FRIONA DEFLATES FARWELL

Audit Report for 1957 Accepted by Trustees

A couple of weeks ago we mentioned JAKE LAMB in this column and referred to him in such a way that he mentioned it to us on the street. Jake says he didn't mind so much being referred to as a "Republican" if we had only used the entire phrase which goes with this name.

He goes on to maintain there are two words in the Southerner's language which should always carry a prefix. One is "damnrepublican" and the other is "damnyankee."

Thank you for that kind reminder, Jake. We'll try to remember both in the future.

At the Dimmitt-Friona game week before last this scribe got "thrown for a loss" by a referee during one of the plays.

We had spotted all the players through the view-finder on the camera but alas, we hadn't thought of a referee sneaking up on our blind side.

Sure enough, the play came around the end where we were standing on the sidelines and in an effort to get a good picture of the tackle, we lost sight of the striped monster.

We were reminded of his presence in a rather forceful manner when all of a sudden the world turned to black and white stripes.

Reminds us of one time down at College Station the Aggies were playing SMU when a similar experience befell a buddy of ours.

As many of you football fans know, SMU has a jackass, pardon me, a pony which they call Peruna and set a lot of store by.

Anyhow this jack . . . pony was standing on the sidelines during the game with its trainer, or holder as the case may be. This buddy of ours was a photographer for the school paper and was busy running up and down taking pictures.

He hadn't noticed the pony standing behind him.

He was reminded of the beast when as an Aggie ran for a TD the photographer was jumping up and down and yelling his head off and we always figured the . . . pony resented the Ags scoring and reached out and took a plug out of the photographer's leg anatomy.

Which all goes to show you, don't lose your "head" over a football game.

BILL BUCHANAN was by the office last week and remarked about part of the column on our editorial page, "Yesterday."

He remembers the incident of the body which was found east of Friona back in 1933.

Bill says he was with an uncle J. D. BUCHANAN who was farming in that area that particular morning when the Mexican sheepherder came running up telling about, or trying to tell about, finding the body.

"Usually the Mexican could speak fairly good English, but the morning he couldn't speak either English or Spanish," Bill says.

(Note: We ran into Bill again and he says the incident above wasn't the one he thought it was after all, but another body-finding incident which happened in Friona about 1940 or '41. Guess we have more "skeletons in our closets" than we figured on.)

Over the weekend several "hobgoblins" must have made the rounds here in Friona while most of the folks were away watching the Friona-Farwell football game.

Upon our return to town we spotted several spots where something out of the ordinary had occurred.

Down by TASTY WILLIAMS' place of business there was a roadblock made of his tables and benches, in several other places we noticed trash cans in the middle of the street, and if there was a business house in town which escaped getting their windows soaped or "parrifined" we didn't see it.

Eat—all in all it was pretty quiet.

MRS. J. T. GEE says she isn't sure of setting a record for getting called on by Trick 'r Treat'ers, but she kept count of 247 separate knocks on the door during the evening.

We're not sure this is a record, but it is a doggone good average in anyone's books.

Members of the Friona Independent School District's board of trustees heard and accepted, the report of the 1957 audit of the district's books as audited by E. T. Cummings, Canyon CPA.

The audit report, which took a major part of the time during the three-hour-long session, covered all phases of the school's operations, including activity fees and funds and the cafeteria's operations.

Cummings told board members that "collection of the school's taxes has been excellent with the record showing that 97.8 per cent of the 1956 roll was collected and 97.8 per cent of the '57 tax rolls were in hand," leaving only about $9,000 still on the books in delinquent taxes. (This total includes all delinquent taxes in addition to those in the two years mentioned above.)

"The tax rolls are in good shape," Cummings said. "It is a pleasure to work with records like yours. Many of the schools which we handle have their records in such a shape that it is difficult to even tell which taxes have been paid and which are delinquent."

Cummings explained the new bookkeeping system which is now required by the Texas Education Agency for all schools in the state.

"This system will be easier to work with than the old method," he says.

Tax-collector and assessor Dan Ethridge submitted taxes collected during the month of October which totalled $35,905.79. These were accepted by the board.

In addition to accepting the October taxes and hearing the audit report, the board approved and signed Mrs. O. J. Beene's teacher's contract.

The extra teacher for the first grade was necessary because of an unexpected increase in number of students in that grade.

Dillie Kelley, superintendent, told the board that students in school by grades, as of November 1 are as follows: 1st-136; 2nd-101; 3rd-122; 4th-103; 5th-117; 6th-103; 7th-79; 8th-79; 9th-75; 10th-65; 11th-67; and 49 seniors.

This totals 1,095 students in the system's schools as compared with 1010 at this same

THAT DID IT!--J. W. Baxter crosses the double stripe for a touchdown and sweet victory Friday night against the Farwell Steers.

Chiefs Tomahawk Steers In Last 16 Minutes

Staging one of the greatest rallies of their history, the Friona Chiefs spotted the Farwell Steers 12 points and came from behind to snatch away a victory of 15-12 over Farwell Friday night.

In a game which was called "Parmer County's answer to the Texas-Oklahoma series" by the Farwell State Line Tribune, the game was marked down in Friona's books as one of the greatest comebacks in many years.

Boasting a 12 point margin going into the second half, the Steers had outrushed, outscored and outplayed the Chiefs hands down.

Led by their quarterback, Johnny Lovelace, the Steers looked determined to extend their '58 winning streak to eight and keep their record clean as they kept the Chiefs baffled and cooped up in their own territory during the first two quarters and until late in the third.

With only two minutes remaining in the third quarter the Chiefs stopped scoring drive on their two-yard line and took over possession of the ball.

J. W. Baxter tried the right side of the Steer line and punched his way out to the three. On the next play, which was the turning point of the game, Baxter took a quick handoff from Jim Roy Clements, Chief's quarterback, slipped through a hole in the left side of the Steer line, shook loose from one tackler and sped 97 yards for a touchdown.

Friona fans went wild, and so did the Chiefstains.

Jon Mack Roden added the extra point but the Steers still led 12-7.

Two plays later, which marked the end of the third quarter, a Steer fumble rolled loose and Gary Dean McLaughlin, Chiefstain co-captain, pounced on the ball.

Chiefs came to life and following a 5-yard penalty, Clements faded back, and although rushed hard by Steer linemen got away a pass to Gary Goetz, junior end for the Chiefs.

Goetz made a spectacular catch and crashed out of bounds on the Steer 29 yard stripe.

Five plays later the Steers forced the Chiefs to take to the air again, this time Clements found Baxter in the end zone, who gathered in the pigskin for a precious six points and putting the Chiefs ahead 13-12.

Faking a kick on the extra point try, Clements again found Baxter in the end zone for two extra points.

The Steers didn't look as if they were through, however, and after taking Roden's kickoff on the 18 they marched to the 48 yard line in four plays.

On the fifth play a jarring tackle by Owen Houston and Jim Greeson, guards for the Chiefs, shook Lovelace and the

He was a farmer and rancher until ill health forced him to retire.

Survivors, other than his wife, are a brother, Walter Alderson of Eldorado, and a sister, Jessie Anglin of Junction City, Arkansas.

Honorary pallbearers will be A. D. Smith, Henry Reynolds, J. H. Floyd, Homer Martin, A. O. Drake, and Herman Schueler.

Voters Favor Demos

About half the eligible voters went to the polls in Parmer County Tuesday to mark their ballots in an "off" year general election.

As they were expected to do, the voters wholeheartedly endorsed Democratic candidates and gave Republican nominees only a smattering of votes in each box.

In voting as they did, county voters went along with the rest of the state.

Roy Whittenburg, candidate for U. S. Senator, was the Republican making the best showing in the county. He got 275 votes out of the near-950 cast.

Governor Price Daniel received 903 votes while 53 were marked in favor of his Republican opponent.

Seven of nine amendments were passed by Parmer voters. The first two--annual sessions and county pensions--were thrown out on the local scene. Though the other amendments carried, the vote count showed there was much opposition to all.

Possibly the highlight of the election as far as the county was concerned was a write-in campaign in Bovina county commissioner precinct. Bovina and Rhea are the two voting precincts in the commissioner precinct.

Charlie Jefferson was Democratic nominee. However, C. L. Calaway, who Jefferson defeated in the Democratic Primary, received 84 write-in votes in Rhea and Bovina boxes.

PETE BUSKE---Pete Buske puts the finishing "slashes" on his ballot Tuesday morning during voting in Friona's box at the City Hall during the General Election. Frionans and surrounding residents gave their votes to Ralph Yarborough, 167 and Roy Whittenburg, 116 in the Senatorial Race.

Drive Begins For Hospital

Preliminary plans for kicking off a fund-raising campaign designed to get the Parmer County Community Hospital out of a deficit were told at an organizational breakfast held in the Fellowship Hall of the Friona Methodist Church Tuesday morning.

Hollis Horton Jr. and Ralph Roden were named co-chairmen of the fund-raising campaign and told of plans to raise a total of $75,000 for the hospital.

Dr. Paul Spring, speaking for the hospital, told of the need for the drive.

"If our collections were 100 percent there would be no need for this drive," he explained.

"But, unfortunately our past due accounts which seem to be uncollectable almost equal what we are 'in the hole' at the present time and we need the money to meet payments on principal and interest on notes which we borrowed to complete our new building and buy needed equipment."

Charles Allen, of the Friona State Bank, explained how by the "double-deduction" system gifts of commodities of grain, cotton or corn could be given the hospital and then benefit the farmer-donor by saving him money on income tax deductions. This benefits the hospital and the donor, Allen says.

A general drive for funds will begin Tuesday, November 11, with another breakfast in the Methodist Church and is slated to last for two weeks.

A total of 32 men have been named to the fund-raising teams of which 28 were present at the breakfast this week.

The hospital drive will be in four divisions, which include preliminary drive, general drive, employee drive, and the school drive.

YOUTHS COLLECT $141 BY CROP TRICK 'R TREAT

A total of 25 youngsters from the Methodist, Baptist and Congregational churches in Friona collected $141 to be given to the Christian Rural Overseas Program last Sunday afternoon.

Baptists to Dedicate New Building Sunday

Dr. A. Hope Owen, president of Wayland Baptist College at Plainview, will be the guest speaker at groundbreaking ceremonies for a new $68,000 educational addition to the First Baptist Church of Friona Sunday afternoon.

All day Sunday members and friends of the church will observe the groundbreaking and dedication of the building.

Dr. Owen's speech will be given at 2 p. m.

Several committee chairmen have been appointed to help plan the day's special events.

Mrs. H. T. Magness is chairman of the welcoming committee; G. B. "Pete" Buske will give the history of the church, and Raymond Cook, chairman of the church's building committee, will give a report outlining plans and uses of the new structure.

Church members have invited all the residents of the area to be present for the program.

The new addition, which will be built on the north side of the sanctuary, will be constructed of brick and concrete and will match the addition which is already being used on the south side of the main building.

This new wing of the church will contain kitchen facilities, a hall and educational rooms for three of the young people's Sunday school divisions.

Construction is slated to begin within the week and the present stucco building now occupying the area is to be moved.

Elmo Jones, Littlefield contractor, will build the structure.

Two Friona youths were convicted in county court Friday of theft of tools on two counts.

On each count, they were fined $1 and court costs and sentenced to a day in jail.

Jerry Dennis Burnett, 18, and Leonard Ray Burnett, 19, cousins, were charged with theft of tools from James Collier and Ernest Osborn. The tools were returned to their owners.

District Attorney Bill Sheehan was the guest speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Progressive Study Club. The program topic was Law Logic. Roll call was answered with family laws. The opening prayer was led by Thelma Johnson. A forum was conducted by Margie Herring and Reba Buske.

Following the meeting, the president, Lunell Horton, was honored with a surprise birthday cake and shower of handkerchiefs. Refreshments of birthday cake, tea, and coffee were served by the hostesses Layvon Hughes, Margaret Duggins, and Martha Mae Pruitt.

FRIONA DEFLATESball slipped away. Kenneth Carter, Chieftain halfback, pounced on the pigskin and the Chiefs began another march.

On fourth down with less than two minutes to play Clements punted and the Steers took over on their own 10-yard line.

In a desperate effort to win, Lovelace passed the ball but Friona's hawk-eyed Goetz gathered it in and returned it to the 15.

The game ended with Friona never getting away another play.

Although they came back to win, Friona was almost out of the game during the first half as the Steers offense rolled up eight first downs and massed a total of 183 yards rushing and passing. The Chiefs were held to a total of 63 yards, 18 of which were gained in the air in the first half and marked up five first downs.

Farwell's first score came midway in the first quarter after taking over the ball on their own 49. Seven plays later Lovelace found a man wide open in the end zone and connected with a pass to bring first blood.

The extra point try failed. At the beginning of the second quarter Lovelace thrilled Farwell fans with a 35 yard run which came during a desperate pinch.

Lovelace was back to punt fourth down on his own 45. A bad pass from center forced Lovelace to pick up the ball and shake away from two would-be tacklers. Picking up beautiful downfield blocking he threaded his way across the midfield stripe and boomed on down to the Chieftain 20 where he was hauled down.

This looked like another score for the Steers, but Lovelace later fumbled on the 8-yard line and Friona recovered.

Here the Chiefs took over and began what seemed to be a touchdown drive.

With their offense clicking the Chieftains marched up the field with short gains by the Three B's—Baxter, Brooks and Bradley.

With a first and 10 on the Farwell 40, disaster struck as a handoff was fumbled and the Steers gulped it up.

Lovelace smashed through the Chieftain line for 10, then on the next play faded back and found Morris Reed all by his lonesome deep in the Friona end zone.

Again the try for extra points failed and the Chiefs trailed 12-0 at the half.

Fortunately, the story of the second half was a different one.

This tilt, a non-conference affair, broke a 7-game winning streak for the Steers who have been undefeated all this season and had averaged a total of 41 points per game this year. They were favored to win the District 3-A title.

The Chiefs have a 0-2 mark in their District 2-AA play this year and will meet the Canyon Eagles Friday night in Canyon.

Short-Cut Method Makes Traditional Breakfast Bread

If "second breakfast" after church is Sunday routine at your house, why not borrow an old Swedish custom. Serve Church Bread, a rich yeast bread that's so easy you can whip it up wearing your Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes. While you are in church, the bread rises. There's no kneading, no second rising. Simply bake for half an hour while you set the table and make coffee.

Swedish legend has it that a minister's wife invented this delicious bread to serve with after-church coffee for members who traveled great distances to attend Sunday services. Ann Pillsbury has adapted the traditional recipe to American baking standards.

Swedish Church Bread

2/3 cup compressed yeast (or 2 teaspoons dry yeast)	1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup lukewarm scalded milk	1 egg, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups sifted All Purpose Flour	1/2 cup citron, chopped (or chopped candied fruit)
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons sugar	2 tablespoons butter

Soften yeast in milk. (If dry yeast is used, dissolve in 1/4 cup water as directed on package; reduce milk to 1/4 cup.) Sift together flour, salt and 1 1/2 tablespoons of sugar into mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until particles are fine. Add egg, fruit and softened yeast; mix thoroughly. Turn into well-greased 8-inch round layer pan. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon sugar; dot with butter. Let rise, covered, in warm place (85° to 90°F.) until light and doubled in size, about 1 hour.

Bake at 375°F. for 25 to 30 minutes. Remove from pan immediately; serve warm or cold.

Note to modern "bake ahead and freeze" fans: Wrap cooled bread in heavy aluminum foil. To thaw, place bread in original wrapper in 350° oven for 15 to 30 minutes.

AUDIT REPORT--

time last year, or an increase of 85 students.

Kelley told the board of the upcoming report by the statewide Hale-Aiken Committee of 24. This report taken from a census of opinions from the state's 254 counties has one important recommendation which will be made to the governor. This will be a recommendation to lengthen the number of required school days from 180 to 190 days per year. This was discussed by the board, but no official action taken.

Other business included the board granting permission for Superintendent Kelley to take the necessary steps to get a sidewalk extension laid down from the front entrance of the new junior high building west to the street.

Members of the board present were Cordie Potts, who presided in the absence of D. C. Herring, president; Hoyt Smith, Fern Barnett, and Clyde Weatherly.

Hodgson Cast In Production

Billy Hodgson, son of D. W. Hodgson of Friona and a 1956 graduate of Friona High School, has a role in a drama production at West Texas State College to be presented November 6-8. "The Lady's Not For Burning," a poetic comedy will be presented in the Branding Iron Theatre at 8:15 p.m. each of the three evenings. Billy, who is a sophomore speech major, plays the part of Tappercoom. He is a member of Buffalo Basquers, national dramatic fraternity.

Our Neighbors Are Saying --

While I find the radio and TV offerings, known as Gunsmoke, good entertainment I resent the implication in both plays that most men of the Old West were outlaw types, gun-toters and the kind who today would be looked upon as objectionable characters. Some are pictured as men who had "a gun for hire," roaming saddle hoboos who would kill for a price.

Those are the plays in which William Conrad and James Arness each take the part of Matt Dillon, U. S. Marshal in Dodge City, Kansas, in the early 1880's.

My family lived in El Paso at the turn of the century, in the hell-roarin' days of the border town. There as a little tyke I saw what real western life was and I saw men of all stripes, good, bad, and indifferent, and I learned to know a lot of them. There I saw my first gunfight, one in which two men died within a few feet of each other, on the platform of a wholesale liquor warehouse.

A little later we lived in Oklahoma, not long after the "Run" and the opening of the Cherokee Strip. Our home was in Kingfisher in the heart of the Run region. Those were tough days in a tough country but I saw few men even those days who swaggered around with guns swung on them. Of course, we knew a few men who had the reputation of being killers, with several notches on their smoke wagons. But the general reputation of men of the Old-West was far above the impression the plays "Gunsmoke" may give those frontier days.

A majority of those fellows were silent men. There was little of the bombastic about them. They never bragged of their accomplishments with a gun, and those who really lived by their six-shooter were men of action and not words.

Of course the plays Gunsmoke are aimed at being nerve-tingling entertainment and if they stray a little too far into the realm of fiction they sacrifice realism to serve their mission of vivid entertainment.

So, if you knew nothing of the Old West of the turn of the century and shortly thereafter, don't accept such wild entertainment as a true picture of the men and women of that day, nor of the life they lead, nor of their environment. Men who know that day know I'm telling the truth about it.

And, even right here in our quiet, little city there were flashes of those days back about 1907 and there-about in which guns played a part in every-day life of those who pioneered the frontier. There were gunfights and men died violently, but those incidents were rare, and men were not all of the Gunsmoke type.

As I make the rounds of the business houses of today and meet their operators I can't help but make a mental contrast of them with the businessmen of about 1908, the days of open saloons, gambling and paradoxical as it may seem, a more rigid code of honesty in business, a code that brooked few violations such as "cold" checks, unless you were itching for trouble. Petty lies in salesmanship weren't a common practice as they are now in some places. You didn't get far those days with such, before your hand would be called in no uncertain terms.

I bring out these things by way of completing the picture contrast of those days, the days of Gunsmoke, and these times.

So, if you listen to, and watch Gunsmoke don't accept what you see and hear as a true version of frontier days and life, and the folks who blazed the trail.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Walking With God

"There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit." God's voice walked with Adam in the garden and Adam had fellowship with God, but Adam failed and was driven from the garden.

Moses brought Israel up out of Egypt and Israel walked with Moses in the wilderness. They had the spirit of God in a cloud in the day and a pillar of fire by night to give them light. Their diet was angel's food and water out of the rock and yet they failed.

Judas was called as one of the Lord's apostles and walked with him. He heard his teachings, saw him heal the sick and cast out devils. He ate the bread and fish as it grew in the master's hand. He was sent out with others to preach and came back rejoicing because the devils were subject to them in Jesus name, yet he failed.

Simon himself believed also and when he was baptized he continued with Phillip and wondered beholding the miracles and signs which were done. He walked with the apostles and yet he failed.

Eph. 2:10 "For we are his workmanship created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God had before ordained that we might walk in them."

"Thou has a few names even in Sardes which have not defiled their garments and they shall walk with me in white for they are worthy."

Are we walking with him?

Tweetie Didn't Make It

For the past four years a parakeet named Tweetie has been almost like a member of the Ellis Tatum family in the Black community.

Tweetie has survived many narrow escapes, including being lost a week or ten days at one time or another.

Once after the Tatums had given up all hope of ever seeing him again, he was found in a tree at the Dick Rocky home.

Since Tweetie was very informative in his conversation, it was not possible to find out where he had been during his absence. He had become a community favorite and was well known by all the neighbors.

One evening last week Tweetie had an accident which resulted in his death.

A door was closed on him and he was killed. His death has caused sadness in the Tatum home and his presence will be missed.

Did You HEAR Who's HERE?

The modern theory seems to be that a dollar saved is just a good time lost.

Soil cannot be considered as just soil. People live on it and from it. They own it, rent it, plow and cultivate it and harvest the crops it produces. When the soil fails, people and nations suffer.

It's possible that a college education doesn't always pay, but that doesn't release Pop from his financial obligation.

A man never gets so rich that he can afford to lose a friend.

Men who make big money are careful with their small change.

Ever wonder whether the youngsters aren't really the smartest members of the family? I suppose we just have to outsmart them to get things done.

There's nothing so irritating as the squirmy tot when you're trying to dress or comb him or her, especially when you're in a hurry. One idea that works is to put the child in front of a mirror so that his attention will be drawn to what is happening instead of struggling to be elsewhere.

When Johnny spills grease all over the basement floor—or on concrete, terrazzo or unpainted wood floors anywhere, there's nothing better than lye to dissolve the grease and make it spotless again. Just dissolve a heaping tablespoon of lye in a bucket of water. For more stubborn grease spots, add a little more. Don't use this solution on painted or varnished surfaces.

Youngsters like special wall decorations. Why not "fly" a real kite on the wall in your boy's room for an unusual and inexpensive decoration. Masking tape will hold the kite in place without marring the wall.

If you have one of those cute little girls whose barrette keeps slipping off, glue a tiny piece of sponge rubber to the inside of the barrette.

And when you're mending a tear in a youngster's (and an older's too) garment with iron-on tape, place a smooth sheet of aluminum foil between the tape and the iron to prevent the tape from sticking to the iron.

It's All Blarney — Honest!

Here is the source of all that Irish eloquence with which the people of Ireland charm their visitors. It's Blarney Castle, home of the legendary Blarney Stone that is said to confer the "gift of eloquence" on all who kiss it. The stone is set in a wall below the castle battlements and, to kiss it, one must be lowered head first, grasping an iron railing. Thousands of tourists annually visit Blarney to kiss—and tell! Ireland is presently riding the crest of a record tourist wave from America, with over 62,000 U.S. visitors expected this year—and, as usual, the majority of them will include a trip to Blarney on their itinerary.

LEAGUE LEADERS

Chiefs to Play Canyon Eagles

Friona's Chiefs hope to get back on the winning trail in District 1-AA competition when they will travel to Canyon to take on the league-leading Canyon Eagles Friday night at 8. The game will be played in Buffalo Stadium on the campus of West Texas State College in Canyon.

Canyon came out of last Friday night's battle against Tulia with a wide margin of victory and no injuries.

A quick, rangy, squad, the Eagles are built around a hard core of 11 returning lettermen from last year with 196-pound Eddie Boydston billed as "one of the best linesmen I've ever coached," according to Coach Bill Davis of Canyon.

Tommy Henderson, another lineman, was singled out for praise by Coach Davis following last week's tangle with the Hornets.

Canyon beat Dalhart, 21-18, earlier in the season and Dalhart last week turned the tide and came out on top over Dimmitt.

As Friona lost to Dimmitt by a score of 22-0 some idea of comparison can be gleaned. Coach Colie Huffman's Chiefs showed the spark that marked them earlier in this past week's game with Farwell. Behind 12-0 late in the third quarter, they pulled out the stops to win the game 15-12.

Probable starters for Friona will include the same team that started against Farwell. No names were available at press time for the Eagles.

Can You Peel An Egg?

Ever had egg trouble? Dad did. He wanted a hard-boiled egg, but the shell just wouldn't peel.

He cracked it and rolled it to no avail. The shell clung tenaciously to its rightful owner. Dad of course would not give up. He fought the shell piece by piece, and finally won out. But his disposition had been shattered, no thanks to the family's obvious enjoyment of his predicament.

Does this sound familiar? If so, no need to fret any longer. Miss EGGtober (above) has a unique solution for troubled egg peelers. When daughter Mary is standing around eating olives and celery, assign her to the hard boiled eggs. Deft fingers and plastic tape are all the tools she needs. Have her wrap a piece of tape around the center of each egg, as shown. When you serve the eggs, Dad can roll his on a flat surface to crackle the shell, then peel off the center taped area. When he does, the shell ends will slip right off.

Miss EGGtober, who is really Susan Treat, a 20-year-old 4-H'er from Orange, Conn., has been demonstrating this tip on eggs in her travels around the country. For several months now she has been telling Americans about "EGGtober—The Time To Eat More Eggs." She has also been a reminder to producers that EGGtober is the additional month of egg output they can expect this fall by feeding extra-production laying feeds fortified with the broad spectrum antibiotic Terramycin.

Miss EGGtober also has some new recipes for homemakers she calls "Scrambled Eggs Through the Alphabet." For 26 ways to fix scrambled eggs, "A to Z", write Miss EGGtober, Box 1742, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y.

Call it knack, talent, skill, know-how, or savvy, it's that little something extra that makes the difference between a good cook and one who doesn't have the touch. Of course, anyone who can read can become a good cook. So brush up on your reading if you want to develop the reputation for delectable dishes.

There are, however, many little tricks we learn from experience. Here's a sample: Instead of adding sugar to the water when you cook fresh peas, help the peas retain their natural sweetness and flavor by tossing a few empty green pods in the pot.

Ever try using rendered chicken fat for making biscuits, or on chicken pie? It saves on shortening and adds a delicious flavor. Use it, too, in cream sauces to serve with vegetables or meats where chicken flavor will

A New Look

In American Education

A year ago American education, from the first grade through college, got a blast of criticism when Russia announced the launching of their first Sputnik.

Today in most schools educators have picked up the challenge and are putting more "meat" into the average student's education. We wonder if this is all that is needed.

For quite some time we have been amazed at some of the lengths parents will go to "protect" their offspring. Don't get us wrong. Sure, parents are supposed to help their children, but along with helping them get to the point where they can shift for themselves we believe that parents owe their children a chance to stand alone.

Time after time while in service and at college we have seen good boys, with the best personalities, educational background and all the qualities which one would normally think of that go to make up a good, well-balanced citizen in the making... only one thing would be wrong.

"Mom" ruined them for all future use.

In the Marines they would be spotted a long way off. Fortunately most of them never wound up overseas for if they had they would've probably been shot by their own troops. No, most of them washed out in boot camp and were sent to jobs where their "leaning on Mom" didn't cause danger to their buddies.

In college many of these youngsters would be at the head of their classes and one would normally mark them down as potential leaders of their communities and their nation. But look a little farther--are we endangering them in a manner which we haven't thought of before?

Are we putting them out in life and calling them "men and women" without giving them that "extra something" which should be an inherent right... the right to stand on their own two feet and make their own decisions?

Or, are we putting them out and still trying to "call the shots" expecting them to run home and ask Momma or Poppa for their opinion on every issue?

What is to happen to them when Momma and Poppa are gone? What are they to do then?

We agree that there is a thin line somewhere along there that we should try to watch. We are proud to be a part of a nation composed of "individuals." But, this ability to stand alone and take it on the chin is rapidly being bred out of the American as a person.

More and more our children are taught not to worry, everything will turn out all right. We should make sure that not only in our families should we have this ability to stand alone, but in our makeup as a nation.

This is an important birthright of every American and with the passing of each day we are turning more in the direction of a nation composed of folks with outstretched palms, asking for a handout rather than working for what we should earn.

We must give our children the chance to learn and they will do all right. We can make sure they have that chance by insisting that our schools keep up their good work; by insisting that the student has to stand on his, or her, own two feet.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS HAVE TO SAY

CLIPPED QUOTES

BASCOM NELSON has this opinion of WES IZZARD'S political views from The Castro County News in Dimmitt --Speaking of columnists in larger towns, we were interested in the sayings of Wes Izzard in the Amarillo Daily News Tuesday. Mr. Izzard, who puts forth a fairly decent and informed column when not writing about politics, was taking the Amarillo Police Department to task about the way they manhandle out-of-town visitors. It seems there have been innumerable people heading to Amarillo to save a few bucks at a sale or something, only to find the Amarillo Police Department waiting at the city limits with their ticket books and discourteous attitudes. Naturally we maintain that Mr. Izzard is becoming upset for nothing. People who will drive all the way to Amarillo, struggle through heavy traffic looking for non-existent parking places, get nervous indigestion and finally wind up not getting what they came for won't mind a little ole ticket for $10 or so. Mr. Izzard doesn't understand the psychology of the people who go from Tulsa, Happy, Hereford, Dimmitt, Friona, and Wellington to Amarillo. After the other trials and tribulations of a shopping trip to Amarillo, the additional pains imposed by receiving an unjustified traffic ticket are hardly worth mentioning. Amarillo merchants needn't worry about their local constabulary force playing hob with out-of-town trade. It will take more than a few thousand tickets and monumental discourteousness to slow down the stream of traffic from the smaller Panhandle and South Plains towns.

There were just not enough connections for their television, washing machine, iron, etc. A farmer friend of ours said he had paid out so much for picking he was thinking of following the boll pullers back to South Texas and hiring out to them this winter.

Here are a couple of items of interest which appeared in JIMMY GILLEN'TINE'S column, HEREFORD BULL-- The weather we have had lately is conducive to late sleeping. I guess it must be the moisture, combined with the lower temperatures. Everyone who sees these days is talking about how hard it is to rise on schedule--and with a big smile. It reminds me of a fellow I once knew, who always said: "You can't expect any day to be very good, because they all begin with getting up in the morning." * * * * * A lot of people helped open the duck season Saturday morning, but very few families are likely to have duck for dinner today. There are two things the ducks are going to have to improve before they regain their popularity; first, they are going to have to start coming in at a later hour; second, they are going to have to learn to dress (or undress) themselves. These heat and serve deals put home-made rolls out of business--and I predict they will sooner or later do the same thing to migratory fowl.

IT SEEMS ONLY YESTERDAY

OCTOBER 20, 1933

CITY COMMISSION HAS IMPORTANT MEETING MONDAY At the call of Mayor F. W. REEVE, the City Commission met in the office of the secretary Monday night for the transaction of some very important business.

Among the first matters of business that were attended to was the establishing of a City Court, which was accomplished by appointing and administering the oath of office to Hon. A. D. SMITH as City Attorney and confirming the appointment of C. M. JONES as chief of Police L. H. RUTH was duly appointed and his appointment was made unanimous to the effect of Police Magistrate. Since Mr. Ruth was not present the oath of office was not administered to him. These men will now constitute the executive Court, whose duties it will be to enforce the city's ordinances and assess such fines as they find deserving.

The mayor and commissioners then discussed the city's revenues and need of funds and it was decided to make a strenuous effort to collect as much as possible of the delinquent taxes., the city attorney being instructed to take such steps as he deemed prudent and legal in making such collections.

It was moved and seconded and carried that a list of all delinquent be made and placed in some conspicuous public place where all citizens could inspect it and the said delinquents be given thirty days from the date of the list to pay their taxes without cost.

The subject of irregular parking on the streets was given some consideration and in order to lessen the probability of accident and injury to persons and property and to give to all people coming into town, the freedom to get in and out at their pleasure, it was decided to make an effort to have all persons comply with the city's parking and speed ordinance. Mr. Jones will, therefore, require all persons to park their cars in an orderly manner so that any and all may be free to come and go at their pleasure.

NEW BUILDING IN FRIONA-Friona has taken on a little of the progressive or prosperity during the past few weeks which is manifested by the building of three new homes.

The modern little residence built by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. BLACKWELL at the corner of tenth and Main Streets is now almost ready for occupancy, as is also the small residence of Mrs. Carter on Prospect Avenue.

The modern five room dwelling being erected by F. S. TRUITT on Ninth Street, is also rapidly nearing completion. It will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bowlin.

FOOD SALE - A food sale will be conducted Saturday, October 21st, at the B. T. GALLOWAY Hardware store by the Woman's Missionary Society. Let these good ladies supply you with pies, cakes, dressed chicken etc. for your Sunday dinner.

BABY DIES IN CAR NEAR FRIONA - WEDNESDAY. - On Wednesday of last week, as Mrs. GUY COTTON, of Bellview, N. Mex., was returning from a visit to her niece, Mrs. F. W. PERRY, nine miles west of town, her baby daughter, 18 months old, died in the rear seat of the car on the road about five miles north of the Perry home.

IN HEREFORD HOSPITAL - MRS. T. J. CRAWFORD was taken seriously ill Sunday afternoon, and continued suffering throughout the night. Monday morning her illness was pronounced appendicitis and she was rushed to the Deaf Smith County Hospital at Hereford, where an operation was performed at once for the removal of the appendix.

Although her condition was found to be more than usually serious, she rallied from the operation and at this writing, Wednesday forenoon, she was getting along as well as usually expected.

Socialism Failed Again

Early in the 1900's the Doukhobors migrated to western Canada and established what they called the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, Ltd.

CCUB once had an estimated worth of $7 million, which included sawmills, a jam factory, a brick-making plant and hundreds of communal villages farming over 19,000 irrigated acres.

Today, a feature article in The Wall Street Journal points out, the land has deteriorated. Wood irrigation pipe has rotted away. Water starved apple, pear and other orchards on thousands of acres have withered. The Doukhobors have burned their former jam factory and even many of their own homes. John

J. Verigin, grandson of Peter the Lordly Verigin, who led the Doukhobors to British Columbia declares: "The community theory of taking out according to the family's needs and putting in according to ability did not work. Some put in more than others. This bred individualism."

The robbing Peter to pay Paul theory of economics which is advocated by big government "planners" should be scorned by every American. The communal idea of work and property in the guise of confiscatory taxation and Federal assumption of local and individual responsibility will destroy incentive and with it the dynamic character of this country.

Appearing on page 1 of The Hondo Anvil-Herald this story has a moral--somewhere?

BEDTIME STORY -- A man and his wife went in to Hardy's Furniture Store Saturday just before noon to purchase a bed. According to the Sheriff's Department, Juan B. Rodriguez, who gives his address as D'Hanis, got a bed but not from Hardy's. The county furnished him one.

Mrs. N. C. Johnson was in the store by herself Saturday when Rodriguez came in with his wife. While Mrs. Johnson was showing Mrs. Rodriguez a bed in the stock room, Rodriguez walked in back of the office desk and helped himself to eleven one-dollar bills.

About ten minutes or so after the couple left, Mrs. Johnson went to the cash register to get money to pay a freight bill and noticed that the one-dollar bills she had placed there earlier were missing. A call to the sheriff's office started some action.

Rodriguez heard he was being hunted and walked into the sheriff's office a short time later. When asked to give up what he had taken, he shelled out eleven one-dollar bills.

There is a moral to this story: He who makes his own bed shall lie in it.

Here is a clipping from the column of Carrol Koch in the Quanah Tribune Chief which seems to apply to this county just as well!

Do you have your name on your key chain? If not, it would be wise to have some kind of name tag made as soon as possible and keep it attached to your key ring or chain. Too often things in the Floyd household get in a turmoil because of lost or misplaced keys. Tuesday morning of this week at about 8:45 a.m. we were faced with the situation of a car and no key.

For about ten days we had known that our keys had been lost or misplaced, but kept thinking they would turn up somewhere and hadn't been too concerned about not knowing their whereabouts. After walking about 3/4 of a mile the Baxter brothers, Duane and Richard, gave us a ride into town.

All during the day the thought, "I just must find those keys," kept running through our chain of thoughts. Just as we got home with a determination to locate the keys or else, the phone rang. It was Eva Miller and she had the answer to our lost key problem.

The key chain had no means of identification on it and had been left at White's Cash Grocery. Recently we received some gloves from a sporting goods store in the middle west and had shown the gloves to Eva. She recognized a small leather coin purse which was attached to the key ring, so was able to identify it.

This little episode also strengthens our conviction that when an article is lost it is easier to find it by looking for something which isn't even remotely related to the thing you really want to find.

As our editor, Dave McReynolds, always advises us when unimportant things have caused distress, "Just ignore it and maybe it will go away." In this case we could say, "Just ignore lost articles and they will return."

At any rate, our thanks this week go to the employee who found the key chain and hung it in sight of customers and to Eva for helping the keys find the rightful owner.

Read this somewhere and like it very much, "Nothing is impossible. We just don't know how to do it yet."

ABOUT twenty five years ago Claude Callan was one of our favorite columnists and we never missed his column "Cracks At The Crowd" which ran in the Amarillo News. Occasionally we clipped one and kept it. Recently we ran across one and are passing it on for our readers to enjoy.

When the six brothers in our family inherited property from a dear old uncle the estate was divided without the least disagreement. Each of us brothers was perfectly satisfied, but each of the six wives thinks her husband was swindled in the settlement. Each of the six wives accuses five brothers of robbing her husband."

"Although the estate amounted to only $300, the wives have built it up to an immense fortune, and each one talks of the fine home she could have built if her husband hadn't been cheated. All of us brothers are fairly honest men and we had fairly good reputations until the wives began talking. Now everybody is suspicious of us, simply because each of the six wives is dissatisfied over the fifty dollars she received from Uncle Boliver."

Just one more thing about lost keys. There are still some at White's Cash Grocery that no one has claimed. There are also several in our office that are waiting for the owner to claim.

It is a pleasure for us to be able to tell you that it is now possible for us to give much quicker service on orders for job printing than it was in the past. Just call 2291 and give us your orders for letterheads, statement blanks, envelopes, or any other printing that you want done.

1958 Harvest Biggest Ever

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Well over $13 million will be added to the gross receipts of Parmer County area farmers this fall, as they wind up history's most fruitful grain sorghum harvest.

The total production will be somewhere in the neighborhood of 15,000,000 bushels. The exact amount will never be pinpointed, but several barometers furnish the basis for very good estimates.

The most important one is the annual elevator-by-elevator contact made by Farm and Home reporters, who call on all warehousemen and ask them to supply information that will enable a total to be run.

This year resulted in extra work for the seekers of information. They found that it was necessary to cover a lot more ground. Elevators have sprung up in the communities of Hub and Pleasant Hill this year. Last year an elevator was built at Rhea. There are now 18 elevators. Contacted were the following:

BOVINA -- Macon Elevator, Sherley Grain Company, S. E. Cone Grain & Seed, Bovina Wheat Growers.

FRIONA -- Friona Wheat Growers, Continental Grain.

TEXICO-FARWELL -- Worley Grain, Sherley-Anderson-Pitman, Golden West Seed Company, Lone Star Elevator.

PLEASANT HILL -- Worley Grain.

HUB -- Prewett Grain, Black Grain, Tri-County Elevator.

RHEA -- Rhea Grain Company, Fertilizer.

LARIAT -- Sherley-Anderson, Lariat Elevator.

Meanwhile, grain that is being stored permanently on the farms or which moves directly into market must be accounted for. That should be enough justification for the 15-million-bushel production figure that Farm and Home is publishing this week.

Although the price for Parmer County's biggest crop remains at a relatively low ebb, a surprising percent of the crop has been going straight to market this year, instead of into the government loan program (from which it seldom emerges.)

Prence Mills, ASC office manager, reports, "There is considerably more selling than in the past." He believes that about 20 percent of the county-wide crop has been moving immediately to market.

The support price this year is $1.75 per bushel. Charges for storage and handling are now yielding the farmer a net of $1.62 in the loan. Those figures are down about three cents from 1957.

Total loans made at elevators, plus grain placed in the loan but stored on the farm will not be known until sometime after the first of the year. Many farmers defer completing loan papers until then for income tax purposes.

Some odds-and-ends reports from the field:

Weldon Stringer, Hub Grain, reports that Ed Walters made 7,997 pounds per acre on a fairly good-sized field (from 30 to 50 acres). He farms west of the Hub. J. P. Macon, Macon Elevator, says that Dean McCallum made 7,700 pounds per acre on 30 acres of broadcast-sowed milo north of town.

Joe Pinner, customer of Bovina Wheat Growers, averaged almost 5,000 pounds this year, reports Wilburn McLean, manager.

The 1958 harvest is about like last year in the Black area, says Pete Braxton, manager of Tri-County Elevator. The irrigated average is from 4,000 to 4,500 pounds. Harvest will wind up this week.

Preach Cranfill, manager of Continental, says that Walter Reithmeyer averaged 5,400 pounds on 300 acres. He farms the Ed Boggess place. "Looks like this year was best average acre yield I can remember," says Cranfill.

"Good run. Good and better than last year's crop. Quite a few have brought in averages over 5,000 pounds on large acreages," says D. C. McWhorter, manager of Black Grain. Some of them are Ivan Adkins, Clyde Hays, Jerry Bell, Sam Bailey--all farmed over 400 acres each.

Unusually good harvest marked by good weather on the whole, says Loyd Prewett of Prewett Grain. Better yielding, mostly hybrid varieties planted. Albert Roland averaged 8,315 bushels on 6 1/2 acres west of Friona.

BLIND TO OUR OWN The faults of others appear so glaring that most people entirely overlook the glare of their own.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Wild life in Parmer county depends on soil, trees, grass and grain for its support.

Looking at it from that stand point, the way the farms and ranches are managed have a major bearing on the quality of the wildlife.

Odd areas such as narrow or sharp field corners that are not being cultivated make good wildlife areas.

to stop by engineering means could be fenced off and left for wildlife cover.

Field windbreaks that were planted away from the farmstead for livestock protection are very good for wildlife.

The natural lakes in this area are always good for waterfowl. Cover around lakes and ponds should be protected from grazing.

All wildlife areas must be protected from fire and grazing to afford adequate cover for wildlife.

The Soil Conservation Service will assist any farmer or rancher in establishing suitable wildlife areas if desired.

Now that frost has killed most of our outdoor flowers and plants, many of us will be trying to grow potted plants and making plans for early flowers next spring.

If you like flowering houseplants which can be transferred to the yard in the summer, try growing miniature roses.

Legislative suggestions will be presented in the state legislature, and the majority of them will become law.

Other resolutions, national in scope, will be presented to delegates to the American convention in Boston in December.

Even though none of the decisions reached are likely to be exactly what any individual farmer might want, in detail, all of them will have been reached after discussion, debate, and vote.

Business sessions have, in the past, begun on Tuesday morning, after open sessions of resolutions. Due to the increase in interest and the number of resolutions that must be acted upon, caucuses will begin on Monday morning and business will be conducted throughout the three day convention.

Farmers will be glad to know that the railroads have a man who is interested in helping all he can with the eradication of noxious weeds by treating them on the RR right of ways.

buy dormant plants in the winter and pot them in a clay pot on a mixture of soil that includes pebbles to assure drainage and humidity.

Another favorite in the flowering plants is a geranium. There are many kinds of geraniums and the novel kinds are fun to grow.

The most important things that a grower should learn about houseplants are, where to put them, what kind of soil to use, what kind of pot is most suitable, the proper amount of water to use, what the humidity should be, the right kind of fertilizer, and how to control insects.

Growing plants, like any kind of pet are sure to present some problems along with the pleasure you receive from them. One of the biggest questions a grower has to answer is, "What do you do with plants when you are away from home?"

Since that solution isn't always workable, here are a few others that will help keep your plants alive until you return.

The bathtub can serve as a big pot plant tray. Elevate pots on porous bricks which sit in shallow water.

Outdoors, pots may be placed north of house or under trees or shrubs, out of the wind.

The suggested amount of time for "ripening" fruit cakes is four to six weeks, so it isn't too early to be making plans for Christmas fruit cakes or for actually baking Thanksgiving cakes.

Our favorite fruit cake is spicy, dark, and moist for good keeping. It is Black Beauty Fruit Cake.

1 cup seedless raisins 1 cup currants 3/4 cup chopped pitted dates 3/4 cup citron 3/4 cup chopped candied lemon or orange peel

1 1/2 cups walnuts or pecans 1 1/2 cups sifted all purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon soda 1/4 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon, allspice, and nutmeg 1/4 teaspoon cloves 1/2 cup soft shortening

1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar 2 eggs 1 cup dark molasses 1/4 cup grape juice or coffee Combine fruits and nuts in large bowl.

Some things to remember when preparing fruit cakes are: To prepare the baking pan, grease the bottom generously before lining with two or three thicknesses of waxed or brown paper.

For glazing the cakes, let them cool thoroughly then brush generously with hot light corn syrup and decorate with fruits and nuts.

When the cakes are ready for storing, wrap them tightly in Saran Wrap, then in aluminum foil. Do not freeze until after they have been properly aged.

One homemaker expressed the lack of storage space in her new home this way, "Our two car garage is simply not big enough. After all the bikes, tools, tires, trunks, boxes, etc. are stored, there's no room for the cars."

Storage space for the above-mentioned items, which are part of every family's possessions, should be planned in new homes and provided in some way, if possible, in older ones.

RIGHT TRIM ADDS 'STYLE FLARE'

The right kind and amount of trimming adds interest and individuality to a costume. Too much can be distracting and confusing, according to extension clothing specialists.

The secret of effectiveness in trimming lies in discriminating use. Self covered buttons and belts, or those that blend with the garment, can be used without danger of a spotty or overdecorated effect. Self trim of this type becomes part of the design of the garment and gives more leeway in choosing other accessories. If you plan for contrasting trim, study your figure carefully to determine where to place the emphasis. In other words, "accentuate the positive." Make certain the trim is appropriate to the garment and the occasion for which it will be worn.

Shop for ideas that are different. Study garments displayed in exclusive dress shops and adapt ideas to your own purse and personality.

A final word. When in doubt, leave that extra trim off. It's better to use too little than too much.

AFTER SCHOOL SNACKS SHOULD BE NUTRITIOUS

Most school children are hungry when they get home from school. Well planned between meal snacks help complete the daily needs for food. Soft drinks, candy and other sweets cannot fill this need, remind extension foods and nutrition specialists. The wise mother provides various kinds of fruit and vegetable juices, milk, fresh fruits, sandwich spreads, carrot sticks and celery curls for hungry youngsters. These are easy to prepare, appetizing and nutritious. Some tasty snacks suggested by the specialists include: Cheese and olive sandwiches and milk.

An apple and a glass of milk. Orange juice and carrot or celery sticks.

Tomato juice and assorted crackers.

Peanut butter and raisin sandwich, grapefruit and pineapple juice.

Banana, lemon drop cookies and milk.

Snacks will not spoil the child's appetite for a good evening meal, if they are eaten immediately after school or mid-afternoon, and if servings are kept moderate.

Long Staple Pays Off

Almost all of the Parmer County area farmers are pleased with their cotton this year, but one farmer should be especially happy. He is Bob Hart of Farwell.

Hart, who farms the Barr Aldridge place north and east of Farwell, has 38 acres of Acala long-staple cotton this year. Picking started last week and reports coming from the gin where the cotton was taken are little short of phenomenal.

The first picking yielded 47 bales, of which 43 were middling 1 5/32", with a price of $38.64 per hundred. Two bales were 1 3/16" strict low middling worth $34.70. The others were strict low middling 1 1/8" and middling 1 3/16" bringing $37.79 and $39.25, respectively.

Woodrow Fleming of the gin says, "I've been in the cotton business since 1938 and it's the best list of cotton I've ever seen."

A machine picker (not stripper) was brought in from the Texas Lower Rio Grande Valley for harvesting. Another picking is due soon.

Long staple cotton didn't do so well on the High Plains last year but it is paying off well, apparently, for Hart in 1958.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

By the time this issue is in the mails, the 1958 grain sorghum harvest will be history. Cotton is rolling to the gins in a steady stream as the strippers make short work of the snow-flecked fields. The wheat harvest, of course, was finished long ago.

That means that the Parmer County area has about completed another farming cycle and, as always, the farmers will be anxiously peering into the future to see what may lie ahead.

Harvest time is traditionally a time of happiness for the High Plains farmer. Most are enjoying the fruits of a reasonably good season and are in fair or good spirits.

So, we don't want to put a damper on an otherwise pleasant scene, but as we contemplate what lies ahead for next year, there is cause for some serious thinking. For each of the three main commodities that the farmers of our area produce, there are great problems of supplies, markets, and prices, none of which—at the present time at least—seem to be going in the farmer's favor.

Overproduction of wheat has been much greater this year than had been anticipated. That was primarily because of greatly improved weather conditions in the Great Plains states. This unusually large production is compounding a surplus condition that has been a problem in the nation for several years now.

Grain sorghum is also in abundant supply and, again, the 1958 production far exceeds what has been moving into market channels under normal conditions. There is also a large corn crop, which adds to sorghum problems. Cotton has its problems with an over all abundance (although some stocks are in short supply) and the government has initiated for the first time, a "split deal" to try to improve production and marketing.

All of these factors add up to one ominous note: apparently the low prices for the farm products which our farmers produce will continue through 1959. This outlook, painted against a background of increasing prices for almost everything which farmers must buy, is not a very cheering one.

There will be some irrigated farmers of the area who will continue to do well in their operations through next year, but for those who have been having difficult times the past two or three years, the outlook is not much improved.

Alternatives are not very encouraging, either. The Parmer County area vegetable production, off to a brash and optimistic growth in the early part of this year, is closing out with very few farmers showing a gain for their efforts. The years are few and far between when all of four or five vegetable crops do poorly, but 1958 has been one of them.

Such unfortunate developments are not much stimulus to further explorations into the highly specialized production of truck crops. In fact acreage may be curtailed in our area.

The Grain Sorghum Producers, our local commodity group, has just undertaken an effort to move sorghum directly into international trade. The measures they are taking are drastic, but the problem needs drastic action. The cotton industry is struggling with changes that will, it hopes, improve its plight.

These measures may or may not be effective and of benefit to the local farmers. Even if they are beneficial, their effect will probably not be immediate. Such changes take years to work out. Meanwhile, the farmers, who live from year to year, have current problems.

Each week, according to the National Safety Council, 81,000 persons are injured in home accidents—an average of an injury every eight seconds. More than four million persons are hurt in home accidents annually, and about 28,000 persons are killed.

Small grain producers lost an estimated $15,471,000 due to plant diseases in 1958. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, said rusts accounted for most of the losses but that blights and smuts also were of considerable importance. A combination of seed treatment and crop rotation can reduce these losses and small grain varieties with resistance to the diseases should be planted in areas where adaptable.

Studies show that families can cut food expenses by producing more of their food needs at home. And, says Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, they may be better fed by doing it.

"My Electric Range Gives Double Satisfaction!"

says Mrs. Clyde Rice, 2110 FAIRFIELD, AMARILLO, TEXAS

"As this is my second electric range, I know from experience that electric cooking gives me double satisfaction. I get the satisfaction of seeing my family eat good, properly-cooked foods. And then, for a mother, perhaps an even greater satisfaction in seeing my daughter, Linda, baking cakes and learning the fine art of cooking in the easiest and safest way, electrically."
