

Visitation Program, Prayer Meetings Precede Baptist Revival March 8-15

REV. A. B. WHITE
Of Dallas, Texas
Evangelist

An extensive program of visitation and prayer is underway this week in preparation for the revival to open at the First Baptist Church Sunday and continue through Sunday, March 15, according to Arlie Lowrimore, president of the Baptist Brotherhood, which is sponsoring the revival services.

Rev. A. B. White of the Church Loan Association of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be guest evangelist, and conducting singing services during the meetings will be Royce Dowell, who is currently musician and educational director at the Grandview Baptist Church.

Throughout this week and on into the revival week, daily prayer services are being held at 6:30 p. m. at the church, and following the general prayer session, cottage prayer services are taking place in homes of members. Each night at 7:30 p. m. members of the Brotherhood are making visitation throughout the city, and "It is our hope that every Brotherhood member will have participated in the visitation program before next week ends," Lowrimore said.

Nick's Cafe Opens After Remodeling, Expansion Program

Nick's Cafe, formerly LaMecca Cafe, opened for business today following an extensive program of expansion and remodeling. The building on the corner of First and Broadway, which until a short time ago housed Wally's Superette, has been completely redecorated and remodeled.

Decorated in shades of chartreuse, rose and gray, the 40 by 45 foot restaurant area, is equipped to seat 65 persons comfortably. A. R. Nicholson, owner-manager, said. He pointed out that the area which was formerly operated as LaMecca Cafe will be redecorated and remodeled in the near future. However, until that time, the old building space will be available when needed and may be used for meetings, parties and the like.

Formal opening of Nick's Cafe is set for Saturday, and Nicholson has extended an invitation to both old and new patrons to visit the establishment and see the new fixtures and other modern equipment.

Nicholson has been in the cafe business since 1924 and came to Brownfield in 1945. He purchased the LaMecca Cafe on March 25, 1952, and during 1949-50 owned and operated Nick's Barbecue Pit on the Lubbock Highway.

KOREAN VETERANS APPRECIATION WEEK

The occasion of the American Legion's 35th birthday, March 15, was taken by State Commander Brown to put the more than 800 Texas American Legion Posts in a plan to honor the men of Texas who have served in the Korean conflict.

State INS Tourney Set For August By Local Lions

Lions Club board of directors voted to be hosts to the 1953 Texas International Softball League Tournament here in Brownfield sometime in August, when the group met Monday noon at the Brownfield Coffee Shop.

Following a proposal by Ralph Bumpass, state ISL commissioner, that the Lions Club could sponsor the tournament here if it desired, a unanimous vote was cast to accept the softball event.

Clyde Bond Jr., and W. N. (Doc) Lewis, co-chairman of the club softball committee, said the tourney would probably open on August 3, and last ten days. Suggestion was made that it be a double-elimination affair with 16 teams participating.

Announcement will be made next week concerning improvements at the local ball park.

Attending the meeting were Lions Lewis, Jack Griggs, Herbert Chesshir, Bob Clements, DeWitt Stafford, O. B. Stamper, Bond, Jake Geron and Lion President O. R. Douglas. Others present were Art Gatts of Lubbock, Jerry Stoltz, Mrs. N. L. Mason and Charlie Scott, representatives of the press and radio.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Moore visited in Lubbock over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. Brown, and niece, Carylon Benton, visited in Carlsbad, N. M. over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wayne Brown, Jr.

GUESSES BIRTH DATE OF HER BABY

Mrs. Frances Hailey, is not only a good guesser, but lucky, according to Dr. Daniell, of the local hospital, who stated that her new born girl baby was delivered into this world about 2 p. m., Tuesday afternoon.

Some months ago, Mrs. Hailey went to a Lubbock store handling baby clothes, and which has a standing offer to refund all money paid for the baby clothes if they guess the day the baby will arrive.

Mrs. Hailey guessed her then unborn child would arrive, Tuesday, March 3. Her bill was more than $100, and paid in full. Talk about being born lucky; that baby was.

Red Cross Workers Kick-Off Campaign For County Funds

Mrs. N. L. Mason, home service chairman, announced that an additional $1,000 will be needed within the county over last year's expenditures.

County expenses of the Red Cross during 1952 were: aid to service men and ex-service men, $1,562.55; civilian aid, $108.01; miscellaneous expenses such as telephone calls, telegrams and stamps, $323.05; Red Cross Home Nursing, $83.47; contributions to the Arkansas flood disaster relief, $300.

Cubs Drop Regional Contest Opener 62-60

The Brownfield Cubs, handicapped with bad passes and missed free throws, came out on the short end of the score Friday night in their game with the Hereford Whitefaces in the Cubs' first and only game of the Regional Basketball Tournament at Lubbock.

The Hereford boys' height came through to a good advantage, and the full court-zone seemed to slow up the Brownfield boys.

Even though the Cubs had a 14.7 first quarter lead, and a 28-27 half lead, this all dropped as the Whitefaces continued to chew down the margin.

The Cubs lost at the free-throw line, where the Cubs missed 22 and the Whitefaces 14.

Max Black led the scoring for the Cubs with 17, and Profitt had 14. For the Whitefaces, it was speedy Allen with high point honors of 21. Max Profitt also made the All-Regional Team. This is rarely done when a team doesn't even win a game in the regional meet.

Hereford went on and won the next day from Quanah, who beat Spur earlier. Hereford lost out in the finals to Dumas, 57-51.

In other games of the tourney, Childress beat Andrews in the first round and Dumas took Childress in the semi-final of the top bracket, and qualified to play Hereford in the finals.

Dumas will play at Austin this next weekend.

Fred Smith, commission chairman, explained that the commission is studying mayor-council, city commission and city manager plans, and pointed out that a charter will give Brownfield more local authority and make it less dependent on the state in handling its own affairs.

Attending the meeting were Commission members Murphy May, R. E. Self, Smith, James H. Dallas, John J. Kendrick, Jack Hamilton, Cecil Smith, Virgil Travis, Virgil Crawford, Loyd Moore, Jack DuBose, M. J. Craig, Sr., and T. A. Hicks, Jr.

Next meeting of the group will be Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the City Hall, when additional plans for furthering the charter project will be made. Smith pointed out that as the commission becomes increasingly familiar with charters, the commission should progress faster.

Brownfield is a grown-up town now, "telephonically" speaking, and it only took 45 seconds to put the dial system into effect Monday night at 10:34 o'clock. However, months and months of preparation, testing, planning and correcting preceded the actual transition to dial by the General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Approximately 25 workmen took care of the cut-over to the electrically operated dial system. Connections were cut in the old manual office, and insulators were pulled in the new dial equipment. Then the "number please" girl was replaced by a dial tone.

A pre-conversion dinner was held beginning at 7:30 p. m. in the

That Livestock Show Coming In April

Plans are being made by members of the Brownfield Jaycees for a two-day Terry and Yoakum County Livestock Show, scheduled for April 17-18. Both calves and hogs will be shown, but the sheep division is being eliminated this year.

An implement showing and contest among dealers is being tentatively arranged for Saturday morning of the event. Details for this branch of the show have not been worked out.

Future Farmers of America and 4-H boys are to bring their animals to the show barns for weighing in Friday morning, April 17. Judging will take place that afternoon and ribbons will be awarded at that time.

On Friday night, open house will be held at the show barns, so that the general public may inspect the animals and check on ribbon winners.

Complete entry plans will be announced later this month.

HAVE VISITORS FROM MIDLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Griffin and children of Midland, were visitors in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffin the past weekend. They were returning home from Dallas where they had been to take their baby to a specialist. Their son, David, who had been spending the past week in the Griffin home, and Dianne, who had been visiting in the Don Peach home in Lubbock, returned home with their parents.

Esquire Restaurant with Burton Hackney, attorney, serving as master of ceremonies. He introduced Walter G. Wright of Dallas, vice-president of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest, who acted as company spokesman in the absence of Roy Autry, company president. Invocation was asked by Rev. Tom Keenan, minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

Wright told a group of local citizens and company representatives attending the dinner that in 1938 when the conversion to the common battery system was made, 352 telephones were in service. By 1943, 538 phone units were in Brownfield, and in 1948 the number had grown to 1,243. The present conversion gave dial service to approximately 2,450 telephone patrons.

"During the past two years, while we have been getting ready for the transition to dial system, about $500,000 has been invested by the company here in Brownfield," Wright added. He then introduced company officials attending.

Hackney introduced Grady Elder, manager of the Chamber of Commerce; John Odell, chamber president; Al Muldrow, Eunice Jones, and Mayor pro-tem, Herman Chesshir. Mayor Homer Nelson was able to attend the meeting during the latter minutes of the event.

Approximately 35 persons attended the dinner.

Mayor pro-tem, Chesshir made the first telephone call after the conversion to dial, and among the special guests present for the occasion was Mrs. Annie Hamilton Hunt, Brownfield's first woman telephone operator.

Officials participating in the conversion were: Wright, Ray F. Red, company vice-president; R. P. Sullivan, general traffic superintendent; R. N. Taylor, personnel manager; W. H. Thompson, general commercial superintendent; M. C. Royalty, transmission engineer; W. T. Geary, equipment engineer; Oscar Weiss, engineer; R. C. Naugle, engineer, all of Dallas.

J. P. Willows, acting division plant superintendent; W. H. Brantley, assistant to the division plant superintendent; E. L. Langley, division equipment supervisor; C. D. Shelley, district manager, all of Lubbock; T. D. Street, division equipment supervisor; C. V. Fleming, Jr., area traffic superintendent; Mills Roberts, district manager, all of Hobbs; and J. L. Kemper, district manager from Seymour.

Others included: Joe Galik and Michael Nahajlo, both Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation representatives; O. C. Bailey and Ralph Smyth of Kellogg Company; Paul Farrar, senior plant manager, and T. F. Jordan construction foreman, both of Brownfield.

A number of area telephone company employees attended the transition ceremony from surrounding exchanges.

This paper is in entire agreement that private enterprise, as far as possible, enter any business as suppliers, manufacturers and distributors. We firmly believe that as much as possible, the government be kept out of business, for one reason that the government will stretch the blanket to get as many friends as possible in on-the jobs connected with the work. Whereas, private enterprise is trying to pay his help living wages, and at the same time lay by a bit for the "rainy day." Somebody may mention that the postal business is run by the government and that it is pretty efficient. This we admit, but they run in the red by millions of dollars every year, and were it not for extra appropriations by congress, the postoffice department would fold. How many years do you suppose a private business could run in the red? Just one, unless of course the company had unlimited resources the were minded to risk on the second or more years. Presently the postoffice force is on civil service, and are not at beck and call of different political faiths. Thus, postal help is well trained, and you get good service. Of course congress has to appropriate a lot of money other than what is taken in for stamps, money order fees, and other incomes. Then in comparison, there is the public electric utility systems that stretch across our land. It is a far cry from the little system installed by the Thomas A. Edison Co., in a section of New York, with 59 customers, seventy years ago. Of course we have the government controlled TVA's, etc., that do not pay local or state taxes, except tokens. They are overloaded with too many armchair, big flat top desk men, at high salaries, to make anything. And if they go in the hole any year, they have only to call on congress for emergency appropriations. All these are comparatively new, and for the most part are located adjacent to highly populated and well developed sections, industrially. In comparison, let's just imagine what Oklahoma looked like 70 years ago, when Edison started his light plant in New York. As the old timer said, "It was a howling wilderness." Indians just brought in from many sections of the east, composed the area, along with cut-throats and bad men generally. Many years later one power company started in a small way in one community. Now they serve 300,000 customers in that state. They had paid school, county, state and federal taxes, and have helped in the growth of the entire section.

That certainly was a regrettable affair up at Sundown Friday night; a deed that rocked the usually quiet little city of farm and oil interests. Perhaps they have not had anything with like repercussions since the devastating cyclone hit Sundown in May of the late 1940's, that took several lives and injured others, along with property destruction. But we usually regard that as a freak of nature, and no human hand is involved in the ordeal. But the incident of Friday night not only involved two families, scars of which will remain for many years, if ever erased, and too, it hit the public schools right in mid-term, and even during a play rehearsal, that was calculated to help. It certainly is a pity when men so forget themselves that they force themselves into the private affairs, and especially the family life of other people. And for one man to take advantage of the absence of another to invade the privacy of his home for immoral purposes, has reached the height of folly. It will sooner or later lead to vast trouble for both families. There seems to be one thing that some people fail to learn, especially some men, and that is to control their sexual appetites, along with that of their appetites for strong drink. If such amorous conditions so lead one on that he will finally die by bullets of some defender of his household, he is just as lacking in self-control as the person who lets strong drink wreck his life. Both are the wages of lack of self-control. It just seems that some people are so constituted that they see a greener pasture just across the fence, and law or no law concerning break-ins will deter them from transgressing on others' rights. But when one man so forgets himself as to transgress the family privacy of another, he is getting ready for the slaughter. Lots of time alcoholic drinks in large portions, and neglect of the family go hand in hand. We are reminded of a case in a nearby town recently. He too, was a professional man, but he got to where he would spend most of his nights, and all his weekends away from home and family. There was a lewd woman involved in the case. The neglect of the wedded mother and child finally became unbearable, and the young mother and child finally returned to the home of her parent. It would not be a good plan for any lawyer to place us on a jury to try any man who siew to protect his home.

It amuses us no end to see an article now and then about that copy of the old New York Gazette, that turns up now and then. Even the big press associations like the AP and UP, bite and pass the potion on to the dailies, and the thing is printed in good faith. We have seen the article numerous times in weekly papers as well. The reference is to the old Gazette purported to have been published at the time, and giving an account of the inauguration of George Washington as the first president of the USA. Let us state here that we do not deny that there might be some of the original copies of the Gazette of that date in public libraries. However, all the issues we have ever seen, and we believe we have one in our vault, were "reprints," and not originals. But once or twice a year, we see by the papers that some person in Maine, this time in California, has a copy of the old paper. Of course the local news gatherer takes a swipe at getting something sensational, and no daily editorial force is capable of screening all that comes in to be printed. But copies of the Gazette—not originals—have been on the market for years. When the writer was a young fellow attending the Industrial College at Nashville, Tennessee, we boys who were taking a printing course, ran up against just such a matter. We had to make several thousand copies of the Daily Rebel, published at Chattanooga during the Civil War. There were some graphic descriptions of the battles of Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge, and other battles between the Federal forces and Confederates in that vicinity. The paper was a small four page five column paper. We had the contract for the printing, and to make them look old, we kept the paper wet after printing, to make them turn yellow. But they sold like hot cakes at the Tennessee Centennial Exposition in Nashville in 1897. Another sales stunt in our boyhood, was more genuine. An old farmer-turned-merchant in our old home town, who although limited in education, had a business head on his shoulders. When the World's Fair came up in Chicago in the 1890's, he conceived the idea of gathering minnie balls off Shiloh battle grounds some 40 miles east of there, and selling them at the Fair. He hire a super-annuated Methodist minister to gather up the bullets, which could almost be raked up at that time, and sold them like hot cakes at one buck a throw at Chicago, bushel after bushel of them.

Representative J. O. Gillham of this city, wrote us last week that the Optometrist bill had passed the house and had gone to the senate, where it will be taken up this week. His letter stated that it was passed after some of the objectionable features of the original bill had been eliminated. One of them, he remarked in the letter, was the discontinuation of advertising in newspapers. We might add here the the elimination of advertising was just one of the things the newspapers of Texas objected to, and we might add that they are not entirely satisfied with the bill after many amendments. It appears to the newspaper fraternity, for instance, that the bill as a whole was a near approach to restraint of trade. That it placed too much power in a bureaucracy, and news men as a whole are burned up with too much government in business already. For instance, one feature of the bill forbade the ambitious optometrist to expand, as of March 1, this year, what stores he had at that time was the limit, no matter how badly a place needed such a business, or how badly the people wanted it. No one but a one to three store owner could put one in. It looked to us like restricting the expansion to other communities of stores, banks, newspapers, etc. And in the long run, that is what will happen, if the lawmakers don't watch their corners, and we'll have the same kind of system right here in good old Texas they have in Russia. Then there was some hedging on just where a person might locate. Couldn't go into a drug or jewelry store and rent a small corner, for fear he might share profits with the store. There could be no advertising of an enlarged pair of glasses that might call attention to the fact that a person might get fitted for glasses here. Then, there was still a more serious objection by newspaper folks. Our neighboring states, New Mexico and Oklahoma, have a similar law to the one some Optometrists advocated. As a consequence, the people in those states on account of the hike in price, come to Texas to be fitted with glasses, where they are much cheaper. To newspaper folks, it looks a lot like the old fair trades act that people who do not like competition, have been trying for years to get through congress. Let's not restrain freedom of enterprise. Lots of people have to wear glasses. Competition will guarantee a fair price for them.

Another thing that seems to be bothering the independent oil people in particular, is the ever-increasing imports from foreign countries. And we might add that the same thing is heavily burdening our legislature now in session down at Austin. The Legislature must find some funds for increasing the pay of teachers, and better provision must be found to erect new buildings and increase appropriations for the increased cost of providing for the eleemosynary institutions of the state. With the falling off of oil production in Texas, as there is no use of a lot of unsalable oil, other means of taxation must be found to pay $600 more per year to teachers, as well as tuitions of our ever increasing number of pupils. Our insane institutions, the institutions for the blind, deaf and dumb and other charitable institutions, must be cared for from some source. Right now, it is said much oil is coming in from the near east, particularly Iran and Iraq. On top of that, the oil field of British Columbia in Canada is spreading and becoming huge. These fields along the US border has the whole USA as a sales ground, and it is reported the time is near when floods of this Canadian oil will hit the west coast. A pipeline, or rather additional pipelines to the west coast costs a huge lot of money, and the cost of carrying oil so high, that 50¢ per barrel is mentioned as the price Texas oil will bring out there, according to last Sunday's Snyder News. To say the least, unless congress should lamb on an import tax much higher than presently, the oil business will look pretty gloomy, especially to stand further taxing.

Seems as if things keep getting rockier and rockier than ever down there in the Dutchy of Old Duval Jim Wells, ruled and ruined by the Pharr gang. Even with rangers present, the latest grand jury at Alice make plea to Governor Shivers that they are handicapped in subpoenaing witnesses to appear before their court of inquiry, particularly in regards to the slaying of Buddy Floyd. It will be remembered that the killers of Buddy thought they were slaying his father, Judge Floyd, former district judge of the Pharr Dutchy, who was defeated for reelection by one of Pharr's handy men, the new district judge, who knows only the bidding of his boss over in the Duval part of the unlimited monarchy. Mostly Latins live in those counties, who are not only slaves to the boss' whim, but are always ready to do violence bodily to all the Pharr enemies. The Texas part of the Lone Star should take things in hand, and send in a cleanup brigade and throw all the bosses of both Jim Wells and Duval in the clinker. Those two counties are a disgrace, not only to themselves, but to all Texas.

It is a regrettable thing when one comes to the point that he has no confidence or hardly respect for someone, even though he be a high governmental official. But the great majority of Texas people have just about as much respect for Senator Kefauver of Tennessee as they have for a yellow suckegg dog. And this almost goes for Senator Anderson from our neighbor state, New Mexico. Both men are ready and willing to rob Texas and its school children out of their birthright. It is no wonder that Kefauver has no delegations from the south except Tennessee, when he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President. His support all came from the radical element of the Democratic party in the north—Socialist to you, perhaps. Sen. Kefauver has introduced a resolution to hold everything until the tidelands question is thoroughly investigated. In other words, perhaps two years, as the Dallas News suggested, until Sen. Kefauver sees whether another radical congress is elected, and see if they will not agree to the steal of the tidelands along with his scheming bunch. Leases to oil companies, from the three oil producing tidelands states, California, Louisiana and Texas, divided among the 48 states, would help none of them much, but if left to the states to which they really belong, it will amount to much in the years to come. In conclusion, we wish to quote on paragraph from the Dallas News editorial: "The Senator's (Kefauver) pious wishes for a tidelands Panmunjon merit the waste paper basket." In other words, the whole thing sounds too much like that Kremlin "peace negotiating bunch" over in Korea.

The Farm Family At The Mid-Century

It was not long after the first farm demonstration commenced in Kaufman county in 1903, that the Extension method of teaching began to include the woman of the family. Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, the founder of this idea which has become international in its scope, early in his teaching believed in having the woman and girls take part in demonstrations in the home.

Bonnie Cox, acting state home demonstration leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says the first Texas home demonstration agent, Mrs. Edna Trigg was appointed for Milam County in 1912. In the beginning, emphasis was largely placed upon teaching skills in canning, cooking, and sewing. Through the years, the approach shifted to the family as well as the individual, and the program included health and health facilities, economics, consumer education and marketing, family relationships and recreation, in addition to foods, clothing, home management, and home furnishings.

Miss Cox, advisor to the Texas Home Demonstration Association which has more than 3,000 affiliated clubs with 44,000 members, says through their organizations the rural women participate in county program planning, not only studying community and civic problems but devoting considerable time to state and national affairs. They study agricultural resources and local, state and national conditions that affect agriculture, and they are increasing their efforts to acquire an understanding of world problems.

Home demonstration club women observed their fiftieth anniversary for the Extension Service, February 26. Mrs. B. M. Harris, Hale County, president of the Association, represented its members on the opening program at the Porter Farm in Kaufman Co.

Queen of Boating

CHICAGO—Smallest boats on exhibition at the Chicago National Boat Show here, Feb. 6-15, are only six inches long! Some of the largest craft are more than 45 feet in overall length. Queen of Boating Mary Hartline, of TV's Super Circus, is shown with the miniature craft, part of a scale model of launching areas which the Outboard Boating Club of America is exhibiting to encourage communities to expand and improve small boat facilities. The model demonstrates launching in real water with simulated "tidal action" for eight different inland waterway and coastal situations. Drawings and diagrams of these facilities are contained in a booklet, produced in cooperation with the Small Craft Division of the Socony Vacuum Oil Company. The booklet is obtainable free by writing OBC's national headquarters at 307 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago 1, Ill.

Texas Industrial Week Is Being Planned For April

HOUSTON.—(Sp)—One hundred and four Texas cities representing almost a third of Texas' population already are planning or considering 1953 Texas Industrial Week observances the first week of April. Ed C. Burris, executive vice president of the Texas Manufacturers Association, reported today.

This was revealed in a survey of Chambers of Commerce just completed by TMA which coordinates the state-wide industry-emphasis program. Chambers of Commerce spearhead the observance in their respective cities.

Of the 104 Chambers responding to the survey, 61 definitely have plans underway, while the remainder are "seriously considering" programs. The 61 represent over 50 percent increase over the 34 cities which held observances in 1952.

Population of the 104 cities total over 2,813,915.

Mr. Burris said he expected other cities to plan programs before the first of April, for interest in the state-wide program has increased annually since the last Texas Legislature designated April 1-7 as Texas Industrial Week. During the week, organizations and citizens point up the part industry and business play in the economic development of Texas.

Play in the night time kills more people than hard work in the day-time.

Star in the Kitchen

It was only natural that Gordon MacRae, handsome and talented, should get into show business. Both his parents were prominent in the theatrical world. Gordon started his career in grammar school in East Orange, N. J., where he was born. He spent one season with the Millpond Playhouse at Roslyn, Long Island, where he met Sheila Margo Stephens, whom he married. They have three children, Meredith Lynn, Heather Allison and a son, William Gordon. Athletic in school, Gordon played LaCrosse, basketball and went out for track. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 175 pounds. Serious minded and ambitious, he is now being seen in the Warner Bros. picture "About Face." Gordon says that one of the meals that all the MacRaes' love, is:

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE
Had a letter from the folks in Tennessee this week, stating that they are getting a rain back there about every other day. Hardly get a chance to plant the gardens, but that grass, shrubs and flowers are having a holiday. Well, just ship the surplus out here.

Senate Democratic Leader, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, reports that he has called for a bi-partisan support of President Eisenhower's proposal to notify the Soviet that the USA will not yield to their drive to enslave free people.

The Senator added that in his statement of the matter, there appeared no intention of being partisan by the President, and he, Johnson believed the entire congress should get behind the move to let Russia know any kind of aggression will not be acceptable to the USA.

And Representative George T. Hinson from down at Mineola believes that a fair and adequate tax can be placed on natural gas and hurt no one, the user or the supplier. Mr. Hinson states that Texas has many tax needs to be met on more farm roads, old age pension, increase teacher pay, state hospitals, and other worthy needs.

And he states that the people must realize that this extra money must come from some place, either a tax on natural resources, a sales tax or an income tax, or raise the rate on taxation of all the people.

A news item came in this week from the American Can Co., telling some of the advantages American people have in the abundance of tin cans that are produced in America. They meet every need of the town or rural housewife, as well as the farmer, in the preservation of food, or in keeping oil for the machinery on the farm. All this "canned" business would probably be surprising to many foreigners, but to Americans the matter is considered just a matter of fact.

For instance, we decided, or rather she decided, to run out to cousin Phillip Roger's Monday late, as it looked like spring had arrived in all its glory, and perhaps kill two birds with one stone by getting a fine old country meal as Faybelle sure knows how to prepare. We got a good one. But what we had in mind was that we found a large barrel filled high with tin oil cans used in lubricating his tractor and plows. He had more empty cans out there than we saw until nearly grown, altogether.

And while telling of our visit with our Country Cousin, want to say they have much clearer reception of TV than here in town. The big "snowstorm" seen in reception here in town, is almost eliminated out there. But they tell us that when the TV people in Lubbock get their high towers up and begin broadcasting direct instead of from film, much of the "snowstorm" and wobbly effect will be eliminated.

Talking about visiting and visitors, the Snyder younguns were up Sunday. "Hoiman" decided that he could leave his "boys" for a few hours at least. Doggoned if we can't talk Brooklynesse as well as a Brooklynite. Anyway enjoyed 'em, even if it was a monthend and we had to do some "Sunday work."

Then there was a letter from our old sidekick, John Black down there at Comanche. Our new circulation "man," Mrs. Wheat, had accidentally sent him a statement, although his time was not up till August. After correcting us, and we stand corrected, he issued the following tirade.

"Uncle Jack, I had some hopes when you was a young man that you would finally reform, and make a good old man. It disappoints me very much to find that the older you get, the meaner you become." Well, at least we are progressing or digressing one way, John. And when we get that seven bucks promised in August, we hope it is before our birthday on the 23rd, so we can celebrate.

Before us, we have a letter from the Zenith Radio Corp., president, stating that his company is ready for any congressional investigation on hearing aids and service charges, recently introduced in congress. In fact Mr. McDonald says his company welcomes the investigation, as he knows that some of his competitors are skinning the hard of hearing people on exorbitant prices of hearing aids.

Futher, that all aid manufacturers, use about the same material, with something like the same costs, Zenith sells their aids at near half the price of most others. They sell direct and not through agencies. Maybe they think they'd better get from us "deaf Brutes" while the getting's good.

Old Tom Warren was up from his store at Wellman, taking a bit of time out from selling Cokes, Coffee and Cocanuts to mix with us county - seatans. Well now that not all Bro. Warren sells. One time we bought some sweet Garret and a cee-garr there. Come again.

Then there was two of the Clements boys in, who were rear ed out in the Harmon community. Here visiting their dad and two sisters, who still live at the old Clements place, as their mother has passed on. These boys, Gus and his brother came in about a week before to visit. They dropped in to renew for their Herald going to Ashland, Oregon.

By the way, they mentioned others that live out in their section of Oregon, one of them being Joe Eudy.

Speaking of the northwest, made us think of little old Eddie Taylor. That is, he used to be little, and as friendly little youngster as you ever see. Been a long time we no see. So got some army stuff the past week that told us of Eddie's maneuvers up there with the Esquimos and polar bars in Alaska. But the army called it some other kind of maneuver. Read it else where.

Last but not least, maybe we'd betted give you a hint that Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer put out last week. Runs like this: Keep all medicines well labeled. Don't take medicine in the dark. Don't keep poison medicine where children can get to it. In fact there is a lot of medicine not poison, children don't need to mess with.

DIAL PHONES FOR BROWNFIELD!

SWITCH TO DIAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM BEGINS NEW ERA OF PROGRESS

LATE MONDAY NIGHT, while most of the city slept, Brownfield's more than 2,400 telephones were cut over from the old common-battery service to the new fully automatic dial system. The actual switch took less than five minutes, but it climaxed the work of many months.

THE CONVERSION TO DIAL of Brownfield's telephone system is a tremendous stride forward. The finest dial equipment available has been put to use in the beautiful new central telephone office. Mounted in rows of ceiling-high racks, this delicately engineered machinery clicks off local telephone calls with startling speed, practically no chance of error.

DAY OR NIGHT, the dial system offers instantaneous response. The familiar "number please" has become a humming dial tone which signals the caller to begin dialing. As he spins the dial, automatic line-finders seek out the number being called, and within a matter of seconds the called telephone rings — next door, downtown, or many miles away.

THE EMPLOYMENT OF DIAL EQUIPMENT makes it possible for hundreds more local calls to be completed during an average day. You will notice that the new dial service is much faster — especially if you make heavy use of your telephone in business, club work or planning entertainment. Each day your telephone will become more useful to you — will help you accomplish more with less effort.

TODAY'S DIAL TELEPHONE is a pleasure to use. On telephone stand, kitchen counter or bedside table, it is a symbol of security; a ready contact with friends and loved ones whether a mile or a thousand miles distant. On an office desk, it is an instrument of action, adding valuable speed to business.

GENERAL TELEPHONE COMPANY is proud to bring dial telephone service to Brownfield. The dial system which was born Monday night is big in many ways — a big step for General Telephone Company — a big step for Brownfield — and able to grow bigger as the city grows.

HERE ARE TWO THINGS TO REMEMBER...

when seeking a telephone number

All telephone numbers have been changed, effective at the time of the cut-over to dial. The dial directory contains these new listings. You will receive greater satisfaction from the dial system if you consult a directory and make sure of the number before you begin your call. If you have not yet received a dial directory, please notify our local business office and one will be delivered to you immediately.

when using your new dial telephone

1 Lift the receiver to your ear and listen for the dial tone — a steady humming sound. 2 To call telephone number 4-2699, for example, first place your finger in the opening where you see the figure 4 and pull the dial around until your finger strikes the stop. 3 Remove your finger and let the dial spin back freely. Do not force the dial back. 4 Do the same thing with the figures 2, 6, 9 and 9. 5 You should then hear the ringing signal if the line is not in use. The ringing signal is a burring sound, repeated at intervals. It will continue until the telephone you are calling is answered or until you hang up. 6 If the number you are calling is busy, you will hear the busy signal, a buzz-buzz-buzz, which means the line is in use. If you hear this signal, hang up and call again later.

Mrs. T. J. Price Is Honored Sunday On 85th Birthday

Mrs. T. J. Price was honored Sunday on her eighty-fifth birthday when her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Money Price, served dinner at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Price came to Terry county in 1900 from Ellisville. During their first year here they lived approximately ten miles north of town on the D. K. Taylor land. Mrs. Price explained that Taylor gave them what they made from crops for clearing the land. She remembers that the sand covered their crop and they had to replant.

Later the couple moved to Gomez and lived in a half dugout which the octogenarian remembers had plank walls, was floored and "quite comfortable." Their family at that time consisted of Word, Lence, Carrie Belle, (now Mrs. E. Proctor), Lillie May, (now Mrs. Robert Whitney), Bain and Money. Their children born in Terry County were Gay, the first boy baby born in the county, Joe and Sam.

After living in Gomez for some time the couple built a home there, and in 1906 Price was elected the second county clerk of the county. The Prices moved to Brownfield, and he was elected to serve four terms as clerk.

Mrs. Price and her late husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on June 11, 1934. He passed away Feb. 8, 1938.

Goodbye No. 1, Welcome To Too-Toot Fo-Four

It's been a long time acoming but finally arrived. Monday night about nine o'clock, old No. 1, that had been the official call number of the Herald for some 47 years ceased to exist. It was given the Herald way back when the exchange started here in 1906. In fact, we had married raised a family, and had several grandchildren during the 43 years it was part of the "hello" affair of the Stricklin family.

So, now if you want the Herald it is dial 2244, or as we have designated it, too-toot fo-four. Made us think about a crack we took at one of the "Hello Girls" one day last week.

We remarked that it won't be long now until we'll have no response of "number, please," when we lift the receiver. "I'll be just as glad as you," she remarked. Well, now maybe we're not so glad. Some trouble to do the dial, you know.

METHODISTS TO STAGE UNIQUE AUCTION SALE

A Methodist Church Auction Sale is being planned for sometime next fall, by the local First Methodist Church, and funds derived from the project will go in to the building fund for the new church currently being built. The idea was introduced at a meeting of the church Ways and Means Committee held Sunday afternoon at the present Methodist Church building.

Committee members pointed out that anyone doing their spring house cleaning should keep an eye open for any usable furniture which they no longer need. Household furniture, and appliances will be auctioned, along with cows, chickens, loads of grain and all other such material contributions which residents of the area wish to contribute for the furtherance of the building fund.

An auctioneer will be obtained, and the auction will be a county-wide event, with dinner served at noon by women of the church. Church officials hope to make the auction day one which will not only be financially beneficial, but enjoyable from the standpoint of fellowship and visitation.

So This is HOUSEKEEPING

When a usually well-behaved husband suddenly goes amuck and clutches at his bank book in a frenzy born of despair, it's a pretty good sign he's run into the news that a fashion fad is enveloping the ladies. Sometimes, I admit, the poor lads are justified in their behavior but it's come to the point where they automatically run a temperature when the mere word "fashion" is mentioned. Take the other night, for instance.

I had been happily busy with the latest craze to come on the scene and displayed the results of my efforts for my favorite husband to view.

In came Jeff with a, "Hey! What goes on? It looks like the Rose Bowl parade!"

"A mere nothing," I replied coyly. "All nylon flowers... to wear in my hair, corsages for my dresses, centerpiece for our table, gift-package decorations. It's the latest fashion!"

Jeff blanched and went into a raving about fads and the deplorable state of our budget.

"Hold on a minute," I demanded. "First of all, I made this 'Rose Bowl parade' as you call it and had a lot of fun doing it. Second, I just used discarded nylon hose, followed some simple instructions which I got free, and all it cost our darn old budget was the price of some dye remover and a few packages of all-fabric dye. And if you want to make a big thing out of it... why... go ahead!"

A much-chagrined husband asked how it was done and I explained the simple process of first removing the color from old nylons, next tinting in any of 50 colors, and finally cutting the nylon and shaping it over wire into petal or leaf shapes. It ended with Jeff enthusiastically giving me ideas on using more of the nylon bouquets, "since," as he grinned, "they're fashionable!"

P.S. The Tintex Home Economics Bureau has the free instruction leaflet with complete directions for making nylon flowers. You can have it for the asking at all-fabric dye counters or by mail from the bureau at 485 Fifth Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Area Receives Near Half Inch Rain

Rain began falling Saturday afternoon, and continued into the night, perhaps until midnight or after, increasing as the night came on, but never a downpour at any time. As the official measurer went to bed after the newscast at 10 P. M., he does not know whether March should be credited with any of it or not.

Anyway, there was a total of .45/100 in the gauge Sunday morning, and the sun was out bright and pretty. As the rain fell slowly, all went into the ground.

Looked like we were in for some blizzardy weather Tuesday afternoon, as dark clouds and howling wind raged late afternoon and early nightfall, but nothing came of it.

ECONOMY-WISE, WELL-DESIGNED

House Plan No. 29

Like an eye-appealing modern beauty, this Farm and Ranch House No. 29 is outstanding for its clean-cut, simple lines. But the girl must have more than an attractive appearance if she's the type you want to settle down with—and so must a house. This one meets all these requirements.

The flexible arrangement of this house makes it well suited to a growing family. The living room is a pleasant optical illusion. It is comparatively small, but because of the arrangement appears very spacious. If necessary, this room can be used temporarily as a combined bedroom-living room, and serve all the meals in the kitchen.

Two comfortable-sized bedrooms are located conveniently to the bathroom. Each has plenty of well-arranged closet space.

The closet at the front entrance is good for the storage of wraps or raincoats, and occupies an otherwise wasted space. Plans give details for the construction of shelves for the china and the bookcases which surround the fireplace.

This house can be built rather cheaply because of its plain roof, simple lines, and easy frame construction. To increase the economy, we have arranged the bathroom and kitchen on the same wall, and the drains from the bathroom fixtures on one wall.

There is an absolute minimum of plumbing required to serve both kitchen and bathroom fixtures.

Something else which will keep the construction cost down and also keep maintenance at a minimum is the use of double cased, prefinished cedar shingles. We suggest you use these on all walls except the front, where brick or masonry is shown.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD FARM & RANCH Plan No. 5029 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, FARM & RANCH-SOUTHERN AGRICULTURIST, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5029. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Interest Runs High In Chicken-Of Tomorrow Program

College Station—The 1953 Texas Chicken-of-Tomorrow program will be the largest yet conducted if early interest and inquiries are converted into entries, says F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service and chairman of the state committee which handles the program.

All chicks entered in the 1953 program must be hatched during the period from March 8-14 inclusive. The growing period will be nine weeks and the finals in the program will come during the week of May 11-16. The finals will be held this year in Center, Texas. This means, says Beanblossom, that all entries must be delivered or shipped to the Eastex processing plant at Center for arrival on Monday, May 11.

Premium money for the junior division amounts to $700 and this is exclusive of the grand champion award. Ribbons will be awarded on all entries which rate superior, excellent and good and premiums will be paid on the entries which classify in the two top ratings, says Beanblossom.

Safe Conveyance For America's Meat

Believe it or not, conveyances for "meat on the hoof" must be just about as carefully built as those for human transportation. A steer or lamb is unable to sit in an upholstered seat. He is literally "on the hoof" and consequently, likely to be shaken about, bruised or even fatally injured if not carefully transported in vehicles particularly designed for the purpose.

Shown here is a Fruehauf deluxe livestock van, designed and built for fast, safe and economical transportation of livestock. It has a gentle torsion bar suspension system which eases road shock and eliminates dangerous body sway.

Farmers and livestock handlers, such as the Shadow Isle Angus Farm of Red Bank, New Jersey which owns the equipment shown, consider it a wise investment to utilize this "livestock limousine" to see that their cattle gets to market in the finest possible condition. These vehicles are as comfortable as a luxurious transcontinental bus.

UP GOES THE POWER OF EVERY BUICK-

Special Super and Roadmaster!

World's newest V8

television treat—the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—every fourth Tuesday.

It's more than pride that makes a man want a lot of horsepower beneath the hood of the car he owns.

For the real point in reaching record horsepowers and compression ratios goes beyond miles per hour. It steps up performance and economy in normal driving.

That's what Buick engineers did when they upped the power and compression of each 1953 Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER—to the highest figures in Buick's fifty-year history.

In the SUPER and ROADMASTER, they put a new kind of V8 Engine—first passenger-car V8 with 8.5 to 1 compression, and a long list of other major engineering advances.

For the SPECIAL, they redesigned the famed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine—gave it shorter flame travel, faster firing, higher horsepower and compression.

And to these spirited engines they coupled the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive* that adds flash-fast, quiet getaway to utter smoothness.

Just to give you an example of what all this means: The 1953 Buick SPECIAL with Dynaflo can beat the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER on getaway—can reach 30 mph (when the law allows) with a combined speed and jerk-free smoothness no other car can equal.

Of course, there's far more to these new Buicks for 1953—some seven dozen new features alone.

But why not come in and see for yourself that these are the greatest Buicks—and the greatest values—in fifty great years.

Frequent Checks Being Made For Horse Meat Sales

AUSTIN—Spot checks of meat markets by the State Health Department meat inspectors insure Texas housewives that when they buy a pound of hamburger they're getting a product whose contents have been carefully defined by state law, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

In revealing that more than 1,000 meat samples were collected last year for laboratory analysis from all sections of the state, Dr. Cox says that the food and drug inspectors have been ordered to increase the frequency of their inspections of community butcher shops in an effort to curb the sale of horse meat as hamburger.

By State law, hamburger is defined as "chopped or ground fresh beef, with or without the addition of beef fat as such, with or without seasoning, and shall contain not more than 3% per cent fat."

According to an article in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal, K. N. Klapp, of the Anderson, Clayton Co., who represents the company in the Lubbock area, is predicting an increase, and not a reduction in cotton acreage. Klapp is regarded as the semi-official cotton estimator of the area, and in nine out of ten times at the bat, he is almost as accurate as the final ginnings indicate.

Bob Clements Named Local President At Red Raiders Clubs, Inc., Meeting

Bob Clements was named president of the Brownfield Chapter of Red Raider Clubs, Inc., when the local chapter met jointly Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in Veterans Hall with the state Tech boosters organization. Alvin Allison was re-elected state president.

Other new officers of the local group are: Jerrell Price, former Texas Tech football star, vice-president; and George O'Neal, secretary-treasurer. Burton Hackney was outgoing president.

Tech Coach DeWitt Weaver introduced his assistant coaches and discussed football prospects and progress. He also explained that work is underway to add enough seats to Jones Stadium at the college to make a total seating capacity of up to 30,000.

The college coach also credited Price with being one of the chief reasons the Red Raider squad had such a good season year before last. He compared the spirit of his current squad with the enthusiasm and sportsmanship of Price's contemporaries.

Hackney resigned from the board of directors of the state Red Raider Clubs, Inc., and the remaining nine men were re-elected. Other state officers re-elected were O'Neal, first vice-president; John Priddy of Odessa, second vice-president; Miss Lallah Wright of Fort Worth, third vice-president; and Bill Holmes, secretary and assistant treasurer.

Mayor Verner Of Meadow Drops In

Mayer T. E. (Tom) Verner of Meadow, was a pleasant caller last week. Nipped His Honor for two more years of the Herald, after all these years he has been taking the old sheet. Found that his mother's paper was up somewhat in advance, but looked like, at first glance, that it expired last June. Anyway, he told us some of the improvements made in their fine little city in the past years. They now have thirty odd blocks of street paving, and are fixing to erect some stop signs. They have had two pretty severe wrecks where two of their most traveled streets cross. No one killed but injured some. Also several new residences built last year.

They are also putting down a new water well, and are going to the irrigation sands. The old well barely supplies the town at best. The new well is being put down on a corner of the school property. He stated that the Meadow section is getting lots of irrigation wells. Brock Gist got two fairly good ones on his place, going around 800 gallons a minute, Tom understood.

Finally went over to Mayor Nelson's place next door, and after a Coke apiece, and one to our pal, W. B. Benton, we left the two Mayors talking municipalities and other things too deep for us. Come again, Mayor Tom!

Child's Education Costs Less Than Your Baby Sitter

AUSTIN—Your child's education in the Texas public schools costs less than the hourly rate charged by the youngest baby-sitters, Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, said today.

"A lot of people talk about the high cost of education," Tennyson said. "Actually, during the 1951-52 school year, the actual cost per class room hour for each child was only 21 cents. Figures for the 1951-52 school year are the latest available. Total public school costs for that year were $318,963,072, according to figures compiled by the Texas Education Agency. Average daily attendance was 1,213,000. Dividing that figure into the total costs shows that $262 was spent that year for each child. Dividing $262 by 180, the number of school days, gives a cost per day of $1.45. Dividing $1.45 by seven, the hours in a school day, gives an individual per hour cost of 21 cents.

Underwood To Lead Texas Concer Drive

Arch S. Underwood

AUSTIN—Arch S. Underwood, West Texas cotton compress man and resident of Lubbock, will be chairman for the 1953 Cancer Crusade of the Texas Division, American Cancer Society.

Announcement of his appointment to head the combined educational and fund-raising Crusade next April was made by Mr. Travis T. Wallace, Dallas, newly elected president of the Division.

In accepting the position, Mr. Underwood said, "I am proud to assume the chairmanship of this humanitarian and life-saving Crusade. While there is a financial goal of $600,000 to be achieved in our campaign, almost as important is the fact that we will try to reach every adult in Texas with an educational message which will help him become more familiar with the basic facts about cancer.

"Our chief aim is to provide our citizens with vital information which can save lives."

Mr. Wallace, in a statement, said, "The Texas Division is fortunate to have the leadership of a man of Mr. Underwood's organizational and executive ability to head the state's most ambitious Cancer Crusade."

The American Cancer Society's annual Cancer Crusade will begin April 1.

Easy Recipes to Brighten Lenten Meals

Golden pineapple with shrimp makes a delicious and satisfying salad for meatless days.

Ever thought of combining fish with fruit? This idea is particularly timely now during Lent when meatless dinners are in order and you'll find that the fresh, exciting flavor of golden pineapple will lend new and appetizing interest to your menus. Pineapple is universally popular and so versatile it is a perfect flavor-mate with any fish: fresh or frozen halibut, sole, bass or any of the canned varieties such as tuna, salmon, shrimp or crab. You can use pineapple rings or chunks as an accompaniment for broiled or fried fish, or as a stuffing for baked fish, and a colorful topping of pineapple tidbits will lend inviting flavor to fish casseroles. In main-dish salads, which are especially important during this Lenten season, the addition of pineapple will make them doubly appealing to the eye and more satisfying to eat.

Quality Planting Seed Cheap Crop Insurance

College Station—Certified seed may cost slightly more than other seed but the added expense gives assurance or purity, higher germination and better yields at harvest time. Seed of questionable purity and germination may not be cheap at any price, says L. C. Coffey, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He points out that certified seed are usually the best seed of a particular variety available. These seed come from fields that have been inspected during the growing season, have been properly handled at harvest time, cleaned, tested for purity and germination and properly stored. All this, he adds, is insurance for the farmer.

The blue tags attached to each sack of certified seed carry information that should be of interest to the buyer. The State Department of Agriculture issues the tags for use on seed that have met certain high standards of purity and germination.

Coffey suggests that farmers purchase now the seed they will need for planting this year's crops. Supplies generally are adequate but last minute shoppers may find local stocks depleted and thus forced to plant whatever seed are available.

Finally, says Coffey, if the planting seed have not been chemically treated for controlling seed-borne and seedling diseases, farmers will find this practice profitable and more cheap insurance against poor stands and plant losses during the very early plant growth period. Local county agent can supply information on seed treating and variety recommendations.

The week of March 7-14 has been designated by Governor Shivers as 4-H Club Week in Texas. 4-H members in Texas now number more than 117,000.

AUSTIN REPORT

By

Representative J. O. Gillham

At the invitation of General Manager O. B. Ellis, I had the pleasure this week of making a complete inspection trip through the entire Texas Prison System. I don't mean that there is anything pleasant about seeing the 7,058 men and women in our prison walls paying for crimes they have committed, but it was a pleasure to find that Mr. Ellis is operating the Prison System as a business institution; and furthermore, he is trying to rehabilitate the men and women who are so unfortunate as to be incarcerated in a prison for a term of years, many of them for the rest of their lives.

You know of course that our main penitentiary is located at Huntsville, Texas. Near Huntsville is the Wynce Farm, which consists of 1912 acres, 450 acres is cultivated, and the balance is grazing land.

Alson near Huntsville is Goree Farm, where are located all of our women prisoners, totaling 128 in all, with about half of them Negro and Mexican. Then there is Eastham Farm, which is one of the largest in the entire system, consisting of 12,970 acres, with 2,350 acres cultivated and the rest of the land in pasture.

Ferguson Farm is also located near Huntsville, which has 4,344 acres, there being 500 acres in cultivated land and the balance in grazing land.

At Ferguson Farm there are only 66 men, the best men in the entire system, they are trustees. There are no guards or high fences. None of the trustees have ever run away. They have a rather high sense of honor. Last year, they told us, when one of them stole a package of cigarettes, the others asked for the guilty person to be transferred to another part of the system.

After inspecting the system around Huntsville, we drove to Sugarland Central Farm. Near Sugarland they have Blue Ridge Farm for Mexicans and Harlem Farm for Negroes. There are 776 Negroes at Harlem. We were told that they were the toughest prisoners in the whole system. We were there during the lunch hour and saw them marching into lunch, and they really did look tough. There were ten in our inspection party. No one ever tried to harm us, though we could have reached out with our hand and touched all of these Negroes.

No one was armed on the floor of the dining hall. Mr. Ellis told us that those black boys would disarm you in the flash of an eye, which is the reason for none of them carrying guns. But there were several men up above the dining hall who sit behind machine guns of the highest caliber, so you don't think of getting scared. The prisoner would have very little chance, and he knows it. So they just don't try any funny tricks around the prison, though they do try sometimes to escape when they are in the fields working. No one has escaped in the last year, which I think is an excellent record.

After leaving Harlem, we drove down to Darrington Farm near Angleton, then on to Clemens and Retrieve. Then we drove to Ramsey Farm, which is the largest farm in the system, there being 15,846 acres with 6,250 acres in cultivation. The largest prison population is at Ramsey, there being 1,203 except Huntsville Prison generally known as the "Walls" has about 1,600 prisoners.

As I have already said, Mr. Ellis has really done a wonderful job of rehabilitation at our prison system. Though he has been General Manager only five years, we have what was formerly an old run down system converted into a most modern one, with the exception of Eastham, which is a disgrace.

It will always be so until we appropriate about $3,500,000.00 to build a new prison. They have one of the best farms of the whole system. They have only 370 men there now, living in a very old building, which has no heat except open gas stoves, no wiring except that which is strung across all over the building. The plumbing is terrible, with the latrine in the end of the big room where 370 men sleep. It was clean as it could possibly be kept, but they simply do not have any building to keep. They are certainly doing a wonderful job with what they have. Talking about cleanliness, I have never been in many homes which are kept cleaner than most of our prison system. They have everything shining and spotless, and it is kept that way. We must build a new building at Eastham, and soon.

I want to say a word about how our prisoners are treated. They have a bath and clean clothes every day. They have three good meals every day, and I do mean good. They have meat every meal with all kinds of vegetables. All they can eat and the food is cooked good too. I ate prison food for three days, and I have never eaten better food either in my own home, my Mother's or anywhere else.

They feed our prisoners for about 49 cents a day. This is a reduction from $1.26 per day, when O. B. Ellis took over five years ago. Why the lower cost? Because the prison farms are now producing 75% of all food used in the entire system. They have not bought one pound of meat in over two years. They produce all their vegetables with some for sale. Other operations which they do for themselves are their canning plant, meat processing plant, chicken hatchery, shoe factory, dairy food processing plant, machine shop, textile mill, and then they make all of the automobile license plates used in Texas.

The have the latest design of machinery in all departments. The equipment is kept in good condition. Women prisoners make the clothes for all the prisoners from prison-made cloth. They make about 4,400 garments per week and have good machines to make them on. Mr. Ellis told me that last year the farms produced more than 10,000 bales of cotton.

Everybody works about 10 hours per day, unless he is physically unable to work, in which case he is not compelled to work. There are no whips or other instruments of punishment used. Mr. Ellis says you can no more force a prisoner to work than you can force a horse to drink water. Of course, they have ways of punishing these kind, which is usually about two or three weeks in a solitary cell which did not look like a very good place to spend one's leisure time.

The men all seemed to be reasonably happy for people in prison. There was no griping or apparent resentment toward anyone. Mr. Ellis believes that men ought to be better men when they come out and for that reason insists on them being treated humanly, although he is a strict disciplinarian.

I could not help but notice how the prisoners, many of them, would smile and speak to him. He would stop and chat with them and listen to anything they might have on their mind, like inquiries about when they might be eligible for parole or pardon. He always gave them a sympathetic ear. I noticed that all prison wardens, guards, and others connected with the system, seemed to have the respect of all inmates.

Our prison system is a big business operation. They have a total of 73,745 acres of land, with 29,264 acres in cultivation. They have 202 tractors, 137 mules, 516 horses and mares, 2,411 dairy cattle, 8,456 beef cattle, 5,069 hogs (the best I've seen in a long time) 495 rabbits, 275 blood hounds, 13,962 chickens, 167 turkeys, 391 ducks, 191 geese and 177 sheep. The whole operation is run by highly trained personnel.

All their own buildings are built by prison labor, under expert supervision. I forgot to mention that they have their own brick factory. They make fine brick too. I sure would like to have a house made with as good brick. I was told that there are many fine carpenters, bricklayers and mechanics among the prisoners. Most of the men in supervisory jobs are college graduates, and most of them are young too.

Another thing about the people who run our penal system is that they are church men. Mr. Ellis himself is a Christian gentleman. We had dinner in his home, and we had thanks before we ate. I am always reassured when I know we have men of Christian character in charge of our institutions. This is especially commendable and desirable in our men at our penal system.

I know this article is too long, and I want to say that I hope none who read this will ever have to go to one of our penal institutions as an inmate. But if that should happen, you may rest assured that our prisoners are well treated, well fed and well clothed. They have church every Sunday, and about half of them go on a voluntary basis. They do not force anyone to go to church, which is as it should be. I would think much less of their religious program if it was a compulsory proposition. I firmly believe that many of our young men who have had the misfortune to be sent to our penitentiaries will come out better men. Many of them will be taught a trade too, and will learn how to do things with their hands. Some will learn to use their heads too, for they have a chance to go to school if they desire. I want to assure any mother who might chance to read this and who might have a son in our penal system, that her son is being given a chance to rehabilitate himself. If he does not come out a better man, it is his own fault. The saddest thing about the penitentiary is that most of the inmates are men under thirty. Most of the women are older.

Just before we left Ramsey Farm, we went to their auditorium and heard a very fine orchestra play. They are ready, good and broadcast every week over a Texas network. They have some fine singers too. As they were rendering their last number, they raised their curtain back of the stage. There was a beautiful painting of the Last Supper. I could not help but shed a few tears and breathe a little prayer of thanks that our young men there are being led by a group of Christian men and women. There is some good even in a prison—but I wouldn't advise anyone to go there.

Ah Ha! TFB Goes Into Queen Business

The Texas Farm Bureau will give recognition to the beauty, charm and vivaciousness of farm and ranch girls this year by sponsoring a state-wide Queen Contest, according to President J. Walter Hammond.

Top prize for the Winner who will be selected in November at the annual convention in Mineral Wells is an all-expense-paid trip to the national convention in December in Chicago. The Farm Bureau will also pay the expenses of a matron escort.

The board announced that the contest will be an "honest-to-goodness" Queen Contest and not just a bathing competition. The entrants will be judged on three main points: (1) appearance, (2) poise and (3) personality.

Old Brownfield City Map Located

We decided last weekend to do a little house cleaning, and one of the objects was a bunch of old contracts with advertising agencies that ran back in the early 40s. These contracts are renewed yearly, so we proceeded to eliminate all that were not currently in force.

But way down toward the bottom, we dug up an old map of Brownfield put out by the late Clint R. Rambo, who died in the late 20s. It was drawn by Watson Purcell, then county surveyor. Main street was then Hardin St., named after one of the founders of the town, and Small street, named for a co-founder, was what is now known as Broadway. All other east-west streets still have the same names, presently.

At that time, when you got out to First Street, or now better known as Lubbock-Seagraves highway, you were practically out of town, and in the rabbit hunting area, except about two blocks known as Bell subdivision. Up Lubbock Road there was nothing east of it until you got to Cordill addition, six whole blocks and six halves.

There was nothing on the Tahoka highway after you turned off the Lubbock highway, except some blocks with the owner's name, such as M. V. Brownfield, J. C. Lewis and Ross Renfro. What is known as the Santa Fe addition was pretty well filled with scattering residences. Same across the Santa Fe tracks in what is known as the First Addition to Brownfield.

Now, when you get to the First Street from Broadway or Main, you have really just entered the residential section of Brownfield. There was no date on the old map.

Long Time Resident Died Last Week

In 1924 after the railroad reached our city, one of the newcomers and his family to arrive was E. D. (Ed) Ballard. At that time a lot of people were coming here from the Paducah, Vernon and that area of Texas, and we are glad to say that one and all of them pitched right in with the old timers and other newcomers to make Brownfield a bigger and better place to live and rear their families.

For awhile Ed Ballard engaged in farming, and later he was in the feed business at Sixth and Hill. People found that Ed Ballard was a very nice man and a very good man to deal with. Ed was no backslapper, but he made friends fast. While he was never on the fence himself about any question at issue, he always granted the other fellow the same right he took.

This writer will always value the friendship of Ed Ballard.

Funeral was held at the First Christian Church last Friday afternoon, with the pastor, Rev. Paul Farrell, officiating, assisted by Rev. Tom Keenan, pastor of the First Christian Church. Burial in Brownfield Cemetery followed.

Pallbearers were H. M. Pycatt, Lee O. Allen, Irvin Rambo, O. L. Stice, Eunice Jones and Harmon Howze. Mr. Ballard was 73 years of age.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Frank and Eddie, both of Brownfield; three daughters, Mary Ballard and Mrs. Crawford Taylor, both of Brownfield; and Mrs. O. G. Cheek, Odessa; two brothers, J. R. and Edgar, both of Lubbock; three sisters, Mrs. Ida Thompson, Holdenville Okla.; Mrs. Betty Blakely, Stratford, Okla.; and Mrs. Myrtle Robertson, Bonham; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Lineman Dies Here After Being Burned By 70,000 Volts

John T. Paris, 34, of Lubbock, died at 6:14 a. m. Wednesday in Treadaway-Daniell hospital as a result of burns received Sunday morning when he got too near a 70,000 volt line while working about seven miles north of here on the Levelland Road. He was a Southwestern Public Service lineman.

He received burns over most of his body and was knocked unconscious by the blast of electricity. Burns were especially severe on his left arm and side.

His fellow workers administered artificial respiration before attendants from Brownfield Funeral Home arrived by ambulance. He was received at the hospital for treatment about 9 a. m. Sunday.

Brownfield Funeral Home was in charge of taking his body to Cleburne Wed., where funeral services and burial will take place.

Paris is survived by his wife and two children of Lubbock, his father, H. N. Paris, and two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Fisher of Cleburne and Mrs. R. S. Skiles of Lampasas.

HAS PLASTIC SURGERY

Mrs. W. C. Knox, 501 East Lake, has just returned from Dallas, where she has been with her six-year-old daughter, Penny. The little girl was badly burned several months ago, and has undergone two plastic surgery operations. She will not be released from treatment until two more operations are performed.

Mrs. Richard Ulery, from San Fernando, California, came in this week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Stone. Mrs. Ulery's husband is to come later.

BHS Parents Attend Monday Program

Approximately 175 parents went "back to school" Monday night at Brownfield High School, according to Byron Rucker, school principal. The school chorus sang a group of selections during a general meeting of parents, faculty members and guests in the auditorium.

Following the assembly program, during which parents were welcomed to the program, each parent followed his own child's schedule of classes, set up on a short period system. After parents were given an opportunity to meet faculty members and obtain a general idea of a day at school, a demonstration was given on the use of movie projectors for instructional purposes.

"Members of the faculty were well pleased with the turnout of parents," Rucker said, and expressed the hope that the "back to school" tradition can be continued and improved as a part of the annual celebration of Public School Week.

Mayor Nelson And Wife Attend Anniversary

Mayor Homer Nelson and Mrs. Nelson were down at Terrell last week, to attend the 50th anniversary of the first demonstration farm established in the USA, by the US Agriculture Department. It was on the Walter C. Porter farm near that city. Mr. Porter was Mrs. Nelson's dad.

Homer reports that they had considerable rain down there, and that grass and other grazing matter is half knee high, and green. Also that the stock was fat. Two of her brothers still live on the farm.

The only people to get even with are those who have helped you.
