

STRICKLINLY SPEAKING....

By OLD HE

Things are shaping up, pretty well here for the big feat of Highway 51 Association program come Sept. 26. One of the big feats will be a barbecue served by the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang at the site of Boys' Ranch, at old Tascosa. The new bridge over the Canadian River near there, will be the connecting link between the south and north part of the highway, which begins well up in Canada.

The highway will pass through the western parts of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma, into Texas, north of Dalhart. Thence on south thru Hereford, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield, Seagraves, Seminole, Andrews, Odessa, McCamey, Crane, and on down to the Big Bend National Park. We hope to have a map of the whole road in the next few weeks.

Tried to guy "Hoinman" Chesshir, popular local ginner about their rather positive resolutions directed at Ag. Sec. White, about the destruction of pink boll worm at South Plains Gins. It seems to us there was some difference in the idea of treating the holls before they were returned to the farms in the form of fertilizer.

Herman made a rejoinder that they aimed to have a recent candidate placed in the Ag. Dept., as he would do something—at least promise to do something. Anyway, Bro. White don't seem to get along with the other State officials at Austin worth a whoop, and has been at constant loggerheads with US Secretary of Agriculture, from the jump go.

And speaking of making a change, we have often wondered why it is so hard, or takes so long to get the name of a school district changed, and why some districts insist on a name that is hardly known other than locally, when there are towns located in the district, that are known all over the section. Let's take two in Lubbock County. There is Abernathy on the line of Lubbock and Hale counties, that is a nice little town, and growing, and every one on the South Plains knows where it is located. But how many can tell you where the name of their school district, New Deal is, off hand?

Coming on this way, there is a pretty little village some ten miles this side of Lubbock, Wolffarth, that everyone knows, but the local school district is Friendship. For the longest, the Seagraves County Line Independent School District, was known as the Blythe County Line district, and only of recent years that the change has been made. Only the old timers here before the advent of railroad remember that there was such a place as Blythe, a store and post-office on a ranch.

And we don't believe that the Denver City district has ever been changed from the Sligo School district, although perhaps 90 percent of the students are in the immediate vicinity of the well known oil town of Denver City. All of us old timers loved and admired the late Pat McHugh, a native of old Ireland, and his niece that came out to Texas to live with him until he passed on; and the old Sligo ranch in southeast Yoakum, is a loveable character. However, she forbids us to use her name in the paper. Few new timers know anything about Sligo, Ireland, or Texas, but all know about Denver City.

The only time we read very much after the "Seesyety" editor, (Continued on Back Page)

FIRST BALE BRINGS 52c PER POUND—Terry County's first bale of cotton this year, weighing 485 pounds, brought 52c per pound at an auction held at 3:30 p.m., Friday, on the Court House Square. C. V. Newsom, grower of the cotton, was a week ahead of last year's record, when the late Cullen Forbes' 450 pound bale was ginned on August 28. Buyers of this year's bale, James Murdough and J. L. Newsom, paid 1c more per pound than last year's price. Newsom was presented with $290 cash and $90 in merchandise by Grady Elder, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, given by the local merchants. Shown above, left to right, background, are Virgil Travis, ginner of the bale; Grady Elder, J. L. Newsom, and Judge Herb Chesshir, who auctioned off the cotton. Shown shaking hands are Newsom (at left) and Murdough. (Staff Photo.)

Herman Chesshir On Board Directors Plains Ginners Ass'n.

Herman Chesshir, Brownfield ginner, was named to the board of directors of the Plains Ginners' Association at the group's meeting attended by more than 200 South Plains ginners, Saturday, at the Lubbock Hotel.

Also, at the meeting, Jay Stillely, executive vice president of the Texas Ginners' Association, Dallas, was given a vote of authority by the group to seek out Agriculture Commissioner John White and make known to him the wishes of the men who operate gins in one of the world's largest cotton producing areas.

Stillely was to appear before Commissioner White at Austin early this week to make a final appeal that West Texas ginners be given approval to process cotton burrs this fall through a single, conventional type gin fan, as a means of eradicating pink bollworm, before burrs are returned to the soil.

Reporting on the progress gained by the ginners' association pink bollworm committee, Roy Forkner, manager of Canyon Gin, Lubbock, explained that a series of 35 tests were conducted last year in gins throughout the South Plains. Highly infested samples of cotton, cotton burrs, trash and even seed were processed through the ordinary, single, conventional type fan found in most gins on the Plains.

More than 300 persons attended the four-hour convention, which saw more than a dozen problems discussed. Jack Blackstock, cotton situation observer for Anderson-Clayton Company, gave the latest South Plains cotton crop estimate. He said his estimates now show that the 20 South Plains counties should produce an approximate 1,178,000 bales, as compared to 1,357,630 bales ginned in 1953.

INDUCTION NOTICES SENT 7 AREA MEN

Seven area men received notices this week from local Selective Service Board No. 116 to report on Sept. 22, for induction the 23, according to Mrs. J. G. Hughes, assistant clerk.

Two Brownfield men, Charles E. Mayfield and Comingo Dias Madriral, were among the seven. Others included Robert H. Hollingsworth, of Anton, Robert W. Robins of Ropesville, Eual Dean Strickland, of Plains, Leland Ray Campsey, of Denver City, and Billy Mac Addison of Tokio.

NATIONAL AG. MAGAZINE LAUDS ALVIN DAVIS AND LOCAL BANK FOR 4-H WORK AND OTHER ACHIEVEMENTS

If vigorous leadership and achievement typical of the livestock farming of the Southwest ranch and farm country is any asset for a bank agricultural advisor in Texas, you can put that brand on a young man who serves in that capacity for the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company, according to an article entitled "Davis Knows His Loans and Lariats," appearing in the July-August issue of the Agricultural Leader's Digest, a bi-monthly agricultural magazine.

Alvin G. Davis, at the age of only 27, has a string of honors to his credit that fit him well to represent his bank in dickering with ranchers for capital and operating loans, and in handling the bank's relations with the up-and-coming young riders and ropers who maintain high standards for FFA and 4-H effort in that area, according to the article.

The Brownfield State Bank will observe its 50th anniversary next year, and its sound reputation in the range country adjacent to the Post and Brownfield gives young Davis a fine background to continue his outstanding performance. The article went on to say, "The bank officials and stock holders feel that Davis is a 'natural' for promoting confidence and progress in financial deals, owing to his wide acquaintance and good judgment in agricultural matters."

The bank annually awards several hundred dollars in prizes for 4-H and FFA members in Terry and Yoakum counties, the article brought out. It further stated that a district tractor maintenance school for 4-H leaders and members, which is another program where the bank takes part, shows that mechanical power is almost as highly respected and fully as much relied on these days as the saddle horse of the prairies. Young Davis has all the lore of the Southwest cowboy superimposed on the best in modern agricultural skill.

The article went on to say that it's a bit hard to figure out how such a youthful guy has roped and hog-tied all the achievements to his public credit. It further stated that maybe it's the Texas talent or the climate. The following was given in the article as a brief hop, skip, and jump sketch of Al's record to date:

"He graduated from Texas Tech in January, 1952, with a BS degree in agriculture, with animal husbandry as his major, and agronomy and economics as minors. He served a year overseas with the Adjutant General's Department in the Army and was discharged as a sergeant when he was about 19 years old.

"Now take his 4-H record. Davis won the National Leadership Trophy in 1948, and also represented Texas at the National 4-H Club Congress three times. He won state field crops, citizenship and leadership contests. He won the Danforth scholarship and went to the National Youth Foundation Camp in Michigan. The Santa Fe line awarded Davis recognition for overall achievement, and he captured the Anderson-Clayton cotton scholarship once.

"While at Texas Tech, he was head of their 4-H Club, and Rodeo Association. In one semester at Texas A&M College, he was president of the 4-H Club, and the Texas No. 2 District 4-H Clubs for 18 counties, leader of the Garza 4-H rifle team, and also exhibited livestock, winning two county steer championships. He belonged to the Texas Techs', Oklahoma City, and International livestock judging teams and took the $400 Bridwell scholarship at Texas Tech as the outstanding animal husbandry major.

"Now for the rodeo parade. Davis originated and served as head of the Southwest Championship Junior Rodeo at Post, Texas, for its first three years. He directed the Boys Ranch Rodeo at Tascosa one year. He helped "clown" the local Post Stampede. As director and advisor of rodeo associations at Levelland and Lubbock, and as chairman of the Texas Jaycee Rodeo for two years, Davis gained insight into the proper operation of these events.

"Thereupon he formed and managed what is now widely known as the American Junior Rodeo Association, this year comprising 71 active local rodeos in over a dozen states. This outfit staged the first world championship junior rodeo in the AJRA finals at Snyder, August 18-21. Throughout his territory, Davis is also a popular rodeo announcer and master of ceremonies. This list of shows where he presided includes those at Post, Lubbock, (Continued on Back Page)

DIST. F-B MEET SLATED, SEPT. 18 AT LUBBOCK

The Texas Farm Bureau has arranged a district meeting to be held at the Lubbock Hotel on September 18, 1954. All county members of Farm Bureau are invited to attend. The following should be present: county membership chairmen, resolutions chairman, officers and directors, county agents, service agents, vocational agricultural teachers, and county queens. The time is 10 a.m.

The Texas Legislature will be in session beginning in January, 1955, and in this session many proposals will be made which will affect agriculture. It will soon be time for the County, State and National Farm Bureaus to adopt policies with reference to the matters that are up for discussion now, and that will come up for discussion in the coming year. Along with many other important matters, will be water legislation in which farmers' interests must be safeguarded. There will be an intensive effort to increase the funds provided for road building, which will involve a source of revenue. Some of the proposals to raise this additional revenue will be an increased tax on gasoline, abolishment of the tractor gas refund, a tax on natural gas, a State sales tax, or a State income tax.

Developments would indicate that farmers may be deeply concerned with reference to regulations pertaining to diverted acres. These and many other issues will command the attention of Farm Bureau members in the coming year. In the district meetings, methods and procedures for developing policies to meet these issues will be discussed. Remember it is only a short time until we make our county resolutions to send to our State Convention for the coming year. If anyone has anything they would like to put in the form of a resolution, please bring the information by the Farm Bureau office. When the resolution committee meets, all suggestions will be discussed and acted upon.

In this district meeting, the principal speaker will be C. H. DeVaney. The topic of his subject will be "Current Agricultural Issues." In the afternoon the district Farm Bureau uQueens Contest will be held. We certainly hope our Terry County Queen, Miss Faulkenberry, wins.

The American Creed

We believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many states; a perfect union, one and inseparable established upon these principles of freedom—equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots have sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

—Terry County Herald.

Well, it arrived just as a hot election was over with. We mean some propaganda from the Communist party, and just as we were relaxing from all the Shivers and Yarborough propaganda poundings that we country papers have taken for the past two or three months. We had high hopes of a bit of rest from propaganda of all kinds. Strangely enough the front page notation gives this title: "The American Way to Jobs, Peace, Democracy." There are more outfits claiming to be democrats these days than a monkey has hair. The Communists, the Socialists, the Christian Democrats of Italy, all left wingers, along with the Communies and Socialists in America, who claim to be Democrats. And here in America we have more kinds of Democrats and democrats than you can shake a stick at, and of course all think they are the one and only kind. Down here in old Texas, most of the different kinds of democrats are respected citizens, and are working for what they believe is the best interest of the state and nation. But let us notice some of the stuff we found in that little pamphlet mentioned above. Right off the reel, it announced that "America was fast approaching a crisis," and went on with some ideas why they thought so. The next thought under black head lines tell us, "The Looming Danger of War." Of course the big argument under this head was for the USA to settle down to peaceful pursuits, beat their swords into plowshares, and study war no more. In fact make our nation an easy prey for the Bolsheviks. Under this head, the old huggaboo of Wall Street was raised. If it were not for the hard work of these dummies, most people would forget there was a Wall Street, as the wealth of the nation is so well distributed nowadays, that when we think of money, most of us are more likely to consider Fort Knox than we are Wall Street. And we might add that the big banks along Wall Street no longer have the power in money matters that they had 50 years ago. And of course they could not end their tirade without mentioning McCarthyism—and the growing danger of Fascism. To be perfectly frank, we don't think Fascism is any more dangerous to the good old USA than lot of the other isms. And we don't wonder that they hate McCarthy. He's no friend of theirs.

Well, so far as the Democratic primary is concerned, it is over with for the next two years, and whether you were for Yarborough, or Shivers, the hatchet you had to back up the opposition, should be buried for at least two years, and let's all unite our forces for the common cause of Brownfield, Terry County, and this entire area from which we get our income and prosperity, or we don't get it. All of us did the best we could for our man, whether he won or lost. That is just one of the peculiarities of politics, and all of us will have the same governor for the next two years at least. We have talked with some of our old friends who were for Judge Yarborough, since the election, and most of them believe that the last campaign in west and central Texas did him more harm than good. This was because of the attack of the Judge on many people in the area, as well as the press. It was stated by some that he made figures on the matter, that only three daily papers and only a third of the weekly papers in the state supported Yarborough, and we imagine these figures are just about correct. He stated numerous times he was getting no coverage in the news columns of the daily papers. But we took particular pains to examine the three dailies we get, one each from Fort Worth, Dallas and Lubbock, and we could not help but see that Yarborough was getting line for line as much publicity as Shivers. And even the "Readers Write" columns, had practically as many supporting one as the other. The Herald for one, not getting anything but hot, unsigned letters from the opposition, personally requested one of the Yarborough supporters to write an article in his behalf, which was published on the front page of this paper. We maintain that we felt we were right in supporting Shivers, just as those who supported Yarborough believed they were doing so in the best interest of Texas. At least, that was the way we looked at the matter, and for that reason, we have no censor for those supporting the other man. Admittedly, Gov. Shivers had to overcome two handicaps that many held against him. One that he supported Eisenhower instead of Stevenson. But many Texans now believe that we would have lost the tidelands if Ike had not been elected, for the longer the federal government retains property, take the TVA for instance, the harder it is to get the government out of business. Then there was the matter of the third term, and many of these objectors were people who supported FDR for four 4-year terms—objected strenuously to Shivers having three 2-year terms. Logic?

Just as there are differences of opinion over many things, there has been many over whether or not a sliding scale or a rigid parity price is better for the farmers of the USA. Frankly, we don't think that anyone wishes to do any injury to farmers, realizing that they are the basic part of our prosperous nation. At the same time, many farmers themselves have reached the point where they realize there is a possibility of their pricing themselves out of the market, just as butter and potatoes, for two items, have been priced out of the market. In other words, butter just got so high that the ordinary middle class and low income people could not afford butter and turned to margarine. They used the much cheaper substitute until they learned to like it as well as they like the real thing, and even when the price of butter was lowered by the government, these folks stayed with their margarine, and still are eating it. It is for that reason we believe that an honest effort has been made by the lawmakers, the President and his cabinet, as well as the farmers organization interested in the matter, to arrive at some happy medium that could be depended on to take care of matters year after year, instead of a new law each year. The present law of a rigid 90 percent of parity will, we believe hold for this year's crop, and the Benson sliding scale from 82 1/2 to 90, will not go into effect until 1955. According to the last issue of the Nation's Agriculture, official organ of Farm Bureau Federation, to reach our desk, this matter was thoroughly gone into by F-B and perhaps other farm organizations, along with the farm committees in the Senate and House, authorized to submit a suitable bill. We have the utmost confidence in national president, Alan B. Kline, along with President Hammond of Tye, of the State organization, and we personally know C. H. Devine, of Coahoma, vice president of the State organization. We believe they are men who want to see the farmers secure, but want nothing radical or dangerous to their future well being. In fact, the farmers want a scale along with controls of production. An editorial in the last issue of Nation's Agriculture, frankly admitted they were pleased with the dairy provision especially, which the editorial stated, "had too much in common with the ghost of the Brannon Plan." In other words, it appeared to us that the farm organizations, working with the Senate Committee, were as harmonious as could be expected, and worked out a farm program satisfactory to all.

We have talked with a number of farmers of late, as well as heard others repeat what they said. We have read some opinions from the ag. agents, and matter that appeared in the columns of the dailies, when they were estimating the size of the cotton crop here on the South Plains. It all comes down to the fact that the bugs and worms have been very destructive to the cotton crop this year. Monday morning, we began to encounter many little old black bugs, the likes of which we had not noticed previously, in the printing office. We believe we would be safe in saying we killed some 12 or 15 of the things around our desk at the Herald office, by noon Monday. Mention was made in the presence of Lee Hulse, and he 'lowed as how he guessed they were some other kind of a cotton pest. Most every year, we have some kind of a new bug or worm to annoy us, and it seems that a poison made to fit their destruction, only lasts a few years, and the bugs and worms, like the guy that has smallpox, becomes immune to the poison, just as many insects have become immune to poisons that were a dead ringer on them a few years ago. Way back when we arrived in the Lone Star State in 1900, there were no boll weevils in Johnson County, and we remember that a lot of people came up there that year from the Mexia section to pick cotton. That was the days before cotton was pulled. Then about 1903, the things hit Johnson County with a vim, and at that time, so far as we knew, there was nothing to do only let the things eat their fill day in and day out—and you took what was left—if any. But we do remember that out in the cross timber section, that the little boogers were worse near timber, and for that reason, the weeds and oak and blackjack leaves were burned around the edges of the farm. But the pestilicious pups spread anyway. We have before us a release by the Texas A&M College, which states: "Cotton insects last year destroyed more than $62 million dollars worth of lint and cotton seed in Texas. They are busy now, and coupled with dry weather, could make the 1954 crop an expensive one." Half a century ago, the boll worm was just about the most destructive to cotton of anything and with the exception of an occasional attack of leafworm, about all that was then known. For past several years, drouth and flood are not the only things the old farmer has to hup. Almost every year we hear of a new brand of insect or worm, that has to be fought with sprays or from airplanes, and dusting machines. Farming is a man sized job.

Crime, they say, does not pay. But we still have a lot of it. The latest to astound the section was the murder of a Wilson deputy sheriff by a negro, who later committed suicide out in a maize field. The negro was merely stopped for questioning, perhaps on some minor offense, like an infraction of the driving laws, perhaps. Or maybe the officer suspected the negro was transporting liquor? But the negro man, in company with three or four other negro men and women, lost his head, grabbed the officer's gun and murdered him. He then got into the officer's car, and when found, had used the same gun to take his own life. Why? In the first place, did he just want to show off before those negro women to make an impression of his "bravery," or perhaps to impress the men. Very likely he made no mental note that his deed would perhaps stir the resentment of the white people in the community, that have never lived where there are many of the negro race. And right now, it is high time that a better understanding, instead of a worse one be made. Of course we older people who were reared back east where there are a lot of negroes, know there are good and bad negroes, just as there are good and bad white people. But we find a lot of people reared in the far west who think all negroes are bad, and don't want them in the community. But the main idea we are driving at is, that crime of any kind does not pay, and this goes for local, county, state or federal offenses. Be sure your sin will find you out. Many escape for years by changing locations and names in some instances, but in the long run, most of those who run afoul of the law, have to pay the price. And don't think for a moment that you, the good people of the community, white or black, do not have to pay for crime. Right here in Terry County a great portion of our taxes goes to the enforcement of the laws of the county and state. We have before us a release from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, who states that the cost of crime of the postoffice department alone, of the federal government, costs the taxpayers $10 million dollars per year. Nearly 6,000 arrests were made in 1953, and many of these have already been paid for their crime by conviction and imprisonment. Some of these were not outright or outside criminals; many of them were connected with the department as postmasters and clerks, who perhaps decided they could take government funds and get by with it. But those inspectors and FBI are on the job.

Behind The Scenes

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—The coffee drinker is entitled to raise a steaming cup of coffee and toast his latest victory. The price of coffee at retail is down.

But while the customer basks in mild self-congratulation, he still may find it difficult to figure exactly what did happen. The story is an intricate one:

For some months now, Brazil has been pegging the price of coffee at 87 cents a pound at dockside. More recently Colombia has been sniping at Brazil's big US market with discounts of 2 to 4 cents a pound on competing grades.

Two weeks ago the Brazilians decided to do something about this. Coffee yields three-fourths of Brazil's foreign exchange, and it can't do so sitting in a Santos warehouse. However, the coffee price peg is as popular as high support prices in the United States, so any price cut had to be subtle.

Fortunately there was a gimmick at hand. While the official price of the Brazilian cruzeiro is 18 to the dollar, plenty of Brazilians would rather have one dollar than 60 cruzeiros. The Bank of Brazil relaxed its rules, let more of this free exchange be used to buy coffee. The grower still got the same number of cruzeiros, but they cost the buyer much less than 87 cents.

Colombia growers are rushing their coffee into the government pool at the older price—now above Brazil's—so it seems they expect a price cut too.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. My National Service Life Insurance has been lapsed for more than three months and I understand I must take a physical examination in order to reinstate it. Will VA give me the examination?

A. Yes. You may receive your physical examination, at no cost, from a VA regional office or hospital clinic.

Q. I intend to go to school under the Korean GI Bill. I would like to get a part-time job to supplement my GI allowance. Is there any limit on how much money I would be permitted to earn.

A. No. There is no limit on the outside earning of veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill. No matter what you earn, your GI monthly allowances will remain the same.

Q. I am enrolling in college this fall under the Korean GI Bill. When can I expect my first GI allowance check.

That Disease We Call Athletes Foot

AUSTIN.—The common disease, popularly known as athlete's foot, is said to be the third most common disease seen by skin specialists during the summer, and the fifth most common disorder in winter. It is due to a little mold-like growth or fungus which thrives best where there is moisture and warmth. Therefore, the feet make an ideal place for the growth of this germ.

"To have athlete's foot, the infection must be gotten either directly or indirectly from someone else," states Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. "The most common places to contract the infection are around shower rooms, baths or bath houses, locker rooms, and other public places where persons go barefoot. And it is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from the infection at some time."

The following measures have been suggested for preventing and avoiding recurrent attacks of athlete's foot:

1. After bathing, dry carefully and thoroughly the spaces between the toes.
2. Liberally apply a plain, unscented talcum to those areas and sprinkle it freely in socks, stockings, and shoes.
3. Wear properly fitting hose, that are absorbent but not too coarse.
4. Wear shoes that are not too tight, nor too large. They should fit the foot comfortably.

Q. Could I receive VA outpatient treatment for a non-service-connected disability?

A. No. Under law, outpatient care may be received only for treatment of service-connected disabilities.

William T. Stitt, of Clewiston, Fla., visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lewis, Route 2, Brownfield. He is the husband of Mrs. Lewis' sister, Christova Stitt.

Judge Rules Union Shop Violates The Constitution

In issuing a permanent injunction early this year on behalf of 14-non-operating employees of the Santa Fe Railway to prevent signing by the railroad of a union shop contract which would force them to join a union or lose their jobs, District Judge E. C. Nelson at Amarillo, Texas, said, "the making and enforcing of a union shop agreement such as proposed by the plaintiffs and the Santa Fe of rights guaranteed under the Constitution."
Union shop contracts, demanded by non-operating railroad unions, have been signed by nearly all US railroads. It is expected the unions will carry the case to the Supreme Court.

Americans Are Taxed Nearly $500 Apiece

During the last fiscal year, the states collected $10,500,000,000 from their citizens—which works out to $68 for every man, woman and child in the country.
In the same year, the Federal government collected $65,200,000,000 in taxes—or $410 for each and every American.
This comes to a total of $478.04 per capita, or close to $2,000 a year for a family of four—and it doesn't include local taxes, for which figures are not available.
The point is that taxes, direct and indirect, are the biggest single expense borne by a great many of our families—just as they are for a great many of our businesses. There is an endless amount of grumbling over the high cost of living. There should be an equal

GOOD BUDGET PAYS

A good budget saves money. But it costs money, too. For example, it cost the Defense Department and the three armed services over $30 million just to work up the estimates for their part of the 1955 budget and put them in final form. However, since a good-sized portion of the $4 billion reduction in defense costs is the result of careful budgeting, taxpayers may well regard this $30 million as money well spent.
Fifty years from now we will be having Miss Constellations beauty contests, and that will be so much the better.

Mack Chambers Is Growing Some 'Thumper' Melons

Despite the extreme dry weather the past few years, which did the extreme on dryness in south Terry, M. C. Chambers sure did his work on some large melons this year. They are just a size smaller than the old fashioned wash pot the ladies used before the day of the helpy-selly laundry. Also before the day of rural electricity, natural gas or butane, and the modern central fire, double acting, automatic laundry.
Anyway, Mack brought us one of those big black, round melons from his patch, so large the Jr. grunted no little when he wagged it in from Mack's pickup. Sixty pounds at least, we'd say, and a big bait for the two families, and visitors perhaps.
Thanks, old timer for the remembrance.
Started Out Too Late To See Many Crops Last Sunday
The Jr., wife and two little fellows, accompanied by the Sr. and wife got off to a rather late start last Sunday P. M., to see many crops, but we enjoyed the outing. Took the Forrester F-M road south, ending in the highway from Welch to Seagraves. And that, folks was just about as long as we were able to see the crops, as it was dark by the time we reached Ashmore, just over in Gaines County.
But we saw some mighty fine crops on that road, as long as we could see, and we are told there are good crops from Ashmore on through Loop and on to Seagraves. But we could not see them. Everybody and their hound pups seemed to be at church when we reached Seagraves, which is a good indication.
Drove to the home of Mrs. A. C. Crowe, aunt of the Jr. Mrs. Stricklin, but the house was dark, and a next door neighbor informed us that Mrs. Crowe, who has been spending the summer with her daughter down at Weatherford, had to finish with some dental work before she came home.
So, we hit the road for home, arriving around 9 p.m., which is almost our time to go to roost.

SHIVERS CARRIES TERRY COUNTY BY 160 MAJORITY

There being only one runoff race in Terry County, other than state races, we believe the total vote was somewhat lighter than in the July primary. We believe a majority of the counties in this part of the state went to Shivers by small majorities. Below the cap, a lot of them went for Yarborough. This was noticeable in north and eastern Texas, also. But South Texas, generally speaking, was for Shivers.
Shivers received 1432 votes in Terry County, and Yarborough got 1272, a majority of 160 votes. For Supreme Court Judge, Few Brewster received 1394, and Alfred M. Scott, 1007; Brewster's majority being 387. L. A. Rhine received 1394 votes for Justice of Peace, while Sam White received 1095, a majority of 299.
By boxes, we find that Shivers carried 8 of the 14, mostly the larger boxes in the city. By boxes, we get the following figures, those for Yarborough first, and Shivers next:

a double ring ceremony read Saturday, Aug. 23, at 8 p.m., in the Brownfield First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Uel D. Crosby, minister of the Brownfield First Methodist Church, performed the service before an altar banked with baskets of bronze and white mums and lighted by white tapers burning in candelabra.

Mrs. Pat Ramseur, organist, played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Jimmy Billings, soloist, as she sang "Wonderful One," "With These Hands," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and Chopin's "No Other Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tulle length gown of lace and tulle over net and taffeta. Scallop of Chantilly lace framed the shell neckline of the fitted bodice, which was fashioned of tulle over net and taffeta, and the lace extended over the shoulders to form the smoothly fitted cap sleeves. The bouffant skirt of tulle over net and taffeta was edged at the hemline with full pleated tulle, joining an inset band of scalloped Chantilly lace. She wore matching mitts, and her shoulder length veil of imported French silk illusion fell from a Juliet cap of satin and tulle embroidered with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white roses carried atop a white prayer book.

For something old the bride chose diamond earrings which were a gift to her from Mrs. John L. Cruce. Her wedding dress was something new, and the strand of pearls which the bride wore were borrowed from Mrs. Dale Cary. A garter was chosen for something blue, and her father placed a penny in her shoe for luck.

Mrs. Dale Cary of Lubbock attended the bride as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss

For a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the bride chose a black and white sheer dress with a triple box pleated skirt. The bodice was accented with large rhinestone buttons and a black velvet collar. Her hat and gloves were in matching black velvet.

The bridegroom is a junior student at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, where the bride attended one year. Following their wedding trip the couple will be at home in Azle.

Karen White and K. A. Davis Marry In Ceremony Read at 1st Christian Church

In a double ring ceremony read Thursday at 8 p.m. in the First Christian Church, Miss Karen White, daughter of Mrs. C. L. White, 904 East Lons, became the bride of Kenneth Allen Davis, of Neodesha, Kansas, son of Mrs. Ira Smith of Neodesha, and E. C. Davis of Houston.

The Rev. Paul Farrell, minister of the local church, performed the service before an archway of greenery flanked by baskets of white gladioli and lighted by white tapers burning in candelabra.

Mrs. Truett Flache, organist, accompanied soloist, Dale Travis, as he sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer." Traditional wedding marches were used, and Mrs. Flache played an organ medley of "Claire de Lune," "Wonderful One," "O Promise Me" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her uncle, William Allen White of San Angelo, the bride wore a waltz length gown of white and tulle. The lace bodice was fashioned with a low scalloped neckline featuring a tulle yoke and long fitted tulle sleeves which ended in points over the hands. Her full scalloped skirt was bouffant over double tiers of pleated tulle, and her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was attached to a white lace cap embroidered with seed pearls and rhinestones.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white roses and showered with lilies of the valley. Something old and borrowed was a family heirloom necklace belonging to her mother. Her bridal ensemble was something new and a lace garter was chosen as something blue. The bride's uncle put a bright new penny in her shoe for luck.

Miss Linda White, of Brownfield, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Freda Anthony of Brownfield, and Mrs. Royce Kelly of Lubbock. Miss White was gowned in pink antique taffeta, and the bridesmaids were orchid antique taffeta frocks identical in design to the maid of honor's.

The ballerina length dresses featured full skirts and strapless scalloped bodices with tulle yokes. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of orchid glamelias, and arrangements of pink gla-melias were carried by the other bridal attendants.

Candlelighters were Misses Alta Merritt and Jane Griggs, both of Brownfield.

Jack Hale of Levelland attended the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Sam Townsend of Seagraves, and Bob Dale of Lubbock.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple was honored with a wedding reception in the church parlor. Assisting in receiving were the mothers of the bride and the bridegroom, and the bridal attendants. Mrs. A. M. Brownfield and Miss Royda Dumas presided at the serving table, and Mrs. Jimmy Billings registered guests.

The bride's table was laid with a white cutwork linen cloth over orchid taffeta and centered with a tiered wedding cake. White tapers lighted the table.

Out of town wedding and reception guests attended from Seagraves, Plains, Levelland, Lubbock, Bowie, Houston, San Angelo, Lovington N. M., and Neodesha, Kansas.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride chose a navy faille suit with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. After September 15, the couple will be at home in Austin, where the bridegroom will enroll in the University of Texas.

The bridegroom has been employed by his grandfather, A. M. Brownfield, since his discharge from the US Marine Corps last January. THAT LONG-AWAITED DAY FINALLY ARRIVED FOR SIX-YEAR-OLDS—174 first grade students had their first experience Monday, of attending school at Jesse G. Randal. The long-awaited day ended with sighs of relief from parents, students, and teachers, but nevertheless, it was all quite a day filled with awe for the six-year-olds. Shown above, registering a first grade student, is a new teacher, Mrs. Elgene Mills, who has taught the first grade for the past 13 years, serving the last two years at Whiteface. She and her husband, a test engineer for Conoco Petroleum Co., moved here during the summer. She is a graduate of Baylor University, with a BA degree in education, and she will teach the first graders along with seven other teachers. Pictured above, watching Sandra Snow register, are left to right, John Warren, Robert Denver Collum, Phillip James Holmes, Donald Mirel Cook, Ronnie Dean Drewry, and Gloria Jean Sims. Staff Pho.

The emergency March of Dimes campaign in Terry County reached $2,665.80, Wednesday, with coin collection containers still not collected and contributions from Yoakum County not turned in as yet, according to R. He felt sure donations from both counties would climb to over $3,500 when all the money is turned in, expecting about $500 each from Plains and Denver City. Moreman had set the two-county quota at $3,000 and felt that volunteer workers had done exceedingly well. The main campaign which was held in January, netted over $5,400. Moreman wishes to thank all workers and interested persons who helped to make the drive a success. Donations were received during the past two weeks from the following: business firms, $514.00; coin collectors, $12.60; mail cards, Terry, $604.20; mail cards, Yoakum, $50; Mother's March, city, $714.73... special events, $312.03; Brownfield theatres, $105.84; Challis community, $21.98; Meadow, $56.49; Tokio community, $231.93; and Sheriff's posse, $15. Contributions at special events held in Brownfield were composed of Lions Softball Tournament donation, $45.11; Jaycee Dance, $106.51; Legion wrestling donation $52.72; a private party, $3.50; and donation at Farm Bureau Queen Coronation donation, $104.19. TALENT PROGRAM AT TOKIO GIVEN THURS.
A total of $231.96 was donated to the Emergency March of Dimes at a program staged at the Tokio Community Center, Thursday evening of last week with Mrs. D. E. Green, chairman at Tokio, in charge. The program consisted of various types of talent from entertainers from Lubbock, Meadow, Tahoka, Brownfield, Plains, and Tokio. Among the entertainers who donated their time and talent for the drive were Sonny and Pete Curtis, Roy Jones, Sonny Brantley and his mother, Patti Winn, Glen D. Hardin, R. D. Jones, Sr., Mr. Gillham, John Hansard, Jerry Gannaway, Oma McCargo, Viva Hale, and tap dance students from the classes taught by Mrs. Dee Parker.

Following the program, ice cream and cake was served to entertainers and their families at the Green's new cafe building by ladies of the Tokio community. Mrs. Green wishes to express her thanks to all those who made the program such a success, and also to Roy Fleming, who provided a public address system for the event. Dr. John E. Addefeldt, chief physician of the world's largest polio-respirator center at Rancho Los Amigos near Los Angeles, asked public support of the March of Dimes emergency fund drive. "There are more than 100 critically paralyzed polio patients now in iron lungs awaiting admission to the 10 existing respirator centers in the US, which now have 1,200 iron lungs," he said. "In addition, patients with severe paralysis who depend on respirator aids desperately need more facilities," he added. "If they don't get them, they may be forced to serve long-term sentences in iron lungs."

MOTHERS' MARCH
Brownfield mothers staged a march against polio Thursday of last week from 7 to 8 p.m., collecting a sum of $714.73 to be used in the fight against the dread disease. At this time last year, the five states had 5,962 cases, or 37 per cent of the national total.

Nelson Pharmacy Being Remodeled

While Homer and Mrs. Nelson are vacationing in New Mexico, the offsprings and the help, "Smitty" and "Sister" Walser, are not idle. What they are doing in the way of remodeling and enlarging the pharmacy is something to write home about. And when Homer gets home, he will have to learn to find his way about. As was, things were so crowded that it became rather hard to find items. But with the remodeling and enlargement, it will be an easier matter to find what they are looking for. Both Punch and Graves are at home and engaged in the work, and Miss Paralee helps in the afternoons. Carpenters finished their work Tuesday.

AN AMERICAN'S OBLIGATION

Above the pall of gloom that hovers over our world today there is a road sign pointing to a brighter future for all mankind. The road sign says: "This way to truth." Millions upon millions of the world's population have been shoved off the road-way to truth by Socialists and Communists who circulate propaganda falsehoods. A substantial number of our own American citizens have let themselves be led off the road-way, unaware that the attractive de-tours of the Socialists are dangerous.

The central truth we need to establish first of all is the moral "rightness" of our American principles. Secondly, we must establish in the minds of all citizens the true facts about the relatively larger degree of material welfare which our American system produces. Every American today owes a major obligation to the task of preserving the heritage that made him free and which produces his comparative abundance. In my opinion he cannot have an easy conscience unless he spends some time each week on the following duties of American citizenship:

Citizenship Duties

1. Understand the American way of life, and what makes it tick.
2. Understand Communism, its basic godless philosophy, its irrevocable goal, its insidious tactics and cunning strategy.
3. Understand Socialism, and all the cunning disguises in which it presents itself to the American people.
4. Understand propaganda techniques as used by both the Communists and the Socialists.
5. Take an interest in your public schools and your private and public-financed colleges. Take an interest in what's being taught and how it's being taught. Take an interest in the welfare of the teachers who have given so much, and who have received so little of the benefits of the private enterprise system.

Political Action

6. Become active in government. Run for local, state and national office, or help select capable people of the highest integrity to serve. Be constantly vocal on all local and national political issues. Particularly, tell your Congressman and the President that you want the federal budget balanced, expenses cut gradually to a reasonable figure, and a tax system created that will not penalize success and thus smother the dynamic incentive system.

7. Strive constantly for spiritual growth. There isn't a problem on earth that cannot be cured by the practice of Christianity. When all is said and done, the Bible holds the answer. We, as individuals, can push the world along toward mankind's highest destiny if each of us makes the welfare of our fellow man our first concern.

8. And lastly, dedicate a part of your everyday life to bringing these duties of American citizenship to the attention of your fellow workers, your neighbors, your friends.

The Challenge

If we do these things we will be fulfilling our obligation to freedom. Is it a lot to ask that we do these things? If we think so we ought to read again the history of the founding of this nation and see and feel the hardships overcome by people who made our freedom possible. They felt that no challenge was too great, no sacrifice too severe, if freedom was at stake. That spirit carried them on. It is our heritage. We have seen it flare up and burn brightly in every national emergency, at home, and abroad.

The Socialists and the Communists, the welfare staters and the economic planners would like to see it extinguished. If each of us rises to the occasion, if every man and woman in America will accept the challenges of citizenship, the Socialists of all hues and colors will not prevail, and America will remain strong so that she can lead the world toward the highest fulfillment of man's purpose on earth.

We get a little tired of hearing those who would never do any fighting advocating US intervention in every forlorn corner of the world.

According to Philomena Wattle, the congregation was so small last Sunday that she blushed when the Reverend got up and said, "Dear-ly Edward."

MEET YOUR MINISTER AND FAMILY—Rev. Howard Smith, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, moved here with his family in May, 1933, from Grassland, where he was pastor a year. He has been preaching for the past 16 years and did his ministerial work under the supervision of the Board of Ministerial Studies, in the San Antonio District, graduating in 1941. For a hobby Rev. Smith likes to repair watches and Mrs. Smith finds sewing a full time job. He is president of the Brownfield Ministerial Alliance. Rev. Smith is shown above with his family, left to right, Retha Faye 10, Janie Lee 3, and Mrs. Smith. The couple's daughter, Mrs. Don Dury of Hamlin, is not shown. The church completed a revival Sunday, with Buford Battin of Lubbock conducting the services, and the most recent remodeling at the church includes a new baptistry and aisle carpets. (Staff Photo.)

The Texas Liquor Control Board inspectors in July reported the seizure of one illicit still, which had a cubic capacity of 75 gallons. The still was taken in Bowie County.

Ez Tike says it isn't running after women that's bad—it's catching them that does the harm.

NAVY "WAITING LIST" ALMOST ELIMINATED

The "waiting list" of applicants for enlistment in the United States Navy has been practically eliminated due to the recent quota increases, it was announced today by Chief E. H. Linenbroker, Recruiter in Charge of the US Navy Recruiting Sub-Station at Lubbock.

He said, "The Navy has drastically increased its requirements for new recruits during the fiscal year, 1955."

For the past year and a half, the recruiter said, Navy applicants have had to wait several months before they were able to enlist. With the quota doubled this month and further increases expected during the coming fiscal year, most applicants and particularly those making top qualifying scores, can be enlisted without waiting beyond the processing period.

PEDESTRIANS SHOULD ALSO BE CAREFUL

"A pedestrian who disregards signs of life often is breaking the law," Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, and Services Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, emphasized this point today in speaking in connection with the "Signs of Life" traffic safety program being conducted this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety, and the National Safety Council.

"Pedestrians killed in traffic," he said, "often have been crossing at intersections against the signal, crossing at intersections diagonally, or crossing between intersections."

"All these actions are violations of the law," he pointed out, "and usually are covered by signs of life."

"One out of four traffic victims is a pedestrian," he said, "and more than half the people killed in city traffic are pedestrians."

"Certainly many deaths could be avoided if pedestrians crossed streets at the proper places, and obeyed traffic signs of life where they are provided."

It's a mistake to think that signs of life are for motorists only, according to Col. Tilley. Actually, they're intended to guide and protect pedestrians as well.

"Both drivers and pedestrians," he said, "will do well to heed the slogan of the Texas Safety Association, The Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council, 'Know Your Signs of Life.'"

Mesdames Otto Butler, Wayne Brown, Crawford Burrow, and Hub Moore visited recently with Mrs. Bob Collier, in Floydada.

Nat'l. Grange Joins Fight Against Litter

Herschel D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange, has officially aligned his nationwide farm group with the new anti-litter campaign of KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL.

In a letter to New York headquarters of the new anti-litter organization, Mr. Newsom formally accepted membership for the Grange on the KAB Advisory Council. He said the Grange has "a real interest" in KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL because it "intends to do something about litter."

Mr. Newsom recalled that the Grange has always been concerned with keeping America beautiful in the broadest sense, because its members are interested in their country and want to see it become "an ever-better land in which to live." Moreover, as rural people, they are personally involved in the litter problem because they are so close to it, Mr. Newsom said.

"Not only does highway litter often wind up on their own property, where it is unsightly and unhealthy, but some forms of litter cause damage to farm animals and machinery," he declared.

National Grange representation on the KAB Advisory Council brings farm men and women in State Granges in thirty-seven states into the national fight against litter.

Marine Pfc. James H. Jenkins Has Part In Okinawa Exercise

Marine Pfc. James H. Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Jenkins, of 119 W. Cardwell, Brownfield, participated in a joint Marine-Army amphibious and airborne exercise on Okinawa, August 6.

The major assault force, the 4th Marine Regimental Combat Team hit Kinmu Saki beach on the southeast side of Okinawa while a company of the Army's 187th Airborne team parachuted onto Kin airfield.

Carried ashore by the Army's 56th Tank and Amphibious Tractor Battalion and supported by aircraft from Marine Fighter Squadron 224, the assault force drove inland to join forces with the parachutists. The Marine Combat Team was backed by the 3rd Marine Division tanks, artillery engineers and service units.

The 4th Marine Regiment, a unit of the 3rd Marine Division, is based at Camp Nara, in southern Honshu, Japan. The supporting units came from various camps throughout Japan for the assault on Okinawa.

Both Texas Senators Vote For 90 Percent Parity on Crops

Both Texas Senators, Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel, voted in favor of extending the present 90 per cent parity when the Farm Program was under consideration in the Congress.

Like 33 other members of the Democratic Party, Johnson and Daniel were pledged to the one year extension of the present program and were active in its behalf.

The Flexible System, advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, of 82 1/2 to 90 per cent parity was finally adopted after bitter fights in both the House and Senate.

Price Daniel's vote on the Farm Bill was incorrectly reported by some of the Texas newspapers as being in favor of the Flexible System. Actually, Daniel voted only to raise the minimum of the flexible plan from 80 to 82 1/2 per cent, so that the lowest support would be as high as possible if the Flexible System was adopted.

However, on the final choice between the Flexible Program and present Farm Program, Daniel voted with the large majority of Democrats to continue the present 90 per cent parity on basic crops.

Both Johnson and Daniel expressed the opinion during the debate that the farm economy was important to the welfare and security of the nation and that the farmers were hit hard enough by drought and decrease in prices without changing the Farm Program.

July postal receipts for 122 Texas cities reached almost $5.8 million, a 5 per cent drop from June's $6 million total, but 6 per cent higher than July, 1953, receipts of $5.4 million, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Eighteen cities showed gains in the month-to-month comparison. Largest increases were registered by Cuero, 32 per cent, and Edinburg, 30 per cent. Navasota receipts were up 25 per cent and Jacksonville reported a 20 per cent gain over June totals.

Small June-July increases were noted in two of Texas' five largest cities—San Antonio, 9 per cent, and Austin 6 per cent. Dallas and Fort Worth were 5 per cent behind their June levels, and Houston was 3 per cent lower.

Largest drops reported among the 103 cities reporting June-July setbacks were Alpine and Sweetwater, 38 per cent down. Bastrop and Gonzales reported 35 per cent decreases, while Crystal City, Gladewater and McCamey showed declines of 34 per cent each.

Graham reported a change of less than one-half of one percent.

Family Doctors To Meet In Galveston

Galveston physicians are completing plans to host more than 1,000 Texas family doctors for the 5th Annual Scientific Assembly of the Texas Academy of General Practice, September 9-11.

The three-day meet, which is, in effect, an intense refresher course for practicing doctors, lists 11 distinguished medical scientist speakers from all sections of the nation, who will deliver 20 papers on every field of medical science.

The group will be addressed by Dr. Philip Thorek, noted Chicago surgeon for the 5th time. Dr. Thorek was guest speaker for the Academy's first assembly, 1950, in Fort Worth, and has been invited back each year by popular demand.

Subjects on which Texas doctors will be brought up to date range from alcoholism and anaesthesia to "Concern Versus Panic in Malignant Diseases."

The meeting, annually one of the state's largest purely scientific medical gatherings, appeared on the way to breaking attendance records this year, with advance registrations well above last year's total of visiting doctors.

The Administration still finds its number one problem the farm and his income level.

Mr. and Mrs. 'Punch' Nelson Visiting Here

Didn't get to see "Punch" Nelson when he was up for the wedding of his brother, Graves, a week or so ago. At that time he had to hurry back to Houston, but he and wife are here on vacation, presently.

You will find him most of the daylight hours for a week over at his dad's pharmacy, helping to dispense drugs, and Dad Homer will get a rest. But Ma Nelson will have to keep the pots "biling" as usual, or more so, to feed Punch and friends.

He seems to like the Houston area, and perhaps will always make that home. The lady was reared down in that area.

Mrs. W. D. May and two daughters, of Gomez, have returned from Antioch, Calif., where they visited her mother, Mrs. Annie Whately, and sister, Mrs. F. S. DuBose and brother, G. A. Wheatley, in Richmond, Calif.

Doug Storey, son of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Storey, of Sundown, was a visitor in Brownfield, Monday. Doug has recently completed a four-year hitch in the Marines and is now looking for a job in civilian life. He would prefer to join some company that would give him leave of absence later to attend college.

Other members present were Misses Creola Moore and Marie Gracy, and Mesdames Joe Christian, Fred Arnold, H. W. Peace, W. A. Kimbrough, Will Fitzgerald, Merle Paddock, R. C. Randle, Percy Spencer, and E. B. McBurnett, Jr. Also attending were two guests, Mrs. Ruth Witkins and Mrs. Emmett Royer.

Following the services the Brownfield Funeral Home will take the body to Merkel, Texas, where interment will be made beside her late husband.

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

is when we have to read the proofs before her articles get into these columns. But we sometimes get a bit amused at her great efforts to make the charming bride look the part. There is a minute description in every detail of all the outside garments, at least, that the lovely bride has on, a lot of mentions of tulle, ballet lengths, lace, frills and fancies.

About the only thing not mentioned is the color of her lip stick. It even goes into detail about her old man placing the genny he perhaps had to borrow from someone, after paying for all this bridal regalia, to place in her shoe, to make another corn, perhaps. Then there is a lot more about her "going away" stuff that no mere man would understand in 74 years—that's our age. But at least, the bridegroom is mentioned once, when it tells who was his "best man," and he needs a best man, and how!

Of late, however, we have seen two or three mentions that the poor old bridegroom has been given "showers" by his friends. What the poor guy perhaps needs is a flood. But we are glad that most couples live happy ever after.

We have at least one competitor here that we can josh and guff, and he can pour it on us if he likes, and knows it. This is Ralph Elyman of the Brownfield Shopper, a free-circulation paper. Now we learned Ralph the printer's trade right after he finished high school and we can say almost anything to Ralph without causing him to swell up and barely speak to us.

When his paper hit the front yard of our domicile last week, we noted an unusually large headline for his paper, announcing, "Yarborough, the Democratic Candidate by 30,000 Majority." At the time, we questioned the assertion, and in fact, expected our candidate, "Shiverree," to have something like that ahead, and not "Yarborough." But to make sure we waited 'till Monday to call up Ralph for an interview. We asked him if that headline was not a "typographical error?"

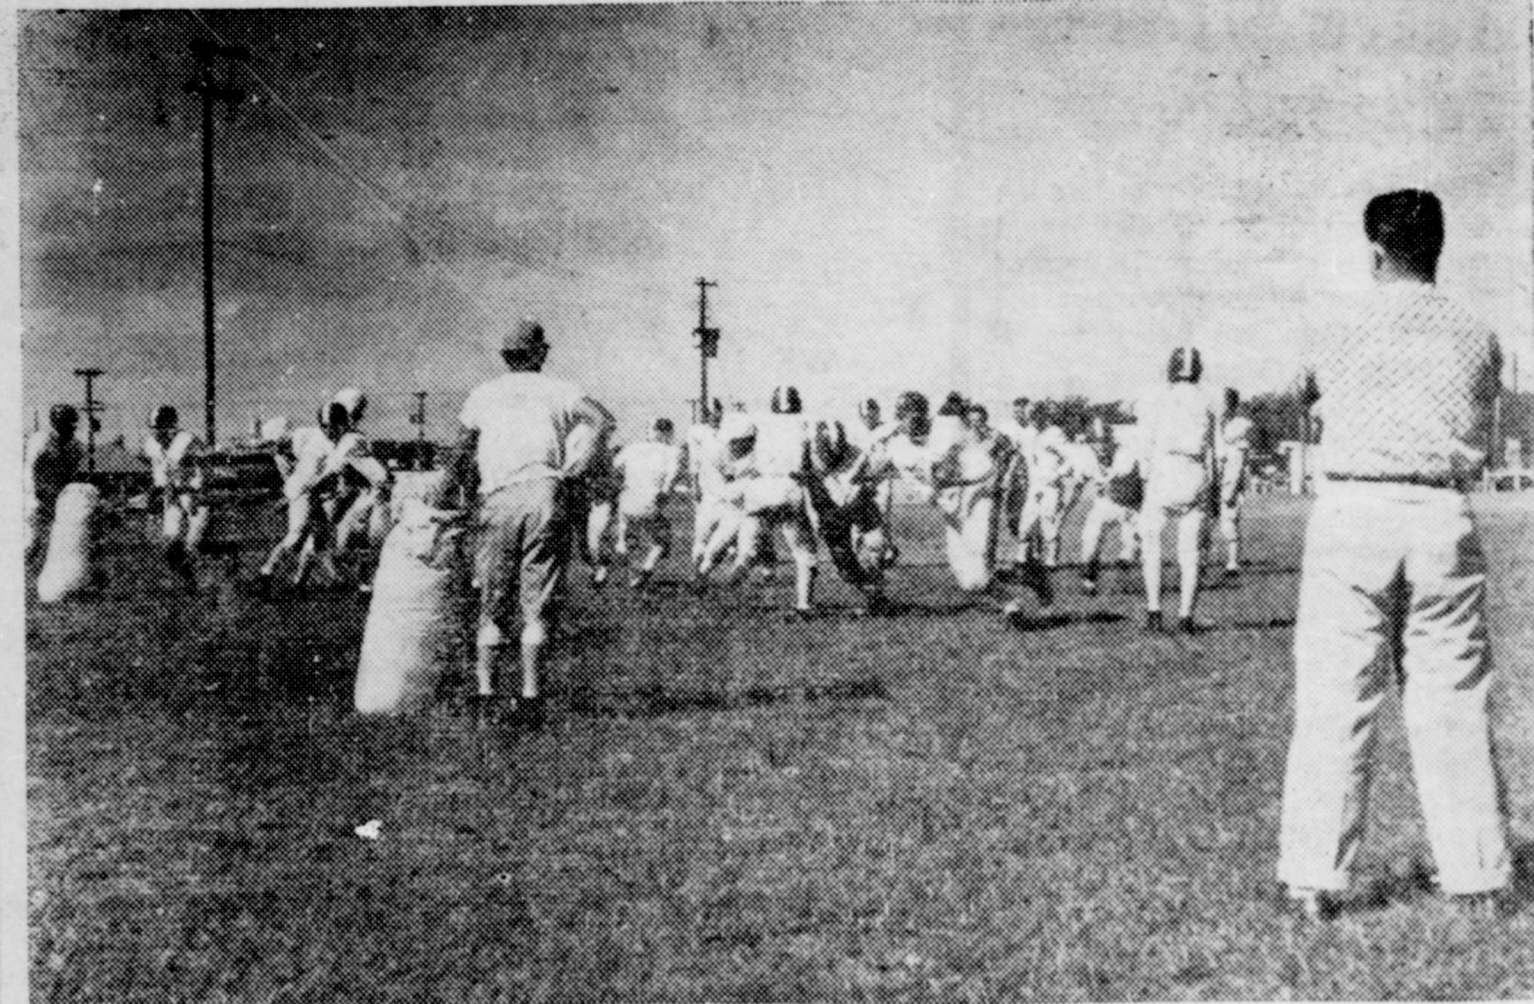

He admitted that it was by some 100,000, and we had a big laugh. We were for different men, but this was the first time we had ever mentioned the fact to him, as we considered that his business, and Ralph always being a square shooter, thought we had a right to be for Shivers, if we wished.

Well, what in heck will the scientists dig up next. About the latest thing we have seen was a breathing mask recently manufactured that allows the farmer on his tractor, no matter how dusty it gets, to breath cool, clean air, the dust and heat is eliminated. The idea was based on the gas masks used by soldiers in war to eliminate poison gas, or miners for the same reason, when they were in a mine where gas is escaping.

I don't know of anything else that we could use to fill this space.

CUBS PRACTICE SIGNAL DRILL IN DUMMY SCRIMMAGE—Brownfield Cubs football team began practicing Wednesday from 3:15-6:15 p.m. and Head Coach Toby Greer feels that all of the boys are working hard, are beginning to get their legs in condition, and are showing a lot of enthusiasm and hustling. The 28 members of the team are shown above as they completed a drill. Pictured in the foreground, left to right, with backs to camera, are Farris Nowell, assistant coach, and Charles Jones, backfield coach. Greer is pictured in the background calling signals. (Stf. Pho.)

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS FOR CUBS GOOD THIS YEAR; RATE 3D IN DIST.

Facing a tough 10-game schedule, Coach Toby Greer and assistants Farris Nowell and Charles Jones are continuing sending the 28-strong Brownfield Cubs varsity through daily practices, with twice daily practices, with the twice daily practice routine ending at the start of school this week.

The Cubs have been rated to finish third in District 6-AA this year, despite the fact that the group has been classified as a splendid ball club, but Greer believes that other clubs in District 6-AA have strengthened as much as his group, if not more.

For instance, Kermit has an experienced team featuring 13 lettermen and six regulars, including Jim Elliott, rated on top with his high scoring; Donnie Hixon, a speedy back, and Bill Weldy, who made all three touchdowns against Brownfield last year in Kermit's 21-6 win.

Another team Brownfield has to contend with is Andrews, having seven regulars back from the crew that treated the Cubs rough last year.

Seminole and Littlefield are not underestimated, for Seminole's George Zoller will have 11 lettermen forming the nucleus of his team, and Littlefield has four returning regulars, being rated the dark horse.

Brownfield has good prospects, with seventeen seniors forming a huge portion for a successful team. Experience is the keynote of the Cubs with 13 lettermen—three ends, a tackle, three guards, a center, a quarterback, two halfbacks and two fullbacks. Six of these were regulars in 1953 and two more did most of the starting after mid-season.

This sounds good—but there is a drawback—six of the lettermen have been moved to new positions and a seventh is playing all at one spot instead of alternating at two.

Lloyd Martin, a tackle, was at end last year. Vernon Brewer lettered at end and in the backfield and will be strictly an end this season. Kelly Mack Sears lettered at tackle and will be playing end. Jack Stricklin was an end-tackle and is at left half. Lee Allen Jones has been switched from half to full. Ronnie Swan will try the backfield after playing at guard. Nicky Greer has moved to guard after playing center.

Also on the varsity squad will be four sophomores and seven juniors. Lewis Chambliss, a first-year man, will be playing a lot of ball at tackle. A boy to watch will be Gerald Jenkins, a tall, 140 pounder, who can throw and will possibly keep letterman Richard Baggett and squadman Phil Addison busy keeping their starting positions.

The main backfield unit will possibly be composed of Baggett, Jones, Swan and Jesse Scott, ineligible last season. Swan had good examples set before him by his two brothers, Joe and Howard, who precede him as Cub stars.

Brewer and Sears will be depended upon to provide the receiving strength if a suitable passing attack can be mastered.

Greer is coaching the line for the first time in years, leaving the backfield to Charles Ray Jones, Baylor graduate and brother of the coach at Kermit, Max Jones, and the famed T. Jones of Texas University.

Jones is mixing in a little split-T with Greer's straight-T and the first few practices indicate that it may be a good combination.

Among former Cubs who will be greatly missed this year include Billy Thomason, James Chessier, Jerry Don Brown, Delbert Bradley, Joe Foshee, and Charles Lassiter.

Game captains will be elected by the Cubs the Monday before each game this year, with co-captains being decided upon at the end of the season.

Meadow Bronchos Have Much to Live Up To in Face of Record Set Last Year

The 1954 Meadow Bronchos, under the coaching of Gene Tyler, have the job of following the example set by last year's team—that of winning all their games and going all the way to take the regional championship.

Despite the fact that Meadow will be minus such wild mustangs as J. W. Eubank, Dub Warren, Dale Fulford, and Jone Tongate, the picture can still look bright because of returning prospects. Among them are Mickey Clark, 215 pound tackle, most valuable lineman as a junior, not only to the team, but in the district; Roger Henry, 210 pound tackle, lettering last year as a freshman; Joe Longley, who is expected to show up good at his new man-under position; Larry Lockett, 194 pound sophomore, one of the best ends in the area; and Manuel Garcia, 145 pound junior, who will do most of the running from the tailback position.

The Bronchos went through 10 regular season opponents with 14 points, the narrowest margin of victory in the conference, and 12 to an outside foe—Idalou, a good class A team. Then Meadow defeated Whitharral and Stinnett for the regional title.

The Bronchos breezed to a total of 399 points in 12 games, giving their opponents only 65.

Two District 4-B representatives have moved—Frenship going to Class A, and Plains joining 3-B, leaving District 4-B composed of Lorenzo, Wellman, Wilson, Ropesville, Cooper, and Meadow.

Tyer has a new assistant, Bill Preston, ex-Hardin-Simmons University player, who was at Great Lakes last season in the Navy. He replaces Larry Wartes, who went to Stanton.

Also being missed from the line-up this year will be Marion Duncan, Jim Castleberry, Bob Rutledge, and Doyle Roquemore. Ben

LOCAL COUPLE AND GRANDSON LAND 43-POUND CAT-FISH—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Winkles and grandson, Leroy Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Taylor, really brought back the fish this week after catching a 43-pound yellow catfish at the Clear Fork of the Brazos River, about 30 miles northwest of Albany. The group fished two days on the Stamford Lake, about 15 miles northeast of Stamford, and caught a mess of white perch and channel cat, and from there spent two nights fishing on the river below the mouth of Paint Creek on the Clear Fork river. The same night they caught the cat fish they also landed a 50-pound beaver, took the hook out, and threw it back. They were joined at the river by Mr. Winkles' nephew, Cecil Nelson, and son, Robert, of Albany, and the group returned home Monday. The Winkles were hosts to their children and next door neighbors at a fish fry at their home, 815 North Atkins, Tuesday evening. Leroy, 16, students at Brownfield High School, was really thrilled over their catch, and this trip made the third time this summer that he had gone fishing with his granddad, but as beginning of school was drawing near, the group had to return this week. Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. Winkles and Leroy.

N. Permian Had 41 New Wells Finished

Terry was reported to have had one new location last week, which was reported in this paper at that time, a Canyon prospector 10 miles south of town, close to the Forrester F-M road. It had no other new locations, nor new wells.

The north Permian area got a total of 34 new locations last week, with Andrews County leading as per usual with 20. Garza and Yoakum had four each, Scurry 2, and Gaines, Howard, Kent, and Terry with one each.

The new wells finished were divided as follows: Andrews, 14; Howard 10, Garza, Scurry and Yoakum with 3 each; Borden and Lubbock with 2 each; while Cochran, Gaines, Lamb and Kent had one each. Total, 41.

Garden Club Re-Sets Grass At Scout House
About 15 members of Brownfield Garden Club sodded the lawn at the Girl Scout Little House, Monday, after which they went to Coleman Park to eat supper.

The City had hauled in the dirt for the lawn at the club house and had leveled it.

Thanks to Gary Barbee, city, for his renewal. And this goes to T. G. Sexton, city.

"Davis has some sideline talents that make friends for himself and the bank he represents. He has won declamation contests, was a basketball letterman, played tennis in county team doubles, belonged to high school quartettes and chorus, and teaches teen-agers in Bible classes and song festivals at Graham Chapel, Church of Christ, Route 3, Post, Texas. At present he is also chairman of the committee running the Terry-Yoakum County Junior Livestock Show. Many of the rodeo groups with whom Davis works are FFA chapters. The junior rodeo unit has its own book of rules and regulations and has a mutual working relationship with the main official cowboy rodeo association."

The article further brought out that Davis' influence reaches widely, in that he writes a monthly column for the "Hoofs and Horns" magazine at Tucson, Ariz., and is a frequent contributor to the "Horse Lovers Magazine," of Richmond, Calif.

Thus on many fronts, the article stated, this energetic young bank advisor for the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company touches the life and times of the Southwest. Through it all, it says, he seems to have escaped any "high hat" tendencies, and remains a regular free-and-easy cow man and horse expert, such as only the genial Southwest can produce. The article concludes by bringing out that through the price and drought problems felt by many beef cattlemen of the Plains, the policy of the good banks in that vast territory has been to tide over the time-tried ranchers and farmers and give them enough rope to swing along freely. Dealing with a bank that knows its patrons and has long years of experience in range riding and cattle selling, according to the article, is made double attractive when a member of the bank's staff demonstrated first-hand knowledge of the working tools of the profession.
