TEXAS

BY WILEY H. BATES, Austin.

LIKES TEXAS COMMENTS.—Writing from Corpus Christi, a reader of this column says: "I certainly enjoy your Texas feature appearing every day in the Corpus Christi Times. It fills in a gap, so noticeable in most Texas papers, between local editorial comment and New York features, and in a few paragraphs interprets the most important Texas activities for Texas readers. I can't understand why all editors can't see that Texans who are interested in the development of the state—and most Texans are—prefer something like "The Day in Texas" to so much nonsensical drizzle about trivial matters from away off somewhere." Letters like that encourage me to make still greater effort to write the kind of copy that make Texans a bit more in love with their own state and more interested in the worth-while things going on over Texas.

NEW OIL FIELD TOWN.—Seven wells are now being drilled in the immediate vicinity of the new oil producers six miles south of Lockhart. As a result of this activity a new town has sprung up there. It is called Branyon after the man on whose land the first well there was brought in. Like most oil towns, it is typical "board and tent town, the buildings hurriedly constructed to care for a "fly-by-night" population. Whether it will ever be more than a temporary town time alone will determine, but the chances are that Lockhart and Luling will continue to get most of the business from the adjacent oil fields, with the "big trade" going to San Antonio and Austin. Much will depend upon the kind of roads to the wells.

BIG HIGHWAY CONTRACT.—Contracts totaling nearly $3,500,000 will be awarded for state highways at the May 24-25 meeting of the highway commission. The proposals call for 93 miles of concrete paving and 38 miles of bituminous topping, besides grade and drainage work, bridge and culvert structures and a small amount of gravel topping. Should all contracts be let the commission will set a new high mark in road contracting for one session. It is noticeable too, that by far the greater part of the work is the highest type of road construction, showing that the day of temporary road building is about at an end. The policy now is "the best roads or none."

IMPORTING TEXAS TUBE ROSES.—Most Texans will be surprised to learn that tube roses grown in large quantities at New Braunfels are shipped from there to Holland, and come back again through New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other places for distribution in this country as Holland bulbs. The same florist, who ships millions of bulbs for the Holland trade, also ships many other plants to distant wholesale markets. The section around Tyler grows many carloads of roses that are shipped East and sold by the Eastern nurseries and florists throughout the country. There is a large demand for Texas blue bonnet seed, vinea and cosmos seed and the seed of other flowers that grow especially well in the Texas climate.

COTTON MILL AT TERRELL.—Terrell is the latest Texas town to make plans for a cotton factory, according to a statement made by C. L. Pool, of the Pool Manufacturing company, and confirmed by John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light company. It is probable that the building formerly used for Texas Midland Railway shops will be used for the cotton mills.

LIGHTING COURTHOUSE DOME.—The illumination of the courthouse dome at Georgetown, after the plan in use for lighting the state capitol building, will likely fix a precedent for other enterprising counties and towns in the lighting of public buildings. Nothing ever done in the way of civic beautification at Austin has ever attracted more favorable comment from the town-folks and visitors than the illumination of the capitol dome.

SOUTH TEXAS ROADS.—The recently organized South Texas Good Roads association will employ a full-time secretary, who will work in conjunction with the South Texas Chamber of Commerce. He will make a close study of road conditions in the territory

BOLL WORM BILL TO PRESIDENT

Randolph College to Graduate 14 Baccalaureate Sermon to Be Next Sunday; Commencement Service Monday Night, May 21

Appropriation of $5,000,000 to Fight West Texas Pest Is Passed by House After Senate

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The house of representatives this afternoon passed the senate resolution appropriating $5,000,000 to fight the pink boll worm in West Texas. The bill now goes to President Coolidge for his signature.

The purpose of the measure is to reimburse farmers who have established a non-cotton zone in pink boll worm infested areas. Infestation is largely confined to seven West Texas counties.

Under the terms of the bill the establishment of non-cotton zones in other states is authorized, in the event of pink boll worm infestation.

HOOVER BEST FITTED, SAYS SEC. MELLON

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon this afternoon declared that Herbert Hoover "best fitted the ideals set for the office of the presidency of the United States." He made this statement after he had urged the Republican state organization to refrain from committing itself to any particular candidate prior to the Republican national convention in Kansas City. Mellon was elected chairman of the state's delegation. It is generally conceded that the powerful delegation of Pennsylvania and New York will hold the whip hand in the convention and will support Hoover.

JAPAN TO PUT 30,000 TROOPS INTO SHANTUNG

TOKIO, May 12.—Japan is preparing to mass a powerful army of nearly 30,000 in the Shantung peninsula within the next 15 days to be supported by airplanes and artillery. The Japanese troops holding Tsinan have established strong positions around the city to meet possible counter attacks. The war office, however, is hopeful that fighting is over. A powerful Japanese fleet is anchored off Tsingtao for emergency.

HOG HERDER IS FATALLY SHOT AT BALLINGER

BALLINGER, May 12.—Herbert Baker, 23, ranch hand, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun while herding hogs near here today. He was prodding the hogs with the butt end of the gun when it was discharged. He is survived by his wife and two children.

LEE SPENDS FEW HOURS HERE ON CAMPAIGN TOUR

R. Q. Lee, candidate for congress from the 17th congressional district, spent a few hours in Cisco Saturday morning, leaving before noon for Callahan county, where he spent the remainder of the day in the interest of his candidacy. Colonel Lee reported that his campaign was progressing most satisfactorily, and that most favorable receptions had been given him in every place he has visited. He spent the past week in Comanche, Mills and Brown counties.

Loboes Treat Ballinger Rough in Final Spring Football Game; Win by 53-0; Cisco Stars Are Many

The Cisco Big Dam Loboes ran rough shod over the Ballinger high school football team in the last football game of the spring training season and won by the score of 51 to 0. The Loboes had no great trouble in winning and scored by any method they chose to adopt. "Sheenie" Eddleman, Captain of the Loboes, starred with his powerful smashes through the line and his defensive work. Willard Miller, playing at end, took a kick-off and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown. C. F. Pratt, 190 pound tackle, for the Loboes, blocked one punt and recovered it for a thirty yard gain and caught a pass out of the passer's hand and made a nice gain.

I know whose love would follow me still,

If I were drowned in the deepest sea,

I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother o' Mine, O Mother o' Mine,

I know whose prayers would make me whole,

PARKING RULES DISCUSSED BY BUSINESS MEN

The parking situation in Cisco was discussed Friday afternoon when a number of the business men met with Mayor Williamson and members of the city commission. The general traffic situation was discussed, and while nothing definite was decided upon, those present pledged their hearty cooperation in supporting any regulations the mayor and commission might formulate. Street parkings was one of the problems discussed.

"Several months ago a number of merchants requested that short parkings be permitted at the curb, which, as a trial, was granted," Mayor Williamson said. "This was abused, and has not proven satisfactory, and this feature was gone into without arriving at any satisfactory conclusion. The matter will be taken up at the regular meeting of the city commission Monday afternoon and will be gone into more thoroughly. It is expected permanent parking rules will be announced after the commission has passed on the matter."

COURT TO PASS TITLE TO HOTEL SITE ON JUNE 5

"I think all will be in readiness to commence work on the new hotel by June 10," said Attorney F. D. Wright Saturday, who is looking after the legal matters necessary to remove a slight cloud that rested on the title to the lot on which the hotel will be located.

"The court will pass on the matter June 5, when the case is called at Eastland. All the papers and preliminary matters have been concluded, and it only remains for the court to pass on the case, which will remove all obstacles to the initial work on the hotel. The litigation is a mere formality, and there is no question about the court passing title," Mr. Wright said.

Purpose of Chautauqua of This Week Is Praised by Lobo Coach; One of Most Worthy Projects

The chautauqua, which opens at the Cisco high school auditorium Monday night for five nights, was termed one of the most laudable projects launched in Cisco in recent years by W. B. Chapman, athletic director of Cisco high school, Saturday. The proceeds of the chautauqua will be placed in a fund for the erection of a municipal gymnasium here, which, Chapman said, is one of the most needed improvements of the city.

KING LOBO IV, QUEEN LOBO IV ARE HONORED

In a beautiful Japanese setting, under the soft light of Japanese lanterns and to the strains of soft music, Miss Doris Bates was crowned Queen Lobo IV in the gymnasium of Cisco high school Friday night. The other principal, King Lobo IV, was Garland Keyes. The identity of each was kept secret until each was announced by the heralds on entering the Lobo court.

The two were chosen by secret ballot for the honors. In chapel service one morning slips were passed to the students and each asked to write his choice for the coveted places. Only the committee that counted the ballots and Miss Bates and Keyes knew the result of the balloting.

The crown, which was carried into the court by little Miss Mary Ann Simon, was placed on the head of Miss Bates by Supt. J. J. Youngblood as prime minister. Several dozen young men and women, in the roles of princes and princesses, representing various city and civic organizations and neighboring high schools and colleges, were ushered into court by the heralds, Misses Elsie Glenn and Azlee Ward. Quincy Lee, as court jester, kept the audience in laughter continuously by his antics.

The beautiful gowns and robes worn by the participants in the ceremonies were a feature that added much to the success of the occasion.

CORNERSTONE IS LAID; ANOTHER FROG IS IN IT

Cisco Odd Fellows and Rebekahs returning from Eastland Saturday evening report that the cornerstone laying of the new court house was an eminent success in every particular. One of the largest crowds ever seen at Eastland was present, and the program as announced was carried out with the grand officers of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekahs conducting the ceremonies.

A horned frog was placed in the new cornerstone. Several stated that they personally witnessed the act placing the reptile in the stone, in the event that their testimony is needed 31 years from now.

"There Shall Be No More Death" Is Text of Rev. Bascom Morton at O. W. Ford Funeral Service

The funeral sermon for Orus W. Ford, delivered Thursday afternoon by Rev. Bascom Morton, was taken from the fourth verse of the 21st chapter of Revelations, "There Shall Be No More Death." It was in part as follows:

There is no group of six words that brings to the human heart more joy and comfort than these six words, "There shall be no more death." If it were possible for us to make this announcement from God that there would be no more death in this world, imperfect and unideal as it is, it would be heralded with the greatest joy of any announcement that has ever been made in the world.

There is ideal time to die. The greatest passion is its hate of life. The next greatest passion is its hate of death. There is only one stronger impulse than these, it is despair and the end of despair is suicide. We all love life. We want to live. No normal person wants to die. If we could announce to the world that there would be no more deaths, how happy we would be. We would return to our homes although knowing that other things would move on as they had before, knowing we would continue to suffer disappointments, heartaches, trials and tribulations; but yet with all these if we could know that death would never come, how wonderful it would be.

On every hand we hear of homes being broken up by death. The human race has many enemies, but death is the worst enemy. And these enemies have ever been warring against our happiness and well being; and our powers to resist them are limited. There comes times when we have to stand by and see as it were the hand of the unseen do its work. These enemies of the human race we hate. It is not as our Father first planned. When our Father made this world, he said everything was good. Then when he came to make man, he paused for a moment and looked for a model, but finding none in the physical universe satisfactory to himself, he retreated into the secret recesses of his domestic tranquility and said: "Let us make man in our own image." So created he then male and female and placed them in the beautiful garden. Man was made in the likeness of God, was made as pure and holy. The attributes and characteristics of this man were the same as the attributes and characteristics of God.

But we find that the scene soon changed. There comes an enemy in that palatial home and in a little while the enemy has come in and broken up that beautiful home and these were driven away from the presence of God. "In the image of God created he them" and man goes out to battle with the enemies of his soul. The ground is cursed for his sake. Thorns and thistles came forth. Trials and tribulations, disappointments, heartaches, disease of soul, mind and body, and even death, he is now to battle with. Man finds himself unequal to the task, but God the Father does not cease to love him nor to be interested in his eternal welfare and through the ages, He, too, has been fighting the enemies of our well being and has planned a means by which these may be preaching and believing that this enemy has been conquered and this great announcement in our text has been brought cheer and comfort to our hearts. So we say "There shall be no more death." Why then must we taste death? When man's will did not coincide with God's will, sin entered into the world and death by sin. And so death was passed upon all man because of his having sinned and come short of the goal of God. It is appointed unto man to once die and after that judgment.

The word for death in the New Testament is not death, but is spoken of as sleep. Jesus said "Let us go wake Lazarus out of sleep." The disciples said, "If he sleeps he does well. Let us not awaken him." And Jesus was grieved that they were so stupid and was forced to say to them, "He is dead." Jesus had robbed death of its sting. He has robbed the grave of its victory. So we are able to say of our brother whose body lies here before us, "He is not dead, but sleepeth."

I want to call your attention to the condition under which these wonderful words are spoken. Have you read the description of that wonderful home God has prepared for us. Jesus said to his disciples just before he went away that night: "Let not your hearts be troubled; believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I come again, and will receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. And whither I go, ye know the way." We are told that city lies four square. We are told that its foundation is twelve precious stones; that the street of that city is paved with gold and that every man will have frontage on that street. We are told, also that the gates are pearl and that there are twelve of these gates and that they are not closed by day for there is no night there. We are told that God sits on the throne and coming out from this throne is the river of life upon whose banks grows the tree of life, which brings forth its fruit in season and this fruit has the power of perpetrating forever the existence of those who eat thereof. We are told that Jesus will lead us to the living foundations of water and we shall reign with Him forever and ever. We are told that we are to be as the angels of God and as David has explained it, "We shall there wake with his likeness and be satisfied." We are told also that no sin shall enter there. We are told that nothing of abomination or that loveth a lie shall enter this place. No sin, no sorrow no heartaches and that God himself shall wipe away all tears. We are told that "Kings shall bring their honor and glory into it." We are told that we shall meet our loved ones that we have lost for awhile. But best of all we are to meet our blessed savior. We are to look on him whom we have pierced. We are to look on him who has done so much for us and has led us to victory in every battle of life. We need no candle there, no sun, no moon, no artificial light of any kind for the glory of God and the Lamb is the light.

Here the future is unknown to us and we know not how to plan for it, but there we know that nothing that shall ever mar our happiness or pleasure can come to interfere for the former things are passed away. But who is to share in the joys of this heavenly home and this eternal bliss? Those who have repented of their sins and have accepted the offering that God has made as a sacrifice for their sin, even Jesus Christ the righteous. These shall have an abundant entrance into the home beyond the skies and we are so much comforted in the fact that a few months previous to the going of our brother, whose body lies before us, he made this great choice, accepting the Christ as his savior; and joy unspeakable and full of glory flooded his soul. But before this change he was a clean man, a man of honor, a man of integrity. What a wonderful character he was as we knew him and how happy we were when we heard that he had made this choice.

The loss is great. Of course the dear companion has sustained the greatest loss. But in our sorrow and in our grief, we can say as David said at the going of his little one, "We can not bring him back, but we can go to him."

May God's rich grace supply your every need, bind up your broken hearts and comfort you in our sincere prayer.

2 COMPLAINTS FILED AGAINST YOUNG FISHERS

Complaints have been filed in the city court for violations of the city fishing regulations. Two of these cases are on the docket. One is against a young white boy, who is charged with catching fish under-size. The police blotter shows that this party was seen to have a string of fish, among the number being a few bass. When told his fish were too small, the boy is said to have tossed the fish, still on the string, back into the lake. A complaint was filed against a colored boy for fishing without procuring a license.

Trammell stepped out of a car as Wells with Deputy Sheriff Sam Clark of Winters, passed by. After the first shot Wells fell and crawled toward a pressing parlor. A second shot struck him in the hips. He crawled into the shop and Trammell followed, the third shot striking Wells in the head, Clark declared.

Parties Known to Ciscoan. "I am well acquainted with both parties in this tragedy," said R. S. Elliott, salesman of the Collins Hardware Co. "In fact I know the Trammell family quite well, and remember the circumstances of the first killing, when Wells killed Phillip Trammell. The affair occurred in the store of my brother, Frank Elliott, in Sweetwater. But at the time of the slaying of Trammell by Wells, Trammell was said to have approached Wells with an open knife while the latter was seated. The shooting followed. The Trammell family have the reputation of possessing plenty of nerve, and I am not surprised when I heard that one of the family had avenged the death of Phillip Trammell."

PUTS PIGS ON REAL SPREE

Are pigs prohibitionists? Let J. W. Tickner tell it. Tickner is a minister of the gospel, and of course there is no question about the story he narrates. "Guy Morris and C. D. Phillips are keeping a bunch of pigs at my place, and Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Phillips drive out each day and feed the swine. They are beauties, too—I mean the pigs but these young women are not lacking in pulchritude, at that. On a recent visit, as is their custom, they came out with the feed and found one of the pigs stretched out on the ground apparently just ready to depart for pig heaven. Others were squatting around trying to masticate tomato cans. The girls rushed back to town and informed their husbands that something was dreadfully wrong with the pigs. Morris exceeded the speed limit in getting the veterinarian out to save the hogs. The veterinarian, after a careful examination, during which he attempted to arouse the pigs from their stupor, found them to be normal in his diagnosis. Their pulse were normal, the thermometer showed no abnormal or sub-normal temperatures, so he decided that there must be some other cause of the strange condition of the swine. After one glance in the slop can he reached a decision. "Drunk," was his laconic diagnosis. The veterinarian found some wormy raisins in the slop can, and these had fermented, which the pigs had devoured, causing them to get "hog drunk." Next morning they seemed no worse for their spree, with the possible exception of slight headaches and dark brown tastes in their mouths. "Hope charges will not be filed against the girls for 'transporting intoxicating beverages,' whatever that means."

INTEREST IN WILD CAT WELL

Much interest is being shown in this section in the wildcat well being drilled by Tom Bryant on the T. N. Pinkston estate three miles northeast of here. Pay is expected in some of the shallow sands but in the event that they are not found, it is probable that the well will be drilled to the Ellenberger lime which is found near 3500 feet in this area. The well is now drilling near 1500 feet and obtained a nice showing of oil at 1452. An appreciable amount of oil together with a small pocket of gas was found in the sand which is thought to be the same as that found at Cross Plains.

Bradstreet-Mahlstedt Well South of Cross Cut Flowing Better Than 600 Barrels After 15-Quart Shot

CROSS PLAINS, May 12.—The most important feature of development during the past week within the trade territory of Cross Plains has been the discovery of L. G. Bradstreet-Mahlstedt oil company, three miles south of Cross Cut who topped the pay at 1210 feet and after 18 feet of pure sand and three feet of sandy lime had been drilled started flowing at the rate of 300 barrels an hour. The sand was found to be much harder than usual in the sands in this section and was given a 15-quart shot Wednesday with hopes of increasing the flow. The first 24 hour gauge showed the well to be flowing a bit more than 600 barrels and when thoroughly cleaned it was thought that this mark would be bettered.

The Bradstreet-Mahlstedt well is located 3460 feet from the west and 1170 feet from the north line of the J. B. Eubank 1278-acre tract. Robert Mitchell survey No. 141. Heretofore all drilling has been to the south of the discovery well on the Eubank but this well is northwest and gives a half-mile extension in that direction.

Eight locations have been announced in the vicinity of the spudders have started work on ground these locations. A rig has been moved on the ground offsetting the producer to the east by Cranfill & Reynolds. A second offset south has been made by the Sineclair Oil company and the third machine which has moved in is located 300 feet east and 300 feet south on Cranfill & Reynolds' lease.

Two additional locations have been staked by Cranfill & Reynolds, being their No. 3-A and No. 4-A, the former being 300 feet east and 300 feet north of the Bradstreet-Mahlstedt well and the latter 300 feet east and 600 feet south.

L. G. Bradstreet and Mahlstedt Oil company have two locations which are offsets to their No. 1 Eubank, one of which is 300 feet west and the second 300 feet north.

Offsetting Sineclair's No. 1 Eubank being drilled, a second location has been staked 300 feet west.

Across the bayou and approximately one-half mile south, Baker & Hodges started up again after a shutdown because of a dispute with Cranfill & Reynolds as to whether or not they are on their own lease. The boundary lines were run and it has been discovered that the test is located on a 9 acre strip between the 80 acre lease of Cranfill & Reynolds and 40 acre lease of Baker & Hodges. This strip has since been bought by Baker & Hodges who will complete the well within the next few days.

Two tests failed to find the pay approximately one and one-half miles southwest. The Humble Oil & Refining Co. missed the sand entirely on their John W. Lewis No. 1 located 150 feet north and 150 feet from the west line of the Lewis farm. R. G. Milliken survey No. 142. The Simms Oil company missed the sand at the expected depth and after drilling on past the Fry sand without finding pay are resuming drilling for a deeper test.

Ten miles southwest of Cross Plains near the Hickman pool in Eastland county, Gilman & McMurray completed a small producer which will presently pump 15 or 20 barrels. The sand of the Hickman No. 3-A was touched at 1235 feet and top feet of the sand drilled followed by as much shale

3 PRODUCERS ARE ADDED TO HICKMAN FIELD

RISING STAR, May 12.—Three new producers and one dry hole have been added to the Hickman pool during the past week. The Phillips Petroleum company got a 200 barrel well on their Hickman No. 12 at the north end of the Hickman pool, while Gilman and McMurray's Hickman No. A1 is in the 200 barrel class. At the south end of the pool the Cone Production Co. on their Hickman No. C1 drilled in a dry hole. Offsetting this dry hole to the west the Annabelle Oil Co.'s No. 2 Hickman is swabbing 25 barrels. Gilman and McMurray's Hickman No. A. 3 is drilling at 955 feet. The Midland Oil Company's No. 3 has fishing job at 1075 feet. The Midland Oil Company is spudding on its Butler No. 4 which is 300 feet west of their No. 1. The Cone Production Co. is rigging up on their Hickman C. 2, while the Phillips Petroleum Company is rigging up on

JOHNSTON GROCERY INTO NEW HOME ABOUT JUNE 1

W. K. Johnston suburban grocer, conducting a store on G avenue between Broadway and Ninth street, will move to his new brick store on the corner of G avenue and Broadway about June 1. The new store is 25 by 75 feet, fronting on West Broadway, and is the last business house west on that street. It is a substantial building, and will have a plate glass front, with modern fixtures. Joe Clements has the contract and work on the main building will be finished in a few days, Johnston said, but the remainder of the time between then and June 1 will be consumed in building the fixtures and getting the building arranged for occupancy.

BRECKENRIDGE TO VOTE UPON BAND FOR CITY

BRECKENRIDGE, May 12.—An election has been called by the city commission to determine whether or not the citizens of Breckenridge desire to tax themselves for the maintenance of a municipal band. The election has been set for June 5 at the city hall.

The calling of this election followed presentation to the city commission of a petition signed by legally qualified voters asking that a tax to be set at the discretion of the commission but not to exceed three mills on the dollaretaliation for the support of a band be voted upon.

It is contemplated that a rate of one-half mill on the $100 valuation will be sufficient to support the band which is now maintained entirely at the expense of the schools.

"THE DOVE" ROMANTIC STORY OF RED COAST

Norma Talmadge in "The Dove"—her first United Artists Picture, is the feature at the Palace theater today and tomorrow. Based on Willard Mack's stage play, which ran for a year on Broadway, "The Dove" is a melodramatic, romantic tale of Costa

Roja, the "red coast." Miss Talmadge is supported by Noah Beery and Gilbert Roland. Roland West directed the picture from the scenario by Wallace Smith and Paul Bern. "The Dove" is the colorful, quick action narrative of a virtuous dance hall girl, a courageous young American employed in a gambling house, and "the best damn caballero in all Costa Roja." Don Jose Maria y Sandoval. Against a background of guitars, stilletos, roullette wheels, fine ladies and grand gentlemen, the characterization of Miss Talmadge as Dolores "The Dove," a beautiful dancer, comes to glowing life.

MILK HAS MORE "KICK" IN IT THAN ANY OTHER DRINK!

Does that sound strange? It may, but it is nevertheless true. There is more substantial nourishment in milk than in any other food drink. Healthy people drink milk because, in addition to its fine taste and its thirst-quenching power, it helps them to keep healthy. Sick persons are advised by physicians to drink milk in order to regain their strength.

Yes, milk has a "kick" to it; and unlike other drinks with a "kick," builds up the bodily tissues rather than tending to break them down. Be sure it's pasteurized.

STUDEBAKER'S $795 ERSKINE SIX

Sets Ten New Records by Traveling 1000 miles in 984 minutes

ON April 26, two strictly stock Erskine Club Sedans—exactly like those you can purchase from any Studebaker dealer—each traveled 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes.

The run took place at Atlantic City Speedway, and was supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association who verified the stock design of the cars.

As a result, ten new records for stock cars under $1000 were established by the Erskine Six. And Studebaker has demonstrated that its 76-year-old traditions for careful building are carried through in the design, materials and workmanship of this low-priced fine car—named for Albert Russel Erskine, Studebaker's president.

Although sold at the lowest price at which any Studebaker-built car was ever offered ($795 f. o. b. factory), Studebaker has not permitted any compromise in the materials or workmanship entering into the Erskine Six. That is why this car was able to travel 1000 miles at better than a mile a minute—why you can drive your Erskine Six 40 miles an hour even when NEW—why the Erskine is so economical to maintain and to operate.

A few minutes behind the wheel of the New Erskine Six will introduce you to a type of performance as sensational for its price class as that of the World's Champion Commander is to the field of higher priced cars.

Tax Valuation Raise Needed for New West Ward School

Bond Issue Would Not Be Given Attorney General's Approval Is Belief of Education Board Chief

"The members of the school board have received many inquiries recently wanting to know when the bond issue for erecting a new West Ward school building will be submitted to the people," F. W. Wright, president of the school board for the Cisco Independent school district, said Saturday. "To all of these inquiries we have answered the matter has not yet been passed upon finally, and no decision has been reached."

"The outstanding bonds are about all that our present resources can take care of, and unless there is some increase in the property valuation I hardly think more bonds could be legally issued, nor would our present revenue enable us to take care of other bonds and maintain the Cisco schools at their present efficiency. It is my opinion that we would have little trouble in getting Cisco people to vote a bond issue to build a new West Ward building, but the probabilities are that the attorney general would fall to approve the issue with our present taxable values as they now are. Before a bond issue can secure the approval of the authorities the district voting the bonds must show taxable values sufficient to take care of the interest and sinking fund of the bonds sought. At present the property valuation will not permit additional bonds. It now requires 66 2-3 per cent of the present revenues to take care of the outstanding bonds, and the remaining 33 1-3 per cent is barely sufficient to maintain the schools. In fact the schedule established some time ago of increasing the salaries of the teachers each year they remain with the schools will have to be suspended, and for that reason the schools may lose some of the best teachers."

"So the condition that confronts the Cisco schools at this time can only be cured by a larger property valuation. This can be done by every person rendering his property for its full value, or by a more complete rendition—that is by rendering all the property the taxpayers possess. Many people fail to render their household property, and very few, if any, pay taxes on money and jewels. The assessor is now taking the renditions and the board has instructed him to make an appeal to the loyalty of Cisco people to make full renditions of all the property they possess, and to put their property in at full value.

"The impression prevails that taxable values in Cisco are really lower than they should be. The valuations for school taxes are something in excess of $7,000,000. I am informed by fire insurance agents that the companies are carrying risks on over $20,000,000 of property in Cisco. This statement is made in face of the fact that real estate is not insured, and therefore not included in this insurance. Then, too, there is much property in the school district not in the corporate limits of Cisco. With these facts before me I am bound to conclude that the valuations of Cisco independent school district could be raised at least an additional million dollars and still not hurt anybody's purse. With the revenue from this additional rendition the schools could function satisfactorily, but unless the people of Cisco manifest a spirit of loyalty and patriotism the schools will be put to desperate straits to maintain that which seems to be imperative."

"Some tax payers have voluntarily offered to increase their renditions to more than the actual value of their property, but the board does not think this would be fair unless most of the other taxpayers should do the same thing. Such action, while it shows the loyalty of those making the offer to the schools, would not be necessary if all would pay their school taxes promptly and increase their renditions when the assessor calls on them. Or better still, go around to the business secretary's office and raise your valuations voluntarily.

"It looks like we cannot get along without another school building to replace West Ward, but there is only one way to get the building and that is by a larger property valuation for school taxes."

yield than the average 25 acres cultivated in the usual manner. "Insects and plant pests are the most serious problem," he said, "and the man who expects to grow trees and shrubs without spraying is out of luck. Spraying should be done once each week, but by carefully looking after the plants I spray when I think necessary. The insects get into the buds and bleed the plants to death if not sprayed," he said.

"The Chinese elm is one of the most hardy plants for West Texas, but its propagation is difficult. I planted 15,000, but only succeeded in saving about 2,000. Once started the Chinese elm grows rapidly and makes splendid shade and beautiful ornamental trees. The oldest and largest Chinese elm in Texas is said to be in Dallas. It is six years old, one foot in diameter and 35 feet tall."

The nursery is equipped with portable sprays that are kept in operation at all times needed during the dry season. These water sprays irrigate the trees, plants and vegetables.

There is a nice orchard of 100 peach trees in bearing on the grounds in addition to his nursery stock, of which there are 63 varieties of evergreens and 80 varieties of trees and blooming shrubs, among which are those best adapted to West Texas, but other plants are also being propagated. Salasmas oranges were seen, the Chinese tallow tree and even the long leaf yellow pine are growing in the nursery. Mr. Ely said the East Texas yellow pine was exceedingly hard to get started, and he only saved two of the several he planted.

Ordinarily the Cisco Floral company was on Twelfth street, where the greenhouse still stands, but it will be removed entirely to the location on the Bankhead. Ely said, A greenhouse of the latest design and large enough to take care of the business for many years, will be erected there this fall. An office building will also be built adjoining the greenhouse. Already Ely has built a splendid stucco residence on this property, containing 14 rooms. There is a first floor and basement, the latter being the Ely home, which is several degrees cooler than the floor above, on which is an apartment that is rented. Only the music room on the first floor is reserved by Ely as his is a musical family, the members of which play several different instruments.

SHACKELFORD DRILL REPORT OIL ACTIVITY

ALBANY, May 12.—Most of the wells completed in this county during the week are centered about the area in which the Tannehill Oil company uncovered in its Matthews a three mile east extension of the Cook pool. Five wells were completed in the territory during the period. They are:

Petroleum Production company's Matthews No. 3, section 28, ET survey, at a total depth of 1148 feet, with an initial production of 100 barrels daily.

Tannehill Oil company's Matthews 2-27 ET survey, section 27, at a total depth of 1162 feet, with an initial production of 20 barrels.

Tannehill Matthews No. 2-33, at a total depth of 1165 feet, with an initial production of 30 barrels.

E. M. Treat Oil & Gas company Matthews No. 2, section 33, ET survey, at a total depth of 1170 feet, with an initial production of ten barrels on the pump.

E. M. Treat Oil & Gas company's Matthews No. 3, section 33, ET survey, at a total depth of 1167 1/2 feet, with an initial production of 240 barrels flowing.

mated at 200 barrels daily in a sand between 1135 and 1157 feet. This well is in section 33, ET survey. The same company's Matthews No. 3-33, section 33, ET survey, has missed the Cook sand. It is now drilling at 1198 feet. No. 4-33, section 33, ET survey, is drilling at 450 feet; No. 33, in the same section and survey, of the Tannehill interests, is a location.

Roeser-Pendleton Oil Corp. has abandoned one well, its Cook 1-A-53 of the ET survey, at 2600 feet. This well carried down from the normal pay level of the field, failed to encounter deeper oil. Five other wells of the Roeser-Pendleton Corp. are drilling between 190 and 370 feet. All of these are on the Cook leases.

Big State Oil company's Rus-

Cisco Floral and Nursery Co. Shows Steady Growth; 40,000 Trees, Shrubs and Green House Plants, Vegetables

The Cisco Floral and Nursery Co. is an institution in which all Cisco should take a pride. Starting with a modest beginning several years ago J. A. Ely, the proprietor, has one of the best little nurseries and floral plants in this section of West Texas. His nursery is on the Bankhead highway, in the eastern city limits, where he has three acres under intensive cultivation and irrigation. Water to irrigate his plants is obtained from the city water, and he says the cost is not prohibitive—in fact, very reasonable, he thought. He stated the highest bill for water during any single month was $20, and he had plenty of water to keep his plants growing. He has about 40,000 trees and shrubs growing in his nursery at this time, in addition to his green house plants, besides the vegetables grown under irrigation, which include most of the garden varieties.

An interesting feature of his plants was the fingerling shrubs, bought when two or three inches long. These were planted in rows 18 inches wide, six inches in the drill. Several thousand of these little fellows are hearty and growing nicely, which he said would be ready to transplant this fall.

Ely stated that on his three acres of land he has as many plants as would be found on the average 25 acre farm in the county, but by irrigation and intensive cultivation he has produced better

L. Shaffner, commercial division manager of the Oakland Motor Car company. The cars are to be used in the Hertz Service at Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Louisville and Atlanta. The purchase of the huge fleet is the result of a "sample order" of 25 cars which the Hertz corporation tested during 1927. The original group of cars, driven by many hundreds of different Hertz patrons, displayed such a high degree of economy and durability that the second order was placed for March delivery. The Oakland and Pontiac sixes meet the requirements of fleet users to such an extent that a list of the nationally-known companies which provide these cars for the use of salesmen and other employes represents practically every branch of American industry. Elliott, of the Elliott Drug stores, reports an excellent business for Saturday and is sure confidence in the early beginning of the new hotel construction has had much to do with the increased buying during the past week. He is of the opinion that constructive planning has a large influence on trade, and thinks that this talk should continue until action has been secured on these plans. Efforts were made Saturday night to get expressions from other merchants not quoted here, but they were too busy to answer the telephone at that time and the matter was not pressed. From this indication, added to the expressions above, it is safe to presume that the big increase in local trading circles was very general Saturday.
