CURTIS IS PAIRED WITH HOOVER

Business Men Take Cow Census

Kansas Senator Is Nominated for Vice President by Republicans by Acclamation as Others Withdraw

Nearly 30 Ciscoans Go Out into Rural Districts for Information Needed to Bring Milk Plant Here

WHO BUT HOOVER

Meet Herbert Hoover, the smiling gentleman above. He has a right to smile because the Republican party has nominated him as its candidate for president. Despite determined opposition to him, his nomination has been a foregone conclusion for several days.

OBSERVANCE OF FLAG DAY DRAWS MANY

Charmingly and impressively staged was the program rendered Thursday evening in observance of Flag Day by Cisco Lodge No. 1379, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, at their club home. A large crowd was in attendance, both Elks and their families, and many not affiliated with the order.

Nearly 30 Cisco business men entered the field this morning, going into various school districts in the territory surrounding Cisco, for the purpose of taking the census of dairy cows and obtaining such other information pertaining to the dairy interest that might be available in the establishment of a milk plant in Cisco. They were guests of the chamber of commerce for breakfast.

'WILL GIVE MY BEST,' HOOVER WIRES MOSES

KANSAS CITY, June 15.—Herbert Hoover today sent Senator George H. Moses a telegram of appreciation for the honor conferred upon him and said: "I elected by my fellow countrymen I shall give the best within me to advance the moral and material welfare of all our people and uphold the traditions of the Republican party so effectively exemplified by Calvin Coolidge."

Stabbed in Arm

Mme. Jeritza, famous opera singer, was accidentally stabbed in the arm during a performance in Vienna, when the knife with which Menelaus is supposed to kill Helen slipped and slashed her severely just below the left shoulder. Jeritza, who was playing the role of Helen, caused her arm to be bandaged and continued with the second act of the opera.

'ALL SUCCESS' FOR HOOVER IS COOLIDGE WISH

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 15.—President Coolidge, who is spending the summer near here, today wired his congratulations to Herbert Hoover on his nomination for the presidency. He said: "You have been nominated for the most important position in the world. Your great ability and wide experience will enable you to serve our party and country with great distinction. I wish you all the success your heart could desire. May God continue to bestow upon you the power to do your duty."

DEMOC COUNTY EXECUTIVES TO MEET MONDAY

Ed T. Cox, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, has called the committee to meet at the city hall in Eastland at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. The committee will have two important matters to dispose of at this meeting, in addition to routine affairs, and these are determining the order in which the names of candidates shall be placed on the ballot and assessing the candidates in such sums that will be sufficient to pay the expenses of holding the two primary elections. It is important that every member of the committee be present at this meeting.

REBEKAH OFFICERS NAMED

The semi-annual election of officers of Goodwill lodge, Daughters of Hebeah, at the regular meeting Thursday night, resulted as follows: Miss Ruth Jensen, noble grand; Mrs. Ida Kennon, vice grand; Mrs. Earl Young, secretary; to serve out the unexpired term of Mrs. Leola Rae, resigned. The tenure of the office of secretary is one year, others are for six months.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTERS
The Republican convention at Kansas City could have concluded business and adjourned in 30 minutes if it had cared to do so. Practically all the real business was settled before the convention was called to order. The rest of the proceedings were held merely to give some of the delegates a chance to air themselves in the public print and to "strut their stuff" before their fellows. Then, it wouldn't have been fair to Kansas City, after paying so much for it, to get so little out of the convention. The contesting delegations from Texas were "entertaining" until it didn't matter which side won except for the pleasure of getting classes to the pleasure in seeing Hoover elected. For real thrills a Texas precinct convention beats the show that was pulled in Kansas City, and yet there were some who paid $50 just for a ticket to be in at the shouting.

WALL STREET ROCKED—Wall Street has experienced the most penky selling wave in its history with over five million shares of stocks selling in a day as compared with about three hundred thousand less than that number in the disastrous break of March, 1928. The only way to be at all sure of not getting caught in Wall Street penics is to stay clear of Wall Street, and speculative stocks.

UTILITIES PUBLICITY—The Texas "Public Service" Information Bureau" admittedly spends about $16,000 a year in placing favorably publicity before the people of Texas. The service is too cheap for the returns obtained if that is all that is spent by all the public utility companies operating in the state. Doubtless it is not, for while the combined utility companies maintain a bureau at Dallas, each of the public utility companies are expected to gather and disseminate the facts.

REFRIGERATOR PUBLICITY—Ice manufacturers and makers of storage refrigerators are having to organize publicity bureaus to keep from losing their business to the small refrigerating machines being introduced so generally in the homes and business houses. A few years ago such a thing would have been wholly unnecessary, but ice refrigeration is undergoing a radical change from the old ice storage home. It has not been a great many years since people believed that manufactured ice was unhealthful. Publicity was needed to show that this belief was unsound. Wherever there is progress or change public opinion has to be created favorable to it, and established business has to fight to hold every inch of ground gained. Publicity is the handmaid of progress and the bulwark of established methods.

WOOL RATES MAINTAINED—A fight has been made to cancel the concentration rates on wool and mohair which have allowed growers to ship their products to concentration points in Texas and reship after cheap sales at the straight rate that obtains from the originating shipping point. The growers have succeeded in maintaining the concentration rates, thus saving, they claim, about 3 cents a pound to the producer. Texas is producing about one-half of the wool and mohair of the United States, about 95 per cent of the being in West Texas. The chief concentration and shipping points are San Angelo, Del Rio, Kerville, San Saba, Brady, Menard and Llano.

ROSWELL, SNYDER & GULF—It is stated that more than $1,500,000 has been subscribed for financing a railroad to be known as the Roswell, Snyder & Gulf Railroad from Roswell, New Mexico, through Brownfield to Snyder, and that contracts for grading 170 miles will be let June 20. This is another of the railway projects having Corpus Christi in view as its Gulf terminus. It begins to look like the building of a line from Corpus Christi, through San Antonio and San Angelo and on to the northwest may be an earlier realization than most people have expected.

LONGVIEW'S SPIRIT—Longview, the home town of the East Texas chamber of commerce, believes in that organization and is supporting it. The enterprising East Texas city presented the East Texas chamber a $30,000 home, and a committee raised its quota for maintaining the work another year in two hours. Can any Texas city beat that record in any progressive movement it undertakes?

THE WEATHER.
WEST TEXAS: Tonight and Saturday continued warm, probably local showers.

INCH AND HALF RAIN AND WIND HIT CISCO

The Cisco Country was visited by another deluge Thursday night, accompanied by a high wind of near hurricane proportions. The precipitation was of comparatively short duration, but the rainfall registered 1 1/2 inches in the gauge at the city hall, and there was a rise of 5 1/2 inches in Lake Cisco. In this connection it is recalled by those who remember the early history of Lake Cisco that when the lake was first filling an inch and one-half rain fall would cause a rise of 10 feet in the surface of the lake. The difference is accounted for by reason of the increased surface of the water.

MANILA IS SHAKEN BY LIGHT EARTH TREMORS

MANILA, P. I., June 15.—Light earth tremors of prolonged duration shook Manila today but no damage was reported.

CHECKING AUTO REFUNDS

G. H. Heywood, with the federal revenue service, is in the Cisco Country checking refunds to auto dealers under the tax revenue act decreasing the tax on motor cars three per cent.

Ice Manufacturers and Dealers of West Texas Discuss Problems of Industry While Cisco Guests

Cisco was host Thursday to the ice manufacturers and dealers of the district of West Texas, when representatives of about twenty cities were present. The sessions were held at Lake Cisco, and the visitors were the luncheon guests of P. P. Shepard, manager of division B, of the West Texas Utilities Co., and his assistant, Raymond A. Williams, at the Cisco Country club. During the business session the body discussed the various problems of their business, improved methods of manufacture and sales service. The chief topics discussed were improvement of service to the customer, the latest development in ice boxes, the employment of a home economist for demonstrating to customers, temperatures, etc. T. T. Harris, of Abilene, was elected president, and P. W. Campbell, also of Abilene, was named as secretary. Abilene was chosen as the convention city for the fall meeting. While in Cisco the visitors were the guests

BOSTON, June 15.—Governor Alvan T. Fuller, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the vice presidential nomination on the Republican ticket declared today that "I am not a candidate for any office."

KANSAS CITY, June 15.—Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, was nominated for vice president this afternoon by acclamation at the Republican national convention after the other candidates for that office had withdrawn.

KANSAS CITY, June 15.—That the Republican party is apprehensive of the bitterness that prevails in the agricultural states of the middle west and intends to attempt to alleviate the ruffled feelings of the farmers was seen here today when shortly after the sixth session of the national convention got under way, it became apparent that Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, had received the approval of Republican leaders for the vice presidency.

Curtis was one of the "die-hard" candidates for the presidency from the agrarian states. While he never enjoyed the prestige as a farm leader that Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, does, leaders of the Republican party believe he is possessed of sufficient influence with the farmers to maintain the middle west in the Republican column in November. It is understood that Herbert Hoover, presidential candidate, has warmly endorsed Curtis as his running mate.

The swing to Curtis became evident when large eastern delegations, like New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, caused a solid vote for Curtis this morning. Other states took similar action thereafter. Senator Borah, Idaho, began his nominating speech for Curtis at 1:15 and paid high tribute to the Kansas "die-hard" candidate, loyalty to the administration and devotion to the interests of the whole country. Senator Bingham, Connecticut, had previously placed the name of Representative John Q. Tilson in nomination. As Borah concluded most of the delegates were standing.

At this time word was passed around that Colonel Hanford MacNider, former national commander of the American Legion who had received the endorsement of all veteran organizations for the vice presidency, had declined to permit his name to go before the convention. This was confirmed within a short time when Iowa was reached in the roll call of states for nomination. Maine yielded to Massachusetts and B. Loring Young placed in nomination the name of Governor Alvin T. Fuller. Loring painted Fuller in glowing terms and asked the convention to again turn to Massachusetts for its vice presidential candidate.

"Our state is a training field for the presidency," he said. "In 1920 the Republican party nominated Calvin Coolidge for the vice presidency and he later became president by the greatest majority in history." Michigan sent Judge Ira Jayne to the platform to nominate former Governor Chase S. Osborn, who declared it was the first time in many

SLATON'S BAND WILL PLAY IN CISCO SUNDAY

SLATON, June 15.—Slaton's delegation to the West Texas chamber of commerce convention in Fort Worth, June 18-20, will leave Slaton early Sunday, going via Abilene, Cisco and Mineral Wells. The party will include the Slaton band, with 34 members, and about an equal number of business men. An automobile caravan is being organized for transporting the entire delegation to the convention. Upon arrival at Cisco Sunday afternoon, the Slaton band will give a brief concert before proceeding on the journey to Fort Worth.

MOTHER OF MRS. MILLER DIES TODAY AT ABILENE

Mrs. John B. Goodnight, mother of Mrs. Acker C. Miller, died at her home in that city this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Funeral services will be held in the Baptist church of Abilene Sunday afternoon at 4:30. Rev. and Mrs. Miller have been at her bedside since Wednesday.

Runnels Co. 4-H Club Boys and Girls Inspect Farm of R. Q. Lee and Make Merry as City's Guests at Lake Cisco

A party of 4-H club boys and girls, headed by C. W. Lehmberg, county agent, and Mrs. Hollingsworth, home demonstrator of Runnels county, were Cisco visitors Thursday. They inspected the R. Q. Lee diversified farm, the club members studying methods and equipment of that model farm. There were about 45 in the party that arrived in Cisco about 10 o'clock and reported to the chamber of commerce. They were taken in charge by J. C. Patterson, county agent, E. H. Varnell, vocational agriculturist of the high school and chamber of commerce, and Secretary Peters and escorted to the Lee farm. The forenoon was spent in inspecting the farm, equipment, cattle and poultry, after which the club boys judged the cattle, hogs and poultry. In the afternoon members of the party were given rides on Lake Cisco in boats of the Lake Cisco Amusement Co. and the Bleas Motor Co. The visitors were taken to places of interest at Lake Cisco, including the Country club grounds, state fish hatchery, zoo and the swimming pool, where they enjoyed a swim. This feature proved one of the most enjoyable to the younger members of the party, and it was at a late hour when they left the water to prepare for their return home. The party consisted of Lehmberg, Mrs. Hollingsworth, Ballinger, J. G. Gillespie, livestock specialist, Abilene; Selma Kauffus, Rowena Augusta Urbanke, Wilburn M. Wright, Gustav Urbanke, Mrs. N. S. Wright, Mrs. G. F. Edwards, Wesley Urbanke, Fred Edwards, Miles, Edgar Porter, W. L. Porter, Richard E. Homann, vocational agriculturist, Mrs. W. L. A FULLY ADULT NATION.

The United States has definitely grown up. The swaddling clothes stage of its existence is forever past.

Not so very long ago we were the precocious child among nations. It was the general custom to kindly pat the growing child on the head and remark that it might amount to something some day if it carefully emulated its elders.

The order of things has been suddenly reversed. The one-time baby of nations is the center of the amazed eyes of its once patronizing elders.

It was a healthy child and grew to manhood with unforeseen rapidity. It left the nursery to become a world leader in industry, in business and in finance.

We took the best the old world had to offer and embellished it with new qualities of shrewdness, progressiveness and unprecedented foresight. The result is the greatest industrial civilization the world has known.

At the beginning of any life there is bound to be experiment. It is a necessity of eager youth. What waste it causes is the price of progress.

We have sifted the good from the bad. We have found stability; we have blazed our trail along sound economic lines. We have exalted and striven toward an ideal—the uttermost efficiency.

America produced 70 per cent of the world's petroleum and 55 per cent of the copper. We have 85 per cent of the world's automobiles and also an overwhelming majority of the telephones. Our railroads are beyond comparison. We have displayed unparalleled ingenuity in the production and use of gas and electricity.

We have set ourselves a standard of living that has made necessities of luxuries. Our high wage scale and the mechanical power commanded by the worker has made that standard possible.

PSYCHIATRIC CLINICS.

The psychiatric clinic in a large city was about to go out of business for lack of funds. The probate court had been sending doubtful cases for examination, paying the doctors a fee. There were not enough cases to keep the doctors busy. Many judges who had experience with the excellent work of the clinic felt that the community could not afford to let it fail, so they recommended that judges in criminal cases refer them to the clinic when they are referred to the probation department. This will keep the clinic going, they believe, until the state legislature can put it on a salary basis. Of all the factors trying to work towards justice, the psychiatric clinic would seem to be among the most necessary. Finding out the mental status of the criminal, the vagrant, the ward of the state is in many cases of vital import. Alienists paid by both sides of a case, each stating some of his knowledge and concealing some for the benefit of judge or jury, create a situation to make Justice weep. But referring a case of doubtful mentality to a clinic composed of several competent physicians who are free from economic determinism in the direction of one side or another, impartial, interested only in the scientific and human aspect of the work, is the move of sound sense. Some minds, like some bodies, are crippled for life; they can do some things safely, others not. Some minds, on the other hand, have acute illnesses, or illnesses slumbering latent for long periods, then coming to a head in some specific act. These are curable by the right treatment. A person with dementia praecox, for example, may need to be confined for a time, as scarlet fever needs quarantine. The mental patient, like the tuberculosis patient, may need long, watchful care, for his own sake and that of those around him. But if his illness is caught quick enough, he may be cured. Psychiatry is far from being an exact science. But it helps and is needed.

EUROPEAN EATS.

Europe may be poor, but it is eating our export foods to the extent of $1,250,000,000 a year and more. There is an ever increasing demand for what a writer in the Country Gentleman calls "semi-luxuries." Europe eats more and more of our fruits, fresh, dried and canned; vegetables likewise. Appetite is growing for our raisins, prunes, fresh apples, even grapefruit. It's good for us to export these things; it is better for Europe to eat them. Some of the malnourished look will disappear from pinched faces as fruits clear the skin, as raisins give color, as corn, peas and beans give weight. It takes time to get over a war, time to get people to liking strange foods. But it's a benefit circle. People who get a variety of fresh foods want more; they work harder to get more; as they get more they are able to do better work; then they are able to earn more; the whole standard of living goes up. This is a slow process, but keeps moving. People who can earn more, as Henry Ford is so fond of telling us, can buy more from us. Who can foresee what our raisins and canned grapefruit will yet do for the automobile and airplane market?

CHICKS AND RADIO.

A company which used to make incubators as its chief product, branched out into developing a corn husker, and into making novelty furniture. The result was the first bad year in eight. Not enough buyers wanted novelty furniture. Apparently they are not yet off with the antique love. Or perhaps they prefer solid stuff—possibly even the modernistic—to novelties. Then bad weather and high prices for feed cut down the sales of the incubators. The general effect was sad, to the tune of almost a hundred thousand dollars in the red. The company is not, however, down-hearted. The president says it has arranged to have another company manufacture the corn husker on a royalty basis, and it has contracted to furnish a radio company with cabinets. "Future prospects are favorable." There is more in this paragraph than the stuff of which magazine stories are made—though this is fabric for a good one. The economic history of the nation for the past few years can be read in it.

POTENTIAL PILOTS.

A tiny item in a New York paper tells of the invitation issued by the commandant at the army flying field on Governors Island to all would-be aviators. Young men and women of the metropolitan area who hope to learn to fly may come to the field on June 16 and take the physical tests required of an army pilot. Army physicians will note their reactions to the whirling and jouncing they must go through and will tell them whether they are fitted to pilot an airplane. If the one examined cannot keep his head when put in the turning chair and whirled and gyrated about unmercifully, his role will have to be that of passenger instead of pilot. New York ought to have a lot of potential pilots, come to think of it, because of the years of training its citizens have had on the roller-coaster and other bewildering devices at Coney Island.

17TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED BY SLATON TODAY

SLATON, June 15.—The city of Slaton is 17 years old today. It was formally opened by the Santa Fe railroad on June 15, 1911. When Slaton was nine years old the inhabitants numbered 1,325, according to the government census of 1920. The population now is estimated at 6,000, this figure being reached on the basis of scholastic enrollment and other definite statistics. There are 1,430 scholastic in Slaton in 1928, according to a complete census recently completed. Slaton's industrial and commercial expansion since 1920 has involved the chief growth realized. Building permits and public improvements during the last six years has averaged $350,000 annually, the heaviest record being made in 1927 when the total was $750,000. Many new industries and a program of civic development of large proportions have been witnessed in the last six years. There are now 25 blocks of paved streets in Slaton, a citywide street lighting system including a "white way" in the business district, a city hall costing $25,000 and located in a spacious block which is the center of the business section, a $20,000 club house surrounded by several acres of shade trees, flowers and grass in a public park, four public school buildings costing over $250,000, six handsome church buildings, 1,000 homes including some of the finest in West Texas, a modern telephone system completed in February at a cost of $77,000 and numerous other outstanding pieces of development. Agriculture and industry payrolls are the main factors in Slaton's resources. Crops produced in Slaton's trade territory in 1927, including poultry and dairy products, had a

SANTA FE ASKS TO BUY ALL OF ORIENT STOCK

WASHINGTON, June 15.—An application for authority to purchase control of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railroad was made to the interstate commerce commission Thursday by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad. The Orient line, 735 miles long, runs from Wichita, Kan., to Alpine, Texas, and it was recently reorganized after a prolonged receivership. The Santa Fe application said that its company now holds subscription rights to 14,361 shares of Orient stock out of a total of 35,000 such shares authorized and that it proposed to pay $414.50 per share for the stock it would acquire. The Santa Fe further expects to obtain all or a majority of the capital stock of the Orient company and it was added that the figure set represented a valuation of $14,000 a mile for the Orient line, considering the obligation of debts against the road. The commission was told in the Santa Fe's application that the figure agreed upon for the purchase represented "less than one-half of what it would cost to build the railroad today." During the financial straits of the Orient system in recent years, oil discoveries in the southwestern territory were made and traffic for it was increased to a point that enabled its operation to be made profitable again. Tenderloin

BY ARLINE de HAAS

SYNOPSIS
 Chuck White, the beau of the Tenderloin, is seated at a table in Kelly's Ringside Cafe, drinking beer with a man whom he addresses as "Sparrow." Sparrow reminds Chuck that he is due to "pull something big" later in the evening and cautions him to keep his mind on his work. The beau has been boasting of the impression he has made on lovely Rose Shannon, one of "Kelly's Girls," with whom he has been dancing. Later Chuck takes Rose home. In her room he makes passionate love to her. She struggles in vain. In desperation she hurls a clock at him. He drops to the floor.

CHAPTER III—Continued
 "Oh, God!" she murmured. "Oh, God, I've killed him!" She covered her mouth with her hand to keep from screaming aloud. She seemed paralyzed. She couldn't even set the clock back onto the stand. She stood dazed, just gazing about, as though she scarcely knew where she was. She had killed him! She would be a murderer. They would hang her! Send her to the electric chair! She must do something. She must! She must. Stark, cold terror gripped her heart. And then a low moan came from the lips of the man on the floor. The clock dropped from her business fingers. Its clatter made her jump. She felt as though someone had kicked her.

The cashier flung up his hands without further ado.

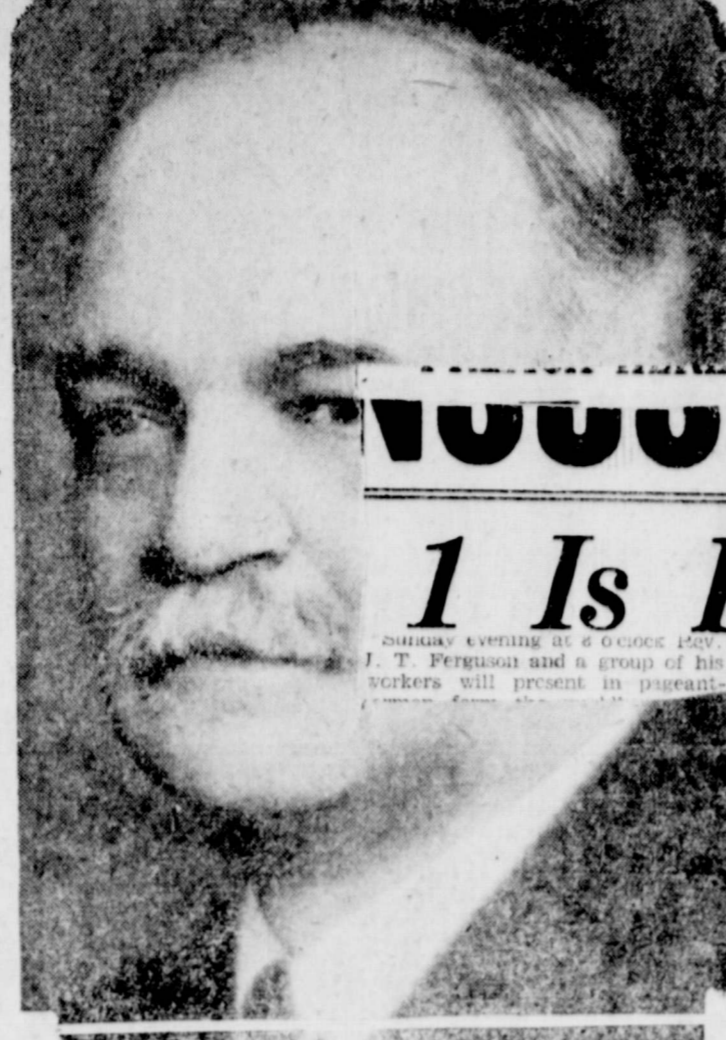

thing was choking her. But he wasn't dead—he wasn't dead! Thank God! Now she was slowly recovering her senses, and yet she couldn't move. All she could feel was a terrible hatred rising up within her, revolting her, making everything swim about her. Suppose he should come to while she was there. She must get away. That was the thing to do. Get away quickly before he found her. He seemed to be moving a little more, now. She must find some means of escape from this man who might suddenly rise up and pursue her. She mechanically she picked up the clock and set it back on the table with trembling hands. She must hurry, hurry. She looked about her, unseeing. Her bag—where was her bag. She would have to pack her clothes. It was raining. She must get some other clothes with her. She mustn't leave a thing behind—not a thing. No one must know where she had gone—but where should she go? There was no place she knew. It was late. The Tenderloin at night terrified her. But she must go. The sheer terror of being alone to move added an impetus to her steps. She searched about and found an old, imitation-leather bag, that she had brought with her when she had first come to New York.

The search did not take many moments, for her belongings were pitifully few. As she threw them into the satchel, two large tears rolled down her cheeks, but she brushed her hand across her eyes. She drew on her coat, wrapping it closely about her, and pulled the tight black felt hat down over the soft curls. Grasping the satchel, she made for the door and opened it. She paused only a second to look at the figure stretched out there on the floor. Then in terror she fled, closing the door behind her.

Down the stairs she went, slipping silently, glancing back as though she feared some one might be following her every moment. Her shadow on the wall, dancing grotesquely, made her heart leap up into her mouth. She ran down the last flight of stairs, flung open the door, and looked up and down the street. Not a soul in sight—only the black darkness of the night. The dripping rain splashed monotonously into the still puddles. An elevated overhead cut the air with a shrill grinding on the wet rails. The noise startled her, and with a quick step she was out and running hastily along the gleaming pavement.

LONG TRIP BY AUTOMOBILE IS NOW NO WORRY
 The mechanical reliability of the present day automobile is an important factor in the growing popularity of motor touring as a summer diversion. Not many years ago, the motorist seldom dared to venture far from town. If he did, he could be reasonably sure of spending the night in a farm house.

But times have changed. The motor car no longer is a mechanical question mark. It has gained in speed, comfort and above all in reliability. A thousand mile tour offers no greater mechanical hazard than a drive around the block. This, of course, is due to the untiring efforts of automotive engineers. Eternally seeking that elusive "something better," they have engineered the uncertainty out of the automobile.

No small part of this work has been done by the engineers of the Oakland Motor Car. Working in conjunction with the General Motors engineers, they have pioneered countless improvements which enable the tourist to start out, confidently in the knowledge that he will return intact and under his own power.

For instance, if the reader recalls the early days of mountain touring, he will remember at least two reasons for frequent roadside halts—the boiling radiator and the difficulty in feeding his engine sufficient gasoline on a long up-grade pull.

Today, in his Oakland or Pontiac six, he negotiates these same grades with ease. The cross-flow radiator, exclusive feature of the Oakland and Pontiac, is so designed that loss of water by evaporation is practically nil. Water that does vaporize in the engine is condensed and put back to work without being allowed to escape from the radiator cap.

Another feature is the fact that both cars are equipped with a positive fuel pump. Geared to the engine, this pump ignores the decreasing atmosphere pressure encountered at the higher altitudes and provides exactly the right amount of gasoline.

The GMR cylinder head standard on both Oakland and Pontiac, gives further assurance of uninterrupted touring pleasure. On the road, one frequently must buy any brand of gasoline that may be available. But gas is gas to the GMR head. It has no preferred brand. And it drinks in moderation.

These are some of the major reasons why the Oakland and Pontiac sixes are popular among tourists. The excess power and ease of handling permit sustained travel of 300 to 400 miles per day without fatigue, and the cars' mechanical stamina, combined with their long springs, Lovejoy shock absorbers and luxuriously cushioned interiors, make touring a comfortable delight instead of a hardy adventure.

PRIDE HOTEL OF EASTLAND IS COMPLETE

EASTLAND, June 15.—More than fifty years ago, C. U. Connellee, a young pioneer, surveyed Eastland and built a log cabin here; today Mr. Connellee joins with the 10,000 other citizens of Eastland in rejoicing at the completion of the $300,000 Connellee Hotel, built on the site of his humble log cabin.

Jesse H. Jones, whose name is on the lips of people throughout the nation, and his brother, John T. Jones of Houston, are builders of the magnificent hotel. The Jones interests, famous for their development in New York City, Houston and Fort Worth, have never before been interested in a city the size of Eastland.

The hotel has seven stories and a roof garden. There are 100 rooms, each with private bath, ceiling fans and ventilating doors. The furniture is especially made, and the color scheme of the rooms vary. The building is of light colored brick and was constructed by the Bellows-Masley Construction company, of Dallas. Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth is the architect.

COLOR THIS SEASON HAVE SUBTLE TOUCH

PARIS, June 15.—Color has no age-giving qualities, according to Paris' latest edict to the world of fashion which has long believed that certain shades were considered old and others quite the contrary.

The important thing, it seems to be, is how one applies color, its relation to one's coloring and its suitability to the time and place.

Colors this season, are subtle, forming combinations of such skill that they lose that sense of boldness which makes them dangerous to most women, and the water shades are jazzed up by brilliant touches which make them very attractive to the unfortunate anemic ones.

Lenief, for instance, makes pale grey brilliant and becoming to every woman, thus bringing the youthful dove tone as a possible color for every one. He also unites such strikingly opposed tones as beige and black in costumes that are ravishing for every complexion.

Yvonne Davidson, French wife of the American sculptor "Jo," is the innovator of the multiple color harmony in one frock which she produced first by making three or four frocks in one, each of a diaphanous material in as many different tones.

The rarest of pastel tones are used by Boue Sœurs to make frocks of the bouffant type, combined with the artistry of Pragonard.

Lucien Lelong is using shades that are distinctly subdued this season, as well as a great deal of black and white. He shows a special liking for the gamut of clear bronze for afternoon ensembles, clear shades to deep beige, always with a hint of bronze which makes a delightful contrast to blue-green for evening.

COMPANIONATE TRIAL DIVORCE MAKING DEBUT

CHICAGO, June 15.—And how Chicago enters the "companionate" field with a "trial companionate divorce."

The latest novelty in domestic relations was awarded Mrs. Lillian Speyer, of this city by Judge Sabath.

For two months, Mrs. Speyer is to continue living under the same roof as her husband, John—but not as a wife. She is to continue her relations as mother to her four children. She is even to continue to perform the household

Seeks Reno Divorce

After seven years as the wife of Rudolph Cameron, motion picture actor, Anita Stewart, long prominent in the film, has instituted suit for a divorce in Reno.

duties she has carried on since her marriage in 1911—but—

Instead of receiving as her compensation, a husband's love and affection, she is to receive a flat wage for her work, of $10 weekly.

If the trial divorce—with the companionate clause—is successful Judge Sabath intimated that it will be made permanent.

The originator of the trial companionate divorce is Mrs. Speyer, who suggested it to the court, when confronted with the dilemma of providing for her four children in case her divorce plea is granted. Ordinarily the courts have maintained that the divorced couple must live apart.

"But besides the children needing me," explained Mrs. Speyer, "John would also have a hard time living alone. I don't want to live with him as a wife because he has been so cruel to me. But if I am only a housemaid, I can give him notice any time he tries to beat me again."

"I don't know why it shouldn't work out if you are sincere," agreed Judge Sabath.

GRADUATION IN BIBLE SCHOOL TO BE TONIGHT

Commencement exercises of the Presbyterian first daily vacation Bible school will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the church. The public is invited.

Pupils will give a program reviewing the work that has been taught the past two weeks. The handbook will also be on display. The children have made things for themselves and for others. The quilt that the intermediate girls

One hundred children have been attending this school and twenty teachers under the supervision of Miss Stella Hovey, of Fort Worth, secretary of young people's work and Christian education of the Fort Worth presbytery. Everything has been free and all materials furnished but tonight a free fry the expenses.
