Texaco Gets Oil Flow In NW Scurry

The Texas Company has a flowing discovery from an unidentified lime formation in Central-North Scurry County.

That concern's No. 1 M. A. Fuller, located 18 miles northwest of Snyder and a considerable distance from any proven producing area flowed 43 barrels of clean, pipe line oil in one hour from the section at 7,586-7,606 feet.

No Water There were no signs of formation water. Gravity of the oil was 30 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 438-1.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 525 pounds to 1,260 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after two and one-half hours was 3,465 pounds.

Operator is taking electric surveys and will then run casing and make a production test of the zone which has shown the oil.

South of Polar Pool Location is 1,650 feet from east and 467 feet from south lines of section 62, block 3, H&GN survey. It is six and one-half miles south of the Polar (Eilenburger) field in Southwest Kent County and eight miles northeast of the Fluvanna field in Northwest Scurry County.

The formation which has flowed the oil in Texaco No. 1 M. A. Fuller is a lime. Age of it has not been definitely determined.

Some observers think the new pay is lower Strawn. Others think it is upper Mississippi.

Pennsylvanian Is Making Oil In C-N Schleicher Tester

Skelly Oil Company and associates J. W. A. Davis, stepout from the proven area in the Huldale (Pennsylvanian) field of Central-North Schleicher County flowed oil at the rate of 20 barrels per hour and had a gas-oil ratio of 5,620-1, from the section at 5,620-5,722 feet.

The flow came during a 13 minute drillstem test. A five-eighths inch bottom hole choke and a one-inch top opening was used on the tubing. Gas To Surface Gas surfaced in two minutes and oil started flowing in four minutes. The project flowed three barrels of new oil in eight minutes—which was at the estimated rate of 30 barrels per hour. There were no signs of formation water.

Recovery when the drillpipe was pulled was 143 feet of free oil. Gravity of the oil produced on the test was 30.8 degrees.

The section at 5,664-5,821 feet had showed gas at the rate of nine million cubic feet per day. That zone did not develop any oil.

Pennsylvanian Topped Top of the Pennsylvanian lime reef was at 5,820 feet. Estimated elevation is 2,297 feet.

Operator has set and cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 5,732 feet. The pipe will be perforated opposite the oil pay section and completed from below the gas cap, in order to get away from the heavy gas flow in the C of the reef.

Location is 467 feet from south and west lines of section 43, block M, GH&SA survey, and 10 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Brown Trying To Shut Off Water In Ector Tester

Herman Brown No. 1 Ratiff, Northeast Ector County wildcat discovery from the Wolfcamp-Permian, is to squeeze off perforations at 9,690-9,700 feet, to try to eliminate water.

That interval had flowed oil at the rate of 11 barrels per hour and no water through a 3/8th inch tubing choke for an extended period.

The water broke in Sunday and that fluid drowned out the oil. The water headed at the surface.

Showering Water Some observers think the water is coming from above the pay section through channels in the cement back of the pipe.

Others think it is coming from below the pay, through channels and still others think it is coming out of the section which is making oil.

Operator representatives will try to eliminate the water—irregardless of where it is coming from—and then try to complete an oil well.

This project drilled to a total depth of 13,674 feet in barren E-1.

Ike Calls For Warning To Russia

Culver Holds Slender Lead In Court Race

With most of the votes counted, two important races in the Second Democratic Primary still were in doubt at noon Monday as the Texas Election Bureau continued tallying Saturday's light vote.

Judge Frank P. Culver of Fort Worth led Attorney Spurgeon Bell of Houston by a scant 8,500 votes in the primary's only state-wide election, Place 1 on the State Supreme Court.

But in Congressional District 9, the ballots were divided so evenly the last 50 votes easily could decide the winner. Incumbent Rep. Clark W. Thompson of Galveston led Sheriff T. W. (Buckshot) Lane of Wharton County by a thin 165-vote margin.

Three Seats Decided John Dowdy of Athens, Brady Gentry of Tyler and Jack B. Brooks of Beaumont apparently had won Democratic nominations for Congress—tantamount to election in heavily Democratic Texas—in the voting. Brooks led Joe Tomahill of Jasper by only a few hundred votes, but Tomahill conceded defeat.

Of the four candidates with races still in doubt, Lane—colorful campaigner and office-holder—was the only one to have comment.

"We'll win," he said, "when the votes come in from the crossroads and from the forks of the creek." The others declined comment until the counting was over.

Seven of the 15 counties in the ninth district, still were incomplete. Of those seven counties, four favored Lane and three favored Thompson in the incomplete tallying.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at noon Monday from 242 out of 384 counties, 163 complete, showed the following count in the various races:

Supreme Court Place 1: Bell 302,716; Culver 311,246.

District 9 (15 counties)—Returns from 15 counties, eight complete; Lane 39,369; Thompson 39,707.

First Bale Auction Set In City Friday A special auction under the auspices of the Midland Chamber of Commerce will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in front of the First National Bank for Midland County's first 1952 bale of cotton.

Clark Moreland, a 23-year-old dryland farmer, produced the initial bale August 19. The bale was turned out by Planters Gin.

The auction is being conducted as a premium to Moreland for having the first bale of cotton in the county this year.

There was one reflecting more impulsive views: "Why ask the people?" it said in part. "You would not... tell the facts to any convention."

One thought Texas had been embroiled by recent actions of state officials and urged the governor to give Stevenson full cooperation. Another asked merely that no "political tricks" be used that would deprive the voters the right to vote their own choice.

QUAKE DAMAGE—Salvage workers remove an already damaged automobile from the vicinity of a damaged building as the clean-up of Bakersfield, Calif., continues after the most recent of a series of earth shocks. The latest quake took a toll of two lives, injured 32, and caused property damage estimated at $20,000,000 or more.

Hunt told Walter Robinson of the Dallas News that Texas had lost "at least 250,000 bales of cotton" in the last 23 days. "Some observers say twice that much," he added.

The Cotton Exchange secretary said cotton opened prematurely, stopped fruiting and deteriorated badly in many areas.

Small cotton plants burned up like grass on lawns, Hunt said, and some older cotton—although harmed—had not suffered so much.

He said the 250,000-bale loss probably would come off the last government crop estimate for Texas—4,220,000 bales.

A veteran ginner at Mesquite, T. B. Doss, said "This weather is burning the cotton up. Some folks here think the crop has gone back 40 per cent during the last three weeks. Bottomland cotton is burnt awfully bad."

Along the East Forks of the Trinity, his time cotton planter Raymond Hawthorne said, "The crop has been cut one-third during the last two weeks." Hawthorne and two brothers are watching a 1,500-acre planting in the Seagoville area.

Heavier damage was reported by Seagoville ginner R. A. Handerson, who said planters on Bois d'Arc Island had 5,000 acres facing ruin.

"Thirty days ago," said Handerson, "we had the best cotton prospects I've ever seen around Seagoville. But these hot winds and dry weather have cut our crop at least 80 per cent."

Collin County and Rockwall County cotton crops had bolls stunted and opening prematurely, H. A. Walker of Garland said. A crop he described as "wonderful" two weeks ago was drying up, Walker added.

The blackland estimates of the cotton crop loss upped the figure of $60,000,000 estimated for all crops last week by State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Midland Petroleum Engineer Trainee Killed In Road Crash

William Clayton Witt, Jr., 25, Midland petroleum engineer trainee for Atlantic Refining Company, apparently died instantly early Sunday when his car rolled over several times on a straightaway eight miles south of Penwell.

The car was smashed flat and Witt was pinned under it. Investigating officers said Witt apparently went to sleep at the wheel.

The accident, which occurred on State Highway 1601, was discovered about 6 a.m. by an unidentified man who was enroute to report another accident in which no one was hurt.

Funeral Tuesday Company officials said Witt was enroute from Midland to the Crane oil fields at the time of the accident.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Sparkman-Brand Funeral Home in Dallas. Interment will be in Dallas.

A graduate of Southern Methodist University, Witt was employed by Atlantic Refining Company in April, 1951. He came to the Odessa district in February, 1952, after service in Greggton. He came to Midland August 1 of this year.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Clayton Witt, Sr., Dallas.

Fourth Child Born To John Roosevelt

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—A daughter was born Monday to Mrs. John Roosevelt, wife of the late President's youngest son. The child, Joan Lindsay, weighed six and one-quarter pounds.

She was the fourth child of the John Roosevelts and the nineteenth grandchild of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

DOVER, ENGLAND (AP)—George Brewster, the 61-year-old London doctor who has been trying 26 years to swim the English Channel, gave up Monday on his fifteenth attempt after battling the cold, rough waters four and a half hours.

Three Steps To Curb Red Aims Offered

NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday that, because of the Soviet master-plan of conquest, "this nation today stands in greater peril than at any time in our history."

He called for a clear, strong warning to the Russians from the American government:

"We must tell the Soviets with cold finality that never shall we rest content until the tidal mud of aggressive communism has receded within its own borders."

Eisenhower's remarks were contained in the written text of a speech delivered to the American Legion National Convention.

The general, a legionnaire, flew to New York from Denver Sunday night, and the New York speech was designed to step up his campaign as the Republican candidate for the presidency.

Politics Creeps In The speech was billed as non-political, but it contained several passages that appeared to refer, directly, to some of the charges the Republicans are making against the Truman Administration.

Eisenhower's aides said he had been working on the speech more than two weeks. They said he dictated the original draft, then revised it several times, without much help from any professional speech-writer.

While he emphasized Monday the danger to the United States posed by the Soviet menace, he said he does not believe the Russians are ready, now, to kick off a third world war.

"We still have time," he said, and he outlined a program designed to meet the Soviet menace. He outlined:

1. Creating a security force "with such offensive impact that the massive potential of their blows will haunt the Kremlin with nightmares of punishment to be visited on Russia should it violate the peace."

2. "Greater cooperative unity with every nation in the free world that is prepared to stand with us, work with us, build with us, for the security of all of us."

3. A warning to Russia that the United States will "never recognize the slightest persistence in Russia's position in Eastern Europe and Asia."

Eisenhower said the American government should notify Russia that "never shall we desist in our aid to every man and woman of those shackled lands who seek refuge with us, who keep burning among his own people the flame of freedom, who is dedicated to the liberation of his fellows."

He said these three steps are "immediate in their urgency."

The speech was devoted entirely to an examination of the threat to the United States, how it came about, and the methods used by the Russians. In that framework, Eisenhower found the opportunity to touch on some points that have been political arguments for the Republicans.

He spoke of corruption in government with the words:

"Let us bend ourselves to end corruption in public office, at every level of government. In world opinion and in world effectiveness, the United States is no better, no more efficient, no stronger than the moral firmness of its public officials."

He referred several times to infiltration of Communists into American government.

"Although we must say it in sadness and shame, as well as in anger, they have succeeded in penetrating our own ranks, even at times into our government," he said.

He referred to waste and extravagance, and said they are a result of fear and hysteria. He added:

"Fear is a climate that nourishes bankruptcy in dollars and morals alike. Those afraid seek security in a heedless extravagance that breeds waste of substance and corruption of men."

"From this time forward, we Americans cannot tolerate the preparation and execution of our program in a climate of fear and hysteria."

A-Bomb Minerals Found In Alaska

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of the Interior Chapman Monday announced the finding of varying amounts of secondary uranium mineral resources on the Seward Peninsula in Alaska, just across the 86-mile-wide Bering Strait from Siberia.

Geological survey officials said such secondary uranium minerals could be used as a source for uranium for atomic bombs.

Chapman said the finds were made by the Alaskan geology branch of the geological survey in investigations on behalf of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Gossett Warns TCU Graduates Against Three UN Covenants

FORT WORTH—(AP)—A warning against three United Nations covenants which this country is being urged to ratify has been sounded here by former Congressman Ed Gossett.

He spoke Sunday night at the Summer commencement exercises for 272 graduates of Texas Christian University.

Ratification of the covenants, Gossett said, would make a world government of the United Nations and surrender much of this country's sovereignty.

"If the United Nations becomes a world government and if we surrender to large segments of the domestic sovereignty of this country," Gossett declared, "we will have destroyed American Democracy and we will still have destroyed our ability to lead the world in the paths of peace."

Submerged in Chaos

"Along with others," the former Congressman declared, "we will have submerged ourselves in world chaos."

The three covenants against which Gossett warned are (1) the universal declaration of human rights, (2) the Genocide convention, and (3) the international trade organization convention.

Gossett, formerly Congressman from the 13th Congressional District which includes Denton, Vernon and Wichita Falls, is now general counsel for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Dallas.

President M. C. Sadler of TCU confirmed 131 master degrees, 128 bachelor and 13 bachelors of divinity at the close of the exercises.

The honorary doctor of laws degree was conferred on Charles Hale, professor of Tarleton State College and a TCU graduate, by President Sadler.

Evening Lions Club To Bring Circus To City September 3

Embracing all the alluring offerings one always expects to find with a first class circus—plus an intriguing variety of refreshing novelties and surprises—two performances will be given by the Hagen Bros. Circus in Midland Wednesday, September 3.

The big tent will be located west of the Ranch House Cafe on West Highway 80, with performances scheduled at 2:15 and 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Lions Evening Club, advance tickets may be purchased from members.

Business and professional firms will be asked to purchase extra tickets for children.

Now on its tenth anniversary tour, the Hagen Bros. Circus feature daring exploits in mid-air and spectacular acrobatic feats by such troupes as the Con Concello, artist of the silver strand; Dixie, world's largest performing elephant; Miss LaLain, premiere aerial performer; the Eight Riding Cowboys; the Gordons, double trapeze artists; the Hagen Bros. Liberty Horses; the aerial ballet of beautiful girls at the top of the arena.

Extraordinary exhibitions of equestrianism and fine horsemanship will be given by Bert Pettus and his riders, and the various groups of liberty and high school horses.

An array of clowns will add to the entertainment spectacle.

Some bids are too delicate to be used with the average partner. Save them for your expert partner, but make things as easy as possible for the partners you usually get.

In the hand shown today, South was a very well-known expert, but his partner was an equally well-known palooka. South could hardly afford to let the opponents play the hand at three clubs, (which they could have made), but it was foolish of him to experiment with a bid of three diamonds.

An expert North would have realized that the bid of three diamonds was only a tentative offer and not a firm commitment. South had already passed at two hearts, and was therefore sure to have some satisfactory holding in hearts.

South's only point in bidding the diamonds was to discover whether or not the diamonds were better than the hearts. North was expected to bid three hearts unless he had an excellent fit for diamonds.

Unfortunately, North knew nothing about such refinements. He had already bid his hearts and he didn't see how he could make a second bid on his miserable hand. If South's diamonds were so strong, North decided, let him play the hand where he evidently wanted to be.

Army Wife Wins 'Mrs. Texas' Title

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The 40-year-old wife of an Army sergeant is "Mrs. Texas" of 1952.

She is Mrs. Mary Metz of San Antonio and will go to Asbury Park, N. J., September 6 for the Mrs. America contest.

The mother of a 19-year-old son, Mrs. Metz weighs 126 pounds and is five feet, five inches in height.

Second place was won here Sunday night by Mrs. Nita Griener also of San Antonio. Mrs. Griener is the blonde mother of three boys.

A brown-eyed Dallas blonde, Mrs. June Farmer, won third place.

Contestants were rated on their beauty and house-keeping ability.

Texas GI's Model Sets Speed Record

DETROIT—(AP)—Eugene G. Stiller, 20-year-old airman stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, set a new speed record at the International Model Plane Contest here Sunday.

Stiller's jet model was clocked at 147,208 miles an hour to break the former record of 128,374 miles an hour.

Stiller also set the former record, taking it away from Russia two years ago.

tempt to draw trumps. East won with the ace of diamonds and led his last spade. South ruffed again and once more West discarded. South now laid down the queen of diamonds and West claimed the rest of the tricks, setting the contract six!

With this particular partner, whose game he knew quite well, South should have bid three hearts instead of his very "delicate" three diamonds. North would have played the hand at three hearts, and would probably have gone down only one trick. If West went on to four clubs, he would be set. In either case, North and South would have been far better off.

Golfers Tee Off
The implication of gamblers backing a professional woman golfer in the movie "Pat and Mike" caught the golf world off balance and the walls are coming in from coast to coast.

I've just received a copy of one protest letter sent to MGM boss Dore Schary by Walter Keller, a PGA member for 23 years and operator of the Sunset Fields Driving Range in Los Angeles.

Keller was "surprised" and "shocked" by the film's theme and regrets "that Hollywood had to pick on our business, which never has been tainted by gamblers owing a piece of any professional golfer."

The golf scene, says Keller, was "technically satisfactory, but obviously your golf adviser was not consulted when the script was written."

Then clear-thinking Keller adds: "Many fine MGM movies have preached Americanism. But won't Russia use 'Pat and Mike' as proof that even U. S. sports are corrupted?"

Donna Howard To Receive 4-H Award At State Fair Dinner

Donna Howard, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Howard, Route One, will be one of 44 outstanding 4-H Club members, Future Farmers of America, and Future Homemakers of America from Texas who will be honored at the annual State Fair of Texas honor award dinner-dance.

Donna Howard

The dinner dance will be held October 3, in the grand ballroom of the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas.

Donna Howard will represent 4-H girls of the 25-county Extension District 6, one of 12 districts in the state. Nominees for the district representative were judged on their 4-H Club record books.

The dinner and awards are sponsored each year by the State Fair Youth Committees to honor outstanding boys and girls of Texas in agriculture and homemaking. The dinner is made possible by Dallas business leaders to show their interest and appreciation for the programs being carried out in agriculture and homemaking by the young people of the state.

Accompanying Miss Howard to Dallas for the occasion will be Pauline McWilliams, Midland County home demonstration agent.

A sophomore student in Midland High School, Miss Howard is a member of the Sunshine Makers 4-H Club, serving as president this year. In 1951, she was named Gold Star Girl of Midland County for her outstanding 4-H Club work.

Since she became a 4-H Club member in May, 1946, Miss Howard has completed a number of projects, including six in clothing, one in bed-room improvement, one in better methods, four in gardening, four in calf projects, six in food preservation, six in food preparation, and one in health.

This year, Miss Howard represented District 6 in vegetable foods demonstration at the State 4-H Club Roundup at College Station. She had been a delegate to the Roundup two years previously.

She also placed first in the annual county 4-H dress revue this year in the "better dress" division. She placed first in the 1950 dress revue, and second in 1951.

At the Midland Livestock Show this year, Miss Howard's gilt won reserve champion and her calf placed fifth in its division.

In addition to her own projects, Miss Howard has served this year as a junior leader, helping to guide the work of younger 4-H members. She is to substitute for Betty Hughes as one of the six Midland County 4-H members to attend the Texas 4-H Junior Leadership Training Laboratory this week in Bastrop State Park.

Midland Campers Receive Awards

CAMP MYSTIC, HUNT, TEXAS—Second term activities at Camp Mystic near Kerrville closed Friday night when final awards were made to outstanding campers. Two Midland girls received honors.

Each department awards a silver M to the girl who has made the most progress that course. Ellen DeChicco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. DeChicco of Midland, was given the award in tennis.

Ellen also was awarded a membership in the Blades, canoeing club; Swans, swimming club; Rackaleers, tennis club; and Musketeers, horseback riding club.

She is a member of the Kiowa tribe and was voted by her fellow Kiowas as the most outstanding member of her tribe during the second term at Mystic this year. Last Summer Ellen was voted an M girl, one of the highest honors given a senior camper at Mystic.

Jean Pipkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pipkin of Midland, was awarded membership in the dancing club, Scribblers, journalism club; Doodlers, arts and crafts club; and the Dramatics Club.

Jean is a member of the Kiowa tribe and received her letter at the last tribe fire Tuesday night.

Decorations for the party emphasized the honoree's chosen colors, blue and yellow. The refreshment table was centered with the congratulatory message, "Happy Birthday, Paul and Jean, October 4," written in gold letters on a reflector encircled with yellow daisies and blue ribbons. Extended from the ceiling above the reflector was a miniature airplane covered with yellow daisies.

About 50 guests registered during the tea.

Gift Tea Given For Swan Hagler In Cotton Home

Swan Hagler, bride-elect of Paul Archinal, was honored for a gift tea Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. R. Cotton, 2317 Outhbert Street.

Miss Hagler and Archinal are to be married October 4 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hagler, 1300 West Tennessee Street. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hootness of Lockland, Ohio.

Hostesses for the gift tea were Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. H. S. Collins, Mrs. A. B. Clement, Mrs. Raymond Bass, Mrs. J. H. Moseley and Mrs. Frankie Lee Hearlein.

Assisting in the house party were Wanda Burnside, Peggy Greathouse, Beverly Keating and DePhane Taylor.

Combat Reds By Aiding Poor

First steps toward land reform, key to much of the unrest in the dangerously troubled Middle East, are being taken in two of the hottest spots in that part of the world.

In oil-rich, Communist-menaced Iran, where 40,000 of the country's 41,000 villages are owned by landlords, the program is proceeding on two fronts.

Premier Mossadegh has issued a sweeping decree taking 20 per cent of the harvest profits from the powerful landlords and returning it to the almost destitute peasants who do the work.

At the same time the Shah of Iran has started dividing up among the peasants the immense land tracts of the imperial estates.

Both these measures are a promising start toward removing much of the cause of poverty and resultant instability in a country whose ability to remain outside the Soviet orbit is almost vital to the Western world.

Meanwhile in Egypt, whose wealthy and worthless King Farouk just has been thrown out, the army, of all people, announces plans for a program of land reform as part of a general program to rid the government of corruption.

The army, which overthrew the king and then took over itself, has presented to the government for action reform legislation which would include wholesale taking over of private lands.

The owners would be repaid for their land in treasury bonds over a 30-year period. And henceforth no person, company or endowment would be allowed to hold more than 200 acres of farm land.

The poor people, to whom the land would be resold, would have 30 years to pay for it. And they would get low-interest loans for improving it.

Iran is planning a similar loan arrangement to peasants getting land on the imperial estate. The United States Point Four program is providing about half the original capital.

A few figures from the Egyptian delegation to the United Nations point up the necessity for land redistribution in Egypt.

For instance, 0.15 per cent of the landholders own 37 per cent of the land. On the other hand, 93 per cent of the landowners have only 33 per cent of the land.

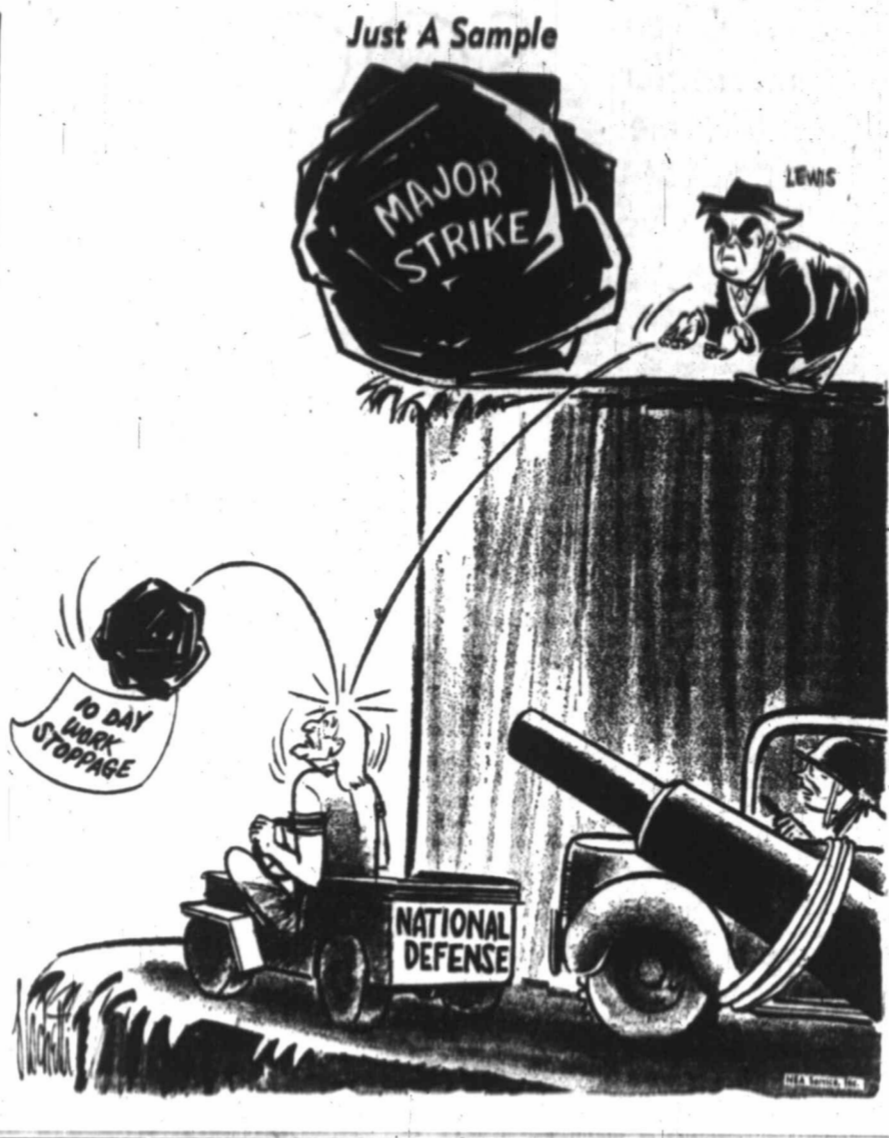

The total number of Egyptian landholders is 2,210,341 and the total acreage 5,290,050. Yet 1,751,500 people own a total of only 701,857 acres.

And those figures are for a country whose basic industry is tilling the soil. Approximately 70 per cent of the population is dependent on agriculture.

Both Egypt and Iran have many problems, but common to both for years has been the possibly overriding one of land reform. Ironically the efforts along these lines now are being made in both countries under virtual dictators who came to power through force.

But their aims are worthwhile by our standards of fair play and concern for the underdog. They also coincide with our efforts to combat communism in the Middle East.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson. (Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Senator Case says: Senators spur research in desalting water; program has vast possibilities; housewives "make rains."

CUSTER, S. D.—In his "predictions of things to come" June 29, Drew Pearson spoke of "a discovery more important than the atomic bomb."

The bill passed was a substitute which I offered in the Senate for a similar bill passed in the House on motion of Rep. Clare Engle of California.

My interest in this subject developed out of an interest in "rain-making" and water conservation in general. In the Spring of 1951, three Senate committees held a joint hearing on bills which Senator Anderson of New Mexico and I had introduced for research on "weather modification" and one which Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming had on converting sea water.

We found far greater private activity in "rain-making" than any of us had realized. More than 13 times as many acres were under contract for "cloud-seeding" operations in 1951 as were under irrigation.

So we developed a modified bill (S. 2226). It proposed simply a national advisory committee to evaluate results in private efforts. The Senate passed the bill. A House committee reported it favorably but it was objected to on the unanimous consent calendar.

Both houses did, however, pass the bill to further research in the desalting of water.

Historically, the Department of the Interior through its Bureau of Reclamation has sought to store water from rainfall runoff, rivers and melting snows. These new lines of research seek (1) to make salty, mineralized water fit to drink and fit to use on soil and (2) to increase the fall of rain.

Signing the desalting bill, President Truman said: "Success of this project can be of tremendous value to our coastal communities, to our island possessions and to the whole world."

Parties Anti-Inflation Planks Offer Voters A Real Choice

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—No consideration of inflationary threats is any good at this time if it does not take into account what the Republican and Democratic Parties propose to do about them.

Regardless of who wins in the November election, events are shaping up so that the winner is going to have to take the initiative in doing something about inflation.

The present wage and price controls expire April 30, 1953. The present excess profits taxes expire June 30, 1953. And the present increases in individual incomes taxes expire Dec. 31, 1953.

That gives the new Congress from four to six months to make up its mind and write new laws for future stabilization policies.

There is no indication yet on what either the Democratic or Republican presidential candidates propose to do on this subject. The only guides so far for an intelligent voter in the coming election are the official statements of the two parties in their platforms adopted at Chicago.

But here the voter is offered a real choice. The Republican platform has no sections dealing with stabilization and inflation. What it has to say on the subject is contained in sections headed "Taxation and Monetary Policy" and "Small Business in a Free Economy."

The last sentence of the latter section is this: "We believe in combating inflation by encouraging full production of goods and food and not through a program of restrictions."

If that may be taken as the cornerstone of Republican stabilization policy, it is comparable to the action taken by congressional majorities of 1946. The cry then was to the effect of, "Take off all controls, let America produce, and prices will automatically come down."

Congress took off controls for everything except rents. What happened is a matter of record. The index of industrial production rose from a monthly average of 170 in 1946 to 200 in 1950 and 220 in 1951.

The monthly average consumers' price index rose from 140 in 1946 to 173 in 1950 and 185 in 1951. Rents, under controls, rose only from a monthly average index number of 110 in 1946 to 121 in 1950 and 136 in 1951.

The Republican platform of 1952 further endorses this policy of removing restrictions on all sections of the economy. It says: "We shall remove tax abuses and injurious price and wage controls. We will oppose federal rent controls except in those areas where the expansion of defense production has been accompanied by critical housing shortages."

Under "Taxation and Monetary Policy" the GOP platform does say: "Further inflation must be prevented." The measures recommended for preventing it include these:

Reduction of government expenditures. Freeing Federal Reserve System from White House and Treasury control. Complete revision of federal tax laws and reallocation of taxes with state and local governments.

"We shall strive to reduce the injury done to the American people... by the weakening amendments which the Republicans in Congress have forced on our anti-inflation laws."

"We pledge continuance of workable controls so long as the emergency requires them... We strongly urge continued federal rent control in critical defense areas and in the many other localities still suffering from a shortage of adequate housing."

On tax policy the Democratic platform says: "We oppose a federal general sales tax. We adhere to the principle of ability to pay. We have enacted an emergency excess profits tax to prevent profiteering from the defense program and have vigorously attacked special tax privileges. Justice requires the elimination of tax loopholes which favor special groups."

"As rapidly as defense requirements permit, we favor reducing taxes, especially for people with lower incomes. But we will not imperil our nation's security by reckless promises to reduce taxes."

Strictly speaking, only the male of the peafowl should be called a peacock. The female properly is called a peahen.

Project Pygmalion

By Grey MacMillan. Copyright 1952 by NEA Service, Inc.

It was my lunch hour, and I sat there on the sun-warmed granite slouder abutting the massive steps of the Art Museum, my back to a marble lion, reading La Rochefoucauld's "Maxims."

I had just come to the one that goes, "If we judge love by its results, it is more like hatred than affection," and was turning this over mournfully in my mind, when I looked down and saw David.

I noticed David because of his unusually well-chiseled nose, forehead, and chin, and because he had a crown of exuberantly curly blond Scandinavian hair. He reminded me of Velasquez's painting of St. John in the Wilderness.

He had left his truck, an immense silver diesel-engine semi-trailer, parked at the curb with motor idling. The exhaust rattled the quiet noonday air with a monotonous blatt-blatt-um, blatt-blatt-um.

The prospect of a truck driver spending his lunch hour in an art museum intrigued me. After perhaps half an hour he emerged from the towering doors, and I tried to read on his countenance the soothing and uplifting effect of art.

In front of his truck, he spat precisely into the gutter, and climbed in and reared off with a blast that shook the neighborhood.

Two days later I dropped by the Gallery to see an exhibition of photographs that had just opened, and there was David again. He was studying each picture silently, intently.

It must have been about a week later that I finally met him, I was standing in a movie line. I found I could forget Kathy quite satisfactorily for hours on end if I just had a movie to look at, so I took the habit of going to two and sometimes even three a day, never caring what the movie was about or who was in it. After about six weeks this craze spent itself, to be replaced by the I'll-work-until-I-drop interlude.

This movie line was about a block long. And David happened to be standing just back of me. I nodded, and he said, "Mister, haven't I seen you somewhere before? Your face is mighty familiar."

I said yes, my name was Hector Fielding, and I taught in the school that was connected with the Art Museum.

There the matter would have died had I not asked what his name was. He told me it was David Carlson, and we shook hands.

I ASKED how he liked the photograph exhibit, and his face lighted. "Swell! If I had the time, I'd take me a course in photography somewhere. I just got myself a decent camera. Had to give seventy bucks for it, second-hand."

Once inside the theater, we sat next to one another, with the usual consent of two lonely people. When the picture had spun its cycle, we walked out onto the street. A chill wind had sprung up; papers and grit were blowing about.

"Want to go somewhere and get a cuppa coffee?" asked David. "I didn't want to sit in some greasy- spoon with ole and raw sausage-slices over head and raw ubiquitous juke-box. So I said hastily, "Why don't we get up to my place? We don't have a drink, and I'll show you my book of Steichen photographs."

He looked astonished, then accepted with such shy grace and yet obvious delight that I felt like a heel, because I was feeling patronizing, and here he was—such a good guy.

We bailed my little rattletrap of a convertible out of the parking lot, and I drove home to the apartment which I shared with the brilliant young refugee interne named Karl Simon. It was only a few blocks from the Museum, in one of those old mansions that has been cut up into segments, my apartment was on the fourth floor, in what used to be servants' quarters. It had a fireplace in the living room, and a fire escape opening onto a narrow back street. Otherwise it had drawbacks, including low water pressure and a bedroom whose ceiling followed the slant of the roof.

I had built bookcases all over the place, with blank spaces here and there for bits of sculpture. Pictures everywhere—some of my own work and a few reproductions. And drapes of oatmeal-colored Indianhead.

KARL was at the hospital as usual; his working hours were inhuman. I handed David the Steichen book, put the record player to work on the ballet music from "Faust," and went into the kitchen to mix drinks. I felt constrained to be friendly and see that he enjoyed himself, since he had invited him with such inner condescension. I hated myself for being a snob.

When I returned with the tray, he was staring around the room, with the same intent, longing look that he had in the picture gallery, as though he were trying to devour and memorize every object.

We discussed Lena Turner and her new cars and cameras and power tools, and then I ran out of gas. I pointed out which was the bleu cheese and which the Gorgonzola, and refilled our glasses and wondered irritably how soon he'd leave, since I wanted to go to bed.

He said he'd been driving a truck ever since he was 18. Before that he busied dishes and worked in a box factory. He quit high school after the 10th grade because he hated school and wanted to earn his own money. That was all the information he volunteered.

"What's this here for?" he wanted to know, picking up a little gold statuette of a runner.

"Won't it when I was on the track team at Lincoln High."

"Lincoln High? That's where I went!"

"I was before your time, I'm sure. You-20 now. Had college and

He left his truck parked at the curb with the motor idling.

Finally he said, "Well, guess I better hop on my freight," and rose. When he got almost to the door he stopped, before a copy of Renoir's "Little Girl With Watering Pot." One of my favorite paintings—you know the one—a sunny-faced little girl in a blue dress and white apron standing among flowers. The distillation of clean air and sunshine and guileless behavior. David turned his greasy cap in his hands, his face almost reverent.

In a rush of companionableness I turned the Steichen book into his hands, saying, "Here, you didn't have a chance to study this. Take it home and look at it. You can drop it by when you get through."

I had given him an excuse for another visit.

THE next afternoon when I came home, I found my mother sitting in my room. She had been living in California, working as a decorator, and she had a note from her father's death. Since her last letter had given no indication that she intended coming East for a visit, I was astounded to see her.

"Hector, dear! I'm just barging in for a couple of days. I'll not put you out—I can sleep on the couch. Then I'll go on to New York and have a week just playing and looking."

We spent the evening catching up on what's-become-of and how-a-rite-and-she-had-a. Two months ago I had written Mother a one-line postscript: "Kathy and I have made a final and irrevocable break."

"Haven't you lost a good bit of weight lately, dear?" she asked suddenly, massaging her chin and looking carefully at the pink jar in her hand. I thought: Here it comes.

"Yes, quite a bit, I suspect."

"Where is—I mean to say, is she—"

"New York," I said shortly, and lighted a cigarette.

"Well," said Mother. "Well." And was silent, making little circular whirrs at the corners of her eyes.

Presently she tried again. "What about that house you—"

"Sold it. Got my down payment back, though. So I wasn't out much money."

She sighed deeply. "Well, I can see you don't want to talk about it. I begin to realize what you must be going through. I wish I could help. But sometimes one can be healed of a suffering only by experiencing it to the fullest. After all, the best thing one can do when it is raining is to let it rain."

Exploring Party Walks Out Of Sub-Alpine 'Hell's Hole'

MUOTATHAL, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—Four weary underground explorers dumbfounded their rain-strengthened rescuers Sunday night by walking unharmed and unharmed out of the sub-Alpine "Hell's Hole" caverns where high water had trapped them nine and one-half days ago.

The explorers here—college professor Alfred Boegli, two 20-year-olds and a youth 18—calmly at a supper of pork chops, rice and tomato salad after their return, then left for their homes. Their plight had swamped this tiny mountain hamlet with visitors and resulted in one of Switzerland's most extensive rescue operations.

But new rains Sunday brought threats of more water rises and temporarily halted the rescue efforts. This no one was on hand when the quartet walked from the cave and down the slope of Silberhorn Mountain to started a crowd gathered in a cafe under rescue headquarters.

The explorers had been held prisoner near here since August 15 by water that rose suddenly in Hell's Hole, Europe's largest system of charted underground caverns. Thought they had entered the caves for only a 24-hour exploration, they quickly realized their dangerous position and took every measure to conquer it themselves.

The party's leader, Dr. Boegli, divided the emergency rations they had into 21 daily portions of 400 calories for each man. When they started out Sunday, they left behind in the cavern enough food to last them two more weeks on that basis.

All were stiff and sore from exertion but a medical examination was not even considered necessary.

The quartet said the water sank rapidly Sunday, apparently unnoticed by the rescue team. The trapped party waded through the falling pools and arrived at the cavern's main entrance to find it barred by an iron gate locked to keep out the curious. They left through another exit, bringing with them a rubber boat left in the cavern by rescue workers.

YE EDITOR'S VACATION ENDS— Agriculture, Industry Join Forces In Scenic Arkansas

By BILL COLLINS
Reporter-Telegram Editor

DE QUEEN, ARK.—We pulled in at this little Arkansas city near the borders of Texas and Oklahoma for an overnight stopover again today traveling through one of America's most attractive scenic routes.

Yes, the drive down from Rogers through Fayetteville and Fort Smith is just as beautiful as we had heard. Even the highways are much better than ever around Little Rock, and we are glad the family chose this route for our return trip to good old Midland, Texas.

And, incidentally, this winds up our 1952 vacation columns, because tomorrow we will be back in the grand and glorious Lone Star State, well on our way back home. It has been lots of fun.

Arkansas surely appears to be a "Land of Opportunity," and the state generally seems to be forging ahead in many ways. The tourist business has been in high gear this year, and from the real estate advertisements we see on every hand, Arkansas is attempting to snare some of its visitors as permanent residents.

Crops Catch Eye
Yesterday and today we have traversed some of the finest agriculture and timber lands we ever have seen. Crops of all kinds from corn to berries flourish along the highways, and some extra large orchards, poultry farms and dairy herds are seen along the way, as are plenty of roadside fruit, curio and doll stands. Lots of industry, too, up around Fort Smith. And, as stated previously, the scenery is beautiful.

George Cone, Midland banker, had told us this is his favorite country, and we shouldn't have been surprised at what we saw. It seems that George spends most of his spare time up this way. And many former Midlanders now reside in these parts.

In last night's column from Rogers, we told you it was raining. Well, it rained most of the night and the lightning and thunder was terrific. We learned this morning it had rained three inches during the night to bring the total rainfall for the last 20 days to more than 10 inches. My! My! And it still was raining when we left, the moisture continuing on south with us most of the day.

We ran into the dry country up around Mena and it is pretty brown in this cattle sector. We hear it has not rained here in more than three months and that cattlemen have started to feed. However, it is lightning and thundering tonight, and perhaps we can attract moisture to De Queen and vicinity. After all, rain has followed us most of the way since we left Midland two weeks ago.

Scene Breath-Taking
We pulled up at Mount Gayler, atop the Ozarks, this morning and the view we had from on top of a high steel tower was spectacular and almost breath-taking. Clouds hovered in all directions. It seemed we were way up in the air, but the altitude actually is several hundred feet lower than at Midland.

Previously we had toured Fayetteville, and had driven around the campus of the University of Arkansas, situated as it is in its beautiful mountain setting.

We were somewhat surprised at the size of Fort Smith and at the activity we saw there, but then we learned it is one of Arkansas' largest and busiest cities. The Midland boys who have served at nearby Camp Chaffee of course already know that.

Then we drove through the beautiful, pine covered Ouachita Mountains and on into the more-or-less flat country around De Queen. Plenty of sawmills and some mining operations also were noted along the way.

Texas Cars Numerous
Noticed, too, that some states up this way, including Missouri, Arkansas and Illinois, do not require both front and back license tags. Texas cars are seen in far greater numbers in this sector than further north, but we did see lots of Texas automobiles at the Illinois State Fair.

And the left arm of the driver tans just as much in Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas as in West Texas.

Think we will head west into Oklahoma tomorrow to check conditions there before reporting back to our desk at The Reporter-Telegram. Be seeing you in Midland soon.

Father Of Midland Resident Is Dead

Ed Weaver, 80, father of Francis E. Weaver of Midland, died at 2:30 a.m. Monday in Artesia, N. M., where he had resided the last month.

Prior to moving to Artesia, Weaver had been a resident of Carlsbad 43 years. He retired 17 years ago as a garageman.

Funeral services will be held at Carlsbad. Arrangements were pending Monday.

Survivors include the widow, the Midland son and a granddaughter.

Funeral Rites Held For Fields Major

Funeral services for Fields Major, 76-year-old Midland negro, were scheduled to be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the St. Luke (AME) Church. Interment was to be in Midland Memorial Park under direction of Mason's Funeral Chapel.

Majors, employed as a yard man, died unexpectedly of a heart ailment Wednesday at his home, 211 South Carver Street.

Fort Hood Soldier Killed In Accident

WACO—(AP)—Sgt. Charles Evans of Fort Hood was killed Monday morning about 12 miles south of here when his car and a trailer collided between Lorena and Bruceville.

No one else was injured in the accident, Waco police said.

ONE-MAN AIR FORCE TO FLY

WITH U. S. 45TH DIVISION, KOREA—(AP)—The one-man Philippine air force in Korea finally got a plane to fly.

Adolfo Cruz, at 21 the youngest pilot in the Philippine Air Force, is on flying status with the 45th Division Light Aviation Section and has completed more than 14 combat missions.

Cruz came to Korea with the Philippine Battalion but without a plane. He was assigned to division headquarters as assistant air officer, where he coordinated air strikes.

But he wanted to fly. So Cruz worked out a compromise. He works at his desk in the mornings, and in the afternoon pilots an L-19 observation plane.

Midland Lumber Firm Gets State Charter

The City Lumber Company of Midland has been granted a domestic corporation charter by Jack Roak, secretary of state.

The firm was given a 50-year charter for merchandise, incorporating for $5,000 capital stock. The incorporators are Franklin P. Wegman, Vera V. Wegman and W. Lee Pursey.

Terminal School Sign-Up Started

Another registration reminder came Monday from Midland public school officials.

Registration started Monday at Terminal Elementary School. It will continue through Tuesday.

Charles Matthews, director of curricular services, pointed out that all high school students, ninth graders in junior high, seventh and eighth graders new to Midland and all new pupils for elementary schools should register now.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail Long John Littlejohn

Old MacDonald has a farm, so I do I oh! But Old MacDonald had stopped by the very tall tree where Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, lives in the top. Old MacDonald explained he was on his way to the city for a little vacation. "How nice!" said Daddy Ringtail. "But Old MacDonald, would you like for me to go to the farm and see about all the animals there, to be sure that they are all right?"

"Nope," said Old MacDonald. Daddy Ringtail would not have to go to the farm to see about the animals, because Old MacDonald's cousin was there to look after them but would Daddy Ringtail please go out to the farm to see about the cousin?

"Indeed I will," said Daddy Ringtail with a friendly smile. "His name is Long John Littlejohn," said Old MacDonald, and then he said "giddyap" to Archibald, the donkey who was pulling his wagon, for Archibald please to pull away and on to the city.

Daddy Ringtail watched him go, and then Daddy Ringtail hurried away to the farm to see about Old MacDonald's cousin whose name was Long John Littlejohn. Daddy Ringtail walked and wondered all the way to the farm, just what it was he ought to see about Long John Littlejohn. What oh what about Long John Littlejohn needed to be seen about? Daddy Ringtail didn't know, but he did know he had promised to see about him, and so he hurried away to the farm to do it.

Yes, and when he came to the farm at last, what do you think he found? Did he find some trouble? Oh no. Did he find a mystery? Oh no. Did he find that Long John Littlejohn was a very little someone who was long and tall, or did he find that Long John Littlejohn was a very long and tall someone who was little? Oh no, and yes again.

They say things are going to be better for the movie. There's a new type of happily and every female stars. All the professional actors and actresses seem to look better, too, after television's convention spurge in male and female politicians. There is also a good popcorn crop.

Long John Littlejohn was very little around but tall, tall, tall with a big, big smile. He was cooking in the kitchen with an apron around him, and a cooking cap on his head. He was the best cooker of scrambled cocoonut croquets there ever was, he said, and what a good cooker he was in what Daddy Ringtail was supposed to see about him, for fun. I am happy to say, Yum, yum, and happy day.

Albuquerque Dukes Gain One On Clovis

By The Associated Press

Albuquerque gained a game on leading Clovis in the West Texas-New Mexico League Sunday but it was a so-so affair. Clovis still is 11 1/2 games ahead.

Albuquerque whipped Clovis, 6-4, as Joe Hinchman notched his fifth triumph of the season.

Lamesa clipped Abilene, 11-2.

Amarillo licked Borger, 11-2, but the game was protested. Manager Lloyd Brown of Borger claimed there was one man too many on the Amarillo squad.

Lubbock beat Pampa, 5-1, with a two-run homer by Crawford Howard.

Texas Entries Hang On In Wichita Meet

WICHITA, Kan.—(AP)—The Sinton, Texas Oilers, playing under a severe handicap, are making a determined effort to retain the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament title.

The defeating champions won their second consecutive game Sunday night, blanking the Anchorage, Alaska, Labor Union team, 5-0. The loss eliminated Anchorage.

Sinton suffered a severe setback in its first start in the tournament, dropping a 3-2 decision to an under-heralded Ponchatoula, La., team. Since then the Texans have won two games. But one more defeat would knock them out of the double-elimination meet.

Monday night's schedule includes: Third round (loser eliminated), 9 p.m.—Alpine (Texas) Cowboys vs Camp Atterbury (Ind) 21st Dist Division.

KEITH NICOLLS WINS NO. 23— Indians Drop Braves Again By 7-3 Count

Still plying second place in the Longhorn League standings, the Midland Indians will try for a sweep of the three-game series with the Sweetwater Braves at 8:15 p.m. here Monday when the rookie right-hander Herb Dwire (6-6) takes the mound.

Sweetwater Pilot John Morris has nominated Joe Langdon, a limited service right-hander, to pitch for the Braves.

Rockets Rap Oilers, 10-1 For Monchak

ROSWELL.—(AP)—Four home runs and Elwood Grantham's masterful three-hit pitching turned Al Monchak Night into a decisive 10-1 victory over Odessa here Sunday night as the Roswell Rockets made it two in a row over the league-leading Oilers.

Les Palmer, Audie Malone, Wayne Crawford and Grantham himself struck the homers that were the beginning and the end of a three-inning Rocket offensive outburst that produced all Roswell's runs.

Palmer opened the scoring in the fifth inning by slamming his over the wall in right center field with Grantham aboard, and Grantham ended it in the seventh by driving his over the left center field fence with Bobby West on base.

Ortega is Leaser

In between, the Rockets scored six runs to chase Odessa Starter Evello Ortega and hand him his eighth defeat of the season against 21 victories.

Ortega's pitching was superb as he limited the Oilers to but one hit in the first eight innings of play. That one was a harmless single in the fourth by Bill Cearley. Manager Pepper Martin broke the spell by leading off the ninth inning with a single and Charley Weber added the third and final blow when he doubled a few moments later. Bill Cearley, aboard through a fielder's choice, scored Odessa's only run on a fly ball by Felix Castro.

Al Monchak, the Rocket Manager who is recuperating from a mild concussion suffered last week, was fated before the game and appeared at the stadium to receive an ovation from a fair sized crowd.

Palmer's home run produced Roswell's first two runs in the fifth, but the Rockets really came alive in the sixth to score six times.

Roswell got its final two runs in the seventh on a base on balls to West and Grantham's home run to left center.

The score:

Odessa	000 000 001	1 3 0
Roswell	000 026 20x-410 12 0

Ortega, Camper and Castro; Grantham and Crawford.

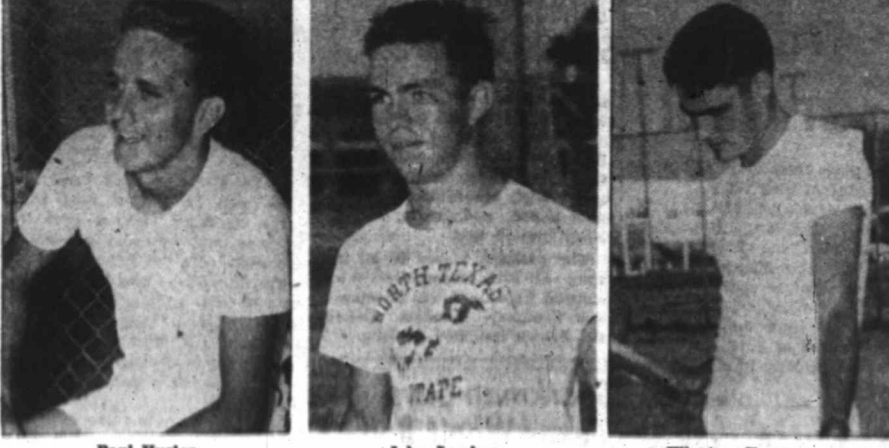

Mabee Drives Auto To Drag Race Crown At Midland Airpark

Joe Mabee of Midland stepped a quarter-mile in 16 seconds flat from a standing start Sunday to turn in the fastest time in drag race events at the Midland Airpark. He piloted a Chrysler Healy to win a Class 1 sport car race.

In other events, E. Woyvoot of San Angelo sent his Olds 66 across the course in 19.2 seconds for Class 1 stock cars; Louis Mabee of Midland logged 20.3 in his Jaguar Mark VII for Class 2 stock cars, and Fred Martin of Odessa went the distance in 20 seconds flat in the Class 4 sport car event, driving an MG.

Ten cars were entered in the program, sponsored by the Permian Basin Sport Car Club. A similar event will be conducted September 7 with drivers from San Angelo and Abilene as guests.

The racing cars run against the stop watch on a quarter-mile course, starting from a standstill. After three such trials the two fastest cars in each class compete against each other in the only car-to-car competition.

Farquar Decisions Hurley To Win Tennis Singles Title

With a spirited comeback bid, tall Winston Farquar swept to the singles title of the first annual Midland Tennis Tournament here Sunday, measuring Army-bound Paul Hurley, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Hurley left Sunday night to report for duty at Fort Benning, Ga. He holds a reserve commission as a second lieutenant in the Infantry.

Farquar, Border Conference singles champ, had dropped the first set to hard-driving Hurley but caught fire in the last two sets to send his opponent down to defeat.

A sparse crowd of tennis enthusiasts, held down by a scorching hot day, watched the match from temporary bleachers set up for the finals.

In an earlier match, Pat Boles in a mid upset, defeated Fil Pryor, 6-2, 4-6, 6-1 for the junior girl's singles title, while Barbara Miller decided Mrs. Earl Craig, 6-4, 6-3 for the women's singles crown.

John Lawton, promising young star from North Texas State College, took straight sets from Richard Burke, 6-0, 6-1 for the junior boy's singles title.

In men's doubles competition, Hurley gained a measure of revenge over Farquar for his earlier defeat in singles play when he and his partner, Bob Patterson, plastered Farquar and Dick Gorner, 6-3, 6-3 for the tournament doubles title.

Making shots on the back courts which were almost uncanny, along with excellent net play, Hurley and Patterson were almost unshakable as everything they did seemed to be just right. The opposite held true for their opponents who were never able to get started.

In men's veterans' singles, Bob Barnes defeated Cliff Hall, 6-1, 6-1. And in men's veterans' doubles Leo Brady and Arch McCall defeated Bryan Elder and Jack Chase in straight sets, 7-5, 9-7.

The last match of the day in the women's doubles brackets, which pitted Pat Boles and Fil Pryor against Barbara Miller and Margie Bracken, ended in a 5-5 deadlock.

Representatives of the club set the price for the playoffs at $1 for adults, tax included, and 50 cents for children.

Sayles said eight of his nine umpires would work in the playoffs with the other to stand by in case of emergency.

Other business conducted included the transferring of the Odessa-Big Spring game of August 29 to Big Spring because of the professional football game in Odessa that night. The game between the two clubs slated at Big Spring on September 2 will be moved to Odessa.

Clubs represented were Midland, Big Spring, Odessa and Artesia.

Phelan Is Worried At Texans' Passing

KERRVILLE.—(AP)—Coach Jimmy Phelan says his Dallas Texans are stronger than the New York Yankees, whom they succeeded in the National Football League, but still far short of championship caliber.

Silvery-haired Jimmy was pretty pessimistic Monday as he prepared Texas' first major professional team to play its first professional opponent—the Philadelphia Eagles—at Odessa, Friday night.

"That's the game that will tell us what we want to know and I'm afraid it will be bad news," said Phelan. "We've been playing service teams. They're good teams as service teams go but nothing like the members of the pro league."

The Texans beat Brooks Medical Center of San Antonio, 24-7, and Carwell Air Force Base, 27-0, in the latter game, played Sunday night in Corpus Christi, that made Phelan slightly ill. "It showed that we couldn't throw—we have got to have a passer if we're going to get anywhere," he commented. "We had two passes intercepted."

Jimmy thinks his backfield of Buddy Young, Zolzie Toth, Bob Ceiri and George Talarfero is very good except for passing. "We have good receivers but the pitching isn't up to snuff. And our kicking is poor."

National Soaring Society Reelects Carsey Of Dallas

GRAND PRAIRIE.—(AP)—John D. Carsey of Dallas was reelected president of the Soaring Society of America Sunday in a session at the National Soaring Contest.

The competition resumed Monday with two brothers who set new records Sunday holding the lead in two divisions.

Richard Johnson, Mississippi State College, raised his total points to 1,506 after setting a new international speed record over a 78-mile triangular course. He averaged 48.8 miles an hour. The old record was 43.247 mph set in 1948 by Swiss Pilot Seigberg Maurer.

His brother, David Johnson, Colorado Springs, Colo., leads the two-place plane division with 1,094 points. He broke the national record for two-place speed flights over a triangular course with an average of 38.1 mph. The old record was 27.873 set by William Eriegbe, Adelanto, Calif., two years ago.

IT'S JUST PLAIN, OLD-FASHIONED DEFENSE—

Yanks, Bums Add Notch To Major Loop Margins

triumph. The Braves took a 10-inning, 5-3 win after Ralph Kiner had hammered his twenty-eighth home run to give Pittsburgh's Ron Necciai his first major league victory in the opener, 4-3.

It took the Dodgers just two innings to cool off the red-hot Cardinals as Prescher Rose rolled to his tenth triumph in snapping the Redbirds' eight-game winning streak.

Before the start of the season those who picked New York and Brooklyn to win the pennants predicted the Yankees would win on their pitching and the Dodgers would cop on their hitting.

Now, with fewer than 40 days to go, the Dodgers own a comfortable eight and one-half game bulge over the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League race and the Yankees have a two-game edge on the Cleveland Indians in the American League.

And it hasn't kept the Dodger hitting nor the Yankee pitching. As present it doesn't appear that either club will have a 20-game winner this year. The Brooks trail the Cardinals in team hitting but they lead both the leagues in team fielding.

What's more, the Brooks, with a percentage of .984, are going along at a major league record pace, two points better than the Cards of '44 and one better than the Indians of 1948. They've made only 71 errors in 117 games, another record gain.

By completing a double play Sunday in routing the Cardinals, 10-4 to snap St. Louis' eight-game winning streak, they broke a league record by completing a twin killing in their nineteenth consecutive game.

Bauman Holds Batting Lead In Longhorn; Tayoan Second

Longhorn League statistics for games played through August 14 show Joe Bauman of Artesia still out in front of the loop's hitters with an average of .378. He has 146 hits in 391 times at bat.

The Artesia slugger also leads in three other departments, in runs batted in with 128, in home runs with 42 and in total bases with 291. Bauman's teammate, Rudy Briner, paces the circuit in doubles with 50.

Leading the league in other departments are Roman Loyko of Odessa, singles with 25, and Leo Eastham of Odessa, stolen bases with 24. Midland's Scooter Hughes is runner-up to Eastham in stolen bases with 20.

Bauman and Eastham have drawn the most walks, with each having taken a free ride 120 times.

In the pitching department, Midland's Keith Nicolls has regained the league strikeout lead over Gil Guerra of Big Spring. The Tribe's ace hurler has whiffed 192 batters while Guerra has sent 185 down swinging.

In team averages, Artesia is out front in batting with a mark of .301 while Roosevelt is on top in fielding with a .954 figure.

BENCH JOCKEY
By BOB ADAMS

Pity the poor umpires who have to work the Sunday afternoon games in the Longhorn Loop. They have to put on long underwear, a sweat shirt, shirt and tie and the uniform of blue, which incidentally is pretty heavy material.

If that isn't enough to make them turn purple when old Ed really starts to bear down, the plate umpire has to wear a chest protector. Bruce Averill, who called the game behind the plate here Sunday, says he has been calling and sweating through most of Midland's Sunday afternoon games.

"What do they have Sunday afternoon contests for anyway?" he and Base Umpire Bill Valentine wailed in unison.

Speaking of the heat, Herb Dwire says when he pitched in Sweetwater a week ago on Sunday, he lost five pounds which he never has regained.

Dwire says the ground was so hot the brads in his shoes left blisters on his feet. And to add to the Midland rookie's woes, the Sweetwater batters were so hot they chased him to a shady spot in the shower room.

Announcement of the Longhorn League's most valuable player, rookie of the year, and the All-Star team is scheduled this week. Selections were made by the Longhorn League managers, sports writers and sportscasters.

We don't know how the rest voted on most valuable player but we cast ours for Scooter Hughes, Midland shortstop.

We confess we were a doubting Thomas about Scooter at the start of the season, because he didn't appear to be playing up to par.

He was favoring a shoulder injury and was batting considerably under .300. But all that's been changed now. We're sold on him. And I imagine he would get the vote of the Midland pitching staff also.

On more than one occasion he has streaked to the right or left of the mound to spear what appeared to be sure hits to throw the runner out. It must spur a pitcher on to greater effort to have such support.

The 23-year-old Midland shortstop is playing his fifth year of professional ball, four of which have been spent in the Longhorn Loop with Midland. He went up to Oklahoma City in the Texas League briefly last year but an ankle injury slowed him up. And at Wichita Falls during the early part of this year, he failed to hit his stride. But he's been playing brilliant ball for the Tribe lately.

Some probably would select Keith Nicolls for the honor but (and 28 games are not to be sneezed at), being a pitcher, he has only played in about every fourth game which makes it a little difficult to judge him in the same class with a fellow who plays every day.

More Whistle-Toothing Due In Fall Gridiron Contests

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—The college football season is approaching, and permit me to be the first to give all you fans the happy news that there is going to be more whistle toothing this year than ever before.

Reason is that they've now decided to have a whistle on every official on the field, from the headlinesman right through the referee. That means at least four whistles where only one shrilled before. In some conferences it means five.

The idea behind the influx of whistles is, primarily, to try to make a sharp reduction in the excessively rough play which became notorious last Fall. It brought the game a good deal of very unwelcome publicity, and the men who make a living from football are determined to put on the brakes right now.

"It's the main thing we've talked about at our meetings since last season," a well known Eastern coach tells me. "Please don't put me in the position of pointing the finger, but we know absolutely that some coaches have become mighty careless about what they teach their boys to do, and it is to our own interest to help the officials stop it. Fewer 'Rough' Pictures.

"There will be a great increase in penalties this season and the crowds will not like to see the game slowed up, but we can't have any more pictures in the papers like some you saw last Winter. From here on when a player is caught getting too rough he is going out there in a hurry, and no arguments."

The men with the footers—all four or five of them—will be expected from here on to get right in there and mingle on intimate terms with the performers. That includes the field judge, who in the past has been a quiet austere individual.

Each official, as we understand it, will have a given territory to watch very closely, especially for infractions of the personal foul rule and for defensive holding. Each will have something of the original powers of the referee. He will blow a blast at the slightest infraction and order the penalty.

SWITCH HITTER ACES TWO WAYS

ABILENE—(AP)—Ever hear of a golfer getting a hole-in-one right-handed and another left-handed? Fey Fanning, professional at Abilene Municipal Course, has done it.

In January, 1956, he shot the right-handed hole-in-one. Last week he registered one left-handed, using a nine iron for a 128-yard shot on hole No. 16.

Fanning has a theory that if a man is right-handed he should play golf left-handed. He says the right arm is the master arm.

Dallas, Fort Worth Keep Pace; Sports Move In On Oilers

By The Associated Press
The Texas League race rolls into its final weeks with the pitching lighter than Dick's. The games are closer than that.

Sunday night, for instance, only 10 pitchers were used in four games and the combined hit total was 47. Only one game was decided by more than one run and it was by two.

Dallas kept its two-game lead as Dave Hoskins held San Antonio to three hits. The Eagles won, 3-2, to give the negro hurler his nineteenth triumph of the season.

Fort Worth maintained the pace. The Cats licked Houston, 2-0, to remain in second place by two games.

Shreveport moved into a tie for third place with Tulsa by noosing Oklahoma City, 3-2.

Beaumont beat Tulsa, 1-0, in the low-hit game of the night. Both clubs got 10-five apiece.

DON ADDINGTON WINS
GALVESTON—(AP)—Don Addington of Dallas defeated Joe Conrad of San Antonio, 4-3, Sunday to win the Galveston Country Club Invitation. It was Addington's third golf tournament victory in as many weeks.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-

(Continued from Page 1) Inburger. It then plugged back to 11,000 feet and set 5 1/2-inch casing at that point.

It has tested in the Atoka-Pennsylvanian and showed varying amounts of oil. Operator then plugged back to test the Wolfcamp and the oil and water flow have resulted.

Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 11, block 42, T-1-S, T&P survey. It is 20 miles northwest of Midland and 10 miles north of Odessa.

Shell To Dig Clear Fork Wildcat In SE Ward Region

Shell Oil Company No. 52 Bealy-Smith Foundation is to be a prosector for pay in the Clear Fork Permian line in Southeast Ward County.

It is to be located 600 feet from north and west lines of section 55, block A, O&M&B&A survey. That makes it four miles northeast of the town of Monahans.

It is outside the proven limits for production from the Clear Fork on the north side of the Monahans multiphase field.

Drilling to 5,250 feet with rotary tools is to begin by September 2.

NE Ector Wildcat Swabs New Oil In Wolfcamp-Permian

The Hanley Company No. 1 C. V. Headlee, Northeast Ector County wildcat prospect has swabbed new oil at the average rate of seven barrels per hour for an extended period from perforations in the Wolfcamp-Permian at 10,085-120 feet.

That swabbing came after the perforated interval had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. No formation water was recovered during the swabbing.

Kicked Some Oil The well would kick up some oil, but it would not flow. Operator is preparing to inject another shot of acid into the pay section through the perforations at 10,985-120 feet, and then test further.

The section at 10,085-120 feet had flowed oil at the estimated rate of between 20 and 25 barrels per hour during a drillstem test.

Interested observers hope the up-coming acid treatment will make it deliver oil at that rate on the production test.

West Of Midland Location is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 26, block 41, T-1-S, T&P survey. It is 10 miles west of Midland and nine miles northwest of the Parks (Pennsylvanian) field.

No. 1 Headlee drilled to a total depth of 10,741 feet in barren Pennsylvanian and then plugged back to test the Wolfcamp.

Mississippian Test Staked In SE Lynn C. M. Ashby of Dallas is to drill his No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company as a stepout from production in the small O'Donnell (Mississippian) field in Southeast Lynn County.

Location is 600 feet from south and east lines of the south half of the northwest quarter of section 431, block 9, E&R&R survey.

It is 12 miles east of the town of O'Donnell.

Drilling to 9,200 feet with rotary tools to try for production in the Mississippian line is to start immediately.

Cameron, Et Al, To Drill 5,700-Foot Wildcat In C-E Coke

A. A. Cameron of Midland and Los Angeles is to start drilling by or before September 15 on his No. 1 Edna Butler, which is contracted to be a 5,700-foot wildcat in Central-East Coke County.

It is two and one-quarter miles east and slightly north of the discovery well and lone producer in the North Bronte, (5,300) field.

Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 394, block 1-A, H&T&C survey.

That makes it three and one-quarter miles northeast of the town of Bronte.

It is understood that Randolph Scott, of Hollywood, moving picture star, will be associated with Cameron in the drilling of the wildcat.

The project is being drilled on a spread of 800 acres of leases. Of that acreage 200 acres is a farm-out from American Republics Corporation.

Midlanders Have Contract Curtis & Lomax of Midland have the rotary drilling contract.

The North Bronte (5,200) field was opened by Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 M. A. Rawlins for an initial daily production of 298.28 barrels of 49.5 gravity oil, flowing through a 12 3/4 inch tubing choke.

That production came from perforated section at 5,298-5,243 feet in a Pennsylvanian line.

Conoco Completes Stepout To North Warren (McKee)

Continental Oil Company No. 1-5-B-18 W. D. Burger, on the south side of the North Warren (McKee) field in Central-East, Lea County, New Mexico, has been completed for a daily potential of 606 barrels of 46 gravity oil.

The potential was calculated from an actual six-hour flow of 174 barrels through a 22 3/4 inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 363-1.

From Perforated Zone The production was from perforations in the casing at 9,058-9,116 feet; 9,126-9,179 feet and at 9,182-9,230 feet.

Total depth is at 9,208 feet. The 7-inch casing is cemented at that point.

Location is 600 feet from south and 1,200 feet from east lines of section 18-30a-35a.

West Completes New Producer In Schleicher Field Wesley W. West of Houston has completed No. 6 Mrs. Christena Mittel as a new producer in the New West (Strawn) field of North-Central Schleicher County.

The well made a daily flowing potential of 322.3 barrels of 45.7-gravity oil and no water. The potential was based on a flow of 211 barrels of oil in nine hours through an 18/64 inch tubing choke and perforations at 6,236-66 feet in 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 6,369 feet, one foot off bottom.

Through Perforations The cement was drilled out to 6,367 feet. The perforations were washed with 500 gallons of mud acid. Flowing pressures were 820 pounds on the tubing and 220 pounds on the casing.

With derrick floor elevation of 2,371 feet, the pay was topped at 8,502 feet.

This is the fifth well for West in the New West (Strawn) field, which he opened in August, 1951.

Location is 600 feet from north and 1,677.14 feet from east lines of section 77, block TT, T&P survey.

U. S. Envoy Called In By Iran Leader TEHRAN, IRAN. — Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadeq summoned U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson to his home Monday. It was their first get-together since August 17.

There was no hint as to the subject of the conversation.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

NO MONTHLY PAYMENTS are necessary on this deal. As a matter of fact, it will pay you a small income. The main house has three attractive bedrooms, colorful tile bath, comfortable living room, and 23 feet of wonderful kitchen. In the rear is a two car garage and 3-room furnished home which rents out for over $110 per month. There are many extras for your convenience, such as carpeting in the living room, water softener, distributed heating, 2 air-conditioning units, electric stove and drier connections. Lawn started nicely, and the corner lot is completely tile fenced. It's only 11 months old. Excellent financing can be arranged-or assumed-unpaid balance of present loan. Full price has been drastically reduced from $18,500 to the new rock-bottom of $14,000.

COMPLETION IS PERFECTION and we firmly believe that this is one of those most desirable homes. It is located on West Storey, and is only nine months old. Constructed of beige brick and the finest materials, it has 3 generous bedrooms, 1 1/2 ceramic tile baths, overwhelming living room, and wonderful kitchen with large utility room. Two attached carport and storage, high tile fence, and embryo lawn. Washer and drier and electric stove connections. Water softener, Vent-A-Hood. And, of course, central summer and winter air-conditioning, and smart California carpeting throughout. Financing can be arranged or assumed. Full price is $21,000. Full price is $21,000.

YOUTH AND MODERN TREND walk hand in hand... and both are accompanied by modest pocketbook. Let us make the most for your money. Here is slightly contemporary design with two lovely bedrooms, angular-shaped living room with picture window, and blended kitchen with YOUNGSTOWN metal cabinets. Featuring good construction, natural finish on all woodwork and doors, and excellent financing. Central heating, attached garage, paved street and lawn. You can assume the 4% G.I. loan and make payments amounting to one-half of your present rental if only takes $2,000 total to handle. Priced at $10,400.

CUTE AND CLEAN is this 2-bedroom home located in TOWN NORTH, and it has all the luxurious features of a Grafaland home. Comfortable living room, bigger kitchen, and detached garage. Central heating and central air-conditioning. YOUNGSTOWN metal kitchen cabinets, Vent-A-Hood, washer connection, oak floors. It is 12 months old, and is in excellent condition throughout. Can be handled for as little as $2,000 down.

WEST OF PAGO PARK and near the new Lamar Grade School, we have a neat 2-bedroom and den home, might be the very one for you. Lovely living room, wonderfully arranged kitchen, tile bath, and natural woodwork throughout. Living room and den are comfortably carpeted. Furnace heating, fenced yard, and the exterior has been recently redecorated. Attic insulation, and the den, which is 13x19, has a built-in bar. Can be handled for $2,500 down. Full price is ONLY $9,900.

WE STRETCH THE AMERICAN BUCK even though it ain't rubber. But yuh gotta' call us before we can prove it. For instance, if you pay $125 per month rent, you've nothing to show for it. So you lose $1,500 the first year. Why, man, with only $300 more, you could buy a terrific 2-bedroom home with a 20' living room, huge kitchen with dining area, and attached garage. Furnace heating, gigantic air-conditioner, nice lawn, and the nice kind of neighbors that you want for yourself and your kids. It's only 4 blocks to the new grade school, 2 blocks from transportation. It's only two months old, and it's priced at a bargain basement figure of $8,250. Maybe you just better call us for all the facts. It's 2-1693.

Hoboes Gather 'Round Bar, Open Good-Times Conclave

HAMBURG, N. Y.—(AP)—Flush with good times, members of the Hoboes of America, Inc., arrived in this Buffalo suburb Monday for their forty-fourth annual convention.

Jeff Davis, king for life of the hoboes, said good times had made members prosperous. "Hoboes will work, but we think the world owes us an opportunity," the king said.

A resolution drafted for convention action states: "Everybody isn't equal to everybody else." "Shucks, six tramps aren't equal to one hobo," Davis said.
