Eldon Baggett

Eldon Baggett, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Baggett, was fatally injured Saturday, Aug. 8, in a 100-foot fall from a drilling rig west of town. Funeral services were held Monday, Aug. 10, in the First Baptist Church at Brownfield, and interment was in Terry County Memorial Cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

He served in the navy from 1944 to 1946, in active combat service in Korea and Japan, on the USS Guam, as seaman first class. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

In 1946, Baggett was married to Miss Theda Jobe, and they had two sons, Kelly Roy and Russell Ben. He had been employed with the Rowland Drilling Company for the past three years.

Mrs. W. A. Bell, Miss Margaret Bell, and Vernon Bell, returned this week from a 17-day trip through Oregon, California, and Arizona.

THREE BUSINESSES BURGLARIZED, ONE IN CITY LIMITS, TWO IN SUBURBS

Three area businesses were burglarized this week, and the object of all three break-ins was cigarettes and money. Cigarette machines were taken from two businesses, while the third machine was robbed but left at the business house.

Charlie's Drive-In, on the Lubbock highway, was entered through a bathroom window in the early morning hours of Aug. 17, and the burglars cut a hole in the bathroom wall to gain entrance into the main part of the building. The door of the cigarette machine was pried off, and the money removed, and the thieves went out the front door. This was the only burglary within city limits.

The Skating Rink, located on the Plains highway, was burglarized during the night of Aug. 16, or the early morning hours of the 17th. A cigarette machine was taken from the business, to a spot near the Plains highway, dismantled and robbed of cash and cigarettes. The abandoned machine was reported to the local police department by a passerby.

The service station owned by Oscar Decker on the Seagraves road was broken into through a wooden panel of the back door. A cigarette machine belonging to the business was also reported one-half mile out on the Lamesa road by a passerby. Besides taking the money and cigarettes from the machine, the thieves also helped themselves to candy and cookies while at the station.

NEW SOUTHSIDE MINISTER WELL LIKED

Most of the people we have talked with, who are members of the Southside Church of Christ, are pretty well pleased with Bill Andrews, the new minister. He is a young, ambitious fellow, knows his Bible, has a good delivery, and doesn't hum and haw over it. In fact, the two sermons we have heard him preach, lasted from 25 to 30 minutes. But he told all that was necessary about his subject.

The minister and wife came here from Fredonia, Texas, and are moving into the minister's home this week, we understand. He comes to the Southside church with good recommendations, and his wife is also said to be a good church worker.

Bill has been preaching seven years, following his graduation from Freed-Hardeman College at Henderson, Tenn. He has done work for the churches at Tom Bean, Honey Grove, and Fredonia. He is a native of Denison, Texas, and his wife of Florence, Ala. He does evangelistic work in summer.

Miss Jean Craig attended the wedding of a Tech classmate, Miss Marvel Gibner, last weekend, in Spearman, Texas.

Primm Second In ISL Denham, Morton, Wyoff, Warren, On All-State Team

The Lorenzo Lions, undefeated in five games, won the 1953 state ISL tournament at Lions Park Saturday night, defeating Brownfield's Primm Drug, 5-1, in the finals, before a crowd of some 1,500 roaring fans.

The Druggists and Lions, battling all season for the lead in the Texas Softball League, were on even terms in the title tilt, except for the first inning, when Lorenzo scored four runs to run off with the bunting.

Primm defeated Arlington of Fort Worth on a no-hitter by Red Denham in the first game for the losers' bracket crown.

First Inning Damage

A hit batsman—with Rice Institute tackle Eddie Rayburn doing the hurling for the Druggists—wild pitch, fielders' choice, two stolen bases and three singles did the damage in the first inning of the nightcap.

James Abbott, All-America of 1952, started the frame by being hit, and went to second on a wild pitch. Buzz Warren, Texas Tech football coach, singled him home, stole second, and went to third on a fielder's choice, Dub Warden being safe at first on the play.

Then Warden stole second and both he and Warren scored on a single by Bob Haney, who went on to third when the centerfielder tried unsuccessfully to trap the ball. Manager Willis James then singled him home and the game was practically over.

Other Hits Listed

Warden doubled and scored on a single by Weldon Haney, the winning pitcher, in the third and Primm got a tally in the sixth on a double by Rayburn and single by Tuffie Lewis.

The other two Lorenzo hits were by Bob Haney, a double, and Wally Fowler.

Rayburn fanned eight, walked two and Haney struck out ten and walked two.

Primm got three hits in the opener—all in the third inning—to score two runs, after Arlington had come up with one in the top of that frame. Fort Worth's tally came on an error, hit batsman, fielder's choice and outfield fly.

Powers Takes Loss

Then, in the third, Dunk Warren singled for the Druggists, was sacrificed to second, went to third on an error, and scored on R. C. Morton's single. Jack McKnight then singled L. G. Wilson home for the winning run.

Bill Powers started and got the loss for Arlington, with Jimmy Alcott coming in and pitching hitless ball the final two innings. Powers and Alcott both got six on strikes.

Seven players repeated on the all-state team chosen at the end of the tournament, with Weldon Haney of Lorenzo getting the most valuable player award. He pitched and played outfield, hitting .400, and striking out 45 in three mound appearances, giving up only five hits in that time.

A special strikeout award went to Randall Reiger of Ince Oil, who whiffed 57 in five games, one a no-hitter and another a one-hitter.

All-State Team

LAST RITES PENDING FOR WRECK VICTIM—OTHER GIRL HAS BACK INJURY

A 17-year-old Brownfield girl was killed—the 18th traffic fatality on the south Plains in the past 18 days—and a teen-aged girl companion seriously injured, when the car in which they were riding overturned near here late Tuesday night.

Joyce Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. (Pete) Ellis, 711 East Oak, died of chest injuries in an ambulance on the way to a hospital, a short time after the 9:30 p. m. accident.

The other occupant of the car, Sue Campbell, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. (Doc) Campbell, Box 935, Brownfield, was in serious condition at Treadaway-Daniell Hospital with back injuries.

Car Was Demolished

The accident occurred about 14 miles south of Brownfield on the Foster road, Sheriff Chick Lee said. Apparently the 1952 Buick Super went out of control as the Ellis girl attempted to negotiate a curve. The car turned over several times, and was demolished. Sheriff Lee said that it looked as though the vehicle had rolled over the Ellis girl. Both teen-agers were thrown clear of the car.

It was reported that the girls were traveling south, on their way to visit a friend.

The extent of the injuries suffered by the Campbell girl had not been determined late Tuesday night at Treadaway-Daniell Hospital. She was brought here in a Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance.

The Ellis girl would have been

THE HERALD THANKS SUPT. O. R. DOUGLAS

The Herald thanks Supt. O. R. Douglas of the local schools, for two season passes to all home games of the Fighting Cubs this season. Also his hearty invitation to sit in on these games as they are played.

The Old He is getting a bit too old and crabid to go out much at night. In fact, we just don't do it. Besides, we never played the game, and in former years attended some here, as well as one or two college games at Lubbock. They are Greek to us.

But the Jr. Editor played four years back in the early 30ties with the Cubs, and there is nothing he likes better than a football game. We are therefore turning the passes over to him. Thanks, anyway.

DREAMS OF GOING ABROAD COME TRUE FOR ROY WINGERD FAMILY

By Mrs. Roy Wingerd

We started our second morning in London by a sightseeing trip to many of the famous buildings of which I had read so much: Buildings such as St. Paul's cathedral, Sir Christopher Wren's great masterpiece, Westminster Abbey, where England crowns her sovereigns and buries her great dead, and the houses of parliament, from which she governs the commonwealth.

But of all the sights within the city, I think I enjoyed most the Tower of London. Here was all of English history since the Norman conquest of 1066, telescoped into 14 acres of ground. Built on the Thames, hard by that London bridge which was purported to be always falling down; the tower was erected both as a fortress and a residence for William the Conqueror. Its gray stones now are black with the accumulated grime of centuries, but it stands like England herself; formidable, ageless, looking back on a thousand years of glorious and bloody history.

Mr. Gay, the gentleman from Vermont, seemed to have an almost morbid curiosity in regard to the old European habit of cutting off troublesome heads. Often, to our great embarrassment, we would hear him inquiring of our guides in all the public buildings we entered, if any heads had been cut off there. Many times, they would answer him pityingly or with disdain, but here in the tower, he must have had a field day, for here in truth and in profusion, heads had rolled; proud heads of Anne Bolyn and Katherine Howard, murdered wives of Henry VIII; the gallant heads of Essex and Leicester, favorites of Elizabeth I, and sentenced to their death by that capricious queen; the 16-year-old head of pathetic little Lady Jane Grey, severed from her studious young body for her crime in daring to call herself for eight days what, in truth she really was, queen of England; the adventurous head of Sir Walter Raleigh, whether traitor or patriot no man can say for certain to this good day. All these and literally hundreds of others meant there had been no dearth of blood-letting in the Tower of London.

One of the most interesting sights within the fortress is that of the ravens which strut about like evil black ghosts, and are attended and fed by the warders; dressed in medieval costumes of black and red, and wearing their funny flat hats, just as they have worn them for 400 years. You see, there is a legend that, if the ravens ever leave the tower, England will fall. Though not otherwise a superstitious race, the British are taking no chances here. So they clip the wings of the birds before they can fly, and pamper them unmercifully to stifle the urge for freedom.

Altogether, we wished that we might spend days poking about the tower, instead of the afternoon we had allowed ourselves.

We had hoped to attend the Palladium in the evening to see a typical English music hall program, so you can imagine our disappointment to find that the headline act there was Tennessee Ernie; whom we had heard and seen on so many television shows in the States that we were tried of him, and quite ready to leave him to the British; so we settled for the Hippodrome instead.

The humor of the music halls we found to be broader, and more on the slapstick order than our own; but their theater offerings were uniformly good, even though London was going in strongly for historical plays during the coronation year. We especially enjoyed 'The Young Elizabeth, dealing with the early life of the virgin queen, and loved Anna Nagle in 'The Glorious Days; a drama of the life and time of Queen Victoria.

Two of our pleasantest days we spent driving about the lovely countryside, and seeing such interesting sights as the little church at Stokes Poges, in which the family of William Penn worshipped, and in whose courtyard Thomas Grey wrote his famous elegy. In fact, we were driven by intermittent gusts of rain into taking shelter under that thousand year old yew tree where he sat to pen these well remembered lines:

"The boast of heraldry,
the pomp of power
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave
Awaits alike the inevitable hour
The paths of glory lead
but to the grave."

On this trip, too, we enjoyed a visit to Sulgrave manor, the home of the Washington family, but the dreadful cold of the old house drove us quickly to the village for the inevitable cup of tea; which the Englishman brews black and strong, with no nonsense about lemon and other such refinements.

On the second tour out of London, we went down to Stratford-on-Avon to visit the Shakespeare country, and the birthplace of the great bard. We could almost imagine ourselves back in Elizabethan England, except for the crowds of tourists already thronging the village. Some have laughed at this so called Shakespeare cult, and the people who practice it, but, after all, isn't it better to give homage to a master of language rather than a Hitler, a Napoleon, drunk with power? I can find no fault with Stratford-on-Avon, nor with its people, who know a good thing when they see it, and have not scrupled to set up souvenir shops in its quaint old dwellings. After all, the poet was, himself, the son of a shop keeper; and even wrote his deathless plays with the profit motive well in mind.

I think the only jarring note is the Shakespeare memorial theater where a performance of one of his plays is always to be seen during the season. This building is blatantly modernistic in style, and contrasts too greatly with the 16th century architecture of the rest of the village; according to my judgment.

VA Questions And Answers

Q—I'm a Korean veteran with a service-connected disability, and I'm thinking of taking out a term GI insurance policy. May I convert this policy later to a permanent plan of GI insurance?

A—There are two types of term policies available to post-Korea veterans. One is primarily for the non-disabled and is not convertible. The other is only for the disabled and is convertible. If you get the latter, you may convert it to a permanent plan later.

Q—I am still in the army, and covered by the free $10,000 protection against death. If I should die under this protection, I'm told the money would have to be paid to my brother, who is my sole living kin. What I want to know is if I take out GI insurance after my discharge, will I have to name my brother as beneficiary?

A—No. Under your post-service GI insurance policy, you may name any person or persons, firm, corporation, or your estate as the beneficiary or beneficiaries.

Q—I have a GI insurance policy and I have named my wife as beneficiary to receive the money in a lump sum upon my death. Will she be bound by that condition, or may she choose to receive the money in monthly installments?

A—She will have the choice of accepting the money in a lump sum or of receiving it on a monthly installment basis under any one of three different installment options.

LET'S ALL GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Where We Are All One With The Lord

Peace... Good Will...

Everywhere, among good people, there exists a longing to make our world tranquil and prosperous—a desire for man to unite for peace, good will and understanding. For from good will comes forbearance and from understanding, a better way of life. And what better time than now for every man to renew the realization that all our good human relationships—yes, even our business relationships, are based on our faith in God and our fellow man. Only through this faith can we assure the continuance of freedom without fear—tolerance with tyranny—democracy and lasting peace.

The Bob Hayneses Call On Us Saturday

We are getting a lot of surprise visits here of late, many from people we have not seen in many moons. Among them was Ed and Mrs. R. B. (Bob) Haynes of the Miami Chief, from up there at Miami, county seat of old Roberts, near the top of the world. We believe Pampa claims the exact top position.

We have been knowing these good people since before. Heck had his eyes open. First as an employee of the old weekly Lubbock Avalanche. Later he was sent to Tahoka to take charge of a paper; then he bought the paper down at Seagraves and carried on for some two years, moving to Miami, where they seem to be staked for life. One of the boys is presently the County Judge of Roberts.

When younger and gayer, we used to attend the Panhandle Press Ass'n, which is always held at Amarillo, and we'd see Bob and the lady. And back in the late 30ties, our son-in-law and daughter lived at Pampa, where he taught band in school, and in our drives, we'd sometimes go over to Miami and see the Hanyes family.

They were on their way to Seagraves, where they still have some friends, who are glad to see them, feed them and bed them down for the night. Bob says they are getting good oil play, but, unlike Brownfield, it is not helping them too much. We imagine this is because they are too close to Pampa, which is a long established oil headquarters town.

Members from the Crescent Hill and Southside Churches of Christ attended a singing held at Denver City last Sunday. During the week, local women members attended a discussion of Bible school teaching, by Isla Watson, of Colorado City, at the Denver City Church.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Patterson returned Sunday from a vacation in New Mexico.

Irene And Bob Send Birthday Greetings

Had a nice birthday greeting card from Bob and Irene McKinley, of San Angelo, last week. Irene remembered that our birthday came in August, but she had forgotten the day, the 23rd. Her card had a postmark of the 7th.

Anyway, they are spending the summer in cool Colorado—Del Norte, to be exact—and are having a good time, but Irene admits she either is getting old or is just a bit lazy. Bob is catching all the fish—got his limit that day.

Hope they don't forget that we like trout, and ice a few of them down to bring home, when they come.

IRA BUTLER, JR., TO RETURN FROM KOREA

With the 45th Infantry Division in Korea—Sgt. 1/c Ira Butler, Jr., whose parents live in Brownfield, is returning to the United States, after serving in Korea with the 45th Infantry Division.

The 45th Division has been in Korea since December, 1951. An Oklahoma National Guard unit, called to active duty in 1950, it was the first National Guard division to enter combat after World War II.

Butler, whose wife, LaDell, lives in Hamlin, was a section leader in the 145th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion's Battery C.

He entered the army in January, 1952, and has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal, Korean Service Medal, and the UN service ribbon.

DRAKES PARENTS OF DRAUGHTER AT NORFOLK

Charles D. Drake, RM/3rd, USN, and Mrs. Drake announce the birth of a daughter, Annette, born Aug. 6, weighing 7 pounds, at Norfolk, Va. The father is serving in the U. S. Navy, and the mother is a former office employee at the Norfolk police court.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nicholson, paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Drake, all of Brownfield.

There's No Resistance To Impetigo

Most parents know exactly what State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox means when he says "there is no such thing as natural resistance to impetigo."

They know, perhaps from bitter experience, that the same child can suffer repeated attacks of what Dr. Cox calls an "offensive, annoying skin infection."

Impetigo, a purulent, highly infectious ailment, can be found in any age group at any time of the year. But children are unusually susceptible, and most cases occur during the summer. It isn't too serious, except in new born babies, but it can cause days of itching misery to afflicted youngsters and adults alike.

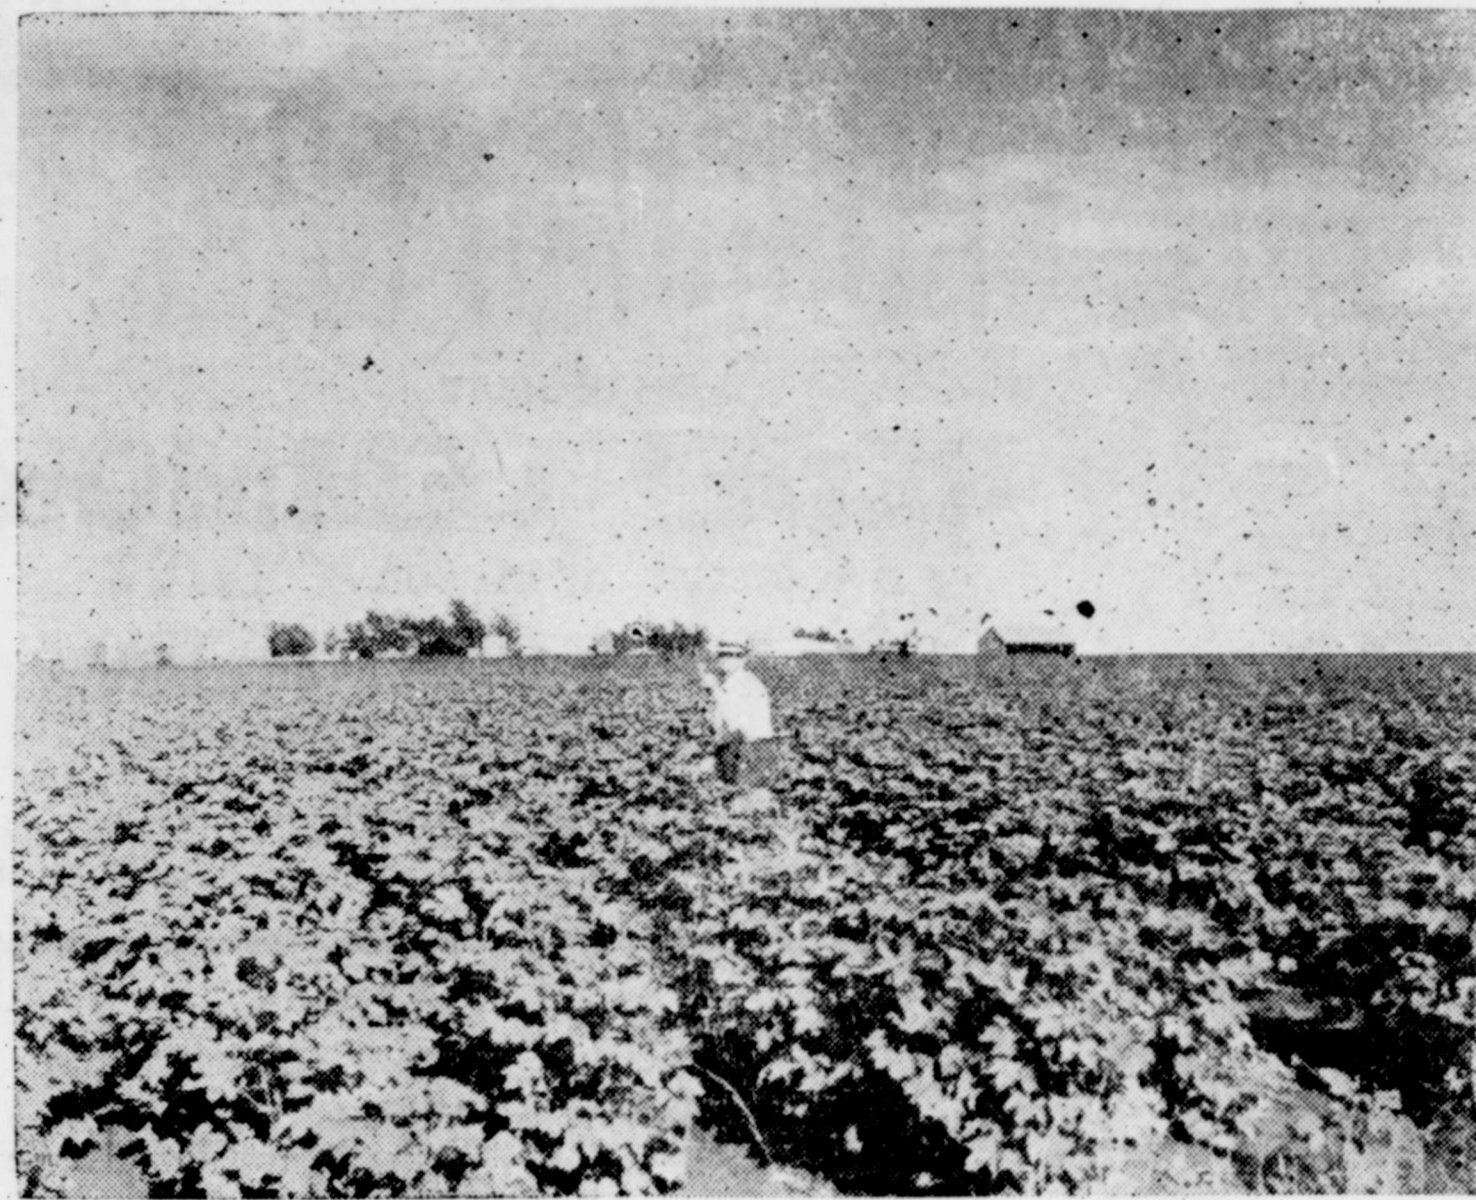

It's caused by a pus-forming bacteria called staphylococcus—the same sort of germ found in boils and sores where pus is present. Usually it forms an unsightly crust over wide areas of the body, and the material underneath is very infectious if allowed to get on other body parts.

It can easily be transmitted to anyone who uses the towel of an infected person, since towel moisture permits the germ to survive. Children living in the most hygienic homes frequently get impetigo, although it probably is more common in homes where personal sanitation isn't considered too important.

The best way to minimize the ill effects of impetigo is to keep the infection localized by preventing the serum under crusts from exuding into "clean" skin surfaces.

The family physician is the infected child's best friend, since he will advise mother how best to combat the disease, and how to keep it from spreading like a grass fire through the whole family.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knight last week were Mrs. Knight's aunts, Mrs. Mildred Tilly, and Mrs. Gladys Tilly, and grandmother, Mrs. C. W. Tilly, all of Fort Worth.

BALE AND A HALF PER ACRE? Folks, here is a good picture, including the Old He in the foreground to set it off. The 320 acre cotton field belongs to Noah Lemley, out five miles east of town where the city-county airport was once located. It is all in cultivation now. We gave a pretty good description of this field two weeks ago, when Hayden Griffin and wife and the writer and wife first inspected the field. Hayden made counts on several stalks near the end and some 50 feet out, and the average of forms, blooms and bolls of various sizes up to grown ones, averaged 60, with two months to go at that time. If there is not too much insect damage, and Noah is giving 'em plenty poison, we are of the opinion that the field will go around 1½ bales per acre.

STUDEBAKER PLANS TO BUILD NEW PLANT IN SOUTHWEST

Dallas, Aug. 13—Officials of the Studebaker Corporation contemplated a site halfway between Fort Worth and Dallas today for their next assembly plant.

Harold S. Vance, president of the company, said although no expansion is contemplated within the year, their next assembly plant will be in the southwest.

Vance said it is the obvious spot because "the southwest is far outstripping the rest of the nation in economic development."

SCS Expert Urges Diversification

Diversified farming is the answer to possible reduced wheat plantings in 1953-54, the regional director of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service said last week.

The soil expert, Louis P. Merrill, said wheat farmers can help themselves by using the government's acreage allotment program as an opportunity for improving land use and installing needed conservation treatment.

Merrill said his recommendations were based on information from the Amarillo experiment station. Farmers who must cut wheat acreages should follow these suggestions, he said:

1. Use a diversified farming to include wheat, sorghum, grass and livestock.
2. Where feasible, practice a flexible wheat-sorghum-fallow rotation.
3. Use cover crops and stubble mulch farming to help prevent wind erosion.
4. Put all land not suitable for cultivation into range or pasture.

In humid areas, Merrill said, crop rotations may be lengthened to include more grasses and legumes for livestock feed.

The SCS regional director said the capabilities of the land should be used in deciding which acres should remain in wheat production.

HOW ABOUT THIS, MAINE?

New Mexico voters have picked the winner in every presidential election since achieving statehood, the American Peoples Encyclopedia Yearbook for 1953 reports. In 1912 and 1924 it was by a plurality—in all other election by a clear majority.

Rev. and Mrs. Jones W. Weathers and daughters, Brenda Kay and Carolyn, were recent visitors in Kerrville, and went on a fishing trip at Guadalupe.

College Station—Most parents are already thinking about school clothes for their children and getting supplies and equipment selected. Equally essential for this annual preparation, is the physical checkup and emotional preparedness that mother and father can provide the young people.

According to Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas agricultural extension service, the ready and anxious feeling children have about starting to school is good insurance for happy and successful school years. Children need complete physical examinations by the family doctor, if this has not been done within the past six months. Especially those children beginning school need dental examination and thorough eye, ear, nose and throat check as well as inspection of heart and lungs. Dental defects should be corrected even though the occur in the baby or milk teeth. An early examination may detect other ailments that require medical attention before school opens. In addition, children attending school for the first time must have smallpox vaccination and diphtheria immunization.

Going to school is a big step in growing up, and there will be many more happy first days, if parents spend time in family preparation for this event. Wise parents help children understand what school is, and what children do at school. A visit to the building before school starts, meeting a teacher, touring the school with its different rooms and the yard with its safe play area, and pointing out safe play habits can reassure the parents, as well as the children. Playing school at home helps children learn activities they will share.

Mrs. Johnson says more opportunities children have for making choices in selection of foods, clothes, and play, and assuming responsibility for health and safety habits, help build good foundations for this first big adventure in independence.

Mack Thomason Is Moving To New Mexico For Summers

W. M. (Mack) Thomason was in a few minutes one day last week, to tell us about some of his rounds this summer. He and the Mrs. had been out in the Capitan section of New Mexico for the past month or two. As those who know Mack, are aware that he has a bad case of low pressure.

But he says the high altitude out there, some 7,000 feet, did him a world of good, and that he actually got to where he could scale the higher points, such as old Bawdy. As a consequence, he bought a cabin in that area.

He does not intend staying there in winter, as he fears it will be too cold, but will spend the spring, summer and early fall out there, and here the rest of the time. He says the change in altitude began

The L. L. Bechtels To Take Off On Trip

Our good friend, L. L. Bechtel, was in for a slight jaw-fest last week, as he and the Mrs. are taking off soon for a real big so-journ to the northwest. Will go up the most scenic route of Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, and into Canada. His gun will be a camera, and he's going to try for the most picturesque.

Returning, they will see some of the most scenic spots in the three Pacific coast states, and it is his intention to visit some of the old missions down in the San Francisco and Los Angeles areas.

The expect to be gone most of September, he stated. Bon voyage, old friend.

to affect him adversely soon after returning here.

Saw Some Of The Thompson Generation

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson, down on South Fifth, had a whole raft of the kin in to see them this week. They were his sister, Mrs. Lee English, her daughter, Miss Mildred, and a little grandson, Butch English, all of Altus, Okla. Also Ed's sisters-in-law, Mrs. Albert Thompson of Dallas, and Mrs. Dude Thompson, of Arlington. Both of the last named ladies, as well as Mrs. English, are now widows.

Mrs. English and Ed called at the office while Monday, as well as after supper at the abode, and we had a long talk. Both of us started to the same old school, New Hope, back in Tennessee, within some two or three years of each other in the late 1880ties. About 1892, the Thompsons moved to Johnson county, Texas, and with the exception of one visit back to Tennessee as a young lady, what she knows of her generations is little. So, she always likes to quiz us a bit.

By the way, she is very anxious to learn the given name of her grandmother Cox, who passed on back in the 80ties, and was perhaps among the last to be buried at the old Cox private cemetery. Some of the older ones back there will remember it.

Just a vacation for the young lady, and they had to leave Tuesday morning after a brief visit with Ed and his children, all but one of which are now married.

Crop Subsistence Topic At Council

Brownfield Chamber of Commerce agricultural workers council met at 7 a. m., Tuesday, Aug. 11, at Nick's Cafe. The new president, Lester Buford, presided, and Dennis Lilly was program chairman.

W. D. Dugger, soil conservation service agent at Brownfield; Maxwell D. Green, Seminole Production and Marketing Association manager; Looe Miller, Brownfield PMA manager, and William L. Dugan, SCS agent at Seminole, spoke concerning new government policies on cover allotments. Namely, practice 31 and 32 were discussed, which includes allotment for a cover of winter legumes seeded in the fall of '53. Practice 31, according to regulations, would also aid in the application of 20 pounds of phosphate prior to seeding time. Practice 32 would include turning under rye seed in the fall of '53. None of the cover crops can be harvested as hay, or seed.

Mr. Dugger stated that cover crops will be a problem, because of conditions of soil, and that the program now set up will be inadequate. Under the new program, farmers will have to pay for their cover crop and collect from the government at a later date. Farmers in this area will have to plant ahead under the assumption that it will rain, and, even if it does, the cover crops will take part of the underground moisture that will be needed to grow next year's crops.

Terry, Yoakum, and Gaines counties were represented. W. M. Luna will be in charge of the next meeting at Plains, Sept. 8, at the school cafeteria.

THEM NEW AND RENEWAL "SUBS" ARE COMING IN

For the first week or two, there was not too much increase in the number of renewals and new subscriptions from the regular run, but as we get the "Drouth Special" more before the public, it is taking on a real race. But better hurry. If we get a good rain, a real moisture meeter, we may decide to stop the special rate.

But a fair warning will be given a week or so in advance, when we decide to go back to regular rates when prosperity returns—which it will. Always has rained, and will again. But here they are for the past week, ending Friday the 14th, new readers first:

Lewis Simmonds, 2 years; Joe Chisholm, 2 years; Mrs. L. M. Winger; Lester R. Snow, Rt. 5; C. Raney, Rt. 3; Mrs. Fannie Irwin, city; Glenn N. Webber, 2 years; Mrs. T. L. Smith, Rt. 2; Mrs. John H. Jenkins, Andrews, by relatives. Renewals: Walter Hord, 2 years; Mrs. John R. Turner, 2 years; R. L. Lewis, 2 years; J. A. Ladd, Sherman by relative; O. A. Pippin, Rt. 4, 2 years; Floy Smith, Rt. 5, 2 years; C. J. Smith, city, until Feb., 1957; G. S. Webber, 5 years; P. G. Stanford, Plains; Mrs. Mary E. Morris, Plains; W. T. Patton, city; B. M. Tuttle, Rt. 2; Mrs. John Raymer, Lubbock; J. A. Bent-hall, Rt. 5, 2 years; J. C. Welch, Meadow, 2 years; and J. W. Nelson, city, 2 years.

A few of these, it will be noted, were out of the trade area, and paid the old rate for out of area papers. Many have asked us to send it to others in a radius of 100 miles, but as these people trade elsewhere, we just can't do it. The cut rate was made to aid local people hurt by the drouth.

FLUBBERS LEAD DUBBERS BY 20 POINTS

Brownfield Country Club Women's Golf Association has recently organized two teams, the Dubbers, whose chairman is Mrs. Minnie Hazel Gore, and the Flubbers, with chairman Mrs. Evelyn Cruce. The teams have been playing against each other for the past three Wednesdays at 7 a. m., and have two more weeks to go.

The Flubbers were leading by 20 points last week, and among those playing were Mesdames Mary Jo Hardy, Thelma Crites, Bugs Bailey, Zelma Boyd, Helen Walker, Betty Moore, Christine Akers, Jane Shirley, Arlene Clements, Marie Chesshir, Dorothy Kershner, Mae Jones, Marion May, Beth Noel, Cruce, and Bowman, all of Brownfield, and Floy Cadenhead of Meadow.

Mr. and Mrs. Lal Copeland returned last week from a vacation in Colorado.

The proposed construction of a machine shed and granary by the Texas A. and M. system at the soil conservation laboratory, Brownfield, has been cancelled.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF YOAKUM COUNTY DIES

Funeral services for L. D. Camp, 78, Plains, who died early last Thursday afternoon in a Big Spring hospital, after a long illness, were conducted at 4 p. m., Friday, Aug. 14, in the First Baptist Church at Plains.

The Rev. E. J. Cobb, Tucson, a son-in-law of Camp, officiated, assisted by the Rev. L. L. Trout, Denver City, and the Rev. C. E. Strickland, Plains. Burial was in the Plains Cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Camp, a retired carpenter, had lived in Yoakum County since 1905. He was a member of the AF&AM, the WOW and the Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife; one son, John Camp, Plains; three daughters, Mrs. Walter Anderson, and Mrs. Dad Rushing, both of Plains; and Mrs. E. J. Cobb, Tucson, Ariz.; four sisters, Mrs. C. H. Woodruff, Corpus Christi; Mrs. J. E. Puryear and Ethel Cooley, both of Wellington; and six grandchildren.

Plains Is Still Progressing Toward Citydom

Last Tuesday, the voters of the little city of Plains, county seat of old Yoakum, marched to the polls to cast their votes, mostly for more progress. That is, those who were qualified voters by being taxpaying citizens. There was a light vote on the three propositions, a total of some 80 votes.

The voters were to approve a total of $110,000: $100,000 of which was to be for waterworks, $50,000 in revenue bonds, and $50,000 general obligation tax water works bonds. Lastly, a $10,000 tax obligation for a city hall and fire station.

The first carried by 60 to 16, the second by 48 to 25, and the last carried 49 to 26.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

New York—Most comment on the senate's refusal to allow a rise in the limit on the national debt has stressed the political aspects of the action. Maybe there was considerable politics in the decision, but that does not alter the fact that its economic impact will be considerable, too.

Today the treasury has some $6 billion in banks, large and small, throughout the nation. Those deposits allow those banks, conservatively, to make loans totaling $18 billion. Now the bankers know that perhaps two-thirds of the governments may be withdrawn, some of them just when business is moving into its Labor Day-to-Christmas upswing. Money will be tighter.

There will also be a lessening of government spending. It is always possible to cut back spending when such vast sums are handled. The treasury will want some cash in reserve in case the senate still feels the same way when congress reconvenes in January.

An Old Timer In To See Us Last Tuesday

If he hadn't told us who he was, we'd never have known him. Came in to inquire about Judge Geo. W. Neill, and to use the phone to get in touch with him. It was Russell Jones, who, way back in the 'teens, was bookkeeper and assistant cashier of the Brownfield State Bank, when the bank was located where the Bargain Center is now, in a building now known as the old Commerce Hotel, and over on South Seventh.

Probably been 35 years since we had met, and, of course, even a tough old west Texan changes a lot in that time, and we suppose we looked quite different to Russell.

About the funniest incident on Jones was the night he and Mumfort Smith were crossing the court house square from northeast to southwest, and about that time someone threw a rock on the roof of Uncle Tom Holley's tin top store, and Uncle Tom came out shooting. Up to that time, and failed to see Ford broke all the speed records up to that time, ad failed to see a guy wire that was just plain barbed wire, used to hold a telephone pole in place. What that wire did to their clothes and skin made them forget the roar of the six pistol.

Russell lives in Plains at present, has a small ranch nearby, as well as some holdings in the Cedar Lake section of Gaines county.

Polio Cases Show Increase In Nation

New polio cases reported by the states are increasing, but for weeks now they have fallen considerably below those in the comparable period a year ago.

A spokesman for the public health service said today it begins to appear the number of cases this year will not be nearly as many as the record 57,636 in 1952.

Last week, 1,630 new cases were listed, an increase of 20 percent over the 1,350 in the preceding week, but a drop of 29 percent below those reported in the comparable 1952 week.

This year's total now stands at 9,862, compared with 10,582 in the similar period a year ago.

The health service said in its weekly summary, that states re-

A HISTORY OF HARDEMAN COUNTY, TENN.

We read some stuff in the last issue we received, of the Bolivar (Tenn.) Bulletin, and we are going to give the readers just a brief sketch of the matter. Not that we think most of the stuff, some three columns, would be of much interest to people out here, but some of the stuff in the history sounds both funny and ridiculous today.

Three men seemed to have been appointed about 1897, the year of the Tennessee Centennial, to draw up a history of Hardeman county. Perhaps it was preserved in one of the permanent state buildings.

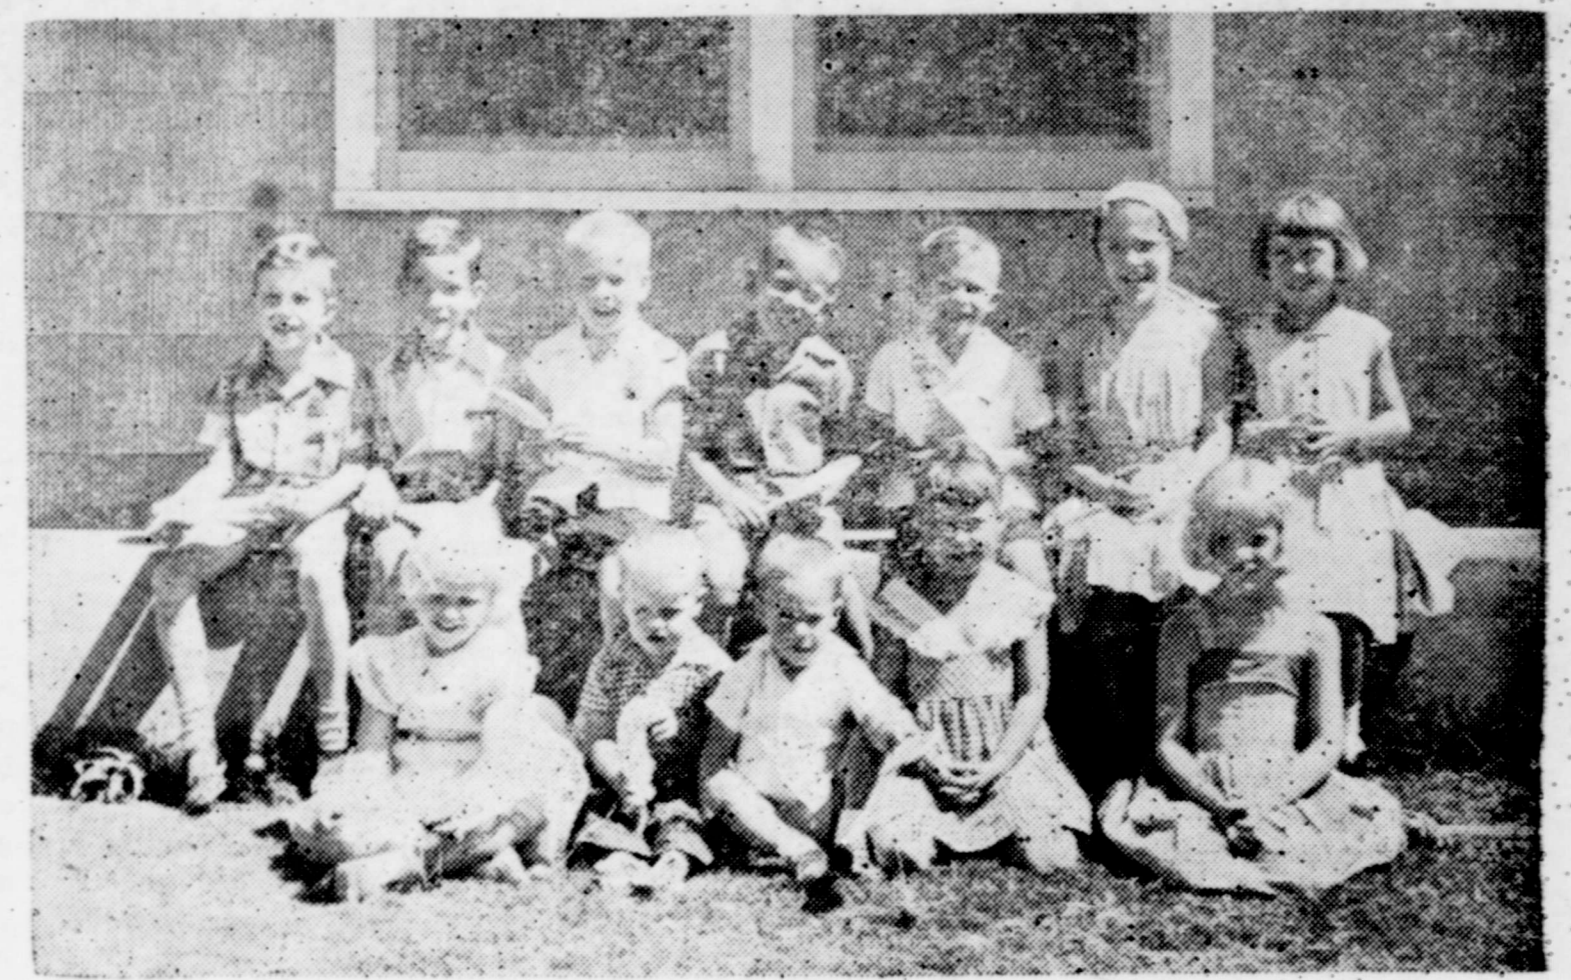

Anyway, the history started about 1823, about the time the county was organized. The area was mostly settled by migration from North and South Carolina, Virginia and middle Tennessee. A list of the first officials of the county was given. Of course they had to have a jail even before they built a courthouse, and the contract called for a jail "not to cost more than $40." Think of that, folks.

And, of course, to carry on matters, a matter of taxes had to be levied. It stated that white taxes were 15c each and black taxes 25c. We just couldn't figure that "white and black tax" business, as Negroes were slaves at that time, and couldn't vote. Then there was the matter of punishment. One guy was given 25 lashes on his bareback for a minor offense. Another got ten lashes and a fine of ten bucks and ten days in jail for the same offense. Perhaps the first didn't have ten bucks and didn't want to lay it out in jail.

Anyway, the history of Hardeman county proved real interesting to us.

Farmers are urged to vote in the elections for selecting the committees which will handle the Production and Marketing Administration programs for next year.

ARMISTICE BRINGS SOME JOY, SOME SADNESS

While many families over the USA are rejoicing that they are to again see their loved ones that have been held as POW's by the Reds, anywhere from a few months to some three years, many are getting sad information. Close to home is a Seagraves lady and her little son, Phillip, 4 years of age, was only 17 months old when his dad went away.

Therefore little Phillip hardly remembers his dad, Cpl. James T. Nash, but no doubt his mother has been showing him pictures of his dad, and the little fellow was proud that his dad was coming home. But a few days ago, Mrs. Nash got a sad telegram from the War Dept. "We regret to inform you . . ." etc. Dad will not come home—alive, at least.

There are many other incidences like that all over the nation, another one fairly close by, at Plainview. The more we see and hear of war, the more we agree with General Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Tess Fulfer and daughter, Janie, spent last weekend in Brownwood. Mrs. Fulfer's mother returned home with them for a few days' visit.

Signs Of Life—Know Them, Obey Them

America, generally speaking, is a sign-conscious nation.

We depend on the convenience of signs in thousands of phases of our daily lives. Signs tell us prices in stores, advertise merchandise in shop windows, speed up all our methods of conducting business.

And signs help us maintain order in countless little ways. For instance, if there were no signs, it might be difficult—almost impossible—to keep people from walking on the grass, disposing of trash where they shouldn't, smoking in forbidden places, loitering in busy buildings, posting bills on telegraph poles, talking and shouting in libraries and hospitals.

Then, probably most important of all, we traffic signs to guide and protect motorists and pedestrians on the nation's streets and highways. These signs are so important that often they are called "signs of life."

It's an appropriate name. Traffic signs can, and often do, save lives. Without "signs of life"—such as the "stop" sign at intersections, the diamond-shaped warning sign, the round and crossbuck railroad signs—it could become almost suicidal to ride in an automobile.

But "signs of life" can do the vital job for which they are intended only if people read and heed them. For this reason, "signs of life" are being featured in the traffic safety program being conducted this month in Texas by the Texas Safety Association and the department of public safety.

It's a program that deserves the support of every citizen, for these signs, if observed, may help you save a life—perhaps your own!

The slogan for the August program is one to remember—one to live by: "signs of life—know them, obey them."

Scout Council Sets Date For Finance Campaign

Mr. J. M. Willson, Jr., of Floydada, chairman of the finance committee of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced today that the date for the annual Boy Scout council's operational budget campaign has been set for the early part of October. The advance gift campaign will kick off on Monday, Oct. 5, and the general solicitations will begin on Monday, Oct. 1. The budget of the council for its fiscal year, Nov. 1, 1953, through Oct. 31, 1954, has been set by the council's executive board at $81,303.99.

The Boy Scout council has experienced a very rapid growth during 1953, and it has become necessary for the council to add one professional man to their service staff, in order to adequately serve the area. The 20-county area is divided into seven districts for the purpose of administering the scouting program.

Mr. R. A. Jefferies of Hale Center is the finance chairman of the Haynes district, which covers Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hale, Floyd, and Motley counties, and Turkey in Hall county and Olton in Lamb county.

Mr. John Thomas of Ralls is the finance chairman of the Comanche Trail District, which covers the counties of Crosby, Dickens, and Garza, the northwest half of Kent county, Slaton and Idalou in Lubbock county, and Wilson in Lynn county.

Mr. Sidney Randals of Lamesa is the district finance chairman of the Texas District, which consists of Dawson and Lynn counties, and the northwest half of Borden county.

Mr. Lloyd McAdoo of Seagraves is the district finance chairman of the Quannah Parker District, which is composed of Yoakum, Terry and Gaines counties.

Mr. V. M. Peterman of Amherst is the district finance chairman of the Yellowhouse District covering Bailey and Lamb counties.

Mr. E. G. Pharr of Lubbock is the finance chairman of the Plainsman District, and its Sub-Cotton Bolt District, which includes all of Lubbock county except Slaton and Idalou, and Abernathy in Hale county.

According to Mr. Cliff Epps, district chairman of the Mustang District, the district finance chairman for this district has not been selected. This district consists of Hoekley and Cochran counties.

The Boy Scout council is a participating agency in the Lubbock, Plainview, Lamesa, Semingle and Matador Community Chests and conducts independent campaigns in each of the other communities of the 20 counties for the support of its operational budget.

At the present time, the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, is currently serving a membership of just under 7,000 men and boys in the 20 counties on the south Plains.
