Humble Discovery In NE Winkler Has More Flowing Pay

Humble Oil & Refining Company has found more flowing pay in the Mississippi basin at its No. 2-C R. M. Evans, et al. Northeast Winkler County wildcat discovery.

The project perforated the casing at 8,810-89 feet. That zone was swabbed naturally for several hours. Recovery was a mixture of oil and drilling mud.

The interval was then treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. Operator swabbed that section for six hours and recovered most of the acid load and residue.

Kicks Off And Flows
At the end of the six hours the project kicked off and started flowing. It was flowed to tanks for four hours through a one-half inch tubing choke.

Total recovery during that period was 59.43 barrels of fluid. There was 51.23 barrels of new oil in that recovery. The remainder was basic sediment and acid residue. There were no signs of formation water.

Average shut-in during the four hours of flowing was 13.8 per cent basic sediment and acid water. Gas-oil ratio during the test was 392-1. Open flowing surface pressure was zero.

Testing Continues
Operator is expected to continue testing on the perforated section at 8,810-89 feet for several days to determine the actual producing ability of that zone.

After that has been done the entire Mississippi pay which includes the perforated zone at 8,810-89 feet and the open hole at 8,872-8,923 feet will be tested together.

The section at 8,872-8,923 feet had been tested after a 1,000-gallon acid injection. It flowed at the average rate of 4.75 barrels of new oil per hour from that zone. The flow was through a 10/64th inch tubing choke. There was no formation water in that section.

Location Given
This new field opener is 20 miles northeast of Kermit. The location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 39, block 73, pdl survey.

It is five miles west of the multi-pay North Goldsmith field in Northwest Ector County.

More Gas Logged In SE Schleicher Indicated Opener

Fullerton Oil Company took a drillstem test on the section at 5,727-96 feet in its No. 1 P. McIntosh, indicated gas discovery in Southeast Schleicher County.

Tool was open two hours and 45 minutes. Gas surfaced 33 seconds and blew strongly for the remainder of the test. There was some distillate sprayed out with the gas.

There was no estimate of the amount of distillate the well made. The gas flow was estimated to be 4,700,000 cubic feet per day through a five-eighths-inch choke.

Surface flowing pressure was from 631 to 1,500 pounds. Surface pressure after 15 minute buildup was 1,780 pounds. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,430 pounds and shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 2,250 pounds.

Recovery was 25 feet of gas-cut drilling water with a slight show of distillate.

Operator deepened to 5,815 feet and is now preparing to test the section from 5,786 to 5,815 feet. The gas is from the Pennsylvanian reef lime.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 82, block K, GH&SA survey. That puts it 1 1/2 miles southeast of Eldorado.

McAlester To Drill Ellenburger Wildcat In SW Scurry Area

McAlester Fuel Company is to drill its No. 1 T. P. Allen as a new wildcat in Southwest Scurry County.

Drillite is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 75, block 20. Navigation Company survey, about six miles south of the Diamond M-Canyon field and four miles west of the shallow Sharon Ridge pool.

Projected depth is 8,800 feet which is calculated to take the venture into the Ellenburger. Rotary tools are now being rigged up on the tester. Fenrod Drilling Company has the contract.

Retained Interest
No. 1 Allen is being drilled on acreage assembled by A. J. (Al) Welborn, Lubbock independent oil operator, who turned the drilling deal to McAlester, retaining an interest in the acreage.

'Fire Sweater' Scare Sweeps Across Nation

NEW YORK—(AP)—City officials, on the trail of inflammable sweaters, Monday visited a New York plant which two manufacturers say supplied material for some of the garments.

A small-scale national scare has been stirred up by the sweaters, which burn to ashes in less than a minute if ignited. Police in various areas reported that many of the sweaters have been turned over to them. One reportedly burned when the wearer lit a cigarette, another when the wearer stood to near a gas stove.

Two sweater manufacturers in New York and Cleveland Sunday told officials the New York plant had supplied them with material for their products. Scott called the material "brush nylon."

Scott identified the New York sweater maker as Philip Toffler, owner of the Vic-Ess Manufacturing Company.

Cleveland Fire Capt. William E. Miller said Charles Barracato, of the B&A Trading Company, had identified himself as a manufacturer there.

The Cleveland manufacturer was quoted as saying he had been buying the material four years but that he no longer had a sweater stock.

It was not until last week, Toffler told Scott, that he learned the material was inflammable. Toffler said he then stopped making the sweaters, which he had been producing the last year.

Reports of the combustible sweaters started about a month ago when a young man in Los Angeles lit a cigarette and his new sweater went "poof."

Since then, similar incidents have (Continued On Page Seven)

Truman Withdraws Clark Nomination; Will Name Another

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman has withdrawn the nomination of Gen. Mark W. Clark as U. S. ambassador to the Vatican but will name someone else instead.

The White House Sunday night announced the action was taken at the request of the general, obviously upset by the religious controversy that has raged over the issue of a full-fledged envoy to the papal state in Rome.

A terse, 45-word White House announcement said Clark's name was being withdrawn at the general's request, and added:

"The President plans to submit another nomination at a later time."

Sources close to the White House emphasized that Truman's granting of Clark's request not to involve him in the controversy was not a firm step in a move to drop the idea.

But they said they did not know who Truman might have in mind for nomination as the first full-fledged U. S. ambassador ever sent to the Vatican, seat of the Catholic Church in Rome.

They said they weren't sure Truman himself knew at this time. Clark's appointment, announced just a few hours before Congress adjourned last October, drew fire from both Protestant churches and Congress members. Catholics generally approved.

General Clark said the widespread religious criticism was influenced him to ask Truman not to nominate him.

McCune Gets New 60-Day Reprieve

AUSTIN—(AP)—Billie George McCune Monday got another 60-day lease on life.

Attorneys for McCune asked the Court of Criminal Appeals to give him a new trial on the rape charge for which he was sentenced to death. The court set a hearing on this motion January 30, and the Pardon Board granted the 60-day stay to allow time for this procedure. McCune had been scheduled to die in the electric chair January 17.

The motion reopened the entire question of McCune's guilt. It claims he was convicted by fraud and that perjury was committed concerning the marital status of the rape victim.

McCune was convicted of raping a Port Worth woman in a car parked on a downtown parking lot there in February, 1950.

THE JUDGE GETS FIVE—Justice of the Peace Yates Hamm of Antioch, Calif., found these five youngsters, complete with clothing and toys, in his chambers shortly after he had fined their parents $20 for refusing to send one of their daughters to school. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Barton told the judge they were giving him five of their nine children "to raise, feed and educate." The youngsters are: Doreen, 11; John, eight; Tommy, seven; Cheryl, six, and Timothy, three. The Bartons, whose quarrel with the law began when school authorities sent an older daughter home for wearing pin curls, later reclaimed the children after being threatened with contempt proceedings.

B. F. Nysewander, Former Midland Oil Man, Dies In Dallas

Benjamin F. Nysewander, Jr., 57, an independent oil operator and former Midland resident, died at 9 a. m. Sunday at his home, 13948 Preston Road, Dallas, after an extended illness.

He was chairman of the board of the Lussena Corporation, an independent oil company of Dallas, which he organized.

Born in Richmond, Ind., Nysewander had spent most of his active business life in Texas, engaging in the oil business most of the time. He moved to Houston from Chicago in 1918, and several years later moved to San Antonio. He retired in 1934 because of ill health, but returned to the oil business in 1937, when he came to Midland and organized the Montecito Corporation.

W. Watson LaPore of Midland was associated with him in the concern. The firm made the initial discovery in the Emma field of Andrews County and helped develop it.

The Montecito Corporation was liquidated several years ago, and Nysewander moved to Dallas about seven years ago.

Private funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Wildwood Chapel, Restland Memorial Park, Dallas. The family requests no flowers.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Helen Nysewander; a son, Benjamin F. III, of Dallas, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Renshaw of Chicago, Ill.

Selectees Given Chance To Enlist

Midland draftees who have taken their physical examinations but who have not received their orders to report for induction now may enlist in the service of their choice, according to an announcement released by Local Draft Board 137.

The Army previously had permitted such a practice but it was discontinued in December, 1951.

The rule permitting men to enlist after they have had their physical will be effective until March 31, 1952.

Jefferson Man Tells Of Hijacking

A Jefferson man told police here Monday he had been hijacked Saturday and taken on a two-hour ride to Midland by two men who robbed him of $130 in cash.

The man, W. W. Williams, said the money belonged to his employer in Jefferson.

He said he was put out of the car five miles west of Midland early Monday.

Police Lt. Dick Hemingway and Patrolman Dewey Hockett found the car abandoned near the spot a short time later.

Customer's Right, But Grocer Is Sore
SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The customer is always right. "The customer is always right," a grocer said. "But despite it, one San Antonio grocerman got sore when a customer, a 25-year-old man, walked into his store Sunday and without warning, punched him on the nose. His explanation: Prices are too high."

All Occupants Rescued By Harbor Craft

NEW YORK—(AP)—A Northeast airliner, trying to land in dense fog by radar, crashed Monday in the East River in the middle of New York City. All 33 passengers and three crewmen were saved.

The big, silver-and-blue plane, inbound from Boston, roared down out of the murky skies over The Bronx and dived with a great splash into the water a half-mile short of La Guardia Field.

Passengers, some of them cut and all of them suffering shock, scrambled out and huddled on a jutting wingtip or thrashed about in the water as a dozen rescue craft swarmed to the scene.

"The first thing I knew, something fell on me," said a passenger, Donald E. McFarlane, 35, Needham, Mass. "A guy next to me grabbed an emergency exit. Everybody who could dived out as the water rushed in."

Survivors were carried to an improved emergency hospital at a Queens pier. Fifteen of them later were taken to hospitals, but only two were reported in serious condition.

The plane sank immediately to the nine-foot rocky bottom, leaving only a wingtip and part of the tail above water. The river is much deeper a short distance away.

Aviation authorities said the plane was being guided by ground radar to the field, but when the craft was a little more than three miles away, the plane's image was lost on the radar screen.

When relocated, the plane was in the river, near a point where it forms a juncture with three metropolitan boroughs.

The plane's pilot, Capt. A. Marsh of Boston, was the last to leave the wrecked craft.

'52 Deficit Of 15 Billions Is Forecast

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's financial chart for the government next year adds up to about 15 billion dollar deficit, officials said Monday.

That would be two to three times bigger than any red ink operation since World War II. It probably would swell the national debt close to or above the present legal limit of 275 billions.

Authorities familiar with the figures but preferring not to be quoted directly told a reporter this is the picture President Truman will present to the election-year Congress in his annual budget message next Monday, barring last-minute changes:

1. Government spending in the fiscal year beginning July 1 will reach about $5 billion dollars, up from an estimated 70 billions for the current year and only 45 billions last year.

2. Present tax laws will bring in about 70 billions next fiscal year, leaving an estimated deficit of approximately 15 billions if conditions remain unchanged.

3. Although the Administration for several years has insisted on taxes high enough to balance the budget, Truman in this election year won't demand excise or income tax boosts to close the gap between outgo and income.

4. Instead, the Administration will press for tighter tax enforcement and closing of alleged "loopholes."

5. Large portions of the $5 billion dollar spending program were authorized by Congress in past years. Requests for new appropriations will total only about $3 billion, 10 billion less than Truman sought for the current year.

Rok Infantry, Red Chinese Clash; Air War Slowed By Fog

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—South Korean infantry and Chinese Reds clashed Monday in a series of battles on Korea's western front. In the heaviest action, the South Korean First Division battled four hours in an unsuccessful attempt to win back hill positions west of Korangpo lost to the Reds December 28.

Northeast of Panmunjom, the truce conference site, other South Korean soldiers recaptured one of two hills they lost to the Chinese Sunday night.

U. S. Fifth Air Force said snow, fog and haze held down fighter and bomber strikes Monday.

Fleet F-86 Sabre jets, sweeping MIG Alley over Northwest Korea, spotted about 40 Russian-made MIG-15 jets on the Manchurian side of the Yalu River border, but no contact was made.

Pilots of other UN planes reported they inflicted about 85 Red troop casualties in close support attacks along the waterfront and cut rails at 31 places in North Korea.

Texas Cattle Hit Hard By Drouth
AUSTIN—(AP)—Condition of cattle in Texas January 1 was 75 per cent, compared to 78 per cent of a year ago and 81 per cent for the 10-year average, the Department of Agriculture reported Monday.

Hardest hit were cattle depending entirely on drouth-short range feed. Cattle on heavy supplemental feeding maintained fair flesh, the report said.

Three Known Dead As Navy Bomber Crashes In Japan
YOKOHAMA, JAPAN—(AP)—A four-engine U. S. Navy patrol bomber crashed and burned near here late Monday and at least three of its 12 crewmen were killed.

The Navy said three bodies had been removed from the wreckage. It held out hope other crewmen may have parachuted.

Search for the nine will be continued.

The plane was limping toward Atsugi Air Base after developing engine trouble near the end of an 11-hour reconnaissance flight. It came down through a violent rain squall, narrowly missing several houses and factory buildings.

Groucho Marx Says Zany Trio Won't Team Up For TV Series

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood on TV: Groucho Marx tells me that offers have been pouring in, but he won't be teaming up with madcap brothers Harpo and Chico for a TV comedy series designed to revive the Marx antics.

The mad-eyed, sharp-tongued Groucho will roll along with "You Bet Your Life" and an occasional movie role because "this gives me all the work that I want to do."

"We made 15 movies together and that's enough," Groucho says. "You can only get increasingly stale. We realized that and stuck out for ourselves. Maybe I should say we struck out."

Charges of hacking contestants to little pieces on his NBC-TV quiz send the Marx eyebrows higher than when went when a shapely blonde passed in his days as a stage wolf.

Protested Groucho: "I don't insult people I just get off a few truths. Hardly anybody in radio or TV speaks the truth. Fred Allen is one of the few who does."

No wonder Hollywood's gulping Marx people see Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis for free on their TV shows than people who pay to see their movies.

Their average TV audience is 25,000,000 people. The average movie plays to around 20,000,000. The same goes for the Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz show, "I Love Lucy" Lucille states:

"More people see my TV show every week than saw me in a movie in two years. What's more, I can play a different role every week and I have control over the roles I play."

"However, they are itching to go to battle or go home," he said. "They want to know what's going on at the peace conference. They would like to either come or go."

Douglas Removes Own Name From List

NEW YORK — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas says he has informed President Truman that he will not be a candidate for president or vice president in 1952.

Douglas, who eliminated himself twice before as a possible Democratic candidate, adds that his current decision is a permanent one and does not apply for this year alone.

The Justice, verifying published reports of his unavailability as a candidate for either office, Sunday told newsmen he had written President Truman of his position in a letter sent "sometimes during the Summer."

BALTIMORE — Senator Herbert B. O'Connor (D-Md) will not seek reelection when his term ends this year so he can "take part" in the discussion and action on vital questions without having it thought any political consideration is involved.

The Recovery Rate Is High In Nervous Breakdown Cases

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A reader asks: "What are the symptoms and cause of a nervous breakdown?"

The term "nervous breakdown" is used for many different conditions and this is no single disease, having therefore no single group of symptoms or single cause.

In some people who are labeled as having a nervous breakdown, the cause seems to be worry, nervous fatigue or distress and strain of modern living. The symptoms can be quite mild and recovery reasonably prompt.

In others a nervous breakdown is used to describe some serious mental disease with a big alteration in personality and a slow recovery. Just as in other human ailments the problem is to find out what is causing the mental difficulty. This is not always easy. The causes of the mental conditions are not thoroughly understood.

Some of them may come from the heavy strains of modern life and the great mental tensions produced by the world of today. A few, but by no means all, are perhaps inherited. Mental treatment (psychotherapy) administered by brain specialists:

rest, physical therapy including hot or cold baths, handwork, and shock treatments often are helpful and have brought thousands back to normal.

Although much still has to be learned about causes, prevention, and treatment of the various kinds of mental diseases, progress is already far advanced and even better results surely will come.

Many Return To Normalcy

The fortunate thing is that many will recover and find themselves quite normal again. Many people who have gone away for a while with a nervous breakdown come back to their family and friends entirely restored to health.

When they do they should be treated perfectly normally and not as though they were in disgrace.

Mrs. Frederic Gilstrap Tells AAUW Of Trip To Germany

Mrs. Frederic Gilstrap, regional vice president of the Rocky Mountain Region of the American Association of University Women, spoke to the AAUW at its Saturday meeting at Sue Miller's.

Mrs. Gilstrap was introduced by Mrs. Terry Tidwell, president.

Highlights of the talk by Mrs. Gilstrap were on the non-governmental panel of women who visited Western Germany last Summer to tell the women of Germany what women's clubs can do.

"It was a great opportunity for something to be done to add friendship between the United States and Germany," she said.

The unusual part of the trip was that all of the women going were laywomen. It was the first time that our state department had ever sponsored a delegation of this type.

The eleven women who were selected came from organizations with significant programs in the lives of American women.

Those groups represented were the YWCA, League of Women Voters, National Council for Negro Women, Catholic Women and Jewish Women; Associated Committee Women of the World, Business and Professional Women, CIO, AFL, United Council of Church Women and the AAUW.

By Chartered Bus

The trips were made by chartered bus over the continent. Public meetings were held as well as in schools and universities, orphanages, housing projects, homes for the aged, and factories.

"There is a much larger proportion of women in Germany participating in political lines than in the United States," Mrs. Gilstrap stated.

"There is a marvelous book project in Germany. Any person may write to the book project organization for any book in any language and it will be sent to them free of charge."

While in Germany the 11 women visited the French, American, British and Russian zones of Berlin.

Proceeding the speech a short business meeting was held. Nine members of the Winkler County AAUW were welcomed as guests by Mrs. Thomas Hendricks.

Mrs. W. E. Cox announced a committee is working on a benefit card party to be given for the scholarship fund in February. The place is to be announced.

The table decorations for the meeting were done by Mrs. Joe Chastain.

Sixty-five women were present.

Captain Carlsen's Courage

It ought to have ended differently. Capt. Kurt Carlsen should have made port with his ship. But he didn't, and there's no help for it. The odds against him were just too great.

Yet it really doesn't matter. For the story of Captain Carlsen was written before the Flying Enterprise was swallowed up by the sea. It was a tale of elemental courage that won the world's heart from the beginning.

What made him do it? What led this man to stay with his ship when the critical moment of choice came? Devotion to duty, yes. Tradition of the sea, no doubt. But these things were not all. A man often can conceive his duty in different ways. Carlsen could have told himself with ample reason he had done all to be expected of him when he had removed crew and passengers safely and determined that his vessel's chances of survival were slim.

And, although romantic sea lore tells of the captain going down with his ship, the modern tradition of the sea demands no such sacrifice. Nor does it command the taking of risks as grave as Carlsen took.

The captain, safe at last, will be telling the world these next few weeks what his experience was like. He has tried to explain why he stuck with his ship. He said he did so because he decided the ship could be saved. That's a practical seaman's reason, but there's a good chance he himself may not understand exactly why he did it.

A man never is really sure how he will act when he faces a given crisis. If anyone had asked the captain a year ago what he'd do if his ship cracked and rolled over in a gale, he might or might not have declared he'd try to stay on board as long as any hope existed.

The choice was one he could not make until the moment arrived. When it came, all his experience and all his character were brought to bear on the decision. At such times men frequently rise to heights they never imagined they could reach, driven perhaps by some inner force they themselves understand vaguely, if at all.

To say this is not to lessen one iota the quality of their response. On the contrary, it is to place upon it the supreme value that can be assigned to human behavior.

Captain Carlsen met his moment with greatness. He did what he had to do, to be true not only to his men, his ship, his duty and the tradition of the sea, but above all to himself. Whether he outdid himself or merely fulfilled himself, possibly only the captain can ever tell.

What difference does it make? The skipper's great moment was a great moment for the world, too. It was a lesson in courage, a demonstration of man pitting his last ounce of strength against an overwhelming foe, commanding his heart and nerve and muscle to hold out amid an angry sea.

The Flying Enterprise went down. But Kurt Carlsen's brave final hours of stewardship were not in vain. They taught us all what it is to be a man.

Sounds... Signifying Nothing

Somebody had the stop-watch out when the various celebrities trooped into the House chamber the other day for President Truman's State of the Union message.

Senator Taft, well-seasoned presidential timber, was clocked as getting 12 seconds applause when he strode in to take a seat up front.

Winston Churchill, enjoying a busman's holiday in another legislature, stirred the lawmakers to handclapping for 40 seconds.

Then came Truman himself. From the Republican side he drew about 25 seconds worth of applause. But from his own Democratic cohorts he got a burst that lasted a full minute.

But honors in this realm can be short-lived, as any contestant on an Arthur Godfrey Talent Show can tell you. Churchill will be back shortly to challenge the President's narrow victory.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: NBC will keep Margaret Truman—President's daughter or not; George Allen can't shift to Ike; Hungarian envoy has instructions to build up underground in U. S.

WASHINGTON—Although Margaret Truman got her break in radio because she's the President's daughter, she'll stay in the bigtime whether her father remains in the White House or not.

Inside fact is that the National Broadcasting Company at first wouldn't take a chance on Margaret past the 1952 election, carefully dated her contract to expire Nov. 12, 1952—one week after the next President is elected. However, Margaret has made such a hit with radio fans that NBC already is dickering to extend her contract to July, 1954.

The original contract, which NBC tried to pawn off on Margaret, was full of jokers. It not only abruptly cut her off in case she was no longer the President's daughter after November, 1952, but gave NBC the right to use her on any program or to advertise any product. In other words, NBC could have used her on cheap comedy hours and forced her to advertise a product embarrassing the White House.

Before Margaret signed, however, the President suggested that she let his former brain-truster, Clark Clifford, look over the contract. Clifford happens to draw a large retainer from the Radio Corporation of America, owner of NBC, which put him in the position of serving both Margaret and Margaret's employer. Nonetheless, he examined the small print, and red-lined certain points in the contract with the result that NBC toned it down, gave Margaret the right to reject undesirable programs or advertisers.

Now NBC is sold on Margaret and wants to keep her on her own merits.

Unreconstructed George Allen—General Ike's announcement that he is a Republican put his close friend, George Allen, comedian adviser to President, right on the spot.

Allen is a Mississippi Democrat, a protégé of the late Senator Pat Harrison, a friend of Franklin D. Roosevelt and crony of Harry S. Truman. He has been on several weekend yacht cruises with the latter of late.

When the general threw his hat in the ring for Paris, an Eisenhower booster called Allen and said happily: "Now that Ike's really in, we'd like you to head the Southern Democrats for Eisenhower."

"Look," he said, "I'm a Democrat, born and bred one. I can't go around shifting parties like one of these restless Republicans."

Hungarian Communist Envoys—While American diplomats and the U. S. government are treated to back-talk and shake-downs from the government of Communist Hungary, the United States has done nothing about the Hungarian minister in Washington, Dr. Emil Weil, whose record certainly justifies his recall.

Dr. Weil, whose wife is one of the doctors of Communist Premier Rakosi, not only directed the drugging of Cardinal Mindszenty but is one of the most trusted members of the small group of Communists now running Hungary.

He is so trusted that he was selected as minister to Washington to undertake the delicate and extremely important job of building up an underground among the many thousands of Hungarian immigrants in the United States.

It is no secret that all Iron Curtain envoys in Washington are given the job of maintaining contacts with immigrants from their countries, and to organize as many as possible into fifth columns.

Originally the job of organizing Hungarian-Americans was entrusted to Njanos Florian, secretary of the Hungarian Legion in Washington. He did such a good job that the State Department took advantage of the public reaction to the Cardinal Mindszenty trial to declare Florian persona non grata and ordered him back to Hungary.

Organizing U. S. Underground—Next diplomat to take charge of the Hungarian underground in the U. S. was Hungarian Minister Imre Horvath, a Moscow-trained agent of the Hungarian secret police. Despite this, when it came to organizing an underground, Horvath was a failure.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
When you hear Walter Herbert conducting his New Orleans symphony orchestra you have to be a good musician yourself to realize how much solid scholarship lies behind the fire and boldness.

Much the same can be said of Herbert's bridge playing. You have to be a good bridge player yourself to understand what a firm base his audacity rests on.

The combination of bridge scholarship and audacity is shown in a hand played by Dr. Herbert at the national championships conducted by the American Contract Bridge League in Detroit last December.

Incidentally, the combination of bridge and music is not a new one to Herbert; he was an international expert in his native Vienna before the Nazis rose to power.

West opened the king of clubs and then shifted to the jack of spades. Dr. Herbert, playing the South hand, won the second trick with the queen of spades and then made the bidders gasp by laying down the ace of trumps to drop West's singleton king.

After this key play there was nothing much to the hand. East was sure to win two trump tricks, but Dr. Herbert was sure to make his contract. If declarer had taken a "normal" trump finesse, he would have lost his queen to West's singleton king, and East would later take two more trump tricks to set the contract.

The bidders may have gasped at the key play, but actually it was based on scholarship rather than on any weird power to see through the backs of the cards. The play of the ace, one of a large group of plays, is the sort of maneuver that cannot lose but may gain.

If the king had not dropped, Dr. Herbert was still in position to enter the dummy and return a trump toward his queen. This would give him every advantage that he might derive from the success of a "normal" finesse without the disadvantage of losing to a singleton king.

After having accomplished this, Dr. Weil was supposed to break off, officially with the Communist regime, declare himself a non-Communist and become an exile—meanwhile continuing his underground operations.

This is the diplomat who now enjoys diplomatic immunity in Washington while American fliers are arrested and forced to pay ransom money in Budapest.

Tobey Explores Cancer Cure—Tart-tongued Senator Charles Tobey really put the National Research Council and Veterans' Administration on the spot for failing to investigate the amazing cancer treatment of Dr. Robert E. Lincoln of Medford, Mass., who successfully treated Charles Tobey, Jr., for cancer.

Calling in Dr. William C. Rubey of the Research Council and Dr. J. T. Boone of the Veterans' Administration, Senator Tobey put them on the carpet. "Why don't you at least investigate this treatment using antibiotics?" he demanded.

With them in the New Hampshire senator's office was young John Bartnik, a former Lincoln patient, who reported that various veterans' groups in New England had asked for the treatment.

Dr. Rubey made the rather lame reply that there had been no formal request for a unit of the government to probe Dr. Lincoln's methods, following which Senator Tobey read a letter from the acting surgeon general, W. Palmer Dearing, to Senator Alex Smith of New Jersey promising a study.

The meeting broke up when Bartnik asked: "Isn't it true you're waiting for the Massachusetts Medical Society to make a report, and are not sending in your own men to really study Dr. Lincoln's methods?"

"We did not come up here to be grilled, or answer questions from anyone," retorted Dr. Boone. He and Dr. Rubey stalked out of the room.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Taft Vs. Eisenhower Battle Would Chart Path Of GOP

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A Taft vs. Eisenhower battle at the Republican national convention in Chicago now is being sized up as a show-down on whether the Grand Old Party goes conservative or progressive.

This conclusion is based not so much on what Senator Taft has said or what General Eisenhower has said. It is based, rather, on the men behind each candidate.

Senator Taft would, of course, be one of the first to assert that he is really a progressive. He doesn't like to have the label of "reactionary" pinned on him.

As proof of Taft's liberalism, his recent appearance with Democratic Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia, of an American Medical Association forum is cited. On most questions, Senator Taft's position was considered to be to the left of Senator Byrd's.

Also, it is pointed out that Senator Taft was chairman of the Resolutions Committee that drafted the GOP platforms of 1944 and 1948.

Even Gov. Earl Warren of California, an avowed progressive, has conceded these platforms were decidedly liberal. Taft nevertheless has the support of most Republican Old Guard politicians.

In trying to shake off the mantle of conservatism thrown over the shoulders of their candidate, Taft supporters have asserted it is the professional politicians—the candidates for public office—who are backing Eisenhower in the hope they can ride to victory on Eisenhower's coattails.

They'd Swish To Taft—In spite of this, Senator Taft has gained the reputation of being the spokesman for the conservatives. He is the number one enemy of the New Deal and Fair Deal Democrats. He is opposed by almost all union labor organization leaders. He has the backing of most businessmen.

He has been critical of almost all of the so-called bi-partisan foreign policies. These are the points that lead to the conclusion that if Senator Taft is the Republican candidate, he would steer the party on a course decidedly to the right.

Leading the campaign to make General Eisenhower the GOP candidate are Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts and Senator James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, both with known sympathies for progressive Republicanism.

Senator Lodge was even a candidate in opposition to Senator Taft for chairmanship of the GOP policy committee in the Senate.

Also prominent in the Eisenhower-for-President movement are Republican Senator Frank Carlson and ex-Senator Harry Darby of Kansas.

Their voting records in the Senate were in the main in support of the Taft wing of the party position.

They support Eisenhower because Kansas is Eisenhower's home state, traditionally Bull Moose in sentiment.

Answer Tomorrow

Let's draw and Governor Warren got the invitation to speak at a luncheon on Thursday, January 17. Senator Taft has been invited to speak at the banquet that night. Senator Lodge will speak for Ike at lunch on Friday and Governor Stassen at the banquet Friday night.

That should open up the Republican campaign with four bangs.

THE STORY: Jennet Logan meets Peter Surinov, a young bride at a party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Felletier. Peter awakens in Jennet the realization that her life, as a result of the falling and old Dr. Gus Logan, has been aimless. The following day, Jennet goes to the hospital to apply for a volunteer nurse's job. Peter meets her there and invites her to see his laboratory where he is engaged in research that may save thousands of lives in the event of an atomic attack. Suddenly Jennet is drawn to Peter's name. He kisses her but she tells Peter that she is not a nurse, but "that's what I happen to be happily married." She returns home and tells her husband about seeing the laboratory. Peter is unable to stay in the room, she goes out to the car with the excuse that she has left the keys in it. Actually the keys are in her purse.

you know the hospital get sued. "Oh, come, Mr. Cota, you're always worrying about possible lawsuits."

Maxwell Cota had been superintendent of the Angell University Hospital for 10 years, and he had come to regard it as a constitutional monarchy over which, of course, it was he who kinged it.

GUS LOGAN did not begrudge the superintendent's power, which derived from a local official entrenchment. He himself was aloof from hospital politics, but he was not a fool.

The compensatory posturing of little men to let pass the superintendent's query, "It's our hospital, it's you know," he said, "and we all have its interests at heart. But I can assure you that in this case there's no question of a lawsuit. The patient's a nice, intelligent guy—a gentleman. I explained the thing to him and convinced him down. Also, because the nurse was honest enough to own up to the slip, no harm was done. You get some more nurses up on that floor, and I'm sure things will straighten out up there."

"It's not all the superintendent's query," he said, "and we all have its interests at heart. But I can assure you that in this case there's no question of a lawsuit. The patient's a nice, intelligent guy—a gentleman. I explained the thing to him and convinced him down. Also, because the nurse was honest enough to own up to the slip, no harm was done. You get some more nurses up on that floor, and I'm sure things will straighten out up there."

You get some more nurses up on that floor, and I'm sure things will straighten out up there."

"If the nurse had any sense, she'd have covered up some way," the superintendent said. "A mistake like that is bad enough, but I don't have to pretend to you—confessing it is worse. First thing Gus stood with those who claimed that Communism had burst the seams of the capitalist political affiliation," that it was now a movement which sought to overthrow the democracies by violent means.

He had been obliged to spare several taxing evenings to the loyalty-oxing controversy. He had thought the matter settled, a dead issue. Now here it was again when what he wanted most was to pick up his wife and get home in time for a leisurely dinner.

His eye skipped to the bottom of the page: "Peter Surinov" in black thick strokes of a stub pen. In the lower margin of the printed form was a handwritten postscript: "Nor am I a member of the Ku Klux Klan." Gus suppressed a sigh and a slight twinge of amusement at the succinctness of the notation.

HE dropped the paper onto the desk and looked up, wholly unprepared for the extremity of anger which charged Maxwell Cota's face and body. Cota stood crouched over the desk like a jockey over a horse. Nature had unnecessarily crowded the small features, and the olive skin, now emurped, was deeply convoluted so that the effect was of a marred cabbage in which the dark eyes were active as insects, the upper lip lost to the lavender bulge of the lower.

"I'm bringing this before the committee at the meeting tonight," the superintendent said. "I want to know—are you going along with me on this or not?"

"What do you mean—I'm going along? Where?"

"To the end of the line. Surinov's asking for it, and I'm going to see that he gets it. I don't propose to put up with any more Bolshevik back talk. The oath has been debated, voted upon and accepted. It is now hospital law. Anyone who refused to sign was to be automatically fired. No one refused. But this smart aleck has signed in a way that is a disgrace to the hospital. Anyone who doesn't like the way we do things, doesn't belong here."

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Hunt With A Coon

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, looked out the window of the monkey house—out across the trees of the Great Forest—on and up in the sky where a great moon was shining. "Ah, yes," said Daddy

Ringtail to himself, "tonight is the night for the coon hunt with my old friend, the Gloomy Coon." Coon hunting in the moonlight, what fun! Well, Daddy Ringtail thought it was going to be fun, although never before had he gone on a coon hunt. "Daddy Ringtail!" called a voice from down on the ground. It was Gloomy Coon all ready to go, and so down Daddy Ringtail slid to meet him. "Happy day there, Gloomy!"

"How can we hunt a coon with dogs like people do," asked Daddy Ringtail, "when we have no dogs to hunt with?" Oh, but Gloomy laughed to hear his words. He knew that Daddy Ringtail didn't understand. And then, "Listen!" said Gloomy of a sudden. Daddy Ringtail listened. From away through the night and over the hills he heard the shouting of men and the barking of dogs.

"Yes," said Gloomy with happy excitement in his voice, "the coon hunt has started, because there they come to try to catch me." Oh, Gloomy was going to show them

"Happy day to you, Daddy Ringtail!" Gloomy's eyes were cheerful and bright, although the black fur around them had given him a sad and gloomy look. Yes, Gloomy was a cheerful and friendly fellow indeed, everyone said. And he was the most cheerful of all when he was tramping around through the forest on one of his many coon hunts. Why, Gloomy knew all the tricks of hunting coons, people said, although they never had known him to bring one back from his hunting of them. Never had Gloomy asked anyone to go hunting with him before, but now he had asked Daddy Ringtail.

"I'll tell you how people do their coon hunting," said Gloomy as he and Daddy Ringtail walked away through the forest and over the hills. People hunt coons with hunting dogs. And the dogs bark, and the people shout, and it's all very exciting to see if the coon gets away.

"How can we hunt a coon with dogs like people do," asked Daddy Ringtail, "when we have no dogs to hunt with?"

Oh, but Gloomy laughed to hear his words. He knew that Daddy Ringtail didn't understand. And then, "Listen!" said Gloomy of a sudden. Daddy Ringtail listened. From away through the night and over the hills he heard the shouting of men and the barking of dogs.

"Yes," said Gloomy with happy excitement in his voice, "the coon hunt has started, because there they come to try to catch me." Oh, Gloomy was going to show them

January 18 Named Arbor Day in Texas

COLLEGE STATION—Arbor Day will be observed in Texas Friday, according to a proclamation issued by Gov. Allan Shivers. In his proclamation, Governor Shivers said, "In full appreciation of the great value of our Texas forests, shade and ornamental trees, I hereby designate Friday, January 18, as Arbor Day in Texas, and urge Texans to observe the day by planting trees and shrubs and otherwise marking the occasion in a proper manner."

some tricks of hunting, he said and so Daddy Ringtail climbed a tree to watch. What greater excitement to be the hunted instead of the hunter? None, I guess, but don't worry. More tomorrow. Happy day. (Copyright 1952, General Features Corp.)

PEBBLE BEACH, CALIF.—Bing Crosby's National Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament, a $10,000 event with a million dollar cast, goes down in sports history as the battle of the big wind, torrential rains and a fruitless struggle with par.

Colorful Jimmy Demaret, the transplanted Texan now operating out of Ojai, Calif., won the abbreviated event Sunday with a 36-hole total of 145. It was one over par.

The 1952 version of the yearly tournament, the profits of which revert to charity, was beset by stormy weather from the start.

An estimated 5,000 spectators trudged through intermittent showers in the finals.
Reduced to a 36-hole affair, the final round was played over the par 36-36-72 championship Pebble Beach Course.

The victory was worth $2,000. He pocketed an additional $800 by finishing third in the pro-amateur competition with comedian Bob Hope. They scored a best-ball of 70-64-134.

Two teams tied for low in the pro-amateur best ball with 133. They were Bob Toski, Northampton, Mass., and Dr. Bob Knutson, San Francisco, with 70-63 and Art Bell and William Hoelle, both of San Francisco, with 68-65.

San Francisco's Bell finished second to Demaret in the professional class with a 72-75-147. He won $2,500, plus $850 for the pro-Amateur first-place tie.

Playing Of Midget Voled As Sports Oddity Of '51 Season
NEW YORK—There were many strange happenings in sports during the year 1951 but none to compare with the 20-second big league career of Eddie Gaedel.

Not even the turnaround of Leo Durocher, who turned "nice" and won a pennant, nor the football coach's refusal of his team's winning touchdown, could come close to matching the story of little Eddie.

Eddie, in case you've forgotten, is the three-foot, seven-inch, 50-pound midget Bill Vecek pulled out of a cake and made into a big leaguer.

The mite's short and hilarious career in the major leagues was the overwhelming choice of sports writers and sportscasters as the sports oddity of the year. In The Associated Press' annual year-end poll, Vecek, owner of the St. Louis Browns, has pulled many a stunt in his career, but he topped them all when he had a cake wheeled into Sportsman Park in St. Louis during the intermission of a Detroit-St. Louis doubleheader, on August 18.

When the cake was cut, out hopped Gaedel, togged in a Browns' uniform with the number, 18 (one-eighth) on his back. The crowd of 18,369 laughed. But they hadn't seen anything yet. The surprise came when the Browns came to bat in the first inning.

The public address system announced that Gaedel was batting for Outfielder Frank Saucier. The Midget waddled out of the dugout swinging three bats. He tossed two away, retaining a stick 17 inches long and weighing about 23 ounces.

Umpire Ed Hurley took off his mask got down on his knees and squinted at the rookie punch-hitter.

Gedel's Walk
"This can't be," the umpire mumbled. But it was. Gaedel trotted back to the dugout, returned with his contract, and the umpire ordered the game to proceed.

BIG STRIKE—Connie Powers uses bowling pins to write out the huge 987 series she rolled during the National All-Star Match Game Tourney in Chicago.

Zeke Bonura, manager of the Midland Indians, lets us in on some baseball poop with a letter from his New Orleans home.

The Zeke has some interesting info, which we'll pass on to you as received:
"Hello Larry:
Just a few lines to let you know our plans for the coming baseball season. We are going to train in Lutcher, La., just 45 miles from New Orleans. We will begin March 10.

"I have a wonderful setup for the boys, and right now I'm working on our Spring training schedule. And two of our Spring games are really BIG ONES. We play Atlanta of the Class AA Southern Association the night of March 23 in Lutcher, and we also play the New Orleans Pelicans in Lutcher. We will pack them in for those two games, for this will be the first big games ever played in this town of 3,000 people. People will come from all over to see these games.

"I also will get a lot of Class C practice games, so by the time our team gets to Midland around April 18, we should be in pretty good shape."
"We are going to play Artesia on April 18 at Midland in an exhibition, then Odessa in Midland and Odessa in Odessa, just before we open the season April 21.

"These are the only Spring games we have in Midland, but after all the people would rather see the regular games and not just practice games. When my complete Spring schedule is done, I'll send it to you. When we break camp, I am arranging games on our way up to Midland, so you see I will keep the boys pretty busy and that way I will have a pretty good line on our new men.

"I will keep you posted on any new developments and write more later."
ZEKE BONURA

Big Spring High School comes here Friday night to open the District 1-AAA conference basketball season.

Midland, with a 3-8 record, will be going against a team with a better record for the season. But the Bulldogs knocked the Big Springers off 33-23, for the Odessa Invitational consolation title recently, playing pretty good ball.

Coach Red Rutledge wasn't too happy about the play of his cagers against Zeleta in the Peconic tourney. He was a bit more satisfied with the Pecon game, even though Midland lost it. The boys were off their game, but did hustle in this latter affair.

McCook High School still hasn't hired a mentor to replace Coach Elmo McCook, who resigned. However, seven applicants are being screened and a coach is expected to be hired within a few days.

BOWLING

Honolulu Oil holds a scant one-game lead over Seaboard Oil in the Petroleum Bowling League, after games last week which saw the teams keep their positions as Seaboard took a 2-1 split from Rotary Engineering Company and Honolulu defeat Stuart's Photo by the same margin.

West Texas Reproduction over State Exploration, 3-0; Mudrow Reproduction over Union Oil and Plymouth Oil over Ohio Oil, both by 3-0; Superior Oil over Ralph Lowe, West End Magnolia over Standard of Texas, Core Lab over Phillips 66, Shell Oil over American Trading and Tide Water over Tex-Harvey, all by 2-1 counts.

Borden's, 66'ers, JayCees, Shell To Play Cage Tilts

First round play comes to an end in the Midland Jay-Cee Independent Basketball League Monday night, with four teams seeing action.

The Phillips Petroleum Company 66'ers can sack up the first-half crown by defeating fourth-place Borden's in the night cap. The JayCees and Shell—who have four straight losses each—tangle in the opening contest at 7:30 p.m.

The teams open second-half Wednesday, jockeying for position in the tournament playoffs at the end of the season. The four top teams will enter the playoff. Right now Phillips lead the pack with four straight wins; Rotary Engineering Company and Western Plastic have 3-1 records and Borden's has won two, lost two.

Borden Manager Doyle DeArman has stated he will allow the Phillips team to play its three stars who have been ruled ineligible by the league because they live in Midland and the Phillips team is registered from Odessa. The players are Don Grove, Kenny Jastrow and Gerald Tucker.

The Borden team will depend on the scoring antics of the Price brothers—Roy and Howard—to try for an upset over Phillips.

The JayCees, with the addition of Clarence Robnett, former Arizona State at Tempe cager, hope to be strong enough to down Shell. The Shell team, led by Ware and Hall, found its scoring punch last week for the first time.

All games are in the John M. Cowden Junior High gym.

Aggies To Lose Jewell McDowell; TCU Leads Chase

By The Associated Press
Texas A&M fights for a first place tie in the Southwest Conference basketball race this week as leading Texas Christian takes time out.

The Aggies will lose the services of their play-maker, all-conference guard Jewell McDowell, after they battle Southern Methodist at Dallas Monday night and Baylor at College Station Friday night.

McDowell graduates at mid-term and ends a brilliant string at Aggie-land. The general observation is that A&M will be much less effective without the great little floor man.

But anyway, if A&M wins its two games this week it will be dead-locked with Texas Christian for the lead. TCU has won four straight, A&M two. The Christians whipped Rice and Baylor last week while the Aggies also were licking Rice.

Texas, loser to Texas Christian week before last, tumbled Southern Methodist and Arkansas last week and holds down third place with a 2-1 record.

TCU rests this week with one of the best season marks in the nation. The frogs have won 14 and lost one, scoring 942 points with their fast-break and straight-line tactics. They had a little trouble with Firewagon Rice last week and George McLeod, the big frog center, was held to a bare seven points by the bristling Owls, but TCU, as usual, had it in the stretch and won, 42-30. Baylor's much beaten Bears were just a whistle stop on the TCU victory road. The Frogs lambasted Baylor 75-57.

While A&M and SMU clash in Dallas Monday night, Arkansas and Baylor will be getting together at Waco.

Tuesday night Rice and Texas clash at Houston. Saturday night Arkansas and Rice tangle at Fayetteville.

McLeod is far in front in the scoring race. The Texas Christian center has looped in 273 points. Second is Ralph Johnson of Baylor with 185. McLeod also leads in conference scoring with 75 points. Harvey Fromme, his teammate, is next with 42.

Hogan said he decided to take the post here because he believes "the course will be one of the finest in the country."

Joe Louis In Squabble With PGA

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—(AP)—An angry Joe Louis was at war with the Professional Golfers Association Monday over its rule prohibiting him and other negroes from tournament play.

The long-standing PGA rule against non-white players fell on Louis when he arrived Sunday for this week's San Diego Open.

Tournament officials said the PGA rule, which they declared they had learned about only two days ago, would bar the former heavyweight boxer champion and two other negroes—Bill Spiller and Eural Clark, Los Angeles professionals.

The usually mild-speaking Louis denounced the rule as "un-American and declared the PGA President Horton Smith was "another Hitler" in enforcing it.

"Horton Smith believes in the white race like Hitler believed in the super-race," he said.
Smith was not available immediately for comment.

The old ring warrior, now 37, said it was the first time he personally had experienced racial discrimination in sports.

He said he understood the San Diego committee expected to clear about $2,000 from the tournament for the benefit of crippled children. "Cancel Tournament"

"I'll give them double that amount if they'll cancel the tournament," Louis said. The tournament is scheduled to open Thursday.

He disclosed he long had been aware of the PGA rule—"It's been causing negro players trouble for three years"—came here intending to "bring it into the open."

The tournament committee invited Louis, before it amended the ban, to play as an amateur.

He declared he would remain with Spiller and Clark until some one connected with the PGA told them they were not wanted.

Louis said golf was the last sport with a color-line. He suggested that the PGA waive its rule, at least to the extent of allowing some outstanding negro player to prove himself.

In this connection, he cited the case of Jackie Robinson opening the gates of professional baseball to negroes.

TO UNDERGO SURGERY

Donnie Collins, 904 West Indiana Street, Sunday was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital for surgery, making the penalty for intentionally grounding a pass 15 yards from the ball was put in play instead of 8 yards from the spot where it happened.

Other proposals to come before the NCAA committee are to permit the defense to run with a recovered fumble, make the T quarterback eligible pass receiver, number players according to positions, and legalize a ball with a rubber cover used experimentally last season.

Body Of French Orphan, Killed Fighting In Korea To Repay Kindness Of U. S. Friends, Will Be Returned To U. S. For Interment

HOUSTON—(AP)—A homeless French waif who died in Korea trying to repay the kindness shown him in the United States will be interred in his adopted country.
Cpl. Alexander Stewart, 22, was killed in action December 28.

But the casualty list doesn't tell how the youth asked—and got—the help of a congressman in transferring from safety of Japan to the Korean battlefield. It doesn't tell how he came to America twice as a stowaway before Congress passed a special law to let him stay here legally.

Mrs. A. Axelrod of Houston, his foster mother, said Sunday night she would bring the body home for interment. "I know that is what he would have wanted me to do," she said.

At 22, the corporal was an old hand at war and fighting. When he was 12 he ran away from an orphanage in Alsace, joined the underground and finally escaped to North Africa. He was adopted by the 133rd Regiment of the 34th Infantry Division and fought with them five years—North Africa, Sicily, Anzio.

Twice A Stowaway
When the war was over Axelrod stowed away on a troopship and came to America. Members of the 133rd gave him $200 and he struck out on his own. When he tried to enlist in the U. S. Army, he discovered he was an alien. Back to France he went. There was no record of his citizenship there. Again he stowed away on an American ship and arrived in Galveston, Texas, July 4, 1947.

His foster mother then was an assistant U. S. district attorney handling immigration cases. She became interested in Axel and interested others, among them Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Texas). Thomas introduced a special law in Congress to let Axel stay here as an immigrant. The measure passed in August of 1950. A few days later Axel enlisted in the U. S. Army, and was sent to Japan.

"Alex became very tired of Japan and wrote that he wanted to get into action," Mrs. Axelrod said. "About a month later got a letter from Representative Thomas saying Alex had written asking for help to get in the fighting. Representative Thomas said, 'I hope I haven't done the wrong thing by seeing that he gets his wish.'"

Mrs. Axelrod remembers Alex as a timid, intense boy to whom devotion meant the utmost.

"He was so thankful for any little kindness people showed him," she said.

Propane Gas Blasts Kill Elderly Widow, Injure Two Others

CROSSVILLE, ILL.—(AP)—Two propane gas blasts hurled pieces of a large metal tank into homes over a two-block area Sunday night and killed an elderly widow. Two other persons were injured.

The twin explosions came as most families in this small Southern Illinois town were preparing for a quiet Sunday night supper.

Mrs. Mae Slinkard, about 65, died, either directly from the blast or a fire which demolished her house. Seven other frame houses were damaged badly.

Police Chief R. G. Randall said the first blast ripped apart a 500-gallon tank of the gas. A second explosion, less than a minute later, occurred in the Slinkard house.

Rips Through Kitchen
Randall said he didn't know what touched off the blasts.

A large section of the tank ripped through Randall's kitchen. "We didn't have time to think what it could be," Mrs. Randall said. She was in the dining room with her three children when she heard the tank smash through the kitchen.

She ran outside, where she found Mrs. Charlotte Cox, telephone operator. Both women ran to the neighborhood by telephone office and spread the alarm.

Mrs. Allen Cozart, about 65, was burned critically. Her husband was injured slightly.

The large section of the tank that went through the Randall kitchen flew over two vacant lots, another house, the telephone exchange, and slammed against the second story of the Homer Marshall house.

Two automobiles and a garage were demolished by flames after the ball of fire enveloped them.

to the northwest of No. 2 Brock. It was completed for 18,000,000 cubic feet per day. A third well in this area, No. 3 Brock, one mile north-east of No. 1 Brock, is now drilling.

Phillips and others hold almost 1,000,000 acres in the Kindersley area.

Program For MGS Luncheon Tuesday Has Been Changed

The program for the Tuesday luncheon of the Midland Geological Society has been changed.

He will not be able to fill the engagement because of illness. The Forgeron program will be given at a later date, H. L. Leonard Swords, MGS program chairman said.

A sound movie of the "Sugar Ray" Robinson-Randy Turpin championship prize fight at the Polo Grounds in New York will be shown for the Tuesday program.

Persons who plan to attend the meeting should make reservations in advance.
Allen Ehlers, president of the society will preside at the luncheon which will be held in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Search Continues For Freighter, Crew

SEATTLE—(AP)—Search planes awaited clearing weather Monday to resume scanning the storm-tossed North Pacific for the freighter Pennsylvania and her 45-man crew.

Hope for the crewmen, who took to lifeboats during a howling Pacific storm last Wednesday, was fading, but the Coast Guard ordered a thorough search of an area south-eastward of the last position reported by the stricken freighter.
