Churchill Wins By Narrow Margin

Tory Victory Ends Labor's Six-Year Rule

LONDON (P)—Winston Churchill returned to power in Britain Friday. He led his Conservative Party to victory over the Labor government in a desperately fought election that rung down the curtain on six years of Socialist rule but left the Tories far short of the House of Commons strength they hoped for.

Churchill, just turning 77, won a majority, or more than 313 seats, in the House of Commons. The exact size of the Conservative majority will not be known until a few outlying districts report next week. But it will be a slender margin—leaving possibly 300 seats to Clement R. Attlee's Labor Party.

Tory Win May Affect U.S. Policy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (P)—Winston Churchill, returned to power, probably will seek an early meeting with President Truman.

American officials also anticipate that he will press for a conference of Western leaders with Soviet Premier Stalin next year. Churchill may make slow headway with this cherished project, however, for Truman has been cold to the idea—unless Stalin is willing to come to Washington. Aside from a renewal of intense personal diplomacy at the highest level, little if any early changes in British foreign policy are expected to come from the Conservative victory. Churchill was jubilant—and grateful. Speaking to his constituents he said: "You have given me wonderful support. It never reached a higher pinnacle than it did today." With the Conservatives back in control, it was certain Churchill would be chosen by parliament to resume the post of prime minister. He told British voters, during the campaign, that putting an end to the cold war with the Communist world is "the last prize I seek to win." This effort, and the modification of Socialist strictures on business and industry, undoubtedly (Continued On Page Seven)

Husky Texan Breaks Woman Companion's Arm In Five Places

NEW YORK (P)—A husky Texan accused of breaking a woman's arm in five places during an argument in a hotel room was arrested on a felonious assault charge Friday.

He identified himself as Jack Herbert Hunnicut, 33, of Corpus Christi, a marine engineer.

Police said the injured woman was Virginia Carroll, 28, of Garden City, New York, a dental assistant.

Detectives Edward Behr and William Sims told this story. Hunnicut and the woman met in a bar Thursday night and the woman mentioned that she was going to stay in New York City overnight.

Hunnicut accompanied her to the Hotel Duane and registered. Miss Carroll believed the room was registered in her name and that he simply had escorted her to the hotel.

The engineer however, also went to the room and then accused her of stealing $400 from him. He twisted her arm in the argument that followed and it was fractured in five places. Her screams aroused a bell-boy, who called police.

When Hunnicut was booked, $312 in tightly-wadded bills was found in the breast pocket of his suit, police said.

Arraigned before Magistrate Ambrose J. Haddock in Felony Court, Hunnicut was held in $5,000 bail for a hearing November 2. Assistant District Attorney Paul F. Reilly said the defendant had administered a "savage and brutal beating" to Miss Carroll.

Body Of Midland War Victim Due By Train Monday

The body of Pvt. Delmas G. Decker, Korean war dead, will arrive in Midland Monday morning by train.

Private Decker was the son of Mrs. Tressie Harmon, 206 West Washington Street.

The soldier's body was among those of 800 Americans who lost their lives in Korea, returned to the United States aboard the Malden Victory.

Memorial and funeral services had not been set Friday, the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel reported.

Andrews Has Fastest Gain In Population

WASHINGTON (P)—Texas had a population of 7,711,194 on April 1, 1950—an increase of 20.2 per cent in 10 years.

The final figures were released Friday by the Bureau of Census. They show Texas sixth in population among the states.

Texas population in April, 1950, was 1,296,370 inhabitants more than the 1940 population of 6,414,824.

The figures showed that 62.7 per cent of the population lived in urban centers—in cities of 2,500 or more. Texas' urban population was 4,838,060 and its rural population 2,873,134.

Between 1940 and 1950, 108 of the 254 counties in Texas increased in population.

The most rapid rate of increase among counties was in Andrews, out on the New Mexico border north of Midland. It jumped from 1,277 in 1940 to 5,002 in 1950—a 291.7 per cent increase.

Four more counties more than doubled their population. Two of them were in West Texas—Ector and Midland—in an area of oil development.

The other two were at opposite ends of the state.

Weather Rubs Out Second Atom Test

LAS VEGAS, NEV. (P)—A scheduled atomic bomb drop was called off Friday with planes in the air, presumably ready to lose their nuclear weapons.

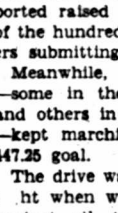

The AEC said storm conditions over the big testing range northwest of here failed to improve as rapidly as had been expected.

A red-tailed B-29 was seen heading eastward shortly after restrictions on civilian aircraft in the area were lifted. It presumably was heading back to Kirtland Air Force Base, N. M.

The AEC had scheduled the second of a series of tests here after rains and high winds had subsided Thursday night. But officials Friday felt conditions still were too unstable to risk the possibility of atomic radiation being carried over Las Vegas and other populated areas. Las Vegas is 75 miles away.

The AEC said no troops were to be involved in Friday's test.

Chest Drive Contributions Hit $10,897

The mounting total of Midland's Community Chest annual drive for funds climbed past the $10,000-mark Friday.

Campaign leaders reported that at the end of the first two days of the drive a total of $10,897 was reported raised with only a handful of the hundreds of volunteers workers submitting reports.

Meanwhile, the army of workers—some in the residential sections and others in the business district—kept marching toward the $50,000 goal.

The drive was kicked off Tuesday when workers were urged to contact all prospects as soon as possible to bring the campaign to a swift and successful conclusion.

Waste Can Issue Again Rears Head

The City of Midland is going to speak softly concerning the delicate matter of garbage cans.

But if that doesn't work, City Manager W. H. Oswalt promised Friday, the city will wield a big stick.

The garbage cans became a topic of discussion when state health department workers recently blamed them as one source of those pesky flies which have been plaguing the city.

Midland may be a booming oil city, they pointed out, but those 55-gallon oil drums definitely were not designed to be used as garbage cans.

In the first place, they have no covers and, in the second place, the garbage collectors have tough enough time doing their job without having to grunt over a 300-pound oil barrel.

So Oswalt checked up on the city ordinance, satisfied himself that the law required a covered garbage can of not more than 32 gallons capacity or not more than 100 (Continued On Page Seven)

R. E. Greenwald, 74, Dies At Home Here

R. E. Greenwald, 74, a resident of Midland for a quarter of a century and operator of a cabinet shop here, died early Friday at his home here following a lengthy illness.

He lived at 405 West Kentucky Street.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel with the Rev. Clyde Lindley, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Greenwald was born Jan. 9, 1877, in Wayne County, Ohio.

Surviving are a son, W. A. Greenwald of Elroy, Ariz.; a daughter, Mrs. Jack Vantrease of Wichita Falls; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Owen Cochran of Midland, and seven grandchildren.

Palbearers will be J. C. Velvin, E. G. Williams, A. F. Gates, Buddy Drury, Paul McHargue and F. W. Darr.

Football Weather Seen In Forecast

There'll be football weather for the Midland-Lamesa grid game here Friday night if the weatherman's prediction holds true.

The official forecast for Friday night and Saturday was colder. Friday's minimum was 62 degrees.

Widely scattered showers also were predicted for the South Plains and Panhandle.

Allied Kill Of MIG Jets Grows As Air Dogfights Continue

EIGHTH ARMY, KOREA (P)—Allied jet pilots Friday shot down two Russian-made MIG's and damaged three others in the sixth straight day of aerial dogfights over Korea. On the ground, UN infantrymen advanced in hand-to-hand combat.

The Fifth Air Force said all its jets returned safely from three separate air battles in which 68 Allied planes tangled with 121 MIG's.

All told, UN fighters sighted between 150 and 160 jets in MIG Alley over Northwest Korea and near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. But some of the Reds fled.

Minor Ground Gains
United Nations infantrymen attacked against stiffening resistance northwest of Yonchon in the west and in the area southeast of Kumsong on the central front, an Eighth Army communique said. It was quiet on the eastern front.

The two enemy MIG's were shot down in a five-minute battle in the Sinanju area Friday afternoon. Twenty-eight F-86 Sabre jets took on 80 MIG's in the scrap that swirled from 38,000 feet down to 2,000.

Three enemy jets were damaged in a noon battle between 24 F-84 Thunderjets and 16 MIG's. The Reds were engaged when they jumped fighter-bombers returning from a rail-cutting mission. This fight thundered as far south as Pyongyang.

Sixteen Sabre jets tangled with 25 MIG's for 30 minutes in the day's longest battle. But neither side inflicted any damage, the Air Force said. The fight covered the air over Sinanju, south to Pyongyang and east to Sonchon.

The Fifth Air Force said its Korean war kill of MIG's now stands at 98, with 20 probables and 227 damaged.

Horse-Trading On Cease-Fire Starts

MUNSAN, KOREA (P)—The Allies Friday quickly rejected a Communist buffer zone proposal that the UN give up such bitterly won Korean areas as Heartbreak Ridge . . . Punchbowl . . . Iron Triangle.

The Reds wanted the United Nations forces to withdraw as much as 15 miles. Their proposal countered Thursday's UN suggestion for a buffer zone generally along present battle lines.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodess told the Reds their proposal bore "no relationship to the military line of contact and did not offer truce propositions."

The Red offer and UN rejection came at the second meeting of subcommittees trying to agree on a cease-fire line. The meetings are held in Panmunjom.

Under the Red proposal, they would keep Kaesong, former site of truce talks two miles south of the 38th parallel. They would withdraw from part of Ongjin Peninsula on the west coast, an area the Allies describe as militarily unimportant.

Texas To Be Split Into Four Divisions By Weather Bureau

By The Associated Press
Texas will be divided into four parts Thursday by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The new divisions, East, North Central, South Central and West Texas, will replace the present divisions of East and West Texas.

Eric L. Hardy, director of the Weather Bureau's Second Region in Fort Worth, explained that the new divisions were set up in answer to increasing demands for more detailed weather forecasts for Texas.

Areas incorporated by the divisions will be East, east of the 96th meridian; West, west of the 99th meridian, with the line cutting over to the Rio Grande on the northern border of Webb County; North Central, portion between 96th and 99th meridians north of the 31st parallel; and South Central, same area south of the 31st parallel.

Under the two-area plan the state was divided along the 100th meridian, line of the eastern edge of the Panhandle straight south just west of Abilene to the Rio Grande about 50 miles northwest of Laredo.

Further division of the new West Texas area will be made when the weather situation requires it, Hardy explained.

Geographical areas to be used in such subdividing are the Panhandle, South Plains, Pecos Valley, Big Bend, Del Rio-Eagle Pass, El Paso and territories east of the Pecos River.

Strikes Halt Work On Atomic Projects

OAK RIDGE, TENN. (P)—Labor disputes Friday virtually halted work on three vital atomic plant construction projects.

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said more than 2,500 AEC workers failed to report for work.

The mass walkout apparently was caused by the posting of pickets by the plumbers union, which only Thursday had ended a two-day strike.

Padded Shoulders On Way Out With Hollywood's Film Kings

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Rip out the padding that gives you that Tom Neal muscle look in the shoulders, fellows—the Hollywood Jacket with the built-in virility is on its way out with movie kings.

A Sunset Strip tailor, who has been making movie heroes with Oliver Hardy measurements look as lean as Alan Ladd for the cameras since 1939, slipped me the news.

"Hollywood is saying phooey to shoulder padding," muttered Chakgiantz (pronounced Shah-John), a one-name Armenian whose customer files read like the list of Joan Crawford's boy friends.

"The new look for movie actors is natural shoulders. No stuffing, no padding, Goodby padded shoulders. Goodbye troubles."

"Troubles," I said. "What troubles?"

Curtis Did It

"Since Tony Curtis, actors are having to strip to the waist," he said. "Troubles, nothing but troubles. One minute the audience is seeing the actor with shoulders, like the wings on a B-29. The next minute, it's off with his shirt. What does the audience see? You can't fool the audience."

"Go on."

Chakgiantz sighed.

He said shoulder pads have a way of slipping down.

"Big troubles to the studio. Quick the wardrobe man must come running and stitch up the star's shoulders. A studio does not mind losing time with a woman who wears falsies."

"A woman's bust pads are important to a movie. But the width of a man's shoulders is unimportant. Nobody comes to see a man's shoulders in a movie. Only the bare chest."

But what was Lana Turner going to lean her head on in the big love scene if he was whittling the manly shoulders of movie men down to mere nubs?

The tailor looked pained.

"Men's shoulders will still look very nice," he said. "Stars will still look like Greek gods. It is a secret of cutting the material. I defy any woman to find padding."

What did Chakgiantz think of Hollywood stars as snappy dressers?

Adolphe Menjou, for instance.

"Menjou wears the styles of 20 and 30 years ago," said Chakgiantz. "He looks like a sausage in his suits."

"Cary Grant?"

"Too British in the cut of his clothes. Peter Lawford, too. Arthur Kennedy and John Ireland are terrible dressers. Jimmy Stewart is too old to wear the boyish clothes I see him wearing. George Raft? Pretty good. Gay Cooper needs a new wardrobe of suits."

Chakgiantz names Director Andre de Toth as Hollywood's champion suit-buyer.

It was nothing, he said, for de Toth to order a dozen suits at one time.

"Once," said Chakgiantz wistfully, "Howard Hughes admired a suit I

Defense Department Spending

For the next several years the nation's military expenditures promise to be extraordinarily large. This year's appropriation finally came to $57,000,000,000.

Since you and I pay the taxes that supply this money, we have an obvious stake in seeing that it is well spent.

The reason is simple. Congress lacks the experts to judge what is a fair outlay and what is not. Budget-making in this age is a highly complex business.

Nowhere is the difficulty greater than in the Defense Department. A knowledge of weapons, of tables of organization, of all the myriad details of the armed services' housekeeping activities, is something to be acquired only after long contact and experience.

Perhaps a few lawmakers can be said to have that experience; men like Chairman Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee and Representative Engle, Michigan Republican who long has delved doggedly and successfully into evidences of military waste.

What has been happening in practice, therefore, is that Congress—and through it the American taxpayer—has been taking the military largely on its own word. It has been giving the Pentagon the benefit of the doubt; and in some cases actually writing blank checks.

Security clearly complicates matters, since many vital points cannot be discussed even in closed congressional hearings, for fear of information leaks.

Nevertheless, the people, through their representatives, must have a check on how these colossal sums are expended. With all due respect, the military is a notoriously wasteful establishment.

What is the cure? Some lawmakers are proposing a permanent joint House-Senate committee to examine military appropriations with the aid of a sizable staff of experts.

The idea has merit. It has worked well with the Joint Congressional Committee on Taxation, which for many years has been an important help to Congress in the drafting of tax laws.

Some kind of action is imperative if Congress is to qualify itself to cope with what promises to be an enlarging problem. We cannot escape the burdens of rearmament and foreign aid. But it is utterly unreasonable to ask us to tolerate great waste in the name of these necessary burdens.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Truman's Vatican appointment may hurt Democrats; GOP fears probe of Ohio election; Anti-Catholic letter hurt Taft's opponent.

WASHINGTON — Republican pundits now have had time to take careful soundings on the President's appointment of Gen. Mark Clark to the Vatican and have concluded that politically he will do the Democrats more harm than good.

At first they feared the surprise move would win the big-city Catholic vote back to the Democratic Party—a vote which, because of McCarthy's semi-successful cry of State Department communism, definitely was slipping over to the Republican side.

Although the President had talked to General Clark a couple of weeks earlier and gotten his consent to serve as Vatican ambassador, he did not send the appointment to the Senate until late on the last day of Congress was in session.

The further fact that General Clark, a military man, must get a special act of Congress to permit him to serve, gives him a double hurdle to overcome and further postpones the date when he can take office.

Thus GOP leaders figure the President has made the mistake of alienating large segments of Protestant voters, while gaining no new friends among Catholics.

When Taft first demanded a probe of his campaign, the Senate Elections sub-committee voted 4 to 1 for it, including the two Republican members, Mrs. Smith of Maine and Hendrickson of New Jersey.

Senator Taft made what now is considered a serious error by demanding that the Ohio campaign be investigated. What he had in mind was the large amounts of money spent by labor against him.

Around $2,000,000 poured in by all sorts of people to support him.

So They Say

We do not ask the Western powers (in the case of Palestine) to undo all the evil they have done. We ask them only to give evidence of neutrality—military, economic and political neutrality—not take sides with us against Israel.

On the international scene we have been out-bargained, out-smarted and out-manuevered. We have undergone humiliations unparalleled in our history.

I believe that in the Republican Party we have had too many executives and not enough of those hard workers who ring doorbells, get mud on their shoes, make friends and win the confidence of everyday people.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Ike Spurned 'Czar' Role, But Preaches Unification Gospel

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

PARIS—A proposal to make U. S. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower virtual "czar" of Western European rearmament recently was put to him by an American emissary who has the fullest confidence and backing of President Truman.

The idea was to give Eisenhower control over not only the armies of Western Europe, which he now has, but also control over European defense production.

The latter would mean that this "czar" also would have to direct the economy of the nine free countries of Europe, to coordinate their rearmament effort.

This master plan was neatly conceived. General Eisenhower is known to believe devoutly in the need for European unification.

He preaches it, off the record, to all his visitors. If anybody can unite Western Europe, Eisenhower is that man.

When French generals tell their political leaders that Western Europe can be defended, there is disbelief, or doubt. They remember the Maginot line and the fall of France in '40.

When Eisenhower tells them the same thing, they believe it as fact. There is great belief in Western Europe that the American-led rearmament effort is a mask for an intended U. S. aggressive warfare against Russia.

Yet when General Eisenhower tells European political leaders he has no plans for aggressive warfare—only defensive warfare against possible Communist aggression—they believe him implicitly.

And a great feeling of relief is apparent. It builds up confidence in the U. S. leadership, spurring the Europeans to greater effort. Too Smart For Noose.

In spite of this great fervor building up behind Eisenhower, the general was smart enough not to put his head in the noose offered to him, to head up Western European defense production as well as military defense.

To have accepted it would have put full responsibility for its success or failure on his shoulders. So he politely ducked.

As a result of this decision, W. Averill Harriman, President Truman's trouble-shooting ambassador and foreign policy adviser, has taken over the role of coordinator of Western European defense production.

Ambassador Harriman is head of the "three wise men" representing the U. S., Britain and France, and the "12 apostles," representing all the North Atlantic Treaty countries.

Ambassador Harriman is in Paris now, meeting with European government leaders, trying to find ways and means by which the civilian economies can back up Eisenhower's guiding spirit and inspiration of this movement, then Ambassador Harriman is cast in the role of St. Peter and St. Paul.

In preaching the new gospel for Europe, General Eisenhower—and Ambassador Harriman—begin with the simple approach of adding up the resources of the free world as opposed to resources behind the Iron Curtain.

The advantage is shown to be on the side of the free world, whether the measure is in actual statistics or in morale.

TODAY'S QUESTION: The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-9-7-3, Heart 4, Diamonds J-9-4-2, Clubs A-J-5. What do you do?

What tree surpasses the Sequoia in diameter?

A—The Tulip cypress of Santa Maria del Tule in southern Mexico.

Q—Does the United States seal appear on the coat of arms of any Army regiment?

A—The Third Infantry Regiment is the only regiment permitted to use the United States seal as a part of its coat of arms.

Q—What American city observes an annual Sauerkraut Festival Day?

A—Forreston, Ill.

Q—Are the streets of Paris still paved with woodblock?

A—Within two years it is expected that no "wooden" streets will remain in the French capital.

Q—Are there any fruiting plants belonging to the lily family?

A—Yes, including the Clintonia, false spikenard, false Solomon's seal, the trillium, the Indian cucumber and the green briar.

I didn't know how long Crazy Horse would talk but one thing I did know—when he finished, I got the torch.

Fortunately, he had his listeners' rapt attention. I was able to work atop the scaffold with comparative freedom.

I slipped the belayers under me, buckling them on. I stuffed a parfleche with pemmican, smoked fat, raw buffalo steaks, and three dozen cartridges for the rifle. My head hampered with blinding pain. Every move brought some new agony from the abrasions and contusions which covered me. My throat was on fire. I was dying for water. Still I worked frenziedly, for down by the fires Tashunka Witko was reaching his conclusion.

I slipped down off the far side of the scaffold. Hussein whickered and my heart spasmed. I went over to him, whispering quickly, soothingly, knotting the lead rope hard around his reaching nose.

I led Hussein over the rise on which the scaffold stood, down into the gully beyond. Tying him, I ran back up the ridge, fopped on my belly, snaked back down through the grass. After all, a booming fire never was bad theater.

IN the pocket of the sergeant's jacket was an Army tinder kit. I fished it out, wadded a pile of dry grass into the fagots crammed under my last resting place, began quickly striking the flint.

The fat sparks flew into the stuffed grasses, my breath puffing steadily behind them.

The vibrating growl of the packed audience accepting Crazy Horse's speech, rolled in my footsteps as I ran for the ridge-top. I no more than slid over into the dark of the gully than the whole skyline, capward, flashed red.

I could hear the sucking boom of the mushrooming flames leaping around the scaffolding; then the alarmed shouts and moccasin-falls of the running crowd. The hillside thronged with watchers seconds after I'd quitted it. My medicine was good. A milling, pushing mob of Indians trampled the slope over which Hussein and I had passed.

Our tracks wouldn't be found, tomorrow or any morning.

IT is not possible to know what history will ascribe as the reason for the Sioux not scalping Yellow Hair. I have given the real one: one great warrior's personal respect for another. For the fact that 48 hours later, Terry's column found Custer's body unmarked save for the wounds he took in battle.

The battle was over. They had won the greatest victory over white troops in their history. Now all that remained was to chase down the great soldier with the chevrons and Cetan Mant.

Best not to spoil such fun too quickly. Let them run. Let them have a start. Especially Cetan Mant.

Swinging up on Keogh's horse, Comanche, I grabbed Butler by the arm, shouting, "Let's go, Sergeant. They'll want a run before elevating our wigs." His hard jaw broke in that fat grin as he swung up behind me.

"By all means. Let's not disappoint 'em."

I let Comanche go a dozen jumps across the hill. Suddenly Butler called out, "Hit for the top, Colonel." I swung the horse hard left, pulling him up the last few yards of the incline. "We'll make that hill even if Custer couldn't." The soldier's words were gritted between clenched teeth and I knew he'd been hit.

The Sioux came right on our haunches, peeping and war-whooping but holding their fire now.

As we hit the rise, Sergeant Butler yelled, "Here goes the Seventh." He'd flung himself off the horse, hit the ground, rolled to his knees and had his guns smoking, almost before his words were out.

The Sioux split around the hill-

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Egocentric

Easy Meany is a little bug with wiggly and kinked legs. He is the easiest—and the meanest—somebody in the whole Great Forest, he says.

But today's story is not about little Easy Meany. Oh no! Today's story is about Easy Meany's cousin. The cousin was a little mischief bug whose name was Egocentric. Yes, and Egocentric was waiting now by the Elephant Path because he heard a someone calling. The someone more important than he thinks he is." And Egocentric of a sudden took a jump and a bite of the Huffen's leg.

"Ewww!" shouted the Huffen, and away he ran as fast as he could to find Daddy Ringtail and tell him about it.

"Now, now, now," said Daddy Ringtail when the Huffen had told him. "You aren't hurt, Huffen Puffen, and so you mustn't fret yourself."

But the Huffen said he would too fret himself. Why, he was bitten by the Egocentric bug, he was, and so now he was more important than he thought he was. How terrible! What if you were more important than you thought you were, because then you wouldn't think you were really as important as you really are.

But again Daddy Ringtail said for the Huffen not to fret himself. Daddy Ringtail promised that the Huffen thought he was just as important as he really was, and a promise is a promise, and so the Huffen knew that the Egocentric bug had somehow failed to cause his mischief after all. Happy day!

one was not an elephant. The someone was the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf.

"Yoo hoo! Wait up, Huffen Puffen!" called out Egocentric, the mischief bug.

The Huffen waited up and said: "I am the Huffen Puffen, I am, I am, and I am a very important fellow."

"Really now? Are you really important?" asked the mischief bug whose name was Egocentric. And so the Huffen said he was such an important fellow, he was, that he was almost half as important as he thought he was.

Egocentric laughed to hear these words. Oh yes he did! And Egocentric said to himself: "So the Huffen says he is almost half as important as he thinks he is. Well, after I give him a bite on the leg, he will be

Humble Stockholders Approve Stock Split

HOUSTON—(AP)—Humble Oil stockholders voted Thursday to increase the number of common shares from 18 million to 36 million shares without change in capitalization.

Elihu H. Baker, president, pointed out that stockholders' investment in the company has more than doubled since 1943, when the last change in the number of shares of stock was made.

The charter change authorizing the two-for-one split will be filed November 15, and will become effective at that time.

Stunning Stripper To Shed For Jury

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.—(AP)—Lill St. Cyr plans to present her famed bubble bath act before a jury.

The stunning strip teaser pleaded innocent Thursday to charges that she put on a lewd show at a Hollywood night club, and her attorney said she will demonstrate at her trial that her performance really is "art." The trial was set for December 4.

The attorney, Jerry Giesler, asked that the jury be made up of experts from the fields of art, movies and television.

Bob Morgan of the Montreal Royals in the International League was the only player in every game played by his club this season.

District Opener Starts At 8 P. M.

A capacity crowd is expected at 8 p.m. Friday in Memorial Stadium when the Lamesa Golden Tornados, headed by triple-threat Jerry Millsapps, invade Midland for the first 1-AAA conference clash of the year with the MHS Bulldogs.

The expected crowd of 10,000 fans will be looking on to see if the Midland eleven will be able to halt the explosive Lamesa offense, which has averaged 30 points per game in five contests.

Millsapps, heralded as one of the state's best backs, runs, passes and kicks. His main forte, however, is passing. His chief receivers are End Ray Taylor and Marshall Crawford. Taylor is the team's leading scorer with 48 points.

Coach Tugboat Jones says his team is in good physical and mental shape. Ralph Brooks and Bill Leonard were hampered by bruised legs during workouts this week and Larry Friday had a bruised shoulder, but all expect to be in near top form by kickoff time Friday.

The team's records:

Navy Patrol Plane Crash-Lands Safely
ROCKPORT, TEXAS—(AP)—A giant Navy patrol plane sank in 15 feet of water in Aransas Bay Thursday after its pilot crash-landed the craft minus one engine.

No one was killed. There were only two minor injuries.

Other Texans still in the running: Edward Hall, Brownsville; Raleigh Selby, Kilgore; Norman Lewis, Houston; Billy Erfurth, San Antonio; Dale Morey, Dallas.

Texas Golfers Come Through In Tourney

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Only 12 U. S. entries from a starting lineup of 24 remained Friday as the twenty-sixth Amateur Golf Tournament entered its third round.

All the big U. S. names, however, came through the first two rounds Thursday without difficulty.

Billy Maxwell, U. S. National Amateur Champion from Odessa, Texas, took his opening 18-hole round from Mexico Oscar Casso, 2 and 1, and then went on to eliminate Dick Nauts, Houston, Texas, 6 and 5.

Joe Conrad, 1950 Mexican Champion from North Texas State College, Denton, had easy going over Blackie Black, Harlingen, Texas, 8 and 7, and Mexico's James Juarez, 8 and 7.

Conrad's and Maxwell's teammates on the NTSC golf team likewise won their matches. Don January defeated Rafael Torres, Mexico, and Piro Diaz, Mexico, 5 and 4. Buster Reed drew a bye in the first round and then won from Fernando Sala Guerra, 3 and 2.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, had an easy day, drawing a bye for the opening round and then eliminating Ed Brady, San Benito, Texas, 5 and 4.

This is a "character building" year in Stanton, as the coaches say when the wins are few and far between. . . . Oughta have a good crowd in Memorial Stadium Friday night. . . . End of The Row for now.

Ousted Collector's Tax Returns Come Under Prober's Fire

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A federal tax collector's account of his lucrative sideline activities—and a dispute over his own income tax deductions—touched spurs Friday to an audit of the tax returns of the Internal Revenue Bureau's $6,000 workers.

The story unfolded Thursday under House investigators' questioning of dapper, excitable Joseph P. Marcelle, who had resigned by request Tuesday as tax collector at Brooklyn for the First New York District.

John B. Dunlap, commissioner of Internal Revenue, testified that an audit of Marcelle's tax returns showed he had claimed unsubstantiated income tax deductions and understated his income a total of $32,834 since becoming collector in 1944. Marcelle's tax returns never before had been audited, Dunlap added.

Marcelle conceded he "was very careless" about his own taxes. He testified that his net worth when he went to work for the bureau was $2,415 and a house in his wife's name. In 1948, four years later, he said, his gross income was $135,776.58, mostly from outside business ventures.

Denies 'Connivance' He insisted it was "without any connivance of mine" that his 1948 tax return, the biggest he ever filed, was routed into files reserved for individual returns on income under $8,000. These usually are not audited by revenue agents.

Dunlap said he was pressing for "a complete audit" of the tax returns of bureau employes for the last three years, "including myself," and would go back farther "if it seems indicated."

The study in Marcelle's case showed the former collector had underestimated his 1948 income by $11,419, and had claimed unsubstantiated deductions totaling $23,097, partially offset by an unclaimed allowance of $1,682, Dunlap added.

He said such a case, if it involved "a private citizen," probably would not be pressed for criminal prosecution, but that efforts would be made to collect the taxes believed due. He did not say whether this would be the procedure in Marcelle's case.

The committee called a recess of its hearings for the remainder of the week, members told a reporter. "We've just begun this thing." The group has been looking into operations of the whole tax collection service.

Ex-Convict Admits Selling 99 Gallons Of Fatal Moonshine

ATLANTA—(AP)—A former convict charged with murder in the death of 31 persons who died here after drinking poisoned liquor was identified Thursday night as a mixer of deadly moonshine.

Solicitor Paul Webb of Fulton County said a North Georgia farmer told him he saw John R. (Fat) Hardy blend wood alcohol and well water at an abandoned farmhouse about 25 miles northeast of Atlanta. The brew was made a few days before a wave of moonshine liquor deaths began sweeping Atlanta, Webb said the farmer related.

Webb said the farmer—52-year-old Luke Turner—told him Hardy was aided by an unidentified negro in mixing the deadly stuff.

A few hours earlier the solicitor had filed murder charges against Hardy, a 360-pounder.

33 Dead, 301 Treated The huge, one-time convict admitted he had peddled 99 gallons of a mixture of wood alcohol and water to negro bootleggers here, Webb disclosed.

Hardy, 44, was found Thursday in an Atlanta hospital, where he was being treated for a fractured arm suffered, he said, in a motor car accident. He immediately was placed under guard.

Since the wave of moonshine deaths took its first toll Sunday night, 29 negroes and two white persons have died and 301 other victims have received hospital treatment.

At midweek, two white men died of wood alcohol poisoning at nearby Winder, Ga., and a third was reported in critical condition. These deaths brought the total fatalities in the Atlanta area to 33.

New Express Rate Boost Authorized

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Railway Express Agency has received government permission for an 11 per cent general increase in its express rates. The company had asked for increases averaging 25 per cent.

The authority, granted Thursday by the Interstate Commerce Commission, would allow the rate hike on 15 days' notice to the public.

The increase will apply to all types of shipments except daily newspapers, milk, cream and corpses.

Although the commission estimated the new rates will increase express charges by $29,650,524 a year, a commission official said this "will not take the express operation out of the red."

Wilson Rules Out Army Payment Of Premium Beef Prices

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Army will not pay premium prices for beef, Defense Mobilization Charles F. Wilson said Thursday night.

Wilson's statement followed reports that Department of Agriculture officials had been discussing premium price payments as a possible means of getting more beef for the armed services. They have not been able to get all they need in recent weeks.

Wilson said he was speaking for the Agriculture Department, the Army, the Office of Price Stabilization and his own office in stating that "there is no intention to take such a proposal under consideration."

Army Spells Out Discharge Program For All Reservists

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An Army spokesman said Thursday night there's no plans to release organized reservists sooner than the 24-month active duty term specified in the Universal Military Training and Service (UMTS) Act.

He spelled out the Army's reserve release plans as follows:

1. All organized reservists will serve 24 months. The only exceptions, he said, will be enlisted men whose extended enlistments expire before 24 months. They will be released on that earlier date and have no future reserve obligation.
2. Enlisted veterans and non-veterans called involuntarily from the volunteer and inactive reserve will be released by Dec. 20, 1951.
3. Enlisted veterans called voluntarily from the volunteer and inactive reserve will be released after 16 months service or when their extended enlistments expire, whichever is sooner.
4. Officer veterans called either voluntarily or involuntarily from the volunteer or inactive reserve may apply for release after 17 months service since the Korean outbreak.
5. Officer non-veterans will serve 24 months, whether called voluntarily or involuntarily.

The Army spokesman said a veteran for these purposes is a man who served 12 months or more on active duty between Pearl Harbor and Sept. 2, 1945.

He said all enlistments which expired before June 30, 1952, have been extended 12 months from date of expiration but no man's enlistment may be extended more than once unless he consents.

One Killed, Six Hurt As Red Batteries Hit Two U. S. Navy Ships

TOKYO—(AP)—One U. S. sailor was killed and six were injured when Red shore batteries hit the escort destroyer Ulvert M. Moore recently off Korea's east coast.

Far East Naval Headquarters, making the disclosure Friday, said both ships remained on the battle line. One shell hit the Moore October 17. One man was killed and two injured. The destroyer was bombarded in the industrial area of Hungnam before dawn.

A Red shore battery hit the superstructure of the Helena October 22. Four crew members were wounded superficially.

Liquor Heir Leaves Fortune To Humanity

RENO—(AP)—Max C. Fleischmann left his huge fortune to humanity when he took his life at Santa Barbara, Calif., last week.

The fortune—estimated by friends at more than $50,000,000—will go almost entirely into the Max C. Fleischmann Foundation of Nevada, the state in which he lived most of the last 15 years.

Established last March, the foundation will be administered by his widow, Sarah, and five other trustees. All of the money, he stipulated, must be used within 20 years after Mrs. Fleischmann's death for furthering "the public welfare x x x or well-being of mankind."

Heir to a vast yeast and distillery fortune, Fleischmann shot himself after he learned he was incurably ill with cancer.

New York's Milk Strike Terminated By Wage Increase

NEW YORK—(AP)—Milk trucks started rolling again Friday to serve 12,000,000 consumers in the New York metropolitan area following settlement of a one-day strike in the industry.

The dairies said they hoped for normal or near-normal deliveries Friday in the three-state area.

Fifteen thousand drivers and dairy workers employed by 200 companies won a "package" increase of $10.80 a week in an agreement which ended the strike late Thursday.

Consumers apparently will have to pay more for their milk within a matter of days.
