UNION DOTS

Union, Nov. 17.—Most people in this community have their crops gathered.

Our school is progressing nicely and the attendance is good.

Curtis Walling and family, W. T. Cox and family and Miss Norma Lee Pate, our principal, visited Mrs. C. A. Walling at Grapeland Sunday.

Delma and Ina Mae Weisinger and Flora Audrey Chaffin enjoyed Sunday at the home of Mr. W. B. DuBose.

Miss Virgie Lundy, our primary teacher, spent Saturday and Sunday with homefolks at Creek.

Mrs. J. H. Kolb and children visited Mr. Kolb Sunday, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Nash Sanitarium in Palestine. Every body will be glad to hear that Mr. Kolb is recovering and he expects to be home in a few days. His son, Burtis, who is at home on account of his father's illness, will then resume his studies at the Tyler Commercial College.

Ben Caskey of Overton is visiting relatives here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Duitch attended church in Grapeland Sunday.

Felix and Gladys Beeson spent Sunday with Miss Julia Stockbridge.

Miss Luna Stockbridge returned home Sunday from Palestine, where she has been visiting relatives.

Miss Louie Oleta Cox spent Saturday with Fay and Ansel Walling.

A number of young people attended the entertainment at Mr. Ben Master's Friday night and report a nice time.

All Stores Will Close Next Thursday for Thanksgiving

We, the undersigned business men of Grapeland, will close our places of business next Thursday, November 27, in observance of Thanksgiving, which has been proclaimed a national holiday by the President:

Geo. E. Darsey & Co., M. L. Clewis, McLean & Riall, F. & M. State Bank, J. F. Lively, S. E. Howard, Owens & Allen, Murray & Mangum, Wade L. Smith, (9 a. m.) D. N. Leaverton, (9 a. m.) W. R. Wherry, T. A. Stowe, J. D. Baker, Guaranty State Bank, Denson & Walton, Postoffice, Keeland Bros., Kennedy Bros., T. H. Leaverton, City Tailor Shop, W. H. Long & Co., The Messenger.

Wherry—Woodard

A wedding of unusual interest to Grapeland people occurred last Tuesday, when Roy G. Wherry was married to Miss Vada Woodard at Elkhart. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Woodard, and was witnessed by a few of the intimate friends of the contracting parties. The happy couple left on the Sunshine Special in the afternoon for Houston, where Mr. Wherry is in business with his father.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wherry of this city, and is a young man of splendid character. He was reared in this city, but for the past year has made Houston his home, being manager of one of his father's branch stores. Miss Woodard is well known here, having visited in the city quite often. The Messenger joins the many friends of these young people in best wishes and congratulations.

Notice

Our store will be closed next Thursday, November 27, in observance of Thanksgiving.

Our Sale

Our Slasher Price Sale, which ended on November 15, far exceeded our expectations. We sold more merchandise by twice than we expected to sell, and we want to here publicly thank each and everyone who helped to make this sale such a great success.

Those of you who visited us during our sale were helped and we are truly grateful.

Many lines were bought out completely, but we assure you that we have goods coming by express that will completely replenish our stock and you can continue to get better values at our store than you can find elsewhere in town.

Come to see us every time you come to town

Big Potatoes

The Grapeland country also produces big potatoes. Recently Angelina county boasted of a sweet potato that weighed ten pounds. Houston county goes one better with a potato that weighs 11 pounds and 6 ounces, which was raised by May Jones, near Percilla.

Allen Baker of New Prospect brought one to the Messenger office Saturday that weighed 6 pounds, and some one else left a couple at the office while we were out to dinner that will weigh four or five pounds each. You can't excel the Grapeland country.

Enumerators' Examination

Applicants for appointment as Census Enumerator for Houston County are hereby notified to appear at the High School building in Crockett, Texas on Saturday, Nov. 22, 1919, at 1 o'clock before the Supervisor of the 7 District of Texas, who is authorized to conduct said examination, bringing with you your admission card which has been sent you.

Those desiring said position who have not made application for same can also take said test at the same time and place by applying to said Examiner for application and by filing same with said Examiner you will be admitted to the test.

The enumeration work will not begin until January 2, 1920. The compensation will be approximately $6.00 or better per day the county being divided into enumeration districts based upon approximately 1000 population in each district. No appointments as enumerators have been made nor will be made until after the test, and no one can receive such appointment without taking the test.

On The Subject of Tithing

In last week's Messenger there appeared an article by Dr. G. H. Black on the subject of tithing—giving a tenth or tithe of one's income to the Lord. As one who firmly believes in tithing, who preaches that all professing Christians should give at least the tithe to the Lord, and who practices tithing (not in imagination but in reality), I would like to say some things on the same subject. However, it is not my intention to provoke, or to be drawn into an extended discussion of the subject in question.

In the first place tithes were paid long before the law was given to Moses on Mt. Sinai. Abraham paid tithes to Melchizedek (Gen. 14:18-20) and Jacob tithed (Gen. 28:20-22). Both did so as acts of worship, and were greatly prospered and blessed. Nor did some one else tithe them, assess their tenth, or say what their tenth should be.

Ancient nations practiced tithing as an act of worship. Worship is as old as history. There are elements in worship common to all people and there are indications that all worship came in the beginning from a common source—God. Among the ancient nations so says Rev. J. B. Holmes in the tract, "Financing the Kingdom" according to Prof. Sayce, Max Muller, Hilprecht and Dr. Legge, and Historians Grothus Pliny and Plutarch, tithing, as an act of worship, was common among the Chaldeans, Persians, Egyptians, Arabians, Phoenicians, Chinese, Assyrians, Babylonians and Ancient Greeks and Romans, as well as among the people of India. Another significant fact is that among none of these ancient nations was any other per cent mentioned than the tithe. This indicates a common origin for the practice, an origin difficult to explain unless we conclude that God gave the law of the tithe in the beginning when he instituted worship.

Under the law of Moses the tithe was to be the minimum that was to be given to the Lord in worship. After bringing the tithe the people could then bring whatever they might desire to "offer", "give", or "vow", but the tithe had to be paid first. Tithes to the Lord and taxes to the state were different. Taxes varied at different times. Under Solomon the taxes became very heavy, and when his son threatened to increase them the people rebelled.

Under the Mosaic law tithes were required in order to meet two needs—to support the Lord's work and to spiritually develop those paying tithes. With the coming of Christ neither need was done away. Nor do we hear Christ giving a new law to supplant the law of the tithe. But on the other hand he sets his approval on giving tithes while he condemns the scribes and Pharisees for leaving undone the weightier matters of the law (Matt. 23:23). Other moral laws remained in force without re-statement by Christ, and why not this one? To lie, to steal, to commit murder was forbidden by Moses in recognition of laws ordained from the beginning, and the violation of these laws was wrong after the Mosaic law became null and void. The same is true regarding the law of the tithe.

Christ knew what was in man, and so would surely not have left the financing of his kingdom, which was to be extended throughout the whole world, to the impulse of his followers. If he had not intended for his disciples to make the tithe the minimum of their giving, surely he give would have specifically given another system. Paul taught the Corinthians that each one should give as he might prosper. And that is just exactly what those who tithe do—return to the Lord at least one-tenth of what the Lord gives them. It is only reasonable to suppose that Corinthians had been taught to make the tithe the basis of their giving. Without such a basis for all a like—or some other specific basis for all—to give as God prospers us would result in a confusion, some stingy people giving as low as only one per cent of their incomes and some very free-hearted souls giving as high as twenty-five or even fifty per cent. Such is the system(?) that has been tried in modern Christianity so long—the giving without a definite basis—and that has resulted in such confusion and failure "God is not a God of confusion."

Making the tithe the basis of giving for all a like—rich and poor—is fair to all. Each giving according to impulse results in a few having to finance the Lord's work while the others become financial slackers. "By their fruits ye shall know them" may well be applied to the systems of finance as well as to prophets. And we all know the fruits of failure of the hit or miss (mostly miss) systems of giving according to the impulse of the giver (maybe as he may prosper, but without any definite basis), and, on the other hand, proof is not lacking of the financial and spiritual blessings that come to congregations and to individuals who follow God's plan of giving—giving at least the tithe in the spirit of worship. "One-tenth of ripened grain, One-tenth of tree and vine, One-tenth of all the yield From ten-tenths rain and shine. One-tenth of lowing herds, That browse on hill and plain; One-tenth of bleating flocks, From ten-tenths of shine and rain. One-tenth of all increase, From counting room and mart; One-tenth that science yields, One-tenth of every art. One-tenth of loom and press, One-tenth from mill and mine, One-tenth of every craft Wrought out by gift of thine. One-tenth and dost the Lord But ask this meager loan, When all the earth is thine And all we have, thine own!?" —(From the tract, "Statement and Financial Plan Haskell Ave.

nue Baptist Church, Dallas, Texas.")

Let's all give as God may prosper us, but let's let God, the owner of all determine—as he has done already—the basis of our giving.

The Road—In New Overland 4 on Three-Point Cantilever Springs

YOU expect a bad road to ride as it looks. It did, until the introduction of the Overland 4 Springbase.

Overland 4 does not change the road, but it does change the manner in which you can ride on it. It gives you comfort instead of discomfort. It gives you a smooth, sailing sensation instead of bouncing and swaying.

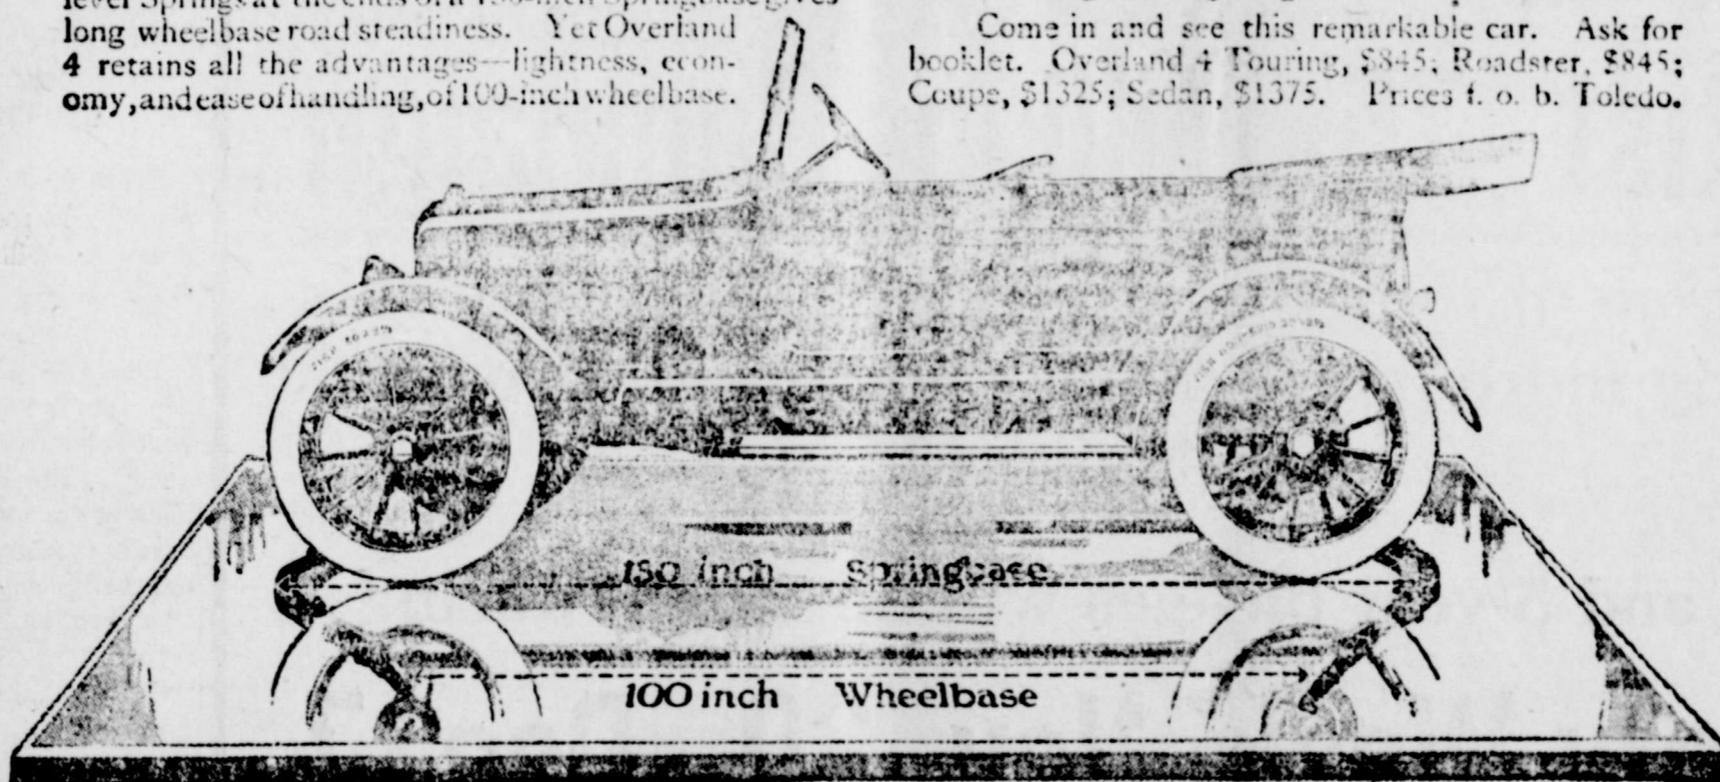

The Diagonal attachment of Three-Point Cantilever Springs at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase gives long wheelbase road steadiness. Yet Overland 4 retains all the advantages—lightness, economy, and ease of handling, of 100-inch wheelbase.

This means an altogether new standard of riding comfort, a noteworthy reduction in the wear and tear which lessens the efficiency of a car. The new springs give longer life to every part and thus minimize upkeep and replacement costs.

Tires wear longer because cushioned against hammering blows. Light weight means marked economy in gas, oil and running expense.

Overland 4's equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.

Come in and see this remarkable car. Ask for booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

The Black and White Show Window

Everybody gets both pleasure and profit from looking at the ordinary show window. But you get the most from the Black and White Show Window—the advertising columns of your local news paper. Here the best things from your own town and from far away places are displayed. Here you judge the respective merits of articles placed side by side without the glitter and dazzle of lights and mirrors.

People who look at the advertising Show Window buy more intelligently. They purchase knowing the merits of the particular article bought. They know the best products of practically every line of manufacture.

Read the messages directed to you today—every day. Manufacturers miles away and people right here in town, who feel they have something worth talking about are addressing you. The best of their wares are spread out on these printed pages. They are publicly making certain claims, the fulfillment of which depends their commercial success. These claims are well worth your consideration.

Cultivate a closer acquaintance with advertising. Your pocketbook really stretches if you know where to get the most value for your money. The advertisements give you that knowledge very completely.

A Nobler Life

Out of the social and industrial unrest we must not expect perfect days to come so soon. We could not stand them. Think of life being perfect and happy while we are suffering from so much selfishness, ill will, overreaching, discourtesy and dispute. It can not be, and yet we see the malignant opponents of happiness and justice fighting the removal of the very conditions that make the universal happiness impossible. Whenever an ornery, low life, profane and blasphemous man protests against his uncomfortable fate he is the very one who maintains that fate.

The other day we heard a man cursing capital and wishing it was in hell. Poor fool, he had not intelled enough to know his own cursing made capital less fair and kindly. This moral condition is just as repugnant in the conduct of society as the natural conditions are in the physical world. We can no more correct a social infirmity by swearing or growing than we can a storm or a scourge by getting out and defying it.

It is ignorance, selfishness and ill will that are keeping the world back and preventing improvement along all the levels of life. The selfish man, the prejudiced man, the cursing man, the grasping man are the enemies of human progress. When we hear a man cursing everybody but himself, then we are certain that everybody is better than he is. He is the one in the way.

Mrs. R. A. Pryor and children of Palestine visited her sister, Miss Willie Browning, Sunday.

The house of spite is the most uncomfortable and unsatisfactory house any of us can live in. Look backward a little and you readily say that nothing you ever did "for spite" brought you any satisfaction. A wealthy man who owned a lot only five feet wide in one of the great cities erected an unsightly house on the narrow lot, because those who owned adjoining property offended him. He refused to sell to his neighbors, and did his best to ruin the looks of their property by making his five-foot house as unattractive as possible. The man lived and died in the five-foot house. In such a structure the comforts of life were impossible, yet he bore all inconveniences just to spite his neighbors. He might have forgiven the offense and lived happily and comfortably, but he preferred the "house of spite" and so lost all. Brother, if you are in a spite house, move out.—Honey Grove Signal.

Rev. J. E. Buttrill left Wednesday for Tyler to attend the annual session of the M. E. Conference. Bro. Buttrill's many friends are hoping for his return another year. At the fourth quarterly conference, a resolution was passed asking for his return.

The supreme court of the United States is soon to decide whether Oklahoma owns all of Red River or the center of the stream is the boundary line. Oklahoma's contention is that the river has changed its bed during the last hundred years, and that Oklahoma now owns all the river. A few oil wells in the river led Oklahoma to set up this claim. Let it be understood right now that even if the courts do give the river to Oklahoma Texas will claim the right to empty her surplus water into it. Furthermore, if it's Oklahoma's river, the very next time the stream damages Texas's lands a suit will be immediately instituted to make Oklahoma pay the bill.—Honey Grove Signal.

The Best Remedy For Unrest

Strikes and riots and revolutions are not as bad in themselves as are the conditions of which they are the symptoms.

What the world needs above everything else today is the saving gospel of Jesus Christ applied in the lives of individuals and nations.

Such an application will insure an adequate wage for labor, a square deal for capital and a spirit of true brotherhood among all men everywhere. The is the plan of the Southern Baptists to apply this remedy more intensively at home and throughout the world.

No Pink Boll Worms to be Found in This Community

The following letter from Prof S. W. Bilsing, of the A. & M. College, is self-explanatory, and should allay the fears of those who think this community is infested with pink boll worms: College Station, Tex., Nov. 12—Geo. E. Darsey & Co., Grapeland, Texas.
Gentlemen:

I have at hand your package containing scavenger boll worms. This is not the true pink boll worm, but the scavenger boll worm, which works in cotton already attacked by other insects. It is of no economic importance. It sometimes feeds on the ends of ears of corn and then it is called the pink corn worm. You need feel no alarm concerning your cotton, as this insect does not do much damage. I am enclosing a circular which gives the difference between the true pink boll worm and other worms of similar appearance.

Very truly yours,
S. W. Bilsing,
Professor of Entomology.

How to Distinguish the Pink Boll Worm

(The following is taken from an account by Mr. Busck, Journal of Agricultural Research, Vol. IX.)

If a small dark brown moth is found which has the forewings pointed and the hind wings broad and curved back of the tip it is likely to be the moth of the pink bollworm.

If within the cotton boll or associated with stored cottonseed, a small white or pinkish caterpillar with brown head is found and under a lens the jaws are found to have four teeth the caterpillar will probably prove to be the pink bollworm. And if a pupa or resting stage is found entirely covered with short velvety hairs, and to possess a short curved upturned hood at the back end, it will probably prove to be the pink bollworm.

These characters will enable a person not acquainted with entomological terms to detect the insect. The only way to be sure whether or not one has the pink bollworm, if you suspect you have it, is to send it to the A. & M. College for identification.

Johnston, Conn. is building a new home on the farm south of town, which he recently purchased from Henry Shaw.

For Sale
This charming, well-kept 5 miles west of town.

E. L. Taylor has sold his farm in the Blue Spring community and has purchased a place south of town on the northeast road. He is now building a home on the property.

For Sale
I am in the market for business and will pay top prices.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnson have recently returned to town, where Mr. Johnson has accepted a position with a local market.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor is here on a visit to her mother.

I am now representative for the C. M. Cox & Co. Company of Hillsboro, Texas. If you wish to buy shares place at once your application with me.

For Sale
Fresh milk cows.

SOMETHING NEW NOW IN OPERATION

Go around on second street and see the Hoffman's latest model, 6-A oval Buck pressing machine, the kind that draws all the dirt out of clothes by a strong vacuum attachment and brightens it up through the application of hot dry steam.

It presses the clothes inside as well as on the outside.

We make your clothes fit you.

The following letter from Prof. S. W. Hinton of the A. & M. College is self-explanatory, and should have the force of those who think this country is to be tested with such a bill.

I have at hand your package containing my own bill working this is not the true pink bill worn but the average bill worn which works in cotton as well as in linen. It is of an average importance. It is not a very serious one. It is not a very serious one. It is not a very serious one.
