Farm Bureau Hears Timely Word From Congressman Geo. Mahon; Officers Elected State Convention Delegates Are Named

Approximately 1,000 persons attended the Terry County Farm Bureau's annual barbecue held Oct. 29, and heard Congressman George Mahon discuss the government's cotton allotment.

Mahon urged that "we get stronger in the South in order to take care of our needs here in this part of the country." He also said, "We have some pretty rough days ahead in agriculture. There are going to be some things in the cotton allotment that we're not going to be pleased with."

The Congressman urged Terry farmers to buckle down this year so that next year won't be so hard to take, and he gave facts and figures that he had compiled to uphold his opinion that cotton allotments were too low. He stated that politicians have been accused of worrying more than the farmer but he warned that if the farmers weren't worried this year they definitely would be next year.

The following officers and directors of the bureau were elected at the meeting: Eulice H. Farrar, president; Leonard M. Lang, vice president; H. L. King, secretary-treasurer; Earl Cornett, director of Precinct 1; J. T. Fulford, director of Precinct 2; Val Garner, director of Precinct 3; and Alfred Tittle, director of Precinct 4. Bill Tilson, director of District 2, of the Texas Farm Bureau, also spoke.

Invocation was given by Dr. Harvey Scott, of Meadow, and the president's message was given by J. T. Fulford. Secretary's report made by Hub King, was followed by the audit report, by Alton Loe. Report of the nominating committee was given by Virgil Burnett, and a report of the resolutions committee came from Herman Wheatley. Bill Tilson, director, gave a short talk concerning the 19 counties of District 2, of which he is head.

An election was held and the following men were elected as delegates or alternates to the State Convention, scheduled for Nov. 9-11: delegates, Eulice Farrar, L. M. Lang, Alton Loe, and Herman Wheatley; alternates, Truett Flache, Carl Hogue, Tom Cornett, Curtis Hulise, and Paul Blackstock.

VFW Membership And Brick Selling Drive Is Underway

Hand Brothers Post No. 6794 of Veterans of Foreign Wars held a monthly meeting Oct. 27, in Veterans Hall, and a discussion regarding a proposition to purchase a building and have it moved to the three and a half acres east of Brownfield which the organization owns, was principal topic of the evening.

After the matter was completely discussed, it was decided by a majority vote of those present not to purchase the building at the present time. Mention was made regarding the sale of bricks which campaign is underway at the present time and ends November 24, when a drawing will be held for 12 turkeys at the Regal Theatre. Persons buying a ticket for 25c will be entitled to a chance at the turkeys.

The Post accepted a $100 check from one of its members for purchase of 400 tickets that the member will distribute among his customers. Any other business firms who desire to help the VFW build a future home may contact James Harley Dallas, Post Finance Officer and purchase as many tickets as they desire, to give their customers, by November 24.

At present the membership drive is underway and every eligible overseas veteran is invited to join the local VFW Post. Quota for this year is 175 members, 60 of that number have paid their 1954 dues since October 1; 124 members were listed on the roll last year.

District 7 of VFW will hold a convention Nov. 14-15, at Slaton, with DC Thad Patterson, presiding.

LOCAL GROCERY OWNER UNDERGOES OPERATION

Henry Chisholm, prominent businessman and member of the City Council, underwent major surgery in the Plains Hospital at Lubbock last Friday. He was reported to be doing fine and his family expects him to be released from the hospital some time next week, and he may have visitors.

Mrs. Chisholm has been at Lubbock with her husband during his illness.

Balanced judgement is something one finds in few people.

CONGRESSMAN GEORGE MAHON, center, was featured evening speaker at the Terry County Farm Bureau barbecue held last Thursday at the Veterans Hall. Mahon urged farmers to take advantage of their opportunities this year because there will be a tightening down of the farm program next year. Approximately 1,000 members and their families attended. Musical entertainment for the evening was furnished by Sonny Curtis and Jimmy Mackey. Pictured, left to right, are Hub King, Jake Fulford, Cong. Mahon, Bill Tilson, and Leonard Lang. (Staff Photo).

Craig, Jr., Frank Ballard, Ed Wilder, Monk Parker, Herbert Chesser, H. M. Pycatt, Buddy Gillham, Harry Cornelius, Vernon Townes, Harry Goble, John Odell (president), and Grady Elder, manager.

FOUR NEW WELLS; THREE LOCATIONS

Old Terry stood just about the top in oil findings the past week, with its four wells finished. Yep, even stood ahead of such lush counties as Gaines, Andrews and Scurry. But while we tied in number with Howard, that county had us skinned in the amount of oil per well. While ours ranged some better than 200 barrels per day, Howard had three that ranged from 457 to 2,354 barrels per day, flowing wells. They had one weak sister, a 44-barrel pumper.

Our four completions were all in the Prentice field in northwest Terry, as follows: Honolulu, No. 4, Ella Covington, located section 21, block D-14. Finished at a total depth of 5,970 feet, and pumped 207 barrels on test, 29.8 gravity oil, no water.

Placid Oil Co., No. 4, Muldro, section No. 20, block D-14. The well was finished at a depth of 5,987 feet, and pumped 330 barrels of oil daily, 29 gravity; no water.

Honolulu Oil Corp., No. 11-B, F. M. Ellington, section 19, block K. Finished at a depth of 5,900 feet, the well pumped 183 barrels of oil daily of 29 gravity; no water.

Tennessee Production Co., No. 8, C. B. Townes, section 22, block K. Finished at a depth of 6,900 feet the well pumped 204 barrels per day, 29 gravity oil, no water.

Yoakum County got two new wells, one in the Brahaney that pumped 119 barrels daily, 30 gravity oil, with 19 per cent water. The other was in the Wasson field, pumped 149 barrels of 32 gravity oil daily, no water.

The three new locations in Terry included two wildcats and one in the Prentice field, as follows: Wildcat, DeLern Oil Co. S. M. Minton, located on section No. 23, block DD, 10 miles west of Wellman, to be carried to 5,000 feet at once.

Wildcat, Harper and Huffman, No. 1, Frank E. Givan, located section 22, block D-11, 11 miles northeast Tokio, rotary rig to 7,500 feet. In the Prentice field is the Honolulu No. 6, Ella Covington, in section 21, block D-14, 8 miles north Tokio, to go to 6,100 feet, all to start drilling at once.

Yoakum County got two new locations, both in the Brahaney, north of Plains, around 5,500 feet at once.

STOP—LOOK—LISTEN

The Brownfield Rebekah Lodge No. 56 will have a box supper November 12, at 7:30 o'clock at the IOOF Hall in Brownfield.

Everyone is invited, so come and bring a big box.

Alwyn Loudermilk's father, from Brownwood, Texas, visited with him last week end.

2 OIL FIELD WORKERS DIE OF BURNS SUFFERED IN STORAGE TANK EXPLOSION

James E. Spicer, 25, and Edmond Williams, 26, employees of the Amerada Petroleum, located 15 miles southwest of Brownfield, died in the local hospital Wednesday, from burns they suffered late Tuesday. An oil storage tank exploded as they attempted to retrieve a watch Spicer had dropped in the tank two weeks previously.

They were brought to the hospital by their farm boss early Tuesday night, after walking a half mile from the scene of the explosion which occurred about 5:30 p. m.

The men had taken a manhole plate from the bottom of the 500-barrel tank, which is used to store crude oil, and apparently noticing the escape of gas fumes, Spicer stepped to a company pickup truck parked about 15 feet away from the tank, intending to move it. Williams, meanwhile had started up a ladder, leading to the top of the tank. As Spicer stepped on the starter, the explosion ripped the air and the flash fire which followed, singed grass for 40 feet around the tank and burned off all of Williams' clothing except his shorts and shoes.

The two injured men walked a half mile east to the Brownfield-Seminole highway, where their farm boss, Airon Giebel, picked them up and took them to the hospital. Upon arriving there, both men were still able to walk into the building.

Co-workers at Seminole were summoned by radio, and extinguished with only a fire extinguisher, the small blaze which still enveloped the tank when they arrived.

The two men suffered third degree burns over all extremities of their bodies except their feet. Spicer, whose home is near Los Angeles, Calif., had worked at the Amerada Camp for about two years and Williams about a year.

Williams' body was taken to the Webb Funeral Home in Seagraves, where funeral arrangements were pending, at press time. He is survived by his wife and two or three small children.

Spicer's body was shipped Thursday morning to Los Angeles, Calif., by the Brownfield Funeral Home, and funeral arrangements will be made there. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Mark, 1, and Melvin, 5; and his parents, who live in California.

Tax Collections Are Running Ahead Of 1952 For October

A month ago, when it was announced that collections of taxes for October would carry a 3 per cent discount, if anyone had told us that tax collections would run ahead of last year for October, we would have been tempted to laugh in their face. But we learn that collections are really good to now, and all goes to show that Old Terry is still kicking around like a kid.

Don Cates, collector for the county and state, announced the collections for October would run approximately $300,000. He made no comparison with collections for the same date last year. But they are ahead of 1952.

R. A. Simms, collector for the Brownfield School District, stated that during October, local maintenance taxes of $147,822.14 had been collected, and interest and sinking fund showed collections of $45,613.90. This, Simms stated, represented about 63 per cent of taxes on the rolls, of the total of $306,953.60. At the same time last year only 46 per cent was collected.

The City of Brownfield also showed a good percentage collected, according to Jake Geron. Total ad valorem taxes collected during October was $35,452.43, against collections same date last year of approximately $28,000. Collections are therefore almost 15 per cent ahead of last year. Total on the rolls this year is $77,805.00. This would be some 45.6 percent of the total 1952 taxes collected for 1953.

DR. MARTIN LOCATES OPTOMETRY OFFICE HERE THIS WEEK

The welcome sign was out for Dr. R. C. Martin, Optometrist, this week, being one of the latest professional men to locate here. Dr. Martin has practiced his profession in Ft. Worth and Graham since the war. He is well known in the Southern States among optometrists and is a member of both the Texas Optometrist Association, and the American Optometrist Association.

He is chairman of the Southwest Visual Training Form, an annual advanced group in visual advice and study, as well as lecture groups among optometrists. He has purchased a house at 211 W. Main, which will be remodeled into offices.

He is a graduate of and has had post graduate study in such well known colleges as Los Angeles College of Optometry, the TCU at Fort Worth; SMU at Dallas, and the U. of Southern California.

STILL SHY SOME 6 INCHES OF RAIN

While Terry County is some six inches below the average annual rainfall in Terry County, it is some four inches ahead of the same period of 1952. Of course we could, with the heavy rains predicted in November by the long-distance forecasters, and with some rains and snows in December, still make up the six inches handily, and at the same time have a good season to start out with next year, something we have not had in a long spell.

Month by month this year the USWB gauge here showed the following monthly rainfall, as compared with 1953:

Month	1953	1952
January	21	78
February	56	31
March	61	02
April	90	134
May	91	241
June	120	82
July	228	186
August	95	27
September	52	86
October	438	00

We have not had time to get out of late to see how much wheat has been planted since the good rains of last week, but we feel sure that there has been quite an acreage, as the stuff will come in handy for grazing through the winter and early spring months.

And like 1946, when a considerable acreage was planted "just for grazing," maybe, like then, rains and snows will continue through the winter, and we will harvest another bumper wheat crop. The one of 1947 was something like 800,000 bushels.

Observe Poppy Day In County Saturday

The annual sale of poppies in Brownfield will be held Saturday at a booth in front of Cobb's Department Store. Mrs. Whitney Lowe, director, has announced. Plans for the sale were completed earlier this week at Veterans' Hall by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Members of the Auxiliary and other organizations will work to bring poppies to everyone in Brownfield. The entire amount of contributions given for the poppies will go to support the American Legion and Auxiliary welfare work for disabled veterans and their needy children.

Poppies to be sold here were made by veterans at the VA hospital in Waco, under the direction of the Texas Department of the Auxiliary.

The little red poppy is a badge of honor, a badge of courage, and the badge of those suffering in hospitals throughout the country.

Anyone wishing to help with the sale, contact Mrs. Lowe at phone number 4735.

Former Brownfield Man Visits Relatives Here After Completing Color Movie

Jack Eicke, 25-year-old former Brownfield resident, is currently under contract with the Panorama Picture Company in Hollywood, and was in Brownfield this week, appearing before various clubs and introducing his friend, Jimmy "Buz" Barton, who has been in movies for the past 10 years and is listed as the nation's No. 2 guitar artist, selected by Billboard Magazine.

Jack and Jimmy have recently completed a technicolor motion picture "Jesse James' Women" which was filmed in Silver Creek, Mo. The picture starred Jack Beutel, co-starred in "The Outlaw" with Jane Russell, Don "Red" Barry, Peggy Castle, and Leda Barron (wife of Rory Calhoun). It took only 30 days to shoot the picture and it will be released through RKO studios with a premiere in Jackson, Miss., Mar. 1, and will be shown in Brownfield approximately three months later.

In the western, Jack plays as Peggy Castle's gunman, who operates a gambling house. Jack gets killed in the picture while he tries to protect her when the two are caught cheating Frank James and his brothers in a poker game. Jimmy, who returned with Jack from Silver Creek, was cast as a bartender and furnished background music for the entire picture.

The pair's next picture scheduled for March, will be filmed in New Mexico and titled "Billy the Kid's Daughters."

By a lucky quirk of fate, Jack met Vic Cox, who has appeared in (Continued on back page.)

Last Rites Held For Plains Stock Farmer, Thursday

A. C. Copeland, 85, retired stock farmer at Plains, died Nov. 3, at 3:45 p. m., in the local hospital.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Plains, and funeral services were held at 11 a. m., Thursday, Nov. 5, at the Plains church, with Rev. C. E. Strickland officiating, assisted by Rev. Pickens. Burial was in the Plains Cemetery under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

A. C. Copeland was a good man and a good neighbor, and was highly respected by old and young alike. In the early days when young folks parties were about the only entertainment, the Copeland home was always open to the young folks, and such things were equally shared by his good wife, who survives. The couple would have celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary next April.

The Copeland family probably landed in Terry County before the county was organized. When the writer came to Terry in 1909, the Copelands lived out some ten miles from Brownfield on the old Plains road.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Carrie Copeland, of Plains; two sons, George, of Gladiola, N. M., and C. C., of Red Rock, Okla.; one daughter, Mrs. Katie P. Hudson, of Lingo, N. M.; one brother, W. C. Copeland, of Corpus Christi; four grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The American Creed

We believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many states; a perfect union, one and inseparable established upon these principles of freedom—equality, justice and humanity; for which American patriots have sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

—Terry County Herald.

The fact that a bunch of some 300 farmers and cattlemen invaded Washington the past week to have a talk with Secretary of Agriculture Benson, left a lot of people up a tree as to just who these men represented. Most of us know about the prolonged drought and its consequences upon farm production, as well as the cattle business. We know first hand that a number of farmers will not drag a sack in their cotton fields, and some will not even run their combines to harvest grain, because there is no one to harvest. We know that in many sections of West Texas that cattle actually died for want of food, but we heard of no farmers or ranchmen from this immediate area making the journey to Washington to demand, not ask for, full parity on beef cattle. The same thing was noticeable in other sections of Texas, where a checkup was taken. It was immediately noticed that the men, or most of them, who journeyed to Washington make their demands, were members of the Farmers Union, the extreme radical bunch of farmers and stockmen, and affiliates of CIO, the most radical of labor organizations. It is well known that this union not only works with and for its members, but delves deep into politics as well. Here, where the Farm Bureau predominates, they make no political demands, but they are glad to work with and assist any governmental agency in developing plans for the betterment of their membership. But they refrain from taking direct political action. So does the Grange, another one of the larger farm organizations. Nor did the Texas and Southwestern Cattlemen's Association get mixed up in the tour to Washington. Nor was any other large cattlemen's association involved, as far as can be determined. It was, strictly the work and aim of one organization. And they got a courteous reception, but admittedly their accomplishment was nothing for the time being at least. Perhaps the administration knew that it was the just one farm-ranch setup, and that they were an affiliate of the CIO-PAC, and only represented some 20 per cent of the farmers and stockmen of the country. What a lot of consumers cannot understand is the great stretch in price from the animal on the foot to the processed animal that goes on the dinner table. A cartoon in a daily illustrated that pretty well recently that showed the rear end of a steer even with the head of a cattlemen, but the front end looked three stories high to the buyer of beef.

Of late years there has come to the fore the question of whether or not alcoholism is a habit or a disease. Back 50 years ago, there was no one, so far as we were aware that believed that the drinking habit was a disease, but that it was brought on by the person whose appetite for alcohol was just so strong, that when he was where it was, he overindulged. It is only of late years that anyone, so far as we know, claimed the drinking habit was other than a weakness on the part of the person to overcome evil. Many of the old timers, and these include doctors, still maintain that Alcoholism is a habit should voluntarily by a person, and not a disease by any means. Such a physician lives down at Rule in Haskell County, and has articles over his name in the Dallas News occasionally. And his arguments are pretty plain and specific. Yet, the American Medical Association, presently agree that it is a disease, but whether or not they will maintain that the drug doper is diseased, is not made clear. Just the same the AMA has placed the Alcoholism as the No. 4 medical and health problem of these United States. And we believe that there are something like 150,000 people in Texas alone that are problem children on the drink habit. It is also said that four people out of every 60 who monkey with alcohol as a beverage, form the habit, and of course become "diseased." And admittedly there is a move on foot to care for these people. The well known AA's which on many occasions, have done good work, are just not equal to the demand, other writers say. And, of course, this will call for separate institutions for the alcoholics, and the burden will fall on the already heavy ridden taxpayer. But those supporting such institutions insist that alcoholics should no more be treated in an insane asylum than the ordinary insane and the criminal insane should be confined and treated in the same institution. A committee at their own expense, worked with the past legislature to try to get a hospital built for alcoholics, but were not successful in interesting enough legislators to put the move over. They will be on hand, of course, at the next session of the legislature. However, most of us will readily agree with the promoters of treatment for the alcoholics part of the way. And that is that the harm alcoholism can cause the human race should be taught in our public schools.

The great State Fair of Texas is over for another year, but as in the past, so in the future, the management begins planning to make the next one bigger and better, and it usually is. None of the attractions are duplicates of the past year; they are new, all new. Of course many of the exhibits might be the same or nearly so, as to variety, but naturally better of seasonable years. Most Texans are proud of the State Fair for the reason that it is recognized from the Atlantic to the Pacific; from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, as the daddy of all state fairs, and in many instances is equal to many of the so-called world fairs. It is just that from both a point of money invested in grounds and buildings, premium list, the number attending and many other points. Last Sunday, after a 16-day run this year, the attendance was announced as being 2,382,712, a drop of only 4,428 from the all-time record set last year. Considering that more than half of Texas suffered from one of the longest as well as one of the most severe droughts in its history, this was a fine showing. It shows that many people will sacrifice to attend the State Fair, for its wonderful educational values. Perhaps one reason for the slight drop can be attributed to the rains that fell for the last days of the fair, almost continually. Even so, the crowd that attended the closing day was 154,396. But the management gladly conceded that the rain was needed even more than a new attendance record. For many years now, Terry County has not had an exhibit at the State Fair, or our splendid regional fair at Lubbock. We suppose we have reached a point that everybody's business is nobody's business, or else all of us sit back and wait for George to do it. But we can recall that way back in the pioneering days of Terry County, the late Uncle Bill Howard, would almost at his own expense and labor, drive his buggy over Terry County and get together a good exhibit, many of which stood right at the top of the lot, at the Fair. Sometimes some of those central and east Texans would ask Uncle Bill if he got the exhibits off a tank dam. But he always had a rejoinder to such jests. And he thereby induced a lot of people, especially from central west Texas, to come to Terry County. And even some came from Dallas County, for two, the John Gracey family, and brother, Walter, the latter not married at the time, who bought land and settled north of town. We should by all means start sending exhibits again.

A person does not have to be very old to remember when the binders went into the wheat or oat field, bound the grain in bundles, which in turn were loaded on wagons, one man on the ground tossing 'em up, and the other standing in the wagon, catching and placing the bundles. Some of us, the writer included, can remember when the grain was hand "cradled" in the hands, dropped on the ground, and other laborers came along and bound the "hands" into bundles. The middle aged can remember that this grain was hauled to the threshing machine, located nearby, where it was threshed and sacked, and the straw was neatly stacked, as it was blown from the thresher by wind created in the machinery. But the writer can even remember when the thresher was run by horse power. A stall like enclosure was built with cleats on belts. Two heavy horses were let into this enclosure, and when they started walking, the cleats began to move in the other direction. In turn, the cleats were connected with a fly-wheel, and a belt was run from it to the thresher. And those old nags soon got used to the apparatus, and took it easy. But what a difference today! Here in the west where wheat farms can often be up to 1,000 acres or more, in the olden days of the binder and thresher, Dad would often tell Mom in the morning to prepare dinner for 40 people. He meant just what he said, and Mom prepared the feed for the 40 hands. That was great progress over the old hand cradled method, and the horse powered threshers. So much so that there was no comparison. Not many people, perhaps, expected any improvement on that method. But many of us lived to see an even more radical transition than the other mentioned, when the combine was invented. This machine could be operated by one man, with other members of the family to haul off the grain, when the combine became loaded. But even then, the hands did not have to use shovels to transfer the grain, it was dumped from the combine into the wagon beds. And what a relief to Mom. Just the home folks, or perhaps a regular hired hand or two to prepare meals for, instead of 40. Not only has the harvesting of crops advanced radically in the past 50, yes 20 years, but the preparation and planting as well as the cultivation of crops has come a long way. In fact, if it were not for modern farm machinery, it would take more than half the population of the country on the farms to feed the nation.

Well, after all, Ike may have something in that expression he let go this week that "taxes is the thorn in America's crown of roses." Indeed, taxes are like the climbing variety of roses, getting higher and higher, and they are getting in the hair of many people. Let us take the corporate income tax, in many instances, it has climbed to an all time high of 82 per cent, including the excess profit tax. With this idea in view, the next question is just how long can private enterprise hold out against tax-exempt socialized enterprises. These days we are hearing a lot from labor leaders about the guaranteed wages. Leads us to wonder how any concern is going to guarantee anything if taxed to death, taking the place of the socialized outfit that pay no taxes. If wages are paid, the employer has to make some money to put it over. Aside from this, there is no encouragement for new industries to start up, as any sensible business structure will figure taxes and all other expenses before risking their millions on something that may be a go, or may not. For example, let's just examine a few facts that all of us should know. Last year, 1952, the power companies alone paid to the federal government the sum of

TEN NEW INSPECTORS FOR LIQUOR CONTROL

The addition of ten new inspectors by the Texas Liquor Control Board will be of tremendous help in bringing about closer observance of the State's liquor laws, Coke R. Stevenson, Jr., the board's administrator, said today.

A training school for 10 applicants for the position of inspector will begin Nov. 2. Stevenson announced.

The men will be taught rules of evidence, the law as it applies to search warrants, and details of the liquor control act as it applies to both wet and dry territory.

At the end of the training period, and upon passing an examination, the men will be commissioned inspectors.

Carlsbad (N. M.) Current-Argus: "Farmers who adapt sound soil conservation measures are building the soil, not only for themselves and their children, but for the future of the country."

$750 million dollars in taxes. On top of that, they paid $470 million to state and local governments. Federal power projects now control one eighth of the power dispensed in the US, and on that basis they should have paid $90 million to the federal and $60 million to state and local governments. But did they? No. They actually paid less than $5 million to state and local governments, and nothing into the federal treasury. Now you get out your own pencil and paper, and you can see that the federal, state and local governments lost some $150 million dollars by this socialized deal. Even, the blind can see that private power companies are doing a whole lot of a job in helping our government in the time of need, and aside from that, they are making preparations as fast as possible to make extensive expansions for future needs. Will the federally owned power projects set any portion of their income aside to meet future needs? No, they will expect Congress to meet these needs, and the taxpayers of the USA will pick up the check. It is due time to call a halt to this socialistic expansion.

Lyndon Johnson Lauds REA Work

Rural electrification is a movement resting primarily upon the initiative and integrity of farm consumers of electricity, declares US Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson in an article published in the November issue of Progressive Farmer.

Since the Rural Electrification Administration was established in 1936, four million consumers have been connected to REA-financed lines, the article reports.

"In the Southern States," Johnson writes, "the number of farm homes receiving electric power has jumped from 3.3 per cent to more than 83 per cent of the total. In the country as a whole, more than 85 per cent of all farms are electrified. Nearly 300,000 farm families in Texas are receiving electricity through farm cooperatives."

REA cooperatives are more than $50,000,000 ahead of schedule in repaying the $2,700,000,000 lent them to build transmission networks and to buy power from private utilities and Federal hydro-electric projects, according to the Progressive Farmer article. Delinquencies amount to only one-fifth of one per cent of the amount due.

Declaring that REA is neither a political issue nor "anti-private power" in its concept, the Texas Senator hails its program as a "heartening example of the Government helping people to help themselves."

Rural electrification has made farming both easier and more productive, Johnson asserts in his article, continuing:

"The future of REA is a matter of concern to all of us who have witnessed and participated in its development. The limits of progress in rural electrification have not been reached. More than 16 per cent of the South's farms are still without electric service. Modernization of facilities is far from complete. Existing lines must be 'heaved up' to take care of increasing farm use of electricity."

The article points out the importance of maintaining the authority of REA co-ops to build their own generation and transmission facilities. Weakening of this authority, Johnson warns, would simultaneously increase the need for loans and lessen the cooperatives' ability to maintain their repayment record.

Amendments Of Interest To Veterans

(From Co. Service Officer C. L. "Abe" Lincoln's Office)

Loss of Hearing Claims

In filing for Part III benefits (permanent and total) particularly in cases of World War I veterans because of age, if allegation is made of visual impairment and loss of hearing—such conditions may be considered at time of rating... but please keep in mind, however, that in cases of loss of hearing, unless the case is severe, rating of the claim might be delayed for some time due to the necessity for special apparatus to check the hearing condition.

Dependent Parents—Denied—Can Reopen Case

Parents of deceased War II veterans who have had their VA death compensation cut off or discontinued—following the recent review of their Form 8-4139 "Dependency Questionnaire" may have their awards reinstated at any future date if dependency status again exists to a degree or place where the VA considers them again eligible.

Certain Social Security Benefits Extended

Public Law 269, 83rd Congress, approved Aug. 14, 1953, amends the Social Security Act, as amended to provide that for the purposes of determining entitlement to and the amount of any monthly benefit or lump-sum death payment payable under the Act on the basis of the wages and self-employment income of any veteran—such veteran shall be deemed to have been paid wages, in addition to the wages, if any, actually paid to him, of $160 in each month during any part of which he served in the active military or naval service of the US from Sept. 16, 1940 to July 1, 1955. Prior to this amendment the last eligible date of service for such benefits would have been Jan. 1, 1954.

The new law also amends the provisions for lump-sum death payments to authorize that in the case of any individual who dies outside the continental US after December, 1953, and before July, 1955, whose death occurred while he was in the active military or naval service of the US, and whose body is returned to the US, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands for interment or reinvestment, payments to persons other than the deceased's widow or widower who paid for the expenses of burial of the fully or currently insured person shall not be proscribed if application for a lump-sum death payment with respect to such deceased individual is filed by or on behalf of such person (whether or not legally competent) prior to the expiration of two years after the date of such interment or reinvestment.

T. GLEN CARY

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stafford, city, had as their Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Price of Lubbock.

Why "C" Number Is Important

When a serviceman is discharged from our Armed Forces and later files a claim for compensation with the Veterans Administration (not only compensation, but pension and dental out-patient treatment and education and training, etc.) he is assigned a claim number—more commonly known as a "C" number.

That same compensation claim number applies to any and all benefits which this veteran might ever apply for... that's why it is just as important for a veteran to know his "C" number as it was for him to know his serial number or the number of his rifle when he was on active duty—furthermore, this number should always be referred to whenever any correspondence is directed to the VA as it not only identifies the veteran but the VA can find his records on file much sooner as they file numerically not alphabetically.

For those who have wondered about the "C" number that is preceded by the letter "XC"—the "X" is merely placed before the "C" number of the veteran who has died.

Carys' Son Awarded Hilton Scholarship

Scholarships totaling $1,900 in value were awarded Tuesday, at Texas Tech. Among recipients of the Hilton Grants was T. Glen Cary, of Brownfield, a pre-law sophomore, who received a $100 scholarship in the Business Administration Division.

The Hilton awards were announced by John E. Harding, freshman vocational counselor for the BA Division. Glen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Cary, 921 East Tate. He has two sisters, Lynn and Carolyn, and three brothers, Dale, Kenneth and Don.

8 Draft Delinquents Are Listed By Local Board Since March

The following are delinquent registrants of local Board No. 116, and anybody knowing their whereabouts please notify Local Board No. 16:

Enrique Romero Hernandez, DOB, March 18, 1930.

Jose Hernandez, DOB, June 6, 1930.

Alfonso Rodriguez, DOB, June 18, 1930.

Enrique Martinez, DOB, July 15, 1930.

Joe Gonzales, DOB, Jan. 10, 1932.

Pablo Ruiz, DOB, Aug. 5, 1932.

Everett E. Thomas, DOB May 12, 1933.

William Henry Usrey, DOB, Aug. 8, 1933.

The number of draft delinquents in Texas during the third quarter of 1953 decreased by 3 per cent, Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

Draft boards had 736 delinquents on their rolls at beginning of the fourth quarter, compared to 758 at beginning of the third quarter, board reports consolidated by state draft headquarters show.

Boards at Dallas, Houston, El Paso, Edinburg, and San Antonio have 64 per cent of the delinquent total of the State. El Paso, with 121 delinquents, continues to have more than any other single county.

The Edinburg board, biggest Texas board and second largest in the nation, has 118. Dallas County has 113, the San Antonio boards have 67, and the Houston boards have 50.

Boards have no delinquents at beginning of the fourth quarter were those located at Lufkin, Jourdanton, Angleton, Linden, Hereford, Coleman, Gatesville, Bonham, La Grange, Richmond.

Also Seguin, Sulphur Springs, Karnes City, Jayton, Lampasas, Brady, Henderson, San Angelo, Wichita Falls, Georgetown, and Mineola. The state has 37 local boards.

A delinquent is defined in Selective Service regulations as "a person required to be registered under the Selective Service law who fails or neglects to perform any duty required of him under provisions of the Selective Service law." Only a local board can declare a man delinquent.

Delinquents are subject to loss of certain privileges under the law, also to prosecution, penalty upon conviction ranging up to five years imprisonment and up to $10,000 fine.

Girl Scout Leaders Set Regulations For Group Wednesday

Girl Scout Leaders group met Wednesday from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Girl Scout Little House, to make rules and regulations for the meeting of the group and programs were scheduled.

At the meeting it was decided that troop leaders will be responsible for programs, in rotation, and the group will study a portion of the "Blue Book of Policies of the Girl Scouts of America" at each meeting, and the troop represented will give a short report concerning the outstanding accomplishment made by her troop during the month.

A vote was carried for the group to pay dues and the money derived from such payment will be used to buy equipment that can be left in the Little House and used by all the troops.

Eleven leaders attended the meeting and the next meeting will be held Dec. 2.

Recently elected Scout Leaders are Mrs. M. G. Teague, president; Mrs. Lal Copeland, first vice president; Mrs. R. E. Thompson, second vice president; Mrs. W. C. Daugherty, secretary and reporter; Mrs. Jack Shirley, treasurer; and chairman, Mrs. Coke Toliver, organization; and Mrs. Pete Crump, program planning.

The earliest state editorial association was organized in Wisconsin in 1853.

Thrill of thrills is the only way I can describe interviewing two movie stars; one, Jack Eicke, who I have known always and the other, Jimmy "Buz" Barton, a terrific guitar player.

Jack came down to the office Wednesday morning and I asked to take some pictures of him and his friend, both of whom had been visiting in Brownfield this week. He said okay, and I also met Jimmy in the deal. He has played with a number of the nation's top bands, but it hasn't taken the Georgia out of him. He isn't one bit conceited and that's quite an accomplishment for a person who's been playing in pictures for the past 10 years. He gave me one of his latest record releases in which he plays lead guitar, and Don "Red" Barry is vocalist. The record will be on sale at any record shop soon and you'll miss something if you don't hear it. On one side is "Give Me Back The Love I Gave" and on the other, "White Cross in Korea."

It is the latter rendition which I especially want to call to your attention. When Don and Mickey Rooney appeared at camps overseas they obtained a letter that a soldier had written to his girl friend before he was killed in battle, therefore the theme of the song is based on one of the sad realities of the war. The group do both records in fine style and you will likely be moved by both records.

And as for Jack... well I could hardly believe it was he because Hollywood has really put a polish on him that I believe is there to stay. Believe it or not lads and lassies, he was actually using "mam"... keep up the good work Jack... you'll make it.

Oh! Just one more thing that I hesitate to mention, yet I must. When I asked Jimmy the $64 question, that almost every Texan is guilty of asking someone from California, "Have you ever seen Marilyn Monroe?" he quickly assured me, "Sure, lots of times. In fact I've dated her and she's one of the most likeable and nicest stars in Hollywood." That was when I stopped asking questions.

Terry Represented At 14-Co. Discussion Of Cotton Allotments

E. H. Farrar, president of Terry County Farm Bureau; Jake Fulfer, director of the Bureau; Jim Foy, County Agent; and Herman Wheatley, farmer, were among sixty-seven Farm Bureau members from 14 South Plains counties who were on hand last week to take part in the District 2 Farm Bureau meeting called for the purpose of discussing cotton allotments, held at Lubbock.

The meeting was one of 11 held throughout the State, Monday and Tuesday of last week, to discuss the possibility of increasing cotton acreage for 1954. The Farm Bureau is advocating the compromise plan of the American Farm Bureau Federation, which would raise the Texas allotment to 8,939,600 acres, an increase of 1,635,000. This would amount to about $98,136,000 for Texas producers, based on an average yield of 200 pounds per acre at a price of $150 per bale, according to Jim Foy.

Counties represented were Lubbock, Terry, Farmer, Castro, Floyd, Swisher, Lamb, Hale, Bailey, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, Motley, and Lynn.

The talk grew hot at points as the discussion was carried on through opinions of what was best for individual counties.

The meeting was not for the purpose of making a cotton allotment resolution, it was for the purpose of discussing the matter and presenting information which the members could take back to others in their home counties. Farm Bureau in each county is in the process of making resolutions to send to the Texas Farm Bureau Federation convention to be held in Mineral Wells, Nov. 9, 10 and 11.

The Hammond Farm Plan, instigated by Texas Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond, was discussed at some length. This plan provides for total acreage controls with sufficient land to be taken out of production any time a surplus of commodities appears on the market. Arguments for and against were presented by the farmers.

Cotton acreages was again one of the main discussions on the afternoon agenda. The Farm Bureau wants the support of farmers in an effort to raise total US cotton acreage to 21 1/2 million acres.

Other items discussed before the group was adjourned were those of a proposed two-way price system, an organizational report, cotton council delegates, fruit and vegetable inspections, and livestock support prices.

FACTS ABOUT COTTON ACREAGE REDUCTION
In 1949 there were 153,177 farms in Texas on which cotton was planted and cotton acreage in Texas for that year was 10,574,202. In 1951, 12,362,000 acres; and in 1952, 11,535,000 acres of cotton. In 1949, cotton brought Texas farmers $877,588,648.

Announced acreage for the nation in 1954 is 17,910,448 acres. Texas usually plants 40 per cent of United States cotton acreage, the allotment being 7,304,000 acres. The average cotton farmer can expect an approximate 40 per cent reduction from his 1952-53 planted acreage. Amendment of the law to include the AFBF compromise plan would increase the average cotton farmer's allotment by 20 to 30 per cent and each acre would be worth about $60.

Whether or not this increase is included in the law will be determined by the cotton farmers in Farm Bureaus in the South.

Operation Milk Pail Nets $200 Locally

Young People of the Presbyterian Church of Brownfield devoted their time Halloween night to a worthy cause rather than to fun and frolic. The Junior High and Senior High group canvassed the town for contributions for "Operation Milk Pail"—organized in West Texas for the purpose of providing money for transporting dry milk, that the government had donated, to underprivileged children overseas.

Approximately 50 teenagers participated in the drive, equipped only with empty half-gallon milk cartons, and notes from their pastor, Rev. Tom Keenan, stating their purpose.

$152 was derived from the night's venture. An adult class of the church contributed another $20, and after Sunday service, contributions were made, bringing the total to $200, according to Mrs. Phil Gaasch, Junior Sponsor.

Pawhuska (Okla.) News: "No where in the world do the people and the press enjoy so much freedom and have so many privileges as in the United States. ### G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I'm a World War II veteran, and I've just finished a course in television repair under the original GI Bill. I have some entitlement left, and I'd like to enroll in a business course. Would this be possible?

A. No. Under the World War II GI Bill, once a veteran completes or discontinues a course, he's not permitted to begin another one.

Q. I'm on active duty, and I have a National Service Life Insurance term policy that's under waiver. What happens if my policy comes to the end of its term while it's under waiver. Is there anything I'm supposed to do to renew it?

A. If your GI term policy comes to the end of its term while premiums are being waived, it will be renewed automatically for another five-year period, and the renewed policy also will be under waiver. Since renewal is automatic, there's nothing you need do about it.

Q. Does the law require me to make a down payment, if I buy a house with a GI loan?

A. The law does not require a down payment. However, your lender has the right to ask for one, if he chooses to do so.

Q. May I take on-the-job training under the Korean GI Bill in a plant that was approved by my State for World War II veterans?

A. World War II GI Bill approval is not enough. The training course must be State-approved under the Korean GI Bill, before you may enroll, under the law.

Q. I've gone back on active military duty, and my National Service Life Insurance policy is under waiver. Will I collect dividends during the period the waiver is in effect?

A. No. Dividends may not be paid on policies during the period when the premium waiver is in effect.

DREAMS OF GOING ABROAD COME TRUE FOR ROY WINGERD FAMILY

By Mrs. Roy Wingerd

See Wealthy International Set At Play in Native Habitat And Such Unbelievable Flowers Statements Are Taken

We went down to Lake Como in Italy, through the incomparable St. Gotthard Pass, one of the longest and most spectacular tunnels in all Europe; and a world famous feat of engineering. Our train was in the tunnel over forty minutes.

The railways of Switzerland are more than 99 per cent electrified. Only one five mile stretch of track in all the little country has not been converted. In fact, Switzerland uses more electric power than our country. Almost every accessible mountain peak has a small funicular railway inching up its sides; and, if the terrain is unsuitable for a cog road, then a moving belt will be carrying supplies up the mountain, and bringing down the cans of milk from the high pastures to which the cows have been driven for summer grazing.

All Switzerland uses the brown Swiss cattle for dairying, and they are indeed a fine, large and healthy looking breed.

I have been asked to compare the Alps with our own Rockies. They are certainly no higher than many of our Colorado peaks, nor do I think them more majestic; but the fact that they rise almost from sea level makes them breathtakingly spectacular. They are exceedingly rugged in terrain, and more snow covered than our own peaks because of the fact that Europe is so much farther north.

The main difference we noted was that the Swiss made manifold efforts to tame and civilize their "high mountains." At every spot where a house can cling to the rocky hillside, a small chalet can be found. Small villages nestle in the clefts of the hills, in spite of the constant danger of avalanches; every pocket handkerchief field is cultivated, even if the produce has to be brought down by cog road, or swinging tram car.

Switzerland is the center of international finance, and it is here you can buy your Francs, Lira, guilders, and other currency at an advantageous rate. All Swiss are great financiers, and great hotel keepers; and all grand hotels in Europe are run by native Swiss. Nobody knows why this is so, any more than they know that Greeks go in for restaurants, and Chinese for laundries.

Our train left Lucerne shortly after lunch, and by evening we had come out into the warm, and soft air of Italy. Perhaps the fact that we were warm again had something to do with the fact that we straightway took Italy to our heart. Certainly, we were there at the loveliest time of the year,

BETWEEN CLASSES AND 'ROUND TOWN

with Jane Griggs

Halloween is over again for this year and with it the midnight show. That's part of the reason why you've been seeing so many droopy eyelids this past week. Old BHS is slowly recovering, but it'll be next week before it gets fully recovered because of the Student Council Convention last Monday and Homecoming with all its fixings.

Some of the daters at the preview were Mary Ellen Cornelius and Ray Latham, Rena and Max Proffitt, Sandra Collier and Bobby Green, Johnora Haynes and Jimmy Walker, Peggy Graves and Roland Moore, Beverly Isaacs and Thomas Bartley, Ann Griggs and Bob Smith, from Seagraves; Jackie Fulgham and Lanny Webb; and a whole bunch more.

A "butterfly" won first place in the costume deal out at the skating rink last Saturday. It was Vona Patton, wearing a white dress.

Among the Halloween parties was the "trick or treat" party at the Presbyterian Church. Instead of the usual treats of candy and junk, they collected money for "Care" packages. They got donations around $170.

There was a slumber party with all the trimmings up at Shirley Rock's house. Her house was decorated with cats and witches and apples bobbing around, but everybody had a really good time (that's as far as slumber parties go). The next morning it was awfully hard to get up and go to Sunday School.

Speaking of church, how many of you kids have been going to Morning Watch? It's held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in the Chorus Room. We sing songs and have prayer and sometimes a guest speaker. It's really a swell way to start off a new day and makes you feel real good all day.

We had a half holiday last Monday from school because of the Student Council Convention. The school was really sparkling when we left it around noon with all the decorations. They were to have a program in the afternoon and then one at night with a special supper at the cafeteria. All the kids that had arrived at noon really looked like they were having a good time, and our kids looked like they were enjoying playing hosts.

Last night we had a pep rally on the track field, with all the exes making a good send-off speech for the football team to win tonight. It really gave us a lift to hear all the backing some of those people expressed. Today we're going to crown the queen, Janie Dickson, at another pep rally. Bye.

Waco.—The 20th annual state convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation will be held Nov. 9-11 at the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells, according to President J. Walter Hammond.

This will be the most important meeting of the year for the state Farm Bureau—when resolutions will be adopted that will spell the organization's official policy for the ensuing year. To be decided at the convention will be the Texas Farm Bureau's policy on various state issues and its recommendations for a national farm program.

State issues likely to be considered are water problems, rural roads, sales taxes, tractor gas refund, funds for increased research and a host of others. National issues which probably will receive much attention are support price on cattle, flexible vs. rigid support prices, acreage control and many others.

The state resolutions committee will convene in Mineral Wells Nov. 4 to assimilate the county resolutions according to subject. Registration for the convention will get underway Sunday afternoon, Nov. 8. Vesper services will be held that night.

Monday morning will be devoted to an open hearing on resolutions. Commodity and special conferences will be held that afternoon.

Monday night is recognition night. County leaders who have made outstanding contributions to the organization during the past year will be honored.

The highlight of Monday night's activities will be the finals of the state-wide Farm Bureau Queen Contest. A winner will be chosen from among 12 lovely contestants from all over Texas. The queen will receive an expense-paid trip for herself and her matron escort to the American Farm Bureau convention, Dec. 14-17 in Chicago.

Stotts, professor of sociology and religion at the Iliff School of Theology in Denver will speak at the annual banquet that evening.

Nominations of state directors will be made in district caucuses Tuesday afternoon. Election of officers and directors will be next day.

Wednesday will be the most important day of the convention. That morning the voting delegates will be seated and there will be a reading of the resolutions. Resolutions will be voted on for adoption or rejection that afternoon. Final adjournment will come when all resolutions have been considered.

LET'S MAKE "OLD STOVE ROUND-UP" MEAN SOMETHING

Old Stove Round-up starts out this week with two supporting firms, and we hope to have many more before the close of the month, when the Roundup closes. This week, Knight Furniture and the West Texas Gas Co. get on the line to promote better stoves.

In the first place, stoves, just like any other utility, reach their efficiency mark, and begin to deteriorate. When inefficiency begins, the owner loses out in fuel consumption per unit of heat, and the older the stove, the more you lose, not to mention less warmth.

And too, an old stove, which has to contend with a lot of moisture content in the gas, begins to rust, and in the final analysis, may develop a leak, which will endanger the family by asphyxiation, or worse still, an explosion.

So, if your stove is not acting up just right, better not fool with it longer; see your dealer. You get a liberal trade-in allowance on your old stove.

County Board Meets, Changes Meeting Date; Approves Applications

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

Texas Forest News had another old West Texas tree pictured in their Sept.-Oct. issue. Most of the famous old trees are in East Texas, however, as most trees are in that section. This old "First Tree," is situated down in the Fort Davis section, and was originally used to hold revival meetings under, more than 50 years ago.

And Bloys Camp Meeting Association still use the old tree for shade at least. This old oak has a crown spread of 51 feet.

Checks have begun to roll to Junior Livestock exhibitors of Texas from the Dallas Fair. Checks for more than 892 thousand represents beef animals and much lesser amounts for lamb and turkeys.

A total of 181 boys and girls from all sections of Texas, exhibited 272 animals, that were for sale following the showing.

Down at the University of Texas, at Austin, they are now talking of destroying tornadoes with guided missiles. Now if they can be destroyed and rendered harmless before they dip and do harm, we are for the remedy.

But perhaps some of the old timers will say God sends them just like he does the rain, and man should have nothing to do with trying to destroy them. We never hear one of these oldsters say anything about God having charge of fertilizers and irrigation water, to help produce more stuff. People are funny that way.

Well, we sure had a great time this past weekend among the Stricklin generations. First off, it was Master Robert Andrew's birthday, Sunday, Nov. 1. That lad is in the school bracket now, but somehow that fact don't seem to interest Robert too much. But he did get a whale of a kick out of trying to extinguish those six candles with one breath of air. Then there was a big feed with a tom-turkey as the main piece de resistance, prepared by Mauney—that's what he calls his grandmother—as well as some presents.

For the affair, the daughter and aunt of Robert, Sallie Trigg, together with little Miss Sara B. Trigg, Rover the pup, and a new member of the family, Fluffy Kit, the kitten, arrived about noon Saturday from Snyder, and remained until Monday. As the Snyder schools were having a carnival, Herman couldn't make it; also as the birds had to have attention.

Well, there was more fuss, racket and palaver in the old domicile during those two nights and days than has been since the woods burned. But by heck, who begrudges the juvenile's kicks, as they feature kicks, in this dreary old life, seen at its best. Yep, we were sorry when it was all over, and the little toddlers had to separate.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Young, among the old timers, whose farm lays north of Gomez, pulled a pretty fast one on us last week. He brought us three sizes of pears, one a huge Bartlett looking affair, then two medium sized and a much smaller one, kind of oblong shaped, with a reddish blush like an apple.

They stated that the four pears, the middle sized ones being mates, were three separate bloomings of a pear tree they own, the blooms being some three weeks apart, and therefore three crops. The tree bore several bushels of pears.

But the Youngs had no farm crop, as that was one of the driest areas of the country this year. But they watered their fruit trees from the windmill and made a go of fruit, including peaches. In fact they brought us a can of peaches and a can of pears to try, and we'll let you know later how good they were. The Young family won't get hungry as long as all that canned stuff lasts.

Speaking of farmers and incidentally of ranchmen, we ran into a member of the later fraternity, Sunday, that sure was up in the air about cattle prices. Have known the man since he was just a lad, and who resides over in old Yokum. But he says every cattleman will be broke if Ike is President another six months. Likely as not he blames Ike for the drought.

After he had made his long and vehement spell, we had time to get in a few words, and remarked that maybe there was just too much beef—and we weren't beefing—and that beef prices had taken the elevator for the 96th floor. In fact, we informed him that lots of poorer families were unable to have meat on their tables only occasionally, that used to have meat at most every meal. It was just too high for them to afford. But, the man was not satisfied, and then pointed to some cars parked out in front of the Herald, Nelson's Pharmacy and the hospital. There is the reason people are not able to buy beef, he exclaimed. They are spending all their money for cars.

We reasoned with him that back in the twenties and thirties, when everyone was still cussing Hoover, that we were able to have meat when we wanted it, and had a new car every four or five years. But we had not been able to buy a new car since 1940, and we went lots of meals without meat. Really, we did not explain to the gentleman that we do not crave meat as of yore, for one reason that we do not take the physical exertions we once did.

Most of the old timers here know the man we are talking about. We figure he has an absolute right to his own opinion. But, somehow, we have never had the heart to blame others for our failures or even shortcomings. As far back as we can remember, we had what was called panics, and later depressions, all about the same kind of chickens, but roosting in a different coop.

Well, here is something that sounds better to us than the arguments the cattleman and/or we made Sunday. The Chrysler Corporation, the people who make several popular cars, such as the Chrysler, De Soto, Dodge and Plymouth cars, announced that they were going to greatly increase their appropriation for advertising next year.

Maybe if a few more of the big auto manufacturers follow suit, we will be able to eat more cow and hog meat than presently.

One of our advertisers who sells irrigation supplies, has for a sort of motto: "Irrigation doesn't cost, it pays." The new president of the University of Texas, Dr. Logan Wilson, brought out something along that line about education in his inaugural address, when he said: "Whether or not our standard of living will decline, or continue to rise, will depend to a large part on how well our people are educated."

Some one has said that when a sensible woman marries a sensible man, that's the last you hear about them." It is the couples who raise old billy and seek the courts you hear about. Little is said about the boy who stays out of trouble, it's the other kind you hear about. Even the youngster who makes a well known football or baseball player, is not remembered long after his school days. It is the boy who was perhaps slothful in his studies and athletics, but broke into stores, and was called into court, that we remember. And too often those who invent something to help the world, are too soon forgotten. We remember the bum much longer.

Maybe those people who have made the world happier, are not looking for applause. But the other kind gets the publicity, which is not a matter to be proud of, we'll admit.

Mrs. Steele Bayliss, of Midland, and formerly of Brownfield, visited with her mother, Mrs. R. C. Newsom, 514 S. 1st, Monday and Tuesday of this week. Mr. Bayliss is working for the D&D Drilling Company of Midland. The couple recently moved there from Sweetwater, Texas.

The historian Rhodes declared that no single man in his time influenced so many people as Horace Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune.

NEW TV STATIONS IN WEST TEXAS

Just barely a year ago, there was not a TV station in West Texas, west of Fort Worth, unless there was one at El Paso at that time. One was put in at Lubbock, Amarillo and Wichita Falls about that time; and since another has been added at both Lubbock and Amarillo.

Recently, a TV station opened at Abilene, and we have notice that a 5 kilowatt, very high frequency set has been shipped to Midland-Odessa, to be known as KMID-TV. It will be located between the two towns, and owned by Midessa TV Company.

Bronchos Win Over Pirates, Friday, 44-7

Meadow's Bronchos won their fourth district victory and seventh of the season Friday night...

Guard Ben McCarty pounced on a punt blocked by Tackle Mickey Clark for the opening Meadow score in the first quarter...

Joe Langley, quarterback, scored two Meadow TD's in the second quarter. He ran 17 yards for the first one. No point. He sneaked over from two steps out for the second. No point!

Roy Bedichek for Cooper brought the next kickoff back 80 yards and a score. Skipworth added the extra point.

In the third quarter, Dale Fulford, Meadow fullback, threaded over guard and ran 45 yards for a counter. He followed this with a 20-yard gallop for another TD. Meadow got two fourth-period touchdowns...

Clark, the Broncho tackle, blocked two points and played out-standingly in the line. He rushed the Cooper passing attackers all night. Fulford was the best of several offensive firecrackers shot by the Bronchos.

POST EDGES BY 9TH GRADE, 7-6 IN GAMES PLAYED LAST WEEK

Post received and made one first down but was forced to kick on the second series of plays. The 40 yard punt went out of bounds on the Brownfield 20-yard line. Brownfield moved the ball from their own 20 to the 50-yard line before they were stopped. Jenkins punt is returned to the Post 25. Their failure to make a first down brought a long kick from Post and a return to the Post 25-yard line. First quarter ended 0-0.

The Cubs drove the ball to the Post 10-yard line when a pass is intercepted and run back to the 30. Post hits the middle of Brownfield four times and drove the ball 70 yards for a TD, the final jaunt being a 30-yard run. The extra point was good. 7-0. The Cubs return the kick to the 50, ending the half.

The Cubs return the kick to the Post 40. They make one first down then lose yards and are forced to kick. Post cannot move the ball. The Post punt is returned to the 40. Bubs had the ball on the 1-yard line at the end of the 3rd quarter.

Odom scores from the 1-yard line, however, the try for extra point fails. 7-6 in favor of Post.

COME DOUBLE SS CLASS HAS SOCIAL SATURDAY

The Come Double Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church held their periodical social Saturday, Oct. 31, at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the Church. Mrs. James Thurman and Mrs. Tim Faulkenberry planned the menu for the covered dish supper which consisted of a meat and macaroni casserole, cabbage slaw, sour pickles, bread, coffee and cookies. The meal was served buffet style from a table covered with a Halloween motif cloth and centered by an arrangement of nuts, pumpkins and twigs.

Mesdames Howard Hurd, Pete McDaniel and Chester Couch decorated the Fellowship Hall in Halloween colors featuring a ghostly wishing well and jack-o-lanterns furnished the lighting for the hall. Dining tables were centered with autumn leaves, pyracantha berries, pumpkins, and orange and black candles. Doorways and windows were filled in with orange and black crepe paper streamers. More streamers and balloons hung from the ceiling in the center of the hall.

Before the meal was served, children of the class members were Trick or Treating with Mrs. James Thurman, Mrs. Pete McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Couch, Miss Ethlene Buey, and Miss Gloria Angus. The older children then were entertained at a Halloween Party sponsored by Mrs. Bill Glick in her home, and the younger ones remained in the church nursery.

Games, relays, and contests were directed by Mrs. Fred Miller and Mrs. Marvin Fletcher for the remainder of the party. Class members present with their children were Messrs and Mmes. James Thurman, Tim Faulkenberry, Marvin Fletcher, Billy Gorbey, Pete McDaniel, Chester Couch, Robert Baumgardner, Bob Collier, and W. T. Briscoe, and Mrs. Fred Miller.

Homecoming Thurs. Features Class Meets, Football And Dance

Thursday begins the annual homecoming events at Brownfield High School. The first part of homecoming will start at 6:00 at the High School. The people who graduated in the years of 1907 through 1914 will meet in room 118. Those of 1924 in room 105, and those from the year of 1924 in room 107.

Next year these groups will again meet in a ten year plan. Only next year it will be the years of 1915 through 1925, 1935, 1945.

At this time we want the exes to register in the halls of high schools.

After the meetings there will be a pep rally right next to the school. They will be changed somewhat this year, instead of a large bonfire, trenches will be dug and filled with sawdust and kerosene in the shape of C-U-B-S; and around that the Pep Squad and band will perform.

Friday night the Cubs will play the Seminole Indians in a conference game. The Indians outweigh the Cubs about 35 pounds per man on defense, but the offense is about even. The Indians still have Charles Hargrove, the boy that stood in the Cubs way last year when the Indians defeated the Cubs in the district play-off.

The Seminole team is based on power and they have a fair passing team. If it is raining the Cubs are likely to be defeated, for the Indians have some very large boys, such as Crain, 229 pounds; City, 218 pound; Baggett, 209 pounds; and Hassell, 205 pounds.

The fans will be disappointed. The two are very evenly matched.

After the ball game there will be a homecoming dance at the Legion Hall. All the exes are invited, so let's all turn out for it.

More than twice as many workers were killed off the job than

ADA, will welcome the group to Texas.

The main item on the agenda for the ADA meeting is the program for increased set-asides which will go into effect early in 1954. This plan calls for dairy farmers to set aside two cents per hundred weigh on fluid milk sold and a half a cent per pound of butterfat on cream and ungraded milk sold.

Also to be discussed will be the present selling program including advertising, merchandising, research and consumer relations, and the plans to increase newspaper, radio, TV, and magazine promotion.

on the job in 1952, according to the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts." Just off the press, the 1953 edition shows that 34,500 workers suffered accidental deaths off the job, while 15,000 were killed by accidents at work.

Off-the-job accidents also resulted in a greater production loss to the nation's industry. Workers injured off the job in 1952 lost a total of 65,000,000 man-days, compared with 45,000,000 man-days lost by workers on the job. Non-fatal injuries to workers off the job totaled about 2,600,000, while on-job injuries were about 2,000,000.

Excluding sleeping hours, workers spend about twice as much time away from work as they do at work. But even when the exposure factor is taken into consideration, the off-the-job death rate is higher.

Shepherd Recalls Peril; 'Notches' Rod For Hyenas, Wolves

Not at all unlike the notches on a gangster's gun are the 28 big spikes imbedded in the shepherd's rod of Stephen A. Haboush. The difference is that each spike represents a dead jackal, hyena or wolf—not a human life.

Nowadays he spends his time lecturing before church and school groups, telling them of his boyhood as a Palestinian shepherd and showing his full color motion pictures of the Holy Land. The much-scarred rod more than once his meant the difference between life and death for him and his flocks on the lonely western shores of the Sea of Galilee.

"For several years I was a nursemaid to a flock of 85 sheep and a dozen goats," he said recently. "It wasn't an easy job. The goats made my life miserable and the stray sheep unhappy. Most of my trouble was with the goats, however. Nevertheless, thanks to my trusty black oak rod, I never lost more than seven or eight animals a year. That's even a pretty good record among the Palestinian tribes of today."

His father was maktar, or head, of the Haboush tribe in old Galilee—north of the city of Nazareth. When the father died several years ago, Stephen Haboush became patriarchal head of the tribe despite the fact that he lived in the United States and had become a citizen.

"As a result, I have to return to my homeland every four years," he said. "In the meantime, our tribal affairs are handled by a council of state."

When he first came to the United States he "hit the chatauqua trail" with such figures as the late William Jennings Bryan, the former Ambassador Josephus Daniels, and Vilhjalmur Stephansson, the famed arctic explorer. He has been at it ever since, turning to the churches and schools when the Chatauqua vanished.

Therefore it is going to be a rare opportunity for the people of Brownfield to meet and hear this native son of Galilee when he and Madame Haboush present their Bible Land Musical Travelogue of the Holy Land in natural color films and other special features. They will appear at the follow-

For a real bargain— get a real truck!

SURE, you can save a few dollars now on a truck price-tagged slightly less than a GMC. But if you want a bargain that will still be a bargain after years of hard truck-work, ask these questions before you buy:

Does the truck give you a GMC's 105 H.P.? That's up to 19% more power than comparable sixes. It hustles a GMC's top loads up tough pulls—without engine strain.

Does it have a GMC's 8.0 to 1 super-high-compression? That gives you quicker getaways—more drive—better mileage. All on regular gas.

Does it offer a GMC's engine-sparing Truck Hydra-Matic? With it, you say good-bye to gearshift wrestling. No more clutch repairs. Maintenance costs shrink.

Does it have the extra protection of a GMC's self-energizing brakes? The extra comfort of a GMC's "Six-Footer" cab? The handling ease of a GMC's ball-bearing steering action? If all the answers are "yes," you have a real bargain—a GMC. And there are 19 handsome 1/2- to 1-ton models to choose from. How can you lose?

*Standard equipment on Package Delivery chassis; optional at moderate extra cost on all others.

SEVEN FIRES IN OCT. CAUSE 1 DEATH AND HEAVY DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Seven fires were reported to the city Fire Department during October, three more than were reported in September. A sign board fire, located on the west side of the Airport, out of the city limits on the Lamesa highway, was reported Halloween night. Firemen used a 1" line to extinguish the blaze, which smoked the sign in a few places. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

A small house fire eight miles east on the Tahoka road was reported Oct. 27. It was feared that the small fire would spread to a larger house, but when firemen arrived, the owners had extinguished the blaze.

A car and garage fire, reported Oct. 25, at 1:10 p.m., was well underway when firemen arrived. Ervin Rambo's '41 Chrysler and single garage was damaged very badly. A 2 1/2 inch and a one inch hose were used to put out the blaze.

Lee Thompson's 4-room stucco house, located outside the city limits on the Seagraves highway, was destroyed by an explosion at 6:15 a.m., Oct. 24. When firemen arrived the house was already almost destroyed, one side of it had been blown out and a window pane, frame and screen had been blown off another side. All the water in the fire truck was used and no city water or well was available. Mrs. Katherine Foster died Oct. 25, as a result of injuries received in the explosion and other persons injured were Mrs. Thompson and Andrew Hern. Mr. Thompson told firemen that he believed the fire had been caused from a butane explosion in the house, from either the stove or heater.

Lightning struck a meter box recently at Sonny's Feed and Supply Store, 1001 West Main, during a heavy rain, causing only slight damage to the area around the box. When firemen arrived at 7:45 a.m., the fire had been extinguished by the rain. However, the fire broke out again and firemen answered the second call at 9:30 a.m., but there was relatively little damage done as a result of both fires.

A blazing '49 Studebaker was reported recently on East Reppto. The car, owned by Virgel Ward, a negro, was completely destroyed and new clothes he had bought for his children were also burned.

Twelve volunteer firemen answered each of the above calls, along with the firetruck drivers, Johnny Hall, who drove six of the fires, and W. O. Turney, answered one.

"Shane," "Big Sky," and "Barbed Wire," at a race track in Ruidoso, and from there they went to Hollywood where Jack signed a contract with Don "Red" Barry, the first person they contacted. Don, who made a series of Red Ryder movies, was recently in Brownfield talking over business with Jack.

Jack's wife, the former Mary Moore, of O'Donnell, has stayed in Brownfield during all this excitement and will not leave with Jack when he returns to Hollywood. If the couple decide to live permanently in Hollywood they will move there, otherwise they will make their home here in Brownfield where Mrs. Eicke is employed at Terry County Lumber Company.

Jimmy, who spent a week here in Brownfield and appeared on programs with Jack, has formerly been with Red Foley, Spade Cooley, and Rex Allen's bands. Jimmy goes by the name of Buz Barton in the movies and his last records, "White Cross in Korea," and "Give me back the love I gave," which features Don as vocalist and Buz playing lead guitar, have been released and soon will be available through all music stores. Both songs were composed by Don "Red" Barry.

For the last ten records that Jimmy has recorded, he has used a fender guitar, and in the near future he is scheduled to make a series of 30-minute movie shorts with Charlie Spivak's orchestra. The guitarist, who is unmarried, has appeared in pictures with Tyrone Power and numerous other well-known actors.

The technicolor western that Jack and Jimmy have just finished cost approximately $200,000 to produce and both men are members of the Screen Actors Guild, whose president is Walter Pidgeon.

Jack, who formerly attended Texas Tech and was employed in Brownfield by his father, E. N. Eicke, in his moving service, is well-known in Brownfield and surrounding towns for his guitar playing and western singing.

Weather, variable. Been drizzling for the past several hours, and cloudy for the past two days. Just enough to keep the cotton harvesters out of the fields, so far. Delightful first three days of the week. But we are not ready to bounce on damp weather; we had plenty of the other kind lately.

B'FIELD HONORS ALUMNI AT 50TH ANNIVERSARY HOMECOMING EVENT

Brownfield High School alumni were honored at the biggest homecoming event in the school's history when the celebration of the 50th anniversary of schools in Terry County got underway this week. A Thursday night pep rally on the high school grounds opened the festivities, and highlight of the two-day program will be the Seminole-Cub football game tonight, Friday, at Cub Field.

Alumni attended special ex-student class meetings beginning at 6 p.m., Thursday, with oldtimers from the classes of 1909 through 1914 meeting in Room 118 at the High School. Other class groups that met were the class of 1924, class of 1934, and the class of 1944.

Opening the pep rally program was a bonfire session, featuring yells and songs. Other features of the evening was a special band stunt and speeches. Immediately after the close of the pep rally, all ex-students went to the high school building for registering and a visitation hour.

Friday morning at 11 o'clock, the public is invited to attend the coronation ceremonies for Queen Janie Dickson, who has been chosen to reign over the school for the homecoming event. The high school auditorium will be the scene of the coronation program, and Queen Dickson will be escorted by Lee Allen Jones, junior class president. Billy Thomason, student body president, will crown her.

Princess Janelle Lewis, a senior student, will be escorted by senior class president, Billy Mack Herod, and duchesses Shelby Thomason and Janel Bragg will be escorted by the presidents of their respective classes. Kenneth Murphy, sophomore; and Mike Hamilton, freshman.

Since this year rounds out the half century mark for Brownfield schools, the student council under the direction of Mrs. Jim Miller, is compiling a history of the high school. Le June Lincoln has toiled leather covers for the historical collection of activities and athletic happenings during the past 50 years.

Because few facts have been recorded about several of the years, information on the registration forms for the alumni will aid in completing the history. Each ex-student was asked to fill in his name, class, teachers, activities participated in, offices held, and honors received, as well as the names of persons who were superintendent and principal at the time.

Mrs. Miller also asked persons who were unable to attend the homecoming and participate in the registration project, write a brief letter to the Student Council in care of her, giving any pertinent information they may have concerning the time they were in Brownfield High School.

Terry Represented At Accreditation School Plan Meet

Elmer Brownlee, County Superintendent, was among West Texas county school superintendents who gathered at Tahoka, Oct. 29, for a study of the proposed state plan for accreditation of public schools.

Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, Lynn County superintendent, was hostess for the gathering, which was highlighted by discussions by two Texas Education Agency representatives, Paul Kantz and Rogers L. Barton.

After explaining the proposed accreditation program—slated to go into effect next year—Kantz asked the nearly two dozen superintendents attending to "take the standards back into your counties for further group study."

The meeting was one of several being held throughout the state. The area, the TEA representatives said, is to get superintendents and teachers in every Texas county to working on the proposed plan so that the best ideas can be integrated into the program.

Kantz then explained the accreditation proposals and Barton presented an evaluative criteria for appraising county-level services within the system.

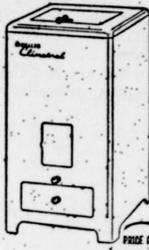

The TEA representative said that the state agency wants to give local school districts as much leeway as possible in adapting its curriculum program to local conditions. Also, by getting ideas from throughout the state, the local districts can have a hand in setting up the standards for accreditation which will become effective next September.

The proposed plan covers such areas as organization, instructional program, and the place of the local community in school affairs.

Twelve standards, each with its own field of application, are proposed for the new accreditation plan. The county superintendents that met took these standards back into their own counties for thorough study by schoolmen, who will make recommendations for inclusion in the final program.
