Information comes to us that there will be 14 radar stations located over the State of Texas, 11 of which are now in operation, and three more, one each at Austin, San Antonio and Lubbock, to be in operation in the next six weeks. E. L. Hardy, regional director, informed Gov. Shivers that when the network is completed, we will be the most complete storm-warning system in the world.

Others now in operation are at Amarillo, Victoria, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Houston, Abilene, Ft. Worth, Galveston, Midland, San Angelo and Wichita Falls.

As the old darkey tune of our boyhood went, "there's a heap of trouble on the old man's mind, when Mary ran away with the coon." And since the old 50th year edition came out, two other people are claiming, and with good argument, that they were born in Terry County, and prior to the birth of Gay Price, as given in the edition.

We have a letter before us from Mrs. Byrdis (Walker) Danfeler, way out there at Albuquerque, N. M., who had been reading with interest one of the edition copies. She says she was born on April 19, 1903, some two months before Gay saw the light of day, at the John Walker place in the Rich Lake area. A Dr. Norris officiated, she stated, and he was given a cow and calf for his fee, valued at $25. But she states that they left here and moved to Pecos about five years after she was born. But the John Walker family still lived here when we were married in 1910, according to our memory.

Anyway Mrs. Danfeler owns a music school that bears her name, and according to the pictures and data she sent us, she has a place to be proud of, and we're glad for that used-to-be Walker gal. But hold your hosses, we have another claimant, born Carmen Allmon, that even predated Mrs. Danfeler's birth date. But for all we know, some Indian children could have been born in Terry County long before the 20th Century.

Some used to say Mrs. Roy (Brownfield) Wingerd was the first white child born in Terry County. But her dad, Dick Brownfield says she was born at Sweetwater.

But hold the hosses again: A re-examination of the records revealed that old Gay is a year older than we had him in the records. When the Price family left their old home at Eliasville to come to Terry, it was December, 1901. The late Grandma T. J. Price has told many friends that she did not discover she was an expectant mother until they left the old home.

She was very uneasy and discouraged about the matter, coming way out here where there were no doctors. They landed in Terry on Christmas Day, 1901, and Gay was born the next June. So, Gay is still the oldest white child known to have been born in Terry County.

As we write this on Monday the 23rd day of August, the Old He is three score and 14 years of age, and we have been getting some wonderful and cheering messages, mostly from kin, and cheering words from others. The first one received was from Brother Meeks down in old Johnson County. He

The Brownfield School System will open this fall as one of the largest industries in Terry County, with 129 people in its employ. Total school budget for the 1954-1955 term was recently set at $409,869.00. The largest portion of this $409,869.00, is budgeted for the instructional program, including salaries, teaching supplies, etc. Other expenditures show administration, including salaries, supplies, etc., $27,760.00; operation of plant, $36,685.00; maintenance of plant, $13,000.00; insurance, $4,812.00; and other miscellaneous expenditures, such as capital outlay for furniture and equipment, health services, transportation, cafeteria services, etc., $93,774.00.

There are nine persons on the administrative staff, including six principals. In addition there are 81 white classroom teachers and four colored teachers; also four secretaries are required for the school system.

Heading up the administration is O. R. Douglas, superintendent of schools, who has been with us a total of five years, three and a half as superintendent and one and a half years as high school principal. There is no assistant superintendent.

Principals of the various schools are Byron Rucker, high school; Delwin Webb, junior high; Bryan Jones, east ward; Joe A. Collum, west ward; Vernon Brewer, Jessie G. Randal School; and Charles E. Arnold, Wheatley colored school. John B. Curtis is director of curriculum and has been here two years.

Jessie G. Randal school cafeteria is under supervision of Mrs. Christine Mason and is responsible for its efficient and economical luncheon program. She has ten helpers.

Fred R. Smith has charge of the school band which rate among the very best in the state and have taken many honors in contests.

Otis Kelly is transportation foreman of the system's school buses, which are supplemented by the Rotary school bus and another bus rented from schools by the Rotary Club which gathers up small children for the Jessie G. Randal School.

It is estimated there will be 250 children enrolled in the first grade this year; and an overall enrollment of 2,000 in all the city schools.

3RD 'RASSLE CARD PRESENTED TONITE

With Cub Stadium now in daily use, Legion-sponsored wrestling returns to the Lions Ball Park tonight with the prelims scheduled to get underway at 8:30. Several new grapplers will be featured on the evening's card.

The curtain raiser brings together Billy Tully and Bob Taylor, while Nature Boy La Rosa and Carlos Mendoza mix it up in the semi-final. The feature event of the evening brings together "The Blimp" Jackson and locally-popular Dick Bryant.

This is a benefit performance for the Boy Scouts and local sports fans can be assured of an evening of entertainment with a portion of the proceeds going to a good cause. Tickets are on sale at Western Boot and Shoe Shop, and the usual $1.50, $1.00 and 50c prices prevail for ringside, general admission and children's tickets.

Bill Tarwater, of Amarillo, a brother of Mrs. G. G. Gore, is here visiting in the Gore home.

Two Men Here In The Interest Of Shivers' Campaign

Two young men were here in the interest of the campaign of Gov. Allen Shivers for Governor, Wednesday morning early. One of them, Bob Mullen, is State Representative of several counties in the group of which Duval and Jim Wells are a part. The other man was Sam Burris, District Attorney elect of a group of counties in that area, and we believe both live at Alice in Jim Wells County.

The two visiting speakers were accompanied by Al Muldrow, who heads the Shivers campaign in this county. After an address here the group left for Levelland and Littlefield for addresses.

The address here as well as those at Levelland and Littlefield were to be over radio. Both were exposing the lineup of Yarborough with Boss Parr's machine.

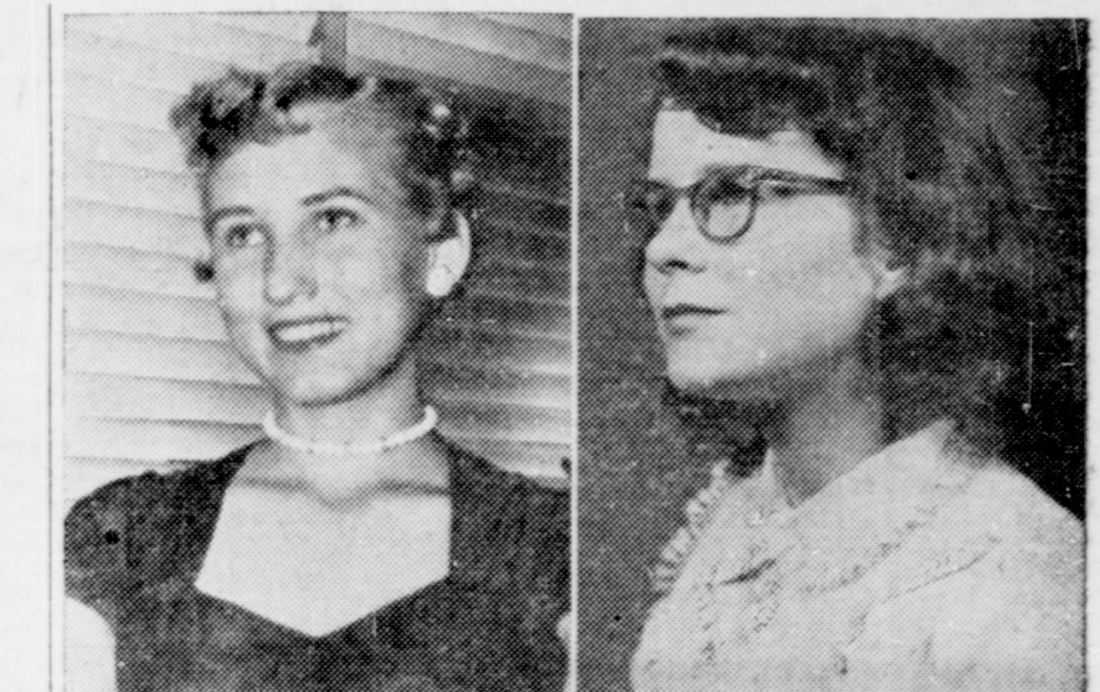

NEW OIL GUSHER IS BROUGHT IN NORTH OF WELLMAN MONDAY

There was almost as much excitement here Monday when it was announced that a gusher had been brought in down in the Wellman area, as there was back some five years ago, when the first well of the South Brownfield field was brought in. Brownfield has now become so well established as a headquarters town for the oil business, that it makes little difference if a well is five or 30 miles from town, as far as excitement is concerned.

But there was almost as much diversion of opinion here as to where the well was located, as there was in whose land the well was located. At that time, we had decided to drive out there, and about the only well derrick we could think of was the one almost north of Wellman, which is given as 1 1/2 miles northwest of Wellman. We had been over the F-M road from Wellman coming out into 380 at the County Farm 12 miles west of town, several times of late, and had seen no derrick

QUEEN CANDIDATES REHEARSAL was held August 20, at 8 p.m., for the Terry County Farm Bureau entrants who will vie for the crown Tuesday, August 31. J. C. Powell, who will serve as Master of Ceremonies at the evening program, talked with the girls and instructed them as to their performance at the contest. Another rehearsal will be held the afternoon of August 31 so that the girls may obtain last minute instructions and become more sure of themselves. Eight of the ten entrants are shown above, left to right, back row, Sue Burnett, Barbara Eaves, Ann Gibson, and Betty Mason. Sitting, left to right, are Gloria Ingram, Wanda Terry, Wanda Cornelius, and Patsy Joplin. Not shown are Jeanette Faulkenberry and Lillie Ruth Ray. (Staff Photo.)

DRIVERS WARNED TO WATCH THEIR SPEED

Next week our public schools are opening here in Brownfield, and all over the county for that matter, except the Meadow schools, which are postponed a week. But let us keep in mind that for the next nine months, the little fellows all over the country, will be darting in and out across our streets, many times unescorted. Also remember, that small fry often change their minds whether to cross a street or not at the drop of a hat.

Then too, we never know when they are going to dart out from between parked cars right in front of where we are driving. They become confused and rattled and can't seem to make up their little minds what to do. It is at this point that a sad tragedy can and may occur, one that the driver will regret the longest day of his life, and one that will cause sadness and broken hearts in the family of the little victim of our supposed hurry.

So, let us take stock of ourselves as drivers up and down our streets during the progress of our school. If we are inclined to get our mind on something 1,000 miles away and lam our big foot on the accelerator, and drive the old jittney up to 60 or even 80, why not paste a reminder on the instrument board in front of you. Perhaps it could be just a small picture of a wee lad or lassie being crushed to earth. This would help you to remember that a little fellow is liable to dash out from some hidden place right in front of you, and a powerful car stopped 60 or 80 just cannot be stopped in time to prevent a tragedy.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT ADOPTS 1954 BUDGET; TAXES TO BE RAISED

Terry County Commissioners' Court adopted the 1954 budget at a hearing held Monday. The court accepted the proposed budget drawn up by County Judge Herb Chesshir and County Auditor Dube Pyeatt.

The expenditures for 1954 were estimated at $463,100.27, in comparison with 1953's estimate of $418,399.

Pyeatt said that the increase in the budget was due mostly to payment on widening road projects, interest, and bond payments. The tax rate this year was raised two cents from $1.29 per $100, to $1.31.

According to Pyeatt, the 1953 budget had enough money in the jury fund, therefore an assessment of taxes was not necessary, but this year, the court found there was not enough money in the fund for another year, thus the two cent assessment.

Chesshir said that the court is trying to hold expenditures about the same as in 1953, except for the road bond payment. "The largest problem of the county is to try to balance the

A NEW AND BIGGER HIGGINBOTHAM BARTLETT Co. ARISES FROM THE ASHES!—The largest fire in Brownfield's history, which destroyed the lumber sheds of Higginbotham-Bartlett on March 22nd, was incentive for the construction of one of the most modern and best equipped lumber yards in this area. The two new lumber bins cover approximately 300 feet, and are fronted with creme brick, as is the modern office building. The business was established in 1917 and has as its manager, Cecil Smith. Mrs. Smith is bookkeeper, and Wendell Miller is assistant manager. The new buildings are located at the same site as the old ones, 115 North 6th, and the latest addition to the yards are cyclone fences. (Staff Photo.)

The American Creed

We believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many states; a perfect union, one and inseparable established upon these principles of freedom—equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots have sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

US Senator Price Daniel in a speech before the Senate, Aug. 11, introduced a bill for the possible establishment of a National Library for the Weekly Newspaper at Washington, D. C. Senator Daniel was joined in the introduction of the bill by Senator Johnson of Texas. In this way, Senator Daniel hopes to be able to preserve the papers that have been published for many years, as well as those currently being published, in order to preserve much of the historical data of the many towns and counties throughout the land. Old files are very valuable assets, as was proven recently, when we undertook the 50th anniversary edition of the Herald. In fact a lot of historical matter that was brought out in the edition, would have had to be left up to memory or perhaps tradition. Memory at its best lasts only a matter of a few years, and as we grow older, we get our facts and figures badly mixed. However, there comes a time in the life of mankind that sometimes things that happened way back in childhood, is easier to remember than just a few years back. We remember the case of Grandpa Shrock vividly. He could tell you stories by the hours that happened during and after the Civil War. He was a teamster for the Confederates, and it was his duty to take wagons to old Mexico, and bring back coffee, sugar, and other hard things to obtain because of blockade. On the other hand, perhaps he couldn't remember seeing a man yesterday. For that reason, such a library would be of untold value to a nation. If any fact was under dispute, a reference to the library would reveal the facts as they happened, and not just guess work. There is little wonder that Senator Daniel is taking a leading interest in this work, as he is not only a publisher of a weekly newspaper himself, but newspaper work goes back two generations. The publisher of the Henderson Times down in East Texas, is taking a leading part in such a work, and has at his own expense established a private library of weekly papers, and his working to the end that the idea may be spread to all sections of the USA. In a few instances, we have heard of men new at the newspaper game, who thought the accumulation of old papers was not only a mess, but perhaps a fire hazard. The Herald found years ago, that its valuable files were in condition to disintegrate with age, and built a vault for them. They have the history of Terry County wrapped up in them.

Of late we have seen quite a lot printed one way or another about the Mission Times, down in the Valley, receiving contracts for printing stationery, etc., for the State of Texas. In fact, one of our exchanges used a long editorial on the matter, and to save us we could not see that he made out a case. We knew he was for Judge Yarborough for Governor, and that much has been made of the matter by Mr. Yarborough, for the reason that Governor Shivers has well as his mother-in-law have stock in the Mission Times. When Attorney General Shepperd passed on the matter, that satisfied us, and we hoped it would be the last of the matter, as we figured Shepperd knows more about the state laws in a minute than we country editors will ever know. About the only question with Shepperd was that contracts, which are handled by the Board of Control and not the Governor, is that contracts for State printing had to go to the lowest bidder on that job. We believe this is the only fair and equitable method of awarding contracts. Further, we don't think it matters a tiny bit if the low bidder is owned by a struggling country printer or the Emperor of Irangoutang. And the very fact that the Mission Times only got one percent of State printing, instead of practically all of it, as some would like the public to believe. Perhaps if there had not been a hot campaign on, the matter would never have been brought to light, as Mission is not a large place, nor the Times a large paper. In fact, we believe it is just a weekly, same as the Herald. And having competitive bids from big and little concerns all over the State, they had to really make a good price or no go. But it is a funny thing how some people like to make a mouse trap into a grizzly bear trap, or that the publishers of the Mission Times made great gobs of money off the State of Texas. Anyone who understands the closeness of bids on job printing in even small towns, with only local printers bidding, will know forthwith that the Times made no fortune on the 1 percent of jobs they got at Austin. We have never been able to figure out why people will try to make a molehill into a mountain over anything, when politics are involved. If the truth was known, perhaps Gov. Shivers did not even know that the Mission Times was competing for State printing, as that does not pass through his hands. We should all be careful of leaving a wrong impression.

Perhaps some of the people in the oil production business here have seen some of the sorry messes we have made in trying to report on what happened and why, have taken pity on us and want us better informed about the oil business. Anyway, of late we have been receiving a magazine with the title, About Oil, put out by the American Petroleum Institute. The first thing it takes up is the origin of oil, and let us add that the geologists are not too sure themselves when oil was first created back in the bygone ages, nor just how it was formed. But as to time, the word millions of years is used. And it is believed that the liquid gold was formed by decaying vegetation in the ages when the whole universe perhaps looked like a Louisiana swamp. The subject goes into geological formations, including anticline, fault and stratigraphic charts. Lessons are given on the value of seismograph in hunting oil locations, and to read them understandingly. But here is a subject presented with illustrations of oil derricks that was more interesting to us. Suppose a new oil field is discovered by bringing in a well. How many producing oil wells may be expected from that field? One out of nine, the chart says. And how many wells do experienced drillers expect in a proven field? Only three wells out of four are expected to produce oil in what is known as proven fields. So, you see this oil business that has made multi-millionaires out of some and paupers out of others, is a great gamble, not unlike laying your stakes down on the roulette, or betting against the ponies. Then there are two methods presently recognized in drilling, the cable tool method and the rotary method, and new techniques are being figured out fast. Then first, a man or men are

THINKING OUT LOUD

By Lynn Landrum in The Dallas Morning News

I envy no Napoleon,
I crave no magic sword
To drive the world at large by force
To goals I'm striving toward.
And yet to town and state I owe

To vote as though alone I cast
The vote of everyone.

SHIVERS

Allan Shivers could step out of politics to his personal advantage, of course. His private fortune is such as to call for his full attention. His lovely family provides him with the most winsome of personal appeals for companionship and affection. His place in the history of Texas is assured. Notwithstanding all this, it seems to the column, there are grave and compelling reasons behind his candidacy for his third term as Governor of Texas. Great principles are at stake, and with these principles the fight of Governor Shivers has been so related that a man of his honor and courage can not bring himself to lay down his arms and retire from the conflict.

It is a principle that men and parties get their orders from the people. Against that principle is the candidacy of a man named Yarborough, who says that it is disloyalty and treachery not to take orders from the big boys upstairs. It is a principle that Texas came into the Union possessed of her domain, secure in her rights as a state and sovereign within the delimitations of the Constitution to which Texas then adhered. Against that principle non-Texans have sought to rob us of our tidelands, strip us of our right to speak our own minds and carry out our own policies.

It is a principle that Texas and the will of the people called Texans are paramount against any national convention or committee under any name or pretended powers whatsoever. Yarborough, Americans for Democratic Action, CIO and a motley crew of the liberalitariat oppose that principle.

We go to the polls to take our stand on these things.

Consider the record on a true or false basis:

FALSE: Shivers alone recovered the tidelands. TRUE: Many men of courage and fidelity had their part in it. But Shivers risked his political life in that cause; no Governor could have done more. FALSE: Shivers alone raised public schoolteachers' pay from $2,636 to $3,460 per year. TRUE: He refused to pretend to a greater rise in their salary when he knew the money was not available. Shivers' part in the actual increase is as substantial as it is honest.

FALSE: Shivers gets sole credit for improved conditions in state hospitals. TRUE: Conditions have improved; Shivers did all a Governor is empowered to do to encourage and effect improvements. FALSE: Shivers claims sole credit for a better prison system. TRUE: The system steadily improves under increasing load. Shivers has solidly backed prison betterment and his re-election would guarantee further betterment.

FALSE: Shivers fights labor. TRUE: He has fearlessly opposed Communist infiltration of labor in certain local unions and has opposed CIO's campaign to monopolize labor and dominate industry.

FALSE: Shivers has been stingy with state funds. TRUE: Texas has a balanced budget and its financial condition is as good as that of any other state in the Union.

expected to be sent into the fields, and make leases, as no oil concern would or could possibly own all the land they aim to develop. There are some 220 million acres of land in the USA under lease on which no tests have been made to date. The next process is to send in a bunch of geologists, or as we call them out here in the oil country, "rock hounds," with small hole punching machinery, followed by the tests with seismograph machines. It is really a story of risks, when we think of the very expensive machinery, running into the thousands of dollars, not to mention the pay of the crews who run them, whether a dry hole or producer. All this just to get the oil to the top of the ground. That is just a starter.

JUST A JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRATIC FARMER

The writer has been a legal voter since 1910, and for the first time in our life we are beginning to understand the meaning of the word "Democrat." A Democrat is a two legged animal who is always ready to bury the hatchet in the head of another Democrat. So get in there with your hatchet and slug it out with your one-time friends. Boycott your business man if he does not vote "right," even though he may have stood by you during sickness, poverty and calamity. He should forever be classed as an "undesirable," and should be reported to a Congressional investigating committee if he does not vote the way you vote.

If you have kept up with the campaign speeches and TV appearances, you already know that Judge Yarborough has said more than once, that a Demo on the side lines can vote the Republican ticket and still be a Democrat; and he says it is his duty to do so if he thinks it is to the best interests of his country to do so. Nice for Judge Yarborough to make a statement of that kind. Some of us who had voted 'er straight for more than forty years, and had voted for Eisenhower two years ago, did not know whether we could qualify for membership in the Demo party again or not. Surely the Yarborougherats would never doubt a statement that was made by the Judge.

Before you say too many harsh things about Allan Shivers because he did not support the nominee of his party, you should remember that the late FDR voted the Republican ticket more times than Governor Shivers has; and while Roosevelt was President he threw his influence to some Republicans during their campaigns. Was that like a pitcher throwing the game. No one said that FDR was a traitor to his party.

It has been said that the Demo platform is always written to please the North and West and not to please the South, because the South—even Texas—in the past has been considered in the bag for the party—regardless of the man or platform. Under the leadership of Governor Shivers, Texas forced the political parties to woo the Texas vote and did they pitch their woo our way? A vote for Allan Shivers is a vote to convince the Northern wing of the Demo party that Texas is not in the bag. In our opinion, Shivers has been as good a governor as Texas has had at any time during the past quarter of a century. Allan Shivers is a Southern Conservative Democrat, whose every heart beat is for local self-government and states' rights—which was the policy of Jefferson.

Some Yarborough boosters have said that they do not favor the policies of Jefferson; say they are too old to apply to present day conditions. Jeffersonian Democracy is old—older than the foundation of the world, as it came from the heart and brain of God. Yarborough would have us believe that flexible price supports means a bankrupt agriculture. When Congress passed the flexible price supports bill, it was considered a victory for the Farm Bureau over the more radical Farmers Union. Mr. Kline, of the Farm Bureau, should be remembered with gratitude, as it is he who has been in there pitching for flexible price supports for the past six years; striving to keep the farmers from prices themselves out of the market.

Here's hoping the time has not come when a political party has to buy votes with the tax-payers' own money. No one knows the kind of farm program a majority of farmers want. We are wondering if the time has come when the Negro and CIO votes will hold the balance of power in Texas politics. No one is qualified to speak for our gallant soldier boys, but we do know that some of these boys who have proved their love for their country by the scars upon their bodies have said that they would never support a candidate who has the backing of either John L. Lewis, or the CIO, as they felt like the strikes that had been called at a critical time had crippled production in such a way as to cause some mother's son to be slaughtered in combat.

The most vicious and gigantic monopoly in America today is Unionism under the selfish leadership that they now have. They say Yarborough wrote the first legal opinion in regard to our tidelands. Yes, but after he had done that, he supported a man for President who favored taking this valuable property away from Texas; and that sounded to us like a man making a prohibition

TRIBUTE TO AMERICA

God built him a continent of glory, and filled it with treasures untold. He studded it with sweet flowing fountains, and traced it with long-winding streams. He carpeted it with soft-rolling prairies, and columned it with thundering mountains. He graced it with deep-shadowed forests, and filled them with song. Then he called unto a thousand peoples, and summoned the bravest among them. They came from the ends of the earth, each bearing a gift and a hope. The glow of adventure was in their eyes, and in their hearts the glory of hope. And out of the bounty of earth, and the labor of men; out of the longing of hearts, and the prayer of souls; out of the memory of ages, and hopes of the world, God fashioned a nation of love, and blessed it with purpose sublime, and called it AMERICA!

"Behind the Scenes in American Business"

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK.—That $6 billion temporary increase in the size of the national debt sounds remote to the little man trying to make ends meet. There's a chance, though, that it will put some money in his pocket in the next few months.

Business is turning up. The administration wants it to turn up a little faster. Three weeks ago Secretary of Commerce Weeks said publicly that the White House would like to speed contract-letting and procurement. Any extra spending, however, seemed likely to embarrass Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who already feared he would not be able to meet all government obligations under the old debt limit.

Now that has been eased. Orders will be moved up for Army, Navy and Air Force hardware. Public works will move into actual construction faster. This means more jobs in the metal working centers where joblessness has been greatest. It means companies will stop letting inventories of steel run down. Then the barometric steel industry will raise production.

Everyone will feel better, both in the basic industries and out. Consumers will quit worrying and resume buying. At least that's the theory, and the debt limit rise provides a means for trying it out.

A vaccine for bluetongue, a disease of sheep, is now in production by four commercial laboratories. Workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station made several contributions to the basic research on the disease.

The Texas 4-H Junior Leadership Camp will be held at the Bastrop State Park, August 23-28.

Farm and Home Safety Week for 1954 is now history but living to farm and farming to live should be a daily reminder that accidents lurk in a thousand or more places on every farm and carelessness will put them to work.

MANAGEMENT AND LABOR JOIN IN STUDEBAKER AGREEMENT

South Bend, Ind.—Signing of an agreement between The Studebaker Corporation and the bargaining committee of Local 5, UAW-CIO brought to a conclusion weeks of conferences between management and labor in which new and competitive wage rates were worked out for more than 10,000 Studebaker employees. The new rates, while somewhat lower, are still the highest paid in the industry. The company hailed the agreement as a "further demonstration of the teamwork between Studebaker workers and management that has existed for more than 102 years—a unique spirit of cooperation that has been in many ways Studebaker's greatest asset, resulting as it has in the superior craftsmanship and quality for which the company has been known." Shown signing the agreement, after it was ratified by an overwhelming majority of members of the local, are (seated, left to right) H. S. Vance, Studebaker president; Louis J. Horvath, president of Local 5; Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the board of Studebaker. Behind Horvath is Paul M. Clark, vice president in charge of Industrial relations. J. D. (Red) Hill, (behind Vance) international representative to Local 5, and Forest Hanna, (white shirt) vice president of Local 5, observe the signing of the agreement along with members of the union's negotiating committee.

PLENTIFUL FOODS LISTED FOR SEPT.; BEEF IS FEATURED

Beef is featured on September's plentiful foods list. It gets top ranking because supplies are heavy and prices are about the lowest so far this season.

Beef, however, will not be the only major food on next month's list for at least 15 others are listed by the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service in the Southwest.

Homemakers will find plenty of medium and small eggs; milk and other dairy products; turkeys; hens, broilers and fryers; honey and rice; peanuts and peanut butter; fresh and processed lemons and limes; salad oils and vegetable shortenings when shopping in September.

If the old adage, "Variety is the spice of life" be true, then grocery shoppers next month by taking advantage of the "best buys" should be able to give the family a pleasing and nutritious variety of good eating.

speech and voting for a sot drunkard because he was the nominee. A Yarborough booster should be ashamed to mention "tidelands." They say Yarborough is the grandson of a Confederate soldier. If I were a Yarborough booster I would be ashamed to drag the Confederate soldier—the soldier who carried a musket four long years fighting for states' rights—into as dirty a campaign as Yarborough has been waging.

When there was a clear cut issue—States' Rights vs Federal Control—where was Yarborough? Was he loyal to states' rights, and Texas school children, or loyal to a Truman hand-picked candidate? Men may come and men may go, but the fight for States' Rights will go on forever. The late Al Smith took defeat when he upheld States' rights on the prohibition question—and look what you got when you voted against him.

HALF OF AMERICAN HOME NEED ELECTRIC SYSTEM MODERNIZED

Half of the homes in America today need larger wires or more circuits to take care of their increased electrical needs with air conditioners, television, home freezers, etc., a report from the United States Department of Agriculture reveals.

Well-equipped homes may be using twice as much electricity in 1955 as they did in 1945. Adequate wiring systems are an investment not only in home safety but also in efficient and economical operation of electric appliances.

Misuse of electricity now accounts for 12 per cent of home fires. Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says overloaded wires have become an increasing home hazard as families use more and more electrical equipment without modernizing household wiring systems.

Overloaded wires can blow fuses or overheat and damage insulation. Then they may start fires smoldering in the walls.

WATER BALLET

An old railroad engineer had just pulled his locomotive up to the water tank. The fireman mounted the tank and brought down the spout. His foot got tangled and he stepped right into the tank.

"Son," laconically said the engineer, "just fill the tank with water. You don't have to stomp it down."

WHAT! NO "C"?

A brass rookie stepped out of the batter's box after a called strike and asked Umpire Moriarty, "How do you spell your name, sir?"

The puzzled but unsuspecting umpire gave it to him letter by letter.

Sighed the rookie, "Just as I thought, only one 'i'."

L. H. Plant Planted Some Fine Vegetables

Not so long ago, we sought to guy L. H. Plant, of Johnson community a little, and asked him why he didn't bring us something good to eat off the farm. Said he would one of these days, and we just let the matter pass there.

But last week, he brought us some nice cantaloupes, bell tomatoes and a lot of grapes. In fact he brought enough for both Stricklin families and we have enjoyed the treat very much. Said they'd been having all the grapes they could use and preserve for weeks.

But sorter wondered if L. H. or Mrs. Plant propagated these vegetables. Anyway they were "delish" and we appreciated them very much. Call again, Bro. Plant.

George Casey and his aunt, Mrs. J. T. Bowman, went through the Carlsbad Caverns on last Friday and returned home Saturday.

The Idea! Us Getting Up At Seven A. M.

Asked that McCoy preacher this week how their meeting at Crescent Hill was coming along, and he allowed as how it couldn't be better. Told him we'd been thinking of coming out some night, although night calls, visits, etc., were sorter out with us.

Then he offered to call for us some morning at 7 a.m., pay for us a cuppakooffee, and take us on to church. Why we are not generally up at that time of morning, much less ready to go anywhere.

But we do aim to hear that man Hailey, before it is all over.

Victim of Shooting Accident Is Buried At Lamesa, Tuesday

Funeral services for Richard Lee Hamm, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Hamm, of Plains, were conducted at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday in the Lamesa Church of Christ, with W. T. Hamilton, minister, officiating, assisted by Cecil Allen, minister of the Plains Church of Christ.

The boy was killed about 6 p.m., Sunday, when a gun carried by his companion was accidentally discharged, according to the Lubbock Avalanche Journal. The two boys, together with another friend, were hunting in a neighborhood pasture near the Hamm farm and started back to their pickup truck and were crossing a cattle guard when the companion slipped and fell. In his fall, the gun he was carrying was discharged, shooting young Hamm. The two boys rushed Hamm to his home but he was dead on arrival.

Hamm was a student at Plains and was to celebrate his 14th birthday next month. The family moved to Plains two years ago from Lamesa. The boy was born in Ontario, Calif.

Burial was in Lamesa Memorial Park, under the direction of Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Survivors include the parents, the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Hamm, Lamesa; and a brother, Don, 18, of Plains.

Once we make a firm decision to improve, we're on base and with luck may make the circuit.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. A veteran friend of mine forgot to pay his GI insurance premium when it was due, and he died during the 31-day grace period. Will his beneficiaries receive his insurance proceeds, or are they out of luck?

A. Inasmuch as the grace period had not expired, his beneficiaries will receive the insurance proceeds, minus the unpaid premium.

Q. I am enrolled in a two-year business course under the Korean GI Bill. I understand I am entitled to 30 days' absence a year. If I don't use up all my absences the first year, can I carry over the rest to use in the second year?

A. No. Unused absences may not be carried over from one year to the next. During your second year you still will be allowed no more than 30 days' absences—regardless of how many days you used up your first year.

Q. I bought a house with a GI loan. Recently my house was completely gutted by fire. Would it be possible to have my GI loan rights restored, so that I can buy another house?

A. Yes. It is possible, under the law, to restore your GI loan rights. However, VA must be free from liability on the original loan. Your nearest VA office can provide you with all the details.

Q. I have just been separated from service, and I intend to apply for Korean GI term insurance. What's my deadline?

A. You must apply, and pay your first premium, within 120 days after the date of your separation. Remember, 120 days is not always four calendar months, so be sure you apply within the 120-day period.

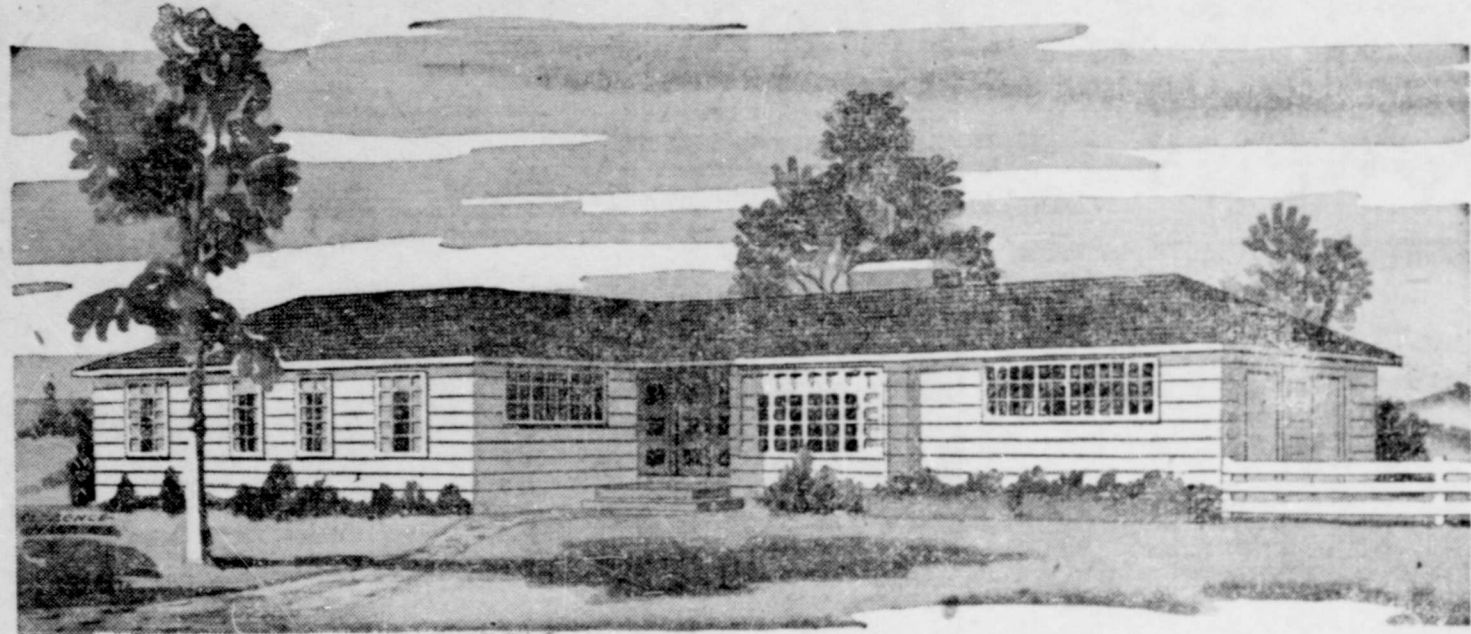

PROBITY

Allan Shivers has been honest with state money. He has been honest with interests legitimately seeking appropriations. He has been honest with the trust imposed in him by those who gave him his high post of leadership and authority.

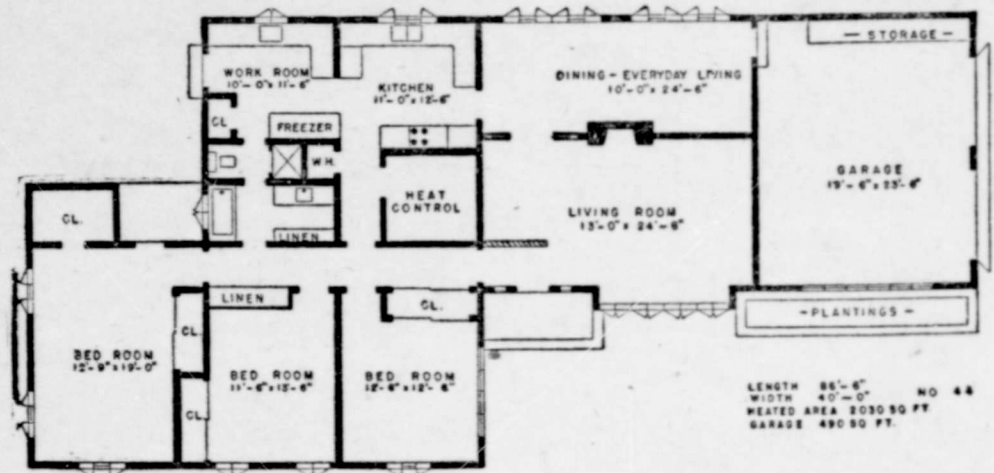

Beyond that, Allan Shivers has been scrupulously honest in his personal dealings and in his representation of the large private estate left to his management. Campaign efforts to pretend otherwise are scurrilous and undeserving of the support of sincere men.

Allan Shivers is a refreshing reminder that a politician can be courageous and successful, too.

HOUSE PLAN No. 44

IT'S BIGGER THAN YOU THINK

Farm and Ranch House Plan No. 5244 has plenty of conveniently arranged space for all of the family activities.

The workroom and kitchen are served by the same plumbing lines that serve the bathroom. In fact, all of the utilities needed to make a complete home are located in the area only 19 feet by 24 feet.

The dining-everyday living area is designed with one "window" wall to make it an especially bright and cheery spot. When the sliding doors are opened, the two areas will give a sense of spaciousness and will accommodate your largest group of guests. The living room is located so that it can be closed up when not in use.

Each bedroom has more than adequate closet space—not the closets in the master bedroom. The closet for the front bedroom is designed with sliding doors on both sides so that it may serve the bedroom and also can be used for the visitors' coats.

The back entrance into the workroom allows the field hands convenient access to the bathroom.

Courage is the consciousness of power, the realization that emergencies can be met, obstacles overcome. As long as we do not become suspicious of our own ability, we are courageous.

Two Propositions Carry At Plains; One Proposal a Tie

The people of Plains, in a very close vote, approved the issuance of revenue bonds for the purpose of buying or constructing an electric system and a sewer system, and at the same time tied a vote on issuing bonds for a gas system.

The vote, which was held Tuesday of this week, showed 96 favoring the electric system to 95 votes against; 95 favoring the gas system to 95 against; 103 favoring the sewer system to 89 against.

The bond issues, totaling $410,000, were divided as follows: $159,000 for lights, $114,000 for gas; and $137,000 for sewer. The City Council met Thursday night to canvass and approve the votes.

A motion was entertained and passed by the Council by a four to one majority to call another election for issuance of bonds to purchase or construct a gas system.

ELEVEN NEW FAMILIES LOCATE IN B'FIELD

According to Welcome Wagon, eleven new families have located in our city in the last week or ten days. Among the eleven families they had a total of 16 children, only two of the families being childless, presently.

As usual, most of the newcomers were with the oil fraternity in one capacity or another, six of the eleven families being so designated. The occupation of two was given as brick masons, one was with a motor company; one was a ginman and one had no occupation mentioned.

Two of the families, the masons, were from Kilgore, while all the oil people were from Ada, Okla. One each was from Seagraves, Childress, and Hart, Texas.

Welcome, thrice welcome to our fine little city.

HALF TO INCH RAIN FALLS OVER THE WEEKEND

Brownfield seemed to have been the neglected spot in the area during the weekend rain, Saturday and Sunday, as only 57/100 was registered by USWB gauge here. From what we could gather from the SCS and County Agent departments, Brownfield was in the middle of the minimum rainfall of the county and area.

This was proven to us Monday afternoon in a drive to view the crops south of F-M to Forrester, thence east on a dirt road to a juncture with the Lamesa highway, and in home. We found much more water standing over several miles from town than here.

We were told that it ranged from a bit more than a half inch here to an inch or more in some sections, and that it was the salvation of the young feed crop, and would keep the cotton growing and fruiting.

The drouth has increased the need for winter pastures in Texas. "When planting time comes in your area, plant," advises E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. Dusting in the seed is recommended as a time-saver. Use fertilizer.

The Khapra (cap-ra) beetle, a native of India, Ceylon and Malaya, has been found by USDA entomologists in California, Arizona and New Mexico. It's small and brown and looks much like some other grain-feeding bugs. Uncontrolled, it could become a serious pest of stored grain and grain products. If an unfamiliar bug shows up in your stored grain, report it to your county agent.

Fire is a constant threat during the cotton harvesting and ginning season. Farmers and ginners can help each other by the farmer keeping fire hazards out of the un-ginned cotton, and the ginners, by maintaining adequate fire control equipment in the gin, training employees to handle fire emergencies and keeping the gin plant reasonably clean.

LADIES RESENT BEING CALLED REPUBLICANS

Had a letter this week from Austin, in which appeared the signature of three of the ladies of Precinct 229 at Austin, resenting the accusation that they were Republicans, and that the box usually went Republican. This is the home box of Judge Yarborough, but went for Shivers 893 to 367 in the July 24 primary.

They cite the fact that the box went for Roosevelt four times, from 1932 to 1944, and went for Harry Truman in 1948. But after Harry's hand-picked man came out for stealing Texas tidelands, Box 229, like the rest of Texas, went for Eisenhower.

They state they are still Democrats, the old states' rights kind, and not for a bunch of Socialists and labor unions in the north and east running Texas.

visited in Seymour, Saturday through Tuesday, with Mrs. Randal's sister, Mrs. Charlie Randal.

Nunn-Doyle Vows Read in Oklahoma Church Recently

Miss Wilma Lou Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Doyle of Victory, Okla., became the bride of Warren Gilbert Nunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nunn of Odessa, in a double ring ceremony read recently at Altus, Okla., Church of Christ. Robert Boyd, minister from Olustee, Okla., officiated. The Nuns are former Brownfield residents.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Elmo Brinkman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon net over white satin, buttoned from the tiny collar to the hemline with rhinestones. Her finger-tip veil of nylon net fell from a band of flowers, and she wore white lace mitts. For something old she chose an heirloom locket belonging to the bridegroom's mother, and something new was her wedding gown. A rhinestone bracelet was something borrowed, and she wore a blue garter for something blue. A penny was placed in her shoe for luck. The bridal bouquet was an orchid surrounded by a shower of gladioli petals.

Mrs. J. C. Wiseman attended her sister as matron of honor, and Mrs. Frank Sheppard, sister of the bridegroom, lighted tapers. Viki Lynn Martin was flower girl, and Eddie Paul Brinkman was ring bearer.

Don Bevers of Brownfield served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Macky Hord and Lanny Webb, both of Brownfield.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Karen Morton registered the guests. Miss Tresen Chadwick and Mrs. Montrey Kaufman served.

The couple left after the reception for a wedding trip to Colorado, and will be at home after Sept. 1, at 105 West Franklin, Weatherford, Okla.

Mrs. Nunn has attended Southwestern State College at Weatherford for two years, and the bridegroom has completed three years of study there. He will continue his work in pharmacy there this fall. Nunn is a member of Alpha Nu fraternity.

Out-of-town wedding and reception guests included the bridegroom's parents, his two grandmothers, Mrs. W. D. Nunn of Fairbairns, Texas, and Mrs. C. H. Mashburn, of Moran, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shappard of Dallas, Mrs. Doyle of Lawton, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Bert McWatters of Marlow, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Chadwick, of Duke, Okla.

CHRYSLER DEVELOPS GAS TURBINE

Something really new in passenger car motive power is Chrysler Corporation's experimental gas turbine engine, now undergoing road tests in a production model Plymouth car at the 4,000-acre Chrysler engineering Proving Grounds, largest in the world, near Chelsea, Michigan. By means of a revolutionary new heat exchanger, or regenerator, Chrysler engineers have designed for the first time an automotive gas turbine that combines outstanding performance characteristics with fuel economy comparable to that of today's piston engines and exhaust temperature cooler than that discharged by the average car, Chrysler emphasized, however, that development of the new gas turbine does not mean that such an engine is ready for general use.

Whether there ultimately will be commercial production of gas turbines for passenger cars depends on the long-range solution of many complex metallurgical and manufacturing problems, and there is no indication now how long it will take to solve these problems. In photo at top, George J. Huebner, Jr., (right) Chrysler Corporation Executive Engineer, points to the experimental Chrysler gas turbine engine, which fits easily into the engine compartment of a Plymouth car. William L. Chapman, turbine project engineer, looks on at left. In lower photo L. L. Colbert, President of Chrysler Corporation, demonstrates how effectively the new Chrysler gas turbine solves the long-standing turbine problem of high temperature exhaust.

The Eagle or the Oyster?

© Fritz Henle—Courtesy Cities Service Company

Now comes the season of the year when the Red, White and Blue is glorified in oratory throughout the land. Placitudes flow, Washington, Lincoln, Franklin, Patrick Henry, and Jefferson are quoted. For speakers bold enough to break with this tradition, we suggest the examination of a speech written by Marie Thorpe, editor of SERVICE Magazine, for the July issue. Theme—"The Eagle or the Oyster?"

For a people . . . who elect opportunism rather than opportunity, who dream of security rather than success; who believe political charity is a virtue; who mock the frugal and plunder the thrifty; who adopt the rule that if I don't succeed you are to blame, that what you have is as much mine as yours; who contend that property is a shameful sign of success; who whimper that failure is the nobler cause; well-being is wicked; prudence, out-of-date; sacrifice silly—for such a people a fitting emblem is the Oyster.

For a people . . . who faced nature in the raw, with privation the rule and hardihood a virtue;

who endured defeat, disease and disaster for a hundred years in order to get a foothold on the Eastern Seaboard, the while with one eye on the interior, a no-man's land, a cockpit for settling international rivalries and private grudges, disputed by wild animals and wilder redmen; who sacrificed thus for a belief in the worth and dignity of the individual;

who believed that economic freedom was as important as political freedom;

who substituted "In God We Trust," for the Old World motto "In Government We Trust"; for a nation built by men who dedicated their lives to achieve the realization of these beliefs, I give you, fellow citizens—the Eagle!

Those going from here were Jess McWherter and L. L. White, manager of the Farmers Coop Gin. Jess didn't get to fish but about 30 minutes, as he was too sea-sick. The largest fish caught were a 27-pound marlin and a 25-pound jackfish.

BUILD A BACKFIRE

Americans today must face the following two vital facts: (1) Socialism in one form or another continues to expand its area of control across the earth; and (2) the only really effective backfire that could be built against the encroachment of this dark shadow must be built here in the United States. If we fail to build the backfire and keep it burning ever brighter through the next few years, civilization may be plunged backward into another Dark Age like the one which followed the collapse of the Roman Empire.

Yes, the situation is just that serious. The answer to this towering problem lies, I feel, in mobilizing a concerted effort among our whole US population toward the building up of two kinds of strength—physical strength and moral strength. They go hand in hand. One cannot be maintained for long without the other.

Keynote of Service

We can build the moral strength of America in only one way—by each of us dedicating a large portion of our lives to Christ, by standing firm upon the mighty foundation of Christian principles given to mankind 2,000 years ago by the Son of God; and by developing an inexhaustible faith in the triumph of right over wrong. Each of us should make this his personal objective. Altogether we should make it our common objective at the community, state and national levels.

The building of our physical strength can be limited only by how strong we make the productive might of our industries, our mines, forests and farms; and how steadfast we stand on the political and economic principles embedded in our constitutional government—from the grass roots up to Washington. Each citizen of America has as much a part in the building of this collective physical strength as he has in adding his faith and his dedication to the moral strength of the nation.

Good System

We have a system in America that we know is good. It has its faults of operation, but they are being corrected out of our experience as we advance. Our system likewise may be abused because of the earthly temptations that sometimes control imperfect people. But none of the faults can be traced to the fundamental structure of the system itself. The fundamental principles have been proved to be the best combination possible, on the basis of our present knowledge, for everybody's welfare.

With our system we out-produce every other nation in the world by wide margins. In fact we produce almost as much as the rest of the nations combined. During the last war we did surpass the rest of the entire world in armament production. The living standard of the average American citizen is three times that of his counterpart in Europe, and at least five times that of the average citizen of Asia. American production today is the greatest deterrent to aggression by world Communism. And it serves too as an outright denial of the Socialist's claim that our American capitalism doesn't work for the good of all.

Government's Help

A healthy productive system must have incentives and an atmosphere stimulating to its growth. In this area government definitely plays a part. Sound government is necessary to the strengthening and growth of American production. Sound government is vital to our overall national strength. Thus government's soundness and health are vital factors in any problem requiring the full strength of our nation.

Our government can maintain these important qualities only if enough of our citizens sacrifice enough time from more pleasurable pursuits and engage actively in governmental affairs. Our local, state and national governments reflect the sum total of the intelligence and the political action of our citizenry.

And so, our own self-interest and safety of our national and personal freedom depend upon each of us becoming more active in religious, economic, and public affairs.

Pardon the pun, but permit me to observe that most meetings held in behalf of the public well are usually preceded by an expensive meal.

COUPLES BRIDGE MET WITH ANDERSONS

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson, 1006 E. Buckley, were hosts to the Tuesday Night Couples Bridge Club, at 8 p.m., Aug. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Kendrick won high score for couples and Mrs. Kendrick won bingo. Other bingo winner was Howard Hurd. Refreshments of cream pie and coffee were served to Messrs. and Meses. Tommy Zorns, Curtis Sterling, George O'Neal, Johnny Kendrick, Howard Hurd, Mrs. Bobby Jones, and Mrs. Lois Sturdivant of Haskell.

Mrs. Les Newberry, 216 East Broadway, is in a Dallas hospital after undergoing surgery, Tuesday. Friends learned Wednesday that she had been given three blood transfusions, and was not doing so well.

Around the clock during 1952-1953, the Red Cross provided blood for defense and civilian use at an average rate of eight donations per minute.

LOCAL 'PHONE CO. HAS GET-TOGETHER

General Telephone Company employees enjoyed a family get-together last Friday evening at the Coleman Park. Approximately 75 people chatted, played volleyball and bingo, and feasted on good ole Terry County watermelons.

Of course, the volleyball games came first; after the watermelons were cut no one was able to play ball.

Other than local employees, F. W. Hamper, personnel manager, and his family from the general office at San Angelo attended.

Duties of State Health Department

Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, in outlining the duties of the Texas State Health Department, said in a statement today that public health programs are designed to benefit all the people.

"In an effort to prevent disease," Dr. Holle said, "the Texas State Health Department carries on an educational program informing the public as to how they can secure protection by vaccination against smallpox, typhoid fever, and immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus; by investigating sources of disease outbreaks; by isolating those ill with communicable disease; inspection of water supplies; advocating the production and use of safe milk to prevent the occurrence of milk borne diseases and many other services to the public."

Dr. Holle said that in spite of preventive measures, people will become ill and accidents will happen. In general, the cure of sickness in the individual and the repair of accidents fall within the scope of the duties of the private practitioner of medicine and surgery. "Of course," he said, "the private practitioner of medicine is also engaged in prevention of disease when he advises mothers to have their children and family protected again those diseases for which there is a known preventive."

The general practitioner and the State Department of Health both advocate that it is better to remain healthy than it is to recover from an illness, but the State Health Department is engaged in the prevention and control of disease as it affects the general population of a community or state.

MEADOW SCHOOLS OPENING WILL BE DELAYED A WEEK

The Meadow Independent School District had planned to open schools August 30, but will not be able to open until the following week because of needed building repairs.

The high school building is being repaired and re-decorated, and the new elementary school building is still under construction. The elementary building is scheduled to be finished for use by January 1, 1955, according to contractor, A. B. Bell and Co.

There are about 250 auditorium seats in good condition to be sold at a bargain. They would be real good for a small church.

The old elementary building will be torn down and a new gymnasium erected in its place as soon as the new building is completed. If any one is interested in purchasing the old building they should contact J. L. Carroll, superintendent, within the next five days.

The Meadow faculty is complete with the exception of the first grade teacher. Those interested in the position should contact J. L. Carroll, superintendent or J. Hollis Lloyd, elementary school principal at Meadow, Texas.

The present faculty members are: J. L. Carroll, superintendent; Al Durbin, high school principal; Jene Tyre, football coach and assistant basketball coach; Bill Preston, basketball coach and assistant football coach; Fred Igo, vocational agriculture teacher; Mrs. Leota Condray, vocational homemaking teacher; Miss Mary Wells, English teacher; Mrs. Lucille Shin, high school social studies and chorus.

Grade school teachers: J. Hollis Lloyd, elementary principal; Jene Tyre, Elmer Watson, Joe Burleson, Mrs. Myrtle Nowlin, Mrs. J. L. Carroll.

Following is the program for the opening of school.

Sept. 2: 10:00 a.m., Teachers meeting to study school policies. 2:00 p.m. Teachers to prepare for registration. 1:00 to 3:00 p.m., Senior Class registration.

Sept. 3: 8:50 a.m., Buses arrive at school. 9:00 to 11:00, All grades except seniors, will register. 11:00 Buses return home with children. 1:00 p.m., Teachers meeting to study policies and make final plan for formal school opening.

Sept. 6: 9:00 a.m., formal opening and regular schedule, to which the public is invited.

Eleanor Miller Will Teach in NC College

Miss Eleanor Jean Miller, resident of Brownfield, has been appointed Spanish and sociology teacher at Warren Wilson Junior College, Swannanoa, N. C., by the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church, USA. She will begin there Sept. 1.

Warren Wilson Junior College is a co-educational boarding school with three years of high school and two years of junior college work. It includes both vocational and university preparatory courses. A majority of the students come from the southern mountain area, but students come from all parts of the United States and a dozen foreign countries. The school has a work program requiring students to spend half a day in classes and half at work; it is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Miss Miller grew up in Brownfield, and after finishing high school there, studied sociology at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. There she was active in the Bookreviewers club, Sociology club, and Westminster Fellowship.

In her home community she has been a secretary and, during the past year, social studies teacher in the public school. She has also been a girl scout leader.

Unemployed farm equipment doesn't cut labor costs. Farm machinery to return a profit to the farmer, like the hired labor, must be kept busy. Farmers should consult their equipment dealer on the size and type of equipment required for doing specific operations.

BRACEROS ORGANIZING—Jesus Avila, vice president of the Mexican Agricultural Workers Union in El Paso, signs up Jose Silva, left, a bracero from Villa Aldama, Chihuahua, Mexico. Farm and ranch association leaders are expressing concern at the drive to organize itinerant farm workers which in their opinion is gathering headway as left wing union organizers boast that they'll "sew up" Texas if their candidate is elected Governor.

Today when a small child misbehaves while being dressed for a trip to the country, the mother threatens to leave her at home with a "sitter," which in this modern day seems to be a fate worse than being locked in the attic.

Presumably lawyers sometimes go through bankruptcy, but we never heard of one.

The professional cheer of tired waters is an eloquent tribute to the worth of the incentive system.

Despite the temptation to try once more for easy riches, we have finally settled for modest solvency.

TERRY COUNTY HAD 3 OIL WELL COMPLETIONS

Old Terry got three new wells last week in proven territory, and a brand new gushing wildcat was brought in early this week, estimated to make some 2,200 barrels per day, in deep formation over 12,000 feet. But that story is worth a pitch itself. While the log does not give Terry a new location, there was one, however, a wildcat presumably, 10 miles south of town. A Midwest Oil Corp., No. 1 Guergersloh. The location is on block C-37, and section 20. Equipped with a rotary rig, the depth was put at 9,500 feet. No time set for beginning operation.

Howard County headed the list of completions last week, with 12, while Andrews was second with 11. Garza and Yoakum had four each and Scurry and Terry, three each. Kent and Lubbock had one each. Total 39.

Of the new locations, Andrews led by a city block, with 22, Howard had 12, Cochran 8, Gaines and Yoakum with 3 each, Borden 2, and Lamb and Scurry with one each. Total 59, for the North Permian Basin.

The newly completed wells in Terry and Yoakum counties, were as follows:

No Use To Ignore Birthdays and Gifts

Was over as the Nelson medical dispensary Monday, our quest being a cold drink, and not drugs at the time, however. We let it slip that we were three score and fourteen that day, and Miss Joyce Wauson, the smiling clerk over there not only sang "Happy Birthday to You" but paid for our Coke. Later, the proprietor, Homer Nelson, slipped three unsmoked Riotans in our shirt pocket.

After furnishing us a mighty good dinner, Sunday, the Jr. family gave us one of those coolers, in which you slip some ice in the top part and some bottled goods in the lower part. And say you are traveling, and in a hurry, just reach in there and get a cold bottled drink.

You know what they call 'em, but all we know is what they're for. Thanks to all.

It would be a strange world if everything was done as you would have it.

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS JUDGE!

MR. YARBOROUGH, you made the following statement in a speech at Mineral Wells, Texas, on August 9:

"Governor Shivers should be ashamed of himself for having $27,000,000 surplus in the state treasury."

Will you answer these questions?

1. Do you feel that it is a shame to operate our government on a balanced budget?

2. If you are elected governor, how do you propose to spend our surplus?

OUR NEIGHBORS know us best and are better qualified to judge us than anyone else on earth. That being true, will you explain to the people of Texas why, in your home voting box in Austin, Texas, where people indeed know you, that Governor Shivers received 897 votes to your 367 votes?

IF YOU HAVE NOT made secret promises to the negro people of Texas, will you explain why you carried the large negro voting boxes in this state in the July primary by a majority of 50 to 1?

IF YOU HAVE NOT made promises to the CIO labor group in this State, why did you receive their overwhelming support in the July primary?

IF YOU HAVE NOT made secret agreements with the Parr gang in Duval County, why did you receive their vote in the July primary?

IS IT NOT REALLY TRUE, Judge, that where people know you best, it is Shivers 3 to 1?

WALKER IS NAMED HEAD OF BEEF COUNCIL

Loyal H. Walker

FT. WORTH, Aug. 22.—Loyal H. Walker, of Abilene, manager of the agriculture and livestock department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been named executive director of the newly-formed Texas Beef Council, according to Roy Parks, president of the organization.

Walker, who has been active in agricultural organization activities for the past 15 years, has been granted six months' leave of absence by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to accept the position. Headquarters for the Council will be opened Sept. 1 on the second floor of the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum at Fort Worth.

A year ago when drought caused heavy marketing of range cattle, Walker organized and conducted an "eat more beef" campaign for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which showed the value of an organized educational sales effort.

Principal purpose of the Council is to promote the consumption of beef in Texas. Walker will cooperate with other state livestock associations, the American National Cattlemen's Association and the National Livestock and Meat Board, which are conducting campaigns on a national level. The Texas Beef Council is composed of 50 organizations representing producers of beef and others connected with and interested in the beef cattle industry.

Work On Rebuilding Burned Building Is Now Underway

Contractor has been assembling material on the Webber-Bailey building on the northeast corner of the square, and this week, work of replacing brick and tile was started. The iron trusses to hold up the roof and ceiling had been placed in position for some time, and all the brick and tile damaged by the fire early this year had been removed.

When the building is completely rebuilt and remodeled this fall, we understand that the entire building will be occupied by Copeland Hardware, with a greatly enlarged stock of hardware and furniture. In fact, a sign to that effect has been in front of the building for several months.

However, it is not clear to us at this time whether or not Mr. Copeland aims to retain his present 25 feet front building next door or not, after he moves into the huge 50x140 building.

That is a question we aim to take up with Mr. Copeland later on when the time comes for the big move.

MINOR TROUBLES
 You can't marry her without permission," said Father Smith. "Why not?" asked the swooning swain. "Because she's a minor." The young man looked stumped for a moment, then asked: "You mean I gotta ask John L. Lewis?"

A widow without funds for travel to Europe told me she would marry a giant, a midget, or a 5x5 lump of fat, if he would take her to Europe for the honeymoon. I can divorce him as soon as we return, she said. Such is love and romance today.

Why is it that hotels find help to service a thousand rooms, whereas most householders can't find a maid to look after eight?

Some More Letters From The People:

Had three letters late last week in the mails, one of them was from an "unnamed" fellow, one of these birds who wants his way, but not enough backbone to express his opinion above his own signature. Of course his letter was mostly keen animosity and criticism of the size of our paper, as well as our "immature" editorials, at which he used to read just for a laugh, but is no longer "amused" at them.

We could tell the smart fellow that our editorials, with all their "immature-ism" have been copied all over Texas, and in some of the printer's magazines, not because they had the swing of a university professor's language, but for the ideas and thoughts in them. We might tell the "unknown citizen" that last year we appeared in the official publication of Who's Who in the Southwest. Wonder if "Unknown" will ever reach that pinnacle?

But here are the two letters that take an altogether different view from Mr. Unknown:

Terry County Herald, Brownfield, Texas.
 Dear Friends:
 The Terry County Amateur Radio Club wishes to express their thanks to you for all of the favorable publicity that you so generously gave to us preceding the date of our "Open House."

We have our regular meetings on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday evenings and we would be very happy to have any of your staff to visit with us at some future date.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Alma Plummer, Sec.
 E. C. Pool, President.

Lubbock, Texas, 8-18-54.
 Dear Friend and Editor of The Terry County Herald:
 Congratulations on the fine anniversary issue of your paper! I was out of town when it came, so was late in getting it read. It was a very complete and accurate account of the growth and development of Brownfield and Terry County. It was fun to reminisce as I read the articles and studied the pictures for familiar faces and scenes. I must admit that I felt a touch of nostalgia, too, as I relived those early days.

Again, congratulations to you and Texia for the fine work you have done in promoting the growth and development of Terry County. And thank you for your loyal friendship to me and my parents throughout past days.

Best wishes for your future success and happiness.
 Sincerely,
 Ivy (Green) Savage.

SOME GOOD CROPS ARE SEEN IN SOUTH TERRY

After we learned Monday afternoon, that there was a multitude of opinions as to where the new Wellman oil gusher was located, and deciding that they probably wouldn't let us get very close anyway, we changed our mind about seeing it. In fact, one of the drillers came in Monday covered with oil from head to foot, and is probably still trying to get the black gold out of his hair and clothing. So we decided to just try the peaceful occupation of seeing part of the crops in old Terry.

Had not seen south Terry for some time, and chose that area, taking the F-M road south to Forrester. With about one or two exceptions, we found the feed crop in excellent condition. Two or three fields came on just as the hottest and driest weather hit as it was booting to head. So, there were no heads and probably won't be, even with several inches of rain. But most of the feed is young, just heading, and beginning to boot, and as green as a bay tree.

As for the cotton, it sure is going places, and some as full of blooms, bolls and squares, as a visiting toper at a brewery. We noted that some of the cotton looked like it had grown bolls clear up to the top. Stopped at Forrester store, as we'd forgotten to stock up with Sweet Garrett for the trip, and as Master Robert and Miss Ann were along, had to lay out some change for candy. Quizzed the store keeper a bit, and decided to take the dirt road east to the Lamesa highway, instead of going on to the F-M road three miles south of Forrester.

This is a fine dirt road, and Commissioners Burnett and McNeil—it being in both precincts—have it up in shipshape, until it is as easy to get over as a topped road, presently. No sand to speak of, to bother. And as we had not been across that section just at this point for a long time, if ever, we were glad we took this road, even though we missed a lot of irrigated farms a bit further south. That some six or seven miles across there sure had some fine crops. We got a big kick out of trying to make a comparison of how it looks this year, and for the past few years. The past two or three years, most of that area, with the exception of the small acreage under irrigation, looked more like a desert than a farming area. But this year, thanks to the big fall rains, and good seasons in April, May and June, even the weeds are higher than your head. And if they don't blow away after frost, they're thick enough to hold the soil. Came into 137 near the old Brock farm.

Speaking of soil conservation above, when we came to those hedges down there on the Lamesa road, we began to think. Way back when they were built, farmers were very much interested in them, and had high hopes of their eventual salvation of the sandier soils of Terry. But the most that has happened it appears to us, is that they just accumulated a lot of extra sand that has piled up ten to fifteen feet high in places, while some surrounding spaces are bare of soil.

 Farmers, with the aid of study and the local County Agent and Soil Conservation men, have learned that deep breaking, coverage crops, etc., beats any hedges all holler in this section, and it allows them to keep the surface of their farm level, instead of a sand-hill here and there, and a blowed out place to the clay in between. It has been a long hard lesson, but our farmers have learned it, and are working to that end.

It sure has been an uphill fight for them the past two or three years as there was not enough rainfall to supply these coverages, unless one had irrigation. It is an almost impossible feat to create a cover crop on land when it is so dry that it is well nigh out of the question to even get stuff to come up, much less grow.
 But with a few good normal years of rainfall, this will be accomplished, and badly blighted farms will be at an end it is hoped. Most of the crops from where we hit 137 into town, are good.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Nelson, 220 South Third, have returned from a three weeks tour through San Francisco; Crater Lake in Oregon; Idaho; Salt Lake City, Utah; the Grand Canyon; Colorado; and Las Vegas, Nev. They were accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Herbert Hays and husband, of Pauls Valley, Okla.

J. P. Clark, Jr., is a new resident of Brownfield, after receiving a discharge from the Air Force recently. After one year's service in Illinois. He is living with his father, J. P. Clark, Sr., of Brownfield, and working for an oil company.

Most of the crops from where we hit 137 into town, are good.

Stricklin Speaking

By OLD HE

passed his 81st birthday May 31, and Tom down at Fort Worth will be 88 in November. Meeks says he is still a Democrat, and as he voted for Stevenson two years ago, you know how he will vote this year for governor. But we have a stinking notion that he has two sons that will kill his ballot; they did in 1952.

We don't like to boast of kin folks in this column, but we believe we can say without successful contradiction that Meeks is one of the best men morally, and ever knew. And his friends and all his neighbors think the same. In fact, we never heard of anyone ever having a fault to find with Meeks. And while Tom is a better man than we, he will on occasion like us, pop off and say what he thinks, as most men do. While Meeks and we are usually at odds politically, we'd probably both cast our vote for Santa Claus. Going to have some pecans this year, but so dry he says his paper sheets will be no larger than natives.

Then there was a card and some nice blankets, gayly decorated from niece, Alleen Rogers and hubby, Dan, back in Tennessee. She did not mention the election of her brother, Vernon Stricklin as J. P., but did tell us in a letter enclosed in the card that Vernon had a cancer on his hand, but a Memphis specialist said he could cure it.

Then among the home folks, the Snyder bunch were up two weeks ago, left us a box of YB's, to be opened on our birthday, Miss Sara specified. And to cap it all off, the daughter-in-law, Edith Stricklin, cooked us a whale of a noon dinner Sunday, with baked chicken and roast beef, cake and other things that go to make a well dinner, including two cups of excellent coffee. That gal sure knows her cats and drinks.

Last but not least in our estimation, was that very pretty card from our two girl friends, that always remember Daddy Jack on all occasions, birthdays, Dad's Day, Christmas, etc. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dyer Oakley, of Odessa. Girls, Daddy Jack sure appreciated that prayer for us in poetry.

Another birthday card we appreciated so very much, was from little Miss Glenda Fay Miller, over at Plains, who was born on our birthday, August 23, 1953. We hope the little lady is walking and putting out some baby gab by now. Maybe we can get together some day on a joint birthday affair.

We note in a recent issue of Texas Game and Fish magazine over the signature of Mr. McMillan, the Big Game Hunter up at Hensbeck, who offered $5 an inch for a diamond back rattler over six feet long. In other words, Mr. McMillan seemed to doubt there were any even six feet long. And we admit our little prairie rattlers seldom get over 2 1/2 or 3 feet in length, but Mack is mistaken about diamond backs. The first year we landed in Jones County, about 1906, a nephew and the other killed one that was around six feet three inches, if not more.

Then for many years a hide from a rattler hung in the Brownfield State Bank at Main and 6th, then James Harley Dallas stated this week was over eight feet long, and he believed it's measurement was exactly 8 feet, 3 inches. Any old timer here will tell Mack he's off his kazooter about rattlesnakes not being 6 feet or longer. As we remember, this one came from down in the Rio Grande section around Uvalde County. Also, we have been told that many rattlers have been killed around Hensbeck Cut in east Howard County that were over six feet in length.

Mr. Mack may be a big game hunter in Canada, Asia, Africa, etc., as he states in the article, but he's off his nut about rattlers.

Well, after tomorrow, we expect some of our old friends to get back on speaking terms again, and instead of a slight wave of the hand or a quick hi-yah, as they pass, maybe they will even stop and pass the time of day. Personally we are mad at no one for being for the other man. That is their privilege, and we beg to have the same privilege for ourselves. If all of us should see alike, we'd all want to marry the same gal.

Then this tirade, we learn that a class of small fry in a Baptist Sunday School up in New Jersey, were asked to make a drawing of playing ball, that we do not pull the old fliver down to a slow dog trot, even though the lads move over to the curb.
