

School Starts Monday-- Be Careful How you Drive

We have a few very reckless drivers in this town, so it won't be amiss to give them just a bit of warning, as school is to open Monday morning. There will be small children, unescorted all over town. Many of them will be making crossings where traffic hazards are bad even for grown people. So, won't you please get your mind off fishing trips, golfing, etc., and concentrate on your driving?

We have shown this article to Mayor Homer Nelson before we published it, and he agrees 100 percent that something must be done, or some of our little fellows will never go to school again, and you'll have occasion to regret the best of your life that you failed to take into consideration, that these small folks don't always look where they are going.

It behooves all of us therefore, old enough to drive a car, that any reckless driving about the school grounds, or crossings frequented by the school children, is positively dangerous when school is in session. Let all drivers therefore resolve here and now to keep their mind on their driving, instead of something unrelated, that no child is killed or injured this year.

Let's all be gentlemen and ladies, who drive cars, and realize that children take chances without thinking, and that it is our duty as adults to keep this in mind, and not only watch our DRIVING but also watch out for unexpected movements of CHILDREN.

Banks Endorse Careful Driving
The two banks are taking space this week to endorse the "drive carefully" movement, especially during school. Vice-President Leo Holmes, of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., stated that there was entirely too much risky driving here any time, and especially around the school buildings, and that his institution was willing to go their share on an ad cautioning such drivers.

John J. Kendrick, of the First National stated that his bank was also aware of the fact that there was too much reckless driving here, during school and other times as well, and his bank endorsed the move to remedy matters. John J. stated that he had been thinking of writing an editorial himself along that line. We asked him to do so, and his suggestions and advice will likely appear in the next issue of the Herald.

Have Good Opening At Denver City

As we stated in these columns some time ago, Bob Wells, pharmacist for the Nelson Pharmacy here for more than a year, and Homer Nelson of this city, recently opened a new pharmacy near the Yoakum County Hospital, at Denver City. It is reported to us that they had a very auspicious opening in a building of their own, erected for the purpose, well stocked and arranged.

Bob Wells and family came here more than a year ago from Little Rock, Ark., and he took a position with Mr. Nelson, and Mrs. Wells became an assistant cashier of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co. At Denver City, she is helping Bob with the pharmacy.

They report a good business, right off the reel.

New Owners Take Over Cosden Agency

The Herald joins others of the city in welcoming Messrs. Ed Gound, of Big Spring, and Alvin Breckon, of McDonald, N. M., to our city, and to its business fraternity. They have purchased the Cosden Wholesale business here, as well as the retail station in connection with it, that more recently has been under ownership of Dan Davis, jobber.

Mr. Gound was for the past two years assistant tire, battery and accessory manager for Cosden at Big Spring. He is a single man. Mr. Breckon handled Cosden products in New Mexico. He is married and has two children. The deal was closed August 21.

As for Mr. Davis, he is opening his trucking business on West Main at the Levelland-Seagraves cutoff, formerly occupied by a

OLD TERRY GOT 4 WELLS LAST WEEK

Terry county got four brand new producing wells last week, three in the Prentice field of northwest Terry, and the other in the Stalex field six miles south of town. Thus it stood with two of the leading producing counties of the area, Andrews and Scurry, both of which had four wells finalized. Locations as follows:

Stalex-Cisco, Union of California, No. 2 A. A. Sawyer, section 121 block T. Pumped 62 barrels of 44 gravity oil daily. Total depth, 10,047 feet.

Prentice, Kay Kimbell No. 1-A S. T. Murphy, section 22 block K. Pumped 192 barrels daily of 29 gravity oil, with no water. Depth 6,685 feet.

Prentice, Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., No. 2 Ella Covington, section 21 block D-14. Pumped 176 barrels of 31 gravity oil daily.

Prentice, Placid Oil Co., No. 2 Al Muldrow, section 20, block D-14. Flowed 726 barrels of 2 gravity oil. No water. Total depth, 5,982.

The new locations were as follows: Jake L. Hamon Atlas Life Insurance Co., section 93, block D-11, 13 miles west of Brownfield. We believe there is just one producer in this field, so far.

Prentice, Placid Oil Co. No. 3, Al Muldrow, section 20, block D-14, 15 miles northwest of Brownfield.

Arnold, junior high teacher; Miss Bernice Snead, elementary teacher; Mrs. Ella D. Sayles, primary teacher.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION NOW BEING STRESSED

Before this paper is put to bed with another issue, the Brownfield and other Terry county schools will have opened for the 1953-54 term. A letter this week from Supt. O. R. Douglas puts much stress on Distributive Education, which will be directed this term by Calvin S. McIntosh. Mr. McIntosh is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, and has had quite a lot of teaching and business experience.

As we understand the matter, one half each school day is spent by the student taking D. E. course, and the other half in regular school. In the D. E. department, students are taught how to do business in a business way, and how to become efficient employees. To get a real knack on the matter of business, it is expected that business men will take these students in their business places each weekend, and give them the practical side of doing business.

The owners and managers of the stores and shops can help out a lot during this practical training period by supervising and encouraging students in the best ways of doing business in the particular line they choose. This makes for better trained employees for the stores and shops in the days to come.

It also has the tendency of keeping some of the best youths in the community, instead of leaving for larger places, seeking work. It also makes possible a replacement when key employees are absent during peak business periods.

One of the greatest advantages we can see in the course, is that it trains and encourages youths to seek employment during vacation time, instead of walking the streets day and night. You know the old saying, "idleness is the devil's workshop?"

Glad to see Sam Kerschner down from Lubbock one day recently. Sam has been off for treatment, but seems to be doing OK presently. Had same old hearty handshake.

TWIN TROUBLES, the well known adage, 'anything that happens to one twin will eventually happen to the other' was borne out last week in the Thompson twins. Freddie, pictured above, right, broke his arm about 9 months ago, while 'bailing out' from a swing in the park, and last week Eddie, at left, broke his arm while being a 'trapeze artist' on a swing. Nevertheless, with all their trouble they still like to swing, and take part in all sports. This summer the twins took swimming lessons at the Lions pool and are looking forward to next summer when they can again 'make a double splash'. The seven-year-old boys will be in the second grade this year and are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thompson, Jr., 1402 East Tate. (Staff Photo).

Legion to Sponsor Dance September 2

Tommy Duncan will appear with the Miller Brothers Orchestra, of Wichita Falls, at a dance sponsored by the local American Legion Post, Wednesday, Sept. 2, from 9 'til, at Veterans' Hall.

Also featured on the program will be the Panhandle Trio.

THERE ARE FURNITURE BARGAINS GALORE!

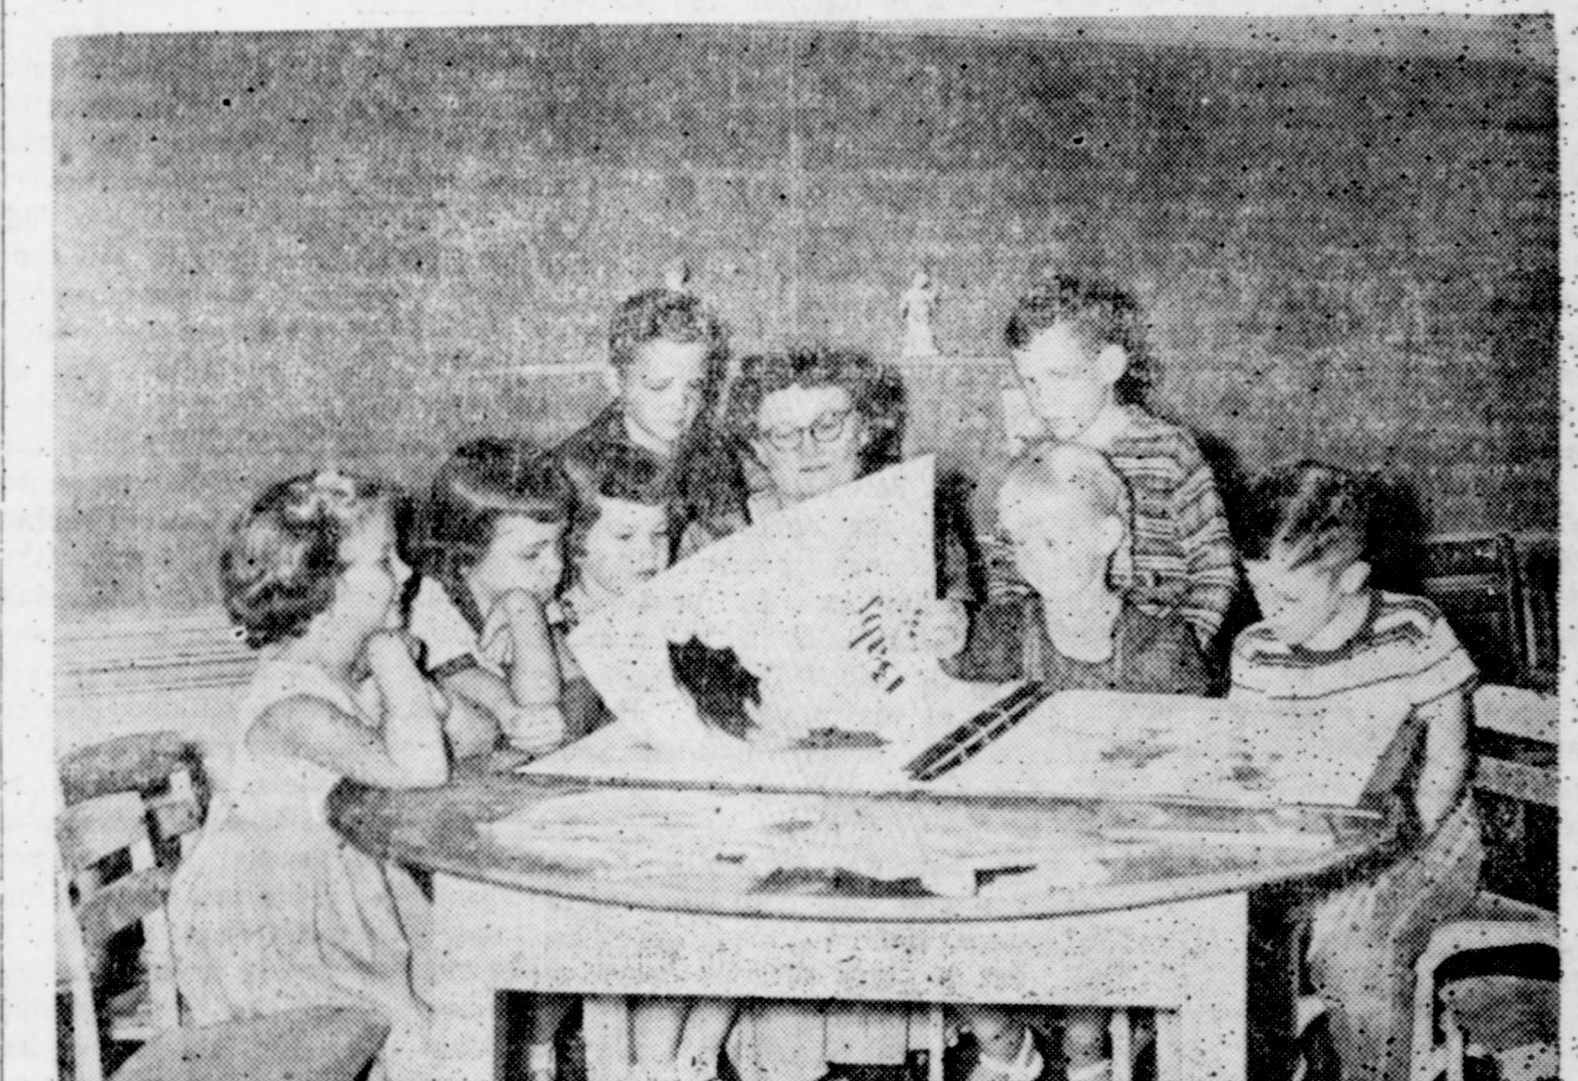

Folks, there is no use to leave town to go any place to buy your furniture, not even to Michigan, where most of it is made. Right here in your old home town is the place to buy. With a tremendous stock on hand and a very bad drought, the J. B. Knight Co. found they had too much furniture and they are unloading at a big discount.

So, when you're in town, don't fail to drop around to the furniture store on West Main. You will be agreeably surprised at what you see, and to be sold at sacrifice prices. Even if you did not intend to buy, you will likely find something you want at a price you can't resist.

But you'll have to hurry. Sale ends this week.

TEACHER'S PET—OH, NOT YET! First graders are registering today at Jesse G. Randa School and between 225 and 250 are expected to enroll. Nine first grade teachers will be helping the youngsters get acquainted with new surroundings, classmates, etc. Among the many books that appeal to the six-year-olds is "the big book" that Miss Creola Moore is showing the children pictured above. The first grade rooms are modernly equipped, with white pine desks, puzzles, and many other educational toys. From left to right, standing are: Tommy Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Williams, and Gary Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hodges. Left to right, sitting, are: Charlotte Ann Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Campbell; Pamela Jane Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shirley; Elaine Flache, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truff Flache; Claudine Blake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blake; and Rod Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Moore. The American Creed

We believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom—equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots have sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

—Terry County Herald

There is a world of different opinions, among just the people we know, not to mention vast numbers of others, as to just what the $39 billion dollars we have given away to various and sundry nations since the end of War II accomplished. According to some statistics we have before us, the amounts to several nations in billions of dollars, was as follows: Britain, $8,100; France, $6,200; West Germany, $3,700; Italy, $3,100; Greece, $1,700; Netherlands, $1,300; other European nations, $3,500; Japan, $2,100; China (Formosa), $2,000; Philippines, $1,000; Korea (South), $1,000, and other Asiatics another billion dollars, making the $39,000,000,000. And President Eisenhower says we must keep up this give-away spree for a long time—indeed, indefinitely, in other words. So, it would appear that there is no immediate end to the give away period. Of course, with peace, and we hope, for at least the end of a hot war, things in general could make a great change. Frankly, we believe that more trade and less aid to many of these nations would solve a lot of our troubles. But every time any mention is made of lowering the tariff wall, which is our main trade barrier, our nation's manufacturers rear up on their hind legs and howl like a pack of wolves. But, to say the least, the burden of our own high cost of living, plus high taxes in order to care for ourselves, and the rest of the world, hurts. Now, the main question that comes to the minds of thinking people here in the land of the free and the home of the brave, is, has this $39 billion dollars been worth while? And, there is where a lot of arguments start. The pro side of the controversy will, of course, say that these billions of dollars have been used to prevent the spread of Communism. The anti comes back with a skeptical view of the whole matter, and points to the chaotic conditions presently in western Europe. Take France, for instance; it has changed governments so much of late, that there are often periods that they have no government. England, is in about the same mood, but goes along with us pretty well—if we let them dictate the terms. There is also Italy, that has a hard time keeping those in power who appreciate American aid. Too many Italians are Communists, Royalists, Nazis and other isms foreign to the concept of the average American.

We have been hearing a lot of these "Backyard Coffins" of late, and, if not wise to this way of expressing a very disagreeable subject, we will try to clarify. We refer to what writers of late mess... by those old abandoned ice boxes or refrigerators, left out where children can get to them, with the outside latch still in working order. These "backyard coffins" are left carelessly, sometimes by dealers, and sometimes by private families. Small children get in them, and unthoughtedly close the door. With two or three inside, the breathable oxygen is soon expended, with the ditions to the Chinese, so much so, that the Russian laboring people themselves, are becoming fed up on poor rations and wearing apparel. They are becoming pretty surly, in places, especially among the satellites. In contrast to that, the US, that furnished most of the arms, munitions and planes to the UN side, has kept the fighting men pretty well supplied with these essentials, as well as plenty wholesome food for themselves and allies. But one of the things most outstanding is that the UN showed Russia and its stooges, that the day of appeasement was over. Other free nations were also encouraged.

Among the jungle of other legislation at the last minute, including some supposed emergency matters asked by the President, the Congress did not act upon the Dempsey bill. This bill called for a supplementary aid to interstate highways of $200 million dollars. Of course, this aid is based on a percentage of federal taxes collected for gasoline in the several states, and would mean, in the case of Texas, a sum total of around $12 million. Added to the $34 million presently being received, would go a long way in helping to keep our highly traveled highways in passable condition. But of the $34 million Texas gets from Uncle Sam, this is but a small percent of the some $110 million that is collected from Texans and other people who buy gas in this state. You never get back anything like a just proportion of tax monies once they leave the state and go to Washington. By the time the bureaucrats and the redtapers get through with the money, there is very little throwback to the several states, in proportion to the amount they pay in. It is for this reason that there is an effort on foot presently to get the federal government out of the gasoline collecting business, and let each state attend to this matter. This matter of state control, came up under the Governors Conference at Seattle recently. It seemed that a great majority of the State Executives were for the States collecting this tax, and using the whole of it on our highways, instead of sending it to Washington, and getting a very small percent of it back. It seems to us that there are a lot less government ownership socialists among the State governors than there is in Congress or in the usually conservative US Senate. We believe this is for the reason that governors are closer to the reaction of the people than are those who spend too much time at Washington. It is for that very reason that US Senators and Congressmen are always anxious to get back home to see just how the grass roots people are looking at matters. It is very easy to lose contact with the real folks of their states and districts, if they spend too much time in Washington. Not a few found this out to their sorrow last fall, when they followed the administration line of thinking instead of what the people at home were really thinking. Some of them lost their jobs.

Another thing the American people have had a field day of, is the discussion of whether or not we won the Korean war, lost it, or was it a draw? Frankly, we have gotten a good many belly laughs listening to and reading discussions about this matter, pro and con. Of course, it is mostly the common herd that think we took a licking—or a draw, at best. But it all boils down to what our aim was in the war, and whether we were acting on our own initiative, or following the dictates of the United Nations. If the UN told Truman and Acheson that all we were expected to do was to drive an aggressor out of a country they had illegally entered, then we accomplish what we started out to do. But it was not the kind of warring the people of the USA has been used to from 1776 to this day. All the wars we have entered heretofore, we went in to whip the opponent until he cried, "enough." Secretary of State Dulles has made the matter just about as clear as it can be made. That the North Koreans, mostly Reds at that time, were the aggressors, having invaded South Korea, and that the UN went in to drive them out of South Korea. This was accomplished, with an almost total destruction of the North Korean army, and more, that a third of the people of North Korea has met death, either by bombings or starvation. Of course, the Chinese consider the human so cheaply, that any loss inflicted on them, less than a hundred million, would be considered little. While the Chinese may be able to boast of their military power, while they have been fighting and providing for a huge army, their home economy has become badly deranged. And, furthermore, their Red pals to the north, Russia, has also felt the strain in supplying arms and mu-

County Agents In Drouth Counties Are Busy As Honeybees

College Station—County extension agents in the drouth area of the state are performing usual services, in keeping with the fine traditions of their organization. Fifty years ago, farm demonstration work got its start during another emergency—the invasion of Texas by the boll weevil. Throughout its history—in good times and bad—this great service organization has provided assistance to the families of rural Texas.

Today county agents are serving as members of their respective county USDA drouth committees; assisting the local PMA committees with the job of taking applications for emergency feed; carrying to the farmers and ranchmen information on the emergency loan program; figuring rations, which will help stretch feed supplies; assisting stockmen with livestock culling programs; notifying producers on the arrival of feed in the county, and, in many cases, are helping to unload the emergency feeds, helping stockmen locate feed and pasture in other parts of the state, or in other states; releasing by press and radio information which stockmen and farmers can use in their battle against the drouth, and including crops for planting when moisture is available, market and outlook information, and answering questions and giving advice on literally hundreds of different problems.

In their search for the answers to the questions raised, county agents, and their own experiences gained from supervising thousands of farm and ranch demonstrations, which have utilized the best known production methods.

The county agents have received help from the specialist staff, and from the rural people themselves, who serve on various community and county committees.

HELPS THAT PREVENT WIND EROSION

The supervisors of the Terry Soil Conservation District feel that the present drouth situation has caused an acute need to get and maintain cover on the land, if moisture comes in sufficient time.

Crops that can be planted for cover and to help prevent wind erosion are drilled grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, sudan, millet, rye, oats, barley and legumes.

Under certain conditions, a PMA payment can be made to help the farmer or rancher to establish the above cover crops. For further information concerning payment rates, see the local PMA office.

Cover crops for this area are very essential, and every means should be taken to help get all the land in the Terry Soil Conservation District in some type of vegetative cover during the next few weeks.

Benefits that will be received from a cover crop are:

- Help prevent wind erosion.
- Add valuable organic matter to the soil.
- Help keep the land in a state of cultivation.
- Rye, barley, and oats may be pastured, provided sufficient growth is made.

wait until he is 21 to vote, they have no hesitancy in sending them into the hell of battle, even before he is 20. But Georgia, for one state, now allows young men of 18 to vote, the same age they may be drafted into the army. That is their business, and clearly States Rights. Very few of us believe in slavery today. But, at the time the Civil War was fought, slavery had been an institution in the South for a century or more. And as slavery had been practiced even back in Bible times, even with no great condemnation, no one thought of taking a man's slaves any more than they would think of taking his mules. It is related in the New Testament that Paul persuaded a runaway slave to return to his master with a message from Paul, and that the slave finally was set free and made a companion and advisor, perhaps of his former master. Yet, so far as we know, Paul nor any other of the Apostles ever wrote anything that sounded like Uncle Tom's Cabin. Yes, the South, and much of the rest of the nation, believes in States Rights.

TERRY SCS GIVES ALFALFA STEPS

Terry County Soil Conservation Service reminds farmers that alfalfa planting time is here! Many farmers are now making preparations for alfalfa planting, and for best results, the SCS recommends the following steps:

1. Inoculate alfalfa seed before planting.
2. Drill or work into the soil 200 to 400 pounds 20 percent superphosphate or its equivalent.
3. Plant shallow— $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch deep is ideal.
4. Plant before Oct. 1.
5. Plant 15 to 20 pounds of good quality seed per acre.
6. Be prepared to irrigate with light, frequent applications of water, until alfalfa is well established.

The Terry County Soil Conservation District has alfalfa drills and fertilizer spreaders available for rent. Some areas in the district have received good rains the past few days. Farmers in these areas should take advantage of the present moisture to plant some type of cover crop.

Cover crops will help prevent erosion, add valuable organic matter to the soil, and furnish valuable pasture during the fall and winter.

Terry SCS district chairman is V. H. Wheatley; R. J. Purcell, secretary; Hubert Baird, wheat coordinator; and Homer Causseaux.

Be Safe—Observe 'Signs Of Life'

"If all drivers strictly observed 'signs of life,' the nation's traffic accident rate might be cut in half."

This prediction, made today by Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, and services advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, was based on the fact that more than half of the drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1952 were violating one or more traffic laws.

"Many of these accidents involved violations of traffic signs, signals and pavement markings, according to statistics from the National Safety Council," he said. "If these posted warnings had been observed, the accidents might never have happened."

For this reason, the Texas Safety Association is co-operating with the department of public safety in carrying out a traffic safety program in Texas during August, based on the "signs of life" theme, Colonel Tilley said.

"The purpose of this program," he said, "is to bring to public attention the need for heeding traffic signs, signals and pavement markings, the 'signs of life' designed to protect motorists and pedestrians."

Most frequent violations of traffic signs, signals and markings, as listed by Colonel Tilley, are:

1. Exceeding speed limit.
2. Failure to keep right of center line.
3. Improper passing.
4. Disregarding warning sign.
5. Disregarding stop sign.
6. Disregarding signal or officer.

"Proper observance of 'signs of life' will do much to cut the nation's traffic death toll," he said.

He also reminded drivers that speed too fast for conditions, a violation in itself, can destroy the protection offered by signs.

"If the driver is going too fast to see them, they won't help him, of course," he explained. "Also, although the speeding driver may see them, he sometimes is going so fast that he does not have time to follow their warnings."

"One of the best pieces of safety advice a motorist can get," Colonel Tilley said, "is contained in the August slogan of the Texas Safety Association, and the department of public safety, 'signs of life—know them, obey them!'"

Butter consumption in the United States in 1942 was 16 1/2 pounds per capita. It is now nine pounds, but consumption of other dairy products has steadily increased during this same period.

A good legume crop in the rotation pays twice, in more hay and pasture, and better yields from the crops which follow.

DEATH VICTIM'S CAR—pictured above is the automobile in which one girl, Joyce Ellis, was killed, and another, Sue Campbell, received a fractured vertebrae. The '52 Buick was a complete loss and towed in by Jack Bailey's Chevrolet Co. wrecker. The girls were on their way to see a friend when the accident occurred on the Foster road. Your Senator Reports

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

Debt limit: Congress may have adjourned by the time you read this, but plans for Aug. 1 adjournment were shelved when the President asked for an increase in the national debt limit.

The present limit is $275 billion, and at a White House breakfast last Thursday morning, which I attended, President Eisenhower made a plea to senate and house leaders to increase this limit.

President Eisenhower and the secretary of the treasury presented their case for increasing the limit. The administration took the position this step is necessary to insure the government's being able to operate normally between now and the next session of congress.

Truce: We can be solemnly thankful that the fighting and the dying and the destruction have been halted in Korea. But there is no reason for us to be jubilant.

The agreement in Korea does not actually settle any basic issue. I know from my mail that there is much sympathy in Texas for the position taken by President Rhee, a patriot who, for many years, has battled for his country's freedom.

There is no sign that the Communist aggressors have undergone a change of heart. We must remain alertly on guard.

Co-operation: The first session of the 83rd congress had its curious aspects. One of the most curious was the way the Democrats came to the rescue of President Eisenhower on a number of occasions, when obstructionist members of his own party tried to block his proposals.

Rarely, if ever, has a President holding one party affiliation been aided so much by so many members of the opposing party.

As a senate Democratic leader, I had the privilege of playing some part in encouraging co-operation with President Eisenhower in getting through measures that seemed to me in the best interests of the country.

I am a strong believer in the two-party system of government. But I do not believe a worthwhile program put forward by the head of the government should be stymied by the willfully obstructionist tactics of members of his own party.

I believe the American people—who showed in last year's election that they liked General Eisenhower better than they liked the Republican party—feel the same way.

Back to Texas: After adjournment, I hope I can spend a few days looking after things on my farm near Johnson City. During the fall, I expect to do quite a bit of traveling over Texas. I want to discuss matters with as many Texans as possible. I hope I have a chance to visit with you—and you—and you.

These weekly reports will be suspended during the adjournment period. Your editor's kindness in permitting it, they will be resumed during the next session. Meanwhile, I would like to say to your editor: Thank you very much for your wonderful co-operation during the recent session.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—What are the advantages of early skin grafting after deep burns?

A—Skin grafting, performed whenever possible three weeks after deep burns are received or sooner, results in a maximum of comfort, earlier and more complete restoration of function, and a minimum of scarring.

Q—What can be done for cleft palate?

A—This condition usually can be corrected by surgery. The age at which operation is done as a rule is four or five years. If hairlip is associated with cleft palate the former defect can be repaired when the baby is about three weeks old.

Q—What is keloid tissue? How is it treated?

A—Keloids are growths which usually originate in scars; they form a ridge, band, knot, or some other projection above the surface of the surrounding skin. Small keloids may be treated successfully, as a rule with X-ray or radium; larger or older growths usually must be removed by surgery, then any new keloid tissue that springs up may be destroyed by radiation or pressure. If untreated, keloids can grow enough to limit the motion of a limb, the neck, or head.

Q—What can be done to prevent keloids?

A—Persons who have had these formations should avoid any unnecessary injury or irritation, for example, a rubbing belt.

Q—When is "sandpaper surgery" of the most benefit?

A—In patients who have acne scars not extending through the full thickness of the skin. This is a matter on which the doctor decides. The plastic surgery procedure must be done by a skilled operator.

FARMERS LEARN TO GRADE COTTON AT LUBBOCK SCHOOL

"Efficiency in Cotton Farming" was the theme of the fifth annual cotton classing school at the Government Classing School in Lubbock that ended Monday.

Farmers from area counties attended the free school to obtain information that was available for immediate use.

L. O. Buchanan, chairman of the Classing Office's board of examiners, and Bill Franklin instructed the day-long classes on subjects such as the following: how to eliminate dust, oil, grass and two-sidedness from bales of cotton.

Farmers also learned answers as to why they get more than one grade on a single load. They found that uneven moisture applications cause poor production, that insects reduce the profit if left uncontrolled; that tramping cotton in the truck bed or wagon grinds dirt and fine trash into the lint and that clean cultivation will pay for itself when the cotton is sold.

Farmers also learned to grade their cotton, Buchanan said. "It's not enough that a man knows how to grow a good cotton crop," said Buchanan. "He should also be able to tell what grade it is."

Students at the school learned how to "pull" staple type and grade against the universal standards which are agreed upon by the cotton industry and distributed by the USDA.

Over 12 Billion Cut From Budget Request

Abilene—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce today released a "box score" on 1954 federal appropriations, prepared for the regional chamber by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce. The information shows the 15 major appropriation bills, with the amount of each requested under the Truman budget, the revised amount requested by the present administration, the amount approved by the house, the amount approved by the senate, and the final action on each bill. The final agreement, after house and senate agreements on the 15 appropriation bills, was $61,177,171,888. The request by President Truman and Eisenhower was a total of $73,810,336,302. This shows the budget of the two presidents was cut by $12,633,164,414.

Bro. Cecil Allen, minister of the Plains Church of Christ, has recently held a meeting at Covington, Texas. The Plains church has contracted for a building that they believe can be placed on their lot, for $6,000. The stucco building is 40x70, and comes complete with seats, heating, and air conditioning.

57 TEXANS GET HUNT HOLDOVER PRIORITY

Austin—Surprise letters have been sent 57 Texas hunters, who missed out on the last regular antelope season two years ago. They were the gunners allotted permits for the 1951 shoot, and then turned in their licenses for personal reasons. Alternates were assigned and the 57 hunters automatically got the holdover priority.

Chief Clerk Vernon Skaggs of the game and fish commission has advised the 57 of their priority rating for the 1953 drawing for the October antelope seasons, in both the Panhandle and Big Bend country.

He said upwards of 600 buck antelope, almost evenly divided between the two areas, will be allocated for the fall harvest at the rate of one male antelope per hunter.

Persons interested in the seasons should write the game and fish commission in Austin, and request a formal application. This application must be received by the commission with a postmark of not later than midnight, Aug. 31, 1953.

Vacationists, upon returning home, may find insects in control of the household, and damage considerable, unless advance precautions are taken before closing the house.

Recent Opinions By The Attorney General

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has released a list of all opinions written by his office during the month of July.

Opinions of general interest include the following: A real estate dealer may offer premiums to a property owner who lists his property with the dealer, but may not offer premiums to persons who submitted a "lead" which results in the dealer's getting a listing.

A county judge may place defendants convicted of drunk driving on probation for not less than six months, in lieu of a mandatory jail sentence.

The minimum amount of the bond required of the tax assessor-collector of an independent school district is twice the amount of taxes collected in the largest single collection period of the preceding year.

Justices of the peace who get a regular salary may keep fees collected for performing marriage ceremonies and for acting as ex-officio notaries public.

Fees may not be paid to a sheriff in advance for serving citations on delinquent taxpayers who are non-residents of a county.

A county commissioner's court may make valid county tax levies, even if one of the commissioners is absent from the meeting because of duties in one of the reserve branches in the armed forces.

A county commissioner serving in a military reserve capacity is entitled to his salary during his absence on military duty.

A contract to purchase stationery and printing for the legislature which was not let on competitive bids and approved by the governor, secretary of state, and comptroller is not valid.

A county judge, acting as ex-officio county superintendent, is entitled to keep the additional money paid him for such office. Shepperd said that his office is continuing to win approximately 98 percent of all cases tried since the first of the year. During the month of July, 94 cases were won out of 104 tried or appealed.

Your Hazard Is Near Your Own Home

Chicago—The first 25 miles away from home are the most hazardous when you're driving an automobile.

Accident Facts, the National Safety Council's new statistical yearbook, shows that 61 percent of the drivers involved in the 33,000 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred, 21 percent lived elsewhere in the state, and 18 percent out of the state.

Seventy-three percent of the drivers involved in all motor vehicle accidents also lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred. Seventeen percent lived elsewhere in the state, and 10 percent outside the state.

Seed Testing Fees Posted By Ag. Dept.

Austin—A new seed testing fee system will be put into effect Sept. 1, by the two seed laboratories operated by the Texas Department of Agriculture, in Lubbock and Austin. Commissioner John C. White has announced.

A complete test of all seed will be made for $2.50, with the exception of chaffy grasses, native grasses, mixtures and trashy seed. This fee can be broken down to $1 for germination tests or $1.50 for purity analysis only.

A fee of $5 will be levied for purity and/or germination tests of the four exceptions—chaffy, native, mixtures, and trashy seed. During a rush season, however, trashy seed may be rejected for testing purposes, White added.

PMA Elections Vital To Texas Farmer

College Station—"To PMA county and community committeemen, to be elected in August by Texas farmers participating in PMA programs, will fall the important duty of determining farm acreage allotments on any crops for which allotments are in effect in 1954," State PMA Chairman Claude K. McCain said today.

Secretary Benson has already set in motion the preliminary work necessary in preparation for possible acreage allotments and marketing quota programs on 1954 crops of wheat and cotton, if such controls should be required for these crops.

Urging all farmers concerned in any PMA programs to get out and vote, Chairman McCain said, "Establishment and supervision of farm acreage allotments when they are in effect is not the only duty of PMA committeemen. Price support loan programs and purchase agreements are locally under their attention. Storage facility loans available to farmers needing additional storage space for grains and seeds on their farm must be approved by the county committee. These loans are intended to supplement regular means of credit to increase grain storage capacity.

Local administration of crop insurance, with the exception of loss adjustment, is another program under supervision of county committeemen. They are also responsible, in co-operation with other department of agriculture agencies, for supervising agricultural conservation program practices carried out in their community. Any farmer participating in any PMA program—owner, tenant, sharecropper—is eligible to vote. County office will announce time and place of voting.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Blair, of Hueco Inn (33 miles east of El Paso, on the Carlsbad highway) were visitors in Brownfield and the Herald office last week, en route home from Chicago, where they visited their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Brown. While in Brownfield, the Blairs visited with Mr. Blair's father, J. S. Blair, Loop, who is in the local hospital, suffering from a light case of pneumonia; and visited with Mrs. J. S. Blair, who is staying at the Ed Mayfield home while her husband is in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williamson attended the funeral recently of Mrs. Williamson's brother, Jeff Loe, who was killed in a car wreck, near Lamesa. Last week, they visited Mrs. Williamson's sister in Haskell County.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boston and children were recent visitors in New Mexico.

Butter Available For Distribution

College Station—School lunch-rooms and local public and private welfare agencies can get butter from the price support stocks owned by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

About 50 million pounds will be donated to various eligible agencies, according to John J. Slaughter, chief, southwest food distribution branch, USDA's Production and Marketing Administration. "Agencies wishing to get this butter should make application within 90 days from Aug. 3," Slaughter said.

No order will be considered for less than ten cartons of butter. Requesting agencies must pay the freight charges on the butter from the warehouse to point of delivery.

The butter, acquired by the government as a result of supporting prices to dairy farmers, is being donated to eligible outlets under authority of section 416 of the agricultural act of 1949, Slaughter explained.

Applications can be obtained from PMA's food distribution branch, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, or from the state department of public welfare, Austin.

HEALTH QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—What is an anesthetic? An anesthesiologist?

A—An anesthetic is a drug (including gas) given to cause entire or partial loss of feeling or sensation. An anesthesiologist is a doctor who specializes in giving anesthetics.

Q—Why are anesthetics sometimes combined?

A—Different anesthetics have different characteristics. When given in combination, one may increase the effectiveness of another, making the administration easier, and adding to the patient's comfort.

Q—Is the pathologist interested only in autopsies?

A—No. His main interest is the living patient, and his field is wide. It includes performing and interpreting special diagnostic tests, examining tissue removed during operation, studying bacteria, studying blood and problems of blood transfusion, and taking an important role in the control of cancer.

Q—Are tumor clinics concerned only with cancer?

A—No. All tumors are not "malignant," or cancerous. Tumors that are not malignant, referred to as "benign," come in for their share of discussion at tumor clinics.

DREAMS OF GOING ABROAD COME TRUE FOR ROY WINGERD FAMILY

By Mrs. Roy Wingerd

I will pass lightly over our visits to Oxford and Eton, which unfortunately, had to be made on one of those cold, rainy days when even the delights of paradise would have been dampened by the weather.

Both schools were founded by King Henry VI, a king who was never much more than simple minded, even at his best. This seems slightly ironical, but for over four hundred years the feeble minded monarch has done more than all the geniuses England ever produced to influence the course of public education, not only in the island, but in the wide, wide world itself. Eton is what is laughingly called in the British Isles, a public school, but we would consider it the most snobbish of private academies. Peers and millionaires enter their sons at birth, and even then, few are chosen. The boys, who dress in Eton jackets, white collars, striped trousers and bowler, or straw hats, according to the seasons, lead lives of rather rigid discipline which is supposed to make them into proper young gentlemen of the leisured upper classes. After their term is ended here, they are sent up to one of the twenty-nine colleges of Oxford; and there the process is completed.

The spires of Oxford are celebrated in song and verse, and some day I hope to return and give them the admiration they so richly deserve, but I plan to wait for better weather.

One of the things tourists are supposed to do in London is to go down to Buckingham Palace to watch the changing of the guard. To my mind, it is an overrated pastime, but Marion and I went one morning, because she planned to take some pictures of the occasion. Fortunately, we stood next to an Englishman who knew all the traditions governing the rite, and make the ceremony much more interesting for us.

Buckingham Palace, or Buck house, as the Londoner calls it, is the premier palace of the kingdom; not for its beauty, for it has none, but because it is the town house of the Queen, whose flag flies above it when she is in residence.

It is incredibly large, containing about seven hundred rooms in all; so it is doubtful if Elizabeth even knows the way around its miles of corridors. The late Queen Mary tells in her memoirs of losing her way there when she was the young Queen. The apartments of the royal family are on the second floor, where the children of the Queen can look out on the parades and processions taking place in the street outside. A balcony above the entrance affords a platform from which the royal family makes appearances on important occasions.

The Queen is guarded by five regiments of soldiers when she is in the palace, and by two regiments who take over when she is absent. The guard is changed every other day, unless it rains. They wear the tall bearskin shakos (hats to you), and their uniforms are grey with a touch of red. In fact, the summer uniform has a red coat, but we were there in April, and the summer uniform is not donned until May 1; so overcoats were still very much in military style.

Since the English seem to reverence the royal family, I am at a loss to imagine why they need all this array of soldiery to protect them. It would seem to be a casual visitor that an England in the throes of financial disaster, might dispense with a regiment or two in the interest of economy; but I suppose the idea would never enter the head of a British subject.

Anyway, the bands played martial music right merrily, the soldiers marched and counter marched, and even the mounted horse guards got into the act before it was over.

When you consider that Buckingham is just one of a half dozen palaces, such as Clarence House, York House, and Marlborough House, all housing members of the royal family; it is impossible to escape the conclusion that England pays a high price indeed for that royalty by which she sets such store. For my part, I could not help but think the White House much more beautiful, even though it is no palace at all, and my democratic soul was grateful that we did not need regiments of soldier guards to protect it.

On Easter we drove up the Thames to Hampton Court which is one of the loveliest and most different of English palaces, and famed for its wonderful English gardens, and beautiful walled courtyards than for the enormous red brick building itself.

It was owned by Cardinal Wolsey, who built it for his own private residence; beginning operations in 1516, when most of England's noble lords were living in drafty, cold stone castles with scarcely any windows. Here was the first palace in the kingdom, and it holds up well in competition, even today. There are beautiful doorways, acres of windows, fireplaces in every room. In fact, it was to be a country retreat for the Cardinal, who had weak lungs; so he gave it every refinement the architects of that day could imagine. Alas, he reckoned without taking into account the character of his King. The redoubtable Henry VIII looked on the Cardinal's palace and found it good. Wolsey finished Hampton Court in 1524. In 1525 Henry took it, and it became his favorite residence. Here he lived with Anne Boleyn, here his first son was born; and here England's monarchs lived after him for over two hundred years. George III was the first to abandon the palace because the thought of the many beatings he had received within the red brick walls brought back unpleasant memories. Queen Victoria renovated the old residence, making it into apartments where the widows of Britain's loyal and brave soldiers who have been decorated for valor may live rent free. These are called grace and favor ladies; and many of them are in residence there today.

Hampton Court is a perfect thing of its kind.

We Receive a Card Shower on Birthday

Other than some birthday greeting cards mentioned last week, we had one from our niece, Cpl. Emogene Stricklin, a WAC, located for the past year or two with the Fitzgerald General Hospital for Vets at Denver. Her home is at Middleton, Tenn.

Another came from Mr. and Mrs. Hub King and the girls here in the city. Then every single member of the Winston family dropped us a card, perhaps neither knowing the other did so. Being Mahota, the mother, Johnny the son, and the daughters, Mary and Glens Stevens and little son, Rodney. Also one from the L. D. Bullards.

Another came from the Charlie Beaver family, the Walter Tomlinsons, and still another from sister Sallie Limer way out at Long Beach. Last, but not least was one from our two "adopted" children, who always never forget "Daddy Jack," on birthday, Dad's Day, Christmas, or what have you. And their cards are always elaborate, and sometimes rather laughable.

This one shows a rather fat lady down on the floor, scrubbing it, with the wording: My name isn't Annie, but this comes to say, there's not ANNIE reason why I'd miss your day, etc.

As stated above, others were mentioned elsewhere. Thanks a lot for the remembrance, but we sometimes wish we could forget birthdays and not just keep getting older.

FAREWELL PARTY HONORING JOHNSENS
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnsen and son, Roy, who are moving to Oklahoma, were honored with a farewell party by members of the First Christian Church last week at the church.

The couple received gifts from the church circles and Sunday School groups in appreciation of the friendships made during the three years that the Johnsens had lived in Brownfield.

Ice cream and cake were served to approximately 50 guests.
Mrs. Johnsen was formerly Dr. W. A. Robertson's assistant and Mr. Johnsen is employed by Phillips Oil Co.

DWI Conviction Penalty 3 Days in Jail, $50 Fine, Under New Law Now in Effect

Brownfield and other Texas motorists charged with first-offense driving while intoxicated face a mandatory penalty, upon conviction, of at least three days in jail and a $50 fine after midnight last Tuesday night, August 25.

The stiffer penalty, provided by the last legislature in a move to discourage drunk driving, became law Wednesday amid legal uncertainty as to its constitutionality.

But it's not the jail sentence itself that's causing the lifting of legal eyebrows. It's the provision which allows the trial judge to suspend the jail term.

Officials have expressed the belief that persons charged with drunk driving will expect to find juries reluctant to return a guilty verdict if they know such a verdict carries with it a jail sentence. It was pointed out that the old DWI law provided for a jail term, but didn't make it mandatory as does the new one which went into effect Tuesday night. In practice, few juries levied a jail term for first offenders.

The old law carried a minimum fine of $50 and suspension of driver's license for six months.

Just as under the old law, the penalty in any given case will have to be decided upon the merits of the case, but whether or not the provision for probationing the sentence will prove constitutional is something yet to be decided.

If a man under a suspended 3-day jail sentence is picked up again for drunk driving during his six months probationary period, his probation would not only be revoked and cause him to spend three days in jail, but he would then face a felony charge, it was pointed out.

As to whether the new law will accomplish its avowed purpose—reduction of the number of per-

Two registered gilts weighing about 275 pounds each were purchased recently at a total cost of $300 by the local Future Farmers of America chapter at the Panhandle-Plains Poland-China Breeders Sale.

The Brownfield Chapter purchased the reserve champion gilt for $105. She was owned by Wyatt Harman of Happy. The other gilt cost the chapter $195 and was owned by J. R. Boyd of Lubbock.

Pigs from the gilts will be sold to members of the chapter for the South Plains Junior Livestock show this coming spring and both gilts are to be used as co-op projects.

Thirty pigs were purchased this last year by the local chapter, and members received experience in managing a herd while caring for them. Local FFA chapter made 18 percent profit on the entire project, and the chapter plans to re-

Texas Publishes Only Braille Magazine

Texas is the home of the only publishing agency for the blind in the southwest, serving an audience of 8,000 finger-tip readers with three braille magazines.

The Braille Evangel, Inc., is a non-profit and benevolent agency, which is supported by volunteer donations.

Edwin Wilson, founder and editor of the three publications, stands on level ground with his braille audience. Blind from childhood, Wilson has received extensive training for this special literary service to his fellow blind.

Funds Needed

Due to the high cost of braille printing and the usual financial disability of our blind population, the annual operating expense of $15,000 of the Braille Evangel, Inc., is supported by the benevolent interest of friends. Funds received by donations are handled by an officially recognized management. Through this agency, you can lend your eyes to those who cannot read the regular printed page.

An Attic Fan Will Help At Night

College Station—The attic fan is not a substitute for complete air conditioning in the home, but is a practical and inexpensive means of securing relief from the oppressive summer heat. W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas agricultural extension service, says if the attic fan is properly used, it will prove very satisfactory.

The fan may do little or no good during the daytime, but if used in the evening, the heated attic air can be exhausted by the fan and cooler air from the outside pulled into the house. This process will cool the entire house during the night, and if the windows are closed during the daytime, lower temperatures can often be maintained within the home, says Allen.

One of the important items to consider when buying an attic fan, says the engineer, is its size. Be sure and get one large enough to completely change the air in the house every minute. For example, a house with 1,000 square feet of floor space and eight foot walls would contain approximately 8,000 cubic feet of volume. A fan with a delivery of at least 8,000 cubic feet of air per minute should be installed.

Follow the manufacturer's directions closely, says Allen, when installing any type fan. Generally, he points out, the fan should be placed near a partition wall or other solid support to prevent vibration. Try to locate the inlet grill to the fan in a central hallway, and never place the fan so that the air will blow against any obstruction, such as chimney, roof or wall. And, finally, says Allen, don't start the fan without opening a door or window.

Soil Testing Service Popular With Farmers

College Station—On Nov. 1, 1950, the soil testing service of the Texas A. and M. College system was expanded, and the testing or analysis fee was reduced. During the past year, and despite the drought, 7,790 soil samples were handled by the laboratory, which is operated under the direction of M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist for the Texas agricultural extension service.

Thornton says, the laboratory can handle 100 samples a day, and operations during most of the past year never reached the top limits. He would like to see a uniform flow of samples to the laboratory, and believes that, when those interested in obtaining basic information on their soils—be it farm, ranch, garden or flower beds in origin—recognize the value of the soil analysis, that volume will increase.

The samples submitted to the laboratory during the past year came from every section of Texas. The gulf coast area, extension district 11, with 1,413 samples, held a slight lead over district 10, which lies to the west of district 11.

LET'S ALL GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY Where We Are All One With The Lord

Peace... Good Will...

Everywhere, among good people, there exists a longing to make our world tranquil and prosperous—a desire for man to unite for peace, good will and understanding. For from good will comes forbearance and from understanding, a better way of life. And what better time than now for every man to renew the realization that all our good human relationships—yes, even our business relationships, are based on our faith in God and our fellow man. Only through this faith can we assure the continuance of freedom without fear—tolerance with tyranny—democracy and lasting peace.

Joseph Gene Ridgway Now Training With Air Force ROTC

Air Force ROTC Cadet Joseph Gene Ridgway is entering into final stage of his summer training at March Air Force Base, California. Son of Weldon Ridgway, Box 805, Brownfield, Texas, he is a student at Texas Tech, where he is majoring in business teaching.

Since beginning his training period on July 26, he and almost 200 fellow air force ROTC cadets have trained and inspected most of the facilities at March Air Force Base, a vital part of the strategic air command.

Each of the cadets will have completed at least one three-hour flight in each of two aircraft, being actually at the controls for part of the flight.

Other activities include daily physical training and sports, drill, classroom lectures and demonstrations, and inspection of the different phases of air force life.

Highlight of the social program was a gala welcome dance, held at the plush Copa Club and pool of the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, in nearby Beverly Hills. Special guests at the dance included lovely Elaine Stewart, MGM star; Howard Duff, radio, TV and motion picture star; and tennis notables Don Budge and Gussie Moran.

The encampment will end on Aug. 26.

A Disturbing Textbook Analysis

There has just come to my attention a highly professional analysis of sociology textbooks which should be read by every school teacher, college professor and parent in America. It brings to light shocking facts about some textbooks now widely used in high schools and colleges of the country. The author, Dr. A. H. Hobbs, professor of sociology at the University of Pennsylvania, says some of the most widely used sociology textbooks are distorting facts, using devious and subtle techniques to convince high school and college youth—

1. That religion should discard mysticism, supernaturalism, ritual, and tradition and "adjust to conditions of modern society" by concentrating on crusades against certain economic and social conditions.

2. That educational practices and principles which involve discipline or drill, and the teaching of traditional beliefs about the government, the family, or the economic system are inefficient and harmful.

3. That government should actively provide people with security, equality, happiness, and developed personalities; that increased governmental control over business and industry is the most important step toward attainment of the desired goals, but that such controls constitute only one phase of broader social planning.

Claims Without Foundation
4. That maldistribution of wealth and income, and unemployment, are the outstanding characteristics of our private enterprise economic system; and that government control of business and planning by "social engineers" will eliminate maldistribution, and will provide people with security.

5. That social controls which operate in relation to the family, religion and traditional forms of education are irrational and give rise to "cultural lag"; and that rationality should be the criterion of social control.

6. That social controls in America are no better or worse than those in other countries—which include Communist Russia and Socialistic Europe.

Eighty-Three Texts Studied

7. That the rising divorce rate may be a good sign—it is more nearly a harbinger of family reorganization than an index of disorganization; and that "companionate" marriages are desirable.

8. That heredity and innate tendencies are relatively unimportant in personality formation and motivation; and that personality is formed largely through "cultural conditioning."

Dr. Hobbs cites other controversial conclusions which he contends are fostered by the most widely used sociology textbooks. In his work, he analyzed the content of 83 widely used texts, which he considered as constituting the "heart" of college and high school sociology—the most swiftly expanding course of study in American education. His book is entitled: "The Claims of Sociology: A Critique of Textbooks." The publisher is the Stackpole Company, Harrisburg, Pa.

The Danger

Attention is directed to this comprehensive analysis of sociology textbooks because if sufficient numbers of today's generation of youth are weaned away from the basic elements in our American way of life—faith in God, our constitutional republic, and our private enterprise economic system—some form of Socialism will be established.

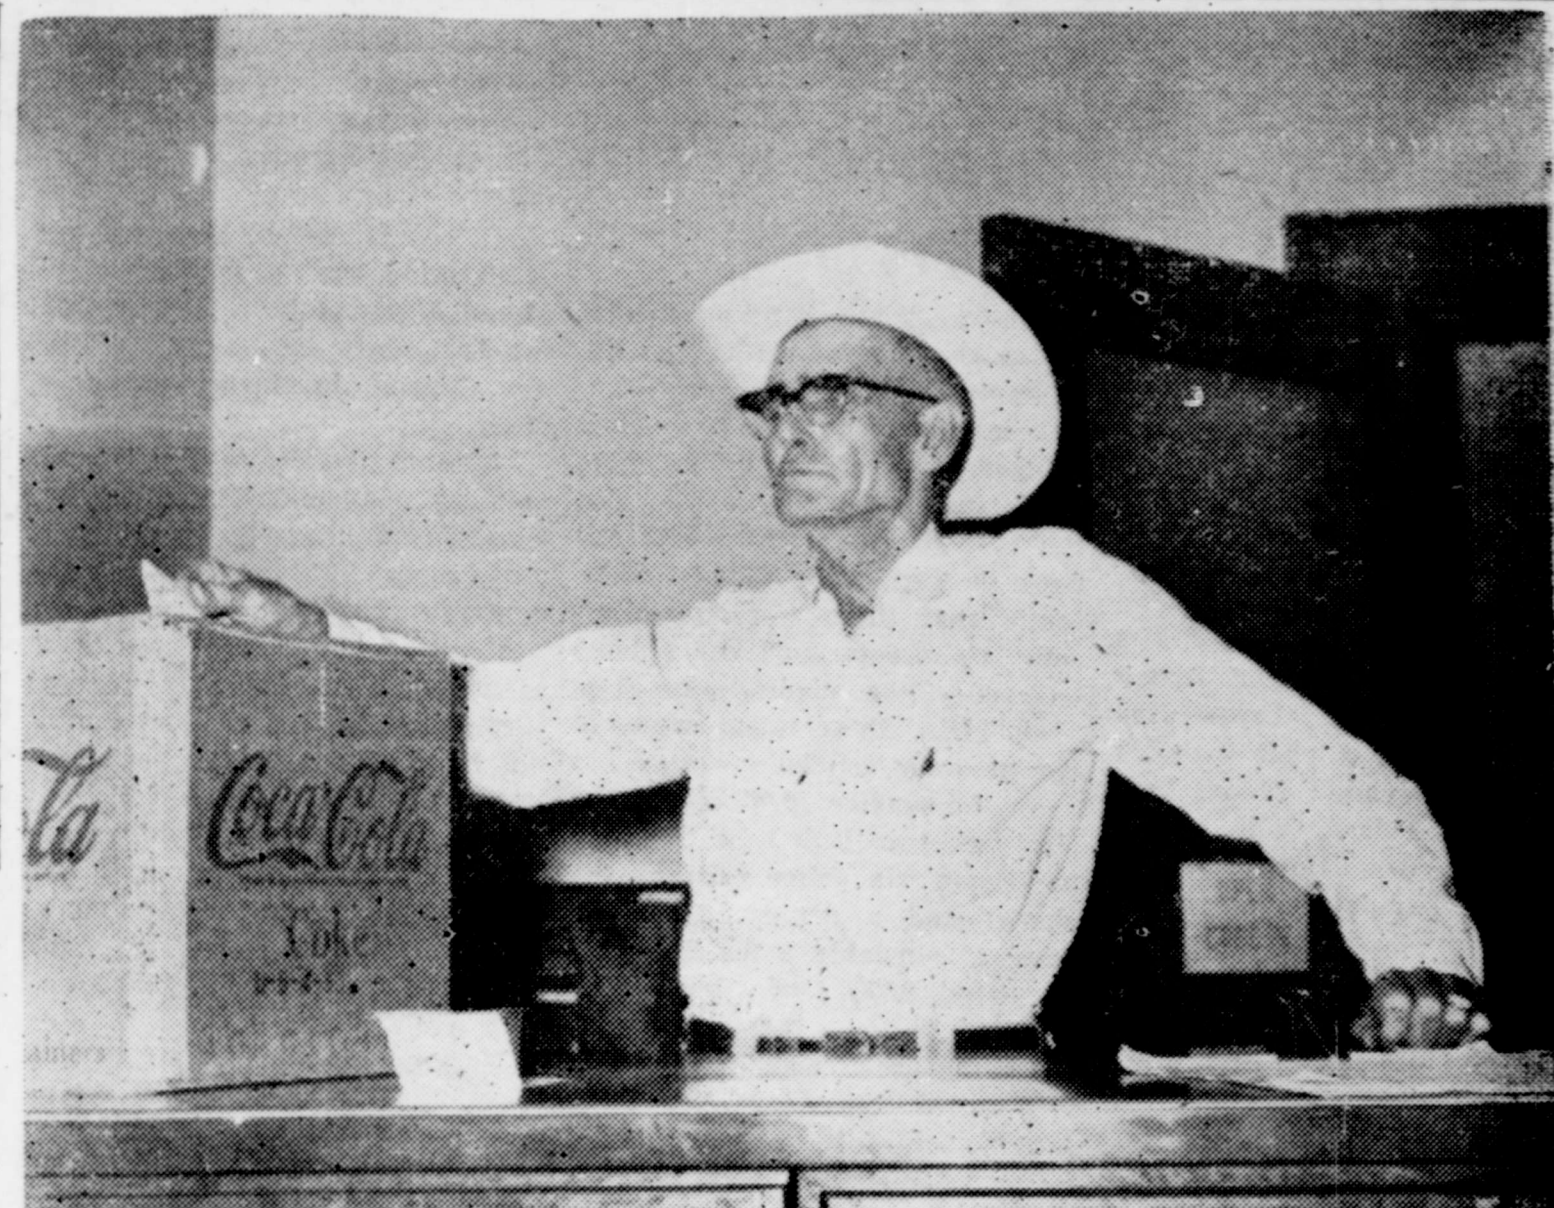

This would be playing right into the hands of the Communists and Socialists—when, as a matter of fact, this nation's best hope for continuing freedom and progress lies in our on-coming generation's gaining a clear enough understanding of the value of these basic American elements not to be led astray by doctrines which would destroy them. America has an unusually large percentage of its population in high school and college—more, in numbers, than all the other nations combined. It is this group from which our nation's leaders must come. Therefore, it is this group that naturally has the highest priority on the Communist list for penetration.

Star-Telegram Gives Old Terry A Lift

After all that muck-raking stuff the Associated Press handed Terry and this area a month or six weeks ago, the Star-Telegram handed us quite a nice compliment in its recent edition, devoting the entire page 18 of section one to Brownfield and Terry county. The Herald for one business here in Brownfield, appreciates the rejoinder the Star-Telegram gave the AP.

Of course, the Star-Telegram didn't try to make anyone believe that everything was hunkydora and the goose hanging high out here, after what is usually described as a three years' drouth. But the S-T did try to point out the fact that conditions can never be so bad but what they could be worse. The S-T used 12 illustrations on the page to show some of the good. And we might add that not many people are leaving. In fact, we believe they are coming in as fast or faster than they leave.

Of course, it may be pointed out that most of those coming in, 60 families last week, are oil field workers. But we don't believe that many families have left in the past two months. In fact, there is no question but Brownfield has grown better than 2,000 since 1950. Light and water meters show that. And to come right down to brass tax and toe nails, there are

L. D. HAMM, WHEAT FARMER at Wellman, was one of the 59 area voters who placed ballots in the voting box at the recent Wheat Referendum held in the local Production and Marketing Association office. Mr. Hamm and his sons, Mont, L. D. Jr., Robert, Dick, and Jack, have incorporated their two farms and their wheat allotment for 1954 is 584 acres, and they farm approximately 3,000 acres in varied crops. In 1952 the group planted 800 acres of wheat and in 1953, 500 acres.

LOCAL FIREMEN COMPLETE SCHOOL

The city fire department received a certificate recently in regard to the local firemen satisfactorily completing the 24th firemen training school courses, held at A. and M. College, E. D. Jones, fire chief, announced.

The men completed the following courses: Jim Cousineau, fire marshal; John Hall, general basic; and Leonard Isaacs, advanced. Their courses make the city entitled to an additional 2 percent insurance key rate under the new Texas law.

In American Business In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

New York—President Eisenhower's new small business administration, taking the place of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, set out last week to establish itself as a clearing house for information and ideas to help the companies which have been handed over to it for guidance.

While the new agency has the power to make loans of $150,000 or less, it appears to be aiming at reducing the need for such aid. Its first official act was to form a west coast contract pool of small metal-working companies to bid on government jobs in the Los Angeles area.

Actually, what creates a demand for government loans to thriving small and medium-sized business, in most cases, is a difference of opinion between businessman and banker over the prospects for business in general, and the borrower's project in particular. There is no way to resolve this impasse: If the businessman weren't an optimist, he would work for someone else; if the banker weren't a pessimist he would have gone broke in 1937.

We seem to have decided that the government should throw its weight in most such instances to the borrower. If that's the case, the best the lending agency can do is keep down its loan totals, and try to be a little more reserved, than has been the pattern the last 20 years or so.

very few towns of 8,500 in Texas that have on deposit nearly $13 million.

There is no use to deny the fact that the past three years have been extremely dry. But in 1951, with some 13 inches of rain, Terry county, then with few irrigation wells, made 73,000 bales of cotton. Last year, with less than 10 inches of rain, the county made 50,000 bales. The estimate this year, with some 500 irrigation wells, with not near all the irrigated acreage in cotton, the estimates run from 20,000 to 30,000 bales.

OK, let's take some east Texas county that has been bragging about their green pastures, but with a population of some 15,000, about like Terry, and let's see if they have $13 million on deposit, and have made 145,000 bales of cotton, and some 20 million bushels of feed to sell in the past three years?

The average cost per ton of new steel rail laid in replacements in all railway tracks in 1951 was $84.51, compared with $42.36 in 1941. This was an increase of 95.4 percent.

A standard railway passenger coach now costs around $125,000, while a modern Pullman sleeping car costs in the neighborhood of $163,000.

Last Rites Held For Wreck Victim

Funeral services for Joyce Ellis, 17-year-old Brownfield girl who was killed in a car crash Tuesday night, were conducted at 4:30 p.m. last Thursday at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Jones Weathers, pastor, officiated, and burial was in Terry County Memorial Cemetery under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Miss Ellis became the area's 18th traffic fatality when she died a few minutes after the car, in which she and Sue Campbell, of Brownfield, were riding overturned 14 miles south of Brownfield about 9:30 p.m.

Miss Campbell, 17, received a fractured back. Attendants in Treadaway-Daniell Hospital said she is in serious condition, but was resting well.

Continuation of What We Have Here

This week we discovered that the pages furnished us by the Chamber of Commerce were printed on both sides, and we had skipped some of the information, so we had to back up a bit. Also the lady that does the secretarial work in Mgr. Grady Elder's office, found that there were some errors in the copy, and came down to rectify the errors. Just happened that there were none in our previous articles.

As for police protection, the city has two full time highway patrolmen, six police officers, the sheriff and a deputy. We also have a constable. We have an estimated 2500 home owners in the city. We have 100 apartments, 70 rent houses, and 50 rooms that are rented. There are two large housing projects that would shine in anyone's town, the Gilpark and the Privitt-Kendrick apartments.

The rents are in line with other towns and cities in the area. The value of homes is estimated at $5 million dollars. Efforts are being made to make our city as attractive as possible for manufacturing. This is done by the zoning method. Building lines are divided into 12 separate districts. For that reason, there are suitable sites in every section of the city for industrial plants.

As to climate, our elevation for the county as a whole averages 3200 feet. There are 196 days of growing season. As to the provision for health, few cities or towns goes as far as Brownfield along that line. The city owns and operates a fogging system, and the alleys are fogged every 12 to 14 days, and more if necessary. We have a sewerage system and disposal plants that will care for a city of 25,000. Precipitation (rainfall to us country bumpkins) averages 18.96 inches a year, but if there is not some improvement in the next year or two, it will have to be dropped several inches. Average temperature is 41 in January and 71 in July.

Next week, we shall take up the number of businesses, manufacturers, etc., and the value per year, as well as the number of people employed.

ARE YOU GETTING YOURS?

Are you wondering why, in spite of staggering taxes, the deficit and the national debt keep going up and up?

If so, you might consider a book which is being advertised by a leading publisher. It is entitled "How to Get It from the Government." According to the advertisements, it "tells all about the hundreds of benefits and services provided by your government. You never dreamed you could get so much help from your government in so many ways. All kinds of benefits and services are yours for the asking." A sub-head reads: "Are you getting your share of these billions of dollars?"

No criticism is implied of the publisher and author of this book, who have a perfect right to sell as many copies as they can. But the fact that such a work is possible shows how sickeningly far we have strayed from the ideals which built America and which made America's independence and freedom possible. — Rotan Advance.

THESE TEXTBOOKS ARE CHALLENGED

During the last 25 years the teaching of sociology in our high schools and colleges has become one of the most influential educational forces in the country. The thinking of millions of youth is being shaped by what they study in sociology textbooks. Dr. A. H. Hobbs, professor of sociology at the University of Pennsylvania, has made an exhaustive study of 83 widely used textbooks. He declares that instead of giving unbiased presentation of scientific facts some of the textbooks are promoting the viewpoint of left-wing "liberalism."

"Severe criticism appears justified," Dr. Hobbs declares, "because textbook authors continue to mock the fundamental rules of scientific presentation and persist in flaunting their 'objectivity' as a protective banner under which they parade their prejudice. The presentation of 'sociological emphasis' (special 'liberal' pleading) becomes stronger in more recent texts and is particularly pronounced in high school texts.

Luring Young Minds

"This increased emphasis," says Professor Hobbs significantly, "occurs as courses in sociology become more popular in colleges and spread into schools where teachers lack necessary qualifications for evaluation, and where the immaturity of students may lead to uncritical acceptance."

Shocking Teachings

Dr. Hobbs' study was confined to the three most popular courses in sociology. Introductory Sociology, Marriage and the Family, and Social Problems. The 83 texts examined were used in these three courses. Their subject matter deals with personality formation, educational methods and goals, economic systems, government, marriage and the family, social controls, social disorganization, war, and social change.

In last week's column we listed certain conclusions which Dr. Hobbs claimed were being fostered in these textbooks—such as: "religion should discard supernaturalism (belief in God)," a socialistic economic system is better than a competitive one, a welfare state government is desirable, etc. Dr. Hobbs carefully points out that some of the 83 texts are exceptions but that the majority deviously undermine traditional American principles and beliefs.

Condemn Private Enterprise

In examining the viewpoint fostered by the textbooks in the realm of economics, Dr. Hobbs reports: "Most texts criticize private competitive enterprise as it functions in a capitalistic economy. Criticisms are in the form of sweeping generalizations regarding harmful effects of the economic system. Few texts attempt a realistic comparison with earlier conditions in this society or with present conditions in other societies. . . . Authors of sociology texts offer little more than glittering and seductive generalities as alternatives which are presented in gleaming contrast to their gloomy forebodings and criticisms of existing economic conditions."

Dr. Hobbs asks with powerful insistence: "Is a presentation which criticizes a functioning system by contrasting it with hypothetical remedies which are believed to be attainable in nonexistent alternative systems, justified in textbooks which are presented to immature and receptive lead to uncritical acceptance."

VETERANS QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS DEPT.

Q. I want to take training under the Korean GI Bill, but the only way I can reach by goal is to take courses in two different schools at the same time. Would this be possible to do?

A. Yes. Concurrent enrollment and attendance at two schools is permitted under circumstances such as yours. But you'll need monthly certifications of training from each of the schools you attend.

Q. I'm planning to enroll in college under the Korean GI Bill this fall, and I want to know if I could get a part-time job in the evenings to supplement my monthly GI allowance. Also, would my allowance be reduced if I got a job?

A. There are no restrictions on veterans getting part-time jobs to add to the monthly allowance they receive while going to school under the Korean GI Bill. And they'd receive the same allowance regardless of how much money they earned on the side.

Q. If I interrupt my Korean GI minds under the authoritarian prestige of science?" The answer is: Definitely not!

The Hobbs book is a challenge. It comes from a distinguished educator. It says: Clean up sociology textbooks and thus strengthen freedom's mightiest sword—American education. The action should come from the profession itself.

UP AND DOWN

Some day, oil wells may be drilled as far down as Mt. Everest is up! Climbers who stood on Mt. Everest were 29,002 feet above sea level. Oil men in America already have drilled 20,521 feet in the opposite direction, below the earth's surface. Unlike mountain climbers who climb peaks just because they're there, oil men do not drill just to set new records. There are sedimentary basins known to be at least 30,000 feet deep, and some are suspected to lie perhaps at 60,000 feet, but unless oil men have good reason to believe that oil will be found at the bottom of the hole, they won't spend the terrific amounts of money which drilling costs.

Among the 71 persons attending the Park family reunion held recently at Tahoka were E. H. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. Bill S. Reed, Regan Reed, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pickett, Jimmie Reed, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Park, all of Brownfield.

Read it in the Herald first!

Bill schooling some time within a month, would I receive my GI allowance for that entire month?

A. No. Your GI allowance would be discontinued as of the last date of attendance in school. It would not be paid to the end of the month.

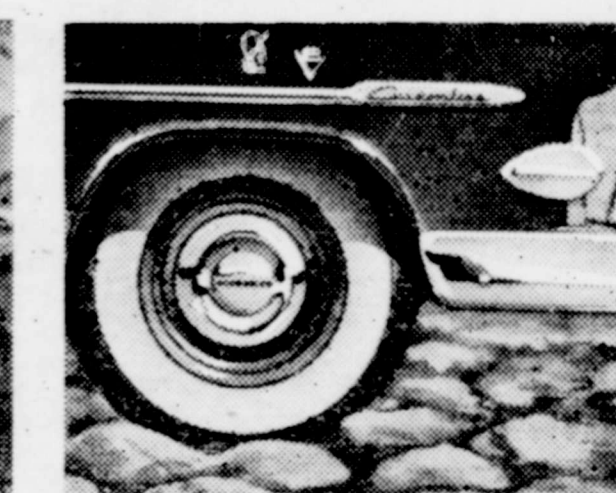

Look what your FORD dollar buys!

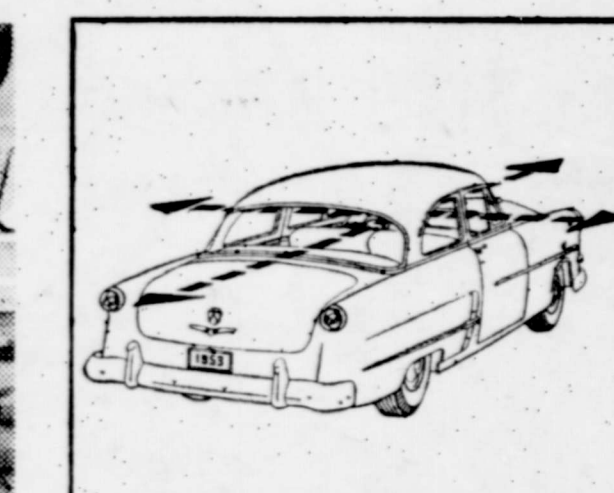

Check the features below against any car in the low-price field and you'll see why Ford's worth more when you buy it...worth more when you sell it.

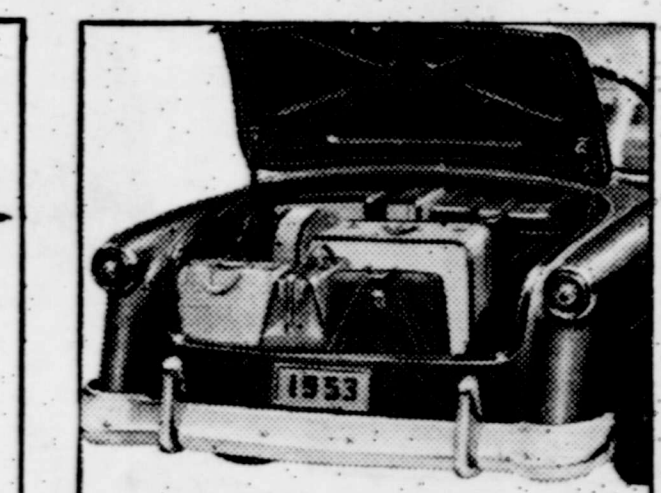

V-8 POWER is yours in Ford—but not in other low-priced cars. It's the product of Ford's experience in building over 13,000,000 V-8's! Ford's high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker Six with Overdrive, is the Economy Sweepstakes winner.

ROAD-LEVELING RIDE reduces front end road shock alone up to 80%. Wide front tread, diagonally-mounted shock absorbers take tilt out of turns. You'll discover in the '53 Ford that a car need not be excessively heavy to ride smooth as silk.

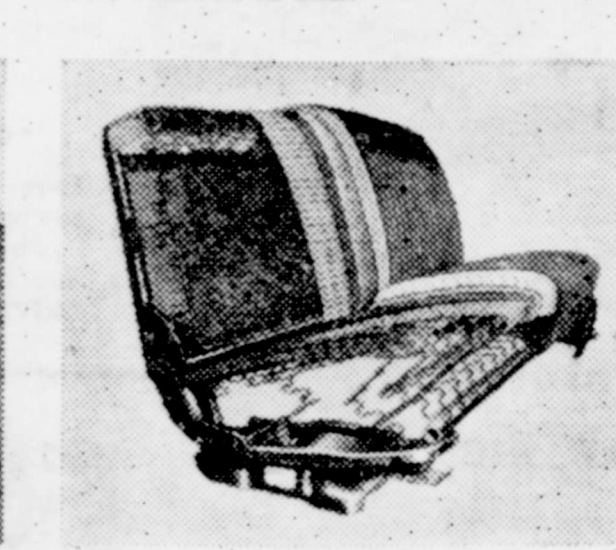

FULL-CIRCLE VISIBILITY is yours in Ford. With huge, curved, one-piece windshield, car-wide rear window and "picture windows" all-around, Ford has more "look out" area than any car in the low-price field. I-REST tinted glass also available.

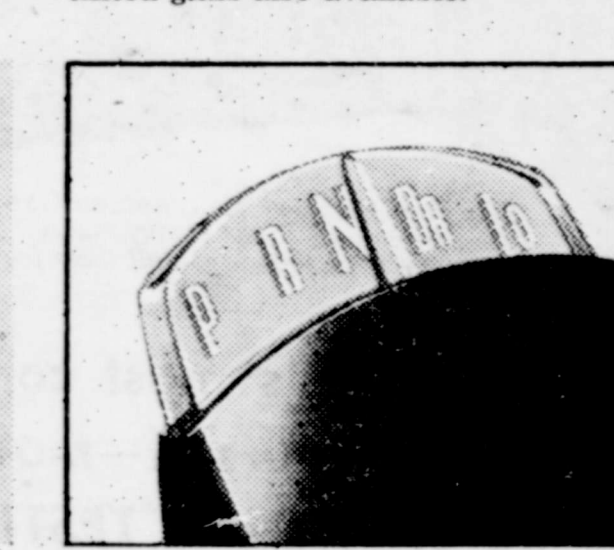

ROOMY TRUNK is one suitcase bigger . . . bigger than any other luggage compartment in Ford's field . . . bigger than you'll find in many of the expensive cars. With Ford's Center-Fill Fueling, there's no long gas-fill pipe to eat up your trunk space.

SUSPENDED PEDALS make braking and clutching easier . . . allow more clear floor space . . . eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. This feature, exclusive to Ford in its field, permits dash-mounting of brake master cylinder for easy accessibility.

FOAM-RUBBER CUSHIONS over non-sag springs in Ford's sofa-wide seats make even long trips a treat. And you'll find that only Ford in the low-price field offers this fine-car feature as standard equipment on both front and rear seats in all models.

FORDOMATIC DRIVE—an optional extra—is really two automatic drives in one. It has a fluid torque converter for smooth, steady power flow. It has automatic gears for greater "get-up-and-go." Ford also offers you Overdrive and Conventional Drive.

MASTER-GUIDE POWER STEERING—an optional extra on V-8 models—gives you the natural "feel" of steering on the straight-away yet takes the work out of turning. Absorbs road shocks before they reach the steering wheel—adds to safety.

NATIONAL WHEAT REFERENDUM FOR QUOTAS, 7-1; TERRY 55 YES, 4 NO

Of approximately 300 eligible voters in Terry county, only 59 voted in the wheat referendum election held Aug. 14 at the local PMA office. However, an overwhelming vote of 55 for market quotas carried, with 4 against. The national preliminary report carried by a 7-to-1 margin. This means that:

1. Marketing quotas will be in effect for all farms planting 15 acres of wheat or more.
2. Marketing penalties will apply on any wheat produced on acres in excess of the farm's allotment.
3. Price support at 90 percent of parity will be available for those who stay within their acreage allotment.

4. Quotas can be expected to hold down production, helping to bring supplies more nearly in line with effective market demand.

If the 1954 operator, or a farmer with no wheat allotment, a zero allotment, or a wheat allotment of less than 15 acres intends to, or may take advantage of the 15-acre exemption, and also will grow wheat, or the "green manure cover crops" practice, he shall file a sketch map of his farm with his county committeemen showing the following:

- a. The field to be planted to cover crop wheat.
 - b. The field on which as many as 15 acres of wheat may be harvested for grain. The sketch map must be filed before seeding time.
- If the 1954 operator does not file this sketch map, as outlined above, all wheat acreage found growing on the farm at measuring time will be measured and classified as wheat.

Brownfield Cubs Play District Oct. 23 At Levelland — Line Up Announced

Brownfield Cubs will play their first district game on October 23 with E. V. Murphy, 165-pound fullback; Jerry Don Brown, and Billy Thompson, halfbacks, giving Levelland Lobos a sample of "what's in the bag."

The Cubs have lost a number of good men as a result of last year's graduation, but Coaches Toby Greer, L. C. Wilson, and Farris Nowell, see many possibilities in the less experienced men through field practice twice a day starting September 1, from 6:30 to 8 a.m. and 3:15 to 6 p.m. District championship isn't won by lolling around, the coaches know, and the first few weeks will be the test of just how much a player wants to win, and he will show it by his sticking with coaches training rules and by putting his whole heart into "work-outs."

Football season opens September 11 for the Cubs at Pecos; following week against Phillips at home; Sept. 25, Cubs meet Littlefield here; Oct. 2, Monahans there; Jefferson High of El Paso in Brownfield, Oct. 9; and Ralls here Oct. 18.

District play opens the following week at Levelland; followed by an open date before playing Seminole at Brownfield; on Nov. 13, Andrews at Brownfield; and on Nov. 20, the season ends at Kermit.

Area Search For Burglars Underway

Texas Rangers and Yoakum County sheriff's deputies were continuing their search at Plains Monday night for the burglars who entered the United Geophysical Co. offices Saturday night and removed an estimated $400 in cash. The company's offices, located in the Old Courthouse, were entered by forcing a side window, authorities said.

The burglary was discovered Sunday afternoon.

Loose connections in an electric light or its wiring can cause a humming noise in a radio. Fluorescent lamps can also cause some of the interference, which can be eliminated by installing a special filter.

POW Son of Local Couple First of Terry County Boys To Be Released

Sergeant Ralph Woodson, whose parents live in Brownfield's Colored section, was among the first prisoners of war to be released by the Communists. He was flown from Korea, Aug. 21, by hospital plane to Letterman Army Hospital on the West Coast. Sergeant Woodson was then flown to Brooks General Hospital at San Antonio, where his parents visited him last week.

He was in Japan and among the first combat troops that went into Korea, and was captured as a POW approximately 36 months ago.

Sergeant Woodson's condition is very poor and he is undergoing severe electric treatments in the San Antonio hospital. His parents and baby sister have been to visit with him once for the purpose of identifying him and desire to stay near because of his serious condition. The local American Legion and V.F.W. posts have contributed $25 per organization toward his parents' traveling expense.

The sergeant enlisted in the Army at Paris, Texas, but he and his parents plan to make Brownfield their home.

C. L. Abe Lincoln, Terry County Veterans' Service Officer, talked via telephone to the personnel of the Adjutant General's office in Washington, D. C., recently, concerning Woodson's condition, and received another telephone message as to when the soldier arrived in San Antonio.

SMOKE FIRE SUNDAY

AFRAID TO EAT—ALWAYS TROUBLED WITH UPSET STOMACH

"Everything I ate seemed to upset my stomach until I was afraid to eat. I was tired, weak and run down from slowly starving myself, but I knew it was useless to even try to eat a good full meal until I read about, and tried INNER-TONE. That was the day things changed for me—I eat what I want, and my meals are a pleasure. I praise INNER-TONE to the sky." —This is an actual testimonial. INNER-TONE is the new mixture of juices from Nature's Herbs combined with blood building IRON and nerve strengthening VITAMINS B-1, B-2, and B-6. It has relieved many people who had never been really helped before by any medicine. Taken shortly before meals it mixes with your food and aids digestion "thus eliminating gas and bloat." So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-TONE today. Sold by all drug stores. (ad.)

Back To School

REMEMBER to drive about the school grounds carefully. Not only watch your driving, but be on the lookout for little fellows who do not realize the danger at traffic crossings. DRIVE CAREFULLY!

With our schools opening Monday, let's all unite in helping to make this one of the greatest school years in the history of Brownfield. With little cotton to gather, pupils should be able to get the maximum hours in school.
