Ousted RFC Official Tells Of Gifts

Merl Young, Boyle To Be Interrogated

WASHINGTON—(P)—A recently fired RFC official Monday testified he accepted a number of gifts from an official of American Lithofold Corporation after helping the company get RFC loans.

Frank Prince, a nephew of Representative Boykin (D-Ala.), said this in a Senate investigation of charges that Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle used political influence to get loans for American Lithofold, a St. Louis printing firm.

W. J. Murray, Jr.

Prince said the then vice president of American Lithofold, R. J. Blauner, presented him with a turkey, "one small ham," a box of oranges, a box of perfumes and a camera. Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), a member of the committee, said the camera was worth $103.

Oliver R. Kraft, assistant manager of the agency's St. Louis office, testified Friday his 1949 vacation expenses were paid by the head of the printing firm. RFC Administrator W. Stuart Symington immediately fired Kraft for "improper conduct."

American Lithofold received RFC loans totaling $546,000 in 1949.

George B. Luce testified RFC directors by-passed the agency's review committee in granting the first of these loans, amounting to $80,000.

Luce is chairman of the review committee, which normally passes on loan applications.

Turned Down Twice
Luce said that "perhaps" the review committee was bypassed because of a deal struck on January 13 and February 2. It had recommended against loans to the St. Louis company.

The review committee's severe recommendations did not specifically deal with the $80,000 loan, however. They were in reference to applications for a $500,000 loan or, as an alternative, a $125,000 working capital loan.

E. Merl Young, a central figure in an earlier RFC probe, was at the hearing. He was to be called later. A Senate Banking subcommittee has described Young, who used to call frequently at the White House, as a member of a group which influenced RFC lending operations.

Senator Mundt (R-ID) said Monday Boyle will be called as a witness in the present inquiry but that "the time to hear Mr. Boyle is not yet."

Midlander, Hurt In Traffic Mishap, Still Unconscious

A Midland salesman still was unconscious Monday in a San Angelo hospital after his car turned over on Highway 67, six miles from San Angelo, Sunday night.

He is Carl Lee Hart, 33, salesman for a frozen foods locker company here.

Mike Foley, who works for the locker company, said Monday Hart still was unconscious but doctors believed he would recover.

The accident occurred Sunday night. Investigating officers found Hart lying underneath his battered car. They said the car probably overturned six to eight times after slipping a bridge. Highway Patrolman John Phillipps said the Hart car, headed west, clipped a concrete bannister at a bridge and went into a roll.

Hart's address in Midland is 1207 South Fort Worth Street. He has a wife and two sons.

Murray To Address Engineers' Meeting Here Monday Night

William J. Murray, Jr., of Austin, member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, will address the first Fall meeting of the Permian Basin Section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers here Monday night.

He will speak following a dinner, which is to be served at 7 p. m. in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Following Murray's address there will be a round-table discussion of a proposal to hold a two-day symposium in Midland to study engineering problems connected with drilling, completion and producing oil wells in the Spraberry Trend reservoirs of the Midland Basin.

Jack M. Moore, president of the section, will preside, and Joe Chastain, vice chairman, will be in charge of the program. Ray S. Ousterhout is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Two Midlanders Are Back In U. S. After Korean Duty

SEATTLE—(P)—Some 279 Texans were among 4,498 combat veterans who returned Friday from Korea aboard the Navy transport Gen. M. C. Meigs. They include:

Sgt. Minor L. Burgie, 105 North Tyler Street, and Pfc. Eugene M. Johnson, 1304 South Lorraine Street, Midland; Sgt. Courtney Bryan, San Angelo; Cpl. Joseph Cooper, Odessa; Capt. James Carruth, San Angelo; Cpl. Ernest French, Odessa; Sgt. Sidney Robinson, Lubbock; M. Sgt. Ernest Schmidt, Abilene; Pvt. John Smith, Jr., Vernon; Cpl. Gerald Solomon, Abilene; Pfc. Henry Teague, Jr., Odessa, and Cpl. William Taylor, Abilene.

Kremlin Likened To Beast

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman Monday likened the Kremlin to "a beast of prey." He spoke at a ceremony in which the United States Constitution and Declaration of Independence were sealed in new protective cases.

Truman said the freedoms embodied in the yellow parchment documents are growing throughout the world except in the Soviet Union, whose rulers, he declared, hold "their citizens in terror and bondage."

"The Soviet citizens live in fear," the President told the audience at the Library of Congress. "Their society is a jungle, through which the naked power of the government prowls like a beast of prey, making all men afraid."

Documents Locked Away
The precious, 175-year-old Declaration of Independence and 164-year-old Constitution were locked away in gas-filled, glass and bronze containers to preserve them for centuries.

Scientists had worked more than a decade designing the new cases to protect them against moisture, vermin, harsh light and other hazards while keeping them still visible, through double-paneled glass, for many future generations.

Truman said the pieces of parchment are more than historical relics—they are a living force in our life today, containing ideas which will never perish.

"These documents," he said, "express the highest principles of political life: That all men have certain inalienable rights, that governments are set up to provide for the welfare of the people, and that the rule of law stands above government."

Alvanley Johnston, Former Rail Union Chief, Dies Monday

CLEVELAND—(P)—Alvanley Johnston, 76, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for 25 years before his retirement last year, died early Monday.

He suffered a heart seizure Sunday night and died in his sleep Monday morning.

At the time of his retirement he said his proudest possession was a 50-year membership in the 81,000-member brotherhood. His successor was James F. Shields.

Johnston, a stocky heavy-set man with iron gray hair, was known as "Al" to thousands of railroaders. His railroad career started at the age of 17, when he became a call boy.

He came to public notice in May, 1946, when his organization and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, led by the late Alexander P. Whitney, clashed with President Truman over a walkout of their unions.

The strike ended in two days, as the President called upon Congress to draft the strikers into the Army.

Lovett Takes Oath As Defense Secretary

WASHINGTON—(P)—Robert A. Lovett Monday became the nation's fourth secretary of Defense.

The oath was administered by Ralph N. Stohl, Defense Department administrative officer.

At the new secretary's side was the man he succeeded, Gen. George C. Marshall, who retired last week.

Blonde Lovely Says Yes To Franchot, Of Now-Pulped Profile

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Franchot Tone, the suave screen lover, lost a fight over a shapely blonde but apparently has won the girl.

Actress Barbara Payton says he proposed and she said "Yes."

Thus the ultimate loser of a pre-dawn movie colony brawl is muscular Tom Neal, who threw the punch which pulped Tone's patrician profile and hospitalized him with a brain concussion.

Neal took it hard. "I was very much in love with the girl, and still am today," he admitted. "I hope she and Tone will be very happy."

Tone, his doctor reports, is on the road to rapid recovery. He proposed marriage Sunday to Miss Payton during her second fire escape visit to his room.

One Question Unanswered
"I love him very much," the 25-year-old film player said afterward in her first cordial encounter with newsmen since the fight. "We knew yesterday that we would marry, but today he asked me."

All of which leaves but one question unanswered in the aftermath of the Friday morning bloodletting in Miss Payton's patio, namely: Will Tone press charges against Neal, the bull-shouldered actor and weight lifter, or will all three principals be content to let the matter drop? Apparently the answer to that one thing is on further conferences between Tone and his lawyer.

Neal emerged from seclusion Sunday night to supplement his previous account of the fight and to

Allies Smash Red Assaults Near Yanggu

EIGHTH ARMY, KOREA—(P)—A North Korean battalion was slashed by Allied artillery late Monday after failing to gain in wild counterattacks on the east-central front.

In all day fighting, the Reds got as far as a saddle between a Red-held hill and an Allied-held height.

The Allies have dubbed the location north of Yanggu "Heartbreak Ridge" because of the many attacks and counterattacks there.

As the Reds fell back down a trail toward the southwest, they came under heavy artillery fire. An Allied officer said results were "excellent." It was not known how many, if any, of the enemy escaped.

When the heavy rifle, mortar and machine gun fire dwindled off in late afternoon, an officer said it had too early to tell if either side had gained ground.

Mixed-Up Affair
"It was a mixed-up affair," he said. "We moved around some and they moved around some."

There was no report of any ground action elsewhere along the 150-mile front.

In groups of 20 to 30, the Reds plunged down on the Allies from a higher position to the north. They fired machine guns and burp guns as they came. Mortar and artillery barrages preceded them.

"Heartbreak Ridge" was named after another savage battle there two weeks ago. It is just north of "Bloody Ridge."

Hundreds of Allied artillery shells pounded against the thick walls of log and dirt bunkers of the Reds. Some were so thick only the heaviest Allied artillery could penetrate them.

The Fifth Air Force defied the elements and mounted relentless attacks on Red rail facilities.

More than 640 missions were flown. Pilots reported 300 rail cars destroyed or damaged, the greatest number in a single day since last May.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, said the Reds are suffering 20 casualties for every Allied soldier killed or injured.

Water Recedes In Flooded Cities; Rio Grande Nears Crest

BROWNSVILLE—(P)—The Rio Grande was expected to crawl out of its banks into Southern Hidalgo and Cameron Counties late Monday or early Tuesday.

About 100 miles northward, high flood waters which sent 350 persons from their homes in Kingsville fell about a foot Sunday night. Transquitas Creek still was spread over a residential area two miles long and one-half mile wide, but the worst appeared past.

Dr. Arthur Moore of the International Boundary Water Commission said the Rio Grande was flowing at 60,000 second feet at Rio Grande City early Monday. The floodwaters begin taking water at 50,000 second feet.

Headed Down-River
The Brownsville Weather Bureau had warned earlier that a rise was headed down the river. The crest was expected at Brownsville by late Monday.

Flooded areas to the north won't be affected by the rising Rio Grande.

Ten to 15 per cent of Kingsville was reported flooded. Water spread over flat lands to a depth that flooded houses just above the window sills.

Farther south, in the lower Rio Grande Valley, flood waters were reported still subsiding at Weslaco. Almost 250 persons were forced out of their homes Saturday night.

Navy Carriers Now Prepared To Handle A-Bombs, Says Boss

WASHINGTON—(P)—Adm. William Fechtler Monday said the Navy now has carrier crews trained to handle atomic bombs.

He said this includes both men in the ship crews and those who fly the carrier planes.

The chief of naval operations said the planes would be used for "tactical" operations of the fleet (against naval targets ashore or at float).

He said the Navy already has two types of planes which can operate off a carrier and carry atomic bombs. They are the AJ attack plane and the P2V Neptune patrol bomber.

The Navy started practicing with the use of simulated atomic bombs last Spring and will use them again in the exercise which started in the Atlantic Sunday, Fechtler said.

During the last year, the nuclear fission weapon experts reportedly have developed a compact size atomic bomb which can be handled in comparatively small planes.

OILERS, ROCKETS MEET IN ROSWELL
ROSWELL—(P)—Odessa and Roswell play the second game of their Longhorn League playoff final series here Monday night.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(P)—An impending hike in the counter price of beef and pork was followed Monday by a new OPS regulation, effective Saturday, to allow increases on cured, corned, cooked, smoked, dried and barbecued beef.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The House passed and sent to the Senate Monday a bill to provide free automobiles for an estimated 17,475 blind or maimed veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean fighting.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Defense Department Monday said it needs a 300,000-pint-a-month blood contribution between now and next July to replenish a stockpile "gravely depleted" because of dwindling donations.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Adm. Robert B. Carney Monday suggested the creation of a Middle Eastern Treaty Organization to strengthen the defense of the vital Mediterranean area.

Texaco Gets Flowing Oil In Prospector In NW-C Midland

The Texas Company has developed flowing oil and a good volume of gas at its No. 3-D Scharbauer, wildcat in Northwest-Central Midland County, five miles southwest of the city of Midland.

This prospector flowed 35.76 barrels of 44.4-gravity oil in four hours and 45 minutes from the Pennsylvanian lime at 10,965-720 feet. The flow was during a drillstem test and was natural. There were no signs of formation water.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,680-1. The flow came during a seven and one-half-hour drillstem test. Gas surfaced in five minutes.

Oil started flowing out at the top in two hours. It was flowed to pits for 15 minutes and then turned to tanks for the four-hour and 45-minute flow.

This project showed a recovery of 2,700 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud and 5,400 feet of gas cut mud during a six and one-half-hour drillstem test at 10,280-489 feet. The section at 10,285-555 feet had some slight shows of gas.

Will Make Production Tests
Operator is preparing to run casing and make production tests.

The prospective new discovery is 600 feet from south and west lines of section 18, block 39, T-2-S, T&P survey. It is about six miles north-east of the nearest completed prospectors in the Parks-Pennsylvanian field and it is one and one-half miles north and a little west of the Hi-Lonesome field which produces from the Wolfcamp section of the lower Permian.

Moore Gets Free Oil In Ellenburger At S-C Iron Wildcat

Moore Exploration Company of Midland has a possible Ellenburger discovery at its No. 1 W. M. Noelke, South-Central Iron County wildcat.

After topping the Ellenburger at 7,794 feet, the elevation of 2,498 feet, the prospector deepened to 7,828 feet and ran a 30-minute drillstem test at 7,750-7,288 feet.

Gas surfaced in six minutes and there was a good blow of gas for the remainder of the test period. No fluid came to the top while the tester was open.

No Water Signs
Recovery was 1,260 feet of clean 40.2 gravity oil and 30 feet of drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water.

Starting open flowing bottom hole pressure was 900 pounds. Final open flowing bottom hole pressure was 775 pounds.

Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 3,075 pounds.

Will Run Pipe
Operator is preparing to run oil string to about 7,800 feet and then make production tests and try to develop a commercial oil well and the opener of a new field.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 1150, TCRB survey. The wildcat is 10 miles southwest of Mertzon.

PB Geophysicists To Meet Tuesday Night

The Permian Basin Geophysical Society will hold its first Fall meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Junior High School Auditorium in Midland.

F. B. Leedy of Seismograph Service Corporation, Tulsa, will read a paper on "The Canadian Oil Boom, and The Problems It Presents Geophysicists."

Two short moving picture films, "Football Highlights of 1950" and "How to Survive An Atomic Attack" will be shown.

New Machine Shop Opened In Midland

Morris & Blunt Tool Company has opened its new machine shop two miles east of Midland on the Garden City Highway.

S. W. Morris, president of the company, plans to move to Midland in the near future. He is now living in Bay City.

D. W. Underwood, vice president, is now in the Navy Air Corp.

Company officials attending an open house held recently were C. K. Elder, superintendent of shops; V. V. McCrew, sales manager; Shannon Moreaux, shop foreman; and Donald Morris.

Missing in action, Army: Pvt. Alfred L. Wilkerson, Houston.

Death At Control Board Fails To Halt Television Show

NEW YORK—(AP)—With their boss dead at the control board, four electricians behaved like real trouper Sunday night and didn't miss a cue as the many Spike Jones television show went on.

Frank Joseph Elmer, 78, was stricken with a heart ailment and slumped against the big control board with about 40 minutes of the hour-long show still to go.

No inkling of what had happened reached the capacity audience of 3,200 persons in the Center Theater in Rockefeller Center.

And nothing appeared wrong to viewers of 43 stations on a National Broadcasting Company network from Boston to Jacksonville, Fla., and west to Omaha.

Presence backstage of a police emergency squad, which worked with doctors without success to revive Elmer, tipped 150-odd performers and technicians that something was wrong. But they didn't know what.

Elmer had been chief electrician of the Center Theater since it was built in 1932.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Rep. Judd Views Danger In Resurgent Japanese Power

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Rep. Walter H. Judd of Minnesota throws a sour note into the otherwise harmonious echoes of the Japanese peace treaty signing at San Francisco.

"If I had been designated as one of the American signers of that treaty," he declares, "I would not have signed it."

Representative Judd was at San Francisco as an alternate delegate and adviser to the American delegation. He had promised U. S. Ambassador John Foster Dulles, architect of the treaty, not to speak out against the document until it was signed. Judd says he is assured by Ambassador Dulles that certain developments after the signing would satisfy all his doubts about the treaty. Dulles could not reveal to him in advance what those developments are to be. But if they do not satisfy him, Judd says he intends to speak out against ratification of the treaty.

The Minnesota congressman is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The House, of course, has no part to play in ratification. But Judd for many years has been one of the most ardent supporters of Chiang Kai-shek and an equally ardent critic of Democratic administration foreign policy in the Far East. His basic theory is there can be no peace in the Far East until China is under an anti-Communist government, allied with the Western powers. Everything else he puts secondary to that.

Judd admits it may be too late to recover China from communism. He believes that it may have been too late ever since 1948. His only hope for bringing China under a democratic government is through support of anti-Communist guerrillas in China. If he had his way, this support would be the number one objective and program for American Far Eastern foreign policy. Ignoring Important Point

The point this might involve the United States in direct intervention in the internal affairs of another government. Judd seems to ignore completely.

As for the Japanese peace treaty Judd considers it as utterly unrealistic. He does not believe that Japan can be made into a democratic country. Within 10 years, perhaps even within two or three

Several good pairs reached a contract of six diamonds in the hand shown today when it came along during the recent national tournament in Washington. The bidding shown with the hand is typical of their style.

North's raise to three diamonds is a slight overbid because the distribution is so poor. Some experts prefer to bid one of the three-card suits rather than jump to three diamonds.

South naturally shows ambition with a bid of four clubs, and North tries to sign off by returning to diamonds. When South makes a second slam try by bidding four hearts, North must show his ace. South then bids the slam in diamonds.

The slam contract is easily made. South draws three rounds of trumps and can then set up his clubs by ruffing the fourth round in dummy. Nothing could be much easier.

At one table South climbed up to six no-trump. Don't ask me how he got there, because the bidding was too horrible to relate. The truth is that this particular South was having a bad day and was trying to regain lost ground by making something out of nothing.

If West had opened a heart, there would be no story to tell. South would be forced to take his singleton ace, setting up West's king. Sooner or later, South would be obliged to start the diamonds, whereupon the defenders could take the ace of diamonds and the king of hearts to set the contract.

West didn't know it was safe to lead hearts, so he opened the queen of spades. South rejoiced mightily when he saw the dummy, because twelve tricks were laid-down with a normal club break. South was a very fine player, even though he had bid this hand like a fool, so he decided not to rely entirely on a normal club break.

Declarer won the first trick with the king of spades and led diamonds until East took his ace. East returned a spade as good as anything, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer thereupon took the ace of hearts and the rest of the diamonds, discarding a small club from dummy on the last diamond.

West could save only five cards. Four of those cards had to be clubs, since otherwise South's long suit would take the rest of the tricks. Hence West was obliged to release the high spade or the king of hearts. Either discard would set up a trick in dummy. South could get to dummy with the queen of clubs in order to cash the trick that had been squeezed out of West; and that trick would squeeze poor West again.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Paris Vacation Doesn't Mean Shelley Is Ready For Wedlock

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Behind the Screen: Hollywood's best soap opera of 1951, "Will Shelley Winters Marry Farley Granger?" isn't necessarily headed for the orange blossom and wedding ring chapter just because they'll be hand-holding-it around Europe the next six weeks.

Shelley, who's in the Oscar running for her performance in "A Place in the Sun," slipped me the word just before she completed a new movie role, grabbed Farley's hot little hand and hopped aboard a plane for Paris.

"I still don't know if I want to get married," she told me. "Sometimes I think I do." Then, as a quick afterthought, she added: "But why should I get married? Then there won't be any more wonderful publicity."

Shelley scampered off the set of "Phone Call From a Stranger" to answer a phone call from Granger and came back with: "Farley says to tell you he'll be staying on the Right Bank in Paris and I'll be on the Left Bank."

"That," I deadpanned, "may hurt you politically."

"Maybe so," snapped Shelley, "but it won't hurt me morally."

It isn't generally known, but George Raft took the Rocky Jordan radio show for AFRA wage scale on a sustaining basis just to establish himself with the character of his Face is Red.

Stewart Granger is embarrassed—and willing to admit it—about his old English movies popping up on television. "They were awful and I was awful," he told me between scenes and MGM's re-make of "Scarborough." One of the old flickers is "The Magic Box," in which he plays a violinist. "That's one I'm particularly embarrassed about," his teeth gnashed.

He can't win deep: Nancy Sinatra already has tied up Frankie boy's

20 per cent financial share of "Meet Danny Wilson," the movie he recently completed at U.I. Biggest laugh on the set, by the way, was Frank's makeup man packing a revolver.

Vera Ellen is just about the only person in Hollywood who isn't surprised at the boxoffice success of her English musical, "Happy Go Lovely," which was quietly filmed in London a year and a half ago. "I knew it was a good script," she told me, "and I got MGM's permission to do the part because there was much more dialog and acting for me than I usually get. Now people are coming up to me saying, 'You know, I LIKED 'Happy Go Lovely.'"

It won't be in the publicity releases, but MGM's "Lovely to Look At" is a remake of Irene Dunne's great hit, "Roberta."

Her "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" number now is a dream sequence for Marge and Gower Champion, who join the movie space scientists by dancing out of this world onto the Milky Way.

Phyllis Kirk's contract at Warners after she was dropped at MGM resulted in angry words and a partnership split-up between two Hollywood agents.

They're telling about the Dixie-born stenographer at Paramount who cooed: "Isn't it just wonderful about the studio signing up that Southern boy from 'The King and I?'"

"Southern boy?" gasped her companion.

"I'm talking about You-All Brynner, honey," came the floorer.

Short Takes: A Hollywood men's clothing store is advertising "Final Purge." Joan Leslie has signed for a Fireside Theater show, "Black Savannah."

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee's 21-year-old daughter, Alison Elizabeth, became engaged Sunday to her brother's commanding officer, Capt. Richard Lionel Davis.

Attlee's son, Martin—a corporal in the British Army—introduced the 24-year-old captain to his sister at a party last Christmas.

The engagement was announced at No. 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's official London residence. No date for the wedding was set.

The word "spinster" comes from the old custom which decreed that girls spin their trousseaux before marriage.

68 Die When French Craft Strikes Mine

SAIGON, INDOCHINA—(AP)—A French landing ship blew up last week, killing 68 of the troops aboard and injuring 56. Most troops were Indochinese.

Censorship prevented disclosure until now of the explosion at Ba-dong, 72 miles south of Saigon, last Monday. French Army sources said the craft hit a 600-pound mine laid by Communist-led Vietminh forces, with whom the French and Viet Namese troops are at war.

Seven of the dead and seven of the injured were Frenchmen.

Atom Warfare Tests Slated For Doughboys

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Ground troops will be trained for atomic warfare during actual test explosions in Nevada. Representative Durham (D-NC) said Sunday. How many troops will be used and when the tests will occur were not revealed by Durham, vice chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, when he told of the proposed training.

The tests and training of ground forces on how to avoid radiation and other atomic explosion effects would be just like training civilians in best methods to avoid injury in case of an attack, Durham said.

AAUW Begins Fall Season With Coffee, Fashion Show

The American Association of University Women launched its fall season Saturday with a seated coffee and style show featuring fashions from Grammer-Murphy. The event brought out the largest attendance recorded at an AAUW opening reception.

It was held in the garden of Mrs. Charles Henderson's home. Greeting the guests were Mrs. Terry Tidwell, president; Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, program chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Hendrick, chairman of branch meetings.

Scout Leaders Course Begins

Approximately 20 persons have registered for the Girl Scout Leaders' course which began Monday in the Little House.

The two-week course, under the direction of Mrs. I. A. Searles, counselor, is scheduled to be held from 9-11 each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Assisting Mrs. Searles is Mrs. J. C. Riniker.

As a special feature of the course, a nursery for small children will be provided during class hours. Registration still is open. Those interested are welcome to attend all or only part of the sessions.

Those registered are Mrs. Fred Burleson, Mrs. Walter Beadle, Mrs. Robert M. Parks, Mrs. Ernest Neill, Mrs. W. T. Moore, Mrs. L. W. Hynd, Mrs. J. W. Donnan, Mrs. A. P. Belcher, Mrs. W. O. Keller, Mrs. Ben Johnson, Mrs. Robert Peyton, Mrs. William L. Jones, Mrs. Robert E. Cramer, and Kay Wraga, junior, daughter of Louis Wraga, Garden City Highway.

THETA'S ANNOUNCE PLEDGES

Determined Women Sold Men On Idea Of Wearing Shorts

If you don't believe that women are the more determined sex, look at how they've sold men on the idea of wearing shorts.

When women first decided that shorts were the ideal costume for doing housework and gardening, men threw up their hands in real horror.

They thought women looked terrible in shorts and said so. They thought women who wore shorts were looking for masculine attention. I once heard a man remark: "How many women do you suppose would get out in their front yards and push power mowers if they couldn't wear shorts?"

They thought the woman who was too plump or too thin to look well in shorts was silly to wear them.

But the women went right on wearing shorts. And now, of course, they have their husbands wearing them, too.

Papa, who once sneered at women who wear shorts to do yard work, now comes home from the office and gets into shorts before he tackles any job around the yard.

It doesn't occur to Papa that anybody will think he is showing off when he wears shorts to push the lawn mower.

More Comfortable

Nor does he ever stop to wonder if he looks as handsome in a pair of shorts as in a business suit.

All he cares about is that he's comfortable. Yet when Mama was introducing shorts to the American home, Papa couldn't believe she liked them because she had at last found the ideal summer working uniform.

Now, of course, there's not much he can say.

After all, the average woman is more fetching in a pair of shorts than the average man. And if he wears them purely for comfort, how he intimates that she doesn't find them just as comfortable?

It didn't take women long to sell men on the idea of shorts. It was a short shorts story.

'Win Or Else' Attitude

Over in Wichita Falls a football coach was hung in effigy Friday night, while down in San Angelo the same night, an irate fan telephoned the newspaper there suggesting it get the San Angelo Bobcats in six-man football "where they belong."

Defeats, neither outlandish, had just been suffered by the Wichita Falls and San Angelo High School teams in their first games of the season. The two Class AAAA clubs were defeated by Class AAA squads, Vernon noising out Wichita Falls, 6-0, and Midland defeating San Angelo, 21-6.

There surely was not sufficient cause in either case to bring about "hangings" or unjust criticisms concerning the coaches and the teams involved.

But there is something else which makes the Wichita Falls and San Angelo incidents all the more ironical. It just so happens that the Wichita Falls Coyotes were the state champions in 1950, and the San Angelo Bobcats last year annexed the championship in their district.

Coaches of both schools, less than a year ago, were heroes in their respective communities. Now, just because they lost the opening games of the 1951 season, the very same coaches are bums in the eyes of some over zealous, rabid citizens. We term such actions unfair and unjust, yet many high school football coaches throughout Texas are faced with similar treatment year in and year out.

Fortunately, the vast majority of football fans perhaps do not feel that way about their coaches and teams; at least we hope that is the case. Yet, what are the loyal fans doing about it?

The actions of the minorities in the two cases mentioned point up a general trend in which "win or else" is stressed more and more each year in high school football. College football for years has been plagued by this menace, which now threatens schoolboy football in many instances.

Fans generally, and in many instances unintentionally, place too much stress on the word "win." Certainly, we all like to win at football or anything else, but at the same time we must remember that in sports events, someone must lose, too. And, after all, there is much to be gained, aside from winning, in high school sports.

It is something for us to think about. Meanwhile, we sympathize with the hundreds of faithful and courageous high school football coaches, many of whom, it seems, are fully appreciated only if they win every contest.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Five millionaire senators helped draft discriminatory tax schedule; Coal-mine owners get special favor.

WASHINGTON — The men who run the Senate Finance Committee are among the wealthiest in Congress, including five millionaires. Most of the others have large outside incomes well above their $13,000-a-year Senate salaries.

Yet these well-heeled senators have just finished drafting a complicated, new tax bill that will spare the rich and soak the poor more than at any time since the days of Andy Mellon. It literally is polka-dotted with loopholes to benefit special, private interests all the way from mine owners to oyster-shell dealers.

What the Senate Finance Committee has done is trim one and a half billions off the House tax bill, in such a way that 90 per cent of this tax saving goes to the rich who can afford to pay more. Only a paltry $200 million will be cut off the tax bill of the small-income people who earn less than $5,000 per year.

For example, the House approved a 12-1/2 per cent boost in individual income taxes. The Senate committee cut this to 11 per cent, then threw in a clause for the special benefit of some of their own group. This clause would limit the increase to eight per cent of all income remaining after taxes are paid under the present law. The way this works out, it would benefit single people making more than $27,000 a year, or married couples making more than $54,000 a year. The loss to the Treasury is estimated at half a billion dollars annually and the low-bracket taxpayer gets no benefit.

The Senate committee also reduced taxes on corporations, which are now earning at the rate of $30 billion per year—the largest profits in history. Most of these profits are coming from the Korean war boom, yet the Finance Committee whittled down the excess-profits tax to the tune of an estimated $750 million.

In just one stroke, the senators saved the big corporations another approximately half a billion dollars. The House had adopted the normal procedure and had voted corporate tax increases to take effect as of Jan. 1, 1951. However, the Senate changed this tax date to April 1, 1951.

Children Are Partners. Although the House already had added a few loopholes to the tax bill, the Senate Finance Committee adopted all the House loopholes and added several more of its own. Here are some of the most glaring loopholes, designed to save taxes to the wealthy but add to the tax burden of the poor:

Have a Laugh

A banker from the East was visiting California during the depression. The visitor asked, "Where is Brown, the banker I met when I was here 10 years ago?" "Oh," was the reply, "he died in 1928." The Eastern banker exclaimed, "The lucky fellow!"

CHEHALIS, WASH.—(AP)—A private plane crashed shortly after taking off from the Chehalis Airport Sunday, killing the pilot and three passengers.

Lewis County Sheriff Frank Thayer said the dead were: Clarence E. Falk, 30, Pendleton, Ore., the pilot.

Lloyd E. Rachau, 16, Onalaska, Lee Berg, 16, South Bend, Wash.

10-Year-Old Boy Saves Girl Playmate From Jaws Of Gator

CORAL GABLES, FLA.—(AP)—A nine-year-old girl was in "fair" condition Monday after her companion, 10, pulled her from the jaws of an alligator.

Patrolman George Tomlinson reported Jerry Gustafson had a broken right arm and had lost considerable blood after being mauled by the six-foot reptile.

The girl and 10-year-old Parker Stratt Sunday were wading in a rock pit when the gator snatched Jerry.

Q—Was Helen of Troy a real person?

A—No, she was a character of ancient Greek mythology. Helen, the most beautiful of women, was the heroine of the Trojan War.

Q—Where is the deepest spot yet found in any ocean?

A—Cape Johnson Deep, located in an undersea canyon called the Mindanao Trench, in the Philippine Sea. On July 14, 1954, the skipper of the Navy transport, Cape Johnson, sounded a depth of 34,400 feet. The hole would hold 27 Empire State buildings.

Q—When was the first Conscription Act passed by Congress?

A—On Feb. 3, 1865. It was applied to all male citizens and those of foreign birth 20-45 years of age. Those who could pay $300 for substitute were exempted.

Q—Who participated in the historic duel on Weehawken Heights, N. J., on July 11, 1809?

A—Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton. Hamilton was killed.

Q—How did William F. Cody receive the name "Buffalo Bill"?

A—In 1867, he made a contract with the Kansas Pacific Railway to supply its laborers with buffalo meat. In the ensuing 18 months he shot 4,280 buffaloes, and so was dubbed "Buffalo Bill."

The deepest sounding recorded in any of the Great Lakes was in Lake Superior at a depth of 1,296 feet.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★ Mumps Is More To Be Feared In Adults Than In Children

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service.

When working in a contagious disease hospital some years ago we always visited the mumps patients last. This was because mumps is particularly contagious and it is easy to carry it from one person to another; avoiding cross infections in contagious disease hospitals is difficult and important.

Mumps, like other contagious diseases, is more common in children than grown-ups and when the latter do get it, they wish they had had it while young. It is not pleasant at any age.

It is inconvenient, somewhat painful—especially when chewing certain foods—and is scarcely flattering to the features. Also it is not a perfectly harmless affliction since complications in the kidneys, joints, or brain are not unknown.

But the most feared complication is what is spoken of as "sexing down"—involvement of the sex glands. This is much more common in men and does not occur at all before the age of maturity which is an argument for having the disease early if at all.

Studies have been made on this complication. In general, it seems that it doesn't occur too often. When it does, one side only is frequently involved, and mumps is not often the cause of complete sterility. Mumps also is a virus disease. It is curious that it should have such a liking for the salivary glands (parotid) lying on the sides of the jaws. It also is strange that even though it is highly contagious, it often attacks the gland on one side only, leaving the other one susceptible to infection at some later time.

One can expect the first symptoms of mumps about eight days after exposure. As is true of the other contagious diseases, local quarantine regulations vary, but apparently there is little danger of infecting others after the swelling has gone down or eight days after the appearance of the first symptoms.

Osteopath's Wife Asks New Probe Of Husband's Fadeout

EL PASO (AP)—The wife of an osteopath who vanished in Big Bend National Park has asked for a new investigation into her husband's disappearance.

Mrs. Robert H. North wired her request to Director Homer Garrison of the Department of Public Safety.

Her husband disappeared in the park in 1947. His car was found two weeks ago in an arroyo.

The game was as crooked as a hound's hind leg and twice as dirty.

I WAS 21, a full Colonel of Confederate Cavalry—Col. John Buell Clayton—outside Appomattox when all of us on General Gordon's staff prepared for the awkward task of surrendering gracefully to "Little Phil" Sheridan.

Imagine our feeling when we saw, not Sheridan, but an unknown Union general whose appearance was so remarkable as to keep us all in silence as he drew up.

A nervous private, standing close to me, muttered, "Look at his hair. Yellowish field corn in August." While he was still 75 yards out, an ungallant private had half raised his musket as though to fire at him. Guessing the man's intent, I struck the piece from his hand, ordering his arrest in a back-dung sentence without taking my eyes off the approaching Union officer.

I was satisfied that General Custer had been a trigger-finger twitch from death, the honor of the Confederate Army equally close to being disgraced. But the action had been so swift, so completely unprovoked, that the men in our own company had not seen its occurrence. That Custer might have seen this by-play seemed incredible.

But he stopped. "Colonel"—his voice had a disturbing depth—"my compliments. You have doubtless struck the piece from his hand, ordering his arrest in a back-dung sentence without taking my eyes off the approaching Union officer."

He gestured toward the soldier who would have shot him. "May I issue an order, Colonel?" I nodded back perfunctorily, and he called to the corporal who stood guard over my trooper. "Corporal, release your prisoner, please. Give him back his rifle."

He sharp, near-foot spin, he presented his saber to the entire line. "My compliments to the incomparable Confederate Army."

I SHALL recount nothing further of the death of the Confederacy. Such accounting as has been given, may be regarded as the preface to the real saga of my life and its westward course.

My sole assets at the outset of the journey west, beyond a personal hardihood, were my horse and an old Dragoon revolver. Hussein, the foundation of this dilapidated, near-foot spin, he presented his saber to the entire line.

My compliments to the incomparable Confederate Army. In a few hands, with a luck not inherent in an honest deck, I had won a considerable amount. Now came the hand for which I had been waiting. From the betting it was evident everyone had been dealt a big hand. The man on my right opened; I raised. The man on my left, a small, simian-eyed prospector, raised. The first of the two riggers did likewise and his partner raised him. The last man dropped.

The man on my left front, the smaller of the two sharps, was exceedingly thin, shallow-eyed, nervous and quick, with a mouth almost lipless, above a sallow, weedy goatee. His clothing was stylish, of good quality. It would be fatally easy to underestimate his hypersensitive type in a gunplay. The other man called Slate, who was dealing, was big, quiet, compelling, not quite the picture of the conventional cardman. I got the feeling, watching him make his lazy, slow moves handling cards and money, there was in him some animal strain of vitality. In the entire play he had not said a word, making his bets and requests with monosyllabic grunts.

It would be a hazard to fix his age, but it was probably no less than 35. His dress was that of a buffalo hunter. Two late-model Colt's hung low and far forward on his massive thighs. At variance with the custom, he wore his mustache trimmed close and was otherwise smooth-shaven, while his hair, which was the most singular hue of ashen-gray, escaped in thick growth from beneath his black slouch hat. His skin was prairie-burned almost mahogany. I held three queens, drawing the fourth and a jack. The only sounds came from the watchers, an occasional cough, the nervous clearing

Rumors Say Truman Writes Off Ike As Democratic Nominee

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman is reported to have told former Senator Burton K. Wheeler he doesn't expect any general to be nominated on the 1952 Democratic ticket.

This apparently put a further presidential dent in rumors that Truman might decide to step aside in favor of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at next year's convention—if the Republicans don't beat the Democrats and nominate the general first.

The President told a recent news conference he doesn't believe Eisenhower is interested in the Democratic nomination.

Wheeler would not comment on the matter at all, but the story told by his former senatorial colleagues goes like this:

Wheeler, who served as something of a mentor for Truman when the latter was a freshman senator, went to the White House before he made a recent trip to Mojana.

The President urged Wheeler now a Washington lawyer, to seek the Democratic senatorial nomination in Montana next year to oppose Senator Esten (R-Mont.), who beat him in 1946.

More to feel out the President's intentions than anything else, Wheeler remarked that he might not be too happy running in Montana on a ticket headed by a general.

The President assured Wheeler he wouldn't have to worry about that—nothing like that would happen.

Truman didn't add anything about his own plans, however, as senators told the story.

Council To Decide On Oil Surfacing Of Midland Streets

The City Council will decide Thursday whether oil surfacing will be placed on three dirt streets in the south side of Midland.

Residents of the areas have complained about the dusty streets and the council is ready to put the oil on them.

But first, they want to know if that treatment would be acceptable to the residents.

So Mayor Perry Pickett has invited them to appear before the council at 3 p.m. Thursday to state their views.

The streets concerned include Terrell and Marienfeld Streets from the railroad tracks to Florida Street and Big Spring Street from Missouri Street to Florida Street.

U. S. Engineer Held For Ransom By Huks

MANILA — (AP) — An American engineer, kidnaped by Communist Huks Thursday, is alive in a Zamboanga Mountains hideout and is being held for ransom.

He is Henry W. Corp, 66, of the Pampanga Sugar Mill.

Corp disappeared Thursday near Del Carmen, 40 miles northwest of Manila.

A mail spokesman said Corp was alive. He declined to say how that information was received from the almost inaccessible mountain range.

22 KILLED, 500 HURT WHEN THEATER COLLAPSES
CAMPINAS, BRAZIL — (AP) — Twenty-two persons were crushed to death and 500 injured Sunday after an old movie house collapsed during a Sunday matinee.

Forty were hurt seriously. The cause was unknown.

Texas Elementary School Enrollment Hits New High

By The Associated Press
Reading, writing and arithmetic teaching got down to routine for the 1961-62 school year in Texas Monday with many elementary grades operating temporarily on a split-schedule.

Splitting classes into morning and afternoon grades resulted from heavy enrollment increases. This is particularly true in such cities as Fort Worth, San Angelo and Austin.

Fort Worth school officials believe a bumper crop of war babies caused some of the record rise, along with the rapid growth of industrial and defense plants.

A few cities such as Paris, Snyder and Marshall, reported slight decrease in enrollment. Many schools age children still are working in harvest fields.

Harlingen attributed a decline to the roundup of Mexicans in this country illegally.

Textbook Problems
The heavy enrollments are causing the state textbook problems.

Herman Glass, director of the textbook division of the State Education Agency in Austin, reported a flood of emergency orders from

14 Persons Die In Cabaret Holocaust

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Fourteen persons were burned fatally or trampled to death when flames, touched off by fireworks, flashed through the crowded "Can Can" Cabaret Sunday. The victims included one U. S. business man.

Ten of the dead were women—mostly hostesses. The American was identified as Read E. Goodridge, 51, Baltimore, Md., dealer in rare books.

Ninety persons were injured in the disaster 26 of them seriously. About a thousand persons jammed the place when the fire broke out.

The noisy, dark cabaret was crowded with Mexicans celebrating their independence day when a firecracker set fire to the strips of red, white and green paper—Mexico's national colors. Earlier reports had said the blaze was set by an exploding skyrocket.

Police gave this version of the disaster:
During the night, a group of men at one table had been amusing themselves tossing lighted firecrackers at the feet of the dancers. Sparks from one firecracker touched off the paper decorations and flames shot up the left wall of the long, narrow room.

There was a rush for the door, which was less than three feet wide. In front of it was a solid screen so passers-by could not look into the cabaret. The crowd piled up against this. A screaming mass of men and women fought and clawed to get out.

Some fell and were trampled. Others died in the flames.

Three Of Premature Quadruplets Survive

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Three of Baltimore's latest quads still were holding their own Monday but were on the critical list at city hospitals.

Gloria died Saturday. She was the third of the two girls and two boys born Friday night to Mrs. Susie Avance, 31-year-old negro widow.

The quads were delivered within six minutes of each other and were the third set born in Baltimore within five years.

The infants' weights ranged from two pounds, six ounces, to two pounds, 14 ounces. They were born about six weeks prematurely.

Mrs. Avance's husband was stabbed to death two months ago. She has five other children besides the surviving quads.

schools all over the state, especially in East Texas. He said there is plenty of money for texts, and plenty of texts, but his office is about a week behind in filling orders.

Glass estimated the state enrollment increase at about 40,000 but emphasized it was a guess. An Associated Press survey indicated his guess was low.

At Odessa, enrollment stood at 9,564 with two elementary schools on double-day schedules, but regular schedules were expected to be resumed when two new schools open, one in October and one at the end of the semester. Odessa had 8,928 last year.

Wichita Falls enrollment stood at 10,230, compared with 9,656. Two elementary schools there were operating on split shifts. Two new elementary schools have opened in Wichita Falls since the beginning of school in 1960 and annexes have been added to four others.

Fort Worth's enrollment has reached 44,549 and was expected to reach 48,000 or 49,000 in 1960.

A record of 62,000 youngsters flocked to school at Dallas.

San Antonio's enrollment reached 49,971 compared with 47,137.

Paris was one of only two points to report a decrease. Public schools there have enrolled only 3,195, compared to 3,470 last year, and Paris Junior College has 336, compared to last year's 404.

Snyder, West Texas oil city, reported 3,211 and expects the total will reach 3,400, but this is still below last year's peak of 3,450. Several temporary frame buildings built last year are in use at Snyder. Two 18-classroom elementary buildings and a new high school are being built.

Denton reported a new record at 3,437. Last year there were 3,342. Amarillo has 810 pupils on half-day schedules at five schools. The situation will ease in about two months with completion of three new schools and an addition to another. Amarillo's enrollment totals 13,958 compared with 12,484 last year.

17,711 At Austin
Situations by cities included:
Austin — Big increase in elementary grades upped the enrollment to 17,731—522 more than a year ago. Several elementary schools doubled up.

Lubbock — Enrollment 12,557, compared to 11,844. Two new four-room schools were opened on outskirts of Lubbock, but still elementary schools were forced on half-day sessions for four groups of first graders. Facilities are adequate for senior high school students.

Abilene — Enrollment 8,007. Last year was 6,635. Three new elementary schools were built during the summer. Part of the high school study hall groups met outside on the campus for the first few days.

Midland Sets Record
Midland — Record enrollment of 6,284, compared to 4,286. One new elementary school built and construction beginning on new junior high school and another elementary school. Some classes held in auditoriums.

Port Arthur — Enrollment 11,737, compared to 10,987. One new elementary building open and three more schools authorized in bond issues.

Vernon — Enrollment 2,442 and 500 more expected. Was 2,720 at end of school last year. Senior class is smallest in 20 years because of 12-grade system started some years ago.

Big Spring — Enrollment 4,141, compared to 3,926.

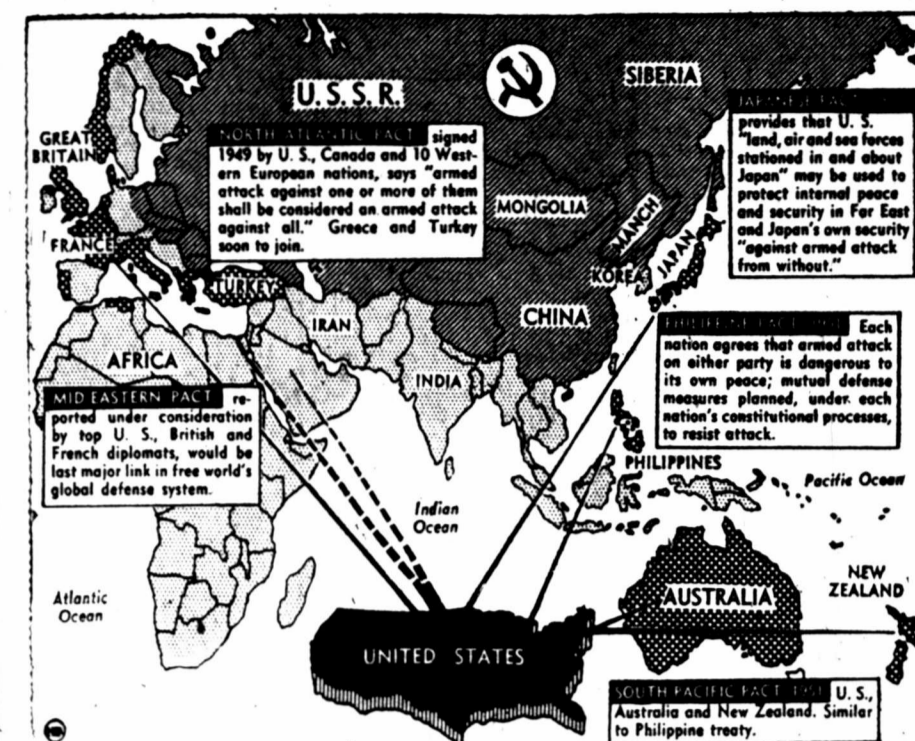

San Angelo — Enrollment 6,883. Supt. Bryan Dickson predicted last year's 8,006 final enrollment would be expected. Three elementary schools on half-day sessions in some classes.

Cancer Conference Slated For Midland

A tumor clinic teaching conference, to acquaint physicians with latest methods of diagnosis and treatment of cancer, will be held in Midland October 3, under sponsorship of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division.

Invited to the special session are all doctors of the Society's District 2, which comprises twenty-one counties of West Texas.

Dr. Roecoe B. G. Cowper, District 2 medical director of the Cancer Society, said the conference is designed to help the family physician acquaint himself with latest information about cancer. The medical program will be presented by staff members of the Baylor University-Jefferson Davis Hospital Tumor Clinic of Houston, a cancer facility supported by Cancer Crusade funds.

U. S. DEFENSE PACTS RING RED WORLD — The Newsmag above shows how defense pacts with other free nations extend U. S. frontiers to the fringes of the Iron Curtain. A critical area perhaps soon to be bolstered by a mutual defense alliance is the Middle East. In addition to pacts listed here, the U. S. is aligned with 20 Latin American nations in a mutual-defense arrangement signed in Rio de Janeiro in 1947.

Walter S. Burgess Dies At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER — Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Monday for Walter S. Burgess, 70, a retired railroad man who died Saturday of a heart ailment. He had lived here since 1926 and was the father of a Midland man.

Rev. Roy Grote of the Salem Lutheran Church of Roscoe will officiate at the services in the Betterson Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in the Sweetwater Cemetery.

Surviving are the widow here; a son, Walter, Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Savell of Santa Rosa and Mrs. Pearl Dodson of La Feria; two brothers, Richard and Thad, Beaumont; and a sister, Mrs. T. B. Merryman, Beaumont.

INJURES HIP

J. G. Smith of Terminal, a roughneck for the BB&M Drilling Company, suffered an injured hip Sunday when a chain slipped and struck him. He was given emergency treatment and released at Midland Memorial Hospital.

CAR ACCIDENT

Stanley H. McComb of Crawford, Texas, received abrasions and lacerations of the nose Sunday in a car accident. McComb was injured when he ran into the rear of a car which had stopped suddenly. He was given emergency treatment and released at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Convict Leaps To Death From Roof Of Kentucky Prison

LA GRANGE, KY. — (AP) — A convict, imprisoned for a 19-cent robbery, leaped head-first to his death from a state reformatory roof Sunday when guards surprised him and three other prisoners in hiding.

Warden Renald L. Whaley said Willie Cole, 23, darted to the edge of the boiler room roof and dived to the concrete paving below.

The quartet had been missing since two other convicts fled shortly after midnight Friday in a dense fog amid a hail of shots.

Cole was sentenced for robbing and beating 73-year-old Fletcher Smith in Lawrence County, Kentucky. Cole took 19 cents from his victim.

Burglars Blow Safe, Get $600 In Cash

More than $600 in cash was reported missing Sunday after burglars broke into the Midland Mercantile Company office at 922 South Main Street and blew open a safe.

Police reported entrance was gained by forcing open the front door during Saturday night.

Sheriff's deputies, Ranger John Wood and city police were investigating the robbery.

53 Aboard Airliner Escape Death When Craft Belly-Lands

CHICAGO — (AP) — A Florida-bound plane crash-landed Sunday and the pilot's expert handling of the crippled ship was credited with saving the lives of 53 persons aboard.

Pilot-Capt. B. J. Mountain of Miami, Fla., was lauded for making an "excellent" belly-landing of the converted twin-engine Army C-46 in a field near Midway Airport.

Mountain brought the ship down shortly after getting airborne, when the left engine failed.

The plane was damaged badly and both engines were torn away in the wheels-up landing but none of those aboard was seriously injured.

Most of the 50 injured suffered only minor cuts and bruises. Thirty-seven passengers plus the crew of four were treated at two hospitals and others were examined by doctors at the scene. Fourteen persons were hospitalized but their injuries were described as not serious. A four-month-old child was among the injured.

The plane, owned by the Peninsular Air Transport Company of Miami, was leased to the Safeway Skycoach Airline Company of Chicago. It was starting a chartered trip to Miami with stops at Cincinnati and St. Petersburg, Fla.

CAB Officials Start Probe Of Air Show Crash In Colorado

FLAGLER, COLO. — (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board official says CAA regulations obviously were violated in an air show plane crash which killed 20 persons.

Seventeen persons were injured. A stunt plane plunged into closely parked cars and spectators Saturday during an air show in this small farming town.

Regional CAB Chief R. P. Parrish, directing a probe Monday, said:

"It was obvious the pilot was too close to the crowd."
He described the crash as "the worst tragedy involving a small aircraft in this country's aviation history."

He said it would be five days before it will be known if there is to be a public inquiry. The decision, he said, will be made in Washington.

An inquest has been called Monday by Kit Carson County Coroner William Hendricks to establish responsibility and causes of death.

The 20, including the pilot, were killed or injured fatally as a low wing monoplane stunt craft crashed and scattered over 150 yards packed with rows of parked cars and spectators at an air show highlighting the Flagler Fall Festival.

Many of the dead will have mass funerals. Services are scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday, some at Stratton and Arriba, nearby, but most of them here.

Democrats Sweep Turkish By-Election

ISTANBUL, TURKEY — (AP) — The 16-month-old Democratic Party government of Premier Adnan Menderes won 18 out of 20 seats contested in a Parliament by-election Sunday.

The Republican People's Party won the other two seats.

If the official tabulation is maintained, the Democrats will have 421 seats, the People's Party 61, and the Nation Party one.

The British Dominion of New Zealand has an area of 109,935 square miles and a population of 1,902,000.

Collegians Still May Be Deferred, Says Draft Counsel

WASHINGTON — (AP) — College students who get good enough marks will continue to be deferred from the draft despite larger draft calls, a Selective Service official said Sunday night.

Only a "substantial change" in the size of the armed forces, now set at 3,500,000, would change the present deferment schedule for college men, Daniel Omer, general counsel for Selective Service, told a radio audience.

But larger draft calls and fewer deferments for other draft eligibles, Omer said, are inevitable because "military manpower is the scarcest wartime commodity in America."

He said the rejection rate is running about 60 per cent, which he called "very high," and that only about 80,000 men a month are attaining the minimum draft age of 18 1/2 years. The draft call for October is 46,000 men, highest since last Spring.

Rape-Slaying Suspect Surrenders To Police

DOUBLE SPRINGS, ALA. — (AP) — Claude Green, 46-year-old sawmill worker who evaded an intensive manhunt for nine days, surrendered Sunday to face rape-murder indictments.

Green, of Nauvoo, Ala., was indicted by the Winston County grand jury for the rape and brutal murder of Mrs. Z. A. Boushell, 77-year-old cattle raiser whose nude, partly burned body was found September 8 in the home where she lived alone.

PERMIT GRANTED

The Anchor Gasoline Corporation has been granted a permit to do business in Texas by Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd, with offices in Midland. Texas agent is Joe R. Wright, and capital stock of the concern was listed at $150,000.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Not Another Bite

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was going to have a little vacation. He said goodbye to Mother Ringtail and Mugwump, and down he slid to the ground, and away he walked up the Elephant Path. He walked and walked, and rode a while on the back of a friendly elephant, and then he walked some more until he came to the little house where Grandmother

Ringtail lives. Ah yes, and Grandmother Ringtail of course was very happy to see him. She ran out the door with a happy smile, wiping her hands on her apron. And Granddaddy Ring-tail was there, and Uncle Bunkum who had come for a visit from the zoo, and what a fine dinner of scrambled coconut everyone now enjoyed.

Granddaddy Ringtail said everyone should eat all they could, because Grandmother Ringtail was always happiest when folks were eating all they could. And Grandmother Ringtail said please indeed for everyone to eat all they could, because there was plenty more in the kitchen. And so everyone ate all they could, and then some more, until they couldn't have eaten another bite if someone had made them do it.

"I sure do wish Mother Ringtail and Mugwump were here," said Granddaddy Ringtail.

By WESLEY DAVIS

"Yes," said Grandmother Ringtail, "and I wish the poor old Monkey Catcher at Uncle Bunkum's zoo could have some of our food to eat."

"Well sir," said Uncle Bunkum, laughing his cackly, cackly laugh, "fix up a plate for the Monkey Catcher, Grandmother Ringtail, and I will eat it for him."

"Now, now, Uncle Bunkum!" said Daddy Ringtail with a happy laugh. "Uncle Bunkum, you have already eaten all you could, and then you ate until you couldn't eat another bite if someone made you, and so of course you can't be eating another bite for the Monkey Catcher, and so I will eat it for you."

Tsk! Tsk! Tsk! and imagine! Why, Daddy Ringtail already had eaten as much as Uncle Bunkum, and so how could he now eat any more? And how could Uncle Bunkum eat any more, since he already had eaten as much as Daddy Ringtail?

Well, when people go to Grandmother's house, they can eat more than ever before in their lives. I guess, and so that is what our friends did. They ate until they couldn't eat not one more bite until supper time, all on a very happy day.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-Geological Society To Have Luncheon At Noon Tuesday

of Northeast Upton, Plymouth Oil Company No. 3 Greathouse was completed for a 34-hour potential of 135.23 barrels of oil.

Gravity of the petroleum was 37.2 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 1,759-1. Flow was through a one-half-inch tubing choke.

Production is coming through perforations from 4,830 to 5,200 feet. Plugged back depth is 7,777 feet. The section was hydraulic fracturing with 2,000 gallons.

Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 3, block A, C05D&R0NG survey.

Republic Natural Gas Company has completed its No. 3-A Rosa Barnett as a new well in the Benedict field of Central-East Upton County. The well flowed 24 hours through a one-inch tubing choke to make an initial production of 432.80 barrels of 39.1-gravity oil.

Gas-oil ratio was 741-1. No water was present.

Total depth is 7,505 feet. The oil is coming from perforations at 5,490-5,530 feet.

Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 40, block Y, TCRR survey.

Child Burned Fatally In Game With Fire

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—Loretta Kelly, seven, burned to death while playing a new game she called "Burning Boxes."

The fire game caused Loretta's dress to ignite and transformed her into a torch Sunday as she ran screaming to her home.

Loretta's game involved tying a piece of wire to a cardboard box stuffed with paper, setting fire to the box and "winding it around her head to fan the flames."

Norsworthy Plugs Central Nolan Test

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., No. 2-A Nita Mae Brooks, wildcat in Central Nolan County, has been plugged and abandoned at 8,100 feet. It did not report logging any shows for commercial production.

The failure was six and one-half miles northeast of Maryneal and 600 feet from north and west lines of section 53, block X, T&P survey.

'Buddy System' Of Enlistment Adopted

The "buddy system" of enlistment in the U. S. Air Force has been instituted here, according to Sgt. Shelby Wheeler, recruiter.

Wheeler said "buddies" enlisting in the Air Force will be permitted to take basic training together at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, and will be permitted to remain together later, if they get the same type of duty.

Two 1951 graduates of Midland High School already have applied under the "buddy system." Applicants were urged to visit the recruiting office, in the basement of the Post Office, before October 1.

Oil Output Booming At Record Rates In Persian Gulf Area

CAIRO —(AP)—Spurred by the cut-off of supplies from Iran, oil production is booming at record rates in the rich Persian Gulf area.

This hot and humid area holds about half of the world's oil reserves. It is the biggest producing area outside of the United States.

The new oil wealth is flowing chiefly from the U.S.-owned Arabian American Oil Company fields in Saudi Arabia and from the tiny, fabulous sheikhdom of Kuwait.

These two countries have this year boosted their production so much higher than their 1950 average that they've just about made up for the complete stoppage of shipments from Iran.

The world's demand for petroleum products, which zoomed upward from the start of the Korean war, still is so great that the end of Middle East production expansion is not in sight.

Aramco became the world's biggest single producer when it hit the 750,000-barrel-a-day mark three months ago. Today production is 85,000 barrels and oil circles expect it to run 1,000,000 daily by year-end.

Big Income For King
That would surpass entire Persian Gulf production three years ago.

The stepped-up oil flow is expected to give King Ibn Saud, aging desert ruler of Saudi Arabia, an income from royalties of some $500,000 a day by the first of the year. His royalties under a 50-50 agreement are believed to exceed 50 cents per barrel.

Sheikh 'Abdulla As-Salem As-Sudub, little known ruler of Kuwait, is earning $87,000 a day under his present royalty of 135 cents a barrel and production of 650,000 barrels daily.

The sheikh rules over a parched desert area of a few thousand square miles at the head of the gulf—near the legendary home of Sinbad the Sailor. Until a few years ago his less than 200,000 subjects made most of their money by pearl fishing.

Kuwait began producing oil only in 1946—at the rate of 11,700 barrels daily.

Production jumped to 50,000 the next year and 100,000 the next. Last year it averaged 350,000.

The Burghan field in Kuwait, with its estimated reserves of 15,000,000,000 barrels, is the richest in the world. Saudi Arabian reserves by comparison are estimated at 10,000,000,000. Iran's reserves are believed to be 12,000,000,000.

Royalties now paid the sheikh are believed the lowest in the world. He is asking for equal treatment with neighboring countries. This would mean a daily income of better than $300,000.

One of the mysteries of the Middle East is what the sheikh, who receives the royalties personally, will do with the money. He is a simple man and so are his subjects.

Aramco is owned jointly by Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company, Standard of New Jersey and Socony-Vacuum Company. Aramco also controls the $25,000,000 pipeline which carries oil from the gulf to the ancient Phoenician port of Sidon on the Mediterranean coast. The 1,068-mile line pumps 300,000 daily to tankers loading off Sidon.

Kuwait Oil Company is owned 50-50 by Gulf Exploration Company, an American outfit, and Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, now attempting to save both Aramco and Kuwait Oil Company are amassing great profits. Its much cheaper to produce Persian Gulf oil than to pump oil in the states. One reason is that Middle East wells produce

Nancy McKinley Rites Held Monday

Funeral services for Nancy Ann McKinley, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. McKinley, who died Saturday night, were held at 3:30 p.m. Monday in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Clyde Lindsley, pastor, officiating. Interment was to be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Nevrue W. Ellis Chapel is in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were to be Pete English, John Petty, Jay Schlichting, Larry Lindsley, John Breneman and Richard Burke.

Survivors include the parents, of 1301 West Illinois Street; a brother, John P. of Midland; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Rankin of Midland, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKinley of Ada, Okla.

Nancy was born Nov. 23, 1933, in Midland. A graduate of Midland High School with the class of 1951, she had planned to enter Texas Christian University.

Later, United Nations infantrymen scanned the mountainside with field glasses. Reds still were there—heating their rations from the residue of napalm.

Regan Enters Debate On Co-Operatives

WASHINGTON — Cooperatives should be prevented from organizing for one purpose and expanding into other fields of enterprise, Rep. Ken Regan of Midland said in a radio forum Sunday.

On the program with Regan were Rep. Henry B. Larcade, Jr., of Louisiana and George Blair, Dallas, executive secretary of the Texas Federation of Co-Operatives. Blair defended cooperatives against Regan's charges they may be a threat to free enterprise.

As for tax exemption of co-ops, Blair said federal taxes had been paid individually on income from cooperatives by members and any portion of the income not now taxed under federal statutes bids well to be covered by amendments put on the tax bill by the Senate Finance Committee recently. These amendments have not yet been approved by Congress.

2 Big Reasons Why Pittsburgh SUN-PROOF House Paint Looks Better Longer!

1. Resists coal smoke and industrial fumes! 2. Washes itself with each rain!

There's longer wear in every brushful of new SUN-PROOF house paint. Not only does it give you a film of unusual whiteness, but it really stays whiter longer!

Coal smoke or industrial fumes will not darken or discolor SUN-PROOF because it's fume-proof. That's why it's especially good for painting homes in industrial areas where paint is often attacked by factory gases. SUN-PROOF is self-cleaning, too—surface dirt is carried off with each rain. Special "Vitalized Oil" keeps paint film tough and elastic, providing long-lasting live-paint protection.

IT'S OLD PRO DIMAGGIO— Yanks Back In Front After 5-1 Win Over Tribe

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York's defending champion Yankees still win the big ones—and that is why they're back in first place. Because of their ability to rise to the occasion, because they seldom folded in the clutch, and because they were able to beat the team in front of them, the Yankees won the flag in 1949 and '50.

History simply repeated itself Sunday when the Bronx Bombers crushed Cleveland, 5-1, and replaced the Indians at the top of the American League.

At the same time, Boston's third-place Red Sox remained right in the thick of things by beating the Chicago White Sox, 5-4, and climbing to within two and one-half games of the top.

The Yankee victory came on the anniversary of their taking the league lead a year ago. Only on Sept. 16, 1950, it was the Tigers they beat to grab a lead they never lost.

New York's first-place hold is a precarious three percentage points and it can be expunged Monday if Ed Lopat loses to Cleveland's Bob Lemon in the last meeting between the two clubs.

Up to now, however, the Indians have shown a pathetic ineptness at the Yankee stadium. Of 19 games on the Yankees' home grounds they have won only one.

Allie Reynolds, whom the Indians traded to the Yankees in the winter of '48, wielded the tomahawk Sunday. He set the Tribe back on five hits and drove in the winning run with a second-inning single.

It was in the Yankee half of the fifth, however, that this crucial contest reached its most dramatic point, as far as the capacity crowd of 68,760 was concerned.

The Yankees, leading 3-1, had a runner on third with two away. Cleveland strategy dictated an intentional pass to the left-handed Yogi Berra so the right-handed Bob Feller could pitch to Joe DiMaggio. It was the third time in DiMaggio's illustrious career—all coming this season—that a batter was passed to get at Joe. It was the first time at the stadium.

The Yankee Clipper knocked the strategy into a specked hat and slammed Feller out of the box with a two-run triple that rolled to the left-center field fence 457 feet away.

The victory was the fifteenth for Reynolds. Five of these have come over Cleveland. Feller, whose 22 victories leads all the hurlers, was charged with his eighth setback and his third in four duels with Reynolds.

The Indians, who move on to Boston Tuesday for a two-game series, have nine games left to play. The Yankees have 13 and the Red Sox 14, but eight are against each other.

National League

Let it be forgotten, there still is a pennant race in the National League. Two victories over Pittsburgh, 7-1 and 6-4, kept the faint hopes of the New York Giants alive as Brooklyn's first-place margin shrank to four and one-half games, despite its 6-1 triumph over the Cubs in Chicago.

The Dodgers' "magic" number still is eight. That is the number of games they have to win in order to clinch the flag. Brooklyn has 14 games to play to the Giants nine.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia's Athletics whipped the St. Louis Browns twice, 7-1 and 7-5. Detroit took two from Washington, 3-1 and 4-3; St. Louis' Cardinals vanquished the Philadelphia Phils, 9-2, and Cincinnati and the Boston Braves split. Eeony Rainsberger pitched the Braves to a 4-0 victory after Boston won 6-5 for Warren Spahn's twenty-first triumph.

DENTON—(AP)—Billy Maxwell was back home in Denton Monday to attend North Texas State Teachers College.

"Right now my main interest is to get back in school and hit those books," he said.

Maxwell was greeted in Dallas by his pretty co-ed wife.

West Texas Teams Draw Tough Foes In Weekend Action

Upsets were the rule rather than the exception in Texas High School football over the weekend, with top-rated teams turning up among the many casualties.

The Reporter-Telegram Sports Department picked 11 losers, getting 29 winners for a percentage of .725—and that was indicative of the way games went around the state.

In District 1-AAA, Vernon pulled the biggest upset by defeating Wichita Falls, an AAAA power and defending state champion, 6-0.

Lamesa also caused a lot of eyebrow raising with a 27-14 upset victory over highly-touted Paschal of Fort Worth.

Midland surprised everyone with an easy 21 to 6 win over San Angelo.

Other teams in the loop lost, as Quannah beat Big Spring, 27 to 14; Pampa shocked Sweetwater, 40 to 12, and Plainview fell to powerful Lubbock, 27 to 6.

This week, Midland goes to Ysleta. Sweetwater plays host to powerful Abilene. Big Spring tangles with San Angelo at San Angelo. Plainview gets a crack at Amarillo and has a home-field advantage. Vernon plays host to Altus, Okla., and Lamesa plays at Brownwood.

Seminole, coached by George Zoller, put itself on the spot with a 12 to 0 verdict over powerful Levelland. Levelland earlier had beaten Pecos, the 8-AA favorite, 27 to 19, and that makes Seminole look rugged in 8-AA.

Kermit increased its prestige with a 13-0 win over the always-rugged Hobbs, N. M. Eagles, and now seems capable of winning the district title.

Betsy Rawls Cops Open; Marlene, Alice, Pat Up There

ATLANTA—(AP)—Beaming Betsy Rawls, the Texas scholar, counted her first season as a professional golfer a financial and artistic success Monday after winning the National Women's Open from the classiest field in the tournament's history.

The 23-year-old Phi Beta Kappa lass from Austin picked up $1,500 because her 72-hole total of 293 Sunday outstripped such highly rated stars as Babe Zaharias, Louise Suggs, Patty Berg and the beautiful Bauer sisters.

Her conquest brought her winnings to $4,645.83.

The Babe skidded into third place with a fourth-round 78 for a 299 total. A six on the 360-yard third hole was Babe's undoing and she lost her second money to Suggs' superb 71, which gave the Carrelton, Ga., girl a 298.

Other scores and money winners included: Marlene Bauer, Midland, Texas, 300, $700; Pat Garner, Midland, 308, $400; Alice Bauer, Midland, 309, $350.

The 1951 Michigan State baseball team set an all-time home run record for the school by hitting 27 round trippers in 26 games.

Oilers Win From Roswell Rockets, 15-0

ODESSA—(AP)—The Odessa Oilers fourth place club over the regular season, took the lead in the Longhorn League championship playoffs. The Oilers eliminated the Colts and now are one game up on the Roswell Rockets.

The Oilers pounded the Rockets 5-0 Sunday night in the first game of the championship series. Pepper Martin, Oiler manager, led his club in the 18-hit onslaught on Roswell pitching; Juan Guerrero scattered four hits to keep them away from the plate.

Bufs, Eagles Win In Playoffs

DALLAS—(AP)—The Dallas Eagles are making a fine comeback in the Texas League playoffs. They were down three games to one to San Antonio but pulled up even Sunday night with a 5-1 victory to extend the series to its limit.

Houston pulled ahead of Beaumont in that nip-and-tuck series, taking a 7-4 victory for a three-to-two lead.

Ray Narleski pitched Dallas to its second straight win, yielding five hits.

Aging Fred Martin had too much on the ball for the Roughnecks. He scattered nine hits to win handily.

Klem, Famed Ump, Is Dead

MIAMI—(AP)—William J. (Bill) Klem, baseball's famous "old arbitrator," is dead.

The veteran umpire, who was 77, died Sunday of a heart and kidney ailment in Doctors' Hospital in suburban Coral Gables. His wife, Marie, his only immediate survivor, was with him when he died.

Klem, who had been in failing health the last two years, entered the hospital August 11. He knew the end was near and only a week ago told his lawyer, "This is my last game and I'm going to strike out this time."

"Klem was a fine chap and probably the greatest umpire of all time," said Ford Frick, president of the National League.

"The National League has lost a stalwart figure and I am sure that all connected with baseball join me in expressing our grief and our condolence to his widow."

Colorful

One of the most colorful umpires the game ever saw, Klem often was quoted as saying he never missed one in his life. Later he amended that to say when he called a play he knew in his heart he was right.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., Klem played baseball briefly with a home town team but soon switched to umpiring and officiated at games in Connecticut and New York State before joining the American Association in 1904.

The following season he went to the National League and remained there 36 years, until he retired in 1941. Since that time he served as umpire-in-chief of the league.

Klem set a record by officiating in 18 world series.

Klem will be interred Wednesday morning after a Requiem Mass at St. Patrick's Church.

MONDAY'S SCHEDULE
Longhorn League

Midland goes to Ysleta for a football game Friday night, and therein lies a story.

When Ysleta came to Midland last year, an unfortunate event occurred which may make things pretty warm for the locals Friday night.

The Ysleta kids went to a downtown movie here, and the Latin American boys were requested to sit in the balcony, in keeping with the theater policy. This didn't set too well with the El Pasoans, who held a vastly superior Midland team to a one-touchdown win.

As far back as last Spring, Ysleta had signs in its fieldhouse reading: "Beat Midland."

Yessir, it oughta be a hot time in the ole border town Friday night.

While we sat through a howling sandstorm and cold wind in Stanton Saturday night watching the Buffs play the Big Spring B., we noticed the run-down condition of the Buff field and stands.

We don't want to tell the people of Stanton how to run their town, but it seems to us some work needs to be done on the stadium.

The back fence is long enough to allow fans to enter without paying—and we saw several people come in the back way.

Also, the stands could stand a bit of rebuilding.

With a fine group of boys and a fine coach representing Stanton, it's a shame they must play on such a run-down field.

Volunteers from Stanton could patch the Buff field into a presentable stadium with just a little work.

DOTS AND DASHES: Saw Leo Fields, ex-Stanton mentor and now Seagraves coach at the game Saturday night. . . Fields, who won 12 of 13 games at Stanton last year, has captured his first two games at Seagraves by 19-7 and 39-0 scores. . . Immie Lineberger, Midland end, wasn't hurt several times Friday night because he's "out of shape". . . Lineberger has a trick knee which pops out of place easily. . . End of The Row!

Middlecoff Wins Eastern Open

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Cary Middlecoff won the Eastern Open Sunday and $2,400 with a score of 279, nine under par for 72 holes. This boosted Middlecoff's earnings to $19,150.

Jerry Barber, Pasadena, Calif., was second with a 280 and Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C., third with 281.

Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Texas, shot a 285, good for tie for ninth place. He won $513.33.

Miniature Pinscher Is Grand Champion Of All-Breed Show

ODESSA — Champion Patie V. Mini-Miss, a miniature pinscher owned by Edmar Kennels of Berkeley Hills, Calif., lived up to its title Sunday by copping the top spot in the Fifth Annual All-Breed Dog Show.

The miniature pinscher was selected "top dog in the show" Sunday evening in competition against 44 other canines, which included 31 breeds.

Three dogs from Odessa and two from Midland won five of six first place honors in the local classes. Although the Odessa and Midland dogs won top spots in their class, one took the top spot in its breed against outside competition.

The following winners were announced in the local classes, featuring dogs within a 75-mile radius of Odessa.

Best Local Dog
 Elfin v Osterholz, a miniature doberman owned by Mrs. John Wachs of Odessa, was named best of local pound breeds.

Frieda of Rockledge, a weimaraner owned by L. P. Conner of Odessa, was judged best locally in the sporting breed.

Odin of Vingolf, a boxer owned by Forbes B. Pennycook of Midland, was selected as best locally in the working breeds, while Payoff's Son Jim Junior, a smooth fox terrier owned by C. L. Davenport of Midland, was named best of the terrier breeds.

Metz Goldendiner, a chihuahua owned by B. F. Butler of Goldsmith, Texas, won the best of toy breeds title, while Judge Roy Bean, a bulldog owned by Verlin S. Shoopman of Odessa, was selected as top in the non-sporting dog breeds.

George D. Woodford, Midland businessman who is vice president of the West Texas Kennel Club, termed the show successful.

"People who attended other Texas dog shows told me that our show, including the judging, was far superior to any they had seen. We were well pleased with the response," Woodford said.

Traffic, Shootings Account For Bulk Of 16 Texas Fatalities

By The Associated Press
 Sixteen or more were dead Monday from weekend violence in Texas. Seven persons died in traffic accidents. Seven were shot to death. A rattlesnake killed a little girl, and an oil field worker died after his arm was ripped off in an oil field rig.

The deaths include:

James William McKee, 36, Tyler, killed in a head-on collision near Tyler Sunday. Three others were injured seriously.

Pvt. Charles P. Pruett, 19, Spiro, Okla., was shot to death Sunday at Sheppard Air Force Base near Wichita Falls. An air policeman fired to warn prisoners away from an off-limits area.

Edward N. Dollins, Jr., 33, was shot to death Sunday in a cafe in Fort Worth. Murder charges were being prepared against a 31-year-old suspect.

Dorothy Chatham, 23, a negro, shot and killed her husband, William, Saturday in Waco. Officials said she acted in self-defense and released her.

Murder, Suicide
 Louis H. Vendrey, shot his wife, 44, to death near Edna, Sunday then killed himself.

C. D. Cary, about 35, was shot and killed Saturday at Greenville. W. A. Waldrop, 52, was charged with murder.

Katherine Doucet, three, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Doucet of near Beaumont, died Saturday night after being bitten by a rattlesnake.

James Phillip Murphy, eight, was shot and killed accidentally by his brother, Steven, seven, while playing cowboy and Indians at Corpus Christi Saturday.

Two cars sidwiped on a curve near Sudan Friday night, killing Leonard Martin, about 60, a Lamb County farmer; James Virgil Seights, about 56, of Lubbock, and Mrs. Stella Oell Buford, about 40, of Littlefield.

J. B. Lewis, a Houston salesman, was killed Friday night in a two-car collision near Kingsville.

Frank W. Turman, 34, Dumas, died Sunday after his arm was torn off in the pump belt on an oil rig 18 miles north of Dumas.

Three Injured In Auto Accidents

Three persons injured in weekend automobile accidents received emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital. None of the injuries were serious.

John McMillan, age 13, 1308 West New Jersey Street, was treated for lacerations of the forehead Sunday after an accident on New Jersey Street.

Mrs. Wade McMillan, 1308 West New Jersey Street, also received forehead lacerations in the same accident.

Mary Lopez, 22, was given emergency treatment early Monday for injuries suffered in another automobile accident. The extent of her injuries were not determined immediately.

BOY INJURED

Marvin Walker, age 10, of 708 South Fort Worth Street, suffered a forehead laceration Sunday when he ran into an automobile door. He was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital.

Solar Energy Expert Says It's Possible To Get 20 Times Today's U. S. Power Needs From Sun

By DR. CHARLES G. ABBOT Former Secretary of Smithsonian Institution (Written For NEA Service)

WASHINGTON—With two devices I have patented for capturing solar energy from the sun, it is now possible and practical to produce, from this source 20 times as much power as is now used for all purposes in the United States, including heating, lighting, transportation and manufacturing.

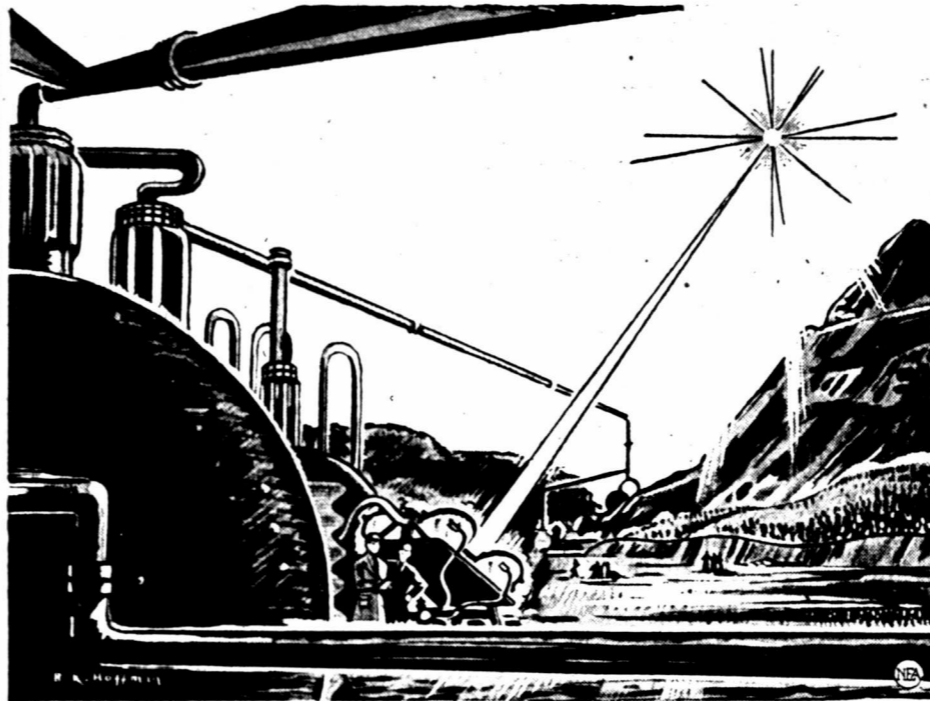

One of the devices, a rectangular mirror arrangement, is easy to construct. But if and when mass production should be applied to the patent involving a circular mirror which captures heat from the sun more efficiently, it would be the most desirable device to use.

If the heat captured by the rectangular mirror arrangement could be put into the most mechanically efficient steam engines we have today, we could convert 15 per cent of the solar energy intercepted into mechanical work. The circular mirror could change 25 per cent of the sun's energy captured into mechanical work.

The southwest part of the United States has from 70 to 80 per cent cloudless sky. The average intensity of the energy of sun rays in the clear sky in this region is about 1.4 calorie per square centimeter per minute which is equivalent to 115 horsepower per square yard, or nearly a milli-horsepower per square mile.

Natural Phenomenon This natural phenomenon, combined with the efficiencies with which my mirror arrangements can turn the sun's rays into usable energy, can produce 20 times more power than is used in the U. S. if one-tenth of the desert area of four Southwestern states is put to such use.

The cost of solar power comprises a return on the investment for machines and the cost of supervision and maintenance. The solar boiler, compared to an automobile or a sewing machine or a typewriter or a computing machine is far more simple, and if built wholesale could be very cheap. Little expense for supervision would be required, for the apparatus moves automatically to follow the sun. Maintenance also would be relatively inexpensive. It is impossible to estimate with certainty on the e-things until fairly large solar boilers have been built and tested.

Solar power plant as an artist sees it.

However, I believe the cost of solar power in California, for example, would be less than the cost of coal power at the mines.

Near Bottleneck

Power is now approaching a bottleneck in the U. S. At present a considerable supply of oil for power is imported, and subject to interruption by submarines in war. A power source in the desert would be immune to ships and, covering a wide area, would be a difficult bombing target.

The solar energy is produced in the sun by atomic processes which, so far, have not been available on earth. The fission atomic energy production is costly and dangerous. It seems a pity not to avail ourselves of the enormous quantities of atomically produced energy furnished freely by the sun, without the dangers attending terrestrial atomic sources.

There are three main practical problems involved in this idea: First, the sun is obscured at night and in cloudy weather. Nevertheless, continuous power availability may be had by (a) storing heat in water at high temperatures;

(b) storing electricity in storage batteries; (c) by electrolyzing water, storing the hydrogen, and burning it as power is needed.

Second, power can hardly be efficiently distributed by electricity more than 500 miles. Solar power would, of course, be produced also in other states where cloudiness is not excessive. And the regions where solar power becomes available would become attractive and cause a shift of some U. S. industry.

Third, large mirrors would present their surfaces to winds. This limitation would perhaps hold solar power units to not more than 50 horsepower. This would require circular mirrors of a diameter approaching 50 feet. Many units could, however, be combined.

There is nothing fantastic about this idea. It is a practical source of new power for America's increasing need for power.

Senate Committee Blocks HST Choices For Two Judgeships

WASHINGTON—The Senate Judiciary Committee Monday blocked President Truman's nominations for two federal judgeships in Illinois.

The committee refused either to approve or disapprove the selections proposed by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) Truman had ignored Douglas' recommendations in making the appointments of Joseph G. Drucker and Cornelius J. Harrington.

The committee's action killed the nominations at this time.

Blonde Arrested As Police Probe Theft Complaint

HOUSTON—An attractive blonde was under arrest Monday while police investigated a complaint by a Houston man that she had stolen his money in a department store. The woman, 18, stylishly dressed, was picked up by two burglary and theft detectives. She was driving a 1951 model Cadillac sedan.

The detectives said she had been pointed out to them by Frank W. Young, of Houston, as the young woman who had taken his money in another automobile, a 1950-model Oldsmobile, several hours earlier after picking him up in front of a Main Street jewelry store.

The woman's husband, from Dallas, telephoned a missing persons report in on her to police headquarters at 6:30 a. m. Monday. He said she disappeared in their car after leaving the place they are staying.

WTCC Convention Slated In Amarillo

ABILENE—The convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in Amarillo November 14-16, headquarters said Monday.

The Amarillo meeting will be the first since a complete reorganization of the staff and program, inaugurated last winter with appointment of Fred Husbands as vice president and general manager.

Nurse Bludgeoned To Death On Street

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—A twisted killer who bludgeoned an attractive blonde nurse to death on a tree-darkened street was hunted Monday.

Police virtually are without clues to the identity of the person who struck down Pauline Campbell, 34, early Sunday in front of her rooming house. Her skull was fractured.

Jessup Faces Fight For Confirmation As UN Delegate

WASHINGTON—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Monday ordered hearings on the President Truman's nomination of Philip Jessup, ambassador at large, as a delegate to the United Nations.

Administration insistence on Jessup's confirmation is likely to touch off a rekindling of Senate reaction.

Chairman Connally said the committee turned over to a subcommittee headed by Senator Sparkman (D- Ala.) all of the presidential UN nominations, including that of Jessup.

The committee also ordered a subcommittee to study the appointment of Chester Bowles, former governor of Connecticut and one-time OPA administrator, to be ambassador to India.

Besides Jessup, President Truman nominated Warren R. Austin, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Representative Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Vorys (R-Ohio) as UN delegates. He named six alternates.

Polio Deaths Cancel Grid Squad Practice

SAN ANTONIO—The Alamo Heights football squad will not resume practice until danger of polio is past, Supt. E. T. Robbins said Monday.

Two star members of the team, Donald Wine and Kemper "Buddy" McHaney, died Friday. Two other players are ill with polio.

Robbins said a game scheduled Friday with Lockhart has been cancelled "as a preventive measure." The team's first game of the season with Austin was cancelled last Friday.

Frank Ikard Seated As Congressman

WASHINGTON—Frank Ikard, 37, Wichita Falls war veteran, was seated Monday as congressman from Texas.

He won a special election to succeed Ed Gossett, who resigned August 1 to become a telephone attorney.

The new congressman was introduced by Representative Poage of Texas. Speaker Sam Rayburn gave him the oath.

Seven Of Escaped Convicts Recaptured, Three Still Sought

CALDWELL, IDAHO—Seven of the 10 federal prisoners who squeezed out of the Canyon County jail Saturday night have been squeezed back in, and the search went on Monday for the remaining three.

But it will not be an organized search. Roadblocks remained manned, but Sheriff Ray Lukenaga figured the men, two of them unarmed, probably would have slipped through the police net and scattered.

Utah officers were alerted late Sunday night as... man answering the description of James H. Cesena, 21, one of the still free men, was seen near Salt Lake City. He was thought to be armed, and was termed "dangerous."

Chancellors Return To Midland After Trip Through Europe

Reporting an "enjoyable, exciting, worthwhile and highly educational" trip Mr. and Mrs. C. W. "Bill" Chancellor, 1710 West Missouri Street, returned last Sunday from an extended tour of Europe.

Leaving Midland June 16, the Chancellors sailed from New York several days later on the Constitution, which was making its maiden voyage to Europe. They touched Gibraltar and Portugal before landing at Naples, Italy. They later visited in Switzerland, Germany, Austria, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Scotland, Ireland and England. They returned to the United States on the Queen Elizabeth.

Interested in obtaining a true picture of conditions in Europe and in seeing things off the beaten tourist's path, Mr. and Mrs. Chancellor rented an automobile and employed a chauffeur who could speak several languages, for their tour of the Continent.

With All Classes "We talked with men in the fields, factory workers, diplomats, the man on the street, white-collar men, poor people and upper class representatives," the Midland oil and businessman said.

"Conditions generally are good throughout Europe, and bountiful crops are being harvested," he said. "There are jobs for all those who want to work."

"We were treated fine in most of the countries we visited."

The Chancellors took more than 3,000 pictures during their European tour.

Audience With Pope While in Rome, they had a special audience with the Pope, and later they sat in on several sessions of the World Conference which was being held at Oxford. Chancellor also was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Rotary Club in Stratford, England. He is a member of the Midland Rotary Club.

In Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. Chancellor visited some of his relatives, and in Scotland, they saw and visited with several of her relatives.

Chancellor said it was a wonderful trip, but that he and Mrs. Chancellor are glad to be back in Midland.

Victoria Peak on Hong Kong Island is almost 2,000 feet high.

"Barbara came out and asked Franchot when he was going to get rid of me," said Neal in an interview with the Times. "Then she threw her arms around him and gave him a long kiss."

"That kiss is what touched it off."

From behind the wheel of her convertible Sunday, Miss Payton passed a few remarks about Neal, too, none of them complimentary. She denied published reports that it was Neal's superb physique, displayed in swim trunks, that first attracted her to him.

"No gentleman" "I wouldn't have the man in my house," she snapped. "I wouldn't call him a gentleman."

Her announcement of Tone's proposal followed by 24 hours her scheduled trip to the altar with Neal. She also revealed that she did, indeed, suffer a black eye when she tried to halt the thrashing.

"Neal sat on Franchot and just beat him," she related. "It's a criminal thing."

Across town, the apologetic athlete offered a compliment to the fallen aesthete. Tone. "I'll have to give him credit," Neal said. "He was not yellow. He stood up and took it."

Of his ex-fiance, Neal said: "She couldn't make up her mind between Tone and me. First it was Tone, then it was me, then Tone, then me. Now, I guess, it's Tone."

And Tone? He was feeling quite chipper. He sat up in bed, ate a hearty meal and played jazz music on the radio.

"Did he kiss you?" a photographer asked Miss Payton outside the hospital.

She smiled and wiped a lipstick smear from her cheek.

MEDICAL PATIENT Mrs. Pauline Whatley, 906 South Baird Street, is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital.

SURGERY PATIENT Mrs. Lavrelle Wilson, Stanton, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Sunday for surgery.

Smaller Nations Ask Greater Voice In NATO Decisions

OTTAWA—Small nation members were reported Monday demanding a greater voice in major policy decisions of the North Atlantic Council.

A Canadian source, linking the demands to controversy over Greek-Turkish membership in the alliance, said it seemed certain some "custom" would have to be established to give the smaller nations greater power in policy making.

Some heat was expected to be taken off the big nations—America, Britain and France—by an agreement on plans to expand the work of the treaty organization into political and economic as well as military fields.

The United States has pressed hard against small nation opposition for a favorable decision on its proposal that Greece and Turkey be admitted to membership. The Danish and Norwegian delegations, the final objectors, were expected to go along in the end.

The 12-nation council resumed Monday with a windup of speeches on the world situation as the first order of business.

The council opened Saturday.

Kremlin—

"These ideas have a life of their own. They have been a dynamic force in the history of our nation. They have inspired men, all around the world, to create new and independent governments, and to improve the conditions under which they live."

Necessary Reforms The U.S. Constitution, the President said, has allowed this country to "make necessary reforms without overthrowing the ancient guarantees of our liberty."

"The great advances we have made in recent years in legislation to improve the condition of labor, to bring economic security to the farmer, to provide aid for the needy, to develop the resources of the country for the benefit of all, to improve the health, the education, and the housing of the average family—all these advances have been opposed in the name of the Constitution," Truman said.

"But it never was the purpose of the Constitution to bar such advances, on the contrary, the Constitution provides the means for carrying into effect the fundamental ideas of justice and liberty, and human progress on which our government is founded."
