Inmates Riot At Santa Fe Prison

A GOOD HOME FOR FIDO—Stray dogs and cats are being picked up these days in record-breaking numbers but they are finding a good home at the City Animal Shelter. City Humane Officer Frank Rose is shown standing beside some of the cages improved by the city. During the last week, concrete floors have been poured for four dog cages and three cat cages. Animals are kept in these pens until "adopted" by new owners, reclaimed by old ones otherwise disposed of.

Phillips Ups Posted Price On All Crude

BARTLESVILLE, OKLA.—(AP)—Phillips Petroleum Company Monday increased its posted price 25 cents a barrel on all grades of crude oil at all points in five states where purchase prices are posted by the company.

The states are Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Colorado. K. S. Adams, chairman, and Paul Endacott, president, said that since the last general price boost for crude oil in 1947, drilling costs have increased approximately 50 per cent due to sharp rises in labor and material costs.

"In addition," the company announcement said, "the increasing proportion of deeper, more expensive wells has added to the cost of finding and developing reserves."

The announcement stated that there is a critical need for a higher rate of discovery of new crude reserves to supply the growing demands of the nation's expanding economy.

"There is every indication that an increase in the crude discovery rate will not occur unless crude prices rise to reflect today's higher exploration, drilling and operating costs," the announcement added.

Deputy, Nine Guards Held As Hostages

SANTA FE, N. M.—(AP)—Armed with meat cleavers and knives, rioting convicts at the New Mexico Penitentiary Monday seized Deputy Warden Ralph Tahash and nine guards as hostages.

Warden Morris Abram said the convicts, in a note addressed to him, demanded that Tahash and six prison guards be fired.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, who arrived at the prison soon after Abram announced the riot, said he was told Homer Lee Gossett, notorious for "Houdini" escape attempts, was a leader of the uprising.

New Postal Rate Boost To Be Asked

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield will ask for an increase in postal rates in an effort to wipe out a $594,250,000 deficit facing the Post Office Department.

This was disclosed by Republican congressional leaders after their weekly conference Monday with President Eisenhower at the White House.

Summerfield sat in on the meeting.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) told reporters Summerfield hopes the rate increases, if Congress grants them, will go into effect next October 1.

Martin said Summerfield probably would recommend an increase in virtually all rates from first class mail down. The request presumably will be for increase from three to four cents in the cost of mailing a first class letter.

Martin said a formal request for the rate increases probably will go to Congress some time this week.

Asked if any thought was given to abolishing or limiting the mail which members of Congress send postage free, Martin said there was not.

U. S. Official Sees Ratification Of EDC Treaties Within Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—James R. Conant, U. S. high commissioner to Germany, Monday predicted the situation European Defense Community treaties will be ratified within a year.

The plan calls for establishment of a defense army which would include German soldiers along with those from five other nations.

Conant appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committee in support of the 40 million dollar budget for his office for the year starting July 1. The item is a part of an overall foreign aid appropriation bill which the committee started considering Tuesday.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee met, meantime, for final action on an authorization bill which would set a $4,966,775,500 spending limit on the program for next year.

The House is expected to vote on the authorization measure within the next two weeks.

McMillen Water Eases City's Pinch

McMillen Field wound up its first week of operation Saturday by pumping more than 5,000,000 gallons of water into the city's distribution system.

H. E. Nunn, city water and sewer engineer, reported Monday that the field's largest production day helped take care of Saturday's consumption—12,420,000 gallons—the second largest in the city's history.

On Sunday, consumption took its normal weekend drop and wound up at 11,940,000 gallons.

West Berlin Refugee Flow Drops Sharply

BERLIN—(AP)—Only 3,000 refugees from the East were registered in West Berlin during the three-day weekend just ended, compared to 6,000 for the same period a week ago.

The bill, sponsored by Representative Simpson (R-Pa.), would renew the President's authority to negotiate lower tariffs on foreign goods coming into the U. S., in return for similar concessions for this country's products sold abroad.

High Court Again Denies Stay For Doomed A-Spies

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court Monday refused to stay the executions of atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

The court also refused for the fourth time to review the trial of the condemned husband and wife whose case has attracted world-wide attention.

The Rosenbergs are scheduled to die Thursday night in the electric chair in New York's Sing Sing Prison.

Monday's refusal by the high tribunal apparently ended the Rosenberg's last hope of escaping death through legal moves in federal courts.

Their lawyer, Emmanuel H. Bloch, had said in advance that a new effort will be made to get last minute executive clemency.

President Eisenhower last February 11 rejected one clemency plea. He said their death penalty was just punishment for a crime which might

* LATE NEWS FLASHES *

SEOUL—(AP)—Communist planes made two passes at Seoul Monday night and early Tuesday and dropped several bombs near the Han River bridge, Korean police reported.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court Monday reversed the perjury conviction of Harry Bridges, left wing West Coast longshore leader, and directed that the indictment against Bridges be dismissed.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator McCarthy used a Senate Appropriations Committee hearing Monday to defend "book burning," which President Eisenhower criticized Sunday as un-American.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said Monday he expects the House to vote an extension of the excess profits tax. He indicated congressional leaders might, if necessary, by-pass the House Ways and Means Committee, which has such legislation bottled up.

Red Hordes Pile Through UN Lines In Bloodiest Fighting Since 1951

SEOUL—(AP)—Thirty thousand Communists ripped into Allied lines Monday, breaking through as deep as two miles in the mightiest Red offensive in two years.

Two South Korean divisions on the east-central front buckled under an assault by two fresh Chinese divisions—about 20,000 soldiers. A few miles to the west, another 10,000 Reds pierced Allied lines in several places before they were halted in bloody trench fighting by infantrymen of the U. S. 3rd and South Korean 9th Divisions.

U. S. airmen flying shuttle missions dropped more than 2,225,000 pounds of bombs on the flaming 40-mile front. Smoke of battle could be seen 60 miles away.

It was the greatest Red drive since the 1951 Spring offensive, and apparently intended to gain the front painted a bloody picture of reckless Chinese pouring over a 3,000-foot peak which dominates the area held by the two ROK divisions.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Eighth Army commander, went to the front for a first-hand inspection.

Gen. Paik Sun Yup, ROK Army chief of staff, also was at the front, conferring with South Korean and U. S. commanders.

South Korean troops launched a counterattack at the eastern end of the main Communist push and forced the Reds off an outpost known as Anchor Hill. Fierce fighting raged on nearby heights. The ROK's also smashed a Chinese assault on Chamsan Hill, farther east.

To the west of the two embattled ROK divisions, fighting slackened after infantrymen of the U. S. 3rd and South Korean 9th Divisions cut up an attacking force of Reds near the Iron Triangle and Outpost Harry. The Chinese made lighter thrusts elsewhere, mostly on the east-central front.

There were no casualty reports from the major fighting. But judging from information available on lighter Chinese attacks, Red losses were staggering.

The fighting far overshadowed anything in the last two years except the ferocious 1952 battles for the Kumhwa Ridges.

Front-line officers said the Communist gains were so great that the line of a demarcation between the opposing armies, supposedly being worked out by truce negotiators at Panmunjom, may have to be revised.

Signs Of Quick Truce Grow Despite New Red Offensive

MUNSAE—(AP)—Signs of a quick truce increased Monday even as Communist armies to the east smashed south in a stretch drive offensive.

Although reasons behind the eleven-hour Red attack left observers mystified, these developments pointed to an imminent armistice.

1. Word leaked out that staff officers writing the last details of an armistice have struck no snags.

2. Allied and Red liaison officers met in secret for 19 minutes. A spokesman said only that they met to discuss administrative details pertaining of the truce negotiations.

3. Troops and supply trucks poured into this base camp as the Allies rushed preparations for the huge prisoner exchange to follow an armistice.

4. Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, UN force commander, warned his Eighth Army by radio that the impending armistice would not end the war in itself and told the soldiers to stay ready to fight if necessary.

The staff officers of both sides—

Chief Skelly Legal Counsel, Father Of Midlander, Dies

W. P. Z. German, Sr., 76, chief legal counsel for the Skelly Oil Company since the firm was organized and father of Midland attorney W. P. Z. German, Jr., died Sunday night of a heart ailment at Tulsa, Okla. Death came an hour after he entered a Tulsa hospital.

German was credited with shaping Oklahoma's first oil conservation laws. He was organizing attorney for Skelly in 1919 and remained head of the law department until his death. He was prominent in oil circles across the nation—a board member of the American Petroleum Institute, and an officer in the Mid-Continent Gas Association and Oseage Oil and Gas Lease Association.

From 1930 to 1932 he was the leading attorney employed to defend attacks on Oklahoma's oil conservation and proration statutes. Court decisions reached in the cases have become precedents referred to continually in later actions.

An active Democrat, German was appointed by President Wilson as registrar of the Federal Land Bank at Wichita and as chief counsel for that bank.

He was born in Whitewright, Texas, and received a doctor of laws degree from the University of Texas in 1901. He practiced law at Whitewright, Muskogee, Okla., Wichita, Kan., and Tulsa.

He was a member of the American Bar Association, the Texas and Oklahoma Bar Associations, and was admitted to practice before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Funeral arrangements are pending. He is survived by the widow, three daughters, and one son.

The son left here for Tulsa on receiving word of the death at 11:30 p.m. Sunday.

Shallow Exploration To Start At Once In Mitchell Sector

Five miles northeast of Colorado City and in Northeast Mitchell County, The Big Ben Oil Company spotted location for a shallow cable tool wildcat.

It will be drilled as No. 1 W. L. Milton, 1,396 feet from north and 47 feet from east lines of section 7, block 25, T&P survey.

Operations to 1,400 feet will start at once.

Cosden Files To Dig Wildcat Prospector In Borden Region

Cosden Petroleum Company filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to start drilling at once on an 8,500-foot wildcat in East-Central Borden County.

The prospector is to be drilled as No. 1 Earl Searcy.

Operator staked site 680 feet from north and west lines of section 318, block 97, H&TC survey and nine miles east of the town of Gail.

Urice Stakes Site For Deep Explorer In Central Howard

Four and one-half miles north of Big Spring and in Central Howard County, Urice Drilling Company spotted location for a 10,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat.

It is to be drilled as No. 1 Rosa Harper.

Drill site is 600 feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 15, block 22, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Operations are to start at once.

NE Andrews Wildcat Is To Plug Back For Devonian Completion

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and J. C. Barnes have given up trying to complete No. 1-E University, wildcat in Northeast Andrews County, from the Ellenburger. Operators were unable to shut off water from that formation.

The Ellenburger will be plugged off and completion from the Devonian will be effected.

The Devonian flowed oil heavily on drillstem tests when the formation was drilled through, and on production tests prior to the attempts to complete from the Ellenburger.

Operator representatives say that mechanical difficulties prevented completing from the Ellenburger. They think that if they could have shut off the water, the project could have been completed as an Ellenburger oiler.

On last production test, the Devonian showed 524.02 barrels of oil (Continued On Page 16)

Murder Charged Co-Ed After Baby's Body Found In Trunk

WATERVILLE, Maine — (AP) — While classmates joined Monday in commencement, the happy climactic day of college life, Colby College coed Harriet Sart, 21, conferred with parents and counsel about her pending arraignment on a murder charge.

The tiny, blonde, Nahant, Mass., senior was booked for murder after discovery Sunday of the decomposed body of a baby in a stored trunk bearing her name.

Joseph B. Campbell, county attorney, said Miss Sart would be arraigned in Municipal Court Monday.

Campbell quoted Miss Sart as saying she gave birth to the baby girl unaided in her single room at the dormitory and put the infant in a trunk which was stored in the dormitory basement.

Campbell would not say when the child was born or died, pending an autopsy report.

A rawhide cord of the type used for shoe laces was wrapped around the baby's neck, Campbell said.

The discovery was made by a janitor tracing an unpleasant odor in the basement.

Campbell said the girl missed only one day of classes—the day the child was born—and gained only seven pounds while carrying it.

Pioneer 3-D Producer Says Gimmicks Are Here To Stay

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Should 3-D give up its gimmicks? Not on your life, says pioneer 3-D producer Bryan Foy.

Most film critics have complained about the tricks of having objects appear to come out into the audience in three-dimensional pictures. Many film makers have argued

ROK President Says News Of GI Atrocities Is False

SEOUL — President Syngman Rhee warned Monday that he would not tolerate newsmen who spread accounts unfavorable to the Republic of Korea.

Rhee said in a statement: "There are some correspondents, both local and foreign, who are spreading accounts unfavorable to the Republic of Korea. Now that our country is facing a national crisis, we warn that we will not tolerate the activities of these correspondents should they continue to evoke international hostility and thereby precipitate our national crisis."

Rhee did not name any correspondents. He said he had read news reports that American soldiers "caused injuries to our high school girls during anti-communist demonstrations last week with razor blades and committed other inhuman acts and I am extremely shocked."

However, he continued: "No matter what they say about them, there are absolutely no Americans who attempt to commit such diabolic acts as to cut the arms of females. Should there be ones who have witnessed Americans perpetrate acts of this nature, they must present proof at the office of the secretary of the President."

"Even if these reports are true, news reporters and editors should be extremely careful in handling accounts of this nature. They should not be careless enough to have these accounts published."

He said any such incidents should be reported to the government for handling.

"Should there be wicked elements who capitalize on these critical hours, incite public sentiment and cause clashes between us and our Allies, we must see to it that every one of them is arrested and detained in prison."

"We must make utmost exertion this time... so as not to cause any misunderstanding among our Allies. These misunderstandings will prevent us from acquainting the people throughout the world with our intentions."

Rhee's statement did not mention any specific incident.

that such novelties will be discarded in future depths.

But not Foy, the man who made millions for Warner Brothers with "House of Wax." That film had such items as rubber balls, can-can girls' legs and guillotined heads projecting into the theaters. Now he's dreaming up even more fantastic ideas for his new picture, "The Mad Magician."

"The audience is entitled to have some fun, too," he commented. "The ticket buyers like those gimmicks, so why deprive them? Who cares what the critics say?"

"Of course, you have to know how and when to use the tricks. For instance, we found that it's no good if you just throw something out into the audience. It happens so fast that there's no kick in it. You have to repeat the action—like that bouncing ball on the paddle."

Foy is concocting a wealth of new stunts for his new epic. You can get ready to start dodging yuros, because he has found the champion yo-yo man. The champ will be spinning two of the things at you in the picture.

Horror will be the keynote. One graphic shot in the film will show the magician's illusion of severing a girl's head with a buzz saw. But don't go away. The climax of the show will be the interior of a crematorium. I predict it either will be a sensation or else send the patrons screaming out of the theater.

Some producers think 3-D is a passing fancy. Foy says it's here to stay.

"There's plenty of room for all kinds of new mediums," he remarked. "I think 3-D will remain good for horror pictures, which is a kind of entertainment the public has always liked. They enjoy being shocked."

"But these pictures have to be done with sincerity. No matter how fantastic the plot, you have to believe in it. My main trouble is finding directors who don't look down their noses at this kind of picture."

Marie Wilson's neckline has been in the modest league since "My Friend Irma" went to home TV screens—the sponsor insisted on living-room respectability—but it will be back to See Level for her three-week night-club appearance this Summer.

For the first time in four years, Hollywood's original 3-D girl will revive the low-cut gowns, the black undies and the strip tease that OT's didn't write home about during the long war-time run of movietown's musical show, "Blackouts."

Marie's set for the club date in Las Vegas when "Irma" leaves the screen for the Summer. But first she'll do a movie, "Marry Me Again." The film is a "flat" but Marie's promising: "I'll round it out a little."

Why is Hollywood passing up the chance to put Marie in 3-D? Producer Alex Gottlieb has the best explanation: "Marie Wilson in 3-D? That's redundant."

After all the haggling is over—and you can bet on this—Bumphy Bogart will be Captain Queeg in "The Caine Mutiny."

Hollywood's big "The Cowboy and the Movie Queen" drama, co-starring Gloria Swanson and actor cowpoke Denver Pyle, has been going on for six months. Denver is the reason why La Swanson, who looks like a million in TV's "Crown Theater," can't tear herself away from Hollywood.

Red's lost 40 pounds since January 1 and has a new outlook on life—and working habits—since his TV show skidded to forty-second place in the national ratings.

Deborah Kerr will play a lady psychiatrist with three men—none of them patients—chasing her in "The Perfect Husband."

Joanne Dru and MacDonald Carey are having a mad celluloid romance in a new 3-D western, "Outlaw Territory," and the director supervising the clinches is Joan Ireland, husband of Joanne.

Laughing about the situation, Joanne says: "He's fascinated. He's so fascinated he forgets to say cut and lets the clinches go on and on."

Like "High Noon," the film will feature a song, "Hannah Lee," by Stan Jones, who wrote "Ghost Riders." Guy Mitchell's already recorded the number.

SAO PAULO, BRAZIL — (AP) — About 70 persons were killed Sunday in a mad rush from a second-story negro dancehall after a fire broke out in a dry goods store below. Another 70 were injured.

Police said they found a solid pile of bodies on the stairway. Only a few had died from burns. The rest suffocated or were trampled.

Arthur Godfrey Hopes To Return To Air In August

BOSTON — (AP) — Entertainer Arthur Godfrey hopes to leave the hospital early next month and return to his television and radio programs "sometime after the first of August."

Godfrey was operated on May 15 to correct right hip injuries suffered in an automobile accident 22 years ago. Proposed surgery on his left hip has been postponed indefinitely.

Engineers Can't Do It All

The season of bumper-to-bumper vacation motoring is upon us again; and the harassed man behind the wheel is going to listen to his annual Summer lecture on safe driving.

Hearing that today's automobiles have a higher safety factor than ever before, and seeing more and more modern, multi-lane highways coming into being, the poor motorist must be baffled to realize that his problems are no closer to solution.

Yet in many ways they are not. Motor accident and fatality rates still are high generally.

One obvious reason is that, even with all the new highways, the nation's roads today are vastly overcrowded and getting worse. The driver is lucky whose fenders don't show the effects of this abrasive stream of traffic.

It's an old story by now that the nation's highway builders, for lack of money and time, aren't keeping up either with the need for new roads or with the necessity for maintaining the old. Meantime, the motormakers pour millions of new cars onto the existing inadequate network.

But even where highway engineering is of the finest, as in the New Jersey Turnpike, for instance, there is no assurance that accidents will not be far more numerous than they should.

In the first quarter of 1953, this turnpike's accident rate was 66.0 per 100,000,000 miles of travel. As compared with 480.0 for major New Jersey roads in the same period, and with 114.8 on the turnpike in the parallel 1952 span, this record is excellent.

Still, highway specialists don't look on such a record complacently. For they realize—and their investigations support this—that human failures are responsible for virtually all the mishaps. And the story probably is much the same on other super-thoroughfares like the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

In other words, you really can't hope to engineer complete motoring safety. The unpredictable human element stands in the way. If 50,000,000 drivers have not or will not learn all the fundamental driving skills, and practice them constantly, then accidents in discouraging numbers will go on happening.

The unmanageable volume of traffic multiplies many times the accident possibilities, the occasions when any given motorist is exposed to danger.

If he cannot remain continuously alert, watching far in front of him, to right and left and to the rear, he is almost certain to encounter trouble. No car, no highway, no engineer can protect him from this necessity to be the final guardian of his own safety.

There is a lot of difference between carrying a mortgage and trying to lift one.

When wives go away and leave husbands alone for a while it's a dirty trick on the kitchen sink.

The Bear That Talks Like A Man

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Churchill gives Dominion ministers world low-down; Malenkov ready to meet Churchill in Scandinavia; Eisenhower moves to revamp Taft-Hartley Act.

WASHINGTON—London's most important event, next to the coronation of Queen Elizabeth, took place with the public barred—the meeting of Commonwealth ministers with Prime Minister Churchill.

Churchill discussed the affairs of the far-flung empire and handled the Dominion prime ministers like a skilled musician leading an orchestra.

Prime Minister Nehru of India, who in a private conversation with Churchill had staged a bitter argument urging that Premier Malenkov be invited to the Bermuda Conference, on this occasion was amenable.

Churchill also reported that Moscow had been flirting with the Turkish foreign minister in an effort to undercut the United States in that area. The Kremlin had indicated to Turkey that the Dardanelles was no longer a serious issue between them and even went so far as to make overtures toward a favorable settlement of disputes along the Turkish-Russian border.

In return, Moscow wanted Turkey to slow down on her arms program and stop furnishing bases to the United States.

The British prime minister added, however, that he didn't think Turkey would fall for the Soviet overtures.

Revised Taft-Hartley
For a long time Sherman Adams and other White House advisers have been telling the President that he never will placate American labor until a "new face" other than that of Senator Bob Taft takes charge of the Administration's labor program in Congress.

The man best qualified for the job, Ike's advisers have insisted, is the brawny, popular, GOP Congressman Samuel McConnell of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Labor Committee. A Republican liberal, McConnell gets along with both the AFL and CIO, is much more acceptable than Taft to Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin.

Last week Eisenhower finally acted on this advice of quietly calling in McConnell and handing him the ball. In a meeting so secret that McConnell left by the back door at the White House to avoid a drumfire of reporters' questions, the Pennsylvania was given a double assignment.

First, he was instructed to begin missionary talks with labor and business leaders in an effort to iron out areas of disagreement in the Taft-Hartley Act. Secondly, McConnell was delegated to draft legislation on labor-management relations that both sides can live with, but

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

The bidding in today's hand was very easy. South had a sound opening bid with 13 points in high cards and two points for the singleton. North had an excellent double raise with strong four-card trump support, 11 points in normal high-card strength, one point extra for the king of South's bid suit, and two points for the singleton.

The double raise showed strong trump support in a hand that counts from 13 to 17 points, and in this case North's total count was 14 points.

South really was not tempted to try for a slam. He had a minimum opening bid, and it was very unlikely that the combined count was even close to 33 points. Hence South contented himself with bidding game, and North naturally had to accept this decision.

The play should have been every bit as simple as the bidding, but South found a way to be set. The hand is worth a second look because it is a type that you often encounter in actual play.

West opened the five of hearts, and dummy won with the ace. South immediately drew three rounds of trumps and then looked around for new worlds to conquer.

Unfortunately, he already had conquered himself. There was now only one trump left in dummy, and South had three losing diamonds in his hand. It was obviously impossible to ruff his three diamonds with dummy's one trump, and South wound up losing three clubs and two diamonds.

An experienced and expert declarer would foresee as soon as the dummy appeared that he would have to ruff some losing diamonds in the dummy. Such a declarer would therefore carefully refrain from drawing trumps.

This can be stated as a general rule for the guidance of inexperienced bridge players: Study the dummy to see whether or not you need to ruff your losing cards with dummy's trumps. If you need ruffs of this kind, DON'T draw trumps; if you don't need ruffs of this kind, DO draw trumps.

Following this rule, declarer

Massacre Mountains

THE STORY: Pete Hartman, a sweet, believing he had married a beautiful woman, was the least daughter of Pete Wilkinson, head of a California-based wagon train. Betty, unaware that her mother was a child, is living at Hartman's ranch near Two Rivers. News of the massacre of the wagon train, headed by Pete Wilkinson, with whom he had been quarreling just before the War between the States.

She laughed. "What a man! Well, sit down and share my breakfast, and we'll talk about old times."

As they sat down Pete cast a glance around the dining room. He saw a man turn his face, but the fellow was a trifle slow. He was one of the men Pete had sat at table with only a few days ago at Zad Barnes' trading post at Two Rivers! Pete knew then that he had been followed, and that every move of his would be watched.

Cass touched his hand. "What's the matter, Pete? You seem to be upset?" "I am—at seeing you." "It wasn't me," she denied. "I can read your mind, Pete."

He rode into the town of Echo Junction early in the morning, although he expected to have to wait. She had always been a late riser. Meanwhile, Nate would be fuming.

He stopped at the hotel where she was staying to ask for her, and was told that she was having breakfast in the dining room. He went on back, and saw her alone at a table at the side of a room. She didn't see him at once, and he had a chance to study her. If she had changed in the five years, since he had seen her it was for the better, and she had always been a beautiful woman; tall, with glorious chestnut hair, and almost classic features.

She looked up at Pete and a smile broke over her beautiful face. "Pete! How wonderful!" she exclaimed. "Pete, it's wonderful to see you!" She stood up, extended her hand, and then as though it was the natural thing to do, kissed him. Pete felt his face growing hot. The last time they had met she had been ready to slap him. "You're looking fine, Cass," he said. "Aren't you going to say that you're glad to see me?"

Taft's Five-Month Record Shows He Has Own Program

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—While much attention has been paid to reviewing the accomplishments of President Eisenhower's first months in the White House, it is equally profitable now to take stock of Senator Robert A. Taft's half of the administration. Mr. Republican now has been Senate majority leader five months.

It is true that no later than April 9, Senator Taft told the Republican National Committee that President Eisenhower would be reelected in 1956. Furthermore, after the Chicago convention last year, Senator Taft said he had made his last bid for the White House.

Senator Taft is a year older than President Eisenhower. Taft will be 64 on September 8. By election day, 1956, he would be 67. Only one President, William Henry Harrison, at 68, was older on inauguration day. And he died a month after taking office.

But—if President Eisenhower decided not to run in 1956—or if President Eisenhower tried to toss his torch to someone like Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, whom Taft Republicans rate—or if Senator Taft did not like the way the Eisenhower crowd had been running things—

Well, politicians, like women, claim a divine right to change their minds. And some of the people to whom the senator has been talking recently have come out of his office saying that he still had ideas about the White House and how it should be run.

Certainly, everything that Senator Taft has said and done in the five months since the Republicans took over has indicated that he has a program of his own—whether Eisenhower has or not. And Taft does not bother to clear his statements with the White House.

President Eisenhower has a press conference only two or three times a month. Reporters on Capitol Hill see Senator Taft two or three times a day. Taft's ideas today are therefore better known than the President's, and there are more of them. On domestic policies, Senator Taft should win the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts, cash the ace of diamonds, and ruff a diamond in dummy. He returns to his hand by ruffing a heart in order to ruff a second diamond in dummy.

Then South gets to his own hand once more by ruffing a heart in order to ruff his last diamond in dummy. Now South can cheerfully give up three club tricks but cannot lose the game contract.

When Secretary of State John Foster Dulles went before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to soft-pedal such demands, Taft observed that much more aid could be given Asia by reducing the amount given to Europe.

On April 20, Taft expressed the hope that all the problems of Asia could be settled "at one bite"—meaning in one conference. Five weeks later he was to advocate that he urge negotiations in Korea fail, then we should let all our allies know we are withdrawing from all further negotiations. He has much support for this idea.

But that is where President Eisenhower had to say "No!"

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE

On their tenth wedding anniversary, a man said to his wife, "If I had it to do over, I'd marry you again." She said, "Oh, no, you wouldn't."

A secretary said, "I left because the boss used such repulsive language." Her friend asked, "What did he say?" "You're fired," was the reply.

Q—Who designed the Statue of Liberty? A—Frederic Bartholdi, a French sculptor.

Q—How many men have used the State secretaryship as a stepping stone to the presidency? A—Six: Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren and Buchanan.

Q—Where was the first vaudeville performance shown in this country? A—The Gaiety Museum, Boston, Mass., in 1833.

Q—What makes a mosquito bite itch? A—A tiny drop of formic acid irritates the skin and causes the itch.

Q—How did the city of Texarkana receive its name? A—From the first syllable of Texas, the first two syllables of Arkansas, and the last syllable of Louisiana.

For centuries, people have tried to find the body of Alaric I and the treasure believed to have been buried with him 1,500 years ago under the waters of the Eusento river in southern Italy.

She was beautifully dressed, as always, and those soft white hands didn't indicate hardship. He asked, "What have you been doing?" "I was a nurse during the war. My mother died, and my two brothers were killed. I'm alone in the world, Pete, except for a married sister. We lost our money, too."

"You don't look as if you were broke." "I'm not—exactly, but I don't have much." "Look, Cass, why don't you go back home? This country is no place for a girl like you. Maybe we can work this idea out later. I've got no home to go to. Even if you throw me over again—" "I like that. You threw me over."

"Well, even if we don't make a lot of it I'm staying in the West. There's opportunity here. You can't stop me."

"I can try. Look Cass, I'm leaving here right away. Believe me, there is nothing out here for you. Wilkinson and I are going to a place that is inhabited only by outlaws and Indians, and there'll be danger every minute. I couldn't take you down there if I wanted to."

"IHE wanted to know why, and he told her about Zad Barnes and his stronghold at Two Rivers. 'That man over yonder,' he pointed, 'is an outlaw, and he followed me up here.'"

"I'm still going," she said. "Not with me," Pete said grimly. "Then with Wilkinson. And if not with him I'll go alone. I've got to make you understand, Pete, that I'm just as tough as anybody else. I can stand anything that you can stand."

Pete stood up. "I've got to be going, Cass. I'm sorry that I can't see things your way, but this is no country for a woman like you—and it's the only country for me."

He held out his hand, and after an instant of hesitation she took an instant of hesitation she took it.

"I'll be seeing you," she said. He walked out, and he was no sooner out of sight than Cass Dean got up and walked over to the man he had said was one of Zad Barnes' outlaws.

Joy Ann Graham, John Butts Are Married In Midland Church

Mrs. John H. Butts

Joy Ann Graham and John H. Butts, both of Midland, were married in a double-ring ceremony at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Greenwood Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Graham, Route 1. She was graduated from Midland High School in 1950 and attended Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, in 1950-51 and the Fall of 1952. She now is employed as a secretary at Wemple's.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butts of Fort Worth. He was graduated from Technical High School in Fort Worth in 1948 and now is employed as a radio and television technician with the Electric Appliance Company.

To Live Here
When they return from a wedding trip to Oklahoma, the newlyweds will establish a residence on West Golf Course Road.

The Rev. J. H. Golins, pastor of the Bellview Baptist Church, officiated for the wedding ceremony. Pianist was Mary Jo Jones of Haskell, an H-SU student. She played the bridal chorus from Wagner's opera, "Lohengrin" and the wedding march from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream." She also accompanied Nita Johnson, Abilene student at H-SU, who sang "Because" (D'Hardelot) and "Through the Years" (Youmans).

Vows were repeated at the church altar, which was decorated with a large center arrangement of white daisies, var-colored roses and greenery. Smaller arrangements of the same flowers and tall tapers in branched candelabra flanked the altar.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a rounded, scalloped neckline and long sleeves ending in points over her hands. Her fingertip veil was caught to a headband of orange blossoms and was touched with scalloped lace matching the lace of her dress.

Mary Garner attended the bride as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Peggy Thompson, Roscoe student at H-SU, and Joyce Graham, Carolyn Bryant served as flower girl.

They wore dresses of organdy over taffeta, styled like that of the bride and belted with white velvet ribbon. Their headresses were of multi-colored flowers and they carried colonial bouquets of white daisies. The maid of honor was dressed in baby blue. Miss Graham wore pastel pink and Miss Thompson, pastel green. Dress for the flower girl was of yellow.

Bobby Nichol of Fort Worth served as best man. Ushers and candle lighters were Jack Russell, Midland student of John Tarleton College, Stephenville, and J. W. Graham, brother of the bride and student at Texas A&M College.

Reception Held
Assisting the couple in receiving guests for the reception in the church parlor were their parents and the bride's attendants.

Also assisting in the house party were Mrs. J. C. Holliday, Melodesse Burris, Juanele Newsome, Aleta Russell, Linda Dobbs, Mrs. B. A. Rodgers, Mrs. Palmer Evans and Mary Jo Jones.

Something wonderful has happened to change the old-style rigid diet. You need no longer suffer the rigid, flat, tasteless meals as people have been doing who wanted to lose weight. The long faces of those who must diet are also a thing of the past. The new idea in dieting is to eat your regular foods—the foods you enjoy and want—but just to substitute low-calorie desserts for high-calorie desserts, low-calorie dressings for high-calorie dressings, low-calorie jellies for high-calorie jellies, low-calorie fruits for high-calorie fruits... and you can't taste the difference. It's that simple! It's working for thousands of people... It will work for you, too.

Tributes Pour In For Late Editor, Historian Freeman

RICHLAND, Va. (AP)—Tributes poured in Monday for the late Douglas Southall Freeman, newspaper editor, historian and Pulitzer Prize-winning biographer. He died Saturday of a heart ailment in his home here at the age of 67.

Freeman, who spotted in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the qualities he thought the country needed, urged the general to heed the call for political service. Eisenhower said later that his friend Freeman had been "the first man in the United States who ever got me to thinking seriously about a possible political career."

Among those who sent tributes to Freeman were Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, wartime chief of the Pacific Fleet and later chief of naval operations; Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson; John J. McCloy, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank, New York, and former U. S. high commissioner for Germany; Kent Cooper, executive director of The Associated Press; and Senator J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Freeman was editor of the Richmond News-Leader 34 years, from 1915 to his retirement in 1949.

He won a Pulitzer Prize in 1935 for his four-volume biography of Gen. Robert E. Lee.

He was working on a biography of George Washington when he died. By last fall he had completed five volumes of the planned eight-volume work.

★ Daddy Ringtail ★ Daddy Ringtail And Catch A Goose

The wild geese were flying north. They flew like the head of an arrow through the sky. Some flew high. Some flew low. But all were flying north.

"Daddy Ringtail," said Mother Ringtail to Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, "those geese better fly high—all of them high—if they don't want the Featherman to get them."

"Ah yes," said Daddy Ringtail. "The Featherman will get them sure enough, if they don't fly high."

From out in the forest came the noise of a gun. "Bam!"

"That's the Featherman now," said Mother Ringtail.

"I'm going," said Daddy Ringtail. Down he slid to the ground. He hurried away to the Duck Pond, where he knew the Featherman was hiding with a gun to shoot a goose.

The Featherman wanted a goose-feather. All he thinks about is feathers, feathers, and more feathers. He takes them home to feather with him. Long white whistlers—long green coats—this was the Featherman, right all right. He was wanting to shoot a goose to get a goosefeather.

"That's silly," said Daddy Ringtail. "Why shoot a whole goose, when all you want is one goosefeather? Catch the goose, Featherman. Take one of his feathers. Let him fly away to grow more feathers for you."

"Oh, feathers, feathers, feathers," said the Featherman, all in a Featherman delight. "How do you catch a goose, Daddy Ringtail?"

"Catching a goose is simple," said Daddy Ringtail. "All you have to do is put some salt on his tail."

"I'll do it," said the Featherman, and he hurried away to go home to his nest to get the salt.

But he'll be back, and so will I—to tell you tomorrow what happened next. Happy day!

Mexico's Tourist Business Declines

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico is busy locking the door before any more tourists are stolen. There's a flutter and flurry of meetings among the men who make their living off the tourists—all because the tourist traffic, Mexico's "industry without chimneys," is falling off.

Mexico depends on the tourists' $150,000,000 a year to balance its trade with the United States. The tourist business has been an expanding industry since World War II closed Europe. It has grown steadily from only a few thousand visitors a year to 411,000 last year. More and more Mexican money has been invested in hotels, roads and good restaurants.

Last year the climb ceased. This year things were worse still. Only 80 per cent as many visitors are coming this year compared with 1952. There were only 67,000 tourists during the first quarter of 1953, and 106,000 during that period last year.

These figures do not show the worst of the situation. The tourists who do come are spending less. The average tourist used to spend 10 days and $350 in the country. Now he stays a week and spends about $250. All this means Mexico faces a deficit of about $60,000,000 in a total foreign trade of $600,000,000. Everybody has his own ideas about what caused the reduction in dollar-bearing visitors. Among the reasons advanced by officials are:

The counter-attraction of the coronation in Britain.
Higher prices charged tourists.
Supplies of gasoline along the tourist routes are not always ample and are apt to run out during the rush season.
Highway robberies have frightened away many tourists. The same gang held up three tourist parties at the same spot on successive Saturdays just outside Mexico City. State authorities did nothing about it until the holdups received wide publicity in the U. S. Finally federal police rounded up the gang. But just after that happened another U. S. tourist was shot by holdup men on a West Coast road.

Youth Missing, Five Men Injured As Blast Rips Cabin Cruiser

BOSTON—(AP)—One youth was presumed drowned and five men were being treated for injuries after a cabin cruiser carrying a fishing party of 23 men exploded and burned in Boston Harbor.

The missing youth is William Parsons, 15, the only one aboard not employed by the Whittemore Cement Mix Company of Boston.

He had accompanied his uncle, Leo McDonald, 45, on the Whittemore employees' fishing outing. Albert Foss, 28, skipper of the 36-foot vessel, said the first blast occurred when a motor spark touched off gasoline in the bilge.

The second, a more serious blast, came when the flames spread to the gasoline tank as the last of the survivors had swum about 20 yards from the craft.

Survivors said the cruiser Madeline exploded in "a ball of flame," seconds after everyone aboard had jumped overboard.

Seven Coast Guard, police and fire boats and a number of pleasure craft converged on the scene within minutes to pick survivors out of the water.

Huntsville Grad Has Third Brush With Old Man Law

HOUSTON—(AP)—Alton Franks, an ex-convict with a $19,000 Huntsville prison graduation present, is in trouble with the law for the third time since he left prison May 18.

Franks, 19, was released on bond after being charged Sunday in corporation court with discharging firearms in the city.

Howard Hutchins, 23, complained that Franks fired five shots at his automobile after an argument.

Franks told a story of receiving $19,000 from a fellow prisoner, J. C. Henderson, Tornillo rancher serving a 50-year prison sentence for murder. Henderson said he gave Franks the money to help him go straight.

Franks' trial on a charge of carrying a pistol is set Tuesday before county court-at-law Judge John Snell. The charge was filed after Franks was stopped June 3 on a minor traffic violation. Friday, Franks pleaded guilty to three traffic charges and appealed them. He was fined $40.

Baptists Dedicate Children's Home

BEEVILLE, TEXAS—(AP)—The Baptist General Convention of Texas dedicated its South Texas Children's Home Sunday.

John Winters, state director of public welfare, spoke at ceremonies on the 637-acre, $500,000 home. "If we as Christian people really believe in the teachings of Jesus Christ, we should go all out for such homes as this," Winters said. "There is a shortage of homes for dependent children in Texas."

Thirty children have been admitted to the home. It is on a tract given by Mrs. Laura Boothe, Beeville school teacher, in 1951. Three cottages, housing 10 children each, have been constructed.

Industry Honors Heroic Milkman

The medal was one of 11 announced Monday for milk route men for service in the performance of their duties.

Schooner 'Atlantic' Joins Texas' Navy

GALVESTON—(AP)—Texas A&M's new three-masted schooner for ocean research was accepted by the school at ceremonies here Sunday.

The 120-foot vessel, "Atlantic," is a gift of Schlitz Breweries of Milwaukee, Wis. It was turned over to Raleigh Horienstein of Dallas, president of the Texas A&M Foundation, at Galveston Pier Sunday. On board for the brewery was vice president Erwin Uhllein.

The Ashburn of Austin, representing Gov. Allan Shivers, commissioned the vessel a flagship in the Texas Navy. Some 100 state industrial leaders and A&M officials watched the ceremonies.

The "Atlantic" will carry $100,000 in research equipment of the Texas A&M Oceanography Department. It will cruise the Gulf of Mexico.

Reed Sees Democrat Return Unless Taxes Drop This Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) predicted Monday that if taxes are not cut this year, the Democrats will win back control of Congress in 1954.

don't get this tax reduction now, you will have a Democratic Congress next time."

Reed, in a position as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee to influence taxes more than any other man in Congress, has been talking at two major provisions of Eisenhower's tax program:

1. A request that the excess profits tax on business, due to expire at the end of this month, be extended for six months to bring in an estimated 800 million dollars toward balancing the budget. Reed wants the tax to expire on schedule.

2. A request that a 10 per cent cut in individual income taxes be permitted to take effect next January 1, as scheduled under present law. Reed wants to advance it to July 1.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.) said over the weekend he knows a majority of the 15 Republicans on Reed's committee "are ready to bring . . . to the House floor" an extension of the excise profits tax.

Reed will call his committee together to act on the excess profits tax extension. House GOP leaders concede that unless he does so, there may be no way to get the bill to the floor.

The committee will start Tuesday on an extensive series of hearings on wholesale revision of the tax laws. One of the first subjects it will consider is whether to allow working mothers to deduct, for income tax purposes, the cost of hiring someone to care for their children.

He said he will continue to press for tax cuts because (a) a Korean truce should reduce government expenses, (b) "there are a good many economic danger-signals" which point to the possibility of a depression, and (c) "if we would get rid of the excess profits tax and give the individual taxpayer a break, we would actually bring in more revenue" by stimulating business.

On other points, Reed said:

1. He sees no merit in a compromise with the Administration which would allow the excess profits tax to expire and personal income rates to drop on October 1. "I think that is just cutting off the dog's tail an inch at a time to save the pain," Reed said.

2. The Joint Chiefs of Staff, in their military budget estimates, "are wildly extravagant—they always have been."

3. He does not think his committee will go along with two other Eisenhower tax recommendations—to postpone indefinitely drops in corporation and excise sales taxes due to take effect next April 1.

4. "I don't think you could get a sales tax through Congress at all."

Baptists Plan New Church On Midland's West Side

Midland's west side is due the city's newest Baptist church as the result of a religious census taken Sunday by representatives of four Baptist churches here.

First services for the new church have been slated July 12 at a site yet to be selected. The new organization will be started under the auspices of the Permian Basin Baptist Association, and A. D. Lightfoot, superintendent, will serve as temporary pastor.

A revival meeting is scheduled at the new church from July 26 until August 9, with Lightfoot preaching during the first week and all of the other Baptist pastors here taking a night during the second week.

Census takers met in the Bellview Baptist Church Sunday to receive their instructions from Wesley Martin and Cecil Smith, Jr., who guided the project. Purpose of the venture was to determine whether prospects warranted the organization of another church in the area.

Pastors of the cooperating churches are the Rev. Jimmy Stovall, West Side Baptist; the Rev. Leon Woods, Calvary Baptist; the Rev. Vernon Yearby, First Baptist; and the Rev. Jim Coins, Bellview Baptist.

With Senator Russell (D-Ga.) leading the fight, the showdown is expected on a move to increase soil conservation payments for 1954 from the House-approved figure of $195,000,000 to $225,000,000. The economy-minded Senate Appropriations Committee already has rejected the proposed increase.

But worried Republican leaders fear they may have trouble checking farm state GOP members with their eyes on next year's elections.

However, Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) predicted the Senate will uphold the committee. He said he felt any increase could be won profitably, but $195,000,000 was in line with his party's drive to cut government spending.

Budget-cutters seemed within reaching distance of the $10,000,000,000 slash set as a goal by House Appropriations Committee Chairman Taber (R-NY) last January when Congress received former President Truman's budget.

The House has chopped $1,800,000,000 from the seven appropriations bills it has passed and major cuts are due in three big bills still to be considered. The Administration has cut $8,000,000,000 from those three, including reductions of more than $5,000,000,000 for the Defense Department and $2,000,000,000 for foreign aid. The House probably will make further cuts.

In the battle over soil conservation payments, Russell is expected to get almost solid backing from Democrats, who attribute their surprise Midwestern victories in 1948 to voters' reaction to cuts made by the Republican 80th Congress that year in agriculture funds.

But an exception, Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), said he will oppose the proposed soil conservation fund increase. A staunch economy advocate, he said he intends to continue to vote for spending cuts.

The $195,000,000 fund approved by the House and the Senate committee actually is only a ceiling on the program for the fiscal year starting in mid-1954. Appropriations we have to be made by Congress next year to cover actual payments.

Weather Bureau Chief Sees Curtailment If Funds Slashed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau, has told Congress that some weather bureau stations will have to be closed down if there is any sharp cutback in funds.

Whether some or all of the bureau's 60 weather stations are closed, or trimmed in operating forces, Dr. Reichelderfer recently told a Senate committee, depends on what the lawmakers do with the bureau's money request for next year. The extent of any curtailment apparently depends on how far the House is willing to go along with the Senate.

President Eisenhower asked for $26,700,000 for salaries and expenses for the bureau during the year beginning July 1. The House in passage on the Commerce Department appropriations cut this to $24,700,000. But the Senate, after hearing Dr. Reichelderfer, raised the figure to $27,000,000. The Senate committee said that amount should enable the bureau to operate all the weather stations.

Unless the House accepts the $2,300,000 Senate increase, the difference must be ironed out in a conference committee.

Dr. Reichelderfer gave the Senate a list of stations which might be subject to closing or curtailment of operations if funds were cut.

Texas Stations Hit He added, however, that it is not a firm list and that "we will have to talk with the Civil Aeronautics Administration; we have to talk with the Air Force, Navy and Army, to see whether closing affects them."

The stations he said were under consideration for closing if there is a lack of money include: Texarkana, Ark., and Beaumont. Subject to possible reductions in force and operating hours would be: Del Rio, San Angelo and Waco. Approximately 154 employees would be affected in all stations.

Father's Day Really Mother's Day This Year

Joseph Sylvester Doak, noted authority on anniversaries, dates, and historical events, states that the year 1953 should be noted for the fact that Father's Day could easily be Mother's Day, providing, of course, that mother really wanted to please her bitter half.

If mother is full of woe because poor father gets in such a terrible stew trying to out the lawn with a hand (and whoever gave one of them that silly name, never tried to push one) mower, then she just ought to phone the store and say, "Send up one of those beautiful Jacobson Power Mowers, we want Pop to try out the power of mind over matter!"

Oh, mother, if you want to make HIS eyes sparkle, just give him a gift from Jacobson. When that delicious, form-fitting handle is nestled in his manly paw, when that horse and a half engine is purring so smoothly, when the grass flows out in great billows, when he has swapped struggle for stroll, then, and then only, will you know that it is really Mother's Day on Father's Day. The gratings will be everlasting. And peace shall reign in the household forevermore.

Fabulous Ford Empire Notes Golden Anniversary Tuesday

DETROIT —(AP)— A fabulous industrial empire that started on a shoestring and poured a golden stream into the pockets of a dozen small original investors observes its Golden Anniversary Tuesday.

The empire is the Ford Motor Company incorporated on June 16, 1903, with $28,000 in cash paid in and $61,000 in stock distributed for services. Little in the way of formal observance is planned for the actual birthday; most of the ceremonies were held last month.

Tuesday the Ford rotunda, opposite the company's main administration building in nearby Dearborn will be opened formally to the public. It has been reconstructed to emphasize the theme of "progressive research and engineering."

Monday night the company sponsors a two-hour television show to commemorate its anniversary.

Of all the fabulous stories connected with the saga of the Ford Motor Company perhaps the most fanciful is that of Rosetta Couzens. Her brother, James Couzens, even a coal company employe and later United States senator from Michigan, invested $100 for her. She later received $95,000 in dividends and in 1919, sold her holdings for $260,000.

Her brother received proportionate dividends on his own $2,400 investment and sold out to Ford in 1919 for more than $23,300,000.

"Crazy Idea"

Four or five of the other initial stockholders sold out early in the life of the company and missed chances to become multi-millionaires. But besides Couzens there were John and Horace Dodge, machine shop owners who built engines for the company, and Horace Rackham and John Anderson, lawyers, who contributed services or cash in the amount of $5,000 each and cashed in later for 12 1/2 million each.

All this grew out of the "crazy idea" of Henry Ford, then 40 years old and an engineer in the Edison Illuminating Company plant in Detroit, that he could build an automobile that a workman could afford to buy.

Ford and the Ford Motor Company generally are credited with bringing the moving assembly line and mass production to the automobile industry. Certain it is that the golden flood that poured from its coffers into the hands of the stockholders was swollen by the sudden introduction of mass output technique.

Kentucky Names Tallest Citizen

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(AP)— Kenneth C. Snyder, a human skyscraper, won the tallest Kentuckian contest Monday by one-eighth of an inch.

The Bedford, Ky., giant's official measurement of six feet, eight and five-eighths inches in stocking feet barely nosed out John P. Mills of Flat Lick.

As the tallest Kentuckian, Snyder won an appropriately tall cup—27 inches high.

The contest was held in connection with Louisville's 175th anniversary celebration, which hits its peak Monday night with the opening of "The Tall Kentuckian," a play based on the life of Abraham Lincoln.

New Tax Program Aims At Inducing Honesty In Returns

WASHINGTON —(AP)— If you keep good tax records, Uncle Sam may send you a note telling you so. If you err on your return, but in all honesty, your tax collector will drop around or send a letter explaining what's wrong and how to avoid future slip-ups.

This new Internal Revenue Bureau program of educating taxpayers has been outlined by Deputy Revenue Commissioner O. Gordon Delk.

"Greatest immediate revenue is not our goal," he says. "If it were, we would assign all our revenue agents to the highest bracket tax returns . . ."

"The tax obtained from an audit of a tax return is far less important, revenue wise, than setting a taxpayer straight for years to come."

Pay more? What for?

Fifty Years Forward on the American Road

You don't have to pay costly-car prices for costly-car comforts. Ford brings you everything [and we mean everything] you've ever wanted in a car, at a price that's well within your reach! And according to recent surveys, a Ford returns more of its original cost when sold than any other car at any price!

Here are a few of the "Worth More" advantages you'll find in the '53 Ford:

- 1. A V-8 engine—powerful and smooth! Ford's famous high-compression V-8 is a leader in quiet, flexible, economical performance. Ford, remember, has built more V-8's than all other makers combined—over 13 million!
- 2. America's most economical Six engine! If it's a Six you want, Ford offers you the high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker... the engine which, with optional Overdrive, won over all other cars, regardless of size or weight, in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run! And it's yours for the same kind of money that buys less modern sixes in other cars.
- 3. America's finest and most versatile automatic drive! Fordomatic Drive is the "automatic" which gives you both the get-up-and-go
- of automatic gears and the smoothness of a fluid torque converter. If you choose Fordomatic, you will find that it makes all your driving easier . . . more relaxing.
- 4. Automatic gas savings! Ford's Automatic Power Pilot (on Six and V-8) meters just the right amount of gas, times ignition precisely, burns fuel evenly and completely. You get full high-compression performance from every drop of gas—regular or premium.
- 5. America's newest and finest power steering! Ford's Master-Guide power steering gives you new ease, stability and safety in guiding your car on smooth roads or rough. Your car gains in sure-footed roadability and you expend up to 75% less effort in driving—and parking.
- 6. Largest choice of models in the low-price field! Ford alone gives you a choice of 18 different models . . . a SIX or V-8 . . . Fordomatic, Conventional or Overdrive . . . the widest variety of body, color and upholstery combinations. You can practically "design" your own Ford!
- 7. A body that's the style-setter! Only Ford in its field gives you the advantages of a hull-tight Crestmark Body . . . the trend-maker in design and beauty. Ford's body is the longest and Ford's trunk is the largest. You enjoy far more usable space.
- 8. New driving conveniences! Ford's first in its field with such "Worth More" features as easier-acting, suspended pedals that eliminate floor holes . . . foam rubber cushions over non-sag springs on front and rear seats in all models . . . and convenient Center-Fill Fueling.
- 9. An automatically controlled ride! When you Test Drive this Ford, notice how the wide front tread (widest in the low-price field) takes tilt out of turns . . . gives you a more level ride. With new "balanced suspension," new spring and shock absorber action and new rubber compression bumpers, road shock in the front end alone is reduced up to 80%.
- 10. It's worth more when you sell it! An impartial survey of used car prices proved that Fords return a greater proportion of their original cost than any other cars in America. It's another fact to add to Ford's reputation as the "Worth More" car.

But don't take our word for it. Stop in and Test Drive this Ford for yourself. We predict you'll be sold before you're in second! It was true last year and it's even truer this year: you can pay more, but you can't buy better than Ford.

Navajo Trackers Seek Two Scouts Lost In Canyon

WINDOW ROCK, ARIZ. —(AP)— Modern know-how supplemented ancient Indian lore Monday in an effort to rescue two Des Moines, Iowa, explorer Scouts lost in the yawning chasms of Nakai Canyon on the Navajo reservation along the Arizona-Utah border.

Into the rugged country, walkie-talkie radios and Indian Service maps were parachuted to veteran Navajo trackers who are searching for Bud McIntire, 15, and Phil Crowley, 16, missing since Thursday.

The equipment was dropped by Civil Air Patrol planes flying out of here.

The Scouts were members of a party of 35 who left Des Moines by chartered bus June 4 for a two-week exploration trip to the canyon. The rest of the group was reported enroute back to Des Moines with the exception of some of the leaders who remained behind to help in the search.

Ike Warns Against 'Book Burning' In Battle To Thwart Communism

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower, speaking out against "the book burners," declared Sunday that Americans must fight communism "with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

Eisenhower named no names, but his statement recalled the demand by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) acceded to by the State Department, that the government withdraw from its overseas libraries books by authors who are known Communists or fellow travelers.

The President said even those with whose views we disagree have a right to have their views on record in public places—"or it is not America."

"Don't join the book burners," he told the graduating class at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H. "Don't think you are going to sweep something by concealing evidence that it ever existed, don't be afraid to go to the library and read every book, so long as that document does not offend our own ideas of decency."

Almost A Religion
"How will we defeat communism, unless we know what it is, and why it has such an appeal for men? Why are so many people swearing allegiance to it? It is almost a religion—albeit in one of the other regions. We have got to fight it with something better, not try to conceal the thinking of our own people."

This was the first of two short talks the President made Sunday in the whirlwind finish to a five-day speaking tour which took him into five states. He also flew over serious storm damage in Michigan and Massachusetts and pledged federal aid and money toward reconstructions.

From New Hampshire, the President flew to Oyster Bay, N. Y., about 30 miles east of New York City, and dedicated the Summer home of Theodore Roosevelt as a national shrine. He shared the platform with former President Herbert Hoover and New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Eisenhower said there is a tendency to overdramatize the former Rough Rider, and he added: "The fact is he was a wise leader. He was not a swashbuckler, he was not a bull in a china shop. . . . He was a man who understood his fellow human beings. . . . About 8,000 persons heard the President, in front of Sagamore Hill, the Roosevelt Summer White House, at the opening of week-long ceremonies.

At Dartmouth, where he received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree, he spoke before an audience of about 10,000 spectators and 563 graduates, whom he counseled to get some fun out of life.

"Unless each day can be looked back upon by an individual as one in which he has had some fun."

Husband Charged In Fatal Shooting Of Mother Of Five

BALTIMORE—(AP)—State and county police conferred Monday with State's Attorney C. Osborne Duval before taking the next step in their investigation of the fatal shooting of a 27-year-old mother of five boys.

Lt. Martin M. Puncke of the state police said statements obtained from Francis Shaulis, Jr., 31-year-old bricklayer husband of the dead woman, and from his oldest son Frank, nine, did not change materially information already gathered.

Shaulis, lodged in the Anne Arundel County Jail at Annapolis on a warrant charging murder, surrendered to state police at Hagerstown, Md., after a 40-hour flight into Pennsylvania and Western Maryland with his five young sons after the death of their mother Friday morning.

Shaulis said his wife, Mary Ann, was shot accidentally, that he became panicky, packed the children—ranging from 18 months to nine years in age—into the car and fled. He surrendered at the home of his wife's cousin, Mrs. Harry Watkins, who quoted him as saying that his wife, Mary Ann, was shot accidentally while he was cleaning his automatic and she started "kidding and carrying on."

Puncke said Shaulis repeated the "accidental part" but didn't include that he was cleaning his gun.

Mother Charged In Abandonment Of Five-Year-Old

NEW YORK—(AP)—Louie's mother has been a found. Louie, five, turned up in a Brooklyn police station Friday with this note pinned on him: "I was put out of my house, and I don't want to walk the streets with my boy. I have no money. Please make him eat. Thank you."

The boy said his name was Louie, and no more.

Police Sunday located the mother after relatives saw the child's picture in the newspapers and directed them to her.

She was identified as Mrs. Elena Mastrangelo, 22, who said her husband, Frank, 28, was in city prison serving one and one-half to three years for forgery.

Officers found her with friends in a Brooklyn rooming house—the same house from which she had been evicted Friday.

Mrs. Mastrangelo was held in $1,000 bail on abandonment charges while Louie remained in a children's shelter.

United States patents are only issued on Tuesday of each week. If a holiday falls on Tuesday, patents are issued just the same.

some joy, some real satisfaction, that day is a loss," the President said. "It is un-Christian and wicked, in my opinion, to allow such a thing to occur."

Declaring that the nation is a long way from perfection, the President said: "We have the disgrace of racial discrimination, or we have prejudice against people because of their religion. We have crimes on the docks. We have not had the courage to uproot these things although we know they are wrong with our standards."

Love Of Country Not Enough
"Now that courage is not going to be satisfied—your sense of satisfaction is not going to be satisfied—if you have not the courage to look at these things and do your best to help correct them, because that is the contribution you shall make to this beloved country in your time. "Each of us, as he passes along, should strive to add something. "It is not enough merely to say I love America, and to salute the flag and take off your hat as it goes by, or by singing the 'Star Spangled Banner.' Wonderful. We love to do them, and our hearts swell with pride, because those who went before us worked to give to us today standing here, this pride."

Then it was that he said Americans must work to understand communism, so that they can combat it, and not seek to "conceal the thinking of our own people."

"And even if their thinking and ideas are contrary to ours," he said, "their right to say them, and their right to have them in places where they are accessible to others is unquestioned, or it is not America."

Alabama City Hit By Wave Of Polio

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—(AP)—An urgent garbage, trash and barnyard cleanup campaign is under way in Montgomery to combat the nation's worst outbreak of polio thus far in 1953.

But the first response has been discouraging, and Dr. A. H. Graham, Montgomery County health officer, warned that the "people must cooperate" in the drive to stamp out breeding grounds for disease-carrying insects, particularly flies.

Forty-four children and two adults have been stricken here at this time of year. Twenty-eight of the victims have suffered partial or total paralysis, but there has been only one death so far.

Parents have been advised to keep children out of crowds, especially the younger ones, since at least two-thirds of the polio patients have been six or under. Ministers have urged the smaller ones to skip Sunday school for a while, and some public places have closed their doors to pre-school age boys and girls.

Dr. Morris Schaeffer, director of the virus laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service here, said Montgomery with a population of 105,000 is the hardest hit community in the nation on a per capita basis.

The toll here is greater than the rest of Alabama put together. Without any proof that polio is borne by any one carrier, public health officials nevertheless are concentrating on the cleanup campaign, together with a block-by-block, city-sponsored insect spraying project.

While it may be just coincidence, Dr. Graham says, the fly problem is worse this year than he has ever seen in Montgomery.

Whether flies alone can cause a severe outbreak of polio, this much is certain, says Dr. Schaeffer: Scientists know the virus is present in sewage, and some types of flies can become contaminated with it.

Negro Sergeant's Children Stricken

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—(AP)—A Negro Army sergeant's few home from Korea Sunday to be at the bedside of two small daughters and a son stricken with polio.

The children of S Sgt. James Freely are among 46 victims of the disease coming in Montgomery already this year.

Of the Freely family, six-year-old Caroline is the most seriously ill. She is in an iron lung at St. Jude's Hospital.

James, Jr., two, and Betty Jean, eight, are nonparalytic cases. They are under treatment at Maxwell Air Force Base Hospital.

Jobless Salesman Confesses Slaying Of Wife, Daughter

PORTLAND, Maine—(AP)—Municipal Court arraignment on murder charges was held Monday for Douglas P. Adams, 37, who said he gave himself up after pondering in the United Nations Building about the June 7 carving-knife deaths of his wife and child.

The jobless cooking oil salesman faced prosecution from a 1933 high school classmate to whom he announced his decision on returning from New York.

County Attorney Frederic S. Sturgis said Adams telephoned him Sunday.

"This is Doug Adams. Come and get me," Adams calmly described to police how he killed his wife, Charlotte, 38, and daughter Carolyn, 12, in their apartment because he couldn't provide for them.

Sturgis said Adams related in a signed statement that he stabbed his wife and smothered her with a pillow, then stabbed his daughter and took a train for New York several hours later.

It was during a guided tour through the UN Building Thursday that he decided to surrender, Adams said.

He took a bus back here Sunday and telephoned Sturgis from a bus depot.

Radford Flies Back From Visit To Korea

Radford toured Korea last week and talked twice with President Syngman Rhee. He also visited Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa.

Last surviving general of the American Revolutionary War was Gen. John Stark, who died in 1822, at the age of 93, in New Hampshire.

Yoshida Tries Again On Anti-Strike Bill

TOKYO—(AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida Monday introduced to the lower house a watered-down version of the anti-strike bill that helped topple his last government.

The bill would restrict strikes in the coal and power industries. It is a mild version of the bill that helped crystallize Yoshida's opposition this Spring and led to a non-confidence motion against him.

Yoshida failed to win a majority in the ensuing election, but was kept in his post by a coalition. Opponents called the former measure a "police state" bill.

The two Socialist parties immediately declared their opposition to the new version. So did the big coal and power unions.

Japanese Protest Army Installation In Fishing Village

UCHINADA, JAPAN—(AP)—A thousand residents of this Central Japan fishing village Monday staged a sitdown protest against continued use of a nearby U. S. Army firing range. Kyodo news agency said.

They clustered just outside the fenced-in area, forcing the U. S. soldiers to use short-range ammunition.

Another thousand Japanese demonstrated in the streets. They say the noise is disturbing and that presence of American soldiers raises a moral problem in the village, from which most of the able-bodied Japanese men are away on fishing trips much of the year.

The Japanese government said only 20 Americans are stationed in the area. The Japanese government in May renewed indefinitely a lease on the sand dune area for U. S. testing of shells manufactured in Japan. It said the area is the only suitable one and it will pay up to a million dollars compensation to villagers.

ROK Envoy Says Chinese Taking Korea

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The South Korean ambassador, You Chan Yang, says that unless his embattled country is unified the northern portion will be completely communized and will become a part of Red China.

Already, he said on a Du Mont television program Sunday, "North Koreans are being rapidly replaced with Chinese Communists—thoroughly indoctrinated Communists—and Koreans are being eliminated."

U. S. Spends 101 Billions On Korean War, Rearmament

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States has spent about $101,740,000,000 in the last three years on rearmament and the Korean War, the Defense Department estimated Monday.

During that time, Congress has granted the military about $155,579,000,000 in new obligatory authority—the right to contract for material and service.

With the help of the $101,740,000,000 expenditure, the Defense Department has formed a force of about 3,500,000 men, started re-equipping and expanding the number of weapons for the Air Force, Army and Navy and fought the Korean War. This expenditure does not include money used by the Atomic Energy Commission for atomic bombs.

In a similar three-year period of World War II (the fiscal years 1942-44, inclusive) expenditures were $127,767,000,000. In that time, the strength of the armed forces increased to about 11 million. The war was being fought on fronts in Europe and the Pacific.

War Costs Up Sharply
One thing demonstrated here is that the price of war, like costs for everything else, rose sharply over a decade. Everything, from the cost of a bomber to the salary of a soldier, is higher.

While that may be a primary factor, other elements enter. Questions have been raised about the business acumen and practices of the armed forces.

Last year Congress called a halt to a long-established custom of the services—the rush as each fiscal year neared an end to spend whatever money was left. That often mounted into millions.

An amendment to the appropriation act now limits obligations (buying orders) during the last two months of each fiscal year to 125 per cent of the average for each of the preceding 10 months.

Huge Unspent Backlog
The Defense Department estimate for expenditures in the fiscal year ending with the close of this month is about $43,001,000,000. It calculates the military establishment—all the armed forces—will enter the new fiscal year with $62,600,000,000 left over from previous appropriations.

To supply the munitions and other materials and services going into the over-all national defense program, which includes items in addition to those procured only for the Army, Navy and Air Force, about 15 per cent of the gross national product is required now. For the armed forces, the figure is estimated by the Defense Department at 12 per cent.

At the peak of World War II, the military "take" of the national product was about 45 per cent.

Texas Boy Injured At Sea Reported In Good Condition

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—A 12-year-old San Antonio boy, rushed here after receiving a serious eye injury while aboard a ship in the Gulf of Mexico, was reported in good condition Monday.

Bowie Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Duncan, was operated on Sunday to correct injuries received when his right eye was lacerated by a knife.

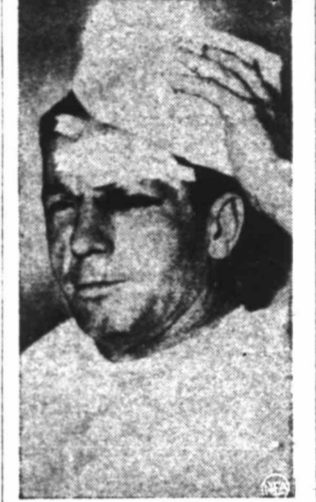

The injury occurred aboard the SS Marion of the Lykes Brothers Steamship Company while the ship was about 100 miles southwest of the entrance to the Mississippi River on a trip from Houston to Havana.

The ship turned off course to the river's entrance, a seven-hour trip, where it was met by a Coast Guard cutter. The cutter carried the boy about 25 miles up the river to Venice, La., where he was transferred to an ambulance for the trip to New Orleans.

GOP Solon Predicts Hiked Alien Quotas

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Watkins (R-Utah) said Monday he expects the Senate Immigration subcommittee he heads to approve before the week's end a bill to admit an additional 240,000 immigrants in the next two years.

The legislation has been urged by President Eisenhower as an emergency measure to aid refugees and escapees from behind the Iron Curtain and to relieve population pressures in Europe.

Arnold wouldn't believe he'd been shot in a tussle with a burglar, until he returned to scene of the fight 10 hours later, and found a bullet which had hit his right forehead, followed the skull and came out the top of his head. The second shot penetrated near his left eyebrow, and split on his sinus bone.

Ackers Hurls Oiler Victory

ARTESIA—(P)—Odesa rallied behind the six-hit pitching of a former outfielder to take the Artesia Drillers, 10-3, Sunday night.
Jim Ackers, a converted outfielder making his first start, stopped Artesia, his former teammates, on only six hits.
Manuel Rodriguez relieved in the eighth when the Drillers chased in two runs.
Odesa chipped away steadily at a pair of Drillers, scoring two in the first and single runs in the fourth, sixth and seventh.
The Oilers wrapped it up when the Artesia infield fell apart in the eighth, committing three errors in five runs. Singles by Floyd Martin, Leo Eastham and Roman Loyko and a double by Felix Castro went with the miscues.

ROSWELL—(P)—Big Glen Burns slammed a pair of three-run homers to lead San Angelo to a 13-2 slaughter of Roswell Sunday night.
It was Roswell's tenth loss in their last 11 home starts.
San Angelo, taking advantage of the big hit, bunched all its scoring into three consecutive innings.
Burns did the honors in the first with his first wallop carrying the left field barrier. In the fourth, a bases loaded triple by John Jeandron highlighted a four-run outburst. Burns was the man again, with his second three-run homer of the night, in the fifth that sewed up the contest with a six-run rout.
Ben Bonine spaced eight hits in going the distance for the Colts.

Poulton, Marasovich Grab Skeet Honors

Ann Marasovich of Fabens and Charles Poulton of San Antonio carried off the choicest plums in the four-day Texas State Skeet Championships completed Sunday by winning the titles generally regarded as the state championships—ladies and men's high-over-all.
The state shoot wound up Sunday at Midland Gun Club with silver trophies being awarded in 100 events.
In addition to the high-over-all titles, Poulton shared the two-man team championship with Bill Sheppard of Aransas Pass in the 20-gauge gun and the pair won runner-up position in all other guns.
He was the key figure in the shoot-off that won the South Texas zone team the five-man team all-bore crown, and he was runner-up to the champion in the 28 gauge, tied for runner-up in the Oil Well Playoff, won the 410 gauge crown in a shoot-off Sunday, and captured his class in the all-bore.
Miss Marasovich won the ladies championships in all guns except D. W. Conway of Clint figured second in the standings for the high-over-all title with 531. Poulton won it with 535.
Fred Staacke of Randolph A. F. B. nosed out Conway for the all-bore championship by completing his 250 rounds Sunday with only one miss. He had fired a 199x200 Saturday to take the lead and tacked on a perfect 50 rounds Sunday. Conway finished second with two misses to beat out Poulton and Col. C. T. Edwinton of Bergstrom A. F. Midland Club Bids For '54 Fem Tourney

AMARILLO—President Gloria Esell of Midland—the top contender here—announced to other officials of the Women's West Texas golf tournament starting here Monday that Ranchland Hill Country Club of Midland and Abilene Country Club were the chief bidders for the 1954 tournament.
Which was the host role for '54 will be decided in a WWTGA meeting Tuesday; meantime, Mrs. Esell, runner-up at both the Midland and Hobbs Invitationals, went out to fire a 79 warm-up round Sunday for this week's five-day tourney. It was a best score for the day and gives her a pre-match nod over the other chief contenders, Mrs. C. D. Lee and Mrs. Gene Harding of El Paso. Pat Garner of Midland passed up a title defense here.
A group of other Midland women are entered, among them Sybil Flourney, Madeline Pomeroy, Evelyn Cowden, Lib Farris, Helen Hood, Lou Meadows, Dorothy Dowdle, Jane Lockett, Kitty Ashby and Nancy Goesh, all from Midland Country Club.
The players fired qualifying rounds Monday.

Potashers Pound Tribe Hurlers For 19-Hit Win

CARLSBAD—(P)—Manager Jay Haney tries to regroup his Midland charges for another win streak Monday night in a series finale but probably he's confused himself about what pitcher to use—especially after what the Carlsbad Potashers did to five of the Indian toilers Sunday night.
The Potashers, second place in the league, popped four homers out of the park for a 10-7 triumph, Midland's first loss in seven games. It was, incidentally, a pitcher that muddled Midland's chances Sunday.
Audie Malone, twirling in relief, won his own game with a two-run homer when the victors scored the decisive three runs in the eighth.
Eddie Jacome started for Midland but Merv Connor's second home run in two at bats plated three runs to rout him, behind 8-2, in the third. Thereafter Romario Soto, Fred Smith, Freddie Rodriguez and Ralph Blair took turn about feeding the Carlsbad 19-hit kitty.
The Indians matched the count with three runs in the fifth on two hits, two walks and a wild pitch before Malone relieved starter Hank Williams.
Midland, scoring once in the second, third, three in the fifth and once in the seventh, led, 6-5, before two flyouts scored two Carlsbad runs and cost Rodriguez the loss.
Art Rowland hit four for four while Tex Stephenson and Mickey Dias plated most runs, two, for Midland.
Dub Atkins also had a homer for Carlsbad.

Futile Tribe Bows Twice To Yankees

Unless Al Lopes is an incurable optimist who wears rose-colored glasses even in the dark, he could do worse than give his Cleveland Indians a little talk Monday—something like this:
"We've tried everything to beat those Yanks, but whatever we do, they manage to go one better. When we streak, they put together a better streak. When we have the pitching, they manage to get the big blow to beat us. When we have the hitting, they outslug us. Let's concentrate on nailing down second place this year and give it another whirl in 1954."
Until a week ago, Lopes was still talking pennant. At least the Indians were in halting distance of the Yankees at that time. But the clean sweep of the four-game series that ended with a double conquest, 6-2 and 3-0, for the Yanks Sunday just about knocked the breath and hope out of the Tribe.
Casey Stengel and his swash-buckling crew now are 10 1/2 games ahead of the Indians with the season almost half over. The Yanks have won 18 games in a row, which is the third longest winning streak in American League history.
Sunday Yank catcher Yogi Berra actually knocked in enough runs to win each game. In the opener, he hit a home run with two on off Bob Lemon in the eighth with his team behind, 2-1. Then in the second game, he clouted a triple in the fourth with two more mates on.
Lemon was the loser of the first, and Mike Garcia, who permitted only seven hits, was the victim in the nightcap. Bob Kusava won the first for the Yanks and Vic Raschi tossed the shutout, yielding three hits to the Tribe.
The St. Louis Browns lost their fourteenth straight, when they took a twin shelling from the Philadelphia A's, 4-1 and 3-1.

The Chicago White Sox moved into third place with a pair of triumphs over the Red Sox, 6-0 and 1-0.
Billy Pierce tossed the first, giving up only two hits, while Sandy Consuegra threw the second.
In the other American League game, the Washington Senators slugged the hapless Detroit Tigers, 6-1, behind the strong-arm hurling of Frank Shea.
The sea-saw battle for first place in the National League continued between the Milwaukee Braves and the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Amazing Braves edged past the Brooks by winning a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3 and 8-0.
Don Liddle threw a five-hitter for Charlie Grimm's leads in the first game and Bob Buhl came right back with a two-hit job in the afterpiece.
The Brooks knocked off the Chicago Cubs, 6-3, in the opener of their scheduled double-header with both Billy Loos and Joe Black working. But in the nightcap, they had to be content with a six-all tie. The Dodgers were ahead, 6-2, in the ninth, but Ralph Kiner smashed a home run with the bases loaded and two out to tie the count. The game was called because of darkness.
Ken Raffensberger outpitched Robin Roberts as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, in the first game of a double-header. The Phils came back to win the second, though, 4-1, with Carl Drews going eight innings.
Harvey Haddix and Sal Maglie hooked up in another brilliant pitching duel, with the former hurling the St. Louis Cardinals to a twin bill. The Cards also won the nightcap, 8-4, behind Vinegar Bend Mizell.

Western Inspection Stakes Lead Against Phillips, Rotary

Western Inspection, getting stinger every day when it comes to allowing opponents' scores, seeks to put a tighter fist on the National League lead in this week's feature of the city softball race.
The Inspection nine plays a softer touch Tuesday—the Phillips nine of cellar inclinations—before tangling with runner-up Rotary Thursday. A win by the WI club would do much toward clinching the title with only four weeks of play remaining.
Tide Water, in a make up game Friday, extended its American League lead to a full game by beating Schlumberger, 14-3, on Bro Wise's two hit hurling. The front-runners get a chance to pull the same trick—and cost Schlumberger a fourteenth consecutive loss—Tuesday.

The delegates who call themselves peace partisans convened Monday in Budapest in an atmosphere which, for them, must be electric.

The directors, the shapers of the resolutions, the guides of this meeting are trusted Communist agents of the Kremlin. But in the assemblage are many who do not consider themselves Communists. They are important to the architects of this movement, because they, rather than the known Communists, will carry back the messages and the propaganda.

In the background of this meeting, put off several times to await world developments, are the events in Korea, the wave of Soviet conciliation and apparent reasonableness in Europe, and raising tensions among and within Western countries. The meeting has been timed with a great flair for drama.

As Stalin Saw It

Who are the "partisans" who attend this so-called World Congress of Peace? Since they are a Soviet creation, the Soviet definition is authoritative. "Economic Problems of Socialism in the USSR," the brochure attributed to Stalin as his swansong, defines the peace partisans:

"It is most probable that the present peace movement, as a movement for the preservation of peace, will, should it be successful, result in the prevention of a particular war, in its postponement, a temporary preservation of a particular peace, to the resignation of a bellicose government and its replacement by another government ready to preserve peace for the time being.

V. M. Molotov says: "The defense of peace and democracy now relies on a mighty international peace movement which embraces hundreds of millions of people, including many millions of peace partisans in the countries of capitalism."

The new Premier, Georgi Malenkov, says: "In connection with the mounting threat of war, a movement of all peoples in defense of peace is developing, and an anti-war coalition is being formed of various classes and social strata interested in ending the international tension and averting a new war. . . . This peace movement does not pursue the aim of abolishing capitalism, for it is not a socialist movement but a democratic movement of hundreds of millions of people. The peace partisans are advancing demands and proposals for the development of peace and prevention of a new war. In the present historical circumstances, the attainment of this end would be a tremendous triumph for the cause of democracy and peace."

In Communist language, "the cause of democracy and peace" means the Soviet cause.

Strictly Soviet Aims

Note the accent on the temporary nature of the peace for which these "partisans" strive. A particular war, a particular peace, a peace for the time being, a particular government overthrow—these are the aims, and they are Soviet aims. But permanent peace? It is not possible in Soviet Communist thinking while any "capitalist" or "imperialist" country remains a power in the world. The clash, says Soviet doctrine, eventually must come, and one side or the other must emerge victorious.

This particular, temporary peace for which the peace partisans carry the ball suits present Soviet strategy. Until it is inevitable, the USSR will not take the risk of an all-out war, and the USSR is far from invincible, either internally or externally. But all the statements of Soviet leaders showed recently their firm belief that Western economies were shored up by military spending, that without this spending there would inevitably be an economic crisis of capitalism, and that this would lead to general collapse.

The aim, it seems obvious, is a Soviet peace—that is, a peace which would permit Soviet communism to do as it pleased. A peace which in actuality is, as Lenin once taught, another form of war.

Opposed Political Factions Back New Colombia Leader

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA —(AP)— Rival political factions united Monday behind Colombia's new military-controlled government. Army Chief Lt. Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla ousted President Laureano Gomez in a coup Saturday night and installed himself as president. Not a shot was fired.

Leaders of the opposition Liberal party, which has been waging bitter warfare on the Conservative governments for years, in a statement endorsed the Army takeover, which it said was necessary "to bring the country out of political chaos and save it from grave consequences."

Leaders of both wings of the Conservative party, including supporters of Gomez, also endorsed the new regime.

Gomez was reported under arrest in his home. Official reports were current that he might be permitted to leave the country.

The new President named a 13-man Cabinet including Army officers affiliated with no party and members of both Conservative factions. Rojas Pinilla said they would govern under military control until "clean elections" can be held.

Rojas Pinilla took over after Gomez, who gave up the presidency temporarily in 1951 to Acting President Robert Urdaneta Arbelaez, returned unexpectedly to the presidential palace Saturday and tried to force Urdaneta to fire the Army chief.

Colombian sources abroad said Gomez long has suspected Rojas Pinilla of plotting to put former President Mariano Ospina Perez, leader of a disident Conservative faction, in power.

'Show Us,' Tito Answers Kremlin

PAZIN, YUGOSLAVIA —(AP)— President Tito disclosed Sunday that the Soviet Union is making overtures to resume normal diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia. Tito said he would welcome the resumption "but never again will we trust them 100 per cent."

Tito spoke to a crowd estimated at 80,000. He said the West need not fear Yugoslavia would return to the Cominform camp from which she was expelled almost five years ago.

Russia, Tito said, had made some moves recently to improve relations with his Communist regime, but "I do not believe in words. I believe only in deeds. And let's see the deeds."

Low Stock Prices Cut Farm Incomes

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Agriculture Department reported Monday that farmers' cash receipts from marketings totaled ten and one-half billion dollars during the first five months of this year. That was a decline of three per cent from a year ago.

A five per cent increase in the volume of commodities sold was more than offset by a reduction in prices, the department said.

Livestock receipts totaled $6,000,000, down seven per cent from last year, but crop receipts of $3,700,000,000 were up six per cent. Most of the decline in the livestock class was in cattle and calves.

Soviets May Resume Ties With Israel

MOSCOW —(AP)— Informed persons here expressed the belief Monday that it is only a matter of time before the Soviet Union offers to re-establish diplomatic relations with Israel.

Such a move would be in line with a series of recent Moscow steps to normalize relations abroad, as demonstrated by the Soviet decision to exchange ambassadors with Yugoslavia. Yugoslav-Soviet relations never were entirely severed, despite the expulsion of President Tito's Communist Party from the Cominform.

One straw in the wind was the appearance in Moscow recently of the Israeli basketball team, which took part in a European tournament. The team was warmly received. One source said that although this was just a basketball tournament, "it is going to help re-establish relations between Israel and the USSR." The Soviet Union broke relations with Israel early this year after a bomb explosion at the Soviet Legation in Tel Aviv.

Massed Navies Fire Salutes To Queen

ABOARD THE U. S. S. BALTIMORE OFF SPITHEAD, ENGLAND —(AP)— Queen Elizabeth II proudly took thunderous 21-gun royal salutes Monday from warships of Britain and 16 foreign navies massed in wind-whipped Portsmouth Harbor for the Coronation Naval Review.

The Queen, wearing a perky white hat, smiled and waved from the Royal Yacht Surprise as it swept through 11 lines of gaily-decorated warships.

Her sailor husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, wearing an admiral's uniform, and other members of the Royal family were at her side in the glass and oak penthouse built up forward in the Royal Yacht.

Thousands of sailors aboard the almost 300 big and little warships broke into mighty roars of "Three cheers for the Queen, hip hip hooray," as the Queen and her party passed by. At a signal from Britain's mighty battleship "Vanguard," ships of the fleet fired 21-gun salutes.
