City Turns Trash Can To Merchants

Business matters discussed by City Aldermen at the regular meeting held at the City Hall Monday night concerned trash cans and changing of the zoning board membership.

City officials stated that the initial supply of trash cans had been exhausted and henceforth citizens would purchase these receptacles from Spearman business houses. Merchants handling the 30 gal. galvanized metal cans will be White House Lbr. Co., Foxworth Lbr. Co., Callaway Lbr. Co., Spearman Hardware, T. G. & Y. Store, and B & B Sales Co. Trash cans must have handles on both sides and be equipped with tight fitting lids.

Councilmen passed an ordinance adjusting the total number of members to serve on the Zoning Board from five men to seven. The two new members appointed to the Zoning Board of Adjustment will be named in the near future.

GRUVER LAD NOT INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Rex Shook, 6-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shook of Gruver, was placed in Hansford Hospital over the weekend for observation of possible injuries when the child was run over by a pickup.

The young lad was in the field with his father Sunday. Mr. Shook was setting irrigation tubes and the daughter was helping him by driving the pickup. Rex stepped in front of the pickup and could not be seen by his father who was driving. The back wheel of the truck passed over his stomach.

He was brought to Hansford Hospital for observation but was released Monday morning in fine shape.

How They Played The Game

By Chet Wise

Now, Friday was the date they set for the play upon the greens. That day, the Lions and Rotary met. All wearing their golfing jeans.

A hardy crew was gathered there on that long anticipated day. The weather forecast was for fair and things turned out that way.

Now the Lions had mighty M. L. Miller. But he lost a bit of face when Cope (the lion killer) put Mallard in his place.

Ab Abston did what he could do. To be the Lions great hope but when he finished forty two, He was even up with Cope.

Clay Gibner came in forty five. To help the Lions Club game but Guthrie's finish had him tied. Their scores were both the same.

Lion Dan Desmone sure was done. And finished with seventy three. When Turner came in with eighty one. To set the Rotarians free.

Anderson copped a forty six for the red hot Rotary team. Then Cunningham got in his ticks with forty five right on the beam.

Pete Fisher came to play the game. McWhirter as well as Donnell. Then Palmer and Woody Gibner came. And all played golf quite well.

Copeland carried out his dream. The Lions looked like dubs because all the men on Copeland's team were using Rotary Clubs.

Oh somewhere the sun is shining. Somewhere glad voices shout. But there is no joy in Lions-ville. The Lions have all flaked out.

Wheatheart Sparks Area Growth

Wheatheart Feeders is just a name to many people who live in our area but, to those who have journeyed the few short miles from Spearman to the area's largest feed lot, it's one big, modern operation that bids fair to bring more prosperity to this part of the Panhandle than anything in history.

Signs along the roadway point the visitor in the right direction until suddenly there appears a large area of buildings and corrals housing feeding cattle by the thousands. This tremendous feeding operation that opened in the fall of 1966 will soon accommodate sixty thousand head of cattle. The original lot had a capacity of twenty five thousand head. Just a short while ago, it was limited to thirty five thousand head. The sixty thousand head capacity will be a reality by mid September of this year.

In the center of the lot is a big, steam flake feed mill turning out thirty five tons of feed per hour. Another mill is under construction that will condition sixty additional tons per hour.

Wheatheart Feeders presently employs approximately forty people and by mid September will employ a total of about sixty.

Currently negotiations are underway between the owners of the big lot and American Beef Packers of Oakland, Iowa. If the merger goes through, Wheatheart Feeders will become a wholly owned subsidiary of American Beef. However there will be no change whatever in personnel or policy as far as Wheatheart is concerned.

In the present operation, the board of directors are the actual owners.

The directors are John Pitts, Jr., Drew Ellis, H. C. Brillhart Jr., Bill McQuiddy and Paul Laudick.

John Pitts Jr. is president of the board and he's truly a young man on the move. When we visited with John, we found him quite affable in making us welcome and giving us any desired information. This graduate of Texas Tech keeps his finger constantly on the pulse of the business. We were interrupted several times during the course of our interview as he answered questions and gave directions to a number of employees.

Upon entering the offices of Wheatheart Feeders, you're apt to get the feeling of being in the offices of a busy airport instead of a feed lot operation. People are busily moving in every direction. Phones are ringing and people move in and out of the building.

When we entered the lobby, a receptionist asked us if we represented a cattle convoy. That was understandable because, as we moved along the road to Wheatheart, we encountered one big cattle truck after another converging on the lot.

We mentioned having an appointment with John Pitts, Jr. without hesitation we were ushered into his office and immediately got down to business.

Our departure was not unlike our entry. The busy airport atmosphere remained and, when we opened the exit door, we were almost surprised to see thousands of heads of cattle feeding away.

I suddenly halted because there before my eyes, in a field across the roadway was an airplane.

ANOTHER HOME RUN G. W. Robinson, home run king, shakes hands with his team members as he crosses home plate, in the Baptist Church of Christ game Tuesday night. The home run king has hit a home run in every game he has played in this year.

BIG JOHN SELLS INTERESTS - RETURNS TO THE MOUND

Like Joe Namath, Big John Wilde was warned by the Baptist Baseball Commission to forsake his outside interests and return to the mound! And, that is exactly what Big John did, in time he led the Baptists to a stunning 18 to 4 win over the outstanding Church of Christ team Tuesday night. Big John came in as a relief pitcher starting the third inning, with pitcher Bill Douglas trailing 4 to 0, and the Baptists, led by Bill

Douglas, and G. W. Robinson smashed in 18 runs, and held the Church of Christ scoreless for the last 5 innings. Bill Douglas knocked a bases loaded home run to lead the hitting, and Tommy Bruce was outstanding on defense for the Church of Christ. Bashful Ben Upchurch played outstanding on both offense and defense, despite getting hit by a ball several times. The game of the year is shaping up when the Methodists and the Baptists tangle in a twilight game August 5th. The Methodists, along with the First Christians are rated as strong contenders to unseat the unscatatable Baptists.

Calvin Bodey, star pitcher for the Church of Christ, has been one of the outstanding pitchers of the year, and along with Sid Beck, Bill Jackson, Big John, and Coach Simpson, will probably go down in the Hansford Hall of Fame this year.

Marketing Tips

COLLEGE STATION, July 31--To save on the weekly grocery bill, here are some food marketing tips from Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Retail beef prices are steady with prices for the past few weeks. Several retailers are featuring beef cuts from the round and chuck, so check the ads for families preferences. In general, look for best beef values on round steaks and roasts, short ribs, ground beef and chuck roasts and steaks.

Pork prices are holding steady at the higher level of the past month. Best pork values generally include boneless hams, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks and pork liver.

Whole and cut-up fryer chickens continue to be featured in some markets although prices are higher than in early summer. Frozen turkey and turkey parts as well as eggs are good values, too.

Fresh fruit and vegetable items in best supply at the most economical prices include corn, tomatoes, potatoes, squash, green onions, radishes, dry onions, cooking greens, beets, cantaloupe, watermelons, honeydew melons, peaches, plums, nectarines, avocados, oranges, grapes, bananas and limes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rosser and family returned this week from a two weeks camping trip at Greer's Fairy Lake in Arkansas.

ROTARY SPEAKER---Bob "Pappy" Watson, KGNC Radio & TV Manager from Amarillo, delivered the luncheon address at the regular Monday meeting of Spearman Rotary Club.

By Chet Wise Bob Watson manager of KGNC Radio and Television of Amarillo was the guest speaker at the Spearman Rotary Club luncheon this past Monday.

Watson's subject was "Water for Texas". He spoke in favor of Amendment Two, the Texas Water bill that will be voted on August fifth. He asked the Rotarians to vote for the bill and painted a vivid picture of the dire and almost immediate need for water in our state.

He gave specific instances where water is presently being rationed or is in short supply. Watson gave a projected figure of the population increase in the Lone Star State during forthcoming decades. He admitted that the Texas Water Plan was one of the greatest engineering plans ever promulgated by man.

In his talk, he explained how the water plan proposed to channel water from the lower basin of the Missis-ippi River to reservoirs in Texas. He said there should be no objection on the part of Louisiana to our importation of the water because it would be taken at a point where it was on its way out to the Gulf.

The speaker clearly spelled out the pain stating that the ultimate goal was for the costs to be paid by the people who will use the water and passing of Amendment Two would not increase taxes.

After his speech, Watson held a question and answer

- WELL SIDE GAS AND AGRI - ENGINES

Save your maintenance and investment dollars with Peoples Ag Services session during which time the Rotarians asked several questions.

One member said he had heard there would be a cut-off point excluding our part of the Panhandle.

Watson labeled the rumor as false. He reiterated that the proposed water was for any and every part of Texas where it was needed. He said numerous reservoirs would be based at strategic points in the State and New Mexico would also receive a small portion of the proposed water for which they would pay.

When questioned about changes in a former plan to import water from the Missouri River, the speaker said the proposal to bring water from the Mississippi basin was more feasible because the water could be brought directly from Louisiana into Texas without going through other states. He further more explained in either plan the water would have to be lifted but the Louisiana plan would call for less elevation in moving the water.

Bob said he had planned to simply show a film to the Club that had been produced by the State. He said it was a beautifully produced film in color. He stated that, outside of his car, he had a sound projector, a take up reel and a screen. He apologetically said he had everything but the film.

Out of town visitors at the luncheon included, R.R. Weddington, G.L. Gullor, R.E. Dornell, Reg Yauch (past District Governor) and Bob Lindsey, all of Borger. Ed Slater of Guymon also attended.

A radio desk set was presented to President Coy Palmer by Bob Lindsey of the Borger Club.

MRS. MICHEAL ROY HENDRICK
nee Glenna Sue Sloan

In a double ring ceremony performed at 3 p.m. July 26 in the First United Methodist Church, Miss Glenna Sue Sloan became the bride of Mr. Micheal Roy Hendrick. The ceremony united the families of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Sloan of rural Spearman and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hendrick, 314 Barkley Street. The Reverend Wesley Daniel read the vows beneath an archway decorated with pink and white double daisies and greenery. Large pink bows tied ropes of greenery along the altar rail and marked the church pews. Soloist, Debbie Thomas, sang "Till the Twelfth of Never" and "Till There Was You" preceding the ceremony. After the mothers were ushered in Miss Thomas sang

"Whither Thou Goest". Miss Thel Daniel, organist, accompanied Miss Thomas and played pre-nuptial selections including "Arioso". Traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional. The bride's attendants included Lisa Curry, maid of honor, Miss Debra Brock and Miss Lynn Hohertz, bridesmaids. They wore long formal gowns fashioned from soft pink chiffon. Dresses were designed with high-rise bodices trimmed with white lace and featured three-quarter length sheer sleeves. They carried white wicker baskets of pink roses, white daisies and baby breath. Jimmy Brown was the groom's best man, Charles Shieldnight and Roy Scribner served as groomsmen. Ushers were Pat Sloan, brother of the bride, and David Vinyard, cousin of the groom. The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, paused as she approached her mother and presented her with a pink rosebud and a kiss. When the recessional was played, she presented these same tokens of love to the bridegroom's mother. She was attired in a formal wedding gown of silk organza featuring a high-rise fitted bodice and rolled jeweled collar. The long, sheer sleeves came to petal points over the wrists, and the skirt was appliqued with lace motifs traced with seed pearls and crystals. The fullness of the back bodice formed a full sanctuary train. Her tiered chapel length veil of imported illusion was attached to a camelot tiara. She wore pearl earrings, her only jewelry, and carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of pink and white roses and sprays of baby breath with long satin streamers tied in love knots.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sloan chose a blue linen dress. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a yellow silk dress. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of white roses. The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. H. A. Sloan and Mrs. Kiff White, also wore white rose corsages. Reception guests were received immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall at the church where Mrs. Ray Hendrick and Mrs. Joe Hendrick, sisters-in-law of the groom, presided over the serving table. The white draped table was centered with an arrangement of pink roses and white daisies. The white, three tiered wedding confection was topped with white satin wedding bells. Coffee was poured from a silver service and punch from a large crystal bowl. When the couple left for a wedding trip the bride was traveling in a pink organza shirtwaist dress with insets of lace. Her long puffed sleeves ended in wide lace cuffs. Pink pumps and hand bag completed her ensemble. Following their honeymoon, the couple will be at home at 321 S. Endicott Street, Spearman, until they enter Frank Phillips College for the fall term. They are both graduates of Spearman High School. Out of town guests present

New Metallic Finish for Wood

COLLEGE STATION--Wood furniture will resemble metal in modern home scenes. A finishing technique using silver nitrate gives wood the appearance of silver, copper, brass, gold or chrome, explains Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

The finish now found on upholstered furniture has been used for many years on picture and mirror frames.

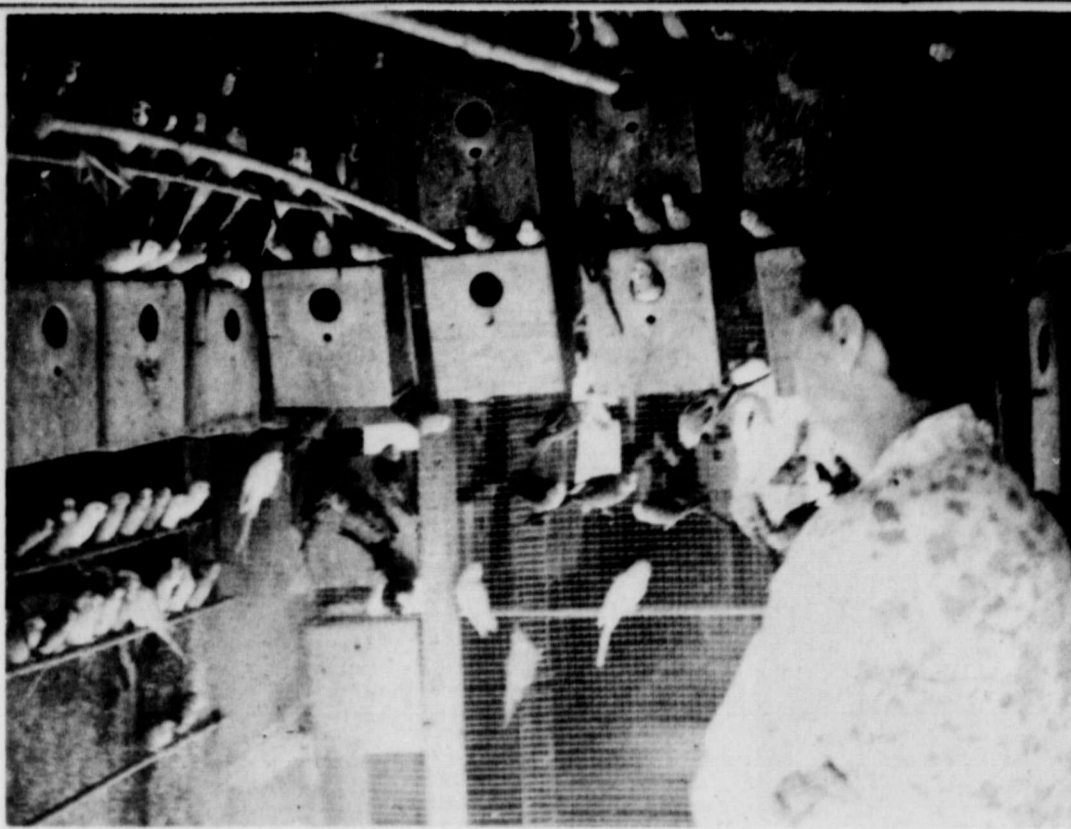

It can be used on pieces with elaborate detailing such as Spanish and Mediterranean styles where it would be impossible to shape some metals into some of the intricate designs. Advantages are that the finish can be applied to almost any surface or material and is economical.

Home Improvement

COLLEGE STATION--Since the cost of new housing has increased nearly 20 percent in the past year, value-conscious homeowners remodel to improve their surroundings.

Expenditures for home repair and modernization are at record highs, reports Extension housing specialist Jane Berry. Tight money has little effect on remodeling decisions since home improvement loans generally are available at banks.

MRS. TOMMY BRUCE, 604 So. Haney Street, is a woman of many hobbies and talents. She is shown above in her backyard aviary where she daily cares for more than 800 birds.

HOBBIES INCLUDE 800 - BIRD AVIARY

Mrs. Tommy Bruce (Mary) is a woman of many hobbies and talents. She has been a resident of Spearman for 39 years. She and Tommy have lived in Spearman since their marriage, as many years ago. Mary crochets, does very fine ceramic and porcelain work, paints, and does various kinds of needlework, but the most interesting hobby of all must be the beautiful birds she raises in her backyard.

Mary started with two parakeets 20 years ago, found they would not reproduce with so few, and increased her flock to 6. She raised her first baby parakeets in the back bedroom of her home. At the present time she has about 700 to 800, and she calls this a conservative figure. The birds live in a specially built aviary in the back of her home, containing 7 pens of parakeets with nests in each, 1 pen of canaries and

1 of baby parakeets. The bird house is air conditioned, automatically heated and has automatic waterers. She raises all kinds of parakeets, among the rarest are the Harlequins, Latinos, Albinos and the blues with yellow faces. Rare or not they are all beautiful. She sells about 300 to 400 babies a year, shipping most of them by plane to New York out of Berger, Texas. When she bought her first birds, they cost her $10.00 each, they now retail for $3.50. There are no breeders sold from her pens, and she says she knows of no one who sells breeders. They are very hard to find. The birds live to be an average of 10 to 12 years old, and stop breeding at the age of 2 or 3. She also owns a pair of finches which are very old, they were old when she received them several years ago. Parakeets do not raise many babies in the summer because of the hot weather. The babies stay in the nest for 6 weeks and are sold at about 7 or 8 weeks. Mary keeps all her birds except the babies. She says when she is upset or worried, she just visits her birds, for it is a different world, and they have been a great joy to her. She feeds them personally each day, for she says "they come first". They tell her when something is wrong, or a stranger is near, by their silence. They were not silent when this writer went into the aviary with her, but we could tell from the sounds they made each time we talked or laughed that they certainly recognize the voice of a stranger.

These 800 birds consume about 35 to 40 loaves of bread and a case of boiled eggs a week, feeding them to their babies. The older birds themselves eat canary oats and millet, about 400 pounds of this a week. Mrs. Bruce also feeds them any greens she can find which have not been sprayed. She reaps pleasure only from her hobby for she says the birds do not pay for their feed.

Mary says she used to sell the birds to private individuals, but found she spent most all her time in the bird house. This was also upsetting to the birds, for they would not feed their babies for several days following an upset. She also used to take classes of school children on tours of the aviary, but the same thing would happen, so this was stopped and she only sells wholesale now. She has all varieties in the cages and they are very beautiful.

Mrs. Bruce has some very beautiful ceramic work, pitchers, elves, Carolers, Santas, old fashioned dolls made of sawdust bodies with ceramic feet, arms and heads with lovely satin dresses. She is now working with porcelain and has made several baby dolls, with lifelike painted faces. Truly, Mary Bruce is a woman of many talents and interests.

General Telephone Establishes New Income Record

General Telephone & Electronics Corporation has reported that telephone revenues, manufacturing sales, and consolidated net income applicable to the common stock established new records for the second quarter and first half. General Telephone Company of the Southwest with headquarters in San Angelo, Texas is a subsidiary of GT&E.

Leslie H. Warner, GT&E president, said that combined telephone revenues and manufacturing sales of $790,280,000 for the second quarter represented an increase of nearly 13 per cent over the previous high of $701,831,000 in the corresponding 1968 period. Consolidated net income applicable to the common stock rose more than 8 per cent to $57,219,000 in comparison with $52,914,000 a year ago. The resultant earnings per common share were 54 cents, against 51 cents in last year's second quarter.

or a gain of approximately 6 per cent.

For the first six months of 1969, combined revenues and sales totaled $1,563,284,000, which was about 12 per cent greater than the previous first half record of $1,396,151,000 established a year ago. Consolidated net income applicable to the common stock reached a new high of $109,975,000 for the six months, or an increase of nearly 7 per cent over the total of $103,132,000 in the corresponding 1968 period. Earnings per common share were $1.04, against 99 cents in the equivalent period of last year, representing an increase of about 5 per cent.

Commenting on the outlook for the full year, Mr. Warner said: "We anticipate continued gains in our telephone revenues, manufacturing sales, and consolidated net income in the second half."

Telephone revenues for the second quarter were $371,540,000, representing an increase of nearly 15 per cent over the 1968 second quarter total of $323,484,000 the previous high. Net income from telephone operations totaled $40,368,000, or a gain of 10 per cent over the $36,679,000 reported a year ago. "Rising interest expense and inflationary pressures on operating costs limited the gain in net income," Mr. Warner commented.

Leg of Soy Beans

COLLEGE STATION--It may look like ham, it may taste like ham, but it may be soybeans.

Food technologists recently introduced the estroz ham along with chicken and corn beef made of protein derived primarily from soy beans. Pork and bacon substitutes are now made of soy beans and lamb is being developed.

The meat substitutes are tailor made, explains Mrs. Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist, so they can excel nutritionally over the meats they simulate.

Mrs. Bill Kenyon of Portales, N.M. has been visiting this week in the home of her mother Mrs. Fred Brandt and brother Billy.

NFO Instigates Price Increase For Sorghum

Don Kimbell, president of the Texas National Farmers Organization, announced on Friday morning the ratification by farmers of the Texas Panhandle of a $3,000,000 grain sorghum supply contract with West Friona Grain Co., Inc. The contract, covering 1969 grain sorghum, was ratified when 800 farmers met on Thursday evening, July 24th, in Hereford, Texas.

Farmers from 16 counties including Hansford County will participate in the contract. The contract reflects a 15% increase in the price of grain sorghum over current quoted prices, and it is believed that this contract and other NFO activities will cause a substantial increase in the price of grain sorghum throughout the Texas Panhandle within the next few weeks.

Glendon H. Brling, local NFO leader, stated that this increase will in many instances be the difference between farmers making a profit or showing a loss on their 1969 grain sorghum crops.

He also stated that an increase of grain sorghum prices in Hansford County is extremely important to the entire economy of the county. "An increase of 30¢ per hundred weight in Hansford County would place in circulation approximately $1,680,000.00. Economists tell us that money paid for farm commodities circulate 3 1/2 times in the local economy and 7 times in the national economy.

The importance of a price increase for farm commodities in Hansford County is readily seen.

FARM BUREAU SENDING STUDENTS TO AUSTIN FOR SPECIAL SEMINAR

Three high school students from Hansford County left by chartered bus Tuesday, July 29, for Baylor University in Waco where they will attend a Citizenship Seminar July 29-Aug. 2 conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau.

They are: Cheryl McCloy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard McCloy of Morse; Denise Frazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Frazier of Gruver; and Randy Weston, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Martin, Spearman.

The Hansford County Farm Bureau is sponsoring the local students at the four-day training school. Some 390 students from 140 counties across the state will be attending the session.

Four outstanding, nationally-known lecturers will address the Waco training school according to Joe Dan Bryan of Spearman, president of the Hansford County Farm Bureau. They are Dr. C. L. Ganus, president of Harding College, Searcy, Ark.; Dr. C. L. Kay, assistant president of Lubbock Christian College; John Noble, Muncy, Pa.; author of "I Was A Slave In Russia"; and W. Cleon Skousen, Salt Lake City, author, lawyer, educator and former FBI agent.

In addition, a young former narcotics addict and convict from Dallas will relate the tragic story of his life as an addict and criminal. At the conclusion of the seminar on Aug. 1, 18 year old Miss Mary Rando of Friona will give her rendition of "I Am The Nation", a patriotic recitation that helped her win the Freedom Foundation's George Washington Honor Medal.

Purpose of the seminar is to give the student a better understanding of American system and way of life. Emphasis will be placed on the economic, moral, and social aspects of the American society. Instruction will consist of lectures, films and panel discussions.

Let Me See ... by Sybil

Several of our "middle aged" spouses have formed a church softball league and have already played more games than they bargained for. Three I think. A sizable contingent of the 4 teams have suffered athletic injury. Now you don't have to be an athlete to have an athletic injury, and several of the men hobble around in mute testimony to that fact! Dr. Gregg, who plays with the First Christian Church team, is passing out pain pills just for sheer encouragement. Some of the men have pulled muscles and that's a pretty good upset right there for most of us didn't think these guys had a muscle to pull. Wives, who watch their husbands play just for fear they might suffer a coronary occlusion, plan to stay up hours after the game is over applying hot packs to sore joints and jammed fingers. You see, these guys are all non-exercisers, and they gain special joy from an injury incurred in pursuit of physical conditioning. In fact, the only exercise most of them have had in the past 30 years is going to funerals of friends who exercised! For those of us who watch them play ball these games provide many chuckles. Sometime you laugh outright and more often than not you can get a real, thigh-slapping belly laugh out of watching all these has-beens at bat.

It is lots of fun though. Rev. Wes Daniel plays with his church team as does Bill Osborne. However, I've noticed Rev. Koerselman, Rev. Schelle and Rev. Shoemaker on the sidelines... just rooting.

The most industrious little gal I've heard about in a long time is Kathy Fowler, 18-year old niece of Jim & Virginia Fowler who has been staying with them this summer. Kathy, a graduate of Sweetwater, Okla. high school in May came to Spearman looking for work. She was employed by A & W Drive-In until it burned, and she then accepted employment from Dr. Earl Novak-not in his dental office, but as a tractor hand. Made him a good one too. I understand Kathy receives a certain amount of gift money each month from a friend and you wouldn't guess in a million years what she does with it. She buys baby calves and now is part owner in a sizeable herd of good livestock. Her dad, Jim Fowler's brother, didn't have to worry about her while she was here. He and his brother are both ham radio operators, so he got the low down on her each and every morning. She went home Sunday. Have you noticed the price of food getting higher & higher? Up a few cents every time you go to the store? Well here is another little tid-bit which will make all us housewives flip for sure, and our heavily-burdened bacon earner give up in despair. It seems that some 600 grocery items have shrunk in contents without any decrease in price of can or package. This wholesale deception of food buyers at the retail level was documented in detail at last week's hearings of the Special Consumer Inquiry Panel of the House Committee on government operations. A comparative analysis of drained weights vs. total net contents of 148 fruit & vegetable products was tested by the USDA. What makes this little morsel so tasty is that there are standards regulating the fill of food packages. Federal standards for canned foods for instance states the can must hold the maximum quantity of pieces that can be sealed in the container and processed by heat to prevent spoilage without crushing or breaking such ingredients as peaches, apricots, pears and cherries. Crushed pineapple, corn and tomatoes must fill 90% of the capacity of container, meaning that 10% can be air. Fruit cocktail needs to fill only 65% of the capacity. Canned peas must completely fill container when refilled.

A can opening demonstration in the hearing room showed that buying corn can be tricky. Two cans of Del Monte whole kernel corn, each priced at 2 for 53 cents were opened. One labeled 12 ounces was apparently vacuum packed, the other labeled 17 ounces was apparently packed in brine. When the liquid was drained off, the corn in the larger can weighed 11.3 ounces, only 1/2 ounce more than the corn in the smaller can. Canning experts later testified, the liquid in the larger can was richer with the milk of the kernels.

Who cares what the canners think, I for one do not like corn juice, nor spinach juice, nor pea juice. I want vegetables and I want to pay for what I get, and get what I pay for. It's becoming harder to do though, each and every day.
Makes it rather easy to go on a "juice" diet though.

STATE T.G. & Y. STORES UNDER NEW DIRECTOR

The 122 T.G. & Y. Stores in Texas have been placed under the direction of L.H. Myers, who makes his office in Dallas. Mr. D.S. Kelly, who was the former head of the West Texas area has been moved to Baton Rouge, La. These moves have come about because of the rapid expansion of the T.G. & Y. Stores. They now have 650 stores from coast to coast with more leases signed for Texas this year.
L.H. Myers has been with T.G. & Y. for 24 years. He managed his first store in the West Texas area and spent 11 years in this area before moving to Dallas, Ft. Worth, East Texas, South Texas, and the Gulf Coast area. He expects to continue to expand his division in the years to come.
Myers is in charge of store operations and leasing for all of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Davis and children shopped in Borger and Pampa last week.

Kim Wilson of Lubbock spent the past week visiting in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gravel. They took her to Amarillo yesterday to take the bus back home. She came home with them last Sunday when they visited in Lubbock with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Narrel Wilson.

Wheat Prices Lowest Since The Depression

holt news

WACO--Farmers harvested a bumper wheat crop this year, but prices to Texas farmers ranged only from $1.12 to $1.32 per bushel--lowest since the Depression, according to Sidney Dean of Victoria, Texas Farm Bureau president.

"I doubt that many Texas farmers would continue growing wheat at all if it weren't for grazing the crop in the Spring," Dean said.

The leader of the state's largest farm organization blamed the low prices, rising surpluses and loss of exports on the present farm program for wheat as well as the United States' participation in the International Wheat Trade Convention.

As for the wheat program, Dean said government planners have not been able to reduce production in line with demand by cutting allotments. He further charged that wheat certificate payment provisions of the present law have been manipulated so as to gradually decrease the percentage of the crop eligible for the subsidy payments.

"The wheat farmer appears to have been caught in a trap," Dean said. He asserted that it is time for a change. The solution, he said, is to return to the market system as proposed by the Senate Committee on Agriculture on August 5, Dean said.

The International Wheat Trade Convention, the TFB leader said, has also contributed to lower prices to U.S. producers as well as decreased exports. The Trade Convention was ratified by the U.S. Senate a year ago. Since then, total U.S. wheat exports have declined by some 29.7 percent. In contrast, exports of durum wheat--a class not covered by the convention--have increased. As a result of the drop in exports, the carryover of wheat has increased by 47.3 percent since July 1, 1968, Dean said.

The 1969 crop is estimated to be the fourth largest on record, although the acreage needed for harvest was the lowest since 1963. A further 10 percent increase in prospect for 1970, the TFB leader said. Termination of the Convention should strengthen domestic wheat prices by eliminating the export tax on U.S. wheat, Dean said. This tax is variously referred to as an "inverse subsidy" or certificate cost and is paid by the exporter. Under this setup, it means the exporter has to buy wheat at a lower price from the U.S. producer, the farm leader explained. Elimination of the tax could bolster sagging prices, he said.

"It is obvious that if the U.S. wheat situation is going to recover from its sick condition, it will be necessary to end participation in the Wheat Trade Convention, remove the inverse subsidy or export tax, and phase out the government wheat program," Dean said.

SENATE EXTENDS CONSERVATION PROGRAM 10 Yrs

The Senate has approved extension of the Great Plains Conservation Program.

Acting on S. 1790, sponsored by Senator Milton R. Young (N.D.), and a number of other Senators, the Senate voted to extend the program for ten years and authorize $250 million for its execution during that period.

In supporting the bill on the floor of the Senate, Young said the bill "makes a number of improvements in the program. These would, first, permit contracts covering non-agriculture land where necessary to prevent the soil from blowing onto neighboring land; second, permit contracts covering lands under annual lease; third, provide for assistance in enhancing fish and wildlife, recreation, and other resources, and in pollution control; and fourth, provide a greater voice for the local soil and water conservation districts."

College Presidents Endorse Amendment

CANYON, Tex. -- Four proposed Texas constitutional amendments, "vital to the future development of the full potential of human and natural resources" in Texas, received endorsement by the Council of Presidents of State Supported Colleges and Universities recently, Dr. James P. Cornette, West Texas State University President said.

The council endorsed passage of the four amendments proposed in the special election Aug. 5, saying, "The endorsements were for those amendments which either are directly related to higher education or are of such general importance to the state as to require the council's consideration."

The proposed amendments endorsed are No. 2, providing for a Water Plan for Texas; No. 3, providing for a procedure for establishing higher salaries for the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and members of the legislature; No. 6, removing constitutional interest rate limitations, subject to limits imposed by the legislature for bonds pursuant to constitutional authority; and No. 8, authorizing the legislature to provide for additional loans to students at institutions of higher learning under the Texas Opportunity Plan.

The Texas Opportunity Plan was patterned after one instituted at West Texas State several years ago and has proved highly successful.

VOTERS URGED TO SUPPORT WATER PLAN

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, one of the leading voices calling for water importation into West Texas by implementation of the Texas Water Plan, issued a special plea to his fellow West Texans to go to the polls next Tuesday and support the Texas Water Plan with a vote for Amendment No. 2.

Clayton, who is Executive Director of Water, Inc.,

said that in West Texas virtually everyone favors passage of the amendment. The problem, he said, is to get them to the polls to register their convictions.

"No area of the state is more solid in its support for the water plan than residents of West Texas," Clayton said, "but every single vote available in West Texas is necessary to offset apathy and lack of understanding in other parts of the state."

Amendment No. 2 passage sets in motion the comprehensive statewide water plan which re-distributes the state's surface water from areas where a surplus exists, to the more arid western and southwestern portion of the state. It also envisions importation of water from outside the area and the state for municipal, industrial and agriculture uses.

The amendment would also permit the legislature to authorize the sale of $3.5 billion in bonds over the next 50 years to finance the state's share of the cost of the water plan which will eventually be repaid by the water user. The Texas Water Plan calls for outlays of up to $9 billion with federal agencies furnishing the balance of the expenditures.

Clayton commended city officials, civic and farm leaders over West Texas who have publicly endorsed the amendment, and he called on them to conduct a person-to-person-get-out-the-vote campaign on election day.

Fight the price-cost squeeze on your wheat with NITROMITE. Shamrock's fine brand of anhydrous ammonia.

A preplant application of NITROMITE speeds early growth, producing lush, high-quality forage (and plenty of it!)—an important factor if you plan to graze cattle this winter.

And the cash crop? NITROMITE delivers the most usable nitrogen per dollar to help increase yields without increasing cost appreciably. So come harvest, even if prices are low, you make out. If they're good, you'll be the big winner.

Put down NITROMITE now. It'll give you a fighting chance in the marketplace.

MISSED OPPORTUNITIES

The Texas Water Plan is a must for West Texas. Without immediate action toward importation of water into West Texas, this vast productive area is doomed to a role of semi-arid rangeland.

Fortunately, every single voter has an opportunity to do his bit to prevent such a gloomy future by voting for Amendment No. 2 in the constitutional amendment election next Tuesday.

The problem is not finding voters who support the water plan. Tragically, the problem is that most voters will not bother to go to the polls.

Most of us can look back to opportunities we have passed up, opportunities that could have made a profound difference in our lives. Going to the polls on Tuesday could well be just such an opportunity, for if we pass this one up, if we somehow just don't find time to back up a belief with our vote, the water we need so desperately, might well go down the drain.

Farm Bureau Urges 'Yes' Votes Aug. 5

Future irrigation needs for agriculture and drinking water for rural areas are involved in two of the nine proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in the special election August 5, according to Joe Dan Bryan of Spearman, president of the Hansford County Farm Bureau.

Proposed Amendment No. 2 (H, J, R, 9) on the ballot would grant the powers and flexibility of operation to the Texas Water Development Board necessary to develop sufficient water resources for present and future economic development of the state. The proposed amendment changes those constitutional changes necessary to implement the Texas Water Plan.

Proposed Amendment No. 4 (S, J, R, 6) on the ballot would exempt non-profit water supply corporations from ad valorem taxation. This would give the many rural water systems that have been set up in recent years the same tax status as municipal government water systems.

The Texas Farm Bureau supported both of these proposals in the recent regular 61st session of the Legislature, Mr. Bryan said. In regard to Amendment No. 2, the Farm Bureau policy on the matter states that any water plan for Texas must be "equitable" to all sections of the state, Bryan explained.

Both of these water-related propositions are important to agriculture and rural areas, the county farm leader asserted.

"Therefore, I am urging all voters of Hansford County to go to the polls on August 5 and cast their ballots for both Amendment NO. 2 and Amendment No. 4," Mr. Bryan said.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

When the tax surcharge was passed there was a small gap in what most taxpayers had withheld and what they would owe. It appeared that many taxpayers would end up 1968 owing the government money. Based on this difference, IRS predicted slightly fewer refunds, and certainly a reduction in the amount of the average check. However, it didn't work out that way, in the Dallas District at least. By June 30, 1969, Internal Revenue had issued 1,008, 650 refund checks to North Texas, for a probably record amount of $170, 206, 756.04. The best guess on the cause of an increase in the number and amount of refunds rather than a decrease -- North Texas taxpayers don't like to end up the year owing Uncle Sam. As a matter of fact, a good part of the North Texans filing tax returns carefully arrange their withholding payments to make sure that they have a refund coming rather than owing taxes. Some of these folks have a government-enforced saving plan which pays off in the form of the refund check. Others just don't want to owe the government "nothing." At any rate, more than one million out of 1, 600, 000 returns filed ended up on the right side of Internal Revenue's balance sheet for their account.

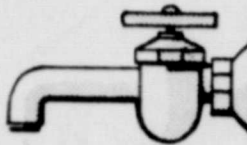

No Permit Needed For Special Hunt

AUSTIN -- Hunters will not need a special permit to participate in the nine-day September teal season which runs from Sept. 13 through Sept. 21.

All that will be needed is a Federal duck stamp, plus a valid Texas hunting license if you hunt outside your county of residence.

The teal season was closed last year while biologists evaluated the results of experimental teal hunts which took place the three previous years. Special permits were required for the experimental hunts so a survey could be made of the participants.

Helpful Hints From Me To Thee

by Vivian C. Warminski
County Home Demonstration Agent

Squash time is now. Whether green, yellow or white-skinned, long and slim, or round and scalloped, you can eat every bit of a tender summer squash--skin, flesh and seeds. Plan on three or four half-cup servings from one pound.

Summer squash is best when: --the skin looks fresh, is free from blemishes, and so tender that it punctures easily; the squash is firm and fairly heavy for its size.

Avoid summer squash when: --the rind is hard--the seeds may be large and rough and the flesh may be stringy. --the stem is hard, dry, blackened or shriveled--signs that the squash is no longer fresh.

Summer squash is perishable and will keep in the refrigerator in a moisture-proof container for several days. Keep cooked squash in a covered container in the refrigerator. Plan to use it within two or three days after cooking.

SQUASH PATTIES

2 1/2 cups (1 pound) grated zucchini squash
1 1/2 tablespoons grated onion
1 tablespoon minced fresh parsley
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/2 tsp. salt; 1/16 tsp. black pepper
1 egg, beaten; fine dry bread crumbs.

Combine squash, onion, parsley, cheese, soft bread crumbs, salt, black pepper and egg. Spoon a rounded tablespoon at a time into the fine bread crumbs, spooning crumbs over the mixture. Place in a skillet with hot bacon or ham drippings and flatten with a spatula to form patties. Cook until brown, turning carefully to brown both sides. Serve hot with pork, ham or fowl. Yield: about 10 patties.

DO YOU HATE TO CLEAN TABLE LINENS?

Immediate action is the secret to removing picnic stains from clothing and table linens.

A large number of common household stains require only a 15 minute cool water soak before clothing is machine washed with detergent. For bleachable fabrics, chlorine bleach in the wash will remove many common stains. On unbleachable fabrics, let a reliable dry-cleaner remove stains. Be sure to tell the dry-cleaner what caused the stain as well as the fiber content of the garment.

Here are some tips on the most common picnic stains and their treatment:

Soft drinks --sponge immediately with cool water. If stain is not completely removed, soak in cool water and work detergent into stain, then rinse.

Coffee and tea--soak in cool water for about 30 minutes and wash in detergent suds. If stains remain, use one tablespoon of chlorine bleach to one quart of water. Soak 15 minutes and rinse.

Crease, oil and fats--soak white fabrics in hot detergent water and rinse. Rub liquid detergent into stains on man-made fabrics and dark cottons. Let stand briefly, wash and rinse. Ice cream--remove excess from fabric. Soak in cold water. Wash in hot detergent suds.

Meat juices--soak in cold salt water. For stubborn stains, soak in ammonia and water solution until clear. Wash and rinse. Substitute peroxide for ammonia in non-colorfast washables.

The second Newsletter will be coming out soon. If you would like to receive it be sure to send your name and address to the Extension Office, Box 997, Spearman, Texas.

PRICE PROPOSES NATIONAL - MAN IN SPACE WEEK

Shortly after the safe splashdown of the historic Apollo 11 Mission, Congressman Bob Price (R-Tex.) introduced a resolution calling on President Nixon to proclaim the third week in July of each year as National Man in Space Week. Price said there will be many honors and celebrations awaiting our three astronauts after completion of their mission duties. But after the ceremonies have been concluded and the honors accorded, some means must be provided by which the American people can remember, celebrate, and be inspired by the deeds and achievements of all our men in our space program. In Price's view, a National Man in Space Week would be an appropriate means to pay tribute. He observed that, "The United States presently has no official period of commemoration for our space program, yet we will go down in history as the Nation that brought the world into the Space Age." The Texas Republican declared that the momentous feat of landing a man on the moon will rank in history with Columbus' landing on this continent and discovering a new world. He said that the seconds before the landing of Eagle on the moon's surface will be remembered as one of the moments of greatest drama in the history of man, and the phrase, "The Eagle has landed," will be added to the collection of immortal phrases that have marked man's progress through the ages. Price observed that "throughout history, man has been engaged in the never ending process of increasing his knowledge and expanding his horizons. The successes of Apollo 11 are a watershed in this process. Man's first step on the moon truly was a giant leap for mankind." Price, a member of the prestigious House Science and Astronautics Committee declared, "Man's curiosity to explore the unknown, and his desire to fathom the mysteries of his being, his world, and his universe, will be well served by further space exploration." Congressman Price's name appears on the silicon disk which the Astronauts left behind them at the lunar landing site. The disk carries the names of Congressional leaders, and miniaturized messages from 72 heads of foreign governments and Pope Paul VI as well as statements on the space program by former Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson, and President Nixon.

Suds Brightens Brass Hardware

COLLEGE STATION, -- To remove dirt and tarnish from old brass hardware, unscrew it from the furniture and brush-scrub it with salt and vinegar (mixed in a ceramic dish). Then wash it with soap or detergent suds, rinse and wipe dry. The next step is to oil the screws and re-attach brass to the furniture. This advice is from Linda Jacobsen, Extension home management specialist.
