANTA CLAUS COMING TO KNIGHT HARDWARE

There is no secret to the rumor hereabouts that Old Santa is actually to be at the J. B. Knight Hardware department store, on Wednesday next, December 10th. And the jolly old fellow wants each and every kiddo to be on hand from 5 to 7 p. m., that day.

Santa will not only be there in person but will be delighted to help them select the toys they wish for Christmas. So, have mama or dad be there with you, if not large enough to come by yourself.

Don't miss this event, kids.

Santa To Be Here Saturday Dec. 20th

Grady Elder, of the local Chamber of Commerce, announces that Santa will visit Brownfield via plane, on Saturday, December 20th. He will be met at the airport by the big red fire truck, and brought to town, where he will distribute some 400 pounds of candy on the courthouse square, to the little boys and girls of Terry county. The exact hour of his arrival will be set later and published in the Herald.

Chamber Of Commerce Thanks City Of Brownfield

The Chamber of Commerce wishes to express its appreciation to the City of Brownfield for the work and expense undergone, to help make the decoration of the city possible. The city furnished all the wiring, lights, sockets and, last but not least, the large crew of workmen that put them in operation. The city is also furnishing the power to light the decorations to be used through the holidays.

Lights will be turned on Friday night. The Brownfield decorations are second to none, even in towns much larger than Brownfield. There will be Christmas chimes on the courthouse in the very near future to further the Christmas spirit.

TRADE IN BROWNFIELD! Our merchants have stocked up extensively on holiday goods, and have a wide selection for your approval. BUY IT AT HOME!

Dallas Denison Is In Washington, D. C. For Mission Program

Rev. Dallas D. Denison, minister of the Brownfield First Methodist Church, is in Washington, D. C., this week helping to conduct a new experiment in evangelism. He was one of 400 clergymen in the nation selected to participate in the event which opened Friday and will continue through Friday of this week.

Representing every state in the union, the 400 ministers will participate in a spiritual life mission sponsored by the Methodist Church's General Board of Evangelism, Nashville, Tenn.

Goal of the mission will not be new members of the church, but to learn how to reclaim inactive and indifferent members. The Washington project will serve as a test pattern for Metropolitan Methodist churches throughout the country.

Headquarters for the mission is at Hamline Methodist Church in downtown Washington.

Rev. Denison and his associates are attending a training school each morning and then teaming with ministers and laymen in the Washington area to preach and visit. Each church member is being urged to observe "Holy Habits," and the covenant pledges regular attendance, family devotions, daily prayer and Bible reading and support of the church program.

BOSTON—Pretty Laura Power, a Veterans Administration nurse, has been selected as the DAV Sweetheart of the year by the Disabled American Veterans. The selection was made by the organization to express the disabled veteran's gratitude to VA nurses for their unselfish devotion to the care of the wounded and disabled in the VA hospitals throughout the country.

The Oil News Is Sparing This Week

Not a new oil well was finished last week in the broad expanse of old Terry, but several are being drilled. Some of them are nearing the expected pay zone—or maybe the abandonment zone—but we hope not. Several wells were brought in over in Yoakum county, two on the Abilene Christian College holdings in the Bennett area, and two or three over in northeast Yoakum, which presently is a beehive of activity in both Yoakum and Terry.

New locations include Honolulu Oil Corp., drilling a 6,100 foot test on the F. M. Ellington holdings in northwest Terry. In the same area, the Tennessee Production Co., is putting down an 8,000 foot test on the R. K. DeFord, et al holdings.

As a whole, this area, including Lea County, N. M., had a slow up in the number of new producers, probably the result of bad weather. Perhaps better oil news next week.

NO OPS CLINICS ON ON SCHEDULE TILL JAN.

We have on hand a letter addressed to Mr. Grady Elder of the Chamber of Commerce, saying there will be no regular scheduled clinics of OPS until January 15, in the Lubbock area.

An exception to this, however, appears in the letter, providing the Chamber of Commerce in any town of the area invites the clinic. The letter was written by C. Speedy of the information office, OPS.

TRUCK IS RECOVERED SANS COTTON LOAD

A cotton truck stolen recently near Hale Center was recovered near here Monday of last week, but the four bales of unginned cotton which it had contained were missing.

This was the second time within two weeks that trucks loaded with cotton and stolen from Hale County gins have been recovered, and a third truck, a 1949 blue Chevrolet, was still missing earlier this week.

Sheriff Ted Andrews of Plainview said the theft of the trucks is made easier because gin workers, with two or three days of backlog winning to do, pay little attention to a lone truck being driven from the yard.

TOYS, CLOTHES, MONEY ARE NEEDED NOW IN GOODFELLOW FUND

An opportunity to help the needy of the Brownfield area is being provided by the Brownfield Goodfellows and the Lions Club, who are asking that any person wishing to contribute toys, clothing or money to the Goodfellow Fund, contact either the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce or Leonard Lang, County Judge. All contributions should be in by Dec. 20, in order that necessary repairs of toys can be made, and so that additional purchases of clothing and food may be made.

Goodfellow workers are all churches, the Health Unit, school officials and the State Welfare Office to compile a list of needy families. Also local merchants are being asked to contribute and damaged toys they may have in stock or any new toys which they may wish to give.

Help make this Christmas a merry one for both yourself and a needy family by making your contribution NOW.

MINOR CAR ACCIDENTS REPORTED TUESDAY

In two minor car accidents Tuesday afternoon, all persons involved but one were treated and released from the local hospital.

The first wreck occurred out near Johnson Implement Co., with W. D. Miller, Gerald A. Gerard and Evelyn Heady as occupants of the car which turned over a couple of times when it got out of control after a tire blew out. Evelyn Heady received minor bruises, cut right ankle and hand. She is in the local hospital.

Soon after the above wreck, a car in which Billie N. Sims was driving west on Harris was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Pauline Derrington, who was going south on 6th st., the Derrington car hitting the Sims car on the right side. Mrs. Derrington is the wife of the manager of the Factory Outlet Store.

Men Heard Talking About Turkey Leavings

There was W. C. Collins, for instance, in Tuesday, and he was griping about having to eat left over Thanksgiving turkey since, such as hash, giblet gravy made into a dumpling stew. He says he hopes his wife invites enough people in next time to clean up everything at one big fell swoop.

We asked if his Mrs. knew that he was making remarks up here in town. "Oh, yes," says C. W. "She knows I have to put out so much gab, and she's lived with me so long, she pays no mind to my gripes." But he did ask us to get our feet under his table, come Christmas.

Then there was Mayor Homer Nelson, who with most of his family, had returned from Prescott, Arkan-saw, where he feasted off his dad and other relatives. But Homer had no griping, as perhaps some of them had killed a porker, and they had hog ribs, backbone, cornbread, buttermilk and good old turnip greens.

Anyway, Homer looked as if he had put on some poundage since he left here just before Thanksgiving.

SOUTH PLAINS TO PRODUCE 1,315,000 BALES OF COTTON THIS YEAR

K. N. Clapp, one of the best cotton production guessers in this whole region, has come out with a new one for December 1, which will likely be his final. His last estimate lowered slightly the estimate of 1,335,000 bales of cotton at that time, and sharply under the 2,015,000 as of Sept. 1st. His Dec. 1st estimate was 1,315,000 bales.

Some of the 20 cotton producing counties of the South Plains had no change from the November estimate. However, the Terry county estimate was dropped 5,000 bales to 45,000. And that is about what local cotton men are claiming as of now. The two biggest cotton counties, Lubbock and

NEW PONTIAC WILL BE SHOWN SATURDAY

The Ross Motor Co., corner of Broadway at 8th, will be expecting you to drop in to see the new 1953 Pontiac car, Saturday. Personnel of the firm will be on hand to show you the new car.

On another page of this paper, there is a very good description of this fine new car, together with photographs, but it must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated.

No appointment necessary; just come as you are, any time of the day.

TRAVELING WITH ACC A CAPELLA CHORUS

Had a picture postcard from Vona Lee Ditto dated Nov. 29, she being at Denver, Colo., at that time with the Abilene Christian College A Capella chorus. Miss Ditto is matron in charge of one of the girls' dormitories, and often travels with some of the girls and boys on tour.

She stated that they had the worst blizzard at Denver since 1880. We ought to remember that blizzard, as it was the year we were born, but don't recall it. Anyway, despite this, she stated Denver was a pretty and interesting place, and she liked it.

Miss Ditto will be remembered by all the old timers here.

Hale, are having it sir and sir this year, with Lubbock slightly ahead with 180,000 bales and Hale 170,000.

We might state here that the counties with the most irrigation wells got their fustest, and those counties mostly lay north of here. Take Dawson county, for instance, southeast of here, with very few irrigation wells, and with less rainfall than the average, is credited with only 40,000 bales this year. Usually that county produces from 80 to 100,000 bales.

Gaines county had a drop of 2,000 bales since June, 37,000 on Oct. 1st. Yoakum county remains the same, 9,000 bales. Cochran dropped from 20,000 to 10,000 bales. Floyd and Swisher counties up on the north tier that used to be strictly wheat counties, are high in production this year, with Floyd at 120,000 bales and Swisher at 85,000.

With many new irrigation wells in this area, and the hope of a more abundant rainfall in 1953, we expect Terry, Yoakum, Gaines and Dawson to show a much better record next year, per acre of cotton planted.

PRATHER NOW MANAGER CADDO LAKE PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Prather and girls, Betty Jo and Myrna Loy, formerly of Brownfield, have recently moved to Karnack, Texas, near Shreveport, La., to take over management of Caddo Lake State Park.

They have lived at 1210 East Buckley since June, 1950. Mr. Prather was employed by Reese Air Force Base until taking over the management of the Park on Nov. 1. The Park and bayou are fishermen's and picknickers paradise and the Prathers would enjoy seeing their Brownfield friends down there.

WANTS BOOKKEEPING WORK

L. G. Grimm, who up until some few months ago, when he was stricken with leukemia, was manager of St. Clair Variety Store, wishes to keep a small set of books — one that will not be too complicated.

The treatment that Mr. Grimm has to have is quite expensive and he feels that while he cannot do hard labor, he can do book work to help defray these expenses. You can contact him at 606 North A, or phone 941-Jx.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimm wish to thank the public and the Red Cross for the money and other favors and kindnesses extended them during this illness.

One of the biggest messes we have in Texas at this time is the nest of loan sharks that inhabit the larger cities, particularly, yet in some instances, the Sharks may be found in some of the smaller cities. They make special play upon the wage earner who has nothing to put up at the banks and bona fide companies as security for small loans. At this time the Herald wishes to compliment and commend the State Junior Bar Association of Texas for the strenuous fight they are making on the Loan Shark. They are not only advocating that local officials make full use of the laws now on the books, but that the next legislature take steps to strengthen these laws. They have drafted a model statute, which if not sidestepped by the next legislature, and made a law, will bring much needed relief to the people these Loan Sharks ply their nefarious trade upon. If you are interested in receiving such a proposed statute, you may obtain one by writing State Junior Bar of Texas, Dallas, Texas. The Herald has in hand, a small pamphlet that the SJBA has recently had printed. This little pamphlet gives the low down on some of the cases in Dallas. For various reasons, they had to use fictitious names of the parties involved, but the cases are real. People who get off paying their bank 8 per cent interest, or even 10 percent, should thank their stars they are so lucky. Of course these loan sharks are all smiles, and very accommodating, and have the welfare of the loanee strictly at heart. But woe betide those who get into their clutches. One lady cited in the record as Mrs. X, went on a note for a friend, who failed to meet the obligation, so she goes to one loan company to borrow to cover. The amount was small, but she paid $35 for $25 over a three months period. Other trial and tribulations, over which she had no control, came up in the meantime, and she had to borrow from other loan companies until the number had stretched into 21 different companies. But according to the records these loan companies can give the borrower all kinds of headaches, once they have you in arrears. They will phone you at all unearthly hours, call on you at your place of business, or where you work, and make life generally miserable. We need a law.

The little State Observer, that fit bled and died for the "loyal" Democrats and Gov. Stevenson, is still hot as a potato a month after the election is over. And we imagine Gov. Shivers, and US Senator-elect Price Daniel are burning ears. If we ever heard two men talked about in a very unfavorable manner, it is the above two. But what amuses anyone that went over the election returns, is the great majority of "loyal" Democrats the Observer speaks about. On the contrary, the returns of both the July primary as well as the November general election shows conclusively that the "loyalists" were hopelessly snuffed under. In fact, Yarborough for governor and the east Texas guy that made the race for US Senator were beat so badly they hardly knew they were in the race. True, Shivers and Daniel were scratched quite a lot in the general election, which was expected; but many people who supported Yarborough in July, supported the Democratic nominee in November. That's what they were pledged to do. There was, however, no pledge in July or August primaries to support either Stevenson or Eisenhower. Or for that matter, Sparkman or Nixon. It is true that the State Republican committee, not having any nominees of their own, put all the Democratic State nominees on their ballot, with the exception of Ag. Commissioner

White, who did not want his name to go in the Republican column. It would be quite interesting to see how many people in Texas scratched Mr. White. For some reason the official tabulation of Texas was never printed in the dailies. If so, we missed it. Then the Observer goes on to say the white people of the south feared the terrible consequence "unless the Negro was kept in his place." The Observer might tell us why it was then, that the heaviest Negro populated states of the South, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Georgia, all went Democratic, while the less densely Negro populated Southern States, Texas, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Florida and Virginia, went Republican with the aid of Independent Democratic votes? That would be a fair question. No, the reason the people of the South voted like they did, was that they were tired of being treated as orphans, and they were even more full up of that mess up at Washington that needed to be cleaned out from attic to cellar.

We suppose we will be called an isolationist for writing this, but we just can't see like a lot of other people to save us. For instance, let's take the United Nations organization. In the setup, we have the Red Russians and the Red Chinese, as well as a lot of satellite nations who are either voluntary members of the Bolshevik setup, or their prisoners, or captives. Along with these, we have a bunch of nations that are either pink or mixed. Then we have a host of what is known as Democratic nations. These mixtures are as far apart as the poles in their beliefs and ideals of what man desires. Many have designated the UN as a big debating society, and the word, "debate" fits very well. Hardly a day passes that the representatives of the western nations do not have to take a lot of slander and abuse from the red monkeys. And what are they accomplishing, pray tell us? At this very moment nations represented by the Reds are at war with the free nations. Over in Korea, Red China saw that the UN, represented by the West, was going to whale the tar out of North Korea. So the Red Chinese enter the war on their side, and Red Russia, a member of the UN, is furnishing the Red Chinese and North Koreans with guns, ammunition and war planes to kill the boys from the free world. Not only that, but the Reds are busy fighting the French in Indo-China and the British in South Africa, through organization of native rebels. And old Russia is working with might and main to start a big stew in the Moslem countries, particularly the Arabian race, using the Jews at Jerusalem as bait. They are also working without letup in India and other heavily populated but financially poor nations, and that is where the Reds are said to get in their most deadly work. We can't see why, but authorities tell us that the poor, hungry and naked people make the best prospect for the Commie cause. As we see it, we can fathom no reason why we had not rather be a poor but free citizen in a free country than a hungry, ragged slave. Here is another angle that a lot of good old Americans have not examined. People who know their in and outs about the matter, tell us that we of the USA are going to have to change our grand old constitution, amend part of it, and drop a lot of it at the behest of these European-Asiatics. For our part the old Constitution of the founding fathers is good enough for us.

Instead of having the vast amount of trouble the British are having in Iran, a close neighbor to Arabia, the Arabian-American Oil Company is making a grandstand play for the friendship of Arabia, and are succeeding: True, the American companies are taking a vast amount of oil out from under the Arabian soil, but they are placing many advantages, in this new wealth, to making a greater and better Arabia. Whereas, many of this nomadic people were shifting over the desert from place to place, carrying their small stoves and household utensils in search for more and better grass for grazing, today, thousands of them are settling down. Many of them are in their own homes with all modern conveniences, and the men folks are working in refineries and oil fields at fair wages, and paying for their homes. Many have developed into contractors, and are building homes and more homes for these erstwhile shifting people. This contracting business, encouraged by the big Arabian-American oil company, has developed into a $37,000,000 business. In other words, these people are being taught that free enterprise is the best for the people in any nation, and these people appreciate individual liberty and private ownership of property. After trying this free American style, it would be a hard matter for the Communists to put out their collectivism to these people. We are told that this once benighted land has advanced thousands of years in the past two decades, and the good things the enterprising Americans have brought their country in developing their oil resources, has made a prosperous and happy middle class, while all classes have benefited. Nor has the children been neglected. Good schools are being built in the reach of all, and illiteracy is falling by leaps and bounds. The AAO is encouraging the people to be democratic in their ideas, and instead of acting like the British in Iran, take all—leave nothing idea—the Americans are returning every dollar they agreed to return to the people of this once poor and ignorant country.

Robert Ruark, who writes a column in some of the dailies we get, remarked in one of them this week, that he was rather uncertain who he would cuss and discuss, since Harry Truman is leaving the White House next month. At this time Robert still likes Ike. There are, however, some commendable things that can be said of Harry Truman, and one of them is that he is true to his friends, until they cross him. To many of us, these friends are not just what they should be, but he likes them and stays by their warm side, despite the general opinion that they are in many instances grafters and corrupt to the core. What many folks don't admire but abhor in the President is his language, when his ire is aroused. It is not only foul but profane. In his whistle-stopping tours back and forth across the country recently, he had many calls for the use of this billingsgate, that is always out of line with the thinking of the strictly moral person. But after the defeat of the man he would have succeeded him, and he had time to let his stomach ulcers settle a bit, HST magnanimously invited the President-elect to visit the Executive offices, and get some pre-inaugural experience in the run of the business. Not only that, but he was asked to send his cabinet choices to the offices, to confer with the outgoing cabinet of HST, and get the run of them as much in hand as possible before taking office January 20th. Last but not least, we would like to mention the gracious but reticent First Lady. Unlike her predecessor, Eleanor Roosevelt, Mrs. Truman was just an ordinary American Lady. She was never noted for her functions, or her mixing with the towering diplomats of Europe. But people in general, and especially her neighbors and friends back at Independence, Mo., will give you to understand that Mrs. Truman is a fine woman and a good neighbor. She, too, has invited Mamie Eisenhower in to take a close inspection of her future abode, and to get the lay of the land. Last but not least, even those music critics who have aroused the cussing ire of her dad by saying daughter Margaret is no prima donna as a songstress, is a sweet young lady, and shows the good raising by her mother. Probably she will settle down soon, and make some man a mighty fine wife; perhaps some children an ideal mother.

BEHIND THE WALLS OF TEXAS STATE HOSPITALS

NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on our State Hospital System, prepared under the supervision of Dr. George W. Jackson, Medical Director of the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools, and sponsored by the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene, University of Texas.

Wanda B. took off one white shoe, sat on the floor and rubbed her feet. She knew her uniform would be smudged when she stood up, but for once she was too weary to care.

Helen came in, humming and tying the sash of her chenille robe. Her face was shiny from the shower, and the ends of her hair were damp. She went over to the dresser, pushed aside the clutter of cold cream jars, perfume bottles, lipstick and ink and began methodically laying out bobby pins and rolling up her hair.

Suddenly she stopped humming and looked down at Wanda. "What in the heck ails you, Wanda? You should be showered and pin-curl'd and in bed by now. How are you going to manage your eight hours sleep?"

Wanda massaged her big toe. "I'm getting up the energy to have a nervous breakdown."

Helen pulled two bobby pins out from between her teeth and yanked her roommate to her feet. "You'd better be getting up energy for a big day tomorrow. Remember you're on Ward 10, and sister, they're going to keep you busy."

Wanda stretched. "And to think they were begging for waitresses at the Purple Cow Cafe back home." She took her gown and robe from the closet door and went down the hall to the bathroom.

The quick sting of the shower brought back some of her energy, and standing there alone, away from the girls, the teachers and the patients, she was able to let down her flip mask and to recall the worrisome days before she decided to go into nurses' technician training at the State hospital.

High school graduation had been big doings for most of the girls but not for Wanda. When your mother was dead and your dad tired out all the time and the house old and money scarce, there wasn't much fun in anything.

It had looked like a job, in the dime store or a cafe. And to Wanda, she had always wanted to be a nurse, it had looked like the end of life's dream.

But when she heard about the nurse technician training program at the State Hospital, Wanda had been the first girl in school to sign up.

She turned off the water in the shower, rubbed herself briskly with a towel. She was still tired, but lots of the tension was gone.

She was glad Helen was asleep when she got back to her room. Sometimes it was good to be alone and to have time to think about things. She turned off the light and crawled into bed, watching the square patch of moonlight on the freshly painted ceiling.

This nurse's training was probably the hardest work in the world, but she'd have so much when she was through—a little money put aside, two years of college credit, her nurse technician diploma and a chance for a really good job. Wanda yawned. It was worth being tired for.

Her dad couldn't understand her. Couldn't see why she wanted to be with mental patients, why she'd spend six or seven hours working, two hours in class and one hour in a ward seminar conference every day. She punched her pillow into a ball, rolled over on her side. Well, it certainly wasn't easy, but then her dad had never known real ambition — had always just held a job and brought his money home and sat around the kitchen table in his undershirt. He didn't know how it felt to want to be somebody good doing something good. He was pretty proud that she could save so much of her $80 a month. Wanda's eyes began to droop. Imagine getting paid for going to college! She tried to rub the ache from the sides of her head. But of course she worked for her money. Still, it made a chance she'd never have had — Wanda was asleep before she could finish her thought.

The two year collegiate nurse technician program, placed in operation September 12, 1951, is one of the outstanding developments in the field of specialized nursing, a joint program involving the Texas State Hospitals and the Junior colleges of Texas. Another 250 students began training in September of 1952.

A resident training program in psychiatry for staff members has been instituted at the Austin State Hospital and will soon be begun at Terrell State Hospital. One year internships in clinical psychology have been instigated, with a three month affiliate training program in psychiatric nursing for student nurses established at the San Antonio State Hospital and the Austin State Hospital. Classrooms suitable for the training of professional personnel have been developed in all units.

And this is only the beginning. Future plans call for expansion of all the training programs, for training of advanced psychiatric nurses, for on-the-job training for occupational therapists, for a two-year technician program for occupational-recreational workers and hospital dietary personnel, for inservice training for all classes of auxiliary hospital personnel.

The opportunities for the future, if carried out, are wonderful. Wonderful for the patients of our mental hospitals and wonderful for the trainees.

Ask Wanda B. She knows!

Behind The Scenes

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT

New York — In Charles E. (General Motors) Wilson, president-elect Eisenhower has chosen a Secretary of Defense of sufficient stature to change the course of history. Maybe not the history of the great U. S.-Soviet Russia tug-of-war, but quite probably the economic history of the next year.

It was noted in this space last week that speculation on the forthcoming recession, if any, generally assumed that the first half of 1953 would boom with civilian and military business, but that the crystal ball clouded a little thereafter. First logical step for an acknowledged production genius like Mr. Wilson to take would be to cut everything back until he began to get the reins of the sprawling Pentagon procurement system firmly in his hands. Then, if wartime precedent means anything, the wheels would really begin to spin to some purpose. This can mean that instead of a big first half and a slacker second half for suppliers to the military, the expected buildup will coast after the first quarter, and be back in high gear by Labor Day, making most of the prophets look bad.

The hall was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Billie Aven and Lura Brown. The presidents' colors of blue, yellow and white and her theme of light were carried out. The altar was covered with blue and silver foil and lighted by two glow candles. Blue candles in silver candelabra were placed at each end of the hall. Ivy and metallic ornaments decorated the piano and a bowl of yellow roses, the secretary's desk.

The refreshment committee, composed of Mrs. Geneva Bryant, Ida Belle Walker and Grace Buchanan, used the same theme on the refreshment table. Yellow roses centered the table, laid with a white linen cloth. Old fashioned lamps burned at each end of the table, surrounded by cedar and metallic ornaments of blue and yellow. U. OF T. TO GET JIM HOGG DESK AND CHAIR

AUSTIN — Miss Ima Hogg of Houston has given the University of Texas a desk and two chairs used by her late father, James Stephen Hogg, while he was governor of Texas.

She also presents a desk and chair used by her brother, the late Will C. Hogg, in his Houston offices from 1921 to 1930.

An acre of average mesquite infested Texas range land is tapped daily for 52 gallons of water. That is the amount of water given off by the mesquites through transpiration and is enough to produce a pound of buffalo grass.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q — I hold a National Service Life Insurance policy, and I'm also drawing monthly disability compensation payments from the VA. Would it be possible for VA to deduct the monthly insurance premiums from my compensation checks, so I wouldn't have to bother with the payments myself?

A — Yes. You may authorize VA to deduct premium payments from your monthly compensation, provided your compensation is large enough for this purpose. VA form 9-887, available at any VA office, should be used in authorizing the deduction.

Q — Assume that a veteran meets all the requirements for Korean GI Bill training. May he enroll under this Act even though he has gone back on active duty and is now in uniform?

A — No. Veterans on active duty are not eligible for Korean GI Bill training, even though they meet all the law's basic requirements.

Q — A veteran in my family is eligible for extra pension payments because he is so helpless that he needs the constant aid and attention of another person. Is he supposed to hire an outsider to attend him or would it be all right for a member of his immediate family to help him?

A — A veteran entitled to the increased payments need not go outside his family to hire an attendant. Any member of his family may help him. He still would be entitled to the extra pay, so long as he is otherwise eligible.

Q — I've just been discharged from service, and I plan to apply for Korean term insurance sometime within 120 days of my discharge. Is an application sufficient, or must I also pay a monthly premium?

A — An application alone would not be sufficient. You also must pay the required first premium before the 120-day deadline.

There are few women who will not believe you if you tell them they look beautiful.

Texas Could Be Big A-Bomb Target

Texas is a state famous for having, at least a little of everything. In this case, everything includes lots of industry and military installations.

The only dark spot to this picture is that industry and military installations make Texas a prime target in the event of an atomic war. As a result, civil defense officials are saying more strongly than ever that we must get a sound civilian protective system organized now.

William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense, released figures this week on industry and military installations to back up his and other civil defense officials' pleas for preparedness now. The figures were prepared by the Texas Employment Commission.

One of the major points they show is that Texas is one of the top states in the nation as far as industry and non-farm employment are concerned. What's more, the state is unequalled in the number of military installations.

Last Rites Read For S. K. Turnbow

Mr. Turnbow, a native of Erath county, was a retired farmer, having lived here since 1941. He made his home here with his daughter, Mrs. L. M. Lang, and also some time with his two sons, Amos of Seminole, and Clarence of Calisbad. He is survived by 3 brothers: Arthur of Loraine; Herman of Andrews; and H. T. of Portales, N. M.

Services were conducted at the church by Murphy Phillips, minister of the Church of Christ at Calisbad, assisted by the local minister, T. J. Finley. Brownfield Funeral Home had charge of ar-

DDT Spray For Moths In Rugs

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 1—A simple spray treatment with a 5 per cent DDT solution will protect your rugs and carpets from damage by moths and carpet beetles.

Since wool rugs and carpets attract clothes moths and carpet beetles throughout the year, it is well to realize that these insects recognize no season in a well-heated home.

J. C. Gaines, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says experiments with this treatment at the United States Department of Agriculture laboratory at Savannah, Georgia, have proved successful. Results, the specialists says, show the 5 per cent DDT solution spray will protect rugs and carpets from damage by moths and carpet beetles for more than a year.

To protect your rugs, the specialist says, apply a 5 per cent DDT oil spray uniformly over both top and bottom surfaces, sufficient to moisten the fibers. You can buy a common household spray under a variety of trade names, but check the label describing the ingredients for the 5 per cent DDT oil contents.

Mr. Gaines says a hand sprayer does a good job of applying the spray to the rugs and carpets. "Be sure to moisten them uniformly on the top and bottom to get longer lasting effects of the 5 per cent DDT oil spray," he adds.

LT. SMITH WITH U. S. FLEET IN KOREA

USS KIMBERLY

U. S. Atlantic Fleet (FHTNC) —The destroyer USS Kimberly is scheduled to return to the United States from Korea Dec. 11.

The crew includes Lt. (jg) Frank A. Smith, USN, husband of Mrs. Drucille H. Smith of Route 5, Brownfield, Texas.

The Kimberly left Norfolk, Va. in May, steaming via the Panama Canal, Hawaiian Islands and Japan.

While in the Far East, she operated with the UN Escort and Blockade Force shelling strategic enemy targets.

On several occasions, the Kimberly was fired on by the Communist shore batteries. The destroyer promptly returned fire and silenced the batteries. She suffered no hits.

Patrol duty in the Formosa Straits concluded the Kimberly's tour in the combat zone.

On the around the world voyage home, the destroyer briefly visited Hong Kong, Singapore, Naples and Gibraltar.

A Proposed Statue For Harry S. Truman

We borrowed the following from the County Wide News over at Littlefield. After all, the writer asks that the letter be passed on, so there will be not one left out of the donations of $50 billion dollars to erect the statue:

AN INTERCEPTED LETTER

Dear Fellow Traveler:
I have the distinguished honor of being a member of a committee to raise 50 billion dollars to be used for placing a statue of Truman in the Hall of Fame in Washington.

We have decided not to tease him by placing it next to George Washington (who never told a lie) or next to Lincoln (who is known as Honest Abe) nor Thomas Jefferson (who spurned a third term). The committee was in quite a quandry, but after careful deliberation it has been decided to place the statue next to that of Columbus, who after all, did not know where he was going; did not know where he was when he got there, nor where he had been when he returned home; but he did the whole trip on borrowed money.

The inscription to be engraved on the Truman statue will read: "I pledge allegiance to Harry Truman and the indebtedness for which he stands — one man indispensable, with corruption for all."

If you are one of those who dares to have money left after our taxes are paid, we will expect a liberal contribution.

Sincerely yours,
Your Fellow Traveler.
PS: Please Pass this copy on so that other Fellow Travelers may be fortunate to read it.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many lovely sprays and bouquets of flowers received, each kind deed rendered and every kind word spoken during the illness and death of dear Dad, Mr. S. K. Turnbow. May God bless and keep each of you in our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Amon Turnbow, Seminole, Texas
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Turnbow, Carlsbad, N. M.
Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lang and grandchildren.

Graduates from the nation's engineering schools are expected to drop to a low of 17,000 in 1954. This will be more than 65 per cent below the present annual average of 50,000.

DESIGNED FOR GRACIOUS LIVING

This plan offers you a beautiful home with a lot of space for comfortable living at the very lowest possible cost in terms of dollars per square foot of usable area. All of the rooms are rather spacious and in every case you have plenty of unbroken wall space for an attractive arrangement of the furniture.

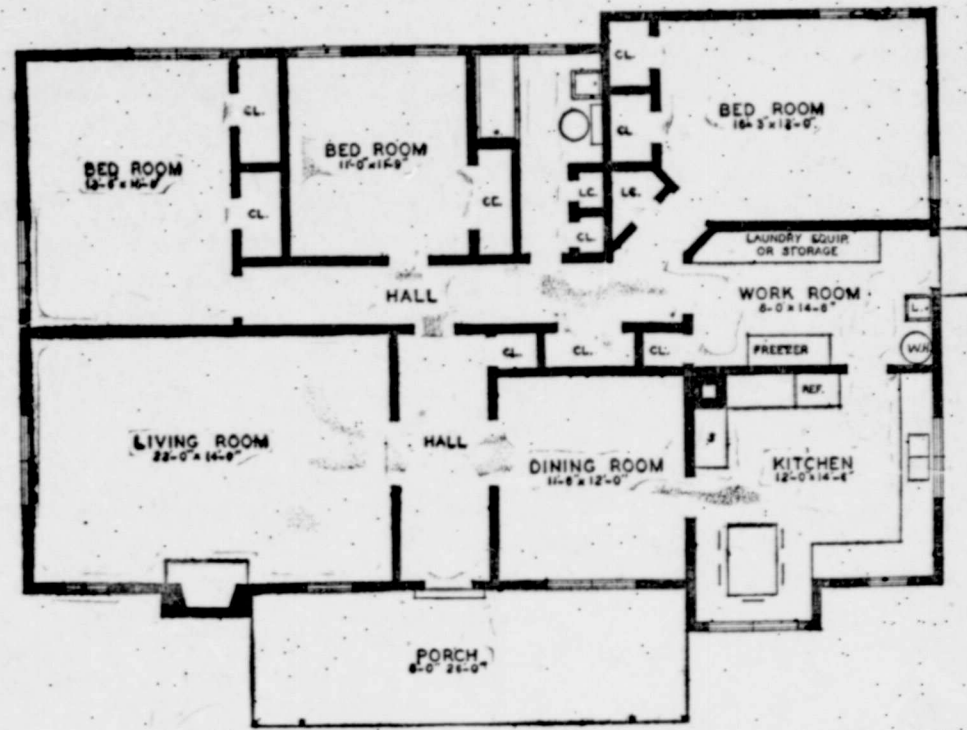

Any farm family will like the kitchen in this house. It should be especially attractive to the homemaker, since it has 21 lineal feet of counter top and an abundance of wall cabinets. Also there is ample space in this room for eating most of the family meals.

Plenty of room is provided in the workroom for laundry equipment or storage as desired. There is also space for a lavatory where the field hands may clean up before going into other parts of the house; and room for a freezer chest and water heater. It has a closet for storage of raincoats, overshoes, etc., that are used outside and cannot be conveniently stored with other clothing.

Although the dining room has been made a conservative size in order to utilize valuable space, it will conveniently accommodate your dining room furniture, with a table that will seat about ten people very easily.

The entrance hall is provided with a coat closet, and will prevent unnecessary traffic in the living room. You will notice that the entire house has been arranged so that it will not be necessary to go through any room in order to get to another. This arrangement will alleviate a lot of housework.

Liberalized Program Is TPBF Demand

WACO — Texas delegates to this year's national convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation will recommend adoption of a national farm program "that permits freedom of action by the farmer on his farm with a minimum of cost to the government," according to C. H. DeVaney, vice-president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

The 34th annual meeting of the powerful national farm organization will be held Dec. 7-11 in Seattle. Resolutions adopted by the representatives of 47 state Farm Bureaus at these annual conventions have a strong influence on the shaping of the government's farm policy for the coming year.

Resolutions which will guide the Texas Farm Bureau during 1953 were adopted at the organization's annual state convention Nov. 10-12 in San Antonio. All resolutions pertaining to national issues will be forwarded to the Seattle meeting.

The Texas Farm Bureau will recommend that acreage controls be imposed to keep production in line with demand, DeVaney said. The resolution on the controls reads: "We feel a more workable control program can be set up on the basis of farm acreage control, percent of the retired acres to be determined by the over-all over-production of all farm commodities."

According to the Texas Plan, unique among all long range farm program proposals, the support prices would have to be flexible to control plantings of the various crops. The support would be 100 per cent of parity when supplies of a given commodity were normal

Must Have Help On Cancer Research

HOUSTON — The M. D. Anderson Foundation has announced a gift of $1,290,000 to the M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research, a unit of the University of Texas.

But unless the Anderson Hospital is able to raise an additional $918,000 through gifts of citizens in the next month or so, the new hospital building, now nearing completion in the Texas Medical Center, will be only half furnished when it opens its doors next year.

The Anderson Foundation, which has given all of the land and much of the money to build the Texas Medical Center, has given a total of $2,403,502 to the Anderson Hospital which operates a state-wide program of cancer treatment, education and research. And because it has other commitments and obligations through 1953, the foundation cannot give additional financial aid to the hospital, said John H. Freeman, a member of the foundation's board of trustees.

Therefore in order to assure full-scale operation of the hospital when its new building is opened, a Houston Advisory Committee of the University of Texas Development Board is organizing a memorialization campaign to raise the needed $918,000.

Walter F. Woodul who heads the committee said in announcing the campaign: "Since the Anderson Hospital serves the entire State of Texas, it is felt that many individuals and organizations might like to contribute to the furnishing of this unique cancer institution, the only one of its kind in the Southwest."

Since it began operating in temporary quarters in 1944 the hospital has treated patients from 226 Texas counties.

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

Some one or two sneaked into our home and abode Monday, while we were at, what we consider honest toil at the Herald office, and left—not took—the nicest bag of turkeys ever dragged your old peepers over. No name on the sack, but several friends are trying to find the name of the donor so they can carry sacks out to his farm, with their addresses thereon.

Claud Callan in his "Cracks at the Crowd" column in the Steer-Telegram, got this one off his chest: "Taxation without representation must have been terrible. Taxation with representation is no joy."

We have a communication from the Republican County Chairman up at Lubbock, stating that a special train out of Lubbock will leave there to attend the inaugural of Eisenhower at Washington, Jan. 20th. The price, is $180, including the Pullman, and the Pullman can be used while in Washington for sleeping quarters.

Personally, we are not interested. Don't suppose we would go as far as Lubbock to see it. Maybe we can see it on somebody's TV set.

As if a serious water shortage was not enough, Dallas is having a hot political fight about where more water is to come from—if it don't rain soon. There is some talk of getting water from West Trinity and also a pipe line from Texoma lake.

But many Dallasites say they will never drink the water that comes down West Trinity that both Arlington and Fort Worth dump their sewerage into. They don't want any sewerage water in Dallas, and particularly from Fort Worth.

We remember 'way back when—the water reservoir over the old fashioned commodes was way up toward the ceiling, and you pulled a cord when you wished to flush the commode. Well, them Fort Worth skunks would 'low, "Pull the cord so Dallas can have a drink of water." Maybe Dallas remembers that old saying.

Even the Weatherman gets muddled of late. Sunday dailies told us, with a straight face, that the roads from Snyder (Texas presumably) were closed into Oklahoma on account of ice. Mayor Homer Nelson and his family returned Sunday from Prescott, Ark., where they had visited his father and other relatives over the holidays, and stated they saw no ice on the roads. Then the Monday papers had a scary headline about a rip-roaring blizzard headed for Texas with snow—probably. Bright sunshine instead.

Hope you had a joyous Thanksgiving. We did, with a turkey gob the Mrs. rustled somewhere. Gathered at our board for the turk and all the trimmings were the Triggs Trio from Snyder, Phillip Rogers and family of the Harmony community, and the Jr. and family.

Some claimed they over-et, but none had to have the aid of a physician.

We have already received a few Santa Claus letters from the small fry, and some of them came in as far back as Oct. We shall start publishing them next week. All of which reminds us that we had as well get our Santa letter off our chest, so here goes:

Dear Old Santa: Your experience is living near the North Pole, which is cold, and at the same time, you visit folks down near the equator—which is summer, and hot at this time of year, so we just thought you might be able to suggest something that would keep us from near freezing in winter. And at the same time, maybe you use a reverse switch on the same apparatus to turn on a cooling system in summer. Hope you have such an article to bring us. Anyway, thanks! The Old He.

We have found Robert Thiel, principal of the Wheatley School for the colored children to be a fine kind of fellow. And many white public men could take a few pointers from Robert in courtesy and consideration. These traits are not all. He has really put Wheatley school among the foremost of the area for the education and training of Negro youths. And he is succeeding in getting quite a lot of good wholesome co-operation from school officials, as well as the general public.
