

SAN ANGELO ENTERPRISE

VOL. 6

Established Sept. 1882.

SAN ANGELO, TEX., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1887.

Subscription, $2 per year, in Advance.

Quality, figures the low prices for years past. It is goods the

CHAS. A. DAILEY,

LAND AGENT

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

FOR SALE.

DESIRABLE resident LOTS.
FIRST CLASS business lots.
Improved Residences well Located.

SUBURBAN PROPERTY,
IRRIGATED FARMS, from twenty-five up to 300 acres.
Lands susceptible of Irrigation.
RICH FARMING LANDS in LIPAN PRAIRIE and Elsewhere.
RANCHES from 640 up to 30,000 acres.

For Lease.

Dry Lands, Watered Lands and Pastures.

Special Attention Given

To RENDINGER LANDS and PAYING TAXES for residents and non-residents.

To BUYING and SELLING lands.

To REPORTING and PERFECTING titles.

To PURCHASING and LEASING SCHOOL LANDS, PAYING INTEREST and LOOKING AFTER THEM IN GENERAL LAND OFFICE.

PROMPT PERSONAL ATTENTION given to all Business Placed in my hands.

Steam and Horse Power Drilling Machines kept in stock for any depth.

TITUS

Machine and Tool Co.

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

Tanks and Troughs, Float Valves, Faucets, etc., etc.

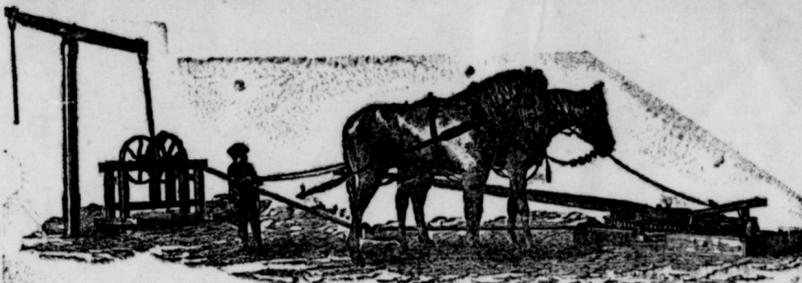

THE LEADS THE WORLD

PERKINS
Ten to Sixteen foot Mill kept in stock, in car load lots.

MOLINE WAGONS!

All sizes, from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2. Iron or Steel Spindles, California, Oregon, or plain brake. Guarantee them to hold up as much as any other wagon of the same size. Guarantee them for 12 months against defective material or workmanship, also carry in stock, Buggies, Phaetons, Hacks, Buck-boards, Sulkeys, etc., etc.

Horse Power and Walking Beam Jack!

From 1 horse to 4 horse power, with from 12 inch to 30 inch stroke, world renowned. The Jarecki Cylinders, from 1 3/8 up to 2 3/4, 5 foot barrel, have appliance for working above cylinder, ready to attach to any make of windmill, and can give windmill stroke up to 21 inches. We also carry the

COMMON SENSE STEAM ENGINE

In stock with PUMPING JACK ready for any depth of well.

NO EXPERIMENTAL BUSINESS!

Will guarantee all our work, especially large contracts 30 days trial; no work, no pay. Come and see us and we'll get there.

Titus Machine and Tool Co.

FRANK LERCH,

(Successor to LERCH & LANDRUM)

Land and Insurance

AGENT.

San Angelo, Texas.

Will buy and Sell Lands,

Render Lands for Taxes, Investigate

Titles, Report on Value and Occupancy of Lands, Etc.

Will Buy and Sell

HORSES, CATTLE AND SHEEP

On Commission.

All Business placed in my hands will receive prompt personal attention.

The Hygiene of Bathing.

Among all the appliances for health and comfort to mankind we may safely say there is nothing so well known, so useful and so comforting, and yet so carelessly performed or thoughtlessly neglected, as bathing. The skin of the human body, from head to foot, is a network of pores. One cannot put a finger on a single place without covering several little openings, which several ways to be kept clear of obstructions. As evidence of the truth of this statement we need only call to mind the great drops of sweat so often seen gathering on one's face and other parts of the body in warm weather—especially during the time of severe exertion. These pores lead into minute tubes or channels that meander through the skin.

The dust which comes in contact with animals covered with hair is mostly kept out and the action is conducted away from the pores of the skin by the hair. Bathing is not essential with them as with mankind, whose bodies are practically denuded of such protection. The glutinous mass of perspiration, dust and filth, which in time gathers on the surface of the unwashed or uncleaned body, covers and clogs the pores and often poisons the system. Frequent ablutions and an occasional immersion in water are thus desirable and often indispensable to health and comfort; consequently, every family should have a convenient bath of some kind, not only for general neatness of person, but as a means of preserving health, and in many cases employed under the advice of a good physician.

In the long catalogue of disease to which flesh is heir, scarcely one can be named in the treatment of which a bath is useless. To those blessed with good health, a bath, as a common-sense appliance, gives thrift and growth to healthy functions, a brightness and delightful serenity, a clearness of mind and buoyancy of spirit. It is certainly a blessing to both mind and body. For the mental worker is a nerve tonic. A thorough application of water of proper temperature will calm and give strength and tone to the system. The indoor laborer, who gets but a scanty supply of fresh air, needs a bath to obtain the skin invigorating elements of the open air.

The outdoor laborer—especially the farmer—who works with heroic energy all day long unavoidably gathers on the entire surface of his body a complete prison-wall of dust and viscid perspiration; and when his day's work is done he needs then, more than any other thing, not only a wash, but a good bath to fit him for home society, his clean bed and refreshing sleep.

Every one needs a bath at times, and every human being should contain something for a complete immersion in water, and, since convenient and efficient portable baths at comparatively low figures are now extensively advertised for sale, there is little excuse for most people to be without this priceless benefit.

CURE FOR THIN FACES.—Who has not noticed the remarkable growth of the face in eloquent public speakers who constantly pursue their vocation from year to year? This is particularly noticeable in those of a highly dramatic, impassioned and humorous genius, such as the late Henry Ward Beecher, for instance. It is a perfectly natural result of the habitual and energetic exercise of the facial muscles, and the more completely the whole set are brought into habitual play through every kind and shade of expression the face is capable of, the more marked will be the nutrition and growth of the whole face become.

On the other hand, it is said, the ordinary lack of facial action is the cause of the face becoming emaciated and wrinkled earlier in life than other parts of the body. The downward tendency of wrinkles in the face is ingeniously accounted for by the natural habit of wiping the face downwards. Rub it upwards, they say, and a good deal, if you wish to preserve its fullness. Also, for a substitute to the orator's "chinning," we are advised to have a habit of working the jaws in contact with a piece of sheet rubber or chamois leather between them. —Health and Home.

An English surgeon says that people who use rocking chairs the most get deaf the soonest. Rocking also hurts the eyes and makes people near-sighted.

THE DISCOVERER OF SPECTACLES.—Few inventions have conferred a greater blessing on the human race than that which assists impaired vision. It is impossible to say how many there are at the present day whose lives would be almost valueless were it not for the use of spectacles. Indeed, Dr. Johnson rightly expressed his surprise, that such a benefactor as the discoverer of spectacles should have been regarded with indifference, and found no worthy biographer to celebrate his ingenuity. Unfortunately, however, his name is a matter of much uncertainty; and, hence, a grateful posterity have been prevented bestowing on his memory that honor which it has so richly merited. But it may be noted that popular opinion has long ago pronounced in favor of Spina, a Florentine monk, as the rightful claimant, although some are in favor of Roger Bacon. Monsieur Spoon, in his "Recherches Curieuses d'Antiquite," fixes the date of invention of spectacles between the years 1280 and 1311, and says that Alexander de Spina, having seen a pair made by some other person who was unwilling to communicate the secret of their construction, ordered a pair for himself, and found them so useful that he cheerfully and promptly made the invention public. According to an Italian antiquary, the person to whom Spina was indebted for his information was Salvino, who died in the year 1318, and he quotes from a manuscript in his possession an epitaph which records the circumstance: "Here lies Salvino Armato d'Armati, of Florence, the inventor of spectacles. May God pardon his sins. The year 1318."

As lamps are so high in favor that from five to eight are sometimes seen in a single parlor, lamp shades are palpably a desideratum to housekeepers. One of the prettiest is made of alternate perpendicular stripes of white lace inserting and colored satin ribbon. The shade is gathered on an elastic at the top to fit the small part of the glass globe or shade, and a fringe of lace is set upon the lower edge. Over this fringe fall the ribbon stripes, each one terminating in a sharp point, upon which is sewed a drop button or a tiny gilt ornament, the like of which can be bought by the dozen at any fancy store.

W. S. CUNNINGHAM.
CUNNINGHAM & McGR
GENERAL
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

LAND AGENT

Established by C. D. Foote in 1876—Land Agency in the County.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to all Business Entrusted to Our Care.

Postal Laws.

For the benefit of all persons concerned, and they are many, we give the following United States postal laws relating to newspapers and subscribers.

I. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscription.

II. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publisher may continue sending them until all arrearages are paid up.

III. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the office to which they are directed they are held responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

IV. If subscribers move to other places and fail to inform the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

V. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

VI. If subscribers pay in advance, they are bound to give notice to the publisher at the end of their time, if they do not wish to continue taking it; otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it on and the subscriber is responsible until express notice, with payment of all arrears, is sent direct to the publisher.

Under the new postal law anyone who takes a newspaper out of the post-office and refuses to pay for it is subject to criminal prosecution for fraud and upon conviction may be fined and imprisoned.

WOMEN UNDER ENGLISH LAW: The light value placed upon insults and injuries to woman in the past can scarcely be believed by the freeborn American of to-day, who sees her emerging from her long slavery into almost the liberty of man. It is still harder to believe that the English law still contains severer penalties for stealing two shillings' worth of coal or picking pockets than for kicking a wife to death and similar offenses. Macmillan's Magazine gives the following list of picked statistics from the standing English law:

May 26.—Kicking a wife to death. Six weeks' hard labor.

June.—Picking woman's pocket of 9 shillings, (second offense). Ten years penal servitude.

June 11.—Knocking down a wife and kicking her savagely in the face. Three months' hard labor.

Nov. 23.—Woman ill-treated indecently and killed by three men. One sixteen months' hard labor and two six months'.

Dec.—Stealing coals, value 2 shillings. Eight months' hard labor. Trying to kill wife with razor (second offense.) Twelve months' hard labor. Stealing watch, value 30 shillings (second offense). Five years penal servitude.

Dec. 9.—Stealing a knife and keys. Five years penal servitude.

Dec. 10.—Striking violently in face and indecently assaulting a woman. 40 shillings fine.

Dec. 16.—Knocking down and kicking a woman twice. £4 fine.

Ten Things a Baby Can Do. It can beat any alarm clock ever invented waking a family up in the morning.

Given a fair show and it can smash more dishes than the most industrious servant-girl in the country.

It can fall down oftener and with less provocation than the most expert tumbler in the circus ring.

It can make more genuine fuss over a simple brass pin than its mother would over a broken back.

It can choke itself black in the face with greater ease than the most accomplished wretch that was ever executed.

It can keep a family in constant turmoil from morning till night, and night till morning, without once varying its tune.

It can be relied upon to sleep peacefully all day when its father is down town and cry persistently at night when he is particularly sleepy.

It may be the naughtiest, dirtiest, ugliest, most fretful baby in all the world, but you can never make its mother believe it, and you had better not try it.

It can be a charming and most model infant when no one is around, but when visitors are present it can exhibit more bad temper than both of its parents together.

It can brighten up a hedge Scotter than all the furniture ever made; make sweeter music in the finest orchestra organization than they knew they had.

It can be a bewildered looker-on or glower. "Mother why she do nunt anybody?"

It can be a copyist of the "Sunny Sunday Int."

It can be a copyist of the "Sunny Sunday Int."

SAN ANGELO.

THE WORLD
SAN ANGELO
COUNTY.

the Dallas State and Card, the of Reporters the Demolish-Historical Quills
the Parol-of the
of Editors.

Say Unto You, it Set Upon a Hill, Furnisheth for Correspond-Great Reli-Weeklies."

flowers extracts from the country prove that of, of least, need not aintly tones.

the gifts are us, thence are us,
duce from us,

ies of what g in public in all even book would the task. As Angelo and Tom xhibit at the Dal-concerned, it is pro-
"creme de la creme" ent on the e's of all as at the exposition. It en proven that "truth in fiction," and the and Tom Green again demonstrated are not a few of the s, who, when their optics ought to bear upon it will to roll unrestrained, and over seems to be carried of enland—into the precincts try with which the various Night's tale could to compete. But this den spot of the universe, of the present day and
and the hundreds of to visit here are car-its grandeur.

Time was with the for here lie-ing
ing sweat

Tom Green
all them at the Dallas Exposition. It has been truthfully said that the exhibit is doing more to advertise Tom Green county and all her wonderful resources and advantages than could be done in any other way, even at the expense of thousands of dollars. The display of grain, vegetables, fruits, and infact everything that grows in or upon the face of mother earth stamps this county as one of the best agricultural and stock-raising counties in the State. There is no more profitable and inviting field for capitalists and experienced agriculturists than the fertile valleys of Tom Green county.
As an instance of some of the crops produced on these rich valley farms we will mention a crop of onions on the farm of Mr. Will Lackey of Sherwood, which produced 12,000 pounds to the acre, and some of which measured seventeen inches in circumference, sweet potatoes from 400 to 600 bushels to the acre, and as much as $1200 worth of cabbage was sold off one acre on the Lackey farm.
Alfalfa can be cut five or six times per year, and will produce six to eight tons per acre.

It is impossible for us to do justice to as big a subject as the Tom Green county exhibit in as short an article as this. It is necessarily be, but will simply say to all who read this notice, go and see for yourself and learn something of this great Eldorado of the West. The committee is prepared to give full information to all parties desiring to invest money or to those seeking more congenial homes.

TOM GREEN COUNTY
was again to the front to-day with additions to her exhibit in the way of tomatoes, potatoes, melons, etc. The proud city of San Angelo has sent a number of photographs showing her business residence, streets of the Concho of the city. Tom Green county is doing at this citizens

and extensive stores, such as you observe in our old cities. It is a trading post for the surrounding country. Last year there were brought to this market 1,200,000 pounds of wool from the sheep ranches. There are two national banks and a banking-house, and they can have two per cent a month for all their money, and they pay annual dividends of twelve per cent. There are eight regularly organized churches; two of them are Presbyterian, the North and the South, with settled pastors.

The enterprise of the citizens is seen in the fact that they have an ice-factory and water-works in full operation. They have also a new stone school house, filled already with 200 scholars, and a beautiful court house, costing $60,000, this being the county seat of Tom Green county, which is sixty-six miles wide and 200 miles long.

Texas is truly a "State of magnificent distances." According to the last census it contained 274, 365 square miles—six times as large as Ohio, and thirty times larger than our native state, New Jersey. Most likely in time it may be made into two or three States. Things are on a large scale down here. The traveler gets enlarged ideas as he scuds over the extensive prairies at railroad speed, and halts at cities with 20,000 or 30,000 inhabitants, where only a few years since there were scarcely more than a cluster of huts.

It pays well to see our country.
Many go abroad to visit other lands of less interest, who do not know what wonders are to be seen in their own land. "Know thyself," is an old adage, and it applies with much appositeness to our country. We view with amazement the multiplication of extensive railroads crossing and re-crossing each other in these Western States, as seen on the railroad maps, somewhat straighter
it is true than they are in reality.
The Missouri and Pacific Railroad, one of the most comfortable and best-equipped roads in the West, has this season given two or three excursions from St. Louis west.
They have been well patronized, affording opportunity for many to visit kindred who have gone from Eastern homes, and to see our country, who would perhaps otherwise never have made such a trip. So these excursions pay both ways—the road which gives,
and the thousands who embrace the privileges offered. S. S. P.

TOM GREEN COUNTY'S DISPLAY.
Dallas News.

The citizens of Tom Green county, Texas, with commendable zeal and enterprise, have made a handsome and instructive exhibit of the products of their county, which can be seen on the lower floor of the main exposition building. The exhibit is under the management of Messrs. Frank F. Lerch, Chas.
A. Dingley, Charles Potter and A.
McGregor, who compose the committee selected by the citizens of Tom Green county.

Tom Green county has made that race in a pair of minutes, now I declare we did!

She—Yes, and I am just a pursuing great big drops of sweat.
T. G. U. went to Terrell to see his Dulce Sunday and comes back Monday to find her fair signature region. A while he is away and the "worsted luck and most-of it" right under a FELLOW's name at that.

Woe is me!!!
Says poor U. G. T.
There seems to be a perfect death of interesting mention of the Fair in the "Dallas News." It is doubtless after the almighty dollar in its own way.

The Dallas News men dream for "write ups" at two bits a line.

The D. N. runs a programme of the races in each day's issue—it is doubtless well paid for.

Which is the most legitimate and interesting public news, the account of a lynching in Tennessee and other items of a like breed, or mention of happenings at the fair, notice of creditable displays, new machinery, fine stock, etc.!

The Texas "Stockman and Farmer" when offered pay for mention of special exhibits which were of interest to the public, prefers to fill its columns with such matters of interest without cost to those who supply the items, and is willing to do that much for the encouragement of interest in matters, by which it exists.

The Fort Worth Gazette while it may not be a "great metropolitan daily," circulates in Tom Green, and other Texas counties. By its columns you will see it expects its readers will be interested in the Fair and Exposition, even when held in its rival city, and disdains the petty greed for gain, which declares that nothing is news, but murders, and critical politics, of a variable shade, and that only news and well paid advertisements shall be published.

There is a Berkshire Poland China hog at the fair which weighs over nine hundred pounds—if the D. N. were a hog, it would sink a who contributed out of their private purses to pay the expenses of this exhibit will in time reap a rich reward.—Fort Worth Gazette.

The magnificent exhibit of Tom Green county in Exposition Hall attracted a crowd of visitors throughout the day. People are surprised to learn what a rich agricultural country surrounds San Angelo, the great wool emporium and the coming great city southwest of Fort Worth. One of the signs of the Tom Green exhibit reads, "We Want Farmers," and that is the key-note that is sounded to bring prosperity to all Southwest Texas. The finest wheat and the finest barley on exhibition at the Fair comes from Tom Green county.—Fort Worth Gazette.

EXPOSITION ITEMS.
[From the Special State Fair Correspondent of the SAN ANGELO EXTERMINATOR.]
DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 31, '87.
The Tom Green county exhibit leads every thing in the agricultural line, on the ground, in detail, arrangement, and extent. At least the hundreds, who see and judge, say so.

The agricultural hall is poorly arranged and poorly patronized.
They say the Farmer's Alliance killed it.

The tax to our delegation in the main building for space, fixtures, etc., was nearly two hundred dollars.

Any of our citizens would be proud and surprised to see all our produce together. No individual advertising has been done by the delegates, but the cry has been of the town, and county at large; this is correct.

Crowds view with wonder our display and don't understand that we are beyond the drought and the need of charity.

San Angelo can plume herself on not being an unpatented railroad town—they are the dearest places in the State and grass grows in their streets.

The photos of our solid and tasty houses by Ragsdale attract favorable notice and comment.

The Central R. R. charges 12 cents per hundred pounds to haul produce 11 miles!

Our freighters haul wool 40 miles for 15 cents per hundred, and owe no man.

Exceptional good order is maintained in the city of Dallas and Exposition grounds, although the visiting thieves are numerous and hearty.

Dallas deserves her success, it always follows liberality and energy well applied.

Two prominent citizens of Dallas applied to a stowaway in the Colorado City, the other morning, 2 a. m., to "please, help them across this river!" The gutter stream was about a foot wide, and the curb six inches; he helped them.

Scene on the T. P. train coming in from fair—a pair of Acadian youths. He and She, not Haggard's, rash panting in, and plump loudly down in a seat.

She—O, you run so hard!
He—We made that race in a Mississippi barge.

Query: Does the board of trade pay for publishing the market reports?
The cow-boy display was a most tiresome fizzle.

Kearney Mays, Joe Ellis, or any one of twenty of our average cowboys could have roped and tied three while these boys tied one steer, and have done it in some style, without galloping around with the little old two year olds, until their tongues stuck out, and the worst of it was, the crowd had been expecting something.

The grand stand was full when the cattle roping began, but half empty before it was finished.

The cattle here are too little and gentle to display any roping skill at all.

In the sweepstakes for best bull of any breed a two year old Hereford was very justly awarded the prize. He is the most perfect beef animal one could imagine. He is Texas raised and competed with Kentucky and Kansas stock.

The display of Jerseys, Durhams, Polled Angus, Holsteins and Herefords, was extensive and creditable.

The swine department made a good show. Sheep were neglected.

There are quite a number of old patched, bootied, and plastered, trotting horses here, on which any fool can manage to lose his silver, if he will confide it to the pool sellers, who are numerous and windy.

A very magnificent display of poultry, among them a number of Langshans, a very beautiful black breed of large chickens is attractive.

I saw a good many good jacks but none I like better than ours.

The Horticultural display is very meagre and disappointing when one thinks of the opportunity to get a fine one in the State.

Denison is represented in the main building, by a large arch or gate, some handsome counters, which look like a drug store, a nice little toy locomotive of flowers, tin foil, etc., and some neat printed signs. Nobody stops to look.
Lerch says Denison is the gateway to the garden spot of Texas; the Tom Green exhibit is just by.

M. B. C.
Callahan county has a nice display in Horticultural hall, and a blue tag was fastened to it to-day.
El Paso county has taken several blue ribbons, but Tom Green county's exhibit is covered up with blue tags. It is certainly the handsomest and most complete county display, in the hall of the products of a county. It will be taken to the Tom Green Green county advertising—
the North Gazette.

"Horns in History" is the heading of an article going the rounds of the press. We did not stop to read it, as History is generally a thing of the past, and horns which are things of the past can be of no benefit to us. Horns, horns in the living present, horns within, and horns overhead!

Assistant Secretary Mulcrow (of

SANGER BROS.,

DALLAS, TEXAS.

The Most Important, Most Perfect, Most Magnificent, and Largest Dry Goods House in the South.

Our immense new stock for Fall and Winter is complete in Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Trunks, Hats, Notions, Millinery, Carpets, Cloaks and Suits.

Samples Sent Anywhere on Request.

Correspondence Invited.

Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition Opens Oct. 20th and Closes Nov. 5th.
REDUCED FARE ON ALL RAILROADS.

We cordially invite all visitors, not only to inspect our exhibit on the grounds, but to come and see our

VAST EMPORIUM.

Write us, or leave your address at our exhibit and Our New Catalogue
will be mailed you free.

Our Mail Order Department is second to none in the country, and by this means you can do your trading with

Perfect Ease and Satisfaction
At SANGER BROS.,
DALLAS, - - - - TEXAS.

[JOHN YOSS.] [ANTHONY WOODIE.]

VOSS & WOODIE,

PROPRIETORS OF THE

Bon Ton Butcher Shop.

Chadbourne St., next Lasker Block.

—We handle none but Pure, Fresh and Sound Meats.

SAN ANGELO CHOP HOUSE,

Opposite ENTERPRISE Office, Concho Ave.

ED. EVANS, Proprietor.

—EVERYTHING IN SEASON.—

Fresh Oysters Served in any Style.

CHADBOURNE STREET

Feed and Wagon Yard,

ALVIN CAMPBELL, PROPRIETOR.

Central Location and Superior Accommodations.

Opposite the Brick Hotel.

H. HAGELSTEIN,

Blacksmith and Wheelwright.

Chadbourne Street, Opposite Hotel San Angelo.

All Work Guaranteed.

CAMERON, CASTLES & STOREY,

Wholesale Grocers,

WACO, TEXAS.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO OPEN ORDERS.

Hotel San Angelo,

SUPERIOR ACCOMMODATIONS
For Commercial Travelers.

Largest Interior Brick Hotel in the State.
Rates $2 and $2.50 per day.—Post and Stage Office in Building.
C. H. FREEMAN, Proprietor.

Concho House,

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

THE FAVORITE HOUSE OF THE CITY.
Lowest Rates and Superior Cuisine.
Rates reduced to $1.50 per day. Weekly and monthly rates in proportion.
F. G. ALLEN, PROPRIETOR.

NIMITZ HOTEL,

The First Class Hotel of San Angelo.
CORNER OF CONCHO AVENUE AND CHADBOURNE STREET.
First-Class Table and Lowest Prices.
11-12. E. A. NIMITZ.

DAVIS, PARKS & CO.,

RECEIVING,
Forwarding & Commission Agents,
BALLINGER, TEXAS.

Meal! Meal!! Meal!!!
When it comes to such necessaries of life as this, for the making of the "stuff of life," the very best article must be had. This can be obtained, at competition prices, by sending your orders to J. A. Caldwell & Co., Ballinger, Texas.

Hay, Corn, Cane and Bran.
The immense business we do in these staple goods, enables us to buy in such quantities as guarantee us a low purchasing market, and we make our selling figures accordingly. J. A. Caldwell & Co., Ballinger, Texas.

SALOON!

W. H. Walters,
Successor to A. E. Duvette & Co.
The Best of Wines, Liquors & Cigars.
Concho Avenue,
SAN ANGELO, - - TEXAS.

P. K. FREEZE,

Blacksmith and Wheelwright,
Has rebuilt since the fire and is Ready for Business! again at the Old Stand.

Veck, Sterrett & Co.,

BANKERS,
SAN ANGELO, - - - - TEXAS.

CAPITAL STOCK, $150,000
SURPLUS FUND, $50,000

Transact a General Banking Business. Collections made and promptly remitted. Exchange drawn on all principal cities of Europe.

W. S. VECK, S. E. STERRETT, GEO. B. SHERWOOD, Directors.
F. B. GRAY, Cashier.

THE CONCHO NATIONAL BANK

OF SAN ANGELO.

CAPITAL, $50,000
SURPLUS FUND, $10,000

L. B. HARRIS, PRESIDENT. E. CARTLEDGE, VICE-PRESIDENT.
E. B. TALBERT, CASHIER.

A General Banking Business Transacted.
COLLECTIONS MADE WITHOUT CHARGE AND PROMPTLY REMITTED AT CURRENT RATE OF EXCHANGE.
Days and Sells Exchange on all Principal Cities of the United States and Europe.

San Angelo National Bank

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL - $300,000.

M. R. PULLIAM, PRESIDENT.
J. C. RAAS, VICE-PRESIDENT.
WILLIAM E. ELLIS, CASHIER.

Transact a General Banking Business.
Exchange on all the Principal Cities in the United States and Europe BOUGHT AND SOLD.

MRS. S. A. FREED. MRS. M. E. McFARLAND.

FREED'S

DRESSMAKING AND MILLINERY EMPORIUM.
Chadbourne Street, two doors North of P. J. O'Connor's store,
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

The best Stock, the latest Novelties, Styles and Fashions in this line always carried on hand.

Dress and Cloak Making a Specialty.

J. R. BURT. D. P. GAY.

BURT & GAY,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
BALLINGER, TEXAS.

Special Attention given to Receiving and Forwarding.

J. R. BOWLES,

— DEALER IN —
PIECE & STAMPED TINWARE,
Roofing and Cuttering Executed to Order.
Well Tinning, Flues and Corrugated Iron Roofing a Specialty.—654
Ragsdale Block, Chadbourne Street,
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

AT THE CITY BEER HALL
On Oakes Street,
You Can Get the Best Keg Beer in the City.
CHAS. W. ZENKER & CO. (Successors to Wm. Kaiser.

F. C. LUNGKOWITZ. ALFRED VANDER STUCKEN.
F. C. LUNGKOWITZ & CO.,
Have on hand the largest assortment of Stoves - and - General - Hardware, Ever brought to San Angelo.

C. Q. HALBERT,

— DEALER IN —
Fresh Meats
OF ALL KIND.
Chadbourne Street, near Concho Ave., San Angelo, Texas.
Only Fresh, Pure and Sound Meats Sold.

Samuel Price,

Merchant Tailor, Oakes Street.

VROMAN & NASON,

— DEALERS IN —
General Merchandise,
Have opened their store on the corner of Concho Avenue and Chadbourne street, in the new Lasker Block, where they will be pleased to meet their customers.
Dry Goods Groceries, Hardware, Drugs, Medicines, Etc.

Work
IN BOTH
SADDLES and HARNESS
Give Us a Call.
Lasker Block,

Work
IN BOTH
SADDLES and HARNESS
Give Us a Call.
San Angelo, Texas.

Do You Want a Home
IN THE RICH, BEAUTIFUL, HEALTHY
CONCHO COUNTRY
NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY,
—AND—
BOB HILLIS
IS THE MAN TO BUY FROM.

He has large bodies of splendid lands, small tracts of rich land, leagues of land, etc. City of San Angelo, Texas.

Marion Robertson
LAND AND Insurance Agency.

The Best Bargains on Lipan Flats:
640 acres of land all under three wire fence, with good cedar posts, good well affording abundance of water; title clear; every acre rich prairie land, well drained and well located being in sight of and within six miles of San Angelo the best city in West Texas. Will sell at $6.50 per acre, one-half cash, balance on long time, 10 per cent. interest. Land around this section is selling at $6.50 and $7.00 per acre unimproved.

Call on or address
Marion Robertson
Land and Insurance Agent
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
W. S. LUNNINGHAM,
(Successor to CUMMINGS & McGRADY.)

General Land Agent,
San Angelo, Texas.

CHAS. WEBER,
TONSORIAL PARLOR.
HOT AND COLD BATHS.
Concho Avenue. San Angelo, Texas.

F. C. LUNGKWITZ,
—THE—
TINNER.
All work expeditiously done. Everything in the Tin line kept in stock. Bargains will be given. Call on me and try me. Chadbourne street, San Angelo, Texas.

He Was Spared.
Then they killed the Injun chief, Siting Bull the tough old Injun, shot him when he tried to mizzle, shot him with their deadly muskets, filled him full with leaden bullets, emptied their revolvers at him, plugged him with their trusty carbines, and old Siting Bull the Injun, Heap big Injun, quit his fighting. Quit his trying to skedaddle, quit his lying and his cheating, and his straining and his whisky, laid aside his evil habits, and took straightway his departure, for the Kingdom of Pomebah, for the land of the hereafter. Mourn not for the tough old Injun, shed no bitter drop of anguish, O'er the grave of this old Injun. He has missed one piercing sorrow, one soul-biting affliction, one heart-breaking, frightful horror, He will never see the pictures, Printed in the papers, of the Chicago Tribune.

There's Millions in It.
The zeal with which pension agents are working in behalf of pension legislation using all their efforts and resources to stir up veterans and Grand Army men, is explained by the enormous amount of money which they make by pushing claims at the Pension Bureau, where meritorious claims ought to need no pushing. Since 1862, $27,000,000 of the money appropriated by the Government for pensions to soldiers has been pocketed by the attorneys. Of late they have been making about two and a half millions a year. Under the Disability act of the last session a fee of $10 is allowed for each application, and the expectation is that at least $50,000 claims will be presented. Here is about $8,500,000 in prospect for the "sharks" from that source alone. No wonder that they maintain an organ and sent out circulars to work up sentiment in favor of pension legislation. It is a regular gold mine for them. The wonder is that Congress should give them such opportunities for getting rich out of the pensioners of the Government.—Times.

Items of Interest.
The Grass Valley, Cal., Telegraph says the output of gold from that section since 1851 has been $100,000,000.
Reading cars, fitted out with the most popular periodicals and books, will be attached to the passenger trains of the St. Petersburg and Warsaw Railroad.

A tusk weighing over seven pounds, having been won at Monson, Iowa.
Some hunters near Potts, Mich., shot a white deer the other day. It is said to be the only white deer ever heard of in that section and was about one and one-half years old.

A San Diego County horticulturist is going to graft the many live oaks on his place with chestnuts, which he has learned will succeed well on oak trees.
The shipments of California fruit to Europe is said to be increasing at a great rate. There is ready sale for it, especially, so reports states, in London, Paris and Berlin.

Of the 12,000 miles which form the land girdle of China, 6,000 touch Russian territory, 4,800 British territory, and only 400 French, while 800 may be described as doubtful.
Count von Moltke is an enthusiastic musician, and plays the violoncello exceedingly well. Though he has passed his ninety-fifth year, he has not lost his taste for music nor his former skill.

FORGOT HER LEFT ARM.
The Result of an Oversight in a Hypnotic Experiment.
Court Councillor Meynert, Professor of Medicine at the University in Vienna, was prevented recently from delivering one of his regular afternoon lectures, and as the students were already assembled, his assistant, Dr. Anton, undertook to hypnotize a young woman for the instruction of the disappointed audience. The young woman was tall, slender, light-haired, and somewhat over 20 years of age. At Anton let his hand glide over her forehead smoothed her eyelids with his fingers, touched her cheeks with soft downward strokes, and then commanded loudly: "Now sleep." She slept.

"Your arms are completely crippled," he said, and both arms were paralyzed. When will you now do, poor creature, without any arms? he asked. The girl raised her bowed head and began to weep and wail so pitifully that the students rose in their places and shouted that she must be restored at once to consciousness. Dr. Anton seized the young woman's right arm, rubbed it smartly, and suggested: "You are all right now. Your arm is well again." In the same instant the girl raised her arm, with a triumphant expression of face. Dr. Anton then aroused her. To his and his auditors' astonishment, however, the girl's left arm still hung limp, and apparently nerveless, at her side. He had forgotten, in speaking colloquially, tell her that her left arm, too, had recovered its strength. He touched the helpless arm and exhorted the young woman to raise it, but in vain. She couldn't stir an inch. Dr. Anton then explained that the students had before them a case of "post hypnotic crippling," which could be removed only after the girl had been again hypnotized. He was unwilling to exhaust the girl by bringing her immediately under his influence once more, so he deferred the performance of the cure for several days. He said that the girl was so subject to hysterical attacks that the regular treatment of the kind would make her worse.

say a Waco man. A San Antonio doctor will likely succeed Dr. Dorsett at the insane asylum here, a Dallas doctor Dr. Wallace at the insane asylum at Terrell, a western lawyer will be Secretary of State; a Longview man will be Private Secretary; new directors for the A. & M. College will probably be appointed, and the Hon. L. L. Foster, present head of the insurance, statistics and history department, with a Fort Worth man and a Houston man will be most likely ones for appointment as the commissioners to be provided for by the railway commission bill when passed. Furthermore, as yet, our deponent saith not as to predictions.
Certain it is the contemplated changes in and infusion of new blood and vim into the official service, are in some instances not to be regretted, and while good men may lose places, yet there will not be one such, who has dwelt long enough in Austin to have his merits known, but will find a place for his talents to be employed. Two years ago this was not the case, for then, on account of the loss of the vast sums which she had lately before sustained, the payments for work upon the Capitol ceased, everything was stagnant and honest effort could not be made. But now since a greater than the Capitol has come to stay in its effects—Austin's $1,500,000 dam across the Colorado, with its 15,000 horse power, the rapid construction—a different phase has been put upon things, and, with the general rush in every line of business, we are literally a human beehive. Never in the history of a city of her size has greater energy been developed, more enterprises gone into, safer or more profitable investments of capital been afforded and trade in everything been so life. New additions to the city are being built up, an amended charter extending the corporate limits of the city is being asked for of the ensuing legislature, electric railways in every direction are under rapid construction, and in one and one half years, by the time the waters from the completed dam can fall upon their wheels, the two hundred factories of various kinds, for which there will be ample power supplied, will be using up all our neighboring products from forest, mine, farm and fold. An evidence that we are prosperous is that, while failures in every line of business in almost every other place are heralded forth daily in every public print both in and out of Texas, not one has recently happened at Austin. In fact, we hear it on all sides that more goods are needed than our local wholesalers in some lines can supply, and there is room for more houses in their classes of trade. In fact, as a health, an educational, professional, a business and a manufacturing center, the new Austin of today has held out to the people a steady prospect of prosperity from the influx of people in all callings of life, it is shown that the facts are known abroad and acted upon. To show that our public spirited people do not wish to "hold the earth for themselves alone," a few of the most prominent, at a mass meeting recently held, were constituted into "The Austin, Texas, Bureau of Information," to let our prosperity and inducements to settle and dwell with us be known, and all letters addressed to them will receive prompt attention and printed information be forwarded. This, we believe, will such "a plain, unvarnished tale unfold" of what an honest worker can do with himself, that at least he will be permitted to furnish investigation as to what will prove that Austin has no State, but her prosperity is founded upon a rock against which pistol can prevail.

The county during the holidays, when work is at the rate of full reports and also what ears, says it was in the legislature when vent he ever.

Small-pox modern improvement is to Temple and in the abbreviations in p. m. as, for example, 11:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on the 8.

secret that makes the heirs of Jimson the owners of many million dollars' worth of property. The letter in question was written in 1836 by one of the heroes of the Texas struggle. He was a Capt. Jimson in the service of General Sam Houston, when Texas was a republic. In this epistle, which was written to a relative in Chicago, he says that he will not be able to return to the loved ones at his home, but that he expects to meet the very fate that did befall him when some time after he fell on the field, his heart pierced by a shot from the foe.

The man who died recently was his decedent in a direct line, and of his identity there is not a doubt. The soldier who was his ancestor had property in three different states. These holdings were of comparatively trifling value, and Capt. Jimson was considered a poor man when he died. Some of this land was located in the very heart of Chicago.

A power of attorney has been received by the lawyer who made the discovery, and has been filed with the clerk of the county court as a preliminary step toward the recovery of some valuable property in that city. Since the death of Capt. Jimson his heirs have been unable to locate the land, but now since the day the portion of the estate is estimated to be worth $1,000,000.

Wanted, A S. J. T. Rinear of San Antonio is holding sheep in West Texas and sheep in West Texas quite hopeful for the future. The Southwest. So far this winter has been unusually mild and sheep are in tip top condition. Mr. Rinear was met by a reporter in the Ellis hotel just as he had finished reading the Gazette. "I am very glad to meet you," he said, "for I have something to tell you. I have just read the account telegraphed from San Angelo regarding the Baudera county sheepman who lost $400 worth of sheep in one night by wolves."

Mr. Rinear then re-read the special dispatch from San Antonio published yesterday morning so the reporter could get the full benefit of it. "I know from experience," he resumed, "that the story told by this man is in all likelihood the absolute truth. No one but those actually engaged in the sheep business realize the devastations which wild animals make upon the herds of Texas. The loss in this manner would annually reach a sum of stupendous proportions. Not alone are the flockmasters suffering from these pests. Wolves and other wild beasts feed upon calves and young colts quite as readily as they will on sheep. There is scarcely a stock-raiser in the Southwest who considers it a profitable business to raise a yearling out of pocket. "Is there is no remedy for the evil?"

"I believe the only certain way of exterminating these animals is for the legislature to pass a liberal scalp law and make it of sufficient interest to hunters to engage the business as a means of livelihood. I have tried poison and every conceivable shape, and while I have laid out a great many wolves I have not had the success I first anticipated." The complaint made by Mr. Rinear is heard from every flockmaster in the state, and it is probable sufficient pressure will be brought to bore on the forthcoming legislature to get the laws remedied regarding the bounty paid for scalps.
Of the 4,200 species of flowers now cultivated in Europe, it is said that only 10 per cent give forth any odor.
A service of carrier pigeons is to be established between Zanzibar and Lake Nyassa, in Africa. The stations will be thirty miles apart.
The atmosphere of London is said to be becoming more and more harmful to plant life, attributable in a large measure to the thick fogs.
The atmosphere of London is said to be becoming more and more harmful to plant life, attributable in a large measure to the thick fogs.

Liberal Advances
Spring Wools
AT 8 PER CENT.
Iron-Clad Warehouse. Low Insurance. No Drayage Charges. Correspondence Solicited.
Office at San Angelo National Bank. Warehouse on Right of Way East of Depot.

LEGAL TENDER SALOON.
The Fastest in the State.
HEADQUARTERS FOR SPORTS
TENDER RESTAURANT
You will be supplied with

The Best the Market Affords!
Served in any style.
Open Day and Night.
MEALS 25 CENTS.
JONES BROS.,
PROPRIETORS OF
The Diamond Saloon!
DEALERS IN
FINE LIQUORS AND CIGARS
CHADBOURNE STREET. SAN ANGELO.

Stock Exchange Saloon
TOM GRIMES, Prop.
Tom will be glad to meet the boys
At all times.

For Holiday Presents
IN QUEENSWAY
China and Glassware
GO TO
W. H. BOLG.
CHADBOURNE STREET
Opposite the Hotel San Angelo.

E. P. SCOTT

Buys, Sells or Trades
Horses and Mules
At the HILLIS WAGON YARD

Good Oak Wood
Delivered to Any Part of the City.

at-et fit in the sim, heity ting. All ladies who at a dress or wish to out any garments, we ach this system of cut-and guarantee a perfect fit at time you cut with it, without hanging a seam. Please come and see us, if not convenient to come, let us know and we will come and see you.
Mrs. R. DONGES.
West Beauregard avenue, next door to Mrs. Ellis' residence, San Angelo, Texas.

85 Reward.
The above reward will be paid to any person returning the stock described below to John Huffman. They were lost from the Post on the night of the 15th.
One roan mare branded AP on the left shoulder and 141 on the neck.
One brown mare in same brand.
One light bay mare same brand, right hip knocked down.
One yearling ware mule branded
AF on left thigh.
One colt same brand on left thigh.

"ELECTED"
The Hardman Piano is by a straight Democratic majority of ninety thousand over all competitors. The one purchased by J. L. Malone recently not only confirms the former but surpasses it.

MY MOTTO.
Honest goods at honest prices.
Pianos, Organs and Musical Supplies. F. G. ALLEN.
Those who know Good Whisky
when they taste it should try "OLD TAYLOR" at the Corner Saloon. It has a pedigree as long as your arm.

The Corner Saloon has old TAYLOR whisky
the best on earth.
Oysters and fish three times a week at M. Artale's, Chadbourne street.

Penrose N. Ions,
Fire and Life Insurance.
Hard Twisted Rope
at GWIN, ALLEN & BROWN'S.
Don't fail to see the hammock carts at J. L. Carlisle's, the latest and best.
Fresh light and rye bread, rolls and pies at Gus Dressler's Bakery.

JOHN O'K. WHITE.
H. W. Feller pays special attention to setting up stoves. If Penrose N. Ions, & Life Insurance.
Joints Stove Pipe
ALLEN & BROWN'S.

Any of the laundry.
If you have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that it has done for you what Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or sore Throat, Lung, or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial.
It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Pioneer Drug Store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever
Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblain, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by the Pioneer drug store.

GO TO TEOFFILO'S FOR MEXICAN CHILI.
GOOD LUNCH OR A Square Meal.

orchestra.
joined in by not less than forty couples, and fully 200 spectators viewed the gorgeous spectacle.
The orchestra was composed of Prof.
Davidson, Sharp, F. G. Allen, H. C. Ellis, Frank Williams and Geo. Abbott, and there could be no better evidence of its superiority than that of perfect harmony and time among the dancers in every part of the building.
To Wm. Susan fell the onerous duties of floor director, which position he filled to the satisfaction and admiration of everyone.
The costumes ranged from the exceedingly handsome to the mirth-provoking and ridiculous, some showing much taste in their preparation. Fifty of the best suits in Galveston were supplied for the gentlemen by President George Bond. Among the ladies were many which were made with much labor and expense, and as whole, more elaborate costumes are seldom seen, even in the larger cities.

Refreshments of soda, lemonade, cakes and coffee were served during the entire evening.
Near midnight the dancers ceased the "light fantastic," and masks were removed.
This was the occasion of much hilarity, and many surprises. After a brief rest the young people (for everyone was young, for that night at least) were off again in the "mazy whirl," not to cease the festivities till three or four o'clock in the morning of the New Year.

The Turn Verein cleared $90 net, in spite of the heavy expense they were under, which will be devoted toward improving the Turn Plaza.
It is hoped that the management, who worked so hard to make the ball a success, will recover from their exertions in sufficient season to purchase another one for the night of Jan. 1st. Any are omitted, it is an oversight.

When you want a full assortment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

Go to John Freeland's Novelty store when you want fruit or vegetables of any kind.
The Nickleby is the best cigar in the city, sold at the Star Saloon opposite the post office.
Kentucky whisky, the finest in the land always in stock at Charlie Zeukers.
Good wood, green or dry delivered to any part of the city.
Order of M. B. Morris.
When you get ready to have your stove set up, leave your order at H. W. Feller's.
Latest publications of sheet music and books received monthly at F. G. ALLEN'S.
Tin roofing and guttering at honest prices. H. W. FELLER, Chadbourne Street.

F. H. Shaper will close out the stock in his second hand store selling everything way below cost.
Good line of hand made tinware
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne Street San Angelo,
Texas.
For all kinds of old whisky, fine wines and brandies. Call around and sample those at the Star Saloon.
The Belle of Creole Cigar, the best in the world, is sold at the Star Saloon, Concho Ave.,
opposite the post office.

A good smoke can always be enjoyed by a smoker, and John Freeland sells the smokers articles that tie them all.
If you want to enjoy a pleasant evening, go to Charlie Zeuker's.
First quality cigars and comfortable chairs.
When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

When you want a full assort-
ment of fruits, go and buy
for the holidays. Children. 2t
If you want to go to Shaper's
second hand buy your own figures,
and buy at, as usually be sold.
Stock mustered iron ventilation flues
Galvanized, rain proofs and caps
at H. W. FELLER,
Chadbourne St., San Angelo.

Just over! One day ago today, yet it seems but a fortnight since we formed resolutions for the better. We framed for the year 1890 a picture of industry, morality, happiness, contentment and economy. But, alas! how few of us have fulfilled our expectations.
Some of the most promising have stooped to the lowest depths of degradation. Some of the most industrious have yielded in the dust of laziness and disrespect.
Some of the most virtuous have allowed themselves to drift in the channels of vice until their former associates point at them the finger of scorn. Some whose homes were emblems of business have changed their demeanor until what should be as a given to the family seemeth as discarded shoele. Some who wore the bright smile of contentment whose very lives seemed a ray of sunshine have wandered in the paths for greed and sin, until the sawdust of discontent brands them as unfit for the companionship of their fellow man. And last, but not least, some who resolved firmly to practice economy in every detail have strayed into the forests of high prices and paid 50 cents for a lamp that they could have bought for 25 cents; 25 cents for a bottle of kerosene oil that they could have bought for 15 cents; $1.00 for a pair of hotel gloves that they could have bought for 50 cents; $1.00 for a musical instrument that they could have bought for 85.00, 86.00 for a lamp that could be bought for 40 cents. And two prices on hundreds of household necessities on which they could have saved 50 to 100 per cent by buying at Hull Wunder's. Where he guarantees good goods, low prices and a prosperous year for all.
C. HULL,
Store Opposite Taylor.

Two Paper for Price of One.
The original and enterprising debutante of the Louisiana Republic is sent to the papers of six pages every week to the subscribers of its first edition, in place of one of the paper, is an earnest of the treatment promised from the time in other ways. A man of issuing twice a week approved very satisfactory to the Republic's readers, who find that they get the news earlier than is possible by any other week paper, while paying only 50 cents. This feature, taken in connection with the special Texas edit, which gives Texas readers that deal more State news than can be found in any other paper, bringing the Republic a veritable increase of subscribers. It is the time to subscribe. Remember the price is only 50c a year, and anyone sending subscriptions of four new subscribers, will receive one additional copy free.
Sample copies of a Premium Catalogue of 48 pages will be sent free on application. Address all orders to The Republic, P. O. Box
100, San Angelo, Texas.

Through the Every evening at 8:30 p. m. via the M. & N. R. through Pullman Buffet Sleepers, they leave Temple and arrive at Chicago 9:15 a. m. 2nd night.
Connection made at Chicago with fast and reliable trains of Eastern lines to New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Indianapolis, St. Louis, St. Paul, Chicago, St. Paul, and
T. Ry. to Hannibal and Burlington Route (C. B. & N. R.) to Chicago, breakfast served in Dining Cars. To avoid changing cars or delays, see the your ticket reads via the M. & N. R. Ry. if

The Jackson wagon and wagon yard has the best accommodation for ranchmen in 1891. Everything comfortable and handy.
Good feed, good stables and careful attention.
E. W. FINN, Prop.

TO THE LADIES.
Mrs. Swanwick wishes to inform the ladies that she will have the finest stock of Millinery and Trimmed Hats that ever were brought to the city, will open October 14th, to which she invites the ladies to call and inspect. Chadbourne street.

Have your Wood shored and sawed at the San Angelo Steam Lau-dry.

From the Devil's River.
Mrs. Wm. Drennan and family arrived Wednesday from San Angelo, and will make their home here.
Dr. J. B. Taylor, of Gray, who is interesting himself in the development of the Devil's River and the obtaining of a sculp law, was in Sonora Tuesday. His Polled Angus cattle are doing finely.
R. W. Marchion who ranches 14 miles north of Sonora will put in a 20 section pasture. He was in town Wednesday.
G. D. Carl traded 50 head of cattle to Dove Dunning for 1000 head of goats.
L. A. Lot, of San Angelo, was in Sonora Friday, well pleased with our future and will probably invest.
M. L. Mertz, of the popular firm of Bird & Mertz, San Angelo, was in Sonora Friday. Mort has quit trying to count the houses in Sonora. They are two many for him.

Advertised Letter List.
SAN ANGELO, JANUARY 1, 1891.
LADIES.
Baker, May, Miss. Hove, Dora, Miss.
Houghton, Des. Miss. Johnson, K. L. Miss.
Reed, Lillian, Miss. M. J. Mrs.
Williams, Maud, Mrs.
GENTLEMEN.
Greer, Jerry. Hoyer, Julius.
Humphrey, R. Hovey, James M.
Lloyd, Wm. Les, S. H.
Leverette, Mr. Magnor, B. F.
MEXICANS.
Ayala, Macedonio. Carasco, Encarnacion.
Hernandez, Divo. Previno, Francisco.
Estenolado.
One cent additional postage will be collected on all advertised letters.
In calling for above please say "advertised," giving date.
S. L. S. SMITH, P. M.

Take this means of thanking all my friends and all those who by word and deed have shown their sympathy and kindness which has been so universally extended to me.
FANNIE KELLER.
E. T. Austin has returned to Galveston.
Mrs. S. E. Sterrett is visiting relatives in San Antonio.
A new $500 boiler has been put in the town laundry.
Forn. On the road north-east of town, a bunch of five hogs, which the owner can have calling at this office, and paying for this notice.
O. P. Hale was in from his Crockett gunnery ranch last week. He has just put up an eighteen foot windmill, and will soon drive out a bunch of sheep.
F. M. Smith & Co. is the style of the new firm who have opened a first class tin shop in the John O. K. White block. They have some of the best machinery for doing tin work ever brought into San Angelo.
Miss Annie Russell was the name of the young lady who died Tuesday, the 30th ult., instead of Irving, as stated in the EXTER-IOR of the 1st. Peritonitis was the cause.
Mr. Russell's family and brother are somewhat better.
The following were the winners at the Sonora race New Year's Day, first, pure $50, 600 yard dash, Sam Pullen's black.
Second race, 444 yards, purse $40, Wm.
Bevans' Judge Wyatt's. Third race, 200 yards, purse $50, George Pearl's grey.

President A. S. Reed, has called a meeting of the P. C. U. to be held in Ballinger on 16th inst. An urgent invitation is extended for all members to be present as matters of importance will come before the board, including the annual election of officers.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood, Texas.
Will practice in Tom Green and other counties in the 5th Judicial District and in the 5th and 6th Judicial and Federal courts of the State.
T. C. WYNN,
Attorney at Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
PHYSICIANS.
S. L. S. SMITH, M.D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
San Angelo, Texas.
All calls promptly answered. Office at the Pioneer Drug Store.
Dr. Jno. Abe March,
Physician and Surgeon,
Office - W. T. Bishop Drug Store.
Residence - Dr. Gaddis' place.
DR. E. W. BRYAN,
Resident Dentist.
Office in Hill & Cochran Building, Chad-
bourne Street.

WIND MILLS,
Lowest Prices,
and Best Terms
West of Dallas.
Pumping outfits put in on
Short Notice and all
Work Guaranteed.

Farm Implements
OF ALL KINDS.
WAGONS, BUGGIES
AND TRUCKS.
LAWYERS.
D. D. WAMACE,
Attorney-At-Law,
San Angelo, Texas.
Office at W. S. Cunningham's Land
office Chadbourne Street.
C. E. DUBOIS. F. G. ALLEN
Dubois & Allen,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Will practice in all the Courts of the State
Money to Loan, Vendors Lien Notes
Bought.
SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.
SCOTT & JENKINS,
Attorneys at Law,
Brownwood

Texas and Pacific Railway
The Great Popular Route Between the East and the West
Short Line to New Orleans and all points in LOUISIANA, NEW MEXICO, CALIFORNIA, ARIZONA.
FAVORITE LINE TO THE NORTH, EAST & SOUTHEAST.
Double daily line of Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars through to St. Louis via the IRON MOUNTAIN ROUTE.
See that your tickets read in TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY. For Maps, Time Tables, Tickets, Rates, and all required information call on or address any of the Ticket Agents or G. H. WOODRUFF, Ticket Agent, Abilene, Texas.
J. H. MILLER, Traveling Passenger Agent, Dallas, Texas.
R. W. McCULLOUGH, Gen. Ticket and Pass. Agent, Dallas, Texas.

THE MKT AND
MISSOURI, KANSAS & TEXAS RAILWAY
THE FAVORITE ROUTE TO KANSAS CITY, St. Louis, St. Paul, Chicago, and ALL POINTS North and East.
DOUBLE DAILY TRAINS
Pullman Buffet Sleeping Cars TO AND FROM Galveston, Corsicana, Dallas, Austin, Waco, Denison, Kansas City, St. Louis, Hannibal and Chicago.
Only Sleeping Car Line BETWEEN GALVESTON AND CHICAGO
Arriving at Chicago many hours in advance of any other route, making a corresponding saving of time to Eastern points.

Solid trains between Austin and Hannibal
Elegant free Reclining Chair Cars, on all trains between Sedalia and Hannibal, and on night trains between Fort Scott and Sedalia.
For tickets and further information apply to nearest Missouri, Kansas and Texas Ticket Agent, J. A. HANST, General Manager, Dallas, Texas. agent, or address H. P. HUGHES, Texas Passenger Agent, Ft. Worth, Texas.
J. C. CROSS, J. J. FRY, J. W. WALDO, General Supt., Traffic Manager, GASTON MESLER, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, SEDALIA, MO.
Will Play 100 TUNES
To introduce them, one in every locality or every town, we have secured reliable personnel under the name of THE LAMP COMPANY, New York City.

Seeing is Believing
"The Rochester."
And with it there is no smoke, no smell, no breaking glasses, no flickering, no scorching, no climbing up of flame, no "straw-trimmed" appearance of any kind, and it never being tough, rolled, cracked, or broken. It is a lamp that is a masterpiece of art and science.
ROCHESTER LAMP CO., 42 Park Place, New York.

Press the Button, and Lights.
The Magic Bell is for use in all homes, hotels, restaurants, clubs, etc. It is a simple, reliable, and beautiful device for signaling. It is made of brass and nickel, and is finished in a beautiful, artistic design. It is a lamp that is a masterpiece of art and science.
ROCHESTER LAMP CO., 42 Park Place, New York.

FREE FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY
CRAYON PORTRAITS
and at the same time extend our business and make new customers, we have decided to make this special offer. Send us a Cabinet Picture, Photograph, En Type, Ambratype, or Daguerotype, of yourself or any member of your family, living or dead, and we will make you a LIFE SIZE CRAYON PORTRAIT FREE OF CHARGE, provided you exhibit it to your friends as a sample of our work, and use your influence in securing us future orders. Place name and address on back of picture and it will be returned in perfect order. We make any change in picture you wish, not interfering with the likeness. Refer to any bank in Chicago. Address all mail to PACIFIC PORTRAIT HOUSE, 112 CLARK ST., CHICAGO, ILL.
Please be sure to mention this paper.

DEAFNESS & HEAD ACHES CURED
PARKER'S HAIR BALMSAM
PARKER'S CONSUMPTIVE MIND-CURERS.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND WATERPROOF COAT
This Trade Mark is on The Best Waterproof Coat in the world.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE
PARKER'S PASTILLES FOR THE CURE OF WEAK MEN
VITALLY WEAK. Made by the same application to the system in middle or old age, as in youth.

WHY SHE DIDN'T LAUGH.
"We had more fun at the party the other night than I ever saw in my life," said a little St. Anthony Hill girl to her mother.

WHAT
SCOTT'S EMULSION
Cures
Wasting Diseases
Wonderful Flesh Producer.
Many have gained one pound per day by its use.

LITTLE LIVE PILLS
DO NOT CRUISE, SICKEN, CONSTIPATE.
Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Sore Gums, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, Sore Nose, Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Sore Gums, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, Sore Nose.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

Another fellow I knew went for a week's voyage round the coast, and before they started the steward came to him to ask whether he would pay for such meals as he had it or arrange beforehand for the whole series.
The steward recommended the latter course, as it would come so much cheaper. He said they would do him for the whole week at two pounds five. He said for breakfast there would be fish, followed by a grill. Lunch was at 1, and consisted of four courses: dinner at 6—soup, fish, entrée, joint, poultry, salad, sweets, cheese and dessert; and a light meat supper at 10.
My friend thought he would close on strawberries and cream for years.
Neither the beef nor the strawberries and cream seemed happy, either—seemed discontented like.
At 6 they came and told him dinner was ready. The announcement aroused no enthusiasm within him, but he felt that there was some of that two-pound five to be worked off, and he held on to ropes and things and went down. A pleasant odor of onions and hot ham, mingled with fried fish and greens, greeted him at the bottom of the ladder, and then the steward came up with an oily smile, and said:
"What can I get you, sir?"
"Get me out of this," was the feeble reply.
And they ran him up quick, and propped him over to keward and left him.
For the next four days he lived a simple and blameless life on thin captain's rations, but the biscuits were thin, the tea (captain) and soda water; but on Saturday he got upish and went for weak tea and dry toast, and then they were going himself on chicken broth. He left the ship on Tuesday, and as it steamed away from the landing stage he gazed after it regretfully.
"There she goes," he said, "there she goes, with £2 worth of food on board that belongs to me, and that I haven't had."
He said that if they had given him another day he thought he could have put it straight.
It is a curious fact, but nobody ever is seneschal on land. At sea you come across plenty of people very laid in, whole boat loads of them, but I never met a man yet, on land, who had ever known at all what it was to be seneschal. Where the thousands upon thousands of laid sailors that start in every ship hide themselves when they are on land is a mystery.
For myself I have discovered an excellent preventive against seneschalness in balancing myself. You stand in the center of the deck, and as the ship heels and pitches you move your feet about, so as to keep it always straight. When the front of the ship rises you lean forward till the deck almost touches your nose, and when its back end gets up you lean backward. This is all very well for an hour or two, but you can't balance yourself for a week—Jerome K. Jerome's Three Men in a Boat.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly.
"The stool still sits by the bed."
"What are you running away for?" I asked.
"Towels, sir," she gasped.
"You are not," you think I am crazy."
"No, no, sir," she answered, sighing toward the door.
"Come back," I cried, but she had fled. "I rang the bell violently and long."
"A porter came up carrying a coal hod in one hand and a murderous looking poker in the other. He stuck his shaven head in the door and glanced about him suspiciously."
"Why did you bring that coal?" I asked.
"Didn't you want it?" he said, placing the scuttle on the floor, but grasping the poker in his hand.
"I did not."
"What did you ring for, sir?" he said, watching me closely and hanging to his pocket.
"I want those labels taken off my trunk."
"He looked at the trunk, then at me and then at the poker in his big fist."
"I can't take 'em off alone," he said.
"Why, certainly you can," I answered indignantly. "See here, and I advanced to show him how it could be done."
"Don't ye come near me!" he shouted, backing into a corner and brandishing his poker. "If ye do I'll brain ye, ye murdering picture of desperation!"
"Take off those labels," I exclaimed authoritatively.
"Sure as ye doan git me down on my knees before ye," he said stubbornly. "I'll keep me eye on ye. If ye touch me I'll brain ye," he cried wildly, as I started toward him in indignation to throw him out of the room. He rushed for the door and tore down the corridor with a wild yell.
"I got down on my knees and scraped off the labels. Then I packed my trunk and started down to the office to pay my bill. The elevator boy pretended not to see me and went past my floor. When I called him and punched the bell he came back with a sullen frown."
"What do you mean," I asked, "by going past me in that insolent way?"
"He looked at me in terror and dodged out of the elevator car, leaving me in it alone."
"I walked down to the office, and, paying my bill, ordered the clerk to send for my luggage. When it came down the porters piled it up and stood aloof from it as if it were dynamite. One of them spoke to the backman in an undertone and the fellow grasped his whip by the wrong end. When I had entered the cab he stood beyond my reach and looked at me fiercely.
"I'll drive ye to the depot," he said, "but don't ye make no trouble or I'll have ye arrested, shure as me name is Moike McWhinney."
"I never was so glad to get out of a town in my life, and when the next theatrical man wants to borrow a trunk he need not come to your humble servant."
New York Tribune.

He himself...
"See here," I said, "it's about time this honest thief business was put an end to, isn't it?"
"Certainly, sir," he answered, in a reassuring tone.
"Of course it's all a joke," I went on.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk, "every one knows that you aren't a thief."
"I should hope so," I cried, getting angry.
"There, there, sir," he said gently, "I'll have that matter attended to."
"What matter?" I said furiously. "Do you think that I am a lunatic to be treated this way?"
"Most assuredly not," he answered in tones which said emphatically that most assuredly he did not.
"Well, you may make out my bill."
"All right, sir," he responded gratefully.
"I went up to my room. A chambermaid was there gazing at the labels. When she saw me she gave me a frightened look and started for the door."
"Come back," I said sternly