

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

We heartily agree that Max Schmelling has no business in the USA, and should be sent home immediately, as it has become well known among officials that Max was one of Hitler's leading Nazis during War II, and that he mistreated some American prisoners. He and Joe Lewis met recently, and while the greeting between them was fairly cordial, it was nothing like two old friends meeting.

It will be remembered that Max knocked out Joe before the latter had much experience in the ring, but Joe later took Max to a good cleaning. And since then, Max has been heard to make some threats if he ever got a chance at Joe. Joe Lewis may be just another "nigger" to you, but at least he is a patriotic American, and volunteered his services to his country during War II.

Well, the Supreme Court has upheld Judge Barfoot, the special judge sent down in Duval from Fannin County, when it was found that most of the judges and lawyers were the pawns of Duke Parr of the Dutchy of Duval. Judge Barfoot has declared that the jury commission of Duval county and the grand jury they appointed, were the hirelings—or words to that effect of old Parr, so they were dismissed by him.

Judge Barfoot will now select a jury commission that will probably do its duty in selecting a grand jury that will clean up that mess down there. It's a disgrace to Texas.

It is related that a child developed a case of paralytic polio that had a shot of the new polio serum up in New York. But the doctors claim that some were given the real genuine vaccine, while others, as a matter of test were injected with some harmless fluid that had no medical value in any way. Presumably the doctors kept a record of who got the genuine shots and who got the fakes.

If not, why not? Is there any need to punish children with an injection needle soused in the arm with something useless? Generally speaking, doctors are the last people on earth that would for no apparent reason, do a thing like that.

Even a Tall Tale Texan would not pull anything like that on the small fry. Speaking of tall Texans, some of our friends who remembered the first yarn ever told them, and the last one as well, gave us this version of the conversation between a Kentuckian and a Texan, who was visiting at Fort Knox. Says the Ky. Colonel: You Texas guys are always boasting, but we have enough gold in those vaults to build a wall ten feet high around Texas.

OK, says the Lone Starite, just go ahead and build it, and if it suits us, we will buy it.

For what reason, we know not, unless it is just a campaign year, and some want the chips to fall where they are. The report is that Governor Shivers' son is attending a private Catholic school in Austin, that has no segregation of races, several Negroes attending the school. Young Shivers is in the eighth grade.

But for whatever reason the story was all at once started, be it said that Gov. Shivers and the State School authorities have already asserted that there will be no change in Texas, the coming year, and that provision is made to continue schools in Texas as is, until there is a final decision of the US Supreme Court. Most believe the Court will give all states plenty of time to gradually work out non-segregation. There will also be some work for Texas legislators.

Had a very pleasant visit from an old time friend, Mrs. J. J. Gaston, long time Terryite, and former Red Riverite, Monday. She was accompanied by two of her daughters-in-law, Mrs. L. M. Yates and Mrs. Jessie Morgan, as well as one of her little great granddaughters. Never get a call from Mrs. Gaston

HAIL REPORTED IN SOUTH TERRY SATURDAY NIGHT

Jewel Bell and wife of the Needmore community, stated Sunday that they understood that some parties were hailed out in south Terry Saturday night, but we have never been able to find out just how much territory the hail covered. It is believed, however, that much more rain fell there than here in town, where only .06 fell. The Bells had no rain.

Complaints are general among farmers that people are having a hard time getting a crop up to a stand for one reason or another. Cool weather, packing rains, and Sunday afternoon, considerable dust was stirred up from a hard wind from the southwest, probably coming off the twisters and halts down around Andrews and Crane. As almost everyone has plenty moisture for the time being, people hope the weather will settle for awhile, and let farmers get on with a crop. Drove out east of town some ten miles late last week, and back through the Pleasant Valley and Challis communities, and found some crops up to a fair stand, but mostly just planted or being planted.

Monday morning started in pretty warm, and we hope this condition remains, as we surely need some warmer weather to properly germinate seed that is being planted.

Sheriff Chick Lee Gives Warning About Blasting Caps

A county-wide campaign to protect boys and girls from injuries caused by blasting caps was launched today by Sheriff W. L. (Chick) Lee.

Comparatively few persons, he warned, know what blasting caps look like. They are copper or aluminum cylinders about as big around as a lead pencil and between one-and-a-half and five inches long. The shiny metal cylinder contains a highly sensitive explosive and is needed to explode dynamite, to mine coal and metals, quarry stone, build roads and clear fields, Sheriff Lee explained.

Only a highly experienced person knows how to handle the caps safely. When one explodes, hundreds of small pieces of metal fly out in all directions, sometimes as far as 200 feet, and even at that distance they can cause serious injuries.

NELSON MET WITH TEXAS COUNCILLORS

Homer Nelson, of Brownfield, who was recently appointed to the

CLUES SOUGHT FOR DIAMOND RINGS

Theft of four diamond-set wedding bands—three platinum and one white gold—was discovered Tuesday morning at Primm Drug. Final retail value of the rings has been set at approximately $2,000.

Fred Nicholson, jeweler at the drug firm, stated to the Herald that he received the shipment Friday of last week and re-examined the rings Saturday afternoon. Due to the Sunday and Monday holidays, the loss was not discovered until Tuesday morning and it has not yet been ascertained when the theft occurred.

It had been incorrectly reported in the area press, radio and TV that the theft took place shortly prior to the time the rings were to have been placed in a display window. Nicholson stated had no intention of placing the rings on display as they had been ordered on consignment basis for customer approval, with the remaining rings to be returned Tuesday, and that the theft could have taken place any time between Saturday afternoon and Tuesday morning.

Wood and his son, Mack, 15, also riding in the truck were uninjured, officers said.

Mrs. Hallbauer also is in the Lubbock hospital, where she gave birth to a daughter, Monday. The Brownfield man's watch was stopped at 1:30 p.m., and officers set that time as the time of the accident.

Hallbauer was taken to the hospital here for emergency treatment and later transferred to the hospital at Lubbock.

Attendants report Hallbauer received multiple fractures and lacerations. He is employed by the HEB Construction Company.

COTTON INSECT DAMAGE FOUND OVER THE STATE FOLLOWING THE RAINS

About 95 per cent of the cotton in Terry County is up, or about 150,000 acres, according to County Agent Jim Foy.

Rains fell in the plains area, in the northeast area and in scattered localities in the central and north central areas during last week. Warm, dry weather is needed in most areas of the state with the exception of a few counties in the Southwest area where additional moisture is needed. Cotton in general made satisfactory progress in southern areas, but wet soils and cool nights continued to retard growth in northern areas.

Damaging cotton aphid infestations, or plant lice as it is known here, were reported from many fields in Terry County. Injurious infestations were found in a few fields in Atascosa, Live Oak, Dimmit, and Zavala Counties of the Southwest area. There was a reduction in the aphid infestation in the Coastal Bend area with injurious infestations occurring in 31 per cent of the untreated fields inspected in Jim Wells and Nueces counties. Injurious infestations continued in a few fields in Matagorda, Fort Bend, Wharton, Calhoun, Jackson and Victoria counties of the Upper Coastal area.

Damaging infestations were found in a few fields in Bee, Colorado, Guadalupe and DeWitt counties in the South Central area and in 9 of 11 fields inspected in Caldwell County in the same area. In the central area counties of Limestone, McLennan, Falls, Williamson and Hill, injurious infestations were found in 23 per cent of the untreated fields inspected. Elsewhere injurious infestations were reported from some fields in Waller, Hunt, Delta, and Uvalde counties and severe infestations were reported from Lynn, Midland, Dawson, and Terry counties in the Plains area.

Light spider mite infestations were reported from a few fields in Nueces, Kleberg, Wharton, Fort Bend, Matagorda, Jackson, Calhoun, Victoria, Austin, McLennan, and Falls counties.

Although bollworm infestations are being found in all sections of the Lower Valley, the heaviest infestations are occurring in a few eastern portions. Elsewhere light infestations were reported from a few fields in Maverick, San Patricio, and Bee counties, however, none have been reported in Terry County.

Grasshoppers were damaging cotton along field margins in a few fields in Kleberg, Fort Bend, Washington and DeWitt counties.

Cutworm damage was reported from scattered fields in Live Oak, Austin and Harrison counties.

Wireworm infestations sufficiently heavy to cause loss of stand were found in some fields in Lubbock and Lamb counties.

Results of a general survey of pink bollworm infestations in blooms completed on May 15, in the lower Rio Grande Valley counties of Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron, and Willacy indicate the lowest initial pink bollworm infestation in this area since 1951.

Farmers should have completed their early-season applications in the lower portion of the South Central area in such counties as Gonzales, Wilson, Caldwell, DeWitt, Lavaca, Colorado, Fayette, and Austin. Early season treatments in counties in the upper portion of this area should be made at the heavier dosage applications. In Central and East Texas areas, the early season treatments should have started last week and in the North Central area during this week. When aphid infestations justify them, insecticides such as TEPP, Demeton or parathion recommended for aphid control may be included in spray applications of other insecticides, except BHC, used for controlling other early-season insects. BHC may be substituted for the other insecticides when aphids are a problem. Emergency or early applications may be needed for the control of aphids, thrips or other insects in fields in other areas of the state prior to the time that the all inclusive recommended early-season applications should be started. Consult your county agent for more details concerning the cotton insect control program in your area, Foy said.

EARL BROWN WINS THE ANDERSON-CLAYTON SCHOLARSHIP FOR FFA MEMBERS AT AREA 2 CONVENTION

Earl Brown, member of the Brownfield Future Farmers of America chapter, was named winner of the Anderson-Clayton scholarship award in the first day of the annual Area Two Convention of FFA which began May 31, at Lamesa.

W. D. Warren, of the Meadow FFA chapter, was first in the Farm Bureau Award, with three being given. Glen Reid of the Brownfield chapter, was named one of the five alternates to attend the state convention in San Antonio in July.

Sonny Curtis, Area Two president from Meadow, made convention committee assignments, Monday, including area charter rating committee, national chapter contest, teachers award, honorary Lone Star Farmer, convention publicity, area program of work, auditing and budgeting, scholarship, and national awards.

Registration began at noon Tuesday, followed by the first general session. Included on the program, was Glen Hardin of Meadow, who offered piano selections.

Tuesday afternoon, the delegates, advisers, and district sweethearts, went to Rancho de Pax for a swimming party and barbecue, and later attended a drive-in movie. Included among the district sweethearts was Mary Lou Bass, Wellman, representing the Brownfield district.

Election of officers was staged Wednesday, with a breakfast beginning the day's activities, followed by a public speaking contest, committee reports and preliminary interviews of the candidates for area offices.

After a luncheon, George Hurt, acting chief of vocational agriculture education, Austin, addressed the delegates, followed by the convention banquet and FFA-FFA dance at the Lamesa Country Club.

Lester Buford, area supervisor from Big Spring, and formerly of Brownfield, was in charge of the convention.

BROWNFIELD HAS TWO MEDICAL GRADUATES

In the announcement of graduates of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, recently, the list included two young men from Brownfield, who have completed their medical education, and after internship in some recognized hospital for a period of a year, they will be permitted to take license to practice in Texas.

They are Fletcher Hester and Emmett Morgan Royer. By the way, old Brownfield was up in the class in numbers with many of the much larger cities, the state capital, Austin, only having two. Of course Dallas, in which the school is located had some 25, and nearby Ft. Worth had nine.

Anyway, the Herald congratulates these two young fellows, and hopes they will soon hurry home with a remedy for our rheumatix.

It appears to us that it is just about time for the free and civilized world to learn that no dependence can be put in anything the Soviets tell you. It is a well established fact since the history of the world has been known, that dictators as far back as time goes, up to the present time, have been rather crude liars. That they will lie when the truth would be better. And as old Hitler used to state, the bigger the lie, the better, and the more apt it is likely to be believed. It appears to most of us that use our brains just a bit to reason with, instead of absorbing all the hokum that some wild-eyed monkey pus out, that the average American would know better. But it seems that some folks are so constituted that they are willing to absorb all the foreign crap that comes along without question. If the average American with a grammar school education would just stop for one minute and think, together with a bit of casual reading, they would know that Americans are the best liver, the best fed, clothed and housed, and that they have more liberty to do things and express their opinions than any other people on God's green earth. But a lot of people are so constituted that they are always looking for a change, be it what it may. And this does not just include the illiterate. In many and perhaps in more instances, well educated professors and in some instances, the pastors of the flocks of Christians, will align themselves with just about any kind of ism that comes down the pike. These people should know by now that the people behind the Iron Curtain, are poorly fed and housed, despite the boasts of their "democracy." And they should know if they care to know, that one person, even though closely related, are afraid to talk about their government candidly as we talk in the USA. A man asked us the other day why people became Commies? Off hand we had to tell him what other people say; that they are mostly poor, hungry and uneducated. But the guys that have been brought before the bar of justice as fellow travelers in our land and country, are mostly educated and usually have jobs, money and friends. You do not find many of them in a farming section like Terry and other counties. Most of them are pretty well pleased with things as is, and are not willing to swallow any and every foreign ism that comes along. No, to our notion, many of these well educated, well heeled people think it smart to belong to something foreign to our old time notion of freedom of thought and action.

To frankly express our own opinion, we believe that nations as well as individuals should be careful of what they stick their noses into. They might get the end of it chopped off. For that reason, we may be regarded as an isolationist, nationally speaking, as ever since we have been joining up with those who want us to fight for them and spend our own money in doing so, we have been in trouble up to our ears. For that reason we were never proud of the fact that we joined in the two jousts in Europe and then later moved over to save and salvage Korea, in a prolonged battle that we never were allowed to win. And the fuss and maneuvers over "peace" with these Commie nations, has been a headache, and like the peace agreements after Wars 1 and 2, it appears we are going to lose the peace as well as the war. Then there was that little matter over in Indochina. Seriously, folks, we don't think that war is any of our business, and we admit here and now that no one dislikes the Commies more than we. In the first place, that is a French colony, and it is to their advantage to keep it that way, as they get much raw material out of that country, which is very useful to them in France, to manufacture for their own people, and to keep as many of them employed as possible. We do not believe it is our fight, and if we get in it the Commie world will have a good argument that we ourselves are not only imperialists, but that we are willing to sacrifice the lives of our young men, and spend perhaps billions of dollars in order to help France hold a colony. Doesn't sound very much like the case in reverse way back in 1778, and for a few years thereafter, when we were trying to gain our freedom from England, and France helped us to throw off the yoke and become an independent nation instead of a colony. We don't know how well France is treating those Asians, but if the majority of them want a nation of their own, as are many of the countries about them, we figure that is their business. But down in Guatemala, we may have something different. We believe that if possible we should not let Communism spread into the Western Hemisphere. If it does, there will be one series of trouble right after another, and the Commies will keep every little country in South and Central America fighting, and at each other's throats. So, while we are reluctant to agree that we have any business engaging in any strife in Latin America, we have no aversion to our nation furnishing firearms to those near this little nation that seems to want to give the Commies a foothold in the Americas. This especially in view of the fact that seemingly the Iron Curtain nations are secretly shipping arms to Guatemala. If we were to send troops down there, you would hear a howl long and loud that the USA was an imperialistic nation, and trying to absorb the little nations. It is also a well known fact that Americans have much money invested in this little nation in the way of coffee and other plantations, which Guatemala has recently expropriated. But maybe they learned that stunt from Mexico, that grabbed off American oil fields, which had been developed with American cash. But if we do have to go into it, let's not be satisfied with a "holding" war. Let's go in to win and quick. Maybe it would be a lesson to Russia and Poland to keep their nasty hands out of the Americas.

There is one man in President Eisenhower's cabinet that we really feel sorry for, and that is Ezra T. Benson, Secretary of Agriculture. No, Mr. Benson doesn't seem to be able to please anyone; the farmer, the ranchman, the dairyman, the manufacturer, or even the little business man and the run-of-the-mine laborer. Apparently, everything he does seems to be just the wrong thing to do, although he does it with all consciousness, and in what he considers the best way for all concerned. He is a religious man, and very conscientious, being a strict member of the Mormon Church, he could scarcely be less. Not long since, he decided that he would try to get rid of the government's huge tonnage of butter stored away in caves and cold storage, that was fast depreciating, to be sold at a much lower figure. But this was no go. The stuff just would not sell, as butter had been priced out of the market so long that people had gone to the substitutes and liked it. So he told a news conference that he had "reluctantly discarded" the idea of selling this mess of butter, as it would cost the taxpayers two and a quarter million dollars to do so. This butter kept so high for a long period by government supports, had no market, and even the slash in price, induced only 10 per cent additional sales. And the only ray of hope foreseen by the market of this commodity is the diminishing supply. Many of the dairymen have turned to selling milk instead of cream, as milk consumption has increased with the population growth, and ice cream sales are picking up very fast. There is no doubt in the world that Benson is sympathetic toward the farm producer, as he himself is a farmer, and a stock farmer at that. He is well aware of the trials and tribulations and headaches that befall him of the soil. But when he took charge of the Ag. department, the cards were already stacked against him by his predecessor. There were thousands of tons of unwanted butter, and it was his business to try and find sales for it. It is for this reason that many well wishers of agriculture and related interests are coming to the conclusion that high, rigid supports are not the answer, but rather a sliding scale, and restricted production. Do what we will, that old man, supply and demand, is still doing business as per usual, and when we get a head-on supply, the bottom falls out, and it has been that way as long as the oldest of us can remember. That old "Law of Supply and Demand" is a hard law to beat, even with government subsidies. But Mr. Benson knows when he is whipped, so he announced the appointment of N. R. Clark, said to be a dairy expert, who will try some way to dispose of the huge government surplus of butter. Maybe the soap manufacturers will buy it at some price. But Mr. Clark has not taken on any easy way of life, and it will take all his expert knowhow to get this butter business running smooth again.

Every few days, we get propaganda from this that and the other candidate, asking space in this paper to tell the good people of this area their side of the question. They are not local candidates. The demands of local candidates on the papers are nil, and most never seek space other than their formal announcement. It is those who are seeking national or state offices that swamp the little country newspaper for space to tell their woes. Some of them are rather personal, and we would not like to be a party to a personal quarrel, or for a personal criticism. Such a letter, or copy of one, was received the past week from a government worker up at Washington, and addressed to Dudley T. Daugherty, who is making the race for US Senate against Lyndon Johnson, the present Senior Senator. Much of the letter was personal criticism of Senator Johnson. One of the worst gripes was that Johnson had appointed a Pennsylvania boy to a position, instead of a Texas boy, and the appointee admitted to the writer that he had never been in Texas. Of course the writer believed that the appointment of Texans should come first. He also stated the capitol police did not like Johnson, as he was too exacting. However, it appeared to us that Johnson was disliked mainly because he did not give this or that or some other Texas a job. Of course the writer wrote that he would vote against Johnson, and stated that most Texans residing in the capitol city would do likewise. This reminds us that we had understood that people residing and calling Washington their home, had no vote, in the first place. Facts of the matter is, as far as we can see, there is no such thing as a political party as we used to know them. Even here in Texas, the Democrats are as hopelessly divided as sheep and goats, with the so-called Loyallists on one side of the pasture fence, and the so-called Shivercrats on the other. Same with the Republicans. Two years ago there was the old line bunch supporting Senator Taft for the Presidency, and another eager beaver bunch just as strong for Ike. The same thing is true all over the nation. There is the old conservative Democrats of the South, and the radicals of the North. Then there is the old standpat Republicans all over the nation, with the new or Liberals scattered here and yon. If just a bit younger we'd organize a party of our own. But some already say there are Jack Stricklin Republicans right here in Terry.

Well we are glad from more than one point that the United States Department of Agriculture has at last decided to erase "drouth" from its weekly crop bulletins. In the first place we are glad that the Ag. Dept. can conscientiously do so, and in the second place, the word had become just a bit nauseating to sundry of us people out here in the big heart of the douth area, that had heard no tune except dry weather for the past three years. Drouth is not a pleasant word, even if the period extends over just a few weeks or months, but when it goes on and on until some of the most pessimistic begin to assert that it never will rain again, then we are in a melofahes. The old farmer scans the skies with a look of discouragement, as the elements become as brass, and his truck, if he gets it up at all, withers and dies away. And his land begins to turn a brownish color, and looks more like the Sahara Desert than the noted South Plains of Texas. It not only puts gloom on his honest old face, but the idea gets into the hide of the rest of us that depend on his making a crop. For our prosperity is as much wrapped up with his as is war and wool in clothing. But the glorious rains have come to all sections of west, south, middle and north Texas, as well as the adjoining states. Grass looks green, and for one time in our life, those old green weeds even look good, and the fresh plowed land does not look like the picture of a desert, but has put on a darker and more eye resting color. Even the crows along the rows have a slick looking fleck to them, as if glazed with water, and it is more restful as you drive over the local farming section. In the pastures, what few are still left, the contented old cows graze peacefully on the nice tender, green grass, while the goats nibble at the tender mesquite buds. And the wheat and oat crops are going to be much better than expected. There may be some barren spots near roads and turnrows that blew out before the rains last October, or when the wind was raging in January, March and April this year, before the glorious rain of April showers began to fall. But out in the fields, it is looking fine, and this goes for rye. The only complaint we have heard is too much cool weather. To say the least, good friends, it just looks like we are in for a good average crop, if not above the average this year, and goodness knows we are ready for it. The most complaint we have heard is the persistent cold fronts that keep blowing up every few days. We need warm weather.

OREGON JUDGE HITS 'LEGAL' LANGUAGE

PORTLAND, Ore.—Legal documents will be written in words anybody can understand if Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle of Detroit has his way. Judge Lederle spoke before a regional meeting of the American Bar Association at Portland and said: "The public has a right to expect all our legal documents, including opinions, to be written in plain, simple language. Why must we continue to use so many technical terms? If laymen knew how simple the thoughts are that we try to convey by such terms, they would call it mumbo-jumbo. "To illustrate, if I issue an order to a custodian to produce a witness, why do we have to label it a writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum?"

GI Q's and A's

Q. I'm a World War I veteran, drawing a pension from the VA. My wife has just gone to work part-time. In figuring my annual income, will I have to count the money she earns to see whether I come within the limits of the law?

A. You will not have to count your wife's separate earnings in computing your annual income for pension purposes.

Q. A veteran friend of mine forgot to pay his GI term insurance premium when it was due. He died during his 31-day grace period. Will his beneficiaries receive his insurance proceeds, or are they out of luck?

A. His beneficiaries will receive the insurance proceeds, minus the unpaid premium.

Q. Are all post-Korea veterans affected by the August 20, 1954 deadline date for starting Korea GI Bill training?

A. No. The only post-Korea veterans who must be in training by that date, in order to continue afterwards, are those who were separated from service before August 20, 1952. Veterans separated afterwards have two years from their separation date in which to begin Korea GI training.

Q. If a veteran dies without naming a beneficiary for his GI insurance what happens to the proceeds?

AN OLD REFRIGERATOR TAKES 2 MORE KIDDIES

If the City Council has not already passed such an ordinance, they should do so at once, barring anyone from leaving an abandoned refrigerator out where children have access to them. Not only that, but each state, county, as well as cities should pass such a law, with teeth in it. Wednesday's paper gave an account of where two little 4- and 3-year-old boys got in one up in Connecticut, and suffocated. The old refrigerator had been dumped in the back yard, and the father had intended removing the lock and catch. The mother was temporarily away from home. The boys were cousins.

Laws should be passed everywhere making it a penal offense to leave old refrigerators, ice boxes, etc., where children can get to them, without removing the door, locks, or catches.

Well, you may say, that was just two children in 160 million people in the USA. OK, brother, but that is just two more children than is necessary to sacrifice because of pure carelessness.

Lions Dist. Governor Is Speaker At Plains

Joe Phillips, District Governor of Lions Club, District 2T-1, was speaker at the regular meeting of the Plains Lions Club, Thursday of last week. Governor Phillips spoke on the progress of the Texas Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville, following a brief summary on the accomplishments and membership status of his district. He showed a film covering different phases of camp life and progress since the camp was begun in 1951. The film showed the rapid growth of the camp since its beginnings and the need for additional buildings and facilities to take care of future needs. Also shown was the interest taken by the children in camp life, arts and crafts, and the good it does them during their two-week's visit.

A plan is being set up whereby club members may contribute at least $3.00 per year, which may be raised either by direct contribution or by projects to finance the camp, according to Phillips. A budget to operate the camp at its present size requires something over $100,000 per year, not including expansion needs.

"Hat Tea" Highlights Remodeling Success

With a "Hat Tea," about $3,000 saved, and 330 sparkling hats on their heads, the "glad hatters" of Collingsworth County have outdone the Mad Hatter of "Alice in Wonderland."

Remodeling 330 outdated hats into fashionable headgear, the home demonstration club women of Collingsworth County figured they have saved $3,000 by making the most of their old hats instead of buying new ones.

So glad were these hatters that they celebrated with a "Hat Tea" and everyone wore her new hat. Mary Trammel, county home demonstration agent, says some of the hats had been previously discarded, and one of the now fashionable chapeaus was 23 years old.

DODGE ANNOUNCES ADVERTISING PLANS

DETROIT.—Renewal of two Dodge national network television programs for the summer months and remainder of 1954, along with an intensified newspaper campaign, were announced today by Jack W. Minor, Dodge Director of Advertising and Merchandising.

Both the television programs and the newspaper campaign are being placed by the Dodge agency, Grant Advertising, Inc.

The newspaper campaign will be carried by more than 4,000 newspapers across the country during June and July. Minor said that the advertising campaign would appear in many weekly newspapers and most of the nation's dailies.

We are very glad to see the smiling face of Miss Parilee Nelson back behind the counter over at Nelson Pharmacy for the summer. Said she liked Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, very much. Her brother, Graves, is also home from Tech college at Lubbock, and helping out at the pharmacy.

Ira Purcell, of the Levelland section, dropped in to get back on the list last week. He had accidentally been cut off before his time expired. The Purcells are old time Terryites, and he and Mrs. Henry Chisholm are brother and sister.

We note that the Louisiana Legislature has overwhelmingly voted to continue segregation in that state. Senate vote was 32 to 1, while the House vote was 84 to 3 to continue as is, despite Supreme Court ruling. That the idea is not setting well with the rank and file in the old South, as we predicted last week, a sample vote in Birmingham, Ala., showed better than 2 to 1 that people did not even want anti-segregation of sports.

Brain Washing

"The Communist instructors," Philbrick relates, "were experts; they knew their business, believe me, and they went to work on the minds, the hearts, and the souls of the young people in these cells, in order to change them from ordinary, average, decent young people into something entirely different, into hardened, steed, disciplined, Communist Party members—and believe me that is a transformation!"

"It is such a transformation that although the young people would continue to walk about the streets of Cambridge (Mass.) appearing on the exterior as normal human beings, their insides had become as much transformed as though they were men from Mars. The average decent American with his healthy mind is absolutely unable to grasp what goes on inside the unhealthy mind, the twisted mind, of these Communists." And this fact, Philbrick points out, is keeping our people from properly understanding the Communist danger and taking adequate measures to combat it. I would strongly recommend that the publications of the Congressional investigating committee be obtained and studied by every citizen. Your Congressman can get them for you. They constitute a primer in Communist infiltration.

Endrin — Best-Yet Cotton Insecticide

COLLEGE STATION.—Endrin, a newcomer to the insecticide world, this year, takes the cotton insecticide spotlight. Entomologists report that it comes as close to an all-purpose cotton insect control as anything yet tested.

A close relative to dieldrin, endrin is now widely used to control bollworms, boll weevils, thrips, cotton leafworms, cotton fleahoppers and lygus bugs.

Endrin appears for the first time this year in the official Texas cotton insect control recommendations. USDA researchers have tried it under a wide variety of growing conditions in Texas, Louisiana, South Carolina and Mexico.

In Texas, endrin is recommended for boll weevil and cotton leafworm control at rates of one-fourth to one-third pound per acre. Bollworm treatments call for applications of one-third of a pound per acre.

This welcomed newcomer, however, does not control pink bollworms, aphids and spider mites. And like other insecticides, specialists caution users of endrin to adhere closely to the directions of the manufacturer. It is toxic not only to cotton pests, but also to man and warm-blooded animals.

B'field School Will Operate '54-'55 On Old Segregation Rule

The public schools of Texas will operate in the 1954-55 scholastic year on the same basis as the current school year," according to information contained in letters sent to all Texas superintendents last weekend from J. W. Edgar, Texas education commissioner, in view of the recent ruling of the Supreme Court on segregation in public schools.

The commissioner's letter further stated that no immediate change in the financial operations of public schools is contemplated because the Texas public school system is administered by the Constitution of Texas and statutes of its legislature. No changes of any kind are contemplated until further action by the Supreme Court and until such time as the legislature points the way for changes in the state, it pointed out.

The letter mentioned the recent action of the Supreme Court as not being final and that further hearings and subsequent findings are scheduled.

Applications under the Gilmer Aikin law for funds are to be made on the basis of the current operating procedure, the letter of instructions declared.

A copy of the letter will be presented at the next meeting of the Brownfield Board of Education, June 7.

Winkles-Warren Repeat Double Ring Marriage Vows Here

Miss Carolyn Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Warren, and Kenneth Winkles, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Winkles, all of Brownfield, were married in a double ring ceremony read recently in the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Jones W. Weathers, minister of the local First Baptist Church. Vows were exchanged at 3:15 p. m.

Arrangements of red and white roses flanked by white tapers topped an altar table before the service was performed. Other arrangements of red and white roses were used throughout the receiving rooms.

The bride wore a frock of ice blue nylon voile and net fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and bouffant skirt. She carried white carnations atop a white Bible, and blue garter and strand of pearls, which she wore were borrowed from Mrs. J. G. Cabe.

Miss Imogene Frost, who attended the bride as maid of honor, wore an off-shoulder dress of pale pink and a corsage of deep pink carnations. Cecil Cooper of Brownfield served the bridegroom as best man.

At a reception held immediately following the ceremony the couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. At one end of the lace laid refreshment table was a tiered wedding cake, ornamented with tiny rosebuds and topped by a miniature bridal couple. Blue carnations were scattered over the table, and a trio of white tapers burned in crystal candelabra. A crystal punch service was placed at the other end of the table.

Mrs. J. G. Cabe poured, and Miss Bernalene Gargill served cake. Assisting in hospitality was Miss Imogene Frost.

For a wedding trip to Houston the bride wore a white linen dress with a red and white stole and red accessories.

Mrs. Bailey delivers Negro baby in auto enroute to hospital.

Mrs. Ralph Bailey, 413 N. 9th, delivered a baby to a young colored mother last Friday, while they were enroute by auto to a hospital in Sherman; and 10 minutes later a second child was born in the hospital.

Mrs. Bailey was visiting her sister, who owns a country store near Sherman, when a negro man asked them to take his wife to the hospital. The group broke all speed laws, going through two red lights, in hopes that a policeman would stop them and escort them through the city. However, none appeared, and the child was born while they sped through the third red light.

If I ever live completely alone, the first gadget I'll install is the one that keeps the telephone from ringing during my snoring spell.

Even though she has to lie about it, every woman insists she's had plenty of proposals and chances both before and since marriage.

Believes In Flowers "Before You Die!"

Mrs. C. I. "Abe" Lincoln was a caller at the Herald office Tuesday of this week, and stated that she just decided she would drop in and tell us how much the VFW and VFW Auxiliary and others appreciated the nice writeup given last week and for the past few weeks on Poppy Sales. And from what we can learn, the ladies really went to town on their sales Saturday.

Most of us realize that much of such money raised remains in Brownfield, and as Mrs. Lincoln stated, one would be surprised at the amount of help that is given each year for these funds to families of needy veterans. Mrs. Lincoln stated she did not wish to wait until we are a corpse to place flowers where they belong.

Of course Mrs. Lincoln will understand why the Herald makes such a great effort along this line. All those old Confederate and Spanish War veterans, as well as those of War I and II, are old friends of the Herald. As they peacefully sleeping their last restful sleep in our cemeteries, they are not forgotten by the Herald folks that saw most of them put away in their final resting place.

They and their families, even to the first, second and sometimes third generations, are our friends. We loved them while they lived, and miss them to this day. The Herald does not need any flowers in the way of nice words to get us to give freely of such publicity. While we feel it our duty to do this work, we are not so conceited that we do not appreciate the "flowers from Mrs. Lincoln."

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Major Howard announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Dorothea, to Neil Barrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barrier.

2 Oil Field Workers Hurt In Accidents

Leon Henshaw, age 27, 208 West Cardwell, Brownfield, was admitted to the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital on May 29, following an oil field accident.

While working on a mud mixer, an 8-inch flow line fell off an oil drum which knocked him down and then fell on his left foot. He suffered simple fracture of the left foot without displacement. He was employed by Laughlin-Porter Drilling Company of Midland.

The patient was released from the hospital the following day, Sunday, to be confined to his home for approximately six weeks.

Herman Bostick of 803 Sumer Street, Odessa, was admitted to the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital on May 28, following an oil field accident, which occurred about 10 a.m.

He suffered fractures of the lower end of both arms, when he fell into a pit. He had backed up to the pit to set a jet, and as he pulled the wrench line off, the dirt around the pit caved in, causing him to fall. He was released the following day to return to his home in Odessa. He was employed by J. E. McCain Rig Company of Midland.

Pocket gophers can be controlled with poison grain. The grain must be placed in the burrow. A tablespoon of grain will do the job.

Oil Field Worker Suffers Concussion

Thomas Elvin Newman, age 25 years, of 407 East Avenue, Levelland was brought to the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital by Tahoka ambulance about 5 p.m., June 2, following an oil field accident. Early Thursday morning, the patient was reported improved. He suffered a brain concussion as a result of the accident.

The accident occurred while he was hooking elevators on lift rod. The mast pole on pulley unit came loose, catching him between the mast pole and the horse head. This happened at 3:30 p.m., about three miles south of Lakeview, on Rig No. 3, Hunt Oil Company lease. Newman is an employee of Roberts Well Service, of Levelland.

THIS WEEK WE TAKE THE TUDOR SALES COMPANY IN OUR SHOWOFF

This week we have decided to take for the subject matter of our discussion in these columns, the Tudor Sales Co., of which W. B. (Red—very Red) Tudor will be the subject matter. And before we forget it, we are not going to poke any fun at Mrs. Tudor, one of the finest little ladies in these parts. A fact that leads a lot of people hereabouts to wonder how the heck she ever came to get tied in for life with Red? No use to call that bird, Mr. W. B., since he became a bank president, as no one would understand anything except "Red" Tudor.

The writer is privileged to say nearly anything we wish to say about Red. Wasn't we both here before there were any streets paved, and when a big gully wash-rain came back then, we could pull off our brogans and wade the water? He lacked about a year getting here in time to help celebrate the Armistice on the night of Nov. 11, 1918, when we shot up all the dynamite there was in town, and drink about all the Hill & Hill and Old Crow that anyone had hid away following Mr. Volstead's Act. But he was here from then on. But Red and the Old He were younger then.

Really the business started as the Bradley Auto Co., by Mr. Bradley of Lubbock, who also had a T-model business up there. Red had run a filling station and repair business at Abernathy, but decided to come here, as Brownfield had gotten a railroad, was a county seat, and the outlook better. In a few years, Red bought the interest of Bradley in 1924, the latter having passed on many years ago. But everything was not gold, and the goose hanging high. Their wooden building burned to the ground in January, 1920, and they moved into a tin building temporarily, behind the old Hill Hotel, where Cobb's store now stands. In November that year, the new building was ready for them, but an extended addition fronting Main to the east, as well as some work shops in the rear were built later. In 1945, the business was changed to Buick Sales and Service, and new Buicks have been sold there since that time. Red must be a great guy to work for, as some of the hands still work there that he had since Heck was a puppy, both in the sales and the mechanical departments. If he were not a good employer, this would not happen.

As stated above, aside from being actively engaged in the auto business, Red is president of the First National Bank, of this city. He is a charter member of the Rotary Club, and is a member of the First Methodist Church, while Mrs. Tudor holds her membership with the First Baptist Church. They live at 102 W. Cardwell St.

Mrs. Tudor has for some time had to spend considerable time with her dad, S. J. Dixon, old time Yoakum County rancher, who is badly crippled with rheumatism. Mr. Dixon spends all his time at Truth and Consequence, better known as Hot Springs, N. M. He, too, is a stockholder in the First National Bank.

BRANTLEY TAKING TRAINING AT SHEPHERD AIR FORCE BASE

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE, Texas.—A/3c Everett L. Brantley, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Brantley, of Brownfield, has entered the USAF Technical School for Aircraft Mechanics at Sheppard Air Force Base, the largest school of this type in the world.

A/3c Everett L. Brantley

During his specialized training as a student at Sheppard he will receive intensive training designed to provide him with the thorough knowledge and basic skills required in servicing, inspecting and maintaining aircraft currently used by the United States Air Force.

Upon graduation he will be awarded the rating of Airplane and Engine Mechanic. Along with the majority of graduates in his class, he will enter a course for advanced training or will be assigned to one of the major Air Force commands for on-the-job experience with first-line operational aircraft after completion of his schooling here.

Prior to his enlistment on February 5, 1954, Airman Brantley attended the Plains High School.

cept the shipment. The sardines, in cans, were being thrown overboard by the ship's crew under the pretense they were spoiled. The FBI discovered that the cans floated, and that instead of sardines they contained little 24-page booklets.

The booklets were printed in Spanish. Philbrick has an actual photographic copy of one. The front cover states that the booklet contains the rules for playing the American game of football. But when you open the book you find that the first paragraph, still in Spanish, gives specific instructions for sabotaging electric power lines, transformers, central electrical headquarters, conduits, cables, turbines—complete and detailed instructions on techniques of espionage as well as of sabotage.

How To Make Bombs

Under the guise of football rules, the booklets are smuggled to the Communist conspirators in this country in this devious and unbelievable manner. In one section of the booklet are specific instructions for making bombs. Sizes vary. The big bomb, which the booklet blueprints, is powerful enough to stop a patrol car or a motorcycle policeman. There is a very small bomb, with diagram for painstaking assembly, which is designed to fit inside of a hat band.

Here are the instructions, printed in Spanish: "If you have a citizen whom you wish to eliminate, you simply place one of these little bombs inside the band of his hat while he's at his favorite bar or restaurant. And when he goes to leave the restaurant and puts on his hat, he blows off the top of his head. It's very effective. He doesn't talk any more." This information, together with the technical instructions for sabotaging America's industrial strength, was a part of the training in the deeply underground, elite Communist cell into which Herbert Philbrick worked his way.

THE SUBVERSIVE SARDINES

The reported shipment of tons of Communist guns and ammunition to Guatemala failed to disturb the apathy of the vast majority of Americans because they still do not fully realize the menace of the Communist conspiracy and its growing world-wide strength. "It can't happen here" is a reaction expressing a state of mind that daily becomes more dangerous. The overthrow of Russia by the Communists 37 years ago was achieved with about the same number of Red conspirators as there are in America today.

This isn't to suggest that we are threatened with a violent revolution. But 30,000 hard-core commando-troop Communists, strategically placed in our vital industries and communication centers, could conceivably wreck the defense of our nation if we were attacked, for instance, by a ground-based force from any part of Central or South America. A fantastic idea? Not when we clearly understand the facts about Communism, it's unchangeable objective of world domination, its tactics and its almost unlimited power to get things done.

Fantastic Methods

Herbert Philbrick, who was for nine years an FBI counterespionage working intimately with leading American Communists, was an overnight guest in my home recently. To illustrate the nature of the Communists' subversive work, he tells the story of a shipment of sardines to our east coast from Russia. The FBI sought to inter-

Let's all go to Church Sunday where we are all one with the Lord

GOMEZ BAPTIST CHURCH was organized in the summer of 1903 by Rev. J. R. Miller, of Tahoka, Texas, under a frame attached to the land office building of D. B. Morrell and W. P. Florence, the frame being covered with a wagon sheet. Morrell and Florence were among the charter members, and Mrs. H. D. Leach of Brownfield, united with the Gomez Church soon after its organization. The church first worshiped in the school building, and the first church building was erected in 1908. Then in 1926 the building was put up that the church worshiped in until November, 1953, when the Church purchased the Gomez school building, in which it now worships. Gomez Baptist Church has had as its pastor the last three and one half years, Rev. T. L. Nipp, who has also served as Moderator of Brownfield Association two years, and also president of the District Nine Baptist Convention one year; and at the present time is vice moderator of Brownfield Association. Rev. Nipp and family moved to Gomez from Midway Baptist Church of Dawson County, where he served as pastor for four years; and he also served as moderator of the Lamesa Association one year, while there. The Gomez Church has about 100 members, and about 125 are enrolled in the Sunday School. The Church bought the Gomez School building and members re-worked the auditorium, put in a baptistry, and now have one of the best rural church buildings in West Texas. Grady Dickson, Brownfield, Route 4, is Sunday School Superintendent; Mrs. Kelly Sears is Training Union Director; Mrs. H. N. Key, WMS President and Church Treasurer; Mrs. Grady Dickson, Clerk; Alton Webb, Choir Director; and Janie Dickson, Pianist. Deacons are L. H. King, Wess Key, Tyler Martin, T. S. Doss, Sr., and Grady Dickson. (Staff Photo.)

Ocie Murry Gets Sorry For Herald; Buys The Cokes

Ocie Murry, who has recently opened a sub-district office of the Comptroller Department here, after working about a year in Big Spring office, dropped in this week to get his paper changed, back here. After talking with the Old He and wife for awhile, he got so sorry for us he gave us a dollar William for Cokes, or what will we have for drinks?

In a more serious vein, Ocie stated that he had been down to Austin recently, and had a long conversation with Gus Farrar, who was an early day inhabitant here, and in fact was one of the first graduating class members of the local high school. Gus is Chief Clerk. Ocie said that Gus was so well posted on what was going on at Brownfield, that he had a suspicion that he got the Herald.

He does, compliments of his aunt, Mrs. Jessie G. Randal. After graduating here, about 1910, Gus drifted back to his own home in Nolan County, and finally was elected State Clerk of that county. We used to stop over between Santa Fe and T&P Trains in Sweetwater, and get with Gus, and maybe take a meal with the Farrar family.

When the late Mr. Shepperd was elected State Comptroller back in the 30ties, we believe, he took two young men from Sweetwater with him, one of them being Robert S. Gaines, Garza and Howard with four each; Scurry and Terry with three each, and Dawson had two, and Hockley one. Of the new locations, both Garza and Howard stood ahead of Andrews with 8 each; Andrews had five, Cochran and Scurry, three each; Hockley 2, and Dawson, Gaines and Lamb with one each. Terry and Yoakum were blackballed, and Yoakum did not have any new wells last week for the first time in ages.

All three of the Terry County wells were in the Prentice field, and ran pretty well on the average in production, although one showed a final test of less than 100 barrels per day. They are as follows: Prentice—Tennessee Production Co., 11, C. B. Townes, 440 from north and 2,880 from west lines of section 22, block K, PSL Survey, pumped 121.65 barrels of 30.5 gravity oil, plus 2 per cent water daily. Gas-oil ration was 258-1. Open hole from 5,953-5,988 feet was acidized with 3,000 gallons.

Prentice 6700—Honolulu Oil Corp. 8-C, Ella Covington, 1,980 from south and 660 from west lines of Section 21, Block D-14, C&M Survey, pumped 77 barrels of 29.2 gravity oil and no water daily. Gas-oil ratio was 250-1. Perforations from 5,890-5,930 feet were acidized with 9,000 gallons.

Prentice—Honolulu Oil Corp. 8-G, Ella Covington, 1,980 from south and 660 from west lines of Section 21, Block D-14, C&M Survey, pumped 161 barrels of 30.2 gravity oil and no water daily. Gas-oil ratio was 300-1. Perforations from 5,890-5,930 feet were acidized with 6,000 gallons.

Cold weather and packing rains in some places, has greatly hindered farm operations in many sections of the South Plains.

Hail Covered Only A Small Scope—A Great Find!

Had been trying to get a check-up on the hail in south Terry last week, but no one seemed to know anything about it until we ran into that famous old farmer, L. R. Riney. He admitted he was in town Saturday night when things were happening down there, and was almost afraid to go home for fear he was hailed out.

He stated that the hail covered a small area south of Forrester, centered around the Carroll Hulise farm. But the rains had unearthed a strange piece of pottery at the turnrow in L. R.'s field.

To be plain, it was about the size of one joint of your thumb, and as to shape, it appeared to be an old fashioned "thunder-mug" saved half into, with the handle intact. Printed on the flat side was—you ask L. R.? He says he's going to present it to Frank Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nichols and Mrs. Sears, of Centralia, Ill., are here visiting their daughter and Mrs. Sears' son, Robert Sears, of the Motorman-Cactus Drilling

Hammond has been negotiating with USDA officials in Washington since March, trying to get approval of emergency loans for grain stored on the ground. He said he has urged them to announce approval before the harvest rush begins to avert "disastrous prices."

It was just five years ago, in 1949, that Hammond originated the idea of storing wheat on the ground. At that time, he led a one-man crusade to get his ideas approved.

New Wells And Locations Record Off The Past Week

New wells as well as new locations ran pretty light here on the South Plains the past week, much lighter than usual. Total new wells finished was only 26, when they usually run into the thirties, and sometimes above forty. The new locations total was given as 31. Andrews County headed the list of new oil wells finished with nine.

Other counties ran as follows: Gaines, Garza and Howard with four each; Scurry and Terry with three each, and Dawson had two, and Hockley one. Of the new locations, both Garza and Howard stood ahead of Andrews with 8 each; Andrews had five, Cochran and Scurry, three each; Hockley 2, and Dawson, Gaines and Lamb with one each. Whooper Secret Remains Intact

AUSTIN.—Latest reports from the far north indicate that the scanty whooping crane population, which winters in Texas, has eluded the last bird watching outpost to reach their Arctic nesting grounds.

Fred G. Bard of Regina, director of the Saskatchewan Provincial Museum, has written the Game and Fish Commission that the last trace of the secretive feathered celebrities was early May.

But where the gian whoopers, now down to a mere 24, spend their summers still is one of wild-life's best-kept secrets.

Strickingly—
By OLD HE

we don't think of some mighty good feeds we have gotten at their farm out in the Gomez community.

Mrs. Gaston fell recently, bruising her elbow and still has it in bandages. Asked if she anticipated a trip to old Red River country this year, and she stated she was down there twice last year, and might make a plane trip back in the Kosiasko section of Mississippi, where she was born and reared. She didn't think much of our idea of dropping us off her plane say over West Tennessee, and let us get to Middleton the best we could.

She has divided all her farms with the children, and of course she can come and go as she pleases now. And when we told her we'd soon be 74, she said she was just a girl at that age and as spry as you please. But we asked if she had the rheumatics in both knees at that time. She did not, but admitted being 86.

Continuing with those old time subscribers, we had notice this past week that Mrs. Charles Mahaffey, of Mt. Vernon, Texas, had expressed her appreciation to her sister, Miss Olga Fitzgerald, for sending her the Herald for a Christmas present. Mrs. Mahaffey stated that it was just like getting a letter from home each week, and she looked forward to the weekly visits. Mrs. Mahaffey is the former Miss Virginia Fitzgerald, her husband owning the Rexall Drug Store in that East Texas city. The ladies' parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fitzgerald of the old Harris community in northwest Terry, and were themselves readers of the Herald 45 years.

Next on docket, is O. E. Pollock, who out there at Bell Garden, Tex. His paper was to expire this month, and that old boy is usually a bit ahead of schedule with his sundulix. Best news was that O. E. is to be a visitor in Texas soon, and will call around to chew the rag a bit with us. And maybe take a cuppa Arbuttle with us. Says he really enjoys the visits of the Herald. Be looking for you, O. E.

One of our delights is to mess with the preachers. Some of them take everything we say in a serious way, and what we say don't seem to be a bit funny to them. Guess our mode of joking is a bit crude, but some of them understand and hack back at us.

Take Bill Andrews, for instance. He's our minister. So, maybe one Sunday, after services, we'll shake his paw, and remark: "Well, you did almost as well as we could today." Then the next Sunday, perhaps we'll remark, "Well, Bro. Bill, I believe you did a bit better than I could have done today." He usually thanks us but does not crack a smile.

But some preachers get our style of palaver. Take Rev. A. A. Brian, Baptist minister, who moved off down to Brownwood to be near better fishing. Or the Methodist minister, Rev. Denison, who took the First Church at Abilene last fall. Any wise crack we made at either of them we usually got a wise crack with interest. Then that boy by the name of West that moved west to Roswell, and was our preacher for some two or three years. He had headed too many cows on a broomtail pony to let us pull any sarcasm on him.

We have an idea that Bill Andrews will get onto us one of these days and give us one that will start us rolling. We are going to tie into that new one up at Crescent Hill some of these days. That name, McCoy, is so Irish that you can see the shamrock on his coat 100 yards away. But wait; he may belong to the McCoy-Hatfield feud back in West Virginia, and we better not monkey with him.

Sure was lots going on around this town Sunday. It was Decoration Day, and all the ex-service men and families as well as their friends and other interested parties, were having speechmaking at adult — finding a blasting cap should leave it alone and call the sheriff, a policeman or fireman."

The Sheriff explained that he is sounding the warning at the urgent request of the National Sheriff's Association and the Institute of Makers of Explosives, who for many years have been carrying on a vigorous educational campaign to acquaint the public with the dangers of blasting caps.

A 6-mm. 15-minute, sound-color film, "Blasting Cap," for children from five to sixteen, and Blasting Cap Safety Posters are made available free to teachers and other leaders of safety groups by the Institute, 250 East 43rd Street, New York 17, N. Y., or from Sheriff Lee.

Last year many boys and girls were injured in blasting cap accidents. It would have been too many if only one child was hurt, but there were over a hundred injuries due to careless handling of caps.

Boys and girls and adults, too, should know what blasting caps look like and the damage they can do. They are bright copper or aluminum tubes about as big around as a pencil, and from an inch and a half to five inches long. A cap may or may not have a fuse. Others have plain or colored wires at one end. All are charged with powerful explosives. They are needed to mine coal, build roads and tunnels, drain out swamps and clear fields, but if carelessly handled and they fall into the hands of boys and girls, serious injuries can result.

If you find a blasting cap, don't touch it. Call a sheriff, a policeman or fireman. They know how to dispose of them safely.

CLEAN-UP, FIX-UP & PAINT-UP

About 3,000 circulars urging participation in the clean-up, fix-up, and paint-up campaign, which started Saturday, were distributed last weekend from house to house by members of the local Boy Scouts. The campaign comes to a close tomorrow, Saturday.

Hints for cleaning up are: clean garages, vacant lots, attics, yards, etc., see that breeding places for flies and mosquitoes are drained or filled. A reminder is, "For Health's Sake—Co-operate."

In order to fix-up, it was suggested to place tight fitting lids on garbage cans, replace cans if necessary, repair screens, porches, fences, and woodwork. A note to the wise was, "Hazards Hurt—Fix 'Em!"

Under the heading of paint-up, it was suggested to paint inside and out, whitewash trees, paint porches, screens, woodwork, giving the advice that "Paint Preserves."

People of the city were reminded that city trash and garbage pickups will be made throughout the week and that all rubbish placed in alleys will be picked up.

"Let's do our best!"

The old Herald family were tickled beyond measure Saturday when the daughter, Mrs. Herman Trigg and little daughter, Sara Beth and the dog Rover, arrived on the scene for a weekend. Herman couldn't make it, as school was just out and he had some papers to go over. Been so long since we saw the other two twaddlers, Robert and Mary Ann, that we have to glance at their pictures occasionally.

"Behind the Scenes in American Business"
By Reynolds Knight

BEHIND THE SCENES — NEW YORK.—It's just a matter of days now until the combines will move into winter wheat fields at the southern edge of the nation's wheat belt. In spite of all the stories of drought, and the restrictions upon planting, wheat promises to overflow storage space quickly.

Federal loans are based upon wheat in approved storage. While some grain is piled on the ground in the Southwest in harvest-time every year, this has always been more a transport than a storage problem. This year there may be nowhere to move the wheat, even after cars are available.

Members of the auxiliary who worked Saturday were Mesdames W. M. Lewallen, W. C. McClure, Ben McNeil, Harold Wilson, A. M. Muldrow, T. P. Brown, Lonnie Drewry, Ora Mae Forgy, Jewell Reed, Joe O'Brian, J. L. Salmon, C. L. Lincoln, A. L. Stricklin, Sr., George Weiss, Darlene Turner, C. W. Brown, H. B. Children of VFW members who sold poppies included Vernon Lewallen, Harold D. Wilson, Harold Salmon, Danny Parks, Barry Lee Parks, Rosalie Salmon, Jeraline Salmon, and Winona Reed.

In pre-control years, cost of storage automatically hammered down prices until the wheat could move overseas. Liverpool would always buy wheat at some price—often not a remunerative one to the grower. Now there's a wheat agreement which tries to parcel up the world market among signatory nations, so no more than 200 million bushels of wheat is likely to move abroad during the crop year.

Carry-over wheat on June 1 will probably be 900 million bushels, just about twice its normal size. Any Agriculture officials with worrying time left over from that problem are probably worrying about what happens if all the elevators are filled with wheat and then we have a record corn crop, too.

"Hubbock" Is Griped!

It is not often that "Hubbock" reaches the point where everything they possess is not superior in every way to that of other towns and cities. Just no comparison!

How it must gripe those boys to have to admit that the Hubber baseball team is not only in the cellar, but is trying to burrow a bit deeper in the floor of the cellar.

Dr. and Mrs. T. H. McIlroy, 220 West Lake, left Wednesday for a fishing trip to Colorado City Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Henderson and their daughters were shopping in Brownfield, Saturday.

At the Courthouse. Later in the day came decoration of the graves of deceased service men, from the Civil War to presently.

One of the Civil War vets was a Federal Soldier, but the rest were Confederate, as well as a few Spanish War vets. As we understand it, there was some question about the grave of Uncle Jack Coble. He was a Confederate soldier, being a member of a North Carolina regiment. Let's remember that from this on.

When we publish our old 50th Anniversary Edition, soon, we are going to show a cut of the old Confeds, when there were some 12 or 15 of them still living here.
