Sutton Prospect Is Trying To Eliminate Water From Oil Zone

Ashland Oil & Refining Company and Feldmnd Oil Corporation No. 1 Wallace estate, Southeast Sutton County flowing discovery from two separate sections of the Strawn-Pennsylvanian lime, is trying to figure out a way to eliminate water which has developed in testing both the oil pay zones.

This project is bottomed at 6,550 feet in Ellenburger. That formation made only water. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 6,550 feet. That pipe is perforated at 6,078-88 feet and at 5,006-26 feet. Both those sections flowed oil and no water on drillstem tests.

Colorado City Airman Wings Over Noted Volcano Of Vesuvius On Regular Flights

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

NAPLES, ITALY — On every bus, train and plane in Europe, it seems you find a Texan.

On a plane from Turkey to Italy, I found Airman James Mitchell of Colorado City.

On a bus in Munich, Germany, I sat down beside Airman Jack Hess of Pampa.

And when I boarded a train from Germany to Rome, I got on the same time as S. Sgt. Robert Sinclair of Houston.

It was on a Military Air Transport C-54 plane, flying from Izmir-Naples-Frankfurt, where I met Airman Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell of Colorado City.

The Air Force's "host," a sergeant who explains how to put on the "Mae West" life preservers, had invited me up front to the cockpit. When I walked up front, I found both the pilot, Maj. Edward Ortowski of Denver, and the engineer, Airman Mitchell, busily engaged in improving their minds. Or-towski made a beautiful sweep over the top of Vesuvius, the volcano which reeked such havoc on the ancient village of Pompeii.

Airman Mitchell and I could see the gaping mouth of the volcano-looking as if it were only yesterday when it had disgorged its terrifying flaming lava.

It was an impressive sight.

"Times like this it seems a long way to Colorado City," Mitchell commented. Then we were over the Bay of Naples, and coming in for a landing.

BOY ON THE BUS — It was in Munich when I boarded a U. S. Army-operated bus to go to the Post Exchange. I rode for an hour, when I turned and asked the boy beside me: "Doesn't this ever get to the PX?"

In the conversation which ensued, Airman Jack Hess of Pampa assured me that it did—but that in Europe, everything takes time.

The Texas boy had only arrived in Germany himself.

He is stationed at Sidi Slimane (near Rabat) in North Africa. He is in Munich to attend a communications school.

In North Africa, it gets hotter than in Texas, but there are wonderful beaches and swimming facilities, he pointed out.

"Every week I go swimming right in the Atlantic Ocean," he said.

His base is in French territory, so there are a few French girls the American servicemen date, he pointed out.

Born in Pampa, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hess, the airman-attended school in Pampa. His parents now live in Benton City, Wash.

His grandmother, Mrs. Ella Hess, and two uncles, C. J. Hess and L. A. Lavery, reside in Pampa.

AND ON THE TRAIN — It takes 24 hours to travel from Munich, Germany, through Austria and down the "boot" of Italy to Naples.

About half way down the boot, I discovered that the sergeant in the next compartment to mine on the International Train was S. Sgt. Robert C. Sinclair, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sinclair of Houston. He is a former University of Texas student, traveling to Rome and Naples to meet a group of Texas friends now touring Europe.

NEWS ON TEXANS — When I met Lt. Col. Earl Short in Izmir, Turkey, he was getting ready to depart for Istanbul (formerly called Constantinople) to meet Mrs. Short and their children, Patricia, Elizabeth and Roberta. Colonel Short is with G-2, came to Izmir in March from Fort Bragg, S. C. His wife is the former Helen Aiken of Galveston, whom he met in Panama. They were married in 1935 and call San Antonio, home.

TRAVEL DEPARTMENT — On a plane from Izmir to Athens, the pilot was Jim Cummings, formerly of Dallas. A sister, Mrs. William F. Brewer, is in Dallas. Cummings is a MATS pilot, but complains he never gets to stop in Turkey long enough to pick out a Persian (or in this case would you say Turkish) rug.

Turks can't understand why Americans called their traditional Thanksgiving bird "turkey," as the fowl is not common to Turkey.

WANTED — Sign I spotted on an English bus: "Drivers wanted (25 years and over) Commencing standard rate, 7 pounds, 3 shillings. That's less than $22 a week."

WASHINGTON — The Department of Defense Monday announced the following Texas casualties in the Korean area, all of them recorded before the recent cease-fire:

Killed in action, Army: Sgt. William H. Fortner, Lake Dallas.

Killed in action, Marine Corps: Cpl. Harold W. Shanks, Combes.

Died of wounds, Marine Corps: Sgt. Eddie G. Cunningham, Dallas.

Wounded, Army: Cpl. Lovell L. Brown, Waco; Pvt. Tony Cole, El Paso; Pfc. John C. Crayton, Hallsville; Pfc. Max D. Forsyth, Texarkana; Pfc. Rafael F. Garcia, Corpus Christi; Pfc. Harry G. Ganzelas, Houston; Cpl. Charles H. Koster, Alvin; Sgt. Benito Montez, Jr., Austin; Sgt. Billy W. Nixon, Lubbock; Pvt. Robert G. Reyna, Edouche; Pfc. Alfredo R. Rodriguez, El Paso; Pfc. Audrey D. Saxon, Gilmer; Pvt. Orlando A. Segura, Marfa; Cpl. Rafael J. Velez, El Paso.

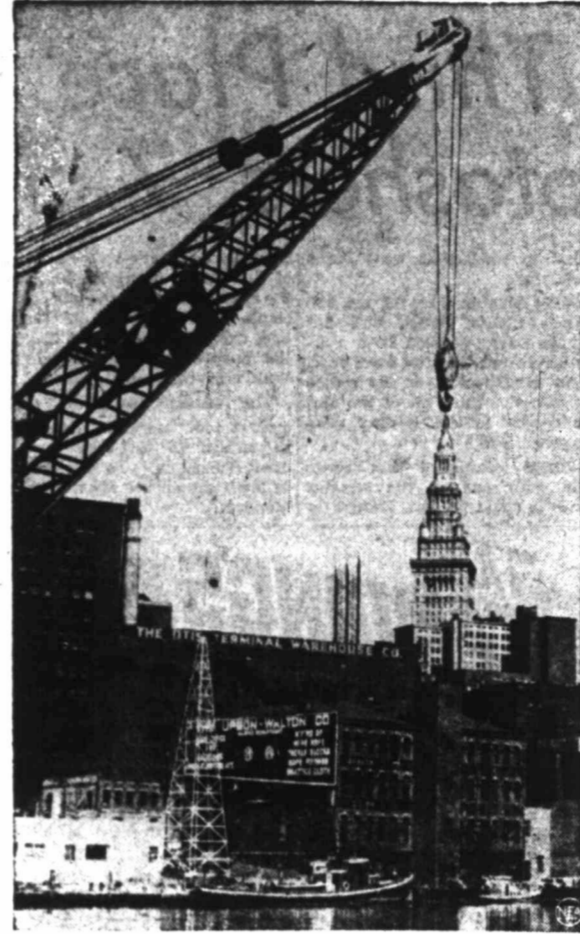

Wounded, Marine Corps: Pfc. Joe M. Del Rio, Jr., San Antonio; Sgt. Bobby L. Meier, Victoria; Pfc. Juventino E. Moreno, Corpus Christi; Sgt. Armando Perath, El Paso; Pfc. Harold R. Shahan, San Angelo; Pfc. Panfilo O. Torres, Houston; Pfc. Theopolis A. Woodard, Corsicana.

Injured, Army: Pvt. Filippo G. Rocchi, Houston.

Missing in action, Army: Pfc. Floyd L. Brunette, New Baden.

Missing in action, Marine Corps: Cpl. James F. Stephens, Jr., Odessa.

Meniere's Disease Usually Strikes After Age 45 Years

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

"I have a friend," writes Mrs. J. S., "who has what the doctors call Meniere's disease. She has had it six or seven years and is deaf in one ear. The other ear has a continual buzzing and ringing in it. She gets dizzy spells and has taken many falls. Would you discuss this please?"

The symptoms described by Mrs. S. are exactly typical of the common and distressing disorder known as Meniere's disease. The seat of the difficulty lies deep in the ear. Its cause is believed to be a dropy in the deep portion of the ear called the labyrinth.

This dropical condition, which means accumulation of fluid, does not often develop in young people, but past the age of 45 it becomes increasingly common.

Some patients who drink a lot of fluids find that an attack comes on a few hours afterwards, probably because of the increased accumulation of fluid in the labyrinth. This has given a clue leading to the use of some forms of treatment aimed at cutting down the intake of fluids or removing excess fluids from the body.

Several medical treatments, such as the use of histamine or atropin, have met with some favor and surgery also has been tried with varying degrees of success. For many people with Meniere's disease treatment brings some, but not complete relief.

In discussing this common and

Drunken Brothers Spray City With Random Shotgun Blasts

MANSPFIELD, OHIO — Two brothers who terrorized Mansfield by driving around shooting at people were remorseful when they sobered up in Mansfield jail. Chief of Detectives F. Bruce Friday said Monday.

"They don't know themselves why they did it," said Friday, who questioned John Brown, 37, and J. T. Brown, 33. Friday said probably he'd file charges Monday of "pointing and discharging firearms."

One person was injured in the shooting spree Saturday night. Howard Mason, 29, lost four toes when he was hit in the foot by a shotgun blast. He is recovering in a hospital.

Police got dozens of calls from citizens who said the two men were cruising about firing random shots.

The brothers finally stopped in a downtown parking lot and approached Patrolman Glenn Adams. One of them put the muzzle of an ancient shotgun against Adams' chest and pulled the trigger. The gun did not go off. "The gun was so old I'd be afraid to fire it," Friday said.

Adams called other officers and in the struggle Mason, a bystander, was shot.

Hides Behind Tree

Friday said the two brothers, both employed at Wilkins Air Depot at nearby Shelby, went to different parties Saturday evening. Friday said their story wasn't very clear, but apparently one of them got in an argument at his party, picked up the other brother, got their guns and started out with a hazy notion of revenge.

As they drove by the home of Robert McDaniel, McDaniel yelled at them to slow down. They started shooting at McDaniel, who ducked behind a tree. Then they drove around firing at other people.

"It was just a case of two persons who had been drinking," said Friday. "They haven't been in any trouble before. They said they would give anything to undo what they did."

Industrious Holland Shows Appreciation For America

By J. H. ALLISON
Special Correspondent

THE HAGUE — Holland is a very interesting and industrious country of dykes and canals, and I have enjoyed my brief stay here.

The citizens, too, deeply appreciate the United States, and U. S. flags are on our tables wherever we eat.

Of special interest to the tourist is the Peace Palace, which is a true palace in every sense of the word. It now is used as a Hall of Justice.

The churches, of which there are many, are designated as follows: swan for Lutheran; rooster on spire for other Protestant, and cross for Roman Catholic.

Voting qualifications here are a bit different from ours. A person cannot vote in a Lower House of Parliament election until he is 23 years of age. Citizens must be 30 years old before voting for the candidates of their choice for seats in the Upper House. The government, incidentally, is quite stable.

Legion Chief Starts West Europe Tour

NEW YORK — Lewis K. Gough, national commander of the American Legion, flew to Europe Sunday for a tour of England, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland.

He said he wanted to look into the psychological warfare program and American information services. The purpose, he said, was "to further unity and strengthen a unified defense." He did not elaborate on this.

Although the trip was unofficial and primarily "for the legion," he said, it was also a "fact-finding tour" which President Eisenhower requested I make last November.

Jarzewski credited the Voice of America and Radio Free Europe with keeping Poland's moral high, despite Communist oppression.

Watkins Nets Medalist Role At Ranchland

Defending Champion Red Watkins fired a two-under par 69 Sunday over the Ranchland Hill Country Club layout to win medalist honors and gain a favorites role in the membership tournament getting underway for three-weeks play.

Watkins boasted a three stroke margin over two others, Kit Carson, also a former champion, and Buddy Branum who posted his qualifying score Saturday.

The pairings will be announced in the 127-man tourney Tuesday. Abe Beckman, who directs the meet, announced after the medalist play Sunday. He said that first round matches will begin Saturday with the concluding duels coming up Sunday and the following weekend.

MASTERTON MAKES 'EM SING THE BLUES— Sunday Jinks Hits Sox Again

By The Associated Press

Once again the Chicago White Sox are moaning the "Monday Blues" after missing a chance to take full advantage of another weekend stumble by the New York Yankees.

Sundays are rough days for Paul Richard's go-go boys. Two weeks ago they blew a double-header to the Yanks at Comiskey Park. Last week they tossed away another chance by spitting a double-header with Philadelphia while the Yanks broke even with Detroit.

Walt Masterton was the stumbling block Sunday, shutting out the White Sox with six hits for a 1-0 Washington victory while the Yanks watched the rain wash out their double with the St. Louis Browns. So the White Sox lost half of the game they picked up Saturday and still trail New York by five full games.

Cleveland closed within seven games of the Yanks by grabbing a pair from Philadelphia, 10-1 and 7-1, on the pitching of Bob Lemon and Early Wynn. Lemon now has won 15 games. Detroit continued its late surge by knocking off Boston twice, 2-1 and 9-4, extending the Red Sox losing streak to eight games.

Brooklyn's lead in the National was cut half a game to 7 1/2 when the Dodgers were beaten by St. Louis, 10-1, while second-place Milwaukee broke even with Philadelphia.

Curt Simmons, treated roughly in his last three starts, held Milwaukee to five hits to win the first, 4-1, but the Braves came right back to take the second, 6-1, behind Bob Buhl.

Cincinnati swept a pair from the New York Giants, 5-0 and 3-1, behind Harry Perkowski and Fred Baczewski. The first game shutout was the fourth for the Giants in seven games. Chicago finally downed Pittsburgh, 7-6, in 11 innings on Ransom Jackson's home run. The second half of the double was called off on account of darkness.

The Washington-Chicago game was a tight battle between Masterton and Harry Dorish all the way. Jim Busby drove in the only run in the fourth inning with a single scoring Jackie Jensen, who doubled and took third on an infield out.

Lemon breezed home against the A's with a six-hitter, losing his shutout on Gus Zernia's twenty-fifth home run in the eighth. He became the first 15-game winner in

Ranks Are Complete For Legion Baseball Tourney in Houston

HOUSTON—(AP)—St. Thomas of Houston defeated College Station, 14-0, Sunday and became the fourth area champion to qualify for the State American Legion Baseball Tournament which starts here Thursday.

Ranks for the tournament are now complete. Three remaining positions had been won earlier by Lamesa, Sunset of Dallas and Alamo of San Antonio.

St. Thomas lost yesterday's first game at College Station, 6-11. But it had won the series opener, 6-0. Opening pairings for the double-elimination state meet, first to be held here, will be drawn Thursday morning.

Patton Ekes Out Glen Garden Title With 282 On Card

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Playing best under pressure, Fort Worth's Richard Patton narrowly captured the twenty-third Glen Garden Invitation Golf Tournament Sunday.

The Fort Worth city champion holed a 25-foot bogey put on the final green to win with a 72-hole score of 282.

He had held a one-stroke edge over Ernie Vossler, Fort Worth, coming to the final hole but hooked his four-iron tee shot out of bounds. He then hit to the middle of the green and canned the long putt for the victory as Vossler also took a bogey four. Both fired one-over par 72's.

Vossler and Don Addington, Dallas, tied for second place at 283. Addington shot a 69 Sunday. Don's younger brother, Floyd, finished fourth at 285 on a closing 71.

Cooper Maintains Tam Lead As Rain Washes Out Tie

CHICAGO—(AP)—The All-American Golf Tourney, rained out of its scheduled finish Sunday, had a sideshow touch to its delayed wind-up Monday.

An array of 40 pros among the 150 men and women who must tackle Tam O'Shanter course for a title day competed in a $25,000 hole-in-one television show.

The ace contest was to be conducted on the 165-yard, sixteenth green. The TV sponsor will award $25,000 to any hole-in-one, each player getting two shots.

This all was incidental to the retarded closing round of the All-American three-ply tourney. Eighty players had finished the concluding round Sunday before Harvey Raynor, PGA tourney supervisor, ruled the course was too water-logged for play. All scores were canceled.

The postponement gladdened the 54-hole leader, Pete Cooper, the Floridian who works as a club pro in White Plains, N. Y.

When the rains came, Cooper, Jackie Burke and Dave Douglas were matched for the lead through the first eight holes of the final round, eight-under par.

Sunday night when registration closed, 1,078 had enrolled to hear the latest in football, basketball, baseball and track from men picked to lecture on their respective sports because of top records.

And as the big clinic, expected to pull in around 2,000 "students" and better the record of 1,860 set last year at Fort Worth, started crack football and basketball squads were going through their first workouts in preparation for games Thursday and Friday nights.

Dallas Ward, coach of Colorado, and Johnny Vaught, coach of Mississippi, discussed football—Ward talking about the single wing and Vaught the T formation.

Everett F. Shelton, coach of Wyoming, and Buster Brannon, coach of Texas Christian, lectured on basketball.

Col. Frank Anderson, whose Texas A&M track teams have won many championships in the Southwest, talked on this sport, and Beau Bell, baseball coach of Texas A&M, discussed the fundamentals of the diamond game.

There'll be a solid week of such lectures, plus demonstrations of football play, and coaches will hear about treatment and prevention of injuries from Eddie Wojcicki of Rice, noted trainer.

Abe Houston of Waco is president of the association. He will be succeeded by Pat Gerald of Sweetwater, who will be elevated from vice president to the top post at the annual business meeting Thursday.

Vaught is coaching the South football squad and Ward the North. Brannon is coaching the South basketball squad and Bill Henderson of Baylor the North.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Wily Fox

In the Great Forest there lived a fox who was so clever that every one called him Wily. "Wily" means "clever." And Wily Fox was very clever, or Wily Fox was very wily, whichever way you want to say it. Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, knew him very well. So one day, when Daddy Ringtail was walking through the forest, he stopped and said: "What's the matter, Wily?"

Wily smiled, and didn't answer. His long, red tongue was hanging way out of his mouth. He was lying down on the ground, and his breath was coming fast. He was panting. In fact, the way a dog does when he has been running or jumping or leaping.

"What's the matter, Wily?" Daddy Ringtail asked again.

Wily looked up at the tree above him. Daddy Ringtail looked too.

Some large, purple grapes were growing there.

"Oh!" Daddy Ringtail said. "Wily, you've been jumping up in the air trying to get those grapes. That's why you're so out of breath."

Wily admitted that was what he had been doing. "I'm resting now," said Wily, "and while I'm resting, I'm trying to think of a way to get them."

Now the grapes were growing on a very small part of the tree—much too small for Daddy Ringtail

Wrecks On Texas Highways, Streets Bring Death To 16

By The Associated Press
Wrecks on Texas streets and highways killed 16 persons over the weekend—a heavy traffic toll for a non-holiday period.

Two collisions claimed three lives each. Two victims died in mishaps blamed on slippery roads and poor visibility from heavy rains.

Miscellaneous violence pushed the over-all toll to 20 dead. One person was run over by a train, another stabbed to death, one shot fatally and one strangled.

Three persons were killed and two critically hurt in a head-on two-car crash eight miles northeast of Brownwood Sunday night. Officers said one of the cars may have hit a yearling steer. Dead were Charles William York, 29, Midland attorney with Humble Oil & Refining Company; his wife, Wilks, 25, and William Marvin Calloway, Jr., Longview, with the East Texas Division of Humble Pipeline Company. Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Boyd of Dallas were hurt critically.

Three were killed near Friona in Parmer County Saturday night in the collision of a car and a truck. The dead, all in the car, were Burt Harrison Beene, 29, Friona; J. D. Johnson, 25, Friona, and Carl Davis Oreson, 29, Black, Texas. The truck driver, Marvin Valentine Crow of Clovis, N. M., was not hurt.

Slick Roads Boost Toll
Two persons were killed Sunday in Harris County traffic mishaps blamed on rain-slicker roads. Mrs. Winona Emily McGilvray, 48, was killed when her pickup truck collided with a passenger locomotive. S. H. McCauley, 53, was injured fatally when his automobile skidded passing another car and hit a third car.

Albert Lee Harrison, 42, Lockney, was killed Sunday when his car overturned three miles east of the Floyd County town.

Donald E. Wilkins, 48, San Antonio druggist, was found wounded fatally with a bullet in his chest Friday night at his home. Several notes were left directing the disposition of Wilkins' personal effects. A pistol was near the body.

Elsie Pauline Schneider, 36-year-old Corpus Christi woman, was killed Friday night when a switch engine and an automobile collided about 10 miles northwest of Corpus Christi.

Fatal Stabbing
Rudolph Otto Weber, 36, was stabbed to death early Saturday in a Houston hotel. Mrs. Irene Matilda Rogers, 40, was charged with murder.

A one-month-old infant, Darlene Dawn Davis, was killed Friday night and four other persons injured in a truck-auto collision near Bryan. She was the daughter of Mrs. H. L. Davis of Houston.

Mrs. Louis Foster, about 45, was killed Saturday when struck by a railroad engine near her home in Cleveland, Texas. Officers said she apparently stumbled and fell on the tracks while returning from a grocery store.

Sesario Estrada, 58, was killed in Austin Saturday night when struck by an automobile.

Sharon Bradford, four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Bradford, Morencio, Ariz., was killed Saturday when the family automobile overturned on a highway near Tesarokana.

Early Sunday, Lacy Tillman, 48, Borger, was killed when his car overturned near Borger.

Truck, Cycle Collide
Near Littlefield, Hugh Edward Gage, 15, Littlefield, was killed Sunday night when the motorcycle on which he was riding and a pickup truck collided. Marvis Dale Gage, 14, a cousin on the motorcycle with the boy who was killed, was hurt.

Ray Alvin Fry, 12, oldest of four children of Mrs. Beulah Fry of the Oak Hill Community, five miles west of Austin, was killed Sunday as he rode his bicycle along the Fredericksburg highway near his home. Officers said his bicycle veered in front of a car traveling in the same direction.

Mrs. Elliott Dufour, 46, was found strangled at her home in Humble, near Houston. An inquest verdict of homicide was returned and a 49-year-old man was held.

FOOTNOTE TO TRAGEDY—Feet of several of the 20 victims of a bus accident protrude from the wreckage of the vehicle as it is pulled from the Williamsburg Canal near Morrisburg, Ontario. The Montreal-bound bus rammed into a stalled truck and plunged into the canal. Seventeen other persons and the driver managed to escape and swim to safety.

Alabaman Reports Robbery, Kidnaping By Two Armed Men

MOBILE, ALA. —(AP)—The companion of a 32-year-old mother of three children told police two armed men robbed her and abducted the woman at riflepoint on a lonely road near here.

John A. Faulk of Prichard, Ala., described the incident to Police Chief E. C. Anderson of Prichard, and Sheriff Herman Blake of Mobile County.

Both officers said Sunday night the woman, Mrs. Nell Williams, had not yet been found.

They said Faulk told them he and Mrs. Williams drove to a lonely unpaved road early Sunday and that when he walked around to the rear of the car he was confronted by two men armed with rifles.

One of the men robbed him of his wallet containing about $75. Faulk was quoted, and the other man, Mrs. Williams away at riflepoint.

The officers further quoted Faulk as saying he heard an automobile engine start and that the man with him left and drove off with his companion and Mrs. Williams.

The officers said the woman's husband, R. L. Williams, told them the last time he saw his wife was Saturday night, when she left home to go to Chickasaw, Ala.

ON THE EASY PAYMENT PLAN — Lid On U. S. Debt Means Mama Must Pinch Pennies

By STIGOR ARNE
WASHINGTON —(AP)—What do Congress and the Administration mean when they talk about "increasing the debt limit?"

It is as simple as the arguments that go on when Papa tells Mama she has to hold down spending and quit borrowing.

Washington is like any family. It has an income (taxes) and it has expenses. It can save part of its income, as some families do. It can spend all of it. Or it can spend all of its income and then borrow to cover extra spending.

This last step is what Washington has done most of the time in recent years—spent all it took in and then borrowed to cover further spending.

In Washington Papa has some control, at least. He can put a limit on the amount Mama borrows.

Easy Payment Plan
Congress plays the part of Papa in Washington. It puts a limit on how much the federal government can borrow. Right now it says that Mama—the Administration—must not borrow beyond 275 billion dollars. Right now the debt stands at about 272 1/2 billion, very close to the ceiling.

The Defense Department, the Veterans Administration, the Agriculture Department and the rest of the executive agencies spend the money. They make commitments—which is like Mama buying dining room furniture on time.

Right now the Defense Department and the Mutual Security Administration are on the cuff for time payments for expensive items like tanks, ships, planes, airfields.

Time payments promised by Washington's Mama are now so big that Congress is debating whether it will have to raise the ceiling on what the federal government can borrow. That's what's meant by "increasing the debt limit."

Like any papa, Congress has to figure for the next year what income will flow in and what money has to go out to pay expenses.

President Eisenhower's experts have figured that Washington will take in about $7 1/2 billion dollars in the next 12 months.

Some others think this optimistic, that the total may well be two billion less.

Whatever it is, expenditures will be more. That means the government will need more money. If the borrowing has to go beyond the

Iranian Envoy Dismayed At Dulles Statement On Aid

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Iran's ambassador says he is dismayed by Secretary of State Dulles' statement that activities of the illegal Communist Tudeh Party might cause Iran to lose American aid.

Ambassador Aliyar Saleh said in a statement Sunday that the Tudeh Party has been dissolved since 1947. Besides, he said, to withhold aid because of extremist activities would be like withholding a transfusion from a patient dying for lack of blood.

Dulles told his news conference last Tuesday that the United States is concerned over Premier Mossadegh's tolerance of Tudeh Party activities. Dulles said this would make it more difficult to grant the Iranian government assistance.

Short Creek Children Gaze Wide Eyed At Neon, Paving

PHOENIX, ARIZ. —(AP)—The children of Short Creek, Arizona's polygamy colony, had their first look at a city Sunday.

Officers evacuated the 182 youngsters and their 38 mothers in buses after Sheriff Frank Porter said he heard the men of the community plotting to take their families away from Short Creek after being released from jail on bond.

Authorities raided the polygamy colony a week ago Sunday. Thirty-one men and nine women were jailed.

The children who were brought here Sunday appeared wide-eyed and enthusiastic on their arrival. They stood in awe of the tall downtown buildings.

For most, it was the first time they had seen neon lights, pavements or modern buildings.

State welfare officers hurried them off to foster homes, where they will remain until juvenile court officers decide their futures.

Minutes after Arizona authorities removed the children from Short Creek, 31 men and nine women freed from Kingman jail on bond began to return home.

Only a handful of boys, left to tend to the cattle, greeted them.

Johnson Cites Democratic Cooperation With President

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Senator Lyndon Johnson asserts the most significant aspect of this Congress has been the cooperation between President Eisenhower and the Democratic minority.

In a transcribed radio address Sunday night the Senate Democratic leader said:

"The record of the session shows that on a number of occasions, President Eisenhower turned to the Democrats for help—for aid in de-

Arkansan May Ask Curb on McCarthy's Subcommittee Rule

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator McClellan (D-Ark) says he may challenge Senator McCarthy's right to hire and fire Senate Investigations subcommittee personnel at the January session of Congress.

McClellan and two other Senate Democrats, Symington of Missouri and Henry Jackson of Washington, quit the subcommittee when the Wisconsin Republican was given the right in a 4-3 party line vote recently.

This action followed McCarthy's original refusal to fire J. B. Matthews as committee staff director. McCarthy accepted Matthews' resignation after President Eisenhower and many others denounced a magazine article by Matthews which contended the biggest group supporting the Communist apparatus in America was composed of Protestant clergymen.

McClellan told NBC television interviewers Sunday he had not raised the hire-fire issue on the Senate floor because he wanted to give Republicans a chance to act. If the matter is not settled before January, McClellan said, he will ask that specific operating rules be added to the bill appropriating committee funds.

Modern Super-Weapons Undergo Study For Remolding Of U. S. Strategies Of War

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Defense Department is making a new, exhaustive study of how to mold into a smooth fighting machine such weapons as supercarriers and bombers, atomic cannons and guided missiles—and even devices not yet past the laboratory stage.

This new study, it was learned Monday, has been undertaken by the Pentagon's Weapons System Evaluation Group (WSEG), a military-civilian agency organized in 1948.

The survey will provide the groundwork for recommendations by the new Joint Chiefs of Staff, as requested by Secretary of Defense Wilson. The new Joint Chiefs take over in two weeks.

The weapons evaluation group is headed by Army Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes. Besides military members, the Defense Department says, it includes "a small staff of outstanding scientists and engineers."

The Defense Department declined to say specifically whether the weapons group previously had made any special study of the use of supercarriers, like the 60,000-ton Forrestal class, of which two are now being built, or of atomic cannons, which the Army now has ready for troop delivery.

Climax Of Dispute
When the controversy between the Navy and Air Force over building of the intercontinental B-36 bombers was at its height, the group made an exhaustive analysis of the capabilities of the huge bombers.

Decisions since then have included: To go ahead with the Forrestal class carriers, complete the first 280mm atomic cannons for the Army and develop a number of new guided missiles.

A once-raging dispute over another Defense Department decision—to cut back Air Force funds and goal—came to a quiet climax over the weekend. Eisenhower signed Saturday a bill appropriating $34,371,541,000 for the department during the year which began July 1.

'Propaganda' Charged
Representative Yorty (D-Calif.), the most outspoken House critic of the outback, issued a statement Sunday condemning Republican Congressmen plan to continue the program via prepared television programs.

Yorty said he had a copy of a professionally written script designed probably to "be peddled to TV stations throughout the nation as an individual Republican congressman's 'nonpartisan' report on national defense."

He said the script was full of "misleading propaganda." He demanded equal time to reply from any TV stations which donate time for the program.

Truce Aids Savings
The defense spending rate is now running about four billion dollars a month, but Assistant Secretary Wilfred J. McNeil said that should be shaved if the Korean truce holds good.

McNeil, the Pentagon's chief budget officer, said he sees no sudden slashes in store for military buying, such as swept industry at the end of World War II.

Ammunition buying will be reduced first, he said, but it may be two months before the steel industry will feel the effect. He said he saw no immediate cutbacks in aircraft and ship construction or Army procurement.

BUSTER'S WOES COME DOUBLE

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. —(AP)— Trouble's always double for Little Buster Andrews.

Another boy hit nine-year-old Buster in the head with a rock. It took two operations to repair the damage.

Buster had to have his appendix out. It took the doctor two incisions to find it.

This weekend Buster fell out of a swing. His parents feared an arm was broken. They were wrong. Both arms were broken.

Buster returned from the hospital Sunday in pretty good shape.

Bolivia Launches Land-Grab Program

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA —(AP)—Bolivia's revolutionary government has launched the second phase of its fight against the nation's big fortunes. President Victor Paz Estenssoro's regime Sunday began breaking up large landholdings and parceling them out to the peasants.

The government look over Bolivia's tin mines, the major export industry, last October. The land distribution has been demanded by the powerful labor federation, major backers of Paz Estenssoro's regime.
