RISING STAR, June 27. - A proposition by Jas. McCamey to make an oil test of the city water well on the lot just west of the Record office was being considered yesterday afternoon with the likelihood that the test will be made. The hole is now down 430 feet with the last 45 feet in hard much lime and since the machine is already set and over 400 feet of hole made, it is pointed out that it would not take a great deal of expense to make the oil test to the Bowden sand, which is about 1300 feet.

A group of citizens are planning to join Mr. McCamey in fiancing the well.

Prisoners in the penitentiary at Lansing, Kan., ing that it harbored, and therehave mutined to obtain tobacco. Many of them are tours around that innocent body employed in the prison coal mine, and their battlecry has been, "No cigarettes, no coal!" Many people, war veterans particularly, will sympathize with them. It seems hard for most men to undergo hardship and privation without tobacco. The weed alleviates their misery. There seems to be no very good reason for depriving those prisoners of such solace, except this: When tobacco is allowed to enter the prison, it is easy to bring drugs in with it. Narcotic drugs are the bane of many a prison. So, to keep out the more deadly drug, the officials keep out the milder habit former. It gives another sleet of the world has played habit former.
