Oldest U. S. Woman In Germany Misses Grandchildren, TV

By DONALD DOANE

MUNICH, GERMANY—Mrs. Mary Katherine Lewis of Baltimore, Md., is the oldest American woman in Germany. She is 90.

Mrs. Lewis flew here last May to live with her daughter, Mrs. Martha Ada Claypoole, and her son-in-law, Lt. Col. Christian L. Claypoole, who is stationed with the U. S. Army in Munich.

Despite her age, Mrs. Lewis is in good health, walks unaided up and down the stairs, and has adjusted herself easily to life in a foreign country.

But she misses American television—and the 13 grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren and 28 great-great-grandchildren she left behind in the United States.

Mrs. Lewis has outlived six of her nine children. Besides Mrs. Claypoole, her surviving daughters are Ida Myers, 6015 Carter Avenue, Baltimore, and Mrs. Anna Frost, also of Baltimore.

'Gold In The Hills' To Open For Second Week Friday

"Gold in the Hills," the annual Summer Mummer melodrama production, will start its second week Friday. The play will be given in the American Legion Hall at 8:20 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Tickets are available at Tallorline. Many well-known Community Theater players as well as some new ones will be seen in the show and many others are working back stage.

Bill Pomeroy, director of "Gold in the Hills," also has directed the last two Summer Mummer productions, "The Drunkard" and "Ten Nights in a Barroom." He is remembered for his portrayal of the leading roles in several Community Theater productions. While at Amherst University Pomeroy was a member of the Amherst Players, touring with them to Vienna and Austria.

E. J. Elliott, stage manager for the show, has been working with the Community Theater and Summer Mummer for some time. Recently she has been taking part in the workshop productions.

Art Cole, the hero, designed the stage settings in true Music Hall style. He also played the hero in "The Drunkard."

While Cole usually is behind the scenes as director of the Community Theater plays, he also has played bit parts in many of the plays. Last Summer he was doing Summer stock work with the Westchester Playhouse in Mt. Kisco, N. Y., as stage manager.

Norris, Creath, the villain, has been in all of the Summer Mummer melodramas. Before coming to Midland he was active in theater work in San Angelo.

Mrs. Francis X. Bermingham, the heroine, is a newcomer to Midland. She was first seen in the role of the mother in the last Community Theater play, "The Philadelphia Story." Before coming to Midland she was in several ice shows and taught figure skating at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago.

Sonya Little takes her first part in a Midland production as Barbara, Nell's younger sister. She attended the Art Institute in Chicago and took part in the pageant at the Chicago fair. She was in Moliere's "Physician in Spite of Himself," presented in Chicago.

Bill Adam, the father of the heroine, has taken part in almost all of the Community Theater productions since his arrival in Midland. He is remembered for his many comedy skits, one of which was "Little Nell" in last year's Olio act.

BUSHES HAVE HOUSE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bush, Star Route, had several relatives visiting them last week. ## Corpus Christi Denies Reports Of Polio Epidemic

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—The city-county health officer denies there was a polio epidemic here. Dr. J. M. Cameron further said there has never been one.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Tuesday said the first major polio epidemic of the year was at Corpus Christi.

Cameron said he doesn't know how many cases the Polio Foundation called an epidemic or upon what the foundation bases its report.

"The State Health Department has not declared an epidemic in this area and I have not declared an epidemic," Dr. Cameron said.

Memorial Hospital, only treatment center in a 10-county area, has 10 polio patients. The total for Nueces County for the year is 104 cases, with 73 from Corpus Christi. Four deaths result from the disease.

Safest Person Has Itchy Foot

CHICAGO—The safest person in the United States has an itchy foot again.

That little girl—the National Safety Council's perennial nominee for the mythical safety title—has moved back to New Jersey after a year's residence in Connecticut.

New Jersey recorded the lowest accident fatality rate in 1950, according to the 1951 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook. A little girl must be the safest person, the Council thinks, because the safest age group was the 5-14 bracket, and for some reason little girls have fewer accidents than boys.

Dance Bands Beating Out Merrier Financial Tune

Raton-lest bandleader is Ralph Flanagan, conducting his orchestra at a college affair. There are obstacles now, he says, which may make it impossible for bands to regain pre-war glory.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The dance band business, which had been hitting some pretty sour financial notes since World War II began, is showing signs of perkling up.

But whether it will ever get back to its pre-war glory is doubtful. Ralph Flanagan, who should know about such things, isn't sure. "Sure, I could be optimistic and say the bands will be as big in a few months as they ever were," says band leader Flanagan. "But I honestly don't know. It's pretty doubtful."

Flanagan is leading the first new band to capture public fancy since the war. Most of the other top bands of today are hold-overs from the early 1940's and before—men like Tommy Dorsey, Sammy Kaye, Guy Lombardo. Flanagan, who has had only a little better than a year with his own crew, is the only rookie in the top ranks.

Sparks Revival
His orchestra has sparked the band revival, pulling it up from the depths it was plunged into by the war. But the 31-year-old former Sammy Kaye arranger and pianist thinks there are terrific obstacles these days, which may hold back the band business.

"Musicians are tough to get today," he says, "at least it's tough to get them to go on the road. It costs them, say, $5 a day in hotels and maybe $6 a day to eat. Over a week, that's $77. If they've got a family to support and a home to maintain, you can see they've got to earn a lot to make it worth their while."

Flanagan points out other reasons, too, why bands may not regain their popularity peak of the pre-war period.
Back in 1940, he says, the big names in popular music were mostly all band-leaders—Glenn Miller, the Dorseys, Harry James, Benny Goodman, Artie Shaw, Sammy Kaye. Today, the big names are mostly vocalists—Frank Sinatra, Frankie Laine, Patti Page, Dinah Shore, Mario Lanza.

Vocalists Popular
"The vocalists are taking the play away from the bands, in records, any," says the good-looking Flanagan. "So are the hill-billy bands and hill-billy singers. All a guy has to do is get a cowboy suit and a guitar and he's in business."
In dance halls, ballrooms and college proms, however, the band still is supreme.

"People still want to dance," says Flanagan. "Just after the war, a lot of idiots ruined the band business by playing music that nobody liked but themselves. Nobody could dance to it, or wanted to listen to it. I'm trying to give them some dance music."

Despite the obstacles, Flanagan's first year was a successful one. He says his was the first band in modern musical memory to make money its first year as a unit. It grossed half a million, in a 32,000-mile cross-country tour.

Flanagan has one cheerful note for lovers of dance music: "Bop is dead."

Platinum has been used since the middle of the 18th century and was named by the Spanish "platina del Pinta."

Red Cross Chapter's Quota Fixed In Fund To Aid Flood Victims

The Midland County Chapter of American Red Cross has been asked to raise $250 as its share of a $5,000,000 Red Cross fund launched by President Truman for aid to victims of the Midwestern flood.

The waters that swept over Kansas, Missouri and sections of Oklahoma have been termed the most damaging flood in the nation's history.

The Red Cross disaster relief program includes two types of assistance, emergency relief and continuing rehabilitation aid. The first comes with the emergency, when all efforts are directed toward meeting the immediate needs of the sufferers—rescue, food, clothing, temporary shelter and medical attention. The second phase of relief begins soon after the emergency and continues from there.

The special Red Cross $5,000,000 fund for flood victims will be spent in rehabilitation of persons who cannot help themselves get back on their feet.

To Need Assistance
Red Cross officials estimate that 17,000 families in Kansas and Missouri will need Red Cross financial assistance in repairing or rebuilding their homes damaged in the flood.

Other estimates indicate that rehabilitation in Kansas alone will exceed $5,500,000, the Red Cross announced.

A total of 19,430 families were expected to register for long-term Red Cross assistance by the end of July. In Midland, contributions to the relief appeal may be mailed to Box 1706 or taken to 619 West Indiana Street.

Lobo Band Names Downing Drum Major

MONAHANS—Billy Downing of Gulf Camp nosed out Paul Snelson in a run-off election recently to become drum major of the Lobo Band. Billy will succeed Gilbert Baker, who has held that position the last three years.

The new drum major has had experience for the job, having served as drum major of the Junior High School Band.

Band Director C. M. Watson has received applications of 110 students for the senior band.

New uniforms have been ordered for band members, including 100 regular uniforms, eight majorette suits and one drum major suit.

Vitus Bering, a Danish sea-captain under Russia's Peter the Great, is credited with being the first westerner to see the Diomedes Islands between Alaska and Siberia.

Round-Robin Fire Report Received

MISSOULA, MONT.—(AP)—Forest Service officials were puzzled when they received a report of a forest fire at Lolo Hot Springs. The report came from Huntley, 400 miles across Montana.

They made sure the fire was under control, then learned two Missoula radio amateurs had gone into the mountains to test portable radio equipment. They spotted the blaze but couldn't contact the Forest Service. So they broadcast their report. It was heard in Huntley by another radio ham who relayed the information to the Forest Service.

STRATEGIC LOCATION
Spain's position as a land and sea base behind the protecting Pyrenees Mts. makes her desirable ally for the West.

MANPOWER AND
Her army is capable of rapid expansion—4, 2,000,000 men plus stable navy and air force.

POTENTIAL BASES
Natural harbors and landing fields, three of which can handle our B-36, need improvement, but have great military potential.

OBSOLETE ARMS
Spain's army is badly-armed mostly with pre-World War II equipment. She needs modern guns and tanks...

AND EQUIPMENT
...and, especially, modern planes. Of her 500 to 600 planes, only about half have any military value.

POOR TRANSPORT
Worst deficiency is the nation's road and rail transport system—in need of new equipment and thorough overhauling.

Young Artist, 15, Hires Father To Work For Him

Ross Stefan and painting: "It's all imagination."

TUSCON, ARIZ. —(NEA)—At 15, Ross Stefan is more than the family breadwinner. He's hired his dad to go to work for him.

Ever since he could get his hand on a pencil, Ross has been making pictures. At first, like most children, they were just marks on the floor, the walls, or on any paper he could get his hands on.

Later, he took to crayons and paints. He began to draw men, animals and mountains. His parents were indulgent, but they didn't exactly urge him on at first.

"I knew how artists starve," says his father, Edward J. Stefan, who had been buying advertising art all his life. "So it wasn't until I was sure Ross had real talent that I began to encourage him."

It wasn't until the Stefan moved to Tuscon about three years ago that Ross' effort began to pay off. At 13, postcard-size reproductions of his Western pictures were selling by the thousands.

Now his father has given up advertising to devote full time to his son's art—selling it instead of buying it.

Many of Ross' originals, such as cowboys, Indians and mountain lions, are being displayed at art centers, fairs and banks throughout the Southwest.

Ross never has had any formal art training. A sophomore at Tuscon High School, he plans to attend the University of Arizona there. Then he'll go after an advanced art education.

He limits his work to two hours a day. At that rate, it takes him about three weeks to finish a typical picture.

Ross says he uses no models — "It's all imagination."

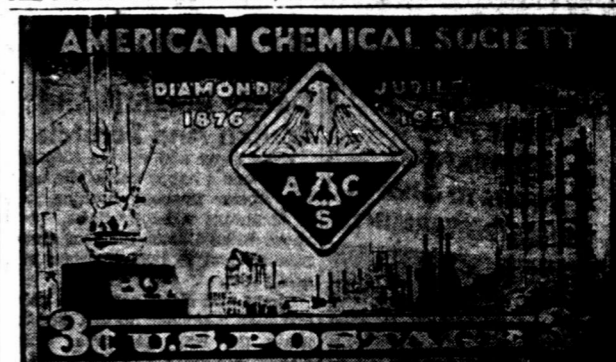

"I'm not trying to create any stir in the artistic world," he says. "My object's to please myself and other people."

CARNIVAL

"This is a democratic army! I want you officers to make it just as miserable for the privates as for the non-coms!"

Lack of Discipline in Industry Blasted

BUDAPEST —(AP)—Hungary's official Communist paper, "Szabad Nep" has complained again in a front-page editorial about the lack of discipline in Hungarian industries.

The editorial singled out miners and construction workers, charging that many of them worked less than 48 hours weekly. The paper stated that in the Ganz Connector Plant production time was no more than 25 to 30 hours a week recently.

"Tolerance of want of discipline is the sole interest of the enemy," the editorial asserted.

COENY STORY

NEW YORK —(AP)—It takes only 52 kernels of seed corn per capita in the U. S. to grow the more than 2,340,000,000 pounds of corn needed each year to meet the country's nearly insatiable appetite for canned and frozen varieties of vegetable.

Polo is the most ancient of games using stick and ball, its name derived from the Tibetan word, pulu, meaning ball.

Red With British Accent Surrenders

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA —(AP)—Sgt. Walter C. Damke of San Francisco was startled recently when a voice with a heavy British accent called out to him from the bushes of a Korean mountain slope.

"I say, old boy, I don't have one of your bloody safe conduct passes but may I surrender anyway?" The 24th Division sergeant called the voice from its hiding place and found it to belong to a Chinese soldier.

"Thank you very much, old boy," said the Red as Damke led him away.

The game of polo is believed to have originated in Persia, and then spread to Constantinople. The game flourished in India in the 17th century.

Modern Huck Finns Know Good Fishing

PUEBLO, COLO.—(AP)—Modern Huck Finns know a good fishing hole when they see one.

When a tank truck from the Colorado Game and Fish Department brought 3,000 trout to dump in Mineral Palace Park Lake, almost 50 boys, poles in hand, met it.

Before the men finished dumping the pan-size fish, several lads had caught their day's limit of five and headed home. One boy didn't even use a line for one catch. A fish missed the lake and slid under the truck. The boy came up with the fish firmly clutched in his hand.

WELL EQUIPPED

The meat laboratory at Oklahoma A&M College contains a refrigeration system, hot water system, and facilities for rendering lard and preparing fats, hides and oil.

Painted Skulls Go On Exhibition

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(AP)—An exhibit showing an unusual treatment of the dead has been installed in the U. S. National Museum here.

The exhibits include four aboriginal skulls from Australia covered with complex, painted designs. The collection represents a phase of an expedition to Australia sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution, the National Geographic Society and the Australian Government in 1948.

The painted skulls, says Frank M. Seltzer, head curator of anthropology for the National Museum, are often carried about by a close relative of the deceased, or suspended from a tree limb near a camp. The belief is that possession of the skull will attract the dead person's spirit.

No doubt about it—you'll make a mighty handsome picture in a strapping new '51 Buick.

But it isn't the way you look, but the way you feel that's really important.

We'd like you to discover a Buick's ease and comfort, a Buick's power and performance, a Buick's steadiness and control — just to see if maybe you have been missing a travel treat.

We'd like you to discover what a valve-in-head engine, as Buick builds it—gingered with Fireball combustion—can mean in pulse-pounding thrill and in big miles-per-gallon figures.

We'd like you to learn what coil springs on all four wheels—not just the front ones—can do in the matter of smoothing a rough road and keeping you on a level keel.

We'd like you to see what generous roadweight and a rigid torque-tube mean in solid steadiness of ride—what Dynaflo Drive* does for you in downright comfort and convenience—what a breeze it is to handle so big and roomy and impressive a car.

Most of all, we'd like you to note the easy-to-take price tags our cars wear—what a whale of a lot more automobile you get for your money in today's Buicks than you'll get elsewhere.

So—come in for a sitting soon, won't you? Whether you try a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER, you'll find it the top buy in its field—and a beauty from any angle.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buicks.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Scritch And Scratch
From away and up the Elephant Path came a happy noise. The noise was Doctor Shoobug running fast. It is always a happy noise, you know, when Doctor Shoobug comes running fast to help someone who needs him.

Closer and closer came the noise, and then it skidded up to a stop beneath the very tall tree where Daddy Ringtail's monkey play high in the top. Almost before the dust of the running was gone, Doctor Shoobug was up the tree and was pounding on the door for someone please to let him in.

"Happy day to you folks!" said Doctor Shoobug in his cheerful voice when Daddy Ringtail had opened the door.

"Uh, yes," said Doctor Shoobug, and then hurried into see about Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy. "Tch! Tch! Tch!" said the friendly doctor when he saw what Mugwump's trouble was.

Ah, yes, and Mugwump's trouble was poison ivy. Mugwump's trouble was often poison ivy, it seems, because poison ivy is a vine that grows in places it shouldn't—and when people touch it, or sometime later—tch! tch! tch!—trouble and trouble and trouble. Yes, because Mugwump's skin where the poison ivy had touched it was red and itchy. How red and itchy it was! Itchy, witchy, witchy for a scratch that Mugwump mustn't scratch, or then the trouble will be much worse.

"Don't scratch, and don't scratch, no matter how much the itch," said Doctor Shoobug, and so Mugwump said he wouldn't scratch, and he wouldn't scratch. No sir, he wouldn't. He would stay there in his bed and wait for the itches and scratches and scratches of the poison ivy to go away. He would do everything Doctor Shoobug said to do.

But would he, now? Would he really do everything Doctor Shoobug said to do? That's what Doctor Shoobug asked, and Mugwump said yes indeed he would do everything the doctor told him.

Happy day, because Doctor Shoobug told him all right, all right. Doctor Shoobug told Mugwump that he was much too big to keep on getting into poison ivy. Mugwump should watch for the leaves of three, and not get into them. "With leaves of three, beware of me! Poison ivy! Poison ivy!" Happy day!

Firm Stocks Quonsets In Many Sizes

A large stock of Quonset metal buildings in a variety of sizes, especially desirable for farm and ranch use, is available for immediate delivery at the Midland Tractor Company at 301 South Baird Street.

The buildings are sold "knocked down" or will be erected by the company if the purchaser desires. They come in 24, 32 and 40 foot widths and in any length desired. The Midland Tractor Company operates a repair shop for trucks, farm implements and tractors. Roy Marvin Cox is in charge of the repair shop.

The firm also handles Ford tractors and Dearborn farm equipment. R. J. Lindsey, manager of Midland Tractor Company, has announced the concern has a large stock of repair parts, supplies and accessories for tractors, trucks and implements.

The repair department, staffed with highly-trained mechanics for special tractor and implement repair work, is equipped to take care of any job in this line with the least delay. The public is invited to call for free estimates on repair work as well as a comparison of prices on parts and repairs. The dial telephone number is 3-3771.

FINISHED UNCHANGED

The cabinet of Franklin Pierce is the only instance in American history of a President's cabinet which served throughout an administration without a change in personnel.

KILLS INSECTS—There no longer is any excuse for putting up with crawling insects, when NO-ROACH will handle the situation effectively and with very little trouble. Simply brush the solution on, and forget the insect problem. One application will last for months.

Suprex Adds Dry Cleaning Department

The Suprex Steam Laundry is proud of the added service to Midland customers it can offer by the recent installation of a dry cleaning and pressing department.

Suprex Laundry & Cleaners can now give second-to-none dry cleaning service. Suprex pays more for the dry cleaning solvent fluid it uses but doesn't mind the expense as compared with the excellent results it can offer.

Midland patrons are finding out that clothes cleaned by Suprex in its dry cleaning department have a different look—a new sheen—a completely renovated appearance.

Suprex offers, in addition to ordinary dry cleaning service, a deluxe special service attention to customers with particular tastes for good clothing. The deluxe services takes a little longer, the owners point out, but it is worth the time difference. Clothes come from the deluxe service as if new or just bought at the store. Deluxe service at Suprex is the tops in dry cleaning—the zenith of perfection. Every detail of cleaning service, including excellent repair, is handled.

August 6, the Suprex Steam Laundry will observe its fifth anniversary in Midland. Owners are John Sewell and George Kidd, who can point with pride to their business record in the city. Suprex has long been the by-word for good laundry service in Midland.

Accidents Affect Happiness, Budget

CHICAGO—One way to look at the effect of accidents is in terms of family happiness and the family budget.

Here are some averages presented in the 1951 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook: In 1950 there was one accidental death in 473 families, one disabling injury in five families, and the average dent in the budget for all U. S. families was $170.

It's Easy Matter To Keep Insects From Taking Over

Our homes are so small compared with the great outdoors that it's a shame to share them with crawling insects.

It is downright unpleasant, too, and now, with Johnston's NO-ROACH, it is quite unnecessary. NO-ROACH kills ants, roaches and crawling insects so easily and quickly you will be delighted. It is new, colorless, odorless and stainless. One application will last for months, according to the Gaston Johnston Corporation, manufacturer of the product.

You simply brush this colorless coating across window sills and door sills to kill insects that come into the home from outdoors. To kill roaches and ants in the kitchen, you simply brush NO-ROACH around cabinets, sink and icebox.

Insects that walk across the invisible coating slowly become paralyzed and die. Then the coating stays effective for months, to kill any other strays that may want to wander in.

There is no more messy powder sprinkling or all-over spraying when you start controlling crawling insects this modern NO-ROACH way. Prices are eight ounces for 89 cents, a pint for $1.69 and a quart for $2.98. NO-ROACH is on sale at the Palace Drug and Midland Hardware and Furniture Company.

Johnston's NO-ROACH contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride and no phosphorus. You apply it just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes, pots and pans.

While relatives prepared him for interment, Prasaman claimed his spirit wandered for five minutes "in a strange hereafter" where there was only bare land, without houses and trees.

"It was drab, misty and weird. I looked round and saw spikes on which some wrongdoers were being punished," he said. These people looked like ordinary beings, except that they had large heads with tremendous eyes, ears, and noses. All around me were boiling cauldrons and huge flames. Suddenly I was thrust into a deep, fathomless pool of icy-cold water which practically numbed me."

At this stage Prasaman "returned to life." A few minutes more and he would have gone into a grove. Medical authorities, however, said they thought Prasaman might have been in a delirium during his visit to "Hell."

The MATURE PARENT

Reward Obedience With Explanation Of Orders

By MAURIEL LAWRENCE
 Bud's parents are having new friends for dinner. Bud is not interested in them. He is interested in completing his job of greasing his bicycle. So he resents his mother's suggestion that he stop to change his stained khaki shorts for clean ones. He passionately defends his nine-year-old point of view until his mother says, "No more talk. Get upstairs and do as you are told."

Bud knows when his mother means business. He obeys. The next morning at breakfast, she says, "How would you like it if I turned up on Visitors' Day at your school with a hole in my stocking and my hair in curlers?"

Bud lifts a horrified face from his milk. His mother nods at him. "You wouldn't like it at all," she tells him. "Parents don't like introducing an untidy child to their friends any more than a child likes to introduce an untidy parent to us. We're not different; we're alike, parents and children. We both want to be proud of each other. You made daddy and me feel comfortable and proud by looking so nice at dinner last night."

Bud's mother has completed her little discipline chore. She has given her child an explanation of the order he obeyed.

A child who obeys surrenders his will. He yields his point of view to ours. This is an act of giving that entitles him to an explanation of our reasons for demanding the surrender of his point of view. If we do not fulfill this obligation to the child who obeys, his obedience is blind and our orders are arbitrary. We are dictators, not teachers.

By failing to explain our points of view, we lose valuable chances to make our ideas on important matters understood by our child. We become the kind of parents of whom grownup children say, "They did the best they knew how to. I suppose. They got obedience. But I had to have children of my own before I ever understood what made my parents tick."

Explanations of our demands should follow, not precede obedience to orders. The real purpose of obedience is training in giving. The child receives his explanation in return for his gift of obedience.

Our smaller sons and daughters, however, will not be too interested in our explanations. With them, we have to put up with the dictator role until they develop that interest. But the moment they are able to reason and think, we should be quick to tell Tommy exactly why we, think he mustn't take cookies without asking, why lies are bad, and why faces must be washed.

With adolescence, we should be able to substitute suggestions for orders. Tommy should even be encouraged to challenge our suggestions. If we have done a good job of training, he won't challenge us beligerently, but eagerly. Our explanations will have won a respect for us that makes our opinions interesting and important to him.

This is when parenthood enters one of its most satisfying periods. This is when the hours we have spent telling Tommy what we think about honesty, truth, cleanliness and order begin to pay off in mental championship and mutual pleasure in it.

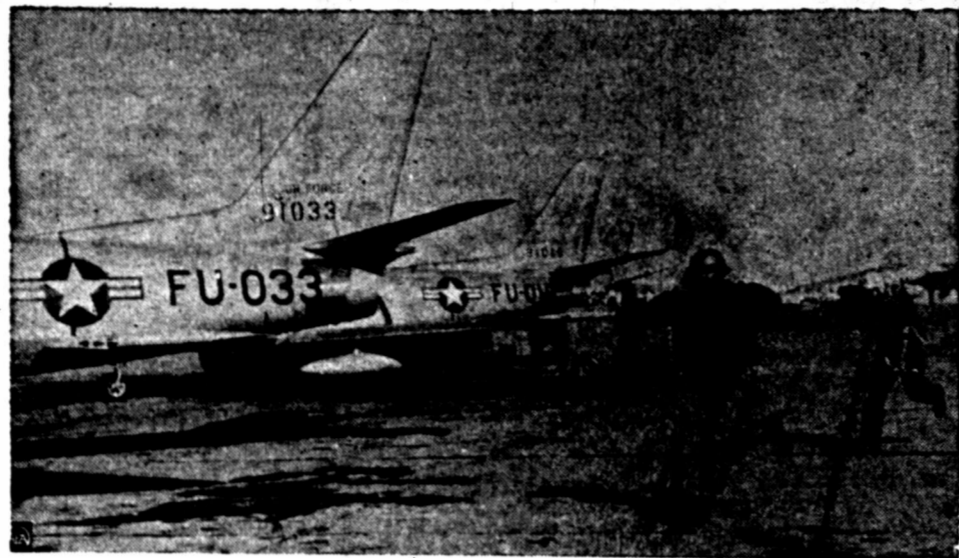

If we forget to give those explanations, we're the real losers. (All Rights Reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Armed Forces' 'Atomic Hardware' Centers Convert Raw A-Bomb Explosives Into Deliverable Packages

Atomic defenders at Kirtland Air Force Base, N. M., race out on the field to scramble in their Sabre-Jets. Fueled and armed fighters are on the runway every day, ready to guard the vital atomic area.

KIRTLAND AIR FORCE BASE, N. M. —(NEA) — This is America's "atomic hardware" center. Its booming.

Here at the headquarters of the Air Force Special Weapons Command, and at nearby Sandia Base which houses the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project, they're working to adapt atomic energy into fantastic weapons of the future.

A Sandia spokesman explains it this way:

"The Atomic Energy Commission furnishes the explosive. We help develop the package, or hardware, and provide the technical assistance in the preparation for delivery. The explosive itself isn't worth anything unless the military has some practical way of getting it to the enemy. It's a complicated job of tailoring one to the other."

According to informed experts, it's this little-known phase of the nuclear weapons program which gives the U. S. one of its biggest advantages over Russia in the big arms race. Russia has a quantity of A-bombs, but nowhere near the super quality of atomic hardware which Uncle Sam has developed, and is improving.

Another big function of Sandia is the operation of what they jokingly call "the military college of nuclear knowledge." All personnel of the three services who have anything to do with the handling or development of atomic weapons must get their indoctrination and education here.

The actual number of students in the school is a secret. But the base has been greatly expanded in recent months. And a large, permanent construction program to enlarge it further is just getting underway.

The operation at Sandia is completely separate from that of the Air Force Special Weapons Command, although there is close cooperation between them.

"We flight test the atomic hardware to make sure it is suitable

TICKLISH JOB—A technician at Brookhaven National Laboratory, Upton, N. Y., stands behind a wall as he removes the plug from a one-and-a-half-ton lead shield containing a thousand-curie source of gamma radiation. Made of cobalt-60 and tantalum-182, the radioactive material is being made available to aid in studies of application of radiation processes to industry. Each of the lead shields can release as much gamma radiation as 2.2 pounds of radium (an amount equal to the total world supply prior to World War II).

Cause Of Shaking Palsy Is Unknown, Hence No Sure Cure

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
 Written for NEA Service

There is perhaps no better way to discuss Parkinson's disease briefly than to try to answer Mrs. W. D. K.'s questions. She says: "What causes it? Is there a cure? How does it effect someone? What are the first symptoms?"

This is a chronic disease of the nervous system which also is called shaking palsy or paralysis agitans. The seat of the difficulty is in a small area of the brain, but in most cases the exact cause is poorly understood.

It seems usually to be connected with the aging process, possibly hardening of the arteries, and is more common in men than women. However, there is another form which results from encephalitis or inflammation of the brain, and this tends to occur about as often in women as in men and at earlier ages.

It is not accurate to speak of a cure for Parkinson's disease although there are several drugs which often greatly relieve the symptoms. Mrs. K. asked for their names and whether they could be obtained in any drugstore or only by prescription.

They are potent substances and too much can be harmful; they should not be taken except on prescription. Surgery of various kinds also has been tried and may yet lead to cure, but for the present these methods should be considered as still in the experimental or trial stage.

Mrs. K.'s final two questions can be discussed together. The usual first sign of Parkinson's disease is a shaking or trembling of one hand which is present when the hand is at rest and disappears when it is put into motion. The hand often feels a little stiff and its muscular strength is lessened. There is no pain and the symptoms get worse only very slowly.

Thinking Not Harmful
 Although the source of the trouble is in the brain the thinking processes are not harmed and even after years about the only thing which happens is some slowing of the mental reactions.

Many people who have developed this nervous condition have been able to live with it without too much difficulty. True, they should avoid fatigue and too strenuous physical activity, but with proper care they are generally able to continue their occupations or hobbies for a long, long time.

Oldest Danish Tombstone Found

COPENHAGEN —(AP)— Excavations on a grassy islet in the north of Denmark have provided evidence for archaeologists that human sacrifices took place at a distinguished woman's funeral there 3,000 to 4,000 years ago.

The find dates between the stone and the bronze ages. About 1800 B. C. the islet was used as a burial ground. It was found that an adult woman and a 12 or 14 year-old girl were interred together. Many bronze bracelets and rings indicated that the woman was of high birth. Across the feet of the two lay, in a cramped position, the body of a murdered male slave, killed as a propitiatory sacrifice to ward off disease from the remaining members of the community.

One of the stones, forming the lid of the "coffin," bore the so-called sun sign—a wheel with four spokes. This is the oldest tombstone ever found in Denmark.

Miss Korea Blamed For Line Snarls

TOKYO —(AP)— "Miss Korea 1951" is the only female with the Fifth Cavalry Regiment in Korea. She has caused no end of communications snarls.

Things got so bad Pfc Norman Bates, Weber City, Utah, lineaman, wrote the mess sergeant: "When are we having steak? Miss Korea's available."

Miss Korea—a cow—likes to top off a dinner of grass with a few yards of telephone wire.
