THE FINE RAIN was just what the doctor ordered. Everybody feels better. It's a fairly safe guess that there's not going to be anymore hot weather this year. As a matter of fact, you should probably go ahead and install the bathroom heater and cast off the other stoves to be ready for a fast installation job.

MR. JIM SAULS, who works for the Lone Star Gas Company and stock farms as a sideline, got up at 5 a. m. Saturday morning. He milked his cow then cranked the tractor before daylight. In the early dawn, he started planting and by 10 p. m. that night, he had covered 87 acres with oats and rye. One day later the rains came. And you can imagine how good he feels over the outlook for some winter grazing for his cows.

Jim's story is typical of the rural areas. The land has been plowed and planted for winter cover crops in many places. And the fine rain seems to assure the farmers that their seed won't be wasted.

Rains are beneficial from all standpoints. For example, the price of cows — particularly stockers — has been firm and stronger since the recent rains. And Monday's rain shouldn't hurt that situation.

THE FACE IS familiar, we decided the other day after looking at the picture of the pretty lady on the cover of "Better Living" magazine. And we learned that the face on the national magazine cover was that of Miss Jean Durling of Larchmont, New York. And Miss Durling is the sister of Mrs. William White of Cisco, and she spent several weeks here during the summer of 1951. She now works for the Chicago Tribune in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Durling of Larchmont are spending a few days here visiting the Whites. They're Mrs. White's parents and are on a vacation tour of the southwest.

BACK FROM A vacation with some good fish stories is Mr. Milton Underwood, the Humble man. The Underwoods enjoyed a Colorado tour . . . Mrs. Cate Atkins reports that a son, Brad, arrived Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Walker of Okemah, Alabama. Mrs. Walker is the former Miss Katie Lou Atkins.

CISCO WAS PRETTY well represented down at Waco for the Baylor football game last Saturday afternoon. Director Kenneth Blair and his Lobo Band went as guests of Baylor. Others making the trip included Principal Buck Overall, Coaches Jack Burnett and Jay Williams, Daniel Gray, Sherwood Gaines, Mrs. B. Gray, Mrs. Austin Flint and maybe others. Hear that several of our students at Baylor will be home this weekend as Baylor has an open date in the football business.

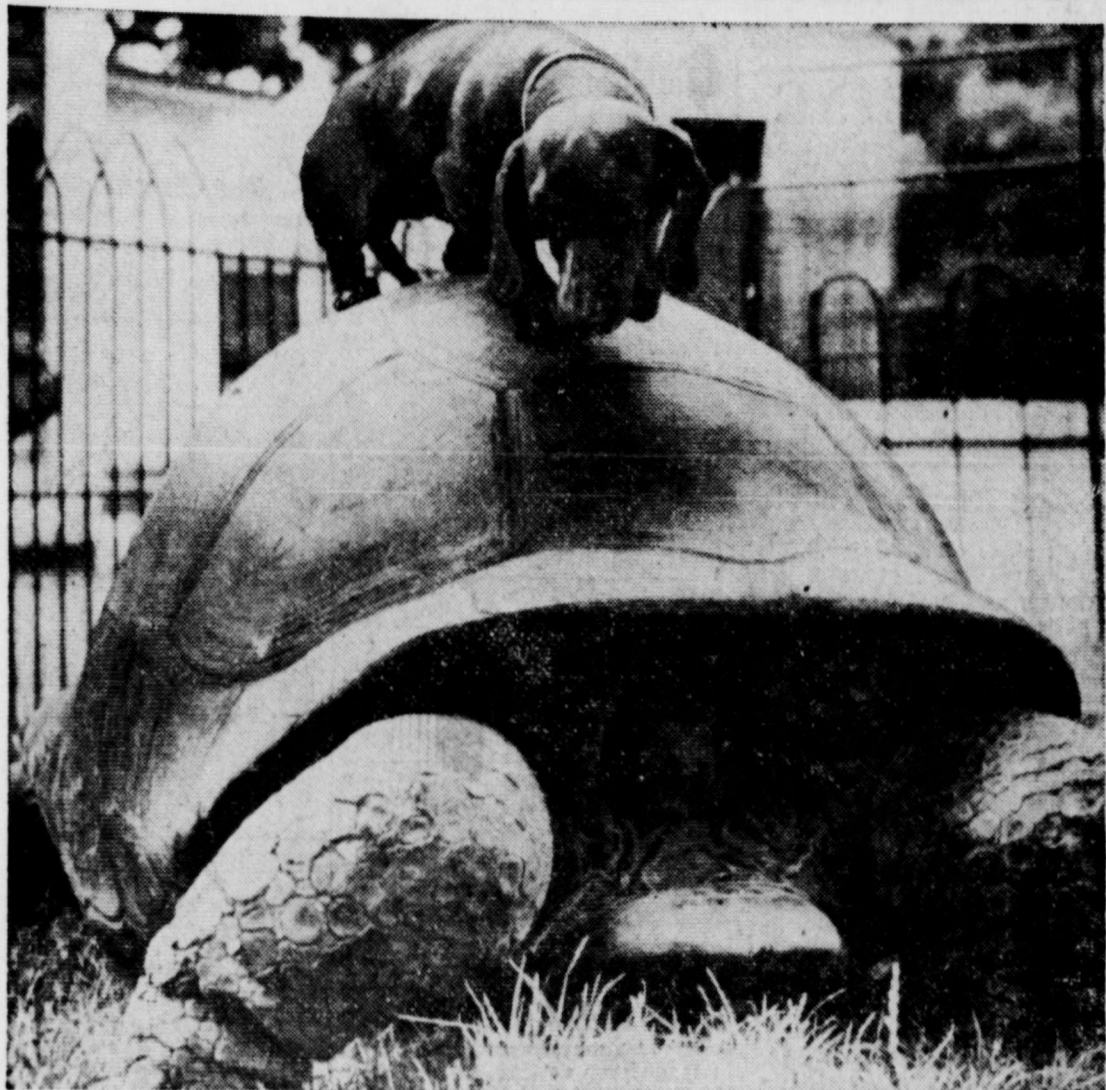

OUT AT THE football stadium Mr. George W. Douglas has worked out arrangements for individuals and people who can't get out of their cars to drive in and carry special sidelines parking spaces during the games. He has reserved for four cars, and will make arrangements for others if you know of somebody who wants to go to the games and can't get out of their car. This is a good deal.

IF YOU WANT to eat some bread that is good, we suggest you drop by the O-K Bakery and try either a loaf of their regular bread or a loaf of French bread. Tastes kind of like the bread our grand mother used to make. We're not just saying this because we believe in patronizing local industry, but because the bread is really good.

P-TA PLANS CALLED MEETING AT WEST WARD ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Ted Waters, president, was in charge of an executive meeting of the West Ward P-TA held at 9 a. m. Monday in the American Legion hall at which time plans for the coming month and year were discussed.

It was announced at the meeting that there would be a special called meeting at the school at 3:45 p. m. Wednesday for the purpose of paying dues and enrolling new members. It was pointed out that fathers of students in the school were invited to become members and that their enrolling as members was especially solicited. CISCO TEAMS WILL PLAY FOUR FOOTBALL GAMES THIS WEEK

Four Cisco football teams will go into action in games this week, and only one of the contests will be played at home. The week's schedule calls for games as follows:

Thursday night — Lobo "B" team vs. Comanche "B" team at Chesley Field; Junior High Midgets vs. Eastland Midgets at Eastland.

Friday night — Cisco High Lobbies at Rotan.

Saturday night — Cisco Junior College at Uvalde to play South Texas Junior College.

All four of the Cisco teams were to begin plans for their games in practice today. It was too wet for a workout Monday, and the various teams took to their gymnasiums for indoor drills.

Coaches Jack Everett and Jay Williams were pretty well pleased with the showing of their Lobo machine against Brady here last week and they planned to continue stressing fundamentals and seeking added polish in workouts this week. This will be the first time Rotan has been on the Lobo schedule, and that school has been impressive in two games this year.

The Lobo "B" team, which won over Dublin here last week, expects stronger competition when Comanche comes to town. The team, which is composed largely of the freshmen on the Lobo squad, will work more as a unit this week. The team had only worked out a couple of days before last week's game.

Since the contest Thursday night will be the only home game of the week, school officials are expecting a good turnout. Admission charges will be 25 cents for anyone. The starting eleven will be about the same as it was last week.

The Midgets will be playing their first game of the season, and Coach Graham is expected to announce his starting lineup Thursday. The Midgets have been working out two full weeks and are ready to go.

A stiff scrimmage was on the Wrangler workout schedule for today to begin preparations for the first conference game Saturday night.

Lobo Band Plans Trip To Dallas Fair October 15

DALLAS, Sept. 22.—The Cisco High School Band has accepted an invitation to participate with bands, orchestras and choral groups from all over Texas in the fifth annual Cotton Bowl Music Festival Wednesday night, Oct. 15, during the 1952 State Fair of Texas, General Manager James H. Stewart has announced.

Paul Lavalle, famous conductor of the Cities Service "Band of America," broadcast Monday nights over the National Broadcasting Company network, will lead massed bands and orchestras of approximately 4,000 high school musicians to climax the 1952 festival.

Twenty-two high school bands, 10 orchestras, and 10 choral groups will take part in the spectacular free show.

"We consider Mr. Lavalle to be the outstanding military band leader in the nation today," Mr. Stewart said. "His acceptance of our invitation to appear is an indication of the growing importance of the Music Festival as a fair feature."

Mr. Lavalle recently conducted a massed band of 2,000 at the Chicago and Music Festival, Mr. Stewart said.

At the State Fair festival, he will conduct the bands in the marching edition of his "Band of America March." Marching exhibitions by the bands will lend color to the spectacle.

The Texas Music Educators Association is cooperating with the fair to present the Music Festival. Continuous concerts beginning in mid-morning and presented simultaneously in three different spots on the fairgrounds by the bands, orchestras and choruses, will precede the Cotton Bowl festival.

Besides the Texas bands, at least one outstanding high school band from Oklahoma or Arkansas will take part.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCannies and daughter, Dena Kay, of Whitney spent the weekend in Cisco with her mother, Mrs. O. T. Morton.

Over Two Inches Of Rain Falls In City, Lake Area

More than two inches of rain fell Monday in the Cisco area, raising the water level of Lake Cisco more than a foot and brightening the outlook for fall crops and winter pastures and cover crops. It was the best rain in the area since May 25, 1950.

The city hall rain gauge recorded 2.4 inches of rain for the entire day, with most of the rain falling during the early morning. A rain gauge at Lake Cisco Tourist Courts showed 2.1 inches, and another at the Albert Hanson Ranch just west of Lake Cisco registered 3.5 inches.

The creek west of Lake Cisco, which runs through the Hanson property, flowed bank full for more than two hours, pouring into Lake Cisco. Creeks to the north carried considerable water, but the rainfall was believed to have been lighter in that area.

Lake Custodian Ray Judia said he placed a yard stick in the edge of the water at both Lake Cisco and Lake Bernie. The yard sticks showed that 11 inches came into Lake Cisco and 22.5 inches flowed into Lake Bernie.

City Water Superintendent John Rodden, who measures the water level at the Lake Cisco dam every Monday for regular reports, reported that the water level was up 19 inches from the week before, indicating that a rain of about an inch during last week also contributed to the city water supply. He estimated that the 19 inches represented at least three months supply of water for the city.

Lake Bernie gained about three feet during the week despite daily withdrawals of around 100,000 gallons for the City of Eastland.

Farmers believed that their peanut crops in most areas around Cisco would be about half of normal unless an early frost dims the outlook. Stock tanks were in excellent condition, and pasture grass was turning green after a dry summer.

Figures showed that the last rain of any size in the area was 2.65 inches on May 25, 1950. This rain pelted about three feet of water in Lake Cisco. The lake had caught virtually no water since that time. The last 3-inch rain here fell on May 28, 1946.

A total of 1.79 inches had fallen here this month before Monday. Monday's rain of 2.4 inches brought the month's total of 4.19 inches and the year's total to 15.43 inches. Normal rainfall for the area is 28 to 30 inches.

Elsewhere in the area, Eastland received 1.5 inches of rain and the city lake there was expected to catch two to three feet of water. Whether that city planned to continue hauling water from Cisco in the immediate future was not known here today.

At Ranger, the rainfall was lighter and only a light rain fell at Rising Star.

Shockley Named Choir President

Fred David Shockley was named president of the Cisco High School Choir Council at a meeting in the choir room Friday. The Choir is directed by Jack Chambers.

Jimmy Reynolds was named vice-president and Norma Schaefer was made secretary. Each high school class named a representative to the Council. Shirley Hitt was named senior representative and Margie Cook was made junior representative. Mable Barron was elected sophomore representative and Dot Crofts was selected as freshman representative.

The council was charged the duty of writing the constitution and by-laws for the purpose of governing the choir and will handle the activities of the group. They met Monday night for the purpose of naming various committees and beginning the adoption of the constitution.

PASS INTERCEPTIONS HELP BIG TARLETON TEAM TO BEAT CJC

Three pass interceptions and a punt return for a touchdown were too much for the Cisco Junior College Wranglers in Stephenville Saturday night as they bowled to a strong Tarleton State College Plowboy team 32-6.

Except for the three interceptions which were carried back for touchdowns by the Plowboys and the punt return the game was played on more or less even keel with the Wranglers showing up a little better than the Tarleton team.

The Wranglers amassed a total net yardage of 330 on the ground and in the air. They completed 11 passes for 155 yards and made their only touchdown on a pass play from Ed Lee to Bud Miller.

Coaches Red Lewis and Paul Mosley used their new single wing formation during the game and alternated Don Denard and Ed Lee at the tailback post. Den-ard carried the ball 17 times and gained 116 yards for an average of near seven yards per try. Lee, a new member of the team, carried the ball 11 times for 77 yards at an average of 7 yards per try.

The offensive play of the Wranglers showed up well against their heavier opponents but the defensive work and the blocking still lacked some polishing. The Wranglers, in addition to scoring on the pass play, were on the Tarleton three yard line when the halftime whistle caught up with them.

Gerald Davis, a tackle on last year's team, looked good at a guard spot and Miller looked good on both offense and defense at his end position. Del Wright and J. Cade looked good at their defensive halfback spots. Cade intercepted two Plowboy passes and made several good stops in the secondary.

The Wranglers began working Monday on a defense against the plays of the South Texas Junior College Cowboys whom they meet Saturday night at Uvalde. Coach Mosley, who scouted the Cowboys, said that they were greatly improved over last year's team. The workout Monday was held in the gym where the defensive plays were set up and a general conditioning program was held.

Coach Lewis indicated that there were to be some changes made in both the defensive and offensive teams for the coming game.

Qualls Is Elected Junior President

Bobby Qualls was elected president of the Junior Class of Cisco High School when they met Monday for their first meeting of the year.

Other officers elected were Monte Ingram, vice president; Lundy Ann Hooker, secretary and treasurer; and C. W. Keller, reporter.

Bobby Miller and Leon McCrary were chosen to represent the class in Student Council. Sponsors of the Junior Class are Mrs. C. E. Whitaker and Mrs. Edward Lee, with Mrs. E. L. Hazelwood as consulting sponsor.

The Junior class is composed of sixty-seven students.

HOW TO BE AN EMPLOYEE

Business management has done a good deal of soul searching in recent years, questioning itself on its employee relations, seeking to make the rank and file of workers happier in their jobs.

On the other hand, there has been little evidence of a similar awareness of responsibility on the part of workers to management.

Most of us are employees, Drucker observes. Yet little if anything has been written on how to be a good one. Employee advice has been focused on special fields; you can learn a great deal on how to be a salesman, book-keeper or metallurgist.

What kind of employee you shall be depends on four choices you alone can make: (1) Do you seek "security" primarily, or do you belong in a job that offers a challenge to imagination and ingenuity — with the attendant penalty for failure? (2) Do you belong in a large firm, where business is done through established "channels" of organization, or in a small one which operates chiefly through personal contacts? (3) Should you start at the bottom, or are you equipped to take the responsibility of a "management trainee" position or as an assistant to one of the bosses? (4) Will you be more effective and happy as a specialist or as a "generalist"?

However you choose, don't look upon your first job as necessarily permanent, for it will be "pure accident" if it proves to be just right for you. Usually it provides little more than an opportunity to analyze your fitness as an employee. Being fired from your first job can be a good experience, in hardening you against future shocks.

Drucker advises the beginner to remember that promotion is not the essence of a job. "There is no surer way to kill a job and one's usefulness than to consider it as but one rung in the promotional ladder rather than as a job in itself that deserves serious effort."

What about between-meal snacks? Little boys with hollow legs — and even bigger ones of all ages — raid the icebox at all hours of the day and night not paying too much attention to mother's advice.

It all depends. Eating between meals can complete a diet which otherwise would be lacking, or if abused it can become such a bad habit that regular meals are interfered with and children may either lose their appetites or become overweight.

Children who take lunches to school may need some extra food when they get home in the afternoon. Incidentally, some boys in their late teens without harm can consume up to three times the amount of calories that would satisfy a child of three years.

Children who take lunches to school may need some extra food when they get home in the afternoon. Incidentally, some boys in their late teens without harm can consume up to three times the amount of calories that would satisfy a child of three years.

The time of the between-meal snack is important. It should come long enough before the regular meal to allow time for the food to "go down."

The family doctor can tell what kind of snacks will best fit in with the kind of diet he prescribes for a child who is overweight. For example, he can decide whether malted milks between meals to build up the frail child can make up for a possible loss of appetite at the next meal.

If you had a chance to look in at your doctor after he has made a midnight call to care for a patient, you might even find that on occasions he, too, is an ice-box commando!

The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real estate is contemplated. So be careful to buy only good titles based on an abstract of title.

JOHNNY'S ON THE SPOT—Cincinnati's Johnny Temple slides into second base and is forced out by Dodger shortstop Pee Wee Reese, who took the throw from Jackie Robinson, on Bobby Adams' grounder in the seventh inning in New York. Reese fired to Gil Hodges at first, too late for the double play on the batter. Umpire Lee Ballanfant signals the out. The Dodgers won, 11-5.

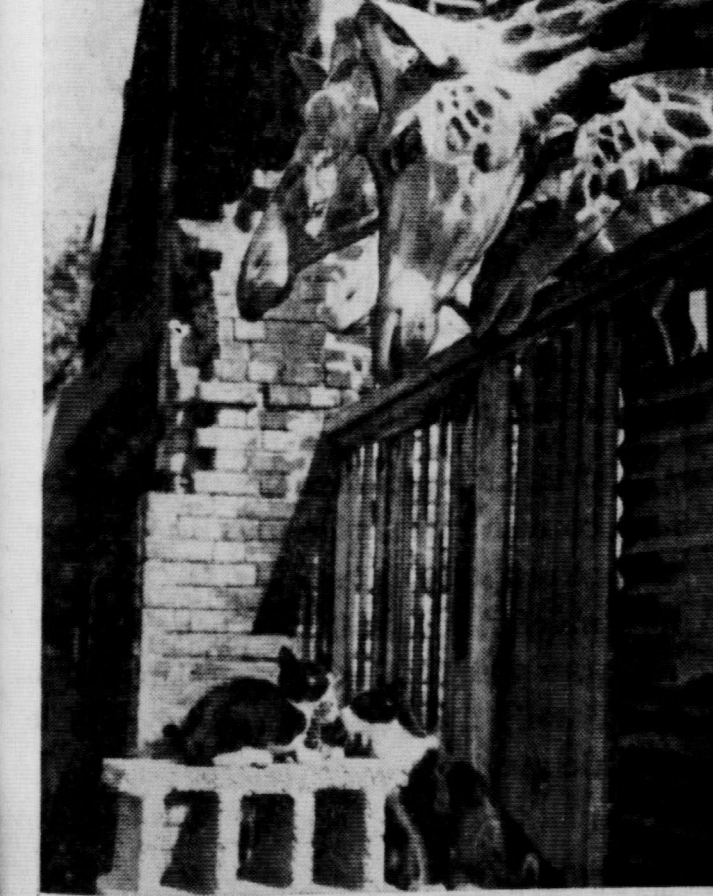

GRANDMA'S GONE FOXY—The old-fashioned fringed woolen shawl grandmother used to wear is now getting a fancy treatment by designer Jacques Fath in Paris. The popular stole, a simple, self-fringed triangle, lies on a soft bed of expensive silver fox for wear in the Autumn and Winter.

DANCING DOGGY—Ballerina Brigid Barton reveals one of her butterfly-eared Papillon dogs in London, England, with the claim that she's training it for the ballet. Although the maximum weight of the breed is eight pounds, Miss Barton's are of the small type, weighing less than three pounds. British breeders export the dogs to the U. S. and continental Europe.

AND THEN THERE WERE NONE

TURNING THE TABLES—When four giraffes, residents of a zoo in London, England, looked over their fence, they were rather curious to know why all those cats had gathered below the left. It's quite possible the felines had come to gape at the caged-in animals which tower so high, just like any visitors might do when their curiosity is aroused. But the giraffes were curious, too; they undoubtedly wondered why they were objects of interest to other animals. By bending their heads low enough, right, they caused the cats' curiosity to turn into such fright that the smaller animals took swiftly to their heels.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

Alabama Woman Wins Oil Wells From Dr. Pepper

Mrs. John Smith of Sheffield, Alabama, was handed royalties in 44 East Texas oil wells in Dallas last night (September 15th) by Governor Allen Shivers of Texas at the launching of a program by Dr. Pepper Company to awaken the nation to the need for investment in, exploration, and conservation of our natural resources for the benefit of today's children and the children of the future.

Her interest in owning a piece of the country in response to a six-month, $150,000 program undertaken by the soft drink company in 30 states. She will enjoy a life-time income, according to conservative estimates of leading geologists, of a minimum of $100 to $300 per month with increases dependent upon government regulations and the price of crude oil.

"Now I can pay off our mortgage and give my three children an education," she said after making a tour of the producing oil wells in the "fairway" of the East Texas fields in Rusk County.

74 Texas Firms Given Contracts For U. S. Goods

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23. — Seventy-four business firms in 19 Texas cities had contracts during August for equipment and supplies for the Federal government amounting to $19,234,000, it was announced here today by Ben W. Ferrell, Field Office Supervisor for the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Dallas firms had 20 such contracts during August for equipment and supplies valued at just over $2,280,000. Houston had 15 contracts totalling more than $2,327,000.

Biggest contract on the August list was one for semi-trailers amounting to some $4,237,000 awarded to a Fort Worth company. One contract for tractors with a Hitchcock, Texas, concern ran past $3 1/2 million, and a Pampa firm had another for nearly $2 million. No other contract on the August list was for more than a million dollars.

Under the terms of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, Labor Department investigators visit such firms or plants to see (1) that they observe Federal requirements concerning wages, hours, and safety and health standards, and (2) that they employ no illegal child labor.
