Watchdog Committee

The Johnson Senate Preparedness Committee is proving itself a fit successor to the famous Truman Committee which investigated the war effort in World War II.

Its recent report assailing Air Force management at Lackland Air Base, near San Antonio, is a hard-hitting document but an eminently fair one. It shows the committee's ability to move into a confused situation and come up with facts, not wild charges or hysteria.

The best evidence that the committee investigators did a good job is perhaps the fact that the Air Force did not bound back with claims that the senators had overshot the mark. Air Force spokesmen in effect acknowledged the merit of the criticisms, and promised the bad practices would not be allowed to recur.

When Johnson's committee stepped in, rumors were afloat that Lackland was guilty of such overcrowding that suicides, deaths from pneumonia, poor food and medical care and other sub-standard conditions were the rule.

The chairman, Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, sent four investigators to the scene. They didn't content themselves with talking to top officials and touring the base. They put on Air Force uniforms and lived among the recruits.

They found the tales of sub-standard health conditions almost completely unfounded. Only two deaths had occurred in 18 months: Food and medical care were good.

But the overcrowding proved no myth. At a base, designed for 20,000 men, they found upwards of 68,000. tion. The really grim result of this was not bad health but a virtually complete breakdown of basic Air Force training. They judged the manpower waste to be tremendous.

For this they blamed the Air Force's "greedy" policy of trying to get its hands on more men than it could possibly train with existing base facilities. The committee two sections of the saw it as a bald effort to heard manpower.

The investigators also singled out for special censure chiefly a Mohammedan country - 100 Bulgar prisoners in a diminutive albania for the other. In keeping with its attitude of fairness, the committee does not propose to stop with this inquiry. Having disclosed these practices in the Air Force, it now intends to look into basic training programs of the Army and Navy with the passion of Pennsylvania's with the passion of Pennsylvania's bound represented Alto see how thy're handling their recruits.

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service When today's hand was played in a recent tournament, South felt justified in sacrificing at four spades when his opponents three no-trump. He was right in supposing that East would have made three no-trump. Since that was worth 600 points, South hoped that he could get away with a loss of only 500 points at four spades. The defenders, who were exced tournament players, saw that they had been robbed of a chance to score 600 points. It would do them little good to collect 500 from South. Hence they went out to collect 700 points. West began by cashing the king and jack of diamonds. East discarded the deuce of clubs on the

First competition for Midland in the tournament will come at 1:30 p.m. Friday, when the Engineers vie with Texarkana. The teams reaching the finals must play three games Friday and two games Saturday. In the upper bracket, teams entering are Checker Cab of San Angelo. The lower bracket teams are Port Arthur, Fort Worth, Houston, San Benito, Dallas, Galveston, Baytown, Spearman, Waco and Lufkin. Line Joins Team

Rotary will depend on the old reliable combination of Bennie Rutherford, J. B. Collins and Leland Huffman, plus the services of Jim Line, former Kentucky University great. The Spring of the year and sunny days always will bring out bugs from their hiding places where they slept all Winter. Anyway, Eany Meany was back again. He had slipped through a crack in the door to go in Daddy Ringtail's kitchen there at the monkey house.

Said Eany Meany to himself: "I'm the eaniest, and the meanest somebody in the whole forest!" He was, too, and he laughed his eaniest and meaniest laugh. He was looking at a plate of scrambled coconut cookies on the table.

SWEET-SOUR PORK-With pork on the market in good supply, now's the time to serve it in a variety of interesting ways. Economical pork shoulder is used in this good tasting sweet-sour pork dish. To prepare: Cut one pound lean pork shoulder into onehalf-inch cubes and brown in a little hot fat. Sprinkle well with salt and pepper, and one cup buillon and cook slowly, covered, for 20 minutes. Add two medium green peppers cut into one-inch pieces, three tablespoons chopped onion and four slices pineapple cut into eighths. Cook another 10 minutes. Mix three tablespoons cornstarch with one-fourth cup sugar, one-fourth cup vinegar, two teaspoons soy sauce and one-half cup sirup from canned pineapple. Add to pork mixture. Stir constantly until thickened, cook five minutes longer and add salt and pepper to taste. Serve in individual rice rings or nests of boiled rice.

SAUSAGE-PINEAPPLE DINNER - The popularity of sausage links and patties for breakfast is an accepted fact. Sausage served for dinner can provide some interesting main dishes, too, and will help to keep the food budget in line. One happy way to serve pork sausage patties for dinner is in combination with pineappel slices. Form two pounds bulk pork sausage into eight flat patties, a little larger than pineapple slices. Partially cook patties in a skillet, browning lightly with prepared mustard and place in an oblong shallow baking dish. On the slices lay the sausage cakes. Bake in a 250 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Baste once or twice during cooking with a little pineapple sirup. Serves four.
