At this festive time, people and good health delight in serving their families and friends an abundance of choice foods. The custom probably began with the ancient winter festivals.

In the course of time, naturally each nation developed its own treasured customs in connection with the Christmas dinner, say the editors of The New Book of Knowledge.

Serving the "Bird"

More directly connected with the religious meaning of the season is the "Christ-bread" traditional in many countries. This is a long cake, and its shape is meant to symbolize the Christ Child wrapped in swaddling clothes.

Both mince pie and plum pudding began as national Christmas dishes in England Like the "Christ-bread," early mince pies were baked in symbolic shape - an oblong meant to represent the manger.

Throughout this community, and indeed throughout all the communities where Christmas is celebrated, the spirit of the season finds expression in innumerable ways — among them, the gladness of gift-giving, the merriment of parties, the happiness of hearth and home and, above all, the solemn hush of midnight, traditionally the symbolic time for heralding the Birth of Christ.

From the holly wreath on the door to the packages under the tree, from the gaily decorated windows of stores to the manger scenes in the churches, the customs of Christmas contribute to the meaning of the Day - just as early Christian leaders meant that holiday

When Christmas first began to be observed on December 25th, churchmen welcomed the

Today, nearly everyone celebrates Christmas because Christmas belongs to everyone.

For the Christian believer. Christmas is cherished as a religious holiday of paramount importance, and as a time meant for joy and festivity, too.

For people of many different faiths, Christmas is beloved as a happy holiday, a secular celebration that gives meaningful expression to universal good will and good cheer.

Burning the Log

From a miraculous Star to a tiny candle, gleaming lights have cast a glow over holiday festivities for centuries.

Pagan sun-worshippers lit candles and kindled fires at winter festivals to help the returning sun gain strength.

Traditional for both light and warmth is the blazing Yule log. Like all "Christmas lights," it has both a religious and a festive significance in holiday lore.

Because legend says that the Christ Child was washed and dressed beside an ash wood fire, the people of early England always had Yule logs of ash wood. Ash had a practical aspect, too, because it was the only green wood which would

THE CHRIST CHILD. Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was thirty, and then for three years He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where He was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credential but Himself. He had nothing to do with this world except the power of His divine manhood. While still a young man the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was anailed upon a cross between two thieves. SANTA CLAUS SAW ME When I was but a tiny lad. This thing was told to me: The toys I wanted could be had Beneath my Christmas tree. They said if I saw Santa Claus, When he came out our way, To keep myself a silent pause-As still as I could stay. If I could see good old St. Nick, Without him getting wise, I could surely get my pick Of toys and pumpkin pies, But then they said another thing, And I thought they were bluffing, If he saw me, he'd surely bring me absolutely nothing. I hid beneath a table top, And watched when he came in. As he left to make another stop, He made a silent little grin. When I came on Christmas day To search beneath the tree. All my toys had gone away With nothing there for me. Then I knew the tale was true As most anyone could see. I'd caught Santa in my view But Santa Claus saw me.

An even larger enrollment is expected next month when many schools begin their second semesters.

Administrator of Veteran Affairs Donald E. Johnson said that as of November 30. there were more than 736,000 participants in training programs of all types. This includes trainees in programs at the college level, below college level, and on-the-job training.

According to Mr. Johnson, November's enrollment figure represents an increase of 36 percent over the same period last year when enrollees totaled 542,000.

So far, 1,551,000 trainees have taken advantage of educational benefits provided under the latest GI Bill since it went into effect June 1,

A breakdown of trainees by categories includes 000 pursuing on-the-job training, 239,000 in programs below college level, and 432,000 in programs at the college level.

The VA chief added that the increased participation in training programs can be attributed in part to the agency's continuing "Total Outreach" program.

Under this program, veterans and servicemen are informed about benefits available to them, and are encouraged to apply.

VA contact representatives provide this service at military installations in Vietnam and the United States, as well as at VA hospitals, VA offices and Veterans Administration Centers throughout the United States. In addition to these personal contacts, VA letters are sent to all recently discharged veterans.

'69 Texas Traffic Casualties To Top Quarter Million

AUSTIN -- For the first time in the State's history, more than one quarter million persons will be killed and injured on Texas streets and highways during a single year, according to an estimate of 1969 traffic casualties issued today by the Texas Safety Association.

Basing their computations on preliminary crash records through December 12, TSA further predicted that 1969 traffic crashes will cost Texans at least $900 million, thus exceeding earlier estimates by more than $100 million.

TSA points out that no war has cost Texas as much in casualties and money as will 1969 traffic crashes.

Tis' Season To Be Jolly, Not Drunk

AUSTIN, Dec. -- "A few carefree drinks can kill warns the Texas Safety Association.

Texans at Christmas can at least double their chances for survival and a happy holiday by not riding in the car with a drunk driver and by not being a drunk driver or walker themselves.

Records show that a driver is 25 times more apt to crash when he is drunk.

Drinking drivers will eas-ily cause half the holiday smashups, fatalities and injuries as predicted by national studies.

Furthermore, one out of two pedestrians killed by autos will be drunk, no matter if the fatal driver is sober.

How much is too much? Perhaps any or none, but medical authorities say it only takes three one-ounce shots of 80-proof whiskey, or three 12-ounce beers, to put a 150-pound individual into the fuzzy-brained alcoholic danger zone. Five shots in an hour definitely make him a dangerous drunk, for that amount causes a concentration of onetenth of one percent by blood-volume weight, and that's too much! Driver or pedestrian, the drinker is now an abnormal traffic

Attorney George Wm. Perry of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, in a special Yule message states that "We are not encouraging people to drink and then drive. Quite the contrary, we must emphasize that driving in holiday traffic takes a person's full attention and even a small amount of alcohol in the bloodstream changes perceptions, attitudes and reactions to create a potentially dangerous sit-uation that follows you like a shadow.

There are no short cuts to sobriety as we've said before. Black coffee given to heavy drinkers can have the questionable effect of keeping wide-awake drunks on the road, '

"However, we realize that some people will drink and drive during the holidays. To those so foolish I want to point out just how little alcohol is needed to reduce driving efficiency, how long it takes to eliminate alcohol from your system, and stress that you can choose to have a clear head."

Six ounces of 80-proof in an hour is a very dangerous overdose for a normal healthy adult weighing 180 pounds. Four shots is too much for safe driving in a 120pound adult, and two ounces impairs performance. Authorities say tolerances may be much less for people in poor physical condition, and may vary in any Mr. Perry cautions that "a little drink can go a long way". It takes over six hours to eliminate all alcohol from the bloodstream of a 150-pound

drunk who had five quick drinks on an empty stomach. The Christmas holidays should be fun days and not days darkened by traffic tragedies. If all Texans will stay sober in public and drive friendly, Christmas 1969 can go on the record book as a time when Texans proved they really cared about their neighbors,' Mr. Perry concluded.

the Christmas Season

He was born in an obscure village,
the child of a peasant woman.

He grew up in still another village, where he worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty...

Then for three years he was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never had a family or owned a house. He didn't go to college. He never visited a big city. He never traveled heo hundred miles from the place where he was born. He did none of the things one usually associates with greatness. He had no credentials but himself. He was only thirty-three when the tide of public opinion turned against him. His trivials ran away. He was furned over to his enemies and went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. While he was dying, his executioners gambled for his clothing, the only property he had on earth. When he was dead, he was laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a triend. Nineteen centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central figure of the human race and the leader of mankind's progress. Texas Farmers Subject To Self Employment Tax'

Texas farmers are subject to self-employment tax for 1969 if their farm income is $400 or more, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of the Internal Revenue Service advised today.

The self-employment tax rate is 6.9 percent with a maximum of $538.20, and is in addition to income tax.

A self-employed farmer is one who operates his own business or farm. A farmer is also considered self-employed if he employs others to operate or work his farm even though he does not live on it himself.

A farmer must file a Federal acome tax return and pay the self-employment tax due if his net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more, even if his gross income is leff than $600 and he owes no income tax.

The self-employment tax applies to a maximum of $7800. But this figure is reduced by any wages from which Social Security taxes were withheld.

A special optional provision in the law enables farmers to acquire Social Security credits even if they have a loss after expenses are deducted.

"Farm" as used in the Federal tax law relating to Social Security and self-employment taxes, includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, fur-bearing animals, and truck farms, and also plantations, ranches and nurseries.

Social Security Is Kind Of Insurance

An area man lost several thousand dollars in social security benefits because he didn't want "government handouts" and failed to apply at age 65. H.L. Weathetly, manager of the Pampa social security office, reminds people that social security isn't "some benefit the government gives you if you live long enough." It's not charity; it's not welfare. The government doesn't give you any part of your social security benefits and unless some drastic changes are made in the program it never will. The only part the government plays in the social security program is to administer.

Social security is a social insurance system. It's compulsory but aside from this it is based on the same philosophy as other insurance. One pays "premiums", (social security taxes on his wages); and his employer matches his payments. The total is kept in a special trust fund that can only be used for the payment of benefits and operating expenses.

The worker buys four kinds of insurance in payChristmas and New Year season, advises the Texas State Department of Health. Today, accidents loom as the nation's number one threat to babies and children. Each year about 16,000 boys and girls under 15 are killed and about 17,000,000 are seriously injured in accidents.

Surprisingly, about four million people receive disabling injuries and some 30,000 are killed in accidents in the home along.

The Christmas season is a prime time for one of the four million yearly home ac-cidents to happen. A festive mood often dispels caution. One of the booby traps facing you may be the toys you purchase for your child. The Food andDrug Administration recently asked a distribute to call in a baby pacifier labeled as "one-piece nipple and child for extra safety." It actually came apart into three pieces--one ing his social security taxes, small enough to choke a baby. In another case a baby rattler when broken produced a dagger-like spike. Other toys shoot potential deadly missiles, provide electrical shock hazards, burning hazards and other maiming hazards.

Small children are particularly susceptible to burns and poisons since so many things handled automatically go to their mouths. Holly and mistletoe berries, widely used as Yule decorations, are poisonous, causing vomiting, diarrhea and disorders of the central nervous system.

A few other Christmasrelated products are considered poisonous.

Bubbling Christmas tree lights contain methylene ren. At age 65, Medicare chloride, which if swallowis there to use for his hosed could cause slight poisoning. It has happened. Use only tree decorations approved and bearing the Underwriter's on all aspects of your soc-Laboratores (UL) label.

Fire salts produce beautiful colored flames, but they contain certain chemicals, including arsenic and various toxic salts -- that can cause vomiting if eaten.

Tree balls are made of glass and plastic, and in addition to causing cuts, could clog the windpipe of a child.

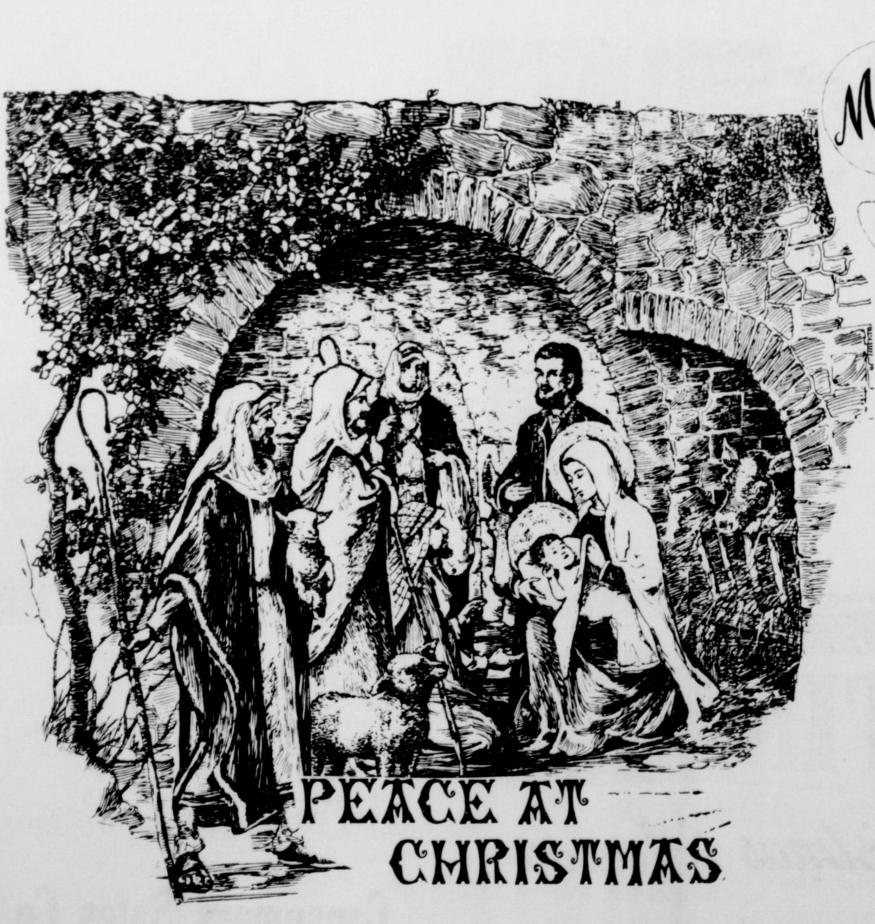

The gas propellant in artificial snow is toxic if inhaled but leaves no residue when Accidents are always seek- dried.

Extension of the Great Plains Conservation Program is another milestone in the renovation and conservation of lands in this region which are highly susceptible to erosion damage. Additionally, it confirms the merit of long-term contracting to assure the application needed conservation treatments. Various proposals have been made to apply the principle in watersheds, RC&D projects, or economic development regions. RAILROAD PAYS $17,849 FOR COUNTY TAXES

Current annual taxes paid to the various government agencies by Texas railroads in Hansford County totaled $17,849, it is annouced by the Texas Railroad Association.

That amount was the county's share of the nearly $11,000,000 the railroads paid in Texas on their own right of way and other pro-

The biggest railroad contribution was to the school systems throughout the state. Large sums were also distributed to city, village and county governments and for road and bridge funds.

In addition, of course, was the large total in taxes the more than 30,000 railroad employees in Texas contributed on their own property. The vast majority of rail workers, many of whom live in Hansford County, own their own homes.

"We are very pleased that nearly half of the taxes paid sel of the Texas Railroad Association. "The future of our country depends to a great extent upon the education of our youth," he said.

"Recognizing this need for education, many of the railroads operating in Texas also continue to make scholarships available to a large number of students every year."

Mr. George Buzzard is home now from the hospital in Amarillo where he underwent surgery recently. He is doing very well and glad to be home.

New Draft Selection System Explained

Secretary

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards about the new Random Selection System prescribed by the President November 26, 196. The answers are by Colonel Morris Schwartz, State Selective Service Director.

Q-Would you explain the drawing?

A-On December 1, there was a drawing in Washington of 366 closed capsules in each of which was a slip of paper on which was written a month and day of the year, for example, May 2, June 1, etc. The order in which these capsules were drawn determines the relative position in the national random sequence of registrants born on all the dates of the year including February 29. As September 14 was drawn first, all men born on September 14 are No. 1 in the national random sequence. As June 8 was drawn last, all men with that birthday are No. 366 in the national random sequence. Q-How will this sequence be used by local boards?

A-Each local board will assign numbers to its registrants who are in I-A or who become 1-A in accord with the national sequence. Some local boards may not have at any one time men with birthdays on every day. In such a case the local board would go to the next number. For instance, it might call numbers 1 through 5, then 7 and 8 because it had no men whose birthdays were on the day drawn sixth in the drawing.

Q-Why is there a drawing of the alphabet? A-This drawing random-case a local board had two or more men with the same birthday and was required to order one but not all of them for a call, it has a way to determine which comes first, second, etc., by applying the random alphabet to the names. In the drawing of December 1, 1969, the letter "J" was drawn first. So men whose names begin with "J" would be called first by the local board among men with the same number from the birthday drawing. Q--Does everybody get a number out of the first lot-

A-No-the first drawing will determine the random sequence number only for those men who prior to January 1, 1970 had attained age 19. and not 26. Besides that, the number in which his birthday is drawn will not mean anything until he is classified I-A or I-A-O. Some men in the group who eventually will get a number out of the first drawing may not become 1-A until next year or later. In that case, his number will determine his order in the national sequence in use that year. For example, if his birthday is drawn No. 80, and he is now deferred for college, but loses his college deferment in June 1971, he will be No. 80 in the national random sequence in use that year. Q-How do new 19-year-olds get a number? A-Before the end of 1970, a drawing of the 366 days of the year will be held. This drawing will determine the national random sequence to be used in 1971. The only registrants who would look to that drawing to determine where they stand in the national random sequence are those who turned 19 during

Q-How do you use more t han one drawing? A-The date of November 9, was drawn No. 80 in the first lottery. This may be the number of a man who was in college during 1970, but graduated and lost his deferment in June 1971. The date of September 11 may be drawn No. 80 in the next lottery. A man born on September 11 who was available in 1971 would be No. 80 in the random order. So would the first man whose birthday of November 9 was drawn No. 80 a year earlier. If both men were in the same local board they would be called on former system. the came call or if one, but not both were required, the random alphabet would determine which one went first. Q-Doesn't the registrant who is in college most of the year have an advantage over the one who can't go to col-lege and is in I-A throughout when the postponement ends. Q-Can a man whose birthday is drawn early in the the year? A-No. The key in both ca-ses is whether his random sequence number is reached in his local board. If the random sequence number has been reached in the case of a registrant who becomes I-A late in the year, he will be inducted as soon as appeals, examinations and so forth, are year has ended. There is no way he can gain an advantage by delaying his actual induction through time required for personal appearance, appeals, examination and other processing if his random sequence number has been reached.

Q-What about the registrant who loses a deferment or exemption just before age

A-This is like the case in the previous question. If his number has been or is reached, and he loses his deferment just before his 26th birthday, he will, if his deferment extended his liability to age 35 as most do, be inducted at the end of all the processing steps-if he remains in Class I-A or I-A-O and is qualified, even though he has turned 26 during this period of delay.

Q-How does this system help registrant know with more certainty his chances of ser-

A-First of all, his period of greatest vulnerability is one year, rather than seve. Second, the order in which his birthday is drawn will tell him where he stands in the national random selection sequence. If his birthday is drawn early he knows that when he is classified I-A and found acceptable, he is almost certain to be called. He can plan his career to accomodate that possibility. If his birthday is drawn near the end, he has relative certainty he may not be called short of unusual circumstances. He can planaccordingly. For the registrant whose birthday is drawn in the middle range it is not so clear, but in any event the system will give much oreater certainty

than is possible under 'tne

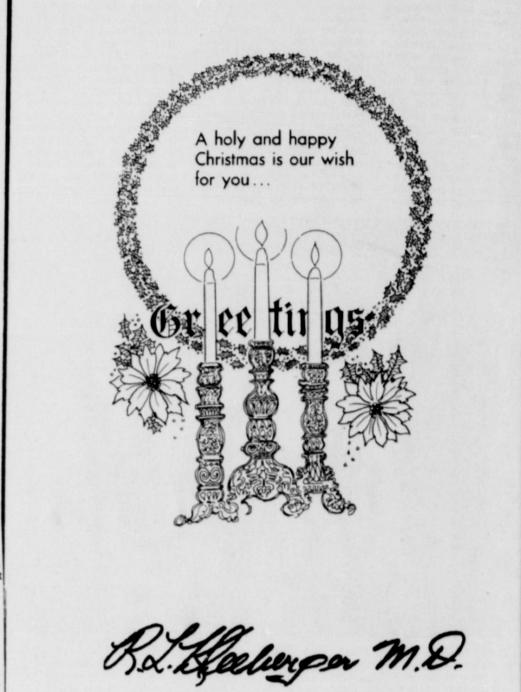

Q-Will registrants now postponed be in the random se-der is issued. Q-What about volunteer-A-No. The postponed regis- ing for active duty? A-The policy is to authortrant has already been ordered for induction under the old ize enlistment for active duty at any time up to the day of system and will be inducted induction.

Q-What is the situation of a registrant who is in I-A for the first part of the year, but drawing still join the Reenters college in September .

A-Yes, Just as now, he can join a Reserve Unit any time before the induction or-

Gifts Suitable For The Young 'Sideburn' Set

COLLEGE STATION-The youth market, especially 20 to 30 year olds, takes more consideration each year of furniture manufacturers and design ers. This year the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers chose their consumer panel from this group to select furniture items, priced under $100, as Christmas gift suggestions.

Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, reports that a very modern stack chair, a low chit chat chair, a pair of hostess tables and a card table with snap-on trays were most popular. The stack chairs are handsome enough for any living room in modern decor and are especially suited to the young "sideburn set", the Texas A&M University spe-

The two selected are in simplified Mediterranean design that mixes well with rural French or English. The price is a big attraction: $40 each or about $80 for the pair. They are in solid oak construction with bookmatched oak veneer tops.

A round game table that accommodates eight and has snap-on molded plastic trays to hold refreshments, poker chips, ashtrays, etc., is a rare find on the market, Miss Lay says. It is available in green velvet or vinyl cover in either simulated Danish walnut grain or gold and blue.

The accessory will have many uses in a multitude of homes. The table retails for around $45 and matching upholstered chairs for around $14 each. Table and chairs fold for storage.
