Andrews Wildcat Flowing To Clean Out And Complete

Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., No. 1-11-33-B University, Wolfcamp discovery in Central-South Andrews County, is flowing to clean out, test and complete.

Five and one-half-inch casing is cemented at 8,090 feet, which is the plugged back total depth, and is perforated from 7,956 to 7,970 feet. It was swabbed six hours and it kicked off and started flowing. It was flowed to pits six hours to clean and then turned to tanks through open two-inch tubing. It flowed between 15 and 20 barrels of new oil per hour.

It was then put on an 18 3/4-inch choke and is now flowing to clean out test and completed.

Potential test will be made from the Wolfcamp as soon as the flow is cleaned.

There is no other production from a similar pay anywhere in the area.

Location is 2,007 feet from north and 2,033 feet from west lines of section 23, block 11, University survey. That puts it between the Embury and Three Bar fields.

The project was drilled into the Ellenburger where it developed water.

Fuhrman Schedules 14,000-Foot Test In Gaines Sector

Twelve miles southeast of Seminole and in Southeast-Central Gaines County, Fuhrman Petroleum Corporation of Midland spotted location for a 14,000-foot wildcat exploration.

It will be drilled as the firm's No. 1 Terrell County School Land, 694.5 feet from north and east lines of labor 25, league 310, Terrell County school land survey.

Operations are to start immediately.

Salt Water Found In Ellenburger At SE Martin Wildcat

Electric log surveys are being run in the Water Associated Oil Company No. 1 E. B. Dickenson, indicated Ellenburger discovery in Central-South Martin County, after salt water developed on a drillstem test in that formation.

The section from 12,098 to 12,140 feet was drillstem tested 28 hours.

Gas surfaced in two hours and 55 minutes. Oil and gas-cut mud was at the top in five hours and 50 minutes. Clean oil flowed at the top in six hours and 14 minutes. It flowed for 30 minutes, during which time 9.36 barrels of oil were recovered.

It then headed for seven hours and 15 minutes, making oil and mud-cut oil. After being dead one hour and 15 minutes it headed again for about 15 minutes.

After 15 stands of drill pipe was pulled operator found salt water. Present plans are to run five-inch casing to bottom after the surveys are made. The casing will be perforated and production tests made.

This project is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block 27, T-1-N, T&P survey and nine miles west of Stanton.

The Ellenburger was topped at 12,090 feet, on a datum point of minus 9,344 feet.

New Reef Section Makes Flowing Oil In SE Gaines Test

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Gertrude Chilton, Pennsylvania discovery in Southeast Gaines County, is flowing oil from eight new feet of pay in the Pennsylvania.

Operator set a bridging plug at 11,348 feet, to shut off perforations, opposite the reef at 11,354-375 feet, where it had flowed at the rate of 940 barrels per day, and then perforated from 11,344-342 feet.

These new perforations were swabbed and flowed for 205 barrels of new oil in 14 hours, natural. It made 80 water.

After further testing, the wildcat will be completed as a discovery from the two sections which flowed the oil.

Location for No. 1 Chilton is 660 feet from north and 2,500 feet from east lines of league 288, Gray County school land survey.

Congress Extends Controls Bill

Toned-Down Version Goes To President

WASHINGTON—(P)—Congressional action was completed Monday on legislation continuing price and rent controls until next June 30.

House passage sent the compromise measure to President Truman, who was expected to sign, although it falls considerably short of what he wanted.

The President has until midnight Tuesday to act. A temporary measure keeping economic controls in effect expires at that time.

Both branches had passed different bills, the final measure being a compromise.

It contains no authority for the President to build defense plants, to impose beef slaughtering quotas or to curb commodity market speculation—powers the President wanted—and limits the Administration's authority to roll back prices. It makes no changes in the present wage stabilization program.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) of the Banking Committee told the House he doubts if the bill will "effectively control prices," but said "it is the best that can be gotten x x x and I think the President will be compelled to sign it."

Representative Wolcott of Michigan, top Republican on the committee, asserted that the bill gives the President "all the authority needed to prevent prices from getting wholly out of hand if they are judiciously administered."

Congress leaders talked over the bill with President Truman. They said afterward Truman did not say what he would do. Legislators who had major parts in working out the bill said they felt certain he would sign it.

Lack of time, if nothing else, makes a veto practically out of the question, they said.

Here are some of the major provisions of the toned-down bill:

Prices: Permits rollbacks on non-

Truce Teams Again Report 'No Progress'

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(P)—Allied and Red negotiators bargained more than three hours in sultry Kaesong Monday, but made no progress toward ending the shooting in Korea.

Instead, they agreed the war would continue while they talk. As they reached this understanding, Allied warplanes smashed at the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang in one of the most determined air assaults of the war.

The negotiators remained deadlocked on the problem of a buffer zone to separate the opposing armies, if and when a cease-fire agreement is reached.

A UN spokesman said: "The final solution is hoped for. That doesn't necessarily mean it is in the immediate offing."

They will tackle the same thorny question when their fifteenth session opens at 11 a.m. Tuesday (7 p.m. Monday, CST).

The United Nations communique said Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, "stated it was also his definite understanding that hostilities would continue during the current armistice sessions."

Nam was replying to an earlier "clarifying" statement by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior UN delegate.

It was the first official hint of any prior misunderstanding on this point.

In Monday's session, an eye-witness said, Joy used a slightly different approach "to penetrate what might be a language barrier. It might have some clarifying effects."

Music, Leon; Pappy's Eye Gleams Again

DALLAS—(P)—W. L. O'Daniel, the one-time flour salesman who became governor and senator, Sunday night told radio listeners he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President of the United States.

O'Daniel spoke on a paid program. He also offered to sell listeners insurance policies in his new life insurance company and to rent them space in two apartment houses he owns here.

"Only God can save this nation," O'Daniel said. "I'm willing to help Him."

He urged his supporters to get up petitions in favor of his nomination.

O'Daniel said if he were elected President his first move would be to send a postcard to the king of England, telling his majesty the United States "is out of the money lending business."

O'Daniel said his second move would be to call in all cabinet officers and order them to slash their payrolls 50 per cent.

Elected governor in 1938, O'Daniel served until he resigned Aug. 4, 1941, to enter the Senate. He was named senator in a special election to fill the vacancy left by the death of Morris Sheppard. He did not seek reelection in 1948 and was succeeded by Lyndon Johnson.

Experts To Take Look At Plans For Sewage Plant

A group of engineers and geologists will meet Tuesday morning to take a final look at plans for Midland's new sewage disposal plant.

Their purpose will be to determine if there is any possibility that its location at the proposed site will endanger the city's water supply at Cole Park.

The meeting was arranged after the question was raised last week at a meeting of the City Council. City Manager W. H. Oswalt said the group, which will meet at 9:30 a.m. at City Hall, will include Joe E. Ward, Wichita Falls, who designed the plant; Bill Hansman, Lubbock, district engineer for the State Department of Health; and several Midland geologists.

NABBED IN DOPE RAID—Salvatore Shillitani, left, covers his face with his hands as he is led up steps of Federal Courthouse in New York to be arraigned on narcotic and counterfeiting charges. He was one of 12 men and one woman arrested by federal agents who broke up a $10,000,000-a-year illegal narcotics and counterfeiting operation reportedly linked with deported vice overlord Lucky Luciano and the Sicilian Mafia. The bag being carried by a federal agent holds more than $100,000 in counterfeit bills.

Connally Is Loser In Salty Scrap On Foreign Aid Status

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senators contending the proposed $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program is primarily a military, rather than a foreign relations matter, won a point Monday.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee bowed to demands from the Armed Services Committee and agreed to let the latter group act jointly with it on the measure.

The decision was taken over the opposition of Chairman Connally of the Foreign Relations group, who reportedly voiced protests in salty language at a closed meeting.

More than a tiff over senatorial prerogatives is involved. A move is under way to deny Secretary of State Acheson the policy direction over how the $8,500,000,000 is distributed.

Some senators contend military officials, rather than Acheson, should have top authority over distribution of arms aid.

Joining in that drive, Senator Byrd (D-Wa.) Monday said he believes military men ought to have the final word on the dispatch of weapons to North Atlantic defense partners.

Byrd said he is considering offering an amendment to set up a special agency to handle the program.

Byrd is a member of the Armed Services Committee.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) described the Foreign Relations Committee's meeting as stormy.

He said Connally finally agreed to consolidated hearings with the Armed Services Committee but declined to do so.

Taft, Awaiting Draft By GOP, Promises Cleanup In Capital

PLYMOUTH, MASS.—(P)—U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) has set a complete housecleaning in Washington as a 1952 election aim and says his hat will go into the presidential ring if the Republican Party says the word.

Taft told newsmen he'll run for the GOP nomination "if the majority of the Republicans want it." But he said he may not make his decision until next January.

Mentioned by political observers as a prime GOP candidate, the Ohio senator may, in the opinion of some of them, be waiting for a "draft Taft" move.

Taft spoke Sunday at a "reconciliation" program of New England Republicans, gathered at the historic landing place of the pilgrims. In his address to a crowd of 8,000, the veteran GOP leader said: (Continued On Page Seven)

Danger Of All-Out War Is Increasing Says Defense Chief

WASHINGTON—(P)—Secretary of Defense Marshall has warned Congress that "the enemy build-up" is increasing the danger of all-out war.

Marshall left no doubt he was referring to Russia as the enemy and to reported Communist buildup of troops and supplies in Korea and elsewhere.

The defense secretary testified before a closed meeting of the House Appropriations Committee, which released part of the testimony Monday but deleted other portions for security reasons. The committee is considering the Administration's $60,000,000,000 military budget proposal for the year which started July 1, 1951.

Appearing before the House committee, Marshall was asked by Representative Mahon (D-Texas) whether the likelihood of all-out war still must be considered.

"I think it is continuing and, from the viewpoint of the enemy's build-up, it is increasing," Marshall replied. His elaboration of this statement was deleted from the public record.

Marshall said he was "deeply concerned" that Russia apparently had trapped the American people into developing an attitude of let-down.

"It is tragic," he said, "that we should be so susceptible to propaganda, that a single speech would create a state of mind that can very seriously react to our disadvantage in the world picture."

"That is the trap, that is the cleverness, and the ready response to it in America is tragic. We should not change our whole procedure every time the Kremlin decides on (Continued On Page Seven)

Slaughter-Quota Bill Introduced In Senate Monday

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senators Capehart (R-Ind) and Maybank (D-SC) introduced legislation Monday to permit the government to fix livestock slaughter quotas.

Under such a program, the government tells each slaughterer how many meat animals he can kill. The Office of Price Stabilization contends such a program is necessary to see that available meat supplies are distributed properly and to guard against "black market" slaughtering.

Both Houses voted against slaughtering quotas in passing new controls legislation.

Capehart told the Senate neither he nor Maybank is convinced slaughter quotas are necessary to prevent a black market in meat.

He said they feel the issue is controversial and public hearings should be held.

Bounty Proposed On Dope Peddlers

WASHINGTON—(P)—A $500 "bounty of prey" program for the capture and conviction of dope peddlers was proposed Monday by Senator Ives (R-NY) and Representative Latham (R-NY).

They had identical bills ready for the House and Senate which would pay the bounty or reward to anyone—except a law enforcement official—who furnishes information leading to the arrest and conviction of a seller of illegal narcotics.

Latham said bounties have worked well throughout American history in ridding communities of wolves, coyotes, snakes and other beasts of prey. He placed dope peddlers in the same category.

Boll Weevil Keane Starts Cotton Picking Marathon

HARLINGEN—(P)—Ed (Boll Weevil) Keane, a flippant disc jockey whose idle boast that he could pick a bale of cotton in a week was called, began his chore early Monday.

Keane trudged into the cotton field at 4:45 a.m., clad in sunbats and an old straw hat—he had cut holes in the hat for ventilation. Keane began picking about 25 minutes later.

"I will either pick that blasted bale or be carried out of the field unconscious from thirst or exhaustion," Keane quoth.

Farmers say he needs to pick some 1,200 to 1,400 pounds of cotton to make up a 450-pound bale in seven days.

Keane has invited folk to watch him. "Everybody's welcome to come out and watch me," he said, "just don't stand between me and the breeze."

Housewives Stand Firm In Tax Tiff

MARSHALL—(P)—Housewives and tax authorities are standing firm in their battle over a refusal to collect Social Security taxes from servants.

Notice of U. S. warrants for seizure of personal property was given a number of housewives Saturday. So far, none of the housewives has acted to pay the first quarter penalty for failure to collect the taxes.

Just how many housewives are involved, Ellis Campbell, Jr., Dallas collector of internal revenue for North Texas, won't say.

Originally, 18 women sent a letter of protest to Secretary of the Treasury Snyder. Taxes on the 18 range from $198 to $14 with an average of $3, and penalties for non-payment of the first quarter average 12 cents apiece.

The housewives, in their letter to Snyder, contended the tax law is unconstitutional in attempting "to force either employer and employer to invest in insurance against their will."

John P. Armistead, Treasury Department employe at Longview, Texas, said the warrants were being held to give the women a last-minute chance to make the penalty payment.

Three Plead Guilty To Charges Of DWI

Three motorists arrested over the weekend by state highway patrolmen pleaded guilty Monday in County Court to charges of driving while intoxicated.

A 32-year-old Big Spring man was fined $150 and sentenced to 10 days in the county jail. County Judge Clifford C. Keith set a 44-year-old Fort Worth man's fine at $125, and a 23-year-old Odessa man was fined $100.

All will have their driver's licenses suspended for six months.

Jittery Joe Berry Gets Gate At Vernon

VERNON—(P)—Jittery Joe Berry was out Monday as manager of the Vernon Dusters of the Longhorn League.

He is being replaced by Homer Matney.

Matney recently was with the West Texas-New Mexico League. He played also with the Fort Worth Cats.

The Dusters dropped from second to fifth place in the last few weeks.

Britain Agrees To Discuss Settlement Of Iran Oil Crisis

LONDON—(P)—Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison Monday said Britain will send a cabinet mission to Tehran to discuss an oil settlement with Iran.

He told Parliament the mission will be led by Richard Stokes, lord privy seal, and added: "It is not expedient for me at this moment to say anything further on this matter."

Morrison explained the decision came from consultations with Averell Harriman, President Truman's envoy now in London.

Morrison said some points must be cleared up before the mission can leave for the Iranian capital.

A United States spokesman said Harriman intends flying back to Tehran Monday night.

Morrison said the British government and the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company (AIOC) "have been ready at every stage to meet the legitimate aspirations of the Persian (Iranian) people."

"We have every sympathy with the natural desire of the Persian people to control their own mineral resources," he said.

While Britain is ready to accept the principle of nationalization, Morrison explained, she will not accept a one-sided violation of an agreement.

Threats To Golfers Just Hoey, Says Police Inspector

ST. PAUL, MINN.—(P)—Police Inspector Frank Mondike Monday called telephone threats reportedly received by two of the nation's top pro golfers "a lot of hoey."

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who played with a police escort Sunday and won the St. Paul Open with a record-breaking 266, said he had been called Saturday night by a man who warned him not to win if he wanted to get out of town alive.

Sam Snead later reported he also had received a mysterious call from a man who said "We have lots of money bet. We'd like to see you win." Snead did not report his call to police.

"In my opinion, those threats were a lot of hoey—just horseplay," said Inspector Mondike.

Virtue Brings Own Reward To Drunk

Virtue—such as it was—brought "its own reward" Monday morning.

Saturday night a drunk man walked into the police station and gave himself up to save the police officers the trouble of bringing him in.

Monday morning he appeared before Judge J. M. DeArmond in Corporation Court and pleaded guilty to the drunkenness charge.

"You're the first honest man I've seen before me this morning," said the judge, who had been hearing excuses all morning and handing out $15 fines.

"Case is dismissed."

Just Three Little Reasons For Leaving A Film Career

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood—Guys and Dolls: "I believe in marriage and I'm doing everything to make it work."

Brave, noble words from Arlene Dahl, who's a tell-me-not-in-mournful-numbers gal about husbands.

The "Three Little Words" beauty gave three little reasons for asking for and getting her release from MGM shortly after her hitching to Lex Barker.

"When actors are under contract to different studios, it's death on marriage. I'd be on location in Florida and Lex would be in Africa or Iceland. It's up to the woman to get out of her obligations so she can be with her husband, wherever he's sent."

"I had asked for my release from MGM for over a year. I was very unhappy when they wouldn't let me play Roxanne in 'Cyrano.' And after 'Three Little Words,' I wanted to do musicals. But it was hopeless. They have Jane Powell, Kathryn Grayson, Esther Williams and other stars who have been there longer. How many musicals can a studio make, anyhow?"

Maybe he won't get to clasp Claudette Colbert in his arms for a couple of years yet, but Johnny Sands, first of the profiles to be placed under contract by Walter Wagner in his Monogram tie-up, is reciting "Today I am a man."

"I don't look like a juvenile anymore," Johnny told me on the set of Jack Broder's "The Basketball Fix." I'm a leading man at least, not a jerk."

It was as Shirley Temple's boy-lion flame in "The Bachelor and the Bobby Soxer" that Johnny excited the lassies in sweaters and saddle-shoes. But his stock tumbled when casting directors gave him the "You're too young" verdict.

"I knew Shirley awfully well," he said. "She doesn't care about a movie career. After all, she's got three million bucks. But Shirley Temple still has greatness in her."

"Errol's telling me to slow down," Patrice Wymore, the first Mrs. Flynn to stab at movie stardom, talking on the set of Warner's "Slackity."

"Errol approves of my career," sweet-faced Pat assured me, "but for a while he accused me of being lazy and told me I should spend more time working on my dancing and acting. Now I'm overwhelming him with work."

There's no career conflict, as far as she's concerned, because she's got an Errol-the-actor-in-the-family attitude.

"Every time people say Flynn, they think of him with swords and horses. He's a better actor than people think."

A still photographer rushed up to Pat and said that the studio needed bathing suit shots. Did she happen to have something brief and suitable?

"I've got a Bikini bathing suit, but you're not going to shoot me in that," Patrice Wymore Flynn screamed.

"They're yelling comedy find" over at RKO about Sheldon Leonard's antics in "Behave Yourself" and Sheldon's mouth is still hanging open.

A funny man until he hit Hollywood, he's been trying to convince producers that he's a better bet as rib-tickler than a menace.

"MGM put me in one of the 'Thin Man' pictures as a psychopathic killer," he related it. "They thought they were doing me a favor and billed me in the trailer as a startling new sinister personality."

They did too good a selling job. Hollywood never let me go back to comedy."

Sheldon's a heavy again in "Come Fill the Cup" but he sees gags and clowning ahead, and thinks his "tout" character on the Jack Benny radio show helped. "Benny," said Sheldon, "is the king as far as recognition of comedy talent goes. Hollywood could learn from him."

"I don't want to play Latins all my life," wailed peppy, gorgeous, super-built Charlita. "Darn it, I was born in Lowell, Mass."

Charlita's olive-skinned, hot-eyed and exotically-profiled all the way down but there's more baked bean than tamale under her noggin.

"It's this name I picked when I began to lead a band," lamented Charlita. "I always meant to change it for Hollywood, but I never got around to it."

Little more than a bit in "The Brave Bulls" started her movie career perking and now she's topped roles in "Ten Tall Men" and "Callaway Went Thataway" with a plum part in Warner's "Come Fill the Cup."

"I was in 'Let's Go Navy' with Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall, too," laughed Charlita. "They kept looking at me cross-eyed while I did a hula number. I was in stitches."

UN Commission Starts Search For Missing Prisoners

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —(AP)—A new United Nations commission Monday began the search for more than half a million prisoners of World War II who never have come home to their families.

Most of them are Italians, Germans and Japanese locked away in Russia, whose government has spurned all pleas for information or action.

Serving on the three-member commission is Countess Folke Bernadotte, widow of the UN mediator who was slain by assassins while trying to bring peace in Palestine. She is the former Estelle R. Manville of New York.

The others are Jose Gustavo Guerrero of El Salvador and Aung Khine of Burma.

Their first task is to study replies from governments answering UN queries on how many prisoners they hold. They are also authorized to try to speed up repatriation and to visit countries to study the problem first hand if the country concerned invites them.

Russia snubs them. Since Russia is the country where most prisoners are held, and since the Kremlin has refused to have anything to do with the search, there appears little chance the commission can accomplish very much directly.

Observers hope, however, that the effect of their work on public opinion may bring some results.

The resolution setting up the commission was sponsored in the General Assembly last Fall by Australia, Britain and the United States and passed over vigorous objections from the Soviet bloc, who denounced it a propaganda move.

Girl Survives 100-Foot Tumble Down Mountainside

Marcia Doolittle of Schenectady, N. Y., was reported in good condition at Bangor Hospital after her rescue Sunday from the mile-high peak of Mt. Katahdin.

Landing on the ledge saved her from falling 200 feet into a basin studded with boulders.

Her hiking companion, David Chipman, 23, of Boston, raced five miles to the base of the mountain for help.

A nurse, game warden, forest rangers and lumberjacks removed the injured girl on an improvised stretcher.

Oklahoma City Police Nab Bandit

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)—A 31-year-old Mexican left for Kansas City Sunday night to answer questions in the $22,000 armed robbery of his former landlady, who sheltered him during recent floods.

Joseph Aguilar, frightened and nervous, waived extradition and denied robbing and stabbing Mrs. Perez Saturday. She wasn't hurt seriously.

"Two bad men with a pistol" did it, he told officers through an interpreter. They forced him and his family to drive them to Oklahoma, he added. No charges have been filed.

In the car when state troopers arrested him at Chandler, Okla., Saturday night was more than $21,000. Mrs. Perez said it was her life savings.

Final House Ballot On Tideland Nears

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The House neared a final vote Monday on legislation to give the states clear title to submerged offshore lands rich in oil. Backers were confident of victory.

The legislators put off further action until 11 a. m. Monday. With almost an hour left of time allotted for general debate, and considerable discussion in prospect on amendments, it looked like a tight schedule would be necessary to get a final vote by dark.

Rep. Ed Gossett, (D-Texas), leading House advocate of the state-control bill, predicted at least a two-to-one approval. Gossett is pressing to get the bill through the House before he closes his congressional career Tuesday to become chief attorney for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Dallas.

But six later voted to cancel the approval. The resolutions, or memorials, are addressed to Congress. The goal of the movement is approval of such resolutions by at least 32 legislatures. It's a long, involved process.

Article Five of the Constitution says Congress, "on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states (32), shall call a convention for proposing amendments." Such amendments become part of the Constitution when ratified thereafter by legislatures in three-fourths (38) of the state.

Wyoming Leads Parade The Wyoming Legislature was the first to approve the tax amendment proposal, in 1939.

A survey by The Associated Press shows resolutions have been approved by legislatures in these states:

Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Texas, Utah, Wisconsin, New Mexico and Wyoming.

But the legislatures of Alabama, Illinois, Kentucky, Rhode Island, Texas and Wisconsin later voted—some as much as nine years later—to rescind the resolutions.

State Lawmakers Attempt To Limit Federal Spending

By The Associated Press A move to amend the Constitution to limit the amount of tax money the federal government can collect and keep is under way in the states.

Legislatures in 26 states have passed resolutions in favor of such an amendment in the last 11 years.

Texas Airman Held In Auto Theft Ring

FAIRFIELD, CALIF. —(AP)—Police held Pvt. Leonard Arrington, 23, of Paris, Texas, and nine other privates Monday in connection with the theft of about 100 automobiles.

Police said six airmen stationed at Travis Air Force Base have admitted stealing the automobiles. All 10 suspects were placed in Solano County jail under $5,000 bond each.

Three of the men, including Brines, are held on federal charges of taking a stolen automobile across state lines.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL Mary Beth Arrington was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital during the weekend as a medical patient.

Ellenburger In Lynn Makes Only Water

Humble Oil & Refining Company is running electric logs preparing to plug back to about 11,425 feet and test the section from 11,330 feet to 11,425 feet on its No. 1 Launa Thomas and others, Southwest Lynn County wildcat.

Operator took a drillstem test from 11,324 to 11,529 feet in the Ellenburger. Tool was open one hour. A 1,200-foot water blanket was used. Recovered Only Water

Recovery was the water blanket and 7,200 feet of black, salty, sulphur water with no shows of oil or gas.

Tentative, unofficial top of the Ellenburger is at 11,330 feet. The upcoming drillstem test is calculated to test the upper section of the Ellenburger.

The wildcat is 690 feet from south and west lines of section 35, block H, EL&RR survey and 10 miles northwest of O'Donnell.

Producer, Sites Given Tex-Harvey

York & Harper, Inc., No. 3 P. J. Jones has been completed as a producer in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-West Glasscock County.

Operator reported a daily flowing potential of 104.88 barrels of 38.8-gravity oil and no water through a 24/64-inch tubing choke.

It was completed from open hole section at 6,940-7,175 feet after that section was shot with 648 quarts of nitro glycerin.

Gas-oil ratio was 923-1 and tubing pressure ranged from 1,000 pounds down to 75 pounds.

Location is 1,980 feet from east and 680 feet from south lines of the lease in section 31, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

NE Yoakum Wildcat Reports Swab Gauge

After perforations from 5,976 to 6,007 feet, opposite the Gloriaetta, were washed with 2,500 gallons of acid, York and Harper, Inc., No. 1 Wright, Northeast Yoakum County discovery made 74 barrels of new oil in three and one-half hours.

During the last 45 minutes of that period it was swabbed for 27 barrels of new oil and no water.

Operator set a bridging plug to shut off the lower perforations and perforated from 5,940 to 5,962 feet in the casing opposite the upper Gloriaetta pay.

The new set will be given a 1,000-gallon acid treatment before they are swabbed to test.

The well flowed for a few minutes after each pull of the swab on the test in the 5,976-6,007 foot interval.

Operator expects to develop sufficient gas in the upper section to make the well flow steadily from both sections.

No. 1 Wright is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 13, block D, John H. Gibson survey and 16 miles northeast of Plains.

Casual Summer Clothes

Even in summer, when the living is easy, this young woman avoids declaring an off-season on beauty. Elaborate make-up and hair-care routines are shelved until fall, but quick and easy essentials are retained. Casual, outdoor girl gives her lashes a last-minute upstroke before joining her date for tennis (left). Good-looks aids are her colorful sunback dress and her carefree but attractive hair-do, which requires only a quick wash with a brush to arrange (right). Although terrace suppers replace indoor dinners, she is careful to look her best despite informality of occasion (center).

Arab Politics Baffling

Americans must find the intricacies of Arab politics generally baffling. Their understanding is not likely to be increased by Arab King Abdullah's death at the hands of an Arab assassin.

Yet the Arab world, like every other part of the globe, cannot be ignored in these grim days of the power struggle between East and West. The Middle East's oil resources alone justify our intense concern.

To appreciate what lies behind the murder of the king of Jordan, we have to recognize that the Arab peoples today are in somewhat the same social and nationalistic ferment which has gripped the Asiatics since World War II ended.

This means there is strong resentment against all vestiges of colonialism, and against absentee ownership, foreign concessions and other marks of outside economic or political influence.

Britain is, of course, the dominant foreign power in the Middle East, and consequently is the chief target for the outbursts of aroused Arab feeling. Insofar as the United States shows sympathy for Britain's viewpoint, we, too, are shouted at.

America is disliked also for its evident leaning toward the Israeli cause in the Palestine war. The establishment of the Jewish state amid Arab lands was viewed by Arabs as an unforgivable intrusion upon the solidarity of the Moslem world.

Britain did not side with the Jews in that dispute, but since then has been distinctly friendly toward Israeli's national ambitions.

The currents of anti-British, anti-Jewish and, to some extent, anti-American feeling have built into a powerful hatred that is now being magnified by Arab extremists egged on by Communists. It is this fanatical element which accounted for King Abdullah's assassination.

Abdullah was a good friend of the United States and Britain. There were signs that he did not share the general Arab antipathy toward the Palestine Jews. On both these scores he was vulnerable. It was almost inevitable, in the present state of mind of the Arab fanatics, that he should have been marked for death.

Like that other friend of the West, the assassinated Premier Razmara of Iran, Abdullah was a man of character and strength. His removal from the scene is clearly a real loss to the Western nations.

The Communists will be the ultimate gainers, if only because they benefit whenever unrest and disorder take command and strong men fall.

The Arabs certainly are capable of reading the dismal record of life in Communist-controlled countries. Yet, ironically, their extreme nationalists apparently are willing to risk national suicide to get rid of British and other Western influences. They seem to regard Moscow as the lesser evil.

It's hard to tell whether this measures the depth of their emotionalism or their ignorance. But it's a sad fact both for the Arabs themselves and for the Western countries which ought to be their firm friends.

'What's All This 'Controls' Hullabaloo About?'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Franco evasive on important questions; Senators match wits with Greek queen; Republicans protest Acheson salary cut-off.

WASHINGTON — Dictator Franco of Spain dropped two important hints when nine U. S. senators interviewed him in Madrid, which the Truman administration apparently didn't realize when they embraced Franco so ardently recently.

First, Franco refused to make any commitment on using Spanish troops to defend Western Europe. Second, he made no commitment to restore civil liberties, including freedom of religious worship.

The senators' trip, including the interview with Franco, was highlighted by the irrepressible diplomacy of Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the foreign relations committee, who boomed out to the Spanish dictator: "Franco, we're with you 100 per cent."

Wiley also reached around the back of King Paul of Greece to shake hands with Mrs. Jack Perinif in such a way that he bumped the king on the back. The reason he did so, explained the genial Wisconsin senator, was because he wanted to slap the king on the back.

Wiley slapped so many European backs that Senators Guy Gillette of Iowa and Brian McMahon of Connecticut closed in on each side when they were ushered in to see the Pope.

"We grabbed his hands to keep him from slapping the Pope on the back," McMahon explained afterward.

Would Franco help? Franco's revealing statements came in answer to questions by Gillette and Sparkman of Alabama, after Franco boasted that he could mobilize 2,000,000 men in case of war with Russia.

"How many of those two million would you commit to the defense of Western Europe?" Senator Gillette asked.

Franco talked back and forth to his interpreter before answering. Obviously it was a ticklish question and in the end the dictator quipped: "It would depend on the conjec-

So They Say

Religions and democracy are weapons through the agency of which the welfare of mankind may be advanced, and we know that each flourishes most completely in the same atmosphere which nourishes the other.

Here (in Washington, D. C.) I've seen many a man get up... concerned with politics and blast the Administration. They are eager to attack and hit heads together, no matter what the cost may be.

The President should be very well paid... but I think he should be subject to the same trials and tribulations as everyone else when there is a tax increase. Similarly, Congress should not be a different group tax-wise.

Contrary to popular misconception (people who read salacious literature) are less likely to become sexual offenders than those who do not.

What's Right? A married woman is signing her name to a business letter. WRONG: She signs it "Mrs. James Smith."

RIGHT: She signs it Mary Smith and writes "Mrs. James Smith" in parenthesis beneath her signature.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

This national tournament now being held in Washington reminds me of an unusual hand that came along in last year's national championships. As this hand went from one table to another very few pairs managed to reach the laydown grand slam.

One successful pair was John R. Crawford of Philadelphia and Mrs. Margaret Wagar of Atlanta. Crawford's jump to four hearts with the Bridge score table showing North and South hands with suits and tricks.

North hand indicated a hand that was strong enough to play for game even if South had the worst kind of holding for her response of one heart.

Since Mrs. Wagar actually held a fine hand herself, she naturally tried for a slam. Her bid in five clubs showed ace or void in that suit.

When West doubled, Crawford could redouble to show control of the second round of clubs. (It was, of course, obvious that they were not going to play the hand at clubs.)

Mrs. Wagar's next bid, five spades, was equivalent to bidding six hearts. Her reason for bidding five spades on the way to six hearts was to suggest the possibility of a grand slam.

Crawford would have signed off at six hearts if he had already bid his full values. As it happened, however, he was perfectly willing to encourage a grand slam, so he indicated that he had a really good diamond suit.

This was all Mrs. Wagar needed to hear. Her diamond holding was enough to fill out a strong suit but would be a liability if North had a weak suit. On hearing about the diamonds she promptly bid the grand slam.

There was very little to the play. Mrs. Wagar ruffed the opening club lead and needed only to draw the trumps without loss. The only danger was that one opponent might have all three trumps.

Since West had shown long clubs it seemed less likely that he would have all of the missing hearts. Mrs. Wagar therefore began the trumps by leading the jack from her hand. When West showed out, dummy's ace was played and the proven finesse could then be taken through East.

Frustration Keeps Many Experts Out Of Washington

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Mobilization Director C. E. Wilson once asked a business associate he had known for many years to come to Washington and help him out on the three-year national defense production job. The reply he got was something like this:

"If you're fool enough to give up your job, to give up your home, to give up your time—and go to Washington to live in an apartment, to work six days and six nights a week, and to be smeared all over the place—if you're fool enough to do those things, go ahead. I'm not going to."

There you have it in a nutshell one of the biggest problems in Washington. It is to recruit competent experts with wide experience in some highly technical field like steel production or distribution, for temporary jobs with the government. Plenty of second stringers can be hired. What's tough is getting the good ones.

Edwin T. Gibson, retiring as acting head of Defense Production Administration, says there are three principal reasons why most businessmen dodge the draft for defense jobs. Gibson himself is executive vice president of General Foods in private life. Despite the fact that he was 57 years old and had two heart attacks, he came to Washington last February to help set up DPA, and get it going.

It is now a going concern. Gibson doesn't feel that in the present state of his health, he is the right man "to have to make tough decisions right up to six o'clock every evening," as he puts it. So he is stepping aside for younger, tougher Manly Fleischmann. But Gibson himself will stay on as an adviser and as chairman of the International Materials Conference.

They Have The Chief Objections His three reasons why businessmen won't take Washington jobs are: (1) They are needed by their companies, who won't release them. (2) They don't realize there's an emergency. (3) They are frustrated by Washington.

This last point, which is the most intangible, is also probably the most important. Businessmen aren't trained in politics. They can't understand why, if something has to be done—it has to be cleared with Congress, the White House, State, Defense, Commerce, Agriculture, Interior, Labor and the attorney general.

Then when a temporary government official does back some course of action he considers necessary for the good of his country, he gets beat over the head unmercifully.

The chastisement which C. E. Wilson and Stabilization Director Eric Johnston have recently taken from the National Association of Manufacturers is on a par with what President Truman wrote to the music critic.

Johnston reports that some business men are as much as an opening bid of one no-trump, and your partner should respond in the same way.

Summer Students To Get Draft Tests

WASHINGTON — Students who started college this summer, too late to get in on Selective Service's aptitude tests, almost certainly will have a chance to take such tests early next year.

This assurance was given Sunday by Brig. Gen. Louis H. Rentrow, acting director of Selective Service, to Raymond S. Howes, staff associate of the American Council of Education. The two men discussed the draft tests in a radio broadcast.

THE GILA MURDER

BY JULIUS LONG

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: The question facing Pat Baker, county prosecutor, is: Who got a Gila Monster in Laura Colton's car? Laura Colton died of a heart attack and it's called a murder. Johnnie McAdams, the Colton lawyer, has just told Baker that under Laura's will, her husband and Pat, son and daughter of the dead woman, will profit. While some, her widower, receives only a small trust fund.

Monsters. Also he has a fair for analysis. Do you know what his theory of your wife's murder is? Profit. He's even pointed out that this motive makes himself and his sister suspects. But not you.

Sam Colton winced. "Lawrence means well, but he does have odd ideas. As for my lacking a profit motive, I've always known that Lawrence and Pat would share their own inheritances with me to any extent I desired. So, I'm a logical suspect from the front angle as well as from the back-pecked husband angle."

Baker nodded and ushered McAdams into his private office. "In the first place," said McAdams, "the estate will inventory at four and a half million if the stock market doesn't break. Even if it does break, there'll be more than four million. As Lawrence must have told you, I'm executor. "No, he didn't tell me."

"Well, I am. I simply set up a trust fund for Sam, pay off a few charitable bequests and pass the balance of the estate on to Pat and Lawrence, share and share alike."

"For which services you will be paid a fee of approximately $100,000," said Baker.

McAdams reddened. "I'm allowed two per cent as executor and two per cent as attorney fee, as you know. I'm entitled, that's all."

"I'm not questioning your rights. Tell me about the will."

McAdams shrugged. "That's all there is to it. I just wanted you to get it straight."

"Then I thank you for your trouble." Annoyed, McAdams left. Baker spent 10 minutes trying to guess the real reason for the lawyer's visit and then went out to lunch.

Allied Planes Rain Explosives On Reds

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(AP)—U. S. planes blasted the North Korean capital of Pyongyang through rain Monday in one of the most determined air assaults of the Korean war.

The Fifth Air Force said the attack was pushed home with vigor. Two Marine Corsairs collided in the rain clouds and were lost.

Fires and explosions in the Pyongyang area sent up smoke columns that merged with rain clouds and prevented accurate assessment of damage.

B-29 Superforts blasted three Red supply centers in North Korea—Chinnampo and Kiyompo in the west and Hamhung on the east coast.

Weather forced some planes to turn back with their bombs, rockets and jelled gasoline, preventing what might have been one of the biggest fighter-bomber raids of the war.

North Koreans fled Monday from major hills northeast of Yangju. Allied troops battled to the crest of the hill mass at the climax of five and one-half days of bitter fighting.

Adjoining hills, linked into defenses of the main mountain mass, and dominating the eastern front for miles, fell Sunday.

Along the rest of the Korean war-front, allied patrols reported only light enemy contact.

Solons Start Drive To Thin 'Chair Corps'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate watchdog defense group has begun efforts to get fighting-fit men out of the "chair corps" and into the combat forces.

Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) announced Saturday that his Senate Preparedness subcommittee is sending investigators to 20 advanced training centers to check up on use of personnel.

The "chair corps" term is used to describe military personnel assigned to duty as instructors, clerks, automobile drivers, telephone operators or similar jobs.

Theodore Roosevelt, in spite of his many other activities, also was one of the most prolific writers in American letters. His bibliography runs to 5,000 items.

Scotsman Becomes Fourth To Register Channel 'Double'

DOVER, England (AP)—54-year-old Scotsman Monday is the fourth man in history to swim the English Channel in both directions.

Ned Barnie, an Edinburgh science teacher, made it the hard way by swimming from England to France. Tides and prevailing winds make this more difficult than the France-to-England swim which Barnie accomplished last year. The distance is approximately 21 miles and Sunday took Barnie 19 hours and 45 minutes.

Barnie was the third swimmer to make the channel crossing during the weekend.

Phil Mickman, 20, also tried for the "double" over the weekend but gave up eight miles off the French coast because of heavy seas. He made the France-to-England crossing two years ago.

An Englishman and an Egyptian both made the swim from France to England Saturday. They were Phillip Rising, 41, and Abdel Lutfi Abou Heif, 22, an Egyptian student.

Six other men and two women failed.

Modified Pension Plan Sought For Non-Combat GI's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Defense Department plans for a modified pension system for limited service military personnel were disclosed Monday by the House Appropriations Committee.

Because of a lowering of mental and physical standards in the 1951 draft extension law, the armed services now have many men who do not meet combat requirements.

But, as military personnel, they are entitled to the same pension benefits allowed for combat veterans.

Anna M. Rosenberg, assistant secretary of Defense for manpower and personnel, told the committee during closed hearings on the 1952 military budget that a separate pension system may be developed for the limited-service men.

Survivors Of Lost Motorship Rescued

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—All six survivors from the motor vessel Bad Penny were rescued Sunday by the tanker Esso Manhattan, the Coast Guard reported.

The Bad Penny, of Colombian registry, sank off the coast of Honduras Friday. The vessel left Miami July 7 for Santa Marta, Colombia, with a cargo of copper sulphate.

The Esso Manhattan was arriving in Colon, Panama, Tuesday.

Collins Arrive In Colorado And Find It Hot There, Too

By BILL COLLINS
The Reporter-Telegram Staff
COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. (Wednesday)—Its funny how much stuff can gather on a vacation trip.

Well, it is. And besides, one has to have something to write about when the rain lets one down all of a sudden after having been in moisture for a couple of days.

And besides that, we arrived in Colorado Springs in the midst of a heat wave, with the city clamping restrictions on lawn sprinkling. The lead on the water story in the Colorado Springs Free Press says, "For the first time in almost 12 years, the City of Sunshine is closing the spigots on its water supply."

Maybe tomorrow we always heard it was cool day and night in Colorado Springs. Maybe it will be tomorrow. The high today was 85 degrees, with the low tonight predicted at 55-60 degrees. It was cooler than that when we left Taos, N. M., this morning, but it warmed up enroute for the hottest drive we have had on this 1951 vacation tour. Got our first sunburn today, which goes with overcrowded front seats, high-priced gasoline, wondering if there will be a vacancy at a good tourist court, hamburgers, etc., on a vacation trip "out west."

But back to the front seat. In addition to the wife and the driver par excellence, there are newspapers (several days old), sun glasses, cases for sun glasses, maps, my Panama hat, the wife finally talked me into getting one of those long-billed ventilated, plaid caps which you sometimes see tourists wearing around the Midland hotels; copious quantities of propaganda put out for the benefit of tourists, a Peruvian Basin Empire map or two, some of Delbert Downing's literature, a growing-Midland folder, a make-up kit, a box of Kleenex, post cards, etc. etc. And the accumulation seems to increase every day. But it is fun despite all that.

Country Is Green
The plains country between Cimarron and Raton, N. M., is mighty green and the few cattle we saw appeared to be in fine condition, but mostly is brown and dry. The country in Walsenburg, Colo., is mostly in Walsenburg told us it has been dry for months. It was only last year and the year before that numerous Midland and West Texas ranchers were sending cattle to the green Colorado country for grass. Now, the cattle man tells us, cattle are being shipped out of Walsenburg because of the grass shortage.

Walsenburg, by the way, is located in Huerfano County. We must remember to ask Frank Williamson how that is pronounced on the tour. Wonder what it is like up on Pikes Peak? The answer to that comes tomorrow. And to make the tour it will be necessary for the first time to use Wick Fowler's fancy traveler's alarm clock. Hohum.

The drive from Santa Fe to Taos, by the way, is one of the most scenic and most beautiful we ever have encountered. One drives for miles with the Rio Grande, a clear mountain stream in those parts, on one side and high mountains on the other. I remarked we have neither running streams or mountains in Midland, and the wife added "we don't have cloudy weather in Midland, either." Mighty pretty anyway, as was this morning's drive from Taos to Eagle's Nest Lake and on to Raton. And it had rained over a even rained here yesterday, we are told.

Have to go clean out that front seat now. Then for an evening in Colorado Springs.

It is 1934, and the depression in finances is at its deepest but the depression in bathing suits is yet to come. The demure young lady at left wears a bathing suit that shows no sign of the drastic changes a few years ahead. The next one, worn by Henrietta Leaver, Miss America of 1935, is the bathing suit that has stood the test of time. In virtually the same styling, it is still worn today by the more modest female bathers. It was about this time, the early 1930s, that the bathing beauty became a bathing beauty. Pictures of pretty girls in revealing (they ain't seen nothing yet) costumes began to appear. As the shoulder straps narrowed and the back lowered, people became aware that a bathing-suited-blonde or brunette made a very handsome picture. At right, in 1935, is the late Carole Lombard, wearing another suit that has become almost a classic.

Three Race Drivers Killed In Weekend Speedway Accidents

WINCHESTER, IND.—(AP)—Two speedway drivers were killed within a 15-minute period Sunday and both rode to death from virtually the same spot on a steep banked curve.

At two other speedway tracks—in Illinois and Pennsylvania—accidents killed three persons—a driver and two spectators.

Two well-known drivers—Ceil Green, 31, of Houston, Texas, and Bill Mackey of Indianapolis—were killed when their roaring, ground-eating racers went out of control at the Punk Speedway, near Winchester, Ind.

First to die was Green, whose Offenhauser Special spun as he hit the steep southwest banked curve. The car crashed through a two-foot guard rail, turning as it plunged down a 25-foot embankment.

Within 15 minutes, Mackey zoomed down the same curve. His car went into a sudden spin, smashed the guard rail and went down the embankment. Later, a track official said Mackey's racer left skid marks less than six inches from those made by Green's ill-fated car.

Oil Slick Blamed
A spokesman for the American Automobile Association said there was an oil slick on the steep curve and that both drivers apparently were going too fast along the asphalt track to negotiate it. Green and Mackey were making time trials on the half-mile track.

Another top driver, Walt Brown, 41, of Massapequa, N. Y., was killed Sunday at Williams Grove, Pa. half-mile speedway when his car went out of control during a time trial. Clipping along at breakneck speed, Brown's car rose on a curve, spun and turned over, crushing him.

A spinning wheel spelled death for two spectators at a stock car race at Mt. Hawley Speedway near Peoria, Saturday night. The wheel wrenched free from a car, bounced off a wall and was hit by another car, sending it like a shot into the stands. It plowed into Mr. and Mrs. Maxie Myers, both 54, of Peoria Heights, mortally wounding them and hurting two other spectators. The driver of the car was not hurt.

Green, Mackey and Brown were among top-rank drivers in the country. Green ranked sixth, Mackey thirteenth and Brown twenty-seventh in AAA season point standings. Green was third and Mackey finished fourth in a 250-mile at Darlington, S. C., July 4, the AAA's second-ranking race.

Police Seek Pilot For Distributing Race Hate Handbills

DETROIT—(AP)—A small private plane, disregarding zooming fighters that sought to trace it, strewed race hate handbills over an area near Detroit's Tank Arsenal Sunday.

The plane, and its pilot, were sought Monday by township and state police. The Federal Bureau of Investigation also was investigating the case.

But just what action could be taken against the pilot or distributor, aside from distributing handbills from the air without a permit, was not yet clear.

The ship made two flights over the arsenal area, on the northeast section of Detroit. Each time, it dropped approximately 1,000 of the handbills.

The leaflets, mimeographed on typewriter-sized paper of a poor grade, appeared anti-Semitic in tone.

DETROITERS WIN MODEL AIRPLANE CHAMPIONSHIPS
DALLAS—(AP)—Paul Simon, 18, Detroit, won the national model airplane championship Sunday and placed second in the senior division.

Gene Jackson, 15, Oklahoma City, won the junior title, and Bob Ninenstein, Detroit, the open class.

Wise Mother Nature Gives Women Respite In Later Years

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A constant stream of letters comes in from women who are concerned about the change of life. They contain a great variety of questions all of which are impossible to answer in a single column. One from A. M. D., however, raises several subjects which can serve as a basis for discussion.

Mrs. D. says: "Would numbness in the fingers and arms be caused solely by a nerve condition due to the menopause? It occurs at night and is sometimes my thumb and index finger and at other times the little finger and outside of my arm."

"What do all the Indian and poor Chinese women do for medication during the menopause? I always thought this was a natural physiological change and would require no medication except for the neurotic."

True, the menopause is a natural physiological process. Nature in her wisdom has decided that women should not go on being mothers all through life. Few would quarrel with Nature on this score.

The "change" or menopause, therefore, is a stage of life in which a woman passes from the ability to reproduce and gradually becomes unable to have children. This stage usually lasts several years and is accompanied by slow changes in physiology, some of which are obvious and some of which are not.

During the period of change there is a gradual decrease in the secretion of certain hormones.

Sometimes, but by no means always, this produces some peculiar sensations such as sudden feelings of heat or cold commonly described as hot flashes.

Other peculiar manifestations may develop and these often are exaggerated by giving them too much attention. However, there is no law which prevents other ailments from developing at this time and such nerve symptoms as those described by Mrs. D. might well have an entirely different origin.

We're Lucky
Primitive people such as those mentioned in the letter don't have the opportunity of getting pills or injections so they go through the change without them. Perhaps they have symptoms just as often and just as severely but perhaps, too, they have less time to think and worry about them.

Undoubtedly appropriate hormone treatment brings relief to some for a while, but this stage would be passed through just the same whether they had such help or not.

"The Gentlemen's Magazine" was the first periodical to be called a magazine.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Trapper Huffen

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, woke up early one morning there in his bed in his hollow tree house. "Aha, and now I will see, I will, if I caught something in my trap last night."

The Huffen jumped out of his bed, and ran out through the door. He was wearing pajamas that were striped up and down, but he didn't take time to put on his clothes. No indeed, because right there in his back yard was the trap he had made. The trap was really a big box, and now the box had fallen flat on the ground to catch something inside.

"I have caught something, I have, I have," said the Huffen to himself. Yesir, a something had crawled inside the box last night to eat the carrot the Huffen had put inside. The box had been made to fall and catch something that came to eat the carrot and the something was surely inside right now. "I wonder, I wonder what it is," said the Huffen.

But how was the Huffen now to find out what it was he had caught inside his trap? If he lifted up the trap to see, the something would surely run away. "Well," said the

By WESLEY DAVIS

Huffen, maybe if I lift up the trap just a little bit—Yesir, I'll lift it up just enough to peep inside and see what I have inside." And the Huffen lifted.

Bam! The something inside had slammed the trap down again real hard before the Huffen could peep beneath.

"Ah-ooo!" the Huffen danced around on the foot that wasn't hurt, holding the other foot in his hand. Then the Huffen bent down to try to peep through a crack in the box to see what it was he had caught inside. Ah-ooo! howled the Huffen, because a finger had poked out to punch him in the nose. The finger had a white glove on, but before the Huffen could grab it—"Zooop!"—the finger had scooped on back inside the box.

What on what had Trapper Huffen now caught in his trap? What could he do about it now that he had caught it? For the answer to these and other interesting questions, be sure to look for tomorrow's adventure. Happy day! (Copyright 1951, General Features Corp.)

McKenzie Wins As Indians Defeat Oilers With Big Rally

Pitcher Dave McKenzie and Manager Zeke Bonura combined efforts here Sunday afternoon, and their efforts went a long way in Midland's 8-7 win over the Odessa Oilers.

McKenzie turned in a beautiful relief job to take his sixth win of the year. Bonura smacked his fifth home run of the season, also got a double and a single, drove in two runs and slid home safely with the winning run in the fifth inning.

Midland won the hard way. The Indians spotted the Oilers a 7-1 lead before getting six big runs in the fourth frame to tie it up. Then came the winning rally.

Ernie Nelson was driven from the mound by the vicious Oiler attack, which pounded the lefthander for six hits and five runs in less than three innings. McKenzie came on, gave up a couple of runs then settled down to hurl air-tight ball. Oilers Get Two.

Odessa scored two runs in the second, three in the third and two in the fourth while Midland was getting a lone third-frame tally. Felix Castro, Oiler catcher, homered in the second inning with one man on.

Midland's run came about when McKenzie walked, went out at second as Hughes reached base by fielder's choice, Escobar singled and Hughes scored on de la Torre's infield out.

But in the fourth, the Tribe exploded. Gordon Tanner led off with a single. Bonura then pumped his home run over the left field wall, to cut the score to 7-3.

J. B. (Gipper) Gibbs reached base by error, then Bill Crumley, McKenzie and Hughes got successive walks to force in a run. A double by Escobar drove in two more runs, and Hughes again scored on an infield out for the sixth run.

In the fifth, the winning rally came across. Bonura walked, taking second on a sacrifice by Gibbs. Crumley singled to send Zeke to third. Then, McKenzie laid down a bunt to an Oiler infielder who threw home. Catcher Castro took the ball, Bonura slid in and the play was close—but Umpire Weider flashed the safe sign.

That was the ball game, although the Oilers were ever-dangerous the remaining time. McKenzie allowed only two more Oilers to reach first base. He walked a man in the sixth, who was erased by a double play. Manager Bob Martin singled in the ninth inning, but was picked off by McKenzie and Gabby Blumenthal—who was playing first base—on the seventh pickoff attempt. Dick Campbell had been tossed for protesting a call on the third attempt.

Yanks Up There, As They Sweep Three From Chisox

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees expect easier sailing in the tight American League pennant race now that "the big guy" is hitting for distance once again.

Joe DiMaggio, hobbled by injuries all season, came to life over the weekend and forced the experts to put his obituary back on the shelf.

The $100,000-a-year outfielder looked like the DiMaggio of old as he slammed three home runs in as many games to help the Yanks sweep a three-game series from Chicago and knock the White Sox out of the race, at least for the time being.

DiMaggio clinched Friday night's disputed 3-1 victory with a homer and Sunday he enjoyed his greatest day of the season before 70,972 fans, largest crowd of the year at Yankee Stadium.

The poker-faced veteran drove home five runs on a pair of homers to spark the Yanks to an 8-3 victory in the opener. He singled and scored the insurance run in a 2-0 nightcap triumph.

The sweep enabled the Yanks to pull two games ahead of the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians. The Indians nipped the Red Sox, 5-4, to tie Boston for second place. The fourth-place White Sox are lagging six and one-half games off the pace.

Dodgers, Giants Win
In other American League games, the Washington Senators split a doubleheader with St. Louis, winning the first game, 7-2, but losing the second, 8-6, and the Philadelphia Athletics divided with the Detroit Tigers, taking the nightcap, 3-0, after dropping the opener, 8-4.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers continued to make merry in the National League. The Brooks' trounced the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-3. The runner-up New York Giants shaved the Dodgers' lead to nine games by taking a pair from the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1 and 6-4.

The Chicago Cubs also swept a doubleheader, beating the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-4 and 8-6. Boston and Pittsburgh divided, the Pirates winning the opener, 4-3, and the Yankees, 3-1.

KING'S ROW
by LARRY KING

First-division fever ran high in the dressing room of the Midland Indians after their thrilling 8-7 triumph over the fourth-place Odessa Oilers here Sunday.

"How many games do we have left? ... How many games do we out of the first division? ... How many games do we have to win to make it? ... Do we still have a chance of get 'up there'?"

These were the questions Zeke Bonura's fired-up diamond performers were asking.

And the answers, in order, are: 41, 14, a lot and yes, a fighting chance.

With 41 games yet to play, Midland must win a very, very large portion, while Odessa and Vernon—fourth and fifth place teams—must really go on the skids. It's eight and one-half games to fifth place. But, as mentioned before, there's a fighting chance.

Not much of a chance, granted, but still a small chance. The Indian players are grasping onto that chance, and hope to put out a superhuman effort in trying to bring Midland a spot in the playoffs.

No doubt about it, Zeke Bonura now has a club capable of holding its own with any team in the league, game in and game out. But it's late. The same team earlier in the year would have made it hands down.

While the odds certainly are against it, the boys are to be admired for retaining hope.

As long as the team continues to hustle—and there's no reason to believe it won't—the fans will be pleased.

And if, by some near-miracle, the Tribe should make the playoff—well, every team member could get a few votes for the governorship of the state of Texas, should they choose to run.

Threatened Golf Star Wins Open

ST. PAUL, MINN.—(AP)—Usually calm Lloyd Mangrum headed for his home course in Chicago Monday, a $2,250 first prize check in his pocket and his nerves slightly a jingle because of a threat that he hadn't better win the St. Paul Open Tournament if he wanted to live. Mangrum set a new St. Paul Open record Sunday with a 266 for the 72 holes. He told of the threat at the ceremonies at which he received the check.

The call came Saturday night, he said, after he had set a new 18-hole record with a 10-stroke-under-par 62. It was about 11:30 when he answered the telephone in his hotel room.

A voice told him, he said, "We've got a lot of money bet on the tournament; if you want to get out of St. Paul alive don't win."

He reported the call to authorities and all during Sunday's play uniformed and plain clothes policemen mingled with the large gallery that followed him. They stayed close to Mangrum, who in turn steered clear of spectators and well-wishers alike.

In second place among the pros was Fred Hawkins of El Paso, who copped $1,400 on his six-under-par 66, his second such score of the tournament. He started Thursday with 68 and had a 67 Friday.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., also carded a 68 Sunday to go with his previous rounds of 68-65-67 for a 268 total and $1,200 for third place. Jack Burke of Houston, and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., each received $1,050 for their fourth-place tie at 269.

Middlecoff shot a six-under-par 66 and Burke a 67 in the windup. Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del., got $900 for fifth place on his 68-67-70-67-70.

Behind him came Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., who finished with 272, good for $800 on his 68-68-69-67-72.

Van Ligon Cops Men's Club Title With 6 And 5 Win

Steady Vann Ligon won the title which eluded him last year, and the same title he captured in 1949, as he outshot Evans Dunn, 6 and 5, to cop the Men's Club Tournament at Midland Country Club Sunday afternoon.

Ligon, defeated in the finals last year by Graham Mackey, got off some good tee shots and had his putter working in fine style as he methodically chipped down Dunn's challenge. The winner was three-up at the turn, won 10 with par and then birdied holes 12 and 13 for his victory. While Ligon was sharp, Dunn couldn't find the remarkable style of play that carried him into the tournament finals.

Raymond Leggett's superior putting earned him a 1-up verdict over Dick McKnight in a good match that decided the consolation winner in the championship flight.

Bill Barker, who played good golf throughout the four-day meet, took Tex Carleton, 1-up, in a toughie match for the first flight title. Charles Wilson nipped O. J. Colwick by the same score for the flight's also-ran title.

In second flight play, Bill Finch had enough to beat Murphy Baxter, 2 and 1, while Curtman Inman had to go 22 holes to out Roy Minnear, 1-up, in a nip and tuck battle for the consolation crown.

Third flight play saw Fred Burleson wham Frank Flournoy, 7 and 5, for the crown. It was Burleson's sharpness, rather than Flournoy's ineptness, that accounted for the victory margin. Burleson was only two over par when he took his opponent out.

Paxton Howard, Jr., the 15-year-old "giant killer" won the consolation honors by taking Earl Westlund, 2 and 1.

In the fourth flight, Don Wiet defeated Fred McMurry, 4 and 3, and James Brown's 2 and 1 win over Paul Anderson made Brown the consolation winner.

All finalists received trophies as prizes. Eighty-four golfers entered the annual tournament over the Midland Country Club course.

Baseball does not start until Thursday when Forrest Anderson, coach of nationally famous Bradley, and Cliff Wells, coach of Tule, appear on the lecture platform.

Practice also started Monday for football and basketball squads that will appear in all-star games Friday and Saturday nights. Two-day sessions will be held.

A change in the South all-star football squad was announced. Dick Van Fleet, Austin tackle, broke a toe in a work-out at his home Saturday. Glendon Bushong, a teammate, was substituted for him.

A change also may be made in the North squad. Wayne Delaney of Sherman, an end, developed pleurisy and a decision will be made Monday by a physician on whether he will be able to play.

Black Indians Defeat Angelo

SAN ANGELO — Midland's Black Indians won their thirteenth game of the season Sunday, outscoring the San Angelo Black Colts, 15-12, here.

John Hall was the winner. Jancy Batic, Phillip Williams, Bennie Harrison and Mad Man Summers paced Midland at the plate.

BUFFALO—(AP)—Leroy Chollett a member of the Syracuse Nat's basketball squad in the NBA last season, has a thriving off-season business. He is purveyor of hot dogs, barbecued sandwiches and soft drinks. Chollett operates "Chollett's Chalet" just off the Canisius College campus here.

LADIES DAY AT TRACK
ATLANTIC CITY—(AP)—Ladies Day will again be in vogue at the Atlantic City race course when it opens on August 9 for a 15-day meeting. Each Tuesday will be designated as "Ladies Day" and members of the fair sex will be admitted on payment of the usual federal and service charges. The "Fashion Show" will also be a part of these programs. Professional models will display the latest in the fashion world prior to the races.

Father-Son Night Monday At Park

It's father-son night at Indian Park Monday.

The pace-setting San Angelo Colts and the Indians meet at 8:15 p.m. in the Indians' park. Baseballs photographed by Manager Zeke Bonura and all members of the Midland team will be presented to the father with the oldest son, the father with the youngest son, the father with the most sons and the father and son who traveled the farthest distance to the game. All presentations will be made during the traditional seventh-inning stretch. Israel Ten is due to get the mound call for Midland.

Cats Knocking At Door In Texas League

By The Associated Press

The Fort Worth Cats are crowding the first division again. After a setback last week, the Little Dodgers are back in the thick of the fight, trailing the San Antonio missions by one game.

The Cats trimmed Bob Turley and the Missions, 6-1, Sunday in a twilight game to move into the challenging position.

The Shreveport Sports moved out of Burnett's park in Dallas and the Eagles' winning streak was snapped. The Houston Buffs took a well-earned 5-4 victory as Al Pappal beat Walt Lanfranco, despite a crippled team behind him.

The Buffs were playing without Jerry White, Larry Miggins and Les Fusselman but managed to shut off a Dallas rally that netted three runs in the last two innings.

The Sports celebrated the move from Dallas by nipping the Oklahoma City Indians, 2-1. Hugh Sooter bested Duke Markell in the mound duel although Markell gave up only four hits to seven the tribe got off Sooter.

Beaumont continued its surge with a 7-6 win over Tulsa but it took the best it could offer. The Oilers' fought back in the eighth-inning to count five runs and the roughnecks had all in Clarence Beers, their ace, to put out the fire. Beaumont held a 7-1 lead going into the eighth.

Runs Important In WT-NM League

By The Associated Press

Runs were important in the West Texas-New Mexico League Sunday. And that is something unusual in the league where they usually are a dime-a-dozen. Three of the four games played in the circuits were decided by one run.

Only the league-leading Abilene Blue Sox won by a comfortable margin. They trimmed the Pampa Oilers, 7-1.—Borger nipped Clovis, 8-7; Lamesa edged Lubbock by the same score, and Albuquerque took Amarillo, 6-5.

Jim Melton turned in the best mound performance, scattering seven Pampa hits for one run. Ed Carnett and Don Cantrell teamed to allow Amarillo only seven hits, but the Gold Sox made them count for five runs.

Swim Meet To Be Held Here August 11

Bill Glidewell, JayCee swimming team coach, Monday announced the West Texas Invitation Swimming Meet would be held here August 11.

Site of the splash carnival is Padogata Pool, located on West Highway 80.

radiance of velvet.

RAYDENE—the aristocrat of corduroys—was developed by St. George prior to the war. Its ingenious fibre blend of rayon and cotton produced a fabric of unsurpassed beauty that won instantaneous acclaim. But it took years of long and hard wear by thousands of American women to prove that RAYDENE, unlike conventional corduroys, remained as beautiful as the day it was loomed. After its wartime absence, St. George takes great pride in saying: "Raydene is back!"

Forget every other corduroy you've seen. Raydene is different. Raydene is washable (saves cleaning bills), doesn't mar, is beautiful, stays beautiful. Woven with Rayon, it's so bulkless, so soft, so supple, you'll dream of draping it in everything from casuals to formals.

See it Tuesday in beautiful shades of gold, chartreuse, beige, grey, copen, red and green.

Traffic Accidents Claim 15 Victims In List Of 20 Deaths By Violence In Texas

By The Associated Press
Texas' toll of weekend violent deaths was at least 20. Fifteen came in traffic accidents.

One two-car smashup killed three persons. Two persons died in each of three accidents.

Two persons drowned, one died in a fall, one died in a plane crash and one was shot fatally.

The deaths included:
Two men were killed early Sunday when struck by a car while fixing a flat tire three miles east of San Antonio. They were Dempsey Sessions, 26, and John Holley, 31, both of East Bernard.

Pfc. Ballard Holosky, 21, of Disney, Ky., stationed at San Antonio, drowned Sunday in the San Antonio river.

James J. Taylor, 24, of Fort Worth was killed early Sunday when his truck tractor was struck by a T&P train three miles west of Longview. Engineer Tommy Jones and Fireman Buster Falk of the train crew were burned seriously by flaming gasoline.

Hit By Automobile
Mrs. E. W. Jackson, 52, was killed early Sunday when hit by an automobile in front of her Fort Worth home.

Three persons were killed late Saturday in a two-car collision near Alvord. Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Harbin of Houston and Billy Ray Cobb, an airman stationed at Wichita Falls. Three others were injured.

Willis Vincent, 47, of Denison was shot to death Saturday night in a Denison club after an argument over two beer checks. Police arrested a Denison man.

A 21-month-old girl, Mary Chapman, was run over by a car and injured fatally in Houston Saturday.

Louise Cobler, a professional organist and advertising specialist in Sherman, died Saturday after a fall from a car. On an early morning ride with a business associate, Miss Cobler complained of feeling ill. She opened the car door and fell into a ravine.

Robert Anderson, 29, of Merkel died late Friday in Sweetwater, a few hours after a car in which he was riding struck a bridge.

Crop Duster Crashes
Kenneth E. Guinn, 30, of Lubbock died a few minutes after his crop dusting plane crashed Sunday, 24 miles north of Lubbock.

Henry Lewis Cagle, 15, of Goldthwaite was killed late Saturday in a car-truck crash 12 miles south of Baird.

Herbert James Garvin, 24, and Donald Dean Reinsch, 20, both of Houston, were killed early Sunday in a two-car collision three miles north of LaMarque.

Benjamin Le Roy Giles, 18, and James Overturf, 28, both of Texas, were killed early Sunday in a head-on collision just north of Texarkana.

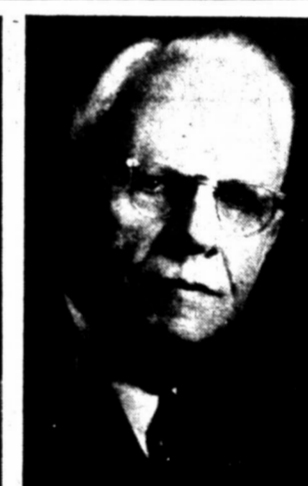

Mrs. Epifania Rodriguez de Salazar, 30, a Mexican cotton picker, died Sunday shortly after a car ran over her as she was sleeping under a tree near Lyford.

Near San Benito, Angel Davalos Orozco, 23, of Durango, Mexico, drowned Sunday while swimming in the Rio Grande.

FORT WORTH BANK ELECTS—J. Lee Johnson, Jr., left, will become president of the First National Bank of Fort Worth September 1, succeeding M. A. Fuller, right, president since 1939, who will become chairman of the board. Johnson has substantial interests in the Mallet Lands and is president of the Cicero Smith Lumber Company with headquarters in Fort Worth and branch offices in 27 cities in West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma and also is a director of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway. Fuller, who will remain active in bank affairs, said the growth of the bank made it more practical to return to the policy of having both a chairman of the board and a president.

TOKYO —(AP)—Seventy-five Japanese fishermen seized last January by Chinese Reds in the East China Sea were returned Sunday to Nagasaki.

Japanese press dispatches did not give the details.

MOTHER OF POLIO VICTIM ENDS OWN LIFE
PUEBLO, COLO. —(AP)—A 37-year-old Pueblo mother, whose only son died of polio Friday, committed suicide Sunday night by firing a .22 caliber rifle bullet into her heart, Police Capt. R. E. Pratt reported.

About 100 years ago, railroad conductors were known as Masters of Transportation.

Negroes Demand Right To Attend Midwestern U

WICHITA FALLS —(P)—Midwestern University was asked Monday to admit negro students. Court action was threatened if it didn't.

The newly organized Council of Negroes on Civic and Political Affairs Sunday named a committee to ask admittance of negro students.

Rev. R. L. Castle, president of the council, said his group was prepared to go to court but "we had rather not do it that way."

Some 250 to 300 negro property owners formed the council at a meeting Sunday.

Castle said the council stemmed from opposition to the proposed 11-cent boost in the levy of the Wichita Falls Junior College Tax District, which supplies a portion of Midwestern's operating funds.

"We're paying taxes now and receiving no benefits whatsoever," Castle said. "We are going to oppose it (the tax boost) if we don't get some consideration about Midwestern admitting our people x x x"

An election has been set August 16 on the proposal to boost the present 39 cents per $100 valuation tax.

Army Fires Tank Arsenal Commander

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The commanding general of the Detroit Tank Arsenal has been fired from his command and reprimanded for accepting favors from contracting companies.

An Army announcement Sunday night said Secretary of the Army Face had relieved Brig. Gen. David J. Crawford after an inspector general's report showed Crawford had "violated Army regulations and had not met the high standards required of an Army officer."

The 54-year-old Crawford, a West Point graduate and veteran of 29 years' Army service, admitted before a congressional committee at Detroit on July 23 that he had accepted a free Washington hotel suite and the gift of a boat keel from contracting company representatives.

In addition, he acknowledged using government materials in building pleasure boats and transporting personal property at government expense.

Crawford, head of the Detroit Tank Arsenal the last four years, will be replaced by Brig. Gen. Carroll H. Detrick, 53, who now commands the Watertown, Mass., Arsenal.

Informed of the Army's action at his home in Detroit, Crawford said: "I am still in the Army. I don't know what I will do now. I am awaiting new orders."

Alcohol Storage Tank Still Blazes

INSTITUTE, W. VA. —(AP)—A huge storage tank of ethyl alcohol, set ablaze by lightning Saturday night, continued to burn early Monday.

A spokesman for the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Division plant said the fire was under control but the company fire department still poured water into the 2,500,000 gallon tank.

When lightning struck the tank there was a brilliant flash and deafening roar. The lid of the 150-foot diameter vessel was hurled 75 yards away. The blast shattered windows in nearby homes and knocked dishes off shelves. Fortunately, no one was injured.
