VOLUME 64, No. 36 THE SPEARMAN REPORTER, Hansford County, Texas 79081 THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1973

YOU NAME IT!

This is the time of year that you must keep your eyes and ears open for rattlesnakes. The latest stories are as follows: Tommy Raso, who spends the summers with the McLains, was riding in the pasture last week, and killed a large rattler. He threw the snake on his horse and was going to bring it in to the headquarters. The snake slid off of the horse, and the horse panicked, throwing Tommy through a barbed wire fence, and they had to take 69 stitches to put him back together. He is doing fine now, but probably won't ever carry a snake on his horse again.

Commissioner L. F. Hand, like all of our oil-field hands, has learned to watch for snakes out on the leases. The other day, however, he went inside one of the little houses on a lease and failed to hear a rattler. Sure enough, Mr. Rattler was sleeping, and L. F. almost stepped on him. The snake struck at L. F., but missed him, and that is very unusual.

And, speaking of wild animals, about the best story I can come up with this week is one my wife's uncle told me. Sybil's father Roy, and his brother Hoots Martin had a trap line in Colorado back in the depression days. Roy caught a Lynx cat and decided that he wanted to take the big cat alive. So, he told brother Hoots to get a large log, and hold the cat down, while he put a trap on his front feet, as he a ready had been caught by the back foot. Sure enough they got the traps on the Lynx, and then they threw the big cat on top of their mule, across the saddle. Hoots says he can still remember hearing that mule bray, as he went over the top of a mountain. They finally had to walk the cat to camp, when they finally caught up with the cat and mule. So, if you are on a horse, don't try to carry rattlesnakes and wild cats on said horses, it just won't work. And, watch for snakes in the oil fields also.

The Honorable D. E. Hackley Mayor of Spearman P. O. Box 37 Spearman, Texas 79081 re: Texas High School Coaches Association (Our Client)

Dear Mayor Hackley:

As you know, your city will be well-represented in the 39th annual Texas High School All-Star football game on Thursday, August 2, in Texas Stadium.

We feel certain that your entire city is proud to have your All-star chosen for this annual schoolboy gridiron classic. He is checked on the enclosed roster.

Dallas Mayor Wes Wise has just predicted a 28-13 victory for the North.

Houston Mayor Louis Welch, however, has forecast a decisive victory for the South.

Undoubtedly, local pride and loyalty to their respective cities has influenced the predictions of both mayors.

We invite you to accept their challenges, and to join in this friendly, North-South Texas rivalry by submitting your All-Star football game forecast and comments to this office. Your views will be duly dispatched to the wire service and newspaper-radio-TV sports editors, state-wide.

We will gladly accept your comments and All-Star game prediction -- by telegram, telephone and mail.

Your participation will provide another important boost for public interest in Texas high school football.

Many thanks.

Kindest regards,
Hal Copeland

RECREATIONAL AGRICULTURAL BUILDING FOR HANSFORD CO.

Spearman and Hansford Counties will be beneficiaries of a magnificent agricultural recreational building program. At least, Gruver, but so far, no plans have been located in Spearman to put the building.

The buildings will be erected at a cost of $70,000 each, and will be available for Spearman.

The best part of the entire program, is the fact that the buildings will be built with revenue sharing money, and will not cost local taxpayers.

For years the cattlemen and business-men have needed a place to hold agricultural fairs, and stock shows. It will be a great advantage to the future of agriculture and growth of both Spearman and Gruver to have this new steel recreational facility. And in the meantime, if you can think of anyplace in Spearman to erect this new building, please contact Judge Lee or any of the commissioners.

Crop Report Looks Good... Milk Production Increases and Decreases... Pasture and Range Conditions

All major crops in Texas show increases in acreage, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. Wheat production as well as oat production are also estimated now at two to three times above 1972 production levels.

Upland cotton acres for Texas this year are estimated at 5,700,000 compared with 5,570,000 in 1972. Acres planted to American-Pima cotton are 35,000, unchanged from last year. All of the increase in the upland cotton is in the High and Low Plains and Edwards Plateau.

Grain sorghum acreage this year in Texas is estimated at 8,100,000 acres, up 19 per cent from the 6,800,000 acres planted in 1972. Harvest of the crop has already started in South Texas. An excellent crop is indicated for Central Texas. Hot, dry weather is needed to mature the crop.

Corn planted for all purposes in Texas this year is estimated at 700,000 acres compared with 580,000 acres planted in 1972. Because of the weather, corn is in various stages of growth in every area of the state. Farmers in all parts of the state were able to get some early stands; most stands were about on schedule but cold, wet weather increased late plantings.

Peanut acreage for Texas in 1973 is up two per cent from 1972. Acreage now is estimated at 320,000 acres. Weather again delayed the progress, but moisture conditions now are favorable for the development of a good peanut crop.

Wheat production is now estimated at 95,200,000 bushels in Texas; this is more than double the 44,000,000 bushels produced in 1972.

Yield is expected to average 28 bushels per acre, a record, compared with 22 bushels last year. Harvested acres set at 3,400,000 compared with only 2,000,000 in 1972. Wheat harvest for the state is now virtually complete.

Oat production this year is estimated at 26,650,000 bushels, compared with only 9,720,000 bushels in 1972. Yield is expected to average a record 41 bushels per acre compared with 27 bushels in 1972. Acres for harvest are set at 650,000 compared with 300,000 in 1972. Harvest is completed.

Soybeans, a crop which is becoming more important in Texas, are estimated to total 450,000 acres this year, compared with 225,000 in 1972, and only 114,000 in 1971. Seeding for the state is complete; acreage is mostly in the High Plains and the southern half of the state.

Rice acreage in Texas this year is estimated at 553,000 acres compared with 469,000 acres in 1972. Harvest of the earliest stands is at hand.

Barley production is estimated at 3,510,000 bushels, compared with 1,980,000 bushels in 1972. Yield is expected to average 33 bushels per acre compared to 33 bushels in 1972. Harvested acres are set at 90,000 compared to 60,000 last year.

Rye production is estimated at 900,000 compared to 630,000 bushels in 1972. Average is 18 bushels per acre; harvested acres are set at 50,000 compared to 35,000 in 1972.

Only flaxseed, Irish potatoes and peaches are expected to be under 1972 production levels. Flaxseed planted acreage is estimated at 9,000 acres compared with 22,000 in 1972. Irish potato production is estimated at 2,991,000 hundredweight compared with 3,182,000 hundredweight in 1972. Peach production is estimated at 417,000 bushels compared with 604,000 bushels in 1972.

MILK production in Texas in June was up five per cent from a month ago, nationwide milk production was down 2.5 per cent from last year.

INFORMATION FOR VETERANS

Q--I'm a female veteran and I'm planning to go to college fulltime under the F. I. Bill. Can I claim my husband as a dependent for increased allowances?
 A--Yes. A law enacted in October 1972 provides that for VA benefits purposes, "wife shall include the widow or a female veteran."
 Q--I received an honorable discharge recently after serving three years in the military service. Am I eligible for a VA business loan?
 A--No. Eligibility for this type of loan must be based on active military service before Jan. 31, 1955. Suggest you try the Small Business Administration.

 Q--As a disabled veteran, I received a $2,800 grant from VA toward the purchase of an automobile which now requires engine repair. Can VA help out on this?
 A--No payment may be authorized for the repair, maintenance, or replacement of the automobile, itself. However, VA does pay for these services on adaptive equipment needed to operate the cars.
 Q--My local VA office has denied me a home loan guarantee on a duplex house I wish to buy. However, I believe I have a good deal. What can I do?

 A--You may write the VA regional director requesting a review of your case. At the same time, any additional information that would help your case should be included in this communication.
 Q--I read that a new laboratory technique invented by VA is revolutionizing medicine and science. What is it, and what is it used for?
 A--Radioimmunoassay (RIA)... a medical technique that measured extremely small amounts of substances from the body. It is being used in some hospitals in connection with treatment; for testing blood for hepatitis, and for cancer and other research.

 Q--I will be discharged in September, but would like to file an application for schooling now. How do I do this?
 A--There is nothing to prevent you from applying to a school now. After acceptance by the school, contact VA.

 Guimarin will also give a talk on "Today A Volunteer: Tomorrow The World."
 In addition, the convention will also give the participants an opportunity to have an orientation session, rap session, and an opportunity to display their scrapbooks and posters.

Voluntary Action Is A Way of Life

Voluntary action appears to be rapidly becoming a part of the American way of life. VISTA and the Peace Corps are two outstanding examples and many more can be thought of.

In the Lone Star State a group of volunteers will soon be coming together for their Sixth Annual Statewide Convention.

This group is different, however. They are young men and women age fourteen to eighteen who serve hospitals on a voluntary basis, after school and on weekends. They are the junior volunteers serving in the hospitals of Texas.

The Sixth Statewide Junior Hospital Volunteer Convention will be July 24, 1973 in Galveston at the Moody Center. The Convention carries as its theme "Launch Your Career As A Junior Volunteer" and will last until July 26.

The activities at the convention will be varied and will include educational programs, sessions by junior volunteers for junior volunteers, recreational activities and election of Mr. or Miss Junior Volunteer of the Year.

The Convention is sponsored annually by the Texas Hospital Association's Council on Hospital Auxiliaries and the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries.

Joe Nichols, M.D., of Atlanta, Texas is the keynote speaker for the meeting. His topic will be ecology.

Spencer Guimarin and John Haddad of the Texas Hospital Association's Health Careers Program will be the masters of ceremonies at the Mr. or Miss Junior Volunteer of the Year contest. This contest is not a beauty contest but is designed to be an honest and sincere effort to select a de-

Mexican Bricks Do Not Last

Millions of substandard handmade Mexican brick are being imported each year into Texas and Louisiana and sold to consumers as quality material; much of which will not last until the mortgage is paid off.

Water sprinklers set to close to the dwelling have been known to wash away brick. Birds have pecked the face off these bricks. The snow storms experienced in the Houston, Texas Area this year caused much damage to substandard brick. One home owner noticed, when the back door slammed on his new $35,000 home, that small pieces of brick would spall (or fall) off. Homeowners who find they have been sold a bill of goods usually find out to late. It is impossible to hold a Mexican brick company liable for substandard brick. Honest and reputable manufacturers and dealers will not misrepresent the quality of the brick they sell.

Don Halsell, President of the Brick Institute of Texas, states that a good layman's test as to the quality of brick is "If you can bite the corner off the brick, break and crumble it with your hands, cut or whittle it away with a knife, score or disfigure it with a coin, you can be sure you have a substandard brick."

Halsell bit the corner off a brick before a committee of the Texas Senate and also before the Ways & Means Committee in Washington. They were hearing testimony relating to the President's foreign trade and tariff bill. Halsell states that probably the largest single purchase in American family will make it that of a new home. It is too bad a consumer can spend his life paying for a home that was built of substandard brick.

Halsell estimates that 10 of 10 homeowners who read this article and own or are buying a brick home that is not over five years old, will be left with substandard brick.

Home sewing is growing by leaps and bounds. Recent surveys show that 80% of teenagers and adult women sew to some degree. Companies are taking advantage of this by constantly developing new notions, fabrics, findings, etc. If you sew or are interested in what's new reserve Thursday, August 30 for a Sewing at Dumas. There will be representatives from Vogue-Butterick to discuss fall fashions. Exhibits and talks on new products and methods are part of the program. The program will last from 10-12 and 1:30-4. The afternoon program will be a part of the morning so you can come at any time prior to 1:30 and still get all the information. As plans are finalized I'll give you more details. This is an activity you will want to attend. Its area effort including Hansford, Sherman, Moore, Hart and Dallam Counties. This week we have three girls representing Hansford County in the District 10 Dress Revue. These include Gina Hutchison in the senior division, Carrie Clark in the 12-13 age group and Lisa Brandvik in the 9-11 group. Assisting with the activity will be Sherry Morris who is our alternate in the Senior division. We are proud of these girls as they represent our county. The State Dress Revue will be held in October at the State Fair. More dates to reserve on your calendar are September 11 and 12. These dates will be the Christmas Fairs in Spearman and Gruver. You will see ideas for decorations and gifts. Patterns for all will be available for a small fee. With fresh fruit season in full swing take advantage of the nutrition by serving it often. Fresh fruit salads are delicious. Also fruit is a great snack for youngsters and oldsters alike. It is lower calorie than cookies, candy, etc. When youngster are inside during the heat of the day take advantage of their energy. Give them a job they can do. It may be cleaning one drawer or shelf in their room. Or utilize their energy to polish your silverware. This can be a fun project as well as helping. To keep your kitchen cooler in the summer use small appliances when possible--grills, skillet, pots, They also use less electricity.

Cancer And you--

This is the second in the series of articles "Cancer and You" prepared by two University of Texas Journalism students and a most timely article for this has to do with skin cancer and with the summer sun, vacationing, the urge to be tan, the necessity of being outdoors and in our area farm work for long hours under the sun. Your skin is the largest organ of your body, and is the most likely to develop cancer. Fortunately, skin cancer is highly curable. While over 110,000 persons will develop skin cancer this year, over 90 percent of them will be cured. Skin cancer is readily visible, so it is usually discovered in its early stages. If not neglected, the tumor is easy to treat because it is accessible. In addition, skin cancer is highly curable because the most common form does not spread to other parts of the body. The sun's ultraviolet rays have been strongly linked with skin cancer because the disease often develops in persons who have had prolonged or excessive exposure to the sun. Farmers, and sailors, with their continuous sun exposure are prone to develop skin cancer. Americans from the southeast and southwestern states develop skin cancer more often than their northern counterparts. Similarly, elderly persons have been exposed to more sun in their lives and they are the most frequent skin cancer patients. Their skin is often delicate and weathered. Fair-skinned persons have less resistance to the sun's rays than dark-skinned ones and must be more careful about exposure to the sun. The first evidence of a skin cancer is a dry scaly patch or growth which persists. The lesion may also be an inflamed area with a crusting center or a pearly or waxy nodule. These sores grow slowly, but gradually enlarge and eventually effect deeper layers of skin. In later stages, the surface forms a crust or scab while the area underneath is moist and raw, and will bleed when irritated. Early skin cancer can be cured by surgical removal or by irradiation. Some small lesions can be treated by electro-desiccation--the sore is burned out by an electric needle. While skin cancer can develop from normal skin, many arise in areas where normal changes or conditions have been apparent for a long time. These conditions are called "precancerous" because they are not themselves malignant, but possess a tendency to become cancerous. Senile (actinic) keratosis, the most common precancer, is a dry scaly patch or clump of patches, usually darker than the surrounding skin. It appears on exposed places such as the face, neck, ears, and hands of older people, especially those constantly exposed to the sun. When the top layer is removed, the base is seen to be made up of red thickened "new skin". Freckles, skin-colored moles, and reddish birthmarks are not usually precancerous. But dark brown and blue-black, flat or slightly raised moles have the potential of developing into a rare but very serious skin cancer--malignant melanoma. These moles are most likely to become malignant if they are often irritated by friction. For this reason, moles that are rubbed by a belt, collar, or shoe should be watched most carefully. Leukoplakia, the white scaly thickening of the lip or mouth membrane, predisposes to cancer. Also, burn scars, chronic skin ulcers, or other inflammatory skin lesions which do not heal may be precancerous. Any of these lesions should be considered a warning signal--to be examined by a doctor. Over exposure of the skin to certain chemicals favors the development of skin cancer, but usually only when the exposure has been excessive as in a factory when the skin is extra-sensitive. The connection between tar compounds and skin cancer dates back to 1775 when an English surgeon discovered "chimney-sweep cancer" -- a condition resulting from long exposure to soot. Lengthy contact with coal tar, pitch, paraffin, certain lubricating oils, and compounds containing arsenic have produced precancerous skin changes. Industries using these chemicals will have to find means of protecting the workers from harmful exposure levels of these elements. Skin cancer is easy to cure when discovered in time. As with most cancers, the key to cure is early detection and prompt treatment. Too many fatalities result because the patient ignores a sore or treats it himself with ointments or quack "cures". Self-treatment may alter the appearance of the lesion, making accurate diagnosis more difficult. The American Cancer Society says the way to prevent skin cancer is simply to take care of your skin. People who constantly work outdoors should wear protective clothing and lotions to shield their skin from the rays of the sun. Men with scaly patches or moles on their faces should shave carefully so they won't injure these areas. The persons who work with substances that are suspected as cancer-producing should wear clean clothes and avoid long use of sooty, tarry, or greasy clothing. Soap and water should be used frequently to cleanse the skin of these substances. If you have skin blemishes which are often irritated by clothing, these blemishes should be seen by a doctor. Heed your body's warning signals. If you have a change in a wart, mole or birthmark, or if you have a sore that does not heal in ten days, now is the time to show it to your doctor. Delay or self-treatment only give the cancer a chance to grow. For more information about skin cancer, contact your American Cancer Society. The president of the Hansford County Unit is Judge Johnny Lee--he will be able to advise you where you might find further information.

FARM & RANCH NEWS County Agricultural Agent

Insect populations seem to be on the increase in spots over the Panhandle area. Grasshoppers in areas are feeding on nearly everything green. Insecticides recommended for grasshopper control are: Carbaryl (Sevin); Malathion; Toxaphene. Be sure and read and follow label directions for the crop or plants concerned. There are a few other chemicals that can be used for special crops but these chemicals will work on the most commonly grown crops in our area. On grain sorghum, we are getting reports that the greenbug populations are increasing. Along with this we are hearing about increased numbers of beneficial insects also building up. Some fields that were treated too early may require additional sprayings since no beneficial insects were left. In areas receiving hard rains, greenbug numbers were generally reduced. The rains have also slowed an increase in mites. Sorghum producers should remember that on preboot to hard dough grain sorghum, treatment shouldn't be applied until greenbug damage is sufficient to cause the death of more than two normal sized leaves. The beneficial populations should also be taken into consideration. In the Hale County area (Plainview) many fields treated with as low a rate of Di Syton as 1/8 pint per acre received 100% kill of greenbug. If spraying is necessary, why not give the low rates a try. False chinch bugs moving from wheat stubble into many areas. This small insect may disappear as rapidly as it appeared. Treatment is seldom needed but if bugs are present in damaging numbers, treatment of borders will probably do the job. With corn, several producers have asked questions concerning the corn borer. Timing is extremely critical to obtain effective control and unwarranted chemical applications may kick off a serious mite problem. Cultural practices and early harvest appear to offer the best approach for

Lung Association Reports New Drug
American Lung Association of Texas today reported that the first preventive aid in the management of allergic asthma has been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for use in the United States. The Christmas Seal group stated that the new drug, chromolyn sodium, is now available to be given to allergic asthma sufferers. "The new drug represents a major advance in that it is given when the person is free of asthma in order to prevent an attack," a spokesman said. "It is particularly useful in seasonal asthma due to pollen." Chromolyn sodium, he said, is intended to be taken on a regular basis to prevent attacks, and has no role in the symptomatic treatment of an acute asthmatic episode. It will be marketed under the name of Intal by Fisons Corporation, the developer, and Aarane by Syntex Laboratories. Hansford County directors of the Lung Association, formerly the TB and Respiratory Disease Association, are Mrs. Mary Brock and Mrs. Lois Shieldknight of Spearman.

to use the column to discuss the program. It seems to be much more than a mere listing of premiums and rates. It considers several of the problems we have three types of premiums, "at" type with a premium of $100 per year. The second type is the "24 hour" type with an annual premium of $200. The third covers the "football" coverage with an annual premium of $100.

"at school" program coverage for a child is on the school premises during the hours when he is attending a sponsored activity. It also provided coverage for the child while he is traveling to or from his residence and the school on regular days. Injuries that occur on school sponsored activities are also covered. Particular program coverage during the school term only.

"24 hour" program coverage for the child is provided for the policy year, 1973 for a year. This program excludes, would be regardless of place of injury.

"Football" program coverage for those boys in school football. The district pays this premium. It must be remembered only covers football injuries. Injuries that occur in any other school are not covered under

Mary Wysong Is At Management Seminar at TCU

Mrs. Mary L. Wysong of Spearman is among some 200 Chamber of Commerce executives from a 21-state area participating in the sixth annual Southwestern Institute for Organization Management being held July 22-27 at Texas Christian University.

Planned by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the annual and sequential program of personal development and advancement offers voluntary organization executives the knowledge and skills needed for success. Theme for the week-long seminar, now in its 53rd year, is "An Investment in Excellence" with the purpose of providing opportunity for indepth study of current issues and latest management philosophies. The workshops, planned so that the Chamber office can attend in progressive levels throughout his professional career, have no cutoff points and progression is one of both design and substance.

Chairman for the 1973 workshop at TCU, which is celebrating its 100th anniversary throughout 1973, is Glenn Scott of Jefferson City, Mo., executive president of the Missouri Chamber of Commerce. Manager is Weldon Gibson of Dallas, who heads the Southwestern division of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Arranged through TCU's Division of Special Courses, the seminar is coordinated by Dr. Joe L. Steele, dean of the University's M.J. Neeley School of Business. Administrative coordinator is Dr. Leroy Lewis, Special Courses Director.

The TCU institute is one of six being held during the summer on university campuses. Others planned are at the University of Georgia, Michigan State University, University of Colorado, University of Santa Clara and the University of Delaware.

Labor Day Telethon Will Be Broadcast

America's biggest entertainment spectacular, this year known as the New Jersey Lewis Labor Day Telethon, will be broadcast over KFDD-TV, Channel 10, starting at 9:30 P. M., Sunday, September 2, and ending at 5:30 P. M., CDST, Monday, September 3.

The 20-hour super-show, divided into one-hour packets of comedy, music and drama, will be broadcast live from Las Vegas with pick-ups from New York, Los Angeles, and Nashville. Country and western music star Roy Clark will join Jerry this year as Nashville anchorman, along with Jan Murray in Los Angeles, and Buddy Hackett in New York. The Telethon will be beamed to over 150 stations in the continental U. S., and will be seen live via satellite in Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Jerry's Telethon to benefit Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, which he heads as National Chairman, will be organized by Joel Rogosin, veteran Hollywood producer of "The Bold Ones" and "Ironside". Rogosin is helping Jerry line up more new talent than ever to join such veteran Telethon celebrities as Sammy Davis, Jr., Wayne Newton, Johnny Cash, Joan Crawford, David Hartman, Robert Goulet, and Peter Falk. Also helping Jerry will be a host of sports stars and numerous governors, mayors, Congressmen, and representatives of labor and business across the country.

Last year Jerry raised over $9.2-million for the fight against muscular dystrophy, and predicts an even greater response this year because "the wonderful generosity of the people in this country just keeps snowballing and I know the caring will keep on growing until it's big enough to produce a cure. I look forward to the Telethon every year--but this year especially because we'll be seen and heard more widely

Food Stamp Program Authorization Due

Food retailers in counties entering the Food Stamp Program will have to be authorized by the U. S. Department of Agriculture before they will be eligible to accept food stamp coupons.

This word comes from Martin D. Garber, Dallas, administrator of the West-Central regional office of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service.

Under the Food Stamp Program, which is scheduled to be operating in all Texas counties by the end of the year, needy families are certified for the program by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Families then pay a certain amount of money, depending on income, resources and other factors, for food stamps, which they then use to purchase eligible foods at local stores authorized by USDA.

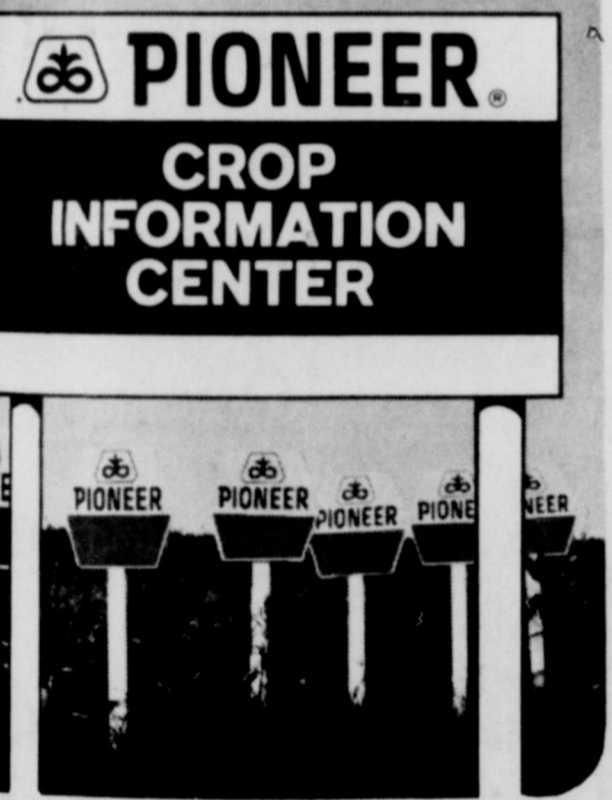

"Most grocers in a food stamp county apply for authorization," Garber said, "since the program usually means a noticeable increase in business."

USDA will conduct meetings in advance of the start of the program in each county to acquaint grocers with the food stamp operation, Garber added. Although regulations are relatively simple, certain items cannot be bought with food stamps. These include all non-food items sold in the store, as well as most imported foods.

Grocers redeem the coupons through local banks and the Federal Reserve System.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Box and Derek recently returned from a weeks vacation. They visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jim West and family at Athens, Texas and her mother, Mrs. A. W. Sloan from DeLeon, Texas, who was also visiting the West family. They drove to Waco where they visited in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. David Box and family. From there, they went to DeLeon, Texas where they visited in the home of his mother, Mrs. W. S. Box and Steve. They returned home Sunday afternoon.

Bowers, Dean of Instruction, Panhandle State College, will represent the institution at the 1973 TEACHER EDUCATION WORKSHOP OF THE NORTH CENTRAL ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGES AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS to be held July 23 to August 10, 1973 on the campus of Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana. This is the 26th annual workshop to be held on the Ball State University campus and jointly sponsored by the North Central Association and Ball State University. A variety of approaches will be employed including role-playing, simulation, discussions, multi-media, addresses, open forums, and visitations.

ANIMAL HEALTH HINTS

SWINE AND DANDY
Providing essential quantities of biotin (or vitamin H) in the feed of swine can be a case of "crops and robbers." Analyses by several laboratories showed that biotin values in corn, milo, wheat, barley and alfalfa meal are extremely variable, often insufficient for optimum animal health.

Until relatively recently, it was generally believed that natural sources of biotin, including synthesis occurring in the digestive tract, were adequate to meet an animal's needs. Biotin appeared to have little potential significance as a vitamin supplement in feed.

Why the shift in opinion? Because it has been found that biotin is necessary for the incorporation of protein into body tissue and that it is essential for the metabolism of carbohydrates for the efficient utilization of energy. It is also needed for many other processes.

Among the symptoms of vitamin H deficiency are dermatitis, cracked hooves, a stiff-legged walk, spastic movement of the hind legs and walking on only three legs.

If these symptoms are observed, a continuous offering of feed fortified with vitamin H might well be beneficial. For a free copy of a new booklet about vitamin H, write to Dr. Mike Adams, Roche Chemical Division, Hoffmann-La Roche, Inc., Nutley, New Jersey 07110.
