12 Indicted For Arms Smuggling

Seven Texans On List Named By U. S. Jury

DALLAS —(P)— Twelve men were indicted here Thursday by a federal grand jury for alleged shipment of arms to Mexico.

The 25-page, 11-count indictment charged conspiracy to violate the Neutrality Act.

Two of those indicted were Thomas D. Park and Thurman Randle, partners in Thurman Randle & Company, Dallas, a firm which deals in arms.

They are charged with having conspired to violate the arms export provisions of the Neutrality Act, relating to the export in commercial quantities of arms, ammunition and implements of war.

Some in El Paso

Others named were: Juan Ignacio Fuentes of Casa Fuentes in the State of Durango, Mexico; Aurelio Luna, address unknown; Merced Munoz and Pedro Munoz, doing business as the Sun Furniture Company, El Paso; Hector Arroyo of El Paso; Pedro Valenzuela, Presidio, and Edward Beckelmyer, Laredo.

Another man, Arturo Gonzalez, address unknown, was named in the charge but not indicted because he is deceased.

Three others named whose addresses are unknown are Roberto Salcido, Augustin Guerrero and Enrique Duarte.

"The indictment is another step in the government's efforts, in the interest of national security both to this country and our neighbors abroad, to control the exportation of arms, ammunition and implements of war," U. S. District Attorney Frank Potter said in a statement after the indictment was released.

He said law enforcement agencies and the U. S. and Mexico worked together on the case for some time to "plug a possible illegal channel through which arms, ammunition and implements of war have been leaving the United States and entering into Mexico, contrary to the laws of both countries."

Potter said the case was developed principally through cooperation of the Customs Agency Service, the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, both of the Treasury Department; the Office of Munitions Control and the Office of Security of the State Department in this country.

The State Department of Mexico and the attorney general's office of that nation, particularly the federal judicial police, worked on the case from the other side of the border.

The indictment states that Thurman Randle & Company sold arms, ammunition and implements of war to Fuentes from time to time, "knowing that said arms, ammunition and implements of war were intended for ultimate introduction

Crude Import Plans Presage Stormy Battle

AUSTIN—(P)—A stormy session over high oil imports appeared shaping up Thursday for the Railroad Commission's state-wide proration hearing next week.

The commission reported Wednesday statements from 12 big oil companies show plans for importing 869,412 barrels daily of foreign crude and crude products this year.

Officials of the companies have been asked to be present at the February 18 hearing to explain their reports, submitted to the commission in response to a questionnaire on oil industry plans and needs for 1953. Called Threat To Texas

Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson said the reports confront Texas with "threat of being supplanted with foreign crude."

It does not seem fair, he said, after Texas has built up a reserve daily producing ability of 600,000 barrels of oil a day for defense.

These planned imports were reported: Atlantic 56,800 barrels daily, Cities Service 5,516, Gulf 120,000, Atlantic Petroleum Corporation, 10,000, Shell 12,198, Sinclair 68,000, Socony-Vacuum 101,800, Standard (Calif.) 107,000, Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company (subsidiary of Standard Ind.) 48,000, Standard (N. J.) 263,000, Sun 11,000, and The Texas Company 63,200.

Slashed Twice

Texas' allowable this month was 3,338,937 barrels daily, slightly more than in January, but slashed twice since the all-time high of 3,387,245 barrels set last November 28.

Thompson said indication point to further cutbacks—perhaps as much as 200,000 barrels daily—in the Spring, an increase of about 100,000 barrels in the Summer and a return in the last quarter to allowables about equal to the present.

"This is certainly not encouraging," he said.

Thompson noted the commission has no control over imports. "But we can point out how much oil is being imported and by whom," he declared.

MAYBE COLOR HAD APPEAL

MOBACOW —(P)— Franda disclosed Thursday the theft of two shiny new fire engines from a Moscow factory.

The newspaper said that one of the bright red vehicles was kept in a Moscow suburb for several months before the thief sold it for 22,000 rubles ($3,500). The other machine was sold to a collective farm.

Convicted Oil Heiress Files Appeal Notice, Free On Bail

WICHITA FALLS —(P)— Mary Jean Parsons was released Thursday under $20,000 bond after being sentenced formally to 10 years in prison for killing her husband. The defense gave notice of appeal.

Attractive Mary Jean, who was convicted Wednesday in the Feb. 18, 1951, slaying of Army Lt. Richard O. Parsons, spent the night in jail.

Deputy Sheriff Charlie Seils said the daughter of wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Burtner Fieger, Tulsa, Okla., oil well supply manufacturer, joked and introduced herself to jailers as she was placed in jail.

Later, she sat relaxed as she chatted, smoked a cigarette and ate a candy bar.

The story began last February when Mary Jean phoned her parents that she had killed Parsons. Testimony at the trial revealed she phoned from the El Paso apartment where Parsons lay dead, two bullet holes in his head.

Former OU Co-Ed

Almost a year later, the jury said in its verdict the former University of Oklahoma co-ed was "guilty as charged at the time of the shooting, sane now," and convicted her of "murder with malice aforethought."

As the verdict was read in Judge Arthur Tippe's 30th District Court, Mary Jean first sat frozen faced and then began to weep softly. Her mother, a defense witness in the trial, fainted and was taken on a stretcher from the courtroom.

Wednesday night was the first the girl had spent in jail since shortly after her arrest in El Paso. She had

REWARD FOR GOLDEN DEEDS—Mrs. Eleanor Black, identified with Midland youth work almost 20 years, receives the Golden Deeds Award from the Exchange Club. E. Robert Atwill, chairman of the award committee, presents the "Oscar" and engraved plaque to the gracious recipient.

Midland Mother's Golden Deeds Win First Award Here

Gracious and humble Eleanor Black, whose leadership in youth work here stretches over almost two decades, received the first annual Golden Deeds Award of the Midland Exchange Club Wednesday night.

More than 125 persons gathered at a banquet in the Midland Country Club to honor the personable, gray-haired woman long identified with Girl Scouts, Parent-Teacher Associations, Red Cross and other community and state-wide welfare organizations.

Mrs. Black, mother of four children and wife of J. J. Black, a Midland architect, was instrumental in establishing Mira Peak Camp for Girl Scouts located between Alpine and Fort Davis and helped provide the Youth Center here. Her 16 years of service in P-TA work includes places of top leadership in district and state as well as in Midland.

"She has given a full measure of devotion to others," Midland School Supt. Frank Monroe pointed out in reviewing Mrs. Black's Golden Deeds. A native of New Jersey, she came to Midland in 1935 after residing in Pecos two years.

E. Robert Atwill, chairman of the Golden Deeds Award Committee of the Exchange Club, presented the "Oscar" and an engraved plaque to the visibly moved recipient.

Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

"Nothing is better than to have all of you as friends," Mrs. Black declared. "It is so wonderful. This is not the end, this is the beginning. I hope I will be able to continue."

Mrs. Black had looked to her three daughters and son as her reward for years of devotion to the welfare of youth.

"If I had wanted a reward," she said, "I would have found it in my children."

"Doubly Rewarded"

President Jack Biscoe presided at the banquet attended by Exchange Club members and dozens of honored guests from many walks of community life. Mayor Perry Pickett gave Midland's response, citing the impact of the Exchange Club on the dignity of the community.

Biscoe reviewed the 30-year history of Golden Deeds Awards which started in Huntington, Ind. He invited visits to the Midland Public Library, where a permanent Book of Golden Deeds will be inscribed with the names of the annual award recipients here and decorated with their pictures.

Mrs. Black was selected from 12 nominations this year.

"We have been doubly rewarded... in this our first year because our search led us to Mrs. Eleanor Black," Chairman Atwill of the Golden Deeds committee, noted. "Her manifold and unpretentious contributions to the welfare of the youth of Midland has served to enrich and broaden the life of the whole community."

Survivors include a son, Michael, two; two sisters, Mrs. Wallace Smith of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Frank Orider of Crescent City, Calif., and four brothers, Ben and Delbert Kading of California, Frank Kading of Coleman and Hubert Kading of Houston.

Heart Fund Campaign Set For Midland

The Heart Fund Drive will open next Tuesday in Midland, Duke Jimeron, chairman, announced Thursday.

A kickoff breakfast is scheduled at 7 a. m. at Jimmy's Bar-B-Q for campaign workers. Jimeron appealed for more volunteer workers in the short, intensive campaign. Volunteers are urged to dial 2-7093 or contact Jimeron this week.

No quota will be set for the campaign.

"But I know that from past performances, the people of Midland will open up their hearts and pocketbooks to this worthy cause," Jimeron said.

Speakers are available for clubs and other organizations.

Dr. Glenn Walker, a member of the Permian Basin association board, pointed out Thursday that 60 per cent of all funds stay in this area, "working for us and our friends here at home." The remainder goes for research with several research foundations located in Texas.

Farm Officials Ask Cotton Acreage Cut

WASHINGTON —(P)— Government farm officials sought aid from representatives of the cotton industry Thursday in a campaign to get farmers to go along this year on a voluntary program to reduce cotton production.

A closed meeting of more than 50 representatives of growers, merchants, warehousemen, manufacturers and banks was told by Agriculture Department spokesmen that unless there is a sharp cut in output this year, rigid marketing quotas will be necessary in 1954.

The cotton situation—marked by declining exports and weakening prices this season—was outlined by John H. Davis, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, and Oris V. Wells, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Secretary Benson was expected to sit in on the meeting later in the day.

Before he left office, former Secretary Brannan set a 1953 cotton production goal of 13 million bales for this year compared with last year's crop of 14,900,000. This goal meant a reduction of about one acre out of eight planted to the crop last year.

The department now feels this year's goal should be reduced to around 12 million bales if rigid production and marketing controls are to be avoided.

There is no way, however, for the department to require farmers to cut plantings this year. Under the law, the time for setting up production controls for this year's crop has passed. Consequently, farmers are free to plant as much land to the crop as they desire.

Officials are fearful that, because of a severe drought that seriously damaged livestock pastures and other crops in broad areas of the cotton belt last Summer, growers may increase cotton acreages this year rather than reduce them in an effort to recoup quickly 1952 losses.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WESTERN FRONT, KOREA—(P)—The Eighth Army Thursday issued armored shorts—made of 12 layers of basket-weave nylon and weighing four pounds—to a front line infantry division.

AUSTIN—(P)—A Senate bill to let a judge rule on forfeiture of hunting licenses for game law violations was passed by the House Thursday and sent to the governor. Forfeitures are handled now by the Board of Pardons and Paroles.

BONN—(P)—Dr. James Bryant Conant, new U. S. high commissioner for Germany, paid his first call on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Thursday.

AUSTIN—(P)—The House Thursday passed unanimously a new loyalty oath bill requiring state employees to swear they have not been members of any Communist or other subversive group in the last five years, or explain circumstances which led them to join.

Britain Inks Sudan Treaty With Naguib

CAIRO—(P)—Britain and Egypt Thursday signed an agreement covering the future of Sudan, and Prime Minister Naguib's office said evacuation of British troops from the Suez Canal has been agreed upon in principle.

These are the two issues that have been separating Britain and Egypt. Solution of both could go a long way toward ending Egypt in the proposed Middle East Defense Command being framed by the West.

The Sudan is a million-square-mile area which Britain and Egypt have been running jointly since 1899. The agreement gives the 8,000,000 Sudanese the right to decide their ultimate future within three years. They could decide to join Egypt, join the British Commonwealth or set up an independent nation. Early elections for a Parliament are planned under supervision of an Indian, an American, a Briton and two Sudanese.

As for the Suez Canal Zone, General Naguib, in common with the preceding Egyptian government, has demanded withdrawal of all British troops. A political adviser to Naguib, in asserting Thursday that removal of the troops has been agreed upon in principle, said only technical details remain to be worked out. These, of course, might bring stumbling blocks.

The agreement trims Britain's influence in the cotton-growing land on the Upper Nile that she has ruled jointly with Egypt for 54 years.

A new $78,000 control tower—the first since the old Midland Air Base was closed after World War II—will begin operation Friday afternoon at Midland Air Terminal.

The tower was built with the city and the Civil Aeronautics Administration participating equally in the cost. It will be staffed by the CAA.

The old tower was abandoned after the war and will be torn down. Ceremonies arranged by the Chamber of Commerce aeronautics committee, headed by Bill Collins, will mark the opening of the tower at 2 p. m.

Mayor Perry Pickett is expected to flip on the microphone and bring in the first plane.

LSU Brahman Wins

HOUSTON —(P)— Bano Manso of LSU is a 1,900-pounder owned by Louisiana State University, was named champion Brahman bull of the Houston Fat Stock Show Thursday.

Midland will have television in 1953.

The Federal Communications Commission Thursday advised J. Howard Hodge, president of the Permian Basin Television Company of Midland, that his application to erect a Channel 2 station here has been approved.

The Midland man said plans for the erection of the tower and plant for the TV station are complete and that construction of the facilities will be started promptly. Plans call for the station to be on the air by the end of this year.

The antenna and plant will be located outside the city limits on the Cloverdale Road, Hodge said. The antenna, Hodge stated, will be 1,051 feet in height. The estimated construction and equipment cost is $472,040. The station will be an RCA-equipped installation, Hodge said.

The Midland station, according to The Associated Press, is one of 13 new stations approved. This raised to 243 the number of new TV stations authorized since the end of the TV freeze. Of these, 229 are commercial and 14 educational.

The Permian Basin Television Company's application was filed early in October, 1952.

Stockholders of the company, in addition to Hodge, are Mrs. Veda Wells Hodge, vice president and treasurer; Henry E. Griffing and C. E. Guthrie, both of Oklahoma City, trustees for Video Independent Theaters; and Edgar T. Bell of Oklahoma City.

Video Independent Theaters is a partner with Hodge in the operation of Midland Theaters.

Influenza Outbreak Waning Across Nation

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Public Health Service Thursday said reports show the influenza outbreak is on a downward trend.

Declines in the number of new cases of respiratory illness or influenza were reported from New York, Virginia, Washington, California and Alaska.

Lid Removal Due On More Items Friday

WASHINGTON —(P)— Market basket items like milk, butter and eggs were marked for price decontrol this week amid signs emergency power to restore economic curbs might be kept.

A top official said a final decision would be made Thursday on a long list of goods tentatively tabbed for removal from price ceilings by Friday or Saturday.

The list makes up 15 per cent of consumer goods in the cost of living index package, he said, and would leave less than that percentage still under control. It includes such things as:

Milk, butter, cheese, poultry, eggs, oleomargarine, cleansers, soap, lard and other shortening; rubber and rubber products; lead, tin, zinc and scrap; pet foods; paper and paper products.

Controls would remain, at least for the time being, on such important items as machinery, most automobiles and scarce metals. But many of these do not have a direct bearing on the consumer.

The exemption of paper products would cover waxed and treated papers, plates and newspaper.

Christmas In February

The postman rang Wednesday and it was Christmas time all over again at the C. B. Downing residence, 610 North San Angelo Street.

The postman, incidentally, delivered nine 1953 Christmas cards and several other pieces of mail of the same vintage, all postmarked prior to Christmas of last year.

No explanation for the delayed delivery was given. "Christmas cards are nice even in mid-February," Downing mused.

SE Andrews Wildcat Enters Ellenburger; Prepares To Run Test

Magnolia Petroleum Company and associates No. 1-BA Fasken, Southeast Andrews County wildcat is preparing to run a drillstem test in the top of the Ellenburger.

Corrected top of the Ellenburger is at 13,369 feet and not at 13,289 feet. The higher figure was picked through error several days ago. Subsequent investigation showed that point to be up in the Simpson.

Elevation is 2,927 feet on the derrick floor. The prospector is now at a total depth of 13,378 feet. Has Slight Shows

The section of the Ellenburger between 13,369 feet and the present bottom has been Ellenburger dolomite with slight shows of oil and gas.

Location is 600 feet from west and south lines of section 21, block 40, T-2-N, T-6-P survey. It is 15 miles southeast of the town of Andrews and about 20 miles northwest of Midland.

The deep project is two miles northwest of the Mabes (San Andres) field which produces from pay above 5,000 feet.

Glasscock Wildcat Is Flowing To Test From Shale Section

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-B Cross, wildcat and indicated discovery in Northeast Glasscock County, 14 miles northwest of Garden City, was flowing to test natural at last report.

Operator had plugged back to 8,200 feet after drilling to total depth of 11,195 feet in the Ellenburger where water was developed.

Casing was perforated from 9,804 to 9,880 feet. The well was swabbed for 32 barrels of oil in two hours. After the two hours of swabbing, the well kicked off and started flowing. The first 30 minutes it made four barrels of oil. It was still flowing at last report.

The oil is coming from a shale section, either lower Permian or upper Pennsylvanian.

Location is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 17, block 35, T-2-S, T-6-P survey and 14 miles northwest of Garden City.

McGowen Schedules Shallow Wildcat In SE Culberson Area

Thirty-five miles north of Kent and in Southeast Culberson County, R. B. McGowen, Jr. and others of Monahan's spotted location for a shallow wildcat.

It will be drilled as No. 1 Roundsville to 1,500 feet. Cable tools will be used.

Drillsite is 1,650 feet from north and 2,970 feet from west lines of section 13, block 108, pal survey and 35 miles north of Kent. It is on a 960-acre lease.

Sandor To Deepen Depleted Discovery In Crockett Area

Sandor Petroleum Company of Ahilene will re-enter and drill out a depleted upper Clear Fork discovery in the Nogle field of Northwest Crockett County to test the Strawn reef lime to 4,650 feet.

It is No. 2 Boucaren Heirs and is located 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 29, block GC, W-2-WT survey. It is a northwest offset to the same operator's No. 1 Boucaren, a recently completed Strawn discovery in the field.

M&M Production Company originally drilled the work-over project as its No. 2-B Boucaren and completed it in the upper Clear Fork at 3,938 to 4,015 feet. It was a failure in the Ellenburger to 7,290 feet.

W-C Pecos Field Gets New Oiler, Outpost Location

The Fort Stockton field of West-Central Pecos County has gained a new producer and location for an outpost to production.

The new oiler is Flaxier Oil Company of Austin No. 1 Downing, 330 feet from south and 333.8 feet from east and west lines of the lease in section 10, block 146, T-8-SL survey.

The well flowed 24 hours through a one-quarter inch choke to make an initial production of 139.80 barrels of oil and no water, naturally. Gas-oil ratio was 270-1. Gravity of the petroleum was 31.5 degrees.

Top of pay is 2,860 feet and total depth is 2,903 feet. Five and one-half inches of pay is shown. (Continued On Page 14)

Four Killed When Crash At Crossing Derails Crack Train

GAITHERSBURG, MD. — (AP) — A train-auto collision in near-freezing rain and fog here Wednesday night killed the car's four occupants, derailed the train and injured about a dozen crewmen and passengers.

The train, the Baltimore & Ohio's West Virginian, was on its way to Parkersburg, W. Va., from Washington, D. C., some 25 miles to the southeast. A railroad spokesman said the locomotive and tender and seven of its eight cars jumped the rails when the auto jammed a switch.

Police Lt. Paul W. Watkins identified the dead as Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, their son, Pete, about 30, and Upton Harding, about 35. Watkins said the engineer and fireman, identified as R. G. Morgan and P. B. Frye, were taken to Washington's Suburban Hospital. At least four injured passengers, one reported in serious condition, also were admitted there.

If the value of the 1952-53 dollars is taken as 100, the 1951 dollars were worth 137.9 cents and those of 1952, 53 cents.

O'Dwyer Seeking Vatican Annulment Of Marriage Vows

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexico's Roman Catholic Archbishop Luis Maria Martinez says the Vatican is being asked to annul the marriage of former U. S. Ambassador William O'Dwyer and his wife, Sloan.

They were granted a Catholic separation January 17. At that time, O'Dwyer, once mayor of New York, said the "eventual outcome of our marriage rests in the hands of the ecclesiastical authorities." O'Dwyer indicated Wednesday he has acquired a permanent resident status in Mexico since his recent resignation as U. S. ambassador but did not say what business he is pursuing here.

Jury Service Nears For Georgia Women

ATLANTA — (AP) — Jury service for Georgia women has been approved by both branches of the Georgia Legislature.

But they are separate bills which still require action in the opposite branch and one of the other must now pass the House or Senate before Georgia is removed from the list of five states which still bar women from juries.

Red Chinese Brass Reported Investing Funds In Hong Kong

TAIPEH, FORMOSA — (AP) — The Central Daily News Thursday asserted leading communists in South China are investing money at Hong Kong and Macao secretly because they fear a Nationalist invasion of the mainland.

The Nationalist government's official newspaper said investors included Gen. Yeh Chien-ying, former chief of staff of the Communist armies and now Red boss of South China. Most of the Communist investments, made through private contacts, were in real estate, the paper said.

UN Allies Expect Voice In Decision On China Blockade

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA — (AP) — Australia and the other United Nations fighting in Korea expect the United States to consult fully with them before considering a blockade of Communist China, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies told a press conference Thursday.

"All of us would expect to be consulted on a matter of that kind," he said, "and I don't think there is any doubt we would be."

"Marriage is wonderful," sighed the screen's Tarzan, "It's the only way for an actor to live. Otherwise he can become a bum."

Actor John Agar's Tippy Episodes Due Settlement May 9

SANTA MONICA, CALIF. — (AP) — Actor John Agar, 31, has a court date May 9 for settlement of tippy episodes.

Currently he is serving four months in county jail for violation of probation granted in 1951 after two drunk driving convictions.

This term was imposed after he was arrested here January 22 in a similar case Wednesday, he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and driving without an operator's license. His attorneys said he would waive a jury trial on these charges.

Superior Judge Thurlow T. Taft decided to dispose of all three new cases May 9, about the time Agar will have finished his present term.

Past Presidents Hear Mrs. Joseph Perkins

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, outstanding Texas clubwoman, was guest speaker for a luncheon meeting of the Past Presidents Club Wednesday in the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Speaking on fine arts in the Southwest, Mrs. Perkins took as the theme for her discussion the title of Tom Lea's book, "The Wonderful Country."

She told of her visit with the author in El Paso last week and of her visits to Hermasillo and Guaymas in the old state of Sonora, locales mentioned in Lea's book.

Mrs. Perkins also stressed the current democracy in the fine arts, which now can be enjoyed by everyone instead of a privileged few. As examples, she reminded her audience that radio now carries opera into homes throughout the nation and that the New York Central Railroad has reproductions of famous paintings in its day coaches.

Mrs. Perkins is vice president of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, directing the women's division in the state. She is a past president of the Sbs Federation of Women's Clubs, the Texas Federation of Music Clubs and has served on the state board of education.

Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, club president, presided for the meeting. Mrs. Bryan Denson was appointed press book chairman.

... Guilty of treason.

Ex-Sergeant Held Guilty Of Treason

NEW YORK—(AP)—Former Army Sgt. John David Provo was convicted Wednesday night of treason. He faces a sentence that could be anything from five years in prison to death for treachery while a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II.

A Federal Court jury found him guilty of four overt acts of treason. It was unable to agree on three other treason allegations.

The good-looking, tall and square-jawed veteran was pale and tense as the court clerk read the jury's findings in detail. Judge Gregory F. Noonan scheduled a hearing on defense motions and sentencing for next Tuesday. The 35-year-old defendant was taken to the Federal House of Detention.

One of the charges on which Provo was convicted was that he was at least partly responsible for the death of a fellow prisoner of war, Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Sweeney, Ia. Thomson was executed by the Japanese on Oct. 26, 1942, after Provo, who was in favor with the prison camp commanders, reported him as uncooperative and anti-Japanese.

'SOCIALISM!' OPPONENTS CRY— Sharp Protests Are Voiced On State-Owned Hotel Plans

AUSTIN—(AP)—A socialism versus free enterprise issue was dumped into the laps of Texas lawmakers Thursday.

The House State Affairs Committee voted 10-8 for a bill to kill a parks board proposal for three one-million-dollar hotels.

Witnesses cried the plan approached socialism and put the state in competition with private hotel and motel business.

The fight now goes to the floor of the House.

Opponents of a bill by Rep. Jack Flak forbidding the board to finance construction of any lodge with more than 12 units belittled the socialism charge at a hearing Wednesday night.

They made no reply to a claim that if hotels were built on state property there would be no way to stop mingling of the races.

The parks board wants to issue revenue bonds, to be bought by private interests, for building 100-room hotels at Lake Inks State Park at Lake Texoma; Possum Kingdom State Park near Graham. Private operators would run the hotels.

If Flak's bill is passed by the Legislature, the board would be prohibited from issuing the bonds. Flak told the committee the main object of his bill was to "keep the state out of the hotel business in direct competition" with individuals.

Rep. Richard Stark of Gainesville, leading the opposition, cracked back that it was "free enterprise" money that would build the hotels, and that the state wouldn't be in the innkeeping business.

E. A. Camp, Rockdale attorney, told the committee the parks board plan was "socialistic in tendency and undemocratic. The people are getting tired of this kind of thing."

"Besides," he asked, "How will the folks on Possum Trot in the Brazos bottoms benefit from it?"

Camp said he represented the island lodges on the Colorado River. He urged the committee to help keep the state from "lending its credit to a tax-free business in competition with private enterprise."

Price supports should provide insurance against disaster," Benson said. "Those that encourage un-economic production, resulting in continuing heavy surpluses and subsidies, should be avoided."

Addressing some 3,000 farmers of the Central Livestock Association here Wednesday night, Benson promised that farm support programs would be carried out faithfully by the new Administration. He said, "There will be no blanket promises to embark on actions which we have neither authority to invoke nor the means to implement."

"Inefficiency," he said, "should not be subsidized in agriculture or any other economy, and relief programs should be operated as such. Too many Americans are calling on Washington to do for them what they should be willing to do for themselves."

The secretary said declining cattle prices had been in effect when he came into office in January. He called the situation an "unorderly and temporary adjustment" resulting from the big jump in numbers of cattle the last few years.

petition with private enterprise. "The bond people and some hotel people just want to get a free ride," Camp said.

Archie Welch of Denison, a former tourist court operator, raised the race issue. He said developments such as the parks board plan could not prevent "intermingling of the races" since it would be state-sponsored.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson is putting U. S. farmers on notice that they must depend more upon themselves than upon government subsidies in the future.

Rep. Richard Stark of Gainesville, leading the opposition, cracked back that it was "free enterprise" money that would build the hotels, and that the state wouldn't be in the innkeeping business.

E. A. Camp, Rockdale attorney, told the committee the parks board plan was "socialistic in tendency and undemocratic. The people are getting tired of this kind of thing."

Upton County Youth Takes Top Honors In Sheep Division

McCAMEY—Wayne Kinmer, 10-year-old Upton County 4-H Club boy, carried away the top laurels at the 24th annual Southwestern Livestock Show here when his single mutton purebred, a heavyweight, won the grand championship ribbon in the sheep division.

Bob Garrett of Coahoma exhibited the reserve grand champion lamb, a lightweight Southdown crossbred. Other winners in the single mutton crossbred lamb division included Carolyn Branch, Upton County 4-H, who took fourth place. The only exhibitor in the pen of three single mutton lambs, she was declared the winner in that division.

Richard Mueller of the Van Horn FFA won first in the single mutton crossbred competition and Buddy Bryan from Reeves County finished second.

Russia Breaks Relations With Republic Of Israel

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Soviet Union broke off diplomatic relations with Israel Wednesday night and the eight adults and one child at the Israeli legation here began packing at once to leave Moscow.

The Soviets acted, a government note to Israel said, because of the bomb explosion at the Soviet legation in Tel Aviv, Israel's capital, Monday.

The note, which Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky handed to Israel's minister here, Samuel Eliash, accused Israeli government leaders of inciting hostile action against the Soviet Union.

The Soviet government, the note concluded, "recalls the envoy of the Soviet Union and personnel of the Soviet legation (at Tel Aviv), . . . breaks off relations with the Israeli government. . . . states that, the further stay in Moscow of the Israeli legation is impossible, and demands that the personnel of the legation leave the Soviet Union without delay."

The Soviets said three Russians, including the wife of Soviet Minister Pavel I. Yershov, were injured in the explosion. The note made no mention of the legation cook, Sofia Vana, who was the only casualty still reported in serious condition.

The note turned aside subsequent explanations and apologies by the Israeli government and accused it of falsehoods, double dealing, and a "systematic fanning of hatred and enmity toward the Soviet Union and an incitement to hostile actions against the Soviet Union."

Israeli police were accused of covering up the tracks of the crime committed against the Soviet Union and at evading the responsibility the Israeli government bears for the crime.

The Russian note said it was an "indisputable fact" that representatives of the Israeli government had taken part "in a systematic fanning of hatred and enmity toward the Soviet Union and an incitement to hostile actions."

Israel's apologies, the note continued, "are a falsehood aimed at covering up the tracks of the crime committed against the Soviet Union and at evading the responsibility the Israeli government bears for the crime."

The bombing apparently was in retaliation for the recent anti-Zionist campaign in Moscow.

The break ended almost five years of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The Soviets, on May 17, 1948, were the third nation to recognize the then two-day-old Jewish state.

The Russian note said it was an "indisputable fact" that representatives of the Israeli government had taken part "in a systematic fanning of hatred and enmity toward the Soviet Union and an incitement to hostile actions."

Israel's apologies, the note continued, "are a falsehood aimed at covering up the tracks of the crime committed against the Soviet Union and at evading the responsibility the Israeli government bears for the crime."

The Israeli government began an immediate roundup of suspects, both Jews and Arabs, and said it would pay reparations to the Soviets. However, there has been no announcement that the case has been solved.

Retail Beef Prices End Five-Week Drop

By The Associated Press
After declining for five weeks in a row, retail beef prices this week leveled off and turned irregular—and even advanced as much as 10 cents a pound in some places.

Pork was generally unchanged to a few cents a pound higher, lamb off slightly in many markets, veal and poultry about steady. Eggs and most fresh fruits cost a few cents more as a rule and fresh vegetables showed little change.

Major store chains and independent markets said last week's de-control of meat and fish prices had no observable effect on price tags.

"The upturn in beef prices was about due in the natural course of events," said the meat buyer for a large eastern chain. "Beef prices dropped pretty spectacularly in the last few weeks and we've sold a tremendous amount of steaks and chops. A good part of the topheavy supply seems to have been cleared from market channels. The beef market is beginning to show signs of strength again."

President Refuses To Void Rosenbergs' Death Sentence

By DONALD SANDERS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower has refused to spare the lives of the Rosenbergs, whose controversial death sentences for atomic spying he termed just punishment for a crime which "could very well result in the death of many, many thousands of innocent citizens."

A New York attorney for the husband and wife, Emanuel Bloch, said he would carry a new appeal to the Supreme Court, which on two previous occasions has refused to review the case. The court almost never changes its mind in such circumstances.

Silence In Sing Sing
The Rosenbergs—Julius, 34, and Ethel, 36—received the word that the President had turned down their appeal in the death cell block at New York's Sing Sing Prison. They had no comment. They have insisted they are innocent.

Their electrocution, originally set for January 24, had been delayed by Judge Irving R. Kaufman while the presidential appeal was pending. The judge's stay expires four days hence; he will then fix a new date for the death sentence to be carried out.

If it is, the Rosenbergs will be the first American civilians to pay with their lives for the crime of espionage against the U. S.

Reds Make Hay
That fact has figured largely in the world-wide propaganda campaign, sparked by Communists, to save them. Pickets paraded in front of the White House. Others marched in New York's Times Square. In Paris, 400 Communists called at the U. S. Embassy to protest. The Daily Worker, Communist party paper in New York, ran a "Save the Rosenbergs" campaign.

Some non-Communists, too, thought the death sentence was too severe. Among these: scientists Albert Einstein and Dr. Harold C. Urey, both of whom contributed to early work on the atomic bomb.

Most of these appeals for clemency were directed to Harry Truman, who did not get around to a decision, because the Justice Department still was studying the case, before he yielded the presidency to Eisenhower.

Attorney General Brownell carried the Rosenberg case papers to the White House about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. Little more than half an hour later, the President's decision was announced in a statement.

"I have given earnest consideration to the records in the case of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and to the appeals for clemency made in their behalf," the President said.

Ethel Rosenberg

Julius Rosenberg

"The nature of the crime for which they have been found guilty and sentenced far exceeds that of the taking of the life of another citizen; it involves the deliberate betrayal of the entire nation and could very well result in the death of many, many thousands of innocent citizens."

Had Full Justice
"By their act these two individuals have in fact betrayed the cause of freedom for which free men are fighting and dying at this very hour."

The statement went on: The Rosenbergs were given a jury trial and duly convicted; the conviction was upheld in four appeals; the two "have been accorded their full measure of justice; there is no new evidence and there are no mitigating circumstances which would justify changing the sentence."

"I have determined that it is my duty," Eisenhower said, "in the interest of the people of the United States, not to set aside the verdict of their representatives."

The Rosenbergs were sentenced April 5, 1950. Martin Sobell, 35, who was tried with them, was sentenced to 30 years in prison. David Greenglass, Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, also got 30 years after furnishing key testimony.

Greenglass testified the Rosenbergs persuaded him to turn over wartime atomic bomb secrets for relay to a Russian official in New York. He learned the secrets while stationed at the Los Alamos, N. Y., A-bomb center in 1944.

Rosenberg is an electrical engineer. He and his wife, the mother of two small sons, were both born in New York City.

The gist of the campaign to save their lives was that the death penalty was unduly severe and that they had been convicted largely on the unsupported testimony of Greenglass.

21 Car Thefts Bared By Dallas' Teenage 'Gooftball' Gangsters

DALLAS—(AP)—Federal charges have been filed against the polio-crippled, 18-year-old alleged leader of Dallas' youthful "gooftball" gang and police Thursday said they had admissions from 14 teenagers they stole 21 automobiles.

The war against young offenders heightened Wednesday when a federal hearing was set February 18 for the alleged "gooftball" leader, Walter M. (Curley) Ramaden.

The crippled youth was charged with violation of the Marihuana Tax Act and forging a prescription for desoxin.

Police meanwhile said they were continuing to question 19 youngsters accused of getting the tablets by forging doctors' signatures to stolen prescription blanks.

Ramaden, on probation on a federal auto theft charge, may have a lot of company in jail. Police said they had admissions from 14 North Dallas youngsters, 12 to 16 years old, that they stole 21 autos since November for joy rides.

Two of the younger boys, detectives said, actually learned to drive behind the wheels of stolen vehicles.

Increased Beef Supply Forecast

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—All indications point to an increased livestock supply for 1953, with the largest benefit for the consumer in the form of beef, G. F. Chambers told Western meat packers Thursday.

The increased beef supply is expected to counteract a probable drop in pork production, Chambers said in an address.

Chambers said meat imports from Mexico, New Zealand and Canada will have "a severely depressing effect on our domestic industry."

"We feel that any temporary advantage gained by a packer or processor through the use of cheap foreign material will be counterbalanced by tearing down domestic markets and loss of wages to American wage-earners," he said.

Lincoln, Usually Pictured As Lonely, Melancholy, Had Hearty Sense Of Humor

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Almost all of the pictures of the Civil War's tall, gaunt President show an incredibly melancholy man, burdened with an almost overpowering loneliness.

Certainly nowhere in the pictures is there anything to hint that Abraham Lincoln had a laugh, as one man described it, as unrestrained as the neigh of a wild horse.

Nor do the pictures suggest this description. "His features were lighted, his eyes radiant, he responded to sunny remarks humorously, then dryly, and thenceforward was cordial and hearty."

Posing for pictures was a tedious process. Robert Lincoln said his father invariably lapsed into melancholy during the ordeal.

Discovery of what may be another photo of Lincoln, long unrecognized, was announced Wednesday by Wayne C. Grover, architect of the United States. The picture is a scene at Gettysburg, Pa., on the day of Lincoln's address, taken by Matthew Brady, noted Civil War photographer. Grover said one figure has been identified tentatively as Lincoln.

Had the flashbulb been around in those days, enabling alert photographers to catch each fleeting change in expression, the pictorial record—and possibly our impressions of Lincoln—might be different.

Again, maybe it is just as well the flashbulb came later. For the truth is, we Americans don't like too much levity in our chief executives. A sense of humor, yes; but we want it well under control.

Lincoln's love of a good story brought repeated charges that he was a buffoon, a coarse comedian who laughed as men died on the battlefield.

Lincoln kept right on telling stories. Thursday, on his birthday, let's sample some of his humor, picked out of Carl Sandburg's splendid biography.

Rough On Orators
Describing an orator, Lincoln said: "He can compress the most words into the smallest ideas of any man I ever met."

Again, Lincoln pictured a windbag "who mounted to the rostrum, threw back his head, shined his eyes, and left the consequences to God."

An old friend, a congressman, got this reception: "Come in here and tell me what you know. It won't take long."

A woman who asked him to intercede with the War Department was told:

"It's no use, madam, for me to go. They do things in their own way over there, and I don't amount to pig tracks in the War Department."

Lincoln's humor was a part of him, and it became an increasingly important part as the Civil War wore on.

Congressman Isaac N. Arnold once chided him for joking when the war looked bleakest. Arnold then heard something that fits in better with the photos we have of Lincoln.

"Mr. Arnold," the President cried, "if I could not get momentary respite from the crushing burden I am constantly carrying, my heart would break."

World Bank Extends Credit To Anti-Moscow Yugoslavia

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The World Bank announced Thursday it is making a loan equal to $30,000,000 to the Communist but anti-Moscow government of Yugoslavia.

The loan, in 10 European currencies, will be used to complete 27 projects in seven sectors of the Yugoslav economy during the next two years, the bank announcement said. Completion of these projects, it added, will help Marshal Tito in his plan to boost Yugoslavia's overall industrial production 30 per cent by 1955.

Additionally, the economic improvements are expected to help Yugoslavia earn $50,000,000 a year in foreign trade, cutting down her present dollar deficit. The principal export increases, the bank said, will be in aluminum, steel tubes, copper and cable, and coal.

This is the third World Bank loan to Yugoslavia. The first, approximately three million dollars in 1949, has been repaid. The second, in 1952, was for $26,000,000 in European currencies and covered a wide range of projects, most of them linked with projects now to be aided.

Most of the funds for the new loan have been made available to the bank from capital subscriptions in gold and currencies in its 54 member nations.

The loan is for 25 years and pays four and seven-eighths per cent interest. It is to be repaid at six-month intervals, beginning Aug. 15, 1956. The loan was recommended by a bank mission which spent three months in Yugoslavia last year.

Classroom Shortage Increase Seen If Local Funds Hiked

AUSTIN—Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, said Thursday that plans for easing the critical classroom shortage will be seriously handicapped if local school districts are required to pay a bigger share of the minimum foundation program.

"Local schools already are paying more than 40 per cent of the cost of public education in Texas," Tennyson said, "although those who want to re-arrange the school financing pattern cite only the figures showing that local schools pay about 30 per cent of the minimum foundation program cost. They fail to cite the cost of current operations and repayment of bonded indebtedness."

The big difference in percentages lies in the fact that the minimum foundation program does not represent total school costs. Local school districts must pay many additional expenses, including the cost of new buildings and facilities.

11 Injured When Flash Fire Sweeps American Freighter

TOKYO —(AP)— The U. S. Navy Thursday night said crew members of the American freighter President Pierce late Thursday put out a flash fire and escorting ships are bringing in nine American passengers and two injured crewmen.

Navy headquarters at Yokosuka Naval Base near Tokyo said a Martin Mariner plane radioed there was no sign of fire on the Pierce and it was proceeding slowly toward Yokohama.

A Navy spokesman said the Navy transport George Clymer and an unidentified tanker are accompanying the freighter. An explosion-kindled flash fire swept through two of the Pierce's holds 100 miles southeast of Yokohama.

The passengers include seven American women. At least two are service wives on their way to join their husbands in Japan.

They were identified as Mrs. Shirley Collins, wife of Lt. Loree Collins, Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Suzanne Haight, wife of Ensign Warren Haight, Santa Rosa, Calif.

The Navy reported the vessel had developed a slight list, presumably from water pumped into the holds to quench the blaze. It was not reported what had caused the explosion.

The American President Line freighter was enroute from San Francisco to Yokohama with nine passengers and about 52 crewmen. She carried general cargo.

A radio message from the 7,963-ton Pierce said "numerous burns" were sustained, apparently by crewmen, but that the freighter continued under way.

Casualties in Korea

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Department of Defense Wednesday night announced the following Texas battle casualties in the Korean area: Killed in action: Pfc. Wilford Johnson, Houston (previously missing). Wounded, Army: M. Sgt. Lorenza Johnson, Henderson. Wounded, Marine Corps: Pfc. Franklin D. Gillespie, Dallas; Cpl. Ramon Suarez, Brownsville; Pfc. Jackson B. Walls, Fort Worth.

Korean Casualties Rise 395 In Week

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Defense Department reported Wednesday U. S. battle casualties in Korea increased by 395 during the week ended last Friday, raising the total to 129,819.

Of the total, 22,890 are listed as battle deaths and 9,260 as missing.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Tommy Armour, the golfing immortal, could say it with more authority and from a more professional viewpoint than the rest of us; nevertheless, we all agree:

He's coaching the champion of whatever tournament Midland's pretty Pat Garner chooses to enter next.

Armour, of course, can forego guessing because he's had Miss Garner under his tutelage this week while the rest of us can only assume that if the young Midlander stands at the next-to-highest step on the golfing ladder, after a month-long Florida tour, then the top is next.

From a finalist role in the Palm Beach Women's Tournament last week, Miss Garner took first measure toward scoring a complete victory in the next trial by going to Armour, at Boca Raton, Fla., for a cure of whatever could be wrong with her game.

What could? Miss Garner's game reached near perfection (until the final Palm Beach round) toward the time she finished the Florida tour.

But, just as a composer George Gershwin used to finish up a masterpiece then travel to Europe for lessons, so do our best golfers. That keeps them at peak—or, if possible, continually progressing, which Miss Garner proved of herself this winter.

She started the Florida trail with a blazing 74, finishing second (in a field of pros) for the opening day of the Tampa Women's Open. She, however, skied to an 87 next and wound up with a 77 the final 18 holes, her total of 238 merely registered as one of the field.

But that was the start up the ladder.

Afterwards, she edged Charlotte de Cosen as the amateurs paired off in the Helen Lee Doherty Tournament in Miami, gaining the quarter-final round.

Teaming, then, with Marjorie Lindsay McMillan, Miss Garner won a semi-final position in the Women's International Four-Ball meet at Hollywood. The duo counted among their victims the pairs of Frances Rich-Mary Sargent and Betty Rowland-Kathy McKinnon.

The former twosome were beaten, 3 and 1, the quarter-finalists by 1-up in 28 holes. It was here that Polly Riley, a particular roadblock on Miss Garner's trip, teamed with Bea McWane to score a semi-final

Pat Garner

One more step up victory and oust the Garner-McMillan duo.

The Midlander, however, came back better than ever at the Palm Beach tourney to record the medalist's score, a one-over-par 73.

After that at Palm Beach, Miss Garner rolled her fees by the wayside day-to-day—first Mary Agnes Wall by 1-up in 19 holes, Bonnie Randolph by 6 and 5, Carol Diring by 5 and 3 and Jane Thomas 3 and 2.

The rest has been told, except that the final's foe for Miss Garner proved to be Polly Riley and that she lost 3 and 2 in a cold round for both of them.

The eventual winner, from Fort Worth, scored the three decisive points on the back-nine holes, taking them with par figures.

Miss Garner now has about a month to put into more practice rounds what she learned from the Boca Raton master, the king of pro golfers in the 20's.

She returns home Friday and isn't due for any more tournaments this month, but after that, a bevy of Spring tourneys, in Texas, California and over the South, are not far away.

Nor is winning a championship which has evaded her this year.

SWC Among Nine Drawing NCAA Byes

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Nine conference champions will get byes in the first round of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball Tournament.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said Thursday the first round games will be played March 9 at sites convenient to the participants.

The regional playoffs will be held, March 13-14, and the final, March 17-18.

A total of 23 teams—14 league champions and nine at large or independents—will take part. Idaho State is the only team qualified thus far. The Idahoans clinched their NCAA berth Tuesday. They beat Colorado College, 82-65, to clinch the Rocky Mountain Conference championship, thus automatically qualifying for an NCAA spot.

Idaho State will meet an independent team in the opening round. The site will not be picked until the opponent has been selected.

Other conferences whose champions will play first round games include New England Conference, Mid-American, Border, and Middle Atlantic. All will have independent teams for opponents.

Champions of these leagues have first round byes: Mountain States Conference, Eastern International League, Big Ten, Big Seven, Southern, Southeastern, Southwest, Missouri Valley and Pacific Coast.

Byers said he believes "most" independents would play first round games.

West's Best Four Five of the independents will come from Eastern NCAA districts and four from Western districts.

The regional playoffs will be held at Raleigh, N. C., Chicago, Manhattan, Kas., and Corvallis, Ore.

The finals will be in Kansas City. This season's tournament differs somewhat from the 1952 meet. That involved only 18 teams, with 10 conference champions automatically qualifying.

In major games Wednesday night included Seton Hall, sparked by Walt Duker's 26 points, beat Siena, 62-49, for its twenty-third straight victory; Princeton beat Cornell 59-50; Harvard nipped Dartmouth, 50-46, to snap a 17-game losing streak in the Ivy League; Colgate edged Army, 75-74; Holy Cross downed Hamilton, 77-65; Navy nipped Penn, 62-60; North Carolina State walloped Villanova, 94-72; Notre Dame whipped Louisville, 73-62, and Auburn took Mississippi, 72-65.

The longest winning streak in San Jose State football history was a string of 20 compiled during the 1939 and 1940 seasons.

LONG VICTORY DROUTH BROKEN

CHICAGO—(AP)—After 45 straight defeats, and almost three years, the University of Chicago basketball team finally has tasted victory again.

The harassed Maroons rose up Wednesday night to defeat the Navy Pier Branch of the University of Illinois, 65-52.

The Chicagoans, once members of the Big Ten, last won a basketball victory Feb. 25, 1950, over Coe College.

18 Inches Of Snow Reported At Ski Area

SANTA FE—Good skiing was in prospect for this weekend at the Santa Fe chair lift ski area.

Eighteen inches of fresh powder had fallen on a three-foot base Wednesday with snow still continuing, it was reported.

Kid Stays Champ By TKO In Tenth

CHICAGO—(AP)—Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, fresh from obliterating TV's top boxing attraction, the cruelly outclassed Chuck Davey, clamored Thursday for a shot at the middleweight crown against Randy Turpin or Bobo Olson.

The Davey invincibility myth was exploded Wednesday night by a tenth-round technical knockout in Chicago Stadium.

A crowd of 17,450 paid a record welter bout gross gate of $275,454. It's now middleweights for me," said the jaunty Gavilan, unmarked after his triumph. "I want take on Turpin or Olson. Either one after this tournament business."

Before Davey, gasping desperately for breath on his stool was unable to come out for the tenth round. Gavilan had felled him four times—once in the third and three times in the brutal ninth.

Gavilan weighed 146 1/2. Davey 147.

On points, Davey was making a battle of it. This was because Gavilan let the blond gamester get off the hook in the third round and then fouled around by switching sputpaw himself in the fifth and part of the sixth round.

Gavilan Plays Gavilan conceded after the fight that he knew he could put Davey away any time after the third. Even fighting as a left-hander, Gavilan was accorded no worse than a draw in the fifth and sixth and one official even gave him both rounds. But the maneuver underplayed the fact the Kid was not rushing a knockout.

It was Davey's trainer, Isy Kline, who prevented Chuck from staggering out for the tenth round, as Davey wanted to do.

Kline said, "He was gasping for breath from a punch to the Adam's apple. If Davey went out for that tenth, he'd have been killed."

The beginning of the end came in the eighth when Gavilan opened a gash on Davey's right cheekbone. Davey came out fighting in the ninth. He started exchanging punches with the Kid and thereby signed his own death warrant.

A jolting right floored Davey in middle of the ring. The birdies still were singing when Chuck arose. Bang! Gavilan smashed a left hook that floored him again for nine.

Gavilan moved in for the kill. His right-hand punches blurred in a tattoo on the groggy Davey's head and sent him reeling through the

Odessa Quint Loses, 69-52, To Engineers

Midland's Rotary Engineers, eager to set themselves up as the top TAAAF quintet in West Texas, added another city league leader to their victims here Wednesday night when they triumphed over Bill Hale Motors of Odessa, 69-52.

Both Rotary and Hale are current leaders in their respective cities.

Rotary beat San Angelo's leader, McInyre's, previously. Rotary had little trouble with the Odessa quint while all eight of its players chalked up points. Paul Haskins, a playmaker generally, came through as the top Engineer pointmaker with 20. He bowed, however, to Bobby Sims of the visitors in individual scoring. The Odessans netted 21.

The Engineers garnered a half-time lead of 30-25.

MORGAN OUSTED—

San Antonio Flyweight First For Midland's Chilly Reeves

FORT WORTH—One Midland boxer was eliminated Wednesday night and another sees his first action in the state Golden Gloves Tournament Thursday night.

Both are members of the five-man Odessa squad entered here.

Bantamweight Pat Morgan, making his first start as an open class battler, dropped a technical knockout loss to Ray Thornton of Abilene in the opening round.

Flyweight Chilly Reeves, here for his second bid in a state tourney, takes on Tommy Ramirez of San Antonio Thursday night in an opening round battle. Reeves will rule a slight favorite, holding a weight and reach advantage over his foe.

Reeves had trouble making the 115-pound flyweight limit; but an extra day of rest allowed him to strengthen up for the bout. He will holst a spare 11 pounds a round the ring over the 102-pound San Antonian.

Morgan, Odessa regional novice titlist as a featherweight, was the only Odessa loser on Wednesday's first day card. He also had trouble making his weight and still was weak for his bout after the strenuous work necessary to trim down to the 115-pound limit.

And to make matters worse, he drew Abilene's Ray Thornton, one of the title favorites, in his first bout.

The end came when the referee stopped it with only 10 seconds to go in the second round. A cut on Morgan's mouth prompted the referee's decision.

But it was fast and furious while it lasted. Morgan charged the veteran

Thornton from the start and slugged it out in a furious exchange, with no real advantage apparent for either battler.

Thornton's experience and a vicious body attack proved Morgan's undoing in the second round, however. The Midlander was staggered and hung on twice, but was still in no real danger when it was stopped.

Odessa had two winners Wednesday. Lightweight Robert Rigby floored Gene West of Brownwood three times before getting a TKO in the third and Welterweight Ben Maxwell outboxed Dallas Raymond Menzel for unanimous decision.

Odessa's team wound up here with five boxers. Gerald Reeves, featherweight; Bruce Price, lightweight; and Thomas Brown, heavyweight, were unable to make the trip at the last moment.

Heavy Fighters Get Chance In Golden Gloves Thursday

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The spotlight swings to the heavyweights Thursday night in the Texas Golden Gloves Tournament. They'll have to be good to match the thrills their lighter colleagues provided in Wednesday night's openers.

But the fans love the big boys and Thursday night's card included two heavyweight battles. Bill Napier, 190-pound slugger from Corpus Christi, takes on Jimmy Williams, a 198-pounder is a member of the Texas Tech football team at Lubbock.

In the other heavyweight go, Pat Cox, University of Houston football player who weighed in at 214, is up against Waco's 207-pound John Meatas.

A fat boy from Waco and a wiry flyweight from Brownwood were favorites of the sparse first-night crowd of 3,335.

The fat boy was 158-pound George McCClinton, Waco middleweight who just couldn't be hurt. Favored Robert Agee, Fort Worth 154-pounder pounded merrily at McCClinton's broad middle. But McCClinton ignored the blows of the lighter, wry Agee, won by decision, and emerged a strong contender among middleweights.

Slyker Looks Good The bantamweight who set the Will Rogers Coliseum crowd on his heels was John Slyker, 117-pounder from Brownwood. Slyker accomplished a fighter's dream: His first haymaker knocked his opponent The one-blow victory over Matt Quigley, Austin 114-pounder, went into the books as a knockout in 20 seconds of the first round. But 10 of those seconds were taken up in the referee's count. Many fans missed the action entirely.

The fistcuffs honor of Cut and Shoot, Texas, was upheld by Roy Harris, 173-pound light-heavyweight fighting out of Houston. Harris dished Mickey McGrath, Brownwood 172-pounder, but the fighting Irishman gave the backwoods boy a hard go. Harris won the middleweight title last year, fighting out of Brownwood, but a weight gain moved him up a bracket.

The first night provided little clue to whether El Paso will keep its team title. Two El Paso battlers won, but Abilene, Commerce, Dallas, Houston, Odessa, Waco and Wichita Falls matched that score to produce an eight-way tie.

Altogether, there were 10 knockouts Wednesday night. Donald Barnet, 113-pound flyweight from Wichita Falls, scored a technical knockout over Jimmy Mullins, 112. Abilene, in 1:15 seconds of the second round. Pete Melendez, El Paso 112-pounder and major flyweight contender, easily disposed of Jesse Alaniz, Waco 111-pounder, with a TKO in 1:40 seconds of the second round.

All three bantamweight bouts produced knockouts—Slyker's one-punch victory over Quigley; Ray Thornton, Abilene 117-pounder, at 1:50 seconds of the second round over Pat Morgan, Odessa 115-pounder, and Woody Keller, San Antonio 118-pounder, knocked out Wichita Falls' 119-pound Dickie Dm Wood in 55 seconds of the second round.

Among the lightweights, Odessa's Robert Rigby TKO'd Gene West of Brownwood, and Harry Dillender of Corpus Christi TKO'd William (Spud) Green of San Angelo. Middleweight Don Parks of Houston won by technical knockout over Maurillo Ortiz of Corpus Christi. Light-heavy Billy Bruton of Waco won by technical knockout over Fort Worth's Dub Graves, and in the same division, Bryant Clark of Commerce TKO'd El Paso's Raymond Phillips—only El Paso loss of the night.

Three former state champions are on Thursday night's 21-bout card. Henry Miramontes, defending bantamweight champion from Dallas, starts against Waco's Jerry Flanagan. Defending welter champion Pezayras of Amarillo ramps up against Jack Flores of El Paso. And Eugene Cooper of San Antonio, weler titlist in 1948 and middleweight titlist in 1951, goes against Abilene's Lyle Shelton.

He will meet with the committee at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

Fesler told Esil that he was "honored" at the invitation, but that "I came to Minnesota to do a job and I'm not interested in leaving until I do it."

Fesler went to Minnesota after resigning at Ohio State for a brief spell in business.

H. N. (Rusty) Russell resigned at SMU because of what he termed "pressure" from the fans for not winning.

Coach interviewed so far by SMU include Mike Brumbelow, Texas Western; Andy Pilney, backfield coach at Tulane; Milburn Smith, East Texas State, and J. O. Brothers, formerly of Tulsa.

Colorado City 'Duel With Midland Net Team Misses Fire

Tennis matches, like rules, apparently are made to be broken—or so the Midland High School tennis team is finding.

Wednesday's bout with Colorado City never got underway.

The Colorado City team was slated to begin its match with the Bulldog team here at about 2:30 p.m. but it never appeared.

The day before, cold weather forced postponement of the Odessa-Midland duel here.

Coach Frank Ford said that his Midland team was going on with plans to play out the rest of the week's card, a rest match Friday with Odessa here and a visit to San Angelo to tackle the Bobcats there Saturday.

PROVES MARVEL IN MASK After starting 65 successive basketball games for Texas Tech, Paul Nolen, the Red Raiders' six-foot-10 all-American candidate, watched Tech and West Texas State open their game. But eventually, wearing a plastic mask to protect a broken nose, he entered and scored 29 points in 31 minutes to clinch Tech's 79-68 victory.

BRITONS TRY AGAIN LONDON—(AP)—A British expedition left Thursday to make yet another attempt at scaling Mount Everest—the 29,000-foot peak in the Himalayas that never has been conquered.

Four Ex-Champions In Field As Texas Open Starts Round

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A field of 168, including four former champions, all tournament winners along the Winter golf trail and the National Open and National PGA champions, started the search for gold and glory in the Texas Open Thursday.

Jack Burke, Jr., Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., who began a four-tournament winning streak here last year when he took the open's first money with a great 290 for the 72 holes, was one of a host of favorites. Many like Burke's chances of repeating. He's an adept putter and the 6-400-yard Brackenridge Park course with a 36-35-71 par is the place where the best putter comes through.

They like Jimmie Demaree, also of Kiamasha Lake, too. Jimmie, three times runner-up in this hoary tournament—it was started as the first big money event of the Winter tour back in 1922—has been the sensation of the tune-up rounds. He took Brackenridge's par captive by seven strokes and ripped regulation figures of 71 at the Oak Hills County Club by six in pro-amateurs. Jimmie has been over par on only one hole in 36 played. And there's Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., playing his last tournament for a spell. Harper, former National PGA champion, won second at Tucson and first at El Paso, and if he comes through here, could boast an outstanding record indeed, time considered. Harper still favors a sore left forearm and will go home here for a medical check-up.

Julius Boreas of Mid Pines, N. C. National Open champion and Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., National PGA titlist, round out what is considered the strongest array in the Texas Open's history.

Former champs abound Former champions in the field are Burke; E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Ardmore, Okla., who won in 1939 and 1951; Ed Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif., champion in 1947; and Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., who came through in 1949.

Another ailing top-flight is Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. M., who is playing with a swollen right hand. Bolt had to withdraw at El Paso last week when his thumb was mashed by a swinging car door. He has undergone treatment and Wednesday was able to play a round, doing it in 69.

Fifty-two players qualified for the Open in a field of 185 candidates. There are 116 exempt players.

Brackenridge Park course never was in better condition, the weather is very favorable—it will be clear and cool after light rain Wednesday and it would appear that any player failing to equal par might as well start packing for the next stop on the Winter tour.

The February 19 program includes lectures and field demonstrations on ends by Coach Jack Russell, offensive centers and linebacking by Coach Bulldog Turner, pass defense by Coach Jack Wilson, running games by Sauer and linemen's drills by Russell and Turner.

Movies and lectures, on scouting by Coach Jim Crow, passing by Sauer, offensive line play by Russell and pass defense by Wilson, make up the February 20 program along with the Bears' final Spring training squad game that night.

The finals program, February 21, includes a rules interpretations discussion and a panel on the Friday night ball game.

GRADE SCHOOL SHOWDOWN—

DeZavala, Sam Houston Put Win Streaks On Line Friday

Two basketball teams, which have run through five city elementary opponents like bulls in a china shop, Friday swing punches at each other to determine which has the glassier jaw—and to decide which stands on the threshold of the crown room.

The pair, De Zavala and Sam Houston, match five game victory streaks in as many games. And, after Friday's 2:15 p.m. tussle on Sam Houston's court, only one game each remains. The winner, consequently, has almost a clear path to the title.

The two teams in the showdown battle have comparable records, with Chalmers Burke's De Zavala quint boasting a better defense mark and Jerome Blanton's Sam Houston team a better offensive record. In league play De Zavala has allowed only 90 points, an 18-point yield per game, while tallying 203 behind the high-scoring pair of Steve Parris and Santos Franco.

Ronnie Nunnally and Billy Brown have paced Sam Houston to the league's biggest scoring total, 227, a 45.4 standard, while foes retallied with 111 points.

If Sam Houston wins, it still has the roughest road to travel, for in its final game next week the opponent is once-beaten West, a third place club. And at the same time, De Zavala finishes its season against fourth place North, which lost three of its first five games.

North, by the way, is underdog again Friday. It entertains West, the third team in the race to average over 40 points a game. West has lost only to De Zavala, 42-36, and has scored 201 points in five games, besides setting the single-game standard of 87 points two weeks ago.

In another meeting Friday, Lamar will try to trace up its defense, which has yielded 211 points, to test Terminal, the last place club. The game is at Terminal.

Another matches South at Crockett.

Unbeaten Fred Dwyer Seen Among All-Time Top Milers

NEW YORK—(AP)—Is Fred Dwyer, killer of the boards, destined to become America's greatest miler of all time? It's quite possible if he doesn't reach his peak too soon," said Don Ferris Thursday. "He is wonderful and getting better all the time. It's just a matter of when he'll hit his prime."

Ferris is the white-haired father of the National Amateur Athletic Union whose stop-watch eyes have clocked the strikes of the country's best—from Jole Ray back in the twenties, to Glenn Cunningham and Gene Venzke in the thirties and right down to the still active Don Gehman and Fred Will.

"Fred is still very young, just 21," said the long-time secretary of the AAU. "A miler shouldn't

House Leader Sees Nothing New In CIO Labor Proposals

WASHINGTON—(P)—Representative McConnell (R-Pa.) sees "nothing new," he said Thursday in the CIO's proposed changes for the Taft-Hartley labor law.

The chairman of the House Labor Committee made his comment after examining a list of the CIO Executive Board's criticisms of the 1947 Labor-Management Act.

"I am hoping someone will come up with some original, creative thinking about the labor problems confronting the nation," McConnell told newsmen.

The CIO suggested Wednesday the elimination of provisions which give the President the right to seek an 80-day court injunction to delay strikes that create national emergencies.

Other CIO proposals are for: Cutting down government intervention in collective bargaining procedures; removal of bans against closed-shop agreements and other union security provisions; simplification of technicalities, along with the dropping of the requirement for union officers to sign non-Communist oaths before they can use National Labor Relations Board machinery, and speeding up NLRB actions.

The CIO said it still is in favor of outright repeal of the T-H Act but, under present circumstances, will go along with moves to change it.

McConnell said CIO spokesmen are slated to join other union and management groups to present

Roy O. Woodruff, Veteran Michigan Congressman, Dies

WASHINGTON—(P)—Former Rep. Roy O. Woodruff, 76, veteran Republican legislator from Michigan, died Thursday at Walter Reed Hospital.

He served 17 terms in the House before retiring at the close of the 82nd Congress last month.

Woodruff represented the 10th Congressional District.

Woodruff, who won a dentist's degree at the Detroit College of Medicine, first was elected to Congress in 1913 after having served as mayor of Bay City. He represented his district in the 63rd Congress, from 1913 to 1915, and was returned to Washington in 1921 in the 67th Congress. He was reelected each time he ran after that.

A quiet, unassuming man, Woodruff was the sixth ranking member of the House in seniority when he retired and shared with Rep. Daniel Reed (R-NY) the ranking seniority position among Republicans. Woodruff was second in rank among Republicans on the House Ways and Means Committee.

He served with the Army in the Spanish-American War and the first World War, rising to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

D. & D. Group Hears Discussion And Sees Picture On Geology

Discussing the different types of geology and geological structures, C. H. (Hayden) Atchison, district exploration manager for British-American Oil Producing Company, was the second guest speaker for the Midland Desk & Derrick Club at a dinner meeting Wednesday night in the Cactus Club. Atchison is a Midlander.

Shell Oil Company's film, "Prospecting for Petroleum" was also shown. It pictures and describes the search for oil from the time of "surface guessing" to the present day "educated guessing" as to the location of the oil pools underneath the ground.

After the film was shown, Atchison explained how the different formations were caused and the changes the earth is presently undergoing. A question and answer period followed.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Elizabeth Ayles of Honolulu Oil Corporation, who formerly worked with him when he was geologist for that concern.

Mrs. Guyger Selected During the business meeting, conducted by Betty Wright, president, Mrs. Burtner Guyger, Humble Pipe Line Company, was selected as a nominee for the office of regional director to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Doris Whitesides of Dallas who resigned to take a government position in Washington. This office will be filled when votes from this region are counted on February 23.

New members of the club introduced were Elizabeth Anthony, Forest Oil Corporation; Melpa Henshaw, Forest; Doris and Dorothy Squire, Standard Oil Company of Texas; Mrs. Wanda Lewis, Standard of Texas; Helen Herman, Sohio Oil Company; Barbara Sullivan, El Capital Oil Company; Les Baranich, Tri - Service Drilling Company; Myrtle Lightfoot, Superior Oil Company; Maxine Mason, Hughes Tool Company; Alice Brooks, Balboa Oil Company; Frances Luchini, Geo. T. Abell; Ima Harris, Shell Oil Company; Mrs. Billie Schuerm, International Mineral & Chemical Corporation; and Rosemary Hamit, Shell Oil Company.

Others Present Guests attending were Mrs. C. H. (Hayden) Atchison; Jane Simmons, Union Oil Company of California; JoAnn Watts, Starr Gas Company; Doris Doss, Shell Oil Company; Jo Hans, Sinclair Oil & Gas Company; Steel, Maye Lanham, and Billie Ferguson, Humble Oil & Refining Company; Mrs. Lily Garden, Yeager & Armstrong; Thelma Lamar, Gustave Ring; Lottie Di Marella, Western Oil Transportation Company; Eline Perkins, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company; JoAnn Guynes, British-American Producing Oil Company; Mary Childs, F. W. Holbrook; Darlene Griffin, Humble Oil & Refining Company; Joan Sargent, Hiawath Oil & Gas Company and Marguerite Hanson, Evelyn Miles, Jean Drury, Eunice Jones, Bonnie Johnson, Dee Day, Vallie Maraldo and Eva Grimes, all of Great Western Drilling Company.

At the conclusion of the meeting Miss Wright presented Atchison with an initialed Desk & Derrick key chain. This custom is being practiced nationally, and the recipient becomes a member of the Desk & Derrick "Chain Gang."

SE Gaines Tester Quit As Dry Hole

Rowan Drilling Company and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company have plugged and abandoned No. 1 Norman, wildcat in Southeast Gaines County, on total depth of 9,512 feet.

No shows for commercial production could be developed in the Wolfcamp formation.

Location was 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-45, psi survey.

NW Nolan Wildcat Plugged, Abandoned

Intex Oil Company of Dallas has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 R. E. Gracey, wildcat in Northwest Nolan County, on total depth of 6,612 feet.

Location was 660 feet from north and east lines of section 49, block 23, T&P survey and five-eighths of a mile southwest of the Rowan & Hope (Strawn reef) field.

Fort Stockton Pool Gets Short Extension

Hudson Petroleum Company of Pecos No. 1 Wilson has been completed as a short stepout to production in the Fort Stockton field of Northwest Pecos County.

It was finished on the pump for a daily potential of 55.20 barrels of 32.1-gravity oil. Production is from open hole at 2,965-2,953 feet.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 21, block 146, T&S-L survey. Pay was fractured.

Booths were being prepared Thursday for the Second Annual Boy Scout Exposition here Friday and Saturday at 411 West Texas Street.

The El Centro District of the Buffalo Trail Council is conducting the two-day event in observance of the 43rd anniversary of Boy Scouts of America.

The exposition will be a demonstration of skills, activities, handicrafts and collections of Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers of Midland County. They are selling tickets at nine cents each.

Solons End Debate In Draw After Long Talk On 'Ford Bill'

AUSTIN—(P)—A labor-management dispute before a House committee ended in a draw Thursday when fagged lawmakers quit to get some sleep.

The State Affairs Committee heard arguments on both sides of a bill to amend the Unemployment Compensation Law until after midnight.

The labor bill by Rep. H. S. (Salty) Hull, Fort Worth, would deny unemployment benefits to Texas workers idle because of work stoppage stemming from labor disputes out of the state.

Opponents called it "the Ford bill." It was regarded as a measure growing out of a 1946 work halt at the Ford Plant in Dallas. Ford attorney Nath Leachman, Dallas, told the committee shortage of parts caused by a strike at Dearborn, Mich., brought on the stoppage.

"It amounted to an employer financing a strike against himself with taxes he was forced to pay to support the unemployment compensation program," Leachman said.

Robert C. Eckhart, Houston attorney, gave the labor side, saying the Hull bill treats a layoff as a strike. He contended Ford could arbitrarily lay off workers and not have to pay benefits.

Three Men Sentenced On Marihuana Counts

LAREDO—(P)—Three men caught with $11,500 worth of marihuana were sentenced to five years each in prison Wednesday.

They are Juan Beas, 50; his son, Juan Beas Gonzalez, 19, both of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, and Guadalupe Sota Serna, 27, San Antonio.

They were charged with illegal possession of marihuana after officers seized 115 pounds of the drug.

RELEAF FUNDS FREED

THE HAGUE, THE NETHERLANDS—(P)—The Mutual Security Administration Thursday released $2,800,000 in counterpart funds for flood relief.

Shivers Asks U. S. State Relationships Undergo New Study

WASHINGTON—(P)—Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas asked White House officials to consider revamping Federal-state relationship policies.

Shivers discussed the matter Wednesday with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and mentioned the matter during a talk with President Dwight Eisenhower.

Shivers, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, said he hoped the Eisenhower Administration would be able to make a thorough study on the subject and give its views at a meeting of the conference next August 2-5 in Seattle.

He said there should be a better delineation in the field of taxation to prevent overlapping. He suggested the states collect gasoline taxes the federal government quit granting money for highway construction projects.

Ralph Cameron, Campaigner For Arizona Statehood, Dies

WASHINGTON—(P)—Ralph Henry Cameron, who guided Arizona to statehood and later became its senator, died Thursday.

The 89-year-old Phoenix mining man, who obtained statehood for Arizona while serving as the territory's delegate in Congress, was taken to Doctors Hospital here after he suffered a heart seizure February 7 while on a business trip. He contracted bronchial pneumonia later.

His wife was at his bedside, as she had been in a Phoenix hospital October 21 when Cameron underwent surgery on his eighty-ninth birthday. A daughter, Catherine Cameron, Washington, D. C., also survives.

Cameron was the last territorial delegate to Congress from the last territory to join the union. He was elected for a term from 1909 to 1911 but it was extended a year by the presidential proclamation granting statehood to Arizona in 1912. He returned to Congress for a six-year term as senator in 1921-27.

After leaving Congress, Cameron engaged in mining operations in Arizona, Georgia, North Carolina and California. He lived in Los Angeles for a time but returned to Arizona several years ago. His latest venture was development of a hot springs project at Yuma.

Fighting Dwindles On Korean Fronts

SEOUL—(P)—Fighting dwindled to small raids and patrol clashes on the Korean battlefield Thursday as the warmest weather of the year carried into a second day.

The mercury climbed well above 40 across the 155-mile battle line. Rain swept the western front. Overcast skies and poor visibility virtually halted Allied air activity.

MIG-hunting U. S. Sabre jets failed to get off the ground. B-26 light bomber pilots reported destruction of 135 Red trucks Wednesday night.

Blizzard Sweeps Northern Europe

LONDON—(P)—A blizzard swept northern Europe Thursday, snarling road and rail traffic and isolating villages.

Along the East Coast of England and the coasts of Holland and Belgium the weather added to the discomfort of refugees driven from their homes 12 days ago by the disastrous floods.

Reign Of Terror Described By Skipper Of Murder Ship

LOS ANGELES—(P)—A tale of terror aboard the freighter Fairhope—fighting, disappearance and presumed murder of one of the chief stewards and eventual grounding in Mexican waters—came from the ship's skipper Wednesday night.

Capt. Harold T. Hallman, 38, Ocean City, Md., told how he and 40 crewmen locked themselves in their quarters each night after the steward, Carl Thurmond, 56, Sibley, La., disappeared, apparently having been beaten, stabbed and shoved through a 14-inch porthole.

"I thought I was a pretty brave fellow," Captain Hallman said in a news conference, "but what I saw in that cabin . . . was a diabolical thing."

The 438-foot Fairhope, owned by the Waterman Steamship Company, Mobile, Ala., left here January 29 for Mobile carrying military cargo. Thurmond's disappearance occurred that night. The next day the ship ran aground off Mexico.

A swarm of FBI agents, coast guard officials and Army intelligence men went aboard after the Fairhope was towed into Los Angeles harbor. Crewmen were questioned and 19 subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury February 18. The Coast Guard scheduled an investigation of the grounding later Thursday.

But much of the chilling story—except the answer to the question of who killed Thurmond—came from Captain Hallman.

Historian Pieces Together Lincoln's History In Emancipator's Own Words

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the story of Abraham Lincoln's early life, told in his own words. The Great Emancipator did not write it in a single narrative, but Stefan Lorant, author of the book "Lincoln: A Picture Story of His Life" (Harper) and other volumes on American history, has performed that chore for The Associate Press as a sidelight on the observance Thursday of the 144th anniversary of Lincoln's birth.

"I have compiled from Lincoln's letters and writings," Lorant explains, "a narrative of his early life. All the words are Lincoln's. The sentences were written at different times, but strung together they read (I hope) as a continuous story."

The following is Lincoln's story: I was born Feb. 12, 1809, near where Hodgenville (Hodgenville) now is, then in Hardin County, Ky., at a point within the now county of La Rue, a mile or a mile and a half from where Hodgen's mill now is. I know no means of identifying the precise locality. It was on Nolin's Creek.

Undistinguished Families
My parents were both born in Virginia, of undistinguished families—second families, perhaps I should say.

My father, at the death of his father, was but six years of age, and he grew up literally without education.

My mother, who died in my tenth year, was of a family of the name of Hanks, some of whom now reside in Adams, and others in Mason County, Illinois.

Before leaving Kentucky, I and my sister were sent, for short periods, to ABC schools, the first kept by Zachariah Roney, the second by Caleb Hazel.

I can remember our life in Kentucky: the cabin, the stunted living, the sale of our possessions and the journey with my father and mother to Southern Indiana. We re-moved to what is now Spencer County . . . in the Autumn of 1816. I then being in my eighth year. This removal was partly on account of slavery, but chiefly on account of the difficulty in land titles in Kentucky.

We settled in an unbroken forest, and the clearing away of surplus wood was the great task ahead. I, though very young, was large of my age, and had an ax put into my hands at once; and from that till within my twenty-third year I was almost constantly handling that most useful instrument—less, of course, in plowing and harvest seasons.

Lukewarm Hunter

Our new home was a wild region with many bears and other wild animals still in the woods. There I took an early start as a hunter, which was never much improved afterward. A few days before the completion of my eighth year, in the absence of my father, a flock of wild turkeys approached the new log cabin, and I with a rifle-gun, standing inside, shot through a crack and killed one of them. I have never since pulled a trigger on any larger game.

It was pretty pinching times at first in Indiana, getting the cabin built, and clearing for the crops, but presently we got reasonably comfortable.

After mother died my father married Mrs. Sally Johnson, at Elizabethtown, Ky., a widow with three children by her first marriage. She proved a good and kind mother to me.

I went to ABC schools by litters . . . the aggregate of all my schooling did not amount to one year.

Among my earliest recollection I remember how, when a mere child, I used to get irritated when anybody talked to me in a way that I could not understand. I can remember going to my little bedroom, after hearing the neighbors talk of an evening with my father, and spending no small part of the night trying to make out what was the exact meaning of some of their, to me, dark sayings.

One day a wagon with a lady and two girls and a man broke down near us and while they were fixing up, they cooked in our kitchen. The woman had books and read us stories. I took a great fancy to one of the girls; and when they were gone I thought of her a great deal, and one day when I was sitting out in the sun by the house, I wrote out a story in my . . . Honest Abe Fund Found

WASHINGTON (AP)—Abraham Lincoln still has $201.89 on deposit in a Washington bank. The record of the balance in the "A. Lincoln Hospital Fund" was found in an old ledger by a bank official searching the files for any new information on one of its most famous depositors. The money will remain in the bank. It was deposited as a checking account and draws no interest. Bank officials say there is no way in which the money can be turned over to anyone or used for bank purposes.

Honor System Works For Tourist Cabins

TORONTO, CANADA —(AP)— J. A. Reynolds, who operates a seven-twin tourist establishment at Kingsdale, is a believer in the honesty of his fellow man.

He stocked $94 worth of food in an unsupervised kitchen, merely asking users to make out a bill for whatever was used so the amount would be added to the bill. In two months time 90 persons used $67 worth of goods, leaving $27 worth in the shelves in a perfect accounting, reports an Ontario government service publication.

Remaining Curbs Due Slow Removal, White House Hints

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Eisenhower Administration was reported Wednesday to have decided against a proposal to wipe out all remaining price controls with a single sweeping order, and instead on continuing step-by-step decontrol.

Closely connected with the decontrol plans was a report that James F. Brownlee, New York investment banker and former deputy director of the wartime Office of Price Administration (OPA), has accepted a position as government consultant to direct the abolition of price ceilings.

A government source, who asked his name not be used, said the decision against immediate general decontrol was reached only late Tuesday and acceptance by Brownlee of the consultant post would mean it was confirmed.

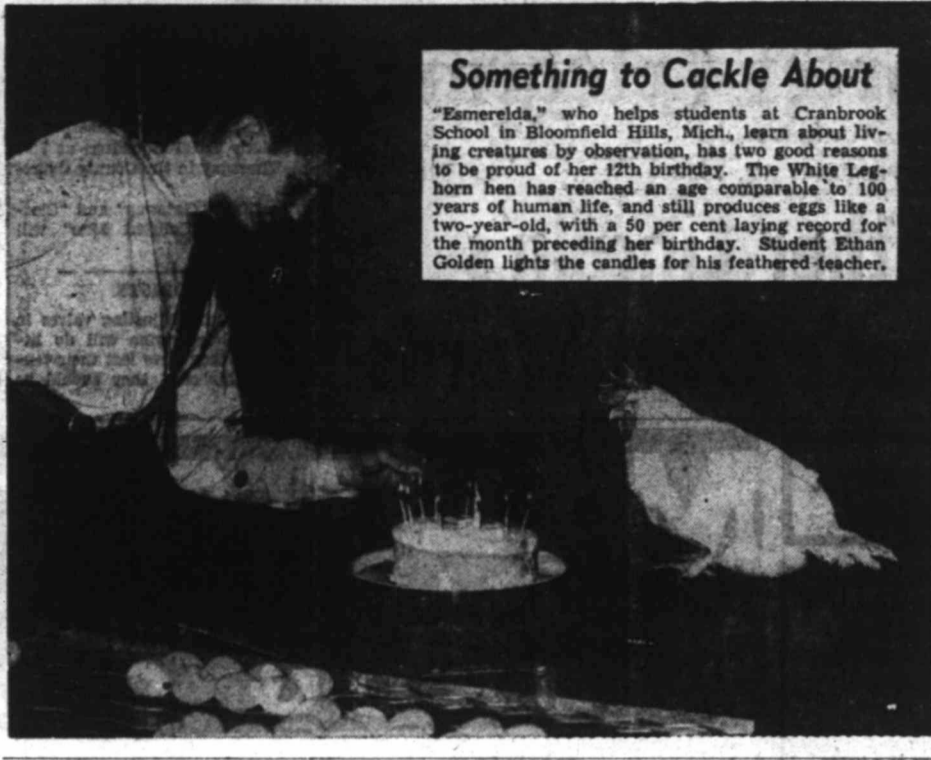

Brownlee was recalled into government service in 1950 to help set up the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS).

The controls law dies April 30, but Eisenhower used his authority to start an earlier termination of controls. Wage and salary ceilings and a number of price controls already have been wiped out.

Brownlee met Tuesday with top mobilization and stabilization officials. Before the reports of his impending appointment circulated, decontrol activities apparently had halted and officials abruptly stopped talking about further plans for lifting ceilings.

Something to Cackle About

"Emerelda," who helps students at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., learn about living creatures by observation, has two good reasons to be proud of her 12th birthday. The White Leghorn hen has reached an age comparable to 100 years of human life, and still produces eggs like a two-year-old, with a 50 per cent laying record for the month preceding her birthday. Student Ethan Golden lights the candles for his feathered teacher.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER

Isn't her dress pretty? Oh, doesn't he look good in tux? Look at that darling boy! Those were only a few of the comments heard at the annual Coronation which was held in the high school auditorium Tuesday night.

The queen was Barbara Ware and her king was John McGuigan. Her attendants were Mary Jane Miller escorted by Roy Miles, "Fifi" Pryor escorted by Roy Kimsey, Shirley Pannell escorted by Kenneth Feemster, Othanna Gadberr escorted by Milton Jones, Ardith Campbell escorted by "Timber" Forrest, and Faye Henshaw escorted by Garry Geisler.

M. A. Rose is also out with a knee operation. M. A. was operated on in Dallas so therefore we haven't seen M. A. limping around anywhere. As soon as we find out how he is we shall tell you, although he will probably be back this week or next.

Saturday night after the basketball game there will be a dance at the Youth Center. This will be a Valentine's dance and it will be a sock hop. You will not be admitted into the Youth Center any further than the door with your shoes on. There will be a prize given for the persons with the loudest socks, so be sure and put your loud ones on.

Any team needs a lot of support in order to play good. Our Bulldogs are the same way and they will play good with a large crowd.

You can still buy your membership cards. Just because it is after the week they were supposed to be bought is no sign that you are not going to have to buy one. As you walk in if M. A. is at the door you are supposed to give him your number. You can still buy them so don't think that you will get in without them. They cost $1 and last for a whole year.

The above is about all that happened this week so until Friday the thirteenth we shall be seeing you around.

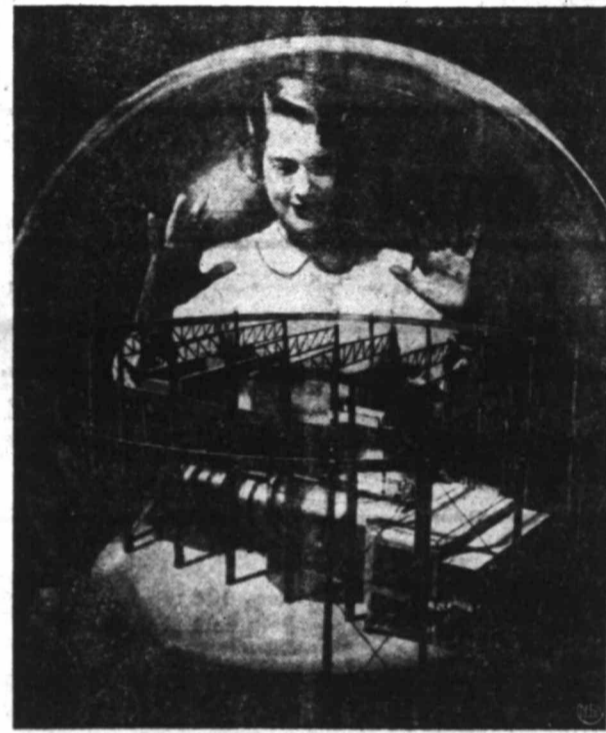

The theme of the coronation was the Court of Jewels. The stage was decorated in colored tulleweeds.

Friday the Thirteenth!!!! Do you know what it is? We would like to wager you don't. Be sure and come to the Youth Center Friday night for all of the fun that is in store. If you don't know what is going to happen ask around and see what is going to happen. Maybe the other fellow knows.

Russell Rutledge has a bet placed with someone his bet that he could outride this person on a bicycle. This person took him up on the bet. Sunday afternoon they shall race. Congratulations to San Jacinto Junior High School upon winning the consolation trophy in the Midland Junior Tournament which was held here Saturday. Cowden Junior High School from Midland also entered.

The Youth Center will always be closed during the basketball games so that those of you that generally go to the Y.C. will go to the game.

CRYSTAL BALL REVEALS ATOMIC ENGINE—Esther Sonn, of Schenectady, N. Y., peers in the crystal, which reveals how a land-based prototype of an atomic sub's power plant will look. The "crystal" is a plastic model of the 225-foot, 14-story-high steel sphere now being built at West Milton, N. Y., to house the atomic engine. The sphere is designed to prevent escape of any dangerous radiation. It is being built by Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory, operated by General Electric for the Atomic Energy Commission.

and here's his recipe preferred by gourmets the world over

MEXENE FRUIT SALAD

- 1 package lemon gelatin
- 1 cup pineapple (chopped or crushed)
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup apple (chopped)
- 3/4 cup cold water (or fruit juice)
- 1/2 cup nut meats
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- 12 olives (washed, chopped)
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- lettuce leaves
- 1 tsp. MEXENE seasoning
- salt dressing

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add cold water (or fruit juice) and cool; when thickened add all of remaining ingredients; chill in mold that has been dipped in cold water, and serve on lettuce leaves with any desired salad dressing. (Serves six to eight.)

★ Daddy Ringtail ★ Daddy Ringtail And Giant Mischief

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was trying to decide which was the way home. But—he met a giant.

"Fe, fi, fo, fum! Where in the world did you come from?" asked the giant in his great big giant voice.

"I came from Daddy Ringtail's monkey house," Mugwump said, "and that's where I wish I were now."

The giant laughed in a great, big booming giant-laugh to hear these words. He knew that Mugwump was afraid of him.

"Are you a dangerous giant?" Mugwump asked.

"Why, I'm the most dangerous giant there ever was," the giant said. He tried to explain how dangerous he was, but he couldn't. Too dangerous. He said he was sometimes much afraid of himself when he was walking alone by himself with no one with him. "It's because I'm so dangerous," said the giant. "Why, even I have to be careful of me, especially when there's nobody with me to see that I behave myself."

"My, my my!" said Mugwump. "You must be dangerous sure enough."

"That I am," said the giant, very pleased that Mugwump understood how dangerous he was. He said it really wasn't safe for a fine little boy like Mugwump now to be standing there and talking with him. It wasn't safe, the giant meant.

unless Mugwump just happened to know what to do if the giant thought up any giant mischief.

"What kind of giant mischief?" Mugwump asked.

The giant thought about this. He scratched his head to think about it better. Then he sat down on a rock as big as a house to think about it comfortably.

"Well," said the giant at last,

By Wesley Davis

"I might pull you limb from limb of one of those trees up there."

"Oh no!" said Mugwump.

"Oh," said the giant, "I might put you in one of my pockets, and never let you out. Would you like that kind of giant mischief any better?"

"Sure," said Mugwump.

"Good!" said the giant, and so then and there they decided to see if Mugwump could keep the giant from doing his mischief. They both thought it a great fun, and tomorrow I'll tell you the happy story of the thing that happened next. Happy day.

Anniversary Cake Baked By Mrs. Tucker

In five minutes you can whip up this Fortieth Anniversary Cake developed by Mrs. Tucker's Home-makers Department to celebrate the business birthday of the dear old lady.

But back on Feb. 13, 1913, when the Mrs. Tucker's Company was founded, it would have taken many times five minutes to mix such a cake because there were no mechanical mixers, and the processing of shortening had not approached the perfection of today.

Creamy Liquid Make-Up Base Adds A Subtle Touch Of Beauty

How to use make-up to beautify your face and still avoid that made-up look is a trick that practice with a modern foundation perfects.

A creamy, liquid, tinted make-up base that won't feel dry and heavy on your skin of look mask-

This young lady finds liquid base a boon for before-date beautifying at her office desk. Like makes it easy to get the trick down pat. The thing is not to overdo it.

One such liquid base, widely available, comes in six natural-looking shades ranging from pastel pink to tan. Choose one to match, or one slightly darker than, your

Pirates Loot Junks Near Chinese Coast

Martin Dies' Economy Move Dies Triumphant In House

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Things have changed, Rep. Martin Dies' economy move in the House since he last was a member of Congress.

"Coming back to Washington after eight years," he said in his first speech in the House since he returned as a congressman-at-large, "I find that members of the House and of the Senate are underpaid or else the bureaucrats are overpaid."

He was speaking in support of a proposal, which he advanced, to reduce the salary of the undersecretary of State from $17,500 to $12,500. The proposal failed.

The tall, 52-year-old Texan with the booming voice has lost none of the eloquence which used to draw House members from the cloak rooms when he spoke.

"I have offered this amendment," began the Texan, "because for a long time Congress has been creating jobs and paying salaries that are considerably higher than the salaries received by the members of the House and of the Senate.

"When I came to Congress in 1921, a congressman got $10,000 a year and paid $250, approximately in income tax. The purchasing power of his $9,750 would buy in Washington more than $20,000 will buy now. I bought a three-story brick house near Sixteenth Street for $8,800, $1,250 down and $40 a month."

"I cannot understand why they want to create jobs and pay $17,500 to men in the departments when we pay ourselves $12,500."

"I do not think there ought to be anybody in the government outside of the President, and possibly the Vice President, who should receive more than members of the House and the Senate."

Now 58, Potter says he plans to travel some and then he and his wife probably will go to their farm in Bowie County near DeKalb.

Mrs. Oreta Culp Hobby, the new Federal Security Administrator, is off to a good start with the employees of that sprawling agency.

On her first day in office, the Houston woman expressed a desire to meet personally all 4,000 employees under her in Washington. She met that first day with the top division heads.

Mrs. Hobby said she doesn't want to work with people she doesn't know, and that she felt sure the workers think the same way. Therefore, she has been meeting large groups of the employees in the FSA building auditorium.

Typical of the reaction was the remark of a negro woman elevator operator, "Mrs. Hobby is a Texas lady, and she sure is nice."

'Believe It Or Not' Museum To Be Seen In Midland Friday

A mobile museum, filled with rare and unusual "Believe It Or Not" oddities collected by Robert Ripley, will come to Midland Friday to begin a four-day exhibition here.

The exhibit is mounted on a specially built trailer, one of six traveling the United States. It will be the third exhibit to be shown in Midland.

Included in the items on display are objects from the Far East, such as a Lagan Prayer Mill, a Chinese Bridal Bed, a Tibetan Rosary of human bones, a Brahman Pyramid puzzle, which requires billions of years to solve, Japanese dollars made of sand, King Zeg's cigarette holder, a gold scale model of a Tibetan Monastery, and many other curiosities.

The mobile unit will be located at the intersection of West Wall and Loraine Streets, and will be open each day from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Teachers are invited to bring classes to view the display.

No admission will be charged, but voluntary donations will be accepted. Proceeds are used to support the work of the Navy Club of the U. S. A., which aids Naval veterans of all wars.

As a result of my own service here and the fact that my father was a member of Congress for many years, I found out that the average congressman who serves on a committee is far better informed on any economic or political question than the average man who is imported to the executive department and heralded as a brain trust."

Although Dies' amendment didn't have a chance, it drew 55 "ayes" against 91 "nays" and it won Dies the commendation of House Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind) for calling attention to the situation.

Back at his desk in the office of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, is Bill Jackson of Lubbock, returned from combat in Korea.

Now attending Georgetown University Law School here, Bill got a disability retirement January 31.

Last October 19, during a raging battle for a position on Triangle Hill, an enemy mortar shell exploded to the rear of First Lt. Jackson, seriously wounding him in the back of the head and back.

D. Roland Potter, for 23 years a secretary of Texas senatorial offices, has retired from government service.

While employed as a legislative counsel for a railroad workers organization in Tezakana, Potter accepted an offer to come to Washington in 1924 to work for the late Senator Morris Sheppard.

When Sheppard died early in 1941, then Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel appointed Andrew Jackson Houston as interim senator pending a special election.

The son of Sam Houston kept Potter as secretary. Houston died a few weeks after coming here, but O'Daniel, winner of the special election, retained Potter. When O'Daniel left office Potter went to work with the lands division of the Justice Department, where he stayed until his retirement.

WATCH THAT LITTLE FELLOW GROW!—

Tot's Appetite For Food, Fun Develop With Speed

EDITOR'S NOTE: For new mothers—and new mothers-to-be—nothing is more reassuring than the wisdom of experienced mothers. Here's the third of six articles of just such wisdom, written by a mother whose own mother is a well-known child-care specialist. The articles are condensed from "Parents' Magazine Book of Baby Care," a mother's guide to the first six years by Eleanor S. Duncan with the counsel of Clara Savage Little, editor of Parents' Magazine, published by McGraw-Hill Book Company, Inc. By ELEANOR S. DUNCAN

Three to six months is still a period of rapid growth and increasing appetite.

You can see a personality now when you watch your baby, not just a helpless little bundle.

He is just about the right size, too, for cuddling. Make the most of this, because soon he won't hold still long enough to cuddle.

His Solid Food
He welcomes his juice and vitamins with great gusto and probably already is getting accustomed to solid food. With each food, start out in the same gradual way, with just a taste at first.

If the child smacks his lips over the first taste, you can give him more, but since his digestive apparatus has to get used to handling the new food, allow him not more than a level tablespoonful on the first day.

Doctor's Advice
Different doctors have different ways of introducing new foods into the baby's eating schedule, and of course you will follow your own doctor's advice about this.

When your baby's five or six months old, it does no harm to offer formula in a cup once a day at a time when he's happy.

He may suggest that fruit be given first at the 2 p.m. feeding or its equivalent, and then after a few weeks switched to the supper hour.

Food List Grows
He may advise vegetables and meat for the 2 p.m. feeding also, and then later the addition of a vegetable to the supper menu. In this way you work gradually toward the idea of three meals a day.

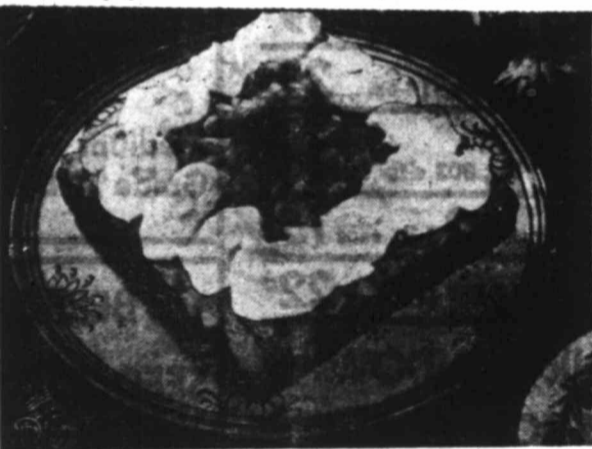

However, there is no hard and fast rule about this, and it doesn't matter particularly so long as the baby's food list constantly is growing. At five or six months, it does no harm to offer formula in a cup once a day.

Don't Force Him
Again, we stress the point that you should not expect your child to do a certain thing at any set age. But by the time he is six months old you can begin to look for the following stages of development:

1. Attempting to sit up. He may be able to hold a sitting position when he is propped up against pillows; if not, don't risk weakening his back by forcing the issue.
2. Recognizing people he sees often, besides his mother and father and refusing to go to strangers.
3. Better muscle coordination.

Pineapple Glazes Sponge Cake

SPONGE CAKE glazed with pineapple and served plain or with whipped cream has eye and taste appeal for every family occasion.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a dessert you'll be delighted with—rich pineapple and whipped cream.

Pineapple Glazed Sponge Cake
(Serves 6)

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup cake flour, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1/2 cup hot milk, 1 can (No. 1 flat) crushed pineapple, 1/4 cup sugar.

Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar. Beat 2 1/2 minutes if using an electric mixer or 5 minutes with spoon.

Sift flour, measure and sift again with salt and baking powder. Fold into egg and sugar mixture all at once. Melt butter or margarine in hot milk and add all at once. Fold in dry ingredients and milk quickly and pour immediately into a waxed-paper-lined, 8-inch square baking pan.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Just before cake is to come from oven combine crushed pineapple with 1/4 cup of sugar and bring to boil. Remove cake from pan and place on serving plate.

With the point of a sharp knife mark the cake into 1-inch squares, cutting through the cake only about 1/2 inch. Spoon hot pineapple mixture over hot cake and allow to cool. Cut into squares to serve and serve plain or with whipping cream.

Note—One layer of a white-cake-mix may be used in place of the hot-milk sponge cake.

Fruit-Vegetable Buying Tips

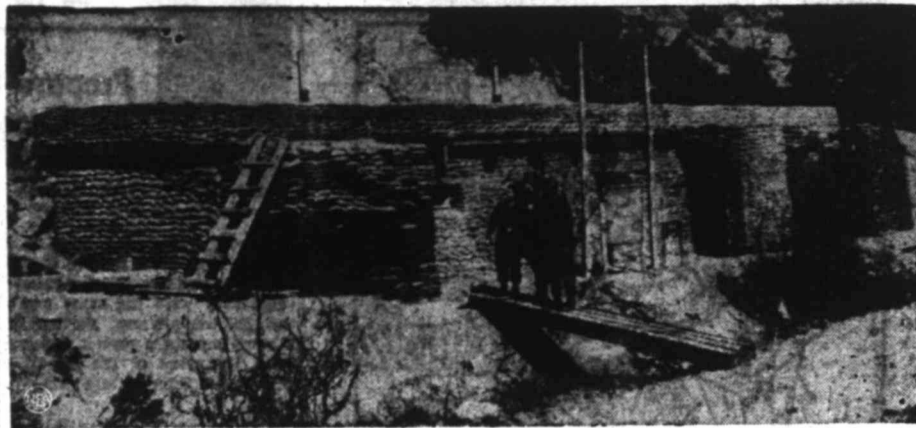

In selecting fresh fruits and vegetables, these practical hints from marketing specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture will get best results for you!

1. Don't handle fruits and vegetables unnecessarily. Rough handling causes spoilage and loss. If handling is necessary, do it so carefully that you avoid damaging the specimen.

2. Remember that the largest isn't always the best. Consider the size in relation to your needs.

3. Don't buy just because the price is low. Observe quality and condition carefully. At times of abundant supply, you may be able to find low-priced items of such quality that they constitute a bargain.

4. Study the markets. As background for your shopping, seek information on market prices and available supplies in newspapers, broadcasts and telecasts.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING

Prescription For Heartache

Chapter 15
"Please give me a prescription for heartache."
This curious and rather pathetic request was made by a man who had been informed by his doctor that the feelings of disability of which he complained were not of a physical nature. His trouble lay in an inability to rise above sorrow. He was suffering from "an ache in his personality" as a result of grief.

His doctor advised him to obtain spiritual consultation and treatment. So, continuing to use the terminology of medicine, he repeated his question, "Is there a spiritual prescription which will reduce my constant inner suffering? I realize that sorrow comes to everyone and I should be able to meet it the same as others. I have tried my best but find no peace." Again he asked with a sad, slow smile, "Give me a prescription for heartache."

There is indeed a "prescription" for heartache. One element in the prescription is physical activity. The sufferer must avoid the temptation to sit and brood. A sensible program which substitutes physical activity for such fruitless brooding reduces the strain in the area of the mind where we reflect, philosophize, and suffer mental pain. Muscular activity utilizes another part of the brain and therefore shifts the strain and gives relief.

An old country lawyer who had a sorrowing woman that had the best medicine for a broken heart is "to take a scrubbing brush and get down on your knees and go to work. The best medicine for a man," he declared, "is to get an ax and chop wood until physically tired." While this is not guaranteed to be a complete cure for heartache, yet it does tend to mitigate such suffering.

Get Busy...
What ever the character of your heartache, one of the first steps is to resolve to escape from any defeatist situation which may have been created around you, even though it is difficult to do so, and return once again to the normal course of your life. Get back into the main stream of life's activities. Take up your old associations. Form new ones. Get busy walking, riding, swimming, playing—get the blood coursing through your system. Lose yourself in some worthwhile project. Fill your days with creative activity and emphasize the physical aspect of activity. Employ healthy, mind-relieving busyness, but be sure that it is of a worthwhile and constructive nature. Superficial escapism through feverish activity merely deadens pain temporarily and does not heal, as, for example, parties and drinking.

An excellent and normal release from heartache is to give way to grief. There is a foolish point of view current today that one should not show grief, that it is not proper to cry or express oneself through the natural mechanism of tears and sobbing. This is a denial of the law of nature. It is natural to cry when pain or sorrow comes. It is relief mechanism provided in the body by Almighty God and should be used.

To restrain grief, to inhibit it, to bottle it up, is to fall to use one of God's means for eliminating the pressure of sorrow. Like every other function of the human body and nervous system, this must be controlled, but it should not be denied altogether. A good cry by either man or woman is a release from heartache. I should warn, however, that this mechanism should not be used unduly nor allowed to become a habitual process. Should that happen it partakes of the nature of abnormal grief and could become a psychosis. Unrestraint of any kind should not be allowed.

I receive many letters from people whose loved ones have died. They tell me that it is very difficult for them to go to the same places they were in the habit of frequenting together or to be with the same people with whom they associated as a couple or as a family. Therefore they avoid the old-time places and friends.

I regard this as a serious mistake. A secret of curing heartache is to be as normal and natural as possible. This does not imply disloyalty or indifference. This policy is important in avoiding a state of abnormal grief. Normal sorrow is a natural process and its normality is evidenced by the ability of the individual to return to his normal pursuits and responsibilities and continue therein as formerly.

Trust In God
The deeper remedy for heartache of course is the curative comfort supplied by trust in God. Inevitably the basic prescription for heartache is to turn to God in an attitude of faith and empty the mind and heart to Him. Pre-emption in the act of spiritual self-empty finally will bring healing to the broken heart. This generation, which has suffered fully as much if not more heartache than people in preceding eras, needs to relearn that which the wisest men of all time have known, namely, that there is no healing of the pain suffered by humanity except through the benign ministrations of faith.

One of the greatest souls of the ages was Brother Lawrence, who said, "If in this life we would know the serene peace of Paradise, we must school ourselves in familiar, humble, and loving converse with God." It is not advisable to attempt to carry the burden of sorrow and mental pain without Divine help, for its weight is more than the personality can bear. The simplest and most effective of all prescriptions for heartache is to practice the presence of God. This will soothe the ache in your heart and ultimately heal the wound. Men and women who have experienced great tragedy tell us that this prescription is effective.

Another profoundly curative element in the prescription for heartache is to gain a sound and satisfying philosophy of life and death and deathlessness. For my part, when I gained the unshakable belief that there is no death, that all life is indivisible, that the here and hereafter are one, that time and eternity are inseparable, that this is one unobstructed universe, then I found the most satisfying and convincing philosophy of my entire life.

Prepare Daughter To Meet Adolescent Physical Change

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

It would be a good thing if all parents tried, from time to time, to remember how they felt and behaved when they were the same age as their children are now. Perhaps this is more important when a youngster is in the stage of life known as adolescence than at any other period.

This column is devoted to a few of the problems of adolescence in girls.

The beginning of adolescence in girls often is dated from the first period of menstruation. This event commonly starts around the age of 13, but the physical changes of adolescence in girls do not always come at the same age. There usually is no cause for alarm if there is delay until 14 or 15, or if the menses start before 13.

The age when adolescence begins varies with different families, racial backgrounds, climate and perhaps diet and other factors.

Girls should be instructed before this time as to what to expect and should be told that the changes which occur are a perfectly normal step toward maturity. The mother or a physician should discuss the beginning of adolescence fully and frankly before the definite signs of it appear. If this is not done, menstruation may start unexpectedly and cause a good deal of emotional disturbance.

Information concerning adolescent changes should be given in a completely matter-of-fact way. A girl should be told that she is only one of millions of her own age who are going through the same experience at the same time.

It should be explained also that the changes about to develop are the result of increased activity on the part of those hormones or internal glands which have to do with femininity. As a rule this information comes best from a thoughtful mother.

During adolescence many girls are nervous and behave erratically. They often cry easily, take unreasonable dislikes to people, food or activities, and fly off the handle at members of their family for no apparent reason. The girls themselves often realize this but keep on just the same.

Parents need not give in too much, since it is not fair to others to behave unreasonably, no matter what the excuse.

But parents also must understand that these things do happen and they should not worry about the seeming personality change which often develops. When strange behavior on the part of adolescent girls does break out, the parents can often best ignore the outburst altogether, take it calmly and yet continue to be firm about those things which really matter.

 Sketched on the Spot by Ralph Lane

NO. 7—FAREWELL TO SPRINGFIELD
 Still standing on its original site is the Great Western railway station in Springfield, Ill., from which Lincoln departed to assume the presidency of the U. S. From the train, in a heavy downpour, Lincoln delivered his touching "farewell address" to his friends. He had lived in Springfield for 25 years, made many friends, rose to prominence, married, and watched his family grow. With great humility he thanked the people, for he felt he owed them everything and asked the Divine Being for guidance in the tremendous task that lay before him as chief executive.

ESTHER WILLIAMS BEATS TRACTORS—
After Steady Diet Of Red Films, Slavs Like Tarzan

By GRACE HALSELL
 Reporter-Telegram
 Special Correspondent
BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA—The most famous movie star in all Yugoslavia is not Clark Gable or Lana Turner, nor even Marilyn Monroe, but the chest-beating, blood-curling king of the jungles, "Tarzan."
 "When the ruler of the apes come to town, Yugoslavs line up for blocks to see him.
 Rough, strong and ready to fight, "Tarzan" tempts his devotees here.
 Both "Tarzan" and the average Yugoslav look like men I'd just as soon have on my side.
 The Bathing Beauty
 Next to "Tarzan" in popularity is Esther Williams.
 Her picture, "The Bathing Beauty," showed to more people in Belgrade than there are in Belgrade.

Which proves some people from outlying district came to see it and that others saw it more than once. I met one Belgrade native who said he saw it "12 or 13 times," he couldn't remember which.
 The way he feels about Esther is the same way some American women feel about Mario Lanza.
Like The Color
 "The Bathing Beauty" ran for more than three months in Belgrade, showing simultaneously in two theaters. It was the most popular single movie ever shown in Yugoslavia.
 Kosta Carina, Yugoslav movie expert, said the reasons the picture was liked was for its musical scenes and color.
 Yugoslavs had not seen American films until 1948-49, after Tito's break with Stalin, Carina pointed out.
 Now they are great fan and supporters of Hollywood products.
 "Between 65 and 70 per cent of all feature movies are American," the Yugoslav said.
 The rest are British, French, Italian and a few Mexican and Yugoslav films, he said, adding that the Hollywood films "are the most popular."
 Before Tito's break, "Only Russian films were shown here. They were terrible," Carina said.
Stalin's Helpers
 Russia sent "all the films she produced" into Yugoslavia, and they were all "like a recital of 'I fight for Stalin,'" he pointed out.
 If American films are propaganda, it is not such that "you feel it with every word that is spoken," he explained.
 The younger people here like John Wayne, Carina said, adding that "cowboy" pictures were extremely popular.
 One of the most popular ones was "The Westerner" with Gary Cooper, which was shown in Belgrade recently.
 Gregory Peck in "The Great Sinner" from the novel, "The Gambler" recently was shown, and proved a big hit.
 And No Popcorn
 In Belgrade, it costs 50 dinar to go to the movies. That's about 17 cents. A movie ticket is one of the cheapest items a Yugoslav can buy in this country of extremely low wages.
 Unlike in the States, movie tickets are sold here for one particular showing, and you must see the film from the beginning. After it is over, the theater empties and an entirely new crowd comes in.
 No popcorn is sold. But in the theater lobby one can buy biscuits, chocolate, beer, lemonade, or a tasty drink, a raspberry crush, something like a raspberry-pop.
 All American movies are shown in English, with sub-titles in the Serbo-Croatian language below.
 "There is a great interest among movie fans here as to when "Gone With the Wind" will be shown.
 Margaret Mitchell's book has been translated into the native language and "the interest in the book and now in the movie is fabulous," Carina said.
 The reason it has not been shown, he explained, is that the film is very expensive, and the Yugoslavs have not been able to afford it.

While once the Yugoslavs were fed a steady diet of Soviet propaganda through Russian films, it now is forbidden strictly to show a USSR movie in this country.
 However, it was arranged that I might see one at a private showing. The film-projectionist, a translator and I were the only ones present for the screening.
 The Soviet film I saw was called "The Oath."
 "Stalin was depicted as a man more gentle than a lamb and more benevolent than Santa Claus.
 With every word that was spoken, the propaganda line was laid out with a trowel.
Tractor Tells Tale
 Such lines as "Russia is a rock in a sea of capitalism" were repeated it seemed a few dozen times.
 One part showed a Russian trying to get a Soviet-made tractor to run. "Wouldn't it be cheaper just to get tractors from the United States," a Russian suggested.
 The other replied: "They are too expensive. Besides, the United States does not make good tractors."
 After seeing "The Oath," I bet the average Yugoslav thinks "Tarzan" does look pretty good. Even I appreciate him a lot more.

Professor Plans Magnetic Survey Of Ocean Seafloor

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(AP)—About 24 million square miles of the Pacific, Indian and Atlantic Oceans are badly in need of a magnetic survey, says a University of British Columbia professor, Dr. Bohdon Medusa Cwllong.
 So he's building a non-magnetic, 34-foot yacht and will set sail this summer to do the job himself. Dr. Cwllong, associate professor of physics, estimates it will take him seven years. He will take a crew of four.
 He explains his projected trip this way: "We can measure the earth's magnetism but we have no idea of how it began or why it exists. To investigate it, one must be as far as possible from the ground, as it is a weak force, subject to disturbance. The ocean is the best place."

LOST 75 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Overweight can be a menace to health, but common sense should be the watchword to get rid of the extra pounds. A rigid diet over a prolonged period of time can also do harm. Why not try the Barconstrate way as countless others have done with remarkable results? Barconstrate contains no harmful drugs. In fact, it contains ingredients to make you feel better. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Barconstrate. Pour into a pint bottle or jar and add 12 ounces of grapefruit juice. Then take 2 tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off bulky fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

THIS LADY LOST 75 POUNDS
 "I have taken about 10 bottles of Barconstrate and lost 75 pounds," writes Alice E. Owen, 1215 Mission Ave., San Angelo, Texas. "I now continue to take Barconstrate occasionally to keep my weight down and prevent bloating and gas on my stomach. I wouldn't be without Barconstrate in my medicine cabinet for anything."
LOST 20 POUNDS
 "I think Barconstrate is all it is said to be," writes Jane Lester, 126 Ashbury St., Houston, Texas. "I have taken several bottles and lost 20 pounds and I feel so much better in every way."

These values are for you and here at Brook's Stores we have an idea you're going to go for 'em in a great way. Put down that skillet Mom, and pick up your pencil. Once you've finished making your shopping list, we know you'll be pleased as punch.

Rice Calas Is Creole Dessert

JUDGING Louisiana's rice cookery was the recent job of Gaynor Maddox, NEA Food Editor, shown with two assistants.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

When a retired schoolteacher, born in Illinois, wins a first prize in a Creole cooking contest, that's kitchen news. Well, as senior judge at the 1952 International Rice Festival at Crowley, La., I fell hard for the rice calas prepared by Bess Milliken.

Two associate judges, Betty Mitchell of Mobile, Ala., and Mary McMeekin of Louisville, Ky., agreed with my choice.

Bess Milliken's Rice Calas
One cup sugar, 1 cup rice, cooked soft, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 eggs, 2 cups flour, fat to fry.

Mix egg yolks with sugar, rice and baking powder and flour. Add well-beaten whites, stirring just enough to blend. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat (365 degrees F.). Fry for about 3 minutes. Drain and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

We gave second prize to J. Marie Milliken for her rice-date dessert and third prize to Mrs. Dorsey C. Martin for her tropical rice dessert. Have a good time yourself preparing these recipes.

Miss Milliken's Rice-Date Dessert
(Serves 6)

One-third cup heavy cream, 1/3 cup crushed pineapple, 1/4 cup chopped dates, 3/4 cup cooked rice, cold.

Whip the cream. Fold it into the rice with the other ingredients, tossing lightly together with two forks. Place in refrigerator for at least one hour before serving.

Mrs. Martin's Tropical Rice Dessert
Two cups boiled rice, 1 cup whipped cream, 1 cup chopped apple, 8 cherries, quartered, 1 cup cubed pineapple, 2 dozen marshmallows, quartered, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cup shredded coconut.

The rice should be cooked until it is soft but not mushy. Mix all the ingredients except the whipped cream into rice. Add whipped cream into the mixture just before serving. Garnish with cherries. Sprinkle coconut over top.

Bill In House Asks State Board Changes

AUSTIN —(AP)— Reorganization of the State Hospitals and Special Schools Board was provided in a bill introduced in the House Wednesday.

It would reduce the present nine-member board to three members and empower them to hire an executive director that must be a medical doctor.

At present, the executive director is a businessman.

Seven states of the Union still require payment of a poll tax for voting.

WT Region Reports Total Of 47 Sites

New locations reported to the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas totaled 47 for the last week in the West Texas area.

A total of 11 new wildcats were listed among the new locations. Culberson County reported three of the new ventures and the remaining new prospectors were divided one each among Crane, Ector, Lamb, Midland, Mitchell, Reeves, Scurry and Yoakum Counties.

Andrews County led with field projects, listing eight new explorations. Cochran and Pecos Counties each reported four new testers. Locations were staked for three new projects in each of Ector and Howard Counties.

Crane, Gaines, Glasscock and Scurry Counties each gained two new locations.

The remaining new sites were distributed one each to Borden, Garza, Kent, Loving, Midland and Terry Counties.

Water Well Bill Withdrawn By Bell

AUSTIN —(AP)— Confession he had found the subject of water was close to everybody's heart, Rep. Marshall Bell has withdrawn his disputed city water well bill from floor debate.

The San Antonio representative said men from all regions of Texas had complained the measure would cause more confusion in Texas' confused water situation.

The measure was designed to let the city of San Antonio control drilling of water wells in its city limits. Bell moved to send it back to the Conservation Committee and the House agreed.

FORMOSA BANS DOGS

TAIPEH, FORMOSA —(AP)— Health authorities have ordered incoming passengers to refrain from bringing dogs into Formosa. Exceptions were made for dogs arriving from rabies-free countries, including Australia, New Zealand, Switzerland, Iceland, Ireland, Hawaii and Scandinavian countries.

Historian—

mind. I thought I took my folks' horse and followed the wagon, and finally I found it, and they were surprised to see me. I talked with the girl and persuaded her to elope with me; and that night I started off across the prairie. After several hours we came to a camp; and when we rode up we found it was the one we had left a few hours before, and we went in. The next night we tried again, and the same thing happened—the horse came back to the same place; and then we concluded that we ought not to elope. I stayed until I had persuaded her father to give her to me. I always meant to write that story out and publish it, and I began once, but I concluded that it was not much of a story. But I think that was the beginning of love with me.

When I came of age, I did not know much. Still, somehow, I could read, write, and cipher to the rule of three, but that was all. . . . What I have in the way of education I have picked up, from time to time under pressure of necessity.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was born farther west and farther south than any other U. S. President.
