The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

MOBILE, Miss.—The peace-Navy has one thing that they don't have when the war was going on—a 5-day week. The Navy Reserve men in New Orleans had two weeks of active duty turned loose with the regulars Friday afternoon at 4:30 p. m.

...we collected our family and drove out east and a little south arrived in this Gulf of Mexico city about dark. It was about 10 miles or so from New Orleans on Highway 90 (as our children call it "only 10 more than Cisco's way 80.")

WE DIDN'T ESCAPE the rain. We drove through rain rivers most of the way. The rain clouds were waiting for us when we got up Saturday morning. We're staying at a tourist camp on the gulf highway. The water is very dirty, which probably explains why most of the tourists camp down here in small swimming pools of their own.

...the temperature isn't very high—around 85 degrees—but it's hotter than in West Texas. This is due to the very high humidity.

MUCH OF Texas, the folks dig pipelines and ditches to irrigate their fields with well or surface water. In this country, they dig levees to keep the water out. Instead of irrigation districts, they have levee districts. They vote bonds to finance huge levees along the rivers. The Mississippi River seems to be a levee on each side as far as you can see.

...in this Mississippi delta they build the houses along the gulf built on stilts. So they must be a lot of high water here at the seasons.

ONE MAN TOLD us that the Mississippi River furnishes hundreds of cities with their drinking water. The river is the source of their supply in New Orleans, we're told. At times when there's drought upstream, the river's low and salt infiltrators from the sea some 80 or 90 miles south. It doesn't seem to happen very often, but it's not unusual.

MOBILE SEEMS to be a tourist place. It has hundreds of tourist lodges, eating places, fishing places, fishing camps, and the like. There is a big pier here, and we looked it over. Every few hundred yards, there's a pier out into the gulf where you can walk out to fish. They have oyster dredging, excursion boats, yacht clubs and resorts of private cabins built by people who live near enough to get down on weekends. A mile two off shore, there are a number of islands. And these islands keep the water calm in the harbor. For about $2 you can take a boat out to anyone of the islands.

THEY HAVE what they call the biggest man-made beach in the world here. From Bay St. Louis to some 25 miles, they've built concrete seawall with steps leading down to the sand and water. It must have cost big money. There are parking areas along the highway where you can stop, or if you're staying at one of the tourist places along the gulf you can walk across the seawall down to the water.

...The traffic is terrific. Seems to be a steady stream. We'd kind of like to drive slowly and see the sights, but the people here all have no part of it. They're blowing their horns for you to move on. Everybody's in a hurry. They've got places to go, no doubt.

WENT UP THE road to a nice-looking place to eat last evening and it was like old times. You had to wait in line for a table. It was 20 or 30 minutes before we had room to feed us. The Air Force has a big base nearby Biloxi, and most of the hotels and their wives were over the cafe, it seemed. The air base is a big one. Understand there are two or three Ciscos stationed there, but we wouldn't know how to look them up. You don't see many Texas cars down this way. We've decided that the reason they call this (Turn To Page Four)

STRANGE STORY—It seems there's a duck in Fayetteville, Ark., that does not like to swim. Mack, a local dog, does, and it also seems that whenever said duck can hitch a ride on Mack's back, he's all for it. A nearby pond is the scene of these frequent rides.

Final Plans Made For Creep Fed Stock Show Here

Final plans for the one-day creep fed registered beef calf show to be held at the show barn on the Moran highway Friday were nearing the completion stage Wednesday and it was assured that there would be a large number of animals on display.

The show is being sponsored by the Cisco Livestock Show Association. To be entered in the show are calves taken direct from the range to the show without the benefit of the usual show preparations. They will not be broke to lead or to the halter.

The animals will be shown in pens of three of the same sex and the winners will be awarded ribbons.

The show will be held on a practical basis and anyone in Eastland and surrounding counties may enter animals that are registered and of Hereford or Angus breed.

DEADLINE SET ON FILING FOR WHEAT GROWER ALLOTMENT

June 30 is the final date for filing applications for a 1955 "new grower" wheat allotment, Emmett E. Powell, county office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office announced today.

Powell said producers on farms on which no wheat was seeded for grain in any of the years 1952, '53 and '54 may apply for a new farm allotment, if wheat is to be seeded in 1955. A producer must meet all of the following requirements to be eligible for a 1955 new grower wheat allotment, he said:

(1) The farm operator will not have an interest in any other farm for which a 1955 wheat acreage allotment will be determined.

(2) The applicant is largely dependent on the farm for his livelihood.

(3) The land for which the allotment is requested must be well suited to wheat production.

(4) The applicant establishes to the satisfaction of the county committee—composed of E. E. Blackwell, J. B. Webb and Ed Townsend—that the system of farming has changed to the extent that wheat rather than other small grain should be included in the rotation system of 1955.

(5) An application must be filed not later than June 30.

Powell also pointed out that it will soon be time to measure cotton and peanuts. It will be necessary to measure each farm that has a cotton or peanut allotment, he said.

The ASC chief said it will be necessary that the producer go with the reporter to measure the crops so that he can show the reporter where crops are planted.

A re-check fee of $3 for the first plot plus $1 for each additional plot will be made for re-checking destroyed cotton and peanuts, he said. Producers will have 15 days to destroy excess cotton acreage.

Any producer who remains overplanted on cotton will not be eligible for price support, nor ACP cost sharing and in addition there will be a penalty on the excess production, Powell warned producers.

"Many producers are now placing their wheat under a commodity loan," he said. "Eastland County is not approved for grain storage, but producers are hauling wheat to Brownwood, Fort Worth and Moran. Be sure to contact the dealer before you haul the wheat. We are now making listing sheets for 1955 wheat allotments. There will be a Wheat Marketing Quota Referendum held July 23. More information regarding voting boxes and hours of voting will be issued later."

C. H. Tennyson Dies Wednesday; Funeral Thursday

Clarence Howard Tennyson, 45 year old Cisco radio and television man, died at his home at 1003 West 16th at 2 a. m. Wednesday following a heart attack.

He had lived in Cisco for the past 13 years, coming here from the Corinth community east of Cisco where he was born on October 3, 1908. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tennyson, pioneer Eastland County residents.

He was an active member of Calvary Baptist Church, where he was superintendent of the Sunday School and church treasurer. He had worked on the new auditorium the church is building until 10 p. m. Tuesday, and was apparently in good health until he was stricken early Wednesday morning. He was a member of the building and finance committee of the church.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Thursday at the East Cisco Baptist Church with the Rev. J. C. Palfrey, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church officiating. He will be assisted by the Rev. Lee Fields, of Carbon.

Burial will be in the Corinth Cemetery with Thomas Funeral Home in charge of the arrangements.

He is survived by five brothers, J. M. Tennyson, O. A. Tennyson and O. H. Tennyson, all of Cisco, W. A. Tennyson of Stephenville, and E. T. Tennyson of Garber, Oklahoma, and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Wright of Cisco and Mrs. W. E. Lenz of Cisco.

Pallbearers will be Walter Kurklin, Gordon Strawn, H. N. Thompson, Leroy Taylor, Amos Lowery and J. D. Carr.

Commissions To Be Offered Women

Women's Army Corps commissions in the grades of first and second lieutenant are being offered qualified college graduates, Fourth Army headquarters has announced, in order to fill current vacancies in the WAC and to maintain Army Reserve strength.

Women accepted for direct commissions will be ordered to the new WAC center, Fort McClellan, Ala., for a 20-week training and orientation course in late August, or to subsequent classes, conducted twice a year.

Commissions as first lieutenant will be tendered successful applicants in the 28-33 age group, who have qualifying educational and professional experience totalling seven years. Women in the 21-27 age group, with four years' qualifying education and experience, are eligible for commissions as second lieutenants.

Those accepted for commissioning directly from civilian life will enter on two or three years' active duty. Those eligible under regulations may apply for commissions in the Regular Army within a year after completion of training. Applicants must be United States citizens, single, or, if married, without dependents or children under 18 years of age.

Complete details concerning direct commissions may be obtained at recruiting main stations, or by writing to chiefs of military districts or the Commanding General, Fourth Army, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

BRAVES HOLD TO LITTLE LEAGUE LEAD; CATS WIN OVER TIGERS

The league leading Braves continued toward the Little League championship Monday night when they downed the Cardinals 13-6 in a game that was called at the end of the fourth on the time limit rule.

The Braves jumped into an early lead and had a 10 point advantage over the Cards at the end of the second.

Ralph Adams hurled a two hitter for the Braves as he went the distance for the win. Harold Weiser started on the mound for the Cards and was charged with the loss. David Elder replaced Weiser in the second with his team four runs behind and two men on base. Delbert Schaefer replaced Elder in the third.

In the Teenage game Monday night Paul Ford of the American Legion Cats, almost singlehanded, won his game over the V.F.W. Tigers. The score was 25-0 with the Cats on the top end of the score.

Ford pitched a no hit-no run game against the Tigers and pounded out two home runs, one with the bases loaded. He picked up a single to bring his count to three hits out of four trips to the plate. The score at the end of the first inning stood at 17-0.

Terry Gosnell started on the mound for the Tigers and was charged with the loss. He was relieved in the first inning 11 runs behind with three men on base, by Ronnie Qualls.

At the end of last week the Braves were still on top of the heap in the Little League in the second half of play with a 3-0 won and lost record. The Cardinals were in second place with a two and two record and the Giants were in third place with one and two. The Athletics were trailing with one win and three losses.

Roe, Adams and Lipsey of the Braves and Smith of the Giants were the leading pitchers with one win and no losses in the second half of play. Thetford, Schaefer and Weiser of the Cardinals were tied for the next spot with one and one. Trailing were Taylor of the Giants, Escebedo and Wilcox of the Athletics and Overall of the Giants with a loss and no wins to their credit.

Duane Hale of the Braves continued to hit at a fast clip to hold on to first place in the hit department when he posted a record of five for seven for a percentage of 71.4. Jackie Qualls of the Braves was second with 583. Roe of the Braves was third with an even 500. Next, with a 444, were Charles Lipsey and Jim White of the Braves and L. Edwards of the Cardinals. Tied at 417 were Gene Thetford of the Athletics and Delbert Schaefer of the Cardinals. Batting .400 were Lucas of the Giants, Baum of the Braves and Huffaker of the Athletics. Darr of the Giants was hitting .375 and Escebedo of the Athletics was batting .364. Tied for 14th and 15th place were Pence of the Braves and Wilcox of the Athletics with .333.

Statistics on the Teenage League will be published after this week's play.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Clements and daughters, Mary Emma and Sue, have returned to their home in Dalhart following a ten day visit in Cisco in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Bender. Mr. Clements attended a short course at Texas A & M at College Station. They also attended the Duncan reunion Sunday.

Allowable Upped For July, August

City commissioners, at their regular meeting Tuesday night, voted to increase the water minimum for Cisco users from 3,000 gallons per month to 6,000 gallons per month for the months of July and August, it was announced by Mayor G. C. Rosenthal.

Mayor Rosenthal said that the action was taken in order for local people to keep gardens, lawns, shrubs and flowers alive and attractive during the two hottest months of the year. The water situation, he said, was the best it has been in several years, and the commission felt that the increase in allowable was due the customers because of their cooperation with conservation measures in the past.

Mayor Rosenthal pointed out that the present water supply was not inexhaustible, and that there was still a need to save the supply where possible. He called for the people to pick the cooler hours to water lawns and gardens so that a minimum would be lost to evaporation. He also stressed the need for pumps on air conditioners, both as a conservation and health measure.

The order was retroactive to June 15, when the meters were read last.

At the Tuesday meeting regular business was transacted, and bills approved for payment.

The commissioners heard a proposal by the local Girl Scout Executive Board that the city permit the Scout board to use a vacant block on West 14th between Avenues J and K for the building of a Girl Scout home. The matter was discussed and passed for study.

Lloyd Sawyers Is At Arizona Base

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Arizona, June 23—Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps Cadet Lloyd Sawyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sawyers who reside at 1310 W. 13th and a student at North Texas State College arrived here today to begin four weeks of active duty training.

During his stay here Cadet Sawyers will undergo training to fit him for his future role as an officer in the United States Air Force, following his graduation from college.

Williams AFB, located in the heart of Arizona's Valley of the Sun, is the nation's first jet fighter school, training aviation cadets and student officers in the intricacies of jet flight.

Cadet Sawyers will actually be looking into his own future during his stay here, since he already has volunteered for flight training following his call to active duty.

He will be given familiarization rides in both the T-28 trainer and the T-33, twin-seated jet training aircraft.

The operation of a modern Air Force base will be covered thoroughly during the four weeks, with a look into all support activities as well as those functions directly connected with keeping planes in the air.

The encampment will conclude with graduation ceremonies on July 17.

DIOR'S NEW LOOK—This Paris model is wearing Christian Dior's "Little Girl Look." Her dress is given a nautical air by the anchor on the sleeve of the deep blue shantung daytime dress. The simple dress has a tailored bodice and a slim skirt with unpressed pleats just below the belt.

PATCH JOB — This model in New York is wearing the latest thing in beach wear. Little round patches of brightly-colored checked cotton are scattered over the crew-necked tee-shirt, and the fully-lined shorts are done in a new and attractive waffle cotton knit.

SHORT CUT — With the shorts cut short and the sleeves cut long, this bright red cotton knit play ensemble can be worn alone or teamed with a brief halter or blouse. The smartly tailored shorts and the shirt are bound at every edge with a double row of black stitching. There's a handy pocket in the left sleeve, too.

Most Farm Income Is From Non-Support Products, Report Items

Texas farmers get only 39 per cent of their cash income from the sale of commodities that have high rigid price supports. In contrast, they received 16 per cent of their income from those that have flexible supports and 45 per cent from those that have no price supports. But 45 per cent of their total cash farm receipts in 1952 came from livestock, dairy animals and poultry which were fed on high price-supported feeds.

These figures were brought out today by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in connection with the Administration's program of flexible farm price supports. The West Texas Chamber said, "Analysis of the relative importance of the basic commodities as a source of cash receipts to farmers indicates that the importance of fixed price supports as an inducement for a favorable farm vote may be greatly exaggerated. Figures recently compiled by the U. S. Agriculture Department show that only 23 per cent of the national cash receipts from farm marketings in 1952 came from basic commodities (which have rigid supports)."

"Marketings of commodities with no price supports produced 56 per cent of all farm cash receipts. And 21 per cent of cash receipts came from products under flexible supports. Moreover, 56 per cent of total receipts were from livestock, dairy products and poultry, the producers of which incur higher costs because the feeds they buy are supported at high prices."

Pointing out that Congress has been promising the American people a more economical and sounder farm price support program since 1948, the West Texas Chamber declared that Congress in examining both the economics and politics of the farm price problem in the coming weeks "should find that flexible supports would be preferable to the great majority of consumers and taxpayers and more advantageous to all farmers — except possibly that one fourth of the farmers who produce basic crops." It added, "Even they would benefit in the long run."

Citing the huge surpluses of farm commodities the West Texas Chamber said that flexible price supports would act to prevent these accumulations by channeling this food to consumers. Of the surpluses it said, "There is enough wheat to provide every man, woman and child in the United States, including the armed forces overseas, with a loaf of bread for 364 days, and enough tobacco to provide the nation's 60,000,000 cigarette smokers with 183 packs each. "There is enough cotton to make 117 shirts or 91 house dresses for every American family and enough corn for feed to provide the nation with a normal six months supply of pork and pork products. Inventories of butter and cheese would supply every member of our population with about two pounds of each and cottonseed oil inventories are sufficient to supply everyone with five pounds of margarine.

"The Government's investment in price support operations of the Commodity Credit Corporation reached an all-time high of $6,229,489,000 on March 31, 1954."
