The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

ENJOYED A Labor Day weekend trip up to the Fort Worth country, where the weather is still hotter than anywhere else in Texas. The citizens were in a pretty good humor, however, as their cats had just won a place in the Texas baseball league play-off. Football season was fixing to start, the TV programs were coming in good, and business was right fair.

Went out to the Fort Worth baseball park and saw one of the Tulsa games. It was the first time in several years that we attended a Cat game, and they lost. In a way, it was pretty good, for got to see six of their pitchers in action. And normally a man will have to attend a half dozen games to see all of the team's pitchers work.

The Fort Worth baseball club has a wonderful park. As you probably know, the park burned two or three years ago and they've completely rebuilt it. The new park is steel from top to bottom. All the wood in it is in the chairs. Even the floors are sheet steel.

DROVE OVER to Arlington for a visit, and the people there still think they have the best town in Texas. They're building houses everywhere you look, and there seems to be a good many of them unoccupied.

Also went over to the new Fort Worth International Airport and looked around for a couple of hours. It's a wonderful piece of engineering. The buildings are super. They don't seem to have much air travel yet, but this undoubtedly will come as the airport layout is so splendid it will attract travel. Saw a lot of tourists going through the place — people who drove up just to see it.

BACK HOME in Cisco are Texas Legion Commander E. L. Jackson and Mrs. Jackson. They left here by train about ten days ago. They were on hand in Washington, D. C., for the national convention of the American Legion, which ran for about a week.

While her husband attended the meetings, Mrs. Jackson enjoyed seeing the sights in the nation's capital. They heard the president's speech and attended some fancy banquets. Mr. Jackson got away for one major league baseball game.

A new Ford was turned over to the Jacksons in Washington, and they drove it home. The car is for his use as State Commander for the coming year. They returned home via Arkansas and their old home country and enjoyed a brief visit with relatives.

Mr. Jackson gets to spend this week in Cisco. Next week, he begins with a meeting in Abilene Monday night and he'll be on the road about 10 days solid.

DEAR EDITOR: I have enjoyed the Press for several months now and would very much like to renew my subscription.

Would you be interested in news from Houston about Cisco folks now living here? Just a social column, more or less? There are so many people from Cisco here. I'm no writer, but the comings and goings of the "Cisco Houstonians" should be of interest to some one at home.

Let me know and I'll relay the news. Renew my subscription. Sincerely,
Mrs. A. R. (Marilyn Shertzer) Schmitt.

THE PRESS would like very much to have an occasional column of news about former citizens. A good many of them subscribe for the Press, we're happy to report, and their friends in Cisco are always interested in what's happening to them.

While we're on the subject, we'd like to say that the Press is always grateful for news reports from anybody in the Cisco area or who formerly lived here. It's a pleasure for people to hear and read about friends and relatives, where ever they are.

WE'VE BEEN trying to increase our weekly columns of community news. And we'd like to have a correspondent for the Scranton community. Anybody who lives at Scranton and who might be interested in writing the news will receive all information and a lot of encouragement by dropping by our office or by writing or calling us.

Athlete's Foot Is Third Most Common Disease

AUSTIN, Sept. 2. — The common disease, popularly known as athlete's foot, is said to be the third most common disease seen by skin specialists during the summer, and the fifth most common disorder in winter. It is due to a little mold-like growth or fungus which thrives best where there is moisture and warmth. Therefore, the feet make an ideal place for the growth of this germ.

"To have athlete's foot, the infection must be gotten either directly or indirectly from someone else," states Dr. Henry A. Holte, State Health Officer. "The most common places to contract the infection are around shower rooms, baths or bath houses, locker rooms, and other public places where persons go barefoot. And it is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from the infection at some time."

The following measures have been suggested for preventing and avoiding recurrent attacks of athlete's foot:

1. After bathing, dry carefully and thoroughly the spaces between the toes.
2. Liberally apply a plain, unperfumed talcum to soles, socks, and shoes.
3. Wear properly fitting hose, that are absorbent but not too coarse.
4. Wear shoes that are not too tight, nor too large. They should fit the foot comfortably.

Survey Reveals Ducks Hard Hit By Dry Weather

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—The Director of Wildlife Restoration said field reports indicate that native ducks, like other Texas wildlife species, have been hard hit by the drought.

He quoted field reports by J. R. Singleton, wildlife biologist stationed in the coastal marshes, that the birds' population has reached an all-time low.

The mottled duck is the principal native duck, according to Glazener. Comparatively few of the other species nest in Texas.

Singleton reported that the dry weather for the last several years, plus heavy grazing, has drastically curbed the nesting cover for the native game.

The mottled duck so closely resembles the black mallard that most hunters report their game as such when they harvest these birds. There are comparatively few black mallards wintering along the Texas coast.

The importance of the mottled duck to Singleton's territory, ranging from Freeport to the Louisiana border, is shown by figures that from ten to twenty per cent of the early season kill along that part of the coast comprises mottled ducks.

Singleton said that many Texans from inland areas do their hunting in the mottled duck zone. The waterfowl biologist went on to observe that the crippling dry spell may affect some of the coastal lands so far as the general hunting season is concerned even though rains restore water levels in the marshes.

Tax Data Given For Corporations

DALLAS, Sept. 4. — Affiliated groups of corporations may elect to file separate returns for the first taxable year for which returns are due to be filed after the date of enactment of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (H. R. 8300), and for the first taxable year ending after the date of such enactment, District Director Ellis Campbell, Jr., of the Dallas District Office of the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

Returns due to be filed after the date of enactment of the new Code (including any extensions of time granted by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue) will be considered as filed and the election exercised on such due date regardless of the actual previous date of filing, he said.

Revised original returns may be filed on or before the last day prescribed by law for filing a return, including the last day of the period of any extension of time. The last return (original or revised) filed before the expiration of such extension will be considered the return filed on such date.

Team officials thanked all the loyal fans and everyone who helped with making the season a success. They thanked W. W. Smith for the use of his pickup used in rolling the field before each game; all the game umpires and those who donated cash amounts to the team.

GOOD SUPPLY OF WINTER COVER CROP SEED FORECAST FOR U. S.

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Production of hairy vetch seed in Texas this year is estimated by the Crop Reporting Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, at 7,450,000 pounds, compared with 7,800,000 pounds in 1953. Acreage harvested, at 52,000 acres, is down 20 percent from a year ago, but is 14 percent above the 1943-52 average. Yield at 145 pounds per acre is 25 pounds above the 1953 yield and only slightly less than the 1943-52 average of 149 pounds.

The total production of Austrian Winter peas, vetch and ryegrass seed in the United States is forecast at 217,745,000 pounds of clean seed, 24 percent larger than last year's production of 175,579,000 pounds and 5 percent above the 1943-52 average of 207,114,000 pounds. The much larger production of Austrian Winter peas and the record ryegrass seed crops this year more than offset the decline in production of vetch seed. Farm, dealer, and Government carry-overs of these seeds on June 30 totaled approximately 61 million pounds, which is less than half the quantity (about 127 million pounds) carried over a year ago.

FOREST FIRES IN NEWS

AUSTIN — Forest fires, an unfriendly and dangerous situation in any circumstances, are back in Texas news columns once more. Experts warn that if Texans aren't careful, the situation may become worse before it gets better.

The latest major outbreak of fire struck near the small Central Texas town of Volente, a community known almost as frequently as Dodd City. Rapid action on the part of local, regional and state forces ended the threat in fairly short order, although another, unhappier ending was possible at one time.

The reason the flames were put out was that a large number of individuals and organizations knew what to do both quickly and cooperatively. Looking at the situation from an overall view, experts say that this cooperation and training for civil defense and disaster relief can come in handy in case of a natural disaster such as that fire.

State Disaster Relief and Texas Forest Service officials agree that training on the part of Texans can result in the saving of lives as well as property. The situation at Volente offered proof of this, just as do statistics.

When the drought-parched forests of Central Texas erupted into flame, hundreds of people in that part of the area were available who knew what to do by way of dealing with the situation.

As a result of this quick action, there wasn't a single death, serious though the situation was.

As far as the state as a whole is concerned, there are some revealing statistics to remember. Yearly fire losses which are insured generally hit close to the $30 million mark, a figure which represents an economic loss of well over $130 million.

Forest fires, both major and minor ones, often add up to between 3,000 and 4,000 for a year's time.

Officials point out that many of these forest fires are caused by carelessness as well as the continuing drought situation. Many of them, they add, could have been stopped before they caused as much damage as they did if citizens had known more about what to do.

For example, experts figure that 25 per cent or more of the losses are generally caused by matches and smoking in buildings. More startling yet, approximately 40 per cent of forest fires can be accounted for because of careless smokers and campers.

Fires don't just happen, Texas Forest Service and Disaster Relief officials point out. If the cause of a fire is removed, then it will obviously be prevented. And officials also point out that once a fire has started, training in such matters as Red Cross first aid can save lives.

Officials also note that there are four points to remember when a fire occurs in a building:

1. Remain calm — do not get excited.
2. Call the fire department at once.
3. Clear the building of all occupants.
4. Use available fire extinguishers or other fire fighting appliances to control fire until the fire department arrives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stafford visited relatives in Glen Rose Sunday.

GRASPING HANDS OF AGGRESSION

"What causes wars and contentions among you? Is it not the passions which are ever at war in your natures? You covet things and cannot get them; you commit murder; you are envious and cannot gain your end; you fight and make war. You have not, because you do not pray, because you pray wrongly, your object being to waste on your pleasures what you acquire."
—Jas. 4:1-3 (Weymouth Trs.)

Reservists Will Get Basic Tests

AUSTIN, Sept. 2. — Tests designed to show how much Army enlisted personnel remember of basic military training will be given to more than 15,000 men in the active Army and Reserve during the next few months. The Department of Army has announced.

The tests will provide data upon which refresher courses may be planned for those now in service and for reservists who may be recalled to active duty in the event of increased or total mobilization.

In any future mobilization, a large number of men who have had prior military service would be assigned to the Army. The tests which will be given this summer will make it possible to plan an efficient and economical retraining program for these former servicemen.

A guide as to how proficient such personnel might be expected to be in retraining basic military knowledge how much retraining is required to bring them to their former level of proficiency and the areas of knowledge which require special emphasis in re-training programs are expected to be provided by the tests.

Free Exhibits To Be Features For Visitors At Fair

DALLAS, Sept. 7.—Thousands of free exhibits at the 1954 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9-24, will mirror modern progress for today's fairgoers just as surely as the spices, fabrics and gemstones brought the glamour of faraway places into the lives of visitors to ancient market fairs in Old Testament times.

The exhibit's panorama this year is more colorful than ever at the State Fair in Dallas, America's biggest annual exposition.

Two important modern industries will celebrate anniversaries at the 1954 fair. The Diamond Jubilee of Light will commemorate the harnessing of electrical power and the 75th birthday of the telephone in Texas will be marked by an historical exhibit of oldtime instruments.

The magical "Kitchen of Tomorrow," whose miraculous workings were recently shown on Arthur Godfrey's television show, will be seen for the first time in the Southwest in the Electric Show. The dream kitchen has cabinet doors that open with a wave of the hand, new type refrigerator, freezer compartment and electronic range. The Electric Building will be lit by the world's largest electric light bulb, a $75,000-watt built especially for the Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Fairgoers will be able to look into the crystal ball of the automobile industry and see what is in the future for the motorists of tomorrow at the colorful 38th Southwestern Automotive Exposition. The most advanced experimental cars in the world will hold the spotlight in the mammoth auto show.

The new air-conditioned Women's Building will house a glamorous array of precious gems, couture gowns, exclusive millinery, custom-made footwear, fine furs, lingerie and perfumes. There will be daily free style shows of "made in Texas" fashions, and more of the popular traditional displays of needlework, foods and other household skills than ever before.

Boots, saddles, seeds, farm and ranch machinery will share space in the Agriculture Building with the "Research for Texas Agriculture" show which dramatizes the work of Texas A&M scientists.

The outdoor exhibits of farm machinery, valued at well over two million dollars, will include everything from tractors to heavy earth-moving equipment.

The Antique Auto Show will feature the old machines that pioneered the automobile's struggle to replace the horse and buggy.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Grantham, Jr., of Houston were the weekend guests of his parents, Judge and Mrs. R. E. Grantham.

Pvt. Bobby Crofts of Fort Bliss spent the weekend in Cisco with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton Crofts.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Jones and daughter, Lynn, spent the weekend in Fort Worth with relatives.

ON THE AIR—Older movie fans will remember Lila Lee, whose face once adorned the silent movie screens. Now they're getting a chance to hear but not see her. She's rehearsing the script for the "Make Up Your Mind" radio show on which she appears in New York.

MUSIC MAKERS—As violinist Carroll Glenn left for a concert tour of South America with her husband, pianist Eugene List, they made some small music at a New York airport. While holding their tiny daughter, Allison, List used the tot's miniature violin to do a bit of fiddling.

CUT UP—Popular comedienne Anna Russell tried her hand with a baton when she acted as guest conductor with the Cleveland, O., Symphony Orchestra. No one took her efforts seriously, least of all the singer who is actually adept at what she's doing.

And Answers Vets Questions

Q — I am a "peacetime" veteran, and I want to get into a VA domiciliary home. One of the requirements, I understand, is the lack of adequate means of support. I have an income of around $100 a month. Is that considered adequate?

A — No. Your $100-a-month income would not bar you from VA domiciliary care, so long as you meet all the other eligibility requirements. An income of $125 or more a month, however, is considered adequate means, if the veteran uses it to support only himself.

Q — Recently I needed emergency medical treatment in a non-VA hospital for my service-connected disability, and there wasn't time to get VA's authorization in advance. Would it be possible for VA to reimburse me for the expenses?

A — Yes, it is possible, but only if all four of these conditions existed: (1) the treatment was for a service-connected disability or for some ailment that was aggravating a service-disability; (2) treatment was given in a medical emergency; (3) Government facilities were not available; (4) delay would have been hazardous.

Q — I'm a disabled veteran taking Public Law 16 training. I received a serious injury during my training. Could I receive additional compensation for my training injury?

A — Yes, it is possible for you to receive additional compensation for your injury, providing you can show that your disability resulted directly from some essential training activity.

Q — A friend of mine has been receiving VA compensation because of two disabilities. One is permanent and the other isn't. VA asked him to report for a physical examination for his non-permanent disability, but without any good reason he failed to show up. Will VA stop his entire compensation?

A — No. VA will adjust his compensation so that he will be paid only for his permanent disability. He no longer will receive payment for his non-permanent disability.

State Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Texas' conservatives, with a champion in Governor Allan Shivers, are now looking confidently toward the September 14 state Democratic convention at Mineral Wells.

Control of the convention is already assured the Governor by July precinct and county conventions which were largely captured by the state's conservative element.

In the Mineral Wells move to set up a solid conservative state organization for the next two years, Shivers is expected to:

1. Name a successor to Wright Morrow, conservative Democratic National Committeeman who has been denied a seat by the national committee. Morrow had agreed to step aside, but the state organization refused his resignation.

2. Lend impetus to the move by conservative elements to replace liberal Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell with someone acceptable to Dixie and Southwestern conservatives. Mitchell has agreed to resign after the November 2 election.

With primary emphasis on healing the split in the national Democratic Party, one question has come to the fore.

That is whether Texas conservatives will fight the renomination of Adlai Stevenson, who appears to be the only top Democratic contender for the presidency, in 1956.

Stevenson lost the Texas vote in 1952, largely because of his views on state rights and the Texas tidelands.

Republican Claims

the 18th district in the November general election. "There is no doubt whatever but that the Republicans of Texas pulled Governor Shivers through," said Porter. "We are calling on Democrats . . . to return the favor."

New Judges
Shivers will appoint, sometime after September 14, an associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court and 10 new district judges.

Appointed to fill the position of the late Associate Justice Graham B. Smedley during the remainder of 1954 will probably be the same person nominated by the state executive committee September 13 for the job.

The name will then go on the November 2 ballot, as the Democratic nominee for the post, which is a 1955-59 term.

Highway Award
Highest safety award presented by the National Safety Council has gone to the Texas Highway Department.

The Award of Honor is given for accident prevention achievement. Of 905 eligible organizations, only 12 received the pat-on-the-back.

Drought Help
Four more Texas counties have been recommended for the state-federal drought program by Governor Allan Shivers.

Drought relief was asked to be extended to ranchers and farmers of Brazos, Dickens, Kent and Montague Counties. Seventy-five have previously been approved for the aid.

Broadfoot to Retire
Called from retirement five months ago to replace District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin in George Parr's South Texas kingdom, Judge A. S. Broadfoot has again announced his retirement.

Judge Broadfoot, of Bonham, was chosen by the Supreme Court after Judge Laughlin was removed. His 79th District Court includes Starr, Brooks, and Duval Counties.

Indications are, however, that Judge Laughlin may soon be back at his old bench. He has successfully campaigned for Democratic renomination for the two years remaining on his term. Until his assumed return to the bench January 1, Governor Allan Shivers or the Supreme Court Chief Justice will appoint a successor to Judge Broadfoot.

Business Record
Texas business may break all previous records this year.

Dr. John R. Stockton, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, says his prediction will be true if the remainder of 1954 looks like the first seven months.

Stockton reported that Texas' business for the first seven months was the highest on any year's similar period.

School Increase
A 22.5 increase in state public school attendance is forecast by a school survey, just completed.

The 308,000 daily jump in numbers of students was predicted by the Texas Research League, now preparing research reports of the Gilmer-Aiken financing program for the State Board of Education.

Enrollment in the school year ended last June was 1,569,000, the league reported.

Liquor Revenue
July revenue of the Texas Liquor Control Board climbed $35,000 over the July, 1953, mark, the Board's report shows.

Totals for the month showed, $1,375,582.53 in revenue, filing of 254 criminal complaints by enforcement officers, and the seizure of one moonshine still by inspectors.
