WOLF AT THE DOOR Press Carrier Boy Training Wolf Pup To Deliver Papers On Route

Folks living on the Daily Press Fifth Street-New Addition route have no reason to become alarmed if they should see a trained Lobo wolf delivering the paper in his mouth to the front steps.

That was the advice given by Carrier Jerry Kile, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kile, who is raising and training the rapidly growing wolf he has had since he was a week old.

Jerry, who has been delivering the Press for the past six months, was given the wolf pup last April. It was only six days old. It seems, as Jerry explained, some friends of his father stumbled upon the wolf den, hidden carefully in a hilly area near Moran, just north of Cisco.

Seeing that the mother had gone, the party of three sacked the pups, five in all. Later, all but Jerry's wolf were killed.

A true breed — fierce and unfriendly — due to natural instinct. "He's getting stronger by the day, all of which could make him more useful on the paper route," Jerry said.

Jerry is hoping Lucky, as the wolf is called, will respond to his rehabilitating methods and will take on the habits of a dog.

Long haired, dusty brown, Lucky is developing rapidly in stature. Today, nearly a month old, he is as big as the average German sheppard pup twice his age.

Anyway, whether Lucky knows it or not, he is causing quite a sensation in the neighborhood these days.

COLLEGE STUDENTS RETURN FROM RANCH DAY BOOSTER TRIP

The last of a series of booster trips, advertising Cisco Junior College's Ranch Day, 1949, was completed Tuesday afternoon in a "preview show" at Breckenridge, Austin Hollywood, chairman, announced.

Other cities the Wranglers boosters visited include Moran, Rising Star, Scranton, Baird, Putnam, Eastland, and Carbon. According to a statement from Hollywood, the Cisco delegation was greeted with large crowds and applause, and "an eagerness to learn more about Ranch Day."

Meanwhile, campus preparations and decorations were reported as coming along steadily. Lively banners announcing Ranch Day events were being posted in the administration and cafeteria buildings, in addition to downtown Cisco business establishments.

Bobbie Jean Kerley, editor, has announced the final edition of the college newspaper, the Brandin' Iron, will be published Thursday. The last of twelve publications will center around Ranch Day and Homecoming themes in a six page edition, she said.

Highlighting Ranch Day, Hollywood stated, will be the annual competitive contest, with prizes going to the following events: best dressed cowboy, best dressed cowgirl, longest beard, biggest effort with the least results beard, best dressed high school cowboy and cowgirl. Winners will be announced in an assembly program, following.

Cyclists Escape Injury Here

Two teen-age cyclists escaped possible injuries here Sunday afternoon when the motorcycle on which they were riding crashed into a car being driven by C. A. Farquhar of Cisco. City police reported today. The accident happened at the West 8th Street-Avenue G intersection.

The cyclists, whose names were not available, leaped from their vehicle in time to avoid injuries to themselves, Officer Ray Hatten, who investigated, said. The force of the impact shattered the motorcycle. Damage was estimated at $250.00 Farquhar's car, a 1935 Willis coupe, was lightly damaged.

Two persons were being treated in a Ranger hospital today for serious injuries sustained Tuesday morning when the car in which they were riding collided with a truck three miles east of Ranger.

Joe Stamey, Cisco High School sophomore, was named president of Cisco's newly formed Young People's Christian Association, by acclamation, Tuesday night at a meeting of the General Council.

The General Council, composed of temporary representatives from nine different churches here, met at the First Methodist Church with adult supervisors directing the election.

Other members of the council elected included Bette Rowe Wilcox, secretary; Virginia Weiser, treasurer; GuRee Stowe, co-ordinator; Jim Ewell, reporter; and Mrs. Paul Weiser and Mrs. James Porter, adult supervisors.

In the business meeting, Rod Kamon, First Presbyterian Church representative, proposed to the General Council that church representatives, to be selected by their respective churches, be referred to as vice-presidents and assisted by a "senator." The motion was approved.

Also up for discussion and vote was the selection of an official name for the youth organization. Following a debate, the council agreed to the name — Cisco Young People's Christian Association, to be better known as the CYCA.

A proposal by Gu Ree Stowe, representing the Nazarene delegation, recommending the term of office for council members be limited to six months was carried and entered into the by-laws of the charter.

At the close of the meeting, the Council postponed discussion on finances, committees and duties of vice-presidents, in addition to date for the meeting of the gathering.

Rev. Richard Crews, pastor of the First Christian Church, spoke to the council before adjournment. He said the CYCA could make a go of it, if the youth of Cisco pooled their resources and worked as a team.

"Such an organization is needed in this community," he declared. "The road will be narrow and rough at first, but if other youth organizations in neighboring towns can do it, Cisco can too."

Representatives from the First Christian Church, the First Presbyterian Church, the Lutheran Church, the First Methodist Church, the Nazarene Church, the Wesley Methodist Church, the Church of Christ and the First Baptist Church were present Tuesday.

Moran Area Hard Hit By Hail

The Moran area was hit by a devastating hail storm at 9 p. m. Saturday, it was reported today. The hail and wind storm caused extensive damage to crops and homes.

The first performance class judging and the Cutting Horse Contest will be held Friday evening at 8 p. m. Other performances will be given Saturday at 8 p. m. and Sunday at 2 p. m.

Thoroughbred and Halbred judging will be staged Saturday at 8:30 a. m., and the Quarter Horse division will be judged at 10:30 a. m. the same day. A parade of champions will be held in the arena following the grand entry of the Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon performances.

The new Fred Wylie home in Moran suffered much damage when the hail broke out windows and damaged the roof. 1 1/2 inches of rain fell in the area and all creeks were running. The city pumps were busy pumping the water from Deep Creek into the city lake.

Twenty-eight trophies will be awarded in the halter classes and the nine trophies will be given in the performance classes. The following judges have been named: Ray Lewis, Quarter Horse judge, Carlsbad, New Mexico; Dr. M. T. Ramsey, Palomina judge, Abilene; and E. O. Nevills, Thoroughbred and Halbred judge, Big Lake. Hughie Long, of Cresson, and J. Y. Crum, of Weatherford, will judge the Cutting Horse Contest.

As Time Goes Marching On —

... more and more land titles become involved in an endless chain of normal, every-day events precipitated by marriage, divorce, lunacy, birth, death and other natural and unnatural happenings within the family circle. Thanks to Time, it cures some titles temporarily, but wrecks and changes the status of many others. Court action may 'quiet' titles for the moment, but not for long. The abstract is your safeguard - keep it up to date.

Plant onion sets an inch apart, and thin out to four inches to grow mature onions. Pull excess plants when small for table use.

That Magic Onion Flavor Easily Grown in Gardens

Onions lack vitamins and are low in calories, yet they and their close cousins are considered indispensable the world around because — no, not of their fragrance, but their flavor.

This flavor can be produced by some of the cousins in a form which may be more acceptable to you than in the onion. Chives, for example, are milder, much less odorous, and especially good in salads and cottage cheese. Leeks are preferred by the British for flavoring cooked dishes. And you must know about garlic, of which you can grow a year's supply in about one foot of garden row planted to garlic sets.

But the first harvest an amateur can reap from his home garden is green onions, from onion sets. Top sets, produced by some perennial varieties instead of seeds, may be planted in the fall, and will produce green onions before the ground can be worked in the spring. Bottom sets, which are really dwarf onions, checked in growth by crowding in the row, may be planted in the spring as soon as the ground is prepared, and will grow green onions of table size in three weeks.

The smaller sets, sown an inch deep, will produce mature onions in two months, much quicker than you can grow them from seed. Use the larger sets for green onions, and plant them deeper, as much as three inches. They grow quickly, but usually run to seed and will not produce large bulbs. From onion seed you can grow either green or mature onions, but it will take six weeks for the first, and four months for the others.

Onion plants of Spanish and Bermuda varieties are shipped from Texas each spring, to be planted in gardens. You can grow your own Spanish onion plants in a flat started early in the house, or hotbed, setting them out when they are pencil size. It will take all season to mature really good size bulbs, but you can feel proud of them, and win prizes in the harvest show.

Chives are perennial, and besides producing tubular leaves they bear lovely mauve blossoms. You can start them from seeds, or by dividing the roots of established plants, and they will make a most attractive border for a garden path, living many years.

Leeks are grown from seed, and should be transplanted for best results. The English gardeners pride themselves on exhibition leeks which may be grown in this manner: When the plants are about as thick as a lead pencil lift them, and set each one in a hole made with a dibber. Do not fill the hole, but merely cover the roots at the bottom with earth and let the hole fill naturally. In rich soil the leeks will grow to a diameter of an inch or more.

But I want a telephone — not a cable

Telephones and telephone cables go together. You talk into the telephone—but it's the cable that carries your voice.

If you are waiting for a telephone you may wonder why we don't connect it to a telephone cable already near your home.

The answer usually is: That cable is carrying a full load right now.

It would be handy if we could hang out an "SRO" sign like a theater—"Standing Room Only"—and connect a lot of extra telephones to these full-up cables.

But cables aren't like that. When they're working 100 per cent—when every wire in them is already connected—there just isn't any more room, standing room or anything else.

So... to bring service to you and to others waiting, we must place more cables. That gives us extra wires. Then we can connect new telephones.

That's what we're doing, getting more cables in place, and faster than ever before. A million miles of cable wire this year alone. All so that we can get telephones to those waiting just as soon as we can, and to make all service better than before.
