Brick And Tile Plant Announced For Cisco

Wrangler-Hillsboro Conference Game In Local Gymnasium Thursday Night

The 1949 edition of the NCJC basketball will move Coach Stormy Davis' battle weary, but otherwise victorious Cisco Wranglers onto home soil in their second court tussle with Hillsboro Thursday night in the City Gymnasium. Tip-off time has been slated for 7:30 o'clock and tickets will be placed on sale at the front entrance box office. Ample seating has been promised by college officials. As before, the Ciscoans will take up the brawl as the non-favorites of the two contestants in tomorrow night's affair. Hillsboro, defending champions, will shadow the Wranglers in height and capable material. A traveling squad of 16 court wisened veterans is expected to invade Cisco early Thursday afternoon. Meanwhile, Davis has stepped up his practice sessions in the high school gymnasium double in order to throw up an unbending defense against Hillsboro. It is his belief that the Wranglers will have the drop on the defenders in many respects, and if his cagers are successful in passing the title defenders here, the road ahead will be partially cleared of stumbling blocks. Hillsboro is rated a few points better than the Ciscoans, but Davis was a little free with his enthusiasm over the defensive and offensive standouts of the boys in their cleaning of Decatur, 60-50, there Monday night. And too, the mentor has uncovered many potential possibilities in understudies Bobby Travis and Charles Adair. Davis' men have come through with flying colors in an 8-game non-conference schedule with a record of six wins and two defeats. Cisco JC gained victories over Ranger Weatherford, Clifton and placed high in two separate tournaments. In the way of defeats, Decatur knocked the Ciscoans back on their heels at the beginning of the bang-up and Lon Morris steam rolled them in the Ranger Invitational Tourney. Later, the Wranglers evened the series with Decatur. For the blue and white, Davis will set Leonard Grigsby and James Swanner at forward, Leon Parrish at center and Spec Tompkins and Lynn Johnson at guards as Thursday's starting lineup. Tompkins and Johnson are the Wranglers' top scorers and have received sportsmanship trophies in the recent Clifton and Ranger tournaments. Following the row with Hillsboro Thursday, Weatherford will visit Cisco on January 10, Clifton on January 13 and Temple on January 24. Twelve games have been slated for the conference round ball battle.

TORNADO WRECKAGE

TEAGUE MEN PURCHASE LOCAL PLANT, EXPECT TO BEGIN OPERATION SOON

New impetus was given Cisco's expanding industrial picture today with the announcement of the purchase of the physical assets of the Cisco Clay Products Company by the Teague Tile and Brick Company of Teague, Texas. All the buildings and various equipment was included in the sale.

Officer Candidate Program Announced By Naval Dept.

A new officer candidate training program, which permits draft exempt college students who are members of the Organized Naval Reserve to qualify during summer recess for commissions in the Naval Reserve, is being initiated by the Navy. A maximum of 2500 candidates from colleges and universities throughout the country may be enrolled in the program in time to participate in the first six weeks' training course in the summer of 1949. The new program is designed to supplement present Naval officer procurement programs. To be draft exempt the candidates must be veterans or must have been a member of an Organized Reserve unit prior to June 24, 1948. In addition to quarters, subsistence, medical attention and transportation, the student officer candidates will be paid $135 while undergoing training during their basic six weeks' training course, and $150 during the advanced six weeks' course. The candidates must complete both summer training periods before finishing the work for a degree in college. Freshmen and sophomores in accredited colleges who are not studying for medical, dental, or theological degrees may enroll in the program provided they are draft exempt, members of the Organized Naval Reserve, and meet other general qualifications of age and citizenship. Although no college military training will be required of the candidates during their academic year, they must attend weekly drills as members of the Organized Reserve. The new program is not to be confused with the long established Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program, under which successful candidates are given scholarships at one of the 5 colleges and universities in which NROTC units are established, and are required to take prescribed naval science subjects during their school year. Present plans call for the establishment of two training centers—at the Naval Training Station, Newport, Rhode Island and the Naval Training Station, San Diego, California.

The plant which is located on the N. D. Gallagher farm east of the city limits, will be expanded and additional equipment will be installed for the manufacture of clay tile and brick. The Company plans to use its newly acquired plant mainly in the manufacture of tile, but will make some types of brick. They plan building new drying sheds and kilns and hope to be in operation by early spring. L. R. Boyd, Jr., of Teague is president of the Teague Tile and Brick Company, and Townsend Clark, Jr., is secretary and treasurer. The two men are the only active officers in the company which was started some two years ago. Steve Campbell, also of Teague, has been named as superintendent of the Cisco plant. The Teague plant has been in operation for about two years, and during the time it has been successful in furnishing the face brick on the new Veterans Hospital in Marik, the huge Wynwood apartment project in Dallas and the Ridglen apartment project in Fort Worth. Over a million face brick were used in each of the first two projects. The announcement was made simultaneously by the officials of the company and the industrial committee of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce. The committee with Charles Spears as chairman has been working on the transfer of the property and was given much credit in the completion of the project. The Cisco Clay Products Co. was formed more than a year ago, but due to the scarcity of certain machinery the plant was never put into operation. A huge sheet iron building was erected and all the available equipment was installed. The new company will have an estimated 75 per cent of the needed machinery in operation. The old company, along with the N. D. Gallagher Clay Products Company, was started when clay deposits in the area were tested and found suitable for the manufacture of certain types of products requiring the use of clay. The Gallagher company is engaged in the manufacture of flower pots and the finished product is being trucked to florists and jobbers all over the nation. The industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce reported that they were working on additional projects for Cisco with good prospects.

Responsibilities of 26-Year-Old Men Under Selective Service Explained

General K. L. Berry, state director of selective service system, today outlined the responsibilities of registrants who reach the age of 26. Under the present Selective Service Act, registrants who reach the age of 26 cannot be inducted without their consent but they still have certain regulations to follow. The laws and regulations are listed below: 1. Registrants who attain the age of 26 cannot be inducted without their consent under the law and regulations of the Selective Service Act of 1948, but their responsibilities under the act are not over when they reach that age. It is the duty of all such registrants to keep their local boards informed of current changes in address and status. 2. The following is quoted from Section 15 of the Selective Service Act of 1948. "It shall be the duty of every registrant to keep his local board informed as to his current address and changes in status as required by such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the President." 3. Selective Service Regulations is quoted as follows: "Communication by Mail—It shall be the duty of each registrant to keep his local board advised at all times of the address where mail will reach him. The mailing of any order, notice, or blank form by the local board to a registrant at the address last reported by him to the local board shall constitute notice to him of the contents of the communication, whether he actually receives it or not." 4. The wording is clear and plainly indicates the intent of Congress. All registrants, whether they have attained the age of 26 or not, are required to notify the local board of changes in address or status. 5. This requirement has a sound and practical basis. In case of national emergency in the future, Congress may raise the age of liability for service under the Selective Service Act of 1948. In that event, registrants who have attained the age of 26 would again be eligible to be considered for reclassification, physical examination, and induction.

Mrs. R. A. Green and son of Dallas visited the past weekend in the home of her sister-in-law and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fenley.

Chamber Of Commerce Views Coming Year With Optimism

Directors of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce in their first meeting of the new year, discussed the bright prospects of increased business and population growth for 1949 at the organization's building Tuesday night. The group believed that the city faces its most promising year.

The possibilities of obtaining new industries plus the announcement of the purchase of the Cisco Clay Products Co. plant by the Teague Brick and Tile Co. and the contemplated opening of new oil well supply companies in and near Cisco led the officials to look upon the future with confidence.

The members passed a resolution expressing appreciation for the work done by James J. Collins, who died Monday in a local hospital, as a civic leader and citizen. Mr. Collins was at one time president of the body of appreciation to C. A. Deuschle. They also passed a resolution chie. local manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. for the work he had done for the community. Mr. Deuschle was recently promoted to district superintendent with offices in Mineral Wells.

It was announced that the Victor Hotel and Victor Hotel Coffee Shop would have their official opening on January 15. Victor Cornelius, who recently purchased the property, has made extensive repairs on the hotel and when the dining room is completed it will modern in all details. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner and it was decided that the date would be announced as soon as arrangements were completed. A list of the names of 16 business men was prepared to be submitted to the city commission for the purpose of nominating eight directors for the coming term of office. The retiring directors for the coming year. The retiring directors are: C. A. Deuschle, W. P. Guinn, N. C. Huston, Ronald Rhodes, O. L. Stamey, J. W. Sitton, A. R. Westfall, and Anton White. The City Commission will name the eight new directors from the 16 names presented.

UNEXPECTED VISITOR

The Bennicks of Detroit, Mich. had an unexpected visitor drop on them New Year's Eve. Mrs. Rose Bennick, 39, left her work Friday, Dec. 31, because she did not feel well. Her husband, Felix, diagnosed the trouble as a cold, recommended hot bath and bed, a mother. I worked right up until a few hours before she was born.

"I had no idea that I was to be born until a few minutes before birth did we realize what was taking place. We were so excited we didn't know what to do, not a single article of baby clothes," reported Mrs. Bennick. Dorothy Elizabeth, a healthy 7 pound girl born without the aid of a physician is doing just fine. NEA.

City Airport Well To Be Checked at All Formations

Reports from operators on the Trammell and McCurdy No. 1 City of Cisco, oil test located on the old airport land at the north edge of the city, showed that they were waiting for cement to set before completion work is begun.

The well was cemented after water was encountered in the Ellenburger. A log of the well showed that oil saturation was encountered in six formations at different depths and plans call for tests at each showing. It will be several days before a final decision can be reached.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Koerber and small daughter, Kay, left New Year's Day for their home in Palacios after spending Christmas and the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Heyser, Sr.

Re-inaugurated as Commissioner of the General Land Office in a simple ceremony January 3 was Bascom Giles, whose office reported record receipts of nearly $50,000,000 during the last fiscal year. Political observers have forecast that this will be the last term for and commissioner for Giles who was first elected to the office in 1938.

Double Home Garden Yield By Two Hours' Planning

A few hours spent this winter on a good plan for your home vegetable garden may cut the time required to tend it next summer right in half, while giving as large an output, and of better quality.

How is that possible? By reducing waste—of land, and of your harvest, which the lack of a careful plan so often allows. When too much space is used, and you grow more of many vegetables than required, the surplus is likely to be wasted. The time it has taken to produce this surplus, the seed and fertilizer used upon it, are also wasted.

Careful planning will enable you to reduce your garden area to the space which, if kept busy throughout the season, will grow all the vegetables you can use. The reduced space will probably be better kept, and can be twice as well fed with the same amount of plant food, which will insure early, heavy yields, of superior quality.

The vegetables which require special thought are the ones which give a short harvest. They are also the earliest ones, which may begin to yield in May, or June; but which for the very reason that they are early, are at their best table quality only a few short weeks. Unless you plan your sowings carefully, you are likely to have altogether too many during this first brief harvest, and then pass the rest of the summer with none at all.

Snap beans, beets, carrots, cucumbers, lettuce and endive, kohlrabi, turnips, spinach, sweet corn, onions from sets, and radishes are the principal ones. Some can only be grown in the early summer and fall, because they will not grow well in hot weather. But many can be enjoyed throughout the summer, if you make enough sowings of them; and plan them so that one short harvest follows another, and as soon as quality begins to deteriorate in the first sowing, you can begin picking top quality beans, or beets, or sweet corn from the next, and so on until frost interrupts the sequence.

To plan the correct number of sowings, and determine how far apart to make them, give a few minutes' study of the table shown herewith. It lists twelve of the short-harvest crops which home gardens are likely to grow.

In the table Column 1 shows the days it requires a vegetable to reach table size, from seed sown in the garden. Since there are quick and slow growing varieties of most vegetables, look in your seed catalogue to find the time required by the varieties you will sow.

Column 2 gives the time a crop remains in good condition for the table. Column 3 gives the space in a garden row to produce one serving for a family of four. If beans are to be served twice a week, for example, since one sowing of beans provides a harvest for four weeks, eight feet in the row will produce all the beans the family can use from one sowing. A new crop should be ready every four weeks through the garden season, to keep the table supplied all summer.

Of most crops enough sowings should be made to insure a sixteen weeks' harvest, which will carry you into October.

were read & approved. Mrs. H. A. McCannies gave the treasury report. Committee chairmen and officers also made their reports and the meeting at Breckenridge was summarized by Mrs. Smith, society president. Other routine affairs were transacted and the meeting was adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Oran Stephens.

Those present were: Mesdames Carrel Smith, Oran Stephens, John Shertzer, J. T. Fields, Joe Lovelady, Zed Kilborn, S. H. Nance, Crikler Paschall, G. J. P. Rainbolt, Ed Aycock, H. A. McCannies, B. E. Morehart and granddaughter, Mary Martha Borman, and R. W. Daniel.

The sea lion is a sissy... but practical. He wears a fur coat when he goes in swimming.

Your car engine isn't a sissy, but it needs extra winter-time protection. That's why practical motorists change to winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil and an OIL-PLATED engine for extra-protection.

They know Nth oil contains a special added ingredient that fastens extra lubricant so closely to cylinder walls it won't all drain down... even overnight. That's why OIL-PLATING means extra protection.
