New Oil Reported In SE Midland Wildcat

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Sam R. Preston, Southeast Midland County wildcat flowed 30.36 barrels of new oil and no water in seven hours through a three-eighth inch tubing choke, with gas-oil ratio of 790-1. It was still flowing to clean out and test and try to complete as a producer and a new discovery from the Spraberry.

The oil is coming from perforated intervals at 7,098-7,106 feet; at 7,114-36 feet, and at 7,134-48 feet. The well flowed out 73 barrels of load oil in 17 hours, through a three-eighth inch choke, and then flowed the 30.36 barrels of new oil in the seven-hour period.

Bridge plug is set at 7,210 feet, inside the casing which was cemented at 7,220 feet. The project drilled to a bottom of 7,244 feet. It tested the section between 7,220 feet and 7,244 feet and failed to develop any possibilities of production.

Operators then set the bridge at 7,210 feet. Water intrusion from up the hole was shut off by squeezing cement back of the casing and then the sections from which the oil is now coming were perforated.

The perforated intervals were Hydrafraced.

Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 14, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Ellenburger Flow Gauged In Fisher

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 M. A. Glass, Southwest Fisher County wildcat, less than one-half mile east of the Scurry County line, was reported by unofficial sources to have flowed oil at the rate of 90 barrels per hour from the Ellenburger at 7,279-7,337 feet. The flow came during a one hour and 30 minute drillstem test. Gas surfaced in six minutes. Oil started flowing in one hour and five minutes and it flowed for 25 minutes at the 90 barrel per hour rate.

Operator then closed the tool and was preparing to come out with the drill pipe. No water was reported with the oil according to preliminary information from the prospector.

The project topped the Ellenburger at 7,204 feet. It ran a five hour drillstem test at 7,281-7,313 feet. Gas showed at the surface in 10 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the tool was open.

Recovery was 1,880 feet of oil and 570 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud. There was no water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 480 pounds.

Operator then cored to 7,327 feet and ran the drillstem test where it is reported to have flowed.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 246, block 3, H&C survey. That makes it about one-half mile east of Pylon, which is on the Fisher-Scurry line.

SW Martin Tester High On Devonian

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 2-E-B Glass, Southwest Martin County wildcat, 12 miles north of Midland and 18 miles west of Stanton has found the Devonian high, and is making more hole.

This prospector topped the Devonian at 11,550 feet, to give it a datum of minus 8,978 feet. That makes it 118 feet high on the top of the Devonian to the same marker in Gulf's No. 1-B Glass, which is 2,950 feet to the south and west.

No. 1-B Glass drilled in the Ellenburger. It had shows of oil in the Pennsylvania. In the Devonian and in the Ellenburger, but none of those sections carried enough petroleum to make an oil well.

It was plugged back and completed as a discovery from the Spraberry sand.

Gulf No. 2-E-B Glass is making hole below 11,616 feet in Devonian lime. It has not stopped to test since it entered the current formation.

Location is 662 feet from south and 670 feet from east lines of section 12, block 39, T-1-N, T&P survey. It is projected to the Ellenburger.

This exploration has already shown for flowing oil in the Pennsylvania.

Potential Scheduled For Glasscock Test

Fred M. Allison and associates No. 2 Judkins-Walton, two miles south of the southeast side of the Tex-Harvey field in Central-West Glasscock County kicked off after the open hole at 6,896-7,207 feet had been swabbed, and flowed 21 barrels of oil in the first hour through a one-quarter inch tubing choke.

Interested observers said the fluid was all new oil. The extender was to flow until thoroughly cleaned out and the potential test was to be taken and the well was to be put on regular production.

Meat Ceilings Due By Mid-April, Says One OPS Expert

WASHINGTON —(P)—Fixing of dollars and cents ceiling prices on steak and pork chops by mid-April is the target at which government price experts aimed Tuesday.

Frankly acknowledging the meat price and supply situation is their No. 1 problem, Office of Price Administration (OPA) experts are working feverishly on a solution.

Both Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston and Price Director Michael V. Disalle have said the ceilings will be ordered as soon as possible. But they haven't given any indication as to the probable date.

One OPS meat expert said, however, he didn't think he was being too optimistic in making the mid-April forecast.

First Absentee School Ballot Cast

One absentee ballot has been cast in the school board election, County Clerk Lucille Johnson reported Tuesday.

She said the deadline for absentee voting is next Tuesday.

Deadline for absentee voting in the city election is Friday, and City Secretary J. C. Hudman reported four ballots have been cast.

Father Is Slain, Mother Missing, Young Baby Safe

RIVERSIDE, CALIF.—(P)—Search was intensified Tuesday for a pretty young mother because of fears she may have been kidnapped by her husband's slayer.

Mrs. Doris Trask Cook, 18, has not been seen since the body of her 18-year-old husband, Richard Cook, was found on a lonely road Monday. Their eight-month-old baby was playing happily on a blanket near the body of the father, who had been shot to death, when the tragedy was discovered.

Police continued to question Sgt. Lawrence J. Walker, 20, a negro of March Air Force Base here who was booked on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon. He carried a stolen .45 caliber pistol, police said.

The Air Force sergeant was questioned three hours Monday night and Sheriff's Officer W. W. Walrath, chief criminal deputy, said he insisted he knew nothing of the case. After the questioning, a sheriff's posse left at midnight to search the area where the car was found, 10 miles south of here.

So the City Council probably will decide Tuesday night whether to go ahead at the higher cost, call for a re-advertisement of bids or seek other means of building the two stations.

Actually the present City Council is scheduled to hold one more regular meeting two weeks from Tuesday but that session probably will be devoted to canvassing next week's city election returns, and welcoming the new councilmen into office.

Three of the council terms expire and only Councilman Frank Shriver is seeking reelection. The other two, whose terms are drawing to a close, are W. F. Hejl and H. E. Chiles, Jr.

City Council Faces Fire House Decision At Tuesday Session

The present City Council, for all practical purposes, will hold its last regular meeting Tuesday night. And its members will be faced with the tough decision of what to do about two proposed fire stations for the city.

Bids on the construction of the two stations were received last week but the lowest one submitted was 50 per cent higher than the expected cost of the projects.

So the City Council probably will decide Tuesday night whether to go ahead at the higher cost, call for a re-advertisement of bids or seek other means of building the two stations.

Only Four Days Left To Purchase 1951 Auto Plates

Midland County motorists have only four more days in which to purchase 1951 automobile license tags.

The deadline is Saturday and County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed said Tuesday his office will stay open as late as necessary on that day.

After that date an automatic 20 per cent penalty will be imposed on late purchasers.

Long lines were on hand Tuesday to purchase tags.

Two Men Die When Truck Crashes, Burns

TENNESSEE, COKE COUNTY —(P)—A Coke County rancher and a man he had given a ride burned to death Monday night when their pickup truck rammed a bridge two miles north of here.

HOUSTON—(P)—An entire family of four was reported overcome, presumably by gas, at their home here Tuesday. Several ambulances and two police cars were dispatched to the scene by police.

LONDON —(P)—Diplomatic officials here Tuesday reported that United Nations governments with forces in Korea are considering a new offer to Red China to negotiate a settlement.

Tax Drive Aimed At Gamblers

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Treasury advised Senate crime investigators Tuesday it is setting up a special fraud section to check on the income tax returns of gamblers and racketeers.

Secretary Snyder sent to the committee a pledge of a continuing drive to bring "chiselers to justice." His statement was presented by Edward Foley, undersecretary of the Treasury.

Snyder said there has not been and will not be any letup in the Internal Revenue Bureau's warfare "against major league criminals." He noted it was the income tax men who bagged the late Scarface Al Capone, Chicago gang overlord of the prohibition era.

George J. Schoeneman, commissioner of Internal Revenue, followed up Snyder's statement with testimony that his agents now are investigating almost 2,500 tax cases "in the criminal area."

Decision Due Friday

Foley, Schoeneman and other Treasury officials testified at the committee's last hearing before the scheduled windup of their investigation at the end of this week.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) said the group will decide on Friday what further action to take against three defiant witnesses who already are under $10,000 bond each for contempt.

The three are Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf, both of Cleveland, described by the committee as top-rank gamblers, and Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Gusk, Chicago Capone gangster. All refused to answer questions.

Kefauver said Kleinman, Rothkopf and Gusk automatically will face contempt charges. He said the possibility of asking the Senate to order them to jail immediately is being studied.

Volunteer Senator Tobey (R-NH) saw in the defiance of the trio another cogent reason for continuing the work of the committee beyond its deadline of Saturday.

Chinese Mass In Red North As UN Troops Near Line

TOKYO—(P)—American troops fought through a Chinese regiment Tuesday on the western front in a slow advance toward the Red Korean border. They killed 350 Communists.

Nearby, another U. S. unit battled three battalions of rear-guard Chinese. By late Tuesday afternoon, the Americans had squeezed the Reds into a trap. United Nations warplanes dropped surrender leaflets.

An American division staff officer said he did not believe the Chinese would put up another major stand south of Parallel 38, but added: "I think if we hit them above the parallel, we'll find them fighting like sons of guns."

Elements of six Chinese armies were reported massing just north of the border. A report said Reds' defense positions were built about two miles north of the parallel.

The Chinese 26th Army Corps has pulled back across the Imjin River.

An American spokesman said the Chinese regiment mauled by the Americans Tuesday was part of the 77th Division. He said the division no longer could be regarded as an "effective, organized fighting force."

Planes Support Action

On the American's left flank, South Korean troops were within five miles of the parallel in force. They dug in along the Imjin River east of Munsan.

Allied planes Tuesday supported western front ground action. They hit gun positions, pillboxes, tanks and vehicles.

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(P)—A single-engine Navion plane piloted by Dan Stansell of Medford, Ore., was reported missing Tuesday on a flight from Tucson to El Paso, Texas.

It is not known how many passengers Stansell had with him.

Andrew Ross, CAA communications operator as Tucson, said the plane took off at 4:12 p.m. (MST) and should have arrived at El Paso about 7 p.m. Monday.

Fear that the plane may have crashed in the Dragon Mountains near Benson, 48 miles east of Tucson, was expressed when C. L. Leonard of Baldwin, Calif., reported he saw a plane come out of a low cloud in a spin and disappear behind a hill.

Crime Panel Seeks Grand Jury Action

AUSTIN—(P)—The House Crime Committee Tuesday recommended that Mickey Cohen's failure to appear be certified to the district attorney for grand jury action.

It was a prelude to a possible citation for contempt of the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature.

Efforts of Cohen and other out-of-state operators to take control of organized crime in Texas were related to the House committee as it began its session without Cohen.

State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., said Cohen tried to muscle in on the "wire rackets and bookie services" at Houston in July, 1950.

Attorney General Price Daniel told the committee the big national syndicates want to take over book-making, the numbers racket and slot machines here.

Committee Chairman Fred Merdith said a man identifying himself as Cohen called him from Santa Monica, Calif., between 2:15 and 2:20 a.m. and said he did not now have the money to come to Texas.

Maybe Friday, Monday

"He asked for the privilege of appearing later," Merdith said.

"He said he had some pending deals and if they went through he might be able to get here Friday or Monday.

"I explained the law and he said he understood it and the penalties. I told him as one member of the committee I did not think we could permit a witness to say when he (Continued On Page Nine)

Grand Jury Again Grills Ambassador

NEW YORK —(P)—Former Mayor William O'Dwyer had another date Tuesday with a Brooklyn grand jury probing alleged sleaze between racketeers and corrupt police.

O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico, spent four and one-half hours with the jury Monday. No official comments were made on his testimony.

While O'Dwyer was in Brooklyn, one of his long-time associates, James J. Moran, pleaded innocent to perjury charges stemming from testimony before the U. S. Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Moran Freed On Bail

Moran, who has been forced to resign a $15,000-a-year life-time city water commissioner post given him by O'Dwyer, was indicted by a federal grand jury on three charges of perjury.

Louis Weber, a former convict racketeer, also was indicted. Weber, who has been held on perjury charges for more than a week, also pleaded innocent.

Moran was released in $25,000 bail, while Weber remained in custody. His bail was increased from $15,000 to $20,000.

At the arraignment, Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard set Moran's trial for April 9. Moran faces a 15-year prison sentence and $6,000 fine if convicted on the three counts.

Weber's trial was set for April 18. He could go to prison for five years and be fined $2,000 if convicted.

O'Dwyer's grand jury appearance reportedly deals with police-protected rackets. O'Dwyer was Brooklyn district attorney before he was elected mayor in 1945.

The jury also is expected to ask O'Dwyer questions about his finances and about his investigation, while district attorney, of the Murder, Inc., mob.

Texas Drouth Seems Broken As Rainfall Spreads Over State

By The Associated Press

More big-money rain—up to 3.15 inches at Houston—fell on Texas Tuesday. For most of the state, the worst drouth in 40 years was over. It rained in the cotton country. Truck farmers in the Rio Grande Valley felt the moisture. And stockmen in the cattle country could see an end to expensive dry feeding of cattle caused by the drouth.

Houston was drenched with 3.15 inches in the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Abilene had 55 inch, Amarillo .10, Big Spring .03, El Paso .13, San Angelo .17, Lubbock .08, Childress .72, Junction .40.

Dallas had .39, Wichita Falls .35, Texarkana .73, Mineral Wells .57, Fort Worth .37 and Corsicana .80.

Austin had .74, San Antonio .70, Waco 1.54, Beaumont 1.97, Corpus Christi .06, Del Rio .21, Palestine .06, Galveston 1.83, Laredo .02, Victoria .38, Lufkin .78, Bryan .82 and Tyler .78.

For farmers the rains meant ground seasoning that would bring up planted small grains and cotton. Some farmers have been waiting for rain before planting.

The "million-dollar" showers began Saturday night and Sunday in South Texas and moved into Central Texas, East Texas and some points in West Texas Monday.

Farched Central Texas received its heaviest rains Monday since July 13, 1950.

Crime Probers Tell Of Threats On Lives

WASHINGTON —(P)—Three members of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee Tuesday disclosed they have received threats against their lives.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) said he had received "three different threats—two by letter and one by telephone."

"I thought them serious enough to have them looked into," Tobey added.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he, too, had received a number of threats "in crackpot letters."

"I've not taken any of them seriously," he added.

Senator Hunt (D-Wyo) said he received a letter warning him against "sticking my nose into other people's business" during public hearings at Miami, Fla., some time ago.

Tobey expressed surprise at a statement by his son, Charles W. Tobey, Jr., that the senator "without knowing it, has had protection 24 hours a day and protection will continue."

"I did not know that, although we had police protection during the New York hearings," Senator Tobey said.

Gaynor And Farrell Tell Why They'll Play 'Seventh Heaven'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—I've just had a peek at the red-hot love team that's about to make Dad reach out for Ma's hand and murmur, "Oh, you kid."
The big TV news: CBS brought Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell out of retirement to play "Seventh Heaven" in front of the mike.

Yep, Janet of the honeyed voice and Charles of the burning eyes gazed over the slate rooftops of Paris again and touched cheeks while the violin sobbed:
"I'm in heaven when I see you smile."
Smile for me, my Diane.

It's radio's declaration of war against TV, that's what it is. If TV can hold them in the front parlor with 15-year-old movies, radio can blast away with yesterday's marquee names.

I found Janet of the short, blonde hair and Charles, white-thatched and tanned, listening to a radio recording of the 1944 air version of "Seventh Heaven" done by Van Johnson and Jennifer Jones. As the record spun to an end, a press agent broke in to say that CBS was swamped with requests for tickets for their broadcast.

"People are dying to see you two," he said. "They're going nuts."
Janet winked at Charles.
"They just want to see how we're holding up," she wailed.

Why, I asked, had they come out of retirement for a radio show? Had the old acting bug bitten them again and were they about to bounce back on the screen?
No Screen Fever.

Janet tucked her shapely legs beneath her, wrinkled her nose the way she always did on the screen and said that she didn't think she wanted any part of pictures.
"When they asked me to do this," she explained, "I wanted to because it was 'Seventh Heaven' and that's all there is to it."

Charles nodded his head in agreement.
"Same here. I'm not doing it for money, you can bet. I wouldn't do it for 10 times what they're paying me. This is for Palm Springs and my Racquet Club." A thought suddenly came to him and he grinned.
"Maybe the ham is coming out in me. I don't know."

"Van's voice gets very high. If he had been an actor back in my day, they'd have made him keep his voice down. I talked like Van does. They accused me of being a soprano. They drove me crazy."

Janet and Charles talked about the pictures that had followed "Seventh Heaven" as co-starring vehicles under the old Fox banner.
"We were caught in the sound era," Charles said. "We made pictures and the studio didn't know what to do with them."
"We had a whistling scene in 'Street Angel,'" Janet remembered. "The picture was a silent but they put a real whistle sound in it when it was released. I didn't expect it and it gave me quite a turn."

Wasn't it true, I cautiously felt my way, that their fans were disappointed when they up and married other people instead of each other?
Charles looked at Janet and they both laughed.

"Janet had a beau and I had another girl," Charles said. "But Monday night was always our night together. We'd always go to the beach. Funny thing, Corinne Calvet and John Bromfield came down to the Racquet Club. John said he was a little boy back in those days and that he and his mother used to follow us around on the beach at night. What do you think of that?"

Correction, please.
The press agent asked if Charles had escorted Janet to the premiere of "Seventh Heaven."
"We went separately," Janet said.

"Oh, no we didn't."
"That's right, Janet. I took Gretia Nissen. But I took you to the premiere of 'Sunrise' a year later. A lot of people got mad at us about that."
Janet blushed and said:
"People were different then. They'd look at you in a way that had admiration in it. Much more than now. They'd see you and they'd go, 'Oh-hhh.' By that time you'd be gone."

What about the real lowdown on why they had quit pictures?
Charles said he had the Racquet Club at Palm Springs, a very profitable operation indeed. He was talked into a comeback. They gave him plots that Richard Arlen had done five times before. "My option wasn't picked up. If I'd have stuck it out and fought it, everything would have been all right. I just didn't bother."

"With me," Janet said, "it was simple. I had just felt that I had put in all those years and had given it everything I had. I wanted to know what another kind of life could be. It's hard for people to understand that you can stop."

"HOW I RELIEVE DISTRESS of MONTHLY FEMALE AILMENTS which make me so nervous several days before!"

Read why Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is 'the woman's friend'

"Almost every month I suffered from cramps, headache, or backache—due to female functional ailments. What bothered me most was that I'd start feeling so nervous, tense and strangely restless several days before my period.

"My druggist recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve this distress. He told me to take it regularly throughout the month to help build up resistance against such female misery. It tastes well in a little fruit juice. I must say Lydia Pinkham's Compound is simply wonderful and gives me amazing relief—not only from monthly pain but pre-period nervous tension and tired, dragged-out feelings of this nature. I urge every girl and woman troubled this way to try Pinkham's Compound."

P. S. Many women prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron. Handy to carry in purse.

German War Bride Loses Major Effort To Remain In U. S.

WASHINGTON —(P)— Mrs. Ellen Knauff, German war bride detained since 1948, has lost a major battle in her fight to win permanent residence in the United States. A special Immigration Service board of inquiry ordered the 36-year-old woman barred from the U. S. Tuesday after listening to testimony that she was a former Czechoslovak spy.

Mrs. Knauff said she would appeal the board's decision. Attorneys on both sides agreed the case may continue for many months. Mrs. Knauff is free under parole to her attorneys.

Two Czechs—one a former major in his country's mission in Frankfurt, Germany, and the other a former woman employe in the mission—testified Mrs. Knauff made periodic visits to the mission to give information. At the time, she was employed in the Civil Censorship Office of the U. S. Military Government.

Denies Spying

Mrs. Knauff denied she engaged in spying. She said she visited the mission every three months to get her Czech passport renewed.

But the board of inquiry ruled "that testimony has been offered that you served the Czech liaison mission as an espionage agent operating under the code name, Kobyla, and reporting on classified material of the civil censorship division and on a decoding machine of the U. S. armed forces."

Mrs. Knauff failed to controvert this testimony, the board held.

It then ruled she should be excluded from the United States on the grounds she would be likely to engage in activities which would be prohibited by the laws of the United States relating to espionage, sabotage, public disorder or in other activities subversive to the national interest.

Regent Says Ayres Will Not Be Fired

AUSTIN —(P)— The University of Texas economics professor accused by Rep. Marshall O. Bell of advocating socialism will not be fired, University of Texas Regent Claude Voyles of Austin said Tuesday.

Voyles is a member of the three-man committee named by the Board of Regents to make an investigation. The House called for the board to say whether Ayres would be retained.

The 10-day deadline for reporting to the House was passed Sunday, but University Chancellor James P. Hart said the regents' reply probably would not reach the House before Wednesday.

University President T. S. Painter is the third member of the committee directed by the regents to investigate the "truth or falsity" of statements attributed to Ayres. Bell told the House the statements indicated to him that Ayres advocates socialism.

Ayres denied the charge and said Bell's interpretation of what the professor has said in various speeches was a "misleading summary."

Nation's Crude Oil Output Dips Again

TULSA, OKLA. —(P)— Daily average production of domestic crude oil hit a 2,200-barrel slump during the week ended March 24, dropping to 3,983,975 barrels. The Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

Leading the decline were the Appalachian fields, down 2,475 barrels to 61,225 barrels, and Kansas, off 2,200 barrels to 314,600.

Topping the areas which reported increases were Colorado, up 2,800 barrels to 81,400, and Oklahoma, up 2,000 to 501,400.

Other gains were Indiana and Wyoming, each up 600 barrels to 27,200 and 193,900, respectively; California, up 500 to 966,800; Louisiana, 250 to 610,000; Nebraska, 200 to 10,400; and Arkansas, 50 to 78,950.

Production was unchanged in New Mexico, 141,000 barrels, and Texas, 2,616,550.

Small Oversight Flunks Student In Traffic Court Case

PITTSFIELD, MASS. —(P)— Eugene Peters, 21, of Ashtabula, Ohio, a law student at Butler University, "flunked" a course in district court Monday because of a small oversight.

The youth produced an involved mathematical formula designed to refute the testimony of police that he was driving 60 miles an hour. Judge Charles Albert interrupted presentation of the formula to ask:

"Just what is it your formula will prove?"

Peters replied: "It will prove that I was going 33 to 35 miles an hour, not 40 or 60."

"Well," replied the judge, "you've flunked this law course. $10 fine."

The oversight: the offense occurred in a 25-mile-an-hour speed limit zone.

PORT WORTH —(P)— Postal authorities here report that a 23-year-old Chinese American, former student of Wayland College in Plainview, Texas, is being held under $1,000 bond in New York on a federal charge of theft and forgery.

Hanson J. Wang, native of Chicago, is charged with cashing $2,500 in U. S. Postal Savings Certificates made out to William Chang, native of Chaing-Chow, Honan Province, China, a student at Wayland.

Chang told officials he had recovered $750 in cash, a 1948 automobile for which $1,200 was paid and some jade jewelry of unknown value.

Chang said he returned from a Christmas holiday visit in Waco to find his savings certificates, passports and other papers missing from his locker in Wayland College dormitory.

Postal authorities here said the saving certificates to which Chang's name was signed were cashed at the Plainview Post Office on December 23. The $2,500 was deposited in the Hale County State Bank and the account exhausted by a series of checks, to which Chang's name was signed.

Chang and Wang entered Wayland last Fall. Wang left school December 30.

Wang was arrested last Friday in New York. A hearing has been set for April 4.

Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman and M. G. White, solicitor of the Interior Department, are to testify in secret. The meeting originally was set for Tuesday but was postponed one day to accommodate federal officials who asked permission to give their views in opposition to the state ownership measure.

First Atomic Spy Trial In U. S. May Close Wednesday

NEW YORK —(P)—The nation's first atomic espionage trial neared an end Tuesday with an accused mother striving to refute the testimony of her own brother, a self-confessed spy for Soviet Russia. The women, Mrs. Ethel Rosenberg, 35, Monday denied her brother's allegations that she typed information on atomic research for her husband to turn over to Russian agents. She returned to the stand Tuesday. Ms. Rosenberg and her electrical engineer husband, Julius, 34, are on trial in federal court on charges of conspiring to commit wartime atomic espionage for Russia. Radar expert Morton Sobell, 33, also is a defendant. They face possible death penalties if convicted. Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman Monday told the jury, "This case may go to you sometime Wednesday afternoon." Earlier Mrs. Rosenberg took the witness stand in her own defense. Her main testimony was directed against her brother, David Greenglass, 29, who has pleaded guilty to the spy charge and awaits sentence. Greenglass has testified at the trial that he gave Rosenberg information on the atomic bomb obtained while Greenglass was an Army sergeant stationed at the Los Alamos, N. M., Atomic Project. He added that his sister typed the data and then turned it over to her husband for transmission to Russia. Mrs. Rosenberg, the mother of two children, followed her husband under cross examination his own denial of the charges.

The two were convicted of stomping to death a soft drink salesman on a Charleston street last July. Their defense attorney argued that they were too drunk to know what they were doing. Before he died in the chair, Burdette said: "I want to thank God for having saved me from sin." Painter said: "I have made peace with God and am prepared to go and meet him." They had embraced religion during their confinement, and were baptized at a public ritual in creek waters near Charleston.

K-Staters Slight Favorites To Trip Mighty Kentucky

MINNEAPOLIS—(P)—Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 ranking basketball team, meets Kansas State, the No. 4 team, Tuesday night in the Blue Grass State squad's drive to become the first to win three National Athletic Association championships.

Tuesday night's final, to follow a preliminary game between Oklahoma A&M and Illinois for third place, will be Kansas State's first shot at a title. And it appeared Jack Gardner's crew was all primed to make the most of it.

Gardner warned the team as it left Kansas City after winning the Western playoff over Oklahoma A&M by a very respectable score that it was not making the trip "for the buggy ride."

He has lived up to that promise by keeping close tab on the team's condition and exhorting them that "Kentucky can't be any tougher than any one of several teams we've met this year."

Members of the team themselves feel they've been working for the chance for some time and are determined to make the most of it.

On the other hand, Kentucky's coach, Adolph Rupp, the insurance-farmer-ex-school teacher, can be depended on to bring his squad to the floor of Williams Arena, on the University of Minnesota campus, in the best shape, both mentally and physically that is possible.

Rupp feels his team is tired from extensive travel.

"We haven't played a good game in the last nine times out," he said. "Let's hope that we come up with a good one against Kansas State."

Both teams have reported possibilities that one of their stars might not be available for full duty Tuesday night. Kentucky's ace forward, Cliff Hagan, showed up with a sore throat and a temperature of 99.3 Monday. He was ordered to bed under a doctor's care and treatment. Whether he can start won't be known until game time, Rupp said.

Kansas State's star guard and captain, Ernie Barrett, has a left shoulder injury suffered in the Western final and may not be up to playing a full game. In that case, a six-foot-tall, high-scoring sophomore, Bob Rousey, will be used by Gardner.

Kansas State, apparently on its substantial victory over Oklahoma A&M, the No. 2 ranking team, and its walloping of Illinois recently, was made a three to four-point favorite by Minneapolis oddsmakers.

That, Rupp said, was an unusual situation for his team because "it's the first time in my memory of 10 years or so that we'll go into a game the underdog."

A sellout crowd of more than 18,000 was expected to watch the games.

Collins died Sunday night of a heart ailment at the age of 63.

A mass will be said for Collins Wednesday in St. Martha's Catholic Church in Sarasota, Fla., where the Sox he helped gather, are training for the American League season.

Fulbright Blasts Athletic Policies Of U. S. Colleges

WASHINGTON —(P)—Senator William Fulbright (D-Ark) Tuesday accused the colleges of corrupting their "hired" athletes and student bodies with "the cynical, immoral doctrine that one must win at any cost."

He criticized the schools and their alumni alike, showering on them blame for the recent college basketball bribe scandals centered in New York.

The Arkansas senator charged colleges use "hired players," "make a mockery" of the whole spirit of amateur sports and must share the blame when scandal results.

A one-time college football star himself and later a university president, Fulbright spoke his views in a speech prepared for Senate delivery Tuesday.

"Our colleges, under extreme pressure from the alumni," Fulbright declared, "have become so intent upon winning football and basketball games that they use any means to gain their ends."

"They hire players who are not bona fide students," he said, "and thus make a mockery, a farce of the whole concept of amateur sport for the health and entertainment of our young men."

"They corrupt not only the hired players, but also the entire student body who learn from their elders the cynical, immoral doctrine that one must win at all costs.

"A by-product of this doctrine, the necessity for big money, leads naturally to betting and to the shocking episode of the widespread bribery of basketball players in New York."

He was president of the University of Arkansas from 1939 until 1941.

Colleges To Continue Garden Cage Contests

That was decided Monday when the presidents of Manhattan, New York University and St. John's University announced: "It is our firm conviction that college basketball can be played in the Garden without our student-players succumbing to corruption, as disclosed in the recent scandal."

BOSTON —(P)—Two men who played with him in the Philadelphia Athletics' astonishing $100,000 infield will be among the pallbearers Wednesday at the funeral of Edward Trowbridge (Ed) Collins, vice president of the Boston Red Sox.

They are John (Stuffy) McInnis, present Harvard coach who was the A's first baseman, and Jack Barry, Holy Cross coach who was the team's shortstop. Collins played second for that great club.

Will Harridge, American League president, will be a pallbearer and so will Tom Yawkey, who bought the Red Sox only on the condition Collins help him rebuild the team.

The others will be Joseph and Frank Stevens, lifelong friends of Collins, who are caterers at ball parks and race tracks.

Collins died Sunday night of a heart ailment at the age of 63.

A mass will be said for Collins Wednesday in St. Martha's Catholic Church in Sarasota, Fla., where the Sox he helped gather, are training for the American League season.

"We've driven our 5 Dodge cars over a million miles"

Says GEORGE GILL, Taxicab Fleet Operator, Red Bank, New Jersey "When five standard Dodge sedans cover a million miles you begin to realize what Dodge dependability means. Four of our Dodges are still going strong. One, after 400,000 miles, was finally retired from service. All those miles were safe, dependable, comfortable miles for our passengers—amazingly economical and trouble-free miles for us."

Depend on it! This great new Dodge will see you thru the long pull ahead!

IN TIMES like these, it pays to own a car you know is engineered through and through to stand up better, serve you longer at lower cost. That's why we suggest you drive the car whose reputation for dependability... for long life, ruggedness and stamina is recognized the world over.

Styled to the minute, extra roomy with wonderful new "watchtower" visibility, more comfortable to ride in, easy to park and handle—this year's great new Dodge is the car to see you through the long pull ahead.

Spend 5 Minutes With Us Come in today. Five minutes is all it takes to check and compare... to learn how much more Dodge dependability can mean to you. We'll be glad to show how you could pay up to $1,000 more for a car and still not get all the extra-room, ease of handling and rugged dependability of today's big Dodge.

LONGER BRAKE LIFE! Big Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes stop you smoothly, softly, safely. Easier on you. Easier on tires. Cyclebond linings last up to twice as long.

DEFIES ALL WEATHER! Water-tight, dust-tight sealing keeps you snug and dry... the engine purring. Body is insulated against heat in summer... cold in winter.

Doering Crashes Big Time

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(AP)—The 1951 Winter tour of professional golf will be remembered as one on which three professionals crashed into the important money for the first time.

Latest to turn the trick was Arthur Doering, who won the $10,000 Greensboro Open Monday with 279. Earlier on the tour Texan Chuck Klein scored his first major victory in the Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen, Texas, and Marty Furgol, Long Beach, Calif., came up with his first big one at Houston. Thus, of 12 major open tournaments this year, three have gone to first-timers.

Jim Ferrier, the big Australian who lives in San Francisco, finished second Monday. Previously, he had won three straight PGA tournaments.

Ferrier's hot final 67 gave him par 284 and second money of $1,400. The check pushed him into first place among the year's money winners with $9,522.50. Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago dropped into second place with $8,611.33 after finishing tied for eleventh at 292, good for $285.

EASTER BACK AGAIN

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(AP)—Luke Easter returns to first base Tuesday for the Cleveland Indians. The big righthanded swinger hasn't seen action since he hurt an elbow three weeks ago.

King's Row

By LARRY KING

Gus Pena, outfielder with the Midland Indians in 1948, is the baseball equivalent of "Harvey," it seems.

At least, he hasn't been noticed at the Indian Spring baseball camp in Monroe, La.

Roundman Harold Webb reports Pena hasn't arrived for the drills. He was supposed to have been in camp March 10.

To top it off, no one knows the whereabouts of said Pena.

Oklahoma City Manager Tommy Tatum has looked at Midland Pitcher Eddie Jacobs for a couple of weeks now and likes what he has seen.

In fact, he desires to have Jacobs on his ball club.

But Jacobs was purchased outright by Webb and H. W. Donohoo, therefore the Oakie team has no strings on him.

And we understand the classy hurler isn't for sale.

Rumors—yet unconfirmed—have it that Sam Van Hooser again is thinking of returning to baseball.

Sam was quite a twirler for the Indians in 1948—the year they won the pennant.

Van Hooser wants to play for Midland again, if you can believe what you hear. He has been living in Midland since he dropped out of the baseball picture.

Lamesa, as far as we know, still owns Van Hooser's contract. He did not report to the Lobo club after being sold to that West Texas-New Mexico team by the Indians.

Warren Sitter will be around to try and give Midland the business again.

The Sweetwater Swatter first sacker, now living here, hasn't yet inked with Harriman's forces, but will do so before long.

Sitter expects to sign when the Sweetwater club begins its Spring grind April 1.

Sweetwater sports scribe Bud Worham reported awhile back Sitter was "near terms" with the club.

Baseball news should pick up soon. The Indians are due to break camp and be back here about April 5—that's just slightly more than a week away.

The Indians will go through the remainder of their training in Indian Park.

Eddie Melillo, infielder, and Jim Prince, first baseman, probably will join the team here at that time. Webb is expected to bring some new faces, too.

Odesa item: From the Oilers camp at Mondo, Spec Gammon reports the Odesa pitching staff is far from satisfactory.

And in a couple of exhibition games with Abilene, he proved to be correct.

Oboy, oboy!

DOTS AND DASHES: Three MHS tracksters were in the Blue Bonnet Relay finals at Brownwood. . . In addition to W. H. Black, who was in a four-way first place tie for pole vault honors, Roy Kimsy qualified in the 220-yard dash and Jack Burris was in the 400-yard finals. . .

Some fans say Kimsy looked as if he sneaked in for fourth in the finals, but he was tabbed fifth by officials. . . Attention, softball managers: A new arrival in Midland, Glenn Brown, wants to play somewhere, he says. . . He may be reached at telephone No. 1080. . . Outfielder or infielder, he relates. . . A quote from San Angelo scribe Hugh Welch is worth a second look: "Lew Lozano has been signed as a rookie pitcher by the San Angelo Colts. He has eight or nine years of baseball experience. . . Whaaaat? . . . Veddly confounding. . . Arthur Adams, Little Leaguer here, was very upset," we hear, about something we said about him while back.

We reported Adams weighed "75 pounds if you don't watch the scales too closely." . . . Arthur insists he weighs 85 pounds. . . Guess we didn't watch 'em close enough, eh Art? . . . Duane Grissett, TCU end, was visiting his parents here during Easter holidays. . . Duane played his high school football at Mineral Wells. . . Brother Bill performed with Midland the last couple of years, though injuries sidelined him almost all of last season. . . Odesa writers still are upset about Tug, Red and Audrey buying that boys camp. . . Shux, why doesn't Joe Coleman jar loose and buy one if he's so concerned? . . . Don't tell us the University of Odesa doesn't pay him well enough. . . We happen to know better. . . Coming events slate: Booster meeting Tuesday night, Softball confab Wednesday night, Lone Star League meet Thursday night, West Texas Relays in Odesa Friday and Saturday. . . Texas Tech coaches here before Tech exes Saturday night also. . . Oughta keep us busy. . . End of the Row for now!

Election Of New Officials On Tap For Booster Club

New officials will be elected by Midland Bulldog Booster club members at a meeting Tuesday night in the Midland High School gym. President Russell Cotton has urged that all members attend the meeting to insure a large vote.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

Cotton said a committee headed by Stanley Erskine has been working on a group of candidates and Boosters may vote for them for any members they desire.

After the election period, Midland coaches will report briefly on the athletic program in the high school.

Pro Football Boss Works Out Three Schedules For '51

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — National Football League owners viewed the outcome Tuesday of 400 hours of moving dominoes.

And if the operators of the play-for-pay circuit don't like the results obtained by Commissioner Bert Bell, they can play with the dominoes themselves.

The owners or their representatives were in town to adopt a 1951 schedule.

"I've figured out 20 schedules by moving the dominoes," said Bell. "But 17 of them I wouldn't show to anybody and I don't think one of them is fair and just to everybody."

Bell made it clear he has no intention of forcing his ideas on the owners, although he considers three of the schedules as fair as possible.

"If they don't like any that I have worked out, I'll turn the dominoes over to them and say 'Go to work.'"

He figures he has overcome the objection of George Halas, Chicago Bears, to making an annual trip to play the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers.

He's done this by arranging for each club to play every other team in the opposite division at least once every four years.

Jim Thorpe To Sport New Face

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Jim Thorpe, considered the world's greatest athlete of his day, wants to look as young as he feels. So he's having his face lifted.

So says his wife, Patricia, in announcing that the new Thorpe physiognomy will be unveiled April 14, when Jim will be guest of honor at a Hollywood old timers' banquet.

The old Carlisle Indian football star was an All-America selection in 1911 and 1912.

City Softball Loop To Meet Wednesday

Officials and interested parties of the newly formed City Softball League will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the American Legion Hall to discuss plans for the coming season.

Six teams definitely have indicated they will play in the league, and three or four others may come in. Officials want either an eight-team or a 10-team league.

A. Z. Sturges, manager of the American Legion team, will preside at the meeting. Rules and regulations for the loop are to be discussed, and drafting of a schedule will begin after all teams are in.

Chuck Harringer, athletic director of the Midland JayCees, is to be present. The JayCees may sponsor the league.

Neely Agency Cops Fem Bowling Meet

Neely Agency copped the fourth annual Women's City Bowling Tournament at Plamor Lanes recently, rolling 2,148 pins to capture first place. This was 116 points better than second-place Checker Cab, who rolled a 2,033 score.

I. W. Hynd Company copped third with a 2,022 series.

A. Rasi and C. Koonce took double events honors with 1,108 while M. Florence and E. Williams' 1,066 was good for second. F. Ware and L. Fratt took third in the double events, rolling 1,009.

Singles honors went to D. Matthias, who rolled a good 658 series, eclipsing F. Pennington's 631, which was good for second, and being 68 pins better than C. Koonce's 592 series score for third place.

The all-events title also went to D. Matthias, who rolled a 1,795 total. Pennington finished second with 1,710 and Koonce again finished third, rolling 1,656.

Babe Martin Will Catch For Missions

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Boris (Babe) Martin will catch for the San Antonio Mission of the Texas League this year. The St. Louis Browns, the parent team, said Martin bought his contract with the Toledo club and signed with the Brown organization.

He played with the Browns from 1944 through 1946 and with the Boston Red Sox in 1948-49.

San Angelo Colts May Land SMU's Great Kyle Rote

DALLAS — (AP) — Kyle Rote, star football player of the Southern Methodist Mustangs, revealed Monday night he is dickering with the San Angelo Colts over a contract to play baseball in the Longhorn League this summer.

Artesia Drillers Hop On El Paso Semi Pro Team 18-0

EL PASO—Artesia's Drillers, new members of the Class C Longhorn League, won their opening exhibition game of the season here Sunday, blanking El Paso Shoe Shop 18-0. The El Paso nine is a semi-pro outfit.

Stubby Greer's Artesia team collected 22 hits and took advantage of four El Paso errors.

Brownie Manager Can Explain Everything

BURBANK, CALIF.—(AP)—Manager Zack Taylor of the St. Louis Browns resorted to statistics Monday to show why his club has lost 11 of 14 exhibition games.

Brownie pitchers, he said, handed out 80 passes while striking out only 42. The passes, plus 120 hits and 29 errors, enabled the opposition to score 120 runs, 38 of them unearned.

Water Conditioning Company in Midland Agent For Permutit

If space is a consideration in the installation of a water softener in your home, then here is some startling news. The Water Conditioning Company, distributor for the Permutit water softener, can install a unit which takes a space of only 11 by 15 inches. This softener is designed to serve a unit to serve a two-bathroom home, then there is another unit which takes only a 14 by 18-inch space.

The Permutit is as nearly fool proof as anything can be because it is designed by people who know their business thoroughly.

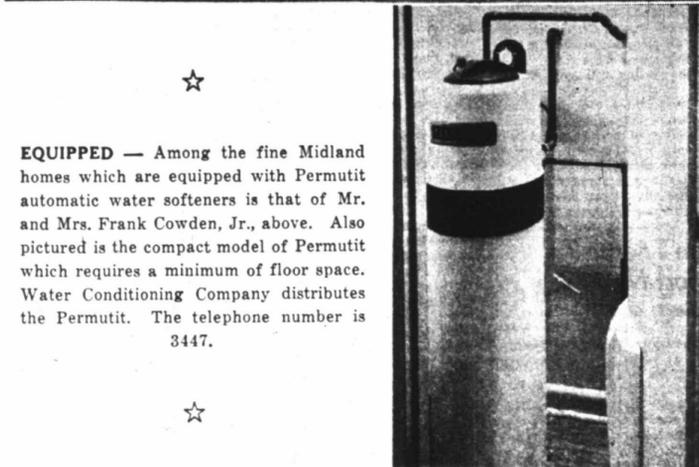

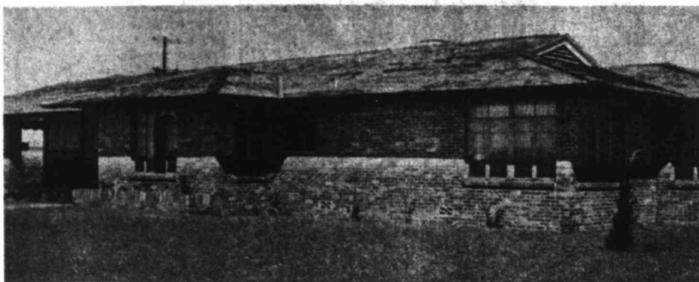

In the three years the Permutit unit has been on the market there have been thousands installed from coast to coast.

The Water Conditioning Company offers guaranteed service relative to performance and operation of these units. The concern also furnishes salt and will deliver it to the home in proper-size packages for the unit.

The Permutit is finished beautifully with baked enamel and baked on plastic by an infrared process, offering maximum resistance to corrosion.

The firm is located at 707 South Baird Street and has been a Midland institution since 1938.

W. T. Moreland is the owner and W. G. Sant is the sales manager. Charles Jeffrey is a salesman and Ted Smith is service manager.

EQUIPPED — Among the fine Midland homes which are equipped with Permutit automatic water softeners is that of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowden, Jr., above. Also pictured is the compact model of Permutit which requires a minimum of floor space. Water Conditioning Company distributes the Permutit. The telephone number is 3447.

Grafa Says Midland Real Estate Is Smart Investment

The eyes of the nation are on Midland, Texas, and many smart investors are looking here to make investments—and not all are in oil properties. Many are buying real estate within the city limits of Midland as a smart investment, says Barney Grafa who successfully has developed 11 residential additions within the city limits since 1927.

"We have seen Midland grow from a comparatively small livestock and farming town to the thriving, metropolitan city that it is today within a very few years," Grafa said. "Many people will tell you the city probably will double or triple in size within the next 10 or 15 years, barring unforeseen circumstances. That being so, Midland real estate offers just as great opportunities to the investor today as ever."

"Don't Put It Off"

If you are planning on building or buying a home, buying Midland real estate for an investment, or going into business, the chances are the longer you wait the more it will cost you, Grafa advised.

Additions developed by Grafa within the city limits of Midland since 1927 are: High School Addition, Country Club Heights, Elmwood Addition, Ridgely Addition, City View Addition, Edwards Addition, Grafaland, first section, Highland (east half), Cowden Addition, Grafaland, second section, and The Bedford Place.

Carroll L. Thomas, K&F Club president, will preside at the gathering.

Montague is a former member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, having served most of his six years with the Mounties in the Arctic Patrol. He was trained for an engineer, but gave up further formal education when a chance came for him to serve in the scarlet tunics. ### Truman Censorship On Mac Received In Tokyo With Surprise

By RUSSELL BRINES
TOKYO—(AP)—Reports that President Truman had put General MacArthur under political censorship were received with considerable shock and some surprise in Tokyo.
Informed sources said Tuesday afternoon no direct orders to that effect had been received. But they added any such official announcement would have to be made in Washington.
The President reportedly instructed MacArthur to submit political statements bearing on political matters to Washington for clearance. This was an aftermath of the general's latest discussion of the Korean war in a statement issued here last Saturday.
The statement was described in command circles here as "a cold estimate of a military situation." Circles which generally support the general said they could see no political implications in it.
These sources applied the same definition to what appeared as the most controversial part of the statement. That was MacArthur's declaration that Red China would face military collapse if the United Nations should attack its coastal areas and military bases.
At Proper Moment
MacArthur's purpose, these sources said, was to outline Communist military weaknesses to the army commander in chief and his staff. He decided some time ago to issue the statement at what he considered the proper psychological moment.
The statement was broadcast to Chinese armies in the field, dropped on them in leaflets and widely circulated in a "daily newspaper" which psychological warfare experts prepare for air-dropping to Red forces.
Part of the psychological warfare campaign during the Korean war has been concerned with trying to convince enemy troops of their military weakness.
MacArthur himself remained silent on the uproar caused by the statement and so did his staff, officially.
But there was apparent concern that the result might be to nullify any possibility that the statement could start Peiping worrying about its southern coastal front.
"Now," said one officer, "we've made it clear there is not the slightest idea of carrying the war to where it could hurt them" (the Chinese Communists).
MacArthur long has opposed State Department policies concerning the Orient, and his opposition has been reflected in some of his statements. The move to bring Washington's blue pencil closer to MacArthur's frequent public remarks was interpreted generally here as a revival of a long controversy over Far Eastern policy.
Chairman C. E. (Bud) Bissell presided at the session.
The Chamber will provide street banners and window cards welcoming the visiting Lions and will distribute Midland C. of C. notebooks to the convention delegates.

The cost of living, as measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index, continues to rise to new record highs each month. Government price controllers are hopeful that the figure—announced tentatively as 181.5 on Jan. 15—may soon reach a "plateau." The hope is based in part on the decline of wholesale prices—a cost-of-living bellwether—in late February for the first time in more than four months.

Former Governor Of New Mexico Is Dead

ROSWELL, N. M. —(AP)—James F. Hinkle, a cowboy who turned banker and was sixth state governor of New Mexico, died at his Roswell home Monday.
His death at 88 came after a colorful career which included 34 years in territorial, city, county or state office.
Hinkle, a Democrat, was governor in 1923-25.
Death followed a pneumonia attack two weeks ago. After he apparently recovered, heart trouble developed and he succumbed to the complications.

Father Slain—

damaged fender, officers said. Cook's car was green.
Walker told investigators his automobile fender was smashed in an accident in Hollywood last week.
The slain man's father, Harold Cook, said his son, daughter-in-law, Doris, also 18, and their baby, born last July, left his home at the little city of Nuevo about 10:30 a.m. Monday. They were headed for Los Angeles, where young Cook does maintenance work at an Aluminum Company of America plant.
Murder Time Fixed
Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. C. J. Trask of Sunnyside, near Nuevo, said that if her daughter left the baby, "it had to be done by force."
Officers said Cook was slain sometime between 11 a.m. and 11:25, when Jack Tracht of La Sierra discovered the tragedy on a lonely stretch of road near Lake Mathews in Riverside County.
Highway patrolmen said they had ridden over the road at 11 o'clock and noticed nothing wrong.
Theorizing from tire marks and footprints on what happened, Captain Schrader surmised:
A car forced Cook's vehicle off the highway and pulled in and around him. Cook got out and a man got out of the rear machine. They apparently talked and, as Cook turned, he was shot. The rear auto then backed up about 300 feet, turned around and headed for Perris.
There were no women's footprints at the scene. The baby boy, Jeffrey, was on a pink blanket on the ground near the Cook car. The infant was unharmed.
Homicide Deputy Mel Vivion said he learned Walker ate lunch at March Air Force Base and about 1 p.m. drove his car to the garage in Riverside. The scene of the slaying and the air base are about seven miles apart.

Judge Withdraws From Kidnap Case

ALBUQUERQUE —(AP)— Because of a 40-year-old kidnaping, another judge will have to be named for the kidnap trial of Dr. Nancy Campbell.
District Judge Waldo H. Rogers, designated to hear the case April 18, withdrew because he himself was abducted from his father's home in 1911. His decision was announced Monday night.
The more recent case against Dr. Campbell was transferred here from Santa Fe at defense request. She is charged with kidnaping Linda Stamm, nine-year-old stepdaughter of a well-to-do contractor, there last November 10.
Newspaper stories about his own kidnaping as a child of three prompted Rogers to ask assignment of another judge to the Campbell case.
Yale-educated Dr. Campbell, 48, was seized 24 hours after she Stamm kidnaping when she went to collect $20,000 ransom. Linda was found unharmed in the Woman physician's car. Dr. Campbell has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

All were attacked.

Acheson Keynotes Opening Session Of American Republics

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State Acheson Tuesday urged the American republics to take immediate action to meet a menace posed by international communism.
He said no free nation anywhere in the world is secure against the menace, and called for full economic and military cooperation with the United States.
Acheson delivered the keynote speech of the first regular session of the Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers.
The instruments of Soviet Russia's "new imperialism," he said, are "a formidable machine of war and the international Communist movement."
Only by building up their strength can the free nations provide a deterrent force which "is the only real road to peace," the secretary said.
Coordinated Defense
Acheson suggested that the American republics might prepare a coordinated defense plan for the hemisphere as soon as possible.
Acheson keynoted a session at which the foreign ministers of 21 American republics aim to work out mutual defense measures.
In a welcoming address before a preliminary meeting Monday, President Truman asked that the Latin republics of America join in the effort to throw up defenses against the "aggressive expansion of Soviet power" he said threatens the whole world.
Truman's address, reactions indicated, did not please everyone. He stirred up volatile South American political feelings by endorsing a plan under which Bolivia would trade Chile and Peru irrigation water for an outlet to the sea.

Building For Boys Hobby Shop Moved Onto Its New Site

The Optimist Club's major project, the Boys Hobby Shop, is near completion, the club was advised at its luncheon Tuesday in Hotel Scharbauer.
The announcement was made by Jimmie Velvin, chairman of the building committee. Velvin said the contractor has completed the moving of the shop building from Terminal to its new location at New York Street and Lamesa Road.
V. H. (Pete) Van Horn, president, was in charge of the meeting. Bob Sly of Tyler, an Optimist lieutenant governor, announced the district convention, to be held in Fort Worth April 26-27-28.
A film, furnished by the Texas Electric Company, was shown. Guests were Chuck Harris and J. B. McCoy.
Van Horn announced that the officer installation and party scheduled for Saturday night had been postponed until April 6.

Cohen—

could or would appear. The other witnesses are all here."
Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock said Cohen had "willfully failed" to appear and moved that this fact be reported to the House with a recommendation that his failure be certified by the speaker of the Travis County district attorney for grand jury action.
The committee agreed unanimously. The action was reported quickly to the House and Speaker Reuben Settriff said he would take action "right away."
Connected With Bookies
"Cohen's attempts are directly connected with schemes to restore wire services to bookie shops in Texas," Daniel said.
He said since the state recently won an injunction suit against Western Union and A. G. Coggins, no bookie information has come in by Western Union, but it is being transmitted otherwise.
Coggins was identified as the "front" for Continental Press-Continental Press (Daniel said, controls horse racing information on a nationwide scale.
Cohen and a companion made one effort to break into Texas at Houston, Garrison said, where they contacted a son of Vincent Vallone. Vallone was killed in a so-called Mafia slaying, Garrison testified.
The legislative investigation of organized crime in Texas began before a standing-room-only crowd under the glare of television lights Tuesday. The committee efforts by outside criminal interests to move in prior to 1946. He recalled that in May, 1950, Gov. Allan Shivers warned "big time crooks" to stay out of Texas.
The first efforts of the outside syndicates to move in came in 1946, he said, when approaches were made to former Sheriff Steve Guthrie by a member of the former Cape ganging in Chicago and others, seeking to move into Dallas.
Next, Garrison said, Dallas gambler Herbert Noble and Bennie Blinn, "a former Dallas racketeer," were approached by outside racketeers who tried to make a deal with them. This, the state police director said, was in March, 1950.
Garrison said in his visit to Houston, Cohen registered at the Shamrock Hotel as "James Valen." He and his companion tried to contact Al Smiley, a former partner of the late Bugsy Siegel.
"They didn't do it," Garrison said. "Sheriff Buster Kern then tried to contact Cohen but the gambler evidently had smelled a rat and had left."
Chairman Fred Meridith of the House Committee said it wanted to know first if organized crime does exist in Texas and next it wants to determine if out-of-state crime syndicates are trying to move in.
Solely For Information
He said the purpose of the committee was solely to obtain information on which to base legislation, if a need is shown, and to inform the public if any failure to enforce laws by local officers is found.
Garrison devoted most of an hour to bring the committee up to date on Cohen's activities.
Garrison said Cohen and Harry Brooke of Cleveland, Ohio, were in Wichita Falls visiting up possibilities for setting up a "gambing empire" when Texas Rangers asked them to get out of the state.
On the second visit, Cohen was seen in El Paso, Wichita Falls and Odessa. Earlier he hastily had left Houston.
Summoned to appear at the committee's first open session were Cohen and six Texans. All except Cohen were on hand at 9 a.m., the hour of summons.
Among them were Paul Harvey, Odessa sportsman; Mayor T. Leo Moore of El Paso, and four former or present El Paso law officers. All have said they did not know how they could help the committee.

More Moslem Sect Members Jailed In Assassination Plot

TEHRAN, IRAN —(AP)—Nine more members of a fanatical Moslem sect were under arrest Tuesday as police claimed to have foiled a plot to assassinate the military governor of this uneasy Middle East capital.

The arrest were announced Monday night a few hours after martial law was clamped on sections of the British-operated oil fields of Southern Iran in the face of mounting strikes by oil workers.

Arrested were nine members of the strongly Nationalist Fedayan Islam, the terrorist group that claimed responsibility for the slaying of Premier Ali Razmara March 7.

Police said they plotted the death of Gen. Abdul Hussein Hejazi, appointed military governor and police chief of Tehran when martial law was proclaimed in the capital last week.

A high official said the plot was uncovered last Thursday night when Hejazi's adjutant nabbed two men armed with revolvers loitering at the military governor's home. Hejazi was not at home at the time.

The official said the two confessed the plot and led authorities to the group's hideout, where seven others were arrested.

Found in Hideout
A list of 40 Iranians, including ministers in Razmara's cabinet and high officials, was found in the hideout, this source said. Guards were placed at the homes of those on the list.

Fedayan Islam has been clamoring for nationalization of Iran's oil industry, including the holdings of the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Nationalization has been voted by the Iranian Parliament but has not yet gone into effect. Razmara had opposed the move.

A former education minister, Dr. Abdul Hamid Zanganeh, died March 19 of a bullet wound inflicted by a divinity student.

Officials said they believed Zanganeh's assailant also was a member of Fedayan Islam but that they could not confirm this.

Spreading strikes by oil workers seeking higher pay brought Monday's government decree of martial law to seven places in the southern oil fields.

TEXAS AIRMAN KILLED
ENID, OKLA. —(AP)—Sgt. C. D. Bristol, 25, of Troup, Texas, was killed Monday, A refueling truck backed over him while he was repairing a plane at Vance AF Base. His skull was crushed.

Circus Due Wednesday For Two Performances

They're due in Midland with the dawn Wednesday—the great, lumbering elephants, the educated jungle beasts, the erudite ring and track horses, the bespangled folk and the clowns—in other words, the circus.

It is the Clyde Beatty Circus, which is scheduled in two performances here at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. Wednesday near Memorial Stadium.

The new and enlarged circus is being presented here by the Midland Kiwanis Club.

The mile-long train of red and yellow enameled cars is scheduled to be in Midland on the Texas & Pacific Railroad line about 2:30 a.m. It will be spotted between Big Spring and Main Streets.

The unloading is slated at daylight and the entourage will move on Big Spring to Wall, on Wall to N Street, then north on N Street to the stadium.

No doubt the unloading and setting up will be a rendezvous for hundreds of circus fans, who cannot resist watching the big show go up.

Suspect In Slaying Of Soldier To Be Returned To Pecos

PECOS—Reeves County Sheriff Charlie Fitzgerald, Jr., was to leave Tuesday for Butte, Mont., to return John E. Welch, who is charged in the slaying of a Fort Bliss soldier.

The soldier, Cpl. Dennis E. Miller, 36, of East St. Louis, Ill., was killed February 18. His body, beaten and with throat slashed, was found 31 miles west of here in a gravel pit.

Welch, 23, is charged in El Paso with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the murder and is being held in Butte under a U. S. commissioner's warrant.

The Associated Press reported from El Paso that Welch admitted, according to Police Chief Bart J. Riley, that his picture appeared on a FBI "wanted" bulletin but denied the murder.

Riley quoted him as saying he had a fight with a man in Texas during which they threw rocks at each other.

"I hit him on the head with a rock and knocked him out," Welch told Riley, "but he was alive when I left him."

Welch said he took the man's car, drove to the nearest filling station, and left it there. Then he went to California to meet his wife. They came here about March 10.

The wife and a man giving the name of Thomas Ralph also are being held in the city jail.

Riley said the arrest was made after Welch and Ralph had a "falling out." They took a ride south of Butte. Welch became annoyed at Ralph's attentions to Welch's wife and the two men had a fight, Riley reported.

Welch then drove off with Ralph's car and the other man walked to a gas station and called police, telling them Welch was wanted by the FBI.

At Pecos, Sheriff Charlie Fitzgerald, Jr., said he would leave Tuesday morning for Butte to return Welch.

Mothers Of Deaf Children May Take Summer Course

A Summer school for mothers of pre-school deaf children will be held in Austin this summer. Mrs. Mary Johnson, field worker here for the State Department of Public Welfare, was notified Tuesday.

The school, to be held at the Texas School for the Deaf, is made possible by the Hogg Foundation, University of Texas, State Department of Health, Texas Education Agency and the Welfare Department.

Any mother who has a pre-school deaf child who never has attended school and who is a resident of Texas will be eligible to attend. The school will be held June 6-15.

The instruction and lectures will be designed primarily to aid the mother in the care of her child before it is eligible to attend school.

During the mother's stay at the school, attendants will take care of the children while the mothers are in class. Recreation workers will supervise play. Attempts will be made to determine if the children attending have sufficient hearing ability to utilize in the development of speech and language.

Inquiries about the school may be directed to Roy Moore Stelle, superintendent, Texas School for the Deaf, 1102 South Congress Avenue, Austin.

Former Court Clerk Found Not Guilty Of Embezzlement Charge

CRANE—Eugene Wasson, 34-year-old former district and county clerk here, was freed Monday by a 109th District Court jury of charges he misappropriated and embezzled public funds during the time he was in office.

It took the jury only 20 minutes of deliberation before returning the not guilty verdict late Monday night to Judge G. C. Olsen of Kermit.

Wasson resigned his job in November 24, 1948, after a grand jury returned two indictments against him.

The first indictment was dismissed early Monday and the case went to trial on the second, involving the sum of $50 in cash.

Yugoslavia Charges Red-Directed Spy Schools Train Agents

ZAGREB, YUGOSLAVIA —(AP)—Yugoslavia charged Monday at least six Soviet-directed spy schools were being operated in neighboring Russian satellite countries to train agents for espionage against Marshal Tito's regime.

The accusation was made at the trial of five persons, including two former officers in the Yugoslav Army, on charges of spying for Hungary.

Rade Mrdjenovic, a former captain who was twice wounded and several times decorated in World War II, pleaded guilty to betraying his country and entering the Hungarian intelligence.

The other defendants, before a military tribunal, are Stojan Njestic, on active duty as a captain when arrested; Ante Kopic, a civilian; Julia Hatvalic, a housewife, and Stojan Draca, a forester and a relative of Mrdjenovic. Mrs. Hatvalic and Draca are charged with being accomplices. The three principal defendants face death sentences if convicted.

Lengthy Explanation
The charge of Kremlin-directed spy schools in Eastern European cominform nations came during a reading of a 12,000-word indictment and a lengthy examination of Mrdjenovic.

The indictment said the schools were located in Budapest and Szeged in Hungary, in Vitos and Dimitrov in Bulgaria, and in Valona and Triana in Albania. Their main job was described as training agents for espionage, sabotage and propaganda in Yugoslavia.

The trial marked the first time since the war a member of Tito's Army had been brought to public prosecution as a spy.

Mrdjenovic related how he was trained in the Budapest spy center to use submachine guns and grenades, to organize a fifth column and to engage in propaganda activities.

Mrdjenovic was ousted from the Yugoslav Army in 1948 for working in support of the Cominform resolution denouncing Tito.

He went to Budapest and later successfully made the trip to Yugoslavia and back by crossing the heavily-guarded frontier. He was arrested as a spy last November on his third trip.

Reallocation of funds to the general fund will, officials said, allow general expenditures for the library, county hospital and other types of improvements.

Rugged Discipline And Hard Work Get Infantrymen Ready For Difficult Jobs

CAMP PICKETT, VA. —(NEA)— any of the gates to Camp Pickett for a chilly tour of personal sentry duty, just to make sure his officers are not sneaking out to a rendezvous with their wives and children.

He is apt to turn up at night at 43rd's General Cramer: Even the cooks have to carry guns.

This sample of tough discipline is part of the personal sacrifice the Army expects from National Guard and reserve units it has called back to duty for preparedness training. The 43rd is a New England National Guard outfit federalized at the start of the Korean crisis. What has happened to it since then can be multiplied many times in other camps all over the nation.

Cramer's methods have resulted in a lot of griping. Coupled with a bitter winter, shortages of such items as shoes, gloves and sheets, and the Spartan living conditions in Pickett's drafty barracks, it has been the subject of several congressional investigations.

Saw Combat Action

But Cramer, a 56-year old veteran who saw combat action in both World Wars, takes the attitude that it's a tough enemy his men are being trained to meet. And despite criticism, the 43rd is being welded into a tough, efficient organization. Its officers and men are learning to maneuver and handle themselves coolly with live ammunition screaming overhead. They can march all night with little strain. Their salutes are snappy and prompt. They look lean, tough and ready.

The initial physical reconditioning program was tougher than the World War II standard. Hundreds couldn't take it and had to be sent home.

Rigid restrictions exist on leave and off-post passes.

Night problems are numerous and long. The Chinese and North Koreans fight best at night.

Must carry Guns

Except for the rare times when they get off the post, all men must carry their guns and wear ammunition belts constantly. This even applies to cooks. Cramer reminds them that a lot of cooks were killed in Korea because they didn't have their guns or didn't know how to use one.

Although he couldn't make it stick, Cramer forbade wives to follow the men. When they turned up anyway, even the officers were limited to family visits one night a week until 11 p. m. and once every other week end.

TROUBLE-FINDER

A new trouble-finder, for use in the automobile repair shop, resembles a doctor's stethoscope, having similar ear pieces and holder, but with an electric probe at the outer end. Grasping the probe by its plastic handle, the point is piled over the seeming trouble area until the clearest sound is heard.

PHONE 3000

Bitterest order of all came last Christmas when the army canceled holiday leave for the 43rd. The antagonism this aroused was so intense that many were allowed to go home for the New Year holiday.

Under Strength

Today the division consists of 45 per cent of its original National Guard personnel called up from Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut. It was under strength when called up. Many men were sent home because of family hardship pleas, and more for physical reasons.

The rest of the 43rd are mostly draftees, reserves called back to active duty, and a few regular army officers. About 90 per cent of the men are under 25.

When Cramer, a Hartford, Conn., coal dealer, was called back with the 43rd, it was the 20th time he had been sworn into the U. S. Army. He jumped from enlisted man to officer during World War I, saw plenty of action, and was a prisoner of war for a while.

Between wars he was active in both Connecticut Republican politics and the National Guard. In World War II he was a brigadier general, taking part of the 24th Division's South Pacific landings.

Other between-war civilians recalled with the 43rd, however, find life at Camp Pickett harder to take than their general.

Resent Discipline

Professional and business men with responsible places in their home communities resent being disciplined for trying to see their families more than a few hours a week—families which have uprooted themselves in the belief it might be the last time they would be together.

They find it hard to understand shortages of essentials such as shoes and gloves.

In answer, Cramer is willing to stand on the 43rd's record, and all investigations have cleared him. By army measurement, morale is good. Both the AWOL and sick rates are far below average, and military courtesy is good.

And the general himself says he has the best bunch of men he ever worked with. The shortages haven't interfered, he says, and the rugged discipline and training is aimed at preparing them for even more rugged duty they face in Korea in a few months.

All wars, he adds in answer to criticisms of personal hardships in the 43rd, call for sacrifices.

Learning By Ear: Soldiers must be able to identify noises they hear at night on the front lines. Here Sgt. Louis F. Colombo (left) of Astoria, N. Y., hidden behind a makeshift wall, clicks a rifle bolt while Cpl. Robert H. Shellard (right), of Wallingford, Conn., gets ready to check off what he's heard from Cpl. Russell T. Clapp, Wallingford, Conn., instructor. Picture was made at Camp Pickett, Va., by Stanley Tretick, NEA Staff Correspondent who heard many a rifle bolt click in earnest at the Korea front where he was a war photographer.

Singapore Mother Finds Her Lost Son

SINGAPORE —(AP)— A mother has found her son after a 10-year search, but it may still be a long time before she sees him. The woman is Fukuyae Kaniko, a Japanese who married an American dredge-master attached to a British tin dredging company in the little village of Tanjong Tualang, in Perak state of Malaya. The boy is John Palmstrom, who was born a fortnight after the death of his father 15 years ago.

With the outbreak of World War II, the mother was arrested and interned. The boy later went to a Japanese school in Singapore until 1945. He then was evacuated with other school children to Japan. After the war, the mother started an intensive search for her son. Finally, she learned her son was alive—but in Japan, living in Furu-yeda Machi, Sagami, with an uncle and under the name of Kodako Kaniko.

Fukuyae Kaniko would be a happy woman were it not for the fact her son lost his American citizenship through non-residence in the United States. Now she has a problem of trying to get to Japan to see him or for him to be sent over to her.

Boy Tests Police And Fire Squads

SANTA ANA, CALIF. —(AP)— A Santa Ana six-year-old listened to his teacher's instruction carefully. Then he put them into practice.

Dialing carefully, he telephoned the police and fire departments. He told the first his home had been robbed. He told the second his home was on fire.

When officers and fire equipment roared up, he explained he was testing the "what to do in an emergency" lesson he learned at school.

Louisiana was second among the West South Central states, with a population increase of 13.5 per cent during the 10-year period. Arkansas lost population during the decade for the first time in its history, but the loss amounted to only 2.0 per cent of the state's 1940 population. Oklahoma continued to lose population for the second decade in a row.

U. S. Effort In Formosa May Set Asia Pattern By Outdoing Reds' Promises

Doon For Lean Soil is commercial fertilizer, brought into Formosa by the Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction. These Formosan laborers are unloading a cargo of fertilizer.

TAIPEH, FORMOSA —(NEA)—A two-year-old American financed program of rural reconstruction has so improved the lot of tenant farmers on Formosa that officials see in it a pattern which might overcome Communist promises in other parts of Asia.

At a $2,257,000 expenditure of Economic Cooperation Administration funds, the Joint Commission on Rural Reconstruction boosted the island's vital rice crop last year from 1,060,000 to 1,214,500 tons. The dollar value of this additional rice yield alone is almost eight times the program cost to date. Exportable rice surpluses, expected for the 1951 crop year, will further reduce Formosa's need for dollar-aid.

At the same time, the island's feudal system of "one-way" rental contracts has been revised. Former contracts could be altered or ended at the wish of the landlord, and required rentals as high as 70 percent of crops. ECA-JCRR sponsored reforms have brought a 37.5 percent rent-reduction in force.

Created by Congress, the JCRR was created by the 80th Congress as a part of the 1948 China aid program. It is composed of three members named by the President of China, and two appointed by President Truman.

The Americans, both "old China hands," are Dr. Raymond T. Moyer, Chief of ECA's China Mission, and Dr. John Earl Baker, one-time adviser to China's Ministry of Railways and for many years an executive of China Relief.

The commission started too late for success on the mainland, but since moving to Formosa with the Nationalist government, has achieved spectacular results.

Mission Accomplished

JCRR has accomplished its "purpose," the creation of rural stability, by attacking the ills of the Formosan farmer on a wide front. Its specific aims have been dictated by the things the farmers themselves consider of first importance in improving their lives.

In the agricultural field, the commission has supported projects for the extension and improvement of irrigation facilities essential to the rice farmer, and has provided commercial fertilizers with which to bolster the lean soil.

Chief of JCRR's island-wide fertilizer distribution program is 26-year-old Ralph Gleason of Tonnesville, S. C., who served in Korea with both American Military Government and ECA before joining the ECA-JCRR team on Formosa.

A native of Michigan, O. J. Todd, heads the commission's irrigation division. A grizzled old-timer on the China scene, he oversees projects affecting the island's 3400 kilometers of rice-land canals.

Threatens Buffaloes

Perhaps the most dramatic ECA-JCRR effort took place in January, 1950, when an epidemic of rinderpest threatened the island's vital water buffalo population.

A prompt isolation-vaccination-destruction campaign stopped the outbreak cold. Cattle which were destroyed to prevent spread of the disease were replaced by ECA funds, a step which sold the farmers on the sincerity of the JCRR program.

"The water buffalo are our lives," one farmer said. "That is what you have given us."

Less spectacular, but no less novel to Formosans, is the rural health program which has invaded even the rugged mountain homes of the island's aborigines.

Until this ECA-JCRR project started, the islanders had accepted disease with characteristic Eastern resignation. Target number-one for the health program is tuberculosis, which takes a tremendous toll of death and lost work hours from the island's manpower potential.

The MATURE PARENT

Child-Worshippers Make Their Children Helpless

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Child-worship is a form of parental abuse.

When we make another adult our "all," we burden him pretty heavily. If we make our child our "all," we either lose him or stunt his emotional growth so much that we make him helpless for life.

Children are not gods. When we try to make them pretend that they are, we teach them to fear and hate the fact they are human beings.

Fred's mother made him her god. Divorced after an unhappy marriage, she frankly referred to him as her "all." One night he made an excuse to borrow her car for a secret date with a girl. Speeding along a lonely road, he lost control of the car. The girl was hurt. The boy who was his mother's "all" forced the injured girl out of the car and left her to be found the next morning by the state police.

Like Fred's mother, child-worshippers are often parents whose own happiness has been denied. Retreating into the kind of self-righteous "idealism" that pretends to be superior to normal human hungers and needs, they require the same evasions from their children.

If such children do find the strength to claim their right to fall in love and marry, their sense of guilt at betraying the high-minded "ideals" of their parents can turn them into half-husbands and half-wives.

First Moral Law

There are certain tests we can apply to our love for our youngsters that may help us discover whether it is overladen with worship.

If we feel a need to always excuse our child's wrong-doing, it may indicate that our desire to believe he is perfect is greater than our love for him.

If we never seem to find reasons to approve his friends, it may mean that we want to keep our little god to ourselves.

If we insist on holding up one child as a paragon to his brothers and sisters, we may be inflicting adoration upon him.

If we are outraged or over-sympathetic when our child encounters hurt or failure, it may indicate we resent the fact our little idol has to face reality like anyone else.

Our great religious teachers knew well what they were about when they made the First Commandment primal moral law, and showed us how to protect those we love against the ordeal of bearing the cross of adoration.

Use Hygienic Methods To Keep 'Seven Year Itch' Localized

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

It comes as something of a surprise to learn how many people are afflicted with the seven-year itch. Mrs. R writes, for example: "I think that three in my family have what is known as the seven-year itch. What is the cause of this and what can be used to cure it?" A correspondent who signs "Interested Reader" asks why this is called the seven-year itch and whether sunlight and fresh air will help.

The correct name for this condition is scabies—named after the tiny insect which causes it, sarcoptes scabiei. I do not know how the name "seven-year itch" came to be used, but it is probably because the condition goes on for so long if it isn't treated.

Anyway this little insect burrows into the skin and causes terrific irritation and itching. Furthermore the itch brings violent scratching, and this combined with unwise self-treatment produces further skin irritation.

Since an insect causes scabies, it means that the condition is spread from one person to another. Thus it is not surprising that it flourishes best when people are crowded together in barracks, dormitories, or lodging houses. It is also more common in the winter, quite likely because people don't take as many baths in cooler weather.

The fact that scabies is spread from person to person makes prevention particularly important. Avoidance of overcrowding is one method; frequent bathing also is helpful. Special care has to be exercised in regard to clothing, bedding, towels and the like in any place where scabies breaks out.

Need Diagnosis

Now as to treatment. First it should be said that someone with an itch must not jump to the conclusion that it is due to scabies. There are many other reasons for itching and an accurate diagnosis is essential. Second, there are several good treatments for scabies, but most of them may irritate the skin as well as kill the insect so it is not wise to try them without direction.

But there are several preparations which contain sulfur, DDT, rotenone, pyrethrum, benzobenzate or other chemicals which the insects causing scabies definitely don't like.

Korea War Obscures USAF's Main Roles Against Major Power, Vandenberg Says

By GEN. HOYT S. VANDENBERG, U. S. Air Force Chief of Staff
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There is a basic difference between limited military operations against a satellite nation and continental operations against a major power.

So long as we keep that in mind we can view our Korea experience in proper perspective and draw valid conclusions from it.

There is a vast difference between what you need in armed forces to cope with a first-rate land-sea-air power and what you must deploy against a satellite like Korea, with little or no air and naval power—and equipped and supplied from sources immune to attack. (Manchuria—Ed.)

Due to political and diplomatic factors, the accomplishments of air power in Korea have been measured almost entirely by the success of ground actions.

This has focussed extraordinary attention on some Air Force missions such as close support, tactical reconnaissance and air transportation.

It has obscured the relative importance of other Air Force missions such as air defense, counter-air operations and strategic air warfare.

In war against a first-rate power, the relative magnitude and sequence of major military undertakings would differ sharply from the Korea experience.

The importance of air defense, counter-air operations and strategic air warfare—carrying the war deep into the enemy's home sources of supply—would be proportionately much greater—particularly during the first stages of the war.

While our land forces are engaged, it would be necessary to defend them and our cities from hostile air power, to wrest control of the skies away from the enemy and to destroy the industrial resources upon which his war machine depends. The foregoing basic considerations form the background against which the following comments on operations in Korea should be viewed.

Employed Tactically
1. Almost 99 per cent of the entire Air Force effort in Korea was employed tactically—that is, on tasks having direct effect on the ground battle. The late Lt. Gen. Walton Walker, Commander of the 8th Army, has stated:

"If it had not been for the air support that we received from the Fifth Air Force we would not have been able to stay in Korea."

Can't Compensate
2. Even the most perfect close air support cannot compensate for overwhelming disparity in numbers between our ground forces and those of the enemy. This is especially true if the enemy is willing—as in Korea—to accept casualties we would not tolerate.

Against an enemy who sacrifices masses of manpower to compensate for his inferiority in machines, we must step up the effectiveness of our air weapons designed to destroy that manpower.

More Difficult
3. Close air support is much more difficult to provide our ground forces during retrograde movement (withdrawal—Ed.) than in a stabilized situation or in the advance. The principal reason for this is that withdrawal under heavy enemy pressure usually results in sharp curtailment of communications and timely combat intelligence.

Both of these are essential to prompt provision of effective close air support.

4. Our air attack during the day-time kept the enemy from moving and forced him to hide; but we could not keep him from moving at night. We are striving to improve our equipment, tactics, technique, and training in night attack of tactical targets.

5. The jet airplane is superior in almost every respect to the propeller-driven plane. In Korea the jet F-80 out-performed the piston engine F-51 except in range and time over the target; and the newer F-84 was better than the F-80. The use of jet aircraft for close support, however, demonstrates the need for better communications equipment, more highly trained communications personnel, and improved techniques for the control of close support strikes.

6. There is nothing in the Korea experience to indicate that the time-tested Air Force policy of building high performance aircraft for multiple-purpose use should be changed.

7. Our recent experience in air-to-air combat with enemy jet aircraft underscores the need for continued emphasis in the field of research and development, to assure our leadership in the fighter field.

8. Air-ground operations require proficiency in teamwork which can be achieved only by extensive, thorough training of both Air Force and Army personnel. Our air-ground training, both within and between the Services, must be promptly and substantially improved.

9. Air cargo operations offer a field in which our large reservoir of older pilots will be highly useful.

10. Helicopters are extremely valuable for both air evacuation and rescue missions.

11. Under the pressure of peacetime budget restrictions, we tend to cut down too much on personnel, equipment and training for military specialties—for example, combat intelligence and armament handling which, though extremely important under combat conditions, are difficult to simulate in peacetime. We must find some way to maintain a higher degree of proficiency in these specialties during peacetime.

12. Air Force personnel—particularly those units which in wartime would not operate from fixed bases—must be more vigorously and realistically trained to live and take care of themselves under field conditions.

Even Keys Are Accounted For As Hospital Sets Up Plan To Battle Death-By-Volume

PERTH AMBOY, N. J.—(NEA)—The Perth Amboy General Hospital, says director Anthony W. Eckert, has learned to expect "death-by-volume." And it hasn't been disappointed. Disasters seem to have a way of happening nearby.

So the hospital's "blueprint for disaster"—a master plan for handling casualties by the carload—is a necessary part of its operation. Its disaster casualty lists have often been longer than the list of medical patients treated in a year. Its "blueprint" could also be a model for disaster—or even war—plans for other cities.

The wreck of the Pennsylvania Railroad commuter train at neighboring Woodbridge, which killed 84, was just another brush with calamity. The hospital's well-oiled disaster machinery began to roll minutes after the train plunged off the embankment.

Emergency Treatment
Twenty-one minutes after the crash, the hospital was already putting victims in bed—diagnosed and receiving at least emergency treatment.

"We were ready," says Eckert, "because we did not fear inefficiency."

The hospital has built its disaster plan on experience. Since the 1900's, the Perth Amboy area has been home to plants making nitrate, dynamite and other explosive products. Blasts were common. Last May 19, four munitions barges blew up, killing 30 and injuring 350. The hospital took that one in stride, too.

Key to the plan is the institution's ability to mobilize quickly. It learned that reliance on the telephone to summon personnel was a mistake; too often people were unreachable by phone. Instead, a disaster signal goes out via the fire department; and spot announcements are made over all regional radio stations.

Quickly, the rest of the disaster blueprint falls automatically into position: Supplies are all in a specific disaster storage area. Cots, made up with linens, blankets, bed pans, shock blocks, dressings, surgical instruments and infusion arm boards, are compactly folded.

Medical supplies are ready on-the-spot, and local drug stores are lined up to send men as soon as the alarm is sounded.

Order is kept in the hospital. Frantic, well-meaning friends and relatives can jam disaster machinery by flocking to a hospital. Perth Amboy General has guards assigned to all doors and exits, admitting only victims, first-aid men and police.

Priority Outlined
Priority is given to cases by a "1, 2, 3" system. Doctors examine casualties as they come in the door, tagging them with a number. No. 1 is urgent; No. 2 less urgent but needing immediate attention; No. 3 is least urgent. Eckert says the plan saves precious minutes.

Routing of victims is carried further. Besides the number, the admitting doctor routes each casualty to the correct department; he puts down OR for operating room, ER for emergency room, FA for first aid, and so on.

Keys are kept systematically. Eckert says a hospital, in the confusion of a disaster, can lose keys to closets where vital supplies are kept. At Perth Amboy General, the hospital worker responsible for each supply closet has the right key at the right time.

Everything In Place is the key to Perth Amboy General Hospital's disaster plan. Director of Nurses Ruth Allene (right) hands boxes of plasma and sutures to Senior Student Nurse Dorothy Dragotta.

Other patients are told what is going on. They're asked to keep calm, and to make only urgent requests for service. Eckert says they are eager to cooperate, feeling that even in a slight way they're helping.

The Perth Amboy General Hospital thinks that, for it, disaster has been the mother of invention.

AVOID 'OFF' FLAVOR COFFEE
Don't blame the material out of which your coffee maker is made if you feel your coffee has "off" flavor. Usually these flavors appear because the coffee maker hasn't been cleaned properly. Every time you wash your coffee maker you ought to use hot water and soap or some other dishwashing detergent in it, and then rinse with clear water. Be extra careful about the rinsing.

Peanut oil makes a delicious salad dressing. Use about a quarter cup of the oil to a tablespoon of tarragon vinegar and mix well with a half teaspoon of salt, a little freshly ground pepper, and a tiny piece of crushed garlic.

Mississippi Boy Hits Paris Jackpot Designing New Collection Of Clothes

PARIS—(NEA)—William (Bill) Underwood, 32, of Bells, Miss., will go down in fashion history as the first American to entirely design and execute a collection for a Paris house.

The couturier giving Bill has great chance is Marcel Rochas, who started in business 25 years ago.

Rochas says he was finding it more and more difficult to concentrate on the creative side of his business because he had become so wrapped up in the administrative end, including a perfume sideline.

"Besides," Rochas adds, "after 25 years a designer inevitably repeats himself, having reached the full cycle."

The fact that a collection represents an outlay of at least 15 million francs ($42,800) apparently gave Rochas no qualms.

"Having seen some of Underwood's sketches," he says, "I needed no convincing that the young man had undeniable talents and I welcomed the opportunity of opening my house to a young creator."

Bill began designing and making clothes for his family and friends in Mississippi when he was in his teens. He tried a year's stint as an engineering draftsman in New York, but still had fashion on his mind. A year ago he came to Paris to study dress designing seriously.

"All along I have felt something like Alice In Wonderland," says the dark, curly-haired southerner, "right down to the looking glass."

So for his first collection, many of his styles are inspired by the heroine of Lewis Carroll's famous book.

Right now he's concentrating on dusk-to-dawn models. But he's not sticking just to dresses. He's designed the hats to go with them—and an "Alice In Wonderland" idea for hair-dos and makeup, too.

American construction crews in Turkey are building air bases that will place the free world's bombers within one hour's flying time of the main oilfields of Russia and her satellites, and within three hours of Moscow itself. Much of the work is top secret. Newsmap above shows location of four major airfield construction projects, biggest of which is Adana, one of the best locations in the Mediterranean from the standpoint of supply and natural defense. Seaborn supplies to Adana can be protected by fighter screens from Crete and Cyprus. Defensively, the Turkish air base will guard the great Middle East oilfields and complete Western air defense for the Eastern Mediterranean and the Suez Canal. In the Canal Zone itself, the Allies are building underground hangars at airfields from which planes might also bomb Russia in event of war.

Fish, Bread, Shoes, Rockets Slow Korean Supply Line

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The South Koreans want fish in their field rations. The Turkish troops don't like American bread. And the wide feet of the Greeks are using up the U. S. Army's supply of over-sized shoes.

Those are some of the complications Uncle Sam faces in supplying the United Nations force in Korea, according to Col. Carey B. Hutchinson, the Army's assistant chief of staff for logistics.

Nevertheless, says Col. Hutchinson, who is back from a Far East inspection trip, the over-all sup-

Mapping Korea's Logistics: Col. Carey B. Hutchinson thinks the stockpiling problem will be licked in 90 days. he seen a combat operation so well supported with supplies and equipment.

Stockpiling Problem—Right now a few items, including ammunition for 3.5-mm. rockets and for the new recoilless guns, is not in "deep enough reserve" in Korea to satisfy Col. Hutchinson. This does not mean a shortage at the front, but a stockpiling problem; he says it will be licked within 90 days.

The fish problem came up when it was found South Korean troops were going hungry on scientific field rations issued to U. S. soldiers. Food experts cooked up a loaf-type ration of fish, rice and a couple of other ingredients. Most U. S. troops would rather starve than eat it, but to the South Koreans it's like turkey every day.

For the Turkish soldiers, who can't eat light American bread, the experts produced a heavy loaf made of rice and olive oil. It satisfied the Turks so well they sent this message back to the supply depot:

"Met the enemy. Shot him. Send more bread so we can keep it up."

Supply Headache—One of the major supply headaches of Korea, Col. Hutchinson says, is caused by the hoards of refugees in Southern Korea where the big reserves are being stored. The refugees are so hungry they risk being shot to steal food. And a lot of clothing and supplies disappear when South Korean troops give them away to relatives.

He praises the Army's job of collecting jeeps and trucks from islands all over the Pacific and reconditioning them for use by the troops in Korea. Because of this, only a small fraction of vehicles now being used by the Army there has had to be shipped from the U. S.

He adds the temporary shortage of cold weather gear at the start of the Winter is completely licked. It was just a matter of bad distribution along the front lines, according to Col. Hutchinson. The clothing was in Korea in sufficient quantity.

Daddy Ringtail And The Magic Hammer

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was in a dank, dark jungle of jungle-green. Mugwump Monkey was with him, and so was the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf. From out of some bushes, an away, came a horrid cry of "Ack!... Ack!... Ack!" The horrid cry was a dinosaur, a fearsome beast with a body as big as a firetruck, and a neck as long as a tall giraffe.

Yessir, our friends might have been frightened, but they weren't. The dinosaur now was busy with getting a drink from the river. Beside Mugwump had in his hand a magic hammer.

"Look, everybody!" said Mugwump. "Look at my magic hammer! Watch while I throw it up against the blue of the sky!"

Everyone watched, and Mugwump threw his magic hammer up, and up and up against the blue of the sky.

"Flash!" came a flash of lightning. "Crash!" came a crash of thunder. Yes, and it all happened because of the hammer against the sky, and then the hammer was suddenly back in Mugwump's hand—all ready for another throw, because the hammer was magic indeed.

"Look, everybody!" said Mugwump again. "Look while I throw against the tree!" And everyone looked while Mugwump threw his magic hammer against the tree. "Flash!" came the flash of lightning. "Crash!" came the crash of thunder. And now the tree was not a tree any more. It was only little sticks of firewood high in the sky where the thunder had blown them up. Ah, yes, and now they were falling down in a neat stack with a noise of clicky-click-click-click as they fell. Oh, it was really something to see.

Everything was fine as fine could be, except the dinosaur now was through with drinking his water from the river. Yes, and he saw our friends, and so he lifted his monstrous cry of "Ack!... Ack!... Ack!" He started toward them. Yessir, he was trying to cause some trouble. He was about to do it, too, except Mugwump threw his hammer. "Flash!" "Crash!" Dinosaur sticks flew up high in the air. Down they came and fell together in a neat stack with a happy noise of clicky-click-click. Happy day!

Bulky Crowns And More Trims For Spring

By GAIL DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—Generally speaking, the woman buying a new hat this Spring will get more hat for her money. She'll get a bulkier crown, a wider brim, more important trimming—in short, more hat. The reason for this, of course, is that hair is slightly longer. Not much, but enough to make a difference in hats. Few of the top chignon but most do like a cluster of curls at the nape of the neck.

While there's much talk of the "forward movement" in hats, the name designers are skeptical about it. They include the forward hat in their collections but they don't believe that women will snap at it. The reason for this, they say, is plain. The forward hat makes a woman look older and what woman past 21 wants to look older?

always flattering and in excellent taste, does a small suit hat in a head-hugging horn of plenty silhouette. He makes it of wheat braid in a scallop shell pattern and gives it, as trim, a narrow black velvet ribbon. Face veiling is both sheer and fine.

Sally Victor's pumpkin beret appears several ways in her collection. It's extremely wearable in gray felt edged in white pique. The crown is ridged pumpkin-fashion and the sides of the hat are smoothly rounded.

A small, youthful sailor in aquamarine ballbunt by Walter Florell is called appropriately enough: "Bicycle Built for Two." It's banded in garnet velvet ribbon and has a white feather duster plume jutting out at one side.

This same designer does a mushroom cloche in navy-and-white straw braid and tops it with white straw pom-poms. This is a universally youthful and becoming silhouette and, as done by Florell, is pert.

Citrus Fruit Made Into Cattle Feed

JACKSONVILLE, FLA. —(AP)—Tons of citrus fruit rinds, pulp and seeds now are being made into a new cattle feed. The history of the new development is told by Edgar Andrews, field engineer here for Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, whose electronic controls are used in systems for making both the feed and various types of concentrated fruit juices.

"When processors first started turning out citrus juices," said Andrews, "they faced a mounting problem in the disposal of rinds and pulp which were too wet to be burned. If dumped, they made an objectionable odor over large areas and for long periods. A new process has been introduced which grinds the seeds, pulp and rinds into a dry feed that has the appearance of cereal flakes. This high-vitamin content cattle feed has been found to build resistance to disease, make better beef and increase the quantity of milk per cow."

The Rev. DeWitt Safford, who deposited the money, recently renewed the offer and promised to include the five years' interest.

A tither is one who gives 10 per cent of his income to the church. Safford reports his church has 178 tithers out of a communicant membership of 481. None of them, he says, has shown an interest in his $100.

DONT HURT HOTELS

NEW YORK —(AP)—The average person thinks the largest yearly loss a hotel sustains is from "skippers"—a name given to those who leave a hotel without paying bill. This is not true. According to figures just released by one New York hotel, which depends on tourists for 90 per cent of its business (the Hotel Edison) losses from "skippers" is a quarter of one per cent. Hotels lose more than that on people taking linens, towels, and knick-knacks in the room.

International Cooperation Puts Trieste Shoe Factory On Its Feet

TRIESTE—(NEA)—As an example of international cooperation, Trieste's new Fortuna Shoe Company is hard to beat. An American, using funds from the Allied Military Government, set up a plant in Trieste with Italian and Yugoslavian workers and raw materials from Madagascar.

The American is ex-diplomat Thomas A. McCann, of Minneapolis. He saw the possibilities of using Trieste's large number of skilled workers, and the fact that the city is a free port, in a manufacturing enterprise.

McCann obtained a 90,000,000 lire ($14,000) loan from the Allied Military Government and imported a complete shoe factory from Boston. And he used local raw materials—plus raffia from Madagascar palms—to specialize in hand-woven beach and Summer sandals.

Before production began in January, the Fortuna salesmen had hustled up orders for more than 30,000 pairs of shoes. And they could have had more, but were afraid of the production kinks that usually beset a new plant. The kinks haven't developed, however.

Have Wooden Soles
The sandals have wooden soles, which are cut in Florence, Italy, and Lubliana, Yugoslavia. These are then covered with raffia dyed by girls working in villages around Trieste. At the factory, workmen sew the braided raffia into strips, forming the uppers, straps and ankle bands for the shoes.

Salesmen who took samples into the U. S., England, Germany and Scandinavia, were warmly welcomed, possibly because of a worldwide leather shortage. Orders were quickly obtained for the shoes which sell at retail for $5 and look like expensive models.

The factory's present output is only 900 pairs a day, but McCann hopes to reach a 6,000-pair-per-day figure when the factory is in full operation. So far, everything has broken right for the plant, which has the blessing of the AMG.

The company's name may have something to do with the breaks it's gotten so far. Fortuna means lucky.

Machinery from Boston, money from the Allied Military Government and raffia from Madagascar put these girls to work in a shoe factory in Trieste started by an American.

NO CONSTIPATION NOW AFTER YEARS OF MISERY

"For years I had been taking many kinds of laxatives. Then I tried ALL-BRAN. It not only keeps me regular... I really enjoy eating it every day!" Rudy R. Adler, 1410 20th St., Miami Beach, Fla. One of many unsolicited letters from ALL-BRAN users. You, too, may expect to overcome constipation due to lack of dietary bulk if you follow this advice: Eat an ounce (about 1/2 cup) of crispy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water! If not completely satisfied after 10 days, return empty carton to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

Milky Skin For Elegance

Make-up in keeping with this year's elegant styles and rich fabrics is applied by this fashion-conscious young woman. She applies a dark shade of lipstick (left) to add dash and color to milk-toned complexion she achieves with double application of pale powder.

The storybook princess with milk-white skin had no advantage over the modern miss, who can wave her own version of the magic wand to achieve the same effect.

The secret vials used by today's woman are found in her own make-up box. With practiced and skillful hand she can apply the right cosmetics to set off to best advantage this season's fairytale fabrics and fabulous fake jewelry. Sleek satins and glistened furs find attractive contrast in the mat finish of the new pale make-up which originated in France. Rich costume colors are complemented by dark lipstick shades which are used to add dash and sophistication to the snowy-skinned, elegant-lady effect.

Care must be taken, since more powder is used than in ordinary make-up, to avoid a chalky look. An ivory glow, with faint undertones of color, is preferable to a dead-white complexion.

For best results, try these suggestions from a leading cosmetic firm. Begin with a thorough cleansing of your face, then apply a make-up base. A light pastel tint is suggested. Dot the base all over your face and neck, and blend it in well with your fingertips.

Next smooth a bit of rouge onto your cheeks. Place it high and use it sparingly. The color should be blended until only a delicate pink flush is left to show through your powder, which is dusted on next.

Choose a powder in a lighter shade than the one you customarily use. Apply a liberal amount and pat it in well before smoothing.

To set your powder, dip a fluff of cotton in ice water and wring it well. Press this gently all over your face and neck. A second coating of powder is applied exactly as the first.

Eye make-up is the next step. To prevent ghostly look above your eyes, use eye shadow as a toner on the area between your eyebrow and your eyelid. Then shadow your lids as you usually do, sweeping outward toward your temples.

With a pencil, outline your eyes along the base of your lashes, extending the stroke a bit beyond. Brush your eyebrows upward and outward, and pencil them boldly.

Mascara should be applied only to the upper lashes, with the outer lashes darkened more lavishly than the inner ones.

For a final step, apply a dark lipstick. Since its deep tone will appear in marked contrast to your skin, a firm smooth outline is necessary. Fill-in should be heavy, to balance the opulent coating of powder.

Special nails of high carbon steel, developed as an aid in television installations, can be driven directly into a brick wall to hold antenna lead wires. Nails are provided with a polyethylene insulator at the tip. They can be used also as a mast coupler.

Tape Smooths Furrowed Brow

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The furrows plowed by time, worry or ill temper between a woman's eyebrows detract from her beauty more than she sometimes realizes.

Largely this is so because these lines speak of unhappiness and annoyance in the past rather than of happy times, such as those recorded by laugh lines.

If your forehead is marred by these vertical dents, try to keep your brow as serene as possible at all times to prevent their growing deeper.

It's helpful, too, to turn to smoothing out measures while you sleep. One simple trick you might adopt is that of applying two short lengths of transparent tape in a V pattern to hold your between-eyebrows area taut during the night.

Apply the tape carefully, attaching it first just above the base of your nose. Then smooth the furrow upward and outward with

BOYS RANCH PLANS—Cal Farley, founder and president of Boys' Ranch, explains the ranch's proposed expansion plans. He holds a model of the type of units to be built, housing 24 to 30 boys. The chart in the background shows the future building area. The long-range program calls for several of these units and a vocational school.

Cal Farley Envisions Boys Ranch Capable Of Caring For 1,000 to 1,500 Youngsters

AMARILLO—Visions of a Boys Ranch for 1,000 to 1,500 youngsters with a fighting chance to grow into worthwhile American citizens has been put into words by Cal Farley, founder and president of the famous Boys' Ranch near Amarillo, Texas.

"We must expand," Cal said. "It is forced upon us by torn homes. Every day requests come to our office asking us to take boys."

A recent case cited by Farley was that of a woman who came to him, pleading for the Ranch to take her 14-year-old son. The father was gone, the older children married, and the youngster was "beginning to get into trouble." The mother had been told she had cancer and had six months to live. She wanted her son cared for.

"What can you do?" Farley asked. "We have five boys sleeping in the gymnasium now, but can you tell a woman like that there isn't a place for her son? The only answer was to make a place for him."

Future Plans Outlined
The future plans call for permanent "24-boy" homes of the unit type, situated in the area just east of the present buildings. Long-range planning includes 20 of such units. Each of the buildings, furnished, will cost approximately $30,000, but the ranch founder pointed out that they probably could be built for less because of donations of labor and materials, such as have been given in the past.

Under the new program, the expansion area would be dedicated to the use of the older boys, and would house the high school and vocational school, leaving the present area for handling the smaller boys.

Right now, it is necessary that one unit be started as soon as possible in order to ease the crowded conditions. Later on, another unit and part of the vocational school building will be built.

Plans and sketches already have been received from the fifth year architectural class of Texas A&M. The class has made the planning of the future ranch buildings a term project and the students are donating their services. It is hoped ground for the first new unit will be broken within the next 30 to 60 days.

Unfolding the story of the costs of maintaining the present establishment that now cares for 137 boys, Farley said the ultimate expansion was limited only by the funds and facilities which are made available to the ranch through donations.
