Gap Is Narrowing Between Germania, Tex-Harvey Fields

Further narrowing of the gap between the Tex-Harvey and Germania-Spraberry fields of East Midland County is in prospect at Fred M. Allison Production Company No. 1 H. A. Brown.

Operator drilled the project to a total depth of 7,118 feet in the Spraberry. After swabbing out a 3,000-foot clean oil fillup operator treated open hole with 3,000 gallons of Hydratrac.

Thbbing is now being run for a swabbing test.

No. 1 Brown is one mile east and slightly north of Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 H. T. Boone, recently completed one and one-half-mile extension to the Tex-Harvey field.

The Spraberry was topped in No. 1 Brown at 7,012 feet, estimated elevation 2,530 feet. Seven-inch oil string was cemented at 6,949 feet.

Location is at the center of the southwest quarter of section 32, block 36, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Second Devonian Producer Assured In C-S Gaines Pool

A second producer from the Devonian on the northwest side of the Robertson-multipay field of Central-South Gaines County has been assured at Samedan Oil Corporation, and others No. 1-D-E Andrews.

Operator reported an eight-hour flow of 455 barrels of new oil through open two-inch tubing and perforations, opposite the Devonian, at 10,030-940 and 10,045-065 feet.

After the eight-hour flow tubing was pulled and the well was then flowed through casing at the rate of 40 barrels of oil per hour.

No. 1-D-E Andrews is a direct offset to Samedan No. 4-E-A Andrews, the discovery and lone producer from the Ellenburger and Devonian.

No. 1-D-E Andrews was drilled to a total depth of 11,988 feet in the Ellenburger which was topped at 11,945 feet before the above test was made in the Devonian.

Seven-inch casing is cementing at 11,953 feet.

Operator is now preparing to swab the open hole in the Ellenburger natural from 11,953 to 11,988 feet.

If that section proves for production the well will be completed as a dual producer.

Location is 860 feet from north and 1,990 feet from west lines of section 19, block A-24, pal survey and 13 miles southwest of Seminole.

S-C Terry Wildcat Reports Reef Top

Stanford Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Anderson-Taylor, wildcat in South-Central Terry County, has topped the reef by samples at 10,016 feet and is now drilling below 10,022 feet in lime.

Elevation is 3,274 feet. No tests have been taken yet.

Location is three and one-half miles southwest of the Brownfield, South-Canyon field and five miles northeast of the Wellman pool. It is 1,990 feet from north and west lines of section 120, block T, D&W survey.

Discovery Offset In Upton To Be Finaled

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company is running casing in its No. 1 J. B. Windham, discovery offset in Central-West Upton County.

Five and one-half-inch oil string will be cemented on total depth of 12,473 feet in the Ellenburger. That formation was not drilled tested, but drilling samples indicated that the project would make an oil well. (Continued On Page Seven)

Armistice Talks To Open Tuesday

Cattle Pour Into Market At Fast Clip

FORT WORTH —(P)—

Beef on the hoof was pouring in at the Fort Worth stockyards Monday in what appeared to be the heaviest run of the year, and within two hours after the market opened, almost 9,000 head of cattle and calves had been unloaded.

Pens were well filled for the first time since announcement of drastic O.P., freezes and rollbacks on beef but commission men mainly were of the opinion that the influx by 4 a. m. of 608 trucks bearing livestock of all kinds was due more to seasonal than political factors. Trucks continued to roll in with an exact count not immediately available.

Stags Strike Rammers

"When the cattle are fat they go to market," said J. C. Weaver, vice president of a leading concern, the Cassidy Commission Company.

"I am glad for the run to start as it will put a stop to a lot of misinformation that has been circulated."

Weaver referred to reports, consistently denied by cattlemen, that they were on "strike" against government controls.

Cattle have been off the market because they weren't ready and each year, after the Fourth of July, runs always pick up because grass is drying up and the cattle are ready to market, Weaver declared.

"Settling down" of the OPS situation and the apparent knocking out by Congress of the government's announced price rollbacks on beef are at least partially responsible for the heavy run, in the opinion of Lewis D. Watkins, office manager for John Clay and Company, another leading commission firm.

He, too, expressed the opinion seasonal factors were the main reason for the run and predicted there would be much heavier runs than in recent months for the next 30 to 60 days, as always occurs during that period of the year.

Stags last was reported seen in a bus station, he said.

The woman, who had come to Midland three days earlier from her home in Indianapolis, Ind., had quarreled Friday night with the Midland construction worker she was to have married on July 4.

The worker told police Saturday the woman had $1,180 in cash with her when they parted. He said he had not heard from her since that time.

13 Traffic Deaths Send Weekend Toll Of Violence To 29

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths soared in Texas during the weekend and boosted the violent death toll to 29.

At least 13 persons were killed in traffic mishaps. Seven persons drowned, three others were shot to death, trains killed four, and a fall and electrocution accounted for one death each.

The violent deaths included:

Three persons were killed in the collision of an automobile and a Katy freight train at Red Rock. Tentatively identified as dead were Pedro Vargas, 36; Julio Sanchez, 31, and Ralph Amayo, 31, all of Lockhart. Two others were injured critically in the mishap.

Dennis Edward Morse, 19-month-old son of Army Lt. and Mrs. John Morse, Jr., of Houston drowned Sunday in Galveston Bay at La Porte.

Woodrow A. Shufeldt, 38, of Amarillo drowned Sunday in a stock tank near Amarillo as his wife and two step-children looked on helplessly.

The body of Jack Bennie Griffin, 42, of Texarkana was found on the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks near the Texarkana city limit Sunday.

Coroner C. L. Winchester ruled the death accidental, saying Griffin apparently went to sleep on the tracks.

The $10,000 cash was taken to the courthouse by Mrs. Mary Kaufman, attorney for the bail fund of the Civil Rights Congress, listed as surety by the U. S. attorney general. Field is secretary of the fund, Judge Swan, in fixing bail, stipulated that it was not to be furnished by the Civil Rights Congress, and that it must be "in form acceptable to the U. S. attorney's office."

Assistant U. S. Attorney Roy M. Cohn said the government proposed to ask for a guarantor agreeable to the prosecution and that there might be some delay in accepting bail for Field.

Battle Over Controls In Voting Stage

WASHINGTON —(P)—

The battle on controls got down to the voting stage in the House Monday with the members in the center of a nationwide argument over whether the government should have greater or lesser power to fix prices, wages and rents.

A final House vote may not come until the end of the week. First it must dispose of some 80-odd proposals—things that various legislators want to put in or take out of the present economic controls law.

Once the House passes a bill—assuming it does pass one—some final legislation will have to be worked out with the Senate, which already has passed a bill of its own.

Just before the House met, Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) and other Democratic congressional leaders had their regular Monday conference with President Truman.

Declines Prediction

Rayburn said they talked about controls legislation, but he declined to predict what the House would do. He did say:

"We are hoping to get a little better bill than some people think is apparent at this time."

The Administration was going all out to win the broad control powers Truman asks. It had help from the Democratic political organization and from many labor unions.

The United Labor Policy Committee, made up of officers of the AFL, CIO and independent unions, called a meeting to work on strategy for "tough" price controls.

The Democratic National Committee telegraphed local party leaders last week seeking support.

And many Administration figures were going on the radio and TV to argue for strong controls.

Eric Johnston, the economic stabilization director, was one of those carrying the ball for the Administration. He argued the nation could look for "a much cheaper dollar"—worth perhaps 30 to 40 cents in 1939 purchasing power—if controls are scrapped. Johnston figured the dollar now is worth 53 to 54 cents of its 1939 value.

Truman's action was part of a coordinated move by the Western Allies. The French cabinet approved a decree to the same end, although it was not clear whether it was effective immediately or must await the formation of a new cabinet in the next few days.

Britain followed suit quickly.

Three members of the British Commonwealth—acting in advance—ended their state of war with the Germans. They are Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

New Zealand also announced the end of its state of war with Austria.

With the state of war at an end, Germans will be able to travel or do business in the United States as nationals of a friendly government. (Continued On Page Five)

Grocery Snatcher Strikes Real Bonanza

CHICAGO —(P)— The thief who snatched a sack of groceries from store-owner Mrs. Anna Oken ought to be able to go into business for himself.

At the bottom of the bag, Mrs. Oken told police, was $2,000 in cash—the weekend receipts from her grocery business.

Parleys Hold No Peace Guarantee, UN Leader Warns

SEOUL, KOREA —(P)— Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway warned Monday night there was no real guarantee of peace in Korea will come from the armistice negotiations opening Tuesday in Kaesong.

With the start of cease-fire talks only hours away, Ridgway said:

"Whether there is to be good faith or not is only to be judged by performance, and we haven't come to performance stage x x x"

Agreement on an armistice must precede a cessation of hostilities."

The supreme command was addressing correspondents news coverage of the full scale negotiations. The correspondents have demanded Western press representation at the historic event.

Ridgway indicated there would be no Western newsmen at Tuesday session—but that there might be later sessions.

He disclosed that he personally selected the five United Nations peace envoys and that he reserved the right "to change the delegate at any time."

Monday, Ridgway gave his representatives their final instructions.

The Allied delegation then flew an undisclosed rendezvous point described only as "as close as possible to Kaesong." It is presumed to be the Allied "peace camp" Munsan, only a few minutes by plane from the ancient capital, where end may be found for the 55-year-old Korean war.

Admiral Heads Delegation

The talks probably will begin about 10 a. m. Tuesday (6 p. m. Monday, CST).

The supreme command will keep highest available during the talks.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief Allied delegate, will confer with Ridgway at the end of each day session. Joy is commander, U. S. Naval forces in Korean waters.

16,520,000-Bale Cotton Crop Seen In U. S. This Year

WASHINGTON —(P)— Cotton production on the nation's farms on July 1 was estimated at 29,510,000 acres Monday by the Agriculture Department. This compares with 18,613,000 a year ago for the short 1950 crop.

The department made no forecast for production, but at last year's average yield to the acre, the crop would be about 16,520,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Such a crop would compare with a government production goal of at least 16,000,000 bales, and with last year's 10,612,000 bales, which was the fourth smallest in the last 25 years.

A sharp increase in production was sought this year to prevent an acute shortage. In order to protect domestic users, the government has imposed rigid limitations on exports.

The department's first official estimate on production will be released August 8.

More Record Heat In Store For State

By The Associated Press

More hot weather is the forecast for Texas.

The Panhandle was promised "not quite so warm" temperatures Monday night as a weak cool front drifted into the area.

Scattered thundershowers were forecast for the Panhandle, South Plains and extreme northwest portion of East Texas Monday night.

El Paso had its highest temperature on record Sunday—107 degrees. Presidio was the hottest spot with 110. Other readings above 100 degrees were at Salt Flat, Wink, Alice, Lubbock, Del Rio, Cotulla, Childress and Midland. Up in the Panhandle, Amarillo and Dalhart reported 100 degrees.

No Truce In Sight For Home Front Struggle

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Regardless of the outcome of cease-fire negotiations in Korea, the economic battle on the home front will continue unabated.

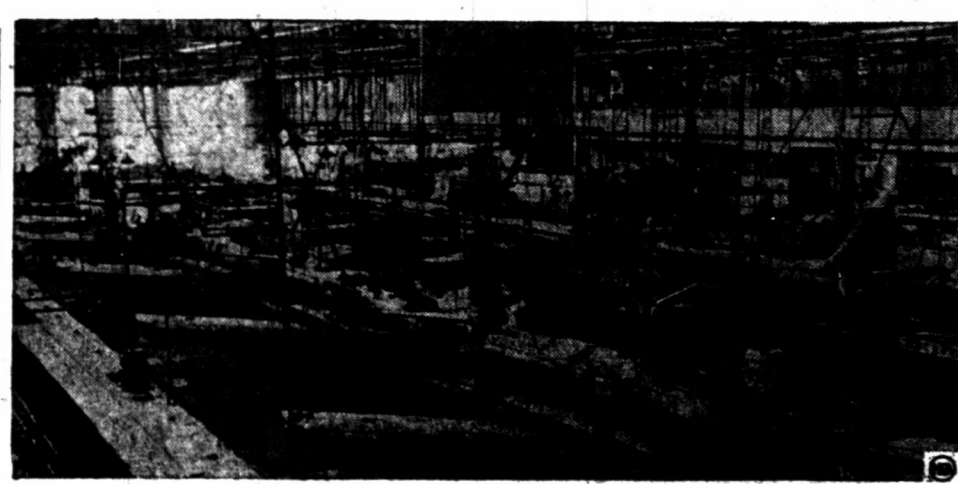

This is the struggle to maintain a near-normal economy while industry tools up for a possible future all-out war mobilization.

Nor will the end of the shooting repair much of the war damage already done on the home front.

Inflation soon is expected to break all records in the U. S. The cost of living in America has gone up close to nine per cent since the North Koreans made their aggressive crossing of the 48th parallel more than a year ago.

A tax burden which most U. S. taxpayers believed to be crushing before they ever heard of Korea will be increased by something more than $17,000,000,000 by the end of the year.

Next February, a man with a wife and two children and a salary of $5,000 a year will find his income tax bill upped from $432 to $585. The average U. S. corporation will get a tax bill on income in the neighborhood of 60 per cent, compared to the one of about 38 per cent last year. On top of inflation and increased income tax, John Q. Public will shell out more in excise taxes for his liquor, entertainment, tobacco and household goods as a result of the crossing of the 38th by the Reds.

Although the anticipated shortages of consumer goods haven't materialized yet, there are signs that the present overabundance of such things as wool clothing and TV sets is just temporary. When the war goods start flowing in great quantities, then, the experts say, the shortages will follow.

Although the limited controls which U. S. business now finds itself saddled with haven't caused a major disruption in America's economic system, there are authoritative predictions that the worst is yet to come.

On the positive side of the ledger are facts which come from the latest report of defense mobilization boss Charles E. Wilson. It reveals that outstanding orders for war goods are in the neighborhood of $35,000,000,000.

Through April, May and June of this year $4,000,000 worth of vitally needed arms and ammunition were delivered. That is three times more than deliveries during the same period last year. And the outlook on American farms is for a four per cent increase in production this year.

'Weekend With Father' Will Make Some Stars See Red

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood and Grapevine: Somebody should pad the ceiling that Tallulah Bankhead and Payne Emerson will hit when they watch Virginia Field's composite satire of them in UI's "Weekend With Father" ("Plunging neckline, sleek, long bob, "Dahling" and all Virginia once blistered Gertrude Lawrence the same way in the Broadway hit, "Light Up the Sky.")

Jo Carrol Dennison, ex-Miss America and ex-Mrs. Phil Silvers, will work with Phil on his TV show this Fall. About working with her ex-hubby, Jo says: "He once supported me financially. Now I'll be supporting him artistically."

Maureen O'Hara's two brothers will make their film debut with her in John Ford's "The Quiet Man." One calls himself Charles Fitzsimmons, which is the family name, and the other is James Lillburn, who uses his mother's maiden name.

Ava Gardner, all fluttery because MGM used her own singing voice in "Show Boat," is exercising her tonsils twice a week with Phil Moore for other musical stints.

On the Record: John Barrymore, Jr. "I'm studying acting now. I was foolish to go into a film two years ago without training. The only thing I had done was in front of the mirror at home when my mother wasn't looking."

Jean Simmons "People keep asking me about making a picture with my husband (Stewart Graninger). We worked together in a British film. I had to call him Daddy."

Charles Laughton "I'm always being asked whether I really said, 'Come here, Mr. Christian' in 'Mutiny on the Bounty.' You know I actually don't remember."

Peggy Dow on UI's order to freshen-up: "I eat like a horse but I can't get past the skin-and-bone stage. It's the tension. I'm a nervous girl!"

Seeking Cooperation, Garbage Collector Sends Citizens Cards

The garbage collector has sent a personal message to some 5,000 Midland residents in an effort to get some cooperation.

Public Works Director J. M. Orman said Monday the personal appeal was contained in printed cards distributed to Midland residents during last week.

He said garbage is now being collected twice each week and brush is being picked up once a week.

"You will help me do a better job," said the collector, "if you will: "First—Use regulation containers not larger than 32 gallons in capacity and with a loading weight of not more than 100 pounds. Containers should be of durable material fitted with lifting and cover handles. This is important to me; I lift them many times each day.

"Second—If you have alley collection, please place containers in the alley near the rear of lot lines. If you have no alley, a representative of my division will discuss a location with you to provide the most efficient collection.

"Third—Place brush as close to garbage as possible. Under the new plan it will be collected at least once a week.

"Fourth—I will pick up grass cuttings if they are placed in the garbage containers or in a small container near the garbage can. Containers are important. My schedule will not allow me the time to pick up piles of loose grass.

"Fifth—Please do not place dead animals in garbage cans. A telephone call to 4-6661 (ask for Police Department) will bring a dead animal truck.

"With your cooperation I expect to give you the best collection service you have ever received. If I make a mistake and fail to give good service, please tell me or call the Department of Public Works (Phone 4-6661, Station 7)."

Hearing Set July 19 On Martin Water District Proposals

STANTON — A public hearing on proposed regulations for the Martin County Underground Water Conservation District has been set for July 19.

The hearing was called by the district's board of directors, which now is in the process of formulating the rules and regulations which will govern the drilling of wells and production of water in the district, which covers approximately 75 square miles.

The hearing, which will be held at 8 p.m. in the Martin County Courthouse here, was called at the request of officials of the Colorado River Municipal District.

The Colorado district has leased wide areas in Martin County and now is drilling for water to help supply Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder during the five years it will require to build and store water in its surface reservoir.

Like Father, Like Son

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: MacArthur committee is on the spot; Senator Humphrey won't let civil-rights issue die; Vodka speaks louder than words.

WASHINGTON — Republican senators on the MacArthur investigating committee have been doing some hurried backstage conferring since the truce proposal for Korea. Privately they wish they had taken the advice of GOP Senator Eugene Millikin of Colorado.

General MacArthur not only demanded that the United States extend the Korean war to China, but indicated there was no chance of ending the Korean fighting without such extension. Now it looks like the fighting might be ended. Furthermore, Senate Republicans swallowed MacArthur's belligerent policy hook-line-and-sinker.

Inside fact is that astute Senator Millikin warned his GOP colleagues against going all-out for MacArthur. He cautioned that the American public does not want war, and that the Republican Party could not afford to get itself stamped with a belligerent program.

However, most GOP senators ignored his advice, and some, including Taft, even made speeches putting themselves squarely behind MacArthur.

Now, in view of the Korean truce negotiations, they find themselves very much behind the MacArthur eight-ball.

That is the real reason why Senator Brewster of Maine, a member of the MacArthur Investigating Committee, announced that GOP committee members would delay making their report. Actually, the delay wasn't to avoid possible embarrassment to General Ridgway, as Brewster announced, but to avoid possible embarrassment to GOP committee members.

Note—When the minority report finally does come out, it will be a watered-down version slapping Truman for his method of firing MacArthur, but carefully avoiding any endorsement of MacArthur's proposals for expanding the war in Asia.

Trouble For Democrats The issue that blew the Democratic Party apart in 1948 quietly was reintroduced the other day by Senator Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat, when he tossed into the legislative hopper the eight civil-rights bills that provoked the Dixiecrat revolt.

The Democrats conveniently had forgotten to introduce civil-rights legislation this session, until Humphrey discovered the omission and threw the whole works back into the legislative mill.

Newspapermen, travelers and others who have visited many areas of the world report that communism at present has its greatest appeal in those areas of the world inhabited by dark-skinned peoples.

These areas house two-thirds of the world's population which, in the main, is non-Caucasian. Needless to say, China already is gone and sections of Southeast Asia may be on the way.

To these people our exhortations about democracy and equality of rights seem hollow and empty; they are not taken seriously. Soviet propagandists point daily to the discrepancies between the American theory of democracy and its practice at home.

"Not so long ago," Humphrey continued, "I had an opportunity to talk with an Indonesian friend. He questioned the fact that the United States was a democracy. After all, he said, were there not 486 lynchings in the United States in 1949? I pointed out that there had been only three lynchings in the United States that year.

prepared for defense. I hope that in Russia there will grow up a concern for a peaceful way of life in the world. I feel this concern exists among your people, as it does with the American people."

The Soviet commissar listened, then looked carefully around to see if anyone was listening. Finally he asked: "Mr. Scott, do you like vodka?"

Surprised, the congressman replied that he did. "Tomorrow at 10 o'clock," continued the commissar, "there will be in your room the finest bottle of vodka in this city."

Scott's interpretation of the conversation is: "I keep this bottle as a memento that the Russian commissar was trying to tell me that, even as high as he was, the desire for a peaceful way of life exists behind the Iron Curtain."

Chinese Prisoners A revealing look at Communist China was obtained by Seattle's Senator Warren Magnuson at UN prisoner-of-war camps in both Korea and Hong Kong.

Magnuson found the Chinese prisoners, unlike the fiercely fanatical North Koreans, are happy to be prisoners and quite willing to talk.

One grinning Chinese told the Washington senator, through an interpreter, this story of how he "volunteered" for service in Korea: "A Communist recruiter came to our village and said if I volunteered my family would get the big farm on the hill. If I didn't volunteer, I would be grabbed anyway, so I volunteered."

At Hong Kong, Senator Magnuson talked with many Chinese from Canton who are allowed to leave the Chinese mainland for Hong Kong by posting a "bond" of two persons. If the visitor fails to return from Hong Kong, the two persons are jailed.

He was told the Communist purge of older people has been more damaging to the Mao regime than the Korean war, because of traditional Chinese reverence for elders. A Communist magistrate in Canton created a riot by sentencing his own father to death.

Middle and upper-class Chinese on the mainland are fed up with the Communists but do not want a return of Chiang Kai-Shek. Magnuson personally felt that a new and progressive group of Chinese leaders is developing on Formosa and tells of an exchange with the governor of the island, K. C. Wu.

When Wu enthusiastically explained the new land-reform program worked out by U. S. Department of Agriculture experts, Magnuson interrupted to remind him: "If you people had taken up that idea about three years ago, you'd be in China today, instead of on Formosa."

More Guard Calls Being Considered WASHINGTON — The calling up of two or three more National Guard divisions as part of a proposal to strengthen the Army by six divisions is reported to be under consideration.

This was learned over the weekend from Defense Department officials who may not be named. They said no final decision has been made and that none of the 21 guard ground divisions not brought into federal service has been even tagged tentatively.

Six more units would give the Army 24 combat divisions and about 10 training divisions. Since the fighting started in Korea in June, 1950, the Army has called up six National Guard divisions, two regimental combat teams and a number of smaller units.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Today's hand was very hard to bid properly. Five diamonds would have been a somewhat easier contract to make, but four hearts wasn't bad even though the trump suit was fairly short. It's all right to get to game with only seven trumps in the combined hands provided that you know how to manage the trumps prudently.

When the hand was played, dummy won the first trick with the jack of spades. Declarer next laid down the ace and king of trumps, after which he led the nine of diamonds and let it ride to East's king. East returned the queen of clubs.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and a bidding sequence.

for-lose out dummy's ace. Declarer then decided that he could afford to lead out another round of trumps as long as the diamonds had turned out so well. This was a fatal mistake. After winning the third round of trumps with queen, South went back to the diamonds. East ruffed the last diamond and led another club, thus forcing out declarer's last trump.

At this point South had lost a diamond and a trump, with the spades still to be developed. When declarer went after the spades West could take his king of spades and lead his last club to set the contract.

There were actually five or six perfectly sound ways to play the hand, but drawing a third round of trumps was not part of any of them. South could have given up one spade trick as though West held the ace rather than the king. Or South could have led the queen of spades from dummy to win his ace and ruff a spade with dummy's third trump.

The right lines of play all had one feature in common: South had to draw only two rounds of trumps and then develop the other suits. He could afford to draw a third trump only after all his tricks had been set up.

CARD Sense

The bidding has been: North 1 Heart, East Pass, South 1 N.T., West ? You, South, hold: Spades A-J, 10-6-3, Hearts 7-5, Diamonds A-Q, J-4-2, Club 9. What do you do? A—Bid three diamonds. You want the hand to be played at game contract, as this bid indicates. You also indicate that you hold at least nine cards in the two suits you have bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding has been: North 1 Heart, East Pass, South 1 N.T., West ? You, South, hold: Spades A-J, 10-6-3, Hearts 7-5, Diamonds A-Q, J-4-2, Club 9. What do you do?

Questions and Answers

Q—Is there any metal lighter than aluminum? A—Several, the lightest of which is lithium, about five times lighter than aluminum. However, like sodium, potassium and calcium, which are also lighter than aluminum, it is so active chemically that it cannot be left exposed to the air. Of metals that can be so exposed, beryllium and magnesium are both lighter than aluminum.

Q—What was Rembrandt's first famous picture? A—His "Lesson in Anatomy" with its eight fine portraits, painted in 1632, was the artist's first masterpiece.

Q—Which city in the United States is the largest one not situated on navigable waters? A—The 1950 census records show that Dallas, population 432,977, has supplanted Indianapolis as the largest American city not on navigable water.

You, South, hold: Spades A-J, 10-6-3, Hearts 7-5, Diamonds A-Q, J-4-2, Club 9. What do you do?

WILD WEST CHARITY STANDISH BY CHARLES JUDAH COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

WHEN Charity Standish went West profound influences were at work throughout the world. In Asia, Japan was flexing muscles almost but not quite atrophied by centuries of isolation; in Europe Bismarck was putting the finishing touches on his triple alliance; in America the shrill clanging of the Industrial Revolution was beginning to be heard above the whisper of the winds as they swept through the rustling corn and tossing wheat of the prairies.

She felt no inner compulsion to bring the influence of virtuous womanhood to bear on the viceladen frontier, or to grace a one-room school house from whence waves of culture might radiate to the uncouth. On the other hand, this callous indifference to a dedicated life did not spring from a predilection towards sin, for though with her black eyes, dark brown hair, garnet grin and female shape she was well endowed for a siren's career, the vision of herself as a dance hall vampire luring men to their destruction eluded her. She was not interested in sin—or even men—very much.

Charity was interested in hay fever. She went West because of hay fever. One day her doctor mentioned casually that according to reports drifting East people did not suffer from hay fever in the West, as they did in Ohio.

New Mexico, the doctor, who knew as little about the West as about curing hay fever, suggested hopefully. From that point Charity was on her own. Neither physician nor hay fever offered the slightest hint as to just where in New Mexico it would be best to go. After ruthless elimination two places remained—Santa Fe and San Lorenzo. The names of both fascinated her. She could not make up her mind which to choose until a newspaper article reprinted in the Cleveland paper finally tugged the scale. The article was from the San Lorenzo Gazette.

There is a windmill on the Plaza and if certain characters return to town 100 substantial citizens of San Lorenzo aim to throw a party around the windmill. Every week there will be the girls and the windmill will be tastefully decorated.

The names of the "certain characters" followed. Besides such orthodox ones as Rattle-Snake Sam, One-Eye Joe and Scarface Charlie there were others, fresher, more intriguing, Pansy and Fly-Spock Al, Hatchet-Face Kit, Cold-Deck George, Jimmy-the-Duck and Wink-the-Barber. It was really these names that did it.

"If a girl must go West," Charity explained, "she might as well see the interesting sights; and I'm sure that the windmill on the Plaza with Cold-Deck George on one arm and Wink-the-Barber on the other would be an interesting sight."

"You'd faint at the sight," replied her companion, whose unromantic name was Ed Smith. "But Ed was prejudiced. He did not want Charity to go West. He wanted her to stay home and marry him, he wanted to take her for better or worse, including the hay fever."

"I love you," he declared, and added wistfully, "If you'd give yourself a chance you might love me."

"It isn't me that won't give you a chance," Charity explained. "It's the hay fever. Love can't be sandwiched in between sneezes, and a tickling nose makes romance ridiculous. Until I get rid of my hay fever I can't even think of love."

BACK of San Lorenzo rose the hills, not high themselves but beyond them were the Sangre de Cristo, the Jemez; at their foot lay a valley. It was peaceful in the yellow sunlight when the Conquistadors came; it was still peaceful after Kearney's Americans passed through its gap towards Santa Fe, California and the new empire of the Southwest. On the crest of one of these hills was the loveliest spot Charity had ever known. She often came there alone; today she had

On the crest was the loveliest spot Charity had ever known. She often came here alone; today she brought Douglas. He had protested lazily against the stiff climb. "A woman's whim," she told him; but now as she slipped his arm around her waist she knew it had been more instinct than whim. "I could settle down," he said. It was not until after she had promised to marry him that Charity resumed her catechism. "How do you make a living?" "I thought you knew." She smiled at his dismay. "Forgive me, I guess I've been so busy falling in love I didn't have time to inquire."

"Maybe that was a mistake, I'm a gambler." THE distant mountainside formed a backdrop of color—yellows and deep golds from aspen and willow, rich browns and reds from the scrub oak. Charity stared across it and dreamed of a small Ohio town. Dust was thick in the street and hung heavy in the humid August air. Her nose tickled, her eyes were red rimmed. But Ed Smith sat beside her in a hammock that was hung between maples whose leaves, when the frost had painted them, would reduce the timid aspen to pallid, trembling insignificance. Ed had a respectable job. He bought and sold hogs. She smiled tenderly at the memory of his earnest voice as he strove to impress her with his stature in the world: "It's a mighty fine business to be in, Charity, though a man does have to keep his head and watch his step. Amount of profit depends on the market, you know. Sort of a gamble."

"Still the West is different," Charity gasped. Douglas did not know what to make of her, nor was he reassured when she added: "It's better for hay fever." However, he was content when she assured him that despite his profession she would marry him. "Not right away, though," she pleaded, "if I'm to be a gambler's wife I've got to learn something about the business."

"I'd know something about it if you sold hogs, wouldn't I?" she asked. Because he was too good a gambler to crowd his luck, Douglas let it go at that. (To Be Continued)

Close Fight Seen On Move To Cut Off Acheson's Pay

WASHINGTON—(P)—Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee Monday predicted a "close fight" on a Republican move to cut off the pay of Secretary of State Acheson.

The showdown on the "get-Acheson" drive in the House comes next week when the annual money bill for the State Department is considered. Tied in with the bill are funds for the Commerce and Justice Departments and the federal judiciary.

"It will be a close fight; I don't know if we can beat them," Cannon said in an interview.

He was referring to an amendment drafted by Representative Phillips (R-Calif.) to cut off Acheson's salary to try to force the secretary to quit. The amendment would withhold the pay of any department official who, at any time during the last five years, was connected with a law firm that had legal dealings with a foreign government. Acheson's former Washington law firm once represented Poland.

Dr. Burnett Quits Medical School Post

DALLAS—(P)—Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., Dallas, chairman of the University of Texas Board of Regents, said Monday the head of the Department of Medicine of the Southwestern Medical School has resigned.

He is Dr. Charles H. Burnett, also professor of medicine at the school, a Dallas branch of the University of Texas.

Dr. Carl Meyer, dean of the medical school, announced his resignation last month.

In a statement issued Sunday, Woodward declared political interference with the university's operations would make it difficult to retain top scientists, and even more difficult to find new men to fill the vacancies. He criticized the Texas Legislature for what he called its invasion of the power of the regents to manage the university.

Texas No Longer Owns Colorado's Pike Peak As Shivers Loses It In Golf Match

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—(P)—Pikes Peak doesn't belong to Texas any more.

Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado won it back from Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas in a golf match Sunday.

The peak theoretically has belonged to the governor of Texas since Jan. 1, 1938. The late Gov. Ralph Carr lost it in a wager that Colorado would beat Rice in the Cotton Bowl football game.

Rice won 28-14 and the then Texas governor, James V. Allred, claimed Colorado's most famous mountain for Texas.

Coloradoans have been trying ever since to find a way to regain the title.

Governor Thornton did just that on the eighteenth hole of the Broadmoor Golf Course. He had to risk Mount Elbert, Colorado's highest peak, to do it.

Thornton and Shivers played a sociable little match for 17 holes. Then Shivers told how he tried to bet Pike's Peak against Lookout Mountain in Tennessee in last year's Cotton Bowl game, but Tennessee wouldn't bet. They agreed to another bet, though, and when Tennessee won the game they also won the Brazos River—or at least a jug of water from it.

Thornton, who has been busting par regularly around Denver, suggested the peak-for-peak gamble on the final hole. He shot a par 4. Shivers didn't make it.

Shriners Gather For Annual Meeting In New York City

NEW YORK—(P)—Manhattan's Times Square area was a maze of polka dots Monday—spotted by the scarlet fezes of thousands of Shriners here for their seventy-seventh annual convention.

Some 100,000 Shriners and their families—from 182 temples in every state of the Union—were expected to attend the six-day meeting which started Sunday.

About 20,000 arrived for the first day, which was devoted chiefly to registration.

The Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, started business sessions Monday. These meetings are concerned with raising money to maintain 17 hospitals for crippled children in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii. Officers will be elected Thursday.

No Truce—

Industrial output in America has increased about 15 per cent. And during the next two years it is planned to have it increased another 15 per cent. Wilson reports.

"At least two more years of intensive labor will be required in this nation to reach our present goals of military and productive power."

Wilson's big worry is what will be the reaction of the U. S. with a truce existing in Korea. He warns:

"The assault by Soviet Communism in that corner of the globe was but an episode in the long-term struggle in which we are engaged. The truce in Korea does not remove the danger that new fighting might break out there at any time. Even if peace is fully restored in that country new 'Koreas' are always possible anywhere along the broad perimeter of the Soviet empire, and any of these could lead to global war."

"We dare not slacken the pace of defense mobilization in the free world until we know that the Soviets have given up their aims of world conquest and have sincerely entered into a genuine world peace."

In the build-up of strength in the free world, the report stresses U. S. aims in three critical areas:

In Western Europe the object is strength at the moment, mobilization capacity and political stability sufficient to deter the Soviet Union from attempting to seize a center of industrial power second only to that of the U. S.

In the nations of Asia outside the Communist world the object is a state of political and economic health which will strengthen each nation internally against the threat of Communism and enable it to make its maximum contribution to the common defense.

In the Western Hemisphere the object is a tremendous development of military and economic strength, not only to serve the defense of this area, but also to provide a central source of support for defense effort among all free nations.

West Powers—

rather than has enemy aliens. Also, Germans will be able to bring suits in U. S. courts.

Specifically, Truman asked that Congress adopt a resolution declaring the state of war with Germany shall be terminated at such date as the President proclaims.

This country has been in a state of war with Germany since Dec. 11, 1941.

The President's request was made in identical letters to the presiding officers of the Senate and House—Vice President Barkley and Speaker Rayburn. It will not end the occupation by Western forces.

Armistice—

Force; Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, deputy chief of staff, U. S. Eighth Army; Rear Adm. Arleigh A. (31 Knots) Burke, U. S. Navy, and Maj. Gen. Park Sun Yup, Republic of Korea army.

Joy, Craigie and Burke accompanied Ridgway from Tokyo to Seoul in the supreme commander's C-54 transport plane.

Paik, commanding general of the ROK First Army Corps, arrived early Monday. He conferred with Hodes, then went to Munsan.

Communist representatives at Kaesong will be Gen. Hsieh Fang and Gen. Tung Hsu of the Chinese Army; and Gen. Nam Il and Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho of the North Korean Red forces.

Groundwork for the armistice talks was laid Sunday, also at Kaesong.

Liaison groups representing both sides held a stiffly formal meeting in a once palatial home in the Red-held city.

Col. Andrew J. Kinney, U. S. Air Force, who headed the UN delegation Sunday, said the preliminary meeting was a "100 per cent success."

Another envoy indicated, however, that there were a number of disagreements that had to be ironed out. He said there were several times when he thought the talks would fall through.

The UN delegation to the full scale talks probably will fly by helicopter from Munsan.

When there has been no announcement of when the Red delegation will arrive, or how it will travel.

Length of Talks Indefinite
The Red plans probably were worked out in the preliminary meeting Sunday. It was assumed the Reds will travel by road, and that UN planes will give them the same immunity granted the preliminary negotiators.

Before he left Seoul, General Craigie said, "I don't believe any of us have any idea how long these talks will last. We have received our instructions and are all very happy with this job."

Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander met the Ridgway party at the airport. He said he only wanted to discuss "Eighth Army business" with Ridgway.

As ranking officers of the opposing sides prepared to talk peace, there was no large scale ground fighting on the Korean front.

In the air war, F-86 Sabre jets destroyed one Russian-made MIG-15 Monday. Three others were shot down and two damaged Sunday.

United Nations military leaders took no chance along the front. They reasoned that until a definite agreement is reached to stop the shooting, the best course is to keep hitting away at the enemy.

At Eighth Army headquarters, everyone went about business as usual, but there was a feeling of elation and hope.

Everyone realized Tuesday's talks and succeeding conferences represented the first big chance for peace since the Chinese "volunteers" entered the war last Winter.

They also knew that should the talks fail, Chinese and North Korean Reds might again come streaming out of the Korean hills in another attempt to shatter the United Nations army and drive it into the sea.

Army officials, meanwhile, busily put finishing touches on plans for the conference.

Observers noted with interest that the Chinese and North Korean Reds will have equal representation at Kaesong—two generals each.

In the preliminary meeting Sunday, the Reds were represented by two North Koreans and one Chinese—and a North Korean, a Col. Chang, did most of the talking.

There were two sessions Sunday. One lasted from 9:47 a.m. till noon, and one from 2 p.m. till 3:30 p.m.

The meeting was described officially as harmonious and without incident, but strictly formal. There were no handshakes or salutes.

Kinney said the Reds were prepared to play host to the meeting. They displayed vodka, water, beer, fruit and a strange looking candy.

But the Allied envoys passed it up and ate their own rations during the noon recess.

SURGICAL PATIENT
H. A. Farley of 1511 Bedford Drive was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Sunday for surgery.

EMERGENCY PATIENT
Jess Bowman of Midland received emergency treatment at Midland Memorial Hospital Sunday after the third finger of his left hand was mashed while at work.

Big Truck Runs Wild On Mountain Road; Four Killed, 16 Hurt

WURTSBORO, N. Y.—(P)—A giant trailer truck, its brakes gone, careened down a steep Catskill Mountain road Sunday and crashed into 11 automobiles.

Four persons died and 16 were hurt, two critically, in the flaming wreckage.

The driver of the truck, Marsdon H. Reese, Jr., 28, of Bayonne, N. J., miraculously escaped injury.

However, five hours after the accident, he was charged with criminal negligence and held in $5,000 bail.

State police said many of the deaths and injuries were due to flames that enveloped the truck and at least four of the cars.

The truck was loaded with highly-inflammable propane gas in cylinders, that caught fire as it slid down the first of a long line of passenger cars.

At Traffic Light
Many of the cars the truck ripped into were halted at a traffic light at the bottom of the grade.

The truck roared on, crashing, sideswiping and spraying flames of fuel oil. It rounded a long, sweeping curve and then came to rest in the middle of the road against a taxicab. Three passengers in the cab burned to death.

Reese was quoted by state police saying he was going down the hill at about 20 miles an hour when his air brakes gave out. He tried applying his emergency brakes, police added, but these also failed.

Police said the trailer rushed down the hill, Reese blowing his horn as a warning, at about 40 miles an hour.

A number of other cars were damaged, police said, by drivers who swerved out of the way of the truck.

The dead were identified as Jack Adesman, 36, and his wife, Rosie, 32; Lena Sena, about 46, and Philip Levy, 34. All are from New York City.

Daughter Of Former Baseball Magnate Dies In 11-Story Plunge

NEW YORK—(P)—The 45-year-old daughter of Edward Grant Barrow, former president of the New York Yankees baseball team, plunged 11 stories to her death Monday, police said.

Authorities said Mrs. Audrey Barrow Shaffer fell or jumped from her apartment in Manhattan's new Sutton Terrace Apartments.

Detectives said they found in her apartment a copy of Barrow's book, "My Fifty Years in Baseball." Inscribed on the flyleaf were the words: "To my daughter, Audrey Barrow Shaffer, May 25, 1951."

Identification was made by the woman's physician, Dr. J. A. Halman, police said.

Daddy Ringtail And All Day Sucker

Bigger Monkey, Mugwump's father, was home for a little vacation from the circus where he works. Bigger Monkey, of course, looks very much like Mugwump, except Bigger has a terrible temper which he tries very hard all the time not to have.

Oh, Bigger was happy to see Mugwump, and happy to see Daddy

Ringtail and all the folks. Bigger gave Mugwump the presents he had brought (a wagon and a ball and a few other things) and Bigger told a few of the exciting things that had happened at the circus. Bigger even promised to let Mugwump come to see him sometime for a visit at the circus. Mugwump couldn't stay at the circus to live. Bigger said, because the Great Forest was a very much happier place for a boy to live. Bigger did promise to come home often to see Mugwump, and then Bigger said he was ready to have a checker game with Daddy Ringtail.

Daddy Ringtail smiled and got out the checkerboard. He was wishing that the rain wasn't falling down, because now Mugwump had to stay in the house and play. Ah me yes, and Mugwump sometimes gets so noisy when the rain keeps him inside the house.

The checker game began, but Mugwump's noise was more and more, and Bigger's temper was about to make him shout to Mugwump please to be quiet.

"Now, Bigger," said Daddy Ringtail, "temper-wemper, mustn't lose it."

But Bigger's temper already was lost. "Quiet!" he shouted at Mugwump. The windows rattled with the awful shout, and so Bigger then and there was ashamed of the shouting he had done. He said he was ashamed of the shouting he had done. He said he was ashamed of his temper-losing.

To show how sorry he was, Bigger found another present in his coat. He gave it to Mugwump. The present was really a lollipop so big that its name was All Day Sucker, because it would last all day long if Mugwump only sucked it and didn't chew it up.

What a fine-tasting all day sucker it was! Mugwump smiled with his eyes to show how good it was, and Bigger laughed to see it. Yes, and the all day sucker was so big that Mugwump's mouth was full of it, and so now he had to be quiet sure enough. No room for noise. Happy day!

No. 1 Windham is one location south of Sinclair No. 1 McElroy Ranch, Pennsylvania and Ellenburger discovery of the Wilshire field.

Operator will perforate the five and one-half-inch casing and complete No. 1 Windham from the Ellenburger and then probably go back up the hole and try to complete the well from the Pennsylvania.

The Ellenburger was topped at 13,048 feet, elevation 2,303 feet. That makes it 31 feet low on top of the Ellenburger to the same formation in the discovery well.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the east half of section 12B, block D, CCSD-RONG survey.

Sohio Petroleum Company filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas asking for permit to drill four more tests in the Driver-Spraberry field of Southwest Glasscock County.

Magnolia Petroleum Company and Sohio each staked location for another venture in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

In the Driver field Sohio will drill No. 5 Charles J. Cox 660 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

In the same section and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from the last lines Sohio will drill No. 6 Charles J. Cox.

Casing To Be Run In Tom Green Test

L. E. Scherck of San Angelo No. 1 J. Willis Johnson, Northeast Tom Green County wildcat, is at total depth of 4,747 feet in Strawn lime waiting for seven-inch oil string to be run.

The project showed good possibilities of making an oil well on a four-hour drillstem test from 4,704 to 4,747 feet.

Gas surfaced in 106 minutes. Recovery was 230 feet of free, 47-gravity oil and 250 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud, with no water.

The Strawn was topped at 4,702 feet, on a datum point of minus 2,812 feet. That puts the Strawn top 17 feet high to the same marker in Shell Oil Company No. 1 J. Willis Johnson, opener of the one-half Harriett field one and one-half miles to the southeast.

Location for the Scherck test is 660 feet from west and 2,572 feet from south lines of Washington County school land survey No. 3. Scherck reported staking his No. 1 J. E. Will Complete Soon Flowing tubing pressure was 200 pounds and the casing pressure was 300 pounds. Operator is continuing to test to clean out and complete. Potential is due to be taken in a few days.

The production is from open hole below the bottom of the 5 1/2-inch casing which is cemented at 6,743 feet and the total depth at 6,750 feet.

Husky Abandons Val Verde Test

Husky Oil Company of Midland and Cody, Wyo., has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Rose-Robertson, Central-South Val Verde County wildcat.

It was drilled to a total depth of 2,408 feet in igneous rock which was entered at 2,400 feet. Operator decided, after finding the metamorphic schist, they would not find any oil bearing zones at a deeper depth and plugging orders were issued.

This wildcat was originally slated for a 8,000-foot bottom. Location was at the center of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 83, block N, GH&SA survey. That put it one mile south of Comstock and about 30 miles northwest of Del Rio.

Yoakum Test Is Waiting On Orders

Star Oil Company No. 1-A Taylor heirs, North-Central Yoakum County wildcat, nine miles northeast of Plains is reported to be on a bottom of 12,505 feet in Devonian, and to be circulating while waiting on orders.

The prospector is reported by unofficial sources to have run a drillstem test to the total depth and to have recovered only salt water. No Verification No other details regarding that test have been reported.

It is understood that the project will probably be plugged and abandoned. However, there is no official verification for that report. Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 200, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Facing The Facts Calmly Takes Some Fear Out Of Polio

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

Even though there may not be any remarkable new discoveries concerning polio, every year it seems a good plan to discuss this dread disease about the time it is likely to hit its peak. Polio is terribly alarming and it is therefore wise to review the known and unknown facts calmly and sensibly.

Perhaps the thing which frightens people most is the mysterious and unexpected way in which polio so often strikes. One year, for example, there may be a lot of cases in three or four states and the next some other regions will turn out the worst. It is true there is no good explanation for this type of behavior on the part of polio as yet, and indeed spot maps of polio throughout the entire world show the same curious actions.

Lions Place Gum Ball Machines To Aid Charity Work

Thirty-five members of the Midland Lions Club Monday were canvassing Midland to place gum ball machines throughout the city as a source of revenue for the club's charity work.

The men, working in four teams, were striving to reach a 300-machine goal set in the club's new campaign. By 11 a.m. 75 machine locations had been reported to the Chamber of Commerce, headquarters for the drive. But Delbert Dowling, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said many workers had not reported at that time.

A kick-off breakfast to launch the campaign was held at 7:30 a.m. in Hotel Scharbauer. The breakfast was sponsored by John Horn of Abilene, representative of the company supplying gum for the machines.

The Lion's charity fund has been used, among other projects, to pay for eye examinations and glasses, and to provide transportation for school children who otherwise had no way to get to school. Since the Lions began using gum ball machines in 1946 to help support the fund, $1,760 has been received from the project. Bob Pine, project chairman, said.

Prizes will be awarded to the two men placing the most machines and to the captain whose team secures the most locations.

TEN TELEPHONE MEN AND WOMEN AWARDED THE VAIL MEDAL

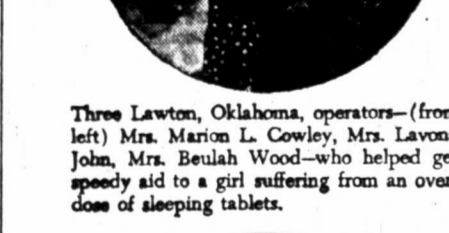

By their deeds, telephone people through the years have built a tradition of service to the public. Many of those deeds are so outstanding that they deserve recognition more enduring than a handshake and congratulations.

Two Brownwood, Texas, plant workers from an independent company—(from left) L. L. Pruett and Jesse L. Head—who saved three people from drowning and helped recover the bodies of two others.

Bill George Brightwell, St. Louis, Missouri, plant man, who entered a burning tavern, removed several victims and assisted in giving first aid, despite his own burns and abrasions.

James L. Bowdy, switchman, of Kansas City, Missouri, who helped rescue a group of people from a capsized boat and directed artificial respiration to three small children who were unconscious.

Americans Picked to Beat Nationals in All-Star Game

DETROIT—(AP)—Baseball's top players, assembling Tuesday's all-star game between the National and American Leagues, will combine business with pleasure. Even while managers Eddie Sawyer of the National and Casey Stengel of the American are announcing their starting pitchers and batting orders, player representatives all 16 clubs, for the first time, will sit down with the owners to discuss common problems. Many of the delegates are members of the all-star staff. The game is assured of a sellout of some 52,000. The receipts are expected to approach $150,000, the largest since the 1944-45 season. The game will be broadcast on television for the first time. The players were anxious for the owners to name a successor to A. B. ...

NT-NM League—Blue Sox Drop Fourth Straight

By The Associated Press. Abilene's Blue Sox lost their fourth straight game Sunday but even that 11-7 loss to Pampa left the Blue Sox with a seven and one-half game lead, which is a pretty fair margin at this stage. In other games, Lubbock outslugged Lamesa 15-10, Clovis defeated Borger 9-1 and Albuquerque beat Amarillo 5-3. Clyde Baldwin set Abilene down with just four hits in 100-degree weather. Clovis tagged two Borger pitchers for 10 hits, two less than Borger. But just one of the Pioneer safeties failed to help the run production. Lubbock used two big innings to lick Lamesa, scoring six in the third and eight in the sixth. Lamesa's one big inning was the fourth, when it chased seven runs across the plate. Steve Lagomarsino won his sixth game for Albuquerque, spacing seven hits to the Gold Sox.

King's Row by Larry King

DOTS AND DASHES—Windy Eldridge, former Midland baseballer, now is with Miami, Okla., of the K-O-M League. A home run Saturday night and another Sunday by San Angelo's Wayne Wallace leaves him with 21 of the four-baggers good enough to lead the Longhorn League. Midland's Hayden White leads the Indians with 13. King's Row joined Midlanders Don Bassman, Wally Jackson, Bud Lindsey and ex-Midland sportsman Doyle Elliott at Lake Sweetwater Sunday in a bit of swimming and boat-rowing. Nice sport, but oh, that suburb! Sugar Ray Robinson, who has had two unforgetful brushes with European "foul" rules in the last year, will be given a private briefing on British boxing regulations before stepping into the ring Tuesday night to defend his world middleweight crown against Randy Turpin. In spite of the 7-5 odds against them, we'll take the Nationals over the Americans in the Major League all-star clash Tuesday. Eddie Mellillo is beginning to find his batting eye again. Eddie hit in 24 straight games for Midland, then lost his touch and saw his average dip about 50 points. But he's been back on the ball in the last couple of games. San Angelo-Midland High School's first 1951 football opponent—expected one of the heaviest teams in its history next fall. And that oughta be plenty big. But Tubgot Jones' boys won't be so small, either. Some school should grab Jack Burris, last Fall's Bulldog back. He still hasn't been signed by a school. Citation has a chance to become the first million-dollar winner in horse racing this week, by copying the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup. Even second place, $20,000, would put Citation in the million-buck class. Only $14,240 short of the goal now. Midland hurlers haven't hurled a shutout baseball game this year. Or had you noticed? The Indians have been blanked eight times. Four of them by San Angelo. City Major softball playoffs begin Monday night. End of the Row!

Major Leagues—Red Sox Moving

By The Associated Press. It's still Chicago's White Sox on top of the American League standings by a single game, but their closest rival now are those pesky old Boston Red Sox. The Beantown boys Sunday slugged the New York Yankees 6-2, and topped them into third place. It was Boston's eighth straight over the Yanks in Fenway Park this season. Chicago staged off a St. Louis rally to win 5-4, while in other American League games, Cleveland licked Detroit twice, 8-3, 10-2, and Washington dumped Philadelphia in a twin bill 3-1, 8-2. Brooklyn continued its runaway race in the National League, dropping Philadelphia 6-4 to stretch its lead to eight and one-half games. New York's Giants were beaten by the Boston Braves 6-3, and St. Louis and Pittsburgh split. The Cards won the second game 9-8 after Pittsburgh took the first 6-2. Cincinnati and the Chicago Cubs' scheduled doubleheader was rained out.

Southwest Again Refuses To Kill 'Freshman' Rule

DALLAS—(AP)—For the third time in a five-month period, the Southwest Conference has refused to permit freshmen students to participate in varsity athletics. The latest ballot just completed found four institutions favoring a proposal to allow first-year students who have not previously enrolled in any junior college to play on the varsity, while three schools opposed. As a two-thirds majority, or five votes, was necessary for passage of this rule change, the Southwest Conference will continue to operate under the "one-year residence rule," as it formerly has done. This leaves the Southwest Conference and the Ivy League the only major conferences with the "freshman" rule still in force.

WINNER NEXT CHAMP?—Marciano, Layne In Heavyweight Go

By TED SMITS. Associated Press Staff Writer. POMPTON LAKES, N. J.—(AP)—Boxing people think the next heavyweight champion of the world may get his real start towards the title in the fight July 12 Madison Square Garden between Rex Layne and Rocky Marciano. And Layne thinks he is the man. They both are rough, willing fighters. Marciano has had 35 fights and won them all, with 30 knockouts. Layne has had 37, and won 34 with 24 knockouts. He lost one and drew two. Layne thinks he is ready for the champion, Ezzard Charles, right now. "I hardly think I can outbox him, but I think I can punch it out with him," he says. As for Marciano, "I think I'll knock him out if I can hit him." He has never seen his rival fight. Layne looks like a fighter. He is 23, stands one half inch under six feet, weighs 193, has big shoulders and a solid neck—wears a 17 collar—and his features have a pugilistic stamp. His forehead is low and his hair bristles over it. Several things about him surprise people. Although he had only schooling through the eighth grade, he talks fairly fluently. He is a member of the Latter Day Saints church and does not use alcohol or tobacco—and rarely coffee or tea. All are prohibited by the church. Another Dempsey? The most surprising thing of all is his apparent lack of muscles. He has a fair, smooth skin and his arms appear almost soft. Marv Jensen, his manager, says this is because his muscles aren't knobby. Jack Dempsey had a skin much like that. He came from Utah, too. Layne started fighting while serv-

Oilers Tip Tribe 6-3

ODESSA—Evelio Ortega bested Dave McKenzie on the mound here Sunday, as Odessa's Oilers defeated Midland's Indians 6-3 in a Longhorn League baseball game. Hayden White accounted for two of Midland's runs in the initial inning, rapping out his thirteenth home run of the year. Scooter Hughes, who had reached base by error, scored ahead of White on the four-base smash. Odessa also got a two-run homer, as Manager Bob (Pepper) Martin homered in the fifth inning with Dick Murphy—who had singled—on base. The Indians' final tally came in the sixth. Eddie Mellillo dumped a blooper hit just behind first base to score Hayden White from third. Ortega pitched himself out of the hole, as Midland made two outs without scoring another man. Midland moved to Artesia for a game Monday night.

City Major Playoff To Start Here

Four City Major division teams in the JayCee Softball League will begin the first round of a Shaughnessy playoff to determine the winner Monday night. Play this week will run through Monday, Wednesday and Friday, with the winners meeting next week for the crown. Western Plastic—winner of the regular-season title by two full games—is favored to cop the playoff, although Rotary Engineering Company, Standard of Texas and Shell Oil all expect to field strong teams. Monday night, Western Plastic will send Jack Dunlap to the mound against Jack Rogers of fourth-place Shell. Second-place Standard of Texas will call on Milt (Daddy) Montgomery to go against the ace of the Rotary Engineers, Jerry Matajek. Matajek is the loop's top pitcher, having won 11 and lost three games during the regular season. The Plastic-Shell game is set to get underway at 7:45 p.m., with the Engineer-Standard game to follow immediately thereafter. Officials said Monday a small admission fee will be charged. All games will be played at Wadley Park, the softball field north of the city.

Loighorn League—Broncs Whittle At Collis' Lead; Indians Lose One

By The Associated Press. Big Spring whittled another game off San Angelo's Longhorn League lead Sunday night 7-3, and that leaves the Broncs just five games off the pace. While San Angelo was getting the business, Odessa beat Midland 6-3, Artesia went 10 innings to down Sweetwater 6-5, and Roswell outlasted Vernon 16-11. Sixteen hits were just too much and that's how Big Spring won. Juan Laurence held the Colts to six safeties. An error, single and a triple by Abe Fleitas gave Artesia the two runs it needed to win in the tenth. Bob Martin's two-run homer in the fifth inning started Odessa off and duplicated a feat by Midland's Hayden White in the first inning. Bill Cearley's two run circuit clout in the sixth put Roswell ahead for the last time and just for insurance the Rocketts added four more runs this same frame and finished with a four-run seventh inning. The scores: Big Spring 301 200 010—7 16 2. San Angelo 000 001 110—3 6 2. Laurence and Valdes; Garza, Tankler and Funderburk, Schneegold. Sweetwater 010 200 100 1—5 9 1. Artesia 000 000 310 2—6 10 3. Club Prexy To Back Dixie Walker, Under 90-Day Suspension

ATLANTA—(AP)—An all-out fight over the 90-day suspension of Manager Dixie Walker of the Atlanta Crackers in the Southern Association was promised from a sickbed Sunday by Club President Earl Mann. Mann, commenting for the first time since the suspension, said: "I want you to know that we are going to use every weapon we have to fight this thing to the very end. We will go to the very limit in Dixie's defense." Walker was barred for the remainder of this season and 18 days of the next by Southern Association President Charlie Hirth after a dispute with Umpire Paul Roy at Mobile June 29.

BRER FOX—A fox, below, who wasn't as smart as he should have been, answers the call of Bud Lindsey's Pied Piper caller and gets his picture made. He also got himself killed, as Lindsey holds him up in the photo at left, while Bill Aiken grins his approval.

Bud Lindsey And Bill Aiken, Midland Hunters, Prove Sly Old Fox Isn't So Sly After All

By LARRY KING. The next time you're told someone is "sly as a fox," put it down that the character in question is feeble of mind. For in spite of what Grandpa told you when he swung you on his knee, the mental prowess of the fox has been greatly exaggerated. Although this statement destroys the ideals of our younger days, it definitely is true. That was proved to us by a pair of local Frank Bucks—Adrian (Bud) Lindsey and Bill Aiken—on a cool Summer night recently. It started when we all were grouped about the old homestead. Aiken and Lindsey merely passing the time of night and yours truly idly scrubbing the kitchen floor at the request of the better half. Wondering how we had been talked into such menial labor, we mumbled something about wishing we were as "sly as a fox." "That," said Lindsey, "is where you are wrong." Hence the disclosure by Lindsey and Aiken that the fox is about as smart as a blonde Hollywood starlet, in the truest tradition. "Okay," we challenged, "take me away from all this and prove your point." Thus we folded our mops and buckets and silently stole away. Our expedition led us to a mesquite-covered tract of land four miles east of Stanton, and a mile north of the Martin County town. Equipment included a pair of rifles, a camera equipped with flash-bulb apparatus and a horn-like instrutempted to shoot Mr. Fox, and succeeded only in driving him away. "At least he won't come back after that," we said. A knowing-smile from Lindsey and a couple of more artificial rabbit squeals brought him right back. This time, he fell victim to a bullet from the shot gun Bill (Dead Eye) Aiken, from 10 paces out. Two more hours of such calling brought a total of six foxes to our den, four killed and two getting away. Both who escaped the first time pushed their luck and returned. Only bad marksmanship on the part of the hunters saved the hunted. This success was nothing unusual to Lindsey and Aiken, who regularly take the Pied Piper caller and decrease the fox populace—and it works in daylight, too. "They'll come right to you in the daytime," Lindsey said. "They hear the call sounding like a rabbit caught by a snake or hung in a fence, and they come up. They haven't the reasoning power to distinguish between the real and the artificial. Their greedy stomachs make them easy prey." And Lindsey has moving pictures of some of his fox hunts to prove his point. Perfected. The Pied Piper caller was perfected by the Midland man's father, A. L. Lindsey, of Brownwood. He turns them out in large numbers and sells them to hunters throughout the Southwest—and all meet with a large degree of success. They'll also work on bobcats and other carnivorous animals, Lindsey relates. "Of course," says the senior Lindsey, "you can't expect to get a fox every time you call, any more than you can expect to see a baseball player bat 1,000 over the season—but the Pied Piper caller is very effective." Hunters don't use the callers just to slay the fox just for the love of killing, but to rid the country of a vermin which has no natural enemies. Only man hunts the fox. And, even though they are deceptively cute—a fox can tear off a human limb with his teeth—they are destructive. In one Texas county alone last year, rabid foxes destroyed more than $25,000 worth of livestock. Many cases have been recorded where men, women and children have been bitten by foxes and infected with rabies. Some have died. Since fox are vermin, there is no season on them. They may be killed at any time of the year. The Midland-Stanton area is thickly-infested with the little animals. They feed on rabbits and chickens, occasionally attacking lambs. Even a light at night will not discourage the fox. In fact, Lindsey advises the hunters to wear head lamps, directing the beam in the eyes of the fox only when ready to shoot. Keep calling, and he'll keep coming, in spite of the light. And that's why Grandpa was wrong when he told you the fables of the sly old fox.

Slasey Tops Hitters; Jacome Leads In Longhorn Pitching

ABILENE—Pat Slasey of Big Spring added four points to his batting average in play last week, to raise his average to .397. Thus Slasey leads Longhorn League batters at the season's halfway point. Slasey also is tied with Bill Cearley of Roswell and Ken Cluley of Artesia for the most two-baggers. Each has 23 Sweetwater's Warren Sliter still leads in triples with nine. San Angelo's Wayne Wallace retains the home-run leadership with 19 four-basers. Another Angeloan—John Tayaon—has collected 105 base hits, more than any other player in the loop. Leo Eastham of Odessa has scored 83 runs to top that department. Leon English of Vernon leads in stolen bases with 22, and with bases on balls won 90. Cearley of Roswell has the most RBIs—81. On the pitching side, Midland's Eddie Jacome seems a sure shot to win 20 games. At the halfway point, he had won 15 and lost 10. He also has appeared in the most games, 33, and pitched the most innings, 184. He is tied with Roswell's Dean Franks for the most complete games. Both hurlers have gone the route 16 times. Ray Sims of Odessa has the best pitching percentage, .909. He has dropped one game, won 10. Marshall Epperson of Vernon leads in strikeouts with 103, and bases on balls, 106. The best earned run average belongs to San Angelo's Indio Beltran. Beltran has a 2.83 average.

Texas League—Dallas Snaps Losing Streak With Win Over Cats

By The Associated Press. Dallas snapped its seven-game losing streak Sunday night, and Ray Narleski was the only twirler went 12 innings to nose out to its reputation as a "pitcher's league." Narleski blanked Fort Worth 6-0 on five hits. In other games, Houston nudged Beaumont 4-3, Shreveport beat San Antonio 6-4 and Oklahoma City Tulsa 8-7. In all of these games, hits were plentiful, but the results weren't. For the four games Sunday night, 86 hits scored only 38 runs, with 63 men left stranded on base. Dallas kept four games back of Houston in the standings by using four hits for two runs in the first inning, then splurging for four runs off five singles, a base on balls, and a force play in the fifth. Gerhauser Wins Own Game. Al Gerhauser won his own game with a single that scored Oklahoma City's winning run. He came in as a relief pitcher in the seventh inning. Tommy Tatum's home run in the ninth sent the game overtime and gave his Indians a chance for their ultimate victory. Houston used four hits for three runs in the second inning and Larry Miggin's homer in the fourth proved to be the winning run. Beaumont's two-run rally in the eighth fell one shy. Three unearned runs in the eighth gave Shreveport its win over San Antonio. Mickey Rutzler had hit a two-run homer for San Antonio in the top of the eighth to tie up the game briefly.

Laugh Away Heat, Club Talk Urges

Members of the Kiwanis Club heard Monday a speech on the importance of a sense of humor.

And 30 minutes later, they were all convinced that the speaker had proved his point.

The weekly luncheon-meeting was held, as usual in the Hotel Scharbauer's Crystal ballroom, and outside the window, workmen were winding up their luncheon and preparing to get back to work on the hotel's construction project.

The speaker was Bill Collins, editor of "The Reporter-Telegram." "Maybe It's The Heat," was his subject.

"Some peculiar happenings have been reported in the last few days in the newspapers," he began.

"It must be the heat. 'Why, just the other day...'"

Outside the window, the workmen went back to work.

"Rat-tat-tat-tat," taunted a couple of jackhammers as the members strained to catch the rest of the story.

Collins raised his voice, though, and started in again.

"Perhaps there's some kind of combustion that builds up inside of us during the Summer. Lots of times we say things we wouldn't say in cooler weather.

"It must be the heat. 'During the last few weeks, we've read about the professional and Junior Baseball League blowups, there has been trouble at the...'"

"Rat-tat-tat-tat," taunted the jackhammers outside the window, this time with the help of a couple of rumbly trucks.

Collins cleared his throat and continued.

"We just have to have a sense of humor," he said.

"Without a sense of humor we can get into trouble at home, at the office, at the courthouse or at the city hall."

He then related some of the little happenings in the news of the last 30 days—some comic, some tragic—and all peculiar to the hot weather.

"I think it all boils down to hot weather and..."

"Rat-tat-tat-tat," came those jack-hammers again.

"Let's all try as service club members," Collins finally concluded, grinning bravely in the direction of the interruptions, "to keep calm and cool and collected the rest of the Summer."

"We won't regret it." A few minutes later the club voted to move its meeting place at an early date to the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Doped Brothers Kill Officer, Clerk

HOBBS, N. M. —(P)—Police Monday said two brothers who shot and killed a Hobbs policeman and a druggist clerk Sunday were doped addicts and were hopped up on "Yellow Jackers" (mescaline).

The brothers were removed from Lea County Monday for fear they would be lynched.

Killed were Patrolman Robert B. Butler, 68, and Ira Grantham, 63, a clerk in the K. C. Druggists Store. Eyewitnesses said Patrolman Butler, Grantham and Phil Bener, owner of the store, were standing on the sidewalk when the two men staggered down the street as if they were drunk.

Butler accosted the brothers and took one by the arm. They immediately jumped Butler and took his gun, witnesses said.

One is shot. The three men ran into the store followed by the brothers waving the patrolman's gun. Inside Butler and Grantham were shot to death. Bener escaped from a rear door and called police.

Police identified the prisoners as Speight and Gene Parks of Portales, N. M.

Gene was arrested almost at the scene of the shooting. But Speight stole a car at gun-point, wrecked it, and stole another. In all he stole and wrecked three cars before police captured him in the process of stealing a fourth car nine miles north of Hobbs.

Deputy Sheriff Bruce McCallum told Parks, "raise your hands and raise 'em empty."

Parks came out with his hands up, holding the gun taken from the dead officer.

Investigators seek Cause Of $5,000,000 Gas Plant Disaster

NEW ARK, N. J. —(P)—Authorities Monday sifted the twisted, scorched rubble of a sprawling propane gas storage plant for a clue to the cause of a series of rocket-like explosions Saturday.

Six separate federal, state and local agencies sent investigators to the 82-acre tank farm, still too hot to explore thoroughly more than 24 hours after the initial blast.

Meanwhile fire officials estimated damage to the Warren Petroleum Sales Corporation and adjacent plants at $5,000,000 and said it may go even higher.

Of the 11 men injured in the holocaust, only one remained on the danger list. He suffered first, second and third degree burns fleeing from the Warren plant.

One lone tank blazed stubbornly Sunday despite a constant stream of water played into a gaping hole in its side by one of 11 fire companies kept at the scene.

Like Broken Toys Around it, like broken toys, lay most of the blasted 72-foot-long cylindrical tanks facing this way and that as if kicked off their foundations by an angry giant.

All told, 75 of 135 tanks filled with highly-combustible cooking gas blew skyward in a series of awesome explosions that sent tongues of orange flame 2,500 feet in the air and were heard 20 miles away. Each of the tanks held 500,000 cubic feet of propane gas.

Preliminary investigations were made Sunday by the FBI, Coast Guard and Army representatives and members of the State Police, Newark Arsenal and New Jersey Department of Labor.

The discovery of three mortar shells and an artillery shell near the Warren plant touched off a short-lived rumor that they might have caused the disaster—worst in the city's history.

This possibility was ruled out by Col. Lloyd M. Garner, commanding officer of the Army's Maritime Arsenal, after an on-the-spot examination. He said there was no powder in any of them.

The proposed work includes approximately the following: 1. One Sewage Treatment Plant complete with two 30-foot diameter Sphalro Clarifiers, two 35-foot diameter sludge digesters, one sludge pump station, one automatic chlorinator, one sewage pump station, tile, and cast iron piping, and approximately 120,000 cubic yards of excavation for ditches, levees, and ponds. The City has purchased the pumps and motors, chlorinator, Sphalro equipment, sludge digester, floating cover, concrete meter, cast iron pipe and fittings, V.C. pipe and fittings, reinforcing steel, structural steel, and various other equipment and materials to be used on construction of the sewer.

2. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a Performance Bond for 10% of the total bid and to execute a responsible surety company satisfactory to the City. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

THE CITY OF MIDLAND July 9, 1961

WASHINGTON —(P)—State Department officials reportedly are deeply concerned over the possibility that a Korean armistice might be followed by a shift of Communist aggression southward to Indochina.

American government reports, qualified informants said Monday, bear out a Chinese Nationalist estimate that some 200,000 Red Chinese troops already are assembled near the Indochina border. A signal from Peking could send them across the line to reinforce Rebel Leader Ho Chi Minh's 150,000 or more Indochinese guerrillas either as "volunteers" or openly as invaders.

Indochina was under the threat before, but the shadow lifted after the start of the Korean fighting.

Since then, Communist Chinese aid to Ho Chi Minh has been limited to arms, supplies and advisers. That has not been enough to break through the resistance of the French and Vietnamese defenders, reinforced by a continuing flow of American arms.

200,000 Troops Massed The estimated 200,000 Communist troops near the Indochinese frontier came from Nationalist China's Defense Ministry. A Taipei announcement last week said these forces were massed along the borders of the provinces of Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Yunnan with the purpose of helping Moscow-trained Ho "spread aggressive war in South-east Asia."

American officials point out that the Red Chinese troops in the south also are in convenient position for formation for possible attacks on Formosa and Hong Kong, or may be used only to hold in check local anti-Communist elements.

Officials said, however, there are definite chances of Chinese intervention in Indochina and their worry is deepened by the belief that an attempt to conquer Southeast Asia is part of the long range policies of both Moscow and Peking.

Truman Asks Fourth Star For Van Fleet WASHINGTON —(P)—President Truman Monday recommended a fourth star for Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea.

Truman also sent to the Senate the nominations of Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther and Lt. Gen. John E. Hull for promotion to four-star generals and the renomination of Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing to three-star rank.

Gruenther is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff in Europe. Swing has been named to succeed Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer as commander of the Sixth Army in Germany.

Hull, who served as the Sixth Army's chief of staff, was promoted to major general in 1958. He is retiring as Army vice chief of staff.

Recent Events Proving UN Had Plan For Peace In Korea

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There is bound to be as much kibitzing by self-appointed experts on how to win the Korean peace as there has been on how to win the Korean war.

One of the principal criticisms by armchair generals and admirals at home has been that the Pentagon had no plan. Yet the fact that Soviet Russia and Red China at last has been forced to whisper even a faint "Uncle" should indicate that the Joint Chiefs of Staff not only had a plan, but that it worked.

On waging the peace today there is similar criticism that the United States and the United Nations have had no plan—that they have been improvising, playing the diplomatic tune by ear and without policy direction. Yet any careful replaying of the record should prove that there has been an abundance of peace planning.

This record shows that the first UN peace offer was made to the Communists on October 1 and 9 of last year. That was when General MacArthur broadcast a cease-fire offer to the North Koreans. He did this on authorization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, at a time when the UN forces had driven the North Koreans back across the 38th parallel. On October 10, North Korea's Kim Il-sung turned it down.

After Red China came into the war, the United Nations went through repeated efforts to restore peace in Korea. December 12, the first three-man Truce Committee was named to ask Red China for cease-fire talks. Lester B. Pearson of Canada, Sir Benegal N. Rau of India and Naorallah Entezam of Iran were on this committee.

Terms of the first proposal were worked on by Ernest A. Gross, U. S. deputy representative to the United Nations, and Lt. Gen. Willis D. Crittenden, U. S. military adviser to the UN. Their proposal called for a 20-mile buffer zone at the 38th parallel. This offer was presented in confidence. Chou En-lai, Red China's premier, turned it down.

January 3, the UN General Assembly adopted its five-point cease-fire plan. It called for American, British, Russian and Red Chinese negotiations to settle the Korean and Formosan questions, and the admission of Red China to the United Nations. These conditions created a storm of protest in this country.

The terms were opposed by the U. S. delegation at the UN then was able to move ahead to obtain passage of a resolution declaring Red China an aggressor, January 18.

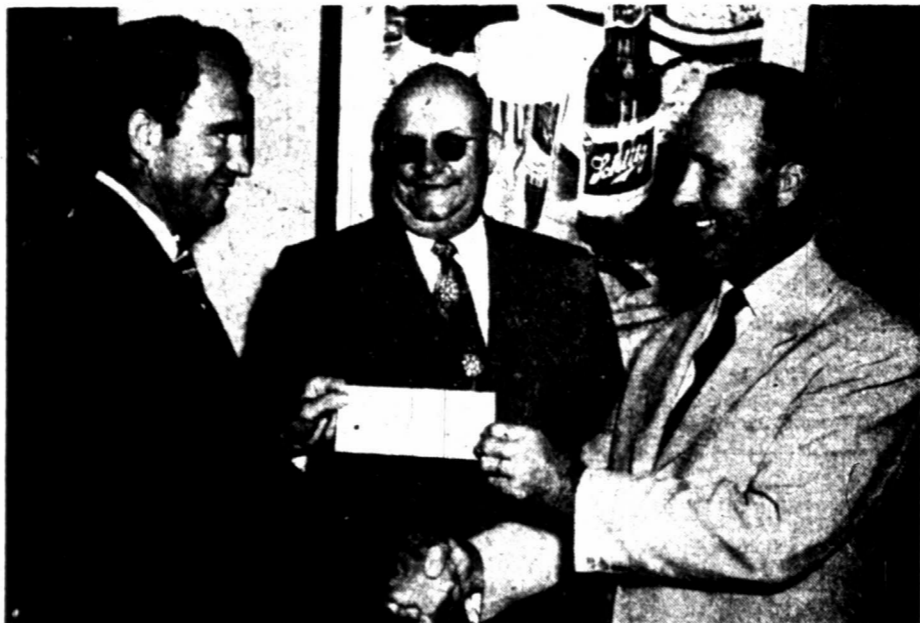

February 1, the UN named another three-man "Good Offices" committee to try to establish contact with Red China and work for a cease-fire agreement. But its efforts also were futile.

Late in February an American plan was put forward to work for division of North and South Korea at the 39th parallel. This would put the boundary on a better defensive line. It roughly would cross the narrow waist of Korea, above Wonsan on the east coast and Pyongyang on the west.

This division would save most of the good agricultural land and the most valuable power and mineral resources to South Korea. And it would create a buffer North Korean state between South Korea and Communist Manchuria and Russia to the north. This plan still may have some merit in future negotiations.

MacArthur's Act
The next offer to meet with the Communist commander and arrange a cease-fire was made by General MacArthur on his own responsibility, March 24. He made this offer after he had been informed by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, that President Truman was preparing a new proclamation, outlining new surrender terms approved by 18 nations with troops at the Korean front.

General MacArthur, without authorization from Washington, accompanied his new offer with a threat that if it was not accepted, the war would be carried to Manchuria and Red China. Red China's government radio ridiculed the offer.

CHECKS BRING SMILES—The presentation by Douglas J. Miller, right, of Schlitz Breweries, of $500 checks to R. M. Minton, Jr., left, Midland distributor, and R. M. (Bob) Minton, Sr., San Angelo wholesaler, brought smiles to all concerned at a recent meeting in San Angelo. The Midland agency was second to San Diego, Calif., in the "big league," and San Angelo was first in the No. 2 market bracket.

FFA Youths To Attend Meeting

Three representatives of the Midland chapter of the Future Farmers of America will go to Houston this week to attend a three-day meeting of the Texas Association of FFA opening Wednesday.

Named to represent the local group are Tommy Collins, Jack Ewing and Donald Lee. They will be accompanied by J. R. Cuffman and J. E. Mears, vocational agriculture teachers at Midland High School.

Most gem diamonds come from South Africa's mines, industrial diamonds from the Belgian Congo.

Stopped cold the presentation of any different terms by President Truman, and to that extent delayed formal peace negotiations.

Whatever new plan now is unfolded naturally will vary from all the others that have failed, to meet the present situation.

'Productivity' Seen As Key To Europe's Rearmament

By BRUCE BISSAT
NEA Staff Writer
(Second of a series)

WASHINGTON—With bold creativeness, high-placed Americans have conceived a positive, challenging plan to meet western Europe's problem of how to rearm without wrecking recovery. The keynote they have struck is the single word, "productivity."

It is an economist's term, sounding perhaps a little deadly. But of U. S. businessmen it has a magic content; it means output per man, and stands as the prime measure of economic efficiency. Applied to Europe's dilemma, it does indeed fire the imagination.

What the Americans are saying is simple but it makes forceful argument: If Europe cannot afford to stifle off much of present production for rearmament, the solution then lies in getting more production. From the increase in output, rearmament may be fed and there even may be enough left over to allow higher civilian consumption.

Business leaders, ECA officials and others do not propose that this increased production should come from adding workers or toiling longer hours. They want it to come from higher output per man. In other words, from greater productivity.

Powerful Appeal
Since this calls for creating new wealth rather than just greatly dividing Europe's existing substance, the idea has powerful appeal. From this side of the Atlantic, productivity no longer is merely a word. It is becoming a crusade.

How large the idea 'bulks in American thinking was apparent at the recent Lisbon meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce. Productivity was the theme of that conference. American businessmen were selling it hard to their European brethren. Their case sounded convincing.

Paul G. Hoffman, former ECA head, told the Europeans, for example, that with one-fifth of the world's land, natural resources and population the United States is able to produce a third of all the world's goods and half its manufactured products. The explanation, he said, is productivity.

U. S. output per man is about two and a half times greater than Europe's. The differences between the two continents in this field do not revolve, however, about simple worker efficiency. Everything concerned with production is a factor—use of power, dependence on machinery, plant lay-out, management techniques.

Chief Handicaps
Hoffman believes power and machinery deficiencies are the chief handicaps. Others put a lot of stress on need for more enlightened management. Western Europe now is producing at a rate of $170 billions a year. Key Americans are sure the $100 billions could be added to that in 10 years, largely through boosts in productivity.

Since 1900, America has hiked its productivity about two per cent a year, and this is regarded everywhere as a remarkable performance. Today's bright dream for Europe calls for gains in excess of six per cent for the next decade.

U. S. leaders nevertheless say it can be done. They point out that America's productivity advance has been much sharper than two per cent at certain times, especially during the two great wars. They observe, too, that Europe can draw upon the great reservoir of productivity "know-how" already built up in this country.

Also removed from price controls Monday were a variety of services, mostly of a professional, fiscal or educational nature.

19 Of 60 Injured In Train Accident Still In Hospitals

UTICA, ILL.—(AP)—The Santa Fe Railway streamliner El Capitán—speeding along at 70 miles an hour—was derailed near Utica Saturday night, injuring 60 of the 375 persons aboard.

Two of the Chicago-to-Los Angeles streamliner's 13 cars left the rails, ripping up 2,000 feet of track. One rail pierced a passenger coach like a giant skewer.

None of the injured was hurt seriously, although 19 remained hospitalized Monday. Most of the passengers and injured who received first aid treatment continued their west-bound journey six hours after the wreck on a substitute Santa Fe train from Joliet, Ill.

Cause of the wreck remained undetermined Monday.
