New Oil Production Record Seen

Texas crude oil production in 1952 may equal or surpass the mark set in the peak year 1951 when the state produced 1,010,000,000 barrels, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association has estimated. Using September allowables in calculating production throughout the fourth quarter of this year, the Texas Mid-Continent estimated 1952 crude production in Texas as reaching 1,037,000,000 barrels, or 7 per cent above production for the first nine months of 1952 was 755 million barrels, compared with 737 million barrels for the same period in 1951. A strike-induced production cut in May dropped daily average production to 2,163,000 barrels, as against the previous month average of 2,920,000 barrels. For September of this year the daily average ran over 3,000,000 barrels, or 7 per cent above September 1951. With demand at high levels, the state's petroleum industry could pass the 1951 mark the Association said. During the first six months of 1952, Texas' 73 refineries processed 314,210,000 barrels of crude oil, or 63 per cent of the total crude output in the state. Daily average run to stills was 1,726,000 barrels.

Reserves of Texas crude oil and other liquid hydrocarbons total 18.2 billion barrels, accounting for 56 per cent of the nation's reserves. The state's natural gas reserves total 105 trillion cubic feet, or 55 per cent of the natural gas reserves of the United States. Last year some 2.6 billion barrels of crude oil were added to Texas reserves, representing 80 per cent of the national gain. Natural gas reserves jumped 3.2 trillion cubic feet, or 39 per cent of the nation's increase.

The importance of oil and gas production to Texas is evidenced by the $126 million in production taxes paid into the state treasury by oil and gas operators during the 1951 fiscal year. Preliminary estimates, based on the recent report of the State Comptroller, indicate some $138 million in production taxes probably were paid during the 1952 fiscal year. This tax, which is actually an occupation tax under the law, is a large factor in financing state government activities.

Texas looks to the petroleum industry for 35 per cent of its total tax revenues, based on 1951 fiscal year figures. The industry's total during 1951 accounted for 67 per cent of all business and property taxes collected by the state. A few of the beneficiaries of the industry's taxes and the amount of the fund total provided by oil and gas include: Foundation School Fund, 54.9 per cent; General Revenue Fund, 41.1 per cent; Old Age Assistance Fund, 57.3 per cent; Farm-to-Market Road Fund, 58.3 per cent; and the Teachers Retirement Fund, 58.5 per cent.

The oil and gas that has made Texas one of the top industrial states was found in the face of hazardous odds. An operator has one chance in 44 of finding a field of at least one million barrels of reserves. The odds are one in 967 against finding a major field — one with 50 million barrels of reserves. Texas oil and gas operators this year probably will drill some 80 million feet of hole at a cost of about $900 million in the search for additional reserves. This approximates the 1951 footage drilled, which set an all-time record. The 1951 footage resulted in 10,501 oil wells, 882 gas wells and 6,412 dry holes. Of the 4,314 wildcat ventures, 3,638, or 84 per cent, were dry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bearman left Thursday for a visit in Tennessee.

GETTING HEP—In observance of Citizenship Day in New York, a pilot election was staged at the Madison Square Boys Club, under the sponsorship of the American Heritage Foundation. Boys, whose ages ranged from nine to 15, held a mock election as two members posed as General Dwight Eisenhower and Governor Adlai Stevenson, the presidential candidates. Looking on is Brendan Byrne of the American Heritage Foundation.

Oil Bears Large Tax Load, High School Is Told

The oil industry pays well over half of the expenses of education in Texas each year through taxation, Bill Huffman of the Humble Pipe Line Company told students of Cisco High School in an Oil Progress Week address Wednesday.

Mr. Huffman discussed the industry's activities in the fields of production, refining, transportation and marketing. He expressed confidence that the industry can keep ahead of the increasing demand for petroleum products.

The oil industry could supply petroleum for another global disaster if it ever became necessary, Mr. Huffman believed. He noted that oil companies are completing a new well every 21 minutes in the nation, compared with an oil well being plugged every 88 minutes.

Figures quoted by Mr. Huffman, showing the part the industry is playing in the state tax program, included:
1. The industry pays 37.8 per cent of all the money that goes into the available school fund.
2. The industry pays 54.9 per cent of all the money that goes into the foundation school fund.
3. The industry pays 41.1 per cent of all the money that goes into the general revenue fund of the state.
4. The industry pays 57.3 per cent of all the state money that goes into the old age assistance fund.
5. The industry pays 57.3 per cent of all the state money that goes into the state hospital fund.
6. The industry pays 58.5 per cent of all state money that goes into the farm-to-market road fund.
7. The industry pays 58.5 per cent of all state money that goes into the teachers' retirement fund.

Why Should I Have An Abstract?
... is a question often asked of abstractors and one we like to answer. When ownership of real property enters your business life then title problems also come in. Buying, selling, mortgaging and otherwise dealing with real estate require correct title information. The abstract reflects the true record title and therefore has everything to do with values. That's one answer, there are many others.

Wranglers — — — the Cisco 11, and on fourth down a pass, Healer to Huff, was good for a touchdown. The try for extra point was blocked.

The Wranglers immediately opened a touchdown drive when White ran the kickoff back to the Decatur 43. Lee and Denard picked up 14 yards, and Moses hit Cheves with a pass for a first down on the 5. Cheves took a jump pass over the goal for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed.

Decatur took the second half kickoff and punted to the Cisco 22 when they failed to gain. Moses made a first down in two bucks, and picked up 11 yards in two more tries. The Wranglers then were held and Chambers kicked to the Decatur 23.

On the first play, the Indians fumbled and Gerald Davis recovered for Cisco. Lefty Sublett went in and the Indians intercepted his pass on their 20 and Decatur drew a 15-yard penalty. Dan Wilkinson then blocked a Decatur punt and Hatley picked up the ball and ran it over for a Wrangler touchdown. The extra point boot was low.

The final period was a battle on even terms. The Wranglers threatened three times, and the Indians drove to around the Wrangler 20 yard line almost resulted in a Cisco score. End Dell Wright intercepted a Decatur pass around the Wrangler 15 and ran to the Decatur 25 before he was tackled.

There were no injuries, except for a few minor bruises. A comparatively large crowd saw the game. Virtually all of the players on both rosters saw action in the contest.

officiating we ever saw . . . Decatur had a good crowd of supporters here, including two former Ciscoans — Rev. Otis Strickland and Charles W. Jones and families . . . High School Principal Buck Overall told us he has to go to Austin early Saturday to turn in some library books. He'll probably return home via the Texas football stadium.
