

The News Review editor was brought up to believe that Republican and Kaseal were one and the same thing.

He admits that along certain lines he is intolerant. For instance, he has been criticized by his red-headed daughter for souring on Bing Crosby's crooning just because Bing said he was going to vote for Dewey.

All right—he's hard-headed, and perhaps narrow-minded. But he has tried to soft-pedal politics in this column for the simple reason that a fellow who dabbles in or discusses that science would best keep his head when all about him are losing theirs.

It is said that an honest confession is good for the soul. That's the confession. But there are still things he can't understand, even looking upon them in a calm, cool and collected way.

He can understand why if a person was raised a Republican he might still be for the man of his party's choice. That's natural and all right. He can even believe that there may be honest, upright Republicans who will vote for Dewey this fall, although there will be many more of the same breed who will forget previous political affiliations for the time being, and cast their ballot for Franklin D. Roosevelt, just as they have done three times before.

What is absolutely unfathomable to this writer, however, is that so many people of the South are so forgetful of the past. Without any attempt to fan the flames of the Civil War still smoldering in the souls of those true Southerners who are aware of the dirty deal the South got from the radical Republicans after that great conflict, we would like to recall to some of the people the dismay with which their ancestors looked upon those politicians from the North who packed their carpetbags and came down to subdue and perpetually punish a people who possessed the courage of their convictions and defended them with their swords and guns.

There is such a thing as patronage in politics. If you doubt the existence of the spoils system, remember back to the halcyon days of Republican rule and think how few appointive public offices were filled with people of opposing beliefs. A lot of anti-Roosevelt sentiment today comes from people benefitted directly by the Democratic appointments, who should have gumption enough to know that if and when the GOP gets back in the saddle, they are further out in the cold than Shylock ever threw an erring customer.

That, brother, is as hard to understand as Einstein. There are too many people getting by, they think, with double-talk and chameleonic capers in their politics. But there will come a day of repentance, should their ill-conceived plans bear fruit.

Since the "usually Democratic" Dallas News has bolted the Democratic party in favor of a Man With a Moustache, it is certainly no breach of etiquette for a newspaper to assert its politics. Roosevelt and Truman is the News Review ticket. And Phooey to Dewey.

S/SGT. LEIGHTON GUYTON'S THOUGHTFULNESS PUTS US IN HIS DEBT AGAIN

"The Roundup" is the name of a very interesting weekly newspaper of the United States Army Forces, published by and for the men in China, Burma and India. Staff Sergeant Leighton of Hico has the editor's thanks for a copy recently received.

The sheet is filled with a variety of articles, interesting to people over here as well as the men in the C. R. I. Theatre.

On the front page was a boxed note of congratulations from "The Boss," Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, Theater Commander, which read: "Congratulations to the Roundup on reaching its second birthday intact, and still easily in the lead. No change in the policy—the mission is still to make it a paper the soldiers like, in spite of occasional red necks and faces. Keep them laughing; they'll furnish the growth themselves."

Enclosed in the envelope containing the paper was a quill pen, with the typewritten message from Leighton: "This is a fountain pen, Burma style."

PFC. OSCAR BURGAN OF BIFFAI WOUNDED IN ITALY. LETTER FROM SISTER SAYS

Duffau, Texas, October 17, 1944 Dear Editor: A letter has been received from Pfc. Oscar B. Burgan stating he was in the hospital with an injured foot since he has been in Italy.

Private First Class Burgan entered service in November, 1942, receiving his training at Camp Wolters, Texas; Camp Van Dorn, Mississippi; Camp Carson, Colorado; Camp Roberts, California; Fort George Meade, Maryland, and in North Africa on his way to Italy.

He received two medals at Camp Wolters, one for expert rifle and the other for expert bayonet. He received an expert combat badge in Italy.

In the letter received Oct. 17, 1944 he assured his friends and family not to worry about him because he would be O. K. and was coming back to Duffau some day.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgan's son-in-law, Cpl. Clarence Flowers, who has had about seven years of service, is now in a hospital in France. Pfc. Burgan's Sister, MARY.

THERE WAS A REUNION FOR HICOANS, AFTER ALL—IT WAS HELD IN HAWAII

"Dear Holford," says a post card bearing on the picture side a picture of a fellow who looks like Morse Ross climbing a tree, "I can put all I can think to write on a post card. Ask my wife—she knows. "I am getting the paper regularly now, and it's generally less than a month old. "You didn't have a reunion at home this year, but Doc Hedges, Claud Christopher and I had one out here. I am enjoying my work and feeling fine. More later."

Upon checking our records, we found that the card really did come from W. M. Ross, S 2/c, at the radar center at Pearl Harbor. But the man climbing the tree, upon closer inspection, turned out to be a native of Hawaii.

MUSH WRIGHT, FORMERLY OF FAIRY, REPORTED MISSING IN ACTION IN FRANCE

Big Lake, Texas, October 17, 1944 Dear Mr. and Mrs. Holford: Just a few lines to let you folks around Hico know that Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wright of Mart, Texas (formerly of Fairy) received word Oct. 9 that their son, T/Sgt. We think you folks are doing a swell job with the Hico paper. We enjoy every line of it. MRS. T. L. WRIGHT.

WELBORN TWINS COMPLETE RADIO SCHOOL, HOPE TO GO TO SEA TOGETHER SOON

Brooklyn, N. Y., October 14, 1944 Dear Mr. Holford:

I wish to inform you of our change of address. We are completing our radio schooling now, in the U. S. N. Armed Guard Center.

Look at the return address. Our serial number is included. Owen has a 7 at the end of his and I have a 6. Ha! We expect to be on the seas in a short time as radiomen on merchant ships. We didn't get to spend our birthday at home. We hated that. We hope to be home in the near future. Owen and I have hopes of getting together aboard ship.

Well, the lights are going out. Yours truly, OWEN WELBORN, S 2/c (RM) P. S.: We will be glad to leave this place.

FLT/O BILLY SEAGO FINDS HAPPINESS WITH FIGHTER PLANE IN INDIA, HE SAYS

c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y., October 8, 1944 Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seago, Route 1, Hico, Tex.

Dear Mom and Pop: Just a couple of lines to let you know everything is great. I have a lot to tell you, but hardly know how to begin. I'll start by saying that I've moved again and am really satisfied. I'm still in India, but this place is tops. Two men to a room, sheets, the food is super, and the atmosphere and everything in general that goes with it. Boy, am I happy! But I have one complaint. I won't be here long.

And you thought I was a co-pilot on a bomber! Sorry I misled you. I'm having nothing to do with them, although I fired 1800 rounds from their guns and I have twelve hours in my log book as a co-pilot. But now I've met my true love. She is a fighter, long, trim and dead—and one of the best ever built. Boy, oh, boy! Do I like it! And do we fly low? I couldn't be better satisfied.

You asked me how much I weighed, and it is just up and down. For the first few months it was about 145, my lowest. I lost it sweating, not eating, and with jungle fever. But everything is different now and I'm between 155 and 160. Not hardly as heavy as when I had my furlough, but heavy enough.

I have sent you Christmas packages. Let me know when you get the box.

Hope everyone is as well and happy as I am.

All my love, BILLY. (File O Billy Seago)

THE ARGUMENT STARTED IN THIS COLUMN, SO HERE'S MR. COOPER'S SIDE OF IT

Well, we're in Dutch again. But to show the editor tries to be fair, we'll reprint a letter received this week from J. L. Cooper at Irving, Texas.

Last week, in referring to a visit here by Mrs. Herman Leach, we inadvertently intimated that we thought Dallas was bigger than Irving. Now we never did really believe Big D was any better than its suburbs, and note with interest what Myrt's father says:

"Dear Editor: As what was once known as the little town of Irving has grown to be a little city within itself, with a population of some 20,000 people, with great pride Dallas has claimed it as Dallas. When shopping 'in town' as it is called now, and we are asked where we live, we say Irving and are told right off that Dallas—especially by officeholders. So you see, there are so many people here with the same name that the post office authorities have asked us to put our box numbers on our addresses to help keep the mail straight. Please add Box 793 to the address on our Hico paper.—Sincerely, J. L. Cooper."

JACK DIDN'T SAY WHERE HE IS, BUT SEEMS TO HAVE "ALL COMFORTS OF HOME"

c/o Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif., October 2, 1944 Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Owen, Route 5, Hico, Texas.

Dear Folks: Just a few lines to let you know I am well and doing O. K.

Looks like the war has slowed down quite a bit in Europe, doesn't it? I thought the way they were going for a while that it would all be over before winter, but it doesn't look so good now—or it looks like they have slowed up some.

How are you both feeling? Hope you can stay well this winter. Try to stay in during the bad weather as much as you can. I don't think I ever told you about our little room we have down here at the warehouse. One other guy and myself live down here. We have a small screened-in room with two bunks. The bunks are covered during the day with a bright red silk bedspread we made, using some material from tow-targets. They use them to pull behind a plane for practicing with anti-aircraft guns. It is the prettiest red silk I ever saw.

Then we have a radio and a writing table that has a glass top on it. Under the glass top is where we keep our pictures. And then our walls are lined with pictures from papers, books, and anything we can find a picture in. So you see we have a very good place to live.

Well, I don't know anything to write so will let this do for now. Got another Hico paper today.

Love to both, JACK. (J. P. Owen, SK 3/c, U. S. Navy)

ALL THE FIGHTING'S NOT IN THE EUROPEAN THEATRE. EMORY GAMBLE SAYS

About a year ago Emory Gamble got caught up in his work with an amphibian force in the Pacific long enough to write the home paper a letter. Since then we have heard from him only through his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gamble. We are making a slight change in his address (which we don't know the meaning of) for which we are going to expect some direct word from this local young man serving with the Navy on an LCI (Landing Craft for Infantry).

The letter received this week by Emory's parents was the first time they had heard from him since the first of September, but he asked them to be patient and not to worry too much, as it was impossible to write more frequently.

"All the fighting is not in the ETO," Emory said. He had heard the news about Buddy and Lorene Randal's baby, and lots of other things which he had heard about his old friends.

IT'S ALWAYS A PLEASURE TO MAKE A CHANGE LIKE THIS ONE, CORPORAL NIX

Camp Maxey, Texas, 15th AAF, October 1944 Dear Mr. Holford:

I am receiving the paper fine. I surely do enjoy reading letters from all the boys everywhere.

I am still stationed at Camp Maxey, Texas, and still like "Goo" Old Texas. I would like to ask a

Quota In Sight for Local Donations to National War Fund

Will Continue Until Total Is Raised, the Chairman Has Said

Beginning at nine o'clock Tuesday of this week a corps of volunteer workers went into the field to raise the quota of $800 assigned to Hico and vicinity as its part in the National War Fund Drive.

This goal had not been reached at noon Thursday, but was beginning to be in sight. Six hundred and thirty-nine dollars and thirty-five cents in cash has come in from the workers who have reported. The school is putting on its own campaign for funds for this drive and it is expected that at least $50 will come in from that source. Many persons who have not yet been solicited will continue to swell the totals until Hico goes over the top.

Rev. O. D. Carpenter, H. E. McCullough, Max Hoffman, Mrs. W. H. Greenslit, Mrs. E. H. Randal Sr., Mrs. Jim D. Wright, Mrs. L. J. Chaney, Mrs. Boyd McClure, Mrs. Willard Leach, and Mrs. W. J. White have been doing a fine piece of work in covering the entire territory within the city limits.

"HICO MUST GO OVER THE TOP! If the solicitors fail to contact you for any reason, please leave your contributions at the bank with Buddy Randal's."

FLOYD W. THRASH, Local Chmn., Natl. War Fund.

TEXAN'S SHARE in the WAR

Like their grandmothers, who fought side-by-side with their men during pioneer days, modern Texas women are doing their part in this war.

Sixteen Texas girls were among the first WACs to arrive in Paris for duty with American forces pushing toward Berlin. They were: Sgt. Dorothy Roberto, Corpus Christi; Pfc. Helen Lehmann, Crosbyton; Corp. Mary Higginbotham, Gorman; S/Sgt. Ludora Jones, Mt. Pleasant; Sgt. Ruby O'Neal, Pareton; Pfc. Ellen F. Jordan, Robert Lee; Sgt. Bobby Taylor, San Antonio; Corp. Bernice Henry and M/Sgt. Viola Robbins, Seminole; Corp. Evelyn Daniel, Temple; Lt. Lillian Courtney, Tloma; Corp. Gladys Self, Tyler; Sgt. Ella Wernli, Zapata, and Corp. Norma Bunton, whose home is not listed.

If those girls can stick to their tough jobs until victory, certainly their sacrifice should be an inspiration to all on the home front. Working day and night for small pay, they are helping win the war as much as any soldier on the line. They deserve the support of those at home—support that can best be given by generous contributions to the National War Fund, which serves our own fighting men and women, our allies, and war victims throughout the world.

Incidentally, a member of the staff of the United War Chest of Texas received news this week that her husband has been awarded the coveted Distinguished Flying Cross. She is Mrs. M. C. Quillen of Taylor, who now works in the state chest office at Austin. Since her husband, Major Quillen, was shot down over Europe and is now a prisoner of war in Germany, the medal will be presented to his wife, according to advices from the war department.

Mrs. Quillen joined the staff of the war chest because she knows the value of War Prisoners Aid, which serves our men in the hands of the enemy, and other National War Fund agencies.

Other Texans recently decorated include: Sgt. Paul S. Coleman, Santa Anna, Bronze Star; T/Sgt. Ed Kilpatrick, Breckenridge, Bronze Star; S/Sgt. James Peacock, Breckenridge (now in German prison camp), Soldier's Medal; Ernest Leopold, Shensel, Bronze Star; Capt. Tom McDowell, Bonham, Bronze Star; Pfc. Sam Moore, Electra, Bronze Star, and Brig. Gen. Aubrey Moore, Hubbard, Distinguished Flying Cross.

With patriotic Texans everywhere supporting the campaign, there is little doubt that Texas will quickly reach her war fund goal of approximately $5,000,000. Under leadership of Wayland D. Towner, state war chest general manager, all counties are well organized, with the result that this year's drive is going forward with a snap and efficiency seldom surpassed.

"Sure, I'll Give A Texan's Share!"

Development has been completed and is ready for consideration by manufacturers as a definite gas range feature. Some have indicated they will incorporate this feature in the postwar range as soon as possible.

The new type gas burner produces a flame that burns hard, sharp and blue. It is shorter than the conventional flame, and may be developed so burner and grates can be combined. Advantages include greater heating speeds and efficiency and better control of heat. Many of the potentialities of the new burner, which is still in the experimental stage, will apply to water heaters and other gas equipment as well as ranges.

HAMILTON WELFARE OFFICE IN DIFFERENT LOCATION

B. L. Gardner, Hamilton County field worker for the State Department of Public Welfare, visited in Hico Wednesday on official business.

While here Mr. Gardner announced that the Hamilton office had been moved from the old telephone building to the Baker building, on the east side of the square. The move was made necessary after the American Legion bought the building the office previously occupied.

Mr. Gardner stated that the Hamilton office would continue to receive applications on the first and third Mondays in each month, and requested that anyone having business with him please call on those days.

LOCAL GIRL PLEDGES TSCW LITERARY CLUB

Special to The News Review: Denton, Tex., Oct. 17.—Two hundred and nineteen pledges to social and literary clubs on the Texas State College for Women campus, including one from Hico, have ended a week of informal initiation and are now considered in the ranks of active members.

Little "duties" imposed on these "lowly pledges" during the period of informal initiation, besides the usual room-cleaning, washing and ironing, and other "maid service" to the old members, included singing the laundry list backwards to the tune of "Sweet Adeline," writing letters to members' boy friends, wearing dunce caps to classes, scrubbing the post-office steps with a toothbrush, and measuring the distance around the Courthouse with peanuts.

Purpose of these clubs is to stimulate interest in literature, art or music, promote social activities for members, and encourage the achievement of high scholastic standing. War-time activities, such as bondage-raising, programs on war-time music of Allied Nations, war poetry, literature and music, theater parties, book reviews, and dinner dances fill the calendars for the year.

Miss Pansy Alice McMillan of Hico pledged the Alice Freeman Palmer Club.

The colonial charter is said to have been hidden in the hollow trunk of an oak tree in Hartford, Conn. The venerable tree was preserved with great care until 1856, when the Charter Oak was blown down.

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

One of the quietest boys in High School who rarely voices his opinions is an apple-cheeked blond senior. He has finally consented to an interview. This reporter approached Harold Lynn Norrod with a slight feeling of trepidation but fortunately found him cooperative.

Under the head of special favorites he puts ice cream and baseball. His dislikes include English and rowdy girls. However, his little brother and sister seem to get a great deal of pleasure out of watching him closely and interfering with his mischievous plans. (Usually plans pertaining to going places in his car.)

Harold has proven among all his friends to be a very trustworthy and enjoyable classmate. For two consecutive years, he has been elected as our class treasurer. Never could we have asked for a more efficient one. Another ability demonstrated last year was his convincing portrayal of an idiot in our Junior play. At this point, Harold decided we should change the subject.

Upon further questioning, it was discovered that he plans to become one of the best farmers of our district. He also said something about a nice little woman to help him carry out these plans, but let's not reveal all of Harold's secrets. Everyone who knows him, children and adults alike, say, "He is a fine person."

TIGERS SCRUMMAGE HAMILTON

Thursday night, October 12, the Tigers journeyed once more to Hamilton for a non-conference scrimmage game. Hico kicked off to the opponents and soon had possession of the ball. Through the first half the Bulldogs had little opportunity to score. Although Hico yielded most of the time past the forty-yard mark on Hamilton's end of the field, they failed to score.

The second half found the Tigers battling again in Hamilton territory. Passes were completed and several first downs chalked up for Hico. The encounter ended nothing to nothing.

Lloyd Angell, who has been out of the game since the start of the season due to knee injuries, is now scrambling with the Tigers. His hundred and fifty pounds should add weight to the line.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors have elected a new vice-president. He is Max Hill, taking the place of Ralph Ellis, who has moved from Hico. Wonder how the Junior boys like Glen Rose these week-ends? Wonder why Billy Keeney was so excited Sunday night. Could it have been because he was waiting for Walter or was it V. C.?

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Betty McLarty became ill in Homemaking Class Monday morning and was taken to the doctor's office where an examination revealed that she might be suffering from appendicitis. She was then taken home and put to bed to await developments. We hope that Betty does not have appendicitis and that she is in school again soon. We miss her a lot.

The Sophomores point with pride to: Mildred Trammell who is making a first-class librarian; Bob Wren, who is as fierce a fighter as is found in the Tiger's lair; Willie Dean Hancock, who is our cheer leader. She was the only Sophomore at the game last Thursday night; Charles Wallace Grant, who is the only triple-threat water carrier in the Conference; Margaret Allen, whose hair always looks so nice; Wendell Knight, who never misses a question in History; The Class, which is fast becoming the best one in the entire school.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Torpedoed at night, men of the Merchant Marine abandoned their fast-sinking ship. Frederick R. Zito, Cadet-Midshipman, left his lifeboat, climbed hand over hand up the falls to free a 250-pound fireman. Unable to loosen the ropes, he cut them free, then towed the entangled man until they were picked up by a lifeboat. His is heroism beyond the line of duty. That extra War Bond you buy may save a life!

REFLECTIONS

The "Mirror" personnel are in receipt of a first edition of the Comanche High School paper, the "Warrior". The staff of this up-and-coming sheet sent a card explaining that they were submitting their work for approval and requesting a copy of our school weekly. With many misgivings, we obliged. It'll encourage them, anyway, to find someone struggling as hard as they and with far less satisfactory results.

To quote or not to quote—that is the question. If we don't resort to some short-cut, the "Mirror" won't come out at all. Larry Carter, Editor-in-Chief of the "Warrior," has tackled the indefinable but irresistible subject of "School Spirit." Since we believe he did, in a few well-worded remarks, sum up the entire subject, we are taking the liberty to reprint a part of his article:

"The school is like a huge machine and each of us is relatively a small, but vital part of it. We know the parts of a machine must be lubricated to prevent wear and to bring about perfect co-ordination. This is where school spirit comes in. It keeps the students working together and the school running smoothly, just as lubrication aids the machine to run smoothly."

He goes on to call it "a blind devotion and loyalty" which "tends to intoxicate us with a feeling of glory." He also brings out the particularly good point that, "We are proud when someone commends it, for the school is the students and we are the school." Students are likely to think of spirit as a thing being so big that it does not concern them personally. H. H. S. can be no better than the people who day by day enter her doors.

The only real news this week is bad news. Six Weeks' Tests have swooped down upon the unprepared with a terrifying vengeance. Somebody (surely not a Senior) suggested flying the flag at half mast or upside-down.

Is He the UNLUCKY One?

One school child in five, on the average, has defective eyesight. And the percentage mounts to 4 out of 10 at college age. No parent can afford to neglect eyesight.

Even in these war-busy days, anyone can take these four simple precautions against eyestrain. Read them carefully and teach them to your children:

1. Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

3. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.

2. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, take care of your eyes but don't waste light.

LETTER FROM MAASTRICHT

The kind of response which should make Americans realize how much it means to the rest of the world to have our boys helping to win the war was recently received by the New York Times in a letter from all the people of Maastricht—a town in the Netherlands recently liberated by the American army.

In that letter which was addressed to the people of the United States, the inhabitants of Maastricht told of their desperate life under German rule and their joy over being free again. They said:

"The pleasant smile of your boys has stolen our hearts. Their laughing faces, their vigorous and brave appearance, their kind heartedness, and especially their simplicity, have told us that these sons of the great American republic bear true democracy in their hearts and that the world may be glad that the United States has interested itself in behalf of our country and of Europe."

Any mother, whose boy is fighting in Europe, should feel genuine pride in this testimony of the part he is playing as an ambassador of good will in building admiration and respect for our country and our people.

POLITICAL ARITHMETIC

The fact that you can prove most anything with figures, depending upon the figures you happen to use and how you interpret them, has become more and more obvious since the war began. Of particular interest have been figures on strikes. Anti-labor groups have been able to pull out figures to prove that strikes have caused criminal delays in war production. Labor groups have used figures to demonstrate that strike-hours are so microscopic compared with work-hours that they don't amount to a drop in the bucket.

Probably Einstein, if assigned to the job, wouldn't be able to get the real answer as to just how much loss of production had been caused by strikes.

The President was right when he said that only one-tenth of one per cent of man hours have been lost by strikes. But the Republicans also might have been right when they pointed out that this figure applied only to men actually striking and did not apply to man-hours lost by thousands of others who, although not striking themselves, were unable to work because of the strikes. The strike of 6,000 transit workers in Philadelphia, which prevented 90,000 war workers from getting to their jobs, is an outstanding example.

Because of the trickiness of figures, we must watch out for them during the election campaign. Figures may not lie, but they are a leading tool for creating false impressions.

Notes from Office of Hamilton County Home Demonstrator

Miss Thelma J. Keese, County Home Demonstration Agent at Hamilton, has requested publication of the following notes:

Better Homes After The War

Since interest in spending savings on home improvement after the war is rising, this is a good time to be building a scrap book of plans, and a budget of money to be spent. The specialist in home improvement of the A. & M. College Extension Service, Mrs. Bernice Clayton, has just returned from Purdue University where she completed some advanced work in housing. She brought back the news that experts now advise that a family spend only the amount of its annual income in a home.

She says that since farm incomes in Texas usually vary from $500 to $2500 in normal times, most families can afford only the minimum in housing, but they deserve to get the best for what they have to spend. Likely they will have to sacrifice some individuality for economy's sake.

Utility rooms are advisable if families can afford them. These rooms can house milk utensils, washing machines, and other laundry equipment, usually found on the farm.

Facts About Fuses

Here is some information about fire prevention. A fuse is a safeguard against fire and damage to your electrical equipment. For that reason it is important to know how to replace one that blows out. Usually, the electric current in your home is designed so that the fuse is the weakest link. If you overload the circuit or there is a "short" the fuse will blow out and cut off the current. If there is a pop, flash, and the power cuts off when you plug in an appliance, look for trouble. It may be in the plug, in the appliance itself, or you may have overloaded the circuit.

First turn off the electricity and disconnect the appliance before replacing the fuse. If the trouble is in the plug or the appliance, don't use either again without repairing it first. And when you replace the fuse, be certain the spot where you are standing is completely dry, and never replace a fuse with damp hands. Simply open the main switch, take out the blown fuse, put in another of the correct size, and close the switch. Now you're ready to go again.

Now there is another important point: Some electric systems are quite different. There is no fuse to replace. When the appliance is repaired, or the overload is decreased, the current is available again, usually by throwing a switch. It is especially important not to overload this type of system with too many appliances at one time.

Apple Order This week an order of winesap apples is being made up by the cooperative buying committee of the Home Demonstration Council. The purpose of the project is to bring fruit into the county in large quantities so that people can have the benefit of reduced prices and so that they will have the fruit to fill their food preservation budgets for winter meals.

The apples are to come from New Mexico. They are worm-free and graded to an average size of 2 1/2 inches and will be shipped in bulk. Anyone interested in having a part of the order should contact the community chairman in the part of the county in which they live or Mrs. John Blom, Route 3, Hamilton, who is county chairman. Home Demonstration Club women can also give information about the order and who to contact in the locality to those interested. The closing date of this order has not been set and present plans are to order as many truck loads as are needed during the season. No order is accepted unless accompanied by payment for the fruit, and all orders should include the address of the person ordering fruit.

MRS. DRIVER SURPRISED WITH BIRTHDAY DINNER

Relatives and friends surprised Mrs. Bluffie Driver of Greyville last Thursday, Oct. 12, it being her birthday.

Covered dishes and gifts were carried by the following: Mrs. Emma Vickrey, Mrs. Lida McMillan and Mrs. W. I. Scudder and two children of Hico, Mrs. Callie Roberson of Hog Jaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rogers, Mrs. J. C. Loney and Mr. Walter Hollis of Salsen, and Johnny and Mr. Driver of the home.

Everyone enjoyed the day and left wishing the honoree many more happy birthdays.

We expect to meet with her again next year and accompany her to Hamilton to witness her signature on her old-age pension. CONTRIBUTED.

Young Children May Suffer Greatly from Winter Illnesses

Austin, Oct. 17.—Young children may suffer as much from winter illnesses as they do from those commonly known "summer complaints," in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and his advice to parents is to guard babies and young children against these winter health hazards.

Influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, and asthma are included among those diseases which may be dangerous winter illnesses among young children since they affect the respiratory and breathing system. Such diseases as pneumonia may develop from a neglected cold, they may follow as an aftermath of measles or whooping cough, or they may occur suddenly and with very little warning. These diseases of the respiratory system are more prevalent in winter than in summer and are much more difficult to combat than digestive ailments such as summer complaint.

"These winter diseases are particularly dangerous to babies and young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them spread through the secretions from the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints."

LITTLE LEAD PENCIL

Ever thought how much a lead pencil is worth to the world? It has drafted our buildings, shaped the plans for ships, outlined the way for practically every opportunity that has been developed for the past 100 years, or even longer than that.

Between the fingers of a clever man, a pencil is the pioneer of our remarkable American progress. The little pencil itself has never built a railroad, or a bridge, but brains back of it have made the first rough draft of every achievement.

Put that same pencil into the hands of an indifferent, incompetent individual and all the little pencil can write is "It just can't be done."

The pencil cannot create opportunity all alone — it must have help from the one using it.

TEN COMMANDMENTS ON HOW TO GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE

- 1. Keep the skid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think. Talk low because the way you say it often counts more than what you say. 2. Make promises sparingly, no matter what it costs you. 3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging thing to, or about, somebody. 4. Be interested in others and in what they do. 5. Be cheerful. Keep the corners of your mouth turned up. Hide your worries, pains and disappointments under a smile. Laugh at good stories and learn to tell them. 6. Preserve an open mind on debatable questions. Discuss but don't argue. 7. Discourage gossip. It multiplies and becomes a chronic disease. 8. Be careful of another's feelings. Wee Bits of JESTURE

[Opinions expressed in this weekly feature are the writer's, and not necessarily those of the News Review.—ED.]

It looks like some of us folks around here couldn't "catch on to a bread wagon" if we were starting to death. Here I have been going around all this time sniffing and sneezing and calling it "hay fever" when it is a well known fact that "an adult in good health requires thirty feet of pure air per minute." Just how a person can obtain that much "pure air" during one of our election years remains yet to be explained by scientists. There's a group of fellows going around over the country pointing their fingers at each other and shouting in each other's ear, "You done this," "you done that," and "if you hadn't done so-and-so, so-and-so would not have happened." They carry on a verbal battle that in comparison makes it look like "all's quiet on the Western front." Sometimes a fellow finds himself wondering whether they are lawyers or political hars—or both. They can handle the voter like you would wring a chicken's neck. Of course, they have nothing but kind words for him, for they know they have "pushed him around" until now he is "pawing up the dust."

After having spent some forty-old years holding on to this old world by the tail, I naturally am not likely to become very enthusiastic over any "Washington house-cleaning" proposition, until someone explains just how we voters can be kept from "tracking it all up again."

WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME:

The war is over, Johnny comes marching home and America begins its reorganization. In the anti-climatic, such man-for-himself postwar reaction, our citizen-soldiers will be as much needed as they are now.

They will have to be steadfast, patient and even wiser than before. But this time we can be beside them, helping.

And the first thing for us to do is to understand them.

What kind of a man will Johnny be when he comes marching home? The world will depend on him, and the world must know the answer to this important question. That is exactly why Dixon Webster has written a fine new book called "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" in which he has sought it out in records of past wars and in letters from today's battlefronts.

What does war do to the school boy who goes away to fight?

Will he be restless, undirected, moody and irresponsible?

Will he want to set the clock back to 1911?

Can he sit down at his desk and begin again where he left off?

Will he be content to sit around the fire in the evening, smoke his pipe and maybe help with the dishes and mow the lawn again?

Everyone in America will need to understand Johnny when he comes marching home and Dixon Webster's book will help them to do so.

It is published by Houghton-Mifflin Co., New York.

We may make a little extra money in a business outside our own line, but the chances are that, while speculating, we will lose twice as much money by neglecting our own regular business.

Fairy

By Mrs. J. O. Richardson

7187 Bradford St. Houston 12, Texas October 15, 1941

Dear Folks: Well, as I didn't find time to write last week, I will drop a few lines to let all know my daughter, Mrs. D. E. Allison, is now at home again and improving. Guess it will be another week or two, but of course I hope to get home, as I've been away so much since my operation in August. We received the Hico paper today (Monday) and our Fairy News was rather short, but thanks to our faithful helpers who are helping to keep the Fairy news items in the News Review. Postmaster W. E. Goyne, what about your jottings down a few items and sending in also while the women folks are so busy in the fields?

Well, if it were possible for the farmers to have the help of the little kiddos in this town, they'd soon get that cotton out—maybe! There are so many here who don't know what coal work means.

We are still having beautiful days here and cool nights. We heard some going over the morning and are wondering what the weather man has in store for us, especially up there in the Fairy and Hico vicinities.

The people I've met here are all very friendly and have been very nice to offer their assistance in any way. They brought flowers and my daughter has received so many nice cards, including one from their schoolmates. Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Weight of Big Lake, which came as a surprise to them, also messages from Misses Greig and Gaylene Parks of Kettleville, and many others. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Abel of League

Mrs. Ralph Calame and Mrs. John Mackey, violinists, accompanied by Miss Grace Hackney, pianist, presented a group of pre-nuptial selections including "Be-leave Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," "Liebestraum," and "Love's Old Sweet Song," during which Miss Patsy Bounds and Miss Brownie Wimberly, dressed in pastel tulle frocks, lighted the candles. The bridal solo, "I Love Thee," was sung by Mrs. Richard Wimberly, accompanied by Mrs. John Munroe, Paul Kenneth Wolfe, brother of the groom, played the wedding march and during the ceremony played "To A Wild Rose."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. White chrysanthemums, asters and gladioli decorated the reception room and white candles added soft light to the scene. The bride's table, covered with lace cloth, was adorned with lily of the valley scattered on wide satin ribbons extending from one end of the table where the bride's cake was placed. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with a wedding bell and lily of the valley, rested on a reflector and was surrounded with stephanotis. White tapers in crystal teardrop prism candelabra completed the table decor. Punch was served from an heirloom hand-painted punch service.

The bride's mother and the groom's mother, with the bride and groom, the bride's attendants, and the groom's two sisters, Mrs. Carter Brockenbrough of Waco and Mrs. Sidney Wieser of Hamilton, received the guests. In the house party were Mrs. R. W. Gould, aunt of the bride, of Houston; Mrs. Roydon Bowen of Corsicana; Miss Betty Lewis of Houston, Miss Winifred Horn of Dallas, and Mrs. James McKinney, Mrs. Watt Henderson, Mrs. Morris LeFevre, and Mrs. Tom Poindexter Jr., all of Wortham.

A LITTLE LIGHT ON THAT LETTER FROM BABE—AND MORE INTERESTING FACTS

Two weeks ago we mentioned having received a letter from Pfc. Ralph M. Horton, now in England, with only the three words, "How 'bout it?" in the middle of a sheet of paper. Now his wife Mary has thrown more light on the matter by showing the editor a letter from Babe explaining that he meant how about that letter from the News Review man. We acknowledge the promise, but will have to hold out for a carton of Chesterfields before we carry it out, for we've almost quit writing personal letters to anyone.

In lieu of that, however, we are privileged to carry part of Babe's last missive to Mary skipping the saccharine content of the letter, we quote:

Another week has rolled around with nothing much happening for excitement—a couple of buzz-bombs around is about all.

"I went to church this morning for the first time in about a month. I don't think I've told you about the services they have over here, have I? In the Protestant churches they have crosses visible in several places. In each row of seats they have several kneeling pads that they kneel on to pray. About five times during each service they use them.

"Usually they sing about five hymns, only they don't use song books like ours. The songs are printed without the music, and they are all ones that I have never heard. They have separate books with psalms in them. They read one during each service. Today they had three different men reading the Scriptures. After each one spoke or read a passage, he would kneel and pray; then another song. The actual preacher only spoke about five or ten minutes. About the only thing that is like our services is the passing of the collection plate—that always reminds me of home.

"All their churches are very beautiful, both inside and out, and as a general rule are very old and elaborately furnished within. Pipe organs are always there.

In the olden days the burial ground was right next to the church, but they are getting away from that now, except in a few places. During that time each grave was covered over with cement in a monument to fit the casket. I have seen some of them dated as far back as 1600—and that is plenty old. The church and grounds are kept very clean, and all of the church buildings are of stone, which is the reason they are so well preserved.

"The pubs are open when church is out, and you see people go in for a 'mild and bitter' as soon as they leave the services, and think nothing of it. I guess they have always done it that way. I have seen the priests in the pubs having their daily drink.

Am sitting here in the Red Cross in a nice big arm-chair, with a warm fire and coffee and doughnuts beside me, and the radio is playing. It's really nice. Makes a guy appreciate the Red Cross a lot more. They are really the tops over here."

Babe said he had received a letter from Bob Anderson, still fussing about being kept at Corpus Christi; also a letter from his brother, Tobe, now in Panama.

Friday the thirteenth was Mrs. Opal McClure's birthday, and she thinks it's the luckiest one she ever had. She received a letter that day, the first one in five weeks, from her Seabee husband, Frank McClure, carpenter's mate, second class, and it came through from the Pacific in just a week. He is on another tropical island and said he had added to his collection of seashells which he is saving to bring home to his daughter, Betty Jo. "Have not received any mail since the middle of August," Frank wrote, "but am not complaining—just explaining why you haven't heard from me any oftener." The way her husband wound up his letter didn't hurt Mrs. McClure's feelings any, either. He said, "I am more convinced than ever that you and Betty are the loveliest persons in the world."

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Leeth have recently heard from their son, Pvt. Adolph Leeth, saying he had received several copies of his Hico paper in France, where he is serving with an infantry regiment. Adolph has fully recovered from a slight foot injury, and writes that he is well and doing fine, indicating also that he is kept quite busy with the things the boys are doing over there. Mrs. Leeth also had heard from another Hico boy, Robert A. Pittman, with the U. S. Marines in the Pacific, and gave us a slight change in his address. Robert is now Platoon Sergeant.

Mrs. Tom Betts writes from Fort Worth: "Please send the paper to our older son now. . . . Joe gets a paper occasionally and really enjoys it." First Lieutenant Attie L. Betts has recently gone overseas, and gets his mail in care of the San Francisco postmaster. His little brother, Joe D. Betts, Sound Man First Class, is aboard a ship in Pacific waters.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Allison and children, Glenda and Edward, spent the week end in Eastland with her mother, Mrs. Mark Williamson, and to be with her brother, Cpl. G. W. Williamson, who is home on a 21-day furlough after serving for 18 months in Africa and Italy in the field artillery with the 36th Division.

There's a Shortage of Copies of The Dallas Morning News—But NOT of Our Desire to Serve!

The crucial shortage of newsprint paper has forced a curtailment of the supply of copies of The Dallas Morning News to our dealers in this county. Only a small part of regular shipments is possible until we are permitted by Government Authority to increase our consumption of newsprint.

Distribution for the present will be made from drug stores and newsstands, unless your agent can arrange otherwise.

We realize, with deep regret, that some of our old-time readers are not able to get copies of The News. We trust they will understand and bear with us while we're making every effort to restore service.

In the meantime, although many patrons will not have The News delivered to them temporarily, their names are still on The Dallas News' Big Book and we look forward to serving them again.

Thank you.
