Majors Adopt Crude Price Boost

Gulf, Humble Others Echo Phillips Hike

The crude price increase initiated by Phillips Petroleum Company appeared Tuesday to be headed for industry-wide acceptance.

At least eight other leading purchasers had followed suit Tuesday in posting a 25-cents-a-barrel average boost on all grades of crude oil.

Oil Products To Rise With Crude Prices

NEW YORK —(AP)—Higher prices for gasoline, fuel oil and other petroleum products appeared in prospect for millions Tuesday following the action of Humble Oil and many other producers in boosting crude oil prices an average of 25 cents a barrel.

Several major companies in New York were watching closely and there were indications they too might announce crude price increases before the day was out.

Oil men noted that prices of major refined products such as fuel oil and gasoline can be expected to go up one-fourth of a cent a gallon for each 10 cents a barrel increase in the price of crude. However, either fuel oil or gasoline could account for the major part of the crude price boost, leaving the other product virtually unchanged, it was pointed out.

The new crude price hikes are the first of an industry-wide nature since 1947. A few years ago Phillips attempted to raise prices, but other companies refused to go along and the increases were withdrawn.

After price decontrol last February, crude oil prices west of the Rockies were increased and a moderate rise was made in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil.

Record Use Produces New Water Crisis In Midland

Midland used a record-breaking 13,770,000 gallons of water Monday and the city faced—but only temporarily—a new water crisis.

"We produced just about all we can produce," said Henry Nunn, city water and sewer engineer, "until the new booster pump installation is completed."

"Since McMullen Field was placed in operation 10 days ago, we have been flowing water into the city by gravity.

"The 5,330,000 gallons of water drawn from that field Monday represents just about all we can get until the booster pump station is completed."

And that will be at least 30 days more.

Even with the additional McMullen Field water, there were scattered reports of low water pressure throughout the city as the record pumping was underway.

Some areas in the South Side and some in the Permian Estates Addition reported water pressures so low adequate lawn-sprinkling was impossible.

"However," said City Manager W. H. Oswald, "we are not sure whether this was due to the availability of water or whether it was some local condition which affected individual cases."

The main storage tank on Powell Street registered a low mark of 40 feet Monday, indicating that water was being fed into the distribution system faster than it was coming in from McMullen, Wadley, Rosedale and Cloverdale Fields.

Completion of the booster pump station, which forces the water through a 30-inch supply line from McMullen under tremendous pressure, has been delayed for the need of a third booster pump.

"I checked with the manufacturer this morning," said Nunn, "and the pump now is being crated for shipment. It should arrive here by the end of the week."

New Tank Planned

The installation, including a complicated wiring job, will be completed in about 30 days after the pump is received.

Nunn said that, with the booster station in operation, McMullen Field will be able to meet its expected peak capacity of 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 gallons daily.

However, even the 5,330,000 gallons pumped Monday is in excess of the sustained production capacity.

"We certainly can't do that day after day throughout the year," said the city manager.

During the Fall and Winter months, the production of all the water fields will be eased up to permit recovery from the heavy Spring and Summer demands.

Oswald pointed out that the pressure difficulties in the Permian Estates area will not be ironed out completely until a new 1,000,000-gallon storage tank west of the city limits is completed.

Construction work on this tank is expected to begin in October with completion due by January 1.

Chinese Offensive Surges Southward

SEOUL —(AP)—The big Chinese offensive overwhelmed Finger Ridge, western anchor of the 50-mile front in Eastern Korea, Tuesday and rolled on south.

The weight of the drive, which had hurled back the South Koreans east of the Pukhan River, was shifted suddenly westward.

Almost 6,000 Chinese Reds hit Finger Ridge, scene of bitter fighting last Fall. The ridge was lost by noon.

Then the Chinese surged on south toward the Kyoam Mountain complex.

The Communist onslaught was pressed against the ridge line despite a furious rain of bombs and flaming napalm from about 500 planes.

The Chinese, apparently bent on gaining vital heights before an armistice, drove into the teeth of Allied artillery and small arms fire. They appeared heedless of losses.

The South Koreans to the east along the Pukhan River had just dug into new positions after being thrown back two miles by the 30,000-man Chinese offensive.

On their east flank, about 750 Chinese Reds drove South Koreans from seven positions near Christmas Hill.

Thus, with both their west and eastern flanks menaced, the new South Korean positions along the Pukhan may be untenable.

The Reds on the west from their new-won Finger Ridge positions faced formidable positions on Kyoam Mountain, the main anchor on the western front.

Kyoam is a complex mountain just to the southwest of Finger Ridge. Its loss would imperil the valley behind and miles of Allied territory.

South Korean troops now hold about two-thirds of Kyoam Mountain.

Midlanders Injured Slightly In Collision Between Car, Truck

ANDREWS — Two Midland oil field workers were injured in a truck-car collision eight miles east of Andrews on Ranch Road 87 while they were on their way to work at a rig about 6:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A. O. Wright, 50, and Joe Presley, 33, both of Midland, were injured, but not seriously, with Wright suffering a cut on the head and a sprained knee. The two were in an automobile along with three other Midland men, C. D. Kutz, 27, H. L. Parker, 33, and Arlin Everett Windham, 37. All five are employed by the Cactus Drilling Company of Midland.

Sheriff Floyd Peacock, investigating officer, said both vehicles were traveling in the same direction, toward Andrews. The collision occurred when the car reportedly turned off the highway onto a side road and the empty hay truck, driven by Roy George Moreau, 25, of Hagerman, N.M., collided with it from the rear. Both vehicles were damaged, he said.

Neither of the injured men were hospitalized.

Truce Teams Meet Again

MUNSAN —(AP)—Top level truce negotiators met in Panmunjom in a few hours for a fateful session which could pave the way to a quick end of almost three years of fighting in Korea.

The meeting was set for 11 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. Tuesday, CST).

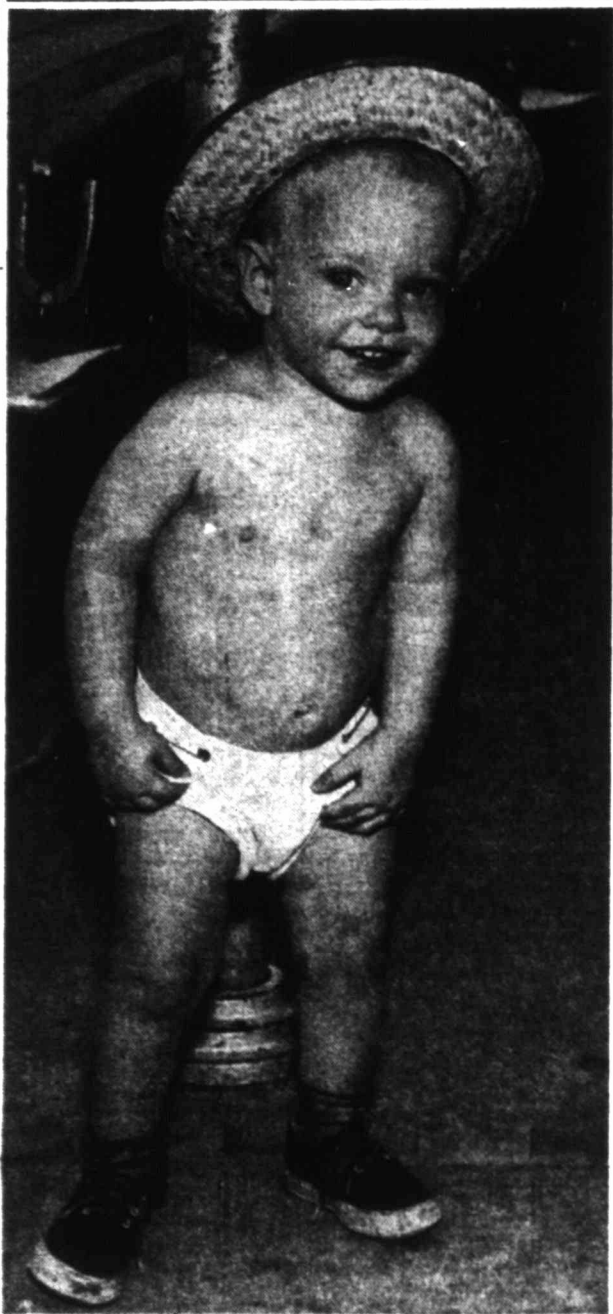

It was requested by the UN even as fresh Chinese regiments hammered weakened Allied lines on the east central front.

Approval of an armistice by the negotiators would precede the official signing by top military commanders of both sides.

Staff officers putting the finishing touches on an armistice since June 10 will meet after the top brass session, the UN said, indicating they are not through with their work.

Preparations for exchanging the thousands of prisoners to be liberated after a truce were speeded up here. U. S. officers who will supervise the exchange met to go over plans.

At truce headquarters, a tent camp in an apple orchard two miles from Munsan, extra tents were erected and the camp was enlarged.

WHATS MATTA WITH SHORTS?—"It's hot in Midland," says 16-month-old Terry Clawson, "and I'm gonna be comfortable." The young son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clawson, 3122 Kessler Street, is not the least bit disturbed by opposition to the shorts route to comfort.

Doomed Spies Sign Plea For Clemency

OSNING, N. Y. —(AP)—Condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg signed a petition to President Eisenhower Tuesday asking for a second time, executive clemency. They are scheduled to be electrocuted Thursday night.

Their counsel, Emanuel H. Bloch, showed the petition after he and the death sentence from the husband and wife convicted of stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

The Rosenbergs are native-born Americans.

The lawyers showed up at the Supreme Court building promptly but an hour and a half later still were waiting outside Douglas' door.

They lost three separate moves in the court Monday and then, finally, won permission to present to Justice Douglas Tuesday new arguments in favor of a stay of execution.

In Washington, Supreme Court Justice William Douglas received more legal papers Tuesday from attorneys striving to save the Rosenbergs.

The Polish Embassy said Communist-run Poland has offered "asylum" if the U. S. will lift the death sentence from the husband and wife convicted of stealing atomic secrets for Russia.

The Rosenbergs are native-born Americans.

Wolfcamp Discovery Reported Completed In SE Ector Sector

Cities Production Corporation and Union Oil Company of California have completed their No. 1-C Cross as a pumping discovery from the Wolfcamp in Southeast Ector County, seven and three-quarters miles southwest of Odessa.

The new producer was completed for a daily pumping potential of 175.36 barrels of oil, cut eight per cent basic sediment and water. Gravity of the oil is 33 degrees. Gas-oil ratio on potential test was 968-1.

Production is from perforations in casing at 8,230-52 feet and 8,320-8,340 feet.

This new field opener is 1,990.8 feet from north and 2,010.3 feet from east lines of section 44, block 43, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Tulsa Concern To Drill Pennsylvanian Wildcat In Dawson

Parker Drilling Company of Tulsa No. 1 L. W. Munger is an 8,900-foot Pennsylvanian wildcat in Northwest Dawson County.

Drill site is 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 2, league 4, Taylor County School Land survey and one mile northwest of the Mungerville field.

Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Heavy Flow Gauged At Conoco Project In Central Crockett

Flow of 103 barrels of oil and no water in one and one-half hours was recorded at Continental Oil Company No. 1-27 University, north out-post to production in the Elkhorst (Ellenburger) field of Central Crockett County.

The flow came on an Ellenburger drillstem test from 7,260 to 7,260 feet. Tool was open one hour and 45 minutes. Gas surfaced in five minutes and oil in 15. The 103-barrel flow followed.

Flowing pressure was 1,925 pounds and shut-in bottomhole pressure after an unreported length of time was 2,800 pounds.

Operator reversed out recovery. It was all oil.

Previous drillstem test was taken from 7,160 to 7,260 feet. Tool was open two hours. Gas surfaced in one hour. No fluid came to the top.

Recovery was 500 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. No formation water was present.

Operator was running electric log surveys.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 27, block 46, University lands survey and 16.12 miles northwest of the town of Ozona.

Ellenburger Shows Are Logged On DST In Central Borden

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., Tulsa, Okla., was running electric logs at No. 1 Dorward, wildcat in Central Borden County, on total depth of 9,970 feet in Ellenburger lime and dolomite.

The prospector developed slight shows of oil and gas on a drillstem test in that formation from 9,209 to 9,950 feet. Tool was open one hour and 30 minutes. Recovery was 130 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut drilling mud.

No formation water was developed. All pressures were zero.

The Ellenburger was topped by samples at 9,940 feet, minus datum point of 8,998 feet.

As soon as electric logs are run, another drillstem test will be taken. Location is 330 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block 32, T-5-N, T&P survey.

Flowing Discovery Is In Prospect At Crockett Explorer

Flowing production has been developed at Shell Oil Company No. 1 Mrs. W. E. Friend, wildcat in East-Central Crockett County, and free oil was uncovered on a drillstem test in Shell No. 2-5 University, wildcat in Northwest Crockett County.

No. 1 Friend flowed oil from the Ellenburger through perforations at 8,400-435 feet. The section was treated with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The project flowed 23 barrels of oil in two hours and then flowed 15 barrels of oil in 30 minutes through a one and one-quarter-inch choke. It then made 130 barrels of oil and (Continued on Page 14)

Roscoe Crabb Hurt In Auto Accident

Roscoe Crabb, Sr., of 1061 West Missouri Street, is reported to be in good condition in a Farmington, N.M., hospital after he suffered several broken ribs, a fractured elbow and body bruises in a traffic accident 35 miles west of Farmington Friday night.

His son, Roscoe Crabb, Jr., of Midland, who flew to Farmington Monday, telephoned relatives here that Crabb's automobile was involved in a head-on crash with a truck on a bridge near Shiprock, N.M.

The elder Crabb was thrown from the car, which was demolished by the truck, his son reported. Crabb's wife and a daughter from Midland are with the injured man, who will be flown to an Albuquerque hospital Wednesday for further treatment.

He presently is in the San Juan Hospital, Farmington.

Two Families Await Justice's Decision On Ownership Of Black And White Dog

The Corleys say he's "Stinky." The Masons insist he's "Gyp." City Humane Officer Frank Rose says he's his star boarder.

But Justice of the Peace L. C. Stephenson, who'll have to make the decision, isn't saying anything.

"I'm just waiting to hear both their stories," he explained Monday afternoon, after Leonard Howell, attorney for E. W. Mason, 511 Liddon Street, filed suit for possession of the black-and-white dog.

"Sure he's Stinky," said Ray Corley, manager of the Midwest Paper and Box Company at Terminal, who was named defendant, along with the City of Midland, in the suit.

"And I'm going to get him back," The Corleys, who live at Terminal, acquired Stinky three years ago in Amarillo, where they were living at the time.

"My aunt gave him to my little girl, Rae Jean, who is four years old now. He's not a registered dog but his mother was a full-blooded Manchester terrier and they think his father was a cocker spaniel."

Stinky and Ray Jean and the Corleys took care of Stinky and last October had him vaccinated against rabies.

The Masons, at the time, lived nearby in Terminal.

"They had a little female dog at their house and Stinky used to go over there," explained Corley.

And Stinky, he said, was missing when the Masons moved to Midland.

"I drove by their house at least once a week looking for Stinky," Corley continued, "and last week we finally found him."

"I opened the car door and called to him and he jumped in the door."

Twelve-year-old Rebecca and 10-year-old Donald Mason saw it and called their mother, who notified police.

Police stopped Corley a short distance away and took the dog, turning him over to the City Humane Shelter.

"Why, that's our dog," said Mason, an employee of Beauchamp Refrigeration Service.

"Gyp came to our home about three years ago, and we have been taking care of him since. Why, this year, we even bought him a dog tag, after we moved to town."

Meanwhile, all parties in the case were being served with court papers and Stephenson said the trial probably will be held in about 10 days.

Collins Bids Low On Midland Project

The Collins Construction Company of Austin was the apparent low bidder Tuesday in Austin for the State Highway Department project for widening the Andrews Highway from 18 to 24 feet from Midland to the Bator County line.

The Austin firm bid $94,000 for the job.

Bids will be opened Wednesday on the construction of the Big Spring Street Bypass in Midland.

KOREAN PLEDGES NO FIGHT ON UN

WASHINGTON—Ambassador You Chan Yang of Korea, a bitter critic of the proposed armistice terms, says he does not see how U. N. forces could stop his country's Army from continuing the fight despite a truce.

Such action, he said Monday night in an MBS radio interview, would put the Americans and their Allies on the side of the Communists.

But he added he could "guarantee you that our Army will never fight any of the United Nations forces."

Japan To Cooperate In Korea, Cut Taxes

TOKYO—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida Tuesday pledged Japan's cooperation in rehabilitating Korea and restoring peace throughout Asia if a truce comes.

In an outline of government policy at the opening of the sixteenth special session of Parliament, Yoshida also said Japan hopes to promote trade with Southeast Asia, on the assumption it can't expect much trade with Communist China.

He said Japan will help the countries of Southeast Asia with capital, technical assistance and services.

Japanese taxes will be reduced 102 billion yen (more than 283 million dollars) in the next fiscal year, he said.

Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told the Diet Japan will strengthen ties with the free nations of the West.

Vic Mature Admits He's No Actor, Says He Just Emotes

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—How do actors act? You read about everything else concerning actors except how they really do their work. This is a question I discussed with Victor Mature.

The large lad from Louisville, Ky., is the first to disclaim any acting process on his own part. "I'm no actor—and I've got the reviews to prove it," he says.

But he's being modest. He proved with "Kiss of Death" that he was capable of some expert emoting. And when the new Cinemascope process was unveiled, the hit of the show was a huge closeup from "The Robe" in which Vic wistfully reacted to the sight of Christ on the cross. If the rest of his performance measures up to that scene, he could even end up in the Oscar running.

Vic now is starring in the sequel, called "The Story of Domestrius." He was dressed in the scanty tunic which such epics require. Vic didn't seem to mind. He has displayed his legs in almost as many pictures as Betty Grable.

Our discussion brought out the fact that there are two kinds of actors: The technicians and the emotional actors. Of course, most performers are a combination of the two, but they generally lean to one or the other.

The technician knows all the tricks of acting; he remains outside the character he plays, endowing it with all his skill. The emotional actor jumps right in and becomes the character he is playing.

"I'm an emotional actor," Mature admitted. "When I'm doing a scene, I really believe it. I live the part as long as I'm in the scene. When I started out at the Pasadena Playhouse, I really went overboard."

"I put myself so much into the characters that I actually would become dizzy on the stage during a highly emotional scene. Finally, some of the experienced hands took me aside and told me to let up. They knew I'd become a wreck if I remained so intense."

But Vic said the only thing he knows is to get in there and make believe.

Margaret Truman Signs New Contract

NEW YORK—Margaret Truman has signed a new contract with the National Broadcasting Company for nine radio and television performances.

The company announced Monday the signing of the former President Truman's daughter and said she will have singing and guest star roles during the 1953-54 season. Contract terms were not disclosed.

Jack, Julie Webb Iron Out Troubles

HOLLYWOOD—Jack Webb, producer and star of the television program "Dragnet," and his actress wife, Julie London, have reconciled.

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

Exclusively Yours: Diana Lynn, who broke into the movies as a shy, teenaged piano wizard, is "Miss Zip" these days and she's confessing: "I'll never give up the piano but I have to admit I don't practice any more. I just don't have time."

Diana's leaping between movies and television—her alcohol-loving doll in "Flamingo in the Sun" will surprise you—a divorce court, where she's shedding hubby John Lindsay, and now it's the London stage for a Summer of stardom in "The Moon Is Blue" and weekend trips to Paris "for a little fun."

Earlier in the year, she went to New York to do one TV show and remained for a play—"I have no will power. I can't make up my mind what to have for breakfast."

More serious about emoting than she ever was about her piano, Diana feels her footling appearance will "rub off a few rough edges." She's already learned, she says, that "there are no bad audiences. If you don't get anything back from them, it's your fault. You're just not getting to them."

Hal Roach, Jr., in answer to the "Are there any stars who still won't sign for television?" question: "I'm getting names on contracts today that I couldn't have gotten on the telephone two years ago."

Brandon de Wilde, the moppet who just about steals "Shane," may not be seen by moviegoers again until he grows up. His mother is confiding to friends that she wants the lad to retire from emoting during his adolescent years.

Even the roulette wheels slowed down for a double-lake at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas when Jane Powell and Gene Nelson, who now refuse to make a secret of their heart involvement, held hands over the table and gazed into each other's orbs for the world to see.

The Screen Producers' Guild is predicting that Hollywood's eight major studios never again will reach the mass film production of the past and that hardly as many as 100 films will be made in the coming year.

In their peak years, just before and during World War II, the major studios averaged 60 films a year each for a total output of 480!

Dinah Shore and George Montgomery are denying the stork talk.

Aldo Ray kissed Rita Hayworth for the first time in "Miss Sadie Thompson."

"How was it?" whispered Jose Ferrer. "Just like kissing Rita Hayworth," replied Aldo, the diplomat.

Mimi Gaynor doesn't know how it can be managed—Fox has renewed her contract—but she wants to play Scarlett O'Hara in the musical-comedy version of "Gone With the Wind" on Broadway.

The bubbly star's seven-year contract with stage producer Edwin Lester, is about to run out and that's fine with Mimi, who had to give up the princess role in "Call Me Madam" to Vera-Ellen when Lester insisted on her services last year in "Jollyanna."

"What hurt me most was that I lost the chance to dance with Donald O'Connor," Mimi wails. "One of these days it has to happen—Donald and me in a film."

Mrs. Tillie Lewis' 14-Day Diet Plan

Tillie Lewis, most famous woman in food, has spent more than 10 years in intensive research in the field of sweetened low calorie dietetic foods.

By TILLIE LEWIS

If you are overweight, your doctor will tell you that one sure way to lengthen your lifetime is to reduce your waistline. Overweight is America's number one health problem—yet a recent national survey showed that only 25 per cent of the people who should lose weight ever go on a diet. Furthermore, more than half of these few people that do go on a diet regain any weight they lose immediately after they go off their diet. In my opinion, the answer is obvious. Most diets change your regular eating habits. Your body isn't satisfied, and cravings soon overtake your will power. Why not lose weight the sure way? Use the new sweet-tasting low-calorie foods that are now in your markets. Be human... eat what others eat... but cut down on the calories the easy way! You will be happier... yes, and much healthier!

House-Passed Trade Bill Heads For Fast Decision In Senate

WASHINGTON—(P)—An Administration-backed bill to extend the Reciprocity Trade Act headed Tuesday for quick action in the Senate after winning top-heavy 363-35 approval in the House.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee promised brief hearings and foresaw little difficulty for the one-year extension.

But a close decision loomed in the Senate over a provision in the bill to increase the Tariff Commission from six to seven members. House Democrats late Monday staged a bitter fight to knock out this provision but lost, 515 to 185.

GOP leaders in the Senate conceded the expansion proposal may be defeated there.

Democrats charged the proposal, in effect giving Republicans a 4-3 majority on the commission, was a "surrender" by the Eisenhower Administration to advocates of higher tariffs to protect American industry from cheaper foreign imports.

And they said it amounted to a political packing of the traditionally nonpartisan fact-finding agency.

The bill as passed by the House also would create a special 17-man commission to study trade and tariff problems and come up with recommended solutions.

Storms, Showers Relieve Heat Wave

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather hit sections of the Dakotas and Minnesota and there were showers in other mid-continent areas but generally fair weather prevailed in other parts of the country Tuesday.

Thundershowers occurred south of the storm center into Texas. Light rain fell during the night from Nashville, Tenn., to Central Indiana.

Relief from a week-long heat wave appeared on the way for the Central Great Plains as cooler air from the Pacific spread eastward from the Rockies into Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Northern Oklahoma. Hot weather continued in Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Moderately cool weather continued along the Pacific Coast states and along the East Coast from New England to Georgia.

Mexico To Ship Meat To Europe

MEXICO CITY—(P)—The head of Mexico's Cattlemen's Association, says the closing of the U. S. border to importation of Mexican livestock is not damaging this nation's cattle industry.

The border was closed when an outbreak of foot and mouth disease was reported last month in Veracruz. Mexico sold the U. S. about 400,000 head of livestock a year, plus frozen and canned meats.

WOODY HAS HIS NUMBER

PITTSBURGH, ILL.—(P)—A bird that imitates a telephone bell is making it hard for George Ed McCann to watch television.

As soon as he gets comfortably planted in front of his set, he hears the telephone ring. He answers it and is asked, "Number, please?"

The phone really isn't ringing at all. A woodpecker, sharpening his bill on the McCann TV antenna, can duplicate the song of the telephone bell perfectly.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Important First Step In Polio Is To Make Early Diagnosis

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

The most important step in the treatment of poliomyelitis is to make the diagnosis as early as possible. This is not always easy because the disease probably begins several days before there are any signs of paralysis. The symptoms during this early stage are often like those of any mild infection. Also, it must be emphasized that a good many people have the early symptoms but never get any paralysis at all.

As soon as a definite case has been discovered the other members of the family should be examined. When the diagnosis of polio has been made the patient usually should be treated in the hospital, because the best results are obtained when the medical care, nursing, physical therapy and other treatments are readily available, as they are in most hospitals. The patient with polio who develops trouble with breathing requires special treatment with a respirator or iron lung. This is a serious complication, of course, but many recover completely, often without any paralysis at all.

No two victims of polio are exactly alike. Experience, judgment and skill are required to get the best results from treatment. The physician, of course, should be in general charge of the measures which are undertaken. Rest, relaxation and muscular training later are important. Proper nursing care is invaluable, as are measures to combat the muscle spasms which accompanies the early stages of poliomyelitis. Hot, wet packs help to relieve the pain and skin tenderness which often accompany the disease.

When poliomyelitis strikes it is important first that the patient be put to bed as soon as possible. A person who has an acute illness, especially at a time when poliomyelitis is around, should be placed in bed at once, regardless of how trivial the illness may appear to be. Indigestion is Sign

An attack of indigestion, a head cold, fever or headache may mean that the disease is developing. Those who have tried to continue normal activity after the appearance of such warning signs run the risk of developing the disease in a more serious form.

The treatment of early poliomyelitis has improved greatly and will doubtless continue to do so. To get the best results, early symptoms should not be ignored and attention should be obtained right away if suspicious signs develop.

A slimy coating formed on the roads as the worms were squashed under the wheels of cars and trucks, making conditions in some spots almost as bad as after a sleet storm.

Single Shot Court Bills Die By Veto

AUSTIN—(AP)—Four bills to create six new district courts were vetoed by Governor Shivers Monday in an attempt to gain judicial redistricting in a future session.

The bills were among 13 he vetoed and 25 he signed in a final windup of work left when the Legislature adjourned May 27.

"The Legislature has too long followed the policy of merely creating additional courts," Shivers said. "I regret that at this time I cannot agree to continuance of this policy and must veto all of the bills creating additional courts."

"I hope some future legislative session will take the action necessary to accomplish state-wide judicial redistricting."

Members of the Legislature had said Shivers had threatened to veto all bills creating new courts not contained in a redistricting measure. The single court bills were rushed through when it became apparent the redistricting bill would not be passed.

Two new courts would have gone to Bexar County; two to Harris; one to Angelina, Cherokee and Nacogdoches; and one to Gonzales, Colorado, Lavaca and Guadalupe.

Most other measures vetoed were rejected on the advice of the attorney general that they violated the Constitution.

One bill was vetoed on grounds it would "do great damage to the stability of the retirement system funds." It would have granted special state retirement fund credits for military services to those who left state employment to work in defense plants.

Among the bills signed were measures to:

- Require all mutual life insurance companies to have a surplus of $25,000.
- Require county judges to estimate tax revenues every year in preparing annual budgets.
- Permit closing of hunting season in East Texas when fire hazard threatens.
- Set the statute of limitations at four years for collecting delinquent personal taxes.

Vast Ford Empire Schedules New Modernization Program

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company, which has spent almost a billion dollars in expansion and modernization in the last five years, plans to spend another half-billion in the next two years.

That was the message Henry Ford II gave recently to a private management conference, held in connection with the commemoration of the company's fiftieth anniversary.

The statement emphasized the long way the Ford Motor Company has traveled over what it calls "the American road," in the last half-century.

It was 50 years ago Tuesday that the Ford Motor Company was incorporated. Of a proposed $150,000 capitalization, only $25,000 was paid in by 13 stockholders. The payroll for seven workers in the two-story, barnlike rented plant amounted to $66.23 for the first week of operation.

Today more than 168,000 workers are paid more than 17 million dol-ars weekly. The Ford empire is spread around the earth.

Formal Observance Held

While Tuesday marks the actual fiftieth birthday anniversary of the huge industrial empire founded by a 40-year-old man with a determination to build low-price transportation, most of the formal observances already have been held.

Highlight of the anniversary-year commemoration was dedicated last month of the Ford Motor Company Archives, set up in Fair Lane, former home of the elder Henry Ford, in nearby Dearborn. The home has been converted into a gold mine of information about one of the most fabulous industrial figures in all history.

Monday night, a two-hour television show was sponsored by the Ford Motor Company to commemorate the anniversary; Tuesday, the remodeled Ford Rotunda Building in Dearborn, emphasizing the theme "progressive research and engineering," was reopened as a public showplace.

Wednesday, the company will be host to its dealers and their wives at dinners over the nation. During the remainder of the Summer Ford personnel, and their families in the 28 states where the company has plants, and at installations abroad, will hold "open house" to observe the anniversary.

The fantastic story of how the original $25,000 invested in the founding of the Ford Motor Company grew to assets of more than $1,500,000,000; how the timid 12 original stockholders quickly were engulfed in a golden flood of dividends and of Henry Ford's terrific impact, socially and economically upon the world and nation, has been told many times.

Post-War Rebuilding

Not so well known is the decline into which the empire fell during the latter years of the elder Henry Ford's life. This is tacitly admitted in a news release issued by the company in connection with the anniversary observances.

In part it said: "During the depression of the 1930's Ford had lost its position at the head of the industry. The company's operating procedure, with control centered in a few hands, was as outmoded as the Model T. Plant facilities were inadequate; working conditions needed improvement. The sales staff had disintegrated during the war ('World War II), and needed rebuilding from the bottom up."

"Henry Ford II tackled the job of building an automobile company all over again. He brought new blood into executive positions and completely reorganized every branch under a decentralization policy. Each division and each plant in the big company was given new authority and responsibility that was unknown under the old regime."

Parents Join Two Explorers Rescued From Canyon Ordeal

WINDOW ROCK, ARIZ.—(AP)—A joyous reunion took place Tuesday between two Explorer Scouts rescued Monday after a five-day ordeal in sun-baked Nakai Canyon in Southern Utah and their parents from Des Moines, Iowa.

Reunited were Bud McIntire, 15, with Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McIntire, and Phil Crowley, 16, with Mr. and Mrs. James Crowley.

The boys spent the night at the hospital, resting from their grueling experience of being lost in the canyon wilderness 30 miles from where they entered it last Wednesday in Arizona. Two Indians, John Pat and Neskie Yazzi, found the boys and brought them out by wagon. Then white man searchers took over and got them to clean beds and medical attention by jeep and plane.

The boys were pronounced in good health but tired and dirty. Their only complaint was sore feet.

"We both had faith in our God," said McIntire at Kayenta, Ariz., as they both sat down to T-bone steaks at a trading post cafe.

"Our Scouting experience didn't do us much good in the canyon," he added.

Talking between bites, McIntire described the ordeal while Crowley concentrated on the groceries at hand.

"We separated that first night," he said, "but about an hour after sundown I spotted Phil a half-mile away. We went to sleep, each of us on another side of the canyon."

"We ran out of water the next morning but we found a spring. The water had bugs in it and was muddy but we drank a lot of it anyway.

"Old Indian' Finds Them

"We figured it wasn't worth filling our canteens with. But by 11 o'clock we got thirsty and went back. After we drank, I washed my feet. When we filled our canteens we filtered the water through a handkerchief.

"We divided the final canteen later on and Phil went south. I was too tired to go very fast. I made up my mind to go north to the San Juan River.

"But both of us lost our directions the next morning and we walked into each other.

"The last meal we had was Wednesday—a half-slice of pineapple and a chunk of candy bar apiece. Saturday afternoon the old Indian found us." The "Old Indian" was Yazzi. He is a Navajo cattleman who lives on a mesa above the canyon. He had been on their trail two days.

New Regulations May Pinch Border Radio Broadcasts

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—A new set of regulations covering radio and television broadcasting in Mexico may control powerful English language transmitters along the Rio Grande.

Stations near the border, but outside jurisdiction of the U. S. Federal Communications Commission, carry English advertising beamed into the Central United States.

Officials of the Communications Ministry said the government will demand that announcers "guard the purity of the Spanish language."

They said some stations devoted most of their time to foreign language programs.

The ministry indicated other action might be taken against the stations, but did not specify the measures.

Grocers Pick Texas As 'Father Of Year'

CHICAGO—(AP)—George Adams, Jr., a Beaumont, Texas, grocer with three daughters, won the title of "Grocer-Father of the Year" at the National Association of Retail Grocers to receive a scroll and a gold watch from the Father's Day Council.

Delay In Postal Rate Boost Seen

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Lack of time, plus political considerations, may put off until next year congressional action on a forthcoming Administration request for a hike in postal rates.

The request by Postmaster General Summerfield is due to be made formally later this week.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.) said following a White House conference Monday Summerfield probably will ask for an increase in all mail rates, effective October 1, in a bid to wipe out a half-billion-dollar postal operating deficit.

It will be up to the House Post Office Committee to determine what should be done about it so far as the House is concerned, Martin told newsmen.

Chairman Rees (R-Kan.) of that committee said he was willing to consider the proposal but wouldn't say whether he was for or against it. He pointed out, however, that lengthy hearings probably would be necessary because of the complexity of the subject.

With congressional leaders aiming for adjournment by July 31, Rees said the committee would be hard-pressed for time if a comprehensive bill is to be considered this year.

12 Original Stockholders Share Ford's Golden Deluge

DETROIT—(AP)—The 12 original stockholders who joined with Henry Ford in the formation of the Ford Motor Company in 1903 all means. Some paid in cash; some took stock for services. They were:

- Alex G. Malcomson, Detroit coal dealer.
- Charles J. Woodall, an employe of Malcomson.
- James Couzens, an employe of Malcomson and later U. S. senator from Michigan.
- Roetta V. Couzens, his sister.
- John S. Gray, candy manufacturer.
- Horace E. Dodge, machine shop operator.
- John F. Dodge, machine shop operator.
- Charles H. Bennett, air rifle manufacturer.
- John W. Anderson, attorney.
- Horace H. Rackham, attorney.
- Vernon C. Fry, real estate operator.
- Albert Strelow, contractor.

Malcomson and Woodall sold out to the others in 1906; Bennett, Fry and Strelow in 1907; the Dodge brothers in 1915 and the others in 1919. However, for all, the golden deluge began almost immediately.

With interests ranging from Miss Couzens' $100 cash investment to the $25,500 interest allotted Malcomson and Ford for services, stockholders received dividends of 16 per cent in 1903; 88 per cent in 1904; 100 per cent or more in 1905, 1906 and 1907, and in 1908 a 1,900 per cent stock dividend was declared when capitalization was increased to two million dollars.

When Malcomson sold his holdings in 1907 he got $175,000. Miss Couzens, who stayed in until 1919, got $200,000 for her initial $100 investment. James Couzens, starting with a $2,400 investment, sold to the Fords for $28,500,856 the same year.

The Dodge brothers, with an original interest of $5,000 each given for services, got $12,500,000 each when they sold to Ford in 1915.

All-Night Prayer, Politics Used To Fight Racing Plan

FORREST CITY, ARK.—(AP)—All-night prayer meetings in four churches ended here at 7 a.m. Tuesday as ministers made a final appeal to the 6,097 voters in St. Francis County to defeat an East Arkansas horse race track proposal at the polls.

Anti-race track forces, however, did not leave the whole job of winning a special election on the track to the power of prayer.

They added practical politics—such as babysitters for voters, cars to haul voters to the polls, and a telephone campaign to get out the vote.

Tuesday's election came as the result of a five-month campaign by the St. Francis Valley Turf Association, which seeks to build the track.

The Rev. T. K. Rucker, pastor of Forrest City's First Baptist Church, where one all-night prayer meeting was held, said he believed the anti-track forces would defeat the issue by a big margin.

He said the anti would have checkers at the polls to see that every voter in the county casts a ballot. He said that if a voter doesn't show up to vote, the anti-track forces will bring him to the polls.

Both sides have waged an intensive campaign by radio and newspaper advertisements and in house-to-house canvasses.

Legally, the Arkansas Racing Commission is not bound by the dictates of the county electorate and can either issue or deny a franchise for a track.

Wichita Falls City Council Approved 21 Per Cent Rate Increase For Lone Star Gas Company Monday Night

WICHITA FALLS, TEX.—(AP)—The Wichita Falls City Council approved a 21 per cent rate increase for the Lone Star Gas Company Monday night.

The request by Postmaster General Summerfield is due to be made formally later this week.

Embattled Men Win Right To Fish, Wives Get Dough

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—(AP)—Everybody's happy out on 42nd Street North Tuesday. The embattled males Monday signed a compromise agreement with their wives to end a week-long strike of the husbands.

Under the agreement, the husbands will continue turning their paychecks over to their wives. In return, the wives agreed to ease off on demands that their mates do some of the household chores.

Mayor James V. Morgan hailed the settlement as the "salvation of the very foundation of Birmingham—its home."

Jim Caldwell, 53-year-old railroad conductor, had spearheaded the strike. He started picketing the street, bearing a sign which stated that the wives were unfair to husbands. Twenty-five other husbands in the area gleefully joined in.

They demanded that their wives quit forcing husbands to cut the lawn on hot days, paint the porch and spank the baby.

The wives refused to get up and cook breakfast.

The compromise permits the men to wait for the cool of the evening before mowing the lawn. It also allows the males to go fishing as often as they want to. The wives may go along if they keep quiet.

Burglary Charged Amarillo Airmen In 'Headache' Case

AMARILLO—(AP)—Charges of burglary were filed against two airmen Monday in the looting of an Amarillo laundry in which a night watchman was shot and didn't know it.

Robert Soncuya, 19, of Newark, N. J., and Donald E. Nych, 19, Irvington, N. M., made statements, police said. The two are stationed at the Amarillo Air Force Base.

H. S. Arnold, 45, the night watchman, thought he had a headache after exchanging shots with the burglars in the laundry Thursday night. The headache was found to have been caused by two bullets. He is recovering from the head wounds.

Heart Of Polish Pianist-Composer To Remain In U. S.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The heart of pianist-composer Ignace Jan Paderewski is in the United States to stay, but his body will be returned to his native Poland when that country is again free.

This was announced Monday night by Edward F. O. Imperatore, Brooklyn attorney, who earlier in the day had said the carefully preserved heart was to be returned someday to Poland.

Imperatore said there had been a misunderstanding and that the musician, who died in 1941, had willed that his heart always was to stay in this country while the rest of his body someday would be sent to his homeland.

The body is interred in Arlington National Cemetery temporarily. The Polish government in exile will decide when it is to be moved. The heart is in Cypress Hills Abbey here.

List Of Job Seekers Grows At TEC Offices In Midland

The Texas Employment Commission, 219 North Westchester Street, continues to have an unusually large number of workers seeking employment, J. D. Bechtel, office manager, said Tuesday.

However, he said many are high school and college students seeking Summer employment.

Local placement activity by the TEC for May was 727 persons, comparing closely with 721 for April. Claims for job insurance for May was 296 against April's 336.

The local office continues to have positions for stenographers, draftsmen, computers, bookkeepers, seismograph observers, salesmen in and out of town and other jobs not connected with the oil industry.

With the beginning of new pipe line work and the contemplated construction of several new oil field plants in the Permian Basin area.

Bechtel feels that workers in connected industries will be absorbed in considerable numbers.

The Midland office opens at 7 a.m. daily for employers seeking early workers, he said. Regular hours are from 7:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m., with closing time at noon on Saturday.

Father's Day Really Mother's Day This Year

Joseph Sylvester Doakes, noted authority on anniversaries, dates, and historical events, states that the year 1953 should be noted for the fact that Father's Day could easily be Mother's Day, providing, of course, that mother really wanted to please her bitter half.

If mother is full of woe because poor father gets in such a terrible stew trying to cut the lawn with a hand (and whoever gave one of them that silly name, never tried to push one's mower, then she just ought to phone the store and say, "Send up one of those beautiful Jacobsen Power Mowers, we want Pop to try out the power of mind over matter!"

Al, mother, if you want to make HIS eyes sparkle, just give him a gift from Jacobsen. When that delicious, form-fitting handle is nestled in his manly paw, when that horse and a half engine is purring so smoothly, when the grass flows out in great billows, when he has swapped struggle for stroll, then, and then only, will you know that it is really Mother's Day on Father's Day. The gratitude will be everlasting. And peace shall reign in the household forevermore.

WILCOX HARDWARE "Your lawn and garden supply" Phone 2-1211 506 West Wall —(Adv.)

SANTA FE, N. M.—(AP)—Convicts at New Mexico State Penitentiary thought Deputy Warden Ralph Tahash was too tough and so they rebelled Monday, demanding his removal.

Tahash proved they were right. For seven and one-half hours he had been held with 13 guards in the prison hospital by some 25 convicts armed with meat cleavers and homemade knives. State police swarmed outside, reluctant to make a move that would bring harm to the hostages.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, who had arrived shortly after the early-morning outbreak, had arranged a conference with convict ringleaders, but before it could be held prisoners in Cell Block 2 seized seven more guards who were bringing them lunch.

Then everything happened at once. One of the ringleaders in the hospital, Homer Lee Gossett, jerked a gas grenade from his pocket and tossed it at Tahash. He grabbed it and threw it back. The convicts retreated toward the rear of the hospital.

Tahash saw his chance. He rushed to the window and got a revolver and carbine from state police outside.

"Then I went into the room where the convicts were," he said later. "When the guard that Gossett was holding as hostage lunged away to one side, I shot Gossett in the throat. I think he was killed instantly. Then I shot the other man."

Simultaneously, the police troopers were storming the hospital in force, and within minutes, Tahash said, "the convicts started coming out with their hands up."

A few minutes later police had moved in on Cell Block 2 and it was all over.

The second ringleader shot by Tahash—Adolfo Benavides—also was killed.

Governor Mechem said one guard had been hit on the head with a baseball bat, two had cuts, one was gassed and another stabbed in the shoulder. None was in serious condition.

One convict was slashed in the arm and another hit in the knee by a ricocheting bullet.

Deputy 'Too Tough'

During the riot, the convicts said they wanted Tahash and six guards fired. They said Tahash, recently appointed deputy warden and ordered to strengthen discipline at the prison, was "too tough." They also complained of the food.

The death of Gossett, known as a "Houdini" among convicts, came in the prison he once termed a "hick prison" which couldn't "hold me."

He was notorious for slipping out of handcuffs and other restraining devices. He escaped the chair early this year when a jury recommended his second life term for the slaying of prison guard Filemon Ortiz.

Gossett was born in Plainview, Ark. He had records at prisons in Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee and New Mexico. He once escaped from the Missouri State Prison.

When the riot first started, Guard J. C. Perez was grabbed by two convicts as guards were preparing to sweep the cells.

The convicts held a knife on Juan Griego, No. 1 cell house keeper. As other guards came to take the count, they were taken hostage.

Tahash said he was called at the guards' mess and advised that "trouble was brewing." He was met in the prison yard by two inmates who told him "let's take a walk" and escorted him to the prison hospital.

Diplomats Give In To India's Summer

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—Diplomats in India's sweltering capital appear to be bowing to the heat—at least until dinner time. Officially, it's okay to wear tieless sport shirts by day and light suits for cocktails.

The new regime was advised in a circular to the diplomatic corps from its senior member, Egyptian Ambassador Ismail Kamel Bey. He reported Tuesday that the "logic of it seems to be bringing them all around," but stressed that "it's not obligatory."

"If any wants to be formal, they'll just be out of step," he added.

Diplomats here customarily have worn neckties throughout the day and dinner jackets at cocktail parties, despite New Delhi's 110-degree mid-summer temperatures.

Baby, Seven Others Survive Air Crash

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA—(AP)—At least eight persons, including a nine-month-old baby, reportedly survived the crash of a Costa Rican airliner in the San Ramon Mountains north of here Monday night. Twelve passengers and three crewmen were aboard.

Radio reports from San Isidro, 18 miles from the wreck site, said one of the surviving passengers was Fred Harding, 55, a native of the U. S., who suffered a leg injury.

The U. S. Embassy said Harding was born in Pearsall, Texas, and later lived in Yuca Valley, Calif. He now owns farm property near San Isidro.

Lead Lambs To Slaughter Against Yanks

By The Associated Press
They lead the lambs to slaughter at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night. The pore old St. Louis Browns, who can't rightly remember when they last enjoyed prosperity in the victory column, come smack up against the powerful New York Yankees, winners of 18 straight.

One more victory and the Yankees will tie the American League winning-streak record which their 1947 club shares with the 1906 Chicago White Sox.

The Browns, who haven't won a game in two weeks, are well on their way to a few records of their own. They've dropped 14 straight, an all-time mark for St. Louis clubs, and are within six games of the American and major league losing record.

Just to make the record prospects even brighter for the Yankees who already have made a farce of the pennant race with a 10 1/2-game lead, the Browns will stick around for three more games after Tuesday night. Then Detroit, the only team with a poorer record than St. Louis, comes in for a four-game set.

Over in the National League, where they're doing their best to generate enough pennant excitement to cover both circuits, the Milwaukee Braves went home Tuesday six percentage points behind first-place Brooklyn. They came East two weeks ago in the same spot.

The Braves lost a tough one Monday night, 3-2, to Pittsburgh in 10 innings. Relief pitcher Law Burdette forced in the winning run when he hit Danny O'Connell with the bases loaded and one out.

The Giants salvaged the finale of a four-game stand with the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2. Jim Hearn allowed six hits in going the distance against his former mates for the first time since he was sold to the Giants on waivers during the 1950 season.

The two National League games were the only ones played Monday.

Pittsburgh took a two-run lead in the third inning when Frank Thomas doubled with the bases loaded. Milwaukee came back to square matters in the fourth on a walk, a pair of singles and an error after two were out.

Bob Friend, who hadn't won a game since April 21, went all the way for the Pirates.

The Giants' winning run came in the seventh when Whitely Lockman singled home Wes Westrum, who had walked and moved to second on a sacrifice. Joe Presko was the loser.

Home Runs Highlight Pony Tilts

Jon Starnes pinch-hit home run in the bottom of the sixth enabled the American Traders to down the Kiwanians, 6-3, at South Pony League field Monday.

At Permian Field, Dennis Patton struck out 15 and walked in the only Optimaist run as the Travelers made a 7-1 conquest. Patton also had a homer and a single in two trips to keep pace with Douglas Hatfield, who had a double and a homer in three trips. S. L. Vann also hit a round-tripper for the Travelers. The home run blows were in that order in the third inning after two were out. Larry Cooper was on by an error before Hatfield hit his blow.

El Pasoan Outstrokes Gloria For Medal Role At Amarillo

AMARILLO — Gloria Ezell of Midland, the presiding officer of the sponsoring association, stepped back to let an El Paso rival lead the entry list here into match play of the Women's West Texas golf championships.

The El Pasoan, Ruby Lee Harding, who beat Mrs. Ezell recently for the Hobbs' title, was again in the medalist role Monday. She fired a 77, five over women's par for the Amarillo Country Club course and two over the women's record here. Mrs. Harding, runner-up to Midland's Pat Garner in the fifteenth annual tourney last year, outdistanced medalist runner-up Mrs. Ezell by five strokes.

Besides Mrs. Ezell, there were four other Midland entries here, all but one of whom earned spots in the 32-place championship flight. The Midland players, qualifying scores and matches:

Championship flight—Mrs. Ezell (82) vs. Mrs. W. K. Powell (86) of San Angelo; Sybil Flournoy (84) vs. Mrs. J. W. Ross (86) of Amarillo; Lou Meadows (90) vs. Mrs. J. E. Davis (89) of Amarillo; Madeline Pomeroy (90) vs. Mrs. Charles Duenkel (88) of Pampa.

First flight—Evelyn Cowden (93) vs. Fain Wolfilin (88) of Amarillo. An Odessa, Ann Evriddle, gained a championship flight place with a qualifying 84 and met Mrs. J. R. Brown (80) of Amarillo in Tuesday's first round play.

Mrs. Ezell, besides playing her first match, will be kept active Tuesday afternoon presiding over the Women's West Texas Golf Association business meeting.

She earlier announced that the main topic is settling a 1954 tourney site—currently being bid for by both Abilene Country Club and Ranchland Hill Country Club of Midland.

Turner Tips Saxton, Eyes Kid Gavilan

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Boxing has reached the point where damage to a fighter's future sometimes is of more concern than damage to the anatomy. On that score Gil Turner and Johnny Saxton both emerged unscathed Monday night although Turner put the finish to friend Johnny's unbeaten status.

Turner won a split 10-round decision in a fast and furious fight at Connie Mack Stadium. The action-packed bout was a thriller from start to finish and the crowd of 14,676 went home satisfied it had got its $70,000 worth.

Judge Jimmy Menna said Turner won 4-3-2; Judge Dave Belloff picked him 5-4-1; Referee Zach Clayton liked Saxton 5-4-1. The Associated Press picked Turner 5-3-2. The action was that close.

Turner probably will fight Chuck Davey in July or August, and if he wins will get an opportunity in the Fall to avenge his 11-round knock-out by Kid Gavilan.

Andrews Dads Work To Remedy Critical Shortage Of Water

ANDREWS—The water situation for the City of Andrews is becoming extremely critical. By three o'clock each afternoon all one can secure is a dripping faucet.

The fast growing population of Andrews is consuming by far more water than can be secured by the present water system.

Officials realized early this season that more water was needed and in conjunction with the School Board (the school owns the gathering system of the city's water) reconditioned the present wells, installed and repaired water pumps in an effort to produce the maximum amount the eight-inch water line to town could carry. But even this amount is not enough and the present wells cannot sustain all the pumps running 24 hours a day.

A new water field has been discovered 11 miles north of town and the Board of Trustees are trying to secure water rights on the new field and has authorized the drilling of two additional wells as soon as the rights are secured. These wells would see the city through the remainder of the Summer but at that water will be limited.

George Washington was the most widely traveled American official of his age, says the National Geographic Society.

American Jet Planes Span Atlantic While Reporter Is Getting To Airport

By GRACE HALSELL, Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

LONDON, ENGLAND — Some wit has observed that soon we'll be able to fly around the world in just two hours—one hour to go around the world and one hour to get out to the airport.

Already, Texas-trained airmen have flown from the United States to England in almost the same time it took me to get to the airport to meet them.

Our travel log would read something like this:

Take-off: Mine was from the Cumberland Hotel in the heart of London.

The three-man crew on the all-jet medium bomber took off from Limestone, Maine. Both "take-offs" were at 5:30 a.m.—British time.

Distance: By London subway, and bus, I traveled 70 miles.

The jet-propelled pilot, co-pilot and navigator-bombardier, all formerly based in Texas, traveled 3,120 miles.

Time consumed in reaching destination: For me—Five hours, from the hotel to the airbase at Fairford, England.

For the "birdmen"—U. S. A. to England—five hours, 53 minutes. Average speed: My average speed was 34 m.p.h.

The jet's average speed: 545 m.p.h. Like a big, guided rocket, the medium-bomber sped into view at Fairford.

Based in England

The six-jet job, the first of America's B-47 which will be based in England, was being guided, in fact, by a Ground Control Approach (GCA the airmen call them) landing.

Television, newspaper reporters and photographers, American and British, awaited its arrival—huddled in one group along the windy runway.

As the Boeing jet whizzed in, the long length of the runway suddenly was disappearing when from the tail of the magnificent bomber fluttered a parachute—man's ingenious device to slow down the spirited fortress.

This, then, is the plane on which America is laying most of its strategic air defense. As Brig. Gen. James C. Seiser, commanding officer of the Seventh Air Division, Strategic Air Command, told newspapermen:

"We finally are getting away from World War II equipment. . . . The B-47 will replace the B-29 and B-50s. . . . Knowing now of the Russian capabilities, it is a timely piece of equipment."

As the crew climbed down from the plexi-glassed dome, General Seiser greeted them.

First came Lt. Col. Michael McCoy, 47-year-old red-haired grandfather, who remained completely unruffled when two dozen reporters began plying him with questions.

A pilot for 29 years, McCoy sat down and lighted a cigaret.

"I was going to North Africa if it closed in," he said, speaking of the weather. "Still had plenty of gas." The jet had flown non-stop USA-England.

"That's My Baby"

The B-47, he said, "is my baby. Speed, comfort, safety—you can lose four engines and still keep going."

Colonel McCoy said he had air force training at Randolph, Biggs and Carswell air bases in Texas.

The plane actually "belongs" in air force terminology to a Texan—Maj. Bill Looney of Houston, son of James B. Looney and Mrs. Rowena Looney of that city.

The handsome, green-eyed major, air force veteran of 11 years, attended Sunset High School in Dallas, North Texas Agriculture College in Arlington.

He is married to the former Claudine Wilson of Fort Worth, and they have two boys, Junior, four, and James Michael, two.

Navigator-bombardier of the three-man crew was Maj. Charles H. Johnston, 37, who had training at San Angelo, Ellington Field in Houston, and at Prole. Johnston is an air force veteran of 12 years. A brother, D. L. Johnston, lives in

Ticket Sales Start For Andrews Rodeo

ANDREWS—Tickets for the Andrews Amateur Rodeo June 19 and 20 have gone on sale here.

Bill Cheney, director of the Andrews Rodeo Association, reported that entries for the amateur event were coming in from surrounding cities in the area.

He urged all amateurs who plan to participate in the rodeo to send in entries and registration fees as early as possible as the stock was limited.

The rodeo is slated for two night performances and is limited to cowboys and cowgirls not members of the professional rodeo circuit.

Events scheduled are calf roping, ribbon roping, saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, bull riding and girls cloverleaf barrel race.

The American muskrat was imported into Great Britain for fur farms, but going wild, it did so much damage to river banks that further imports have been forbidden and efforts have been made to exterminate it.

Andrews Masons Hold Family Night Event

ANDREWS—The Masonic Lodge recently played host to a family night barbecue supper and Past-Masters Night. The feed was served by the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang at the County Park. Approximately 150 persons attended.

The Masons then retired to the Lodge hall where five Past Masters were given special recognition.

Magic Nod Of Home Beauty Supplied By 'Carpet' Experts

The magic touch of beautifully styled and handsomely arranged carpets and draperies in the home is at the convenience of every Midland family who relies on the first class service offered by the House of Carpets at 1502 Lamesa Road.

A new type of window venetian blind is now being handled by the House of Carpets and is manufactured by the Sun Vertical Blind Company. These vertical blinds are made of Celanese ribbons running in strips from the top of the window frame to the bottom.

Manufactured in 16 colors, Venetian blinds are opened easily to the full-open position or opened partially to either side, allowing sunlight to be directed to any part of the room and offering a dramatic control of natural lighting effects. Dust can't stick to Venetian blinds.

These new modernistic blinds will be custom made to fit any window and colors may be selected to match the outside of your home as well as the inside. Drapes of the same material are included on each side of the blind proper.

Mrs. Winifred Beal and Felix Weimaker, owners and operators of the House of Carpets, have announced that a new furniture department will be opened in one section of the House of Carpets very soon and the latest and most strikingly designed furniture available will be on display.

Exciting Draperies
The House of Carpets follows the California trend in selecting up to date drapes and furnishings. Most of the drapery material handled by the firm comes directly from California, says Mrs. Beal.

A new type lining has been developed for draperies, she says, which comes in all colors and resists West Texas sun and all weather conditions. Mrs. Beal and Weimaker will help select appropriate draperies, linings, and carpets for your home and aid you in match-

COCKROACH, BEWARE—One of the housewife's most hated enemies is the cockroach. Johnston's No-Roach will change this, say its manufacturers. "Just brush it on," they say, "no stoop, no squat, no rub in." It is colorless, odorless and stainless. Insects that walk in it become paralyzed and die.

An excellent selection of gift items in wrought iron are also on display at the firm, as well as imported oriental cloisonne and figurines.

When you are selecting carpets, draperies, or other household furnishings for your home telephone Mrs. Beal or Weimaker at 4-8083 or stop in and see for yourself the transformation that can be performed in your home when you choose from the outstanding lines found at the House of Carpets.

In many old oil fields, the average production per well is less than one barrel a day.

Stonehocker Pushes Work On New Hospital Project

Construction is well underway now on the new Western-Clinic hospital building being erected by the Stonehocker Construction & Lumber Company, one of Midland County's oldest and most reliable building firms.

Felix W. Stonehocker, owner of the firm, says that work on the new $130,000 hospital building, is expected to be completed by Nov. 1, 1953.

Among the other major projects being handled by the building firm are the Church of Christ located at Jackson and North Fort Worth Streets and the future remodeling of Dunlaps on Main Street and a new insurance building directly behind.

The Stonehocker Construction & Lumber Company, located at 405 North Baird Street, has served West Texas more than 27 years and has an enviable reputation in this area.

Texas

in Ford Motor Company's 50 Year History

The Ford Motor Company's new million-dollar Parts Depot, located at 321 North Industrial Boulevard in Dallas, supplies parts and accessories to 340 Ford Dealers throughout Texas.

Mayor Robert L. Thornton will officially turn on this spectacular Ford sign tonight at 8:30 PM. The sign, located at the corner of Elm and Houston Streets in Dallas, was erected by the Dallas District Ford Dealers. It is the largest animated neon sign in the Southwest.

The name of Texas is indelibly written in the pages of the great American industrial story.

Since 1913 when the Ford Motor Company built the first and only automobile assembly plants in the State of Texas, 1,308,658 Ford Cars and Trucks—each proudly displaying the brand, "Built in Texas By Texans"—have rolled off the Dallas assembly line.

Today more than 2,900 Texans with an annual payroll in excess of $13,500,000 are employed by the Ford Motor Company.

The new cars and trucks they assemble and the Ford parts they distribute are shipped to every corner of the Lone Star State and beyond its great borders into the Southwest. As the Ford Motor Company marks its 50th Anniversary, its Texas operation is recognized as a key factor in making possible the Company's Golden Jubilee slogan, "50 Years Forward on the American Road."

The Ford Dealers of the Dallas District are proud to be partners in progress with the Ford Motor Company and with the people of Texas who have been so much a part of this progress.

We look forward with full confidence that Texas-built Ford products will help build the future of Texas and add to its ever-growing industrial strength.

Malenkov's First 100 Days Hint Uneasiness In Kremlin

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet regime under Premier Georgi Malenkov was 100 days old Saturday. In foreign affairs Moscow may look on the period as a success, but internally the indications seem to add up to insecurity and nervousness.

By use of the most stubborn peace offensive to date, the new regime has delivered preliminary sledgehammer blows on a wedge evidently intended to split Allied unity. But some of the reason for the peace offensive appears to stem from internal considerations within the USSR itself and the Communist empire in Eastern Europe and Asia.

The day after the Kremlin announced the death of Joseph Stalin, Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov was proclaimed Premier. For a short time there was a flurry of glorification and it appeared he might attempt to be Stalin's full successor. But the glorification stopped. Malenkov has had to share his power.

Threats to White Army

Will this rule by committee last in a totalitarian state? Probably not. In the first hundred days there has been much evidence that the struggle for power at the top is not ended.

GEORGI MALENKOV

Willing to share? The Soviet Army still contains the seeds of a threat to the top Communist rulers, that the party has had to make many striking concessions to Soviet public feelings. All this has indicated insecurity at the top level.

In foreign affairs, the outstanding feature of the new regime was the peace offensive, leading up to the Korean truce developments, other tactical retreats in Germany and Austria, and stepped up propaganda against the Western Allies in the backward countries of Africa and Asia.

Domestically, these developments stood out:

Details Add Up

1. A press attack on "one-man rule" with overtones of a revolt against the memory of the dictator Stalin.

2. The "rights" campaign, directed at the Soviet public to persuade it that the 1936 constitution is its protector, that people can work and live without fear of arbitrary arrest and imprisonment. Tied in with this was the amnesty liberating certain classes of persons in prisons and labor camps.

3. The reversal of the "doctors' plot." The stage had been set for a show trial of doctors, some of them Jewish, accused of conspiring to kill Soviet leaders. Suddenly the doctors were freed, their accusers arrested. There is much speculation that Stalin himself originated the plot.

Strongarm Purges

4. The strengthening of the government, giving more authority to ministries in the fields for which they are responsible, indicating an attempt to cut through the vast maze of Soviet bureaucracy built up over several decades.

5. The reversal of some of the political decisions of the 19th Communist party congress of last October, reverting to rule at the top by a small clique, now called a Presidium of the party, but in actuality the same thing as the supposedly abolished Politburo.

6. The severe crackdown on parties and governments in the 15 republics outside Great Russia. In the republic of Georgia, birthplace of Stalin and home state of police czar Lavrenty P. Beria, for example, the top Communist leadership was purged and many were arrested on charges of fomenting "nationalist feelings" among the Georgians. There were similar shakeups in many other places, such as Uzbekistan, Armenia, Azerbaijan, the Ukraine and the Baltic republics.

After 100 days, the impression is that Malenkov rules in combination with Beria, and that they are mutually dependent. V. M. Molotov is listed as third man in a triumvirate, but the indications have been that he is unwanted there by the other two. However, Molotov's strong personal following in the Communist party and the Army continues to keep him at the top of the heap.

The arrangement probably will persist for a while. The collegium ruling the Soviet Union seems in agreement on the program facing the country at the present time:

LAVRENTY BERIA

Where two's company... an enormous buildup of economic strength at the expense of the Soviet consumers, to exert more powerfully the Soviet "international authority" often referred to in the Soviet press.

While this building goes on at home, the USSR can be expected to bend every effort to break up any non-Communist coalition, to divide the non-Communist world, and to wait for economic dislocations abroad. All the evidence today points to this: that the USSR is sure the capitalist economic crisis is near at hand.

The Malenkov-Beria-Molotov regime appears to be gambling on the "deepening crisis of world capitalism." If that crisis should materialize, the USSR would be free to direct the expansion of Communist domination by the use of internal nationalist forces in the countries of Asia, the Middle East and Africa.

V. M. MOLOTOV

Three's a crowd. If the crisis does not materialize, the USSR will have had a waiting period to build its internal strength.

But a new act in the drama of the struggle for power may upset Soviet plans. The coalition may last a year or two or even more. But while the struggle is unresolved, the USSR in all probability will do all possible to avoid the risk of war.

Pasadena, Texas.

Within 15 minutes after the first plane landed, the second B-47 came in.

Co-pilot of the second jet was Capt. Richard Wilson of Ohio, who is married to the former Margaret Elms de Dallas, daughter of Mrs. Robert S. Elms of Houston.

Spaced by only few-minute intervals, the bombers flew in regularly—until 45 of them had landed.

They rank as the fastest known medium bomber in the world. The B-47 was the first multi-engine plane in the world to have a top speed of more than 600 miles per hour.

Extremely thin wings are swept back, like a bird poised before flapping its wings... and six engines are mounted under the airplane wings, in a combination of two twin and two single pods.

These engines can carry the ship's potential 185,000 pounds up past 40,000 feet.

While the stratojet is a more complicated airplane than the B-29 or B-50, only three men are used to fly it—compared with the 11-man crew of the superfortresses, the 18-man crew of the B-36.

There still are guarded secrets about the plane.

Reporters weren't allowed in it. Already, 400 of the planes have been produced. They're turning them out now at the rate of one per day.

The B-47 puts in a new operational capability," General Selsler said. He added the Russians were not the only ones getting new equipment now.

The first map of America produced after the U. S. Revolution was engraved by Abel Buell who also served time in jail for counterfeiting, says the National Geographic Society.

Zooming Chemical Industry Extends To Greater Heights

NEW YORK —(AP)— America's chemical industry, turning out new products at the rate of one a day the last 10 years, hardly can wait for the future—it looks so good.

If it's anything like its fabulous recent past, the chemical makers will be doing much more than all right.

In each year since 1925, their industry has grown about 10 per cent, compared with three per cent for industry as a whole. Since 1939 the demand for chemicals has jumped 400 per cent, with 1952 sales of $18,680,000,000.

A big piece of that business was in brand new products. Chemical manufacturers have become major materials suppliers, ranking in tonnage and value of output with steel, machinery, automobiles and textiles among the industrial giants. The U. S. Department of Commerce says the industry is the only one which supplies all 72 industrial groups.

The industry is producing 8,000 distinct chemical entities and hundreds more are being added each year. There are 7,000 companies employing 800,000 workers in 10,000 establishments.

Led by synthetic organics for plastics, fibers, medicinal and agricultural chemicals, almost every industrial chemical has been in such demand since the end of World War II that chemical makers have spent more than eight billion dollars for new plants and equipment.

The building still is going on. It's estimated that when present expansion is completed in 1955, chemical productive capacity will have been boosted by a third over 1950. The Manufacturing Chemists Association figures this will increase employment in the industry to a record high of one million.

Predictions about the future are uniformly enthusiastic. Leading business forecasters estimate that in the next 10 years the chemical industry will grow four to five times faster than the rest of industry.

The President's Materials Policy Commission says it expects a five-fold growth in chemicals by 1975.

In 1905 when Norway long had been dissatisfied with its union with Sweden, she declared the union dissolved and the separation was made peacefully although war was threatened for a time.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Gone Gosling

A goose is a goose. A gosling is a little goose.

"Oh, goosefeathers," said the Featherman in a Featherman delight. He was going to catch a goose—a big goose or a little gosling—the Featherman didn't care.

He was wanting a goosefeather, and now he had hurried back from the nest where he lived. He had hurried back with a shaker of salt in his hand.

Daddy Ringtail had told him what to do. "To catch a goose," said Daddy Ringtail, "all you have to do is put some salt on the goose's tail. Catching him then will be easy."

The Featherman hurried through the bushes—up to the edge of the water of the Duck Pond. The ducks were gone. They had flown away north for the Summer.

Daddy Ringtail was there. He was hiding in the bushes. "Sssh!" said Daddy Ringtail. "There's a goose out there on the water."

The Featherman looked and saw the goose. It was a little goose—a little goose.

"Oh, gosling feathers," said the Featherman in another Featherman delight.

"Control yourself, Mr. Featherman," said Daddy Ringtail. "The Featherman tried to control himself. It was hard work to do it. He was so much wanting a gosling feather."

"I'm going to put salt on his tail,"

By WESLEY DAVIS

the Featherman whispered, "and then that goose will be a gone gosling."

"What kind of talk is that?" asked Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, who came walking up just then. "What do you mean, 'a gone gosling'?"

"I mean I'm going to catch him," said the Featherman in a very happy Featherman voice.

The goose who was a little gosling heard the Featherman's words. He spread his wings and up he flew before the Featherman (poor fellow) could put as much as a grain of salt upon his tail to catch him.

"Oh me! Oh my!" moaned and groaned the Featherman.

The gosling was gone sure enough, and he didn't leave a single feather, which Mr. sure will prove to you something, but I have no idea what it is.

Happy day!
