

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

YOU CAN LOOK forward to something very extra special this coming Saturday night as the Delphian Club stages its annual Christmas Pilgrimage. This year's program opens with a 7 p. m. prayer service at the First Methodist Church. Then, the tour of homes will begin.

You will visit a goodly number of homes to see their Christmas decorations. Committees will be on hand at each home to provide music and serve refreshments. This is an annual event that is a contribution to the Yuletide season, and the Delphian Club is congratulated for this splendid project.

THEIR OUTDOOR Christmas tree — the Christ child and the men — has been put up at the Thomas Funeral Home, and all want to see it. . . . Some 20 Cisco Lions were at the Station last evening and made a big contribution toward painting and repairing the big collection of discarded toys for Christmas baskets. They did a fine job. . . . A recent copy of the yellow newspaper told about a 9-year-old doctor being the oldest practicing physician in West Texas. How about Cisco's Dr. W. P. . . .

DOWN IN HIS football district, Al Langford, formerly of the coaching staff, recently was named coach of the year by the Star-Telegram. . . . He recently coached his all-district 2A-9 football team for the past season. Tom Reynolds was the only Ciscoan named on the team. . . . The Hon. B. Wright bagged the biggest buck we've seen this season on a hunting trip last weekend down near San Antonio. His buck had 10 points and was a big fellow. The Tom Starks are observing wedding anniversary today.

THE EIGHT grand children of B. L. Russell, Sr., of Baird, are 80 years old, are going to get handsome Christmas gifts this year from their grandmother. Russell has made each of them a handsome serving tray. He took a piece of plywood and cut an attractive scene on it, and put rope around the edges. The handsomer tray you never saw. We saw one of them when we stopped by the WTUCo. office to admire their pretty Christmas trees and Rudolph painted on the window. O. J. Russell was wrapping one of the trays for mailing to his mother.

MR. E. L. JACKSON, the district manager, was back in his office this morning. He's going to be an utilities man and a Cisco man for the rest of the month. He has just finished several days being the State Commander of the American Legion. Mr. E. L. left last Saturday for meeting in Dallas. He was in Elphur Springs on Sunday, in El Paso and Houston on Monday, and came back to Waco on Tuesday. At Waco, he went out to Baylor University to present an award to Religious Artist Jack Hamm for the national Legion. Hamm's cartoons appear in The Press each Friday and Sunday. At the Baylor auditorium, Mr. Jackson spoke to the largest crowd he ever addressed to tell them about the fine work Mr. Hamm is doing and about the Legion's Back to God program. Mrs. Lela Latch Lloyd, formerly here, and Miss Jane Flint, local resident at Baylor, were among those who came up to greet Mr. Jackson.

SQUIBS: You can't push yourself forward by patting yourself on the back. . . . The day dreamer gets a daze-to-daze existence. . . . Ability and reliability made a good team. . . . Fear is a darkroom where "negatives" are developed. The salesman who is lost in his work has found his future. . . . As a man grows older and wiser he talks less and says more. . . . This best to learn the trade is not just the tricks. . . . Hand-drawing on the wall usually means there's a child in the family. . . . More Squirbs: You can bump into trouble trying to dodge duty. Remember: When the mercury skids, so does your car. . . . Women should remember that it's easier to drive a man to drink than it is away from it. . . . Oddly, it, that a feller can reach greater height if he has more depth. . . . We learned long ago that the best way to make a fire with two sticks is to be sure one of them is a match.

EASY DID IT!—Hal White's neighbors turned up their noses when he raised these Tamworth barrows in the basement of his home in Chicago, but judges at the International Livestock Show awarded them blue ribbons. Two years ago, White had to move his porkers to the country because of complaints, but the 32-year-old hogman smuggled them back to victory.

Clarendon Cage Team Will Meet CJC In Tilt Here

Clarendon Junior College will be in Cisco Thursday night for a basketball game with the Cisco Junior College Wranglers at community gym. Time for the game has been set at 8 p. m. The Clarendon school specializes in basketball, and has had one of the top junior college quintets in the state in former years. Friday night the Wranglers play the Hardin-Simmons Butons at community gym in the final game before the Christmas holidays.

Explorers Camp Planned Dec. 30

Over 100 Explorers and their leaders throughout the eight-county Comanche Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America will camp at Camp Billy Gibbons near Richmond Springs, beginning December 30, for three days. Oren H. Ellis of Stephenville is chairman of the camping and activities committee. The annual banquet of the Order of the Arrow will be held on December 28 in Hotel Brownwood beginning at 7:30 p. m. Dabney Kennedy, Lodge Chief, is accepting reservations for this meeting at Box 808, Brownwood. The Order of the Arrow is a national organization of experienced campers through the Boy Scouts of America which are selected by their fellow campers while at Scout Camp.

SS CLASS TO MEET

SANTA CLAUS TO RIDE IN PONY WAGON IN CISCO ON SATURDAY

Old Santa Claus will ride down Avenue D in a miniature wagon pulled by four Shetland ponies at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, according to an announcement today by Manager Paul Brashear of the Chamber of Commerce. The ponies will be driven by Mart Agnew, well known Ciscoan. Another Saturday afternoon feature will be a contest for $50 in merchandise certificates, which will be given away. Everybody's will be eligible and all you have to do is register at any Cisco store. Store owners were asked to send the registration cards to the Chamber of Commerce at 2 p. m. Saturday. Mr. Brashear said that "we're expecting a big crowd of Santa's followers in town Saturday afternoon."

COLEMAN CAGE TEAMS DEFEAT LOBOES IN TWO CONTESTS HERE

The Coleman Bluecats displayed an uncanny ability to sink their shots at Community Gym Tuesday night as they outscored the Cisco Lobos 55-38 in a non-conference cage game. The Bluecats hit 63 percent of their free throws and had about as good an average on field goals while the Lobos were sinking 52 percent of their free throws and had even more difficulty on their field goal attempts. The Coleman cagers started off in high gear and immediately took the lead. At the end of the first period they were leading 16-7. The lead at half time was 24-16 and at the end of the third period it had increased to 40-25. Jack Baucum led the Bluecat attack and took game honors with 17 points. George Callarman of the Lobos and McCulloch were tied for second place with 16 points each. The Tuesday night game was the second loss the Lobos had suffered at the hands of the Bluecats. They lost a three point decision to Coleman at Coleman on December 7. The Lobo "B" team started the program for the evening by dropping a 46-43 game to the Coleman "B" boys. Norris of Coleman was high for the game with 15 points. Also of the Bluecats was in second place with 14. Bobby Cluck and Levere Adams of the Lobos followed with 13 and 12 points respectively. Coleman came from behind in the final period to win the game. The Lobos were leading 32-31 going into the final stanza. Playing for Cisco in the "B" team game were Bobby Cluck, Howard Hamilton, Robert Fletcher, Herbie Gallegos, Levere Adams, Lee Cheves and Bobby Laird. This weekend the Lobos will be playing in the Mineral Wells tournament and the Queens will be in the Desdemona tournament. The Queens play Lingleville in their first game at 6 p. m. Thursday.

Final plans for the coming Golden Gloves boxing program were made at the weekly meeting of the Boosters Club at the high school Tuesday night. The program is being sponsored by the Boosters. The committee was instructed to arrange for mats, the building of a portable ring, and for the equipment needed to get the program underway. Plans call for holding several matches at community gym following the Christmas holidays. J. L. Stafford, president of the club, reported. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stoiker of Breckenridge visited Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McClelland.

New Boss Building Addition Will Be Completed This Week

They've Got It!

LOCAL STORES HAVE PLENTY OF GIFTS FOR 'HER' ON DISPLAY

Choosing Christmas gifts for women in your life should be no problem this year. A tour through the Cisco stores will solve any gift-worry you might have. A man shopping for his wife can find gifts galore in the appliance stores, such as automatic washers, dryers, ironers — all to be had on payment plans easy enough to fit your particular needs. Personal gifts in the form of lingerie are always good suggestions. If she loves to entertain, hostess robes, party dresses and formals can be had from our own Cisco stores — more lovely this year than ever before. Handsome leather jackets are available at several local stores. Something she would love but probably wouldn't buy for herself is matched sets of beautiful jewelry or glittering mules she can wear with at-home clothes. Any woman — wife, sister, daughter or mother — would welcome a handsome blouse, a handbag, gloves or a Christmas box of hosiery. Or set her up to an afternoon she'll enjoy by remembering her with a gift certificate at her favorite beauty salon, or give her a book of theatre tickets. Gifts of flowers are always welcome. A gift of fragrance can be fitted to almost anyone on your Christmas list. For the business woman are fragrance sets including stick colognes, creme sachet or refreshing liquid cologne. For new brides, whose interests center around home and husband, give a set of sachets for her lingerie, pretty guest soaps for her bathroom or colognes in the new aerosol containers to spray in her linen closet.

The socially-minded will love a sampler set of perfumes with a beautiful atomizer for spraying the scent all about her. For a teen-ager, there are sets of matching bath products, cologne, dusting powder, bath oil or bath salts. All these are to be found in the Cisco stores. — Mrs. Lucile Huffmyer.

Commission Gets Progress Report

The large Boss Manufacturing Company building annex will be completed and turned over to the glove plant this week, City Secretary Hal Lavery reported to the City Commission at the regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall. General Contractor Welborn Garrett has completed construction work and has been paid about $29,000 for his work. The painters still needed two or three days to complete their work, and a Dallas concern was busy installing an overhead sprinkler system as a precaution against fires. The structure will cost about $45,000 by the time all work, including the laying of a larger water main line, is finished, Mr. Lavery said. Funds to finance the project were raised by Cisco citizens through the purchase locally of revenue bonds, which will be retired by rent money paid by the Boss company over a period of 12 years. The building addition will allow the Boss company to double its production here. W. G. Lininger of Kewanee, Ill., chief production engineer for the Boss company, and John Waller, his assistant, are here from the home office to direct the installation of new equipment in the annex. They have been assembling machinery, and are expected to begin moving it into the new part of the factory on Thursday or Friday. Installation of heating equipment was due to be completed today, after which machinery will be moved in. The painters were putting the final coat on the brick walls, having completed spray work on the ceiling. Electrical work has been finished. Mr. Waller, son of President E. J. Waller of the Boss company, will be in Cisco three or four months in connection with the new program. The Boss company has operated a plant here more than 10 years and employs over 175 persons. The City Commission authorized the purchase of 1,600 feet of additional 8-inch pipe for use in extending the water mains to the East Cisco area. G. R. Nance, local accountant, attended the meeting and presented the annual audit of the City books. The Commission studied the audit and voted to accept it. A salesman for a billing machine firm was present to discuss the possible sale to the city of new equipment. Commissioner Albert Hansen reported that the new Lake Bernice road was nearing completion. The new route eliminates the blind railroad crossing in North-west Cisco. He said traffic was already using the new route and work would be complete in a few days.

Milk Producers Of Area Report Production Hike

Reports from eleven handlers regulated under the Central West Texas milk marketing order showed an increase of 3.76 percent in average daily Class I sales (whole milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk and cream) during November as compared with October. Byford W. Bain, Market Administrator announced today. On a daily basis handlers disposed of 396,610 pounds of milk as Class I during November as compared with 382,256 pounds per day during October. Class I disposition during November was greater than for any month since Order No. 82 has been effective. There were 740 producers supplying the Central West Texas market during November which is a decrease of eight producers from October. During November the average daily producer deliveries amounted to 338,949 pounds which is an increase of 5,189 pounds, or 1.55 percent, over October. The average daily deliveries per farm during November were 458 pounds as compared with 446 pounds during October. The minimum uniform price to producers for November deliveries was $6.08 per hundredweight f.o.b. handlers' plants Abilene, San Angelo, Stamford, and Sweetwater, Texas. This is an increase of 14 cents per hundredweight over the October price of $5.94 per hundredweight. For milk delivered to handlers' plants located at Lamesa and Midland, Texas, the November price was $6.23 per hundredweight. For milk delivered to plants located at Brownwood, Texas, the price was $5.88 per hundredweight and for deliveries to Mineral Wells, Texas, the price was $5.83 per hundredweight.

Plans called for a variety program, and old Santa Claus is scheduled to visit the children at the party. Workers from a dozen area towns and members of their families are due to attend the party here.

LEADING ASTRONOMER DELIVERS INTERESTING LECTURE AT A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 15. — "Some five or six billion years ago all the matter that we now observe to be present in our galaxy and the external galaxies was concentrated perhaps in one huge super star," Dr. Bengt Stromgren, one of the world's leading astronomers said at a graduate lecture at Texas A. and M. College.

"Somehow this super star exploded," Dr. Stromgren, who is director of the Yerkes Observatory, Wisconsin and the McDonald Observatory in West Texas, declared and "the matter separated out into single galaxies and these spread out and we still observe their spreading out — the so-called expansion of the universe, the expansion of all the nebulae, galaxies, one from another."

Speaking on "The Formation and Evolution of the Stars," the world-renowned astronomer said, "after separate galaxies have been formed within each galaxy the stars of Population 2, the oldest stars, were formed. Their evolution and dissipation back into space may have changed the properties of interstellar space or other factors may have been at work that changed the nature of these galaxies into what they are now."

"Then came a phase of evolution when stars of type Population 1, like the sun, were formed. The chief difference between Population 2 and Population 1 is that a larger fraction of the heavy elements are present in Population 2.

"After these stars began to be formed," Dr. Stromgren said, "the systems flattened and the picture was much like the picture that we observe now when we study our own galaxy — vast systems with interstellar matter still existing between the stars being formed out of this matter. In our house of galaxies like our own there is to some extent cycles of processes—matter condenses into cloud banks, a hot star is formed at the center and the action of the radiation from this star scatters the matter out into the clouds again.

"Stars are formed by this process and some of the matter from the star goes back into interstellar space. The remnants of the blowing up of these clouds, the remnants of the stars after they have finished their evolution and become white dwarfs, pass back into interstellar space to form new interstellar matter, and thus the cycles goes on.

"Somehow this tenuous gaseous matter has a tendency of condensing into the spiral arms and this is why galaxies of this type come to us as they do.

"We no longer regard the bright parts of these clouds, such as the Orion nebula or the Rosette nebula, as relatively unimportant parts of the interstellar matter. We realize that they are very important. They are the spots where stars are being formed. The reason why they do not form more than a small fraction of the total mass is simply that they are, in the evolution of the galaxy, transient phenomena."

Some highlight notes from Dr. Stromgren's address: "When you look at the winter sky on a dark night you find in the constellation of Orion a luminous spot easily recognized by the naked eye. This is the famous Orion nebula."

"There are facts of observation which show that space in between the stars is not empty."

"The temperature of Mars is on the average lower than on the earth. When we go out to Pluto we encounter quite low temperatures. The temperature is controlled by the radiation from the sun — the energy that is received from the sun."

"How can stars be formed out of gases that are so extremely tenuous as the interstellar matter? The evidence is actually very direct and we cannot escape the conclusion that even now in our present phase of evolution stars are being formed out of interstellar matter."

"We have clouds of the order of thirty light years in diameter, very tenuous clouds, each of them containing enough matter to form something like thirty or forty years. These clouds will collide and gradually build up the cloud bank. Once a nucleus has been formed through say consecutive collision of four or five clouds, this will, like a snowball, pick up more matter. Now comes the phase when there is enough to form ten thousand stars and still be at very low density. We do not see how this matter can get together to form a star, but somehow to start the process at least one star will be formed out of this matter in a particular still region. This presumably happens through the action of gravitation, and from then on we can pretty well follow what happens. The hot air will ionize the hydrogen gas that surrounds it. The action of the star will eat its way through the gaseous center — the hot central region will spread as a compression wave and in the region of the cloud bank through which this passes high densities are readily produced. Stars will be pushed outward by the action of the hot gas at the center of the cloud."

"Conditions in the universe must have changed radically some five or six billion years ago. The strongest arguments in favor of this picture is the existence of radioactive elements that decay rapidly and which are not formed in any appreciable amounts in our present galaxy."

CONTINENT-WIDE CAMPAIGN IN THOUSANDS OF NORTH AMERICAN CHURCHES DURING OCTOBER, 1952

HOLIDAY HISTORY By Robert C. Preble

The exact day and year of the birth of Christ has never been settled, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. As missionaries moved into these Northern lands that depend upon the sun for their very existence, they encountered "festivals of light" marking the "return" of the sun at the winter solstice. Tradition had held that Christ was born at about this time of year, and the pagan festivals came to mark the Nativity of Christ as the light of the world.

When Grandpa came to visit

It always became an extra-special day when Grandpa came to visit. Remember? There was always something extra-nice for us in his pocket. And only Grandpa had a big railroad watch with the magic ticking that never failed to intrigue us.

Maybe that's why we remembered the things he told us so well. Like when he took a coin out of his pocket and slipped it to us when Mother and Dad weren't watching and whispered, "Put this away for a rainy day." It was so hard not to spend it—but we put the money in our bank and waited. And one day we were happy we had.

Yes, Grandpa was wise and his advice was sound. And though it's even more difficult not to spend extra money today, we realize how necessary it is to provide for the future—ours and our children's. That's why eight million of your neighbors are putting something aside each payday—for a "rainy day"—on the Payroll Savings Plan.

Why don't you sign up and tell the people in your pay office how much you want to save each payday? They put that amount aside for you. When enough accumulates, they buy and turn over to you a U. S. Series E Savings Bond. And Bonds now pay 3% interest for as long as 19 years and 8 months! Get the Bond habit now!

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds that pay interest semi-annually by Treasury check.

Choose your own savings goal

| Each week for 19 years and 8 months, save..... | $3.75 | $7.50 | $18.75 |

This chart shows only a few typical examples of savings goals and how to reach them through Payroll Savings. Remember, you can save any sum you wish, from a couple of dollars a payday up to as much as you want. The important thing is, start your Plan today!

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Highlighting the news in Austin is the resignation of U. S. District Attorney Charles Herring.

Herring is the only remaining Democrat in a federal attorney's job in the nation. He leaves an impressive record as a prosecutor.

He will return to private practice in Austin, when his resignation becomes effective, January 1.

Rumor is that he will be a candidate for Attorney General of Texas in 1956.

Russell Wine, San Antonio attorney, is in line for the district attorney's post. He has Republican National Committeeman Jack Porter's backing for the job.

Karl Kamrath, Houston architect and chairman of the state planning commission, says that state plans for new buildings in Austin will probably be delayed until the capitol city's new "Master Plan" is developed, so that city and state plans may dovetail.

Kamrath was here to talk with the city's planning officials about the employment of a consulting engineer for preparation of the new master plan.

State voters recently approved a constitutional amendment authorizing the transfer of surplus money from the Confederate Pension Fund to a building fund for the erection of a new courts building and a new state office building.

If you wear glasses you'll be interested in the latest move by the state optometry board.

Last year the Legislature refused to pass an optometry bill granting the board dictatorial powers over newspaper and other advertising.

Legislators felt that the public's interest came first, and that the board's bill would only serve to jack up the cost of glasses. As one Legislator put it "They are out to make the people pay through the eyes."

Twice in the last 13 months the board has issued a "ruling" — and recalled it — outlawing newspaper advertising by optometrists, except for card ads. This order was in direct defiance of the state Legislature and in spite of Attorney General John Ben Shepperd's ruling that they had no such power.

Now the board has called for "public" hearings, January 3 at the statehouse, as a buildup for another such ruling.

Maybe there is going to be a little more harmony in the Democratic Party.

Governor Allan Shivers expressed that possibility in a press conference here.

He said that the trend of a party meeting in New Orleans seemed to indicate a feeling on the part of Democratic leaders to yield somewhat in their attitude toward southern conservatives.

"It should be looked on in that light," the Governor said.

EASY FIT—Tiny Sheila McMackin is making the best of a Scotch situation in Chicago. She's relaxing in that large Lord Elgin trophy which will be awarded to the grand champion steer exhibitor at the International Livestock Exposition.

Rep. Jim T. Lindsey of Texas is unopposed for speaker of the house and the first day's business will see him elected. He's also expected to have committee appointments ready early.

Under new regulations, legislators receive $25 a day for the first 120 days, and nothing thereafter. Heretofore they were paid $10 a day for the first 120 days and $5 a day for regular session overtime. The new rule should speed up 1955 action.

Special sessions, under the new law, must end in 30 days, with $25 a day applicable.

A $2.5 million highway program for Texas has been okayed by a special committee appointed at the request of Governor Shivers.

State Highway Commission Chairman E. H. Thornton Jr., who set up the committee, said that the problem of financing the program would be submitted to the legislature in January.

Financial and drought problems will be the major matters facing the legislature next year. State departments are clamoring for funds — a $41 million increase in appropriations. A majority of the lawmakers are expected to go along with Governor Shivers on the money problem.

Austin headquarters of the board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools know that there really is a Santa Claus.

A donation of $5,000 has been received from the Amon Carter Foundation of Fort Worth. It is for a special Christmas fund to purchase gifts for patients and students at state hospitals and special schools.

Amon Carter is publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.
