By J. W. S.

FORT WORTH, July 30—A delegation of American Legion members, including a number of Ciscons, began gathering early Friday for the opening of the annual state convention of the organization. They are expecting about 2,500 to attend.

CISCO WAS represented in the parade at 10 a. m. Friday. A car drove in the parade carrying signs which said, "The Post presents Stonewall for State Commander."

WE HAVE mentioned on previous occasions, Mr. E. L. (Newell) Jackson of Cisco has been nominated and endorsed for Legion Commander by the William Butts Post of Cisco, the 17th District Legion, and the Fifth Division of West Texas.

JACKSON consented to this name in the race after promises from all sections of the state petitioned him to do the campaign. He is a past District Vice Commander, past District Commander, past Commander and at the present time he is chaplain of the Post. He has done a lot of work for the American Legion.

JACKSON is the immediate past president (for three years) of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce. He is a past president of the Cisco Lions Club. He has been active in various other organizations for about 30 years. Before coming to Cisco, he served with distinction in the number of Commerce and various posts at Albany. He is active in church.

THE AMERICAN Legion is an organization that Mr. Jackson has served well because he believes in it. And regardless of the outcome of the election, he expects to remain an active member. The way we look at it, just being nominated for this post is a considerable honor — one that doesn't happen to very many of us.

ATTENDING ONE of the meetings is usually highlighted by going into old war-time buddies. We met up with an old friend we hadn't seen in 10 years or so. Came home on the Pacific on a boat with a fellow and 1,798 others. This fellow brought home as souvenirs a locker full of bolo knives and weapons used by natives in the Philippines. He said he hadn't looked at them since he got home.

ON THE MARCH—A mama mallard is leading her newly-hatched brood in their first personal appearance in Chicago. The babies were born at the city's Natural History Museum and their mother is mighty proud of them — with every reason; there's not an ugly duckling in the lot.

OUT OF THE ORDINARY—President Rene Coty of France is shown dressed in white tie and tails as he inspects a line of knobby-kneed camels, mounted by the Meharist Brigade in Paris. The famed desert soldiers and their receding-chinned mounts were in the French capital for the annual Army Nights celebration. They took part in the Bastille Day parade, too.

ASC COMMITTEE CALLS FOR AID FOR EASTLAND CO. RANCHERS

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for Eastland County has petitioned the United States Department of Agriculture that Eastland County be reinstated on the Emergency Drought Feed Program, according to an announcement by Emmett Powell, County ASC director, Friday.

CROP PROSPECTS ARE DIM AS DROUGHT AND HEAT CONTINUE

Crop prospects continued downward over most of the State as temperatures regularly hit the 100 to 105 degree marks and the nearly state-wide drought increased in severity during the past week. Showers in the Panhandle country, with the heaviest amounts north of Amarillo, revived hopes of making a grain sorghum crop in the favored area.

Disaster Relief Agency Hospital Aided Mexicans

AUSTIN, July 29—It took just 3½ hours for the state disaster relief organization, operating through its control center in the bomb-proof basement of the new Department of Public Safety building in Austin, to assemble a complete 60-bed hospital set-up and arrange for airlifting it to Piedras Negras, Mexico, the border town so tragically stricken during the late-June flood disaster on the Rio Grande.

Most of us accept with little thought our American citizenship and the rights and privileges it bestows. We might do well to reflect upon what it takes to become a citizen of the United States under our present laws.

One of these requirements is that the applicant for citizenship may be able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the court a knowledge of the Constitution of the United States and the principles which it affirms.

But that is only a small part of the process of becoming a naturalized citizen. To begin with, an applicant for citizenship (if he is an ordinary case) must have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

Some time later he will receive a letter from the government telling him where he must file a declaration to become a citizen - commonly known as "first papers."

After he has lived in the United States five years, and his first paper is at least two years old, the future citizen may file a petition for naturalization, known as "second papers."

He will then be called for two hearings - one before the immigration authorities, and the second in federal court. At this time he must be able to speak and understand the English language, and he will be questioned regarding the Constitution, history of the United States and the government organization.

After 30 days the applicant will be notified to appear at the court for a final hearing on his petition. When the court grants a petition for naturalization, the applicant takes the oath of renunciation and allegiance - he renounces allegiance to the foreign state of which he is a subject or citizen, and promises to bear allegiance to the United States.

The court may deny application. The laws relating to the granting of citizenship are strictly observed. Omissions, oversights, mistakes - all doubts in relation to the application are decided in favor of the government.

Some classes of applicants are exempted from several of the usual naturalization requirements. Certain requirements are waived for aliens married to citizens of the United States; for certain veterans of the armed forces; for former citizens who lost their citizenship by serving in Allied armed forces during the two world wars, and others.

DIFFERENT LIVES—Elephants do not live the same all over the world. One of the big beasts with ivory tusks is aiding in the construction of a new harbor in Colombo, Ceylon, top photo, where the elephant is a work animal. But two other pachyderms are shown below in the shady end of their private pool in New York's Central Park. The hardest work they'll ever do is extend their trunks to visitors to beg for a handout.

HERE SHE IS!—Jane Powell, the sweet singer of sweet songs, was getting a bit of physical exercise at a swimming pool in Las Vegas, Nev., while giving her vocal cords a rest. Jane was singing for her supper, and for the customers' pleasure, at one of the local hotels in the gay resort town.

TOO LATE—Baltimore's Cal Abrams is out at second on Chuck Diering's hit during the Orioles-Yankees game in New York, but Gil McDougald, who received the ball from Willie Miranda, threw to first too late for a double play. The Yanks won, 9-3, thereby stretching their winning streak.

Vets Questions And Answers

Q — May I take my dental internship training under the Korean GI Bill? If so, what rate of GI allowance will I be paid—the rate or on-the-job trainees or the rate for students at school?

A — You may take a dental internship course under the Korean GI Bill, provided it has been accredited and approved by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association, and provided it leads to a certification by a Dental Specialty Board. Your GI allowance will be the rate paid to full-time classroom students.

Q — I am an Army officer, and I am being retired for a disability. If I choose to receive retirement pay rather than VA disability compensation, would I still be eligible to take vocational training under Public Law 16?

A — Yes. If you meet all the other eligibility requirements of the law, you may be permitted to train under Public Law 16. While in training, you will receive a VA subsistence allowance in addition to your Army retirement.

Q — I have been granted a waiver on my World War II GI term insurance policy because of total disability. While the waiver is in effect, could I convert my term insurance to a permanent plan?

A — Yes. You may convert to Ordinary Life, 20-Payment Life or 30-Payment Life. You may not convert to an endowment plan, however, while you are totally disabled.

Q — If the widow of a serviceman killed in Korea remarries, does she have to give up the monthly indemnity payments she has been receiving?

A — No. The legal widow at the time of the serviceman's death has entitlement to the indemnity. Her remarriage does not bar her continued entitlement.

'Way Back in the Early 20's —

... we started out in the abstract business in Eastland County. Then, as now, the abstract was a necessary part of every real estate transaction. We soon learned that an abstract was something more than a bundle of pages with numbers on them. Even more important today, it must not only be accurate, concise and revealing, but it must be a quality product of completeness prepared to stand the most thorough and critical title examination.

AUSTIN — The people have spoken! And what a speech they made.

So close was the Governor's race that close followers of the political scene here remained up all night Saturday in hopes of finding out whether there would be a runoff.

Judge Ralph Yarborough was still in the lead at midnight. He left home shortly thereafter for his downtown headquarters in the Littlefield Building. There the elevator jammed. When Yarborough was freed nearly an hour later, Governor Allan Shivers had taken a small lead which he never relinquished.

J. J. Holmes and Cyclone Davis the two other contenders for the Governorship, polled just enough votes to make a runoff necessary. It will be the first gubernatorial runoff since the Rainey-Jester campaign of 1946.

A runoff also is in order for a place on the Court of Criminal Appeals. Contenders are Judge Lloyd Davidson of Austin and District Judge Alan Haley of Wichita Falls.

A third runoff race is that between Alfred M. Scott of Austin and Justice Few Brewster who seeks re-election to the Supreme Court.

These Breezed Through

Clear winners were Ben Ramsey who defeated C. T. Johnson and George Hinson for lieutenant governor; John Ben Shepperd who defeated Doug Crouch for attorney general, with the biggest majority in any of the races; and Lyndon Johnson who defeated Dudley T. Dougherty for U. S. Senate.

Elected without opposition were Martin Dies, congressman-at-large; John C. White, commissioner of agriculture; Bascom Giles, land commissioner; Jesse James, treasurer; Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner; Robert S. Calvert, comptroller; and J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the supreme court.

Duke In Trouble

Something new happened in Duval County. George Parr's candidates did not win by a landslide.

In fact, some of them didn't even win.

Duval County votes were impounded after being counted, and locked up in the district clerk's vault, by order of District Judge Maxwell Welch.

Drought Aid

Twenty-three Texas counties, hard hit by one of the state's worst droughts, have been made eligible for relief by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, with help to be forthcoming immediately.

All in the Central and Western parts of Texas, the counties were among 54 to be listed for federal aid. The others were in Colorado and Wyoming.

Texas counties to receive benefits were Bastrop, Bell, Bexar, Blanco, Bosque, Brown, Burnet, Comal, Comanche, Coryell, Erath, Hamilton, Hays, Kendall, Lampasas, Lee, Llano, McCulloch, Mason, Mills, San Saba, Travis and Williamson.

No details as to the nature of the relief program were made public by the Department of Agriculture.

Canal Suggested

A proposed plan to stop Texas' continuing water problems was explained by Dr. Walter P. Webb of the University of Texas at a conference.

Webb's plan, already widely publicized, calls for a billion-dollar canal that would extend from East Texas through the dry areas of South Texas.

Conservation

Federal water conservation policy backed by President Eisenhower will not support state conservation plans that are "piecemeal," the executive board of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers has been told.

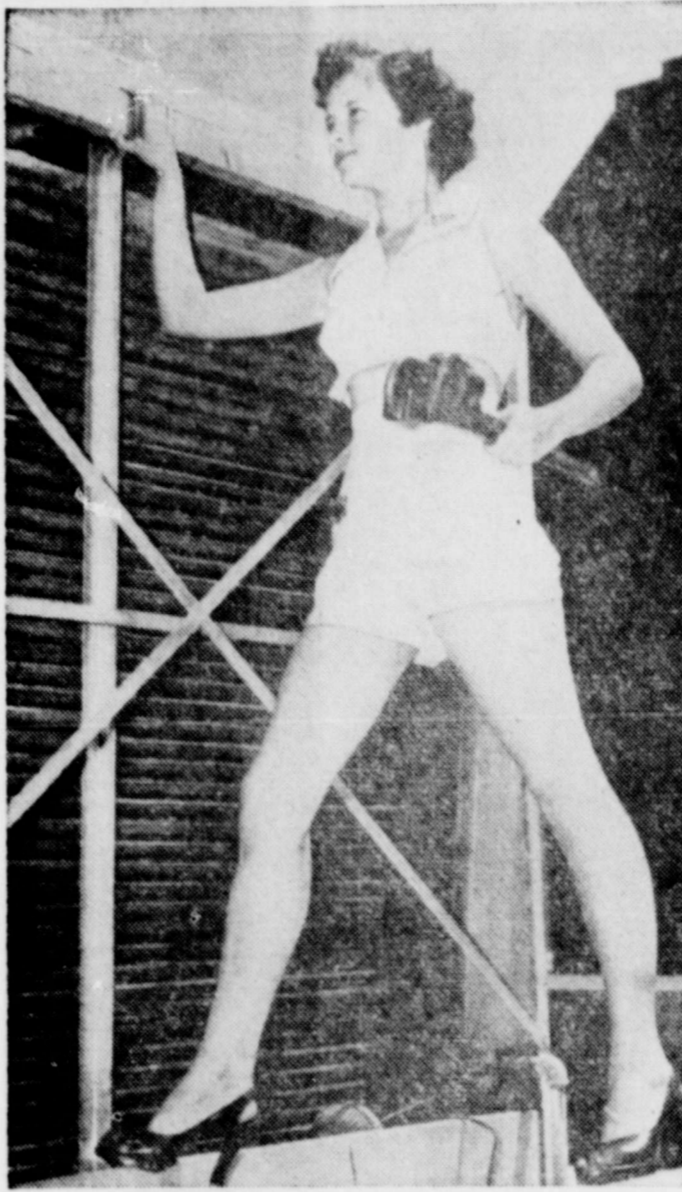

J. S. Hudnall, Texas representative at the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in Washington, said that the president would "look with disfavor" on water projects that do not fit an overall planned program for entire river systems.

Insurance

Under an amended order issued by District Judge J. Harris Gardner in Austin, the Commercial Security Insurance Company of Houston can keep on doing business.

A previous order by Judge Gardner had closed the company, after Attorney General John Ben Shepperd charged that the firm had violated the state insurance laws.

A hearing is due in the case. Shepperd charged that the company borrowed $200,000 of its $250,000 initial capital. The at-

Shallow Oil Test Is Drilling Here

The Russell Cobb No. 1 Etta Camp, located five miles northwest of Cisco, is this area's new shallow oil test, and it was drilling at about 700 feet Thursday at noon, according to reports here. The Cobb company has headquarters in Tulsa, Okla.

The well is located 1,343 feet from the north and 250 feet from the east lines of Section 3182, TE&L Survey, Eastland County. Permit calls for 1,999 feet with rotary equipment. Jack Hailey, Cisco, is the drilling contractor.

CLUB TO MEET

The Past Matrons and Past Patrons Club of the Order of Eastern Star will meet at 8 p. m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Ruby Miller with Mrs. G. C. Rosenthal as co-hostess. All members were urged to attend.

Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Paul visited in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phillips of Killeen.

Natural Gas

Two Texas officials have tabbed the Federal Power Commission order freezing natural gas prices on gas sold to interstate pipelines as "serious" to the state's natural gas industry.

Railroad Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson and Attorney General Shepperd expressed dismay at the mandate, which was considered to be an initial step by the federal government to take over regulations of natural gas traffic.

Shepperd said that the move means "financial ruin for a large segment of the Texas natural gas industry."
