Conservation Of Resources Is Urged By C of C Speaker

Over 300 Attend Annual Event At Community Gym

Conservation of all natural resources is imperative if civilization continues to progress, Railroad Commissioner William J. (Bill) Murray, Jr., told more than 300 persons in an address at the annual banquet of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce at the community gym Tuesday night.

Murray recalled that history records the downfall of several civilizations and "they perished because of the lack of conservation." "The time has come," he said, "when we must stop burying our heads in the sand and face facts." He quoted from a United Nations report on resources to show that there is no nation on earth where the people are adequately fed — that many nations are hungry.

"One of our greatest problems," he said, "is the reluctance of our people to use the knowledge we possess." Murray paid tribute to the progress of the oil industry. He pointed out that the industry now bears half of the state's tax load. The nation's oil potential is regarded as one of its greatest military advantages, he added.

During World War II, two-thirds of the tonnage of war materials sent to Europe was oil and oil products, he said. He noted that the use of oil products has climbed steadily since the end of the war and that the industry's reserves has continued to rise.

"Conservation of our oil and other resources can mean the preservation of our civilization," Murray said. "And we must not overlook the importance of conserving human character."

The address was for the speaker "a unique honor." He grew up in Cisco, attended Cisco school and considers Cisco his home town. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Murray, Sr., of Abilene, were special guests for the occasion.

E. P. Crawford, Cisco business man and long a close family friend, introduced the railroad commissioner. He paid tribute to Murray for his success and told him that "Cisco is proud of you."

President E. L. Jackson served as master of ceremonies. He reviewed the past year's work of the Chamber of Commerce, pointing out that the organization had spearheaded a drive to rebuild the gym after a disastrous fire, that it has sought to encourage home building and that it was now busy on a project to provide more water for the city.

L. A. Warren, Cisco oil man and civic leader, paid a tribute to area oil men and introduced a group of them. He introduced L. E. Kanne, Texas manager for Bankline Oil Company, and credited that firm with opening the spirited drilling campaign northeast of Cisco during the past few months.

Others present with Bankline Oil Company included William A. Adent, Midland; R. O. Major, Eastland; Robert C. Smith, Cisco; H. E. Tayles, Cisco, and others.

Other area oil men introduced included L. W. Roche, Cisco; Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Whitney, Breckenridge; Frank Jackson, Breckenridge; A. D. Clemens, Eastland; Roger W. Choate, Breckenridge; R. L. Elliott, Breckenridge; A. M. Radlauer, Providence, R. I.; A. E. Brooks, Fort Worth; B. Craddock, Midland; Chester Imes, Abilene; Charles C. Bankhead, Jr., Abilene; Harold M. Kupp, Portland, Oregon; John Christopher, Cisco; Roy Matthews, Albany; Bob Gilchrist, Abilene; Vance Sibley, Levelland; Morgan Harris, Albany; J. D. Meredith, Moran; L. H. Choate and Don Choate, Cisco; Jeff Gregory, Cisco; Jack Bailey, Cisco and others.

George Boyd introduced other guests, including Foy Barnett.

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

THE BIG Chamber of Commerce dinner was a success from every standpoint. The program was good, the attendance was good, the food was excellent, and every detail turned out like it should have.

Saw a sign up in one corner of the large gym that impressed us. It told you how many peanuts Eastland County farmers grew last year. And Mr. Zan Burroughs, the peanut mill man, got the figures together after a survey of all county peanut buyers.

Eastland County's 1950 peanut crop amounted to 19,533 tons with a dollar value of $4,258,194 to the growers. This indicates that peanuts are big business in our country. And we, as a city, should not overlook an opportunity to encourage peanut growing.

MR. E. P. CRAWFORD, who can't read without his glasses and who can't speak with his glasses on, introduced the banquet speaker, Mr. W. J. (Bill) Murray. And he did a fine job. For him it was a second chance to make good. He said that he introduced Bill when the railroad commissioner spoke here some four years ago. "And I didn't do a very good job," he recalled. Everybody agreed that his second chance turned out good.

MR. MURRAY, in his opening remarks, said he owed his speaking ability to Bob Cluck, who was superintendent of schools here when Bill went through Cisco High School. And Mr. Cluck, who was in attendance, agreed that his former student has arrived.

THAT SUCH A large group of Cisco area oil men attended the banquet was a tribute to Mr. L. A. Warren, local oil man, who headed a committee to invite the oil men. And Mr. Warren did a fine job of introducing them and paying tribute to them.

COACH SCAT Russell and his Wranglers needed only one point to bring home the bacon in the state basketball finals last night. They lost 63-to-62. A goodly crowd of Ciscoans went to Denton to see the game. A school bus took a bunch of student rosters, and several car loads went along. Congratulations to the coach and his fine team.

THE BASKETBALL game and the baby-sitting business pretty nearly spoiled Mr. Robert Clinton's choir, which sang for the C of C banquet. And Mr. Clinton, who dropped a piano on his sore toe earlier in the day was glad when the affair was over. Despite the missing choir members, the youngsters sang beautifully, and the CHS band played two splendid numbers.

THEY'RE STILL talking about the basketball game at the gym Monday night between Cisco all-stars and the All-American Redheads. Referee Buck Overall said he was the goat of most of the comedy. The Redheads won handily and everybody thoroughly enjoyed it all.

AND MORE THAN 200 area residents turned out at the high school Monday night to hear a program by four fine musicians from North Texas State College. It was a versatile program that won much applause. The new CHS piano was dedicated, and the visiting musicians were high in their praise of the instrument.

MR. CARLOS Turner of the decorations committee for the C of C banquet last evening advised us that most of the table decorations were carried off, innocently, by people who admired them. They were flowers in small pots, centerpiece with flags, and so forth. They belonged to a local florist and the Chamber of Commerce will pay for them if those who took them don't want to return same. You can keep the flowers, but return the pots and other pieces, Mr. Turner says, to the C of C office.

Small Boy Located By Plane After Being Lost Four Hours

Thanks to an airplane, a three-year old boy was safe Tuesday night after being lost some four hours from his home near the Lone Star Gas Company's plant at Pueblo, some 12 miles northwest of Cisco.

The youngster was Charles Brewster, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Brewster, who lives in the camp near the plant where Mr. Brewster is employed in the pipe line department.

Charles wandered away from the house with his Collie dog shortly after noon. His mother became alarmed after he had been gone a couple of hours, and a searching party of 35 to 40 persons was organized. Mr. Brewster, who was in Cisco to have a tooth pulled, was notified by telephone just after the dentist had deadened his gums to pull the tooth. He hurried to join the search.

When the search party didn't find Charles in an hour, Plant Superintendent L. M. Cawley telephoned R. L. Ponsler at the Cisco Gas Corporation, who is a local pilot and owns his own plane.

Mr. Ponsler called B. H. Gray, local drilling contractor, who also flies his own plane here. Within 30 minutes after Ponsler and Gray took off from the Cisco airport, Mr. Gray had spotted Charles and his dog in the Wedington pasture a mile and a half from the Pueblo camp. Mr. Gray dived at the area where the boy was, to attract other searchers.

Seeing cows milling around the boy and his dog and afraid for his safety, Gray landed his plane in the pasture. As he taxied up to the boy, H. W. Brooks, operator at the plant, and others in a pickup truck, including Mrs. J. C. Hess, drove up. Mrs. Hess, first to reach Charles said he was unconcerned and his first words were about the airplanes he had been watching. Charles, who was wearing blue jeans, a blue sweater and a Christmas football helmet, had no more than a dirty face for his outing.

Charles' dad was sick from the effects of the toothache, and his mother was considerably upset. They have a 4-months old son, who is Charles' little brother. They've been at Pueblo since 1943.

When the pickup truck drove Charles home, they forgot about his Collie dog. And the dog came straight home, showing them he wasn't lost. He was covered with sweat, indicating that he may have been keeping the cows away from the boy.

Mr. Cawley, the parents and others at Pueblo today expressed their appreciation to Mr. Gray and Mr. Ponsler for the use of their airplanes in finding the little boy.

More Dry Peas Seen For County For 1951 Season

The market price of edible varieties of dry peas will likely be higher this year, J. E. Swindell, fieldman for the L. R. Barron Co., Athens, told Eastland County farmers at three meetings held in Rising Star, Gorman and Carbon recently.

The Athens concern which last year brought over 30 tons of dried peas in the area will again be in the market for dried peas of several different varieties. Boyd Willey, Gorman, will again be the firms' purchasing agent in Eastland and adjoining counties, he was said.

The yield last year ranged from 10 to 800 pounds of dry peas per acre with the price of the edible varieties such as blackeyed, purple hull and cream being 5 cents per pound with stock varieties of peas running less per pound. Varieties of stock peas of the New Era, Whippersnill, Brablam, Clay, Bessie red, Crowder and others also wanted.

This year the price of the edible varieties is expected to range anywhere from seven to 10 cents per pound, with stock pea prices a little lower.

If enough peas are grown other drying stations may be set up in the area besides the one at Gorman, Swindell said. Also other companies who deal in dried peas likely to be in the county bidding for some of the peas. Swindell named several other companies over the state who buy peas. He stated that his company did buy green or fresh peas out of their Athens territory.

A larger acreage of peas will likely be put in this year than was grown last year, it was said. No contract is received or given regarding the sale of the peas. The peas are also a soil building crop and all forms of livestock and poultry eat the dried peas.

Community Choir To Practice Thursday

The Cisco Community Choir will meet at the First Methodist Church at 7 p. m. Thursday, March 1. There will be four more rehearsals for the chorus on March 1st, 8th, 15th, and 17th. The Easter program will be presented on March 18 at 3:30 p. m.

"The Seven Last Words" by Dubois is a sacred cantata for a mixed chorus with soprano, tenor, and baritone soli. The soli for the occasion will be Miss Renabel Bible, soprano student at T. W. C., Jack Chambliss, tenor from Cisco, and Ray Baker, baritone from Hardin-Simmons University. Everyone was urged to be present Thursday night.

THE RED CROSS AT WORK

They're back home, the frostbitten, the wounded, the maimed casualties of Korea. Home! All the way from Korea, carried half-way round the world by the Military Air Transport Service's "flying ambulances."

They're from cities, towns, and farms across the nation, but when these wounded land at Kelley Air Force Base, military airport for San Antonio, Texas, they're home. "Stateside." Baraboo, Wis., Charleston, Ill., Antonio, Colo., or Ramona, Okla., are miles away, but these are short, short miles that free Red Cross phone calls cut through easily. They're not the cold, bitter miles of "walking out" from the reservoir in northern Korea. The cold, the first shock of pain, of darkness, of blood splattered realization are far behind, only thirty-odd air hours, but a lifetime of miles behind, back at Wonju, Hamhung, the Masan-Pusan Perimeter, back where the bottles lie empty, drained of the blood you gave, so these men could live to come home. They're not the miles of horror where some of these men left frozen, useless feet and hands.

Out of the planes, and into super-ambulances, holding maybe 20 patients, depending on the type of injuries, for a life-time ride to Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio. Gently, almost reverently, the doctors, nurses, and medics handle them from plane to bed, surrounded by activity that seems confusion, but shapes up as coordinated, skilled effort to do all that can be done for these men.

Down the ward comes a Red Cross hospital worker, wheeling a cart with portable telephone equipment. Who do you want to call, soldier? Any place, any person. It's free, the people you gave your arm for saying "thank you," through the Red Cross. How about you, marine? Where do you call go? What do you need? Cigarettes? Shaving gear? Here's your Red Cross kit bag of toilet articles.

"Hey, look, Red Cross! This kit is really from home. Right from the Kent County Chapter. That's me, Grand Rapids, Michigan. Best town in the world."

The calls are coming through one from an infantryman from Birmingham. His wife isn't home, but his little daughter, just back from school, answers. Who's ashamed of tears? They have been through this together. They know.

"Honey, this is Daddy. How are you? I'm in Texas. No, honey, Daddy can't come home tonight. I've got to stay here a while. Be sure to tell mother I called, and that I'm in Texas (What's the name of this place, Red Cross?) I'm at Lackland Air Base, honey. Lackland. Can you remember that for Mommy? Never mind, honey, just tell her Daddy called. Red Cross says I can call again this evening and I'll tell her all about it. Sure, honey, you be good and I'll come home as soon as I can. 'Bye.'"

Then come the questions from the other beds: "What she say, Freddy? How old is that little gal, Freddy?" This belongs to all these men, like worrying about each other, and keeping an eye on the fellow who's in really bad shape. It's part of them and the Red Cross workers there in the ward. At times like that, you've just got to have someone to tell about it, someone who understands. Out comes the pictures: "This is Helen and our little girl. Ever see two people look more alike? Listen, Red Cross, Helen'll tell my folks I'm here, but will you write them a letter? I still can't get going with that left hand. Guess I'll learn some day."

Anyone in a Red Cross uniform is part of the gang, for that sym-

that place up there by the reservoir:

"I was taken to Japan on the hospital ship, Consolation, and then the rest of the way here by air. Aboard the ship I had to have a few pints of blood, and the five pints that came out of the blood ice box left that type almost empty. It kept me well — practically alive 'till I came back to the states. The Red Cross gave us all our shaving gear at the hospital. They gave us everything we needed. Especially around Christmas. They went all out for us in Japan. They really gave us a swell Christmas... almost like home."

These men take the Red Cross for granted, they've come to depend upon its services so much. They take it for granted like a child, without question, takes for granted the care his family provides. More air evac planes are on the way, men are still fighting in Korea, more men enter the armed forces every day. The job of the Red Cross grows bigger and bigger, and more support will be needed in its fund campaign this March.

Many Nurses Request Hadacol

Registered nurses, in increasing numbers, are showing a keen interest in HADACOL and in the results that are being secured with this great modern formula. Requests have been received from many of these nurses for professional samples of HADACOL.

Mrs. Marquess, a registered nurse, who lives at 519 West 2nd St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says this about HADACOL: "Your HADACOL has already improved my appetite, and I am sure I'll regain my fifteen pounds soon. These patients to whom I passed on your professional samples are all continuing to take HADACOL and most of them are now trying it in the family size bottle. All have been helped. Some are much, much better from an emotional standpoint. I saw one yesterday sitting on the porch of the next-door neighbor, chatting and smiling. She had only been able to walk around in the house. Just imagine that—after only three bottles of HADACOL!"

Mrs. Marquess and her patients, whom HADACOL has helped, were suffering deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains. Copyright, 1950, The LeBlanc Corp.

DO YOU HATE HOT FLUSHES?

Do you suffer from hot flushes, nervous tension, upset emotions—due to functional "change of life" (38 to 52 years)—that period when fertility ebbs away, when symptoms of this nature may often betray your age? Start taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. No other medicine of this type for women has such a long record of success. Taken regularly, Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such middle-age distress. A great medicine made especially for women. The woman's friend! NOTE: Or you may prefer Lydia E. We Like to Talk About Abstracts — because making abstracts has been our business for many years. And it is an interesting subject. Every day people come to us with their title problems. Some cases are tragic. Take the example of the couple who have spent their all for a home to find out later they have no title. Most title problems are simple and the abstract helps to make them simple. So before buying real estate of any kind have the title examined.

Built in Texas . . . and helping build Texas

Ford is the only Automobile

of material and supplies from Texas merchants and manufacturers and paid over $7,500,000 for incoming and outgoing transportation. Then, too, there is a total of over $148,000 paid by Ford in local and State taxes.

ALL THE FORDS made are not built in Detroit. There are plenty of them built right here in Texas—last year over 128 million dollars worth of cars, trucks, parts and products were made at Ford's Dallas Assembly Plant. What's more, 1,722 Texans put them together or followed through with their consignment to dealers in the Dallas, Houston, Oklahoma City and New Orleans Sales Districts.

Yes, Texas is building a lot of cars and trucks for Ford . . . and in the process Ford is helping to build Texas, too!

WHEN YOU BUY FOR THE FUTURE — BUY FORD

The folks who work in Ford's Dallas Assembly Plant and District Sales Offices earn over $7,000,000 every year. They spend it mostly in Texas. Texas benefits from Ford in other ways, too. For example: during 1950 Ford bought over $1,000,000's worth
