Pennsylvanian Test Slated In NE Howard

P. R. Rutherford and Pan American Production Company have staked location for a 7,500-foot wildcat in Northeast Howard County about two miles south of northeast production in the East Vealmoor field.

Lime Top Called In NE Val Verde Area

R. J. Caraway of Dallas No. 1 Guida Rose, Northeast Val Verde County wildcat, 35 miles southwest of Sonora, and at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2, GC&SF survey, topped its first Pennsylvanian lime at 9,890 feet. Elevation is 1,971 feet.

Spraberry Shows Logged In Reagan

Interesting shows of possible production have been found in the top of the Spraberry sand at George P. Livermore, Inc., No. 1 D. E. Hughes, North-Central Reagan County wildcat, 15 miles northwest of Big Lake.

It ran a four hour and 50 minute drill test in the Spraberry at 5,800-93 feet. There was a blow of air at the surface for a part of the period.

C-S Martin To Be Site For Prospector

Union Sulphur & Oil Corporation is to start drilling by March 6 on its No. 1 Snyder & Arnett which is to be a 7,500-foot wildcat to test the Spraberry sand in Central-South Martin County, less than 20 feet north of the Midland County line.

It will be drilled at the center of the northwest quarter the southwest quarter of section 30, block 36, T&P survey, T-1-S.

That makes it four miles southwest of Stanton, one and one-half miles south of U. S. Highway 80 and four miles north of the Germania field.

NE Upton Opener Reports Potential

Ted Weiner et al No. 1 Walter Braden was completed as a producer and discovery from the Spraberry sand in Northeast Upton County.

The new well was finished for a daily potential of 452 barrels of 38.3-gravity oil from open hole at 7,000-7,180 feet. That section was hydraulized with 9,750 gallons.

Shakedown on the completion test was one per cent water.

Wildcat Scheduled For NE Garza Area

Operations are to start in the near future on a 7,200-foot Pennsylvanian lime wildcat in Northeast Garza County.

Allies Rout Chinese At Chipyeong

Board Boosts Texas' March Oil Allowable

FORT WORTH—(P)—The Texas Railroad Commission Thursday set a March crude oil production allowable of 2,800,742 barrels a day, an increase of 71,554 barrels.

Most of the state was placed on a 23-day production schedule, with the East Texas field to operate 19 days. During February the state, generally, was on a 20-day basis, with East Texas producing on 17.

The daily allowable as of last Saturday was 2,729,188 barrels.

The commission issued its March order shortly after a statewide production hearing.

Most purchasers requested a 23-day March schedule but said they would be willing to operate 24 days.

The primary objection to 24 days was a fear purchasers and producers would have trouble moving the heavy output from West Texas areas to refinery centers.

Humble Asks 24 Days
A Humble Oil & Refining Company spokesman told the commission that company still would be short 41,000 barrels of crude daily under a 23-day March schedule.

J. A. Neath, Humble vice president, suggested the commission make a survey of West Texas transportation facilities to see if a 24-day output could be handled.

Commission Chairman Olin Culbertson told the hearing he personally was opposed to an increase to 24 days because he feared the action would mean a "flood of crude" within 45 days and necessitate cutbacks. He said much oil would go into storage under a 24-day plan.

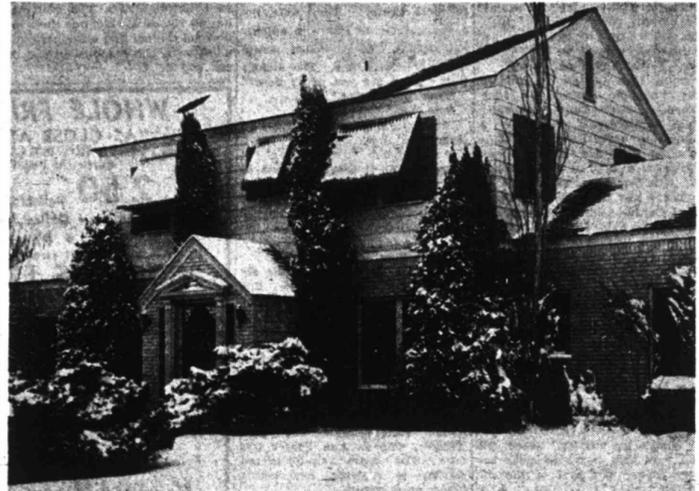

W. J. Noble, president of Magnolia Petroleum Company, said additional West Texas storage "isn't going to hurt."

"We've got a demand to meet," he said.

Ralph Dietler, chairman of the board of Stanolind Oil Purchasing Company, said he does not agree with pessimistic forecasts of demand.

"The outlook as we see it is a good demand for three or four months," he said. "Storage stocks for both crude and refined products are low and going lower."

The April production hearing will be held at the Commodore Perry Hotel, Austin, at 9 a.m. March 15.

SNOW IN MIDLAND—A two-inch snow blanket Midland Wednesday, adding a wintry touch of beauty to the city and countryside.

Beautiful homes and fine automobiles assumed an even more impressive appearance. The snow was disappearing rapidly Thursday as Mr. Sunshine opened an all-out melting operation.

Red Troops Break, Run Under Fire

TOKYO—(P)—An Allied relief column Thursday smashed through a Chinese Red ring to reinforce American and French forces holding the Chipyeong anchor on the Central Korean warfront.

The relief force battled eight hours before breaking through to the Chipyeong perimeter at 5:30 p.m. The action began five miles south-southwest of the town.

The hard-hit Chinese finally broke and ran. Chipyeong, 35 air miles east-southeast of Seoul, is the left flank anchor of a 20-mile Allied defense line stretching over snow-mantled hills and valleys to Wonju, key to the central mountain passes.

The American-French garrison stoutly withstood two days of massed Red infantry assaults to help break the back of the drive aimed at cracking the central front. The Communist push was stopped Wednesday.

Red casualties were counted at 10,593 on all fronts Wednesday. It brought to almost 100,000 those killed, wounded or captured since the Allied limited push by hunter-killer columns began January 25.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported the Chipyeong garrison rapped the Chinese were "freezing in all directions" after the relief column rammed through from the south.

However, AP Correspondent William J. Waugh reported more than 1,000 Reds were dug in on high ground north of the town.

On the western front, American Doughboys and artillery wiped out 400 Chinese who sneaked across the Han River Wednesday night near Seoul.

It was the second consecutive and disastrous Red attempt to cross the key stream near the burned-out former capital. More than 1,100 Korean Reds were killed there in a foray early Wednesday.

U. S. Casualties In Korea Are 48,035

WASHINGTON—(P)—Announced U. S. combat casualties in Korea rose to 48,035 Thursday, an increase of 647 in a week.

The total, which reflects notifications to families through February 9, included 7,245 killed in action, 31,395 wounded and 9,395 missing.

Of those on the wounded list, 626 since have died and 53 of the missing are known dead, raising total U. S. combat deaths for the campaign to 8,154.

The missing total also includes 912 who since have returned to U. S. military control and 111 known prisoners of war, leaving 8,289 currently missing.

House Panel Embarks On Draft Study

WASHINGTON—(P)—The House Armed Services Committee set out Thursday on a "paragraph-by-paragraph" study of the Universal Military Training and Service (UMTS) bill approved by its opposite number in the Senate.

The measure, which would allow drafting of 18-year-olds and extend the period of military service, cleared the Senate Armed Services Committee Wednesday by a 13 to 0 vote. No time has been set for Senate debate.

The House group then ordered its professional staff to make an analysis of the Senate bill as a possible pattern to follow in its own closed-door consideration of the Administration-urged plan for bolstering the nation's military manpower.

Older Men First
The Senate measure would authorize induction of 18-year-olds but only after their draft boards have exhausted all available men in the 19-through-25 age bracket.

It would lengthen the required period of military service from 21 months to 24 months "exclusive of leave." This would amount to 26 months and five days if the draftee took his leave as it accumulated at the rate of two and one-half days a month.

The length of required service is important to other than future draftees. It also would apply to men already drafted, to National Guardsmen and to reservists who have been or will be called to duty.

The Senate bill also would end the opportunity for men, subject to draft, to volunteer for 21 months and thus get to pick service in the Army, Navy, Air Force or Marines.

Knocked out by the Senate bill was a provision which permitted 18-year-olds to volunteer for one year's training before they became subject to induction.

Rules and regulations for the 1951 Midland Livestock Show were revised at a meeting of show officers and division superintendents Wednesday afternoon in the office of County Agent Charles W. Green in the courthouse.

The group also approved a price list for commercial steers to be shown in the county show, which will be held March 14. The district show will be held March 15, with sales scheduled the following day.

The commercial steers are a new class in practical livestock feeding, in which home-grown feeds are fed to market grade feeder cattle. The object of the program is to teach boys to feed on a profitable basis, buying and selling at market prices.

The commercial steers will be sold at market prices.

U. S. To Place Six Divisions Under 'Ike'

WASHINGTON—(P)—Administration plans contemplate that six U. S. Army divisions—triple the American forces now in Europe—will serve with the combined Allied armies being organized to defend Western Europe against possible Communist aggression.

Secretary of Defense Marshall gave the figure, which means sending over four additional divisions, to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees Thursday.

He said he did it "reluctantly" but in belief it was better than to have a debate over uncertainties.

Marshall gave no over-all figure as to numbers of men. But an American Army division consists of about 18,000 men. In addition, support elements—supply and maintenance, communication, transportation and other units—are needed to keep combat forces in a state of readiness.

The United States now has in Europe the First Infantry Division and a constabulary force—equivalent to a second division—trained and equipped for field combat, yet the last official indication of troop strength in Europe was about 97,000 men.

Thus more than 60,000 men of the present force presumably are in support elements.

The Senate committees are considering whether Congress should adopt a resolution of some nature concerning the "Troops-to-Europe" issue. Marshall was the first witness at the hearings.

Texas Pacific Coal And Oil To Erect New Building Here

Plans for the construction of a one-story, 400,000 office building in Midland were announced Thursday by the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company.

Contracts for this construction already have been signed and it is hoped the new structure will be ready for occupancy within three or four months.

The building will be constructed on the southeast corner of the intersection of West Ohio and Pecos Streets, with the entrance on West Ohio Street.

It will be of brick veneer and will be air-conditioned.

The building was designed by Wyatt C. Hedrick and contract for its construction was awarded Thomas S. Byrne, Inc., of Fort Worth.

One Killed, Three Hurt Critically In Mishap At Odessa

ODESSA—(P)—One Odessa man was killed and three critically mangled Wednesday night when their car rammed into the rear of a stalled oil field truck on the outskirts of Odessa.

Eugene H. Miller, Jr., 23, was killed. Sam Whittington, 22, was near death Thursday with chest and head injuries, multiple fractures and shock. Robert D. Becton and Baxter E. Tankersley were hurt critically.

The four were members of a drilling crew enroute to work J. B. Ratliff, driver of the oil field truck, said his vehicle stalled when the clutch failed. The heavy pipe on the truck ripped into the chests and faces of the men.

Weather was not a factor in the accident.

Ice, Snow Melts In Midland Streets Under Bright Sun

A bright sun began loosening old man Winter's icy grip on Midland Thursday, relieving the hazardous conditions on streets and sidewalks.

The CAA Communications Station at Midland Air Terminal reported a low of 12 degrees at 6:30 a.m. Thursday, but the thermometer spiraled upward to 29 degrees at 11 a.m.

Thursday's low reading was six degrees below the Wednesday minimum of 18.

Although the snow and ice was melting rapidly by noon Thursday, dangerous conditions still prevailed at several spots on downtown streets and sidewalks.

No additional moisture was in prospect for this area as "fair and continued cold weather" was forecast for Thursday night.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government Thursday, in a surprise move aimed at relieving price squeezes on wholesalers and retailers, ordered many large meat packers to roll back prices.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle Thursday asked Thomas F. Murphy, New York City police commissioner, to take charge of price control enforcement for the next 60 days. Murphy gave no answer immediately.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Navy Thursday reported five American vessels, including the submarine Bugara, were washed aground by a storm in Tokyo Bay. A spokesman said no loss of life was reported.

Britain's Laborites Face New Test Ballot

LONDON—(P)—Prime Minister Attlee's regime faced its most critical test Thursday as some 20 left-wing Laborites threatened to bolt ranks in a no-confidence vote on the government's handling of Britain's rearmament program.

The showdown comes Thursday night in a House of Commons vote on the no-confidence motion introduced Wednesday night by Winston Churchill.

Alan Young Is Hit In TV Roles Movies Didn't Want

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — As a movie comedian they said sad-eyed Alan Young always was getting in the way of the plot so they cut out his funniest scenes in three pictures and then fired him.

Now he's a big hit on TV in routines Hollywood didn't want and film studios, including Paramount, are whipping up stories he can't get in the way of.

"Thank heaven for television," says Young, who dreamed up a new video style instead of trying to film his radio show — "The air show" wasn't any good.

Young first hit the big time in 1944 when he came down from Canada as Eddie Cantor's Summer radio replacement. He did a funny story about listening to Cantor's last show over a radio in an orange juice stand at Sixth Avenue and 44th Street in New York.

"There was tremendous applause when Cantor said, 'Next week our star will be Alan Young' and I was just about to take a bow and say 'That's me' to the guy behind the orange juice squeezer, when he looked blankly at me and said: 'Say Mister, who the h— is Alan Young?'"

Martin Ragaway took a girl friend to a preview at the Academy Award theater, the industry's film house. She asked for a bag of popcorn and Martin explained that popcorn was barred from the theater.

"What's the matter," asked the doll, "are they trying to make believe they're not part of the industry?"

Cotton Exchange Can Not Operate Under Price Curbs

NEW YORK — (AP) — The president of the New York Cotton Exchange says government price regulations make it impossible for his market to operate. The exchange has been closed since price ceilings were placed January 26.

Ferry E. Moore, who heads the exchange, wired Rep. Ralph Gandy (R-NY) Wednesday: "As the regulations now stand, almost everyone who traded on the New York Cotton Exchange during the base period, December 19-January 25, has a different ceiling for sales for purchases. The exchange has no way of ascertaining these individual ceilings and a further complication is the proposed ceiling on raw cotton."

Weak-Price-Wage Controls

From the moment the general price-wage freeze was imposed, it was clear it was intended to be only an imperfect weapon against inflation.

Price and wage officials in Washington progressively will modify the basic control order to give it "flexibility."

In contrast, Price Administrator DiSalle says he hopes to achieve some actual price rollbacks from the freeze level.

Since numerous adjustments are certain to take place, the freeze is really a temporary stage.

This would repeat the pattern of World War II. For, despite all the declaration about "holding the line," it often was breached then in accord with an elastic formula.

We consumers, wondering how to impress our grocer these days, may well regret that the lid was clamped on the economy so late and at such a high level.

But it won't do us much good to lament this now. We'll have to be satisfied with what we've got, since there's not a chance in the world of forcing prices back around pre-Korean levels.

We can be forgiven for voicing disappointment, too, that food prices will be affected so little.

With so many holes and soft spots, it isn't surprising to hear a lawmaker like Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Republican minority leader in the House, describe the action as freezing the "hole in every family's pocketbook."

If this is the best we can get in price-wage controls, the country apparently is going to have to rely more heavily on other anti-inflation weapons like higher taxes, further credit regulation, and increased production.

Nobody likes taxes or credit restrictions, but most of us know they're pretty effective curbs on spending.

The government itself must be subjected to spending controls if they are to be effective.

All this makes a bitter prescription, especially when we are still nominally at peace except in Korea.

Hurrah! Skating Hasn't Been So Good For Years

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

WASHINGTON — Sgt. Rolland McDonald of Fort Bliss, Texas, read in this column about a Marine colonel who endorsed his state pension check over to Pfc. Robert L. Smith, who lost both arms and both legs in Korea.

"I made 22 speeches in the last 10 days," volunteered one of Acheson's aides.

"Senator Gillette shook his head, and the weight to be lifted to the President and you, Mr. Secretary. You must stump the country, if need be, to explain and sell our foreign policy."

Note—Real fact is that a secretary of State almost has to be two people—a politician, in order to sell foreign policy to the public and the senate; and a student of foreign affairs, in order to decide what that policy should be.

Truman's Ex-Bodyguard One of President Truman's bodyguards on his last visit to San Francisco was a strapping 6-foot-6-inch police inspector named Dan Shelley.

Fame Is Fleeting Gen. "Wild Bill" Donovan, wartime boss of the cloak-and-dagger Office of Strategic Services, learned the other day how fleeting is fame.

Explaining Foreign Policy Secretary of State Dean Acheson got an education on the headaches of senators at a private luncheon for new members of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Over the coffee cups, Senator Guy Gillette, the white-haired sultan from Iowa, turned to Acheson.

"Every congressman has been swamped with mail on foreign policy," he said. "I've had 6,000 letters alone on this topic since Christmas. People are confused and bewildered. They want to know what our policy is and why. The hostility toward the State Department can be traced right back to the bewilderment of the people."

"Well, what should we do about it?" Acheson inquired.

"Tell the story over and over again," was Gillette's advice. "Why are our boys fighting in Korea? Why do we need an army for the defense of Western Europe? Why must we raise taxes and impose controls and rationing for defense? Tell the story simply."

"We are doing all we can, Senator," said the Secretary of State. "Members of the department are speaking as never before."

Parents not only resent the trouble caused by bed-wetting, but are sensitive to the fact that their child does not seem to measure up to the others of the same age.

This condition is called enuresis. Sometimes an infection in the urinary tract or some other physical cause is at fault.

Several methods are helpful in treating enuresis. It is usually well to treat out fluids as much as possible after three or four o'clock in the afternoon.

At any rate most older youngsters who have trouble of this sort do get over it eventually and it then becomes merely an unpleasant memory.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY, Written for NEA Service

When North bid two clubs (the Stayman Convention) in the hand shown today, he was hoping to find a fit in one of the major suits.

South's opening bid of one no-trump showed a hand of fairly definite high-card strength.

South's rebid of two diamonds showed a "small" no-trump. North therefore bid two no-trump, and everybody passed.

South led the king of hearts, knocking out East's ace. East then returned his remaining club, allowing West to take the king and lead his last club.

South next tried the diamonds, but discovered that his last diamond was actually his good.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Additional Facts Support McCarthy On Dumped Ammo

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Additional facts on the dumping at sea of surplus ammunition left in the China-Burma-India theater after V-J Day now are admitted by Department of the Army spokesmen.

Original charges on this case were made by Wisconsin Republican Senator Joseph R. McCarthy in political speeches during the last campaign.

In one ammunition supply depot at Kancharapa, 30 miles from Calcutta, there were some 177,000 tons of ammunition and bombs.

Because of a lack of experienced personnel to handle demilitarization of this ammunition, General Reeder recommended that it be dumped in the sea.

For eight months, 18 Liberty ships were being loaded with these mountains of ammunition. Loaded, they left port and returned empty time after time to be reloaded and leave again.

Why? Because under State Department planning, the orders were to dump this ammunition 200 miles at sea.

After this speech, the excerpt quoted above was taken to the Department of the Army with the simple question, "True or false?"

Army dug into its files and came up with a letter signed by Maj. Gen. Edward F. Witsell, the adjutant general. It revealed that after V-J Day, there remained in India some ammunition which by its markings could be identified as Lend-Lease to China.

This ammunition was said to be "extremely deteriorated and corroded." The Chinese didn't want it. It was dangerous to handle.

General Witsell's letter gave no indication as to the amount of ammunition so destroyed. In reply to queries on this point, an Army spokesman dug further into the records and came up with the answer, "120 tons." It was said there were no records of other dumping.

These findings duly were reported in this column, along with Senator McCarthy's charges. Nobody was called any names, but both sides of the story as it then existed were laid on the line.

Not satisfied with this record, Senator McCarthy initiated further investigation. This led finally to Maj. Gen. W. O. Reeder, now a deputy assistant chief of staff for supplies (G-4) in the Pentagon.

From May, 1945, to January, 1946, he was G-4 in the Burma-India theater and from then until July 1946, he served as Foreign Liquidation commissioner.

In these positions, General Reeder handled surplus disposal after V-J Day. Official records on these transactions now are in dead storage. Such additional facts as now are disclosed therefore come from one heart. You hold: Spades K-6, Heart 4, Diamonds A-K-9-8, Clubs K-5-4. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow

Thirty minutes worth of good, common, every-day horse sense by the Administration's so-called brain trusters would do more good at this time than 30-day price freezes.

Never before has human history known more gigantic discord, whose dimensions are measured with the vastness of the earth itself.

What was left after her realization was not very strong, but at least... and then Angus Kent's face resolved out of the confusion in her mind and Lisa remembered.

To reassure herself, she reached out and touched Court's hand. He jumped nervously and tried to smile at her, but it was a twisted and futile attempt.

"Andrew should shut up," he said roughly. "He was too drunk to know what happened since he came home."

There was an insinuation in his tone that didn't miss its mark. Andrew flushed and there was a look to him that Lisa Farwell feared.

Don't antagonize him, please, she thought. His attitude is wrong. He's dangerous. Afterward, when it was all over and they were on their way home, the thought lingered above all others.

And several days later, she remembered it again.

THE days trudged along slowly. The funeral was held Saturday morning. It was private, of course. Lisa waited for Court to call her afterward, but the phone didn't ring and he didn't come to see her.

She tried to put out of her thoughts the complicated cross-weave of motives and implications brought out during the questioning the day before, she wanted to discuss them with her father but he had put up a barrier almost as effective as Court's.

Finally, by Saturday afternoon she couldn't bear the remoteness any longer. She tackled the problem with her father in the den.

"You were right," she said forlornly. "It couldn't have worked out for Court and me with his mother alive."

She struggled along the panic that came to her each time she thought of marriage to Court, now that she had met Angus Kent. Strange how everything dated before and after that meeting. There seemed no in-between.

Crimson Holiday

"Don't you know? Don't you really know any of you?" Andrew glared at them for their ignorance.

"Mother really didn't approve of the marriage. She never approved of anything from the day she came on this earth, but the day she fell off it. But Mother pretended to approve the marriage of her oldest son to Henry Farwell's only daughter. Don't any of you know why?"

Andrew looked at Henry Farwell, who shook his head.

"You sold my father the colt that my mother wanted years ago, didn't you?" Andrew asked Mr. Farwell.

HENRY FARWELL nodded his head. And then, even before Andrew Grenable spoke, a terrible expression began to grow in Lisa's father's eyes.

"Revenge!" Mr. Farwell breathed. "Right!" Andrew chuckled. "Our dear mother nourished the little devils inside her brain and believed that the horse she took for her own had been trained to buck and kick. No doubt," he added grimly, "she did plenty of her own bucking and kicking before it threw her. But she never forgave you, Mr. Farwell, for making her a cripple."

Lisa Farwell began to wonder if Andrew, the son, was the only cold sober person among those in the room, and the thought his words had given her grew even more confusing.

"You mean," she asked Andrew, her voice a half-whisper, "you mean Lavinia wanted me to marry Court so that she could get even with my father?"

Andrew didn't have to answer. She suddenly realized that this was what Lavinia Grenable planned.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Mental Attitude Of Child May Hinder Bladder Control

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D., Written for NEA Service

Bed wetting is expected during the first year or two of life. However, when control over the urine, especially during sleep is not obtained by the time a child is one and a half or two years old, or when bed-wetting occurs after being absent for several years, both parents and youngsters become much disturbed.

Parents not only resent the trouble caused by bed-wetting, but are sensitive to the fact that their child does not seem to measure up to the others of the same age.

This condition is called enuresis. Sometimes an infection in the urinary tract or some other physical cause is at fault.

At any rate most older youngsters who have trouble of this sort do get over it eventually and it then becomes merely an unpleasant memory.

unless recommended by the doctor. Good results are obtained sometimes by awakening the youngster at definite periods during the night in order to go to the bathroom.

When enuresis keeps on too long or comes back after several years, it is probably because of one or more of three psychological conditions in the child. The first is that the child has not yet grown up with reference to control of the bladder.

The second is that subconsciously the child wishes to remain in or return to the protected irresponsible state of infancy rather than to assume the normal difficulties of his age.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Trick Of A Sissy

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, one fine day was walking along the Elephant Path, there in the Middle of the Great Forest. He stopped when he met two brothers whose names were Winkledink and Wandledink.

"Happy day there, Winkledink," said Mugwump. "Happy day to you, too, Wandledink."

Winkledink and Wandledink said happy day. They held up the hickory sticks they had in their hands to show to Mugwump. They said Winkledink was wanting to play a game with the sticks. He wanted Mugwump to play it with him.

"Do tell," said Mugwump.

Winkledink said the words of the kind of game that Winkledink was wanting to play. Mugwump would hold the stick that Wandledink had. Wandledink said, and Winkledink would keep the stick that he had. And then, to play the game, Winkledink would stand very still while Mugwump hit him with the stick. After that, Mugwump was supposed to stand very still while Winkledink did the hitting with the stick in his hand.

Mugwump laughed to think of the game of the two of them hitting as hard as they could to see just who could hit the hardest. But no sir and on indeed. Mugwump wasn't about to play the game of seeing who could hit the hardest with a hickory stick no sir, he wasn't.

By WESLEY DAVIS

"Sissy," said Winkledink. "Sissy! Sissy! Sissy!" said Wandledink.

Mugwump laughed again. He didn't care if they did call him a sissy. Yes, because Mugwump knew all about the kind of trick they were trying to play with the words to call him sissy. Often when a something that shouldn't be done, the someone will call the somebody a sissy. Sometimes the someone then will do the thing he shouldn't, silly boy.

"Sissy! Sissy! Sissy!" said Winkledink. "Sissy! Sissy! Sissy!" said Wandledink.

But Mugwump laughed and laughed again. He knew about the trick. No sir, he didn't care how many times he was called a sissy. He was not going to play the game of seeing who can hit the hardest with a hickory stick. Well, Winkledink and Wandledink said they would play the game themselves, and that's what the sad, sad story I'll tell you tomorrow. Happy day!

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcetrane. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Korean War Is Tragedy Of Mistakes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)—The United Nations forces in Korea have one major consolation—they haven't made as many mistakes as the enemy.

And if the Russian high command provided the generalship for the North Koreans, Joe Stalin may be considering retiring a few of his field marshals with the Order of the Leather Medal.

What were the major military mistakes of the war? Historians later may find some that don't show now, but enough already are apparent to show Napoleon wasn't the only soldier who had his bad moments.

Let's take our bobbies first. Many professional soldiers say—and they may be wrong—these were our two greatest military mistakes:

1. Getting into the fight in the first place.
2. The retention by General MacArthur of a divided command in the field after the landing at Inchon instead of putting all Allied forces in Korea under the American Eighth Army.

Political Necessity

While entrance into the war was a military liability, United Nations diplomats felt it was a political necessity.

As to the second "mistake:"

The Eighth Army marched up the west coast under one command. The Tenth Corps remained a separate force as it marched up the east coast. Liaison between them was poor. And down the corridor between them the Chinese filtered. Some MacArthur adherents deny that this divided field command was wrong. But it is significant that there is only a single command now—and the Tenth Corps is under Eighth Army Commander Matthew B. Ridgway.

Ko-Reds' More Expensive

What about the North Korean mistakes? They were far more expensive. Here are only a few of them:

1. Invading South Korea, at all the price: Almost total destruction of an army of 300,000 men it had taken North Korea five years to build, and almost total destruction of North Korea's industrial strength.
2. Failure to believe the United States and the United Nations would enter the conflict.
3. Underestimating the speed with which America could rush air, sea, and land reinforcements—a true military miracle.
4. Failure to smash on to Pusan immediately after taking Seoul. Had they done so, the entire country could have been theirs in a few weeks.

Nash Motors Announces New 'Nash Healey' Sports Car

DETROIT — The 1951 Nash Healey, a fast two-passenger sports car featuring latest automotive engineering advances is announced by Nash Motors. Streamlined, low and racy, it has an estimated speed of 125 mph.

The new low slung automobile, only 38 inches from road to hood top, is the first American sports car introduced by an established automobile manufacturer since the mid-20's. Production will be limited. Prices, slated to be "substantially higher" than other Nash models, will be announced later, according to H. C. Doss, vice president in charge of sales.

First public showings of the new sports car will be at the Chicago Automobile Show, opening Saturday.

The new Nash Healey soon will undergo exhaustive engineering tests at Daytona Beach, Salt Lake Plats and the Indianapolis Speedway. An experimental version of the sports car was listed among winners of the 1950 Le Mans (France) Grand Prix. The new sports car averaged 87.6 mph in the gruelling 24-hour, 2,100-mile racing classic.

Combined Skills

Joining American mechanical engineering and designing with British sports car body building, the Nash Healey represents the combined skills of Nash Motors and the Donald Healey Company, Warwick, England. Engine and major mechanical parts are manufactured by Nash Motors in the U. S. with bodies built in England using British materials, Doss said.

The Nash Healey is powered by the new "Dual Jetfire" Ambassador six-cylinder high compression engine. It has overhead valves and is specially equipped.

The sports car's highly distinctive front end appearance is achieved by clean functional design with a broad low hood and car-long horizontal body lines that flow gracefully from front to rear. Its front grille follows the design of the familiar Nash "Airflyte" chrome barred racing air scoop.

Kansan Posing As Doctor Unmasked As Former Convict

HUTCHINSON, KAN. —(AP)—A man who sued for $40,000 damages, claiming an automobile crash had ruined his future as a physician was unmasked dramatically in court Wednesday as an ex-convict using an insane friend's medical diploma.

James H. Phillips alias Dr. Arthur O. Phillips, had been living here a year and a half. Last June 15, his car collided with a Consumer's Co-operative truck. He brought suit alleging injuries suffered had damaged his ability to practice.

Records Produced

On the stand Wednesday, Defense Attorney George Powers produced photostatic copies of Phillips' record showing he had served terms in Georgia, Idaho, California, Arizona and Kansas penitentiaries.

The "doctor" admitted in two hours of cross examination he was not a doctor but had used the medical diploma of an insane man and had been convicted six times for illegal medical practice since 1920. The suit was dismissed.

Phillips married a Hutchinson woman in August, 1946, and they have lived here since with his wife's daughter.

31 Threesomes Start Medal Play In Mexican Open

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The largest field in Mexico's golfing history teed off Thursday for the medal play starting the championship flight of the Mexican National Open.

A total of 31 threesomes—63 players—proceeded to the starting tee at 11 a.m. Tony Holguin, defending champion, and Jimmy Demaret, two of the three favorites, are in the last threesomes. The third favorite, Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina, is in the nineteenth threesome.

Tony Holguin, 24-year-old San Antonio-born youth of Mexican parentage, is a favorite by virtue of his victories in the last two opens. He won the 1948 event when he was 22, after five years as a pro, with a 12 under par.

Sports writers said Jimmy Demaret's threat lies in his approach shots. Pre-tourney practice, they said, has shown nobody else with such domination of the irons. Pressure On Demaret

The newspaper Excelsior said there was another reason for Demaret to be at his best—"his position in regard to the PGA." The Professional Golfers' Association of the U. S. forbade its members to play in Mexico because the tournament conflicts with the PGA-sponsored Harlingen, Texas, Open. Demaret and other members of the PGA are playing anyway.

In addition to the 13 foreigners—John MacMurray of Panama arrived Wednesday—a number of U. S. golfers are listed as Mexican entries because they now live here. They include Olin Dutra, Al Escalante and Al Espinosa.

Carlos Belmont, twice winner of the Mexican amateur championship, is the favorite in his class. He turned in a scintillating eight under par Tuesday to make a course record for the Churubusco Country Club.

Phillips Pressed To Beat Artesia Five

ODESSA—A crowd of 1200 fans watched the REA five of Artesia, N. M., scare the daylight out of the touring Phillips 66 team from Bartlesville, Okla., here Wednesday night before the Oklahoma team came from behind to win 75-70. Loaded with ex-collegiate stars, the Artesia five put up a valiant battle before going down in its first defeat in 24 starts this season. It was Phillips' thirty-fifth win against two losses this season.

Loy Doty tallied 17 points to pace Phillips 66. Don Heathington, former Baylor star, scored 20 for the Artesia five, and ACC's Dee Nutt was right behind him with 18. Phillips was in front 35-33 at halftime.

Texan Polly Riley Gains Semi-Finals In Mixed Tourney

PALM BEACH, FLA.—(AP)—The two co-medalist teams in the sixth annual Mixed Foursomes Golf Tournament at the Everglades Club faced two other pairs in semi-final rounds Thursday.

The other medalist pair—Pat Devany of Grosse Ile, Mich., and W. A. Pagan of West Palm Beach—defeated Genevieve Lenzyck of Newington, Conn., and Tim Holland of Miami 2 and 1.

Joining them in the semi-final round were Bea McWane of Birmingham, Ala., and Bob Sweeney of Palm Beach, who bested Marjorie Burns of Greensboro, N. C., and I. L. Merrill of Ormond Beach, Fla., 6 and 4; and Polly Riley of Fort Worth and J. Walcott Brown of New York, who ousted Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., and O. F. Woodward, III, Palm Beach, 2 and 1.

Man, Wife Held As Aides In Try On Truman's Life

NEW YORK—(AP)—Secret Service agents have seized a man and wife whose Bronx home was described as the Puerto Rican Nationalist Party nest where the Truman assassination plot was hatched.

The two arrested Wednesday, are charged with obstruction of justice. They are John Correa, 43, and his wife, Mary.

Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld opened a sealed indictment naming the Correas in connection with the plot leading to the gunplay outside Blair House last November 1.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Frederick Block told the judge a dinner meeting was held in the Correas home two weeks before the attempted assassination of President Truman.

The prosecutor said one of those at the meeting was Oscar Collazo, one of the two Puerto Ricans who tried to blast their way into Blair House, where the President was resting.

The government believes, Block said, that the dinner "was a conspiratorial meeting at which plans for the assassination of President Truman were laid and at which Collazo was selected."

Collazo, a New Yorker, was wounded in the Blair House battle and is under indictment in Washington for the murder of a presidential guard. His confederate, Grisello Torresola, also a New Yorker, was shot to death during the assassination attempt.

The Harlingen Municipal Course with its par 71 is quite short—only 6,095 yards—and the man with the hottest putt probably will be the fellow taking home the $2,000 first money. But the field of 137—119 professionals and 18 amateurs—bulged with fellows who are death on the greens.

Gutenberg Bible Available At Store

NEW YORK—(AP)—A Gutenberg Bible which is said to be the most valuable book on sale anywhere in the world now is available at a Fifth Avenue book store.

Interested? If it brings a penny more than $151,000, that will be the highest price ever paid for any book in all history, rare-book experts agree.

This Gutenberg Bible is the first substantially complete copy to be unearthed in this century and only the forty-sixth discovered in the last 500 years.

It now is the property of Charles Scribner's Sons, which paid between $106,000 and $151,000 for the Bible and is understandably excited about it.

"It is not only the first book and the first edition of the greatest of all books," says the firm. "It is also a masterpiece of the printer's art which has never been equalled and never surpassed. For book collectors, it is, of course, the supreme treasure of all treasures. For the ordinary person, in any country, it is one of the great monuments of Christendom."

King's Row

By LARRY KING

The big news in West Texas sports Thursday was the signing of Jackie Sullivan as manager of the Odessa Oilers.

Sullivan, manager of Lubbock since 1947, inked a contract Wednesday night at the formal opening of an Odessa restaurant, owned by Emil Ogden and A. D. Ensey.

A second baseman is described as both a "glove man and a stick man." His four-year batting average at Lubbock was .341—and that's a neat average, even if the ball in the West Texas-New Mexico League is easier to tag than the one in the Longhorn League, as some people contend.

—KR—

While at Lubbock, Sullivan guided his team to the playoffs every year but one. He also has performed with Longview, Dallas, Buffalo and Detroit. It was during the war years that he did a stint with the Tigers.

Now only 28 years old, Sullivan will be a very active player-manager.

Sullivan is at least the eighth new ball player brought into the Odessa organization. Which means Shadow Ensey may not have some of the boys on last year's championship Oiler outfit around again.

A couple are in the Army, but for the most part they are available if Ensey wants them.

But it seems he's trying to buy the pennant now.

—KR—

We talked to Leo Eastham—our choice to manage Odessa—Wednesday night. Eastham hasn't yet signed with the Oilers, but he is expected to do so soon.

Also present was George Scheppe, owner of half a dozen ball clubs around the country.

—KR—

General feeling around the Longhorn League circuit is that this year is slated to be the biggest and best ever.

Baseball men feel that with the increase in class men and the upping of the circuit from D to C, it will be pretty fast and make for a better game from the spectator's view point.

—KR—

And the spectator is the one who pays the freight. If the fans will get into the ball parks and stay this season, it should indeed be a gala year. Of course, someone is going to lose and thereby have a bad year at the gate.

We hope it isn't Midland. Donohoo and Webb seem to think the Midland team will be right in the thick of the first division scramble. And we certainly hope so.

—KR—

Sweetwater's new business manager—Joe Bratcher—told a group of baseball men in Sweetwater the other night: "We don't have to pay big salaries to get ball players this year. There is going to be a lot of players available."

Bratcher advocates a policy of waiting until all the money-mad boys have jobs elsewhere or else haven't got a job at all and will be glad to sign for less money than they originally asked. At least that's the report that comes out of Sweetwater.

—KR—

But we don't think Bratcher, or anyone else, really thinks a club can be successful with cast-offs and dissatisfied players.

—KR—

Rip Collins, who was on the voluntarily retired list, has been reinstated by the Midland ball club and has gone to manage Seminole, Okla., in the Class D Sooner State League.

The Ripper managed a semi-pro team in Elk City, Okla., last season and has many business interests in the Okla. state. He performed with Midland in 1948.

—KR—

H. W. Donohoo reminded us Wednesday night that the Indians will go to Spring training with the Oklahoma City Club March 10. Site of the training will be Monroe, La. And March 10 isn't far off.

Get on your baseball hat, Mr. and Mrs. Midland.

Welter Sugar Ray Batters 160-Pound Champion By TKO

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson Thursday became the first man in ring history to win one championship and lose another all in the same battle.

The New York negro, defeated only once in 124 contests, Wednesday night won the world's middleweight championship by hammering durable Jake La Motta, 160-pound title holder, to defeat on a 13-round technical knockout before 14,802 frenzied spectators in the Chicago Stadium.

As his right-gloved fist was raised in victory, Robinson automatically relinquished his welterweight crown. He was forced to surrender it under a ruling of the National Boxing Association and also by decision of Eddie Egan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, which operates independently of the NBA.

Under the terms of Wednesday night's match, Robinson is required to give La Motta a return bout, probably in New York, next June. However, Truman Gibson, secretary of the sponsoring International Boxing Club, wondered if La Motta wanted to face the prospect of absorbing another beating from his conqueror.

La Motta Badly Hurt
La Motta remained in serious condition two hours after he walked from the ring under his own power. He immediately was administered oxygen when he reached his dressing room. He was completely exhausted and suffered chills.

Dr. J. M. Houston of the Illinois Athletic Commission and Jake's own personal physician, Dr. Philip Burdick, New York, remained in constant attendance until he was able to leave for his downtown hotel quarters with his wife, Vicki.

The attendance gate was $180,818 and the bet was $138,939. La Motta's share of the gate was $62,520 and Robinson received $20,840. Each fighter also had a TV cut of $1,500.

La Motta held the middleweight championship two days short of 30 months. He won it from the late Marcel Cerdan of France at Detroit, June 16, 1948. He successfully defended it twice. Robinson had ruled the welterweights since Dec. 20, 1946. Never Off Feet

The rugged La Motta, never knocked off his feet in 96 contests, retained this dubious honor in losing to Robinson. The bout was stopped at 2:04 of the thirteenth round.

The "Bronx Bull" was battered into a state of helplessness which prompted referee Frank Sikora to step between the men and order Robinson to his corner.

La Motta, the only man ever to defeat Robinson, never fought more determinedly than he did Wednesday night. For eight rounds he actually forced the battle. He bothered the confident Robinson with resounding body blows and jolting lefts to the head and often forced him into retreat with his two-fisted attack.

The jolting La Motta had the spirit to triumph, but did not have the stamina for the 15-round championship route. He outweighed Robinson four and one-half pounds, scaling 160 at Wednesday's weigh-in. Tide Turns To Ray

The tide turned in Robinson's favor in the ninth round when Jake began losing his aggressiveness and ability to escape from Robinson's shattering punches. He turned into a little less than a target for the welterweight champion.

The bout then began to move to its inevitable conclusion. Jake virtually was helpless all through the twelfth as Robinson stung him with every blow he could pitch. The willing La Motta sought the refuge of the ropes and was unable to fight back.

The contest, now one-sided, continued into the thirteenth and although the outcome was obvious, the crowd was cheering wildly that La Motta was still on his feet as Robinson whaled away at him.

The 231 passes attempted and 106 passes completed by the 1941 University of Arizona football team stands as a record for Wildcat teams.

Andrews, Pecos In Championship Tilt

PECOS—The Pecos Eagles and the Andrews Mustangs meet here Thursday night in the second of a best two-of-three basketball series to determine the championship of District 5-A.

Andrews won the first game Tuesday night in Andrews 50-45. If a third game is necessary, it will be played in Odessa Saturday night. Andrews won the North Zone of 5-A with an 8-0 conference record. Pecos captured the South Zone with a 7-1 loop mark. The Mustangs have won seven games in 19 starts. Pecos has won 15 and lost seven.

Veteran All Set To Receive $437,500, But Bubble Bursts

HAYWARD, CALIF.—(AP)—H. D. Rife, Navy veteran of World War II, was on top of the world Wednesday—for a few hours. He was notified a woman he had befriended 11 years ago had willed him $437,500.

But the bubble burst quickly. No one could locate the attorneys who notified him . . . or the woman, or her will.

Rife, 39, a paint sprayer in a Dodge automobile plant, related: A New York law firm wrote him Mrs. Emma Rivers died last July at Ogdensburg, N. Y., and left him a fourth of her estate.

He didn't recognize the name. But he remembered a "little old lady" he met in Long Beach, Calif., while on lib-by from the U.S.S. Lexington in 1940. Sitting on benches overlooking the sea, he often talked with her of ships and adventure.

Through Serial Number
The law firm said Mrs. Rivers never forgot those talks and had traced him through his service serial number.

So the world looked very bright to Rife. He planned to buy a home, clothes for his wife, Marvel Jean, and a $50,000 trust fund for his four-year-old son, Carey.

But
In New York, the law firm couldn't be located. The bar association did not list it. At Ogdensburg, records did not list Mrs. Rivers, or her death, or her will, or the probate judge named in the letter to Rife.

Appointment Kept Ahead Of Schedule

Thirty-one-year-old Fred Douglas kept his business appointment sooner than he expected Wednesday. Douglas, a geologist for Sinclair Oil and Gas Company, who lives on the Andrews Highway, was driving to Sonora to confer with Charles Ralph Walker, a drilling superintendent. Ten miles south of San Angelo, driving on an icy highway, he collided with another automobile, the driver of which was rushed to the hospital with mouth injuries. The driver of the other automobile was Walker.

Abundant Living

E. STANLEY JONES

Recd. 33:13-15; Matt. 17:5-8; John 9:29-38; 12:29-41

FROM THE RECEPTIVE TO THE POSITIVE VIRTUES

We proceed in our study of the Beatitudes from the receptive side to the positive side. The first three are receptive; the fourth is partly receptive and partly outgoing; and the next three are positive and assertive: (1) the merciful who obtain mercy; (2) the pure in heart who see God; (3) the peacemakers who are called children of God.

The Kingdom-of-God life begins with receptivity and ends in positive activity—the passive becomes the positive. The positives are three:
the exercise power mercifully; they have gained a central insight—they see God; they go out and are able to make men change and come to peaceful solutions.

The astonishing thing is that when Jesus turns from the passive, receptive side, the first thing he mentions is power wielded mercifully

He tells of masterful, dominating personalities who have people in their power; but who wield that power mercifully and beneficently. Does receptivity bring power over others?
Yes; a receptive person becomes a vigorous person. Divine resources make the man humanly resourceful.
But the vigor is constructive and redemptive—power is controlled by love, the only safe power. Jesus had all power, but He used it not for Himself, nor for the destruction of enemies, but to save His bearers, but only for purposes of mercy.

The second outgoing quality is purity of heart which has a central insight—it sees God. Those who are receptive can not only do—they can see. There are two great types of personalities—those who desire to do, to achieve, to wield power, and those who desire to have insights, to know, to gain the world of insight into the relationships of things. The first are the men of action, and the second the men of thought—the pioneers, the philosophers. Both types are produced out of receptivity, and both are needed.
But the central insight that is needed is men who can see God—God at work redemption in science in beauty, in the moral universe, over-ruling the affairs of men. The pure in heart are in the breathless adventure of seeing God everywhere!

O God, I would be pure in heart, single-minded, so that my insights may be clarified, for I want to see Thee—to see Thee in the blade of grass, in the procession of the stars, in the rough-and-tumble of human events, and in my own heart close the door and make trust with Thee
there. I would see Thee. Amen.

Bible Institute Students Get Wings, Learn To Fly To Spread Gospel

CHICAGO—(NEA)—The missionary, who used to struggle through dense jungles for weeks carrying the word of God to remote villages, has discovered the airplane. Today's flying missionaries, traveling on a wing with a prayer, take the gospel anywhere.

The Moody Bible Institute, along with its regular training for missionaries and Bible students, gives a special "missionary technical course." Besides such subjects as Bible doctrine, personal evangelism and pagan religious psychology, the technical students take flight instruction, radio and communications and photography.

According to Moody, missionaries feel the airplane is the most profitable of all modern inventions to them. Rev. Paul Robinson, who is coordinator of Moody's missionary technical course, flew deep into the Mexican jungles to visit a hitherto inaccessible tribe the Lacandone Indians. It took him 12 minutes. On land, it would have been a hard journey of several days.

Missionary pilot students at Moody learn to navigate and maintain their planes, as well as to fly them. When they finish their four-year course, many of them will find themselves in remote outposts. They'll have to be a one-man airport, besides a one-man church.

Medicine and Christianity: Missionary Pilot Larry Montgomery's seaplane is a sharp contrast to the primitive dugout canoe, left, as he visits a Piro Indian family in Peru's jungles.

Wing and a prayer: Moody Bible Institute now uses an airport and planes like this to teach missionaries to fly.

Moody's technical students also study radio operation and photography. Radio is handy to keep in instant touch with other missions, to get help in case of emergencies and to get the latest weather reports for aid in safe flying.

And the missions, in their reports to the people and their home churches, find photographs tell the story better than words. So Moody trains the technical mission specialist as a crack photographer.

The first flying missionary worked in the Bolivian jungles in 1941. But Moody's course, designed to turn out enough to satisfy the need, wasn't organized until 1946.

Three Students
Then there were only three students. Now there are 38, with eight instructors. Six light airplanes, the type used in the field, serve for pilot training and a workshop and several classrooms are used for ground training. The school is approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

After two years of basic Bible training, plus primary courses in aviation, radio and photography, the students specialize for two years in the technical aspects of the curricula. With their intensive training, they qualify for a commercial pilot's license and an amateur radio operator's license.

No tuition is charged by Moody, but the waiting list for the missionary technical course is long.
Only those who show a real aptitude for the specific type of training are accepted.

"In the mission fields," says Robinson, "pilots must have the ability to get into and out of difficult places and terrain. They have to know how to survive under primitive conditions. That is why missionary-pilot training must be unusual and practical. Pilots only get lost once in dense jungles."

Two New Controls Aimed At Slowing Pace Of Building

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two building controls aimed at combating inflation and saving materials for defense became effective Thursday.

One requires federal licensing for new commercial construction. The other requires a 50 per cent cash down payment on a vast range of non-residential construction.

The licensing system replaces a general ban in effect since January 13.

The credit-tightening order applies to stores, offices, hotels, banks, warehouses, garages, service stations, restaurants, theaters, clubs and "other new structures used for non-residential purposes."

Dr. H. Glenn Walker, a member of the Executive Committee of the Texas Heart Association, spoke briefly concerning the physician's viewpoint.

Pickett reviewed the problem of heart diseases, listing facts and figures to back up his statements.
He mentioned the 21 types of heart diseases, stressing the fact that diseases of the heart are not confined to any one age group. He told of the work being done here and over the nation to combat the No. 1 killer.

Dr. Walker elaborated upon diagnosis, treatment and research of the disease and listed several don't and do's for heart sufferers.

U. S. To—

Marshall emphasized that the aim of the forces is to keep the peace.
He said the intention is:

1. "To deter aggression if that be possible, and
2. "To defeat aggression if, in spite of all our efforts, the actions of the Soviet Union or its satellites should precipitate another world war."

As to any congressional stand, Marshall strongly urged that the legislators should not do anything which would tie the hands of Gen.
Dwight D. Eisenhower, as commander of Allied forces, by limiting the number of troops that could be placed under his command.

The proposed six U. S. divisions under Eisenhower would be part of a total contemplated defense force of about 40 divisions.

Air, Naval Units, Too
In addition to the U. S. ground forces, there also would be American air and naval units in the combined defense forces.

The large hearing room was crowded as Marshall, wearing a grey suit and brown tie, took the witness stand.

Senator Connally (D-Texas), presiding, urged that senators "speed things along—as much as possible" in questioning witnesses.

Peering over his spectacles, he admonished spectators to be quiet, saying, "The committee can't run a horse show."

Connally then read a pending resolution by Senator Wherry (R-Neb) which would declare the Senate feels President Truman should not send more ground forces to Europe until Congress passes on the question.

Technically, this resolution is the business before the committee. Administration forces hope to substitute for it a resolution specifically approving the dispatch of troops.

'Heart Week' Is Program Topic At Rotary Club Meet

Stressing the fact that diseases of the heart and blood vessels are the leading causes of death in the United States and that one out of every three deaths last year was attributed to heart ailments, Perry Pickett, chairman of the Permian Basin Heart Association, addressed Midland Rotarians at their meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Schar-bauer.

The program was presented in connection with the observance of National Heart Week.

Pickett, who last week was named Midland's "Outstanding Young Man of 1950," spoke concerning the laymen's view of heart diseases.

Physician's Viewpoint
Dr. H. Glenn Walker, a member of the Executive Committee of the Texas Heart Association, spoke briefly concerning the physician's viewpoint.

Pickett reviewed the problem of
heart diseases, listing facts and
figures to back up his statements.
He mentioned the 21 types of heart

fined to any one age group. He told

Canteen Cap Shot Off Four Times

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVI-SION IN KOREA —(AP)—Marine
Pfc. Robert Dale Savage, 21, of Deerfield, Ill., says he felt like a walking shooting gallery during recent action against Chinese Communist in Korea.

In this case the clay pigeon was the cap on Savage's canteen which was shot off not once, but four times. First it was the regular black plastic cap; the other three Savage had fashioned from pieces of wood.
All were shot off by enemy riflemen during a two-week period.

Swedish Motorship Reported In Distress

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Globe Wireless Thursday reported it had heard a relayed distress call from the Swedish motorship Christen Salen that it had broken in two in the Pacific off the east coast of Japan, less than 200 miles from Tokyo.

Globe said the U. S. Military sea transport Marine Phoenix reported it was on the way and would arrive in six hours.

COW, 34, DIES IN FALL AUCKLAND, NEW ZEALAND —

(AP)—Barbara, New Zealand's oldest cow, died recently of a broken leg suffered in a fall. She was 34 years old, and the mother of 29 calves.

Robert Sherwood won the Pulitzer Prize four times; thrice for plays and once for biography.

Changes In Texas Election Laws Are Offered Thursday

AUSTIN—(AP)—Election law changes making the terms of most state and county officials four years instead of two were introduced in the Legislature Thursday.

Measures were offered in the House by Rep. Jack Wisener of Wells and in the Senate by Jop Fuller of Port Arthur and Kyle Vick of Waco. Wisener said his was designed to cut down on politicking by officeholders.

Both House and Senate election prop. bills were introduced with amendments, subject to legislative approval before being submitted to the voters.

The House renewed its fight over a constitutional farm road financing bill.

The bill, which was revived Wednesday after an apparent death blow in committee, was kept alive again when a new attempt to send it back to the unfriendly committee was defeated 62-47.

Presidential Tenure

The old squabble over limiting the nation's president to two terms also is coming up again.

Attempts to ratify the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution have failed in two previous sessions, but backers of the plan think their chances are good this time.

Their optimism increased Wednesday when Senate and House committees quickly and unanimously approved resolutions under which presidential tenure would be limited to two elective terms and not more than 10 years in office.

The movement to curb Presidents' length of service began when the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt became the first president to win four elective terms.

No one spoke against the resolutions at Wednesday's public hearings.

Prospect Of Quick Tax Hike Vanishes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The prospect of any "quickie" tax increase this Spring has vanished.

Republicans said a decision the House Ways and Means Committee reached late Wednesday also dominated President Truman's proposal for a two-package approach to raising the $16,500,000,000 he asked to meet mounting military costs.

Chairman Doughton (D-NO) announced, after an hour-long closed session of the committee, that its current tax hearings will cover all revenue raising suggestions made by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, and any other proposals members of the committee desire to bring up.

COURT BILL PASSES

AUSTIN—(AP)—A Senate bill creating a 132nd District Court for Scurry and Borden Counties was passed finally by the House Thursday. It goes to the governor for signature.

Yugoslavia Is Big Question Mark In Eisenhower Plans

WASHINGTON—(AP)—As he leaves for Europe again, General Dwight D. Eisenhower is confronted with the task of building an Allied defense against possible Soviet aggression while apparently uncertain of all the conditions under which that force might have to fight.

The big question mark hangs over Yugoslavia, and the question is this: If Soviet satellite armies—with or without direct Soviet assistance—attack Yugoslavia should the West go to her defense?

In recent weeks this question and others related to it—covering possible arms aid for Marshal Tito and the like—have been carefully considered here and in consultation with the British, French and other Western governments.

Eisenhower, sailing for Europe from New York Thursday, presumably has been briefed on the official estimate of the situation.

Indications are decisions as to specific action would be finally made after the emergency arose.

Allies Rout—

selves on a hill two and one-half miles southeast of Seoul. At daybreak, big guns of the U. S. Third Infantry Division pounded the hill and infantrymen opened up at close range.

Lt. Roger Y. Brinson, Savannah,
Ga., a frontline platoon leader, said 200 Chinese survivors broke and fled for the Han in panic. Not one reached the river alive, he added.

Strike And Destroy
Elsewhere on the frigid front, Allied forces were making limited counterattacks. AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported American troops, attacking with hand grenades, took high ground northeast of Konggan, 17 miles southeast of Seoul.

The Reds tried twice to retake the hill—No. 578, named for its height in meters—but had not succeeded by noon Thursday.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Eighth Army commander, told officers of the Tenth Corps Allied force
"shall strike back and destroy the bulk of the enemy's forces which we do not capture."

The Tenth Corps bore the brunt of the four-day massed Communist drive down Central Korea's rocky spine. Four Red divisions were knocked out.

Ridgway pinned the three stars of a lieutenant general on Maj. Gen.
Edward M. Almond, the Tenth Corps commander.

The mounting toll of Chinese and Korean Reds rose even higher from unending attacks by Allied war planes. U. S. Fifth Air Force bombers and fighters flew a record 696 sorties in clear weather Thursday.

Most flights were in close support of ground units which had rolled successfully with the Red punch between Wonju and Chippung.

French, Dutch, South Korean and American forces checked the Red drive along ridges and a wide valley between the two towns. A field dispatch described the scene as "death valley."

Hundreds more Chinese and North Korean Reds met a violent end in Thursday's fighting on the central front. The breakdown on Red casualties on that front alone Wednesday was 3,075 killed, 2,305 wounded by ground action.

While the fighting continued on the central and western fronts at reduced tempo, South Korean Marines secured two small islands commanding Wonsan harbor far up on the Sea of Japan coast.

The east coast landings were made Wednesday on Cho and Rei Islands
some 90 air miles north of Parahall 38 and about 120 miles north of the main battlefield.

Seizure of the islands, both close inshore, gives the Allies control of Wonsan's harbor. Red supplies and reinforcements funnel through from the coastal city to the central front from staging areas in Northeast Korea.

Slow Thaw—

falling at Texarkana, Beaumont and Lufkin. Except for light snow over Amarillo, skies were clearing in the western half of the state.

Precipitation for the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a. m. included 1.7 inches at Houston, 1.10, Dallas, 39,
San Antonio, 52, Beaumont, 97,
Port Worth, 55, Galveston, 35, La-red, 12, Lufkin, 91, Mineral Wells, 23, Cotulla, 36, Dalhart, 05.

occasional rain in the northeast part of East Texas and near the upper coast. Clearing weather was predicted for West Texas.

Telephone Circuits Out Southwestern Bell reported 900 long distance circuits out and about 43 towns isolated by ice. Most of the trouble is in Northeast Texas.
Cities without phone communications included Paris, Greenville, Honey Grove and Bonham.

Telephone work crews converged on the damaged areas. Ice was three-quarters of an inch thick on communications lines in the Denison area and east to Paris. The ice conditions extended as far south as Beville. There was no telephone trouble in the Panhandle or West Texas.

At least three persons died on icy highways. Many schools announced unscheduled holidays.

Early Thursday, the only points reporting snow or sleet were Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Port
Worth, Dallas and Austin. Light

New Life Begins For Chinese Child Because Of Name Given Her By U. S. Navy Chaplain

WILLIAMSBURG, VA.—(AP)—It was eight years ago this month that two American Marines found a tiny, helpless Chinese child wandering aimlessly about a thundering battlefield in Guadalcanal.

Her face was flushed with fever.
There was an ugly gash on her head, and gaping bayonet wounds on her arms and legs.

On that day in 1943, no one dared to hope that the little girl would live. Natives had slipped her from behind Japanese lines to a spot where the Marines would find her.

Sheltered by a kindly Navy chaplain, Lt. Cmdr. Frederick P. Gehring, the child cried out in fright when she saw his uniform. When the Japanese bombed the encampment, she was hidden in a foxhole.
She clung to life. Incredibly, she recovered.

Mr. Gehring, a Catholic priest, found a name for her: Patsy Li, which means "Little White Plum Blossom."

Today, Mr. Gehring thinks a providential God led him to select that name. He cannot say why he picked "Patsy Li." But because he did, a new life is beginning in this year 1951 for Patsy.

From far-away Singapore, the girl
—now 15 years old—arrived in Los Angeles on Christmas Day. Then she crossed the continent to this historic colonial capital. Now she is enrolled in the Washington Academy, operated by the Sisters of Mercy of Philadelphia.

Why was a name so important for Patsy? Because when Mr. Gehring, one night in a foxhole, gave her that name it happened that he gave her precisely the name that had been hers from birth.

Thus, relatives who read their newspapers located Patsy and took her, after the war, back under their wing.

Story Is Fantastic

Mr. Gehring thinks Patsy's entire story is "unbelievable." It almost is an understatement, for the Chinese girl's troubles began long before she was turned up, bleeding and almost bare, on the battlefield at Guadalcanal.

Patsy's mother, Mrs. Ruth Li, lived in Singapore when the Japanese struck in 1941. In February, 1942, with the enemy close at hand,
Mrs. Li and her two young daughters left with other refugees on the SS Kuala, bound for Australia.

The loaded steamship fell under Japanese air attack off The Netherlands East Indies and was sunk.
Mrs. Li held her children tightly and leaped from the vessel before it went down.

She placed Patsy, then six, on a bit of wreckage. She lost her grip on two-year-old Lottie Li and the child was drowned. When she finally was dragged aboard a life raft, Patsy was nowhere to be found.

The Japanese rescued Mrs. Li and she was interned in Singapore for the rest of the war.

No one knows how Patsy Li reached Guadalcanal. She herself was too young to remember. It is 3,000 miles from the island to the spot where the SS Kuala was sunk that day in February, nine years ago.

After she was found by the Marines and recovered from her wounds and fever, Patsy became a virtual masoc for the corps. Parachute riggers made her clothing. Other Marines brought her fruit and flowers from the jungle. Mr. Gehring taught her English.

No Place For Patsy
But Mr. Gehring soon decided Fate was no place for Patsy.
She was sent to Espiritu Santo, 600 miles south in the New Hebrides, where Pere Jean, a missionary, had a hospital. A few months later, she was transferred to a Catholic orphanage on the Island of Efate.

Meantime her story had been published in the United States. In New York was Katherine Li, sister of Patsy's mother. She was struck by the fact that the Guadalcanal wail had the same name as her niece.

When the war was over, Mrs.
Ruth Li made her way to Efate from Singapore. That was in 1946
—but Patsy recognized her mother and hugged her for joy. The two went back to Singapore.

Mr. Gehring made arrangements to bring the child to the United States for a high school education.
He now is director of the Vincen-tine Mission in China, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Reds Hope To Grab Europe Without All-Out War

By LEON DENNEN
 NEA Staff Correspondent

Russia probably won't invade Western Europe this year because it still hopes to capture that prize without the general war it knows that attack would bring.

More likely, it will go on pursuing the pattern set in Korea and Indo-China—a series of well-planned, limited wars in which satellite peoples do the fighting and dying in an effort to spread the West's strength thin all over the globe.

Only Stalin and the Soviet Politburo know where the Reds will strike next, but indications are strong that it may be in the Balkans and the Eastern Mediterranean.

I have just returned to the United States from a long stay in Europe. During this period I traveled extensively in nations outside the Iron Curtain, including Yugoslavia. I talked with western political leaders, reluctant satellite diplomats, labor leaders, disgruntled Cominform people, and scores of ordinary citizens.

This article represents the consensus of their views as to where Europe and other main trouble spots stand at the beginning of 1951.

In Top Position
 With an estimated 175 to 200 divisions spotted strategically throughout Europe and the Near East, Russia admittedly is in a commanding position. Moscow has the manpower and material to overrun a largely disarmed Europe in three to six weeks.

What holds the Kremlin back? 1. It apparently has a healthy respect for America's sizable stockpile of atomic bombs. Red leaders seem convinced that Washington is saving its A-bombs for use only if Russia invades the West. They themselves are believed to be a long way from having a good supply of these weapons.

2. Despite the tone of confidence emanating from Moscow, Stalin and his aides fear—more than the West realizes—the solid anti-Red front they know exists on both sides of the Iron Curtain in Europe. Millions of anti-Red workers and political refugees are resolutely ready to combat the Communist tide.

Because of these twin dangers, Russia plainly intends to try achieving its European goals by hope of provoking the collapse of the Atlantic Pact without firing a shot. Hence the plans go forward for the next of the limited wars to be waged by a Soviet satellite.

Convinced the Balkans and the Near East have top place on the Russian time-table, western diplomats ascribe special significance to an article by Nicholas Zahariades, Ready And Waiting—For What? Soviet Russia's armed might, like these troops on parade in Moscow for last year's May Day, are poised for an invasion of the West. But the Kremlin is waiting.

The item charges Washington with building a "Greece-Yugoslavia-Turkey" bloc as an extension of the "North Atlantic Aggressive Pact." It declares the bloc aims to prepare an attack on Bulgaria and Albania.

Gives Version
 Writes Zahariades: "There is ample, concrete and irrefutable evidence showing the American imperialist aggressors have picked on the Balkans as a sector of war adventures, timed for the near future. They are using monarch-fascist Greece, like Tito's Yugoslavia, as a base for their military adventures."

These assertions fit the standard totalitarian formula: accuse your enemy of harboring the intentions you yourself propose to act upon.

Eleven days before the Zahariades article appeared, satellite chiefs of staff are said to have met in Plovdiv, Bulgaria. According to diplomatic sources, this meeting was attended also by Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, ranking member of the Soviet Politburo, Marshal Feodor Tolbukhin, Moscow's Balkan military expert, and Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, the Stalin-appointed dictator of Poland.

time, about 2000 Soviet Army officers and political commissars are reported to have reached Durazzo, an Albanian port.

Albania long has been groomed as a pivotal point of attack against Greece and Yugoslavia. From Durazzo, too, the Red Army could paralyze Adriatic shipping and maintain a stranglehold on the Eastern Mediterranean.

It's anybody's guess whether a Balkan attack will come off, as feared, either this Spring or soon thereafter. But it makes sense from the viewpoint of Russian strategy.

More than 1,000,000 trained and equipped Turks and 500,000 rugged Yugoslavs represent a more formidable obstacle to Soviet aggression than 50 mythical Western divisions. Together with the anti-Red front of workers and refugees in the West, they are the only real force fighting on the Allied side at this time.

It is estimated conservatively it will take at least 18 months to field a European army of 50 divisions. Should the Bonn West German government decide to go along with the West on creation of a German army, it's figured a year would elapse before 150,000 men could be trained and fitted out.

Meantime, the West will be largely defenseless. Some western diplomats are puzzled that Washington, London and Paris have therefore made no positive move to bring the strong Turk and Yugoslav forces into a tight alliance with the West.

The choice of General Eisenhower as commander of the Allied forces bolstered Europe's morale measurably. But wise heads there realize that even " Ike " is no miracle-worker. Unless Balkan armies are enlisted to help, he will command only a paper force for many months to come.

Russia knows that. And it would surprise few officials in Europe if the Kremlin should try to embroil those armies in a limited war before the West can bind them closely into its defense system.

Brussels Sprouts Lead Glamorous Life!

By NANCY NORMAN

Nestled by the blue Pacific and just a few miles below the Golden Gate City, San Francisco, is picturesque Half Moon Bay. This beautiful setting provides ideal growing conditions for the world's finest Brussels sprouts, and it's here that a specially selected variety is grown for Stokely's Honor Brand Frozen Foods.

Chilly fog creeps in from the ocean each night for a moist blanket which the best Brussels sprouts seem to prefer. But, during the day these round little vegetables bask in the warm California sunshine to mature to perfect flavor.

HAVE PERSONAL AIRPLANE
 These finest of Brussels sprouts receive every attention, even to having their own personal helicopter to spray them from the air at regular intervals. Honor Brand Field Experts give each choice crop constant attention from the time it's planted until it's perfectly matured and ready for harvest. Then, like all good vegetables, the sprouts are picked for America's dining pleasure.

However, in the case of Honor Brand's Brussels sprouts, they're picked in double quick time so they can be hurried to the nearby Honor Brand freezing plant without a moment's delay. Here the Brussels sprouts are sorted, cleaned and trimmed.

Within a few short hours after being picked, the choicest sprouts are rushed into the bright blue Honor Brand packages to be quick-frozen while they contain all the harvest-fresh flavor and vitamins that nature intended.

TASTE-TEMPING TREATS
 The distinctive flavor of Brussels sprouts lends itself to many interesting methods of preparation, and a recipe with unusual flavor appeal has been recently developed and approved by the Honor Brand Test Kitchen:

DEVILED BRUSSELS SPROUTS

- 1 package Honor Brand Frozen Brussels Sprouts
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
 - ¼ teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - Dash of cayenne
- Cook Honor Brand Frozen Brussels Sprouts as directed on package. Make sauce by adding seasonings to melted butter. Put Brussels sprouts in hot vegetable dish, pour over sauce. Serves 4.

Straw Fertilizer Is Recommended

SASKATOON—(AP)—Fifty million tons of straw, huge by-product of Canada's agriculture, is produced annually but most is either abandoned or burned.

That's an estimate contained in a recent article in a Canadian Chamber of Commerce booklet. Authors G. A. Ledingham, J. B. Marshall and J. E. Stone of the National Research Council Laboratories at Saskatoon and E. S. Archibald of the Dominion Department of Agriculture advocate returning the straw to the soil.

Recruiting Station Gets Top Rating

Army and Air Force recruiters in the Abilene Recruiting and Main Station area, which includes Midland, made a superior rating in obtaining voluntary enlistments for the Army during January.

Col. I. G. Walker, chief of the Fourth Army's Military Personnel Procurement Section, made the announcement.

The ratings were awarded on the basis of percentage of Army enlistments obtained against the quota. There are 17 main stations in the Fourth Army area, which is comprised of the States of Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

'Over-The-Top'
The Abilene area obtained 110 per cent of its Army enlistment objective during January.

Lt. John McIntosh, public information officer, said T/Sgt. Shelby Wheeler, Midland recruiter, was one of the men responsible for the Abilene Main Station being high in the area.

Wheeler sent 18 volunteers to Abilene for induction last month. Through Wednesday, Wheeler already had sent 14 men to Abilene this month.

YOUTH CENTER CHATTERERS—Joyce Howell, right, and Gail Baker are the authors of the Youth Center Chatter column, which this week observes its second birthday anniversary. The popular column, which appears each Thursday in The Reporter-Telegram, was originated two years ago by Miss Howell and June Hazlip, and has not missed a regular publication date since that time. Miss Hazlip now is a student in TSCW at Denton. Miss Baker recently joined Miss Howell in writing the column.

Youth Center Chatter

Yes, you guessed, this is our birthday. Two years ago this column first came out in The Midland Reporter-Telegram. Since that time we have grown quite a bit and we hope to keep on growing this next year.

When this column was begun two years ago, June Hazlip was one of the co-authors. June now is a freshman occupational-therapy major, attending Texas State College for Women in Denton. Since then we have had the help of several other teens. Our thanks go to Peggy Read, Jo Ann Cunningham, Sue Johnson, Emily Hamilton, Mary Wynn and Gloria Anguish for their assistance.

Thursday is the last day! Yes, that really does sound serious, doesn't it? And it is! After Thursday only those who have renewed their membership at the Youth Center will be admitted. Out-of-city guests may attend the Center if accompanied by a member. Membership cards cost one dollar for the year.

The wording on the membership cards reads as follows: "— whose signature appears on the reverse side hereof, is granted membership in the Midland Youth Center, Inc., and all privileges of the organization for the year 1961, so long as the following requirements for membership are fulfilled: Abidance by the rules and regulations of the Midland Youth Center; Public conduct such as to prevent discredit to the Midland Youth Center and to Midland; and cooperation with the authorities of the Midland Youth Center and of the city to prevent destruction of property, infringement on the rights of others. To make Midland a safe and desirable place in which to live. This membership card may become void if holder violates requirements for membership."

On the reverse side of the card appears this sentence: "I pledge myself to abide by the rules as shown on the face of this card, and as stipulated in the application for membership." There also is a line for the members signature on this side of the card.

"Give her a little hot pepper now." "Faster—maybe she will miss." "Yep, Summer weather was here last Saturday and a lot of the teens were jumping rope in front of the Y.C.C. Dianne Anderson, Diana Daugherty, Marion Sevier, Pat Boles, Nancy Roberts, Madelon Schabarum, Don Johnson and Stan Coker were a few of those we saw.

We also notice Nancy Cooper twirling a rope. Nancy was a majorette in the high school band in Plainview before moving to Midland last Fall and she is quite adept at twirling—ropes as well as batons. Basketball and volleyball games were in full swing at the Center last Saturday also. Guess the few days of Spring weather made a lot of people feel extra energetic.

There certainly are a lot of burr haircuts in and out of the Center. A few of the boys who have burr haircuts are Dalton Byerly, Lyndon Cope, Russell Rutledge, Jerry Ball, Jesse Hatfield, Preston Conner and Harold Hensley.

On the other hand, there are just as many "curly tops" in the Y.C., some of which are Larry LaVelle, Dan Ratcliff, Stanley Krist, Freddie Bibbo, Loren Roberts and James Weathered.

Saturday afternoon, after the Youth Center had closed, Arnold Drake drove up to the Center. As he drove up, one of his tires blew out. Of all the confusion! He had many helpers, though. A few of his "little elf" helpers were Mark McKinsey, John Zant, Jack Burris, Duane Bush, Gary Trockmorton, Pat Douglas, Al Cole, "Urpy" Wallace, Bob Burks, Corky Moss, Harold Drew, Loren Roberts and Stan Coker. Margie Cramer and Sue Johnson were looking on.

"Spring has come—and went!" Saturday afternoon, Nancy Steadman, Jackie Brady, Sarah Hendricks and Jane Stuart were riding around in Jane's blue convertible in shorts.

Following the Coronation Friday night, the queen and her court sponsored a dance. Thanks to the mothers for the refreshments, attractive decorations and music. Everyone had a gala time.

Sixth period Tuesday afternoon, Peggy Simmons was complaining of being cross-eyed, after having counted each and every brick and locker around Miss Klapproth's room. Peggy had been waiting on Diane Anderson, and evidently had had a rather long wait!

A freshman, Bill Crenshaw, certainly keeps up with the fad of donning loud colors. The other afternoon, Bill had on a plaid scarf, consisting of yellow, light blue, navy blue and red. Also, he wore a striped cap which had red, blue and gray.

This is a special question asked by Morris Basham, who recently had a nine-day separation from his beloved chaireuse hat: "It seems some people can't get hats for themselves and they go around wearing other people's hats for nine days. Do you know who it is?" We were very sorry to hear that one of our Y.C. members, John Petty, had quite a bad accident last week. John fell out of Harold Paden's car (how we don't know) and skinned himself badly. Here's hoping he gets over his injuries quickly.

Tuesday afternoon, the high school band presented a program which kept us with the fad of donning loud colors. We thought the members were in the band because of their instrument playing ability—but we discovered that Larry Mayfield not only plays the cornet quite well, but also is very good at singing—particularly when he sings the "Star-Spangled Banner."

The Wind Blows
Band members were seen struggling the block and half over to the junior high with heavy basses and drums, while the wind did its best to blow them away. From what we have heard, despite the wind and sand the members of the band presented a well-liked program for the junior high students.

On the way back from the Junior High, Frank Miller was badly in need of a ride. He couldn't find a ride—and a block and half can be a long distance on a windy day—so Swan Haglar offered him a ride—on the front fender of the car.

The Coronation Friday night was well-attended and there was a gasp of pleasure from the audience when the curtains were opened and the stage was seen for the first time. The Art Department helpers really did a fine job of decorating. Everyone was tickled when the little crown-bearer, James Mayfield, raced up the aisle in front of the queen, Peggy Charlton.

Toys Chapple, Joann Nelson, Wilma Like and Gloria Anguish got their share of exercise last week by going bicycle riding. Of course they picked nice sunny days and did a lot of riding. Say girls, weren't you all sore the next day?

Saturday night there will be a semi-formal dance at the youth center. The dance will begin at 8:30 p.m. and will end at midnight. Membership cards will be checked at the door.

That's about all for this week. We hope you have enjoyed reading the Youth Center Chatter—this week and this past year. As long as we have readers, we'll be back each week with more news of the Midland Youth Center and its members.

Reds And Fascists Join Hands In Italy As Russia Gets Bolder In West Europe

ROME—(NEA)—While jittery Europeans are anxiously scanning the war headlines, the Cominform-emboldened by Communist China's successes in Korea—are feverishly preparing for the conquest of power in the western countries.

A particularly explosive situation exists in Italy where Communists and Fascists are reported to have concluded recently a secret pact of collaboration.

Close observers of Soviet strategy see the hand of the Cominform in the latest spectacular rise of the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement, especially its "left wing."

Led by mysterious leaders and financed from mysterious sources, the "left wing" of the Italian Social Movement rapidly is gaining adherents among the unemployed youth and pro-nationalist students. Like the Communists, these neo-Fascists advocate the nationalization of industry. They are likewise against private property, the Marshall Plan and Marshal Tito.

Renewed and expanded activity of the Italian Social Movement at this time is, in the view of Italian security authorities, designed to take the heat off the Communist Party and widen the base of its operations.

During the last parliamentary elections the Italian Social Movement received about half a million votes. But 12 million Italians who voted for the monarchy in the plebiscite of 1946 are said to be its potential supporters.

Although Communism and Fascism are bitter foes on the surface, this is not the first time Moscow has made common cause with Fascists.

Kremlin Cooperators
The Kremlin is known to have encouraged and financed Fascist organizations in the past in Nazi Germany as well as in Italy and France prior to the outbreak of German-Russian hostilities. It is now collaborating with rabidly pro-nationalist and Fascist groups in the Middle East.

As in France, the Communist Party in Italy is rapidly becoming a closely-knit military unit rather than a "parliamentary" mass organization. Since the recent illness of Italian Red chief, Palmiro Togliatti, its leaders are no longer "parliamentarians" but Moscow-trained commanders of the Cominform's secret shock troops. In France, military men like Auguste Lecoeu now run the Communist Party. In Italy it is Luigi Longo and Pietro Secchia.

Italian Defense Minister Rinaldo Ossola has publicly accused these men of trying to undermine the morale of the army, steal secret military documents and sabotage Italy's defense program.

Communist-Fascist collaboration is particularly strong in the Free Territory of Trieste. There the "left wing" of the Italian Social Movement has a well-organized "return Trieste to Italy" organization. Despite a recent government ban, these neo-Fascists, through various acts of camouflage, manage to keep just within the limits of the constitution.

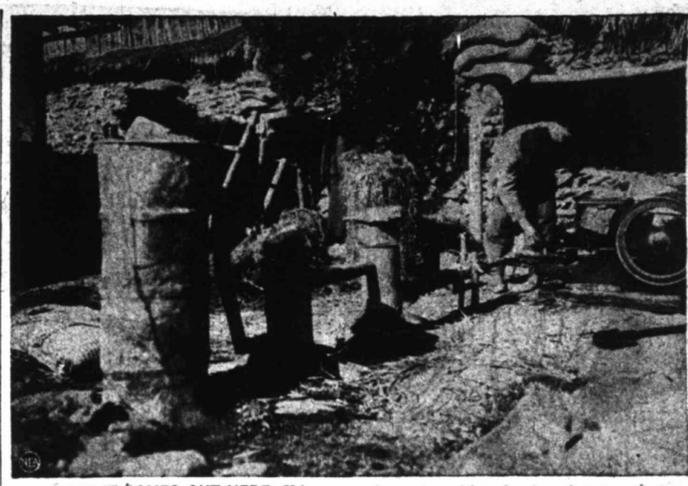

They wear black ties instead of the traditional black shirts. They give a series of quick Fascist salutes instead of one long slow one practiced under Mussolini. They sing Fascist songs and vow revenge against Tito.

As with the pro-Cominform Communists, Marshal Tito is the neo-Fascists' number one target. In addition to Trieste, they also claim for Italy all of Yugoslavia, Dalmatia. A recent series of bomb explosions in the Rome headquarters of Giuseppe Saragat's rabidly anti-Communist party are believed to have been the work of members of the Italian Social Movement in collaboration with the Cominform underground military organization.

Meanwhile, in the face of Moscow's expanding war activities, Italian democratic leaders are increasingly concerned over the slow progress of Italy's rearmament program.

Faced with rising unemployment, the Alcide de Gasperi Government has been temporizing with needed reforms, thus touching off a series of strikes. Italy has not even begun large-scale order of the foreign raw materials vitally needed if its idle factories and unemployed are to be put to work to build weapons and other war supplies.

... AND IT COMES OUT HERE—Using a complex system of barrels, pipes, faucets and other gadgets, this South Korean farmer has rigged a "still" that takes wood in one end and feeds some sort of explosive mixture out the other end to run the motor of his rice-threshing machine. Whatever it is, it's almost as good as gasoline for keeping the motor perking. (NEA-Acme photo by Staff Photographer Bert Ashworth.)

Medieval Justice Received By Thief

KARACHI—(AP)—The days of Medieval justice were recalled in Karachi recently when a young man, his face blackened and a garland of old shoes around his neck, was paraded through the main streets of the old city.

He was being punished by the elders for stealing a pair of shoes from a mosque while the congregation was offering prayers to Allah. Moslems remove their shoes before entering a mosque.

Chinese In Malaya Loyalty Defenders

FENANG—(AP)—An editorial in the Chinese-edited English language daily, "Straits Echo," said here that Chinese in Malaya some day will prove they refuse to accept "second place in their loyalty" to this country.

The editorial pointed out that in the current fight against Communist-inspired bandits, the Chinese has suffered the greatest loss in life, property and reputation.

Crooks Turn To Bigger Things, Such As Railroad Locomotives And Brick Walls

By M. G. PATTINGTON
NEA Special Correspondent

A policeman's lot may be an unhappy one, but the lot of a crook can be positively pitiful. At least it was for a collection of looney larcenists during 1950.

One robber filched some homing pigeons from a San Bernardino, Calif., left. So they promptly flew back home. A would-be stick-but couldn't; he tried to open a soft drink machine, but couldn't; he tried to drive away in a trailer truck, which jackknifed; he gave it up as a bad night.

Thieves had some looney ideas about what constitutes legitimate loot for a light-fingered artist. Among stolen goods were a five-ton street sweeping machine, a locomotive and a brick wall.

The street sweeper vanished in Alhambra, Calif. But a track of sweepings left a trail for police to follow. The railroad locomotive was taken in Louisville, Ky., where the man arrested for the crime said, "I needed it to carry a message from General MacArthur to President Truman." And in Kansas City, Mo., a man told police some crooks had carted away the entire back brick wall of his garage. They left his car.

Victim of one of 1950's looney larcenists was Dorothy Barnstone of St. Louis, Mo. A bandit took her stocking.

This has been a tough year for police, too. Cops in Amarillo, Texas, arrested twins, but in court the two men refused to tell which was which on charges of robbery. They even fooled their own lawyer.

A San Antonio, Texas, policeman was investigating a burglary at a home. The watchdog bit him three times. In St. Joseph, Mo., the sheriff's office was broken into and the cornerstone to the old jail taken.

There's no accounting for tastes, and some of 1950's criminals had odd cravings in loot. A St. Louis, Mo., man stole a stocking off a pretty blonde's leg, while she was in it. In Long Beach, Calif., a "friendship" club reported to police that a file was stolen, which contained the names, addresses, telephone numbers and physical specifications of several hundred lonely women.

Buys Alarms
A Buffalo, N. Y., salesman bought two burglar alarms for his home. Before he could get them installed, they were stolen. Angry burglars who found only $1 in an office left with the electric-eye alarm that was supposed to have kept them out.

Some foot-pads in London broke into a hotel and broke out again with 4,800 cigarettes, 140 bottles of liquor, a radio and the hotel watchdog. A Newark, N. J., pawnshop was robbed of $15,000 in cash and the proprietor's pants.

As for alibis, 1950's crop of crooks had some whoppers. A burglar in Washington, D. C., explained his crime was merely to raise money so he could pay his attorney so he could be kept out of the jug. And a man in Knoxville, Tenn., was arrested for stealing a 100-pound sack of flour. "Somebody must have put it on my back," he said.

up artist in Detroit whipped out his gun to impress a store cashier. But all he succeeded in doing was to shoot himself in the foot.

A London thief was making his getaway. He jumped into a taxi—only it wasn't a taxi at all—it was a police car. Three young robbers in Chicago made off with $27 from a grocery store. One of them forgot his bicycle in his rush to get away. The bike was worth more than $27.

Some burglars out in Spokane, Wash., were anxious to enter a laundry, for nefarious purposes. They broke through a window and were apparently so badly cut that all they swiped was some bandages from a first aid kit.

Gives It Up
In Texas, a burglar tried some large-scale larceny in Houston and this is what happened: he tried to open a cash register, but couldn't; he tried to open a cigarette machine,

Shortages Bring On Scrap Metal Thefts

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—Shortage of raw materials sorely needed for defense has caused a wave of scrap metal thefts in Western Germany.

German police records list thousands of thefts of scrap bars, tin, zinc, copper and lead. The thieves are spurred by rising prices offered by scrap dealers. Even the youngsters are getting into the mad hunt for metal. Police blame most minor thefts on children, some as young as seven years. They say the children often are encouraged by their parents.

Hyderabad Funds Sought By India

NEW DELHI—(AP)—The Government of India is considering measures to recover $4,600,000 left in the Pakistan branch of the Hyderabad Bank at the time of the Indian police action in September, 1948.

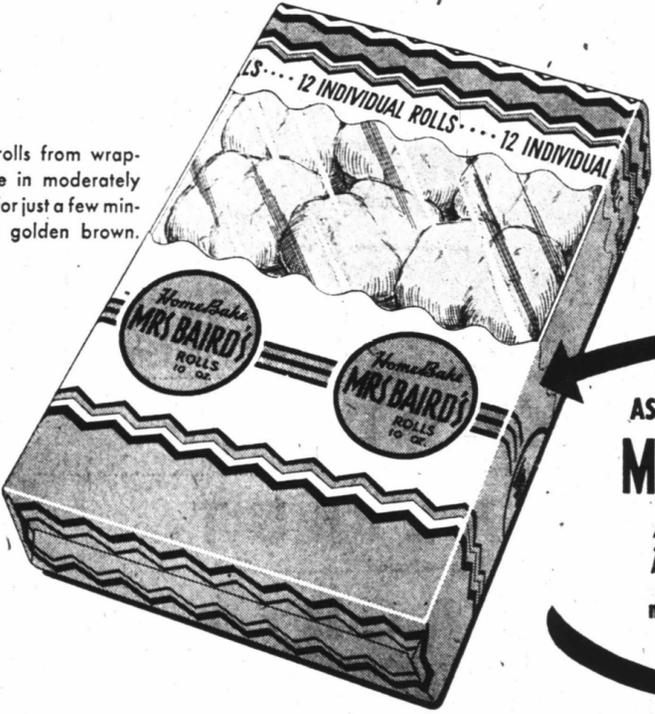

Acting States Minister N. G. Ayangar told questioners in Parliament the money was withdrawn by the then agent-general of Hyderabad in Karachi. The Pakistan Government when approached by the Government of India replied it did not recognize India's status in Hyderabad.

Fruit, Rice Cereal Ring Make Washington's Birthday Treat

RED AND WHITE dessert for Washington's Birthday is served with blue glass candlesticks on the table.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

How does this sound for Washington's birthday dinner—delicate rice cereal ring filled with bright red strawberries or red maraschino cherries and other fruit, with blue glass candlesticks on the table.

Rice Ring Mold With Fruit

Three cups pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup granulated rice cereal. Place pineapple juice, sugar and salt in saucepan. Bring to boil. Sprinkle in rice cereal so water does not stop boiling. Let cook about one minute, stirring constantly.

Lower heat and let cook five minutes. Stir well and pour into lightly oiled 3-cup ring mold. Cover tightly with wax paper and chill until firm.

When ready to serve, unmold on cold platter and fill center with pineapple wedges and fresh or frozen strawberries, or with sliced bananas and red maraschino cherries.

NOTE: If frozen strawberries are used, let them only partially thaw. Serve with this lemon sauce.

Lemon Sauce

One-half cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, dash of salt and dash of nutmeg, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind.

Blend in small saucepan sugar, cornstarch, salt and nutmeg. Add water and bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add butter, lemon juice and rind. Remove from heat and serve cool.

WOUNDED MARINES BEGIN HOMEWARD FLIGHT—An ambulance on a makeshift airstrip in Korea unloads wounded and frostbitten men to be air-transported to well-equipped hospitals. Crane County Will Get Public Library

CRANE—The Crane County commissioners voted at a recent meeting to establish the first county library in the history of Crane County.

The library will be located in the west wing of the Community Hall at an estimated cost of $7,000, which includes supplies, furniture and equipment.

The American Seating Company submitted the low bid for necessary furniture, $1,185, and the Red Bluff Lumber Company was awarded the contract for shelving and other facilities for $990.65.

Members of the Crane Study Club attended the meeting of the commissioners. Establishment of the library is the club's "project of the year."

Eyes Are Offered To Blind Official

CAIRO—An Egyptian law student has offered his eyes to replace those of Education Minister Taha Hussein Pasha, who has been totally blind since early childhood.

The student is Abdel Hadi Heikal, who is enrolled at Egyptian University's School of Law. Friends of the blind minister say the offer probably will be turned down with thanks. A similar offer came from a Spanish student during the minister's recent trip through Europe.

Taha Hussein Pasha is Egypt's most prominent writer and scholar despite his handicap. His crusade to spread education in Egypt has won him great popular support.

The population of the United States increased by 25,000,000 in 1950.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

A reader from Portland, Ore., writes "I suppose it is silly to bother you with a simple question like this. Still we have been arguing about it and getting nowhere fast. Here is the situation. Both sides need fifty. The up card is a four spot. You are the first player and after drawing hold joker-ace-king-10-7-7-6-5-4-2. We are agreed that the correct play is to meld joker-7-7-7. However, our question is, What is the correct discard?"

I must say that this is not a question to tear down houses over. The first discard can't be very important. However, I definitely recommend not throwing away the fourspot. There is a very good chance that the man to your right will select a four as one of his early discards.

If he does you can use your four and one remaining deuce to get the discard pile. In choosing between the other single cards I have a slight preference for throwing the ace. A lot of players just hang on to aces like grim death and I am less likely to have an ace discarded to me than some other card.

While my reader and his friends all agree that it is correct to meld joker-7-7-7 with this hand I will say this much. It is correct in the ordinary canasta game to meld joker-7-7-7 most of the time. Furthermore, if you do make this meld you should get into no trouble.

The worst that can happen to you will be that the opponents will get control of the discard pile and be able to make two or three canastas before you go out. On the other hand there is little chance of your winding up with a big score if you start with this meld. Even though you get the discard pile you will find that the opponents will get together and meld out before you succeed in capitalizing greatly on your good fortune.

Will Freeze Pack

Furthermore, if you are playing against opponents who like to enter into an all out fight for the discard pile, they will freeze the pack against you immediately and you will have little or no chance of getting it. Of course your partner may crash through but there will be two of them working against one of him.

Accordingly I will not meld automatically with this hand though I will most of the time. Furthermore, if I choose not to meld I may throw one of my three sevens as bait.

Finally, if I decide to meld with this hand I might meld joker-king-10 and either discard one of my sevens as bait or hold the three sevens in case I may want to play for a quick out.

Serve Egg Noodles On Meatless Days

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

To eat well for less on days without meat, try these two combinations of egg noodles with nuts and canned fish.

Noodles Amantine
(Makes 4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces egg noodles, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 3/4 cup blanched almonds, slivered, 1/4 cup butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup cream or undiluted evaporated milk, 1 cup milk, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, white pepper, freshly ground, 1/3 cup grated American cheese.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add egg noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. While noodles are cooking, melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a small pan over low heat. Add slivered almonds and saute until golden brown.

In a saucepan, melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine over low heat. Add flour, blending well; simmer 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in cream or evaporated milk and plain milk slowly; add seasonings; simmer until sauce is thickened.

Combine sauce with cooked noodles and half of the almonds.

NOODLES WITH ALMONDS adds distinction at low cost to meatless meals. It requires little cooking skill.

Mix together remaining slivered almonds and grated cheese; sprinkle across top of casserole in diagonal lines. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 minutes.

Tuna Noodle Custard
(Makes 4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces egg noodles, 1 seven-ounce can tuna fish, flaked, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1 cup lukewarm water, 3 slightly beaten eggs, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/8 teaspoon thyme.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add egg noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Drain in colander. Mix remaining ingredients; add cooked noodles, stirring gently but well. Pour into a greased 2-quart casserole. Cover and place in a pan of hot water.

Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until firm. Serve with mushroom sauce made by heating a 10 1/2-ounce can of mushroom soup with 1/2 cup milk and 1 tablespoon butter.

For a new salad combination add diced oranges and onion to shredded cabbage; mix with a well-seasoned mayonnaise-type dressing. Garnish with water cress if it is available.

City Of Midland Activities Detailed In Monthly Report

The first of a series of detailed reports on activities of Midland's city government has been submitted to members of the City Council.

The report, explained City Manager W. H. Oswald, "is submitted in order to provide a practical means of keeping the City Council well informed on more of the details of our activities."

"If this report is helpful, it will be presented each month."

The report skipped through the activities of the various departments.

It pointed out that 29 fire runs were made by the Fire Department during January, with a total insured fire loss of $1,097. Five runs were made outside the city.

"Most of these fires," reported Oswald, "resulted from playing with matches, from defective wiring and from smoking."

New Street Signs

He reported 49 new street signs were installed and six miles of pavement covered in the program of sealing pavement cracks.

Bids have been advertised for a water extension project in Haley Heights and Midland Heights and all pipe and fittings for this project are on hand.

He pointed out that during January 142 building permits were issued for construction to cost $1,478,000.

In the water department, 108 water taps and 40 sewer taps were made. A total of 87 water meters were installed and a similar number of water meters overhauled.

"Water and sewer line extensions continued with approximately two miles of water and one mile of sewer line laid. Active water accounts increased by 78, bringing the total to 5,398."

He also reviewed the activities of the Police Department, pointing out that since October 1, 1950, operating costs have been approximately $30,000 with stolen property recovered during that time amounting to $36,000.

Fire Station Plans

Plans and specifications for the new fire stations are 90 per cent complete.

The new lighting system at the Midland Air Terminal is approximately 65 per cent complete and plans are being made for a lighted sign at the Terminal entrance.

He said the air lines emanated 1,020 passengers and deplaned 6,299. Approximately two square miles were annexed to the city.

Ad valorem taxes collected amounted to $118,308 to bring the year's total to $369,515.

"This represents approximately 85 per cent of the present tax roll," said Oswald.

"Actual expenditures for the month of January as compared with budget estimates for the month show an over expenditure of approximately $1,900. Since the beginning of the fiscal year a surplus in actual expenditures as compared with estimated expenditures in the amount of approximately $19,000 exists."

KNIGHTLY BATTLE CRY

In heraldry, the motto expresses a principle or explains the coat-of-arms, crest or badge which it accompanies and originally was the battle cry of the knight to whom it belonged.
