

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

More On Railroads

A few weeks ago this scribe took a "poke" at railroads—it seemed to us that everyone and their dogs, so to speak, were defending the railroads so we decided to take the other side.

This week we received a letter in the mail which tells another point of view in the "railroad story."

In the interest that there is still two points of view to everything we are printing this letter:

Mr. Dave McReynolds, Editor Friona Star Friona, Texas

Dear Mr. McReynolds: Regarding your editorial of June 5th, 1958, in which you headed your article "Pity The Pore Railroads".

This editorial is unfair because I don't believe you have told all the story about the railroads.

I will agree with you that the railroads had a monopoly on the transportation at one time, and they took advantage of the situation but that has been changed by government controls. These controls are very much out of date as are the days of Casey Jones and the old 99, and the like as you mentioned.

I feel the railroads should be allowed to progress along with the progress of our nation and other forms of transportation.

We all agree the trucks are a necessity to our nation and are here to stay but the railroads are also still a necessity and what the railroads are most wanting at this time is a fair right to compete with other forms of transportation, without restrictions or make restrictions apply to all forms of transportation.

We also know there has to be a profit on money invested in railroads, trucks or any other form of transportation, or

Mr. Hellman has made some good points in his letter, and I'm sure that we must agree with him on the subject.

What he has said is true, the time has come when the shoe is on the other foot for the railroads and once again it is pinching and they are screaming for relief.

Another thing is that we need the railroads. The passenger service is on the way out it seems but on freight the rails can never be matched by trucks or planes when it comes to moving such things as — well for instance, wheat, maize and other agricultural commodities over long distances. In times of war they carry a heavy load of responsibility.

But—we still maintain that jacking up truck rates will not solve the problem, for on short hauls they can outdo the rails with their door to door delivery and fast service on LCL dein a very short time they will fail and there also has to be money for improvements or they will be obsolete in a short time.

I think the public should also know that the railroads have helped make our nation great and have helped build our cities and towns, large and small, and are still a big help to our smaller towns in form of wages and taxes, which are paid by the railroads to employees who live in these smaller cities and towns and taxes which are paid to cities and schools. Do you realize the Santa Fe Railroad pays nearly $500.00 a month city and school taxes in Friona, besides around $2,500.00 a month in salaries? If any other form of transportation beats that I think the public should also know. I also know of a school some time ago that could not pay their school teachers until the railroads (the Santa Fe) paid their school taxes in advance.

I have seen lots of trucks at elevators in Friona and other towns hauling out the grain and am sure a lot of it being hauled quite some distance at cheaper rates than the railroads could haul it for, but I don't think the trucks helped pay for our schools and help our city finances here in Friona. About the only money they spend in Friona is for meals and maybe gasoline.

I have seen in a town just a short distance from Friona where the $20,000.00 to $30,000.00 trucks park for weeks at a time, without paying rent or taxes to that city, and parking on pavement which was paid for by people of that town and was not made heavy enough for these heavy trucks.

You also speak of land the railroads secured by building railroads on this land. A lot of the land was paid for by hauling freight at a cheaper rate until the land was paid for, and a lot of the land could have been homesteaded at that time. Anyway it was worth the price to get finances to get railroads built at that time and have them near enough to handle their freight. It cost a lot of money to build a railroad and maintain them and it still does. The railroads have to maintain their roadbeds and equipment to meet government requirements and have enough money to progress with other forms of transportation.

I hope you don't feel offended but after reading your editorial I feel the public should know both sides of the railroad story.

Very truly yours,

A. J. Hellman, Agent Panhandle and Santa Fe Ry. Co. Friona, Texas

tails.

One point on which we heartily agree with Mr. Hellman concerns the taxes on trucks vs. the rails.

They pay taxes on gasoline like everyone who uses and owns an auto does.

BUT—what tears up our highways quicker than any other single thing—the trucks of course.

We feel that here is one area that is being overlooked and something should be done to equalize this situation.

In closing we can't help but mention one thing—who is supposed to maintain the crossing on Main Street leading out of town?

It sure would be nice to be able to drive across that area by the tracks without losing one's teeth in the process.

FIRE ON SCHUELER FARM

A wheat field belonging to Gilbert Schueler was a scene of activity Sunday evening about 6:30 when the wheat caught fire from the tractor being driven by Gilbert.

Several neighbors soon appeared on the scene and after several seconds the word spread and the community was represented almost 100 percent to fight the fire. The flames were checked just as the Friona Fire Department arrived at the scene. Gilbert estimated the loss of about 5 to 7 acres of 40 bushel wheat. The loss would have been greater if the wind had been blowing. The dampness of the wheat also slowed the flames.

HELPING WITH HARVEST

Several boys are visiting and helping with harvest in the community. Curtis Unnasch and Ray Dorsett of Thorndale, Tex., are staying in the Chris Goetz home. Ray is working on the Jack Burnett farm and Curtis on the Walter Schueler farm.

Charles Wuscash of Austin is staying in the Melvin Sachs home helping Melvin with the harvest.

Bob Keunke of Decatur, Ind., is visiting in the Raymond Schueler home, also helping Raymond with the harvest. Bob is Mrs. Schueler's nephew.

WITH JUNE

The two wheat field blazes which we had Sunday afternoon should cause everyone to be very cautious of setting fires this time of year. The wheat fields are so dry that once a fire gets started, it is almost impossible to put it out, so it is very important that no fire gets started.

Several small blazes have been started from exhausts of running vehicles. Trucks that are hauling grain should have the exhaust pipes running overhead so that they do not come in direct contact with stubble.

The United States Forest Service offers four major precautions that should be observed at all times by everyone. All of these are timely for us any time and any place even though they were directed at the prevention of forest fires.

1. Crush Out Your Smokes
When out-of-doors, stop to smoke in safe places only. With the side of your shoe, clear a space in the surface litter down to the mineral soil. Drop your cigar, cigarette butt or pipe ash on this cleared spot. With the heel of your shoe, grind it into the ground until you're sure it's out. When driving, use your ash tray. Never throw burning material from any vehicle.

2. Break Your Match In Two
This safety test will insure that the flame is extinguished. Always feel the burnt end before throwing your match away. Always make sure your match is dead out—a good habit.

3. Drown Your Campfire
Before you build a campfire, scrape away all inflammable material from a spot six feet in diameter. Dig a hole in the middle and build your fire there. Keep it small. Never build a campfire against trees, logs, or near brush. Before leaving your campfire, stir the coals, while soaking them with water. Turn the sticks over, and soak both sides, and the earth around the fire.

4. Use Care In Burning
First of all, find out if your State laws require a permit for burning brush or debris. If so, get one from your local fire warden or ranger. Have plenty of help, tools, and water handy.

Several persons have asked us on different occasions why we don't have a garden club in Friona. Of course, our answer is always the same. We don't know. It is our understanding that the primary purpose of any garden club is to promote the growing of flowers and the beautification of the city.

After driving around and looking at flowers and vegetables growing in our city, our observation would be that Frionans are doing a pretty good job on this score without any organized effort. Some of the prettiest spots we have seen are at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boggess, Mr. and Mrs. Ivin Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cunningham.

Maybe the beautification committee of the Chamber of Commerce should look into the possibilities of having a flower show of some kind at our Maize Days celebration this year. We could surely show visitors that maize isn't the only thing we grow here.

Materials are being placed on the ground for the erection of the new home of Galloway Implement Company which will be on west Highway 60 just west of the present location of the Farmer County Pump Company.

Terri Sue Cummings, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Cummings is very distressed over the loss of one of her "heels." This shoe is a red pump and is a size 4½. It seems that Terri Sue went to the ball park one evening "dressed up." After tiring of the heels she pulled them off and went barefoot. Upon her arrival home one shoe was missing.

Stella Cole tells us that it isn't unusual for her name and another Stella's here in town to get confused. In last week's Star we reported that Stella Cole had gone to Amarillo to work at the Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital. This was an error. It was Stella Seales who went to Amarillo. Our apologies go to both Stellas.

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

"Thought For The Week"

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) collects farm commodities — wheat, cotton, rice, corn, dairy products, etc., and sends them to suffering humanity all over the world. Last year our U.S. Government matched every dollar's worth given by farmers with over $30.00 worth from our surpluses. This was sent directly to the people who were starving, through missionaries of almost every denomination in the United States. Nearly all denominations cooperate in this Christian enterprise. To administer such help in the name of Christ will not only help starving bodies but also help hungry souls. You may designate any amount of your wheat to this cause by authorizing the elevator to set it aside, or you may give cash through your churches. Jesus said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

MRS. DEON AWTRY

Cook of the Week

Our cook of the week this week, like a lot of other Friona homemakers, does a lot of things besides cook. Mrs. Deon Awtrey, who is better known to most Frionans as Fern, was stitching up a dress for her daughter when a Star reporter called and asked for her cooperation on this feature.

Since Deon is a farmer, Fern is very often called on to do errands in one place and another. She is the mother of two children and takes an active part in many community projects as well as the activities of the Friona Methodist Church.

When she was asked for her favorite recipes, Fern asked, "Do you mean my favorites or the favorites of my family?" Perhaps these recipes are favored by Deon, Ronnie, and Sharen.

CHICKEN CREOLE

- 1 4-pound hen cooked and chopped
- 1 box spaghetti, pre-cooked in broth
- 2 small onions and 4 garlic pods fried in butter
- 1/2 can pimento
- 1 can mushrooms (drained)
- 3 stalks celery

Combine all ingredients in large baking dish, cover with grated cheese and bake 1 hour.

Another Awtrey family favorite main dish is below.

BURGER-RICE BAKE

- 1/2 pound lean ground beef
- 1/2 pound ground pork
- 1/2 cup uncooked rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 can (1 lb.) sauerkraut, drained
- 1/2 cup sauerkraut liquid
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 large onion, sliced
- 2 cups tomato juice
- 1 cup water

Mix together ground beef, pork, rice, and salt; shape into 16 balls. Combine drained sauerkraut, 1/2 cup sauerkraut liquid, and sugar. Turn into greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Top with onion slices separated into rings. Arrange meat balls over onions. Mix tomato juice and water and pour over balls. Cover and bake in moderate oven for 1 hour. Remove cover and bake for 30 minutes longer. Just before serving, drizzle meat balls with catsup. Garnish with parsley, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

CHERRY SALAD

"My family likes soups and stews. The electric deep well cooker makes it easy for me to give them what they like!"

SAYS Mrs. Cecil Allf, 1824 ORANGE, AMARILLO, TEXAS

* "The deep well cooker is so wonderful for making soups and stews that it's not surprising it does a wonderful job sterilizing baby's bottles. This is a new use that the Public Service Home Service Advisor told me about when I first got my electric range."

...and sterilizes baby's bottles, too!

"I've found it's economical and practical to prepare soups and stews in large quantities in the deep well cooker and then freeze part for later use. There just seems to be no limit to the things you can do with an electric range."

"Thanks to the dependability of electric cooking, I can set my range to cook while I'm out. I love to entertain and with people in the house, I'm not tied down to the kitchen. I just let Reddy take over. So, in or out of the house, Reddy makes a good, silent, non-complaining servant."

Don't Burn Straw; It Will Increase Future Crop Profits

The 1958 wheat harvest is here, but already the progressive farmers of the irrigated High Plains are looking forward to next year's wheat crop. This may sound strange, but there are several good reasons for it being true. For one thing, there is no substitute for time when it comes to getting the wheat stubble removed and made good use of.

There was a time when burning stubble was popular. It was believed that such a practice was an improvement over the "plow it under" method, since there was no comparison to be had in the work required for each system.

However, in recent years farmers have discovered that wheat stubble is one of the most valuable by-products their crop can have, and they are taking steps to make full use of the profits locked in every acre of straw. The interest in using stubble might be compared to the interest recently shown in conserving cotton burs.

"There is no better time than now to begin work on next year's wheat crop," points out County Agent Joe Jones. "Whatever you do, don't burn your straw. It is valuable organic matter, and preserves and increases the water holding ability of your soil."

Traditionally, the soils of the High Plains have been low in organic matter. With little or no natural cover such as trees, with a low amount of rainfall, there had been little bacteriological activity down through the centuries that the pastures were virgin.

Then the farmer came to the Plains and opened up the rich soils with a plow. With the development of irrigation and heavy cropping practices, the problem was even more aggravated because the amount of organic matter removed from the soil each year was multiplied many times over.

Today, then, it's especially important to preserve potential organic matter in the form of crop residues, and return it to the earth where it originated. The water-holding capacity of the soil and fertility is related to organic matter in it, and few things are as important as this on the Plains.

Some leaching of nitrogen may occur on sandy soil. In such cases smaller nitrogen applications may be made now and a pre-planting application made this fall.

The county agent recommends fertilizer at the present time, using an ammonium form of nitrogen—such as anhydrous ammonia and ammonium sulfate. He adds that it's a good idea to put the fertilizer on even before the straw is worked, providing that moisture is sufficient.

From 80 to 100 pounds nitrogen per acre will do a good job of speeding up the decomposition of crop residues, and in addition, the fertilizer will unite with organic matter and "fix" itself for the hungry young roots that will need nourishment next year.

That much fertilizer will, in fact, not only take care of the immediate job of breaking down the straw, but will very likely be enough fertilizer to plant the next wheat crop on—thus avoiding a fall application prior to planting, which is becoming customary.

"Then," says the agent, "the farmer can follow up with a top dressing in the spring and be assured of adequate plant food."

In the sandy area of Parmer County, phosphate in addition to nitrogen is giving good increases in wheat yields, emphasizes the county agent. Information on the experimental plots will be available soon and a report made on the tests.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

We noted with interest an article in the Sunday issue of the Amarillo Daily News. It contained figures which showed the average income per hour for farmers engaged in various phases of agriculture.

Of particular significance, naturally, is the report that irrigated cotton farmers of the High Plains top all others in the per-hour income level, that being in excess of $3 per hour worked.

The report was not especially typical of the Parmer County area, mainly because it suggested that the average cotton allotment on the High Plains is over 100 acres. We don't remember the exact figure, but it was around 140.

Parmer County cotton farmers have an average of between 40 and 45 acres of cotton per farm, which is much less than that suggested in the study, and so it is likely that the report might prove misleading when applied directly to our "neck of the woods."

On a per-acre basis, however, we do not think it would be difficult to prove that Parmer County cotton growers make more money than any others on the High Plains. USDA reports on ginnings have shown that since 1954 we have beaten all other Plains counties on a per-acre yield basis—year after year.

We have come to realize that quality is as important as quantity when cotton profits are figured, and here, again, Parmer County growers more than measure up to their neighbors on the east and to the south.

A slightly more favorable climate appears to be the main reason for this. While all High Plains weather can be pretty well grouped into a pattern, there are variations, and Parmer County, on the western edge, seems to have fewer untimely rains and soggy spells than the High Plains as a whole. This factor has proved significant in helping us keep up our quality.

Cultural practices are the most significant controllable factor in cotton quality, and we are convinced that the farmers of the Parmer County area are outstanding here, also. The typical Parmer County cotton grower is "hungry" for more and better cotton, and he is much more willing to change and improve his farming methods if either reward is offered.

There are no statistics available, but Parmer County probably has the highest percentage of "new" cotton growers of any county in Texas. Experience is always a big factor in enabling a person to do things, but there is much to be said for the man who learns something (such as cotton farming) from scratch and has no established and inflexible ideas on how to do things.

There is still a lot of room for improvement in cotton quality by means of cultural practices here, as well as across the rest of the High Plains, but we believe that Parmer County farmers will be the first

Sen. Andy Rogers States Platform For Re-Election

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 30TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

Although I announced my intention of becoming a candidate for re-election as your State Senator several weeks ago, I wish to take this opportunity to make the customary full statement in your newspaper.

Naturally, it is not possible to relate here all that I would prefer that you know about myself and my record. I will hit some of the major points, and urge you to contact me or those in a position to know about any questions you might have. It is my desire that my personal and political record be an open book to you.

I have served four years (two terms) as State Representative and six years (one and one-half terms) as your State Senator. I am 33 years of age, a farmer, cattleman and businessman. I am a native of the South Plains-Panhandle area, as are my wife, two daughters and son. I served in the uniform of the United States Army for three years during World War II, and have a college education.

At different times during the past four years, I have been threatened and warned not to seek re-election. Some of you who know me best have been threatened with embarrassment if you did not persuade me not to make this race. The story behind this is a long one, and touches on many things that have happened in Texas politics. Some of them are covered below—others I will discuss later.

I made my first race for the Texas Senate in 1952. There was a great hue and cry to "clean up the mess in Washington." I was an oddity among candidates. THEN, I charged that "Austin is as rotten as Washington" and that "moral integrity is needed most." I demanded a law requiring state officials and legislators to file, for public record, a statement showing their income and its source. I was quite unpopular in some circles.

In 1954 I, and a few others, urged investigations into several state matters including the Insurance Commission, certain land transactions in which the State was involved, and State contracts. For my efforts I was slandered. A few months later the lid blew off.

NOW, no candidate would dare run for high office without a pledge "that honesty and integrity must be restored to our State government."

Andy Rogers is the only candidate in this race who has supported and voted for lobbyist control, lobbyist registration, and a code of ethics for legislators; for anti-loan shark legislation and compulsory financial statements of State officials' incomes.

Andy Rogers has authored more strict laws on the sale and distribution of narcotics and filthy literature and bootleggers than any other candidate in this race.

I have made many good friends among those who work for the interests of our district. I have made good enemies of those minority blocs whose interests conflict with the interests of our district. Some of these minority blocs have done well for themselves in Austin. But their position is now threatened. They are desperate to continue feathering their nests at your expense, to protect their "darlings", and to gain new ones.

I am on their list for extermination. They will stop at nothing and stoop to anything. Their methods of political slander, deceit and legislative control have been perfected to an art. And, as has been said, "the perfection of art is to conceal art."

It is well known in Austin and Dallas that the top brass of the loan-sharks, electric utility monopolies, gas pipelines, the liquor lobby and others are licking their chops over the slick tricks and schemes they have cooked up to deceive you about your Senator.

Actually, theirs is an old tune with a few new verses—only a little face lifting to bring their show up to date. I have suffered economically, socially and politically at their hands. But I have not run from them in the past, and I will not do so now or in the future.

TAXES AND ECONOMY

There is no need for either a sales or income tax for Texas.

No other state has ever abused its citizens on tax matters as has Texas. A few examples: Nearly 55 percent of present taxes collected in Texas are consumer (or "hidden") sales taxes. The consumer gasoline tax take is more than that paid on all crude oil. The consumer cigarette tax is larger than the total natural gas tax. Other states, even communists, can buy our gasoline tax free, but you pay 5 cents per gallon. Others states tax OUR natural gas up to ten times as much as we do. Roughly, 70 percent of both of these Texas products are consumed outside of Texas. Few of the really big industries in Texas pay more than a proportional TOKEN of taxes, compared with the average businessman, farmer and worker.

Last year two (2) groups had their taxes reduced—natural gas producers and part of the Texas electric utility monopoly. Two (2) groups had their taxes raised—10 percent increase on YOUR car and truck licenses and a doubling of tuition on students of State Colleges.

CONCLUSION: Stating such facts is often political suicide in Texas, but we merely need legislators who will see that these out-of-state corporations pay their share of the load while exploiting our resources. I have fought for this.

I STILL believe that in Austin, as elsewhere, "moral integrity is needed most." I will conduct no smear campaign; I will stick to the record and the facts.

YOU, the people of our agricultural 30th Senatorial District, elected Andy Rogers to be your State Senator in 1952 by an overwhelming majority for one-half (1/2) a term. In 1954 you gave me a full four-year term without an opponent.

It has been a privilege and an honor to be your State Senator. With humility and sincerity, I ask for the opportunity to continue to serve you.

Among Those Who Know the Candidates Best

It's JOE GREENHILL

by more than 3 to 1

FOR THE TEXAS SUPREME COURT

A statewide poll of the legal profession, conducted by the State Bar of Texas, shows the vote to be:

JOE GREENHILL 5,844 votes

His Opponent 1,727

This is the overwhelming verdict of members of the candidates' own profession after carefully weighing their qualifications and experience, studying their record and considering their judicial temperament and personal integrity.

The lawyers of Texas have thus joined farmers, ranchers, merchants, laborers, businessmen and other professional people in supporting the candidacy of Judge JOE GREENHILL because all of them want to keep a fair, honest and sincere judge on the Texas Supreme Court.

Judge Greenhill is a former attorney for High Plains Underground Water District No. 1. He has done much to procure a tax reduction for irrigation farmers (see Cross Section).
