G. H. Farmer, Pastor

W. T. Payne of the Glover community, near Augusta, was a business visitor to Grapeland Monday, and called at the Messenger office to renew his subscription. Mr. Payne will soon be a citizen of this community, having purchased the Pelham farm south of town, and expects to move in November. We are glad to welcome this family to our community.

S. M. Morris of Lufkin, manager of the Lufkin Land & Lumber Co., was a business visitor to Grapeland the first of the week, coming here for the purpose of buying some Holstien cows. He purchased two from the Texas Holstien Farm, for which he paid $875.00

DISTRICT COURT NEWS

Crockett, Texas, Oct. 21, 1919
District Court

The Grand Jury took a recess Saturday, October 18th, and will meet again November 10. They have returned to date sixteen felony bills and one misdemeanor bill. Felonies were divided as follows: Murder 3; rape 1; ordinary felonies, bootlegging cases predominate, 12. Only one misdemeanor bill was returned, and that was for aggravated assault. Judge Prince, in his remarks to the honorable body, told them that they might request the appointment of a finance committee if they saw proper.

Criminal cases disposed of to Tuesday Oct. 21st

Amerson Harrison, cattle theft guilty, two years; Tut Elam, burglary and theft over $50., two cases, plea of guilty in one with a verdict of two years, one case dismissed; L. T. Maxwell bootlegging, 5 cases; plea of guilty in two cases with a verdict of one year in each case, three cases dismissed. In this last mentioned case, the defendant was a white man, comparatively young, with a wife and a large family of children. When the matter was disposed of, the scene in the court room was very affecting. In the Tut Elm case, the defendant was a negro, and this is his third trip over the road. He is regarded by many who know him well as a kleptomaniac.

Civil Docket

Only one case of any importance was disposed of during the week, and that was Austin Bros. vs Houston County, suit for injunction and for an outstanding indebtedness on county warrants amounting to $8,000. Verdict was for the county. The constitutionality of the Houston County Road Law was attacked by plaintiffs, but was upheld by Judge Prince. The result of this suit is not a repudiation of the debt by the county, for the different warrants have been paid as fast as funds accumulated for the purpose. The warrants were held null and void for the reason that at the time of their issuance no provision for a special fund to meet them was made. The temporary injunction, heretofore granted, was dissolved and the application for a writ of mandamus was refused.

Divorce Docket

Divorces were granted in the following cases: K. Smith vs Sam Smith; L. Epps vs Martha Epps; L. Connally vs I. Connally; Mabel Douglass vs H. Douglass; L. Atkinson vs L. Atkinson; Romeo Wells vs E. Wells; O. Jenkins vs Dora Jenkins; L. May Hicks vs Jim Hicks; Lee London vs F. London; J. W. Ashmore vs Mollie Ashmore; H. Harrelson vs Hattie Harrelson; Mrs. L. Skidmore vs B. F. Skidmore; F. Burnett vs Gus Burnett; E. Russell vs S. Russell; J. Jefferies vs Will Jefferies; J. H. Simpson vs A. May Simpson; Ira Washington vs M. Washington; Burrus Price vs L. Price; Mrs. Lela Steed vs A. J. Steed; W. J. Melton vs Ida Melton; Nannie Taylor vs J. Taylor; Sarah Hunter vs W. Hunter; Daisy Graham vs W. K. Graham; Ida Turner vs W. Turner; Joe Wiley vs H. Wiley; Sarah Brown vs Albert Brown; Lillie Hodges vs L. Hodges; Patsy Jackson vs Ail Jackson; Mal Cooper vs J. Cooper; L. Gambrell vs Mary Gambrell.

Judge Prince will endeavor to close court at the end of the 6th week, which will be November 15th. By the prompt manner in which he dispatches business and his fair and impartial decisions, his courteous and affable treatment of litigants, Judge Prince is making many friends.

Tent Meeting

A tent meeting is being held on the Sheridan lot near square, by Rev. Crim, an evangelist. The singing is good. Large crowds attend each service, and for at least thirty minutes before the time for opening it is impossible to secure a seat. Denominational differences are being laid aside, and all are working together in an endeavor to make the meeting both a successful one and one to be long remembered.

WORK AND SAVE

Numerous have been the remedies proposed for the high cost of living. Many have been the plans to force a reduction of prices. Congressmen always want to investigate; radicals always want to put somebody in jail; the common man wants to see what is the real reason of the remedy.

From the Federal Reserve Board of the banking department comes the only wise suggestion that has been put forward. They say there is but one remedy for present conditions—work and save. Therein lies the remedy that will be successful.

A general shortage of merchandise and a general expansion of credits all over the world have made prices unreasonably high. The prices will not come down while the conditions that make them prevail. Therefore, common sense would seem to indicate that the remedy lies in doing away with conditions. This can with the conditions. This can only be done by producing more merchandise so that the stocks of the world will be replenished and by saving so that the money of the world will be nearer to a real basis.

Certainly it is no time to stop production. If a man's family is on the edge of want and he is cultivating the ground, he will not refuse to raise a crop. On the contrary, he will raise all he can. The nation is but the individual expanded. We must raise crops produce goods and save money so that we will put the world as nearly as possible where it was before the great wastage of war began.

Press dispatches say that the government is facing a deficit. Same here.

The goose that lays the golden egg don't do half as much cackling as the cold storage pirates do.

A Philadelphia doctor says wearing heavy underwear causes red noses. On behalf of several good friends, we thank you Doc, for them kinds words.

When "hot under the collar" remember that when you are right you can afford to keep your temper, and when you are wrong you can't afford to lose it.

When slippery weather comes; when the next step is a little uncertain; when the fog enrouds the vision in either national or local affairs, it is well to follow the lead of the careful motorist and put on the chains. Don't skid. And that time seems to be here now.

While resting in a park recently in San Francisco a man was robbed of $5, his watch, knife, scarf pin, pipe, matches and memorandum book, from six different pockets of his coat and trousers. His confidence in humanity was also taken, but the gold filling in his teeth was undisturbed.

The editor's wife has been out of town now nearly three weeks and a certain Grapelandite had the unmitigated gall to throw the following into us the other day: "Seems like you fellows whose wives are out of town dress up slicker and get shaved oftener than the rest of us do." P. S.—This item will be clipped from the paper that goes to the madam.

"What makes some people so sour these days?" asks a subscriber of Crockett. Why, my dear sir, are you not aware that while it is possible to make one's own vinegar, it is impossible in these days to overcome the present shortage of sugar, and here-in may lie the solution.

World Sure Do Move

The "full-dinner pail" which was once the slogan of the laboring man is now giving way to a demand for a family auto to take him home to luncheon every day. ---Boston Transcript.

Tell Us This

Do you or do you not believe that the heavy bombarding of cannon in Europe had any influence on the rainfall in this country? We want to know.---Palestine Herald.

A Columbus clergyman insists that all sermons should be cut to 15 minutes to meet the needs of this age. Some steady church goers will object to having their Sunday morning sleep in church cut down that way.---Buffalo Commercial.

Good roads more than pay for their construction and maintenance, in the saving of wear and tear on all manner of vehicles, and the lessening of the cost of marketing produce. Vote for good roads every time you get a chance.---Wills Point Chronicle.

A band of I. W. Ws. was arrested in Virginia the other day and all were forced to march to the public square of the town and kiss the American flag. The intentions of the people were good, we are sure, but we cannot endorse their act. No American flag should ever be burned and anything an I. W. W. has kissed should be burned immediately. And then Old Glory should never be subjected to the kisses of the vile. When the unholy I. W. W. lips touched its folds no doubt the stripes upon our country's proud insignia grew dim with disgust and the stars put out their lights for shame.---Honey Grove Signal.

God gives every bird its food, it is true, but he doesn't throw it into the nest for them. There's a moral there.

Here's a piece of good advice we run across the other day: "Whether your nose is Grecian, Roman or Pug, keep it out of other people's business."

The old saying that "time brings about many changes" is quite true, for now it only takes but eight hours to bring around about ten bucks.

A Houston evangelist recently stated in a sermon that a man should not kiss a girl until three days after marriage. That plan was alright fifty years ago before competition got so keen.

America must speed up. Johnny Bull has the jump on us in the world's race for trade. He got away at the crack of the armistice gun and is beating it at a terrific rate. We must speed up.

Now comes the super-hen and the super-egg. According to predictions hens will lay twice as many eggs and twice the size. Now comes the pessimist: "Bet the price will be twice the size, too." You just can't cheer some people, can you?

How To Make Your Pastor Fail

If you have deliberately made up your mind to make a failure of your pastor's work a few simple rules may help you out.

1. Fall Out With Him—You can find the occasion without a microscope. He is an imperfect and fallible human. But how would you feel with an angel for a pastor?

2 Criticise Him. It takes neither brains nor conscience to do that, and you can always find listeners.

3.—Have An Injured Look When He Stands Up To Preach.—It may give you the virtuous feeling of a martyr who is doing his duty nevertheless and not withstanding, but your attitude will serve as a nonconductor between the pastor and the rest of congregation and render his task much more difficult than it would be if you were sympathetic. Such a course may call for an ex-plantation in the day of judgment, but that is another story.

4.—Absent Yourself Frequently From the Meetings of the Congregation.—Do this especially on rainy Sundays and Sunday evenings. Your absence will be more noticeable when the congregations are small, and thus you will be able to advertise your attitude and add to the embarrassments of the pastor.

5. Withhold Your Contributions. Make it plain that you do not give because you do not like the pastor. This may cripple the church more than it embarrasses the preacher, but that, too, is another story. By such a course you can at least make plain your own meanness.

6. Do Not Attend Prayermeeting.— Nothing has a stronger tendency to break a pastor's spirit and reduce him to a treadmill slave than to habitually face empty benches while leading the prescribed services of the Church.

7 Find Fault With His Pastoral Work—He may be nursing a sick family; he may be pushing some financial or education campaign ordered by the church; he may be studying to preach better sermons. But no matter; you can easily weaken his influence by siding with every disgruntled and habitually critical member of the Church. The beauty of such a course is that it requires no brain power.

8. If you have a Personal following In the Congregation Line It Up Solidly Against the Pastor.—This may be a diabolical thing to do, but it will certainly make it easy for the pastor to fail.

10. Sow as much Dissatisfaction and Discord As You Can In the Congregation.—A man of one talent can do a lot of mischief by such a course, persisted in, even as a scrub coyote can make a noise like a large pack.

11. Violate the plain rules of the Church and induce as many others as you can to follow your example. When the pastor admonishes you give him to understand that you will do as you please and that it is none of his business and defy him to bring you to the book.

12. If you are a member of the official board be as sorry an official as you can. Neglect the board meetings and let your end of the work drag.

If you can induce a large enough per cent of the congregation to join you in the observance of the foregoing rules the failure of the pastor is a foregone conclusion.—(Rev. E. Hightower, in Texas Christian Advocate.)

Young Folks, Here is Your Opportunity To Save

Pick scraps of time from the waste basket, turn them into dollars; earn while you learn by taking a money back guaranteed course of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typewriting, Business Finance, Telegraphy, Commercial Law, Business Arithmetic, Salesmanship, Advertising, Commercial Lettering or Business Penmanship, by correspondence through the Extension Department of the TYLER COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.

We secure satisfactory results or refund tuition. Our correspondence courses include the same subjects as given with a personal course with the privilege of entering college for personal work without paying additional tuition. In other words, the correspondence instructions are absolutely free if you enter for personal work. Many find it to their advantage, even when they intend to take personal work later, to first enroll for the course by correspondence and utilize their spare moments until they are ready to enter since it costs nothing extra. This often saves them a couple of month's time and board in school on their personal work, and enables them to leave college and accept a good position two months earlier. Another advantage of the correspondence course is that we give three months use of a standard typewriter with the full shorthand course. Many of our students have attained a speed of from forty to fifty words per minute through our system of touch typewriting during the three months and have at the same time carried on their other work. Telegraphy instruments and supplies are furnished with our course in Telegraphy, and a thorough course of Salesmanship is given with Bookkeeping.

We use our original copyrighted methods. We make every subject practical and interesting from start to finish. Every lesson receives prompt personal attention and a personal reply. We have taught hundreds of students successfully and know we can teach you or we would not guarantee to refund your money. Why continue to waste your spare moments? Turn them into knowledge and make them earn dollars and serve your country during this period of reconstruction. You can't afford to let your spare moments pass when there is such a crying need for office help throughout the world.

Influenza Returning

It is characteristic of an influenza epidemic that there be a return of it the following year. The pandemic that occurred last year is no exception; already a few cases of influenza are appearing in various parts of the country. For the most part these attacks are not severe but this fact is no assurance that they cannot become so should the proper precautions against the further spread of the disease be neglected.

Experts have studied in all its peculiarities what is commonly known as Spanish influenza in the hope of finding a means by which it can be dealt with more definitely and intelligently than physicians were able to do last year. Little of its real nature has been learned, however. The germ itself has not been isolated nor discovered; consequently there is as yet no positive preventive other than the enforcement of rigid rules of sanitation and the avoidance as much as possible of personal contact. Face masks are of little good, for their use appears to make people neglect other paths of infection, scientists state.

Last year some 450,000 persons in the United States died from influenza while an average of 28 per cent of the people of the country suffered attacks of the disease. It was most prevalent among children from five to fourteen years, diminishing proportionately in each higher age group. It was slightly higher among females than among males of a corresponding age and usually higher among whites than colored. The death rate was notably high among children under one year old, in adults from 20 to 40 and in persons over 60.

By exercising proper precautions, the U. S. public health survey urges, a serious spread of the dread disease this year may be prevented. The following rules for combating it have been suggested:

Obey all regulations of the city health authorities. Avoid crowds. Stay away from anyone having a cough or cold. Drink plenty of fresh water.

Keep the home well ventilated and be sure there is plenty of fresh air day and night. Sleep with the windows open. Avoid fatigue and get plenty of rest; in particular, avoid fatigue of the stomach and excessive eating of unsuitable foods. Sleep is one of the most important things and the thing that is most neglected.

Be as much as possible in the open air and walk to your work if practicable. Eat three uniform meals a day and avoid a breakfast of mere coffee and a piece of cake or something of the kind for lunch. Special precautions should be taken against gorging at supper time, when the stomach is least able to cope with the largest meal of the day and which practice is bound to lower the resistance of the system.

Keep warm and keep dry; wrapping up the neck or exposing the neck and arms unduly are undesirable in the changing weather of the autumn. Bathe frequently. The skin is part of breathing system of the body and must be aired. Exercise regularly both in the open and indoors if possible.

Avoid the common drinking cup or glass. If you feel and have a cold coming on, go to bed. Call the doctor. Stay in bed until the doctor says you can get up, and don't receive callers or visitors until the doctor says that danger of infection is passed. Above all things try to keep cheerful.

Though evidence of such is not conclusive there is reason to believe that persons who have suffered an attack of influenza during its early stages are somewhat immune thereafter. This, however cannot be relied on to apply in every case and it is just as necessary for those who have been sick to be cautious as those who have not. The germ may be carried about not only by those who are ill with influenza but by persons who are entirely well. Everything which increases personal contact, therefore, should be regarded as a factor in spreading influenza.

Above all, keep clean. Avoid improperly cleaned eating and drinking utensils, particularly those at restaurants, soda fountains, etc. These are only a few of the common vehicles for germ transmission.

New Overland 4 Arrives

J. E. Towery, Overland dealer in this territory with sales rooms at Crockett, announces that the much-talked-of new Overland 4 has arrived and is on display. As soon as it arrived, the car was the center of attraction for large crowds.

The car, says Mr. Towery, is hailed as an absolutely new type of automobile. This distinction is claimed for it chiefly because of its three-point cantilever springs, which, it is claimed, gives it a riding buoyancy that other light cars do not have.

The Overland factory spent ten years perfecting this car, testing it two years and driving it over 250,000 miles demonstrating before offering it to the public. It will be manufactured in quantity production, and Mr. Towery anticipates a heavy demand for it in his territory.

As soon as the weather clears, Mr. Towery will make a tour of Houston county for demonstration purposes. He has already booked several orders for future delivery.

Do not neglect the warnings of nature. If your appetite is poor, breath bad, tongue coated, you will be sick unless you take steps to put your system in good condition. Prickly Ash Bitters is the remedy you need. It purifies the bowels, strengthens digestion and regulates the liver. Price $1.25 per bottle. Wade L. Smith, Special Agent.

Scientific Political Strides

Possibly this is not in Mr. Burbank's jurisdiction, but the crossing of the strawberry plant, the milk weed and the sugar beet by him to bring about the succulent and tasteful dish of berries, cream and sweetness is being totally eclipsed in Congress right now in an attempt to cross an elephant with a bull moose, both of them males.

Census Enumerators Wanted

For the purpose of taking the 14th census, the Government will employ approximately two hundred and seventy-five enumerators in this Congressional District. This work begins January 2nd, 1920, but in order to secure a position as enumerator, it is necessary to make application at once. The work is neither hard, nor unpleasant, and in so far as possible, those who receive appointments will be placed at work in their own neighborhood and community. The compensation will average approximately Six Dollars per day for the period of employment. The qualifications are: good moral character, a legible hand, and ability to read and interpret the rules and regulations given. Political affiliations will have no weight or bearing on appointments, and the only preference that will be given will be to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the recent war.

The enumeration is restricted to population, agriculture, manufactures, forestry and mines, and in view of the fact that upon this enumeration will be based many governmental acts for the next ten years to come, the public organizations, commercial clubs and citizens interested in the welfare of their county and community should assist in every way possible to secure competent and worthy citizens of their communities to fill the positions as enumerators. All persons, male or female, between the ages of 18 and 70 years who are not physically disqualified, are eligible for the position. Address all communications and applications to

THE NORTHERN STATES HAVE ADOPTED THE 56" AUTO TRACK WAGON

Which Wagon?

The One that Fits the Road—or the One that Rides the Ridge

Recommended by the Government. The standardized wagon fits the prevailing track made by automobiles and is the wagon you will want to buy.

This Wagon is Out of Date. This 60" wide track wagon no longer fits the roads when they are muddy and soft.

WOULDN'T you rather buy the style of wagon recommended by your Government, especially when it is designed to pull easier, ride smoother, and last longer—the wagon that fits the roads and does not ride the ridge?

The Standardized Weber "Auto-track" Wagon saves wear on itself, other wagons, automobiles, and rubber tires.

The Weber fifth wheel and swivel coupling wagon is either sold at a price much too low or most other wagons are sold at prices much too high, quality considered. Compare and draw your own conclusion. To date the leading wagon manufacturers of America have sold at the most conservative estimate 100,000 standardized auto-track wagons. From this introduction it is but a step to universal use of this type of wagon. Wouldn't you rather be identified with progress and recognized as an up-to-date farmer by doing your hauling with such a wagon than to be classed as an unprogressive "back number" by buying a 60-inch wide-track wagon, thereby helping some manufacturer and dealer to "unload" an obsolete type? Think it over—and then come and see us about a standardized auto-track Weber.

Clean Out The Reds

Under a state law which makes membership in the I. W. W. a felony, California has begun a war of extermination against advocates of sabotage, overthrow of government and such like trouble makers. Seventeen leaders of an I. W. W. nest in Los Angeles were taken in the first haul.

A Chicago preacher is telling the youth of his flock how they can know it if they happen to fall in love. Anybody who falls in love will know it, all right, without any diagrams or signboards from priest or pagan. Reminds us of the seasick man. His wife asked the doctor what she should do for him, and the medical man replied: "Don't do anything. He'll do it."

Henry Shaw has purchased J. H. Powell's farm just out of town on the Crockett road. Mr. Powell contemplates moving to West Texas.

Farmers' Prices and Manufacturers' Prices

David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, does not assent to the theory that the prices of farm products should fall before the prices of manufactured commodities fall. He makes this clear in replying to a recent communication in which it was stated that "there must be a drop in prices before there is a drop in wages, and it would seem that the farmer is the man who is going to be hit first."

This theory has been advanced by a number of manufacturers, said Mr. Houston, who continued, "it is clearly an unjust contention. It manifestly would not do to ask farmers to produce, buying everything that they have to buy from manufacturers at high prices, with the assurance to them that their products will fall in price, and that then manufacturers will consider what they will do with reference to their own prices. Obviously, manufacturers must be willing to make at least a contemporaneous decrease in their prices. It might be contended that they should make a prior decrease in their prices, since the farmer's operations involve a year and he could not recoup for twelve months, or could not recoup at all, because, on the theory they put forth, his products would fall in price. It seems to me that business men must be brought to realize that if we are to get back to normal they must set about immediately to do their part, and unquestionably profiteering in manufactured products must be eliminated.

"Of course, everything possible will be done to enable the farmer to produce more economically, so that if prices do fall he will not sustain a loss, or so great a loss. All the efforts of the department of agriculture and of the land-grant colleges have this aim. They are trying to bring about better methods of cultivation, better financing, better marketing, the elimination of plant and animal diseases and insect pests, and the better utilization of labor. Much has been done in this direction and more will be done as time passes."

Too Many Fads

So many fads and new fangled ideas are springing up on every hand every day that a person of normal mind cannot keep track of all of them, or digest half of them. It is a day and age of fads and fancies, not to mention hallucinations and pipe dreams. Between socialistic and bolshevik schemes, uplift dreams, sex hygienics, progressives, militant suffragettes, I. W. W.'s., single taxers, commission forms, town managers, long haired men and short haired women with more wheels in their heads than a Waterbury watch, tariff tinkering, new banking systems, trust-busting, moving pictures displacing the church, tangoing, slit skirts, apple day, orange day, mother's day and everybody else's day except father's, and all of them more or less lemon days; and with the press of the country running wild in red ink over sensationalism, William Randolph Hearst running morally and intellectually naked through the public brush, and Orientals raising one kind of hell and all Europe another, a plain, old-fashioned scribe like this one don't hardly know where he is at, or whether he will have to dodge into an incubator with the chicks tomorrow, or eat baled hay ground up in a patent cereal coffee machine and delivered by aeroplane next day, or just naturally have to crawl into a hole and pull the hole in after him.—Exchange.

LIVELYVILLE
By Rip Van Winkle

Livelyville, Oct. 20.—Why will people persist in looking for faults in people that really do not exist only in their imagination? A conversation was overheard a few days ago in which the speaker accused some folks of being "stuck up" and having no time for country people only to get their money in trade. Now in justice to our people in town, be it said that is all wrong, as past experience has shown in many, or let us say, in all instances, where the people of our community have been received with good fellowship everywhere. Only let them, our town people, have the chance and they are glad to see you. It is all wrong—the feeling that exists on the part of some of our country people, as we are sure the people of Grapeland are one with us, not only in business, but in all civic interests.

The much discussed weather does not seem to improve with much talk, as even now the sky is clouding up rapidly and threatens to repeat last week's performance. Goodness! We hope not, as we have had enough rain to take our editor's talk seriously and be on the lookout for anything that may happen in December. Better build your dug-outs.
