Texans Count Up Staggering Toll As Cold Subsides

By The Associated Press
Texans Saturday totaled up staggering losses—including 44 deaths—in the great freeze of the last week. The final figures may set records.

The death toll was from exposure, traffic accidents, fires and other causes directly traceable to the storm. Communications wires still were tangled in some sections. A shortage of water pipe, needed to repair frozen and broken lines, was critical in some places.

One preliminary report, the most pessimistic to date and disputed in some quarters, had half the citrus trees in the lower-Rio Grande Valley killed.

Livestock losses were expected to be stupendous—from death and from loss of weight because cattle didn't have water or feed during the freeze.

But spirits rose with the weather warming up to a springtime level. The thaw was in full swing Saturday and by Sunday night should be about complete.

Whole State Warms Up
The forecast called for 20 to 30 degree temperatures in West Texas early Sunday and a range from 20 to 35 in the north and west central and 34 to 43 in the southeast and extreme south portions of East Texas.

Early Saturday, not a city in Texas reported zero thermometer readings. The afternoon saw these sorts of readings: Amarillo, a n d Laredo 60, Lubbock 66, Abilene 65. (Continued On Page 10)

Probers Find Air Base Personnel's Health Is 'Good'
WASHINGTON —(P)— Secretary of the Air Force Finletter Saturday reported a three-man investigating committee has found the "general health of airmen" at the Lackland, Texas, training base is "good."

The Air Force issued a brief statement by Finletter on the preliminary findings of the committee. The Air Force had set it up to look into complaints about living and physical conditions at the crowded Air Force base. A congressional committee also is making its own inquiry.

Woman's Nude Body Found By Cattleman
HONDO, TEXAS.—(P)—A rancher looking for frozen cattle Saturday found the nude body of an unidentified woman on his range about three miles east of Dunlay.

Dollar Day Prices Rolled 'Way Back' By Midland Stores

SDOLLAR DAYSS — February SDOLLAR DAYSS will be observed here Monday, with practically all retail merchants participating in the popular sales attraction.

The money-saving values offered in the February SDOLLAR DAYSS will make the recent price freeze order ashamed of itself, according to the various specials advertised in this issue of the Reporter-Telegram.

SDOLLAR DAYSS prices are rolled "way back." In fact the red-hot SDOLLAR DAYSS values even would have thawed the weather freeze of last week.

Shoppers of Midland and other Permian Basin Empire cities are awaiting the sales event which has become so popular over West Texas, and crowds are expected to throng Midland's business district from early until late Monday.

Both Winter and Spring merchandise is featured in the SDOLLAR DAYSS specials offered by Midland stores.

Monday is SDOLLAR DAYSS in Midland. Everyone is invited to take advantage of the occasion, stocking up on merchandise of all kinds. It is the popular sales event for February in the Permian Basin Empire.

1,500 Midlanders Must Wait To Get Poll Tax Receipts
An estimated 1,500 Midlanders faced a two-week delay Saturday in obtaining their 1950 poll tax receipts. They have paid the tax but the supply of receipts has been exhausted.

"We ordered only 6,000 receipts," explained County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed, "and thought surely that would be enough, along with the 500 exemption certificates we had."

"But the final rush before the deadline Wednesday made it clear our supply would run out."

So Speed has placed an order for 1,500 more receipts, along with an extra 250 exemption certificates, and it will be 10 days or two weeks before they will be delivered.

Midland citizens set a new record for poll tax payments as an estimated 7,500 persons signed up before the deadline, compared to 6,300 for 1949.

Midland Goes Over Top In 1951 March Of Dimes Campaign

The 1951 March of Dimes drive in Midland County is "over-the-top!"

A jubilant and beaming R. A. Lynch, general campaign chairman, Saturday announced the success of the drive in reporting returns totaling $13,470.66, which is $970.66 in excess of the county's $12,500 goal.

"Generous Midlanders again have come through in grand style in an all-out, determined effort to 'take care of their own' in the never-ending fight against dreaded polio," Lynch said in expressing appreciation to all who participated in the success of the campaign.

He thanked individuals, organizations, schools and others who assisted in the fund-raising effort.

"Congratulations and thanks to everyone," he stated.

The drive here opened early in January and ended officially Wednesday night. Contributions, however, have continued to trickle into campaign headquarters. Total returns yet may reach $15,000.

Over the state, however, last week's bad weather smashed hopes for reaching quotas within the original deadline, according to an Associated Press news report from Austin.

As a result the Texas drive has been extended, the news release said.

Chairman Ed S. Stewart of Abilene, in announcing the extension, said the intense cold wave had "struck at the very heart of our annual drive."

Contributions still will be accepted by police chapters here and throughout the state.

Mrs. Clark, U. S. Treasurer, To Speak At Snyder CC Meet
SNYDER —(P)— Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, first woman treasurer of the United States, will be the featured speaker at the annual Scurry County Chamber of Commerce Roundup March 2.

C. T. McLaughlin, chairman of the Roundup Committee, said he had been assured Jesse James of Austin, state treasurer, would introduce Mrs. Clark.

McLaughlin, Snyder oil man and member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, will be master of ceremonies.

OPS Readies Blow At Meat Black Markets

WASHINGTON —(P)— Price Director Michael V. DiSalle Saturday warned that the first meat black marketer who is caught will be made a "national example."

And DiSalle's staff prepared a new and tough meat order designed to aid enforcement of ceiling prices by tight curbs on slaughterers.

There also were these other developments on the home front:

1. The government banned the use of aluminum in more than 200 consumer items, effective April 1. The items range from storm windows to automobile hardware. Kitchen utensils are not affected, however.

2. DiSalle rolled back the price of steel scrap and iron scrap about 20 per cent, wiping out a sharp January increase. A spokesman for the scrap industry welcomed the action and said neither buyers nor sellers wanted the January rise.

Scrap is used in making steel, but no change is expected in the price of steel itself.

3. A reduction of eight per cent was ordered in the amount of new rubber available for civilian production in February and March.

Maximum Penalties
Penalties for violating the freeze on meat prices could range up to a maximum of a year in jail, $10,000 fine and civil suits to recover damages.

Officials of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said the order curbing slaughterers probably will be issued Monday or Tuesday.

It probably will limit each slaughterer to the same proportion of the supply of each type of animal that he had in 1950. New slaughterers thus could not come into existence legally except under a licensing system which officials said would be "tougher" than a similar system in World War II.

Vigilance Of Police Patrolman Averts Serious Fire Threat

The vigilance of a police patrolman was credited Saturday with averting the possibility of a serious early-morning conflagration in Midland's business district.

The patrolman is Clarence Hollis. The time was 1 a. m. Saturday, and the place was the office building of Mims and Stephens at 205 West Wall Street.

Patrolman Hollis later was commended officially by Col. Milan N. Plavick, director of the Department of Public Safety.

On routine patrol at the rear of the buildings facing Wall Street, Patrolman Hollis noticed a wisp of smoke escaping from the Mims and Stephens building.

Investigating, he discovered the ceiling was on fire.

"We are happy to commend you for this particular service to the people of the City of Midland."

"We feel secure with your type of police work, knowing that if this act is any indication of the service given by our department, the lives and property of our citizens are in good hands."

Five blazes of assorted varieties kept Midland firemen busy Saturday and put one of them under a doctor's care.

The casualty was J. L. Brooks, who was overcome by chemical fumes when a blaze was extinguished at the Mims and Stephens building at 205 West Wall Street shortly after 1 a. m.

Shortly after 2 p. m., firemen were called to the Co-Op Gin to extinguish an automobile blaze.

Less than an hour later a trash fire at 1210 West Dakota Street demanded their attention.

About 5 p. m., they battled and finally put out a fire which destroyed some lumber at a saw and door mill at 201 South Terrell Street.

At 7 p. m., some gasoline on the parking area at the Humble Station at 700 West Wall Street caught fire and the firemen were called to put it out.

Midland Clubwoman To Be Honored At 'Party Of The Year'

Mrs. J. Howard Hodge of Midland, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and co-chairman with Gov. Allan Shivers of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, has been named as one of the nine women to be honored at the second annual "Party of the Year" Friday at the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells.

The public dinner, which will pay tribute to all Southwestern women through the nine honorees, is sponsored by 20 prominent Texas men. Vice President Alben Barkley, a foremost "ladies man" of the day, will be the principal speaker.

Other honorees will include Mrs. John M. Hanna, Dallas, former national president and present member of the national board of the

Midland Corporal Is Missing In Korea

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Thomas of Terminal were notified Friday night by the Department of Defense that their son, Cpl. William G. Thomas, is missing in action in Korea.

The message from the Defense Department, said, the 21-year-old corporal has been missing since January 22.

Corporal Thomas, who has been overseas more than two years, has been in Korea with the Fifth Infantry Division since July.

The last letter the Thomases received from their son was dated January 19, and he was writing from a rest camp "somewhere in Korea."

The Thomases came to Midland in 1946 from Big Spring, where Corporal Thomas attended school.

The missing corporal was working on the McClintic Building project when he volunteered for the Army.

Texas 'Sick Call' Walkout Presents On-Off Pattern

By The Associated Press
Some "sick" Texas railroad switchmen returned to work Saturday—but more didn't—in response to appeals from their union and the White House.

An official of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen said in Houston the Texas layoff wasn't a strike, anyway. He blamed it on the weather.

The biggest back-to-work movement among the four Texas rail centers involved in the five-day-old national tie-up appeared to be at Fort Worth, Fort Worth & Denver City, Southern Pacific and, MKT men reported for duty. Seventy-five Santa Fe switchmen still were out. The Texas & Pacific never had been affected.

At El Paso, the situation was the reverse. Santa Fe switchmen returned to work, but more than 200

Ban Excepts Newspapers, Letters, Drugs

The Post Office Department Saturday ordered a nationwide embargo on certain classes of mail amid scattered return-to-work movements in the crippling rail switchmen's "sick" strike.

Local back to work movements were reported in various cities from Newark, N. J., to Seattle, Wash. These included Sioux City, Iowa, Jacksonville, Fla., Fort Worth and Houston, Texas, St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., and several smaller cities in Wisconsin.

Switchmen in Atlanta, Ga., held a special meeting Saturday night, but did not disclose its purpose.

However, there were no indications a general trend was underway that would restore normal service on the 50 strike-beset railroads serving some 100 large cities. In some places, more switchmen joined the ranks of strike idle. The Army said no men were going back in Chicago.

U. S. Presses Charges
The scattered back-to-work moves followed a plea from W. P. Kennedy, head of the striking Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and new government mediation efforts in Washington.

Government prosecutors, meanwhile, pressed federal contempt charges in Chicago against the striking switchmen in an effort to break the log jam.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe ordered the striking union to show cause why it should not be held in contempt in the current walkout.

The five-day strike of 12,000 Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen members has crippled freight and passenger train service in many parts of the country, hit industrial output a sharp blow and forced more than 160,000 into idleness.

The post office embargo is an extension throughout the nation of its Thursday embargo which applied only to mail moving to and from 14 Eastern states.

Letters, Drugs Exempted
Containing some exceptions, it applies to second class mail, except daily newspapers; all third and fourth class matter; matter of the first class exceeding eight ounces, and air parcel post exceeding two pounds. Medicines, drugs and some (Continued On Page 10)

Six Feared Lost As Tug Overturns

SAN FRANCISCO —(P)— An Air Force fishing party ran into disaster off the Golden Gate late Saturday, with a possible loss of six lives, when the Army tug carrying them capsized in rough seas.

Rescue craft saved 14 of the 20 men aboard the tug and there was a chance some of the missing six may have been picked up by small boats.

But until a thorough check of all possible rescue craft has been made, the Coast Guard and other agencies put the six down as "unaccounted for and possibly lost."

Just what caused the accident had not been determined by the Coast Guard, although the immediate presumption was that the tug had gotten into a trough and been capsized by the giant swells.

Some From Washington
The 64-foot tug, the "T-6," put out from Fort Baker with three soldiers as a crew and 17 armen—some of them fliers from Washington, D. C., and the others from nearby Hamilton Field Air Force Base.

Missing Saturday night were: Capt. W. A. Krushat, Hamilton Field.

Capt. Len Sexton, adjutant of the group from Washington.

Warrant Officer (jg) S. Reese, Washington.

Sergeant Hartenstein, Fort Baker, skipper of the tug.

Sgt. C. C. Goodwin, Fort Baker, tug crewman.

Corporal Buswell, Fort Baker, tug crewman.

The 14 men rescued were suffering from shock, caused by immersion in the chill waters six miles west of the Golden Gate. A few had broken bones, cuts and other injuries. All of them were taken to Letterman Army Hospital, San Francisco.

H. T. Parlin Dies In Austin Hospital
AUSTIN —(P)— Dean Emeritus H. T. Parlin, 71, of the University of Texas College of Arts and Sciences died here Saturday.

The veteran educator had been ill with heart disease in Brackenridge Hospital since early November. Funeral services will be held here at 1:30 p. m. Sunday with the Rev. Joseph Hart, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, officiating.

The body will be sent Tuesday to Denver, Colo., for interment.

All Eight Members Of Latin American Family Die In Fire
LAMESA —(P)— All eight members of a Latin American family burned to death Saturday in a small frame building on a farm 13 miles west of here. Two others escaped the flames.

The eight were laborers on the Bill Pierce farm.

The fire occurred when the father poured kerosene on live coals in a wood-burning stove.

Dead are: Albert Lemons, 34; his wife, Narcisca Lemons, 31; and six children, Lucille, 9; Mary, 6; Janie, 4; Lorenzo, 3; Alicia, 2; and Albert, Jr., 10 months.

All were from Del Rio.

Slightly burned were Rufino Martinez, 18, brother-in-law of Lemons, and Mrs. Martinez, 20, both of Munday, Texas.

Both managed to escape through an open door in the converted chicken house.

The house was a 20x26-foot building. It burned completely in a few minutes.

Ceiling On Wages, Salaries Relaxed
WASHINGTON —(P)— The government's wage-salary freeze thawed out enough Saturday to permit "merit" and "length-of-service" pay increases for millions of workers.

Relaxation of the rigid ceilings imposed January 25 on all wages and salaries was announced Friday night by the Wage Stabilization Board.

The thaw also gave overall approval for employers to boost wages of workers promoted from one job to another.

It also approved so-called "differential" or "premium" payments to employees who are transferred from one position to another where, for instance, night work or specialized tasks call for higher pay.

Carmen Miranda Can't Afford To Spikka Da Good Ingliss

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—This may land like a bazooka shell in the I-always-knew-she-was-from-Brooklyn camp, but I have to report today that Carmen Miranda is speaking Sir Laurence Olivier's brand of English.

Wrap me in corn husks and call me Tamale if fiery, language-murdering Carmen didn't flip words like "modulation," "pedantic" and "polychromic" at me.

No accent to amount to a hill of chili peppers, either.

Carmen widened her orbs and protested:

"You're not going to say that I speak good English? Wait a minute, honey. You'll ruin me!"

I arranged my features in what movie scripts describe as a "stony demeanor" and looked the other way.

Carmen clapped a hand to her forehead.

She muttered that her husband, David Sebastian, was to blame for everything. He's been correcting her grammar.

"But now I'm gonna lose it up good for you," she said, eyes flashing and bracelets jangling. "No-body quotes Carmen Miranda without an accent."

The Deborah Kerr inflection disappeared and Carmen was back to her old, pre-Sebastian lingual mayhem.

Please The Public

"The more writing I'm spikking, the better pipples is like it," she bubbled. "Is give me accents in fine Ingliss. I'm change it. Chop up terrible. Very fonnee. Last peecture I'm make for Joseph Pasternak, he is saying, 'Wot de hail wrong weeth Miranda?' She spikking good Ingliss. She can't do dot to me!"

When I wanted to know, had Carmen swapped pidgin English for Walter Pidgeon talk?

"Is crupp up gradual," the Brazilian star confessed. "I'm say wrong thing and Dave looks fennee. I'm say wot I say wrong, switty? He tell me. Pretty soon I'm spikking too good."

"Bot wen I'm come to America, I don't know nawtheeng, honne."

"I got her loudest haw-haw. 'Honne, I'm surpris on you. Can you see me singing ballads? Once on stage, I am horse around and sing to de pipples.'"

"Som'day," he come along.

"De man I'm love."

"My pebble is shocked to pieces. I'm hear them say, 'Wot de hail wrong weeth Miranda?' She not or something!"

I got her loudest haw-haw.

Her marital boat, she winked, is now "honky-donkey."

"Tak' me pretty lung time learn how to handle my hooban." He's like a beeg boy. Betwinn us is only leasle fighta. We're much happy. I got out of town, he calling me every night. He say, 'Gee, babe, I love you so much.'"

Her hubby is in the business of converting little TV screens to big ones.

I said I'd be seeing Carmen and she called after me:

"About the accent. Nobody will believe you if you say I don't have one, honey."

Ken Regan Urges Reactivation Of West Texas Bases

WASHINGTON—Rep. Ken Regan, 18th District, is urging Air Force officials to reactivate air bases in West Texas rather than build new ones elsewhere. He points out that the Air Force might well use the investment of millions of dollars already made in these fields, rather than lose these investments and then spend more money to set up other bases.

"Millions of dollars has been invested in large air bases in West Texas where flying conditions and climate are excellent," Regan said. "I see no reason for the Air Force not using them. I am keeping in constant touch with the Air Force officials regarding this."

Regan received a delegation of Odessa citizens on this question last week. Included in the party were Bankers H. H. Simmons and Charles B. Perry, Ed Watson, Chamber of Commerce Manager Houston Crump and E. S. Bunch. They were accompanied by a Dallas attorney, Ross Bohannon. They sought use by the Air Force of the Midland Air Terminal, the former Midland Army Air Field.

Jack Kelly, prominent Marfa business man also was here in the interest of reactivation of the Air Force base at Marfa.

"In addition to these we have bases at Fort Stockton, Pecos and Pyle, which could be put into activation with little expense," said Regan. "All of these bases have long runways, from 75 to 100 feet or more in width. They have other facilities at hand. There is open country to enable plenty of flying the year round, yet the Air Force seeks to spend money elsewhere. I just can't see why."

Regan applauded statements made in the House by Rep. James D. Mize, member of the Appropriations Committee, who thinks there should be a special congressional committee set up to "ride herd" on the military to make sure they do not waste money by passing up existing bases to build elsewhere. "That makes sense to me," said Regan.

Regan has notified all cities and individuals in West Texas who want to see World War II air bases reactivated that the prospects are not good but he holds out to them the hope of getting private contracts for primary training.

Pleased With Results

Regan learned that the Air Force is pleased with the results of such contractual training with private concerns and that more of these contracts will be approved. He feels this may be a way to get some Air Force training program at the many fields over his district.

He says all primary training at Randolph Field, San Antonio, will be promptly discontinued which indicates that all primary flying training will be handled under the contract arrangement.

He advised all those interested to write to Contract Relations Section, Procurement Division, Air Materiel Command, Wright Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

Break In Pipe Line Interrupts Gas Flow In 18 Texas Cities

WACO — (AP) — A 16-inch pipe line serving 18 cities in Central Texas blew out with a roar Saturday, leaving some users in four towns without gas in 17-degree weather.

Service was restored about noon, some five hours after the break.

Pressures were low in the other towns and cities and for a time they, too, were threatened with loss of their vital fuel-supply.

Spokesman for the Lone Star Gas Company at Dallas, said cooperation of newspapers, radio stations, police, company workmen and consumers prevented serious results in many of the towns.

Told by all possible means of the break, consumers drastically reduced use of fuel so only two per cent of the 18,000 customers in the area were shut off completely, he said.

Service Restored

By noon, service was restored to normal, even to industrial users.

However, at Thorndale, Killeen, Temple and Belton, the gas had to be turned on house by house, since service was cut off completely to some users in those cities. All 200 users in Thorndale were without gas for a time. Throughout the afternoon, workmen were going the rounds of all customers in the four cities, to turn on the fuel.

By noon, full service was restored except where individual homes had to be checked.

Cities affected were: Temple, Belton, Killeen, Rogers, Buckholts, Cameron, Rockdale, Little River, Holland, Bartlett, Granger, Taylor, Thrall, Thorndale, Hutto, Georgetown and Round Rock.

Textile Import Controls Asked

RANGOON — (AP) — Burmese weavers want the importation of textiles to be controlled, charging unrestricted importation is a threat to the handloom weaving industry.

The Burmese government decontrolled textile imports last August to stockpile cloth, fearing a cloth famine in the event of war. A weavers' union now complains Burmese products have become unmarketable since they cannot compete with foreign textiles.

Mrs. Rachel Drake Has Unusual Job In School System Here

Mrs. Rachel Drake has a very unusual teaching job in the Midland public school system.

For the last four years, she has been the teacher of exceptional children.

Included in this category are children with deficient hearing, deficient vision, orthopedic handicaps, speech disorders, lowered vitality and nervous disorders.

Mrs. Drake has taught children with each of the mentioned defects since she joined the Midland faculty.

Currently, Mrs. Drake has 45 students. She meets in classes with some of them each morning at the South Elementary School, and in the afternoons she visits other elementary schools to teach students who cannot join the classes at South Elementary.

Individual Attention

"Although the children meet as a class in some instances, it is necessary to give each student individual attention and instruction," Mrs. Drake said.

Mrs. Drake has trained for corrective instruction at Denver University and East Texas State Teachers College. She received her B.A. at West Texas State and now is working on her Masters degree in special education for exceptional children at East Texas.

She also is associated with the American Speech and Hearing Association.

Mrs. Drake likes her teaching job, but finds it rather hard to explain why. "Some teachers would lack the patience required," Mrs. Drake continued, "but I enjoy my work."

Monsanto Plans Research On Use Of Atom For Power

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Research aimed at the production of electricity through atomic energy is planned by the Monsanto Chemical Company.

The idea is that a nuclear reactor producing plutonium also produces heat—which has been going to waste—that could be used for generating electric power.

Monsanto proposes to determine whether a nuclear reactor, or atomic furnace, capable of producing plutonium and electric power at a reasonable cost can be built.

If so, the company wants to set up the basic design premises for such a reactor.

The plan hinges on the willingness of the Atomic Energy Commission to lend the company enough uranium, the raw material from which atomic bombs are made, to conduct the research.

UN Studies Ways Of Reaching Accord With Chinese Reds

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — The United Nations Saturday pondered ways of reaching a peaceful settlement with Communist China, pushing into the background the idea of sanctions.

Despite Peiping's flat statement it will have nothing to do with a new "Good Offices Committee," Chairman Nasrallah Entezam of Iran went ahead trying to find a basis for negotiations.

"We should not give up hope," he said.

That view was echoed by the British government and various other delegations here.

There seemed no clear idea, however, of how to go about the negotiations. So far Entezam has not even been able to get anyone else to serve with him on the committee, which was set up in one section of the resolution branding Red China an aggressor.

Proud Gainesville, Texas, Makes Only Community Circus 'A Year-Round Job

GAINESVILLE — (AP) — Show business is a round-the-year business for this thriving little Texas city just south of the Oklahoma line.

Through 12 months of every year townspeople put in many hours at perfecting their pride and joy, the Gainesville Community Circus.

Right now they have their twenty-second annual training season in high gear. Everything will be in apple pie order for opening night, April 18.

The circus, billed as the only show of its kind on earth, grew out of a Little Theater venture back in 1929.

Three score amateur performers, three to 50 years in age, work out five nights a week in the circus building and livestock arena at Fair Park. None gets paid. It's all for the glory of Gainesville.

Editor A. Morton Smith of the Gainesville Daily Register, one of its founders, is ring master.

Guided By Professionals

Guiding the amateurs through the training season are top professionals in the business. These include the famous Zoppe-Zavatta troupe of bare-back riders from Indiana, now busy putting the equine acts through their training paces.

A sure new star this year is Gerry, a four-year-old elephant just a year out of Burma. Trainer Vern Brewer says he has applied horse-training methods with good results in getting 1,000-pound Gerry ready for his American debut.

Portis Sims is one of the busiest persons on the lot. He is hard at work training 50 horses and ponies, while bandmaster Bill Hill is weeding out high school musicians for the circus band.

Joe Siegrist, veteran circus musician, is arranging music for the circus. Siegrist also has a hand in training a dozen young aerialists. His son-in-law, Eldon Day, is aiding him in this chore.

One of the aerial acts will be the rare and daring double flying performance where the aerialists pass each other in the air during their aerial gyrations.

Besides three opening performances in Gainesville on April 18, 19 and 20, the circus also has been booked for Amarillo, Abilene and Garland, all in Texas. Negotiations are underway for five more bookings.

Labor Looks To 1952

Down in Miami the AFL laid plans the other day for a big political drive in the 1952 elections. It would be in the nature of a comeback, since Big Labor took a terrific beating at the polls last year in some places, especially Ohio.

The laborites agreed to raise money for 1952 as soon as possible, to devise strategy far in advance of the campaign, and to "streamline" labor's appeal to the voters.

Up to a point the AFL chieftains appeared to have made public acknowledgment of their major political mistakes in 1950. For example, they plan next time to try to lure every segment of the electorate—not just union members. They are determined, too, to be more selective in the choice of candidates they will support.

But in a few important instances, labor seems not to have taken its lessons to heart. This is evident from a report submitted to the AFL by George M. Harrison, chairman of its political directors' committee.

Analyzing the 1950 outcome, Harrison's group posed several problems for labor. The committee stressed the need to overcome what it termed unlimited use of money by the opposition.

Then it added that labor must learn how to overcome "a rigidly regimented, controlled and criminally corrupt daily press;" and how to combat the "new technique of the reactionaries of refusing to discuss any issues and of employing the Taft technique of falsifying their own voting records."

Now the detached, impartial political experts who viewed the Taft campaign in Ohio are agreed that violent, ill-timed and abusive propaganda was one of labor's worst handicaps in that race.

This barrage had the effect both of stirring sympathy for Senator Taft among many Democrats, and of generating a tremendous display of energy among Taft's normal followers.

The Harrison report at Miami suggests that vituperative propaganda is still a labor stock-in-trade. The charges made are wild, inaccurate and irresponsible.

No sincere man who heard Taft campaign for one day would contend he refused to discuss the issues. He talked about them freely and amply. He invited questions from all comers and gave the straightest answers a voter could wish for.

Far from falsifying his record, he dealt with it frankly and completely. He explained his votes—even votes that dated back to the early 1940's.

If any distortion of Taft's record occurred, it was labor which was at fault. Fair-minded study of labor's presentation of that record discloses countless mis-statements and exaggerations.

Labor was understandably unhappy over lack of press support in the Ohio campaign. But that hardly justifies the reckless charge that the press was therefore "criminally corrupt."

A 1952 campaign conducted in the vein used by the AFL Harrison committee is unlikely to be any more successful than the 1950 fiasco.

Every segment of American society has a right to make itself heard at the polls. But so long as labor campaigns on the 1950 pattern—now so unfortunately echoed by this committee—American workingmen will not be well represented in political combat.

Chinese Puzzle

The United States isn't the only place where basketball scandals crop up. There's one in Communist China right now. No bribery involved, apparently, but you can't get away from the fact that the Chinese never seem to beat the Russians in their intersectional matches.

So successful have the Russians been in a barnstorming tour that Soviet coaches have taken to lecturing their Chinese friends on the fine points of the game.

Of course, it could be that the Chinese are somewhat handicapped by Russian insistence on dictating the size of the ball, the dimensions of the backboard and the general rules to be observed. For all the Chinese can tell, it might be water polo played in dry-dock.

No Provocation Needed

Added note to Europeans who think General MacArthur "provoked" the Chinese Reds to attack UN forces in Korea:

American military leaders in Washington reportedly are convinced that Communist China, not Russia, actually mounted the first North Korean offensive against South Korea last June 25. They believe that implicit in this staging effort was the Chinese intention to intervene against the West as soon as it was clear the North Koreans had failed.

The closer you get to some people the quicker you get next to them.

You Said It, Sam!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Mysterious countess warns Americans of Communists; Senators have secret hideaways; Munitions Board saves taxpayers money.

WASHINGTON — Honored guest at the recent meeting of the Federal Communications Bar Association was a Polish refugee, Countess Julia Pulaski, who entranced everyone, not only by her charm and beauty but by a little speech she gave when called upon after dinner.

Countess Pulaski told a thrilling story of working inside Poland with the underground, of being suspected by the Communists, and finally making her escape. The audience was breathless.

Having finished this part of her speech, Countess Pulaski, who is single and about 30 years old, continued:

"Now I want to give you Americans a word of advice. We who have lived among Communists know that you can never tell a Communist when you first see him. So be eternally vigilant. You cannot even tell when a Communist is sitting right beside you. You cannot be sure your own neighbors are. You cannot be sure of the guest of honor, Commissioner Freda Henneck, only woman member of the FCC, who sat on my right. Miss Henneck, it developed, had talked quite freely to the 'countess' and not in terms of the opposite sex. The conversation was quite feminine."

"Usually at affairs of this kind," said the countess, "I have to ask a man questions. But with Miss Henneck, I didn't. She told me everything."

Senatorial Hideaways
It has been harder to compile the following story than to get secret cables out of the Pentagon. However, it now can be reported that 40 senators have secret hideouts in the Capitol Building. They are convenient backstairs cubbyholes, which senators have been using since Daniel Webster's day to hide from unwanted constituents.

The Senate Rules Committee keeps these rooms so private that there is not even a list of the senatorial occupants. However, 31 of these sanctuaries now are occupied by Democrats, nine by Republicans. Three more soon will be offered to a long waiting list of senators as a result of consolidations in the Senate Library.

With the passing of the 81st Congress, four hideouts were vacated by defeated Senators Lucas of Illinois, Myers of Pennsylvania, Thomas of Oklahoma and Tydings of Maryland. This caused considerable shifting around for choice locations. After the scramble, the four rooms were taken over by Senators George of Georgia, Tobey of New Hampshire, Stennis of Mississippi and Lehman of New York.

Because of the limited number, only senators with high seniority are eligible for the secret rooms. However, an exception was made for Lehman because he represents the most populous state and needs all the extra space he can get.

Most of the rooms are held by Southern Democrats who have been around the longest, such as McCellar of Tennessee, McClelland of Arkansas, Eastland of Mississippi, Byrd of Virginia, Connally of Texas, Maybank of South Carolina and Hill of Alabama. The Republicans have been crowded out mostly because they are lower on the seniority list and partly because the Democrats are running the Senate. The only Republicans who have managed to hang on to private sanctuaries in the Capitol are Wherry of Nebraska, Bridges of New Hampshire, Vandenberg of Michigan, Brewster of Maine, Millikin of Colorado, Wiley of Wisconsin, Butler of Nebraska, Ferguson of Michigan and Tobey.

Note—Wherry now has inherited the room vacated by Senator Lucas, the former majority leader. However, before Wherry would move in, he ordered the photographs of President Truman and Vice President Barkley removed. Photographs of Nebraska landscape were hung in their place. Wherry's new room is also the most historic. It happens to be the site of the first Supreme Court meeting in Washington, was later used as a cocktail lounge by the Republicans during the 80th Congress.

Government Sales Snarl
It hasn't been publicized, but the Munitions Board is quietly working on a project that will save the taxpayers millions of dollars. This is the titanic task of compiling a single catalog of all the items purchased by the government.

In the past, the same item has been listed under as many as 1,000 different designations. This has been several hundred different types of men's underwear, or an item has been surplus in one bureau under a different name while being ordered by another bureau. The resulting waste and confusion ran up the taxpayers' bill.

The Munitions Board, however, has begun the difficult job of sorting out these items, and classifying each one under a single name and number. So far, 1,150,000 items have been classified. The work still is only half completed, but is being stepped up by new munitions chairman Jack Small, so that the first single federal catalog may be ready by the end of 1951.

Movie Star—Price Star
It was no accident that Movie Czar Eric Johnston, former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, was selected by President Truman to become the nation's economic stabilizer at the very height of the Alan Valentine Mike DiSalle fight.

Poor Valentine, an ex-college president, never knew he was playing with loaded dice. Johnston had a long and intimate friendship with DiSalle, the former mayor of Toledo and now price administrator. In fact, Johnston had advised DiSalle every step of the way after he came to Washington.

"Please settle a bidding argument," asks a Bangor correspondent. "We missed a game and want to know whose fault it was."

"Is North's jump to three spades a forcing bid? If not, is it the sort of bid that isn't strictly forcing but that nobody ever passes anyhow?"

"If North's jump to three spades was forcing, South obviously had no right to pass. But if North's jump was not forcing, should South have bid again anyway?"

"In the play, South made 11 tricks. Dummy won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and led the ace of hearts followed by the queen of hearts."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Faithful Public Compliance Can Speed End Of Controls

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—To understand fully the seemingly tight wage and price freezes announced January 26 and the thaws which began appearing on the following Monday, it is necessary to understand Eric Johnston's philosophy. The new head of the Economic Stabilization Agency spelled this out rather clearly in his brief appearance before Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney's Joint Congressional Economic Committee. Not much attention was paid to it then because the news was lost in the more sensational freeze orders which came a few hours later.

Eric Johnston's main thesis is that "Wage and price controls cannot be effective long." Experience in the last war backs up this statement. When people got tired of controls, they found ways to evade them. This was just as true of consumers as it was of producers and distributors. On wages it was just as true of employees as of employers. Finally the whole system broke down.

For all these reasons, Johnston says, "We must get rid of controls at the earliest possible moment."

This doesn't mean that controls are going to be lifted systematically, one or two a day, till they're all gone. What it implies is that wherever the controls are found to be unfair, wherever they seem to be causing more inflation instead of less, they will be modified.

Price and wage controls are considered essential now to prevent runaway inflation, says Johnston. There is high degree inflationary fever. If it is allowed to continue unchecked, it will adversely affect the welfare of the American people.

Stabilized Dollar
The objective of the controls is to stabilize the purchasing power of the dollar, with a fair relationship between wages and prices. When this stability has been achieved, controls can be removed.

Before this can be done, however, the fundamental causes of the inflation must be cured, says Johnston. He says this can be done, first, by increasing production of goods and services. If there is an abundant supply of things, prices should come down automatically. Second, the supply of money must be kept in line with the quantity of production and with the quantity of goods and services available for purchase.

Since the start of the Korean war, Johnston points out there has been a $6,000,000,000 increase in the supply of money. There has been an $8,000,000,000 increase in credit. And the turnover of demand deposits is higher than it has been in 13 years.

To cure these causes of inflation, it will be necessary to keep controls over the private supplies of credit. And it will be necessary to balance the federal government's budget for as long as two or three years in a row. What this implies primarily is that there must be heavy federal taxation. But all these drastic measures are needed to restore confidence in the dollar.

Johnston says this is primarily the problem of the American people. It is not just the problem of some temporary bureaucrats in Washington. If the people understand the necessity for wage and price controls, they will live up to them. No controls can be effective unless people realize it's for their own best interests. But if full compliance is obtained, then, says Johnston, "we can cure the inflation."

Q—What rare Bibles may be seen in New York City Public Library?
A—The library owns many rare Bibles, among them the Gutenberg Bible of 1455, the first Bible in the Latin Vulgate printed from movable type; the first Italian Bible of de Spira, 1471, and the first printed edition of the Hebrew Old Testament, 1485. The last two are the only copies in America.

Q—Who was the author of the famous saying "Lafayette, we are here?"
A—The famous phrase was the closing sentence of a speech made by Col. Charles E. Stanton, at the tomb of Lafayette in Paris. Contrary to widespread belief, it was not the utterance of General Pershing.

Q—How long has the United States had organized ski clubs?
A—Since 1888. The Aurora Ski Club, first venture of its kind in the United States, was organized that year in Red Wing, Minnesota.

Q—When were tank trucks first used for transporting milk?
A—The first use of tank trucks for transporting milk was in 1914. Insulated milk tank cars were introduced in 1924.

Crimson Holiday

THE STORY: Lavinia Greenleaf, an uncompromising and hateful old woman, has ridden to her death in her wheel chair which rolled into a ravine at her home. Prior to the accident, Lisa Farwell had been asked by Court, eldest of Lavinia's two sons, to become his bride. Lisa's father, opposing the match, told his daughter she would give her life to keep her from becoming Court's wife. Just after Mrs. Greenleaf's violent attack, which Lisa saw in company with Angus Kent, Lisa's father, Henry Farwell, on a ridge near the scene. Next, Lisa noticed a movement in the shrubbery near where the wheel chair had been. Lisa is taken home by Angus and Mr. Farwell, who met them at the door, tells them that he had been informed of the tragedy by Miss Beth Strouton, sister of Lavinia.

time to straighten her thoughts, she thought mostly of Angus. Angus and her father had revealed a comfortable acceptance of each other when they met. They were alike basically, she decided, and the decision startled her. In that flash of realization she knew now why it was that she had felt a strange, compelling acquaintance with this man when she first met him on the road that afternoon.

Though they looked nothing alike for her father was shorter and broader and balding and Angus was tall, almost angular and his hair was thick and wheat-colored, nevertheless they were alike. They were of the same mold of man. The knowledge shook her considerably.

SHE was in her room preparing for bed. Angus had not stayed for dinner because the Ellsworths were expecting him. And Lisa, after a late dinner, had pleaded a headache and had gone upstairs to her room.

She undressed, showered, and went through the routine of face cream and astringent and then in the middle of long, vicious thrusts at her yellow hair she laid down the brush and stared at herself in the mirror.

"You're fool," she said. "You moon around all through adolescence for a man you hardly know, one that you idolized from a distance, and when you're rewarded with his proposal—you promptly fall in love with the next man you meet!"

The brush clattered to the floor with her abrupt motion of self-condemnation. Courtney Grenable, Angus Kent. Direct opposites. Perhaps that was it.

Court the colorful, the romantic, the exciting; Angus, quiet, calm, self-possessed, completely wonderful, and exciting in his own way.

She knew almost before he spoke what he wanted to say and it was like stirring the depths of imagination within herself to match his mood exactly, to feel his thoughts as a blind person would sense beauty—and she had known him exactly five hours!

Lisa put her head down on her folded arms and cried as she had not cried since she was a child. She felt as she had years ago in her first long party dress when she came down the stairs and her father looked over his newspaper and exclaimed, while her knees went all tremory, "Lisa, you've grown up!"

She lifted her head and looked at herself again in the mirror and suddenly she understood that only tonight had she really grown up.

She dug through the medicine cabinet in the bathroom until she found the sleeping pills that she had taken from an old prescription of Martha's, took one, and went to bed.

WHEN Lisa opened her eyes to the first tinge of daylight the following morning she was amazed because she had slept all night and hadn't expected to sleep soundly at all. This morning there was a peculiar peace within her, though actually she had settled nothing beyond the necessity of honesty with herself.

The truth changed nothing, of course. Lisa was still in love with the city and she and Court would be married. She would forget Angus in time.

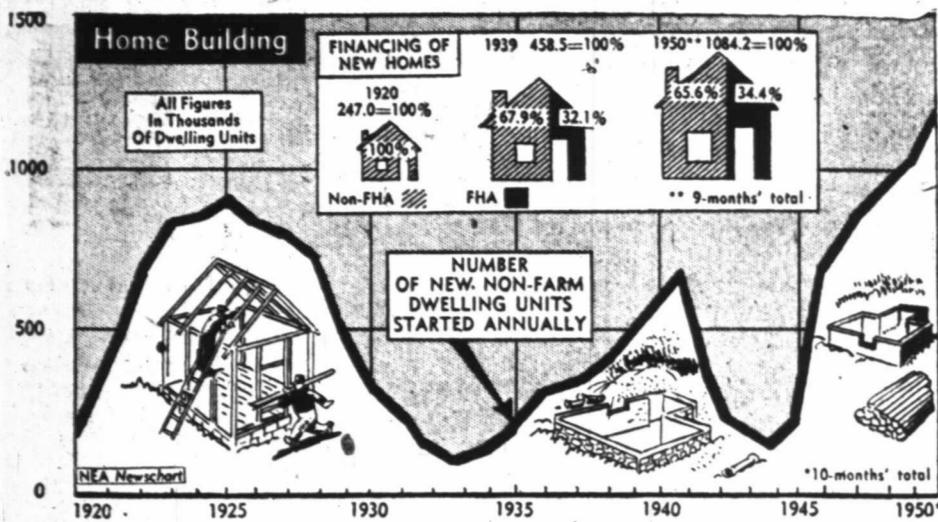

She hurried into her clothes to escape the darkness of the lie and went downstairs quietly.

She was on the landing when she heard the unmistakable sound of her father's voice coming from the den. She glanced sharply at the grandfather clock beside her. Henry Farwell was a leisurely man. He could afford to be. He'd built up a reputation as an architect around Ellsworth years ago that enabled him now to turn over the routine work to his assistant.

He liked to read late at night and sleep until 8 in the morning. For Henry Farwell to be up and around at 6:30 was as unreasonable as the sun to shine at midnight.

HOME BUILDING BOOM PASSES PEAK—Despite a sharp cutback in building beginning in September, the year 1950 was the biggest construction year on record. Actually, more new homes were started in the first ten months of the year than in any other full year on record. The Newschart, above, based on National Industrial Conference Board data, gives the home building picture from 1920 to 1950, with an inset chart showing the trend toward government financing of new homes. Currently the building industry faces a period of uncertainty caused by tightening of mortgage credit, materials shortages and uncertainties growing out of the Korean war and the rearmament program.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barco concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; it's reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic. From neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

WTCC Appoints Legislative And Taxation Manager

ABILENE—Fred Husbands, executive vice president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Saturday announced the appointment of James F. Melton as manager of the organization's Taxation and Legislative Department. He also will assist in performance of all other services offered by the organization, including community level activities. This appointment represents the second expansion of staff personnel by the West Texas Chamber in the last 30 days, Husbands said.

James F. Melton

"Our directors want an outstanding program for West Texas and we plan to obtain the best staff personnel available in order to carry out the mandates of our board," he said.

George Logan, formerly agricultural director of the Waco Chamber of Commerce, affiliated with the West Texas Chamber Jan. 1, 1951.

Melton is past general manager of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce and prior to that time was manager of the Taxation and Legislative Department for the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

While with the Texas Manufacturers' Association, as legislative assistant to the executive vice president, he was instrumental in obtaining legislation revising various sections of the Unemployment Compensation Act with reference to notification and merit rating which has saved Texas business firms approximately $10,000,000 annually since its revision.

Melton, a native of East Texas, attended the University of Texas and graduated from Cumberland Law School with an LL.B. degree in 1941.

Prior to World War II, he practiced law in Cleveland and Knoxville, Tenn., and during the war was assistant superintendent of the Security and Intelligence Section at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

State Job Records Broken For Sixth Straight Month

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas employment records have been broken for the sixth straight month. December's non-farm employment figure of 2,495,000 workers on the job was a new high mark, the Texas Employment Commission said Saturday.

It was a 32,000 worker spurt upward, and the TEC said it was attributable to take care of Christmas shoppers and government expansion in post offices.

TEC said the Houston-Baytown labor market led the 16 other major business centers in new jobs with 6,000. The Dallas area recuperated from November employment losses and added 3,600 workers in December.

TEC said all of the remaining major business centers of the state reported December job increases except Amarillo, Galveston-Texas City, and Waco.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Bark Like A Dog

Mugwump Monkey had a striped dog whose name was Striped. Striped had stripes all over him like a tiger, but he was a dog just the same. He would bark like a dog a happy bark when he was happy, howl like a dog an unhappy howl when he was unhappy, growl like a savage dog when he wanted to pretend he was savage. But Striped on the day I'm telling you about was not getting the attention he wanted.

First he sat down in the middle of the kitchen floor and wagged his tail. Daddy Ringtail paid no attention to him, because he was talking with Uncle Bunkum who had come for a visit from the zoo.

Striped barked a happy little bark which meant for people to see about what he wanted. "Striped, please," said Daddy Ringtail, "Uncle Bun-kum is talking." Striped whined, but Uncle Bunkum went right on with his talking to stop his talking at last.

Striped pointed up his nose and howled to see it.

"Quiet, Striped," shouted Uncle Bunkum. He took another great big bite of the cereal. Again Striped howled to see it. "Mercy me," said Uncle Bunkum, "something surely must be wrong."

Yes, and Daddy Ringtail said he thought that Striped was howling about the eating of cereal that Uncle Bunkum was doing. Striped didn't like it at all because the cereal box said "FOOD FOR A DOG" and the cereal all belonged to Striped.

Uncle Bunkum looked at the cereal there in his bowl. How good he thought it had tasted, but really it was only food for a dog—dog cereal. Uncle Bunkum was worried now. What if he should bark like a dog or growl like a dog or howl like a dog, all from eating a cereal made for a dog? What a dreadful thing to happen—but it didn't. Well, now, and you really didn't want it to happen to poor old Uncle Bunkum, now did you? Happy day! (Copyright 1951, General Features Corp.)

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Cold, colder, coldest was the weather in West Texas and throughout the state last week—and all without moisture in this immediate section. The dry snow which fell in varying quantities over the Midland territory was of little benefit to thirsty range and farm lands. Ranchers and farmers still are looking for a good soaking rain, which long is past due.

The cold spell was one of the most severe and prolonged in several years, but little damage to livestock in this section has been reported. Most herds and flocks were on feed and the cattle and sheep apparently came through the cold with little ill effects.

Such was not the case in South Texas, particularly around Houston, where livestock losses are said to be in excess of $6,000,000. Heavy snows and some rain fell in some parts of the state. The bright sunshine and warmer weather were welcomed everywhere.

Now if we can just get that warm gentle rain over West Texas everything will be all right. We can hope anyway, can't we???

Few cattle braved Thursday's cold weather to come to market. Bidding was strong and active on less than 300 head at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale.

One group of 25 white-faced heifers that weighed 475 pounds brought $32 cwt. Mrs. Mary E. Turner, Midland, sold ten young Hereford bulls, and a load of 33 black Angus calves and yearlings were consigned from Fabens. W. C. Odell, Lenorah, sold nine head; L. A. Brunson, Midland, eight; D. O. Lawson, Stanton, six; McElroy Ranch Company, five; Clark Moreland, Midland, five; Jim Goodie, Barslow, four.

Foy Proctor, Midland cattleman, reportedly has contracted about 1,300 coming two-year-old bred Hereford heifers to Buck York, also of Midland. Proctor has been wintering the heifers at Las Vegas, N. M., and York plans to put them on his own ranch near Las Vegas. March 1 is said to be the delivery date for the heifers and all bulls now with them.

The annual Martin County Livestock Show is scheduled Friday and Saturday at Stanton, according to County Agent Ralph L. Jones. Six boys will show 11 steers, and four boys will show seven lambs. Twenty-nine boys are said to be feeding 36 barrows, and 12 boys and girls are preparing 42 capons for show.

The judges will be H. M. Fitzhugh, Garden City, lambs; Ransom Galloway, Big Spring, capons; and Calvin Holcomb, Tulla, steers and barrows.

The Martin County show annually is one of the best county events staged in this section.

The annual meeting of the Highland Hereford Breeders Association will be held Thursday in Marfa, Hayes Mitchell, Marfa ranchman, announced. Davis Combs of Marathon is president of the famed association.

The Big Bend Livestock Show is scheduled Saturday in Alpine.

The annual Upton County Livestock Show held last Saturday a week ago in McCamey was one of the best in the long history of the Upton County events. More and better stock and increased interest were reported. The sale, too, was excellent.

And the barbecue given by the Upton County Sheriff's posse added to the success of the attraction.

M. F. King of Midland is said to have purchased 250 head of short Hereford steer calves from the McElroy Ranch Company of Crane. Delivery is scheduled April 20-25 at $140 a head.

A former Midland boy, Haskel Dunn, who now is a Burnet High School sophomore and a member of the Burnet County FFA Chapter, is flying the colors of Gov. Allan Shivers at the Houston Livestock Show.

But the colors seem to be "wrong" from the governor's standpoint. The steer exhibited by Dunn is a red and white Hereford, while Governor

Stylists' Dreams Built Into Le Sabre, Experimental Auto

DETROIT, MICH. (NEA)—If you want a hint about what your car will be like five or ten years from now, cast a longing look at Le Sabre.

The designers of the experimental car caution that it isn't "the car of the future," however. It merely is a model that indicates a lot of gadgets and improvements that are being tested, as they work on the road, they may go into the standard models in years to come.

Le Sabre is the work of the styling section of General Motors. Back in 1938 they built an experimental model which included a lot of styling and mechanical innovations that are now built into all new cars.

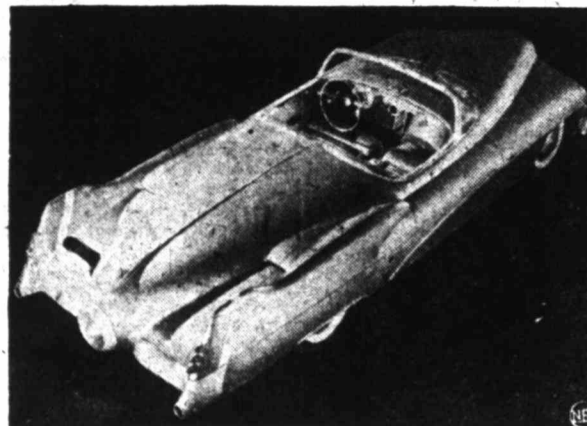

That job was the first American styled car with electrically-actuated convertible top and door windows, curved glass door windows, push-button door latches inside and out, a low vertical front grille, fender extensions over the doors and tail lamps recessed in the rear fenders.

As Styling Developed

"We didn't know in 1938, says Harley J. Earl, GM's vice president in charge of styling, "what features of our first experimental car would be used—or abandoned—as we developed our styling since that time. By the same token, it is impossible to say now what innovations we are testing in Le Sabre, but we used styling or mechanically in future production models."

But there are enough radical ideas built into the flashy low convertible to give engineers plenty to draw on in years to come.

Here are some things Le Sabre has that are brand new:

Le Sabre From Astern: A double dashboard and heated seats.

1. It is made partly from lightweight magnesium and aluminum alloys. Le Sabre's total weight is expected to be about 3,000 pounds.

2. It has a dual fuel system, using both current premium fuels and methyl alcohol (Methanol) which is injected into the combustion chambers through the carburetor at a certain level of the speed range for extra power boost.

3. A special Dynaflow torque converter is housed near the rear of the stationary drivetrain, just ahead of the differential.

On Either Side

4. The rear brakes are located on either side of the differential, rather than on the wheels.

5. The top section of the front grille is part of the lighting system. When the front parking lights, at the outer edges of the fenders, are turned on, the grille revolves and a pair of close-set headlights swings into place.

6. Two sets of three tail lamps are mounted on the trailing edge of the rear fins. These operate as tail lamps and directional signals. At the base of the fins are the back-up lights. The jet-type tail comes to a point in a combination stop-light and rear bumper.

7. The tail fins are useful, as well as ornamental. They are like airplane wing tanks, and one carries gasoline while the other carries methyl alcohol.

8. The two instrument panels—one on the steering post and the other in the center of the dash beneath the crash roll—flash red warning signals when the fuel level, for example, needs watch. There are all the usual instruments, plus such new ones as a compass, altimeter, gauges registering engine oil temperature and pressure and the torque converter fluid level and temperature. All gauges are lighted, some by fluorescent tubes.

9. Hydraulic jacks on each wheel are operated from the instrument panel. If a tire blows out, the car can be jacked up from inside.

10. There are thermostatically-controlled electric seat warmers.

11. If the car is parked with the top down, rain falling on a sensitized spot between the seats automatically starts the mechanism that raises the top.

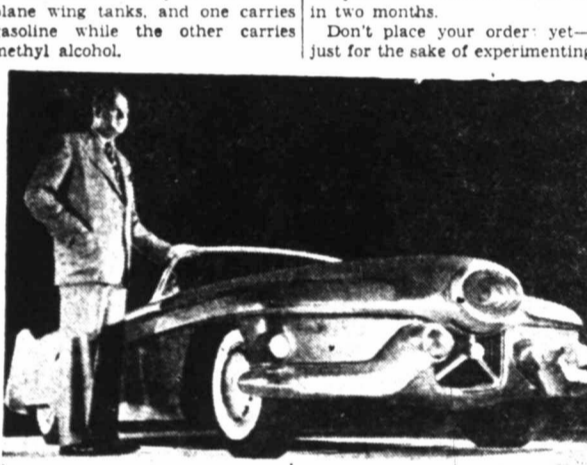

And there are many other changes in styling, and innovations in mechanical operations in Le Sabre. As yet, only a full-size plaster model has been built, but GM expects to complete the custom-built car within two months.

Don't place your order yet—it's just for the sake of experimenting.

Malaya Has Black Market In Autos

SINGAPORE (AP)—Lack of shipping space from the United Kingdom is creating a black market for motorcars in Malaya. Motor dealers say that with high profits from rubber and tin impatient customers are prepared to pay for new cars at a premium.

Customers who have booked cars in advance are selling them off on delivery at profits of not less than $300 on each. Dealers are calling for the imposition of government restrictions allocating only one car to each person and forbidding its resale.

Le Sabre And Designer: Parts of it may turn up in your car.

Abilene Incubator Baby Starts Second Year Normal Child

ABILENE (AP)—Little Sherilyn Ferrell of Abilene looked into her second year of life Saturday after appearing two and a half months ahead of schedule Feb. 1, 1950.

She weighed a scant two pounds, 15.1 ounces at birth, and now she is a bustling, energetic youngster of 20 pounds.

But Sherilyn spent seven silent weeks in a baby incubator immediately after birth.

"Now she can hold her own in any baby squalling contest and seems to have a yen for toys that make the most racket," said the mother, Mrs. Carol H. Ferrell.

The child stands two feet, five inches tall and is normal in every respect.

During the incubator period she took her food into her veins. Her health is perfect. She hasn't been sick since she broke out of the incubator at an Abilene hospital.

can provide ample forage during the seasons when grazing from permanent pastures is inadequate. Crain observes, however, that this winter is an example of the "unusual season" for which the livestock man always must be prepared. Neither permanent nor supplemental pastures will furnish grazing under very adverse weather conditions.

Brown And Root Is Low Bidder On Texas Steel Plant

DALLAS (AP)—Low bidder for the contract on Lone Star Steel's $73,500,000 expansion program at Dainierfield is Brown and Root, Inc., engineering and construction firm of Houston, E. B. Germany, Lone Star president, announced Saturday.

Germany said a formal contract depends upon approval of Lone Star's Board of Directors and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, government agency which will service the loan granted the steel company.

The board will meet with RFC officials Tuesday in Dallas.

Terms of the Brown and Root bid were not revealed, but Germany indicated it was made on a cost-plus-fixed-fee basis.

The huge government loan to Lone Star Steel covers erection of a completely integrated steel mill to be built at the concern's existing East Texas works in Dainierfield.

Texas' Great Cold Storm Brings Many Odd Events

By The Associated Press

Texas' great cold storm of the last week brought out the expected number of odd happenings.

At Waco, a resident of the Arctic Circle found Texas cold just too much. He died. It was a snow owl, Nyctea Nyctea, to the zoologists. It became entangled in a barbed wire fence. The owl measured 36 inches from wing tip to wing tip. Normally the snow owl lives in the Arctic, coming to the Northern United States in the winter. Its body was found by Albert Casper.

Dallas school children were happy when they received holidays Thursday and Friday because of the cold. Saturday they weren't so happy. The school superintendent said their coming Easter vacations will be cut short one day to make up the lost time.

Plumbers Out Of Pipe

Plumbers suddenly found themselves short of pipe to repair frozen lines. Houston, for instance, found its plumbers three carloads short. In Galveston, copper and black iron pipe were substituted for the usual galvanized pipe.

Lake Waco, almost a mile across, froze over. Bud Lillard, 22, and Harold McDade, 28, decided to walk across. They were within 200 yards of the opposite bank when McDade broke through the ice. He was tied with a rope to Lillard, who pulled him out of the icy water. They finally made it across on stronger ice.

The Lone Star Gas Company said it provided more gas in the last six days than in any comparable period in its 41-year history. The firm shovels 5,544,300,000 cubic feet through its lines from 7 a.m. Sunday through 7 a.m. Saturday.

Feeder Lambs Die

Near San Angelo, more than 100 feeder lambs climbed on ice on a stock tank. The ice gave way and they died.

Ten minutes meant some people might go cold when a natural gas pipeline broke near Temple Saturday. So a Temple radio police car stood at the break and another at a valve near Troy—a 10-minute drive. As the last bolt in the repairs was slammed home, the word went by police radio to open the valve at Troy to send gas into the line again.

So you're having troubles with frozen pipes? If it's any consolation, Dallas City Water Works employees labored around the clock to repair 11 broken mains.

Earl H. Williams, Former Midlander, Dies In Oklahoma

Earl H. Williams, 47, a former Midland resident, died Friday at Tonkawa, Okla., according to information received here. He was a 1923 graduate of Midland High School.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Tonkawa.

A veteran of World War II, Williams was a civilian inspector at Tinker Field, Oklahoma City.

His father, E. H. Williams, Sr., resided here in the early days, operating an ice plant and the city's first electric power company.

Survivors include the widow, the parents, and a brother, Noland Williams.

Three Midlanders Join Regular Army

Three Midlanders were sent to Abilene Friday for induction into the Army by T. Sgt. Shelby Wheelus, Army and Air Force recruiter.

The volunteers, who will serve three-year enlistments, are Donald Clark, Joe Johnson and Floyd Stevenson.

Clark and Johnson attended school in Midland, and Stevenson was graduated from Uvalde High School.

The men will be sent to Fort Sill, Okla., for processing and will receive basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Drilling Continues At Booming Pace

AUSTIN (AP)—The booming business of drilling oil wells continued its merry pace last week. The Railroad Commission reported 231 completions, shooting the year's total to 1,071 compared with 927 a year ago.

Gas wells completed totaled 12; the year's figure, 96, was well ahead of the 66 in the comparable 1950 period. There were 109 dry holes.

Wildcats produced 12 oil wells, three gas, and 54 dry holes.

The total average calendar day crude allowance was 2,724,435 barrels Saturday, down 49,147 from the previous week.

There are more than 600 life insurance companies in the United States.

Gartland To Drill Deep Prospector In NE-C Sierra Area

HOBBS, N. M. — Twenty-four miles northeast of Hillsboro and in Northeast-Central Sierra County, Thomas Gartland has staked location for his No. 1 Drew Matthews, which is to be drilled as a 6,500-foot wildcat.

The drillsite is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 8-12a-4w. Operations are to start at once. Miller Brothers Oil Company No. 1 Jones-Watkins State is to be a 2,400-foot wildcat in Northeast-Central Eddy County.

The exploration will be drilled 2,310 from north and west lines of section 5-19a-29e. Chaves County.

In North-Central Chaves County, about 25 miles northeast of Roswell, The Levers Oil Company has spotted location for a 1,925-foot wildcat.

It will be drilled as that concern's No. 1 State, 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 10-7a-27e. In West-Central Lea County, Wilson Oil Company has made location for a 3,750-foot wildcat, which is to be drilled as the No. 3 Charlotte-Stage.

Drillsite is 330 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 5-21a-35e. That puts it one and one-quarter miles south and three-quarters of one mile east of the same concern's No. 2 Charlotte-State, which is at total depth of 3,847 feet, cleaning out after shot.

A 3,900-foot extension to Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 3-S State, recently completed Ellenburger discovery in Central-East Lea County, has been finalized for a calculated 24-hour flowing potential of 578.22 barrels of 42-gravity oil.

The new older is Tide Water's No. 4-S State, 2,080 feet from west and 860 feet from north lines of section 15-21a-37e, which was completed through perforations in casing at 7,800-7,825 feet. The casing is on bottom at 7,890 feet in the Ellenburger.

Four-Hour Flow The potential was based on an actual four-hour flow of 96.37 barrels of oil through a one-quarter-inch choke.

The perforations were washed with 2,000 gallons of acid. Tubing pressure was 580 pounds and gas-oil ratio was 1.133-1.

The No. 4-S State also indicated that it would produce commercially from the McKee sand of the Simpson.

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 2 Caudie, in Northwest Lea County, has been completed as a one-mile west extension to the Bagley-Devonian field.

The extender was potentialized for 457.9 barrels of 44.2-gravity oil daily through a choke of unreported size. Production is through perforations in casing opposite the Devonian at 11,012-45 feet. Hole is bottomed at 11,083 feet.

That set of perforations was washed with 3,600 gallons of regular acid.

Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 3-12a-33e. Another Bagley-Devonian project, Amerada's No. 1-BTJ State, has been completed as a dry hole.

Dry Hole The project, on the extreme southeast edge of the field and one location east of Devonian production, was abandoned at total depth of 11,140 feet. The Devonian was topped at 10,965 feet, elevation 4,243 feet.

Exact location of the abandoned hole is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 11-12a-33e.

One location east of Pennsylvanian production in the Bagley field, Amerada staked location for its No. 2 Chamber, which will be drilled to the Pennsylvanian.

Exact location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 11-12a-33e and on the south side of the field.

Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-S State, is to be a steepout to The Texas Company No. 1-AN State, assured producer and extender to the Saunders field of Central-West Lea County.

It will be dug 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 28-14a-33e and approximately one mile southwest of the Texas No. 1-AN State.

It will be drilled to 10,000 feet to test the Pennsylvanian pay found in other Saunders field producers. The location is one and three-quarters miles northwest of the field.

On Potential The Texas No. 1-AN State is now on potential. The latest 24-hour gauge at the well was 699.56 barrels of 39-gravity oil daily. The production is coming from perforated casing from 9,875-9,900 feet. The perforations were washed with 900 gallons of acid.

The above gauge was previously reported as the potential test, but operator decided to void it and take another.

The No. 1-AN State is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 22-14a-33e. Atlantic Refining Company has made location 660 feet from north and west lines of section 12-15a-37e and two locations northeast of the Denton field in Central-East Lea County.

It will be drilled as the No. 2-B Betty Dickinson to explore the Devonian.

Lea Failure Amerada No. 2 Rosa Eaves has been abandoned as a failure in the Knowles field of Central-East Lea County.

The prospector was plugged on total depth of 12,706 feet after developing sulphur water in the Devonian, which was topped at 12,616 feet.

The drillsite was 660 feet from south and east lines of section 35-15a-38e and 10 miles north of Hobbs. T. J. Gartland No. 1 Garner, wildcat failure in Central Sierra County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 8,524 feet in granite, elevation 2,805 feet.

The abandoned hole is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 11-12a-5w.

TIPRO Meeting Set For Beaumont

AUSTIN—Spindletop will be in proper perspective March 27 and 28 when 300 oil and gas independents who carry forward today the tradition of that great oil discovery meet in Beaumont.

That is the date set for the annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, representing part of the year-long celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Spindletop oil well near Beaumont in 1901.

The meeting will begin March 27, with the gathering of all standing committees to compile reports for the membership. The following day delegates representing the approximately 5,000 association members throughout the state will meet in morning and afternoon session, a membership and women's luncheon, with the convention ending with an annual dinner. Guest speakers will be announced soon.

Directing arrangements for the meeting will be local committees headed by Randolph C. Reed, general chairman. Local committee chairmen are: W. C. Bill Tyrrell, Jr., reservations and housing; Bryan D. Beck, Jr., program, decorations and entertainment; J. J. Spencer, finance; B. E. Quinn, Jr., publicity; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crawford, women's committee.

Spindletop takes on special meaning for the independent segment of the oil and gas industry. It was the granddaddy of all fabulous wildcat wells that spur men on in the hopes of profit with achievement.

Before that day in January, 1901, when the Spindletop discovery loosed thousands of small businessmen in a never ending search for oil, Russia and the United States were running neck and neck in the development of oil.

In the years that followed, the two countries took opposite paths with the same goal. Russia, following the government "planned" course, today controls only about one-tenth of the world's oil production, even after taking over 10 other countries.

Spindletop, the real beginning of America's oil industry, was discovered with benefit neither of government direction or planning by large companies. Oil did not become an industry because government planners foresaw a need and so decreed it. Instead, one Patillo Higgins dreamed a dream of profits from supplying a product his fellow citizens could use.

The history of Spindletop really

Reed Is Promoted To Senior Staff Geologist By SO&G

E. L. Reed, Jr., has been promoted to senior staff geologist, a recently created position, for Stanolind Oil & Gas Company in Midland.

The announcement was made by William J. Nolte, division exploration superintendent for Stanolind's North Texas-New Mexico district.

Reed was district geologist in Midland for the West Texas-New Mexico district for more than three years. He was transferred here from Wichita Falls.

Reed was graduated from Texas Technological College with a BS degree in geological engineering. He joined Stanolind in 1942.

He will be succeeded as district geologist in Midland by Gordon T. Buskirk, who received a BA degree in geology and petroleum engineering from the University of Southern California. He joined Stanolind in 1941.

He was transferred from Houston to Midland as senior geologist last year.

Argo Adds Two New Employees

Claude E. Neely and Mrs. Patsy Bean are new employees in the Midland district office of Argo Oil Corporation.

Neely is to be a landman and will work with Cecil P. Yadon, Argo's district landman.

Before taking the connection with Argo Neely had been employed in the Midland office of Amerada Petroleum Corporation for three and one-half years.

Did Land, Sealing Work He was assigned to land and lease work the last two and one-half years of that period. He did scouting the first year of his employment by Amerada.

Mrs. Bean is to do secretarial work for Argo. She had previously been employed by Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company in that concern's division office in Midland.

J. J. (Jack) Bailey is Argo's district manager in this area and is in charge of the corporation's office in this city.

Argo began about 1890 when Patillo Higgins decided because of "certain surface indications" that there must be oil around the place. Then as now, experts and doubters in general discouraged drilling. His struggle was a long one, succeeding finally after he had a mining engineer by the name of Capt. Anthony P. Lucas to Beaumont.

Economy Bloc Calls For Budget Slashes Before Tax Increase

WASHINGTON —(P)— A chorus of Republican and Democratic demands for deep slashes in non-defense spending arose on Capitol Hill Saturday as a result of President Truman's request for a $10,000,000,000 "quickie" tax increase.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said "We have taken off the fat" from tax-payers by two "so-called quickie tax bills enacted in the last several months."

"Further huge tax increases will dig deeply into the lean meat and possibly into the very bone structure of our economy unless they are eased by elimination of non-essential expenditures."

Byrd emphasized that it was essential to "pay as we go." But he proposed a slash of $9,100,000,000 in Truman's $74,500,000,000 spending proposals for the year beginning next July 1. Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) called for a $5,288,000,000 cut.

"Crystal Bridges (R-NH) said that before voting new taxes, Congress should see how much revenue can be saved. But Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House Ways and Means Committee counseled against delaying the tax bill.

Senator Bridges, top Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee, said Truman's request for $10,000,000,000 plus more billions later, is "nothing more than government by crystal ball."

"How can the President ask for new taxes before he knows how much revenue we need?" Bridges asked.

Senator Taft of Ohio, who heads his party's Senate Policy Committee, said that instead of asking for new taxes the Truman Administration ought to be working out a balanced taxing and spending program for the coming year.

"The Administration is dealing with everything on a piecemeal basis," Taft complained.

Senator Butler (R-Neb.), like Taft, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, said he believes the budget can be cut from $7,000,000,000 to $9,000,000,000.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Finance Committee said he will be happy if Congress can reduce expenditures enough so there won't be any need of raising more than $10,000,000,000 in new taxes.

UN Forces—

Two Red counterblows were thrown back, one by a Turkish unit and the other by an American force.

South Koreans Gain In clear, bitter cold weather, South Korean troops counterattacked an estimated three Red companies Sunday morning and seized the crest of a towering hill flanking the main Allied drive to the north.

The South Koreans battle within 15 yards of the peak late Saturday. They hung on in the face of an all-night barrage of grenades, mortars and small arms fire.

On the left end of the western front, an Allied armored column driving toward Inchon port for Seoul, came under stiff day-long Red counterattack a mile and one-half south of Yangju.

The column held its ground, about 18 miles southeast of Inchon, against an enemy that was "giving us the works," as one American officer expressed it.

On Central Front From the central front, Associated Press Correspondent William J. Waugh reported a buildup of about 1,500 Reds three miles north of Hoesong and a roadblock by two platoons of Reds northeast of Wonju.

U. S. patrols have entered Hoesong several times but the Allies have not yet occupied the town.

On the east-central front, U. S. units occupied Pongchong, 25 miles east of Wonju, and sent patrols two miles northward into the village of Hupyeong, 43 miles south of the 38th parallel.

Pongchong controls an important east-west highway from Wonju to the Red-held east coast port of Kangnung.

There was talk in the United States of what the United Nations forces should or should not do if they reach the 38th parallel, but there was no word of future plans from the Tokyo headquarters of the UN commander, General MacArthur.

To Seek Out And Kill MacArthur's staff officers pointed out that the current drive to the North was not designed to regain lost real estate but to seek out and kill Communist troops.

The Eighth Army has orders to hunt out the enemy "south of the Han River" and destroy him. The Han flows past Seoul's southern outskirts.

The stepped-up Red counterattacks south of Seoul seemed to be in line with a broadcast statement by Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China, assailing the aggressor indictment and rejecting a proposed UN Good Offices Committee.

The Red premier asserted there would be "no cease-fire," no negotiations, and "no peaceful settlement."

Maybe The Price On Frozen Fish Will Drop Lower

GALVESTON —(P)— Texas' northern of last week was so fierce, friends, it might nigh turned the gulf to slush.

It really did chill gulf trout so thoroughly they just floated on the surface waiting to be caught, and three fishermen can prove that.

Tony Mellina and Joseph and Richard Austin are the men with the true fish story. They said they caught about 5,000 pounds of speckled trout at Galveston's East Beach with only one big drag on their seine.

A fish market gave them $1,500 for the catch. "Most money we ever made in an hour," the fishermen gloated.

The Galveston News-Tribune said fishermen had been picking thousands of pounds of cold fish off the surface of the gulf and surrounding bays the last two days, either by hand or with dip nets.

One of the worst tragedies connected with the weather occurred near Lamesa Saturday. Eight members of a Latin American family died as their home—a converted chicken house—burned.

Citrus Trees Killed A natural gas pipe line blew out Saturday near Temple in 17-degree weather. Service was restored five hours after the break.

Temperatures early Saturday again fell to the killing point in the Rio Grande Valley citrus region. Some observers say it is too early to tell how many trees have been killed.

But Texas Commissioner of Agriculture John White said a preliminary report from the valley indicated 4,000,000 out of 8,000,000 trees have been killed. Most of the dead trees, he said, were young ones.

White said buds also were killed, meaning, he predicted, that next season's citrus crop will be "negligible."

At any rate, the current season's remaining crop is frozen. About 80 per cent had been harvested. The frozen fruit can be salvaged by canning.

Repair Crews Busy Both Western Union and telephone companies still had trouble. Southwestern Bell said at one time Saturday afternoon 20 towns were without long distance service.

The phone company said crews from Oklahoma and Arkansas are moving in to help restore lines.

At the peak, about 1300 Bell circuits were down, but late Saturday the number had been halved. Damage in South Texas alone was estimated at $1,600,000.

Other Bell storm figures: 2,700 poles down, 5,600 wire breaks; two weeks required to clear up all trouble.

F. C. Naylor, of Western Union's construction department in Dallas, said repairmen from Kansas and Missouri have been called to help Texas linemen.

He estimated damage at $300,000 in Texas and Louisiana. Life telephone companies, Western Union suffered most of its damage in South Texas.

Clubwoman—

The nine women were chosen by a secret committee, the members of which were unknown to each other, Brown said. However, all members had the same information about the 125 women nominated for the honors by citizens of a half-dozen Southwestern states.

Purpose of the party, Brown added, is to spotlight the accomplishments of a group of Southwestern women, and through them to salute the present-day civic, social and economic achievements of all women of the region.

"Women of the Southwest, from pioneer days through years of war until the present period of austerity and growing clouds of more war, have played a vital, but not adequately recognized, role in the development and continued well-being of this country," Brown said.

The party at Mineral Wells Friday is open to the general public. Brown estimated that more than 600 persons will pay $12.50 a plate to attend.

Sponsors Listed Sponsors of the 1951 party are: Claud Hamill, oil producer, and Wright Morrow, member of the National Democratic Executive Committee, both of Houston; Raymond Buck, Fort Worth attorney; W. C. McCord, president of the Southland Life Insurance Company, R. L. Thornton, chairman of the Board of the Mercantile National Bank, and W. G. Vollmer, president of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company, all of Dallas; J. Francis Morgan, El Paso contractor; Judd R. Stuart, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, Brown; C. E. Weymouth, Amarillo rancher who is past president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and Frank Wood, Wichita Falls drilling contractor and oil producer.

P. T. Barnum was once mayor of Bridgeport, Conn.

Valentine Dance Planned By Police Will Help To Build Up Dwindling 'Kitty'

By COPE ROUTH Those tough-looking cops on the Midland police force are really just a bunch of softies when they're planning of all things a Valentine Dance.

"That's right," admitted Police Chief Jack Ellington, "we're planning a big Valentine Dance for February 14 and we don't care who knows it."

Now, the chief himself is a big amiable guy with the jolly proportions which would qualify him as Santa Claus' big brother.

Those eyes, though can freeze up like a water faucet on a February 2 morning in Midland and coldly stare the truth out of the biggest liar in the city.

Not So Tough "But we're not so tough," he explained, "when some poor mother comes around and needs a little help, some bum has sobored up and could use a windup, as good as get his feet on the ground again."

Just like the other night, when a worn-looking woman walked into the police station and explained her plight.

"My mother is dying in Arkansas," she said, "and I'm trying to get to her. My husband's in Arizona and my car broke down in El Paso. I spent what money I had to get it fixed and now I can't even buy gas."

She showed the police her garage bill along with the telegram from her mother's physician.

The cops started fumbling in their pockets but the chief shook his head.

He took the Box out of the safe, pulled out $25 and handed it to the woman. She tearfully accepted it and promised to repay when she could.

"We told her she didn't have to worry about it," Ellington related.

Then there was the mother of a family of nine, stranded at a roadside park east of Midland, broke and hungry.

Out came the Box from the safe again and to the family went a sufficient number of square meals and a $20 bill.

Box About Empty "The trouble," continued the chief, "is that the Box is about empty. It contained what was left over from the last benefit dance."

"You know, we run into a lot of cases like that. The situation is too urgent to get help from a relief organization and we seem to be the ones they always come to."

So the police are holding the Valentine Dance to raise more funds to put into the Box.

The dance will be held at the VFW Hall at the Midland Air Terminal. The tickets go on sale Monday. Just ask any one of those tough-looking cops for one.

The softe! He'll be glad to sell you one.

OPS—

The Agriculture Department now has the authority to prescribe quotas for slaughterers. It is expected to delegate this power to the OPS.

OPS officials are studying another meat problem, that of so-called "token" sales. Some wholesalers are accusing some packers of having made one or two isolated sales at high prices during the December 19-January 25 "base period" on which present ceilings are based and doing this with the sole object of gaining higher ceilings after the freezing of prices at the highest levels of the base period.

Cotton Exemption Asked There was a cotton development, too, at the OPS Saturday. Officials of the cotton exchanges and brokers who sell on the exchanges, were reported to have recommended formally that raw cotton be exempt from Price control—not only at the farm level as at present, but also at all stages until it is processed.

This would free ginners from price control and also would lift the freeze from operations on the cotton exchanges. The exchanges have been closed since the price order was issued January 26 because of great confusion about its application.

The cotton men's proposal also was reported to include an "escalator clause" under which the price of bales could go up or down with changes in the price of raw cotton. The OPS is considering the recommendations.

The aluminum ban does not affect manufacture of the housewife's pots and pans.

But effective April 1, the National Production Authority said, aluminum can't be used in making venetian blinds, storm windows, residential roofing, household laundry equipment, ladders and automobile hardware and many other articles.

The scrap price order was estimated by the Office of Price Stabilization to push the quotation back $1 a gross ton on standard grades of scrap with rollbacks up to $60 on special grades.

Burns Prove Fatal To Odessa Child

ODESSA —(P)— Becky Simpkins, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Simpkins of Odessa, died Friday of burns received when her clothing caught fire as she played at home.

Rail Strike—

Postmaster general Donaldson said no restrictions will apply under the embargo to "mail for local delivery (including rural routes, star routes and highway post offices) or to mail originating at and destined for delivery at nearby points on local lines between which it is known that no interference with transportation exists."

W. P. Kennedy, BRT president in Chicago for the contempt hearing, told newsmen he has wired regional BRT officers:

"You must use every method at your command in cooperation with the vice presidents who are working day and night to bring an end to this unauthorized stoppage of work."

Washington Peace Talks These telegrams went out Friday and there was no sign of a back-to-work trend. Several cities reported the strike was spreading, despite the telegrams, federal contempt action and White House persuasion.

The Mediation Board in Washington held a new meeting between railroad and union officials late Saturday.

Army Quartermaster officers in Chicago said the work stoppage has created "quite a problem" in supplying Army camps with food. The Army has been able to meet the situation so far by purchasing fruits, vegetables and other perishables as close to camps as possible.

Citrus Junior College is in Azusa, Calif.

Stock Show Fryers Bring Record Price

HOUSTON —(P)— Five fryers sold at a record $127.77 a pound Saturday at the Houston Fat Stock Show.

Bill Williams, Houston restaurant owner, paid $2300 to Jimmy Pickett, 12, Iago, for the young 4-H clubber's champion pen of five fryers.

The fryers weighed a total of 18 pounds.

Just a year ago, Pickett received $1500, the show's previous record, from Williams for the 1950 champion of five.

Each of Pickett's 15 entries in the 1951 stock show's poultry competition won ribbons. He picked up $500 from D. C. Smith, Houston, for his champion trio of capons, and $600 from the Archer Grain Company for his pen of fryers.

Doug Prince, Houston drive-in chain operator, paid a record $1,400, or $166.66 a pound, for the grand champion capon, a 12-pound bird exhibited by Jimmie Starmer, 17, Manor.

The champion turkey hen shown by Fraya Hathorn, Justin, brought $700 from the Citizens State Bank.

Some 900 birds were placed on the auction block Saturday. Auction officials set a minimum bid of 75 cents per pound for fryers and turkeys and $1 a pound for capons.

Steer sales Friday brought exhibitors more money than was received from all auctions held last year.

Widow Of Popular Singer Is Married

LAS VEGAS, NEV. —(P)— Mrs. Nedra Clark, 31-year-old widow of singer Buddy Clark, Saturday wed Albert (Cubby) Broccoli of the vegetable and produce family.

Clark was killed in a Los Angeles airplane crash in 1949.

Broccoli, 42, formerly was married to Gloria Blondell, sister of actress Joan. His family popularized the vegetable of the same name.

Eisenhower's Okay Spurs Proposals To Ease 18-Year Draft

WASHINGTON —(P)— With indicated approval of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, senators Saturday considered several changes in the proposal to draft 18-year-olds.

General Eisenhower Friday voiced his support for the Defense Department's Universal Military Service and Training (UMST) bill which calls for lowering the draft age to 18 and extending the term of military service from 21 to 27 months.

However, the five-star general told the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee he would be willing to accept "some modifications."

Some members of the committee promptly proposed these changes:

1. Restricting the original draft of any 18-year-olds to youths who were at least nine months past their anniversary, or just three months short of 19, the present age minimum for induction.

2. Shortening the 27 months of required service asked for all draftees to 25 or 24 months. At present it is only 21 months but the President has authority to extend that another year.

3. Increasing the number of high-ranking students who could be deferred, after four months basic training, to enter college for study as scientists, doctors, dentists or other professions.

4. Continuing, at least in part, the existing system by which men of 18 1/2 years or less can be deferred from the draft if they join a National Guard unit. This operates in states where the governor has declared this necessary.

When cannon were first introduced in warfare, they were operated by private individuals who were employed by the armies on contract.

U. S. Order Blocks Construction Jobs

AUSTIN —(P)— Texas construction contracts totaled $21,719,113 last week, but almost two-thirds of the work has been held up because of the government's stop order on commercial buildings.

The stop order applied to awards totaling $10,000,000 for industrial buildings, and $3,233,266 for business buildings, reported the Texas Contractor building trade journal.

Residential lettings accounted for $6,336,980, and engineering, $1,068,568.

Knights Templar Official To Visit Midland Commandery

H. B. (Jake) Beard of Corpus Christi, eminent grand warder of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Texas, will visit the Midland Commandery No. 84 at 8 p. m. Monday in the Masonic Temple, Holt Jowell, eminent commander, announced Saturday. It will be the official visit of the eminent grand warder to the commandery here.

Jowell said all six knights and sojourning knights are invited and urged to attend.

$1.25 Haircuts Will Test Freeze, Order

DALLAS —(P)— Some Dallas barbers have raised the price of haircuts to $1.25—a move that appeared to be headed for a test of the government's price freeze.

J. M. Renfro, Jr., president of the Dallas County Barbers Society, said Saturday some shops upped their prices from $1 to $1.25. He said some barbers "figured they'd take a chance on the price freeze" because their own expenses had risen so high.

John Touchstone, acting enforcement officer of the Dallas regional price control office, said prices of barber and beauty shops definitely are under price controls.

WHY AMERICAN WORKERS CAN BUY --- AND OTHER WORKERS CAN'T

There Are Two Good Reasons!

First, we earn more money for our work because we produce more goods.

Second, because we produce more goods, our food, clothing and other necessities cost us less — in terms of hours worked — than such things do in any other country.

When it comes to making things better and getting more money for the work we do we're far ahead of any other nation.

But where do we get this ability to earn more and have more? How does it happen that we Americans own 5 out of every 6 privately owned automobiles in the world?

The answer lies in our American system of industrial teamwork which encourages the investment of money in better tools of production. Better tools help employees produce more goods at lower cost — and more money for the employee using those tools.

And more and better goods for customers. Goods we can earn with fewer hours work.

Our American system of free competitive enterprise has given us a standard of living that is the envy of every other nation. We can keep on to still better things if we continue the industrial teamwork that has brought us where we are.

Original 'Cisco Kid' Reported Gravely Ill

SANTA MONICA, CALIF. —(P)— Warner Baxter, 57, the movies' original "Cisco Kid," is seriously ill in St. John's Hospital here.

The veteran actor is suffering from a chronic illness that induces malnutrition, doctors said. He has been in the hospital since January 18.

The hospital reported him somewhat improved Saturday.

Bobcats Edge Westerners 36-35 In Odessa Finals

Marfa Topples Midland 52-48 In Consolation

ODESSA—Wayne Evans sank a free throw with 12 seconds remaining Saturday night to give San Angelo a 36-35 victory over Lubbock and the Odessa Invitational Tournament championship.

Odessa broke a 33-33 third quarter tie to whip Big Spring 47-39 for third place.

ODESSA—Marfa's Shorthorns outlasted the Midland Bulldogs 52-48 here Saturday night for the consolation title in the Odessa Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Marfans pulled away in the final minutes of the game to gain the nod, after they had led by a slight margin most of the way.

The Shorthorns gained a 14-9 advantage in the first quarter, and led 27-22 at halftime. By the end of the third period, the Bulldogs of Coach Red Rutledge pulled even at 37-37.

Midland moved ahead early in the final stanza 41-40 but Marfa tied the count with a free throw, then took the lead and was never behind again.

Norman Drake canned 13 points to pace the Bulldog scoring, and Bob Burks added 11. Marfa's Ernest Mendosa was the individual scoring leader with 18 markers.

The Bulldogs defeated Kermit Saturday morning to gain the consolation finals.

Midland led the Yellow Jackets all the way, winning 36-27—but the game always was close. The Bulldogs held a 6-3 bulge at the first quarter mark, were in front 17-15 at halftime, and 26-23 at the end of the third quarter.

Bob Burks led the Midland scorers, hitting for 30 points. Wayne Culvahouse topped Kermit with 12. Complete Results

Tyler Entry To Be Called 'East Texans'

TYLER, TEXAS —(AP)—Tyler's entry in the Class B Big State League this season will be known as the East Texans.

Selection of the nickname came at a meeting Saturday.

Tyler, which was a member of the defunct East Texas League, replaces Greenville in the Big State.

Before the Purdue game, Tackle Bill Flynn was the only member of the Notre Dame football team ever to play in a losing game. He has plenty of company now.

Great Circle Grabs Purse In Maturity

ARCADIA, CALIF. —(AP)

Great Circle, at 9-1, won the $205,700 Santa Anita Maturity Saturday before a crowd of 52,500.

The time was 2:00 2 5 for the mile and one-quarter.

Willie Shoemaker brought the Yolo Stable outsider home in the face of a stretch challenge from Lotowhite and Bed o'Roses, the latter a Vanderbilt entry with Next Move. The entry was favored at 4-5 but Next Move faded after leading much of the way.

The victory was worth $144,325 to Mr. and Mrs. John T. de Biola Wack of Santa Barbara, Calif.

Pays $21.70 On Nose

Lotowhite was placed second and Bed o'Roses third in a photo finish. Great Circle paid $21.70, $11.50 and $3.70.

Lotowhite returned $9.90 and $3.70; Bed o'Roses $2.20.

The event was the fourth running of the Santa Anita Maturity, a fixture reserved for four-year-olds, and the windup of the mile and one-quarter battle proved as thrilling as the tremendous money at stake.

The purse was the largest ever offered for a single Thoroughbred race.

Lotowhite is owned by Thomas G. Benson of Skidmore, Texas.

Great Circle closed with a rush after laying off the pace and rolled in to win the staggering purse by three-quarters of a length over the suddenly threatening Lotowhite. A bare head behind was the pocket-size filly of the field, Bed o'Roses.

Dallas Accountant Is Arraigned On Bogus Check Charge

HOUSTON —(AP)—Harold T. Brown, 29, a Dallas accountant, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Ralph Fowler Saturday after he was arrested by FBI agents Friday night on a federal charge of passing forged checks.

Brown was arrested by the FBI as he entertained a blonde in his hotel room.

Brown surrendered meekly. The blonde fainted.

A. F. Lorton, FBI agent in charge here, said Brown was being hunted for stealing 169 checks from the R. E. McKee Construction Company in El Paso on December 31.

He was charged January 16 in Phoenix, Arizona, for violation of the National Stolen Property Act—transporting forged documents across state lines.

Lorton said Brown had cashed some $2,000 in forged checks before he was arrested here.

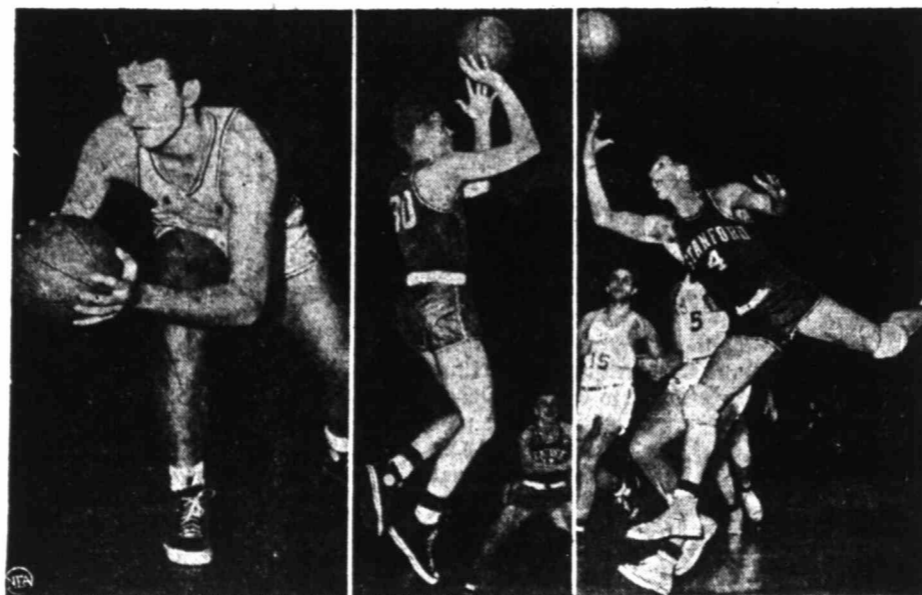

He had 57 checks, all made out to D. R. Dewey—the name he was registered under at the hotel—for $105.77.

Man Beats His Wife, Steals Her Crutches

Cab driver J. R. McCarter has his own idea about the meanest man in Midland.

He received a call to pick up a passenger at a night club. When he arrived there he found the passenger was a woman with a broken leg.

"My husband beat me up then stole my crutches," she apologized as he carefully lifted her into his cab.

Within easy striking distance of the leaders were Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., John Bulla, Verona, Pa., and Ed Furgol, Royal Oak, Mich., with totals of 203.

Baseball Screening Committee To Meet

NEW YORK —(AP)—The committee named to "screen" candidates for the job of commissioner of baseball will meet Sunday to "sift" the list of names on file. Lou Perini, president of the Boston Braves announced Saturday night.

Indicating that the committee of which he is a member, probably will have nothing definite to report, Perini said, "We're meeting to see if we are going about the matter in the same way."

Earlier, he said that a successor to A. B. Chandler, the incumbent commissioner, probably will not be named until Chandler's contract, calling for $65,000 a year, expires in April, 1952.

"I have plenty of names, but no personal candidates," said Perini.

Kilgore Sells Kubski To Shreveport Sports

KILGORE, TEXAS —(AP)—Al Kubski, former manager of the Kilgore Drillers in the defunct East Texas League, Saturday was sold to Shreveport of the Texas League.

Jackie Robinson Signs 1951 Contract

BROOKLYN —(AP)—Jackie Robinson has signed his Brooklyn contract for a reported $35,000 salary, about the same money he got last year.

Lassoing of Robinson, league-leading second baseman and Dodger cleanup hitter, gave Brooklyn 27 signed players. Of the 31 unsigned only five are regulars—Gene Hermanski, Preacher Roe, Gil Hodges, Billy Cox and Carl Furillo.

Everything came out even for New Hampshire's 1949 football team. The Wildcats scored 133 points, and so did their opponents, and they split eight games.

Texans To Oppose Tarheels In Finale Of Four-Ball Event

HOLLYWOOD, FLA. —(AP)—It'll be Texas vs. North Carolina in Sunday's finals of the Women's International Four-Ball Golf tournament at the Orange Brook Country Club.

The Texas team—Betty Rawls of Austin and Betty Dodd of Fort Sam Houston—survived a late rally to defeat Dot Kieley of Los Angeles and Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore 2 and 1 in Saturday's semifinals.

The Carolina team—Mae Murray and Pat O'Sullivan of Southern Pines—tripped Carol Dinger of Tiffin, Ohio, and Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich. 1-up.

Sunday's finals are scheduled over the 36-hole route.

The victory of the Texas team was won on the eighteenth hole when Miss Murray dropped a seven-foot putt for a six-foer, while Miss Wall missed a par-four that would have halved the hole and forced the match into overtime.

Aggies Nose Out Porkers

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)—A tip-in shot by big Walt Davis with three seconds to play gave Texas A&M a 34-33 victory over Arkansas Saturday night and a share of first place in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

The Aggies are deadlocked with Texas, 53-43 victor over Texas Christian.

Texas A&M came from behind to win in the see-saw battle that saw Arkansas' gangling Razorbacks hold a slight margin most of the way.

Arkansas led at the half 21-20.

A free throw by Gene Lambert with 15 seconds to play broke a 32-32 deadlock and put Arkansas ahead. But with the game practically over, Davis twisted up to sink a rebound shot and clinch the game.

The big Aggie center was almost the whole show for the ball control minded Aggies. He netted 13 points and held Bob Ambler and seventh-foot Billy Hester to a combined total of 12 points.

Arkansas threw a rigid defense at the Aggies, but Jewell McDowell, John DeWitt and Marvin Martin helped crack it open.

D. L. Miller was high scorer for Arkansas with 11 points.

Southern Methodist Downs Tulsa 65-54

DALLAS —(AP)—Southern Methodist finally met a basketball team that's no bigger than it is and the Mustangs beat Tulsa 65-54 Saturday night.

The tight Methodist defense kept Tulsa in hand throughout the first half with SMU holding a 33-22 lead at the intermission.

Tulsa pulled up starting the second half and several times drew within five points of the Mustangs but Jack Brown, star of the SMU victory, kept sinking the long ones from the side just as it appeared the Golden Hurricane might catch up.

A crowd of 2,000 watched SMU beat the travel-weary Tulsa team, which was playing its fifth game in eight nights, losing all of them.

Brown was the game's top scorer with 15 points. Whitey Holm and Darrell Murphy of SMU each had 14.

Steers Launch Spring Grid Drills Monday

AUSTIN, TEXAS —(AP)—Spring football training begins Monday at the University of Texas, and new Head Coach Ed Price says he will welcome any student who wants to play.

"Too many of our students feel that an athletic scholarship is a requisite for making our squad. We are anxious to work with any boy who feels he would like to play football at the university," Price said.

There will be plenty of new faces in both the Longhorn coaching and team lineups this year. Making their debut on the Texas staff are two of Price's teammates on the 1950 championship team. They are End Coach Bill DuBose and Freshman Coach Grover (Ox) Emerson, who will assist with the varsity in the Spring.

Price expects less than 60 candidates Monday, including 22 lettermen, nine reserve lettermen, and approximately 25 from last Fall's freshman squad.

Longhorns Trip TCU By 53 To 43

AUSTIN —(AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns stopped Texas Christian's fast break Saturday night, licked the Horned Frogs and dropped them out of a tie for the lead in the Southwest Conference race.

The victory left Texas and Texas A&M, 34-33 winner over Arkansas Saturday night, pacing the championship chase.

Big Jim Dowies and little George Scalling led the surprising Longhorns to the upset victory before 7,000 partisan fans who jammed Gregory Gym to the rafters.

A field goal by James Reynolds shot Texas Christian ahead moments after the game began. The score was tied four times the first half, and then Texas shot ahead midway in the period. The Longhorns never dropped behind and led at the half 27-23.

Scalling dumped in 20 points for individual scoring honor. Dowies had 14 and Harvey Promme paced Texas Christian scoring with 13 points.

In the second half, Buster Brannon's Texas Christian team three times pulled within one-point of Jack Gray's aggressive Longhorns—at 35-34, 36-35, 41-40.

Texas used a semi-zone defense that kept the Horned Frogs' fast break from coming close under the basket. Texas Christian hit only 17 of 52 attempted field goals. Texas connected on 18 of 42 attempts from the floor.

Joe Ed Falk dominated the backboard for the Longhorns.

Texas Open Next For Touring Pros

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Golf's touring professionals head for familiar stamping grounds this week, the annual Texas Open—the oldest tournament on the Winter divot-digging tour.

Started in 1922, the Texas Open began as a $5,000 tournament and now has increased to a $10,000 event.

Most of the nation's leading and professional shotmakers, and with the exception of defending champion Sam Snead and National Open titleholder Ben Hogan, will be on hand for the twenty-fourth edition of the 72-hole event.

With Snead out of action because of a broken bone in his left hand, the role of favorite has fallen to Jimmy Demaret, runner-up in the Texas Open four times, in the last five years.

Tournament Manager Graham Ross expects a starting field of 300 in the event that gets underway Thursday at two courses. Half the field will play the opening round at Brackenridge Park Municipal Course while the other half is touring the Fort Sam Houston Country Club. Players will switch sites for the second round and the low 60 qualifiers will compete in the final 36 holes to be played over the short tree-lined Brackenridge Park course.

Five former Texas Open champions are entered. They include Dave Douglas who won in 1949; Ed Oliver, who copped the crown in 1947; Chick Harbert the winner in 1942; Lawson Little, who scored a brilliant triumph in the snow in 1941, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the 1939 winner.

Pro-amateur tournaments are scheduled Monday and Tuesday, and a golf clinic will be given Wednesday at Brooke Army Medical Center for the benefit of Korean war wounded and other GI convalescents.

The Midland B team lost to the Andrews B 39-17. Six of the Midland B girls were playing their first volleyball game. Coach Ella Mae Blair announced that a complete schedule for the volleyball ball season will be released within a few days.

King's Row - By LARRY KING

A man was asked by Roger H. Phippen, a Florida sports scribe, when Marlene Bauer would be ready for Babe Zaharias.

That man replied: "Make the answer two years. Marlene has the shots right now. She is seldom off the line. That's her best asset."

"What she needs and what she is getting now is mental toughness. The pressure was on both Alice and Marlene when they were put in with the professionals last year. Now it is wearing off. Alice hits the longer ball of the two, but she lacks her sister's complacency."

The man speaking was Dave Bauer, father of Midland's famous golfing beauties.

The above information came from Bauer himself, via Midlander Stanley Erskine. Bauer sent some clippings by the Florida scribe to Erskine and he kindly passed them along to us.

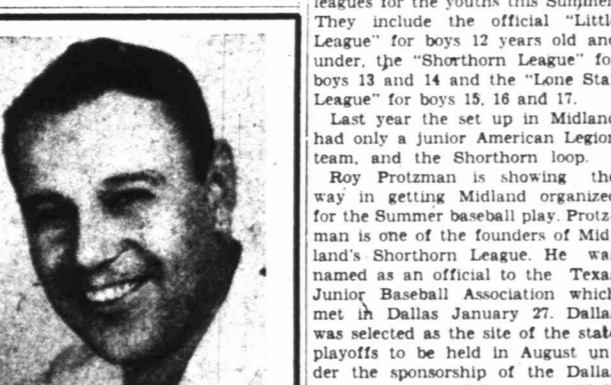

Papa Bauer told Erskine the Bauers will be back in Midland in a couple of months. That will give the golfing sisters time to get ready for the tournaments to be played here.

An interesting comment was made by Phippen. He reports that when the Bauer sisters were in the Doherty Tournament last year, many fans were on hand for the tourney. But this year, according to Phippen, he and two other spectators were the only fans at the greens when the meet started with Polly Riley smacking a long ball down the middle of the first fairway.

According to Phippen, many of the amateur golfers in the meet are overjoyed that Marlene and Alice have turned professional. It seems the newsmen and cameramen kept the Bauers busy—and Phippen reports:

"The predominant atmosphere was a more vivid green than the course."
Phippen has been notified he was chosen as writer of the year's best sports yarn—and it was about the Bauers. The story will be published in a book of the best sport reports of 1950, and is due on the stands in a couple of months.

At least one rookie hurler will be around to try his luck in the Longhorn League this year.

Webb To Fort Worth Baseball Meet; Will Return Next Week

Harold Webb, co-owner of the Midland Indians with H. W. Donohoo, was to leave Midland early Sunday for Fort Worth, where he will attend a meeting of Texas baseball owners and managers February 7 and 8.

The meeting is to instruct Texas baseball men on the running of clubs—especially in the front office department—and stress promotional plans to give the fans more attractive baseball cards.

Webb expects to return to Midland early next week. Box seat sales will be handled by Donohoo this week. While in Fort Worth Webb expects to talk to other baseball men concerning players and exhibition baseball games. Midland will go to Monroe, La., March 10 for Spring training with the Oklahoma City Indians.

Donohoo and Webb said that any Midlanders wanting box seats this week may mail checks to Box 102, Midland, or contact Donohoo at his restaurant on West Highway 80.

The owners say they are anxious to contact all of last year's box holders, as there is a waiting list of new box seat seekers.

Leon (Hook) Hayes Inks '51 Contract

Lefty Leon (Hook) Hayes was the first Midland Indian of the 1950 team to ink a 1951 contract, as he signed Saturday morning. Hayes, signed for an undisclosed salary, but reported it was a "satisfactory figure."

Hayes came to Midland well along in the season last year and won six games while losing 10. However, he lost several games by a one-run margin, and had an earned run mark of 3.51. The southpaw hurler finished 116 innings, giving up 58 bases on balls and whiffing 69 batters.

He first came to Midland late in 1949 from Lamesa and had a good year with the Indians. He then was sold to Oklahoma City and was placed on the Tacoma, Wash., roster but declined to play there and didn't see action until he reported to Midland last year.

Hayes said Saturday he "hopes to win 20 games this year."
He is the second Indian to come into the fold for 1951. The other is also a hurler, Eddie Jacome, who was purchased from Longview.

South Upsets West; Crockett Knocks Off Latin American

The fall of West Elementary was the big news in Elementary cage circles this weekend. After winning the Midland flag football title by going unbeaten in eight games and taking three basketball contests without defeat, Coach Edwin Nixon's cagers were upset by O. C. Penn's South team 15-12.

South turned in its best game of the year in building up a 10-6 half-time lead. West Elementary tied the score at 10-10 in the third stanza, but the winners went ahead to stay.

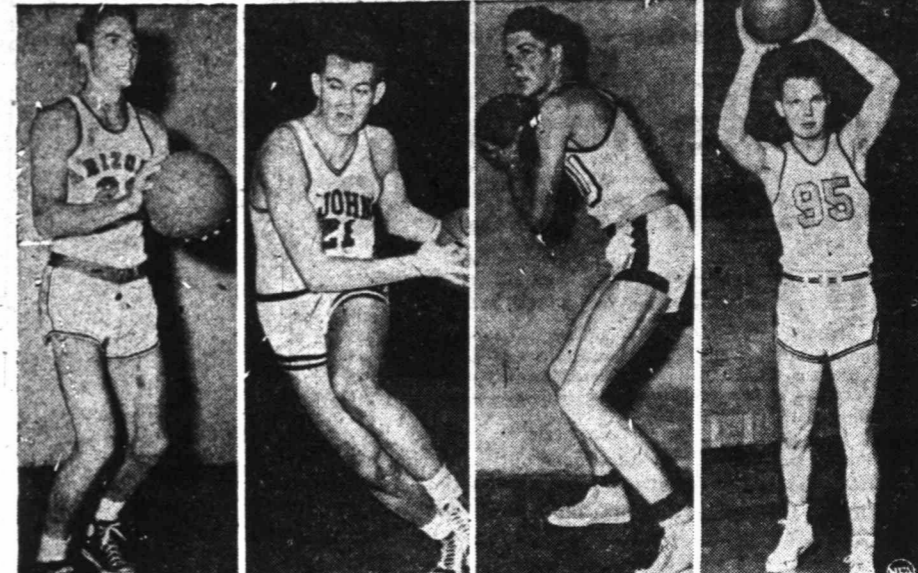

Leading the West team was Jimmy Walton with six points. Douglas Hampton scored four, Jerry Carson one and Terry Palmer one. West played without the services of Gary Littlejohn, who was out of town. For South, John Williams was the big gun with eight, Bill Farris scored four and Wayne Kaiser three. Jim Woollard and Barton Jones played fine games.

Jimmy Williams' Crockett fifth grade team knocked off Latin American 12-4. Frank Parks and Gary Sanford tallied four each for the winners, while Calvin McKenzie and Larry Sparks grabbed two each. Lupe Hernandez scored the four points made by Latin American.

South sixth defeated North sixth in a 16-14 thriller after a two-minute overtime. The regulation contest ended in a 14-14 tie and S. L. Vann poked in the winning tally for South. Vann led South with six points, Keith Jeffcoat got five, Jimmy Padgett and Dean Sole two and Dennis Patton one. For North, James Tom was high with seven. Fred Springer tallied four, Preston Bridgewater scored two and Jack Wilkinson added one.

John M. Cowden Junior High defeated Crockett sixth 21-15. James York scored eight to pace the losers, Jim Owens scored four and Gayland Howard three.

Arthur Adams scored seven points for Cowden, with Gregory Smith looping in five markers. Other scorers were Abundio Reyes, four; Larry Cooper, three, and Don Henderson, two.

SCORE-JUMPERS—You'd need an adding machine to compute the number of points scored or set up by this foursome. Arizona's Roger Johnson, left, is among the Border Conference leaders. Jack McMahon, second panel, makes Brooklyn St. John's go with a fast break. Brigham Young's Dick Jones grabs rebounds, paves the way for baskets by teammates, in addition to racking up points. George Beck, right, hits well from the outside for Bowling Green.

CROCKETT GIRLS WIN

David Crockett's girls volleyball team defeated North Elementary in a pair of games last week 15-10 and 15-7. The game was played in the high school gym. Crockett girls playing were Beck Douglas, Peggy Jean Davie, Peggy Joyce Foutch, Ruby Tredeaway, Patsy Patterson, Billy Smith, Shirley Jones, Kathy Thilson, Pansy Rainhart, Mollie Ray, Ellen Beauchamp, and Shirley Brulaker.

Working affiliations of Longhorn Clubs include: Big Spring (with Havana, Sherman-Denison, Galveston and Washington), Midland (Oklahoma City), Odessa (Corpus Christi), and Roswell (Austin).

Westerners Pacing 3-AA Cage Outfits

Lubbock's Westerners are having an easy time of it in 3-AA basketball circles. The Lubbock five added another win to its record last week, slapping Lamesa 61-40. It was the second time the Westerners had defeated the second ranking team in the conference.

Midland and Odessa clashed in the only other loop contest of the week, with Odessa licking unless Midland 49-40. Both teams clearly are out of the title picture—as is just about every other team but the sensational Westerners.

Lubbock whacked Lamesa previously 52-36. The Westerners also have defeated Odessa 50-39, Midland 55-32, and Big Spring 59-39.

Lamesa has clipped Midland 48-37 and 48-47, beaten Odessa 27-22 and nudged Big Spring.

The Steers have beaten Midland 31-29 and Odessa twice, 50-43 and 37-35, dropping contests to Lubbock and Lamesa.

Odessa's two conference wins are over Midland: 40-37 and 49-40. Midland has dropped six district contests in a row, losing by one, two and three points against Lamesa, Big Spring and Odessa respectively.

Conference standings:

Lubbock	5	0
Lamesa	4	2
Big Spring	3	2

Swimmer Sets New Breast Stroke Mark

ANNAPOLIS, MD.—(AP)—Princeton's Bob Brawner skimmed 200 yards in two minutes, 16.6 seconds in the Naval Academy swimming pool Saturday to better a 12-year-old world's breast stroke record.

The 21-year-old junior from San Mateo, Calif., turned in the brilliant performance during a dual meet in which Navy defeated Princeton 40-35.

Midland Pictured As West Texas Therapeutic Center For Handicapped Children

Midland some day may be the West Texas center of therapeutic treatment for handicapped children. That dream was pictured here Saturday as more than 50 persons from throughout this area gathered in Midland for a meeting sponsored by the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

"There is a great need in this section of Texas for such a center," said Martin M. Ricker, Dallas, executive director of the state society.

"A treatment center here would serve a large area. At the present time, patients from as far away as San Angelo have to go to Lubbock to get such treatment."

And Mrs. Fred M. Cassidy of Midland, a director of the state group, said such a project is being studied by the Children's Service League of Midland.

"It has been our dream for some time," she said, "that such a treatment center would become a reality. We know there is a need for it and we are studying the possibilities of establishing one in this area."

To such a center would come children afflicted with cerebral palsy, those stricken with polio, and others requiring therapeutic treatment.

It would have to be established with local finances although its operation would be paid for through the annual sale of Easter Seals, sponsored by the state society.

Mrs. Cassidy said that from Midland alone four or five patients go by bus each week to Lubbock to get treatment at the center there.

The discussion of the treatment center came as specialists, parents and other interested persons met in Hotel Scharbauer for a one-day discussion of the problems of handicapped children.

Police Report Shows 1,006 Complaints In Month Of January

Midland's Police Department received an average of 32 complaints a day during January, the monthly report of the department's activities disclosed Saturday.

The comprehensive five-page report, prepared by the bureau of identification and records, was released by Col. Milan N. Plavac, director of the city's Department of Public Safety.

The report showed a total of 1,006 complaints received by the department during the month, of which almost half were requests for checks on automobile licenses.

Included in the complaints, however, were reports of only 18 offenses falling in the felony category. These included four for breaking and entering, four for burglary, nine for automobile theft and one for murder.

Among the offenses, drunkenness still led the list with a total of 57 reported. Another 45 were for disturbance of the peace, and 20 persons were charged with drunkenness in automobiles.

$3,839 In Fines

The report showed that half a dozen stolen automobiles, of a total value of $6,150, were recovered during the month, along with five stolen bicycles valued at $160.

A total of $3,839 was collected in fines, and police traveled 18,008 miles in the performance of their duties.

Of the 161 persons arrested during the month, 144 were male and 17 were female. A total of 96 of these were white, 34 Latin American and 31 negroes.

Moving traffic violations totalled 92, 40 of them for driving without an operator's license and 30 for speeding.

The bureau of identification and records had a busy month, taking 51 fingerprints for criminal investigation and 305 of civil applicants for jobs.

The report listed 39 automobile accidents within the city limits during the month with seven persons injured.

Woman Is Charged In Axe Slaying Of Child

HOUSTON — Mrs. Ada May Turner, 39, has been charged with the axe slaying of her eight-year-old niece, Juanita Lewis.

In a statement to Harris County sheriff's deputies, Mrs. Turner said: "I remember hitting Neta (Juanita). How I come to do it I don't know. I never hit anybody in my life."

Dr. C. A. Dwyer, Jr., county psychiatrist, later told reporters Mrs. Turner had told him she always made her husband chop off heads of chickens "because I couldn't do anything like that."

Dwyer quoted her as saying she "got strange feelings and urges while chopping lice in a washtub" just before attacking the child.

The murder charge against Mrs. Turner was filed before Justice of the Peace V. P. Davis at Waller.

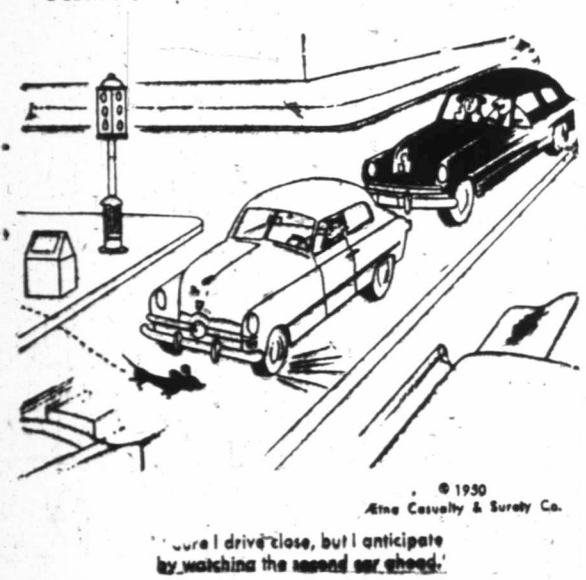

The body was found Friday afternoon in the farm home of Juanita's adoptive parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Lewis, near Fairbanks, north-west of Houston.

At the time of the slaying Mrs. Lewis was in Fairbanks and Lewis was at work at an oil company pump station.

Sheriff's deputies found a bloody axe in the bathroom of the farm home.

Lloyd Frazier, assistant chief of deputies, said the top of the child's head was almost cut away.

President Dedicates New Chapel Of Four Chaplains

PHILADELPHIA — President Truman, dedicating the Chapel of Four Chaplains, Saturday declared America must unite in sacrifice—as the heroic chaplains he honored—in order to "stand up against Communist aggression" and avert World War III.

Truman said "there is good reason to hope for success" in avoiding another world conflict "if we can get over the present crisis successfully."

The Chief Executive, in a 1,500-word dedication address at the inter-faith memorial to the heroism of the four Army chaplains who died in the sinking of the troopship Dorchester off Greenland exactly eight years ago, likened the sacrifice to the four clergymen—a Jew, a Roman Catholic, and two Protestants—to that of our men in Korea today.

"Our men are in Korea because we are trying to prevent a world-wide war," Truman emphasized, "and their sacrifices are being made in the spirit of the four chaplains who died in defense of the great religious faiths which make this chapel a place of worship."

Truman left Washington in his first out-of-town trip this year—shortly after noon and his return train arrived back in Washington at 4 p.m. He went directly to Blair House from the station.

The presidential train, heavily guarded under wartime security regulations, was piloted by the same railroad crew that has taken Truman around the country the last six years. His trip was not delayed at any time by the current nationwide railroad tieup.

More than 200 policemen patrolled North Broad Street to the chapel entrance.

Hits Hard At Quitters

Truman hit hard at those Americans who, he said, want to quit when the going gets tough, as it has in Korea. He didn't name them but apparently he referred to those critics of foreign policy who would withdraw from Korea and from Europe.

"We cannot lead the forces of freedom from behind," the President declared.

"When things look hard there are always a lot of people who want to quit. We had people like that in the Revolutionary War and we have had them in every war and every crisis of our history."

"If we had listened to them we would never have been a strong and prosperous country. We would not be strong enough now to stand up against Communist aggression and tyranny."

Three Solons Would Tap Highway Funds To Avoid New Taxes

AUSTIN — Three representatives Saturday offered what they believe is a way to run the state for the next two years without levying new taxes.

Their bill would take surplus highway funds amounting to about $16,000,000 annually, and set them aside for building farm to market roads.

"I believe that if this bill passes we won't have to levy any new taxes this season," said Rep. Callan Graham of Junction.

Representatives Graham, Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde and Clyde Whitides of Seymour worked the bill out.

At the present time, $15,000,000 is taken out of the state fund every year for farm-to-market roads. Briscoe backed this measure when it passed in the last session of the Legislature in 1949.

Graham pointed out that their new bill would abolish that appropriation and take money from funds in the Highway Department. These funds come from a one-cent gasoline tax, already imposed, to pay off road bonds.

Pass Back To Counties

Since 1932, the state has been giving half of the funds to the counties to pay their road bond indebtedness.

Graham said that if the bill passes the counties no longer would get that money. But he added that counties with money needs could levy the 30 cents ad valorem tax which the state relinquishes this year.

The higher each year surplus will grow larger this year, Graham said, as the bonded indebtedness is reduced. Ultimately the entire amount yielded by the one-cent gasoline tax will go to the farm-to-market road program. The tax now yields about $27,500,000 a year and is calculated to increase as the state grows.

"If the people want farm-to-market roads, this will build them," Graham said. He estimated that in 10 years the bill would provide $30,000,000 a year for rural roads.

Gov. Allan Shivers had suggested something similar at a press conference last week when he said he thought farm-to-market roads should be financed out of highway revenue instead of the state's general fund.

A driverless automobile landed a Midland man in jail early Saturday morning.

Investigating, they found the car was driverless and had struck North Junior League's Masters of Tomorrow young Texas artist contest.

Don't Smother Your Mate's Personality Out In Company

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"Why do married couples so often feel like a small boy who has been holding out on Mama. Mammie counts Jim's drinks at a party, censors his stories, reminds him that he has to get up early the next day, and even minds his manners for him."

When they're together neither Jim nor Mammie acts like an individual. So they're dull company. And the reason Mammie can't really be Mammie and Jim can't really be Jim unless they're apart is that they've fallen into the middle-aged habit of treating each other with so little courtesy, tact and real friendliness that they completely wet-blanket each other's personalities.

Mammie starts to tell a story in Jim's presence. Jim jumps in to correct her facts or to say impatiently, "You've got it all wrong."

When the family gets tired of plain vegetables try combining them. Peas and sliced boiled potatoes are delicious in a cream sauce; diced carrots (cooked) and celery crescents (also cooked) are another combination when served with melted butter or margarine and seasoned with salt and freshly-ground pepper.

Costume Touches Beautify Wardrobe

This young woman chooses velveteen both for brightening her weary wardrobe and for adding dash to this season's styles. Ascot (left) serves as finishing touch for new fall suit, mittens (lower center) add gay spot of color to spectator sports attire. Matching capelet and cuffs (upper center) and tailored weskit (right) bring basic costumes up to date in both fabric and style.

Self-covered buttons are a good choice for the front closing. If you lack time or technique for making buttonholes or covering buttons, it's a good idea to turn this part of the job over to your local sewing center.

Mittens are easy to make if you first draw a pattern to serve as a guide. To do this, place your hand flat upon a sheet of paper and trace its outline. Include a special section for your thumb.

Cut back and front sections for each mitten, and also duplicate sections of lining fabric, allowing a half-inch all around for seams. All that's needed for an ascot is add gay spot of color to spectator sports attire. Matching capelet and cuffs (upper center) and tailored weskit (right) bring basic costumes up to date in both fabric and style.

When it's necessary to double velveteen for cutting, fold the material lengthwise with the pile inside. To avoid injury to the fabric, use fine needles instead of pins for fastening pattern pieces and assembling parts. Silk thread is best for basting and tailor's tacks as well as machine work.

Machine stitch with the nap, moving upward from the bottom. For best results, try a size 11 stitch. Seams should be finished with over-casting.

McCamey Gets State Highway Department Maintenance Shops

MCCAMEY—A crew from the Texas State Highway Department was in McCamey last week surveying the site for regional office and maintenance shops.

Location for the installation was announced early in the week after Highway Department officials gave their approval. The site selected is north of McCamey on State Highway 51.

L. P. Cabiness, district highway engineer from Pecos, indicated construction will start immediately. An outlay of $33,000 will be spent by the state for the buildings.

Four or five families will be transferred to McCamey in a shift of personnel to handle the regional office. McCamey labor will be used for road work.

Officials have been working on the move since last Summer when the Highway Department notified them they were considering establishing an office in McCamey if a suitable location were available.

It is expected that the City Council and Commissioners Court will approve funds for the purchase of the land at their meetings this month.

Citizens In 93 Countries Will Observe World Day Of Prayer

Citizens of 93 countries will kneel Friday in observance of the sixty-fourth annual World Day of Prayer. Beginning with the Christian women in the Fiji Islands, 30 miles east of the International Date line, the prayers will be echoed in hundreds of languages and dialects around the world, until the final amen is spoken in Alaska and the Tonga Islands of the Southwest Pacific. Midlanders will observe the day with a service at 3 p.m. in the First Methodist Church.

The theme for this year is the phrase taken from I John 4:18, "Perfect love casts out fear." Chosen each year by a different national group, the 1951 theme was selected by church women in Germany.

Of this year's choice, Mrs. Welthy Honsinger Fisher, chairman of the World Day of Prayer Committee, said, "The people of the world today are fearful of each other, and their distrust can bring about the destruction they fear. It is time all of us were reminded of One who said love can bring courage and peace."

World Day of Prayer was held. Today there are approximately 15,000 observances in the United States alone.

In this country the day is sponsored by the General Department of United Church Women of the National Council of the Churches of Christ. The traditional offerings, which exceeded $235,000 last year, are divided between the National Council's Divisions of Hope and Foreign Missions.

In Midland the committee in charge of general arrangements consists of Mrs. Sam Preston, First Methodist; Mrs. E. N. Gideon, First Christian; Mrs. J. S. Orimes, Asbury Methodist; Mrs. C. E. Bisell, First Presbyterian, and Mrs. C. O. Puckett, Trinity Episcopal.

All women, regardless of their church affiliation, are invited to attend the service.

Methodists Will Dedicate Theology Buildings At SMU

DALLAS—Dedication ceremonies for the $3,500,000 Perkins School of Theology Quadrangle at Southern Methodist University will be held Thursday, Dr. Eugene B. Hawk, dean of the school, has announced.

The event, set during annual Ministers' Week at SMU, will draw a record attendance of Methodist churchmen from all parts of the United States. The dedication will climax a three-day program, which also will include the first official homecoming for alumni and ex-students of the Perkins School of Theology.

Named after Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins of Wichita Falls, principal donors to the school and long-time benefactors of SMU, the quadrangle contains seven buildings: Kirby Hall, Perkins Chapel; Bridewell Library; E. B. Hawk and Paul E. Martin Apartments, and the S. B. Perkins and A. Frank Smith dormitories.

Scout Organization Chairman Asks For More Leaders

An invitation was extended Saturday by Mrs. J. D. Martin, organization chairman of the Midland Girl Scout Association, to all women who are interested in the Girl Scout program to contact her. Several troops are without assistant leaders at this time, Mrs. Martin said.

"Any woman who enjoys working with children," she added, "and who can meet with the troop once a week is welcome to the organization. There are many girls who would like to become scouts, but additional troops can't be organized until there are women leaders for them."

An average troop consists of 16 girls, a leader, an assistant leader, and a troop committee of mothers. The Girl Scout Little House is used as a meeting place by 36 troops each week.

The three divisions of the scout program are the Brownie, Intermediate and Senior. The Brownie program is based on the project system, with projects being carried on for a few weeks or months and with the girls helping in planning the activities.

The Intermediate program is for girls from 10 to 14 years of age and has the following four ranks: Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class and Curved Bar. The three main points upon which the Senior program is based are recreation, vocational exploration and social adequacy.

Further information on the Girl Scout program and the training course scheduled to begin February 12 may be obtained by calling the office at 4183.

Next time you bake apples try a flavor change. Fill the cavity of each apple with two tablespoons of sugar, a teaspoon of butter or margarine and some small round red cinnamon candies. Bake as usual, adding a little hot water to the pan, and spoon syrup over apples occasionally during baking.

Silk Taffeta For Gay Party Dresses

Silk taffeta in tissue weight, as used by designer Hannah Troy to fashion these luxurious but very wearable holiday dresses. Two silk braid bands, jacket with side closing, narrow skirt. A mink faille taffeta dress (right) is basically simple, has lattice yoke curving lightly over the shoulders, an edging of ball fringe at the sleeve line.

By GAILE DUGAN
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — Silk taffeta in a crisp tissue weight, will rustle and crackle fashionably at gay holiday parties this winter. It appears in holiday dresses which are very nearly formal and in those which tend to the simple, tailored look.

One Hannah Troy design in tan silk taffeta, a two-piece suit dress, has a jacket with closing swept to one side. The jacket thus is hippled to create a flounce effect over one hip. Three-quarter sleeves are slim and fitted; the skirt is narrowed to a straight line. Bands of black silk braid trim the jacket flounce and collar.

A basically simple dress in mink faille taffeta, from this same designer, has neck interest created by a latticed yoke which curves gracefully over each shoulder. A Victorian edging of ball fringe is used for the sleeves. While the skirt looks slim, it has an inverted center pleat to allow for dancing grace.

A velvet belt is rhinestone buckled. The formal look is displayed in a halter-necked dress in two tones of silk taffeta in a third Hannah Troy design. Deep salmon and charcoal gray are dramatically combined in a sheath dress which has a large neckline bow of the salmon poised against the gray. This dress has a long-sleeved bolero in the gray to provide a covered-up look for the occasions which demand it.

By E. STANLEY JONES

Ps. 1:3; 119:9, 11, 162; Mal. 3:16
STEPS IN READING THE WORD

We continue our steps in reading the Word:

4. Retain. Do not merely rehearse a passage that gets you; deliberately plan to retain it. Commit it to memory. When a high-school boy, in reading the Scripture before an assembly, read the passage this way: "Ye shall hate all men for my name's sake," those who heard him did not seem surprised and shocked, for they didn't know the correct reading. That generation had not been trained in memorizing Scripture and was mentally and morally the poorer as a result.

5. Rejoice. We must rejoice, for reading the Word is a trust with God. As I sat reading the Word in a Pullman a bright-faced oldish lady said as she passed by: "You must love the Author, for you are reading His Word. I too love the Author." At once we were friends around the Friend. In reading the Word, remember that what you have read is all leading to his feet. The Bible is not flat Bible from Genesis to Revelation—it is not a line like this: _____, but like this: _____ leading to Christ as the final goal and the final authority.

6. Realign. As you read this Word keep realigning your life with this Life. One girl did not come back for more instruction in Scripture, and when asked why the reply was: "I haven't learned yet to practice fully what I've been taught." She felt she had to keep practice abreast of teaching. Quite right. The negro preacher prayed: "Prop us up, Lord, on our leaning side." Realign your life every day with the Word. 7. Release. If you find something that gets hold of you in the Word, pass it on to somebody that very day. The repetition will help the retention, and it will help to lighten the path of the other.

I say unto you." Revelation is progressive, culminating in Christ. He is the test and touchstone of all. He is the Word. Rejoice in Him. Our law is a Life, our code a Character.

Thou Eternal Word, may my words be but echoes of Thee. For my words are dead unless there is a soul in them, and Thou are the Soul. Help me to be steeped in Thy Mind, fired by Thy passion, and decisive with Thy purposes. Help me to be alive, atingle with Thee. Amen.

Officer's Visit, Korean Project Climax Week For Altrusa Club

Midland Altrusans have had a busy week. Beginning with the arrival of Bernice McGee, governor of the Seventh District, and ending with a renewed drive for clothing and medicine to be sent to Korea, the club has had something doing every day.

First it was a luncheon honoring Miss McGee and Velma Barrett, president of the Odessa Club. (The purpose of Miss McGee's visit to West Texas was to present a charter to the newly organized Odessa group.)

Miss McGee spoke to the members informally, stressing the importance of working together in a service club and warning that nothing was as dangerous to the easy functioning of a club as a "slump into inertia."

Mrs. Dimney Is Club Speaker

The Xi Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Howard Atwater. Mrs. A. H. Dimney spoke on "The Value of the Needle."

During the business meeting, it was announced the next meeting will be a progressive dinner. Each member is to bring a book to send to the library at Giristown.

A nominating committee was selected to select an officer slate for the coming year. Those on the committee are Mrs. Dimney, Mrs. Arnold O'Neil, Mrs. James H. Walker and Mrs. R. H. Pizzell, Jr.

cautioned all members to remember that Altrusans, as individuals, should be willing to abide by the decision of the majority in order to "help for the greater good always."

Following Miss McGee's talk, Mrs. H. N. Phillips, district chairman of international relations, reported on the project of sending clothing and medicine to Tokyo. The supplies are sent to the Korean minister there and to In-Ai Yang and eventually are distributed to Korean refugees and American hospitals.

The Midland Club which has spearheaded the drive for clothing and medicine, has had the full cooperation, Mrs. Phillips said, not only of the people in Midland and every Altrusa Club in District Seven, but it also has received commendation and sanction from the International Headquarters. Following a request by Ruth Kramer, international president, for cooperation in the project Mrs. Phillips said a response had been received from a club as far away as Florida.

Odessans Attend
Odessa Altrusans present for the luncheon, in addition to Miss Barrett, were Hattie G. Owen, Frances Goodall, Louise Johnson and Dr. Mae V. Leopold. A special guest of the Midland club was Mrs. J. B. McCoy, worthy matron of the Midland chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Those present from the Midland club were Bertie Boone, president; Virginia Hoffman, Lucille Carroll, Agnes Park, Laura Jesse, Maurine Mims, Nettie Johnson, Hughie Pressley, Mary Sheppard, Ann Ford, Grace Wallace, Hilda Blair Ray, Mrs. Phillips and Faye Gwynn.

Miss McGee presented the charter to the Odessa Club Saturday night. The tables were decorated with arrangements of flowers, tapers and streamers in blue and white, the Altrusa colors.

Several musical selections were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Page. Following the dinner, Miss Barrett introduced Grace Wallace, first vice governor and organizer of the Odessa Club, and she introduced the honor guest of the evening.

Miss McGee spoke briefly on the principles of Altrusa. She praised the new club for its activity in securing five new members and for its good start on the project of building and improving library facilities for the negroes of Odessa. Miss Barrett received the charter for the Odessa group.

Those attending from Midland were Nettie Romer, Pauline McWilliams, Virginia Hoffman, Gave Gwynn, Maurine Mims, Hughie Pressley and Mrs. Phillips.

Miss McGee and Grace Wallace, with whom Miss McGee was staying, were entertained at a breakfast Sunday morning by Nettie Johnson and Mrs. Vi Severance.

Mary Sheppard, Virginia Hoffman, Maurine Mims and Grace Wallace accompanied Miss McGee to Big Spring Sunday afternoon where that club honored the governor with a buffet dinner in the home of Dr. Ora Johnson.

Expresses Appreciation
In a short talk, Miss McGee expressed her appreciation for the "baby club" of the district and commended them for having taken their place among the service clubs of their city. She closed by giving them simple rules to follow in their activities. While there, the governor and Ann Eberley, president, made arrangements for the presentation of the charter to the Big Spring club March 4.

Following the Big Spring meeting, Miss McGee and Grace Wallace went to San Angelo to meet with the Altrusa president and the conference committee. Plans were begun for the annual conference of the Seventh District to be held in San Angelo in the latter part of October.

Before returning to Fort Worth Monday morning, Miss McGee praised the hospitality of Midland people and observed, "West Texas is an empire within itself."

For a different salad serve cole slaw topped with a whole canned tomato; drain each tomato well in a slotted spoon before putting on the salad. To make this into a hearty luncheon salad add sliced hard-cooked egg and extra mayonnaise.

Hands Are Freed By Belt Bag

By ALICIA HART

Ten-agers who often wish for another arm on which to hang their purses while their hands are busy can now forget that idle

This teen-ager carries her lipstick and coins in handy belt accessory; keeps her hands free for holding books, opening doors, dream. A new product supplies a simpler answer.

Coins, lipsticks and other small necessities may be carried in a new accessory inspired by a Parisian miser bag. Wear it on your wrist like a bracelet, loop it over your belt, or attach it as a decorative addition to the shoulder straps of your evening gown.

For sports or school wear, you have a choice of fake fur or suede-like fabric with fringed leather tassels. Handsome when worn with leather belts, they leave your hands free for carrying books.

These accessories are also made up in a variety of materials for dressy wear. There are black velvet ones to add accent to this season's styles, all-over beaded designs and metallic versions.

Or, for a special effect, you might select a slender chain from which dangles a tiny gold or silver perfume bottle along with miniature gold or silver hearts.

Sporting Goods Stores Had Good Business In 1950

ATHENS, TEXAS.—(AP)—American sporting goods stores displayed in 1950 the finest, most effective array of outdoor equipment in the history of hooking and hunting. And they sold it hand over fist.

More sportsmen than ever before, men, women and children alike, joined the national procession to the creek bank via the sporting goods store.

With the lift of production curtailments after the last war, manufacturer of hunting and fishing equipment skyrocketed to unprecedented heights, booming the big business of outdoors into national recognition as such.

The American public's general leisure-time exodus to the outdoors, aided by revolutionary improvements in tackle and firearms, bred the great buying spree.

In the manufacture of both hunting and fishing items, the trend was all-out in the direction of light, sporty equipment.

The average fisherman's tackle ideas underwent a mild metamorphosis with the introduction of ultra-fast, light-spoiled reels and feather-light glass figure rods. Longer, whipper rods came to the front, as lighter lines and smaller plugs replaced the standard 5 3/8-ounce plugs and heavier casting outfits.

National Boy Scout Week To Mark Birthday Anniversary

WASHINGTON—President Truman will greet 12 outstanding Boy Scouts in the White House at noon Tuesday, and most governors will receive Scouts at state capitols to mark Boy Scout Week when more than 2,750,000 members will celebrate the organization's forty-first birthday.

Observed in every city and town and most villages and hamlets by more than 75,000 units, Boy Scout Week is the largest single birthday observance by young Americans.

On February 8, the day that the Boy Scouts of America was incorporated at Washington, D. C., the entire membership will recommit themselves to the Scout Oath or Promise at 8:15 p. m., in the four time zones.

Anniversary Theme
"Strengthen Liberty" is the anniversary theme. The organization has completed two years of a program known as "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty," which already has made it possible for 400,000 additional boys to enter Scouting's ranks and for all members to enjoy a richer experience. There now are 831 Scout Councils camps totaling 288,545 acres valued at more than $11,000,000 in land and $18,000,000 in facilities and equipment.

The largest single encampment ever held in the Western Hemisphere was the National Jamboree last Summer when 47,183 Scouts and leaders camped at historic Valley Forge, Pa. President Truman opened the Jamboree and General Eisenhower, a member of the Boy Scouts' National Executive Board, spoke at a great Fourth of July celebration. During Boy Scout Week the Jamboree campers will hold reunions, show their films, pictures and mementos and relive their experiences.

The 12 Scouts will present a "Report to the Nation" to President Truman in the White House, summing up the service projects undertaken by Scout units throughout America last year.

Almost 100 leaders representing the Cabinet, Senate, House of Representatives and national organizations will attend a breakfast in Washington Wednesday, with the 12 Scouts. Following sightseeing and visits with notables at the nation's capital, the Scouts will go to New York to take part in other Boy Scout Week observances.

Representatives of churches, synagogues, business and local government will share in anniversary observances with their Scouts in thousands of communities. There will be unit "open house" parties at which parents, relatives and leaders of institutions chartering Scouting will hear of the year's accomplishments, programs, service projects and membership gains.

Civil defense and conservation of the nation's natural resources will claim a major share of the Scouts' attention this Boy Scout Week. Members also will inspect their homes to make certain no hazards exist. Scout efficiency in emergencies will be tested through surprise mobilizations.

Boy Scout Sunday will be observed February 11 in many churches with Scouts and leaders attending services in uniform.

"STRENGTHEN LIBERTY"
41st Anniversary 1951
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

OFFICIAL SCOUT POSTER—Here is the official poster for the forty-first anniversary celebration of the Boy Scouts of America. The birthday theme this year is "Strengthen Liberty."

P-TA Units To Observe Founders Day

All units of the Parent Teacher Association will observe National Founders Day in their regular meetings this month.

Mrs. L. W. Hughes of Arlington, Tenn., national chairman of Founders Day, said P-TA meetings and programs will honor the memory of Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, co-founders of the now far-flung national parent-teacher organization.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers was organized February 17, 1897 at a convention attended by 2,000 persons in Washington, D. C. It first was called the National Congress of Mothers, and its purpose was to work for what is now called parent education and the "welfare of children in home, school and community."

In 1908 the name was changed to the National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, and in 1924 the present name was adopted.

This year there are 35,000 P-TA's in the United States and territories. Current membership is 6,187,078. More than 2,000,000 of the members at present are men.

Founders Day programs scheduled by P-TA's include historical pageants, homecomings for older members, speakers on parent-teacher history, objectives and efforts to create closer relations with other community organizations.

A traditional feature of observance is the lighting of candles around a birthday cake, each candle symbolizing a particular goal of the National Congress in its work for the welfare of children.

Lincoln's Prayers Recalled In Crisis

AP Newsfeatures
In these days when prayer is a response to the world crisis, many people like to remember that President Abraham Lincoln met the crisis of his day with prayer.

In emergency — the siege of Vicksburg or the Battle of Gettysburg — he prayed about these and said so. One of his body guards, Col. W. H. Cook reported that every morning at 8 o'clock, Lincoln would go into his study by himself and read a chapter or two of the Bible. He also often read the Bible to his family.

When Fremont was boomed as a Lincoln opponent, it was reported to Lincoln that only about 400 people attended a Fremont meeting. The President opened the Bible to a little known passage (— Samuel 22:2) and read:
"And every one that was in distress and every one that was in debt, and every one that was discontented, gathered themselves unto him; and he became a captain over them; and there were with him about 400 men."

But Lincoln, who often went to church, was a member of no church. Once when asked why, he said:
"Because I have found it difficult to give assent to their long and complicated confessions of faith. When any church will inscribe over its altar the Savior's condensed statement of law and the Gospel: 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and love thy neighbor as thyself,' that church will I join with all my heart."

Solution Is Sought To Motion Sickness

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The armed services are getting together in hopes of finding a solution to what they call motion sickness.

To land-lubber veterans who turned green on ships, a better name is sea sickness. Flyers call it air sickness. Civilians who suffer car sickness may also profit from the project.

The Air Force School of Aviation Medicine here says a joint Army-Navy-Air Force research project to test certain drugs will be launched soon aboard ocean transports.

Dr. Herman L. Chinn, chief of the school's pharmacology and biochemistry section and a major in the Air Force Reserve, has been ordered to active duty to supervise the experiment aboard one transport. Dr. Paul K. Smith, a lieutenant colonel in the reserve and professor of pharmacology at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., will supervise tests aboard another transport.

Delicate crystal candlesticks with tinkling prisms present fewer washing problems if you use a simple method that requires little handling and transference of the fragile parts. Set the candlesticks on your drain board, which should be cushioned with a Turkish towel. Sprinkle tepid detergent suds over the surface of the crystal, then clean stubborn dirt with a soft toothbrush. Rinse by pouring clear lukewarm water over the candlesticks. Don't dry with a cloth; let them drain naturally until the water has evaporated.

Seventh Man Alone Had To Determine His Fate

By COPE ROUTH

Six men were on the "jury" and yet the seventh alone had to decide his fate.

The seventh man was the defendant—a distinguished-looking man, and distinguished he was for his character was good and his reputation high among his neighbors in another section of the state.

And yet, by his own foolishness he had been caught up in the web of circumstances which often bring men before the bar of justice.

He was not formally on trial and yet no jury was never more dispassionate than the six who sat around him and listened to his story. There was the judge himself—County Judge Clifford C. Keith with whom the charge had been filed.

And there was Reagan Legg, the young county attorney who paced up and down the judge's office in the Midland County Courthouse, as the story unfolded.

Other Jurors' And seated beside the defendant were Col. Milan N. Plavsic, the department of public safety director, and Capt. Rube Hemingway of the Midland police force.

Standing over by the window was Patrolman Mac Stout of the State Highway Patrol. The sixth man was a newspaper reporter, leaning against the door and silently puffing a cigarette.

The charge was drunken driving! An hour earlier Colonel Plavsic and Captain Hemingway had been cruising along Highway 80 west of the city.

They spotted the defendant's automobile ahead of them. Twice it careened across the highway and twice it swerved back just in time to avoid a head-on collision.

Once it crunched far out on the gravel shoulder to the right and then skidded back to the pavement. For two miles the colonel and the captain pursued, trying to catch up and stop the car.

"Look up there," shouted the captain, "that gasoline truck is stopped for that light. He's going to crash into it."

The colonel held his breath. "There he goes!" he finally exploded. The defendant fooled them, though, and jerked to a stop only a few feet from the truck.

Meanwhile Patrolman Stout had joined the chase and the three officers walked up to the car. They found an empty bottle under the front seat.

"How many drinks have you had?" The defendant grinned wryly, shrugged his shoulders. "The usual two bottles of beer," he answered.

But now his grin was gone as he twisted nervously in his seat and heard that he was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Judge Keith looked at him questioningly and then informed him he could plead guilty or not guilty. In the latter case, he would have to put up $500 bond and await the next term of County Court.

The defendant rubbed his hand across his forehead and slumped a little in his seat. He looked around the room at the six men there. "There are extenuating circumstances," he said, "and I would like to tell you about them if you will listen."

Judge Keith laid the official-looking paper on his desk and leaned back.

"Why, yes, I'll be glad to hear them," he said.

For a full two minutes the defendant was silent, staring down at his expensive brown shoes, topped by the proper knitted socks. He toyed nervously with his bright red knitted tie.

Finally he spoke, slowly and carefully.

"As you know, I am an attorney," he almost whispered. "I've spent years prosecuting cases like this and I never thought I'd be the one to be prosecuted."

Relates Story "But this thing can ruin me. I will lose my license and I will embarrass my family."

Again there was a long silence as a tear began rolling down the plump cheek. The defendant took off his rimless glasses and laid them on the judge's desk.

"That car I was driving," he choked, "is my son's . . ."

Another long silence. " . . . My son is in Korea . . . He pulled out a white linen handkerchief and loudly blew his nose after wiping his eyes. " . . . My son is a commando . . . He is in the Rangers . . ."

Another long silence as the men in the room shifted nervously. " . . . Two days ago he jumped into enemy territory . . ."

He broke down at that point and sobbed openly. Patrolman Stout turned and looked out the window. Judge Keith glanced over to see how the county attorney was reacting. Captain Hemingway swallowed slowly. Colonel Plavsic stared speculatively at the defendant and the newspaper reporter lighted another cigarette.

The defendant was talking again. "I haven't been notified by the army yet . . . by my son's entire platoon . . . was wiped out . . ."

The defendant stood up slowly, buttoned his dark pin-striped coat and stroled over to stare out of the window.

"That's the way it was . . . that's why I had a few drinks this morning . . . that's why I don't want to be disgraced now."

The defendant then asked if the charge could be reduced. It wasn't the fine he was thinking about, he said, but the disgrace of being convicted of drunken driving.

Judge Keith looked questioning at the officers. "Sir," said Colonel Plavsic, addressing the defendant, "wouldn't you rather be brought in here than into a hospital or into a morgue."

"I hope you understand that what we did was for your sake as well as the other people traveling the highways."

"Three times that we saw, you could easily have been killed. There's not a doubt in my mind but had you traveled on another three blocks on Wall Street you would have had an accident—a serious one."

Patrolman Stout, too, frowned on the idea of reducing the charge. "It has already been filed and accepted by the county attorney," he said, "and we can't change it."

GUILTY PLEA ENTERED The defendant finally entered a guilty plea and was fined $50 plus

Boy Scout Leaders Hold First Council Clinic In Midland

Scout leaders from 10 of the 11 districts in the Buffalo Trail Council attended the first of a series of 11 clinics to be held by the council in the Scout office headquarters here Friday night.

District chairmen, vice chairmen and members of the public relations committees, along with staff members and council President Dr. W. B. Hardy attended.

Following a brief address by Dr. Hardy, Scout Executive P. V. Thurston oriented the group on the purpose of the clinics and released the schedule for the 10 succeeding sessions.

H. D. Norris, assistant Scout executive, discussed the duties of the chairmen and vice chairmen. Charles L. Klapproth, chairman of the council public relations committee, reviewed the 1951 program concerning public relations.

Program Discussed The concluding item on the program was discussion by Thurston of the entire 1951 program, on a council basis, and the gearing of district activities to fit into the council program.

Of the 10 clinics to be held, one is scheduled for each district in the council. Attending these meetings will be the members of all operating committees in the district and the council's staff members.

Peecos, Monahans, Wink, Kermit, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Colorado City, Snyder and Sweetwater were represented at Friday night's meeting, which was preceded by a dinner.

Kermit To Open New Legion Home

KERMIT—Formal opening of the new American Legion home here is scheduled Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock, according to Commander Carter Magendie.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoon. The new building was completed recently by the W&D Construction Company.

BACK TO SMU

Patrolman Stout agreed to take him back to Odessa, where he was staying in a tourist camp.

The patrolman asked him more about the defendant's son. The attorney said he really did have a son in the service but he didn't know if he was in action. "I really pulled one today, didn't I?" he said.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Yugoslav U.N. delegate learns how democracy works; European allies don't draft 18-year-olds, but Chinese and Russians do; American public proposes ways of helping preparedness.

WASHINGTON — In the delegates lounge of the United Nations, U. S. Ambassador Warren Austin stood listening to a group of earnest people. They talked at some length. Austin listened carefully, as patient as solid as the Vermont hills from which he comes.

At the other end of the delegates lounge Yugoslav Delegate Ales Bebler, Stanek Marxia, though friendly to the U. S. A., sat talking to Miss Betty Jacobs, representative of the United Nations Childrens Fund. Intrigued at Ambassador Austin's lengthy conversation, Ambassador Bebler finally asked Miss Jacobs:

"What are those people doing, bothering Mr. Austin?"
 "They are lobbying," Miss Jacobs replied. Then, noting the Yugoslav's puzzled expression, she continued: "That's an American system whereby the people can make their views known to the government. That group talking to Mr. Austin is a peace organization which has some ideas on China and Korea."
 "Do you mean to say that just anyone can come in here and talk to your top delegate?" asked Ambassador Bebler.

"Yes, reputable citizens can always see the representative of their government," Miss Jacobs explained. "That's part of the American system."

Bebler seemed greatly impressed. In order to understand the American system more fully, he now is reading Dorothy Detzer's book, "Appointment On The Hill," in which she describes her experiences in lobbying for better international relations.

Drafting 18-Year-Olds
 Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of Defense in charge of manpower, was being grilled by the House Armed Services Committee on the question of drafting 18-year-olds.

Handsome Congressman Mendel Rivers of South Carolina picked up a sheet of paper and began firing questions.

"Why is it that France does not draft men until they are 19?" he asked.

"And Belgium," he continued, "does not draft until men are twenty, while Italy does not draft until men are 21?"

"That is correct, Congressman," replied Mrs. Rosenberg, "but you fail to state that you are reading from information which we supplied you, and you also neglected to read the rest of the memo—namely that Russia drafts at the age of 18, while China drafts at the age of 16."

"And what I am interested in," concluded the assistant secretary of Defense, "is not what our friends do, but our potential enemies. We have established a minimum line of defense and we must get the men to meet it."

"You tell 'em, Anna," encouraged Chairman Vinson of Georgia in a very-audible whisper. Mrs. Rosenberg later paid tribute to Congressman Rivers, says he has been one of the most helpful members of the Armed Services Committee.

Note — While Belgium drafts at 20 for only one year, and Italy at 21 for a year and a quarter, England drafts at 18 for two years, China at 16 for an indefinite period, and Russia at 18 for three years. However, if a Russian boy has not finished his secondary education at 18, he is not drafted until he is 19. The Soviet places great emphasis on education.

Citizen's Suggestion Box

Millions of Americans, though dreading war, are eager and anxious to help their government prepare for that eventuality, according to the voluminous mass of mail received by this columnist. There is a great unharmed reservoir of patriotic goodwill and activity in this country which can be put to work, and here is a citizen's suggestion box conducted by the Washington Merry-Go-Round for better preparedness and for winning the cold war:

Warren A. Peterson, Duluth, Minn. — Have the Post Office Department print a stamp bearing a message of hope, to be used on U. S. letters sent abroad. Many of these letters would eventually get behind the Iron curtain.

D. H. Stein, Rochester, N. Y. — Let the Defense Department prepare plans to utilize civilians who are now working only 40 hours per week. The response of the American people would be terrific. Community wide cooperation not only would put across important projects, but replace the present state of jitters with a feeling of pride and accomplishment, and a partnership with the men in uniform whose hours are not limited to 40 a week.

Flora Ross, Chicago, Ill. — Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogs dropped behind the Iron Curtain would constitute wonderful propaganda. Russian parents are no different from us. They don't want war either.

David A. Ritchie, Ulysses, Pa. — Let justices of the peace, aldermen, and notaries public volunteer their services without cost in the preparation of papers relating to violation of price control. This would save time and expense in preventing black marketing.

Mrs. Daniel T. Cox, Prospect, Ky. — A group in Louisville, as well as others throughout the nation, have started a movement to get everyone to pause at 12 noon daily for a minute of silent prayer for peace, guidance, and the spread of Christianity. . . . There is just as much truth in the power of prayer as there is in the power of gravity or electricity, neither of which you can see or touch.

Carl Landman, Palo Alto, Calif. — Create a huge organization to combat Russian propaganda, the staff to be recruited from refugees of Soviet oppression.

M. L. Donohoe, Charleston, W. Va. — Fourteen million hunting licenses were issued last year. The holders of these licenses can shoot with con-

New Slim

by GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — The shorter, slimmer, straighter look is evidenced everywhere in the newest wool dresses. It's often an unadorned, sheath-like look; it frequently de-siderable accuracy. They can be organized for home defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Jardine, Jackson Heights, N. Y. — Persuade the nation's No. 1 pianist to make a record to be sold for the benefit of the U. S. A. Regardless of the music critics, we are sure that a record by H. B. T. at the keyboard would outsell "The Thing."

The Rev. John R. Stelle, Indianapolis — A temporary government should be organized in advance, in case of an atomic attack on Washington.

Woolens

These wool dresses demonstrate the trend to a shorter, slimmer, straighter look. A suit-dress (left) by Fira Benenson in dark stone grey is trimmed in pale smoke grey. Pauline Trigrere's two-toned, slim-lined wool dress (center) is designed to sheath-straightness. The gauntlet silhouette appears in a sheer wool dress (right) by Trigrere. It has deep-cut armholes, zipper centered below belt, high neckline with winged collar.

Pauline Trigrere demonstrates this purity of line in a sheath-straight dress in dark and light gray flannel. Dark gray is used to band the three-quarter length sleeves and to outline the collar, which frames a plunging neckline.

Wide stripes of the dark gray are used along the arm and down the entire length of the dress on both sides.

A wool suit-dress by Fira Benenson has skirt and unlined jacket in dark stone gray with button touches and trim in pale smoke gray. The skirt is wrap-around with a panel closing at front, anchored by three buttons placed low on the skirt. High neckline and jacket closing are outlined in the smoke gray.

crepe dress in town purple, by Trigrere, has the fluid treatment for sleeves and skirt. Armholes are deep-cut and there is modified fullness at the side of the skirt. The neckline is high with a squared-off line and winged collar. The large buttons at the front closing are self-covered.

Oil Transportation Headquarters

With hundreds of thousands of barrels of West Texas and New Mexico crude oil transported daily through the many pipe lines converging upon Midland from all directions, this Permian Basin headquarters city is a major pipe line center as well as a leading administrative and production center for the oil industry in this vast territory.

Hundreds of Midlanders are employed in the offices, tank farms, pump stations, power plants and other facilities maintained here by the numerous companies whose pipe lines traverse this section and who have facilities of one kind or another in and near Midland. Several pipe line camps are situated on the outskirts of the city.

The transportation of oil is as essential to the petroleum industry as is production, and it stands to reason that pipe line headquarters should be situated in Midland along with headquarters of other phases of the huge and rapidly-expanding oil business.

Pictured on this page are several pipe line company facilities at Midland: Upper left, manifold installation at tank farm; left center, inside 80,000-barrel tank which is under repair; left bottom, looking down on "floating roof" of a huge oil tank; right center, interior of a pipe line station; right bottom, a huge storage tank at a tank farm near the city.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON— State To Receive 125 Millions In U. S. Grants In Current Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Lyndon B. Johnson checked up last week and found that in the current fiscal year ending June 30, Texas will receive about $125,000,000 in federal grants under various programs.

The figure doesn't include millions of dollars spent on flood control and navigation projects in the state. The estimated allocations for the year ending June 30 are about the same as those made in fiscal 1950, which ended last June 30. The amount in 1950 was about five per cent more than the figures for fiscal 1949.

The old age assistance program accounted for the largest portion. Texas' allocation for the current fiscal year for this program is $60,035,000. The 1950 allocation was $59,889,464. In 1949 it was $55,067,370.

The second largest allocation was $25,583,720 for highway construction. The amount was $29,564,810 last year and $30,330,613 in fiscal 1949.

Third Largest Sum

Third largest federal-aid allocation was $8,190,000 for aid to dependent children; the amount last year was $6,896,904, and in 1949 it was $6,159,039. All other allocations for Texas were below $5,000,000 except that of $5,934,046 to the Unemployment Compensation and Employment Commission. That agency received $5,683,581 last year and $4,644,537 in 1949.

Figures for the current year are not available for nine programs. These programs, and the amounts they received in the year ending last June 30:

1. Distribution of surplus agricultural commodities, $2,585,532.
2. School assistance program, $568,920.
3. Administration of veterans readjustment allowance, $270,535.
4. Supervision of veterans on-the-job training, $238,720.
5. Public Housing Administration, $143,580.
6. Public works advanced planning, $57,893.
7. Lease of flood control land, $43,451.
8. Submarginal land program, $15,306.
9. Hospital survey and planning, $8,467.

The remaining 24 programs out of the total 36 operating in Texas in the current year, and the allocations to each for the period ending next June 30:

School Lunches
School lunch program, $3,706,887; hospital construction, $4,721,369; aid to the blind, $3,234,000; cooperative agricultural extension work, $2,017,255; federal airport program, $1,038,200; cooperative vocational education, $1,403,887.

Office of vocational rehabilitation, $870,712; general health assistance, $718,800; general disease control, $415,800; agricultural experiment stations, $508,689; maternal and child health service, $598,166; service for crippled children, $426,614; national forest funds, $339,028.

Child welfare services, $367,883; tuberculosis control, $199,200; forest fire cooperation, $158,654; cancer control, $147,000; colleges for agricultural and mechanical arts, $143,212; mental health activities, $156,400; water pollution control, $29,900; heart disease control, $75,800; cooperative projects in marketing, $34,660; wildlife restoration, $433,676; American printing house for the blind, $3,583.

Won't Talk About His 'Nightmare'

A 26-year-old Midland Marine sergeant, who has been in the midst of a lot of the Korean fighting, would just as soon not talk about it.

"I could probably list some interesting accounts that could be classified as news items," wrote T/Sgt. Jim R. McCroy last week to his father, Henry McCroy, 610 North Weatherford Street.

"But who wants to think of nightmares after they have happened?"

Sergeant McCroy has been serving in the forward lines for months and has "grown very, very tired."

"Other than that," he wrote, "I am no worse for the entire operation."

"We have lived close and reckless. Sometimes to live has been an accomplishment . . ."

"There are few people who are actually interested in the events happening in this so far distant

Bass Fishing In Full Sway; Expected To Be Better In March

ATHENS, TEXAS—(AP)—Despite the average fisherman's honest belief to the contrary—bass fishing season in Texas was in full swing February 1. It will be even better in March, better still in April, May, October and November, and you've covered the six top months of bait-casting in the South.

All of which is exactly backwards to the common-sense ideas the average Isaac cuts teeth on.

Since the time of 15-hook "Dowdags" and grandpa's finger winding reel, the general idea has been to saily forth from May to August and then hang up the machinery in a closet.

As a rule, the state's best fishermen have toasted shins by the fireplace through the winter months, passing up the hottest plugging of the year. They figured, "as any fool should know, it was the wrong season."

Just recently the idea began to catch, especially around the big lakes, that it ain't necessarily so.

A few dyed-in-the-wool boys around Texoma, Buchanan and Possum Kingdom caught on in a hurry. A lot of experts, around the lake at Trinidad for one place, have known all along.

Some Are Confused

Some sports around Denison, for instance, were confused when their plugs brought up so much Texoma bacon in winter—and then failed, along with everything else, to measure up in "fishing season."

The word spread, and now a lot more cold-natured guys with high fishing temperatures are battling the winter season elements on that ocean. It's the same on a lot of the larger lakes.

And it doesn't take a day-in, day-out expert to prove a bass will hit in winter.

Of course, a man can't just bundle-up in sweaters and take a flying fling at the water. The winter fisherman especially has to know what he's doing. He isn't apt to luck into anything more exciting than a running nose.

Therefore, there's a lot to be said about catching a bass in winter. The main things, though, are pretty simple.

Here Are Some Rules

General rules are: Fish deep, stay deep, use a lively, deep-running lure, and don't rush things. Locate deep water, then submerged shelves and sloping banks, and you've found your bass—depending upon the lake and a few hundred other things.

Pick warm afternoons if possible, or, better still, the mild spells after severe northers. Best time is just before a norther when the old moss-backs are out for something to gobble, and aren't particular what.

But it still isn't all roses. The cold-weather plug-caster has got to use his head as well as his thumb to stay out of trouble.

Avoid dunking; pneumonia loves dumb fishermen. And don't crowd the elements. If it looks like a blow, stay off the big lakes. It's a lot more comfortable to fish in July, if you're going to fish, to be fished for in February.

And when there's a nasty norther blowing, and you feel like staying home by the fire—do. Settle down and stay home with mama. Mr. Bass is probably pulling the same city.

The question of inviting Lincoln to speak at Gettysburg plagued the committee for some time, but finally he was invited to the dedication.

The invitation said that after Everett's oration "it is our desire that you, as Chief Executive of the nation, formally set apart these grounds to their sacred use by a few appropriate remarks."

The letter warned Lincoln that "this occasion calls for no humor, and a long speech is not expected." Lincoln went to the White House and wrote the first draft of "a short speech."

Cave Tomb Excavated In California Area

BERKELEY, CALIF.—(AP)—Excavation of a mass graveyard 200 feet underground was reported recently by anthropologists of the University of California. The subterranean cavern was uncovered in a large, limestone cavern in a region once inhabited by the Sierra Miwok Indians.

Vast quantities of human bones were found at the bottom of a deep, vertical shaft. The anthropologists believe the corpses probably were thrown into the almost inaccessible shaft from a ledge in the upper part of the cave.

Colorful Annual Queen's Coronation Set For Friday

Peggy Charlton To Be Crowned At Annual Rites

Who?—The Queen and her court.
What?—Annual Queen's Coronation.
When?—Friday, February 9, at 8 p.m.
Where?—Midland High School Auditorium.
Why?—Everyone's pleasure and entertainment.
How?—Come by car, train, or bus (walk if you have to).

"I crown you, Peggy, 1951 Catoico Queen." With these words, His Serene Majesty, Ralph Brooks, will place a royal crown on the head of Peggy Charlton.

When the Catoico Queen of 1951 has been officially crowned, she and her court, which includes Peggy Greathouse, escorted by Leon Cline; Tommie Underwood, escorted by Larry Friday; and Jo Ann Nelson, escorted by Earl Chapman, will be entertained by dancers and singers, along with the two jesters.

Jackie Ewald, escorted by Stan Coker; Shirley Winter, escorted by Jerry Culp; Sue Johnson, escorted by David Lavery;

The entertainers are Wilma Like, Isleta Terry, Marion Sevier, Sue Francis, Joe Barnett, David Anguish, Patsy Yeager, Robert Stubbleman, James Weathered, Emily Hamilton and Joan Turner.

Pleasant Surprise
What the court will represent is always a pleasant surprise. Only the court attendants and the people assigned to work on the sets and lighting effects know what it will be before the actual Coronation.

In previous years stars, holidays, flowers, hearts and music have been represented. The court always symbolizes something historic or beautiful. For instance, in 1941, it was "Court of Waltzes" and in 1943 it was "Court of Good Neighbors."

There are many jobs to be done in preparing for a Coronation. Lights, stage setting, the printing of programs, and ushering must be organized. Music and entertainment, two of this program's highlights, have to be planned.

Working on the lighting effects, which greatly enhance the stage and the court people, are James Wallace, Benny Bedford, Don Forrest, Bill Cartwright, Russell Rutledge, and Waldo Leggett.

Workers Listed
Those who spent many hours decorating the stage are Dorothy Mooney, Jerry Gentry, Bobbie Collins, Bertha Phillips, Catherine Carter, Lynn Griffith, Ruth Harris, Dephane Tabor, Bobby Culpepper, Gwyn Grisham, Eddy Tanner, and Carolyn Davis.

The ushers will be Phyllis Bufkin, Mary Nell, Peggy Read, Martha Stone, Claudine Hamner, Wanda Fain, Connie Shamblen, and Carol Thompson.

The three sponsors guiding the work are Verna Harris, R. C. Michner, and Inez Parker.

Last, but not least, are the train bearers, court jesters, announcers and musicians who play the Processional and also some of the numbers on the program.

The Coronation of the Queen is an annual event and one of the biggest in the school year.

The court jesters are Patsy Pyle and Shirley Pulliam.

The announcers are Joe Barnett, Don Drummond and Billy Crites.

Diana Dougherty will play the Processional and also some of the numbers on the program.

We Can Help Keep Our Streets Safe

The students of Midland High School can play an important role in keeping safe the streets of Midland.

Col. Milan N. Plavsic, director of the city's department of public safety, made that statement last week in a personal appeal to students to obey the city's traffic regulations.

"Most of the high school students," said Colonel Plavsic, "have cooperated with the police department.

"But some have not."

He singled out some of the owners of bicycles and motor scooters as the most frequent violators of traffic regulations.

Colonel Plavsic said that some of these students not only endanger their own lives but the lives of others by driving recklessly between cars, failing to obey traffic signals and parking on sidewalks and in restricted zones.

Bicycles and motor scooters, he pointed out, are classified as vehicles, just as automobiles, and are subject to the same regulations that govern all vehicular traffic.

Continued violation, he warned, will lead to fines for the owners and possible confiscation of the vehicles.

The Editor Speaks

By LEON CLINE

Last week an incident, which appears to be insignificant, was brought to my attention.

Two lockers were ransacked and several articles were stolen. This was presumably done by one person and doesn't require complaining to the whole student body. But it brought to mind a situation I experienced once, and to me it was very significant and a bit frightening.

Last year I attended a school in California for a period of months. There was no difference in the type of students there than in our own school. But in one respect there was a vivid difference.

Lockers were on all lockers and the combinations were a closely guarded secret. Cars parked around the school, without exception, were locked. Coats, notebooks, etc., were sure to be stolen if laid down. Some twenty coats were stolen in one semester.

This is a far cry from our little theft—but the frightening part is that the California school hasn't always been that way.

According to the story of the teachers, it all started by one or two students stealing something—which in turn caused the other students to lock up their belongings. The articles left unlocked seemed to be a temptation and the stealing epidemic grew. This caused a complete lock-up.

The attitude of "dog-eat-dog" grew to the point where anything left unguarded was expected to be taken. Eventually, no one thought much about picking up stray articles.

I said at the beginning the bad deed in MHS was done by one person. The real danger is in the attitude of the rest of the students concerning this matter.

Assembly Program Is Presented By Junior High Group

The Cowden Junior High School choir presented a program during assembly, Wednesday, January 31.

The curtain opened with the choir singing the "Italian Street Song" and "Because You're You," by Viktor Herbert.

The boy's quintet, composed of Spencer Renfro, Charles Douglas, Wayne Cooper, James Claiborne, and Turner Tabor sang "Now the Day is Over."

The program was concluded with the choir singing "Artist Life" by Johann Strauss.

MHS Youths Form Own Dance Band

Six musically inclined boys of Midland High School have combined their talents to form a dance band.

The boys organized late in December. Their musical selections consist only of popular music.

The group invades the home of Pat Douglas twice a week to practice.

The band consists of Pat Douglas, pianist; Alan Harris, who plays the saxophone and clarinet; Larry Mayfield, trumpet; Jimmy McClatchy, drums; James Dolan, trombone; and Horace Greenstreet, saxophone.

Snow! Snow! Snow! When the first flurries covered the ground, Midland High School became a bedlam. Safety was a thing of the past. Snowballs whizzed through the air amid the squeals of the girls and howls from the boys.

During the noon hour on Wednesday, January 31, a full-scale war was waged between Margie Cramer and the opposition, which was made up of David Lavery, Tommy Parker, Doug Atwill, Richard Hall, Tommy Vannaman, and Roy Ripley. Cornered at last, Margie was practically buried beneath a barrage and resembled a walking snowman when the attacked was over!

If you have seen some of the shorthand students nervously biting their nails, here is the inside dope. It was announced that when the students were able to manage 60 words a minute they would start taking dictation from records. No wonder they seem so worried because they are supposed to reach that mark in a week or two.

Pat Boles and Akatha Tabor drew a very realistic picture of John Bialzo, biology teacher. Did we say "realistic?" We will be doing good to call it "a picture," but it won't place of honor on Mr. Bialzo's bulletin board regardless of its artistic value.

On the night of March 16, the Junior Red Cross Club of MHS will sponsor a musical show at the Veteran's Hospital in Big Spring. The theme of the show is "Ireland" and we certainly hope that it is a big success.

Verna Harris, dramatics teacher, deserves a pat on the back. During the last week, Miss Harris has been holding Senior play and Thespian play tryouts and has worked extra hard to have the Coronation in top shape for its presentation on Friday, February 9.

Best of luck to MHS art students, who have submitted 126 pictures to the state art contest, to be held at Striplings' Department Store in Fort Worth. The students have done a swell job and we hope they win many blue ribbons.

Did you know? The first volleyball game was played on Friday, February 2, there is a miniature castle in the transept of room 206 at MHS, and there is a beautiful new painting in the office of Dean Jack Mashburn.

MHS was honored with a visit from George W. Wakefield of Hockaday School for Girls in Dallas on January 29, and a visit from Rider Stockdale of Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., on January 28. Both men talked with groups of girls interested in attending either of the well-known schools.

Sue Johnson, Jo Underwood, and Bobbie Collins felt industrious on Friday, January 26, and thoroughly cleaned the office of Dean Jack Mashburn. They did a swell job and the office is in top shape now, but a dirtier group of girls were not to be found.

Peggy Read must be a terribly thirsty girl. On Tuesday, January 30, she was seen walking down the hall carrying no less than seven coke bottles!

Fashion News of the Week: Stormy Coleman took top honors when she appeared at school wearing some very cute silver earrings shaped like the state of Texas.

Club News

Vanda Burnside, president; Mary Nell, secretary; and Al Cole, sergeant-at-arms are the new officers for the Future Teachers Club.

Barbara Ware gave a short talk on "Better Student Governments." Janet Hoffer spoke on "The Effect of the Proposed Draft on Future Teachers."

Louis Bohn's Science Club, Thursday group II, demonstrated process of melting a penny with a sulphuric acid. Jackie Stenny and John Zant were particularly fascinated when the color of the solution turned to a bright green.

Remodeling, Home Repairs Due For Boom This Year

While new home construction will be down from the 1950 peak, building authorities agree that remodeling and repair business will boom in 1951.

Severe credit restrictions imposed under the Government's Regulation X limit the construction of new homes, but there is no effective deterrent to the repair and remodeling of existing homes and farm buildings.

The Federal Housing Authority continues to pursue a liberal credit policy in insuring loans by banks and other lending institutions to finance repairs and remodeling. The FHA insures loans in amounts up to $2,500, subject only to a down payment of 10 per cent and repayment of the balance in 30 months.

Government officials obviously recognize the importance of keeping homes in good repair, especially at a time when new construction is being restricted.

Actually, the owners of older homes who have been wanting to remodel or make needed repairs now will have a better opportunity to have the work done. Building mechanics have been engaged largely on new construction, and new homes have consumed the bulk of the building materials available.

Take roofing, for example. Mechanics and materials should be available for long-deferred roofing and repair jobs. The asphalt roofing industry is making every possible effort to meet the unprecedented demand for its products. Shipments of strip shingles exceeded 3,000,000 squares for the first time last May, and have been in excess of that figure every month since.

Complete Indoor Climate Control Seen For Future

NEW YORK — "Tomorrow's buildings may be pressurized as well as scientifically heated and cooled, if progress in indoor climate control continues at its present pace," C. S. Koehler of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company told members of the American Institute of Architects here.

Speaking at a recent panel meeting on indoor climate control sponsored by the Producer's Council, he predicted "we are going to see more emphasis on control of indoor climate than on any other phase of building design. This will point the way toward a more healthful and comfortable future."

"Since we now have electronic temperature and humidity controls virtually capable of anticipating weather changes it is conceivable we soon may have controls to regulate pressure in residential and commercial buildings," Koehler said. This is important to architects and builders because of the known effect atmospheric pressure, temperature and humidity have on the way people feel, he explained.

The electronic control system is 100 times more sensitive than ordinary heat-regulating set-ups, Koehler said. It is believed to be the first practical means for controlling radiant floor panel heating.

Koehler cited the growing popularity of ranch-type houses, with increased glass areas and a variety of exposures, as creating the greatest need for new concepts of indoor climate control. One new concept is the division of the house into its natural heating areas, or zones, each with its own set of automatic temperature and humidity controls, he said.

Feldspar Deposit Is Discovered

REGINA, SASKATCHEWAN — The department of Natural Resources says analysis of Saskatchewan's first major find of feldspar has shown it to be top quality for use in the manufacture of pottery or glass.

The samples were found early last summer by Dr. J. B. Mawdsley of the University of Saskatchewan during radioactive investigation in the Nunn Lake area in Northern Saskatchewan.

The feldspar deposit was in a flat-lying dike about four feet thick, with about 5,000 tons exposed at the outcrop. However, the same type of feldspar is produced in South Dakota and markets for the Saskatchewan output would be local and possibly slow to develop.

World's largest imitation moon is at Griffith observatory in Los Angeles. It has a diameter of 38 feet.

TEL AVIV — Israel will have its first "Theater in the Desert" soon. The hall with a seating capacity of 300 is to be built in Eilat in the southernmost part of the country near the Red Sea.

The new theater will be erected by the Histadrut (General Federation of Jewish Labor). It will serve for guest performances of theater ensembles from Tel Aviv, and for concerts, lectures, public meetings and as a social center in general.

Cotton Committee To Meet In Karachi

KARACHI — The government of Pakistan has invited Spain and Jordan to send observers to the tenth plenary meeting of the International Cotton Advisory Committee at Lahore. Invitations have been sent to 67 countries and eight international organizations.

The committee will review the world cotton situation, placing emphasis on production and consumption, competition with rayon and other artificial fibres, cotton stocks in different countries, additional uses of cotton with a view to increasing consumption, prices, and international trade in cotton and balance of payment difficulties.

Exterior Color Plan Sets Interior Theme In Remodeled Home

An attractive new decorative theme which uses the same key colors on the exterior of the house and through the interior is a basic feature of the renovation of the Woodrow Bays' home in Denton, Texas.

To the visitor, the new color theme is first stated by gray asbestos-cement siding shingles and forest green doors.

Inside, the decorative plan is followed in the living room with gray woodwork and bookcases, a knotty pine wall rubbed with gray paint, gray and green wallpaper, and green rug.

These colors are prominent also in the dining room, kitchen, bathroom and new playroom. Several other interior colors are used for accent and variety.

Home owners who want to follow a similar inside-and-outside remodeling plan can choose asbestos siding shingles from a color range that includes greens, buffs and browns, as well as grays and ever-popular white.
