Chief Wood Gives Rules For Bicycles

Citizens of Spearman are reminded this week by Police Chief Leland Wood of City Ordinance No. 344 regulating the use of bicycles on the public streets of the city. The ordinance requires that a bicycle that is ridden on public streets after dark and before sunrise be equipped with a front light in working order and illuminate the road ahead of the bicycle for a distance of at least 20 feet. It must also be equipped with a rear red taillight in working order that can be seen from a distance of at least 100 feet from the rear of the bicycle. The bicycle is also required to have a rear reflector at least 2 inches in diameter.

It is unlawful to ride a bicycle not equipped as stated on the public streets of the City of Spearman. The ordinance provides a penalty for violation. A large number since the beginning of spring and residents reminded of these rules regarding bicycle equipment and regulations.

Sherwood Named Athletic Director

Greg Sherwood, a Panhandle High School graduate who compiled a 59-19-1 head-coaching record in eight years, Friday night was hired as head football coach and athletic director at Spearman High School.

Sherwood, who currently is Vega's high school principal, will replace Clark Mires, who resigned last month with plans to enter private business here.

Sherwood's hiring was approved in a special meeting of the school board Friday night.

A 1955 Panhandle High School graduate, Sherwood brings 13 years of coaching experience with him here, including eight seasons as a head coach with stints at Dalhart, Liberal, Kan. and Kermit.

While a head coach at Dalhart, Sherwood's teams compiled a 41-9-1 mark over five seasons. He guided Liberal to a 13-5 showing in two seasons Redskin mentor and was 5-5 in his only season at Kermit. He has been high school principal at Vega this past year.

"We think we'd have to look a long time to find someone to fit our needs better and probably couldn't," said James Cunningham, Spearman's Superintendent of schools.

"His coaching philosophies are much like Clark's (Mires) he's a fine Christian man, and that's the kind of person we were looking for."

"I missed coaching," said Sherwood. "I've enjoyed what I've been doing, but I've missed the relationship with the boys I had as a coach."

"I'm looking forward to going to Spearman. They seem to have a real good community and school, and I'm looking forward to being part of it."

Sherwood, 36, and his wife Jacquelyn have been married 18 years and have two sons, Scott a seventh grader, and Stan, a fourth grader.

In other business the bids on tennis court lighting were tabled until the next meeting, needing more information.

A representative from Golden Circle Development Co. was present and asked for assistance in laying a sewer line on their property located on Hwy. 207. The council refused since the city ordinance reads that the utilities on such property is the responsibility of the developer.

Insurance on the city hall was discussed and decision tabled until the next meeting.

The name of the Park Board was changed to Park and Recreation Board. This board was given the responsibility of the Summer recreation program. This program has been financed in the past years with city funds, and the council felt since taxpayers money was used, authority should be under the city government. At the present time, the recreation program will consist of swimming and track for children in grades 1 thru 8. The program will begin June 11 and run five weeks thru July 13. The swimming coach will be Rev. Don Wirsdorfer, and the track mentor will be Kenneth Friemel. Tennis may be offered, depending on whether or not an instructor can be found.

Commissioners Plan New Show Barn For Spearman-Gruver

The commissioners had a rather busy meeting Monday, as they discussed the propositions to construct a new, "show barn" in Spearman and Gruver. The new barns will be a large enough to have indoor rodeos, livestock shows, and regular county fairs. In fact, the commissioners were looking at buildings 300 x 100 feet, almost as big as a football field. The buildings will be constructed on school property, and this could solve the problem of spring sports in our cold area, as the barns would be big enough for track and field practice events, plus football workouts. Of course, the main purpose of the buildings, would be for the livestock shows, and rodeos in the area.

The commissioners were notified that the dirt moving for the new track for Spearman High School, will begin May 21st. The dirt will be moved to the South side of Spearman High School, and be used as fill for the new high school track.

In discussing the new proposed Palo Duro dam with the court last Monday, it was learned that everything is going as well as could be expected. One slight delay in the dam, could be caused by the "ecology" of the Palo Duro dam. It seems that there are some trees and a few beavers on the creek that must be protected. But, other than this minor situation, everything is going "full speed" towards our new palo duro dam.

Joe Day and the commissioners received a "thanks" from Little League officials for patching up the road around the Little League park in Spearman. Commissioner Day says that he will give the road another shot of asphalt as soon as they start repairing roads in the area this summer. Also, the entire town is grateful to the court for helping our little league program. Some 9 ball teams are using the little league field this year, plus several larger boys on the babe ruth field. Thanks once again, to the commissioners!

news from your HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

by N. D. Evans

I think all of us in this area are determined to eat beef regardless of the price. However, with the approach of summer and guests, we may wish to stretch our meat as far as possible.

Each of us actually needs two three ounce servings of meat daily. But most of us eat more than this amount. We can reduce overall meat expenditure by serving only 3 ounce (cooked) servings. This may seem like a small amount of meat but in a stew or salad it goes much farther. Using meat in casseroles with beans, noodles, rice, etc. makes it go farther. Using less expensive types of meat stretches the budget. Remember ground meat is as nutritious as steak!

Ground meat can be combined with many different foods. Check your cook book for ideas. Hamburger patties combine oatmeal, crushed cereal, breadcrumbs, crack-crumb, or rice with meat.

Services were held Wednesday at 10:00 a. m., in Ann's Catholic Church for James Frances O'Brien, 69, a long-time Stinnett resident who died early Sunday morning at Mansford Hospital. Father Sonderman of St. John's Catholic Church in Borger officiated. Burial was in Sunset Memorial Cemetery by Simpsons Funeral Home of Stinnett.

Mr. O'Brien, along with his wife Myrtle have been residents of Pioneer Manor here for several years. Other survivors include a brother Robert of Rogers, Ark, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Hayman of Anadarko, Okla.

Prepackaged orange juice, only one example of today's processed foods, keeps 180,000 tons of peels and pulp out of New York City's waste each year, says Georgia-Pacific Corp., a major national manufacturer of disposable paper packaging.

Modern frozen food packaging containers, the packaging experts note, bring countless products into every town and city minus the skin, bones, scales, feathers, innards, stalks, peels, leaves and other mountains of solid waste that would cause catastrophic local disposal problems.

Food and beverages account for 56 per cent of all consumer packaging, the paper coming from commercial timber grown for that purpose.

DIVERSION TERRACES BIG HELP DURING HEAVY RAINS--
A diversion is an individually designed terrace constructed for the purpose of intercepting surface runoff and conducting it at a safe velocity to a protected outlet, according to Soil Conservationists. The most common uses for diversions are to protect cropland from the runoff of adjoining land and to divert excess water from active gullies and to break up the concentration of water on long, gentle slopes that is generally considered too flat for terracing. Farmers that have diversions to be built are David Knutson and Royal Jackson. Contact your Soil Conservation office for information.

Gifford-Hill President John F. Hill, Jr. said the decision to hold this year's meeting in Atlanta was "based on our wish to meet personally the increasing number of Gifford-Hill shareholders in this area. It also reflects the major importance of the entire Southeast to our company."

While citing an optimistic picture for the upcoming year, Hill reminded shareholders at the meeting that a severe shortage of cement still exists in the Southeast, and that this shortage is adding considerable to the cost of ready-mixed concrete operations in the area. Hill added, "Just a little over 4 years ago, in 1968, less than seven-and-a-half million barrels of Portland Cement and Clinker was being imported in the United States from abroad. Last year, 1972, almost 8-million barrels was imported into just one state, Florida. And the total importation across the country jumped to more than 26-million barrels, an increase of 254 percent in just 4 years."

Hill pointed to his company's current construction of a 26-million dollar cement plant in Harleyville, South Carolina as a step toward providing some solution to the growing problem, and added that the company was exploring all avenues toward further solutions. In general, said Hill, "we are confident of achieving our basic objective of a 12 percent annual increase in per-share earnings," a goal that was surpassed by 1972's 19 percent gain. "Looking ahead to 1974," said Hill, "we are most optimistic. Given a reasonable level of economic activity, improvement should continue in all segments of our business. Moreover, we expect substantial earnings from the new cement plant and the other expansion projects included in our record 1973 capital expenditures budget of $44.1 million."

The Annual Shareholders meeting was held at the First National Bank of Atlanta.

The newest, and perhaps most unusual, big U.S. export item is air pollution--or at least a major cause of such pollution. The Japanese are manufacturing it into paper for their domestic market. The former source of such cinders and smoke, which Georgia-Pacific Corp. says will amount to over 7,000,000 tons this year, exports from its West Coast dock, in the form of surplus wood chips made from sawmill plywood plant waste that once poured into smoldering incinerators or was piled as flammable solid waste.

Higher Price For Hansford Farmland

What extent has the price of farmland in Hansford County increased in recent years? How does the local price compare with what is being paid in other areas? Because of the mounting demand for acreage, by farmers as well as by others, there has been active bidding for the land that has been put up for sale. As a result, there have been shooting wars, nationally, in the past year alone, the upward surge amounted to more than 10 percent, states the Department of Agriculture. That is the biggest annual increase since 1951. In 1971, the increase was 4.2 percent. The developments have had their effect in Hansford County. Nine years ago, when the 1964 Census of Agriculture was taken, farm real estate averaged $155 per acre locally. That was for the land and the buildings on it.

And, for the State of Texas as a whole, the average was $106 per acre. Since then there has been a major shift upward. The latest report from the Department of Agriculture lists the valuation throughout the State, as of November, 1972, as $170 per acre.

On that basis, assuming that the average rate of increase in the state applies locally, farmland values in Hansford County have climbed to approximately $248 per acre.

The statewide increase in Texas since 1964, 60 percent, compares with 56 percent nationally and with 64 percent in the Southern Plains States.

More than half the land that is changing hands is being bought by farmers who want to enlarge their present holdings to a size that can utilize farm machinery more effectively and profitably.

As for the remainder, most of it is being acquired for operation as a unit from farmers who are retiring or from the estates of those who have died.

In some localities, also, other factors are influencing land prices. Near metropolitan and suburban areas, substantial acreage is shifting to urban use.

Rising land values are important to farmers, notes the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. "Such gains improve their net worth and thus their debt-carrying capacity."

"TEXAS" Leading Actors Introduced

William A. Moore, the director of the musical drama "Texas" which plays in the Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo and Canyon, Texas each summer, takes pleasure in introducing the eight actors who will play the leading roles in the production this year. Three of them have not been in previous "Texas" casts.

The first new player is Cynthia Newman of Hobbs, New Mexico. In 1972-1973 she has been a graduate assistant in speech at West Texas State University working on a Master's degree in that department with emphasis on theatre. While an undergraduate at West Texas Cynthia played many roles with distinction. Among the awards she received was the award for being the Best Actress in the Branding Iron Theatre for 1971-72. Among her roles at the Branding Iron were Lydian Emerson in NIGHT THOREAU SPENT IN JAIL, Ophelia in HAMLET, Birdie in THE LITTLE FOXES, Alias in LION IN WINTER, Honey in WHO'S AFRAID OF VIRGINIA WOLFE.

Before returning to West Texas to teach, Miss Newman was production manager and sales manager for KHOB-AM and KLDG-FM radio stations in Hobbs. While there she was named best supporting actress in THE STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE for her role of Stella, and Best Actress as Constance in MARRIAGE-GO-ROUND.

She also appeared at the Diamond Horseshoe Theatre of Amarillo.

In addition to her acting talents, Miss Newman has had considerable success as a director, both at West Texas State and in Hobbs.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Newman of Hobbs.

The second newcomer in a major role will be Garland McKinney of Henryetta, Oklahoma, who will play Uncle Henry. Mr. McKinney has had major roles in two other distinguished outdoor dramas. In THE TRAIL OF TEARS at Tallequah, Oklahoma, he played the parts of Rations Boss and Stand Watie. In THE TRUMPET IN THE LAND, Dover, Ohio, the Paul Green play which opened in 1970, he did the leading role, the preacher, David Zelsberger. A graduate of the University of Oklahoma, with an advanced degree from George Washington University, he had extensive experience in Texas and Oklahoma little theatre groups. Among his productions at the Tulsa Little Theatre were the PETRIE FOREST and THE INDIANS. At the Theatre Suburbia in Houston and the Channing players there were appearances as Teddy in the HOMECOMING by Pinter, Henry in THE LION IN WINTER, John in THE SUBJECT WAS ROSES and the Spoon River Anthology.

The third player who has not been in "Texas" before is Mitch Dean Hall of Sugarland, Texas, a student at Texas A & M. Among the roles he has played are Marco the Magnificent in CARONIVAL, and leads in SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY, UNDER THE SYCAMORE TREE, and THE EMPEROR'S NEW CLOTHES. He is a member of the Aggie players and the Singing Cadets and is presently starting his own musical group. He will play the part of Dave Newberry.

The five leading actors who are returning to the "Texas" cast are Travis Dean as Calvin, Vicki McCormick as Kate, Jerry Williams as Tuck, Jane Lipscomb as Aunt Anna and Charles Wright as Jesse Armstrong.

Travis Dean first played the leading role of Calvin Armstrong last summer in the seventh season of "Texas" after dancing in the production several previous seasons. During his years as a theatre major he has received Best Actor awards for his work as Hamlet, Creon in EDIPUS, EDWIN BOOTH in EDWIN BOOTH, THOREAU IN THE NIGHT, THOREAU SPENT IN JAIL. Since last summer, he has played David in A PSALM OF TWO DAVIDS, and also appeared in MARY OF SCOTLAND. He holds the acting scholarship from the Friends of Fine Arts at West Texas State University. Amarillo is his home.

Vicki McCormick will play Kate for the second season in 1973. Since her graduation from West Texas State University, she has been teaching music therapy at the Amarillo State Center for Human Development. Her experience includes the role of Goldie in FIDDLER ON THE ROOF, Niklas in TALES OF HOFFMANN and appearances in numerous other productions.

She holds the Best Actress in a musical award and has received many other honors. Her parents live in Dumas. Jerry Williams is entering his sixth season as Tuck, the old prospector. He spends the rest of his time as the owner of Williams Et Cetera and deals there with quality antiques and unusual gifts and as field manager for Cosmetics International Corporation. He also follows his earlier field as a speech pathologist by acting as supervisor for the student clinicians in the field working at the West Texas State University Speech and Hearing Center. He is a member of the Board of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the chairman of its Tourism committee.

Jane Lipscomb will be welcomed again in the role of Aunt Anna. She combines wide acting experience with intimate knowledge of the realities of ranching life in the panhandle since she comes from two ranching families, the Bivin and the Beverleys. She received her BA from Texas Women's University and did graduate work at Columbia Teachers College. While there in the east, she appeared with the Daltrey Opera Company and Barnes and Carruthers shows. At present she is playing with Andy Devine in the Amarillo Little Theatre production of THREE ANGELS and is also the advisor on the Little Theatre Board. She is the wife of Dr. Joe Lipscomb and has two children.

Charles Wright who portrays Jesse Armstrong has been a part of every production ever held in the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon. After acting as house manager for several seasons, he took over the part of the old man who gives up after the death of his wife and goes back east. Mr. Wright's acting career began in Carthage College where he was cast in numerous productions. He holds degrees from the University of Illinois as well as from Carthage and has done graduate work at the Universities of Oregon and Oklahoma. In the winter he is a professor of Biology at West Texas State University. Mrs. Wright is the assistant costumer to the production and his daughter, Melissa, will be in it this summer. His other two daughters served in the box office for several years.

The directors have reached into an area of 180,000 square miles to find these actors, and hope you will enjoy them.

For tickets to "Texas" and information, write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. The season opens June 21, 1973 and will close August 25, playing nightly except Sundays. There will be a special performance on Sunday, July 1.

One man, using a newly developed gun, can now plant 1,600 forest trees a day, says Georgia-Pacific Corp., a major U.S. tree farmer.

Only 10 men can plant a 40-acre farm in a day to grow timber for homes, paper and man's other forest-oriented needs.

The new trees will mature when today's school children are active adults, some of whom will be planting the next crop of trees.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank each of my friends for all the thoughtful things you did for me while I was in the Hansford Hospital here. Also while I was in the St. Anthony Hospital in Amarillo, for the beautiful flowers, cards and letters, especially for your visits and prayers. May God bless each of you and keep you in his loving care. J. W. Brown

During a time like this we realize how much our friends mean to us. Your visits with our mother and grandmother while she was in the hospital here were most appreciated. Also we are grateful for your prayers, flowers, memorials, cards, food, visits, and other acts of kindness during the illness and death of our loved one. The family of Mrs. M. W. McCloy

I want to thank everyone for the many cards, calls, flowers and visits I received while I was in Hansford Hospital and Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Your kindness will be long remembered. Robert Janzen

It has been impossible to acknowledge each card, telephone call or other contact made while I have been in and out of the hospital since last December. I wish to take this opportunity to express publicly to those many people who have offered prayers, sent personal cards, made telephone calls, sent flowers and manifested other evidences of concern, my everlasting gratitude. Especially do I wish to thank the county officials and employees of the 84th Judicial District who have given so much assistance in keeping the court in operation along with judges from other districts. I expect to return to full time tenure on the bench on June 4th. Gratefully submitted, Max W. Boyer, Judge 84th Judicial District

The Spearman Rebekah Lodge wishes to thank the Spearman Jaycees for the cold drink stand that they let us have during the celebration. Also, our thanks to the White House Lumber Co. for furnishing us with the lumber. Also the many people who patronized our booth.

COLLEGE STATION--That next steak you eat may be "rarer" than you think.

Why is steak, or all beef for that matter, so rare?

It's a simple matter of time, points out the Texas A&M University specialist.

Uvacek explains it this way. A cow produces only one calf in 12 months.

CONGRESSMAN BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT--TEXAS

Starting the week of May 14, the House Committee on Agriculture of which I am a Member, will begin drawing up new farm program legislation for 1973. What is to be included in the new farm bill has been a source of keen interest and discussion among my constituents and persons living in rural America everywhere, and my office has been receiving a great deal of mail on this subject.

At this point it is simply too soon to predict what specific provisions will be worked out by the committee, but one thing is certain--I intend to support those programs and policies which will assure farmers and ranchers a fair and equitable return on their investments. With the considerable public hostility toward food prices which has recently been aroused by so-called consumer lobbyists, liberal Members of Congress and other public figures, this will undoubtedly make our task of securing a meaningful farm bill more difficult.

I am convinced that if we are ever going to solve the problems of urban congestion and the depletion of rural America, it will only be through the enactment of legislation to provide economic opportunities for those living on farms, ranches, and in our small communities. At a time when farmers and ranchers are just achieving an equitable return on their investments, we cannot permit misguided public opinion from undermining or spoiling that progress.

On Thursday, I placed in the Congressional Record the names of over 1,300 of our servicemen who are still listed as Missing in Action in the Vietnam War. As a condition of the Paris peace accord reached earlier this year, our Nation was assured of a complete accounting and listing of all Americans held by the Communists. However, the list finally submitted to us by the Communists accounted for little more than 30% of the men labeled as POW-MIA's. I cannot accept this list as being complete; we simply must not sacrifice these men for the sake of appeasement or expediency.

The great sacrifice these men have made in the service of this Nation requires our greatest effort to get at the truth about their fate and whereabouts.

Too Late To Classify

Well, at least that's a thousand pounds of beef you say? "Not by a long shot," Uvacek hastens to point out.

"A lot of weight from the animal is lost in slaughtering and processing. A 1,000-pound animal produces only about 48 pounds of sirloin steaks."

A 1,000-pound steer that grades "choice" will produce about 600 pounds of carcass. Take away the fat, bone and waste and only about 444 pounds of edible beef remains.

The specialist is concerned that consumers today are not aware of the time and costs involved in beef production.

"Increased production has made beef available to more consumers now than ever before. Back when only the wealthy could afford expensive cuts of beef, there was little concern over prices."

New moldings for doors, window frames, baseboards and other uses look like real wood but are made mostly from common salt.

Georgia-Pacific Corp. says response from do-it-yourselfers as well as professional builders who use the non-splitting, sawable and malleable PVC (polyvinyl chloride) foamed moldings has been excellent.

The basic ingredient for PVC is chlorine, which the company makes from salt.

The chlorine also is used for household bleach, swimming pool and municipal water purification as well as tertiary sewage treatment.

FARM & RANCH NEWS
County Agricultural Agent

In a recent USDA release of the 1973 wheat crop forecast, Texas wheat production, based on May 1 conditions, is estimated at 83,200,000 bushels. This year's production is expected to be nearly double last year's 44,000,000 bushels. Yield is forecast at a record high of 26.0 bushels per acre compared with 22 bushels last year. Acres for harvest as grain are estimated at 3,200,000 -- 60 percent greater than the 2,000,000 acres harvested last year.

For the United States wheat production is forecast at 1,281,999,000 bushels this year compared to 1,185,890,000 bushels last year. This is an 8 percent increase from a year earlier and 12 percent above 1971 production.

RANGE AND PASTURE PROBLEMS -- I have scheduled Dr. Roy Miller, our Extension Range and Pasture Specialist to be in our county on May 30 to inspect some of our range weed problems.

SOME GARDEN VEGETABLES need more nitrogen than is provided by the complete fertilizer recommended for a general garden plot. Sweet corn, okra, peppers, tomatoes, squash and greens will need additional nitrogen applications.

Highways To Have New Color Stripe

AUSTIN--Inside line pavement markings on divided highways will take on a new color soon, the Texas Highway Department has announced.

Previously both the inside and outside edge lines were painted white. Painting the inside edgeline yellow will correspond with the solid yellow center line on undivided highways, which denotes a restriction against passing.

Target date for changing the markings in Texas and elsewhere in the United States is December 31, 1974.

per 10 feet of row. This amount equals about 90 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Okra should be sidedressed after the first picking with one to two tablespoons of ammonium nitrate or three tablespoons of ammonium sulfate for every 10 feet of row. Peppers and tomatoes need a side-dressing when their first fruits are one inch in diameter. For every two feet of peppers, apply one teaspoon of ammonium nitrate or one-and-a-half teaspoons of ammonium sulfate. Apply the same amount around each tomato plant and repeat applications at three-week intervals during picking.

For squash, apply a half to one teaspoon of ammonium nitrate or two teaspoons of ammonium sulfate around each plant when runners are 12 inches long. Greens need one teaspoon of ammonium nitrate or one-and-a-half teaspoons of ammonium sulfate along every two feet of row.

To avoid foliage burn, do not get fertilizer on wet plants while sidedressing.

Social Security

School teachers who get social security monthly benefits on their own work record, as a widow, or as a wife, may be eligible to get social security benefits during the summer months, Howard L. Weatherly, Manager of the Pampa Social Security Office, said today.

Although a teacher's contract is an annual salary, paid in twelve monthly installments if the teacher so requests, there can be one, two or three months during the summer when no work is done. Teachers, the same as any other social security beneficiary, can get their social security check when they do not work and earn more than $175 a month.

There's an easy way for teachers to determine if they are qualified for their monthly social security check. Divide your yearly contract salary by the number of work days set by your state. This will give you the daily rate of pay.

For example: If you have an annual salary as a teacher of $9500 and your state requires 190 work days, you divide the $9500 by 190 and you then have a daily rate of pay of $50. If you work only three, or any part of three days during a month, then you would have earnings of less than $175 a month.

Since these events normally occur during the summer months, generally in June or August, you would need to look carefully at your earnings to determine if you would be eligible for your monthly social security check. If you have a question about this, contact your Social Security Office, or see any social security representative.

FPC Offering Summer School Courses

Students interested in any of the above listed courses should write or call the registrar's office by no later than May 21. Courses other than those listed above may be requested and if there is sufficient demand, the courses will be offered.

Registration for the first summer session at Frank Phillips College is scheduled for June 1, from 6:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. in the James W. Dillard Library. Classes begin Monday, June 4.

It takes six quarts of water and two ounces of wood to make one ounce of paper for tissue, books and newspapers, according to Georgia-Pacific Corp., a leading U.S. papermaker.

Last year the company purified 88 billion gallons of water, some of it before use as well as after use, to make 1,848,000 tons of vital paper for U.S. consumers.

THRIFTWAY Check Rated Values

The first of many more to come, probably, was the marriage ceremony performed last week in Norman, Okla., when the bride chose to retain her maiden name. These ideas thought up by today's young people never cease to amaze me.

When Barbara Catherine Tarbutton and Ronald Richard Clapp were married Saturday, the bride did not become Mrs. Clapp.

The couple decided, in the midst of making their wedding plans, that Miss Tarbutton would retain her maiden name after their marriage. The idea occurred to them "individually and separately," she said, but they agreed jointly.

The two University of Oklahoma graduate students said the decision had something to do with women's rights, a lot to do with Barbara's feelings about her identity, and they think that it had a firm background in European culture and in biblical precedent.

"I feel my name is part of my identity, as a woman, as a person," the bride said. The young woman said they were against marriage as two becoming one, stressing that she is an individual. She thinks being married is two individuals coming together, being friends and loving--separate yet together.

The groom affirmed that he was very much in favor of it--he thinks that her taking his name is no more reasonable than him taking her name.

Since becoming engaged, the couple researched the matter carefully. The bride said in biblical times a woman was known not as the wife of someone but as the daughter of someone. Her mother is from Luxemburg and says that in Europe women retain their names.

The couple has several friends who have expressed intentions of doing the same when they marry. There is also a custom among some people to combine their names into a new spelling.

Realizing that there may be legal implications, they checked with a legal aid service provided by the OU student government. The lawyer could find no law in Oklahoma that said a wife has to take her husband's name.

The law allows the use of any name as long as the intention is not to defraud. The bride may go through a court procedure for a legal right to her maiden name, though her husband feels it is simply a protective device. After a check with a court clerk, a minister and some reading material, they are concerned about her driver's license and about names of children in later years. But a woman can choose a child's name, the groom has found out: a father has no legal right in that circumstance.

In the fall both will be seeking jobs in the field of guidance and counseling and they feel the two names will keep their professional identities separate after they explain to prospective employers. They both agree that once people accept you for what you are, the name makes no difference.

Seems to me the whole idea of this strange ceremony boils down to "What's mine is mine, what's yours is yours" and with this thought in mind I am wondering if the couple will ever make a go of marital bliss which is definitely a game of "sharing". If I didn't want to share his name, I certainly wouldn't want to share the toothpaste.

So long as they live in the State of Oklahoma they might make it...but many states have a law which requires the wife to bear her husband's name. A move to another state might require another marriage ceremony--making both one--whether they like it or not.

The bride's reasoning is a little thin in my way of thinking. First she says her name is a part of her identity and to change it would change her identity. Now I've been called lots of names...some of them I don't dare print here--but I never felt any of these changed by identity. Then, both Barbara & Ronald wound up saying that once people accept you for what you are, the name makes no difference.

So--why do you suppose she objected to being called Ms. Clapp for the rest of her life???
