WEATHER

Fair in Panhandle and South Plains Tuesday night, with lowest temperatures 26-34. Wednesday fair and warmer. Maximum temperature Monday 55 degrees, minimum Tuesday 20 degrees.

Long Extension To Four Corner Area Finaled By Sinclair

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 J. B. Culverley has been completed as a two-mile extension to Spraberry production in the Four Corner area of Southwest Glasscock County. It was completed from open hole at 6,835-6,910 feet after 4,000 gallons of Stratrafac.

Potential was 247 barrels of 36.7-gravity oil and no water in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 658-1 and tubing pressure was 40 pounds.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 31, block 36, T-4-S, T&P survey.

It was completed through open two-inch tubing.

Grayburg Discovery Finishes As Pumper In NW Crockett

A small pumping discovery has been completed from the Grayburg sand in Northwest Crockett County at Otto Engle, Childress & Miller, and associates, No. 1 Henry Half estate.

This new field opener reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 32.12 barrels of oil, and no water. That figure was calculated from an actual 18-hour pumping test in which the wellhead produced 22.08 barrels of oil.

The petroleum is coming from open hole in the Grayburg sand at 1,633-1,735 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is set at 1,653 feet.

Pay Was Shot

The prospect drilled to a total depth of 1,820 feet and then plugged back to 1,735 feet. The zone at 1,679-1,731 feet was shot with 140 quarts of nitro glycerin.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 52, block 1, L&GN survey. That makes it three miles west of the Clara Couch field, five and one-half miles east of Sheffield and one and three-quarter miles east of the Pecos River.

The new producer is on acreage farmed out by Sun Oil Company and Moore Exploration Company.

Williamson To Test San Andres Shows In SE Terry Wildcat

J. C. Williamson of Midland, No. 1 Gunn, Southeast Terry County wildcat, 15 miles southeast of Brownfield will make production tests on shows of oil it has logged in the San Andres-Permian.

The prospector is 660 feet from north and east lines of the south-west quarter of section 7, block C-39, psi survey.

It topped the San Andres at 4,470 feet. Elevation is 3,155 feet.

Had Oil Stains

A string of 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 4,884 feet. Total depth is now 4,920 feet. The interval at 4,884-4,920 feet had drilled soft and had logged some oil stains in the samples.

Operator is moving out rotary and will move in cable tools to dgill the plug and drill deeper into the San Andres. The project will be tested in the section already drilled and also as it deepened.

Near A Dry Hole

It is 1,900 feet northeast of Woodley Petroleum Company No. 1 Gunn, a dry hole at total depth of 5,250 feet which was plugged and abandoned in 1945.

That exploration had some interesting shows of oil—but they were not sufficient to make a commercial oil well.

Effective Speaking Course Is Scheduled

The University of Texas will hold two courses in "Effective Speaking" in the conference room of Shell Oil Company, Midland, November 12-16.

A similar course was held in October under the sponsorship of the Permian Personnel Association, an organization of those in West Texas oil industry concerned with petroleum personnel activities.

Arthur J. Edwards, supervisory training specialist of the University of Texas Extension division, conducted the first course and will return to Midland to conduct the additional courses.

Registration must be completed before Monday to insure enrollment in the course. The general public is invited to attend the course which has an enrollment fee of $10.

Burt Risley, supervisory training specialist of the University of Texas Petroleum Training department, will handle registration for the Odessa area. He may be contacted (Continued On Page 10)

Ground Broken For Midland National's New Bank Building

Ground was broken Monday for the construction of the new Midland National Bank Building at the corner of Texas Street and Big Spring Streets, bank officials said Tuesday.

The three-story and basement structure is being erected by the Bank Building Equipment Corporation of America, which was awarded the general construction contract several weeks ago. The structure is scheduled for completion about the middle of next year. All critical materials have been purchased and set aside for the project.

The building will face North on Texas Street. The Texas Street side of the structure will be 90 feet in length, extending 100 feet on Big Spring Street. A total of 35,000 square feet of floor space will be provided.

Bank officials said the new building will provide adequate banking quarters, along with two floors of office space. Foundation for a 10-story building will be laid.

The structure will be of the latest and most modern design throughout.

Holding Elviro is nurse Manuela Bastista, who accompanied her on the trip to America to attempt to get the pins removed.

Cease-Fire Before Armistice Is Seen As Reds' Objective

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—The United Nations Command spokesman Tuesday said the Reds want to call off the fighting in Korea without signing a formal armistice.

The UN, he said, will have none of that.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, the spokesman, told newsmen the Reds tipped their hand Tuesday when they rejected the latest Allied proposal. That was an offer Monday to set aside the stalemate cease-fire buffer zone issue for the moment and take up other items that must be settled before a formal armistice can be signed.

Wintry Blasts Ease Off In Nation After Claiming 139 Lives

By The Associated Press

Cold weather prevailed Tuesday over most of the nation, but much of the turbulence that had given almost half the country a four-day storm session was absent.

The wintry walls which hit the country from the Northern Rockies to the Atlantic Seaboard claimed at least 139 lives by Monday night, most of them the result of traffic accidents on slippery highways.

A new storm erupted Monday night over Southern Arkansas, producing showers along the Texas Coast, over Louisiana and Southern Arkansas, and bringing snow over an area from Eastern Oklahoma northeastward into the Ohio Valley. Ten-inch snowfalls were reported at Chanute, Kan., and Springfield, Mo.

There was some sleet and freezing rain near the Ohio River.

But for the most part, fair weather was in prospect for the earlier storm areas. That is, fair but still quite cold. The cold wave dragged temperatures to their lowest levels since 1887 in scores of cities from the East Coast to the Rockies. Typical readings early Tuesday included Chicago 29, Detroit 27, Lone Rock, Wis., minus seven, Cadillac, Mich., minus seven, St. Louis 26, New York City 36. It was 75 in Miami, 60 in Los Angeles.

Egypt Civilians, British Soldiers Exchange Gunfire

CAIRO, EGYPT—(P)—Egyptian civilians and British soldiers fired on each other without hurting anyone Tuesday outside Ismailia in the Suez Canal area, a British military spokesman reported.

The shooting was said to have occurred at the Neftsha Bridge near a British anti-aircraft emplacement.

The spokesman said two English-speaking Egyptians approached two British soldiers and demanded they "come forward and surrender."

This was followed by a burst of automatic fire from the Egyptians, said the spokesman, and the British then returned the fire.

The spokesman said there had been a sharp increase of incidents between Egyptians and British troops.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Tuesday authorized a 10-cents-a-pound increase in the price of boneless beef brisket—popularly sold as corned beef—effective at once.

EIGHTH ARMY, KOREA—(AP)—Two Allied units were overrun by Chinese Reds in a bloody battle for possession of a shell-pocked hill position on the western front, a field dispatch said Wednesday. There was no estimate of casualties in the fight.

BERKELEY, CALIF.—(AP)—A strong earthquake recorded at 10:49 a.m. Tuesday on the University of California seismograph probably occurred in South America, Seismologist Don Tocher reported.

TEHRAN, IRAN—(AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, in a cable from Washington, Tuesday ordered the Iranian government to act immediately to repress Tehran University, closed by Communist riots, and to forestall further rioting.

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—Evita Peron underwent a successful major operation Tuesday and her condition is good, the government announced in a radio broadcast.

Ike Refuses To Answer 'Yes' Or 'No'

WASHINGTON—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday that "if the time ever comes" for him to speak out on politics he'll do so immediately.

He declared, however, that "as of this moment" his job as supreme Allied commander in Europe is much too important for him to take any political stand.

He told a news conference no one has been authorized to act for him in an Eisenhower-for-President movement, adding that if he feels it his duty to speak "no one will need to speak for me."

Eisenhower met with reporters a few minutes before taking off at 10:21 a.m. in his plane, the "Columbine," on his return to his headquarters near Paris.

He said he spoke on the telephone—presumably earlier Tuesday—with Senator Duff (R-Pa.), a leader in the drive to get the Republican presidential nomination for Eisenhower.

Reds Knock Allies From Third Peak

EIGHTH ARMY, KOREA—(P)—Chinese infantrymen Tuesday captured a third hill on the expanding western front and held two other peaks against Allied counterattacks.

The Reds won three other hills but lost them again.

The three-day-old Red offensive spread through drizzling rain over a 20-mile sector. Attacking Reds were supported by their heaviest display of armor in months. They hit the United Nations forces from points west of Yonchon, eight miles north of the 38th parallel, to the hills north of Chorwon, western anchor of their old Iron Triangle.

Chinese attacks Tuesday took advantage of rains and mist which grounded UN warplanes. The Fifth Air Force reported only 19 successful sorties during the day. Sixteen of these were radar-directed bomb attacks on the Red front.

From Two Directions

Chinese commanders employed elements of a division (up to 10,000 men) in their assaults in the west.

In the center of this sector, waves of Reds struck from two directions behind a heavy barrage and captured their third peak. The attack opened with a heavy concentration of fire from mortars, artillery, tanks and self-propelled guns.

The force of the assault drove Allies from their muddy foxholes atop the hill northwest of Yonchon.

West of Yonchon, counterattacking Allied infantrymen were stopped in an attempt to recapture two hills the Reds overran in a vicious eight-hour battle at the start of their assault Sunday. The UN infantrymen fought to within 500 yards of the crests, under fire of 22 Red tanks.

There they were stopped. Waves of Reds stormed down from the peaks, trying to shove the Allies off the slopes. UN troops cut them down and held their positions.

There has been speculation that Eisenhower might give up his European post early next year if he decides to seek a presidential nomination.

Key Statement

The key statement in Eisenhower's exchange with reporters on politics appeared to be this one:

"If the time ever comes I feel that my duty compels me to say a word of any kind I will do so positively and definitely."

Although saying he had not authorized the statement, he had not authorized it.

LAUGHS AT 'BOOM' TALK

Eisenhower said he and Duff discussed "some subjects of mild interest" to both of them but when asked if Duff talked over with him what a reporter called the "Eisenhower-for-President boom" the general replied with a hearty laugh: "No, he didn't."

"I didn't know it had reached the proportions of a boom."

Eisenhower said that when he accepted the combined Western Defense Command last year he told President Truman he hoped the assignment wouldn't last "too long."

He declined to say how long he expected to continue in the post, saying "the subject never came up" in his conversations Monday with the President.

Mexico May Lift Ban On Braceros For Ranch Labor

EL PASO—(P)—Mexican negotiators have agreed to recommend lifting of a ban against using Mexican contract labor on U. S. ranches, Representative Fisher (D-Texas) said Tuesday.

He told the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association he had just learned this in a telephone call to Washington. The congressman is here for the group's 36th annual convention.

"We expect, or at least hope, that the Mexican government will give these recommendations final approval this week," Fisher said.

Under a new migratory labor agreement last Summer, Mexican contract laborers were restricted to farm work. They had been permitted to work on ranches previously.

Raging Snowstorm Paralyzes St. Louis

ST. LOUIS—(P)—The city's worst snowstorm in 39 years paralyzed the St. Louis metropolitan area of about 1,600,000 persons Tuesday and no letup before nightfall was in sight.

One foot of snow blanketed the city at mid-morning. The record-breaking storm piled snow up to a depth of almost two feet in other sections of Missouri.

Many roads and highways were impassable. Schools closed and business was curtailed sharply.

Thousands of persons were unable to get to work in St. Louis, where more snow fell in a 14-hour period than during the combined years of 1931 and 1932. It was the city's greatest snowstorm for this early in the year, and the fifth greatest in St. Louis history.

Hundreds of minor accidents were reported, but only one death was attributed to the storm. Many bus schedules were canceled, and the pileup of snow on the Municipal Airport here cut air traffic to a fraction of the normal volume.

Rail workers struggled to clear tracks in the big rail yards here, with all trains delayed an hour or more.

Grid Tickets To Go On Sale Wednesday

Tickets for the Midland-Big Spring 1-AAA football game scheduled Friday night at Big Spring will go on sale here at noon Wednesday.

The sale will continue until tickets are sold out or through Friday morning. It will be held in the foyer of the high school auditorium.

An allotment of reserved seat tickets for the east side of the Big Spring stadium has been sent here. Tickets thus are limited and it is first-come, first-served for the better seats. The tickets on sale are for adults, not students.

Grand Jury Returns 19 Indictments

Nineteen criminal indictments were returned late Monday in 70th District Court by the Midland County grand jury.

The grand jury, sworn in Monday morning, reported to Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton and then recessed until November 30.

Names of those indicted were not disclosed by court attaches pending formal service of necessary papers.

Red Feather Drive Contributions Slow Almost To Trickle

Midland Community Chest leaders were planning to confer Tuesday on plans for speeding up the current campaign for $55,447.25.

Tuesday the funds for operating seven Midland organizations amounted to only $28,000 of the needed total. Chest headquarters reported contributions were only trickling in. This barely sent the drive past the half-way mark.

Pat Ruckman, general campaign chairman, urged workers to make their reports on contributions received so far. One more Midland firm joined the 100 Per Cent Club—Bartley, Crawford and Skrabanek.

Appeal Made As UN Opens Paris Session

PARIS—(P)—President Vincent Auriol of France opened the sixth session of the United Nations General Assembly Tuesday with an appeal for a Truman-Churchill-Stalin meeting in Paris during this session to discuss world tensions.

Auriol told delegates of 60 nations, gathered in the theater of the red and gold Palais de Chaillot, such a meeting would be welcomed with joy throughout the world.

Rail Union Calls Strike On Thursday

WASHINGTON—(P)—A rail union Monday called a strike for next Thursday on four major railroad facilities. The government promptly acted to head it off.

The walkout on three rail systems and at the St. Louis Terminal was ordered at 3 p.m. Thursday by David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Shortly afterwards, Chairman Leverett Edwards of the National (Railway) Mediation Board sent a message to the White House saying an emergency existed under Railway Labor Law.

This enables President Truman to create a board to look into the issues of the dispute and recommend settlement terms. Under rail labor law, the union is committed, once the board is created, to refrain from a walkout for 30 days while the board holds hearings and writes its findings, and for 30 days thereafter.

'Progressive' Walkout

Thus, naming of an emergency board by President Truman will have the effect of postponing any strike for up to 60 days.

The strike was termed a "progressive" one, meaning that while the walkout initially was to affect four key railroads and their subsidiaries, other rail systems could be struck later.

The four lines on which the walkout Thursday was ordered are: Chicago and Northwestern Railway, including the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway; Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis; Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, including the Buffalo Division and the Buffalo and Susquehanna District; Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

Speedy Cold Front Whips Across State In 24-Hour Period

By The Associated Press

A speedy cold front whipped into the Gulf of Mexico early Tuesday after blasting the length of Texas with icy winds in less than 24 hours.

Expected widespread snowstorms in the Panhandle area failed to materialize and temperatures dipped only a few degrees below freezing.

Skies were clear or clearing at all Texas points Tuesday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted a slight warmup in northern and western sections during the day but temperatures Tuesday night are expected to be in the same range as those of Monday night.

The Panhandle area got a touch of snow Monday but East and South Texas got most of the moisture out of the cold front. While moisture from the swirling snow was hardly enough to measure, rains brought 1.33 inches to Palestine, 1.23 to Victoria, 1.10 to College Station, 1.07 to Lufkin and 1.26 to Texarkana. Beaumont had .85, Galveston .45, Palacios .56, and Tyler .43.

Wink with 24 degrees, had the lowest temperature in the state Monday night. Amarillo had 25 degrees and Dalhart 26. Brownsville was high overnight with 49; Dallas and Fort Worth had 28.

Bench Warrants Issued For Arrest Of Midland Couple

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Bail of $1,000 each was set for Bancroft Mitchell, 45, Midland, Texas, oil man, and his wife, 27, after the couple failed to appear here Monday on charges of disturbing the peace.

Appearance bonds of $100 each were forfeited and bench warrants issued for their arrest in Municipal Court here. The action came after the couple's attorney asked for a continuance, saying Mitchell was tied up with business in New York.

The two were arrested last October 15, while here on a vacation trip. Police said they got into a squabble over selection of a hotel.

Two Texas Airfields To Be Reactivated

WASHINGTON — Plans to reactivate the World War II Army Air Field at Eagle Pass, Texas, and the Pinto Auxiliary Field No. 2, Kinney County, Texas, were announced here Monday.

The Air Force said the two fields would be used as auxiliary flying centers of the Laughlin Air Force Base at Del Rio, Texas.

Actress, Family Ill Of Food Poisoning

HOLLYWOOD — Joan Crawford and five members of her household are recovering from food poisoning.

The actress said she believes a chicken served at Sunday dinner caused the illness which confined them to their beds Monday. She expects to return to work Wednesday.

Others stricken were three adopted children, Cynthia and Cathy, four-year-old twins; Christina, 12; their nurse, Margaret Bruchacher, and a maid, Julie Carmen.

CONNALLY TO SPEAK, BUT NOT OF POLITICS

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please settle a problem for us" requests a San Diego reader. "When the accompanying hand was played, South was very clever—but we don't know what to say about East. Was he weak-minded or just unfortunate?"

West opened the jack of hearts and dummy won with the ace. Declarer then immediately returned the four of hearts from the dummy.

South saw that he was bound to lose a trick in each suit if the king of spades happened to be behind him. This play in the heart suit was an attempt to avoid the loss of a trick there.

East steeled and steeled at this second trick. Had his partner led the king of hearts anyway. Suppose South ruffs the king of hearts—what difference does it make? South cannot get to dummy to get a discard on the queen of hearts for East has the ace of diamonds and the ace of clubs.

East can surely take the first diamond and cash the ace of clubs. If West has the king of clubs, East can lead a second club to make sure of that trick. In short, the defenders can surely get the tricks that are coming to them in diamonds and clubs even if East puts up the king of hearts and has it ruffed away.

Playing the king of hearts couldn't cost anything. Failure to play it, as East found out, cost the rubber.

West North East South
1 Heart 1 Spade Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades Q-7-4, Hearts 3-2, Diamonds K-7-5, Clubs A-K-J-9-4. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. As a matter of fact, with a conservative partner bid four spades. You have ample trump support for a suit that was worth a vulnerable overcall. The only question is how high to raise your partner. The raise to three gives your partner a chance to duck if he is really ashamed of his overcall. With any sound hand he will go on to game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding has been:

East South West North

You, South, hold: Spades J-10-9-7-5, Hearts K-J-4, Diamonds Q-7-5, Clubs A-2. What do you lead?

A—Lead the jack of spades. You must certainly lead your long suit since you have several probable reentries and may well be able to establish and run your suit. The correct card to lead from the spade suit is the top of the sequence, the jack.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-10-7-5, Hearts K-J-4, Diamonds 8-7-5, Clubs A-2. What do you lead?

Answer Tomorrow

from jack-ten-ten or from jack-ten-ten? In either case the opening lead would have been the jack. If his partner had the ten of hearts, it was up to East to play low; but if South had the ten of hearts, it was up to East to play the king.

East finally decided to play a low heart, and South won the trick with the ten. Of course South drew trumps hastily after that, and made his contract with ease.

Was there any way for East to know what was going on—or was he just unlucky?

East couldn't be sure of what was going on, but he should have played

IN HOLLYWOOD

There Are Some Things Even Hollywood Won't Do

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Behind the Screen: It's open season in Hollywood on the stars of Senator Ke-fauver's crime hearings and the "any resemblance is strictly coincidental" words up there on the screen may have to be printed in underlined capital letters.

First it was Claire Trevor's hard-as-nails Southern babe with gangster-boy friends in Republic's "Hoodlum Empire." And now its blonde, winsome Carolyn Jones (watch this doll zoom to stardom) telling a crime-investigating committee in Paramount's "This Is Dynamite":

"Where do I get my money? From fellas, of course. How much did I have when I left Florida? I don't remember. Maybe $12,000, maybe $20,000. Money is for spending."

In the same film Ed Begley plays an underworld czar with nervous hands while fumbling over racket-buster Edmond O'Brien's questions. I asked Producer Irving Asher if there would be any close-ups of Begley's fidgety digits.

Asher looked as startled as a movie exhibitor caught in front of a TV set during a Movietime, U. S. A. rally and whispered:

"We don't dare."

"The day that Hollywood puts you in pictures for your pretty face is over. The curly hair, the blue eyes and the teeth all go in time. You have to be an actor."

Tony Curtis, hottest of Hollywood's movie males, talking on the "Hear No Evil" set.

It was the burn in Tony's eyes and the sweep of his black hair that startled him on the stardom ladder, but he's out to make moviegoers holler about his acting.

"When people go to see me because they think I'm a good actor, then I'll be happy," vowed Janet Leigh's hubby. "This is the compliment I'm waiting for."

"I believe I'm developing as an actor. I think I've helped all young actors in this respect."

"Producers say, 'Hey, if this young punk from New York can help carry a picture, maybe other young punks can do it.'"

Help Em Laugh

Ann Sheridan ho-hum about her movie career?

The accusing finger has been pointed at Ann, but she slipped it to me that she's still ga-ga about sound stages, cameras and movie razzle-dazzle.

"I can understand people saying that I've lost interest," husky-voiced Ann said. "I've said no to so many movies offered to me. But the rumor's not true. I wouldn't be happy at all unless I could make pictures."

"I'm not knocking a good drama if one can be found, but I'm doing the comedy stuff that I like to do. We're in for a laugh time. People want to laugh."

Brace yourselves, brothers and sisters—Hollywood's coming out with rainbow-hued curls for movie queens.

Whisks of red, green and lavender will be worn by movietown dolls when the sun goes down, according to hair-stylist Jack Sasson, and blondes like Betty Grable and Lana

Franchot May Sue Woman Columnist

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Columnist Florabel Muir will have to tell Franchot Muir's lawyer about that little set-to at a night club.

Tone got a court order Monday directing Miss Muir to give testimony November 19 at the office of Tone's attorney. Tone said he is considering a suit for invasion of his right to privacy and will require the testimony.

Miss Muir, he said, "falsely accused the petitioner of being in possession of and being under the influence of narcotics." She made this charge, he said, to deputies the night of the quarrel, October 29.

Miss Muir made a "citizen's arrest" of Tone, saying he had spit in her face and kicked her shins. At the same time, Tone said, she made the narcotics accusation. The actor said medical tests, made immediately at his insistence, proved he was not under the influence of narcotics.

Tone also asked that testimony be obtained from Miss Muir and others about the "unlawful and fraudulent" recording of telephone conversations between him and Barbara Payton before their recent marriage.

He said the recording was made over the telephone of Elizabeth Cogriff, who shared a party line with Miss Payton. Testimony about this incident will be taken November 20, the court said.

It's a new career shake for Deed Arnez as co-star with wife Lucille Ball in TV's "I Love Lucy."

"I'm playing a real fellow at last," crowed Cuban-born Deed. "It's the most wonderful thing in the world. I'm so tired of trying to be funny with maracas while Diana Castello tosses her derrere."

"I've been at RKO, MGM, everywhere in this town. They wouldn't let me do anything but beat drums and wear big hats."

First video idea for Lucille and Deed was for them to play themselves but the pair nixed it quickly in favor of a modest-income Mr. and Mrs. format.

"What problems," wailed Deed, "do we have? We drive a big car, we have a big house, a maid, a swimming pool, everything. We start talking about our problems as Deed and Lucille and the public would wonder what we were squawking about."

"I'm a new face," John Beal grinned on the "My Six Convicts" set. "I've been forgotten and rediscovered."

Snowed under by an avalanche of B pictures several years ago, Beal left Hollywood for Broadway. Now he's back on the sound stages that he first saw when he arrived in movietown in 1933 to play in "Another Language" with Helen Hayes.

And in the plum role of the prison psychologist in Stanley Kramer's new picture, too.

But he's not sure about staying around Hollywood.

"It all depends on work," said Beal. "I kinda go where I can get a job."

Mrs. Stanley B. Shaeffer

SOCIETY

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 6, 1961-3

Frances Eubank And S. B. Shaeffer Wed

Frances Ann Eubank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Eubank of Ranger, became the bride of Stanley Beaubien Shaeffer of Midland recently in a candlelight ceremony in the First Baptist Church in Ranger.

The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Ralph E. Perkins. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Shaeffer of Alameda, Calif. Baskets of snowball chrysanthemums, white gladiolus and emerald fern and three seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers formed the background for the ceremony. Each candelabrum was decorated with a bouquet of the chrysanthemums and gladiolus. A screen of greenery outlined the rostrum around which the wedding party stood.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. F. P. Brasher, Sr., organist, played "Thine Alone" and "Indian Love Call" and accompanied William Bullock, soloist, who sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." Mrs. Brasher also played "Clare de Lune" during the ceremony and the traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Meitelsohn.

Jeanie Crawley of Ranger was the candlelighter. She wore a dress fashioned with a gold velvet bodice, a gold net skirt over green net and a gold net stole. She wore a wristlet of bronze pompons.

Attendants Named
Jo Winders of Midland attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were La Rue Ross of Midland and Katherine Adams of Cleburne. Mrs. Elton Heath of Denver City was bridesmatron.

The attendants wore dresses of turquoise blue net over taffeta, designed with fitted strapless bodices outlined around the top with double net ruffles. Net stoles were worn over the shoulders and tucked at the front of the bodices. The full, ballerina length skirts, draped in front, were caught up on each side of the front by artificial flowers.

The attendants wore silver sandals and bandeaux of shirred net to match their dresses. Their crescent-shaped bouquets were fashioned of bronze pompons.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of scalloped white chantilly lace and white satin. The fitted, strapless bodice came to a point at the waistline. She wore a short lace bolero fashioned with a capelet and a stand-up collar. The full skirt, made of tiers of lace, graduated to a long length in back. She wore a Juliet cap of shirred white net trimmed in seed pearls, with a fingertip length veil of illusion, white satin slippers and gloves of white lace.

It's Up To The Reds

Despite optimism over the resumption of peace talks in Korea, prospects, for a settlement hardly can be described as bright. Russia's rejection of the U. S. effort to break the impasse at the Moscow level inevitably casts a pall over negotiations.

Up to now, the feeling in official quarters has been that a bitter logic of compulsion has brought the Communists back to the council table again and again, when it appeared all hope of further discussion was lost.

The elements of compulsion were seen to be these: Heavy Communist losses in the field over more than a year's time.

Inability of the Chinese and North Korean Reds to win from Russia enough new armor and other material to provide the punch for another offensive.

The prospect of shivering out another cruel Korean Winter with forces certain to be severely decimated by cold and disease.

These elements still must be working their powerful logic on the Communist high command. Yet the Reds' performance at Kaesong and Panmunjom shows little sign they are ready for the only kind of settlement the military realities will allow.

General Ridgway recently has informed them in plain words that each day's delay costs them territory, for as our soldiers advance they take the truce line with them.

UN forces today are four to 15 miles beyond their line of August 23, last day of real negotiations.

But even this knowledge has made no substantial dent. Current optimism is over getting around the table again—not over any concrete proposals for settlement. The truth is no progress at all has been made toward that objective, and we must at least entertain the thought that the Reds intend no settlement we could accept.

At the start they may have been misled by early official U. S. declarations that a cease-fire along the 38th parallel might be satisfactory. Foreign Minister Vishinsky's reply to our Moscow overtures indicates the Reds still think in those terms.

Apparently they were upset by our determination to take the truce line with us as we advanced, and to seek a line more defensible militarily than the 38th parallel.

It must be remembered that never in postwar history have Communists been asked to yield land they held before an aggression began. This is something they never have had to swallow. Despite harsh battlefield realities, they haven't yet been able to digest this.

To settle at the 38th would permit them to claim they had "repelled the Western invader bent on conquering North Korea." They could gloss over their failure to win their own goal—South Korea. But they could not gloss over the presence of a potent enemy force 20 to 30 miles inside territory they once called their own.

That is their dilemma. They are meeting it by stalling, by going through truce-talk motions which tend to deflect attention from the battlefield and to water down firmer military resolve on our part. They may well be playing by ear, improvising as they go, hoping something will turn up to give them the break they need.

The question before the United Nations is how long it will permit this fragile device to assist the Communists. If we do not have within the next month or so unmistakable evidence that the Reds are negotiating seriously, we might well consider that the time is at hand for more vigorous prosecution of the war. In war there are some things even a Communist may be brought to accept. And the peril of irreversible defeat is one.

Soviet Hinders Crusade

Harold Stassen says the Russians are sending up fighter planes to knock down Crusade for Freedom balloons bearing anti-Communist propaganda behind the Iron Curtain in Czechoslovakia.

This isn't too surprising if we recall the frenzy with which the Reds have sought to jam American propaganda broadcasts, and the fervent appeal by the Czech government itself to get powerful Radio Free Europe off the air. You can see how much they love the idea of a free interchange of information.

Can't you imagine how the Soviet air force communicates are reading these days? "Six Soviet fighter planes shot down 15 plastic propaganda pillows and created turbulent air drafts which compelled 10 others to return to their bases. All propaganda material in the destroyed balloons was reduced to ashes before it reached ground."

Two nice things about dictating to a recording machine—it doesn't talk back or smack gum!

Money has a different way of talking these days—just hello and goodbye!

Everybody loves a good loser—unless he happens to have a bet on him.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Truman has worried about Eisenhower's candidacy since 1948; Ike promised to talk to Truman before he announces officially; Even the English whistle at the duke.

WASHINGTON—How worried Harry Truman always has been over General Eisenhower's running for President first was indicated by a conversation which Truman had with some of his closest advisers in June, 1948, when a move was on to draft Eisenhower on the Democratic ticket.

The conference took place on the newly built $15,000 White House "back porch" then under Republican fire, and the most important adviser present was White House jester George Allen, who happened to be a good friend both of the President and General Eisenhower.

Truman was worried sick over the prospect of Ike's running, and he made little attempt to disguise his worry from those sitting with him in the cool of the June evening.

He knew, from political soundings throughout the country, that Ike could take the Democratic nomination easily if he announced. Such asserted Democratic leaders as Jimmy Roosevelt in California, Mayor Hague in Jersey City, Senator Olin Johnston of California, Senator-to-be Paul Douglas in Chicago, Carl Rice of Kansas and Mayor O'Dwyer in New York had made their views all too clear.

So Truman determined not to be a political "accident" and determined to vindicate himself at the polls, staved mentally over means of taking Eisenhower out of the race.

George Allen was optimistic. He agreed to leave the next day for New York, promised to come back with a letter from the general guaranteeing that he would not run. Allen did not think there would be much trouble about it.

Others were got so optimistic. Finally it was agreed to telephone Ike as a Democrat.

However, if Eisenhower really wanted to be President, Truman told George Allen, he would be much more at home in the Democratic Party than with the Republicans. In that event, the President indicated he would not have to run openly, but could be "summoned" to the presidency. In fact, Truman even hinted he might like to make the nominating speech himself.

The President then suggested that George Allen fly to Paris and have a heart-to-heart talk with Eisenhower. Allen in turn suggested that Truman write a friendly note in his own handwriting, summarizing his views.

George Allen delivered the note in Paris, and when he returned, reported at the White House that Eisenhower would not quit the North Atlantic Pact in the near future to run for president; but that since the NATO job would be completed by next Spring, he would have plenty of time to decide whether he was interested in politics.

In any event, Eisenhower definitely promised to talk to Truman before he did anything.

Whistling At The Duke As Congressman Harley Staggers of West Virginia was being introduced to Princess Elizabeth, he impulsively remarked:

"Your highness, I am curious about one thing, I understand that some of our American girls have been whistling at your handsome husband. What do you think about that?"

Philip, standing at his wife's side, pricked up his ears. "What was that you said?" he inquired.

Congressman Staggers repeated the question, Elizabeth and Philip looked at each other, then burst out laughing.

"Oh, that happens all the time, wherever we go," the princess replied, with an admiring glance at the duke.

The duke then asked Staggers where he was from and what his job was. Informed that he was a congressman, Philip declared: "Oh, you're one of these statesmen?"

"Not exactly," grinned the West Virginian, who is 44 years old. "I'm not old enough to be a statesman. I'm just a public servant for my constituents."

Note—After his first meeting with Elizabeth, President Truman told a friend: "The thing that impresses and delights me most about her is that she doesn't act like royalty is supposed to act. She's one of the most wholesome and winsome little girls I've ever met."

Since the Vatican appointment, many political observers now are swinging round to the view that Truman does not want to run for a third term. . . . This observer always has said that Truman did not want to run—unless "Tef" was the GOP candidate, in which case he would be sorely tempted. Truman's first choice to be Democratic nominee long has been Chief Justice Vinson, a man with a wealth of executive experience. . . . While Truman and friends were convinced Ike would not run in 1948, a group of Democratic leaders, led by Jack Arvey of Chicago, equally were convinced he would. Arvey kept assuring Jimmy Roosevelt, Senator Tydings and others that he had "the word," but no one ever knew where he got the word. The word, however, came from Morton Downey, who paraded "When Irish Eyes Are Shining" into a close friendship with Democratic leaders and a directorship in General Aniline and Film. Morton, who golfed frequently with Eisenhower, at the Westchester Country Club, gave "the word" to Arvey at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago where Morton was singing. And that was the thread on which the great Eisenhower boom of 1948 hung.

THE STORY: On her first morning after arrival at Black Hills, Elizabeth, Brownell, a nurse, realized that there is an unwholesome atmosphere about the place. It is heightened by attitudes of various members of the family. But Mrs. Lucile Steinhart, Elizabeth's patient, is pleasant.

"Now tell me about your young man, Beth." Old Emily Steinhart, propped against the pillows of her huge four-poster, smiled at the girl sharing her supper tray. Her brown eyes twinkled with new vitality. Elizabeth felt her cheeks grow warm.

"He isn't my young man, Mrs. Steinhart. I've seen Bill Devanter exactly twice, both times very briefly."

"Sometimes that's enough."

"Elizabeth toyed with a bit of artichoke heart. How surprised she had been that afternoon when the young surgeon showed up to return the leather gloves she had left in his station wagon. Now two fine lines formed in the center of her forehead. The old lady observed them and smiled one-sidedly.

"Why are you frowning, my dear?"

Elizabeth's face lit up in one of the rare smiles that altered it so. "I didn't realize I was that transparent. It's just that I don't possibly see how I mislaid my gloves. I know they were tucked through the loop of my handbag."

Mrs. Steinhart managed a small gasping laugh.

"If you had grown up in the '90s, you wouldn't have to think twice. In those days men were more resourceful about finding ways to see again a young lady in whom they were interested. Now I think your young man is just a bit old-fashioned or perhaps far-sighted."

Elizabeth stared at her. It had never occurred to her that Bill Devanter might have purposely taken her gloves. Mrs. Steinhart went on: "Next time he calls please

PETER EDSON'S European News Notebook

Russia Keeps 'Heat' On, But Ground Rules Prevail In Berlin Cold War

BERLIN—(NEA)—The cold war in Berlin is fought under curious ground rules. The Russians constantly keep the heat on, annoying the Western powers every place they can. And the Western zones keep bombarding the Eastern zone with anti-Communist propaganda, through newspapers and radio. Each side would like to get the other out. But without any formal agreement, neither side monkeys with the water supply and sewage systems. To do so would inconvenience their own forces as much as their opponents.

Only four-power cooperation remaining in effect is the Air Safety Center, where all forces are supposed to file flight plans, to prevent crashes. Only the Russians don't file any plans for their new twin-engine jets.

Also, there's the Spandau prison, where Rudolf Hess, Adm. Karl Raeder, ex-Nazi Finance Minister Walter Funk and other convicted Nazi war criminals are kept. The four powers operate this prison a month at a time, in rotation.

When the Americans operate Spandau, they feed the prisoners as they would be fed and cared for in American prisons. Then the Russians take over and starve the prisoners. The French feed them a little better, and the British a little better than the French, which leaves it up to the Americans to put the prisoners back in condition to face another month of Russian starvation.

Avoid Retaliation Russians now are completing a new stretch of canal and a railroad spur which will make their transportation system completely free from American, British or French counter-measures. Formerly, in moving barges from the Oder River on the east of Berlin to the Elbe on the west, the Russians had to use canals going through French and British sectors of Berlin. And when they wanted to move rail freight from Eastern Berlin rail terminals to the Russian-zone area west of Berlin, they had to use tracks that crossed the American sector.

But now, if the Russians want to impose another blockade of the Western zone of Berlin, they won't be subject to counter-blockades imposed by the Western powers over the old lines of communications.

Higher Education In Berlin One of the most eager student bodies in the world is said to be on the campus of the Berlin Free University, in the Western zone. The city gives students who can't pay a $20-a-month equivalent as living allowance. Meals are priced at one mark apiece and always are the same—bread, sliced sausage and potato salad. The student body numbers 12,000, and about 40 per cent of them come from the East zone. Ford Foundation has just given the university a million-dollar grant.

West Berlin Standard Higher This is the current comparison of living standards in the Russian and the American sectors of Berlin. The Russians claim their East German mark is at par with the West German mark. Actually, the West German mark is 38 to the dollar, while the East mark is six or more to the dollar. The West German wage rate averages a West mark and a half an hour for a 48-hour week while the Russian-zone rate is one and a third East marks an hour.

A Western worker labors two hours to earn enough to buy a bottle of schnapps. A Russian-zone worker has to work 20 hours to earn enough for the same purchase. A Western-zone laborer works four hours to earn the price of a kilo of beef, while an East zoner must work 12 hours. To earn the price of a pack of cigarettes requires one hour's labor in the West, three hours in the East. On bread prices, the two zones are about equal.

Heavy Eaters When the Russians brought a million and a half German youths into Berlin, American residents did get a little bit nervous. They feared a mass movement from the Russian East zone to the Western zone, with some incidents and maybe a little rioting. So details of American troops were scattered around the city, and were billeted with American families to protect wives and children.

The trouble was, that these troops had to be fed by the families they were protecting. After a couple of days of that, the housewives protested. So the troops were sent back to barracks. Feeding soldiers was more trouble than fighting possible Communist agitators.

Good Try Anyway LUXEMBOURG—Pearl Mesta, U. S. minister to Luxembourg, Rhineland and used to be what she calls a "Newport Republican." She was for Wendell Wilkie. When she switched to support the Democrats, her rich Newport friends all turned up their noses at her for backing "treasonous Truman." But when Truman was elected in 1948, their tune changed. They wanted tickets to the Inaugural Ball.

"It'll cost you money," said Mrs. Mesta with a sharp eye for the him; sometimes I think his exaggerated interest in it is psychological. Elizabeth thought Ollie would certainly be one for Dr. Alex's book. The bright eyes studied her assiduously.

"I meant the conversation, my dear, not the food."

"Oh," Elizabeth floundered. "It concerned Mr. Benson and Mr. Riggs mostly. Your son didn't know they were coming."

"Poor Ollie is never treated with the respect he deserves. I suppose Lucia forgot to tell him?"

"Yes."

THE old lady sighed and for a few minutes her tiny white fingers plucked nervously at the bedclothes. "Lucia is a disappointment to me. She's vain and selfish with an adder's tongue. She is in great need of some deep experience that will shock her out of herself. But it may be too late for that."

"She's young."

"Two years older than you, my dear. I'm afraid her instability comes from her mother. An actress. We advised John against the marriage but he wouldn't listen. He was much in love and they did manage to find some sort of off-again-on-again happiness before he died 10 years ago."

She closed her eyes and when she opened them again they were no longer clear but veiled with the far-off shadows of reminiscence.

"You see, my dear, Lucien and I began to think we would never have children. So we adopted Ollie. As so often happens, that seemed to be the necessary key. John came along shortly, then Ada. She's Lee's mother. A sweet girl but never strong. She lives in California."

She paused, breathed deeply before going on.

"When I had this stroke, Ollie telegraphed them. Ada is too much an invalid to make the trip and Cleo had theater commitments she could not break. They sent their children."

The old eyes suddenly grew brilliant with determination.

"They thought I was going to die. But I won't till I see things through."

bring him up to see me. When is he coming again?"

"He suggested taking me to see the lumber camp where he's staying but I told him I couldn't leave Black Hills."

"The thin lips twitched. "That's absurd. I want you to go. Ollie will sit with me."

"No, I'm your nurse. It's part of my job."

"I'm not as sick as all that. Quickly she put a hand to her lips as though to catch the words that had inadvertently slipped out. "I mean, I'm perfectly safe here in bed, nothing will happen to me."

ELIZABETH's expert fingers felt the slender blue-veined wrist. "Your pulse is steady."

"Never mind my arteries! I'd like to know more about this young man if we're going to give him a chunk of our land."

"But I thought—that is, your son gave me to understand you were going to contest the state's action in court."

"Lawyer's fees would be more than the land is worth. No, if it belongs to the state they can have it for the tax refund. It will be a nice park. I used to walk in those woods often and others will enjoy its beauties."

"That's a very tolerant attitude."

"The years do that to one. It's my young grandchildren who object. They know that some day everything will go to them in three-way division. They're young and greedy."

Elizabeth hoped Mrs. Steinhart wouldn't ask how things had gone at luncheon. During the afternoon Elizabeth had deftly skirted the subject. But now, with the heightened discernment of the sick, Mrs. Steinhart read her mind.

"My dear, you haven't mentioned luncheon with my family."

"It was an excellent luncheon. You have a marvelous chef."

Sachet Adds Extra Touch

By ALICE HART
NEA Beauty Editor

There are certain small niceties that distinguish living from mere existing. Flowers on the dining table, while useless as food for the palate, are solid and satisfying fare for the eyes.

Sachets, too, are extras that pay big dividends for the woman whose scale of values places aesthetics on a par with practicality. Although they have no claim to the sort of functional purpose as that advanced, for example by mothballs, they are none-the-less important for the touch of graciousness and luxury that they can add to the humdrum of daily routine.

If the straying of tiny sachet bags among the garments in your lingerie drawers is already an established custom for you, here's a tip to lighten your own and others' pleasure when you are vacation-bound.

As you pack your traveling bags, sprinkle sachet powder over each layer of underthings as you lay them in place.

Not only will you get a lift from the scent that rises each time you open your suitcase, but you'll also find, when your destination is reached, when you don these garments, that you've endowed yourself with a special femininity.

Watch a Mercury show its stuff when the light goes green. Feel that comforting reservoir of surplus power for safe passing on the open road. Relax as Mercury eagerly responds to your slightest finger-tip command. No doubt about it, you're the boss when you drive a Mercury. For here's a performer that never wilts when the going gets tough. Mountains are cut down to size by eight cylinders of high-compression V-type 8 power. Traffic tangles unravel before its sure-footed gait. Springs become highways as its synchronized springing and foam-rubber cushioning snub out the bounce and jounce. Little wonder that Mercury is such a fast-growing star in popularity; you just can't beat its combination of performance, value, and prize-winning economy. Stop around for a road test and see.

2. Budget Test a Mercury for proof of value!

- Does it have a down-to-earth first price? Mercury's price tag you can easily understand—a big dollar's worth for every dollar invested.
- Will trade-in value stay high? Mercurys keep their value; used car market reports consistently prove it.
- Will you be sure of good gasoline mileage? Mercury has proved its more-miles-per-gallon by winning officially sponsored economy tests.
- Does it represent solid value? Mercury owners say YES! So will you when you get the story from your Mercury dealer. See him soon.
- Will upkeep stay low? You save money year after year. Mercury's famous stamina keeps repair bills at a rock-bottom low.
- Is it famous for long life? It is indeed! In fact, 92% of all Mercurys built for use in this country are still on the road, according to latest annual official registration figures.

Daddy Ringtail And Turtle Soup

Uncle Bunkum had come for a little visit from the zoo, and now he was standing with Mugwump Monkey down on the ground by the Elephant Path. Ah yes, and up in the sky was a model airplane flying.

"Yesir," said Uncle Bunkum, "Mugwump, my boy, there comes the present I bought for you in the city!"

"You mean the airplane is my present?" asked Mugwump.

"Nossir," said Uncle Bunkum, "Your present is the turtle who is flying the airplane."

"But Uncle Bunkum," said Mugwump, "a turtle can't fly an airplane."

"Mercy me!" cried Uncle Bunkum. "I was about to forget. Of course a turtle can't fly an airplane. That fellow is going to crash. Quick, Mugwump!"

And so Mugwump was quick to jump and try to help Uncle Bunkum get ready for the airplane crash that was surely coming when the turtle tried to land.

Mugwump ran in a hurry with a bucket to get some water to fill the great big cooking pot where Uncle

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

After many delays, the Mayflower set sail for America on September 6, 1620. The great adventure had begun.

Illustrated by Walt Scott

The Mayflower carried 132 passengers and a crew of 15 men. Bodily constructed, she was what sailors call "a wet ship."

U. S. Survey Mission To Report This Week On Bases In Spain

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An American military survey mission returns from Spain this week with a report which may lead to negotiations for U. S. naval and air bases in Spain.

Responsible American officials appear confident Generalissimo Francisco Franco will grant such bases to the United States in return for shipments of modern American arms.

The report which could form the background for such future negotiations has been drafted by a seven-man Air Force-Navy team after a 10-week survey of Spanish military installations.

The American group went to Spain after Franco, in confidential talks with the American ambassador, Stanton Griffith, expressed willingness to conclude a direct military alliance with the United States. Franco reportedly asked, in exchange, for American weapons.

Expresses Readiness

Franco also expressed readiness to help defend Western Europe with his army, if necessary by moving his troops beyond the Pyrenees to help check any Russian invasion.

Air Force Gen. James W. Spry, who led the survey group, now has left Madrid with his findings. He is expected to report to the Pentagon before the end of the week.

Services Held For Harry Phinney, 64

BIG SPRING—Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for Harry Clifton Phinney, 64, who died Saturday. He was a brother of Mrs. Riley Griffith of Midland.

Phinney moved to Howard County in 1919 and farmed near Coahoma for almost 30 years. Two years ago he suffered a stroke and last week suffered a second one.

Other survivors include the widow, two sons, Clovis Phinney, Coahoma; Lawton Phinney, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Wayne A. Rogers and Mrs. Truett Loudamy, both of Abilene; two brothers, E. M. Phinney and Fred Phinney, both of Denton; and a sister, Mrs. Frank Bell of Pilot Point, Texas.

The funeral services were conducted in the Trinity Baptist Church, with the Rev. Mark Reeves, Coahoma Baptist pastor, officiating.

Texas Cutback Dips U. S. Oil Production

TULSA, OKLA.—(AP)—The country's daily average crude oil production fell 41,225 barrels during the week ended November 3 to 6,222,275 barrels. The Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

Texas, top-producing state, was the biggest loser, slumping 32,350 barrels to 2,832,125 barrels.

Others contributing to the decline were Louisiana, down 6,125 barrels to 811,825 barrels; Kansas off 6,100 barrels to 312,750; the Eastern area, 3,150 to 60,000; and Mississippi, 1,300 to 99,900.

Colorado and Wyoming each declined 500 barrels to 78,900 and 185,200, respectively. Kentucky dropped 300 to 33,900, and Utah dipped 100 to 3,800.

New Mexico topped the gainers with a 4,850-barrel increase to 149,725.

On the credit side also were Illinois, up 1,400 barrels to 169,500; California, up 1,200 to 988,500; Oklahoma 850 to 509,450; Indiana 400 to 32,900; Michigan and Montana, each 200 to 40,400 and 24,700, respectively; Arkansas, 50 to 76,400; and Nebraska 50 to 7,450.

Production was unchanged in Alabama, 3,100 barrels, and Florida, 1,750.

Snyder Man Pays Top Price At Sale Of Quarter Horses

SAN ANGELO—P. D. M. Cogdill of Snyder, paid the top price here Monday at the fifth annual sale of Quarter Horses by Hankins Brothers of Rockspring.

Cogdill paid $875 for a six-month-old filly sired by Jess L. Hankins stallion, King.

The top-priced stallion also sired by King, sold to R. C. Adams of Paris, on a bid of $560.

Expert To Display Telephone Marvels To Clubs, Students

Two Midland service clubs and high school students this week will witness electrical marvels which make it possible to handle 60,000 telephone calls here daily.

Don Hanson of the information department of Southwestern Bell

Don Hanson

Telephone Company, Dallas, will lecture and demonstrate the processes of telephoning.

Wednesday he will present the program to the Midland Lions Club, Thursday to the Rotary Club, and at 2:30 p.m. to Midland high school students, according to Al Case, Midland telephone manager.

Relays, which perform amazing feats in the telephone system, will be put through their paces by the speaker. The audiences will see and hear, through use of bells and lights, how the ingenious devices can be made to "remember," "forget" and do "arithmetic." Hanson also will outline how electrical relays, developed by scientists for telephone systems, are used as an integral part of the defense of the nation.

Current Study May Improve Addison's Disease Treatment

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

"My mother," writes Mrs. R. E. L., "has just been told that she has Addison's Disease. She is being given medicine now, but if it isn't satisfactory, she will receive shots. I would appreciate it if you would give some information on this disease."

Addison's Disease is fortunately a rather rare disorder. It received its name from a famous English physician, Thomas Addison, who first discovered the condition in 1855, and it has been a subject of great interest and concern to physicians ever since.

The disease arises from small glands lying next to the kidneys called the adrenal or suprarenal glands. These glands have a rather complicated structure. They belong to the glands of internal secretion. They contain several kinds of cells which form hormones which flow into the blood. A chemically prepared substance called epinephrine or adrenalin has the actions of part of the adrenal gland.

The treatment of this disease, which formerly was almost invariably fatal, has been greatly improved. Complete rest in bed and protection from chilling and muscular exertion is necessary. Those who have mild cases do well when they are given an excessive amount of ordinary salt—sodium chloride—at the same time that potassium, another chemical, is kept low.

Addison described the characteristic symptoms as anemia, languor, or general weakness, feeble beat of the heart, irritability of the stomach, and a peculiar brownish change in the color of the skin.

General weakness is particularly characteristic and the deep yellowish-brown color of the skin, which is due to deposits of pigment, is also usual. Most patients lose weight. Low Blood Pressure

Patients with Addison's Disease have a low blood pressure and examination of the blood by chemical tests will reveal changes which clinch the diagnosis.

Those who do not respond well to treatment are given another chemical related to the secretion of the adrenal gland. This has the lengthy name of desoxycorticosterone.

Theoretically, extracts from the gland itself should be still more helpful, but because the preparation of such substances is difficult and terribly expensive, they have not been used much. Since the adrenal glands are being studied now as never before, further improvements in treatment are likely.

New York's Dock Strike Fading Out

NEW YORK—(AP)—Mammoth New York harbor slowly is coming back to life, with more and more AFL longshoremen returning to work on the strike-bound waterfront.

A check by U. S. customs officials Monday night showed at least 3,000 stevedores worked during the day on 31 ships and at 21 piers, exclusive of Army piers. It was the busiest day in weeks.

Meanwhile, a New York State fact-finding panel started its inquiry into the 23-day-old, billion-dollar wildcat walkout by insurgent members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association (ILA).

The three-man board drew a measure of hope from a decision by wildcat leaders to meet with them, and maybe act on any recommendations made in the inquiry.

Supersonic Speed Of Navy Skyrocket Plane Poses Problems At Speed-Flight Symposium

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—We have a rocket plane, the Navy's Douglas Skyrocket, so speedy air friction can make it hotter than boiling water.

This plane has gone higher than 70,000 feet, (more than 13 miles) the highest published flight of man.

We have three of these planes and the facts uncovered by them, mostly still secret, are expected to benefit many combat planes which still are in the designing board stage.

These reports were made by A. M. Mayo of the Douglas Aircraft Company, Inc., El Segundo, Calif., to a symposium on the medical and other human problems of speed and flight up near the borders of outside space.

The symposium here is the first of its kind. It is sponsored by the U. S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Field, and the Lovelace Foundation of Albuquerque, N. M. Physicians, physicists, fliers, airplane designers and astronomers are on the four-day program.

Cooling Plan Needed

The air friction that is hotter than boiling water, Mayo said, comes at low altitudes. It is met by a refrigeration system in the cockpit. As the rocket ship reaches 70,000 feet, the friction no longer is so hot. But above that altitude, there is so little air the heat of the sun's rays becomes intolerable, unless a cooling system is used.

The cooling above 70,000 feet will have to be different than present cooling for lower altitudes, Mayo said. He predicted liquid oxygen for cooling as ships go still higher. And, ultimately, he said, the difference in temperature on the sunny and shady sides of a ship can be used for cooling.

There is, he said, one terror which is not going to bother us much, namely the astonishing heat of very thin upper air. At 35 miles, this temperature is 170 degrees Fahrenheit, and at 100 miles it is 4,000 degrees. But the air particles are so far apart at those altitudes they probably will not even be felt as heat.

These fast planes run away from the noise they make, because they travel faster than sound. But Mayo said there is cause to worry about the super-sound vibrations of jet and rocket engines. They are not audible, but no one is sure whether they may harm the men inside the plane.

Shepherd Chosen Marine Corps Chief To Succeed Cates

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman has named a new top boss for the Marines, effective January 1.

He is Lt. Gen. Lemuel G. Shepherd, Jr., whose fighting career takes in World War I and II battles that have become modern Marine legends—Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Okinawa.

Truman named Shepherd to succeed Gen. Clifton B. Cates, at the end of Cates' four-year tour of duty as Marine commander.

Shepherd is 55 years old. He now is commanding general of the Pacific Fleet Marine Force, with headquarters at Pearl Harbor.

He is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute.

Shepherd's first fighting command in World War II was as assistant commander of the First Marine Division in the New Britain campaign.

He led the Marines who captured Guam, and later commanded the Sixth Division on Okinawa.

Shepherd took part in on-the-spot planning for the landing at Inchon which led to the United Nations breakthrough in North Korea last year. He later took part in the planning for the withdrawal of Marines from the "frozen hell" Chosin Reservoir area, after the Chinese broke up the UN offensive.

Shepherd was born at Norfolk, Va.

The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation.

Midland Officers Turn Fox Hunters

A couple of police officers staged their own fox hunt Monday afternoon but the wily little animal managed to escape.

A resident in the 1000 block of North Lorraine Street reported a fox had killed one of her chickens and it still was in the yard.

Officers Ben Gay and Otis Davidson finally cornered the fox against the fence but before they could grab the animal, it slipped through a tiny hole and disappeared.

Allowable Boosted In Andector Field

AUSTIN—(AP)—November's crude oil allowable got a 4,413-barrel daily boost Monday from the Railroad Commission.

It issued an order which will result in an increased production level in the Andector-Ellebarger field, Ector County, from 18,057 barrels daily to 22,470. That's based on 23 producing days.

Hutchison Rites Held In Missouri

Funeral services for Leo M. Hutchison, 58, who died last Saturday at Neosho, Mo., were to be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Clark-Bigham Chapel.

Hutchison, a Midland resident for the last year and a half, only recently had returned to Missouri after becoming ill. He was used car manager for Hargrove Motof Company here.

Survivors include two sons, a brother, a sister and three grandchildren. One of the sons Frank Hutchison is classified advertising manager of The Reporter-Telegram.

The MATURE PARENT

Baby Sitter's Spree Was Flight From Severity

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
 "People will say that I have been too strict with her. Probably I was..."
 This is the revealing, brave, but tragically tardy admission of the mother of Eileen Jeffery—eldest of the three teen-age girls who made baby sitting pay off with gold sweaters, rhinestoned gowns and nightclubs, bought with $18,000 they are accused of stealing from the home of a Massachusetts doctor.
 How sad it is that this girl of 17 had to be exposed to police arrest, to sensational publicity, the strains of court trial and judgment, to force humility and self-criticism upon her mother!

 How sad it is that at this moment when the child is in detention, headed who knows where, her mother still is so concerned with what "people will say!"
 Over-concern with other people's opinions of us is the ugly root of over-severe treatment of children. We fear humiliating situations in which our children's conduct might reflect discredit on us. So we seek self-protection by making rigid demands and unadjustable regulations.
 It's a poisonous business—this allowing what "people will say" to dictate our attitudes and actions toward young people.
 However, I respect the mother of Eileen Jeffery.
 Although she has been a terribly mistaken woman, she is, at this moment, a brave one. She has allowed fear of other people's opinions of her to manipulate her treatment of her daughter; she has too long delayed the self-appraisal which is basic to self-correction; but she none the less reveals herself as a courageous human being.
 She has not reached for excuses to explain her child's delinquency. "Uses Of Adversity..."
 She has not blamed it on Eileen's bad companions. She has not taken pot shots at the carelessness of adults who leave $18,000 around loose in their home. She has not beaten around the bush of the "normal girl's love of finery"—that immemorial alibi of children's courts. She has shown herself an honest woman who says, "I have probably been over-strict with her."
 She says it in the face of the terrible condemnation we visit on parents whose children break our law.
 So I have respect for Eileen Jeffery's mother as we should all respect a human being who can face even a small, but cruel truth about herself.
 With all my heart I hope that some wise, skilled person will help this mother accomplish even greater courage, so that she will be freed from the dependence on other people's opinions of her value.
 Her fear of what "people will say" probably is what has damaged her relationship with her daughter so severely that Eileen ran out on the idea. If her mother realizes that, maybe the experience that appears so disastrous now will result in a closer and truer understanding between mother and daughter.
 "Sweet," says William Shakespeare, "are the uses of adversity..." Let's hope the adversity that has come the way of this mother and daughter will be put to productive use.
 When we read of these shocking cases of young people's delinquencies, let us not be so glib with our criticism of their parents. True compassion for children includes compassion for the people who brought them.

600 WAC's Bound For Korea, WAVE's To Pacific Stations

WASHINGTON—(P)—Some 600 WAC's are going to Korea to take over behind-the-lines jobs now held by men.
 Assistant Secretary of Defense Ann Rosenberg disclosed the figure Monday to the advisory committee on women in the armed forces. Mrs. Rosenberg heads the committee.
 The WAC's are members of the Women's Army Corps. It was reported they were requested by Gen. James Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea. Some WAC's already are in Korea. They are used in various clerical capacities.
 It also was reported that Adm. Arthur W. Radford, commander of the Pacific Fleet, has requested assignment of 3,900 WAVE's to Navy shore installations in the Pacific.

One Killed, Two Injured When Hand Grenade Explodes

BON WIER, TEXAS—(P)—A Sabine River fisherman was killed and his wife and two children injured when the 39-year-old father attempted to open a hand grenade with a butcher knife.
 Killed was James Dick, a six-year-old daughter, Bonnie Sue, was wounded critically. Mrs. Dick, 38, and a son, J.W., four, were less seriously injured in the explosions Monday.
 A third child, Willie, 12, was not injured. It was Willie who found the grenade on a sand bar of the Sabine River near here.
 Mrs. Dick told officers the entire family gathered in the kitchen as the father probed at the strange-looking object. Suddenly the blast came.
 Officers said the knife was blown completely through the roof of the kitchen.

Ohio Holds Texan On Marijuana Charge

COLUMBUS, OHIO—(P)—Jose Francisco Santos, 31, of Laredo, Texas is being held here on $10,000 bond, on a charge of illegal possession of 145 pounds of marijuana.
 Arrested with Santos Friday night was Guillermo Gallegos Garza, 19, of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, who told officers he was just an "innocent passenger" in Santos's car. His hearing was continued until Tuesday.

at 721 North Lincoln in Odessa. East Montiech of Studdert Engineering Company, Midland will handle registration for the Midland area.

NE Pecos Project Has Slight Shows In Wolfcamp Zone

British American Oil Producing Company No. 1 John McDonald, Northeast Pecos County wildcat, eight miles south of slightly oil and gas in a drillstem test in the Wolfcamp section of the lower Permian at 4,280-4,313 feet. The prospector is now coring deeper.

The test was for three hours. Recovery was 225 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water. To Go To Ellenburger

No pressure was reported. Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 4, block F, TCRS survey. The prospector is slated to continue drilling until it reaches 5,500 feet or tests the Ellenburger at a lesser depth.

So far it has not found any better shows of petroleum than those which were found in the drillstem test at 4,280-4,313 feet.

Outpost Is Spotted In C-W Gaines Area

W. H. Black Drilling Company of Midland, has spotted location for a three-quarter-mile southeast outpost to Aurora Gasoline Company No. 1 Davis, recently completed San Andres discovery in Central-East Lea County, N. M.

The offset will be drilled in the extreme west side of Gaines County as the No. 3-A E. E. Jones. Drill-site is 660 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 5, block A-10, 2nd survey.

It is a twin to a Glorietta producer in the East Hobbs field of Gaines County. No. 3-A Jones will drill to around 4,750 feet.

Wildcat Is Offset In E-C Upton Area

Barnett, Sears and Young have staked location for a west offset to its No. 1 Annie S. Weeks, wildcat in East-Central Upton County.

The new test will be dug as No. 1 Green, 1,930 feet from north and west lines of section 1, block K, P. T. Trig survey. It is to drill to around 7,300 feet.

Lion Oil Company spotted locations for two tests south of the Aldwell-Spraberry field of Northwest Reagan County. The firm's No. 13 Mrs. Ruby J. Wright will be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 21, block C, L&SV survey. No. 16 Mrs. Wright will be 660 feet from south and east lines of the same section.

El Capitan Oil Company No. 3 Mrs. W. A. Hutchison will be drilled in Central-East Midland County side of the Tex-Harvey field, 660 feet

SW Runnels Is To Get New Explorer

In Southwest Runnels County, seven and three-quarter miles north and slightly east of Miles Garrett Production Service of Houston has spotted a wildcat location.

No. 1 W. H. Gross, projected to 4,800 feet with rotary tools will be 3,620 feet from the most northerly south line, 800 feet from west lines of D. H. McFadin survey No. 5.

Drill-site is one mile northeast of Bill Estes No. 1 W. H. Gross, 5,218 foot failure which was plugged on May of this year. It is four and one-half miles east of the Coke County line.

NW Kent Wildcat Plugged In Canyon

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1-C Girard Trust, wildcat in Northwest Kent County, has been plugged and abandoned at plugged back depth of 6,825 feet in the Canyon reef.

The project was drilled to total depth of 7,290 feet but found no shows of production so it was plugged back.

Elevation was 2,130 feet. Location was 660 feet from north and 2,073 feet from east lines of section 15, block 1, H&GN survey and nine miles northwest of Clairmont. That made it two miles northeast of the Salt Creek field.

Failure In Crockett Is To Be Deepened

The Superior Oil Company has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas asking for permit to re-enter and deepen a shallow dry hole in the World-Powell field of Central-North Crockett County.

It is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 53, block BB, GC&SF survey. It is the company's No. 1-S-53 L. P. Powell.

A Central-North Crockett County wildcat, Garrett M. Smith No. 1 J. M. Shannon Estate, has been plugged and abandoned at 2,371 feet.

Location was 2,333 feet from west and 467 feet from north lines of section 4, block BB, EL&RR survey.

Special Prosecutor, Judge Upheld For Trial Of Newsmen

NEW ORLEANS—(P)—The right of a special judge and prosecutor to conduct the trials of five newsmen accused of defaming 16 public officials and three admitted gamblers was upheld by the Louisiana Supreme Court Monday.

Attorneys for the Lake Charles, La., newsmen asked the Supreme Court to bar Judge Bernard Cocke of New Orleans and Assistant Attorney General M. E. Culligan from hearing the cases.

The newsmen were indicted while leading an anti-gambling crusade. The indictments were based largely on articles printed in the Lake Charles American Press.

The Supreme Court refused to review Cocke's ruling that he and Culligan were qualified and legally appointed to act as judge and prosecutor in the newsmen's trial.

Judge Cocke, following the denial, set the newsmen's arraignment for 10 a.m. (CST) Monday.

The newsmen are Thomas Shearman, publisher; Hugh Shearman his son and co-publisher; Kenneth L. Dixon, managing editor; James Norton, city editor; and Carter George, reporter.

MEETING POSTPONED

Dr. Lex B. Smith, president of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, said the regular board meeting of the association, previously set for Tuesday night at 7:30, has been postponed until Nov. 13. The meeting usually is held in the offices of the City and County Health Unit.

FEDWAY COMES TO TEXAS—Federated Department Stores, Inc., one of the nation's largest retailing groups, has chosen Texas as the locale of a new group of complete, full-service department stores. The new stores will be operated as a division of Federated, under the name "Fedway," signifying the Federated way. Ground will be broken immediately for the construction of the first two Fedways at Wichita Falls and Amarillo. These will be followed soon by additional units in five other cities. The modern exterior design of the proposed Fedway store buildings is pictured.

He Had Change—And Still Has

KANSAS CITY, KAN. — (AP) — James L. Mayhew of Bonner Springs, Kan., told police a man stopped him on a street here Monday night and asked: "Got change for a quarter?" When Mayhew reached into his pocket, a second stranger stepped up with a pistol. Mayhew said the two robbed him of $1,526 in cash and a $2,500 ring. All the bandits left him was change for a quarter.

Attlee Wins Coveted British Decoration

LONDON — (AP) — Clement Attlee joined Prime Minister Winston Churchill Tuesday as the wearer of one of Britain's most coveted honors—the Order of Merit. King George bestowed the order on the former prime minister, who resigned when Churchill's Conservatives defeated his Labor Party in the October 26 elections.

In ancient days hanging was a mark of indignity practiced on the corpses of criminals.

Major Blast Ends Opening Phase Of Fall Nuclear Tests

LAS VEGAS, NEV. — (AP) — America's atom masters have developed an assortment of bombs of staggered sizes and staggering reactions which may in time make conventional weapons obsolete.

Awed observers were unable to make any other conclusion as the first phase of the Atomic Energy Commission's Fall test series at Yucca Flat came to a smashing finale Monday with a full scale A-bomb explosion.

Test Manager Carroll L. Tyler and Scientific Chief Alvin C. Graves were not fooling when they said the series would include "a number of experiments." No two blasts in the set of five just finished appeared identical—and the last one topped them all.

It seemed to have all the attributes of previous major A-bombs, including a flash and fireball that persisted 10 seconds. The fireball culminated in a tower of flame hundreds of feet high—something for which this reporter could find no precedent in previous atomic accounts.

The blast rocked the Southern Nevada desert for many miles and was heard as far away as Richfield, Utah, 235 miles distant. But by a quirk of atmospherics the shock waves missed all populated communities.

Shock Waves Bounce
The AEC's explanation: The shock wave hits a temperature inversion layer in the air (a layer of cold air beneath hot). It rebounds to earth. Sometimes it may bounce from earth to atmosphere four times before dying out. Nobody knows for sure where it will bounce.

There was no report of damage although the explosion was twice as powerful as last Thursday's blast, which shattered seven store windows from a distance of 75 miles.

The AEC reported only slight radiation—far below the amount considered injurious to persons, animals, crops or water supplies.

The blast concluded the first phase of the AEC's Fall series which, Tyler said, has been devoted primarily to "developmental tests required to advance the weapons work of our Los Alamos, N. M., scientific laboratory."

Second Phase Soon
The second phase, dealing mainly with the effects of weapons, probably will begin next week. But the nuclear shots are not expected to be so spectacular.

The first phase embraced the detonation of bombs ranging from the tiny tower shot—perhaps the first baby A-bomb—on October 22 through steadily increasing, plane-delivered bursts on October 28, October 30 and November 1 to Monday's big bomb drop from a B-29 flying above 30,000 feet.

It brought the total of U. S. atomic explosions, unofficially to 22, and the world total to 25, including three known Russian blasts.

To 5,000 G's the big day was November 1—the date of Exercise Desert Rock, the first atomic maneuver in history.

GI Hecquats In Far East Due Jazz Treat

TOKYO — (AP) — Jazz fans among American troops in the Far East are due for a treat.

A group of top-ranking jazz musicians will leave the U.S. this week for a 10-week tour of the Orient. General Headquarters Special Services announced Tuesday.

Troops will hear first hand such musicians as Bass Virtuoso Oscar Pettiford, Trumpeter Howard McGhee, trombonist J. J. Johnson, Saxophonist Rudy Williams, Guitarist Clifton Best and Drummer Charlie Rice.

NEVADA'S McCARRAN REPORTED IMPROVING

RENO — (AP) — U. S. Senator Pat McCarran is showing some improvement but probably will have to remain hospitalized at least another three weeks, his physician reported Tuesday.

McCarran, 75, was stricken last week with a heart ailment.

TAIN'T SO, SAYS NEYLAND— Vols Rated As Top Team; Illini Jump To Second

NEW YORK—(P)—Mighty Tennessee's football team is the country's No. 1 college team for the third straight week in the estimation of the sports editors and broadcasters who participate in The Associated Press poll.

The Tennessee outfit, which trounced North Carolina Saturday, 27 to 0, snared 60 of the 152 first-place votes and remained on top of the heap with 1,230 points. The Vols were mentioned on every ballot and their placings ranged from first to tenth.

The shake-up beneath the South-eastern Conference club, however, was terrific, with idle Michigan State slumping all the way from second to fifth and Illinois, victor by 7 to 0 over Michigan in a snow-storm, climbing from third to second. Maryland and Princeton also vaulted over the Spartans. Baylor and California dropped out of the select group, their places going to Stanford and Texas. Below Michigan State came Southern California, Stanford, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin and Texas in that order.

Forty teams were mentioned on the flood of ballots, one oddity being that every member of the Southwest circuit except Rice drew at least one vote.

The voters pick Tennessee as the best by a margin of 80 points over Illinois, despite the declaration of Gen. Bob Neyland, Vol coach, who says his team is vastly overrated.

"We make no claims at all for ourselves," he said after his club romped over North Carolina. "We think there are many teams in the country better than we are. We don't think we have the men or the schedule to be rated the best in the country."

The Tennessee schedule admits—

Rank	Team	Points
1	Tennessee (60)	1,230
2	Illinois (29)	1,150
3	Maryland (21)	1,019
4	Princeton (8)	997
5	Michigan State (12)	991
6	Southern California (6)	640
7	Stanford (8)	474
8	Georgia Tech (1)	363
9	Wisconsin (3)	344

22,000 Expected For Lubbock-Odessa Tilt November 16

ODESSA—(P)—A crowd of 22,000 is expected for the Odessa-Lubbock high school football game here November 16.

In less than four hours Monday Odessa fans bought up 4,000 available tickets. Later this week 2,000 end zone seats and 3,000 temporary bleacher seats will go on sale.

A freezing rain kept the Arkansas teams inside Monday for exercises and movies. Guard Fred Williams, who got a bruised chest last Saturday will be in the lineup against Rice. Linebackers Jim Smith and Floyd Sagley, out two weeks, also are expected to be ready this Saturday.

The TCU Frogs begin preparations Tuesday for their November 17 game with Texas. They got the day off Monday.

Lubbock Westerners Named Top 4-A Team

DALLAS—(P)—Lubbock has moved into first place in the Class AAAA schoolboy football ratings.

The Westerners, winners of eight straight games, took the No. 1 spot Tuesday in the Dallas News weekly poll. They replaced Lamar of Houston, which held the place just one week.

Other than Lubbock's climb to the top, there were few changes in the top 10. Arlington Heights of Fort Worth moved into the select circle after a four-week absence, taking No. 9 and bumping Abilene out.

You Might Get A Ticket, But Odds Are Against It

DALLAS—(P)—Your chance of getting a Cotton Bowl ticket is about one in five.

All the mail is in and there are requests for more than 100,000 tickets with only 23,000 available.

NEEDLE-POINT PASSERS—Shoo Shoo Shemanski, left, pitched Maryland's winning touchdown against North Carolina. Johnny Mazur, center, passed to two touchdowns and scored as many as Notre Dame pelted Pittsburgh. Mitch Price set a new Columbia record completing 73 of 40 aerials for 271 yards in the Pennsylvania party. (NEA)

SWC Teams To Be Near Top Strength

By The Associated Press

Southwest Conference coaches can spend most of the week worrying about something else instead of injury lists.

With a little patchwork on line-ups, most teams will hit the turf Saturday at full or near-top strength.

However, at the top of the list is Texas' Fullback Byron Townsend, who reinjured his left leg in the kickoff against Southern Methodist Saturday. Trainer Frank Medina said Monday Townsend may miss both the crucial Baylor and Texas Christian games.

Linebacker Don Menasco, sidelined for the SMU game, will be back in the Longhorn lineup against Baylor.

Baylor has four with minor injuries but all are expected to be ready Saturday. They are Bob Knowles, Ronnie Black, Jerry Coody and Bob Reid.

The Bears scheduled a long workout Tuesday with the reserves scrimmaging the regulars.

Texas A&M probably will be missing Linebacker James Fowler and Defensive Right Half Bill Ballard in the battle with SMU this week. Fowler has a shoulder injury and Ballard a kidney injury. W. T. Russell, offensive right guard, still is on the doubtful list.

Missing from the SMU lineup will be Pat Knight, who suffered a jaw bone injury last Saturday. Coach H. N. (Rusty) Russell said Knight definitely is out for the season.

Rice Institute started heavy workouts Tuesday for the Arkansas game. End Bill Howton, who suffered a dislocated shoulder in the Pitt game, is expected to be ready this Saturday.

A freezing rain kept the Arkansas teams inside Monday for exercises and movies. Guard Fred Williams, who got a bruised chest last Saturday will be in the lineup against Rice. Linebackers Jim Smith and Floyd Sagley, out two weeks, also are expected to be ready this Saturday.

The public sale ended Sunday and all the mail postmarked prior to midnight of that day has come in.

There were between 30,000 and 40,000 letters—the boys have a lot of counting to do before they can announce the exact number. Each letter requested an average of more than three tickets. Each person is limited to four if he or she is lucky enough to have an application filled.

There will be a drawing probably Friday morning, to determine the order in which the applications will be filled. Those not being able to buy tickets will have their checks returned to them.

Sitton, ACC Bulldogs 'Go Hard' Back, Uses Black Magic For Big Spring In Workouts Tuesday

The Midland High School Bulldogs were to "go hard" Tuesday, in the words of Coach Tugboat Jones.

Both the offensive and defensive units were to get hard workouts, with reserves running the Big Spring split T formation at the varsity defenders.

Monday the Bulldogs went over mistakes made in the Vernon game and worked especially on pass and punt protection.

Hobbling on bruised legs were Guard Pete English and Tailback Ralph Brooks. However, Jones expects the gridders to be ready to go against Big Spring Friday night, barring complications.

The squad members Monday elected Bill Mims, Roy Kimsey and Dan Black as tri-captains for the Big Spring game, to be played at 8 p.m. Friday in Big Spring.

Midland has a 2-0 won-lost record in district play, while Big Spring is even at 1-1. For the season, Midland has five wins, a loss and a tie while Big Spring has won two games and lost five.

Midland will hold a weight advantage of six pounds per man in the line, 182 to 176. The Bulldog backfield will average 167 to 151 for the Steers. However, Big Spring could field a team averaging more than 190 pounds per man in the line, by using its heaviest combination.

Probable starting lineups and weights:

Over at Big Spring, where Tugboat Jones' Midland High School grid team goes to scamper with the Steers Friday night, they'll tell you Coach Carl Coleman has the bovines on the upgrade.

To be sure, he's copped but two of seven games with his team this year, but most of his boys are sophomores and juniors—and there's a lot of young boys with plenty of beef on the bench.

The fact that Big Spring won a district game this year—a 21-20 upset over Plainview—is enough to send the Big Spring fans into long and loud cheers.

There's more of the same coming, they feel, and rightly so. All year the Midland scouts have reported the Big Spring boys can play ball "when they want to." Usually, that's about five minutes per game—but against Plainview it was all the way.

A Big Spring fan told us recently: "If we can beat or tie Midland our year will be a whopping success."

That's why we feel the Steers could make it unpleasant for Midland Friday night for awhile at least.

Oh say now!

Phil Collier, Fort Worth sports scribe, has picked the scores of the playoff games down to the state finals in AAAA and AAA.

Midland, says he, will win the district title but lose to Breckenridge in bi-district play, 20 to 14.

The way Collier sees it, Lubbock will defeat Lamar of Houston, 20-13, for the AAAA title and Temple will crush Longview, 27-7, in the AAA finale.

Hope these teams win district titles, so Phil won't be too embarrassed.

Received in the mails:

"Dear King's Row: After reading King's Row Sunday, November 4, Bill Werley's (Vernon scribe) statement about the Bulldogs not winning district because of the reading of Proverbs, twenty-sixth chapter and verse 13 reading from the fifth to the eleventh words: 'A Lion is in the way.' It seems funny that Bill, being a good Bible student, should overlook the scripture where the Bulldogs would win.

"In Psalms 91:13 we have a readership like this: 'Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and dragon shalt thou trample underfoot.'

"And in Ecclesiastes 9:4 'For a living dog is better than a lion.'"

"Also, when the Lions play Midland again, Werley might get out the Good Book and read Philippians 3:2; first three words, 'Beware of dogs.'"

WILLIE T. MORROW, Ohio Oil Company.

Convinced, Werley?

Buffs Hope To Break Into Win Column Against Sundown

STANTON—(P)—Coach Charles Read's Stanton Buffaloes had better win one this week if they expect to cop a district contest.

This week, the opposition is Sundown—and the visitors will be favored over Stanton here Friday night.

But November 16, the last game of the year, Stanton must face powerful Denver City—a team which has won seven of eight games and is taking the district title in a breeze.

The Buffs, playing for the last time this year before the home folks Friday night, at least hope to break into the scoring column. They have lost six of seven games, getting one 0-0 tie, and have scored only 12 points in the process.

Coach Read expects his team to be at full strength for the contest.

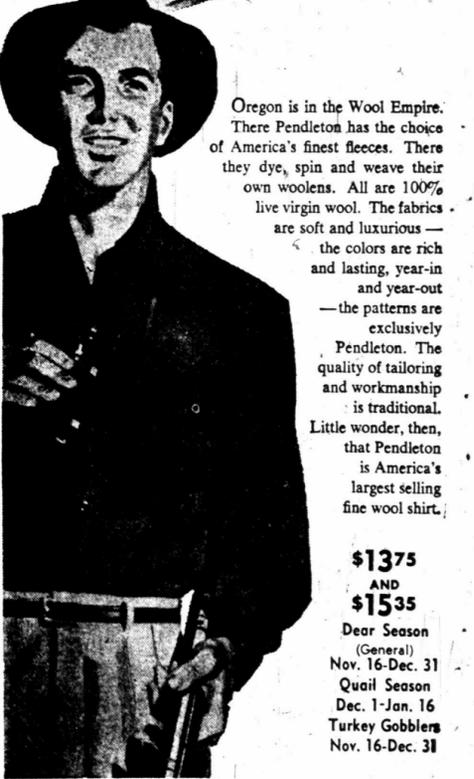

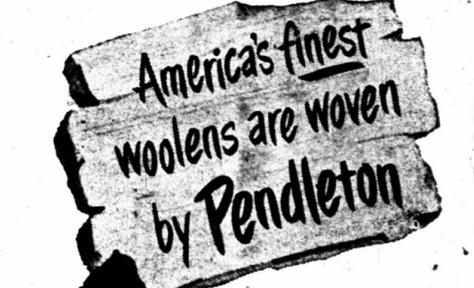

MINOR SURGERY

Teddy Robey, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Robey, 811 Rankin Highway, underwent a tonsillectomy Tuesday at Western Clinic-Hospital.

FRACTURED TOE

W. S. Price, 1421 East Highway 80, was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital Monday for a fractured toe suffered in an accident at a rig.

DYNAMIC—Fullback Byron Townsend, left, carried 228 times for Texas and a new National Collegiate Athletic Association record last Fall, is maintaining the pace this season. An 18-year-old freshman, Buddy Leake, center, stepped in when rib injuries sidelined Oklahoma's remarkable tailback, Billy Vessels. Halfback Don Robinson helped California serve notice scoring two touchdowns against Pennsylvania in less than a minute. (NEA)

Tuesday Voting To Pick Two Governors, Four Congressmen

By The Associated Press

In elections centering largely around state and local issues, voters Tuesday choose two governors, one of them without opposition, four members of Congress and scores of mayors.

The off-year elections have been pretty generally discounted by political observers as a tip-off on next year's presidential and congressional elections.

The mood that has been generated in several mayoral and other local elections, notably in Philadelphia.

The special House of Representatives elections are to fill vacancies caused by deaths or resignations. They include two in Pennsylvania and one in New Jersey, all normally Republican, and one in Ohio which goes either way.

State-By-State Picture

Kentucky—Ejects governor, eight other state officers, all 100 state representatives and 20 of the 38 state senators.

Without Opposition

Mississippi—Ejects Hugh White Democratic governor without opposition; other state officers and entire Legislature.

Pennsylvania—Chooses two U. S. House members in normally Republican 9th District, full assembly and 11 of the 21 state senators.

Ohio—Ejects U. S. House member to 3rd District seat vacated by a Democrat; mayors of Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo.

Virginia—Ejects half of state Senate and entire House of Delegates.

New York—Ejects 50 mayors up-state and selecting of New York City Council.

Other cities selecting mayors include Boston, Indianapolis, Detroit, San Francisco and Bridgeport, Conn.

Findings Of Reeves Castor Bean Survey Will Be Disclosed

PECOS—Castor bean crops in this vicinity are under close scrutiny this week as men described as the nation's "top brass" in the field make an intensive survey of the experimental crop here.

The authorities are due to reveal their findings at a public meeting in Pecos at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Two of the top agronomists in the U. S. Monday began a tour of castor bean patches in this locality. They are Dr. D. J. Van Horn, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Dr. W. E. Domingo of the Baker Castor Oil Company.

Accompanying them was R. H. Nelson, state PMA director, and Phil Myers, government engineer.

A. H. Jefferies, assistant to Nelson, said the specialists probably will recommend a different type of bean for this area.

Reeves County's first castor beans were picked by hand last week. It was reported that the Hannon-Reeves farm had picked 18,000 pounds from about 20 acres. If the beans weigh out the average 60 percent after hulling it will mean an initial yield of about 480 pounds to the acre.

Markets Close For Off-Year Elections

NEW YORK—The New York stock and curb exchanges and all New York commodity markets, with the exception of the produce exchange were closed Tuesday because of "off year" elections in many states.

The New Orleans cotton market also remained closed.

The Chicago Board of Trade and other markets in that city were open for business, as well as gain exchanges in the Middle West cities.

Various live-stock markets reports were gathered by the Department of Agriculture.

Inflation Imperils Britain's Defense, King George Avers

LONDON—(P)—King George VI, announcing the Conservative Party's policy in a traditional speech from throne, Tuesday declared Britain's defense program is threatened by inflation.

Speaking for the party in power—Winston Churchill's Tories—the king said the problem of inflation overshadows all others facing the new government. Prime Minister Churchill will make proposals to tackle the problem "in the immediate future."

He sketched a Conservative Party program retaining some of the emergency economic and defense measures which otherwise would expire next month. But the Conservatives will propose a bill annulling Labor's nationalization of the iron and steel industry. The speech indicated retention of some of the Labor government's social services, including the free health plan.

Conservative Program
The king's speech was prepared for him by Churchill and the Conservative cabinet, and this, in effect, the Conservative Party program.

Since the king still is confined to Buckingham Palace recuperating from a serious lung operation, the speech was read for him at a joint meeting of the House of Lords and Commons, held in the Lord's Chamber.

King George said Britain is determined to stand fast in the Suez Canal Zone and "will try to repair the injuries our rights and interests suffered in Persia."

The king said Egypt's attempts to oust British troops from the Canal Zone and seize sovereignty over the Sudan, now jointly administered by Egypt and Britain, are "illegal and without validity."

He said Britain, the United States, France and Turkey will "press forward with their proposals for joint defense arrangements in the Middle East."

Under this proposal, already once rejected by Cairo, the four powers and Egypt would enter into a joint defense arrangement for the vital Canal Zone, he said.

Meanwhile, the king asserted, Britain "will maintain its position in the Canal Zone under the terms of the 1936 treaty, and will safeguard the international highway."

He said also, "Nothing can be allowed to interfere with the rights of the Sudanese to decide for themselves the future status of their country."

Hermit With High IQ To Get Chance At Officer School

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—Peter Grainger, the hermit with the high IQ, will leave Wednesday for basic training at the Aberdeen, Md., Army Ordnance Replacement Center, where he will have a chance to compete for a commission.

Officers here said the decision was based on Grainger's mark of 113 on the Army's comprehensive intelligence test. The high score qualifies the New Mexico mountaineer to apply for officer candidate school.

Declaring he never had seen automobiles, elevators, telephones, traffic lights, Grainger enlisted here last week. He said he never had heard of the draft, because he left his Lincoln County, N. M., mountain top only once before in his life.

Cameras gave the 26-year-old recruit the jitters. Public information officers at Fort Sam Houston, where he was inducted, started shooting away reporters and photographers after the newly-enlisted recluse balked at interviews.

The son of a prospector, Grainger scored 132 on the mechanical aptitude section of the Army examination. First Lt. Larry Goodwin of the Public Information Office said that score also prompted the decision to send Grainger to Aberdeen, where equipment is repaired and tested.

Unclaimed Cars Become Headache For Police Force

An ordinance providing for the disposition of unclaimed automobiles picked up by the Midland police force was being prepared Tuesday.

Police Chief Rube Hemingway said approximately 20 automobiles are now being held in the city's auto pound but there is no provision for their disposal.

City Attorney Edwin T. Stitt is preparing an ordinance providing that such automobiles be sold at auction after remaining unclaimed for a four-month period.

Hemingway said police had made efforts to locate the owners of the unclaimed vehicles but had met with little success.

Officer Sentenced To Federal Prison, Ousted From Service

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—Lt. Col. Edward T. Handcock of Little Rock, Ark., has been found guilty by a general court martial of automobile theft, falsification of records and being absent without leave.

His trial was held at Fort Sam Houston Monday.

He was sentenced to 10 years in a federal prison and ordered dishonorably discharged.

The automobile theft charge alleged Handcock answered an advertisement in a Denver newspaper to drive a car to Seattle. Instead, the charge said, he drove to New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Israel May Enter Middle East Command

JERUSALEM—(P)—Israel's government apparently had parliamentary approval Tuesday of eventual association with the proposed Middle East Command under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Knesset (Parliament) Monday night approved a statement of the government's foreign policy which did not itself mention the Western proposal—by a vote of 60 to 36.

An earlier vote defeated motions by the left-wing Mapam Party to reject any participation in the Middle East Command. The two votes were interpreted as implying approval of such a move.

Fire Guts School At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—(P)—A fire which swept through the Hutchinson Elementary School here Monday night and early Tuesday caused an estimated $150,000 damage.

School Supt. Ed Williams said his estimate did not include furnishings of the building.

SURGICAL PATIENT
Harry Adams, 606 North Marfield Street underwent surgery Monday at Western Clinic-Hospital.

MEDICAL PATIENT
Vance Smith, 1521 East Highway 80, is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital.

ENTERS HOSPITAL
Mrs. Christine Pugh, Route 1, is in Midland Memorial Hospital as a medical patient.

Marine Officer Commiskey Is Medal Of Honor Winner

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The first four days after the Inchon invasion the drive toward Seoul had gone with only moderate resistance. On the fifth day, the Marine platoon headed by 1st Lt. Henry Alfred Commiskey of Hattiesburg, Miss., began running into stiff opposition.

It was 3 p.m. Commiskey's objective, while there was still light, was the end of a cigar-shaped ridge. But just as he was about to lead his men to the top, they were pinned down by murderous enemy fire.

Commiskey called out the names of 10 men, whom he led to a protected hollow on the far side of the hill. An enemy machine gun nest was 50 yards above them. He told his men to "cover me," and ran toward the position brandishing only his .45 pistol.

Half-way to his objective, he tripped—just as an enemy burp gun began pouring lead over him. He jumped to his feet when the burp gun jammed and reached the machine gun nest in a few long strides.

He shot the burp gun soldier first then killed three others in the nest. His gun empty, he fought hand-to-hand with the fifth North Korean until one of his men reached him with a carbine, with which he killed the last one.

That was the start of an exciting few minutes which were to make Commiskey one of the outstanding heroes of the Korean fighting and the first Marine to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor since World War II.

Another strong enemy emplacement was close by. Hardly waiting to catch his breath, Commiskey dashed forward again as lead spat.

He clambered over the rocks—miraculously, without being hit, and killed the two enemy in the camouflaged hole.

Inspired By Action
Inspired by the courageous action of their leader, the 10 men quickly caught up with Commiskey and together they began the difficult mopping-up necessary to give them complete command of the vital crest. By nightfall the area was secure. Commiskey and his men had a perfect jumping-off place for the next morning's final move into Seoul.

At least 100 North Koreans, heavily armed, had attempted to hold the hill against Commiskey's valiant charge. Now there were 80 enemy dead. The rest were wounded or captured. Commiskey was unhurt, and only two of his men were wounded slightly.

Seven days later, Commiskey was wounded by flying shrapnel in Seoul, but was able to rejoin his platoon for action around the Chosin Reservoir.

As he was leading an escape party from the reservoir to the sea, escaping the trap there, a mortar blast blew Commiskey off a cliff and knocked him 30 feet down an icy bluff, ripping open his right knee.

After hospitalization, he recovered sufficiently to get back on active duty in the U. S.

Commiskey had served as an enlisted man in World War II and was wounded at the Two Jima where he was awarded the Letter of Commendation.

Two months after his discharge at the end of World War II, he went back into the Marines and won a commission. He's now the father of two children.

For the action outside of Seoul, Lt. Commiskey one year later was presented his Medal of Honor by President Truman.

Blind Mattie Makes Lone Life In Cabin

MULLENS, W. VA.—At the age of 67 she's completely blind. But she mines coal, tends livestock and lives all by herself on a lonesome mountain side.

To see her, you walk down some railroad tracks, teeter across a narrow footbridge and pant up a mountain path. As you go, remember that Blind Mattie—as she's called—shuffles up and down the mile-long trail four or five times a week, sometimes with 50 pounds of livestock feed in her large arms.

Her real name is Marthie Jane Willis. The house is a one-room log hut with quarter-inch cracks in the floor. If she isn't in the hut, she's tending her calf, caring for a litter of pigs, building a fence, or working in her coal mine.

Her mine, where she digs only enough coal for her own use, goes 150 feet into the mountain.

If she's not anywhere around, then white-haired, clear-thinking and fast-thinking Mattie probably has walked to Rhodell, near Mullens, to go "to church for religion" or to the store for provisions.

How can she do all this, blind and old as she is? A smile takes the wrinkles from her weathered face: "I use the Lord for a cane, son. Have ever since I had my last good eye gouged out." A tree branch jabbed into her eye when she was hunting her cows late one night in 1930.

"The eyeball's still there and gets infected, but I don't go to doctors. Ain't been but twice since May 13, 1926, when I was operated on and it cost me $350 cash. I just got going."

Disease (Trachoma) got her other eye when she was young.

She leases her 100-acre tract from two land companies for 50 cents a month. "Been here by myself 14 years come next Thanksgiving."

"I used to live up yonder on the knob. But bootleggers burned the house down seven years ago (November 17, 1943) when I kept telling the law on them."

Her present log home cost her a $150 cow and was built last fall. "The church people have been after me to move off my mountain to town. But I tell 'em, shucks no. Why son, in town you're out one door and in another. I got two children. My boy was hurt in the war. Lord, I don't know where he is. Haven't seen him in 10 years."

"My daughter's got 12 younguns of her own and that don't give her time to come a-visitin'. Dabney, he's my husband, Dabney Willis died Sept. 19, 1932, but 'Sylvia' keeps me and my dogs company."

Sylvia is a massive, nine-year-old sow "Who I'd get lonesome without. The state gives me $27 a month. That and my pig-money buys my food and pays my rent."

"I go to all the meetings at the Free Will Baptist Church down there (Rhodell). Used to go where they handled snakes, but the town won't let them have a meeting place any more so I quit. The Lord takes care of me and he takes care of the snakes, and I don't want to change things, son."

Laboratory Eight Miles High Works Out Jet Age Answers

Like a ghost plane, this B-29 floats through the air with all four props standing still. Single powerful jet engine, suspended underneath plane's belly, keeps the big plane flying.

SCHENECTADY, N.Y.—(NEA)—If somebody were to give you a ride 40,000 feet high in the air over Schenectady, you might get a chance to see what looks like an airborne ghost—a huge B-29 Superfortress floating through the sky with all four propellers stopped and sticking out like sore thumbs.

If you looked again, you'd see a torpedo-shaped object hanging beneath the B-29's belly—a powerful jet engine which all by itself was taking over the job of the plane's four engines.

You wouldn't see this strange aerial spectacle very often, although General Electric engineers occasionally fly the plane that way to prove the power of modern jets. Usually, however, the "flying test bed" is flown with the four piston engines operating to provide the altitude and speeds required for jet tests.

The B-29 operates in a laboratory that reaches more than eight miles into the sky and covers an area of hundreds of miles. Out of it will come the answers for tomorrow's jet fighters and bombers—and tomorrow's jet-propelled transport planes.

Flying up there with the B-29, for instance, is a North American B-45 bomber which has been turned into another laboratory. It cruises back and forth to Boston, to New York, then back to Schenectady, all within an hour—to check the service life of its four GE jet engines under closely controlled conditions.

These airborne laboratories provide data for engineers on the ground to work on while the planes are actually flying. By radio and telephone hook-up, the technicians on the ground "sit in" on the tests in one of the company's departments at Lynn, Mass., 150 ground miles away.

These planes, on loan from the Air Force, already have turned up new jet features that are being used in combat in Korea. They are also turning up ideas for commercial use, too, since the key test pilot, E. M. Beattie, is the first airline pilot to have extensive test experience with jet planes.

On loan from American Airlines, Beattie alternates with equal ease between jet and piston planes. When he's cruising at eight miles a minute in the B-45, he often finds himself listening to several radio range stations and voice communications simultaneously because of his speed and altitude.

Sometimes Beattie and his crew also find a miniature storm of snow and ice inside the B-45's cabin.

France—

hand to watch the arrival of the world's top diplomats for this fateful session of the world peace organization.

The American effort to make this session a decisive one for world peace envisions these moves:

A reported proposal for a census of armaments, including atom bombs, under strict international inspection; investigation on the scene by a UN-appointed committee to find whether conditions in divided Germany will permit holding of free elections; intensive effort to bring peace to Korea; a drive for conclusion of an Austrian treaty of independence.

Auriol made his suggestion for a meeting of top leaders in a formal speech of welcome to the delegates after the session was opened by last year's president, Nasrallah Entezam of Iran. Auriol put it this way:

"I will make bold to say that if the distinguished men towards whom all anxious eyes are turned were to come here to attend this session, not of course to participate directly in your proceedings, but to establish human contact with each other, to exchange ideas personally, to consider their differences without any agenda or public debate, and to try within the scope and in keeping with the principles of the United Nations, jointly to reduce the disagreements which paralyze the world, if this should happen, we would welcome them with a joy which I am convinced would become worldwide."

Pledges Cooperation
Auriol reaffirmed France's faith in the United Nations and at the same time pledged his country's cooperation in efforts to build a strong collective security system.

And with the United States reported ready—in the face of almost certain Russian opposition—to propose a worldwide census and sweeping inspection of atomic weapons and other armaments, Auriol declared:

"We have no fonder wish than to see the establishment of a permanent and simultaneous control in all countries of all armaments, whether conventional or atomic."

The American proposal reportedly is part of a new disarmament plan in which, for the first time, the United States will agree not only to a count of conventional weapons of war, but also of atom bombs. Until now Washington has refused to agree to such an atomic count.

The proposal is said to be one of the key points in President Truman's speech to the American nation Wednesday night, in which he will outline a program for world peace.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson will place the plan before the assembly Thursday.

Three Youths Still At Large In Break From Boys School

FORT WORTH—(P)—Officers still are looking for three youths who took part in a pre-dawn break from the Gatesville School for Boys Monday.

Six other youths were arrested Monday. Three of them had escaped when a band of knife-wielding, masked boys staged the early morning invasion of the reformatory.

Officers said the three still at large include two escapees from Gatesville and another youth who helped engineer the break.

Officers said the group fled from Gatesville in a stolen car. When the car ran into a ditch near Weatherford, three youths were arrested. Three of them said they were hitchhikers.

Later a third fugitive from Gatesville was captured by Haltom City Police Chief J. M. Humphreys.

STRUCK BY CHAIN
Richard Wilhite, 1523 East Highway 80, employe of a drilling company, was given emergency treatment Tuesday at Western Clinic-Hospital for a head injury suffered when he was struck by a chain at a rig.

SUFFERS STRAIN
C. O. Riffe, 404 South Mineola Street, employe of a drilling company, suffered a severe strain Monday while lifting bits at a rig. He was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital.
