Amerada Gets Big Oil Flow In Yoakum

Amerada Petroleum Corporation and associates No. 1 L. R. Weems, Central-West Yoakum County wildcat, has encountered a prolific natural flow of oil and gas in the Mississippian lime.

The flow came during a three-hour and 23-minute drilling test at 11,000-800 feet. Top of the Mississippian is at 10,900 feet, which is on a datum of minus 7,147 feet.

A 2044-foot water blanket and a 5/8th inch bottom hole choke and a one-inch top opening were used. Has Surfaced

The water blanket started flowing out in 33 minutes. Gas came to the top in 36 minutes. Oil started flowing at the surface in 48 minutes.

The oil was flowed to pits for five minutes to clean and it was then turned to tanks.

In the next two and one-half hours the section flowed 204.62 barrels of oil plus 33,100 cu ft of one barrel of basic sediment. There were signs of formation water.

Reversed Out

After the tool was closed an additional 114 barrels of oil was bled off from the drill pipe. Then the fluid which was left in the pipe was reversed out.

That recovery was an estimated 43 barrels of oil. Recovery from below the circulation sub was 496 feet of drilling mud which was cut with oil. That oil out was estimated to have been 20 per cent of the 496 feet of fluid. There was no water in that emulsion.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 1,265 pounds to 2,265 pounds.

Good Pressure

This exploration is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 403, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Midlander Dies In Oil Tank Blast

Ike Charges U. S. Policies Invite Wars

ABOARD THE EISENHOWER SPECIAL—(AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower won a roaring welcome on his entry into Illinois Thursday and he declared both World War II and the Korean war might have been avoided under better leadership.

A crowd estimated by police at 20,000 turned out at Champaign to greet Eisenhower on his presidential drive into the backyard of his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

In this hometown of the University of Illinois, the general appealed for the support of youth and held out the promise of an administration that would "give hope" to young people. He struck at policies which he said led to the war in Korea. Then he added:

"If there must be a war in Asia—let it be Asians against Asians with the United States on the side of freedom."

The GOP nominee came here with reports circulating that his temper was being fanned to hot resentment under bitter criticisms turned against him by President Truman.

The long-time friendship between the two appeared to be at a breaking point as they exchanged long-range verbal blows obviously aimed at each other's prestige.

Truman has termed the five-star general—once reported to be his choice for the Democratic presidential nomination—a "front man" for lobbyists. And he has accused Eisenhower of misleading the American people about the peril of communism after World War II.

In turn, Eisenhower has called Truman's Administration a corrupt, extravagant, bungling leadership weak in morals and in the pursuit of peace. He called it a "scandal-a-lay" administration.

Truman Swings Axe To Cut Down Eisenhower Prestige

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN.—(AP)—President Truman played his own version of "I Like Ike" along the West Coast Thursday in a homely, almost earthy rhythm that constant repetition made a campaign chant.

The lyrics were a bit different from those of the Eisenhower enthusiasts, the parody being built not so much on "I Like Ike" as on "I Like Ike, but..."

There, he told a crowd in the National Guard Armory he was "sorry to see the subject surrender" of the Republican presidential nominee "to the reactionary, vindictive wing of the Old Guard."

Part of Spokane speech was delayed by yells, whistles and cries of "Give 'em hell, Harry," and "Phoo it on." Police Chief Clyde Phlips estimated his audience there at 4,000 in the armory and said there were 1,500 others who couldn't get in.

The President brought a roar of laughter when he departed from his prepared text to give his comment on statements by Eisenhower and the Republicans that taxes can be reduced by slashing government expenditures for national defense purposes.

"It's just a damn lie," he declared.

Yanks Even Series, Clip Dodgers, 7-1

BROOKLYN.—(AP)—Vic Raschi's three-hit pitching and the vaunted Yankee power displayed in a five-run sixth inning gave the New York Yankees a 7 to 1 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday in the second game of the 1952 World Series. The victory evened the series at one game each.

The roaring Yankee sixth was featured by Billy Martin's three-run homer into the left field stands, scoring Joe Collins and Gil McDougald ahead of him.

The score: RHE New York (AL) 000 115 000—7 9 0 Brooklyn (NL) 001 000 000—1 3 1 Raschi and Berra; Erskine, Loos (6), Lehman (8) and Campanella.

Reagan Judge Wiley Taylor, Once Midland Sheriff, Dies

J. Wiley Taylor, 80-year-old county judge of Reagan County and former sheriff and postmaster in Midland, died late Wednesday in a San Angelo hospital after suffering a heart seizure at his home in Big Lake.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed Thursday morning by the Cox Funeral Home of San Angelo but services probably will be held Saturday.

Clint A. Redd Killed; Troy Wheeler Hurt

One Midlander was injured fatally and another hurt seriously in an oil tank explosion about 1 p.m. Wednesday on a Phillips Petroleum Company lease in the Tex-Harvey field.

Clint Ansel Redd, 48, employed by Sorrel's Welding Works of Midland, was dead on arrival at Midland Memorial Hospital, where he was rushed in a Newline W. Ellis ambulance.

Troy Wheeler, 23, employed by the B&B Construction Company of Odessa, was admitted to the hospital with a spine injury and numerous lacerations. His home address is 809 North Whitaker Street in Midland.

Phillips Petroleum Company officials said the two men were contract employees installing a new 75-barrel tank on one of their leases. The two men had just returned from lunch, and a welding torch being used to connect pipes to the tank was believed to have ignited accumulated gas.

The officials said the steel tank was destroyed by the blast. Redd was pinned underneath the tank, officials said.

An investigation was being continued Thursday by Phillips officials to determine the exact cause of the explosion.

Redd, who resided in the Park Acres Addition had been a resident of Midland three months. He formerly lived at Snyder, Kilgore and Longview. He was born Oct. 25, 1929, in Trinity County.

The body is to be forwarded Thursday night by Newline W. Ellis Chapel to the Welsh Funeral Home at Longview for services and interment.

Stalin Talks Of Capitalist War Dangers

MOSCOW.—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin said Thursday a war between capitalist countries is more probable than a war between capitalist and socialist (Communist) countries.

Stalin said wars between the capitalist nations "of the world are inevitable." The Soviet leader made these statements in a 50-page article in the Communist Party magazine "Bolshhevik" on the eve of the Communist Party Congress, opening here Sunday.

In expressing his views, Stalin said he was correcting the mistakes of other Communists who believed there was little likelihood of conflict between capitalist countries because the U. S. as they stated it, had subjected them to satellite positions.

The article bore the title "Economic Problems of Socialism in the USSR." The title is in line with the party view that the Soviet Union is in a socialist state of development, aiming toward the ultimate goal of communism.

Connally Says He'll Talk For Stevenson

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Tom Connally said Thursday he'll all for Adlai Stevenson for president and he "very likely" will campaign for the Democratic ticket in Texas, his home state.

And the veteran Texas senator predicted at a news conference that the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket will win in the Lone Star State despite the opposition of Gov. Allan Shivers.

Weak Cool Front Holds No Promise Of Bringing Rain

By The Associated Press

A weak cool front moved into Texas from the north Thursday and brought slightly lower temperatures in the Panhandle, South Plains and North Texas.

Overnight minimums were 72 in Galveston and 46 at Salt Flat in West Texas.

And rain? None was in sight Thursday night or Friday.

Stevenson Works On 'Fireside Chats'

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, with Gov. Dwight D. Eisenhower, raising his home campaign base, Thursday began a complete overhaul of radio-television speaking plans so as to work in at least four more "fireside chats."

The Democratic presidential nominee went on about political and official business as Republican rival Eisenhower whistle stopped toward town for an afternoon rally and speech.

Stevenson didn't plan to go down to Court House Square to case the opposition campaign. But he did let state employees have an extra hour off at lunch time so any who wanted to could attend the rally. Eisenhower politely had turned down Stevenson's polite invitation to lunch at the Illinois Executive Mansion.

Stevenson and his aides were busy with what Porter McKeever, publicity director for Volunteers for Stevenson, said was a major reformation of the whole radio-TV program for the last month of the campaign.

U. S. Grants San Angelo Water Relief

FORT WORTH.—(AP)—The City of San Angelo Thursday was granted permission by the U. S. Corps of Engineers, Fort Worth District, to use water from six wells located in the North Concho Lake bed during San Angelo's critical water shortage.

The engineers further gave permission for the city to drill any additional wells in the lake basin. Water from the wells, which produce from 200 to 500 gallons a minute, will be pumped into the recently completed lake, the dam gates will be opened and the water will flow down the North Concho River to be picked up at the city water plant.

The wells formerly were privately owned or drilled by contractors for supplying water during construction of North Concho Lake and San Angelo Dam.

Col. H. R. Hallock announced that due to the critical water situation in San Angelo, usual government red tape was slashed in authorizing use of the wells. Negotiations were completed in telephone conversations between the engineers, the Texas Board of Water Engineers and the Upper Colorado River Authority officials.

For the last several days, San Angelo has been consuming water from four wells in the Country Club area on the South Concho River and has discontinued pumping water from the city's normal supply reservoir, Lake Naworby, which has been maintained at a level of 16.70 feet, only about two feet above dead storage level.

Truck Freight Rate Increase Approved

MARILYN MONROE MAY SUE, BUT—

Jean Peters To Snub Sexy Roles Despite Movie Trend

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—No kidding, boss, this Jean Peters actually turned down a buildup as a sexy dish. What's more, she added that sex has been overdone in Hollywood.

How do you figure a gal like that, boss? She's trying to go against the trend. Let me tell you how it all happened.

This gal Peters was assigned to do the role of a brainless B-girl in "Blaze of Glory." That's the role Betty Grable wouldn't do on account of she wants to remain the happiness girl in films. Grable got a suspension.

Well, this guy guided me across the movie lot to see Jean Peters. This guy—I think he was from the publicity department—spoke hopefully that the role was changing the whole course of Jean's career. From now on, she was going to be a slinky, sexy siren. She looked the part, being decked out in a low-cut, form-fitting dress.

"I've got news for you," informed the onetime Ohio State coed, "As soon as the picture is over, I'm going right back to blue jeans."

This guy—I'm pretty sure he was from publicity—looked crushed. Jean tried to soothe his feelings by explaining.

"Look," she said, "so I'm doing a role of a sexy dish. That doesn't mean I have to assume the part in real life. I'm not the type. I don't go in for tight skirts; I like sport clothes and suits. And I don't think I should be expected to change my life just because I'm playing a role. An actress shouldn't be expected to."

"Besides, I think sex has been overworked by Hollywood. Take bosoms, for example. They have been so over-exploited that nobody even notices them much any more. Years ago, Lana Turner was a sensation when she wore a sweater. Nowadays, people see a girl in a sweater and they say, 'So what? So she's cold.'"

"I agree that sex is a fascinating subject for conversation. But it isn't everything. It's the goal of every woman to be attractive to men, but she can't do it only with a face and figure. She must have other qualities."

Jean said she didn't at all mind taking a role which had been nixed by two other gals for varying reasons.

"As a matter of fact, I found out about the part from one of my spies long ago," she reported. "I went to the producer and made a pitch to play it. But I was told I wasn't the type. Then Shelley Winters was cast in it."

"After she dropped out, I made another pitch. This time I was given the script and allowed to try out for it. Then Grable was given the role, so I gave it up. But she turned it down and I got it after all."

Jean turned down suggestions to bleach her hair for the role. The reason was that she didn't want to evoke comparison to the two blondies who were originally cast.

"I've also developed my own walk for the part," she added. "Ordinarily I have a stride that could cover two country miles in half an hour. But I've worked out a sexy shuffle in the picture."

The new Peters walk has evoked the interest of her friend, Marilyn Monroe, who visited the set and warned, "if you steal anything from me, I'll sue."

"Don't worry; this is all mine," assured Jean.

Major TV Networks Sprint For Lead In Winter Season

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—NBC and CBS wind up the first heat of a spectacular television building race this weekend with buxom Marie Wilson out in front for CBS.

The two biggest networks are spending more than 100 million dollars to make Hollywood the television capital of the world, a title now held by New York.

CBS unveils a 12 million dollar initial unit of its television city Friday with the Fall return of Miss Wilson in "My Friend Irma."

On Saturday, NBC will microwave a special "All-Star Revue" with Red Skelton, Milton Berle, Jimmy Durante, Dinah Shore, Phil Harris, Harpo Marx and George Jessel. Berle, an NBC standby from New York, is flying out for the opening show, which will be broadcast from a $3,500,000 studio, the first in an eventual 50 million dollar project.

The NBC studio was rushed to completion with the fast tilt-up method construction. Walls, pillars and other big parts of the building were made horizontally and then lifted into position by great cranes. Ground was broken only last July 7. Largest Audience Studio

The NBC studio has two sound stages in its 9,000 square feet. It occupies an acre and a half of a 48-acre tract next to Warner Brothers movie studio in Burbank. The network claims it to be the world's largest audience studio.

The CBS unit in Hollywood proper, will open Studio 31, the first of four mammoth studios, each measuring 12,100 square feet. A 13-story administration building is to be built also.

This first CBS unit covers 15 acres in what the network calls the world's first community designed exclusively for television.

It boasts the world's largest stage-lighting control installation, all electronic. The system can control 5,500,000 watts and can create a brilliant sunset.

Pen-Pal Husband Freed From Jail, Alimony Paid Up

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Le Cameron Trent, 61-year-old Loveland, Ohio, businessman who wooed and won a British wife by correspondence, is out of jail.

Trent was committed to jail September 23 for failure to pay a court-ordered $30 a week support to his wife, Mrs. Olga Julia Trent, a native of Hull, England. Both have divorce proceedings pending.

Trent, who had said he would stay in jail "until it rots," was released Wednesday after Bernard Gilday, his attorney, said $700 for payment to Mrs. Trent had been raised by mortgaging one of Trent's two automobiles. Trent has claimed he is broke.

This Dog Can Out-Lassie Lassie, But It's No Dice

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 NEA Staff Correspondent
The Laugh Parade: A movie writer who had been plagued for years by movie cycles is the pet hero of Will Gould, "Counterpunch," to Producer Harry Sherman. All his life, it seemed, the writer had been hearing producers scream about "too many mystery films," "too many psychological films," and "too many" others.

Finally this writer came up with a talking-dog story.

"This fido," the writer told a producer, "makes a horse's neck out Lassie on account he can converse in 10 different languages, pitch left-handed and sing like Ezio Pinza."

"Great," said the producer. "We'll make millions. This dog sounds sensational. What kind of a hound is he?"

"A boxer," said the writer.

"No good," quoth the producer derisively. "We've had too many fight pictures."

A young just-in-the-bus-chips actor was writing so many checks to "cash" that he was called on the carpet by his business manager.

"Look," said his financial guardian, "I'm supposed to help you save money. But you're writing checks so fast I can't keep track of them. Just what are you spending your money on?"

"Well," said the young actor, "I spend some of it on girls, some of it on liquor and some I just waste."

News, Ft.-T. Meier

Two Hollywood glamor girls were discussing the "cuteness" of a third doll.

"I didn't know she was such a cat," said one.

"Dahling, where have you been?" said the other. "Why the best TV offer she's had to date has been from 'Zoo Parade.'"

A movie star's lot turned down an invitation to spend the night at another child's house with:

"I have to stay home and see an old movie on television. Mama's third husband is in it."

When Producer George Pat hired Master Mentalist Dunninger as technical adviser for the movie "Houdini," the financial arrangements were made in New York by a Paramount executive, Russell Holman.

Holman made an offer to Dunninger's agents, who consulted the mentalist and then raised the figure by several thousand dollars. Holman agreed to the sum and then telephoned Dunninger and said:

"You dog—you read my mind. The salary you asked for was the exact figure we had agreed would be tops. We weren't going to pay you a cent more. But you hit it right on the nose."

 Director Budd Boetticher was congratulating Tony Quinn on a death scene in "Seminole."

"That last gasp was great, Tony," said Budd. "How did you ever get it so perfect on the first take?"

Quinn, who for a year played the roughneck Kowalski in "A Streetcar Named Desire," grinned and said:

"That's how Kowalski went to sleep every night when he'd had too much beer."

Note from Anne Baxter, who's co-starring with Montgomery Clift in "I Confess" in Quebec:

"The Canadian soldiers here are having a field day. They're playing the boys coming home to sweethearts, parting from sweethearts and bussing the devil out of sweethearts. Director Alfred Hitchcock calls 'cut' and the soldier boys go right on kissing the girls, who love the whole idea."

Fred Allen, describing a big Hollywood party:

"It was a typical Hollywood affair. Everybody there was dancing with Ginger Rogers."

Bullying Child May Be Just Trying To Conquer Timidity

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Jake behaves very badly when guests with other children come to his home.

Just let another youngster drop by with his mother—and from a quiet little boy absorbed in his dump truck, Jake becomes a frenzied tyrant.

If his hapless guest approaches the truck, he is shoved away and commanded to look for his broken wheels under the couch. If, instead he becomes fascinated with Jake's fire engine, his host hurls himself upon the visitor with fierce demands that he come and play in the yard.

But in the yard, Jake's idea of play is to scramble up on the porch railing, screaming like a banshee, "Look, look, watch me jump from here!"

When the guests depart, Jake's mother often is impatient and irritable with him. She says, "Why do you have to act so crazy when Ronny comes to see you—He'll never want to come and play with you again, the way you show off and boss him around."

But that's just what makes Jake a bully. He is a timid and lonely little boy.

His bullying is his clumsy effort to make the hay of acceptance while the sun of opportunity shines. In the cherished moments of Ronny's visit, Jake feels compelled to snatch at the fun he dreams of sharing with a friend, in this precious time, all his treasures, all his skills must be paraded hastily lest there be no other chance to show them off.

That is why he cannot concentrate on one game or one toy with Ronny.

An odd child? Not so odd; not so childish. Why do we feel compelled to glitter at parties, to force arguments on those we feel do not like us, to rush into intimate confidence with people we do not know?

The need to grab every passing chance to prove ourselves worthy of others' interest is not peculiar to childhood. Nor is distrust of the future and our ability to find it in what we need.

If Jake's mother would realize that she would not fuss at Jake. She would see that the frenzy of his efforts to show his friendship to Ronny stems from his pain at being unable to do so.

Instead of reproof, she would have compassion for the child who suffers from an old ailment—and she and Jake will take a good look at their fear that Ronny won't want to come back and play any more.

If she would remember the times she has felt timidly herself, she would easily find the gestures and words of love that can transform Jake's secret terror into something to get acquainted with and talk about as comfortably as they talk about the noise of the vacuum cleaner.

B&PW To Seek New Voters

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women, which now is observing National Business Women's Week, has set itself the task of delivering one million new voters to the polls in the Fall elections.

As a practical observance of their special week, the federation is calling upon each of its 160,000 members to assume the responsibility for seven such votes.

Club members are being asked to assist in driving citizens to the polls, and in baby-sitting duties so that mothers will be free to register and vote.

The federation points out that there are approximately 48,500,000 women of voting age, though in 1948 the total number of votes cast for president was only approximately 48,000,000. The organization also stressed the fact that women could control the vote in 32 states, where there are more women than men of voting age.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Amazing Mr. Stick

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, one day found a stick. The stick looked like an ordinary stick that might have once been the handle of a broom.

The stick was lying in the middle of the Elephant Path. Someone might come along and stumble over it. Mugwump decided, and so he reached down to pick it up, and throw it away.

"Oh, please, please!" cried the stick. "Please don't throw me away. I want to be friends."

"Imagine this," said Mugwump in a great surprise.

"Oh no," answered the stick. "You don't have to imagine this."

"Happy day, Mr. Stick," said Mugwump. "I'll be seeing you sometime."

Mugwump started to walk away and leave the stick where it lay in the middle of the Elephant Path.

"Wait! Wait! Wait for me!" cried the stick, and up it jumped and bounced away to follow Mugwump.

But was it really jumping, or bouncing, or was it hopping? It didn't have legs, and Mugwump couldn't decide, but he stopped to wait for the stick, all right, and he'll tell you more about it tomorrow. Happy day!

Goethe described architecture as "frozen music."

It's true enough. It's really happening.

"Hah!" said Mugwump. "A stick cannot really talk. Can it?"

"Silly boy!" answered the stick. "If a stick can't talk, how can I answer your question?"

"You can't," said Mugwump.

"But I am," replied the stick.

Mugwump didn't know what to say. If the stick WAS talking to him, then of course it COULD talk to him. But everyone knows a stick can't talk, and so it was very confusing. Mugwump decided to forget the whole thing.

Association Committee; Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland public schools; Warren Skaggs, supervisor of the Soil Conservation District; Perry Pickett, mayor of Midland; J. R. Cuffman, teacher of vocational agriculture in Midland High Schools; J. H. Yater of Stanton, supervisor of the Soil Conservation District. The officials are shown inspecting a grain fertilizer drill, which belongs to the Soil Conservation District.

Lovett Says UN Air Blows Hurt Communists In Korea

FORT WORTH—The Secretary of Defense said Wednesday that the Communists in Korea could have had a truce any time they wanted it over the last year. Robert A. Lovett added: "The longer we work 'em over by air and keep the pressure on, the more uncomfortable it will be on them. It's obvious there's not going to be much left of North Korea if they carry on this way."

Lovett said there are "no indications of any break that I'm aware of."

Lovett toured Carswell Air Force Base and the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation plant before holding a press conference.

He conferred with General Anderson, Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, Strategic Force chief, and Brig. Gen. Joe W. Kelly, 19th Air Division commander.

The secretary said Convair has done "very well" in repair of B-36's damaged by the tornado early last month.

"They're ahead of schedule," he said. "The unit here is fully operational."

Assistant Defense Secretary Charles A. Goodidge said he was "astonished" at how quickly repair work has been accomplished by Convair.

The secretary said the nation is beginning to reach a period of considerable aircraft production. "The incubation period—tooling—has been done," he said.

Lovett, Collidge and three military aides left Thursday by plane. The secretary planned to stop briefly at Wichita, Kan., then go on to Washington during the day.

600 Texas Women Enter Pact To Spread Eisenhower Gospel

By MARTHA COLE

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Six hundred women from 300 cities in Texas have signed up to spread the word that Texas should go for Dwight Eisenhower for President.

Some 500 of them—both Republicans and Democrats—came here Wednesday for a day-long clinic of "Womanpower for Eisenhower" to learn how to do it.

"What you've learned here and what you've heard is not worth one tinker's dam unless you get out and spread the gospel," Ben Guill, state Eisenhower campaign manager, told them.

The women got pep talks from Miss Bertha Adkins, director of the women's division of the Republican National Committee; James Cromwell, New York author and lecturer; Robert Stripling, Midland, former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee and Carol Arth of California, vice chairman of the National Federation of Young Republicans.

Long Workshops Held
Then they went to two-hour-long workshops to learn how to get out the vote for Eisenhower.

Personal contact with every individual poll tax holder in Texas is the secret, they were told.

"Contact everybody in every precinct of Texas," said Mrs. Randolph Wheelers of Houston, leader of a workshop.

"Don't argue with anybody that says he's going to vote for Adlai Stevenson. The best approach is to get some of our wonderful Democratic friends back home to see him—a Democrat who is for Eisenhower. Get him to go see that man and say 'Look, I'm a Democrat, too; now let's face the facts.'"

Democrats Attend
A lot of Texas Democratic women were among the well-dressed crowd, both young and old, that came to learn what to do.

Mrs. Hal C. Peck of Midland, vice chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, let it be known that she would work for Eisenhower.

Mrs. Peck and Mrs. Frank O'Brien of Amarillo, vice chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee, announced they would serve as co-chairmen of "Womanpower for Eisenhower" in Texas.

Long after the women left Fort Worth, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. O'Brien sat in a hotel suite figuring out who would be the best workers. They took Texas, Congressional district at a time.

Will She Work?
"Oh, she was a roommate of mine in college," Mrs. Peck would say, and a name went down on the list.

"Here's a woman in District 14—but will she work?" Mrs. O'Brien mused.

The women overflowed their hotel headquarters and set out their business seriously, talking in little groups long after adjournment came.

Mrs. R. F. Farr of Uvalde laughed about the taxi driver with four women and a man from the airport. The man wanted to go to the Texas Hotel.

"Brother, if you ain't for Eisenhower, you better not go there," the driver told the man in all seriousness.

Rookie Silences Yankees; Dodgers Take Opener, 4-2

Brooklyn's Homers Bring Victory In Series Start

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Joe Black, a rookie relief pitcher turned starter in a "shoot the works" gamble by Manager Chuck Dressen, mastered the ever-winning New York Yankees, Wednesday, 4-2, while the booming home run bats of Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese brought Brooklyn the opening day victory in the 1952 World Series.

Sensational fielding by Andy Pafko, Bill Cox, Carl Furillo and Robinson helped the 28-year-old-negro from Plainfield, N. J., over the rough spots.

Snider's tremendous two-run blast in the sixth, sailing a high arc over the shiny electric clock atop the right field scoreboard, was the payoff in this contest watched by 34,861, a series record for Ebbets Field.

With Preacher Roe and Johnny Rutherford straining in the bullpen while the Yanks applied pressure in the seventh and eighth, the talented rookie staffed off the favored Yanks.

By whipping Allie Reynolds, the Yankee ace, in the opener, the Brooks took a giant stride toward their goal of bringing a world championship to Brooklyn after five misses.

Defense, as much as the home runs, told the story of this well-played thriller. The Dodgers, who tied a National League fielding record in the regular season, were all over the place. Furillo's whip arm discouraged Phil Rizzuto from trying to score from third in the fourth. Pafko cut down an over-ambitious Gil McDougald going from first to third in the fifth. Pafko also made a sliding grab for Hank Bauer's drooping fly for the final out in the fifth.

Despite the dazzling defense, Black was struggling all the way until Snider smashed that block-buster some 400 feet into Bedford Avenue.

It was a 1-1 tie when Snider stepped up in the sixth. Robinson's second-inning belt on a 3-2 pitch into the lower left field stands had been balanced by McDougald's home run in the third.

McDougald's homer just made it into the hands of a spectator in the first row of lower left field seats. Pafko made a leaping stab but lost out to the fan. Foul-line umpire Dusty Boggess ruled it a legitimate home run.

The break came without warning in the sixth. Reynolds, the 34-year-old Yankee super chief, seemed to have settled down after a wild start. Still he was missing the corners with his curve.

Black, who saw only nine pitches—all strikes—during his three brief stays at the plate, was called out to open the sixth. Cox fouled to Yogi Berra, Reese singled to right and took second when Reynolds wild pitched.

With the count 2-1 on him, Snider sent a Reynolds pitch high and far over the scoreboard to break the deadlock.

The Yanks got one run back in the eighth when Gene Woodling, out of the starting lineup because of a groin injury, hit the screen in right-center for a pinch-hit triple. Bauer's fly ball scored Woodling, cutting the gap to one run.

Then Reese, up with two out and nobody on in the eighth, lined his home run into the left field seats off relief pitcher Ray Scarborough. He was the first Dodger ever to hit two homers in a series' competition. Pee Wee's first came in the 1949 series against the Yanks.

Both managers already had announced their pitchers for Thursday's game at Ebbets Field. It was to be two right-handers—Carl Erskine (14-6) for the Brooks and Vic Raschi (16-6) for the Yanks.

"If Woodling don't cripple up during the night," said Stengel, "I might use him Thursday."

This was a brilliant job by Black, the fellow who was supposed to be only a "six-inning pitcher." Actually it was his thirty-first victory in 12 months, counting 15 in the Cuban Winter League and 15 in his first big league season.

The only other relief man ever to start a series opener, was the Phils' Jim Konstanty, who was beaten, 1-0, by the Yanks in 1950.

Yanks Register Six

Strong and fast with good control and an effective curve, the college grad from Morgan State (Baltimore) allowed only six Yank hits.

Only in the fourth inning, when Rizzuto singled and Mickey Mantle beat out a bunt, did the Yanks get more than one hit in an inning.

The 6-foot-2, 220-pounder walked only two men. He struck out six. It seemed to annoy him when McDougald's fly fell into the seats about 250 feet away for a homer in the third. He turned on the heat to strike out the next three men.

Coming down the stretch he picked up steam. After Woodling's pinch triple leading off the eighth, he retired the next six men in order. Closing with a flourish, he fanned Irv Noren to end the game.

"I was nervous all the time," he said in the clubhouse. "I worked hardest on Berra but McDougald gave me the most trouble."

Dressen grinned his winning smile.

"I hope I don't have to use him as a starter again," he said. "I think now we've got a good chance of winning the first three."

FIRST WIN IN SIX SERIES OPENERS—Smart, Loose Dodgers Just Couldn't Do Anything Wrong

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Know what?—the Dodgers could win this World Series and make a lot of experts look very bad. A smart, loose team which outslugged the Yankees, 4-2, Wednesday's opener, extremely skilled on defense and a picture of confidence in its every move.

Joe Black, the big negro rookie, proved himself a very fine pitcher as he throttled the American Leaguers in the tight spots, and he is due to be back for several more helpings before it is over.

This was the first opener the Dodgers ever have won in six World Series.

Dressen's all-or-nothing gamble of starting his freshman reliever didn't really look like a gamble at all as Black moved the Yanks down in the first. The big fellow appeared to get faster as he went along. No harder ball was thrown all day than the strike which Irv

Two Years Bring Changes For Brooklyn's Joe Black

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Two years ago Joe Black was traveling by bus and pitching for the Baltimore Elite Giants in the Negro National League.

A year ago he was getting ready to pitch the October 4 opening game for Manager Billy Herman's Cienfuegos team in the Havana Winter League.

Today Black stands on the threshold of World Series greatness. The 28-year-old rookie, who won 15 games and saved 14 others with his relief pitching for the Brooklyn Dodgers, beat the Yankees' ace, Allie Reynolds, 4-2, Wednesday.

"He'll see a lot of this series," Manager Charley Dressen said.

Black, when asked why he had shaken off several of Catcher Roy Campanella's signs, replied:

"We both shake our heads once in a while but I never shake him off. He knows the hitters better than I do. I just throw to him."

The Dodgers got Black on a "look basis" from the Baltimore Elites in December, 1950. They paid $11,000 for him and two other players.

Dressen lashed back at critics who said he was gambling by starting his brilliant fireman against Reynolds, who has won a World Series game for the Yankees in each of their last four classics.

"I guess that will hold them," said Dressen. "Black was my soundest pitcher and deserved the chance. Reynolds was their best pitcher. Casey Stengel says that by the way he talks."

Chicks Even Dixie Series With 3-2 Win

SHREVEPORT, La.—(AP)—Shreveport and Memphis wind up their Louisiana stand Thursday night with the Chicks' Tommy Hurd trying to pitch the Southern Association nine int on Dixie Series lead.

Memphis took a 3-2 victory over the Texas League Sports Wednesday night to even the series at 2-2. The win came about when the Sports shortstop, Joe Koppe, erred in two runs for the Chicks.

Shreveport Rightlander Bud Lively was the victim of Koppe's ninth inning collapse even though he pitched brilliant three-hit ball through eight innings.

Koppe overthrew first base to let in the tying run and then led Ed McGhee score all the way from first on an easy pop to short. Koppe overran Al Kozar's weak pop-up and finally let it drop for a fluke double.

Millard Howell, who relieved Starter Tommy Fine in the seventh, protected the Chick lead by striking out three Shreveport batters in the ninth. It was Howell's second win of the series.

Memphis had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth only to see the Sports tie it up in the same inning and go ahead in the seventh when Grant Dunlap parked one out of the lot.

Billy Cox, widely acknowledged to be the finest fielding third baseman in the game today, made a brilliant stop and throw in the seventh on McDougald's slashing grounder to start a double play which stopped the Stengeleers in their tracks. To complete the inning, he backhanded Martin's hopper over third and threw him out.

In other words, the Dodgers did everything they were supposed to do. They hit the long ball, they fielded spectacularly, and they had a man named Black.

The day's hardest hit ball probably was the homer slugged by Pee-wee Reese in the eighth, which only insured the victory after Duke Snider's towering two-run smash over the clock in right field had sent the Dodgers into the lead at 3-1.

Yogi Berra did not acquit himself with any honors to speak of. The Yankee catcher got the ball out of the infield only once in four tries, and twice he forced teammates at second when a hit might have broken the game wide open.

His opposite number, Roy Campanella, didn't do too well, either. Although Mickey Mantle struck out in his final time at bat when the Yanks were desperate for a hit, the "phenom" from Oklahoma gave warning that he must be dealt with by collecting two of his team's six hits, one of them on a bunt. The fleet kid also raced to make a catch on Reese in the fourth inning which would have done full credit to Joe DiMaggio.

ALWAYS SLUGGING—Rocky Marciano, who wanted to be a catcher, still takes a healthy cut at the ball. The catcher is his kid brother, Pete. (NEA)

Traylor Proves Passingest Fellow On Schoolboy Grids

TEMPLE—(AP)—Doyle Traylor is the passingest fellow to ever come along in Texas schoolboy football.

In two seasons and three games of another he has thrown 61 touchdown passes. He's the guy who makes Temple the most feared team in the state.

Last year he had to operate with a brace on his back to protect an injury. This season he doesn't need anything except a football. Moreover he's 15 pounds heavier—he's now a husky 175 and does some running with the ball.

Traylor is only 15 years old but he's mighty wise as football players go. He's been a regular at Temple High for three seasons. In 1950 Dandy Doyle passed for 21 touchdowns. Last year he threw 24 touchdown passes. In three games this season he has flipped six for scores. His passing in 1951 gained 2,158 yards.

Last week against Waco, Traylor completed six passes for 97 yards but didn't score a touchdown in that way—he just ran for a couple.

Port Arthur, Ray To Meet In Feature

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Port Arthur and Ray of Corpus Christi clash Friday night in the feature game of the week in Texas schoolboy football, but there will be important battles from the Panhandle to Gulf running throughout the four top divisions.

The Port Arthur-Ray contest matches undefeated, united teams. Ray has been ranked with Baytown as the strongest teams in the south half of the state.

Midland Gets Test

Another outstanding game in Class AAAA matches Midland with Taft. Midland is unbeaten and untied. Taft is undefeated but has been tied.

Class AAA has a bona fide scrap of undefeated, untied teams with Edson of San Antonio tackling Victoria in a conference game of District 7. The titlist will emerge from this battle.

Paris of AAA also runs into a rugged test. The undefeated, untied and unscored on Wildcat take on Ennis, which has almost a similar status in Class AA.

Class A has two games sending undefeated, untied teams against each other—Ballinger at Stamford and Silsbee at Huntsville. Silsbee is around 75 with the 250-odd games to be played this weekend.

There are 122 undefeated, untied teams in the four top divisions of schoolboy football and prospects are that the list will be trimmed to around 75 with the 250-odd games to be played this weekend.

Texas Aggies See Wildcats As Hard Foe

LEXINGTON—(AP)—Kentucky, its staying power a newly found asset, measures its football recovery program Saturday against unbeaten Texas A&M.

Kentucky hasn't won in two starts but proved its durability in a strong comeback effort against Mississippi last week. Trailing statistically and in the scoring, the underdog Wildcats burst forth with a last quarter spree that earned a 13-13 tie with Ole Miss.

In getting ready for the Texans, the Kentucky backfield was revamped in a move that left Halfback Tom Fillion without regular employment. The vacancy may be claimed by a freshman lightweight, Charles Bell, who hasn't seen action this season.

Speed Fought Out

"Our scouts tell us Texas A&M has terrific team speed," said Kentucky Coach Paul Bryant.

"They are playing at home for the first time after two wins and I don't think it will be to our advantage."

In Aggie land, Coach Ray George promoted sophomore Fullback Don Kachik to the first string as a reward for piling his way 37 yards in six smashes in the winning drive against Oklahoma A&M last week.

"They say Coach Paul Bryant lost his offense with the graduation of Babe Parrill," commented George, "but our scouts who saw them tie Mississippi reports the Wildcats still have a rough team. We just hope they don't spoil our opening home game."

Bulldogs Step High In AAAA ScoringRanks

If the season so far is an indication, District 1-AAAA promises to bring an avalanche of touchdowns for the remainder of the campaign. Midland led the parade, with Lubbock, Pampa and Abilene joining the Bulldogs for the four to produce a total of 151 points in games last week.

Borger, San Angelo and Amarillo didn't come forth with anything spectacular. But some lopsided scores are anticipated when they go up against the stronger members of 1-AAAA.

Three district members have netted 80 points or better in only two starts apiece. Midland was the most awe-inspiring, running wild against the heavier Poly Parrots. The single-wing powerhouse amassed 61 points in a burst of speed from the opening gun.

Lubbock, battling the roughest foe last week, tallied 35 points to run its total to 80. The Westerners scored four more times than a pair of rugged foes had managed previously off Highland Park.

And Pampa rolled up 44 against Vernon to push its total to 81 for two tilts. Coach Tom Tipp's crew continues to look like anything but a team with only three lettermen returning.

Defensively, however, the district as a whole has been rather porous. Lubbock has allowed 20 points in winning twice while Amarillo has yielded the same number in losing twice. Abilene has given up 21 in winning two and Odessa has yielded 24 in winning and losing.

This week's games promise more of the same. Lubbock is expected to slaughter weak North Side. Midland is a heavy favorite over Yeleta and Odessa will rule at least two touchdowns over Paschal, despite the unexpectedly fine showing by Paschal in beating Amarillo.

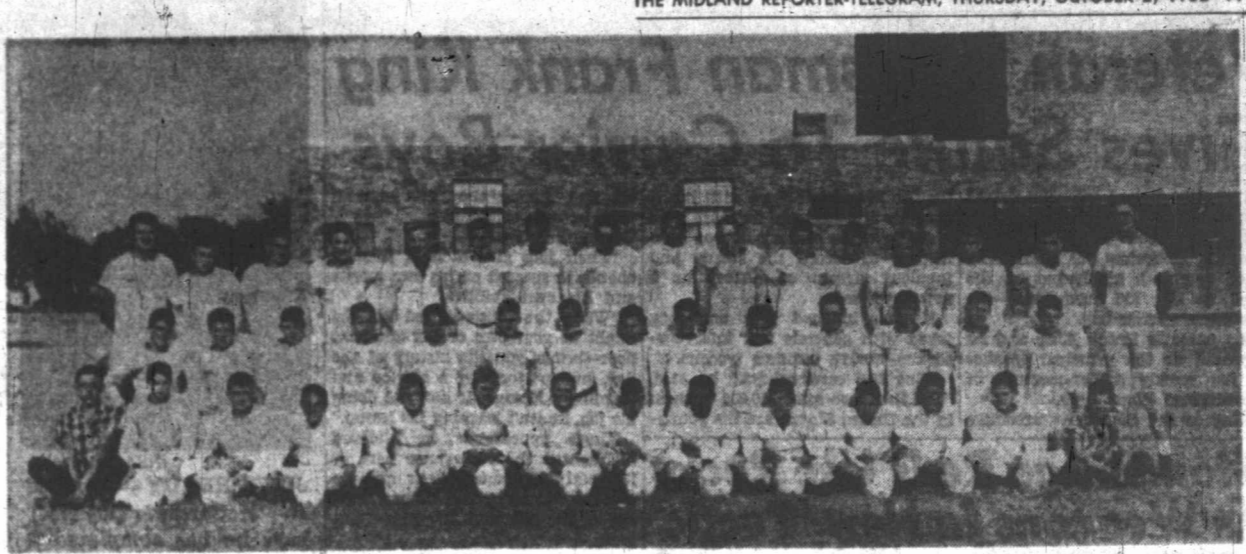

The Sandstorm will seek its first win against weak Plainview. Abilene battles Breckenridge in what looms as the top inter-class struggle of the week and Borger invades El Paso for an expected scoring duel with Austin. San Angelo will attempt to become the third 1-AAAA team to slip Sweetwater but prospects aren't bright for the Bobcats. This Week's Schedule

Paschal at Odessa, Plainview at Amarillo, Duncan, Okla. at Pampa, Lubbock at Fort Worth North Side, Yeleta at Midland, San Angelo at Sweetwater, Breckenridge at Abilene, Borger at El Paso Austin

Heavy Intersectional Schedule Faces SWC

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press-Staff

The conference opener—Texas Christian against Arkansas—and a heavy schedule of intersectional games featured by the Texas-Notre Dame tilt, occupied Southwest Conference eleventh Thursday.

The week end promised more ball for the circuit than any similar period in the season. All teams expected to be in top shape by Saturday.

At Austin, the Texas Longhorns went through their last hard practice scrimmage Wednesday without the services of T. Jones, stellar Split-T quarterback. But Frank Medina, Longhorn yainer, said the sparkplug of the Steer offense, missing a charity horse this week, would be ready for the Notre Dame game Saturday.

The defending champion TCU Horned Frogs, scores in their first two games of the season, had another overtime drill as they tapered off for the conference opener against Arkansas' Razorbacks. The defensive platoon drilled against Razorback T formation offense while the offense spent its time on play execution and blocking assignments.

Razorbacks Listless
Meanwhile, Coach Otis Douglas watched his listless Razorbacks lull through scrimmage against TCU formations. Douglas, who has threatened to resign unless his charges start "playing football," wouldn't predict the outcome of Saturday's game "Just don't know," he said. "The Hogs have won one and lost one."

Southern Methodist went through its scoring plays in search of a more deadly scoring punch for their game in Dallas Saturday night against Georgia Tech. The Mustangs racked up 23 first downs against Duke but couldn't reach pay dirt but once.

Baylor's Bears polished running and aerial plays at Waco as they prepared for Washington State. They want to keep their rating as the nation's fourth best passing team in the Saturday tilt. Coach George Sauer indicated starting assignments were still in doubt at some backfield posts.

Owl Take It Easy
Signal drills were down for Rice Institute's Owls Thursday and Friday. They concluded the heavy work for their Louisiana State game Thursday with 30 minutes of scrimmage. Coach Jess Neely hasn't worked his team hard for the Tigers but observers noted, LSU was to arrive.

in Houston Saturday morning from Baton Rouge. The Texas Aggies practiced long and hard Thursday night in their final workout before their Saturday night game with Kentucky. The Wildcats were to fly in Friday afternoon for a workout under the College Station lights.

Meanwhile, the Texas-Notre Dame game looked more and more like an aerial dogfight. Word from South Bend said Coach Frank Leahy conducted a long drill on pass offense and defense Wednesday. The same thing has occupied most of Coach Ed Price's time at Austin this week.

Rice, Bears, Texas Selected Winners

Michigan State over Oregon State: this was the Spartans' hardest battle last year and they squeaked by. Wisconsin over Illinois: it is as simple as this—Wisconsin wants to go to the Rose Bowl and Illinois knows it can't. The Illini won last year and since 1932 neither has been able to win twice in a row in this bitter struggle. Amesche to star.

Maryland over Clemson: neither club is in the good graces of the suddenly grim Southern Conference so this game has been dubbed the "Suspension Bowl." Jack Scarbath of Maryland to outshine Clemson's Buck George.

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: those wild Mustangs from Texas aren't so wild this year. Southern California over Army: the Trojans scored 31 points against Northwestern last week and displeased Coach Jess Hill. So woe to the poor Cadets.

Duke over Tennessee: Jack Kistler of Duke has gained 225 yards in 37 tries. That's the fourth best total for the entire nation.

Cornell over Navy: Coach Leggy James says he has discovered what caused the Big Red team's defeat by Colgate last Saturday. His team is the pick in the belief that he also found a remedy.

Texas over Notre Dame: who can remember when a good Texas team ever was roped and tied to its own backyard? But the Longhorns had better keep John Letner under close watch.

Michigan over Stanford: the Big Ten club seems the more solid but it will have to be solid if it expects Far West: Arizona over Utah, Brigham Young over Montana, Denver over Colorado A&M, Oregon over Idaho, College of Pacific over Texas Tech, Washington over UCLA, Wyoming over Utah State.

Russell, in Beaumont, said: "I would say it's a 50-50 chance for me moving in." "Maybe a little better than that," the price? Well, I'd say it's around $150,000."

Russell has been given permission to work on the deal by the owners of the Buffs, and his bosses, the front office of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hazel Trost and Mary Dole met Wednesday for championship consolation honors. Trost moved into the consolation finals with a 6 and 4 win over Isabelle Hall Wednesday.

Iraan Top In Scoring

IRAAAN—Iraan High School continues to pace District 5-A aggregations in the scoring department. The Braves this week show a total of 101 points, only 11 ahead of the unbeaten Fort Stockton Panthers.

Fort Stockton, however, boasts the defensive edge over the Braves, allowing only 35 points to be scored against them compared to 40 for Iraan.

The Marfa Shortbogs have proved the top defensive team thus far, permitting just 26 points in three contests. District 5A clubs will get down to the first round of play in their own circuit Friday with all eight members scheduled.

Lloyd Hale of Iraan is the leading individual scorer with 42 points aggregated on seven touchdowns. Darwin Parr of Fort Stockton follows with 26 points.

Surgery Builds New Fingers For Hunting Mishap Victim

NEW YORK —(AP) —The man looks at his hands. . . . He has only stumps left, less than an inch long. He is a useless cripple, unable even to feed himself.

Painful scars and balls of severed nerves were removed from the old stumps of the fingers.

That was Marion Cody, 42, of Milwaukee, three years ago. Snowbound on a hunting trip in Alaska, he lost his gloves. His frozen fingers were amputated last year.

Even while his hand was healing from the first operation, Cody began courses in business arithmetic, law and English at Milwaukee Vocational School. Soon the Curative Workshop of Milwaukee gave him treatments to strengthen his hands, to learn to dress, to eat, to write with his new fingers.

Now Cody has eight new fingers and thumbs, created by surgery. He has a job, can write, smoke a cigarette, use a screwdriver, dress and feed himself, live a normal life.

A month after the last operation, Cody took a job at the Wehr Steel Company, Milwaukee, as timekeeper and work analysis recorder.

You do not have to have an appointment with us, to find out where our listings are. Just phone. The best buy, right now, is a 3 1/2 acre lot, for you get a 4 per cent loan and do not have to be a G.I. You see what you are buying and know exactly what the cost is, and how much the payments are. Homes cost more, now, to build than one or two years ago. You get copper plumbing, extra, built up yards and most of them are on the pavement. Also close to schools.

Now It's Official: Dwight Eisenhower's Birth Listed

SHERMAN—(P)—A citizen who thought Dwight D. Eisenhower ought to have a birth certificate had accomplished his mission Thursday.

Grayson County made it official Wednesday that the Republican presidential candidate was born in Denison, Oct. 14, 1894.

The Denison Herald reported recently that the general's birth hadn't been recorded.

Lennie S. Roberts of Denison decided to do something about it. "If Ike gets to be President, I wanted to be sure he had a birth certificate," Roberts said.

He wrote Mrs. Eisenhower. She replied that her husband was amused that he "wasn't a matter of record" in Grayson County. She sent Roberts the necessary vital statistics.

Roberts sent a certificate to Ike's brother, Arthur, in Kansas City. The notarized document was returned and Roberts brought it to the county seat. He said he'd fairmail a copy to Mrs. Eisenhower in Denver.

General Says UN Can Stop Commies

VANCOUVER, B. C. —(P)— A British general back from Korea expressed confidence Wednesday night that United Nations forces, arrayed in three lines of defense, can stop any new Communist offensive.

"In my view," said Maj. Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, "if we don't stop them at the first, we'll probably stop them at the second, and indubitably at the third."

General Cassels was the former commander of the Commonwealth Brigade in Korea.

"I have a hunch there will be a Korean armistice within six to nine months," he added in an interview. "Why, I don't know."

Publicity Man Held Guilty In Maine Wine Conspiracy

PORTLAND, MAINE —(P)— A Boston public relations man was convicted early Thursday of conspiring with a wine merchant to bribe a state official in connection with Maine's liquor sales monopoly, a political issue in Gov. Frederick G. Payne's successful Senate campaign last month.

The official—since resigned—was acquitted. The wine merchant was not indicted.

A Cumberland County Superior Court jury returned a verdict against Frederick W. Papalos and announced acquittal for Bernard T. Zahn of Bremen, former State Liquor Commission chairman.

Papalos and Zahn were indicted on charges of conspiring with Gardner wine bottler Herman D. Sahagian to influence Zahn in favor of Sahagian's products. The prosecution claimed Papalos and Zahn planned to raise wine prices, with Zahn to get one-third of the increase.

Sahagian testified he paid more than $11,000 "graft" to Papalos after the latter claimed influence with Zahn and Governor Payne. Papalos testified the money was paid him for services as sales manager of Sahagian's winery. Both Papalos and Payne testified the Bostonian had no influence with the governor and Papalos said he had no influence with Zahn, either. He said he told Sahagian "deliberate lies" to make himself out an important person. Zahn did not testify in the trial.

Buckshot Lane Quits Wharton Sheriff Post WHARTON —(P)— Sheriff T. W. (Buckshot) Lane has resigned his Wharton County office. Lane's resignation is effective November 1. He said he would take a job as personnel manager for a truck line.

Politicking In Modern Style Not Like Campaigns Of Yore

WASHINGTON —(P)— Certainly there never has been a presidential campaign like this. It's enough to make a person dizzy simply trying to keep up with where the candidates are.

From coast to coast, from North to South, the candidates have been seen in person. Voters not in direct line of this steady oratorical fire have had ample chances to hear them on radio and television.

San Angelo Angus Feeder Calves Sell Below 1951 Prices SAN ANGELO —(P)— A total of 1,437 calves was sold here Wednesday at the San Angelo Angus feeder calf sale, but prices were far below those of a year ago. Good to choice steer calves sold generally at 26 to 29 1/2 cents a pound; medium to good 23 to 26 1/4, and common and cull 20 to 23. Good to choice heifer calves went generally at 24 to 27 1/2, medium to good 21 to 24, and common and cull 18 to 21.

A champion split carload of heifers, consigned by Richard Moseley & Son, Rochelle, brought the top of 30 cents a pound from Ben Snure, Apache, Ariz. The champion carload of heifers, consigned by James and Nancy Hunt, Sonora, went at 27 1/2 cents to Harris Mullins of Dalhart. Pat and Wren Jackson, San Angelo and Big Lake, had both champion carload lot and champion split lot of steers. The carload went at 29 1/2 cents and the smaller group at 28 to Brennan Cattle Company, Sioux City, Iowa.

DELBERT DOWNING SPEAKS AT BRIDGE DEDICATION Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, was one of the speakers participating in the formal opening and dedication of the new four-lane bridge over the Colorado City Wednesday. U. S. 80 traffic has been routed around Colorado City to the north the last several months while the new bridge was under construction.

Day after day what the candidates have had to say—or, just as important, what they haven't had to say—has been reported at length in newspapers.

In view of the unrelenting campaign to convince the voters, it's interesting to recall that this active pursuit of the presidency is a recent thing. The early view was summarized by William Lowndes of South Carolina. When his state nominated him in 1821, Lowndes said: "The presidency is not an office to be either solicited or declined."

Not until 1836 was the spell broken. In that year William Henry Harrison made what appears to have been the first modern campaign. He visited New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky and Illinois, politicking as he went. Candidates who followed Harrison didn't always follow his pattern. Lincoln, for instance, didn't campaign either in 1860 or 1864. And as recently as 1924 Calvin Coolidge made but one political speech. Like Preachers Administration leaders now get in whatever political licks they can.

Methodists Gather At Waco Dedication WACO —(P)— The Texas Methodist Planning Commission meets at the Waco Methodist Home Thursday to take part in the dedication of seven new buildings and the ground-breaking for two additional structures.

In a business session Wednesday attended by about 100 representatives from the six Methodist conferences over the state, Supt. Hubert Johnson of the Waco Methodist Home was named president of the commission. The Rev. E. D. Landreth, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Abilene, was named vice president. The Rev. D. L. Landru, Palestine, was reelected secretary. Johnson succeeds Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

U. S. Nabs Parrots LAREDO —(P)— Customs agents here seized 38 parrots Wednesday when they stopped T. D. Baker, 38, a Corpus Christi bird dealer. Parrots can be imported only under special permits and following a long quarantining period.

But the late George Stimpson pointed out in "A Book About Political Parties"—that's the source of most of these early campaign facts—that John Adams had quite a different view in 1840. Adams wrote in his diary: "One of the most remarkable peculiarities of the present time is that the principal leaders of the political parties are traveling about the country from state to state, and holding forth, like Methodist preachers, hour after hour, to assembled multitudes, under the broad canopy of heaven."

"Webster and Clay, W. C. Rives, Silas Wright, and James Buchanan are among the first and foremost in this canvassing oratory, while Andrew Jackson and Martin Van Buren, with his heads of departments, are harping upon another string of the political accordion, writing controversial electioneering letters."

World Series Gives Chores Secondary Berth This Week

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—Business activity is in for a slump—the rest of this week.
Businessmen, from board chairman to office boy, more likely are to be found where they can follow the current doings of the Yankees and the Dodgers than in brokers' boardrooms where they can watch the ups and downs of stocks.
The public's real interest will switch from the financial accounting of political candidates to tomorrow's starting pitchers.
Production of a couple of seats to Ebbets Field, will rank you higher with the boss than the latest dope on industrial production as measured by the Federal Reserve Board's index. The board estimates its index is approaching a record postwar high—a fascinating fact, at any other time.

Some businessmen, however, will be busier than ever this week. Hotel clerks, for example. It's next to impossible to get a midtown hotel room in New York while the World Series is on.
Late For Lunch
Restaurants with television sets will find themselves unusually popular this week with the late lunch crowd. And the boss will understand. We hope, how much longer it takes to get served during the World Series and forgive the stretch-out of the lunch period.
Bars, theaters and night clubs hope for big crowds, after baseball hours.
Transportation companies will profit—although not as much as they would if this series were a tale of two cities.
Radio and television coverage will cause one and a half million dollars to change hands. Sponsors will pay that much for radio and TV rights, and station time.
TV covers most of this country where there are stations. Radio also carried the series throughout this country and to Canada (might even slow down temporarily that big Canadian industrial boom) and to Latin America (where the series will compete with the afternoon set) and to the armed forces overseas.
Minds On Jobs
Estimates of TV viewers (including businessmen playing hooky) vary from 5 to 50 million persons. The radio audience is estimated as high as 70 million—and that include people on business errands who naturally will find it takes longer to pass a parked car with its radio tuned on Ebbets Field than they would if the radio were spouting soap opera.
However, there's still a few people on the job—many with only half a mind on their work.
In some factories management has radio accounts of the games piped in for the workers so they'll stay by their machines—say it's better than having them sneak off to the corner bar to watch TV.
But management counts much of this week's slowdown as not entirely lost time. It comes under the same pepper-upper category as vacations.
So, the Office of Price Stabilization will have to excuse us—Pitcher Allie Reynolds' control is far more vital to the nation than the OPS announcement Thursday that it is dropping price controls on pickles.

More than 50 species of African antelope do not appear on any other continent.
Six hundred eggs that will develop into mature flies in two weeks can be produced by a single house fly.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
One of the delights of writing a daily column is that you're sure to be inquired no matter what you say. In my case, I have written about the advantages of playing for a big score so often that I got worried about repeating myself.
I mean I have worried, however, for a fan has just written in to say that he likes my column, reads it all the time, and agrees with it except that he thinks I should advocate playing for a big score.
Hence I suppose it's time to stress this point again. Play for a big score when you have superior cards; minimize your loss when you have inferior cards.
It's unrealistic to play for a big score on every hand. You do so when you have a good hand or when an opponent makes a serious mistake. But when you have a poor hand and the opponents are playing carefully, you must play defensively.
Let's take an example. Both sides need 120 points for the initial meld. You are dealt two jokers and three small pairs as part of your original hand. That is a wonderful hand, since you will be able to take the pack whenever the player at your right throws one of the cards that match your pairs. You can afford to let the pack grow a bit before bothering to pick it up.
With such a hand you play for a big score. You don't want to meld out in a hurry. You want to pick up a big discard pile and then keep control of the pile for as long a time as possible. With luck and good management you can get several thousand points out of such a hand.
In playing for a big score, you try to keep as many pairs as possible. If you develop three or four of a kind while you are waiting for the right discard, you may have to part with the extra cards in those sets just to keep room in your hand for several pairs.
Obviously, this is risky. The chances are that you will gain by it, however, so that your gamble is a good one.
The story is quite different when you are dealt such a hand as four kings, two deuces, and five miscellaneous cards. To begin with, you will have trouble making the count of 120 points. Even if you acquire a joker, fairly soon, you can't hope to win the pack without pairs.
With this type of hand it would be the wisest kind of folly to discard a king or two in the hope of keeping the pairs and winning the pack. This is the time to build up your hand in the hope of melding out before the opponents score too much.

Gulf Executive Cites U. S. Criticism Of Oil Industry

HOUSTON—An executive of the Gulf Oil Corporation struck back hard Wednesday at current criticism of the petroleum industry by the United States government, charging that the attacks are designed to force the industry "into accepting government control."
William K. Whiteford, Pittsburgh, Pa., told a group of the nation's outstanding petroleum engineers and scientists that "the oil business today—in addition to its normal industry problems which have always been many and complex—again finds itself the target for a series of vicious propaganda attacks by certain departments of the federal government."
Whiteford was speaking to engineers attending the Annual Mid-Continent Fall Meeting of the Petroleum Branch, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, currently being staged in Houston's Rice Hotel Wednesday through Friday. He was keynote speaker at the group's welcoming luncheon.
"The attack is many-sided, evidently on the scatter-gun principle, that some of the shot will reach home, and, at last, weaken our industry, to a point where we will be forced into accepting government control," Whiteford charged. "This has long been the ambition of many Washington bureaucrats."

He was speaking principally of the federal government's recent attack on "percentage depletion" allowances awarded the industry in 1936 by congressional act. The act allows companies engaged in extractive enterprises an exemption of 27 1/2 percent of profits before taxes are applied to cover depletion of reserves in place.

Official Memorandum

BY
ALLAN DRYERS
Governor of Texas

CREATION

In the light of international events, our cherished right of freedom of the press has become more important. For as we consider the pattern of aggression by forces seeking to dominate the world, we find that the guiding of the press is invariably a prelude to the destruction of free government.

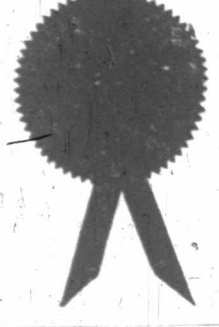

We have reason to take pride in the alert and vigorous press that has been built up in our nation under our traditional freedom of thought and expression. We cannot, however, assume that it will always be that way. In our own hemisphere we have witnessed the death of the press, one of the world's great newspapers. Elsewhere, we have seen the perils that beset the men and women of our free press in their pursuit of the truth. We have the example of William H. Chubb, now incarcerated behind the Iron Curtain in a solitary cell, waiting for oppressors who know that the printing of the truth interferes with their aim to destroy individual rights and freedom.

In view of these and other disturbing events in the world today, it is appropriate that the slogan "Four Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom" has been selected for the 13th annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

HERBERT L., as Governor of the State of Texas, in cooperation with this program of the free press of our Nation, do hereby designate the period October 1 - 8, 1952, as

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

In Texas, and urge all the people of our state to take the opportunity during this period to become more familiar with the services and facilities offered by their community newspapers, and their contribution to the preservation of our way of life.

In official recognition thereof, I hereby affix my signature this 19th day of September, 1952.

Allan Dryers
Governor of Texas

Andrews To Start Annual Two-Day Fair With Parade

ANDREWS—The annual two-day Andrews County Fair will open at 11 a.m. Friday with a big downtown parade.

With support of the Oil Industry Information committee, the parade will include approximately 20 floats. It was announced by Q. D. Huckabee, parade chairman.

One of the floats will transport contestants for Harvest Queen. The Andrews High School Band will march in the parade along with the rodeo association group, volunteer fire department and floats representing various county clubs and organizations.

An admission free rodeo is slated at 2:30 p.m., Saturday.

Hugh Lewis, of the rodeo association, said that barrel races, cutting horse contest and jackpot roping will be featured.

Two cutting horse events are scheduled. The first will be for amateurs of Andrews County, and the second will be a professional match with a $20 entry fee.

Two matches have also been scheduled for the calf roping. The first is for amateurs in the county, and the other for professionals with a $10 jackpot.

The Fisher Bar F Ranch will furnish fresh two-year heifers for the cutting contest.

Climaxing the two-day fair will be the crowning of the Harvest Queen and presentation of awards in the various contests.

New Cleaning Wax Is On Market Here

Bruce Cleaning Wax, described by the makers as a miracle working product, which not only leaves a glossy protective coating but actually cleans as it waxes, now is available in grocery and hardware stores here.

Perfected in the laboratory of one of the world's largest manufacturers of hardwood flooring, this product is endorsed by flooring experts as superior for floor care, the manufacturer declares. Although designed for hardwood, this cleaning wax also is recommended for furniture, woodwork, venetian blinds and linoleum.

The prong-horned antelope is the only animal known to shed its horns. It sheds only the outer shell.

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

ROACHES and ants are the most difficult household pests to control, and they can be brought into the home at any time. Science has just come forth with a new discovery, a colorless coating that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH.

It's just as simple and easy to use as it looks. You paint the coating on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, woodwork near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. When these crawling pests come in contact with this invisible, odorless, stainless coating they slowly become paralyzed, turn over on their backs with legs waving in the air, and die. Then the coating stays effective for months to kill any strays that get into the home and that walk over it.

Effective for Months

Science has seen to it too, that this product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorus. Johnston's NO-ROACH is not a contaminating spray or a messy powder. It is colorless, and may be brushed just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes and pots and pans.

Guard against crawling insects this modern NO-ROACH way.

Prices are 8 oz. for 89c, pint for $1.09, and a quart for $2.98.

Expiring Tax Laws Challenge Future President, Lawmakers

By GAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Hope for relief springs eternal in the taxpayer's breast.

The best bet seems to be that some corporations will get a cut in taxes by the middle of next year. The long-suffering individual may have to wait until 1954.

Secretary of Treasury Snyder is on record as believing that the excess profits tax some corporations pay will expire next June. He sees no major relief likely for individuals.

What to do about taxes is one of the first decisions the new President will have to make in January. A number of the recent federal tax increases are due to expire in the next year or two unless Congress extends them.

Spending May Drop

The taxpayer's best hope for relief would lie in a cut in government spending. With defense expenditures scheduled at a high level next year, hope for much relief seems put off until 1954.

The corporate excess-profits tax is due to expire June 30. If Congress lets the tax die, as Snyder thinks it may, it will mean relief for corporations whose present earnings are 85 per cent or more of their average earnings in their three best years between 1946 and 1949. Such earnings are now considered excess and a 30 per cent additional tax levied on them.

Business men hold this tax penalizes well-managed companies and the growth industries just getting under way in the base-period years.

The excess profits tax has been bringing in better than three billion dollars a year.

Stalin's Actions Watched

Individuals would get a break at the end of 1953 if Congress doesn't extend a 10-per cent increase in the individual-income tax written into the revenue act of 1951. The increase would lapse at that time.

April 30, 1954, corporations are due for another break—unless Congress changes its mind. At that time the 30 per cent normal tax on corporate earnings goes back to 25 per cent. At the same time special excise taxes totaling about one billion dollars expire.

The Guaranty Trust Company of New York, in its October survey, says that since "defense spending is thought likely to reach a peak sometime next year, the hope is growing that the new administration will be able to effect some tax reduction."

Of course, could stick a pin into this wishful thinking any time he chose to stir up more trouble and alarm the United States into stepping up defense expenditures.

Federal Bits Increase

The U. S. taxpayer's bills, meanwhile, mount steadily. This year it is estimated that the total of federal, state and local tax collections will be around $6 billion dollars, and possibly more.

The bank notes that the federal government is now taking about 70 per cent of this total, with the state and local authorities splitting the remainder about evenly.

Before World War I the federal tax take was only about 30 per cent of the total. And as late as 1941 Washington was still taking less than half.

Texas collected by all agencies last year, the bank adds, came to $412 for each person in the country. In 1927 the per capita tax was $80. In 1942, with World War II under way, it was $154.

Relief in sight? Yes, if you can hold on that long.

'GREATEST' HOMECOMING

ALPINE—Sul Ross College will hold its greatest homecoming in 23 years this week.

Activities will include a reception for the new president, Bryan Wildenthal; a rodeo by inter-collegiate champions, breakfast, dances, football game and a parade.

Approximately 1,000 Sul Ross men are expected, with ample accommodations available, officials said.

Japanese Students Get Imperial Photo

TOKYO (AP)—A school in Akita, Northern Japan, recently asked for and received a portrait of Emperor Hirohito, something Japanese schools have not had since the war.

The school placed the imperial photograph in a place of honor in a special alcove. This prompted a writer for Asahi Shimbun to wonder in print if emperor worship was being revived.

Before the war, it was compulsory for schools to have a picture of the emperor in a place of honor. School opened with a bow to the imperial picture. After the war, when the emperor renounced his "divinity," the practice was dropped and the pictures came down.

YOUNGEST CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE—Jean Ivory, 28, of Binghamton, N. Y., left, is believed to be the youngest woman ever to seek a seat in Congress. On a recent visit to Washington, Jean visited the offices of Mrs. India Edwards, center, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and "made friends" with a statue of the Democratic Party's mascot. She will oppose Rep. Sterling Cole (R., N. Y.) in the race for a seat in the House of Representatives.

U. S. Autos Make Shorter Journeys

NEW YORK (AP)—Traffic congestion, deteriorated roads and fear of accidents have reduced the annual average mileage in individual use of passenger cars to below the peak prewar rate, reports the American Automobile Association.

An analysis by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads showed the average individual annual use of passenger cars for 1951 was 9,030 miles, compared with 9,942 in 1948. The 1950 total was 9,030 miles. Both 1950 and 1951 figures fell below the prewar peak travel of 9,285 miles in 1941.

Forecasts based on the six-month estimates for this year, it was reported, indicate the average may show a further drop before 1952 is ended.

Red Army Recruits Join Guerrilla Band

HONG KONG (AP)—An independent press report from South China says the Chinese Communists inadvertently recruited 100 men for the anti-Red guerrillas recently.

A dispatch to the Kung Sheung Daily News said river boats carrying 100 recruits for the Communists armies recently were seized by guerrillas as they headed up the East River to Canton.

The report said the recruits joined guerrillas.

Emblem Authorized For Malayan Ships

KUALA LUMPUR, MALAYA (AP)—Malayan merchant ships will soon be flying a Malayan ensign in accordance with a bill published in the government gazette.

The bill gives the high commissioner, Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, power to prescribe an ensign to be known as the national colors of a Malayan ship. Only Malayan citizens and shipping companies having their principal place of business in Malayan can make use of the ensign.

WORKING WITH CLAY—The afternoon class of the Mud Hut Ceramic Shop, pictured above, is busily engaged in fashioning useful art objects for the home. The women learn the technique as a constructive hobby.

HANDLE WITH CARE—Mrs. James H. Kistner, above, is holding one of the fragile "greenware" castings that are decorated and fired to produce finished art works. At this stage, the articles crumble easily.

Students Come From Wide Area To Learn Ceramics In Midland

By JOHN BOWERS

Students ranging from eight-year-old school children to grandmothers in their eighties have found an artistic hobby in Midland that offers unusual rewards. They are coming here from surrounding communities and even New Mexico to learn the intriguing technique of ceramics—the art of molding objects in clay.

Classes in the unique hobby are being held in a Midland studio which has the picturesque name of the Mud Hut Ceramic Shop. The enterprise is at 2197 West Wall Street, and is owned and operated by Mrs. James H. Kistner. She has one assistant in her work, Mrs. E. D. Bates, who aids her in classroom work and production details.

Mrs. Kistner, who had her ceramics training in El Paso, insists that anyone can learn how to mold in clay. She says of the hobby: "All it takes is patience and imagination." The Midland business has been here since March, 1952, and Mrs. Kistner likes to tell anyone interested in ceramics that the art does not require any special talents. Study Of Clay Ceramics, technically defined, is the study of clay and its properties. Practically applied it is the method of fashioning objects from clay, and it involves a number of steps in preparation.

The clay is brought in to the Mud Hut in powder form from both the East and West Coasts of the United States. Then it is mixed with water and certain chemicals and allowed to "age." In this form it is a liquid substance called "slip." The "slip" is then poured into plaster of paris molds.

Plaster absorbs water, and the material is known as "greenware." This is the initial form of the object that is being made, and the Mud Hut has a sizable collection of molds from figurines to all types of cups, dishes, saucers, and other household ornaments.

The "greenware" is unfired clay, and extreme care must be taken in handling it. It is brittle, and can be easily broken by handling. A slight pressure of the hands on one of the objects causes it to crumble away into a fine dust. A storage room is used to house the "greenware" which gradually dries out there.

Dried In Kilns At this stage, the figurines or ornaments are decorated and painted and then fired in one of the kilns. The Mud Hut has three small electric kilns and one large gas kiln for this work. The "greenware" is dehydrated when it is fired, and it becomes hard in the kilns. Coming out after the first firing it is porous and it is called "bisque ware."

A glaze, which is a clear or color glass material, is then applied.

The "bisque ware" is then fired another time, and comes out as "glaze ware," which has a smooth and glossy texture.

Gold, silver, or other paints may then be applied, and another firing process in the kilns produces objects which are said to have been "china painted."

All the ware used in the molds is hollow, and the clay is mixed in a barrel for pouring. It can be poured as thick as required, and the excess is drained off before removing the molded objects.

Some of the finest porcelain at the Mud Hut has been subjected to a temperature as high as 2,250 degrees Fahrenheit in the process of firing.

Glaze Sprayed On An electric spray gun is used to spray the glaze on the ware. At that stage in the procedure, it is too brittle to handle with any degree of safety. The spray gun eliminates hand-glaze applications.

The process of painting may vary. Part of the ware carefully is hand-painted under the glaze, and other pieces receive the paint over the glaze. The latter method is known as china painting.

The paints used are chemical oxides. They are bought in powder form and mixed. Mineral oxides are also used, and it is impossible to tell their true color until firing, since the heat brings out the color.

Decorations, such as miniature roses, are fashioned by hand, and attached to the figurines or other ware. This is a complex operation that requires patience and a degree of skill.

A unique method employed is the use of cotton net dipped in porcelain for clothing on the figurines. When the articles are fired the net burns away, leaving its impression in the porcelain.

Decals are used for some of the ware. This is similar to the process employed by the makers of commercial ware.

New Study, Too Most of the students at the Mud Hut are women, but there also are a number of men students. And Mrs. Kistner says they are good in the work when they are interested. Then there are also the children learning. Those engaged in the hobby usually make their objects as gifts for friends. Mrs. Kistner does commercial work in addition to her instructing duties, and she produces made-to-order items.

Among the popular objects produced, are molded hands with the fingers pointing upwards. These are usually women's hands, complete with simulated nail polish, and are used as ring and watch holders.

Classes are held Monday through Friday, and there are night classes on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday for those who work during the day. A special children's group meets twice a week on Tuesday and Thursday from 4 until 5 p.m. after school. It is for school-age youngsters from eight to ten.

The MATURE PARENT

Only Children Dare Tell Us The Truth—If We Let Them

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Miss A. has been spending her vacation in the mountains with a married sister and her youngsters.

One day, soon after she had joined them, she and her sister and the children drove into town to do the marketing. On the way back to the car, her 12-year-old niece spied an attractive sunback dress in a window. Its price turned out to be more than her mother wished to pay.

Bitterly disappointed, the young girl attacked her mother in a public scene. Among other things, she said: "If it was something you wanted, I bet you'd be able to find the money to pay for it."

As a punishment, Miss A.'s sister did not speak to her daughter for five days.

"I tried to tell her repeatedly that the punishment was too severe," Miss A. writes, "but all she said was, 'It's working, isn't it?' Though the first day the child did try to show her remorse for her rudeness, by the third one she stayed pretty much to herself and didn't seem to care whether her mother ever spoke to her again or not. I think my sister made a bad mistake and wish you would write your opinion."

Dr. Benjamin Spock has expressed by opinion of this type of punishment in the Journal of Pediatrics. Says he, "... in the older days, parents with poor qualities of leadership probably relied upon slaps ... the modern teaching that physical punishment is shameful has deflected them into forms of control such as chronic scolding, prolonged moral disapproval, warnings of the dangerous consequences of misbehavior, even excessive reasoning and overexplanation which I believe bring about worse distortion of the malleable personality."

It is such poor leadership to isolate a child from approval for five days that I have urged Miss A. to try to convince her sister that she needs help.

Like nothing else, punishing children tests us most searchingly for resentments and fears that lurk within us. Spanking, for example, is an open failure of our ability to express ourselves in children's terms. Brooding over what we've done suggests that we're taking our failure like the child we've spanked.

Chronic scolding is indecision, exposing our reluctance to lift from Jimmy the responsibility of putting his bike away—and take it on ourselves. When we keep warning children about the dangerous consequences of misbehavior, we imply that we have little conviction that good behavior is happy, appealing and rewarding. Excessive reason and overexplanation are just the devices we resort to when we want to hide our dread of direct decision and action.

Of them all, however, prolonged moral disapproval is the most harmful.

Adults have to be unusually strong, clear people, very certain of their record for virtue to endure prolonged moral disapproval. Children just can't take it. If I had to choose between spanking and prolonged moral disapproval, I'd spank mighty fast.

Da Vinci's Mother Called Noblewoman

ROME (AP)—An Italian historian claims to have found proof that Leonardo Da Vinci's mother was a Florentine noblewoman and not a peasant as historians have believed. Maffeo Maffei, Florentine historian, says the great 15th century artist and inventor was born of Albiera Degli Amadori, who later married Pisto Da Vinci, Leonardo's father. Previously it has been assumed that Leonardo was the illegitimate child of Da Vinci and the peasant girl, Caterina, who later served in Leonardo's home as a housemaid.

Telephone Machine Competes With Humans At Texas Fair

You can't beat it. "Except by fooling it," Roy Goltson, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, said smilingly as he described the miraculous gadget his company will have on display at the State Fair of Texas October 4 through 19.

The gadget is a "tick-tack-toe machine" which actually competes with human beings in the game so familiar to all. The machine was designed to demonstrate how accurately and efficiently the electronic switching equipment used in the operation of the telephone system works. It is made of actual telephone relays or switches.

"It's amazing how intelligently this gadget plays the game. Just like a man, only better. You push a button which lights up an 'X' in one of the squares. The machine automatically lights up an 'O' in another square," Goltson said.

"Then no matter where you place your next 'X' the machine will out-guess you and either force you into a tie, or perhaps beat you."

The tick-tack-toe machine will be a part of Southwestern Bell's big exhibit in the General Exhibits Building at the annual State Fair.

Also on display at the telephone company exhibit will be a working model of the famous radio-relay, or microwave, system which is being used to bring live television programs and long distance telephone calls to some of Texas' largest cities.

"A crew of specially trained instructors will be on hand at the telephone exhibit at all times during the fair to show you how the microwave system, and other telephonic equipment operates," Goltson said.

One of the most interesting portions of this telephone exhibit will be a demonstration of operator toll dialing in which long distance telephone calls will be placed direct from the exhibit at the State Fair to any of the 15,000,000 dial telephones from coast-to-coast that are connected to the system.

Other features of the telephone company exhibit will be devices enabling fair-goers to test the quality of their hearing, and hear how they sound over the telephone. They will also observe cable splicers at work on huge telephone cables demonstrating the exacting task of splicing hundreds of pairs of tiny wires together.

BEAUTIES PREVIEW—Jo Grigg of Texarkana, left, and Mrs. Gaylene Mowrey of Denison try to "beat" an automatic tick-tack-toe machine which will be on display at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas next week.

"MEXENE adds distinctive flavor to Chicken Fricassee!"

and here's his recipe preferred by gourmets the world over

CHICKEN FRICASSEE MEXENE (Family Style)

Select a fat chicken weighing about 3 pounds. Cut it up as you would for stew, and let it stand in cold water for one hour. Drain, put the chicken in a pan with one quart of water, when soft, skin off the fat and add salt, one onion, stuck with cloves, one small carrot, one stalk of celery and a sprig of parsley and one bay leaf. Let this simmer for 30 minutes. While cooking, prepare a roux of 3 ounces each of flour and butter, cook for 5 minutes, but do not brown, and then mix with the strained broth in which the chicken was cooked. Simmer for 20-30 minutes. During which time the chicken is kept warm. Bind the sauce with 4 egg yolks and 1/2 gill of cream (do not allow to boil). Season to taste with salt. Honey Promotion Campaign Launched

The most intensive promotional campaign ever conducted on a local or national scale for honey is underway.

This was announced by T. E. Burleson, member of the Texas Beekeepers Association, who is handling the promotion.

The honey industry and food handlers have the support of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration in this campaign due to the importance of bees in the national economy.

"About 80 farm crops depend on bees for pollination," Burleson explained. "To keep the bees, we have to sell the honey they produce."

The honey campaign will run throughout October, reaching a climax during National Honey Week beginning October 26.

Newcomer In Business Finds Midlanders Friendly To Him

Joe B. Odeneal, who represents the third generation of his family in the jewelry trade, said Thursday that Midland impressed him as being the "little Dallas" of the West Texas area.

Odeneal, who came out here from Big "D" to accept a position with the Kruger Jewelry Company at 104 South Main Street, believes West Texans are more friendly than their neighbors from East Texas. He was raised in the northeast part of the Lone Star State, and he is familiar with conditions in that region.

The jewelry salesman, who will specialize in the merchandising of diamonds and watches at the Kruger Jewelry Company, has had more than 20 years experience as a jeweler. He started learning the work under his father in 1927, and he has been engaged in the occupation continuously since then, except for military service during the war.

He entered service in World War II as a first lieutenant in the Air Corps in 1941. He was discharged as a lieutenant colonel in 1946, after five years service as a continental administrative officer.

Odeneal has a brother who is in the jewelry business in Denison and another brother who is an attorney in Dallas. The combined jewelry experience of his family, including his father, totals more than 100 years. He is staying temporarily at the Scharbauer Hotel. His wife is expected to join him in Midland when she has terminated her employment in Dallas.

The jewelry salesman is a Mason, a member of the Knights of Pythias, an Elk, and a member of the American Legion.

Cheese Rice Is Vegetable Filler

SAVORY CHEESE RICE STUFFING for hollowed-out fall vegetables is sprinkled with crumbled cooked bacon for added flavor.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Stuffed onions, tomatoes, eggplant, zucchini, green peppers all make wonderful fall dishes. Hollow them out, steam or bake them until tender, then fill with savory stuffing. They make a complete main dish for luncheon this way or a very substantial addition to dinner.

Here's a quick stuffing made with the new, packaged, pre-cooked rice:

Cheese Rice
(Makes 4 Servings)
One and one-third cups packaged, pre-cooked rice, 1 1/2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/3 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 cup grated cheddar cheese or 1 cup grated processed American cheese, 8 strips of bacon, cooked until crisp.

Boil rice, water, salt and pepper in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. (Do not stir.)
Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 5 minutes. Place 1/2 cup of the cheese on top of the rice. (Do not mix.) Cover again and let stand 5 minutes more. Mix lightly with a fork. Stuff into vegetables and sprinkle with crumbled cooked bacon and the rest of the cheese.

One of our favorite vegetable garden is this: First, cut tomatoes in half—sprinkling a little, very little, brown sugar on top of each half. Then chop green pepper, onion and parsley and mix. Place a mound of this mixture on top of the brown sugar.

Over the vegetable mixture lay a small strip of fat bacon. Place the tomatoes in a shallow baking dish. Bake in moderate oven about 15 minutes. Succulent and different with fish or steak.

HAT PASSING GATHERS FINE
VANJALIA, ILL.—(P)—A minister pleaded guilty to running a highway stop sign. He asked the court if he could say something.
"Of course," replied Justice Glen O. Walter, "Say anything you want."

The 50-year-old minister from Newark, Va., doffed his hat, bowed his head and prayed two minutes. He asked mercy for himself and Judge Walter. Then he asked how much his penalty would be.
The court said $5.46 plus 34 cents.

The minister turned to the gathering city hall crowd, and passed his hat. Coins jingled into the hat for the penalty and the minister left.

Your Advertiser

If a newspaper advertisement describes merchandise of a certain quality, you the reader, may be sure it is of that quality or the advertiser will bear from the paper. Novadays... as was not always true... the ethics of newspaper advertising are held at extremely high standards. No ranking newspaper will knowingly accept or print untrue or unreliable advertising. Many newspapers have a printed code to which advertisers must conform. Advertisements are the lifeblood of your newspaper. In reality ads are news. Ask any housewife who watches the newest styles. To a home-maker, advertisements tell a story as vital and interesting as the latest information from world trouble-spots is to her husband. To the lady, the ad's message is an important news story. It tells her something she needs to know and could learn no other way. It is just as necessary as any news item, just as accurate and therefore as reliable. But only because your newspaper insists that it be so.

TREND TOWARD FINANCIAL NUDISM—

Wilbur Retreats On Issue Of 'Nixon Fund' For Steno

By HAL BOYLE
HOMETOWN, U. S. A. —(P)—Wilbur Peeble, America's average citizen, joined a group reading a notice his boss had just pinned to the office bulletin board.

The notice said:

"To all employees:

"The management has been asked whether it plans to start a gift fund to retain high caliber employees who have been offered government jobs at three times their present salary. We don't.

"A statement of the firm's financial position is attached. Attention is directed to the portions in red ink.

"The management also announces that if the employees wish to start a private fund to help the firm meet its expenses their contributions will be gratefully accepted.

"(Signed) The Boss"

Wilbur shook his head. Later in the morning he sneaked downstairs to get a haircut on company time.

Tony No Scalper

Before attacking with his shears, the barber bowed and handed him a sheet of paper covered with figures.

than a toothless hound. You can see no tax payment for 1949. I want to go into that in detail. I worked for my brother that year, and anybody knows when he works for a member of his own family he can't ever steal enough to make him owe taxes."

Still later, when he entered his neighborhood grocery store, Wilbur was dashed to see the butcher scribbling like mad.

"The housewives are demanding a complete accounting of my finances," he said. "Then even started an ugly rumor that I was curing my lumbago with a mustard plaster made of $100 bills. Come with me, Mr. Peeble. I want you to know the full truth."

Wilbur followed him into the back room, where the butcher peeled to the waist. Five $100 bills were bandaged across one kidney.

"You can see how easily things get exaggerated, can't you?" demanded the butcher.

Wilbur laughed at himself all the way home.

"The political candidates now have got the voters following their bare-your-bankbook campaigns," he told his wife, and added jokingly: "When are you going to give a public report on your private fur coat fund."

"I'm glad you brought that up, Wilbur," said Trellis Mae. She went to a vase and shook out a small storm of paper.

"The fund is empty," she said. "But I have ten of your IOUs totaling $150. What I want to know is what you did with the money. And don't tell me you used it to fight Communism. Are you subsidizing that new blonde stenographer in your office?"

Wilbur's mouth opened and closed like a winded goldfish.

"I deny all," he said. "I will not dignify such baseless accusations with an answer. This trend toward financial nudism has got to stop somewhere, and it is going to stop right here."

But if you think it did—well, you just don't know Trellis Mae.

ON THE BALL—Some photographers will go to any height to get a picture. The cameraman sitting atop this distorted ball tank was snapped as he adjusted his camera to take an overall shot of the Sheaffer Pen Co. plant in Fort Madison, Iowa. He got there by climbing a ladder through a tube in the center of the tank.

Within the next 48 years, 35 total eclipses of the sun will be visible would be 80. The cat is owned by somewhere in the world.

Addicts Of Opium To Try New 'Cure'

SINGAPORE —(P)— More than 100 of Singapore's thousands of Chinese opium addicts will soon embark on a course of treatment aimed at curing them of opium-smoking.

The course, introduced by a Buddhist priest, includes praying, fasting, physical exercises and sleeping in the open. More than 1,000 addicts are claimed to have been cured by the method.

Singapore police recently began a wave of raids on colony opium dens. Many Chinese have been arrested and fined or sent to prison.

RESOURCES SEARCH PLANNED
VICTORIA, CANADA —(P)—The multi-million-dollar United States Sebeling Company will move into British Columbia to carry on exploration and development of natural resources. It has been registered under the Companies Act here.

"What is this, Tony?" asked Wilbur.

"My profit-and-loss statement for the last 20 years," replied Tony.

"What do I care about that?" said Wilbur.

"I'm tired of hearing the public say barbers are scalping them," said Tony. "You will please note my car is five years old and I am still using the same scissors I started business with. Just can't afford a new pair."

Fascinated, Wilbur studied the figures. After work he dropped into a bar across the street. With his martini the bartender held out a black notebook.

Barretender Bares All

"My income tax payments for the last five years," he said. "The politicians say they are clean as a hound's tooth—well, I'm cleaner."

Japanese Propose Hydroelectric Plan

TOKYO —(P)—Japan is going to undertake a sort of Tennessee Valley project and will spend about 748 million dollars in harnessing hydroelectric power.

There will be 11 power units, each with its series of dams. They will stretch from Hokkaido, the northernmost home island, to Kyushu Island in the south.

The Electric Power Resources Development Corporation says a big corporation will be capitalized with the government controlling 99.5 per cent of the stock. The project will take about 10 years to complete.
