The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

WENT DOWN to Kerrville for the past weekend to see some printing business, and was our first trip to the fabulous hill country of Texas. As I know, the Lions Clubs of Texas have a camp for crippled children there. We visited the camp, which was holding its final week program for crippled children from over the state. The Lions Club has provided the camp for the crippled children of Texas with joyous activities and companionship; to help discover and improve skills; to offer a wide range of learning and enjoyment and participation; to close the gap between the handicapped and others who live without physical handicaps. The principal object there is to help the crippled child realize own capabilities to the fullest, that ultimately the fact that man or woman is "crippled" is the least important thing and to those who live with work to him.

THE LIONS CAMP sprawls some 500 acres of land on a high hill overlooking Kerrville. There are 11 buildings now others are planned. Since camp program began a couple of years ago, Texas Lions have spent over half a million dollars on the buildings and grounds in a continuous improvement program. When we arrived, the some 100 youngsters (all crippled or physically disabled) were going to the chapel for church services, as a beautiful service in a new chapel building. The youngsters were from about 85 old to probably 17 years. They have a fine swimming pool that has separate pools for various age groups. There's a large building that's a hobby shop where scores of youngsters go to do things. There's a hall, bunk houses, and other things.

THE YOUNGSTERS in the paper print their own newspaper on mimeographed paper. A different group comes to camp every week all summer, so you see that many youngsters fit from this fine program. The various Lions Clubs contribute money to the camp. Cisco's, through chairman Charles Sandier, send their checks in year. All you need to do appreciate the program is to go to the camp and see the youngsters. One item in the paper out by the youngsters. An old girl wrote: "When I was here I couldn't dress myself. Now, I can dress myself." adult leaders (counselors) carefully selected young boys and girls who work unexperienced adults.

COMING BACK from Kerrville (Mr. Randy Steffen, the Moss ranch, was with us) stopped in at horse ranch off Mr. Mark Moss at Llano. Mr. Moss is well known for his fine quarter horses. The Moss family has on the same spread of some 100 acres for over a hundred Top Joe is the top stud in the Moss ranch, and it was a pleasure to see this fine animal. Moss has something like 100 horses, and he sells them all over the United States and in foreign countries. The Moss Ranch is one of the best deer hunting places in the state and does with their fawns in addition. He has several foreign breeds of goats and sheep that hunters like. Deer are just about cover the fences and the ranch house and several hundred pair hang inside the active home.

Moss is a most interesting Texas rancher. He knows about cows, wildlife and Texas general and he's an entertaining talker. His huge ranch corral is a model for any man. The Moss Ranch has about 400 cows, in addition to the wildlife and horses. Moss figures they'll shoot like a thousand deer in his area this fall. The weather is dry down south. Moss figures that it hasn't so dry there in 98 years. It's a pleasure to visit this did ranch.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT—A few members of the Watutsi tribe of the Belgian Congo practice some intricate steps under the broiling African sun at Urundi. Sons of the elite families of the tribe, the tall graceful males are required to train for several years before reaching the stage when they are allowed to perform in public.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandier have an ultra-modern shop complete with all the latest records in most of the leading brands. In addition they have the latest in record players, including the new Hi-Fi, and tape recorders. The shop also sells radios and television sets.

Salesmen report that the new Bop Shop is the most modern record shop in this section of the state, and most complete. The owners invited everyone to visit this week and register for records and albums that will be given away Saturday.

Jacksons To Attend National Convention

E. L. Jackson of Cisco, commander of the American Legion, Department of Texas, will leave Thursday by train for Washington, D. C., to head the state delegation at the annual national Legion convention. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Jackson, and they expect to be gone about ten days.

Mr. Jackson paid an official visit to the San Angelo Legion Post Monday night.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Green Thursday was his mother, Mrs. Lula Green, and his brother, Arzie, of Nimrod; Mrs. Will Masters of Fontana, California; Mrs. George Blanc of Alhambra, California; Miss Ima Laverne Green of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Roy Allen of Andrews, and Mickey Gibson of Kermit. The group visited in the home of Mrs. Lula Green Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen King have returned from a week's vacation in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

GENERAL CROP ALLOTMENT PLAN EXPECTED IN COUNTY NEXT YEAR

In addition to wheat, cotton and peanut allotments there will be a general crop allotment set up for 1955, according to an announcement by Emmett E. Powell, manager of the Eastland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (PMA) office.

Hobby Club Will Meet Wednesday

The Hobby Club will meet Wednesday (tomorrow) at the gymnasium in the high school building, it was announced by club officials.

The meeting place was changed because the cafeteria at the junior high school building was being redecorated for the coming school year. All Hobby Club members who have started work were urged to be at the gym Wednesday for work. At that time the future meetings of the club will be announced. There will be no meeting Saturday of this week because of school registration. After the beginning of school the meetings will be held each Saturday morning.

Baptists Elect Pulpit Committee

The congregation of the East Cisco Baptist Church elected a 5-man pulpits committee Sunday to recommend a successor to the Rev. F. C. Bradley, who has resigned as their pastor, effective after next Sunday's services.

The committee is composed of Charlie Pence, Doyle Holmes, Roy Marcomtel, H. K. Neely, Sr., and Don Rupe.

Rev. Bradley resigned from the local pastorate after being here about three years to accept a pulpit at Denver City in West Texas.

The 1955 program will probably include oats, barley, rye and all grain sorghums, although details of the program have not arrived as yet, Mr. Powell said. To be eligible for price support on any 1955 crop, a producer must be within all allotments established for the farm. This also applies to eligibility for aid in construction of tanks, terraces, brush control or any other practices for which assistance is offered, Mr. Powell said.

The new program will practically eliminate the 15-acre wheat limit. For example, a producer has a 4-acre allotment and he sows and harvests 15 acres of wheat. There is no penalty on the wheat when it is sold, but the producer is not eligible for price support on any crop grown on the farm or any help on soil building practices, it was pointed out.

Due to the drought, producers are permitted to sow wheat in excess of their allotment provided the excess wheat is grazed out, used as green manure or hay crop and not allowed to reach maturity.

Mr. Powell said the ASC personnel has just about finished measuring all peanut and cotton farms. Anyone whose cotton or peanut acreage has not been measured was asked to notify the office. The office is aiding several producers to terrace their farms.

Mr. Powell said that applications for drought relief feed should be made through the local Farmers Home Administration office. Available in the program are hay, corn, oats, barley, milo and mixed feed.

OES PLANS MEETING

The Cisco Chapter No. 461, Order of Eastern Star, will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday (tonight) at the Masonic Temple for a regular meeting. All members were urged to attend.

Squad Will Hold Two Drills Daily

Forty-six candidates for places on the 1954 Lobo football team reported to Coach Jay Williams and assistants Charles Williams and Lynn Glass Monday morning, and the coaches began work immediately on shaping their team for the season.

Issuance of uniforms and the giving of physical examinations occupied a part of the first session Monday, but limbering-up exercises and blocking and tackling came in for their share of work.

Monday afternoon the coaches spent the first half of the practice session in fundamentals and the last half in scrimmage. The same procedure was followed Tuesday morning.

Coach Williams expressed himself as being pleased with the general attitude of the candidates, and their progress during the first three drills.

Eight of the players reporting for drills Monday and Tuesday were seniors and 19 were juniors. Eight were sophomores and the remainder were freshmen up from last year's Midget team.

The remainder of the week will be spent in the teaching of fundamentals and in the separation of the "A" and "B" squads. Scrimmage sessions will be held each day.

Squad members included Tommy Reynolds, Benji Lipsey and Howard Hamilton at quarterback; Joe Gilmore, Jimmy Sublett, John Carlile and Paul Ford at fullback; Marcus Gallegos, Harold Phippen, Buck Whitehead, Fred Hayes, David Ewell, Terry Maxwell, Vernon Lassiter and Clyde Butler at halves; Bill Smith, Jerry Weiser, Johnny Trigg, Jimmy Branton, and Billy Webb at end; Lavere Adams, Kenneth Penna, Edward Bernie, Carroll Thames, tackles; Arzell Hale, Joe Farrow, Tommy Collier, Frank Walton, Don Meier, guards, and Ronnie Qualls, Robert Fletcher and Bobby Cluck at center.

Other squad members included Rodney Callaway, a sophomore transfer from Sweetwater, and D. Hopper, a transfer from Oklahoma. Callaway entered school at mid term last year and will not be eligible for a team competition until mid term this year. Hopper enters school this year.

Others were expected to report between now and the time the season opens with Eastland on September 10.

NETWORK OF RADAR STATIONS TO GIVE WARNING OF STORMS

AUSTIN—A network of radar stations which will give Texas the best storm warning system now available in the world will soon be completed. There are now 11 stations in operation, and three more will soon be in operation. Another at Lake Charles, La., which serves a section of Texas will add up to 14 in operation for this state.

E. L. Hardy, regional director of the US Weather Bureau, has advised Governor Allan Shivers that the last three in the chain will be in operation within six weeks at Austin, San Antonio and Lubbock.

Besides the one at Lake Charles, those already functioning are at Amarillo, Victoria, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Houston, Abilene, Fort Worth, Galveston, Midland, San Angelo and Wichita Falls.

Hardy told the Governor that once the network is completed, it will be "the best and most up-to-date storm warning system now available anywhere in the world."

Hardy added that storm reporting and the general warning service maintained by the US Weather Bureau will be extended and improved tremendously by the installation of the equipment, which is able to detect heavy rainfall, tornadoes, hurricanes and other severe weather manifestations.

The US Weather Bureau ties the radar net into the Department of Public Safety communications system through special arrangements with the tow organizations. All Weather Bureau radar reports are received by Public Safety Communications within about two minutes after a warning is issued.

Once reports are received, Public Safety units track the storm and warn people who are in its course. The Public Safety units also advise the Weather Bureau as to whether the storms are turning into tornadoes.

"This one phase will do much to save lives and property," Hardy noted.

William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense and disaster relief, agreed. As a specific example of what the network can do, McGill said the radar storm warning equipment would have been of vital use in the recent flood in the Upper Rio Grande Valley.

Federal, state and local government agencies worked out arrangements for the new equipment.

The US Weather Bureau made surplus radar equipment available.

The Texas A&M College Research Foundation was given a contract to modify this equipment for storm warning use.

The Texas Department of Public Safety agreed to cooperate in making maximum use of the warnings which the Weather Bureau gives on a 24-hour-a-day basis.

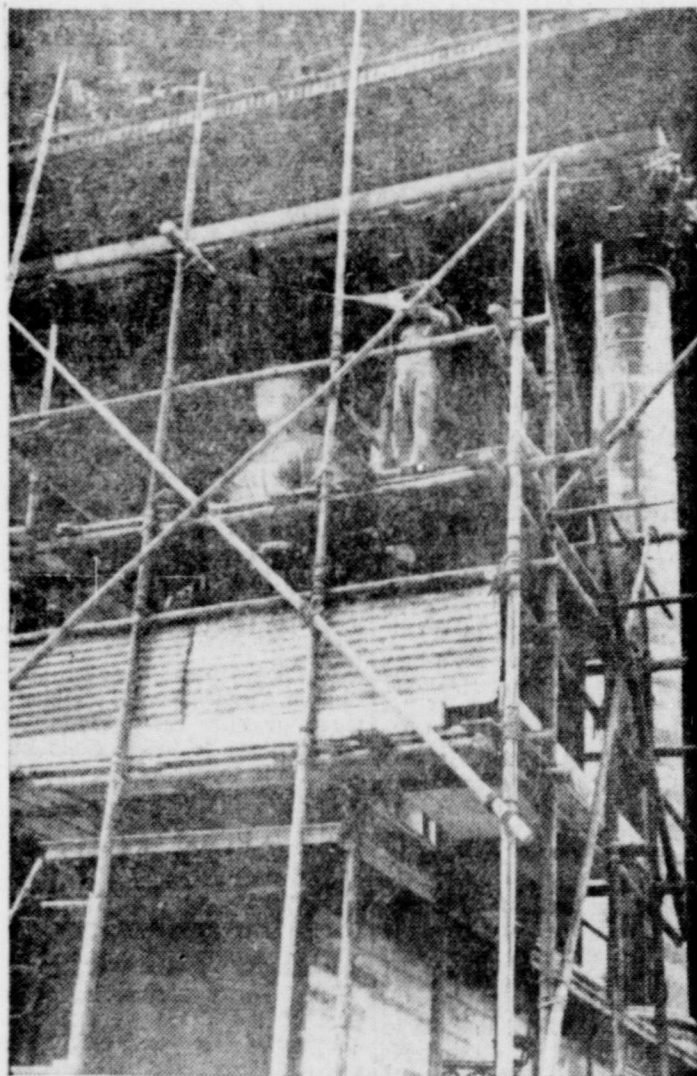

The Division of Civil Defense and Disaster Relief of the Governor's Office arranged meetings in the cities in which first-order weather stations are located. A team of representatives of the disaster relief office, the Weather Bureau, the A&M Research Foundation, and the Texas Department of Public Safety explained the plan to local government officials and other interested agencies.

The initial cost of modifying and installing the equipment was underwritten by the cities involved.

Once the network is completed, Texas will be served by the first storm warning system of its kind ever to be installed by any state or area.

Letters

Dear Editor:

I won't undertake to answer Mr. Heyser's letter in this morning's edition of your paper. He is so obviously wrong and has probably been disillusioned for so long by the Truman hand-outs that he couldn't possibly be made to see the light.

But for the ones who are not so biased, I'd like to point out just one thing in his letter that seems so very strange and inconsistent. He states, referring to Ralph Yarborough, and I quote "fine District Judge, fine Sunday School Teacher and Churchman, a Director of Lower Colorado River Authority, a fine war record."

Then why, Mr. Heyser, inspite of all these fine attributes, was he able to garner only one third of the votes of the people of his home boxes. Do you maintain, Sir, that you know him better than his own neighbors do? Instead of besmirching Mr. Shivers, why not go down to the home town of Mr. Yarborough and try to convince those who know him best that he is our man.

You knew, of course Mr. Heyser, that Mr. Shivers carried his home town boxes by almost three to one. There, voters, is your yardstick. Take your choice. It is rather difficult to fool the ones who know you best. Congratulations on seeing straight, thinking straight and voting straight. It is refreshing to know we have an editor like you. We are proud of you.

Sincerely,
Name withheld by request.

To The Citizens Of Eastland County:

Any statement being circulated by radio or otherwise to the effect that I now, or at any time in the past, favored abolishing either the 90th or 91st District Courts is wholly untrue. I have always favored and still favor the continuance of both courts as presently constituted and have so argued before the Administrative Judges and the State Legislature. I feel that the rapid development and the prospects of the two districts justify my position.

Geo. L. Davenport

State Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Saturday will tell the tale.

That thought is undoubtedly uppermost in the minds of gubernatorial candidates Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough . . . and thousands of Texas voters who have followed the fiery campaign from infancy to its high-tempo climax.

As August 28 approached, Governor Shivers and Judge Yarborough stepped up their respective campaigns. Both made special appeals to the thousands of potential balloters who shunned the polls in the first primary.

In rallies and radio broadcasts over the state, the governor told listeners that good, sound state government was the only medium through which Texas could continue its prosperity.

"This is no time to start experimenting. This is no time to throw the state government into complete turmoil," Shivers said as he pictured Texas' present financial and economic picture as bright.

Shivers said that the state is now free of depression, that industry and employment are "booming."

"Most families are now better set financially with money in the bank, and the state government has a balance of $27 million with which to work improvements," the governor explained.

He underlined the evils of government leaders trying to buy public support with public money as "leading down the road of waste, extravagance, and corruption."

Shivers also lashed out at the claim that he had broken a political pledge given at the 1952 Democratic Convention.

"My opponent has charged that I pledged to support whomever was nominated at the 1952 Democratic Convention," he said.

Shivers read from the convention record that the only pledge he made was to put the Democratic national nominees' names on the Texas ballot. That was done, he said.

In a skirmish over the labor union vote, the Governor accused Yarborough of being "ashamed" that every strong CIO box went for the Austin attorney in the first primary.

Shivers, who has claimed that outside labor organizations are supporting Yarborough, said that Yarborough had now turned his back on his supporters by claiming that the union boxes had gone for Shivers.

Shivers also reported that 59 members of the State House of Representatives had announced their support of him for governor.

Takes Dim View
While Shivers' picture of the present administration was a bright one, Yarborough's was the opposite.

In a theme developed in the early days of the governor's campaign and followed steadily, he lashed Shivers and the state administration with curt and critical accusations.

Yarborough pitched in a new charge as he drove and flew over the state.

Large billboards over Texas urging motorists to drive safely were paid for by an oil company, Yarborough stated, a direct violation of law because Shivers' name was on the billboards. He said it was a violation for a corporation to contribute to a political campaign.

In stump speeches Yarborough also had nothing but criticism for state government.

He re-warmed charges, developed earlier in the race, that a long tenure in office had caused corruption in the capital and that Shivers was conducting an "untruthful" campaign.

Yarborough reiterated accusations that state printing contracts were let illegally.

At Gonzales he asked 150 courthouse square listeners to make sacrifices in time and effort to "preserve their freedom and liberty" by voting for him.

He also declared the need for a drought-relief program and promised if elected to draw up a "comprehensive drought-relief plan."

Could Pose Problem
The possible problem of having a state governor belonging to one political faction and a Texas democratic party organization of another strain is causing loss of sleep for some party leaders.

The problem is this: Shivers, as a conservative democrat, presently heads the state's party organization which also is conservative democrat.

In addition, his followers took control of the party convention to be held September 14.

If Yarborough, as a liberal-loyalist, wins the August 28th run-off, the situation for the next two years could see the head of the state Democratic Party at odds with his party's official organization.

White, Porter Spar
State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has charged that the Texas drought relief plan for stockmen may prove a failure if "Republican political ambitions" are not separated from the program.

White accused Jack Porter, Republican national committeeman from Texas, and other Republican leaders with blocking the effectiveness of the program.

Porter in turn state that White was angry "because New Dealers are being replaced with people who believe in sound principles of government."

White said that in his three years of drought relief work it had never been necessary to clear anything through national com-
