Hurlbut To Set Pipe To Test Mississippian In Mitchell Prospect

S. F. Hurlbut is to run casing and make production tests of the Mississippian lime at his No. 1-A Ellwood, Central-South Mitchell County wildcat.

That section to be tested showed some free oil and some oil and gas cut mud during a drillstem test.

The project drilled to a total depth of 7,429 feet in the Ellenburger. That section showed only sulphur water. It was tested at 7,350-7,429 feet.

Made Only Water
The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 6,800 feet of sulphur water. There were no signs of oil or gas.

Top of the Ellenburger, according to electric log, is at 7,350 feet. Elevation is 2,027 feet.

This exploration showed some free oil and some oil and gas cut drilling mud in two tests on the section in the Mississippian lime between 7,280 feet and 7,345 feet.

Operator will plug off the Ellenburger zone and run casing through the possible Mississippian pay. The casing will be perforated and the zone which has indicated possible production will be acidized and d tested.

May Make A Well
Interested observers think there is a fair chance that the testing will develop some sort of an oil well and a discovery from the Mississippian.

Top of the Mississippian has been picked by some geologists to be at 7,170 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block 10, SPRR survey. The prospect is 20 miles south of Colorado City.

Landmen Will Have Barbecue Thursday

The Permian Basin Landmen's Association will hold its Annual Family Barbecue Thursday at the Officers' Club at Midland Air Park north of town, Allen J. Watts, president of the organization said.

All PBLA members, their families and out of town guests are invited. Starting time is 6 p.m.

Kerr-McGee Finds More Shows Of Oil In Andrews Wildcat

Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., No. 1-B-11-23 University, Central-South Andrews County wildcat continues to find slight shows of oil, gas and water in the Wichita-Albany section of the lower Permian.

The latest test was at 7,485-7,525 feet. The tool was open two hours and 35 minutes.

Recovery was 260 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud, 90 feet of salty, oil cut mud and 30 feet of muddy, salty water. There were 2,700 feet of free gas in the drill pipe.

The prospector deepened to 7,595 feet and is now taking a drillstem test with the packer set at 7,573 feet.

Other Shows Above
The exploration had some shows of oil and gas in a test at 7,466-7,510 feet, in the upper part of the Wichita-Albany.

It had small signs of oil and gas in the Fullerton section of the Clear Fork between 6,400 feet and 6,821 feet.

The San Andres zone at 4,335-4,414 feet also showed interesting signs of a possible small production. The wildcat is contracted to 11,000 feet to explore the Ellenburger.

Location is 14 miles southwest of Andrews and 2,007 feet from north and 2,033.4 feet from west lines of section 23, block 11, University survey.

NW King Wildcat To Be Abandoned
Lawson Drilling Company is preparing to plug and abandon its No. 1 Starr Pope, Northwest King County wildcat failure.

The project was drilled to a total depth of 6,350 feet in the Mississippian without finding signs for possible commercial production.

One drillstem test was made in the Cisco and two were made in the Strawn lime. All three made only water.

After drilling to total depth hole was plugged back to 3,650 feet and tests were made in the Cisco. No shows for production were developed.

Symington Charges Ex-RFC Official On Borrower's Payroll

WASHINGTON—(P)—Administrator Stuart Symington of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation charged Monday a former RFC official, Allen E. Freeze, 52, of Dallas, accepted employment from a RFC borrower at the same time RFC was employing him at $10,750 a year.

Symington said he has referred the case to the Justice Department for possible prosecution on criminal charges and he has instructed RFC's general counsel to bring a civil suit against Freeze.

Freeze resigned as assistant controller of the RFC last September 28 to become vice president and controller of the Texmass Corporation, Dallas, at a salary of $22,500 a year. The salary since has been raised, Symington said.

He added that at least five months before leaving the RFC, Freeze "accepted a salary" from DALLAS—(P)—Allen E. Freeze of Dallas, accused of working for the RFC while employed by a firm which was seeking a loan from the RFC Monday denied the charges.

Freeze said Monday the accusation is "absolutely untrue." "It did come down here the first of the summer, and my resignation took place in September," he said, "but that was because my accumulated annual leave was built up for that period."

Freeze said he was "carried on business with and for (Texmass) from his office at the RFC."

Symington said evidence dug up by RFC investigators, consists of 20 documents presented by Texmass between April 18 and June 15, 1950, signed by Freeze, among other officials, as a vice president of the borrowing concern.

Also, he said, RFC records show 50 long distance calls from Freeze's office, charged to the RFC, that were made to "officials, creditors," (Continued On Page 5)

Chest X-Ray Simple As Having Picture Made, Sponsors Say

Having a chest check-up for tuberculosis will take no longer than going out for a cup of coffee when a State Department of Health X-ray unit is set up in Midland June 23 through July 5.

The mass X-ray survey will be co-sponsored by the Midland City-County Health Unit and the Midland County Tuberculosis Association. The county association has arranged for the State Health Department unit to be brought here.

The sponsors say that having a chest X-ray is as simple as having a picture taken. You won't have to undress for the free snapshot of your lungs.

Detecting tuberculosis of the lungs in its early stages is important because it usually can be cured easily and quickly if spotted before symptoms appear.

Many persons who have tuberculosis in its early stages feel well. Because early tuberculosis normally has no warning signs or symptoms. The best way to be sure of your health is by chest X-ray.

Brown Named Chairman
Hulon Brown, Midland attorney, has been named general chairman of the campaign. Brown said the group hopes to better last year's record of 4,000 X-rays.

Writ Halts Sending Of Race Information To Maceo Concerns

AUSTIN—(P)—District Judge Jack Roberts Monday granted the state a temporary injunction halting transmission of horse racing information by telephone to Maceo and Company in Galveston.

Judge Roberts said the temporary injunction would be effective until hearing is held against the illegal operations.

The Maceos filed a plea for trial on the permanent injunction to be held on their home grounds in Galveston. But Attorney General Price Daniel told reporters he would fight such a change of venue.

Daniel said he wanted the case tried in Austin because "we have jurisdiction over the telephone companies here. The Maceos were using the phone facilities. Therefore, we have jurisdiction over the Maceos here."

"I think the case should be heard in Travis County, not transferred to Galveston County—not any part of the case."

Judge Roberts granted the temporary injunction after hearing two assistant attorneys general describe race horse gambling in five Maceo clubs in Galveston County—the Turf Grill, Murdoch's Chili Bowl, the Streamliner Dinner Club and the Home Plate Cigar Stand.

Panel To End MacArthur Inquiry Soon

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate's MacArthur Inquiry Committee voted unanimously Monday to hear only four more witnesses and to close the investigation "at the earliest possible date."

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) said the inquiry may end this week or by the middle of next week at the latest.

The committee decided to call these additional witnesses: Patrick J. Hurley, former ambassador to China.

Maj. Gen. Emmet (Rosie) O'Donnell, former commander of the U. S. Strategic Bombing Force in the Far East.

Maj. Gen. David C. Barr, former commander of the U. S. 7th Division in Korea and one-time chief of a U. S. military mission to China.

Vice Adm. Oscar Badger, former U. S. naval commander in the Far East.

In addition it is possible General Douglas MacArthur may testify again. The committee has invited MacArthur to take the witness chair again if he cares to reply to any of the testimony the committee has heard since the inquiry started on May 3.

Mac First Witness
MacArthur was the first witness at the joint inquiry by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committee into his dismissal and his differences with the Truman Administration over Korean war policy.

Russell said the committee has had no word from MacArthur as to whether he wants to testify again.

Monday's decision to seek a quick wind-up of the inquiry was made at a brief closed-door session of the inquiry panel.

Russell said the committee decided not to call Presidential Advisor W. Averell Harriman as a witness.

Okay Recommendation
"The committee unanimously approved a subcommittee's recommendation that it would be in the public interest to conclude the hearings at the earliest possible date," Russell said.

General O'Donnell himself became a center of controversy last January when he returned from Korea and was quoted in an interview at March Air Base, California, as saying the United States could use "the ultimate weapon" with effectiveness in Korea.

A reporter asked what was meant by the "ultimate weapon" and O'Donnell was quoted as replying, "the atomic bomb."

Six Russian-Type Craft Destroyed, Others Damaged

TOKYO—(P)—Outnumbered American Sabre jets destroyed six Russian-type jets and damaged eight others in two big air battles over Korea Sunday and Monday.

A total of 118 planes were involved in the sudden revival of jet warfare.

Sixteen Red jets made a third stab at four Sabre jets Monday afternoon—but kept at a safe distance. They fired twice on the F-86's, then streaked back across the Yalu River into the safety of Manchuria.

All American planes returned safely, Far East Air Forces said.

Reappearance of the Red jets in force coincided with indications the Chinese may be preparing a new ground offensive.

Red troops suddenly appeared in territory they had previously deserted. Replacements steadily filtered down from the north, for holding troops all along the front.

Pierce Red defenses checked Allied moves in the center of the line. But Allied patrols Monday drove more than three miles into Red territory in the west and gained slightly more than a mile in the east.

Two UN armored tank patrols rumbled up the west side of the former Red "iron triangle," shooting at small Communist bands on (Continued On Page 7)

U. S. Marine Guard, Janitor Found Dead In Havana Embassy

HAVANA, CUBA—(P)—A U. S. Marine guard and a janitor were found shot to death Monday in the U. S. Embassy.

The embassy said Cuban authorities are investigating, but gave no clues as to what caused the shootings, other than saying there were no indications of attempted robbery.

The embassy is in the Horter Building on Obispo Street in downtown Havana. The janitor, Agustin Fernandez, had been employed there more than 20 years.

The Marine guard, a sergeant, was not identified pending notification of his relatives.

The bodies were found in one of the Embassy offices.

In Washington, the State Department would not comment immediately.

One source said that official reports of the incident had not been made, and that nothing more was known here than had appeared in press reports.

A top official said the bodies were found when the Embassy opened in Havana this morning, and that it is not known how the two men were killed.

Policy Conferences On Wage Increases To Resume Tuesday

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Wage Stabilization Board will resume conferences Tuesday on a new general policy to hold the line on wage increases.

Though members of the board insist they are not close to a decision, talk is reported to be centering around allowing an advance in the line from 10 per cent above January, 1950, levels to approximately 13 per cent—including annual productivity improvement bonuses generally figured at two per cent a year, and other "fringes" amounting to another one-half per cent.

The cost of living index, to which most industrial contracts with escalator clauses are hinged, has advanced 10.5 per cent between Jan. 15, 1950, and April 15, 1951.

The present ceiling of 10 per cent was fixed in January by the first Wage Stabilization Board, headed by Conciliation Director Cyrus S. Ching. That percentage did not allow for the productivity bonus but the board promised to take another look at the cost of living index of April 15 with a view of revising the 10 per cent ceiling if that should be warranted.

Draft Bill Has Weak Spot

On the positive side, the new draft bill finally approved by Congress offers these gains: It lowers the draft age from 19 to 18 1/2 years, lengthens the term of service to two years, and reduces physical and mental requirements for draftees.

The bill also runs four years, thus assuring the armed forces of a certain continuity in manpower policies. Finally, it endorses the principle of universal military training.

But, on the negative side, the great disappointment is that this measure did not in fact set up a UMT program but put it off to a future date.

The bill establishes a five-member commission, of whom three are to be civilians, to frame a program to give six months' military training to all youths between the ages of 18 and 19.

The deferring of decision into the future is in a very real sense a putting off of duty by the lawmakers. Inasmuch as the Senate's original bill did set up a UMT plan, it is the House that must bear responsibility for the present failure.

House members seem to be hoping that some kind of improvement in the world situation, perhaps an end to the Korean war, will afford them the excuse they seek to shelve UMT four months hence as they have done every year up to now.

Our military leaders are virtually unanimous in recommending UMT as the only sane way to assure this country the well-trained reserve of manpower it needs to fight a modern war.

Yet, lawmakers, who appear more concerned with the next election than the next generation, persist in regarding UMT as a painful program which they dare not embrace.

Since a majority of the people favor UMT, they would do well to use the next four months in impressing their congressmen with that fact. Some members might then conclude that the path to reelection is not through avoidance of responsibility, however painful it may seem.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Bank of China finances China lobby; Chiang Kai-Shek's brothers-in-law in New York master-mind China lobby; Senator Bridges of New Hampshire performed favor for China lobby.

WASHINGTON — If a Congressional committee ever digs deep enough into the China lobby, it will find an amazing, almost unbelievable, propaganda network aimed at influencing our foreign policy.

However, the China lobby has been getting away with it for years. It has been bald-faced and brazen in its moves to contribute to certain Senators' campaigns, to hire powerful figures in the Democratic Party, and to place slanted news articles with the press.

Heart and nerve center of the China lobby is the Bank of China in New York City. Its master-mind is the brother-in-law of Chiang Kai-Shek, Dr. H. H. Kung, one of the wealthiest men in the world.

Another brother-in-law of the Generalissimo is T. V. Soong, who has just acquired a palatial home on Long Island. Few Americans could afford such an estate.

Neither of the two brothers-in-law has lived in China except for intermittent visits for about seven years. Dr. Kung left China shortly after the gold scandal of March, 1944, when he was ousted from the cabinet and from the governorship of the Central Bank because of a leak regarding the scheduled increase in the price of gold.

This leak made millions for certain Chinese speculators close to the Chiang Government, and as a result Chiang not only ousted his brother-in-law but beheaded a minor bank official, Kao Ping-Fang. The latter died shouting that he was a scapegoat for higher-ups who had grown rich on the scandal and were being protected.

Dr. Kung also controlled the China Tea Company, considered so corrupt that one member of the People's Political Council, Huang Yen-Fu, openly demanded impeachment of its management. Kung was also in charge of the Chinese Universal Trading Corporation which handled wartime American aid to China.

At present he is reported to have large holdings in the Philippines and Formosa—which may be one reason for the tremendous interest the Chinese lobby in retaining that island.

Dr. Kung's knowledge of American politics is almost as astute as this knowledge of Chinese finance; and, well before he entered the Truman Cabinet, Kung picked Louis Johnson as his personal attorney.

It may or may not be significant that, later, when Johnson became Secretary of Defense, he was one of the staunchest advocates of American support of Formosa. Johnson also persuaded the State Department to transfer an associate of the Johnson law firm, Myron Cowen, from his post as Ambassador to Australia to be Ambassador to the Philippines, where incidentally Dr. Kung also has important investments.

Dr. Kung has been a called upon popular Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, and the Senator likewise has been active in urging aid to Formosa and the Chiang Kai-Shek exiles.

When Bridges ran for reelection in 1948 he listed a $2,000 campaign contribution from Alfred Kohlberg

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

My friend Howard Dietz is famous in Hollywood, on Broadway, and in operatic circles for his ability to weave a plot or write a song that will drag in the paying customers.

"West bid a spade on his hand just to keep the conversation going," said Dietz. "He wanted to make sure that the hand wasn't played at one heart."

We all agreed that West had acted against this great danger with a praiseworthy sense of duty.

"When East bid four spades, it was clear to North that the opponents must hold nine spades between them. Therefore he jumped to seven hearts at his next turn."

"West suspected what was going on largely because his partner had not sacrificed at seven spades. Therefore he inserted a penalty."

double. Now it was South's turn to rely on the opponents to hold nine spades between them.

"West led his singleton spade, and the defenders collected a mere 2800 points. Not a bad result on those cards, is it?"

We all agreed that West had managed to beat par for the hand. "I suppose you were West, Howard?" I asked, carefully keeping skepticism out of my voice.

"No," Dietz replied ruefully. "I was North. That's why I'm so conservative these days."

Who knows? Maybe it all happened just the way Dietz tells it. At any rate, his partner, Sherman Stearns, tells it the same way.

Incidentally, don't be led astray by the success of West's psychic bid of one spade. Such bids are mad-ness for beginners, dangerous for average players, and risky even for experts.

Today's hand is presented for amusement rather than instruction.

Employers' Help Sought By Guard

An appeal has been made for Midland employers to allow their employees who are National Guard members to attend Summer camp.

A nationwide appeal was made by President Truman and the Army Chief of Staff.

Midland guardsmen are scheduled for a two weeks encampment and training period beginning July 1.

There are approximately 56 men here who need to attend camp, guard officers here said. They are members of Company E, Second Battalion, 112th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

Employers have been asked to give their employees a two-weeks paid time off or give them military leave without pay, if necessary.

"It is vitally important for National Guard members to attend Summer camp," Capt. Max Schumann said. "At camp, we put into effect what we have studied at weekly drills throughout the year. If America is to have a strong Guard, it has got to be trained," the officer added.

Latin American Upheaval Doesn't Stop U.S. Aid

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — In the recent election upset in Bolivia, there was one issue on which both the reactionary "ins" and the revolutionary "outs" agreed. They both wanted the U. S. Institute of Inter-American Affairs program continued and enlarged.

This is the little-known American government effort to help Latin American countries raise their standard of living, when they ask for technical assistance in the fields of food production, health and education.

It now is increasing its programs from 24 to 34 in 14 Latin American countries.

IATA is small business when compared to most government activities. It employs only 250 Americans in Latin America, paying their salaries. It is now operating as a government corporation, authorized to spend $35,000,000 in the 1949-54 period, or $7,000,000 a year.

When it was first started in 1942, the U. S. government paid all institute expenses. The Latin American governments paid nothing.

That emphasis now is shifting so that the Latin American countries pay most of the costs. Last year, for instance, they paid out $17,000,000 and employed 10,000 natives on various projects.

Over the nine years of operations, the U. S. government has contributed $63,000,000 compared to the Latin American governments' $60,000,000.

It is a selfish investment for the United States' own interest, according to Kenneth R. Iverson, young Utah lawyer who now is president of the institute, with offices in Washington.

He has been with IATA since it was founded, save for a short period as a Marshall Plan operations man in Greece.

If the standard of living could be raised in Latin America even just a little, the United States could benefit immensely, Iverson believes.

Eighty-five per cent of the people of Bolivia are illiterate. The per capita income is about $55 a year, as compared to almost $2,000 in the U. S. Seventy to 80 per cent of the people in Peru are illiterate.

The per capita income there is $100 a year. "They don't know how to want anything," says Iverson graphically.

If per capita income in countries like these could be raised to $300 or even $150, it could double the market for U. S. goods. And it would increase the supply of things that Latin America produces and North America needs badly.

Even under today's conditions, the U. S. sells $3,000,000,000 worth of goods a year to Latin America. This is more than a third of all U. S. exports. There is no reason why the figure could not be increased.

In return, the United States now takes about half of all Latin America's exports. It takes 95 per cent of the sugar, 90 per cent of the coffee, more than 50 per cent of the copper, lead, tin. The list can be extended to some 25 critical materials.

On most of these imports the United States now pays what amounts to a hidden tax of five per cent or more, caused by malaria. It was malaria, in fact, which put the

He turned into a restaurant several doors down the street. It was a large place, and relatively uncluttered, in that the tables were at least a foot apart.

He looked belligerently at the tables in that end of the room, to see if one wasn't about to be vacated. And although the girl at the table six feet away was beaming right at him, he didn't even see her until she raised her hand and said, "Hi, Mr. Webb."

SHE looked familiar. Why, of course, Miss—Miss Jepley from the Statistical Department. He nodded and smiled automatically, before his gaze moved on to the table beyond Miss Jepley had the cake-crumbs look.

When the couple finally got up, he was in so hypertense a state that he spat forward as if he'd heard the starting gun. The headwaiter trotted up to him. "There's a couple back at the bar, sir, who've been waiting a half hour. If you'll just get back into line, we'll have something very soon."

Arthur was too orderly-minded a man to argue, but he let his persecution complex out another notch.

"It's a shame, Mr. Webb." He had forgotten Miss Jepley entirely. She laughed, and it was a cheerful process, full of good teeth.

Then, soberly, "I'll bet you've been terribly busy with that Mexican change in classified A listings." Imagine her knowing that. He said gratefully it was a deuce of a job. She stirred her iced coffee, and he watched thirstily. "Say, if you'd care to sit down here—I mean, if you're not expecting someone else..."

"Why—uh—why, thanks, I'd like to." As he settled back in the chair opposite her, there came to

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE The discussion in the hotel lobby was on the subject of who was the greatest inventor. One man said, "Watt, who invented the steam engine, was the greatest." Another said, "Fulton, who invented the steamboat, was." A third said, "The greatest was Edison; he invented the electric light, motion pictures and the phonograph."

Mr. Speteln, who had been silent until now, remarked, "Well, de feller you invented interest wasn't no slouch."

him, with a sense of almost awe. So this is how it's done.

Miss Jepley was an interestingly delightful dinner companion. It was started at the volume and duration to her laughter. He realized suddenly that he hadn't thought of Lucilla for at least 20 minutes.

She was saying she didn't know whether she ought to be telling him: "But honestly, Mr. Webb, you're supposed to be the nicest man in the whole department to work for."

He pooh-poohed this and became aware that their waiter was fidgeting. "How about a brandy?"

Miss Jepley accepted enthusiastically. "Look, would you just as soon move over to the bar? The Roller Derby comes on in a few minutes, and I'm crazy about it."

"Say, Derkin said that's the best sport on television. I'm glad you thought of it." He asked for the check and overrode her protestations masterfully, when she wanted to pay for her own.

AFTER the second brandy, Miss Jepley was in such good voice, screaming and shouting at the screen that several people at the bar stared.

When the derby ended he wasn't even sure who had won. Arthur debated the problems of etiquette involved. Was he supposed to escort Miss Jepley home, or just leave her where he found her? She beamed so unsuspectingly that he didn't have the heart to be rude. "May I drop you somewhere?"

The only drawback was that once they got in the cab, Miss Jepley proved to be a hard girl to drop. She begged in an exhalation of brassy conviviality, to come up to her place for a nightcap. Arthur felt sorry for her, but not to the extent that he would offer himself as a living sacrifice. He refused gently and was started when she lurched against him as the cab stopped and kissed him wetly.

He took Miss Jepley into the dim-lit lobby of the apartment building, patted her arm, from a safe distance, and said too briskly, "It's been very pleasant," and bolted.

Fate Of Economic Curbs After June 30 Uncertain; Stop-Gap Extension Seen

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The post-June 30 fate of the economic controls program continued uncertain Monday. Lawmakers who must make the decisions awaited additional guidance from the folks back home.

Although Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson Sunday expressed confidence Congress will "recognize the necessity" of extending the Defense Production Act, signs mounted that the Administration may have to settle for a stop-gap extension on an as-is basis.

Congress has at best only 12 working days in which to act. Senators said early returns from President Truman's radio and television appeal to the people to rally round the expiring price-wage controls law have been something less than conclusive. They had expected a larger volume of mail, to give them a chance to gauge public sentiment.

Truman in his speech Thursday night warned that prices will soar "through the roof" and subject the nation to ruinous inflation unless Congress quickly enacts broader new controls to take the place of those due to expire June 30.

The Senate Banking Committee, working against time to get a controls bill whipped together before the deadline, reported that Saturday brought the first bulge in its mail volume attributable to the President's appeal—but that it was neither large nor conclusive.

Chairman Maybank (D-S.C.) said the committee will "keep driving" for agreement and that he still hopes to beat the deadline. He said he wishes the next few days would bring an expression from the public which would leave no doubt as to its wishes.

Other lawmakers, from both major parties and each side of the Capitol, expressed similar sentiments.

Both Houses would have to move with almost unprecedented speed to beat the deadline provided the banking committees manage to agree on bills by the end of the week.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the House Banking Committee said "a lot of divergent opinions" within his group made the time element highly speculative. However, he said he had some hope of writing a bill late in the week.

Failure to get under the wire probably would lead Congress to vote a stop-gap extension of the present act. This would please some congressmen who take a wait-and-see attitude in the belief a Korean truce might end all need for controls.

These lawmakers appear outnumbered, however, by those who think some form of controls is essential to the long-range defense effort. Just how many of these go along with Truman's contention that the controls should be tightened and extended for two more years is anybody's guess.

Defense Mobilizer Wilson, speaking on a television program turned thumbs down on a suggested four-month extension of the act as it now stands. He indicated he believed that would only result in more hearings similar to those that have been underway before congressional committees for several weeks.

On other phases of the mobilization program, Wilson said:

1. An aircraft production board, similar to one operated in World War II, will be set up in the Defense Production Administration within a month.

2. Under present plans, the United States will have a potential capacity of 50,000 airplanes a year.

3. A study has been ordered into the advisability of "encouraging synthetic wool production in this country."

4. A $7,233,000,000 tax bill pending in the House "is a good step in the right direction."

Adding to existing uncertainties over the controls legislation, a controversy shaped up over the labor-disputes power the existing law gives the President's Wage Stabilization Board. After several weeks of hearings, a House labor subcommittee reportedly was ready to draft proposals limiting the board's jurisdiction over disputes.

Supporters of these proposals contend the board might use its powers to by-pass the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Chairman Lucas (D-Texas) said Monday the subcommittee was determined to impose some limitations on the board's powers, and also to seek "protection" for independent unions not affiliated with either the AFL or CIO by giving them representation on the board.

Nagging Aches And Pains Were Relieved By Hadacol

When Nagging Aches and Pains are Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, HADACOL gives Welcome Relief

Driving a truck is no holiday. It's hard work and a man has got to be on his toes all the time and feeling well to keep going. Mr. Edward Jakubowski, 1822 N. 75th Court, Elmwood Park, Ill., has been driving a truck since 1919 and has always enjoyed his job. But Mr. Jakubowski must not have felt quite up to the strain of his job for a time because he did not feel well. He had nagging aches and pains and he felt rundown. One of his fellow drivers told him about how HADACOL was helping people suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL seemed to be just what he needed. Here is what Mr. Jakubowski says:

Edward Jakubowski

MR. JAKUBOWSKI SAYS: "For awhile I was bothered with aches and pains and felt rundown. One day one of the other drivers suggested I start taking HADACOL. So I bought a bottle and started taking it. It has relieved my pains; they're almost completely disappeared, and no longer prevent me from sleeping well. This was three years ago when I took my first bottle of HADACOL. I still continue to take it and have recommended it to many of my friends. I truly think HADACOL is a good product."

Many thousands take HADACOL regularly because HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of those nagging aches and pains when due to the lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and iron in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning when caused by such deficiencies. Now that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once.

And HADACOL'S wonderful vitamins and Minerals come in special pleasant liquid form so they are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work at once.

HADACOL IS SO EFFECTIVE Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body.

You may have tried other Vitamin preparations or other Vitamin and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today. You be the Judge. If you do not believe that HADACOL is the best Vitamin and Mineral preparation you have ever taken, we will gladly send you back your money. That's our positive money-back guarantee. You take no chances.

So be fair to yourself. Don't go through life suffering from nagging aches and pains when caused by lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drug store.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES There's only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Sold at all drug stores. Trial size, $1.25, but buy the large family-size, only $3.50.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT!

Daddy Ringtail And No Appetite

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, hurried away down the elephant path until he came to the little stone house where Doctor Shoobug, the monkey doctor, has his office. Happily, Doctor Shoobug had not run away somewhere to see about any sick folks. He was sitting inside by the window where he could breathe the fine fresh air and yet be close by his telephone to answer if someone sick should phone him. "Happy day, Mugwump," said Doctor Shoobug in his voice which was always very friendly. "Happy day to you, Doctor Shoobug," Mugwump said, but his voice wasn't happy at all. No sir it wasn't happy. It was a sad, sad voice on what should have been a happy day. Why, the day was warm, but not too warm, and the rain wasn't falling, and the birds were singing in the trees, and all the world seemed happy—all of it except Mugwump, I mean.

"Teh! Teh! Teh!" said Doctor Shoobug "Having trouble?" Mugwump shook his head up and down to mean "yes" he was having trouble. He didn't say what the trouble was. He said: Doctor Shoobug, what happens when a boy doesn't eat?"

And so Doctor Shoobug explained how a boy gets thin when he doesn't eat.

doesn't eat. And the same is true for a girl. If they don't eat, then they aren't fat any more or big or strong. Yes sir, and so every boy and girl ought to eat as much as they can of all the things they are supposed to eat.

"Teh! Teh! Teh!" said Mugwump, and he explained how Mother Ringtail had served desert of scrambled coconut pie. Why, of all the desserts in the world, scrambled coconut pie was the very best that Mugwump liked the best. And so why was it he couldn't eat it this time? What a problem.

But Doctor Shoobug knows about problems, so he talked and talked with Mugwump, asking Mugwump questions until at last Doctor Shoobug said that Mugwump shouldn't worry.

Mugwump wasn't sick, oh no! No one could eat his scrambled coconut pie if first he had eaten eleven pieces of scrambled coconut bread, and eleven bowls of scrambled coconut soup, and eleven glasses of fine sweet milk. And so Mugwump wasn't sick at all, Doctor Shoobug said, and the reason that Mugwump hadn't eaten his scrambled coconut pie was the great big dinner he had eaten first.

Happy day!

Nationalist China Participation In Treaty Stressed

TAIPEH, FORMOSA — (AP) — President Chiang Kai-Shek Monday insisted on Nationalist China's right to participate in a Japanese peace treaty.

He said if this right were denied "it may seriously damage the traditional friendship between the Chinese and American people."

Chiang added that "any discriminatory treatment (against Nationalist China) would not be acceptable."

He declared any peace treaty concluded without Nationalist China's participation "would certainly be lacking in both moral force and legal justification, and leave an indelible blot on the history of Allied cooperation in resisting aggression."

"Such an unrealistic peace treaty will not only fail to terminate the state of belligerency of World War II, but also add confusion to the Far Eastern situation and sow the seeds of future world disaster."

Chiang's statement was made in reply to requests by foreign newsmen who asked him to clarify the Nationalist position.

Mac Up To His Neck In Politics As Result Of Fort Worth Talk

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — General MacArthur now is up to his neck in politics, although perhaps not on his own behalf.

He jumped in Saturday at Fort Worth when he made a full-scale attack on the Truman Administration for the way it operates at home.

He had returned to this country after an absence of 12 years, as a critic of the Truman Administration's foreign policy.

But now he has launched out as a critic of the Administration's handling of domestic affairs, too.

MacArthur made a whirlwind speaking trip through a 1 x Texas cities last week, defending and urging in five of them his views on how to win in Korea.

But in Fort Worth he never once spoke of Korea or foreign problems. He spoke there only of events at home.

At Fort Worth MacArthur, who has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for president, followed the favorite line taken by many Republican critics of the Administration.

He struck at what he called the "internal subversion and corruption and detailed regimentation over our daily life . . . the drift away from our competitive system of free enterprise . . . the drift upward in the cost of bureaucracy . . . the drift toward socialism . . . the tax burden."

No Political Aspirations

MacArthur himself, almost at the moment he put foot on American soil in San Francisco last April when returning to talk to Congress, said: "I have no political aspirations whatsoever."

And to a reporter who asked him last week in Texas if he would seek the presidency, MacArthur said "No."

But there is a certain amount of elasticity in both statements for in neither of them did MacArthur say he wouldn't accept the Republican presidential nomination if it's offered to him.

But the Truman Administration, when it stripped him of all his commands, inflicted upon him one of the greatest humiliations ever dealt a general in military history.

And now that MacArthur has attacked the Administration in both the foreign and domestic fields, it is clear his feeling against the Administration is intense in all directions.

So even if he is never rewarded with the Republican nomination, it undoubtedly will be a satisfaction to him if he can help bring about the Administration's defeat in the 1952 elections.

Handle Mac Gingly

Until now the Democrats have handled MacArthur pretty gingly for several reasons: He had wide sympathy in his dismissal. Immense prestige as a military expert, and wide experience in Asia. His quarrel with the Administration was in the military and foreign fields.

His views on both were entitled to respectful hearing, even though his criticism of the Administration on both counts may have hurt it politically among those he persuaded to his way of thinking.

So long as he confined his criticisms to military and foreign affairs, as he did almost exclusively, he could claim he was standing aloof from politics no matter what political effect he had.

But his Fort Worth attack if repeated—there's no reason to believe it won't be—should certainly be of political help to the Republicans in their fight on the Administration. And in domestic affairs MacArthur can't claim to be a special authority.

So that puts him neck-deep in the American political brawl where the Democrats may feel a lot more free to start muzzing his hair.

Saws date from prehistoric times, when they were formed from flint flakes with finely jagged edges.

Business World Is In Midst Of Big Debate

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — There's a great debate in the business world today, too. Will inflation or recession win out this Summer?

It's tied closely to that original great debate: Should we be bold or cautious in the battle of capitalism and communism?

War, preparation for war, or "peace" with a slowdown in rearmament—these possibilities, differing widely in their impact, will rule the business world as they will the political one, most business leaders agree.

But from there on there's little agreement. Those who think a recession more likely are those who think Russia will cool down the war, that our rearming zeal will lose its edge and that our economy will find itself with more of an expensively expanded industrial plant than it has use for.

They also think this plant expansion is giving us production capacity enough to take care of rearmament and still fulfill civilian needs. This would take even more steam out of the fear of shortages which sparked most of the inflation since the Korean outbreak.

Those who feel the inventory slump is an interlude to be followed by another spurt of inflation argue rearmament is going ahead even if peace comes to Korea. They say Russia has now so aroused the American people that from now on her only effect on our economy would be one of speeding up our defense program if she started trouble somewhere else.

Sides In Agreement

Both sides agree the rearmament program is what's holding industrial production and business in general at its present high level. The government is pouring billions into production. Much of this money in turn will be passed on to the producer.

Missouri Anchors In Norwegian Fjord

OSLO, NORWAY — (AP) — The 45,000-ton U. S. battleship Missouri slipped into the Oslo Fjord Monday on an official call to Norway's capital.

It was escorted by the destroyer-transport U. S. S. Burdo. The Missouri was greeted by a 21-gun salute as it cast anchor in the harbor.

Rear Admiral James L. Holloway, Jr., was received by Crown Prince Olaf at the royal palace.

Arson Charge Filed Against Hotel Owner

COLORADO CITY — (AP) — J. S. Rodgers, owner and manager of the 50-room, two story brick Gosnell Hotel, has been charged with arson. The hotel burned Saturday night.

Bond of $10,000 was set in Justice of the Peace L. Costin's court. The charge was filed by District Attorney Eidon Mahon.

Leroy Lewis, a negro porter, also was charged with arson. More than 30 guests fled safely.

ON ADVISORY COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two Dallas men were named to a retail industry advisory committee Sunday. The Office of Price Administration picked 36 members including Stanley Marcus, president of Neiman-Marcus Company, and E. L. Burks.

Shell's New Head Here With Company 23 Years

Joe T. Dickerson, who will assume the duties of manager of the Midland area for Shell Oil Company on June 25, has been with the company 23 years.

Starting as an attorney in the Tulsa Office, he served successively as manager of the Tulsa legal department, manager of the St. Louis legal department, and as general manager of raw materials and to workmen who make the defense foods.

There are other factors to keep business on the upgrade: The growing population, the great American urge always to improve one's own standard of living, the increased purchasing power spreading through the lower income brackets. All these mean more markets for more goods.

But most people agree that these factors alone couldn't sustain the present industrial pace without the defense program.

So the business world watches the great debate whether the war in Korea is worthwhile pursuing; whether it should be pushed harder, no matter if that brought Russia in; whether we should build up our military might faster; or whether the whole thing might not be just self-induced hysteria and should be cut down to half its size.

That political debate's outcome will have an immense effect on business. It will decide the economic debate over whether the economy is over-expanded, whether the heights to which prices and wages have climbed are about to be undermined, or whether inflation will really catch its second breath this Fall.

Fights Break Out
Small fights broke out all along the west and center. A briefing officer said Reds were still fighting a delaying type of warfare.

In the east, North Korean machinegun fire three times drove UN troops back from a commanding ridge, but Reds suddenly abandoned another ridge for which they had fought fiercely Sunday.

Fighters - bombers raked every strong point as the Fifth Air Force mounted 490 sorties in daylight Monday, including the jet fighters along the Northwestern Korean border.

F-86 pilots reported the Red jets showed more fight than ever before in the two air battles. The fight was gone in the later, long-distance passes. The two jet battles flared suddenly after a long lull.

Takes Biggest Toll
Monday's was the biggest and took the heaviest toll of the Reds—five destroyed and two damaged. It was the biggest bag in two months. Thirty-three sabre jets battled with 40 MIG's from 28,000 feet down to tree top level.

Sunday's air fight was between 20 American jets and 25 Reds. One MIG was reported shot down and six damaged.

St. Andrews Church Members Adopt 'Hour Of Prayer' Program

Members of the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church Sunday adopted a daily "hour of prayer" program in connection with the church's $60,000 building finance campaign.

The Rev. Lewis O. Waterstreet, pastor, delivered a sermon on "The Hour of Prayer" at the morning worship service, after which the following resolution was presented for adoption by the church's Session:

"Believing in Divine guidance and the use of prayer as a means of obtaining that guidance, the Session of the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church in view of the forthcoming finance campaign, hereby calls the members of this church to a minute of prayer each day at the 6 p. m. hour, and so designates this hour as the Hour of Prayer so long as this campaign shall last."

Mr. Waterstreet announced Monday that Edwin Carroll, El Paso architect, will be in Midland next Sunday to submit plans of the proposed church plant to the membership.

80 Vessels Idled By Labor Disputes

NEW YORK — (AP) — The CIO National Maritime Union claimed Monday that about 80 ships that should be on the high seas were "sitting still" in port as a result of labor disputes that tied up every major waterfront in the nation.

An NMU spokesman said the 80 included ships at Galveston, Houston, New Orleans, Port Arthur and other Gulf and East Coast ports. Sailing of the American Export Line Elmina Victory for Trieste was cancelled Monday, the first ship in the Port of New York to be affected.

Two other American Export ships, the Exbrook and Exermont, were to sail Tuesday, but line officials said it was doubtful whether they would leave. All three are combined passenger and cargo ships.

Meantime, federal mediators charted new efforts to settle the no-work contract, no-work disputes.

Accidents—

A Latin American, Benito Rubio, was run over by a truck at a night club. He was hospitalized.

Some of those treated for injuries were hurt in fights and affairs.

An air-conditioner fell on one citizen's head, inflicting injuries.

A Jal. N. M. man was treated for foot injuries suffered when he was digging with a pick.

A Midland citizen slipped and fell while entering an ice vault on a very hot day. A woman was hit in the chest by a shuffleboard disk and injured.

A five-year-old boy fell from a fence and suffered a neck injury. Another boy fell from the grandstand at a baseball game.

Dr. Melton said he had never seen anything like it outside of a disaster when so many victims were injured at one time. He was kept busy without a break for a 24-hour period.

The accident reports included only those from two hospitals, Midland Memorial and Western Clinic, and does not list those treated by private physicians.

Symington—

Texas got a $15,000,000 loan from RFC which was much criticized by the Senate (Fullbright) Investigating Committee, largely on grounds it was to "bail out" predators of that firm.

Symington said the company still owes $13,768,972 to RFC, and he is "not happy" about the loan. He noted an application has been made to put Texas into receivership.

The RFC chief said while he had no proof except the documents signed by Freese and the telephone call records, "our assumption is that something is wrong in Denmark and we want to find out what."

He said he does not know "if any officials of Texas were party" to the double employment of Freese, but "if so, we intend to take action against them too."

Didn't Involve Processing
Symington noted that Freese's duties with RFC did not involve the processing of the Texas application for a loan.

He said, however, there is a law which makes it a crime to take money from the government and a private concern under these circumstances at the same time.

He said the civil suit to be filed against Freese will seek recovery of the salary RFC paid Freese at the time he was simultaneously employed by Texas—an amount he said might run between $4,000 and $6,000.

Also, he said, RFC will seek to recover the cost of Freese's telephone calls regarding Texas matters. He estimated that amount might run about $500.

The RFC administrator added, however, that the money side of it is not so important as the principle, and that his main objective is to "stop abuse" of official position.

Jimmie Davis, 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Davis, Midkiff Drive, was given emergency medical treatment during the weekend at Western Clinic-Hospital.

Slaying Case Jury Now Being Selected

Attorneys Monday morning began selection of a jury in the murder trial of Moses Lerma, 38-year-old Latin American, in 70th District Court.

Lerma is accused of the January 7 shooting of his brother-in-law, Pedro Ortiz. Ortiz, 42, was shot fatally just outside the La Hacienda Club on North Lamesa Road.

Lerma also was wounded in the fray.

The shooting climaxed a long-standing feud over a piece of property, investigating officers said.

Other cases, in the order in which they are scheduled for trial during the court's third week of its June term, include:

Frank Russell, two counts of molesting a minor; Melvin Miller and Charles Jordan, forgery; N. L. Jackson, burglary; Jack Brookshire, burglary, and Juan Montes, possession of marijuana.

X-Rays—

The unit, Brown said, will be larger than last year's mobile machine, and will be able to accommodate more people.

Mrs. Lennie H. Davidson, executive secretary of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, said employers probably will be asked to let groups of their employees off for short periods on designated days for X-rays.

Dr. Lex B. Smith and Dr. F. E. Sadler were named in May to an original committee to line up additional sponsorship of the campaign. They selected Brown as overall chairman.

Plans are to call on civic organizations to aid in the campaign by furnishing transportation and displaying anti-tuberculosis posters to remind citizens of the X-ray survey.

Bill Gordon's "Partner" . . .
Your 'grocer, Bill Gordon, has a "partner" who is very valuable to him, and Bill's business would suffer if his "partner" ever failed him. It never has. You see, Bill's partner is his daily newspaper. It brings him news. It tells his customers about the food and bargains he has for them. His daily newspaper lets him know, in a brief but thorough manner, what his customers are thinking . . . saying . . . doing. It serves him in many other ways, too. In bringing Bill Gordon the news of his community, nation, and the world, his newspaper doesn't do a helter-skelter job. It sifts and resifts the news so he won't have to do it himself. It brings him information by leaders in every field . . . it tells him who won the ball game. In its editorial columns it discusses problems, exposes wrongs and works for him and his community every day in the year.

FLYING LINEMAN—Modern methods are speeding up inspection of electric power lines. The Illinois Power Company now uses planes of a "Power Patrol" to skim alongside its lines, looking for trouble. The composite photo shows how it's done.

Oil And Gas Log—

Location is 960 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 199, T&GN survey and nine miles northwest of Outhrie.

Pipe Being Run In NE-C Dawson Test

James H. Snowden and Associates are running pipe to try for completion at their No. 1-4 Carrie S. Dean, one-location southeast offset to their No. 1-32 Carrie S. Dean, recently completed pumping discovery from the Spraberry in Northeast-Central Dawson County.

The project is now at total depth of 7,279 feet. Five and one-half-inch casing will be cemented at approximately 7,258 feet. After cement cures it will be drilled out and open hole will be shot with nitro glycerin.

A drillstem test from 7,267 to 7,279 feet, with tool open three hours, developed 2,910 feet of free oil on recovery. After the test had been open 30 minutes gas surfaced.

No fluid came to the top during the three hours the tools was open. Open flowing bottom-hole pressure was 425 pounds.

Shut-in pressure after 30 minutes was 2,850 pounds.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 40, block 1, J. Poitvet survey.

Barnes Abandons Howard Project

J. C. Barnes has plugged and abandoned his No. 1 Albaugh-Hamlin, deep wildcat failure in Northwest Howard County.

The prospector drilled to a total depth of 10,633 feet in the Ellenburger. No shows of oil were found in that horizon. It was drillstem tested at 10,569-617 feet.

Recovery was 270 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of water and no water was encountered in continuing the hole to the total depth.

Had Oil, Gas And Water
Top of the Ellenburger was set at 10,565 feet. Elevation was 2,667 feet.

The Pennsylvanian zone at 9-130-9,230 feet had some shows of oil and gas, but also made water.

Location was 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 18, block 33, T-2-N, T&P survey. That made it 14 miles northwest of Big Spring and two miles northwest of Stanplind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Burton, discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime which was completed several months ago.

Arrival Of Baby Complete Surprise

SEATTLE — (AP) — An unmarried 18-year-old girl gave birth to a baby in a police prowl car Sunday night — and she said the arrival was a complete surprise. She didn't know she was expecting.

She apparently wasn't much more surprised than her teen-age boy friend who was out on his first date with her. He told Patrolman J. F. Foley and W. R. Hughes, who officiated at the delivery, that he and the girl were eating at a drive-in when "things started happening."

Attendants at King County Hospital, where the baby and its mother were taken, said two other persons apparently were surprised at the birth—the girl's parents. The baby was a healthy, full-term infant.

Weekend Violence In Texas Takes Lives Of Eleven Persons

By The Associated Press

At least 11 persons died violently in Texas over the weekend, in shootings, drownings and traffic accidents. One man was hit by lightning and another electrocuted.

Lovick Joseph Martin, 51, and his daughter, 22, were shot to death at Houston Saturday.

She was a spastic paralytic who never learned to talk.

Martin had devoted his spare time to caring for her. Recently his health began to fail.

While his wife shopped for a Father's Day present, Martin and his daughter were found dead. The verdict was murder and suicide.

E. E. Bryan of Bule drowned Sunday in Lake Whitney after a canoe overturned.

Earl Combs, 35, was killed by an electric shock Sunday while trying to hook up a power line for a floor sanding machine.

Patrick Levey, year and a half, drowned Saturday in a fish pond near his home at Ennis. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levey.

Annette Hill, eight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. Hill, drowned in a rice canal near Nome Saturday.

Lightning killed W. T. Thomas, 80, near his home at Cayuga Saturday. He was plowing and a span of mules he was driving was not harmed.

Injured Fatally

Mrs. Estelle Boyles Raah, 40, of Peacock was injured fatally in an automobile collision near Lorenzo Saturday. Three others were hurt.

George D. Bowen, 50, a disabled war veteran was shot to death in a Dallas cafe Saturday and a woman companion, Leona Skyles, 40, was shot critically. A 42-year-old man, held by police, was quoted as saying "I just blew my top and decided to kill both of them."

George Banks, 72, and his wife, 60, were killed by a car while crossing Highway 87 in the Pleasant Valley community near Amarillo Saturday night. They had just stepped off a bus.

Alexander Dale, 18, San Antonio truck driver, drowned Sunday in the Medina River about 15 miles west of San Antonio. He slipped off an automobile tube while floating on the water. Companions said he could not swim.

The body of Julius Holecamp, of San Antonio, was found Sunday. An autopsy was ordered.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD IS SEEKING ENGINEERS

DALLAS—The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination for filling vacancies in the position of engineer at $3,100 to $4,400 a year. Employment will be with various federal agencies in Texas. Additional information and application forms may be secured from the post office or from the regional director, Fourteenth U. S. Civil Service Region, 210 South Harwood Street, Dallas 1, Texas.

OIL WORKER HURT

Charles Springfield, Skyhaven Courts, an employe of Well Maintenance Company, suffered hand and wrist injuries during the weekend when he was thrown against the elevator at a rig.

SUFFERS EYE BURNS

James Pruitt, Route 1, an employe of B&M Drilling Company, suffered flash burns to his eyes Sunday from an arc welding machine at a rig.

Eniwetok, Atom Proving Ground, Is Like Normal American Community, Declares Observer From Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — The Eniwetok Atomic Weapons Proving Grounds in the mid-Pacific cost more than $65,000,000 plus other millions needed for routine base operations, Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-LA) estimates.

Its regular population of scientists and military men is about 8,000, Hebert said in the second of a series of articles written for the New Orleans States, which made them available to The Associated Press. Hebert returned last month from the latest series of tests at the proving grounds, where he was an observer for the House Armed Services Committee.

"Despite the work with the world's deadliest weapons and with equipment that in itself can be highly dangerous, only five accidental deaths have occurred since the atoll was taken over in 1947 as an atomic proving ground — and none of them has been connected with actual atomic experiments, Hebert said.

Services Share Duties
The Air Force and Navy share the duty of keeping away from the area unfriendly observers or ships or planes that might accidentally wander into the danger zone, the Congress member disclosed.

"The Air Force is responsible for a safety patrol of the sky of more than 30,000 square miles," he wrote. "The Navy is responsible for safety on the seas and the anti-submarine program."

"The security of the atoll itself is in hands of highly trained Military Police.

"Everybody wears an identification badge with his picture. Not all personnel is admitted to all areas of the atoll. Certain sections are heavily restricted and only key personnel are allowed to enter."

"Although there is strict security, there is no censorship of the mail."

Eniwetok and the neighboring atoll islands are "busy, thriving communities," Hebert says, similar to any corresponding business community in the United States of 6,000 or 8,000 population.

On the main island of Eniwetok are located "a well equipped air strip with all essential operations, two athletic fields, two moving picture theaters, a chapel, a clothing store, beach clubs for officers and enlisted men, library, hobby shop, electronics building, general's quarters, maintenance hangar, personnel piers, mess hall, dispensary, a post exchange and post office, a laundry and a well-equipped power plant."

On nearby Parry Island is the headquarters of the commanding general of Joint Task Force Three, Lt. Gen. Edward R. ("Pete") Quesada. The general is a veteran of long service in the old Army Air Corps, Army Air Forces and the present United States Air Force.

Hebert quotes Quesada as saying of his men, "In all my 27 years in the Army I have never seen morale so high."

At Eniwetok there are 90 baseball teams organized into 10 leagues. The beach clubs "provide everything that is to be found in any exclusive beach resort" with a surf like that of Waikiki or Rio De Janeiro, Hebert reports.

One of the recreation fields is named after the late M/Sgt. John C. Woods of Boise, Idaho. Woods was an official executioner of Nazi war criminals tried in the Nuremberg Tribunals. Woods was electrocuted at Eniwetok when an assistant accidentally closed a master switch on a power line on which Woods, an electrician, was working.

Here are some of the other things Hebert noted at the vast proving ground:

The telephone exchange handles about 6,000 calls daily.

One of the mess halls alone serves 9,000 meals a day.

The enlisted men's club is known as "Duffy's Tavern" and neon lights show the way.

Fresh water is distilled from the sea at the rate of 30 gallons a man each day.

Disc Jockey Session
A radio station with complete programs operates throughout the day — with disc jockey sessions — and with "no commercials."

Barbershops with haircuts at 35 cents. Bourbon or scotch at 20 cents a drink.

"A bus ride of Eniwetok with a Barker rival a chamber of commerce discourse in any community."

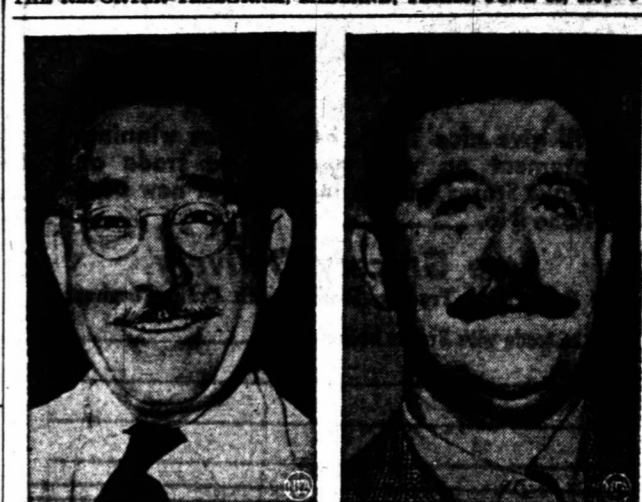

Supplementing housing ashore for the personnel are Navy vessels anchored in the lagoon.

"Eniwetok has been womanless for more than a year and a half," Hebert says this is the way the island looks now:

"There remains no vegetation on Eniwetok, although attempts are now being made to restore some of the tropical attractiveness."

"The island is encased in a rim of steel derelicts, reminding of the awful toll taken by the Americans who literally destroyed more than 3,500 Japanese troops when the atoll was captured. Following several days of constant naval and air bombardment the atoll was secured by the Americans, who captured less than 50 Japanese prisoners."

"Thousands of tons of scrap have been pushed off the island into the Pacific. Several small craft remain where they were beached during the capture of the atoll by the Americans."

PROMOTED—Two men who came into national prominence in the government's fight against Communists and fellow travelers have been promoted by President Truman. They are: Judge Harold R. Medina, left, who presided over the conviction of the nation's 11 top Reds, and Thomas F. Murphy, right, New York police commissioner who, as an assistant U. S. attorney in New York, prosecuted Alger Hiss for lying when he denied he passed government secrets to a Russian spy in pre-World War II days. Medina moves up to the Second Circuit-Court of Appeals in New York City, and Murphy succeeds him in the New York District Court.

Cotton

NEW YORK — (AP) — Monday noon cotton prices were unchanged to 50 cents a bale lower than the previous close. July 34.45, October 37.40 and December 37.19.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Edwin L. Stephens, 1611 West College Street, suffered a head laceration Sunday when an air-conditioner fell and struck him. He was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Monroe, 107 Ridgley Drive, received emergency medical treatment Sunday at Western Clinic-Hospital.

ANDREWS COUPLES TO ATTEND LIONS MEETING

ANDREWS—Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Hutchenson and County Attorney and Mrs. Max Ramsey will leave Tuesday for Atlantic City, N. J., where they will represent the Andrews Lions Club at the International Convention June 24 through 28.

They plan to go by way of Chattanooga and Nashville, Tenn., and Washington, D. C.

On the return trip, a short stay is planned in upstate New York. Another stop will be made in Bolivar, Mo., for a visit with Dr. Hutchenson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Hutchenson, Sr.

Chisox Win Double Bill; Dodgers Gain On Giants

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American league-leading White Sox Sunday swept a doubleheader from the Athletics 4-1 and 9-0, to snap a three-game losing streak in Philadelphia.

Chicago's double win increased its first-place margin over New York to three and one-half games despite the Yankees' 5-0 victory over Detroit. Boston's third-place Red Sox took two from St. Louis, 5-4 and 3-0, to remain five games off the pace.

Washington swept a three-game series from Cleveland with a 5-1 triumph.

Brooklyn increased its National League lead over the New York Giants to six games with a 3-2 win at Chicago as Pittsburgh defeated the Giants, 11-5, in the first game of a twin bill. The second game was called in Pittsburgh's half of the eighth inning because of the Sunday law. The score was tied at 6-6. The game will be resumed July 24.

A home run by Roy Campanella with one out and Gil Hodges on base in the top of the ninth gave the Dodgers their 3-2 win in Chicago.

Howie Pollet made his first start for the Pirates and was credited with Pittsburgh's victory over the Giants.

Stan Musial homered in St. Louis' half of the 10th to beat the Phils. It was Stan's second homer of the game and 14th of the season. Reliever Gerry Staley won his eighth game. Russ Meyer was the loser.

Dukes Wham Blue Sox 10-1 To Chop At Long Sox Lead

By The Associated Press

Abilene whittled Sunday at Abilene's long lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Dukes whipped the Blue Sox 10-1 Sunday and are planning more of the same Monday as they wind up the short series.

Joe Martinez gave up only seven hits in subduing the Blue Sox to cut Abilene's lead over second-place Albuquerque to five and one-half games.

Lubbock, in third place, licked Borger 8-4 behind the five-hit twirling of Bob Zolliecoffer. The Hubbers used eight hits to perfection. George Mendoza homered for Lubbock.

Clovis whammed 20 hits to trim Pampa 12-6. Lefty Joe Borrego twirled masterfully.

Amarillo socked Lamesa 14-3, getting to Jim Reynolds for 11 hits. It broke a Lamesa winning streak at three games.

Sooners Defeat Volunteers 3-2 To Win NCAA BB Crown

OMAHA — (AP) — Oklahoma's Sooners are the new kings of the collegiate baseball diamonds.

The Oklahoma Sooners won the NCAA baseball crown from Tennessee Sunday night in a 3-2 thriller that climaxed a five day elimination tournament.

Eight NCAA district champions started the tourney. Princeton, Texas A&M and Springfield (Mass.) College were eliminated in the early rounds.

Indians To Be Given Welcome Monday Night

Midland officially welcomes the home-owned Midland Indians baseball team home Monday night at Indian Park.

The Summer band will be on hand to get the ceremony underway, after which the Midland players will be introduced and presented with gifts from merchants and townpeople.

Mayor Perry Pickett and Delbert Downing will make short welcoming addresses and Zeke Bonura, new player-manager, is to be introduced.

King's Row
by Larry King

Well, what would you have done? We speak of Eddie Mellillo's decision to go to the mound and pitch for the Indians Sunday afternoon.

Mellillo gave Donald Blair his first start of the year. Blair was knocked out, but quick, by Vernon. That left Eddie little choice.

A run down on the depleted Midland pitching corps shows Dave McKenzie has been called home because of illness in his family; Bruce Blumenthal is out with a sore arm and consumed six aspirins Saturday night before pitching against Roswell.

'Vinegar Bend' Mizell Hurls 25 Scoreless Frames

HOUSTON — (AP) — Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, the 20-year-old southpaw sensation of the grapefruit camps, has come into his own. Twenty-five scoreless innings as ace pitcher of the Houston Texas League club show that the boy they called "A left-handed Dizzy Dean" now is living up to expectations.

Mizell was given the Spring training acclaim of Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees. They were labeled rookies of the year.

But Mizell faded in the latter days of the Florida training period of the St. Louis Cardinals, parent club of Houston.

Mizell didn't start with a bang in the Texas League either. The tall, left-hander with the stippling face ball was treated just like a guy named "Joe."

It's different now. He's riding herd on three straight shutouts, has been a big factor in Houston moving into a bitter fight with Dallas for the league lead.

The reason largely is control. Another reason is the careful schooling of manager Al Hollingsworth, a former Major League hurler.

Mizell has won six, lost six. Along with his fast ball, Wilmer has added a fine change of pace to join his fair curve ball.

The fly in the ointment is that Uncle Sam is breathing down his neck.

Charley Coe Named Tourney Favorite

SOUTH BEND — (AP) — Charley Coe, the slender slugger from Oklahoma City, has been pegged the favorite in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament opening Monday with qualifying trials for 150 hopefuls.

Coe, as defending champion, will not be required to qualify.

He will join the 63 low scorers in match play starting Wednesday over the par 72 South Ben Country Club course.

Three of Coe's Walker Cup teammates figure to give him an argument. They are Frank Stranahan of Toledo, western winner in 1949 and 1948; Husky Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., and Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia.

Bauers, Patty, The Babe Enter Western Open Play

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The nation's top golfing ladies, led by Babe Didrickson Zaharias, matched shots Monday with the 22nd Western Open Title.

At least 100 girls were to tee off in Monday's qualifying round to see which 32 compete in the championship match play Tuesday through Saturday. Mrs. Zaharias, as usual, is the favorite.

Patty Berg only Sunday defeated Mrs. Zaharias, 1-up, to take the Women's Weathervane Cross-Country Tournament.

Mrs. Zaharias, her shadow, powerful Miss Berg, Alice and Marlene Bauer of Midland, and a host of other great women professionals and amateurs comprise the field.

Women golfers in the tournament from Texas include Betsy Rawls of Austin, Betty Mackinnon of Mt. Pleasant and Betty Jameson of San Antonio.

Sievers Sent Back To San Antonio

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Roy Sievers is a San Antonio Mission of the Texas League again. The outfielder who won the most valuable rookie award two years ago had batted only 225 for the St. Louis Browns this year. The Browns sent him to Texas on 24 hour recall.

12—THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, JUNE 18, 1951

Dusters Clobber Blair, Tribe 18-8; Hornsby Homers

The Midland Indians scored six runs in the last of the ninth here Sunday afternoon, but it only made the score a bit more respectable as the Vernon Dusters piled up an 18-8 win.

Donald Blair drew the starting assignment for the Indians—his first of the year—but was tagged for a two-run home run by John Reimold in the first inning and allowed two more hits and three walks in the second.

That was all for Blair, the loser, who was behind 6-0 when acting Manager Eddie Mellillo took the mound for the Tribe.

Mellillo hurled the remaining distance, but the Dusters found his offerings to their liking. Highlights of the Vernon batting spree were home runs by John Follis and Leon English. Follis hit his with the bases unoccupied in the eighth, while English smacked one in the ninth with one man on.

Odessa Club Goes On Block With 15 Game Win Streak

By The Associated Press

Anybody like to buy a winning ball club?

Odessa is up for sale and looks like it should be a good deal since it has won 15 games in a row and is tied for third in the Longhorn League.

Bill Hornsby, Midland center-fielder, had lofted a masterful four-bagger out of the park in the fourth inning with the sacks empty.

In the final inning, the Indians got to Stan Gryzwacz, winner, for six runs and five hits, but with the commanding lead he hung on to win. Highlight of the ninth-inning uprising was a double by Rudy Escobar which drove in three runs.

But nobody has come forward with an offer to buy the club. A meeting is being held Monday to try to sell $30,000 worth of stock.

Odessa won its 15th straight Sunday edging Sweetwater 10-9. Felix Castro hit a homer in the ninth to tie the score then a fielder's choice produced the deciding tally.

San Angelo, meanwhile, was winning its 40th game of the season and remaining seven and one-half games ahead in the race. San Angelo beat Artesia 3-2 when Wayne Wallace hit his 15th home run of the season to break a tie.

Big Spring eased by Roswell 7-6 when Juan Izzaguerre doubled to drive in Mike Lastra in the ninth inning. There were seven home runs hit in the game. In the fourth inning Bill Cearley, George Dellis and Jess Grimes all parked the ball for Roswell.

Vernon whipped Midland 18-8 to push into second place. The Dusters blasted 19 hits, including three home runs. Midland committed six errors to help Vernon along.

Glass Family Scores In Texas' State Skeeet Shoot

GALVESTON — (AP) — Gran I-seng of Houston won the high overall title at the Texas State Skeeet Shoot with 49x500.

The 20-gauge division title went to Mickey Michaels of Bergstrom Field, who took the title by defeating I-seng in a shootout.

I-seng beat Henry Adler of Dallas in a shoot-off for the all-gauge division.

Mrs. Pauline Amburgey, Odessa, won the women's title with 197x200.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Amburgey, Odessa, broke 394x400 for the husband and wife title and established a new record.

Mrs. Amburgey's 475x500 won the women's high over-all championship.

Results included:
Small gauge division:
Parent and child division—champion—R. L. Buford, Sr., and Jr., Austin, 394x400. Runner-up—George Glass, Sr. and Jr., Midland, 393.

Class AA—George Glass, Jr., Midland, 198x200.

Don Cherry Cops WTGA Championship

WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — Don Cherry, who sings as well as he plays golf, breezed to the West Texas Golf Association Championship Sunday by trouncing Everett Vinsant, 8 and 7.

Cherry went 3 up on the morning round and then really went to work on the second 18.

Cherry was runner up in the tourney three straight years.

Texas League— Buffs Threaten Eagles' Lead; Cop Three Of Five Tilts

The Dallas Eagles have found somebody who can whip them and Manager L. D. Meyer says that's the club to beat in the Texas League race.

Houston, catching fire after a desultory start, has just finished playing five games with league-leading Dallas and won three of them.

"Houston definitely is the one," said Meyer when the Buffs had wound up their current engagement with Dallas. "The Buffs have good pitching, good defensive work and pace. If they can continue the pace they set at home while on the road, I don't think there is any question of where they'll finish."

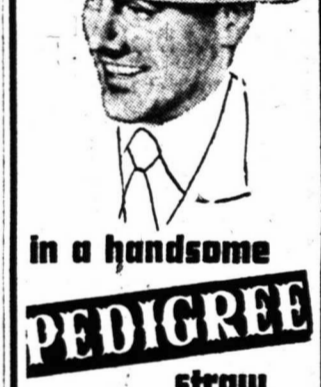

Dallas and Houston split a doubleheader Sunday night to end the series. It enabled the Eagles to retain their game and a half lead over the Buffs in the league race. At Houston, Dallas had lost two games.

Houston took the opener 7-4 with Octavio Rubert allowing the Eagles six hits. Dallas captured the after-piece 6-2 as Hal Erickson twirled a six-hitter.

Tulsa pulled Beaumont out of third place by licking the Rough-necks twice—5-4 and 9-2. San Antonio took over that spot by trimming Fort Worth 3-1.

Oklahoma City and Shreveport split a twin bill. Oklahoma City won the first game 13-9—the Indians' fifth straight. But the Sports took the afterpiece 6-3.

Boy babies born this year in the United States can expect to live 68 years on the average; girls, 71 years.

(Continued From Page One) said they visited the clubs in May and found them all receiving the same telephoned information at approximately the same time.

They said the racing information came by telephone from Felix J. Demary's Border Cafe in Louisiana across the river from Orange, Everett L. Loney, attorney for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and Ben Boren, representing Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, said the companies, also defendants in the suit, had not knowingly allowed the illegal use of their lines.

They said they had immediately disconnected those telephones in the clubs and would gladly cooperate to prevent any further illegal use.

However, they said they did not want the companies to be liable for a violation which "some ordinary telephone employes might know of but fail to report to a superior official."

Advised By Telephone Louis J. Dibrell, Galveston attorney for the Maceos, advised District Judge Jack Roberts by telephone that his defendants, the partners in Maceo and Company, would not be present Monday in view of the request for transfer of trial from Austin to Galveston.

The state has five days in which to answer the Maceos' plea that the trial be shifted to their hometown.

Daniel brought the suit against Maceo and Company and the two telephone companies to prohibit transmission of race horse information in Texas later last week the Maceos interests shut down its Galveston operations.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company attorneys Everett Loney, Ed Clark and R. B. Cousins III, declared it has had a long-standing policy of cooperating with law enforcement officers in discontinuing service to persons using telephones for illegal purposes.

Prison Tortures Told By War Vet

The tortures of a Japanese prison camp during World War II were described Monday to members of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon-meeting at Hotel Scharbauer.

The speaker was Monty Gray, Fort Worth insurance man, who spent more than five years in prison camps in China and Japan.

"I was the sole survivor among 96 men taken at Peking," he said, "and when I think how lucky I have been, I have to thank my God for it."

Gray explained that he was in a Marine Corps detachment in Peking when the war broke out. "After surrendering to the 10,000 Japanese troops who were sent to capture the 96 men in the compound, there followed years of harrowing life in prison."

He said he was taken first to a prison camp at Tansen. "One day I decided I ought to escape," he said. "While some other prisoners drew the attention of the guards I fled into some woods."

He said he had gone 15 or 20 miles I heard the general alarm and I knew they had discovered my escape. "They started looking for me and they found me. They beat me all the way back to prison. In fact, I don't even remember the last few miles."

Gray, whose book "Survival and Escape" is due to be released soon, was introduced by Perry Pickett.

Crop-Dusting Pilot Is Killed In Crash

PARIS — Matthew Taylor, 34, crop-dusting pilot from Shamrock in the Texas Panhandle, burned to death Monday when his plane crashed 17 miles north of here.

Taylor had been spreading insect poison on cotton fields on the Womack Plantation. He had been employed by the Southwest Spraying Service, Wellington, Texas, and had been in the area several days.

He was flying to the fields to reseed crop dusting when the Piper Cub plane apparently overshot a small runway and seemed to stall. The craft burst into flames after hitting the ground.

Elsewhere, Presidio reported the highest temperature in the nation Sunday with 110 degrees. Galveston had the low maximum for the state with 88 degrees.

Light thundershowers occurred Monday in Wichita Falls and the Dallas-Fort Worth area and dropped temperatures sharply.

The shower which hit Dallas about 8 a.m. Monday dropped temperatures from the low 80s to the upper 60s. Rainfall was light.

Other points with about 100-degree readings were Wink 106, Laredo 106, Del Rio 105, Salt Flat, Midland and Cotulla 103 and Big Spring and Alice 101. Junction reported 100 degrees.

Other representative temperatures included Bryan 98, Dallas and Waco 95, and Texarkana, Brownsville and Beaumont 93.

Community Is Hit By Small Twister

By The Associated Press A small tornado struck the community of Sachse, northeast of Garland on Highway 78 Monday morning, blowing over two box cars and an onion shed. Capt. George Busby of the State Highway Patrol reported.

As the tornado passed, E. O. Wharton, about 75, died, but his death was believed caused by a heart attack.

DeGaulle Emerge As Strong Forces In French Elections

PARIS —(P)— French middle of the road parties appeared Monday to have turned back Gen. Charles De Gaulle's first election bid for power, but the World War II soldier loomed as a strong new force in France's politics.

The center parties whose coalition ruled the nation since the 1946 national elections had a better than even chance, at the halfway mark, of retaining control of the new French Parliament.

The Communist Party was retaining its position as the strongest single party in France in terms of popular vote, but was losing seats.

The De Gaulleists appeared to be winning fewer seats than they openly expected.

About 20,000,000 of France's 24,600,000 eligible voters cast ballots Sunday in the election, in which the center parties struggled against both the extreme right, represented by De Gaulle's new party, the Rally of the French People (RPF), and the extreme left, the Communists. Internationally the election was a phase of the cold war on the issue: Russia or the West.

On the basis of unofficial tabulations on 280 of the 627 national assembly seats at stake, the middle of the road parties had a total of 181 seats, distributed as follows: Socialists, 54; Popular Republicans (MRP), 47; Peasants, 32; Left Republicans, 48.

The De Gaulleists had 42 seats, and it appeared they would win about 125 altogether. This was bearing out most pre-election calculations, but the DeGaulleists had expected more.

The Communists had 55 seats, and the rightist Republican Liberal Party, two seats.

Manganese Price Controls May End

WASHINGTON —(P)— A House interior subcommittee was told Monday that price controls probably will be removed soon on manganese.

Questions by Chairman Regan (D-Tex.) brought from two government officials statements that they both are urging Price Administrator Michael DiSalle to lift controls from the strategic metal.

Defense Minerals Administrator James Boyd and General Services Administrator Jess Larson both told Regan they are recommending removal of the ceilings so that government can stimulate domestic mining of the metal.

Regan asked them whether or not they thought the controls would be lifted promptly so that purchases of manganese could be started by the end of the week at mines in El Paso, Texas, Deming, N. M., and Butte, Mont.

Larson replied that they were unable to say what the price control authorities might do, but agreed with Regan that the purchasing program likely would get underway before the end of the week.

Pilot Of Mustang Rescued From Sea

U. S. FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, KOREA —(P)— A U. S. Mustang fighter pilot was rescued from the Sea of Japan off the Korean East Coast Monday after more than an hour in the water under Red small arms fire.

The F-51 piloted by Lt. Bernard D. Percy, Springfield, Mass., was hit by Communist rifle fire north of Hoeryong.

Percy headed for the sea, bailed out and landed about a half mile offshore.

He was rescued uninjured by an SA-16 flying boat of the Third Air Rescue Squadron.

The crew of the rescue craft included Capt. Jimmy M. Jarman, pilot, Houston, Texas, and Sgt. George D. Goode, engineer, Weimar, Texas.

Funeral Rites Held Monday For Mrs. Cox

Funeral services for Mrs. Z. J. Cox, 48, were held at the Newline W. Ellis Chapel at 11 a.m. Monday with the Rev. J. H. Goins officiating. Interment was in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Mrs. Cox died Saturday night at her residence, 306 North Carrizo Street. She had resided in Midland 24 years.

Survivors include her husband, a son and a daughter, all of Midland; three brothers and six sisters.

CONGRATULATIONS TO

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ramsey, 1216 South Fort Worth Street, on the birth Sunday of a son, weighing six pounds, nine ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, on the birth Monday of a son, weighing nine pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Merritt, 2410 West Illinois Street, on the birth Sunday of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude McGinty, 711 West Pennsylvania Street, on the birth Saturday of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cox, 210 West Parker Street, on the birth Sunday of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Snider of Jal. N. M., suffered an injured foot during the weekend when a pick slipped and struck it. He was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital.

Midland Realateria

Offering a Modern, Economical Service

We have something here that you all have been hunting for and it sure won't last long. This delightful home has two nice size bedrooms, large living room and a roomy kitchen. Located in a good part of town on a good size lot. The owner says to sell his G.I. equity cheap, so let's get together. Requires a low down payment.

Here's a little 2 room cottage with 416 square feet of floor space. Has a bath. This cute little thing sets on rear of the lot. Buyer can build large home on front of lot. Price is right.

Out of town property. This is a very good small farm for sale or for trade for Midland property. Oil all around it, royalties go with deal. Good 2 bedroom home included. Eight miles from town. Ask us about this one. It may be just what you've been hunting for.

Safe July 4 Urged By Safety Council

CHICAGO, ILL.—Traffic accidents in the single month of July last year killed only 900 fewer Americans than were killed in the Revolutionary war.

This ironic fact underlines the National Safety Council's campaign to reduce accidents, especially on the nation's highways, over the Fourth of July—the day which commemorates that victorious struggle for independence.

The Revolutionary war cost 4,044 patriots, who were killed in action or died of wounds. Traffic accidents in July last year killed 3,150 persons.

Tragic as war is, the council said, the number of Americans killed in traffic accidents since the invention of the automobile is almost twice as great as the number killed in combat in all the nation's wars. American dead from enemy action in the eight conflicts of our history, including the war in Korea, total about 533,000, while traffic accidents have now claimed more than 971,000.

Calendar Offers Break

"With traffic deaths approaching the 1,000,000 mark, the high-hazard period of the Fourth of July celebration is a good time for every motorist to pledge that he won't be one in a million," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council.

"The calendar will save lives this year, since the Fourth will fall in mid-week and bring only a one-day holiday for most persons," Mr. Dearborn said. "Even so, it will be a day of tragedy for many, unless common-sense rules of behavior are observed."

He said these rules are:

1. Start your trip early enough so that you won't have to hurry. Take it easy.

2. Be patient in heavy traffic. Don't let annoyance make you take chances.
3. Leave fireworks alone. Instead, take the children to a supervised public display.
4. Be careful in recreation, especially in swimming and boating.

Stanton News

STANTON — Sam Wilkinson and Carlton Hull, Stanton contractors, are completing 17 new residences, valued at $175,000. All of the residences are sold.

Funeral services were held recently for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Kinsey. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery here.

The Great Plains-Plateau Association recently held a singing convention here. The Stanton Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce were in charge of arrangements.

Summer in the Northern Hemisphere is accompanied by a few health hazards which are absent at other times of the year or which at least are much less important. The sun is stronger, the temperature is warmer, and more people spend longer hours out of doors working or amusing themselves.

The most important added risk of hot weather comes from the sun itself—sunburn, sunstroke, and heat exhaustion. Although our greatest natural friend, the sun should be treated with respect since it can be a terrible enemy as well. On the good side, sunshine acts on the skin to form vitamin D, a substance which is necessary to prevent rickets in children, and helps to maintain good health. But on the bad side, too much sun burns and damages the skin; indeed skin cancer is more common among those who are heavily exposed to the sun for years on end.

The skin has a remarkable ability to adjust to the sun if it has time. The process of adjustment is called tanning and is the result of gradual deposits in the skin of pigment which protects against burning. But this takes time and consequently exposure to the sun should be bit by bit, thus avoiding burning which is painful as well as risky. During the tanning stage lotions or ointments may help, especially those which filter some of the burning rays.

the brain or other parts of the nervous system. Some can be serious and even may cause death. Undue exposure to the too hot sun therefore should be avoided at all costs. If sunstroke or heat exhaustion (the latter being usually less serious) do occur they call for medical measures.

The purpose of drawing attention to this matter is that every year a lot of people get so enthusiastic about good warm sunshine that they overdo it and harm themselves more than they help. Just a little caution pays off in comfort, improved health, and avoidance of risk.
