MEET A SUCCESSFUL CAGE-LAYING OPERATOR!

"Perfect health . . . excellent shell texture . . . larger eggs . . . more uniform production

LESTER L. IHMS Georgetown, Texas

With all the talk about cage laying these days, I thought you'd like to hear what Lester L. Ihms, your TEXO neighbor in Georgetown, Texas, has to say about TEXO Cage Laying All-Mash:

"Since going on the TEXO Cage Laying Program with our 2,000 cage layers, we've noticed that our hens are in perfect health, the eggs are ture, and we're getting a more uniform production. But, what's more important, we're getting a very good

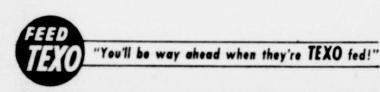

The Reason: More Productive Energy.

Since the activity of cage layers is restricted, less pounds of feed are needed for body maintenance; so TEXO Cage Laying All-Mash is especially designed to give your hens more productive energy while giving them more than the minimum requirements for body maintenance. Feed TEXO Cage Laying All-Mash and see for yourself why more and more people are saying, "You'll be way ahead when they're TEXO fed!"
